CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

TORONTO, Oct. 10, 1850.

Last night the prizes, medals, and diploma were distributed by the Governor General to the successful competitors of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. The City Hall was crowded with spectators. Lord Eigin made a couple of speeches, the last of which I did not stay to hear. In his introductory remarks, previous to distributing the prizes, he expressed his conviction that the mechanies of the city had not come out in their full strength. This is undeniably the case; and it is matter of regret, inasmuch as strangers judge of the skill of the artizans from the too low standards that are exhibited. Indeed the same difficulty is incident to all exhibitions of the kind. For instance, at the late Provincial Show at Ningara there was not a single piece of cabinet-ware, and at Toronto there was only one piece. It remains to be seen whether even the famous Exhibition about to take place in Montreal, will give a fair representation of the ability of Canadian artizans.

Some time ago I referred to the possibility of coalition taking place, before long, between members of the present Cabinet and the section of the Conservatives to which Mr. Sherwood belongs. The Globe has at length broken silence on the subject. There is more in the remarks of that journal than meets the eye. It very plainly warns the Government against entering into a coalit on of the kind spoken of, and indicates pretty plainly what course it would take should such an event take place. The Globe does not indertake to deny that a coalition is contemplated; on the contrary, it fears, while it depre-cates such a result. Let it come, and the Globe will be the loudest of all journals in its opposition. The coalition Ministry would, no doubt, excuse itself for departing from the principles which its various members had formerly professed, on the pretext that a combination was necessary to pre-

The Protestant Episcopal Convention.

Cincinnari, October 9.

A resolution was introduced by the Rev. Mr.
Stephens, of Philadelphia, to appoint a Committee to be joined by a Committee from the House of Bishops, to whom was referred the memorial from Maryland and the proposed canons relating to the duties of Clergymen in respect to Episcopal visitation. The House appointed on its part the Rev. Drs. Stephens, Neville, Van Nigle, and Miller, of Penn.; Judge Chambers, and Mr. Urton, of Philadelphia. The Convention then took a recess.

Purther Effects of the Pugitive Law. DETROIT, October 8, 1850.

DETROIT, October 8, 1850.

Considerable excitement has been created here by the ariest of a fugitive slave, under the new law. An examination took place to-day; and in consequence of the threats of a great number-of negroes, who armed themselves and avowed their determination to rescue the prisoner, Scott's Guards, Gray's Guards, and the United States Troops, were called out, and with loaded moskets excorted the fugitive from the prison to the court room. No attempts were made to release the prisoner, although some stones, brickbats, and other missiles were thrown at the Marshal's carriage. The crowd eventually disporsed, and the negro was committed to jail for a week, in order to give time for both parties to progure evidence.

Boston, October S, 1850. Boston, October 8, 1850.

A large meeting was held in New Bedford last night, in opposition to the Fugitive Slave Law, which, without the habes corpus and trial by jury, was declared to be unconstitutional. Representatives were urged to agitate the subject until it is repealed.

Jenny Lind and the Down-Easters. Her Concerts in Providence and Botton - Visit of Mr. Webster to the Nightingale, etc. Boston, Oct. 8, 1850.

Boston, Oct. 8, 1850.

Jenny Lind arrived in Providence yesterday morning, in the train from Boston. A large crowd assembled at the depot and while they were waiting for her appearance, and admiring the cosch with four white horses which had been sent for her, she quietly passed over the bridge in a plain hack, having stopped before the train reached the depot, for the purpose of avoiding the crowd, who by these means were sadly disappointed. On arriving at the hotel, she was received by a dense assemblage of persons, in answer to whose cheers she appeared and waived her handkerchief. Mr. Barnum was also loudly called for, but declined appearing.

In the evening, at the appointed hour, Howard Hall was filled as closely as it could be packed, and the Providence Journal says that the highest expectations of the audience were fully realized. The flute and sche songs were enthusiastically encored, as also were two of Belletti's songs. It is thought that she will give another Concert there.

Miss Lind gives a Concert on Thursday at the Temple in Boston, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to charitable purposes, and the tickets are to be sold at auction to-morrow.

The London Times and other papers, devote much space to the details of Jenny Lind's reception and visit, and of course they poke fun at our universal excitement. The London Sun publishes the following extract from a private letter written at New York, some allegations in which will be approval of the view which his friend tank of the case. Secreely a week has clapsed since feels attractives from Ceylon would come out, in apite of the anxious endanger of the government to turn the matter up; and still not a hand is raised to protest against them. Not a lip trembles, not a sigh breathes in the Sanday prayer of the city, on account of Ireland rotting away! But when the victorious aword of a gallant general comes down apon and cuts the swretched British intrigues for gaining an agricultural merket, the mob of London are let loose, and the people of England applaud the infamous violence and the revolting insulis of which he is made to be the victim? Are not the English afraid of buing served in the same way—the English, who every year apoil our beautiful landscapes by the oddity of their appearance and the 'retimement' of their manners?"

