WHY MONEY IS SCARC.

The consensus of opinion among men whose opinions are most worth considering is that the present, much talked of scarcity of money is simply the natural and necessary result of an era of remarkable prosperity.

Canada has had several years of wonderful prosperity. They have also been years of enormous expenditure. Canadians everywhere have been putting their savings into business of all kinds.

In Western Canada we have seen this investment going on everywhere and along every line of business. Millions have been spent in bringing the prairie under cultivation.

Western Canada has been no exception to the rule. What has been going on