Afraid or not, it appears by the following extract from a letter from Vienna, of the 11th instant, in the Kolner Z itung, that English travellers are to be made the swapegraces of Barclay & Perkin's mob.:—

"The store of Anglophobia, which they have been laying in-for many years, is now taken out and aixed in anoffensive, and, indeed, in an abourd manner. In the Cafe Daum, which is haunted by our offects, there was, amidit the portraits of other royal personages, a portrait of Queen Victoria. I say it was there, for it was yesteday as saulted by a Creatian officer, who, drawing his sabre with a welley of imprecations, smalled by a Creatian officer, who, drawing his sabre with a welley of imprecations, smalled havo." They rattled their swords in a most alarming manner, and they curse the islanders whom they cannot get at," and whom they long to shiver," as the officer did the picture of their Queen. But not only abourd—indeed, the insults are low and mean which were yesterday offered to two harmless English tournsts (whose dress bespoke them such) by several cavalry officers, among whom was a near relative of Prince Schwarzenbur."

The Time states that preparations are making to greet General Haynau, on his return to Vienna, with a splendid demonstration of loyal devotion, accompanied by an extraordinary act of grace on the part of the monarch. The garrison is to serenade him by torchight; and the Emperor is to place into his hands the object of his ambition—the marshal's "baton."

Though Glasgow has not so many specimen of the Fine Arta as Edinburgh, yet she has got a few elegant specimens of statusry; and pre-eminent amongst the a stands the equistrian statue of the Duke of Wellington, errected before the Royal Exchange, which cost £11,400. From time to time we have heard of a testimonial to the memory of the noble Walface; but shame upon us, while we have been loud in the praises of our grat hero, we have been loud in the praises of our grat hero, we have been qually slicent in giving our feelings some tangible expression. At last the Edinburgh people have determined upon erecting a handsome memorial to Walface; and already the clay model has been completed, prevous to the process of casting a colosial statue. It is proposed to erect something similar in honor of Bruce; and if this should be decided on, we will appect a handsome contribution from Loud Elgin, the worthy descendant of our patriot King. — Glasgow paper.

Taking Coldin.

This sentence is constantly in the mouth of every person, in order to explain certain complaints. Those who was it often, we think, have but a fault item of its precise menaling. We will offer an explanation, which we believe to be the opinion of a majority of the most learned physicians. A person, for instance, has been over extring any particular act of muscless of the through one of the color of the color, from viocient apeaking—of the folias, by too much stooping or bending, or these or any other part of the body: these parts or nucleus are, consequently, weakened and relaxed, and become a fair peep for may disease. The person who has been than ucting, accidentally or otherwise, exposes himself to the cold sir, the perspiration immediately ceases, and the blood, which had been but just now circularing rapidly throughout the surface of the body: trapelled inwardly, and is sure to settle in those parts which have been proviously wearied and relaxed. Here, then, we have we there are accumulation of blood, a congestion, which gives rise to all the patin and suffices attended to the body, is repelled inwardly, and is sure to settle in those parts which have been parts which have been an accumulation of blood, and other parts.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF,

Tukes Internally and applied Externally.

Its first action, when freely applied, is to blust the acute sensibilities of the nerves, and shaoet instantly relieves the pain; its secondary action is to excite perspiration, and redden the parts over which it is applied almost to a glow, thereby determining the blood from the injured parts to the surface. In these cases, the REALY RELIEF should be applied freely, at the same time rabbber, the parts with a piece of finance, and it will be found in every case to give immediate and permanent relief. N.B.—If convenient, a piece of finance satisfacted with the RELIEF, and tied or planed around the parts, does good service.

POINT D. JOUR, PARISH OF L'ASSOMPTION.

THESE truly valuable WATERS are distinguished for the large quantity of Bromine and lodine they contain, and are acknowledged superior to all other Medicinal Waters. They are the most agreeable refreshment of the description that have yet appeared. They can be used coid to the greatest degree in the most appressive heat of Summer, and that without altering or affecting injuriously the health of the person using them; apon the contrary, they are found to improve and strengthen. The large number of curse effected by the use of the above Waters, enable us to recommend them to the public as an excellent remedy in a very great number of cases. The names of a few only of the persons of celebrity, who have given their written recommendation of the Waters, are here given. These, however, show the happy results arising from their application:—
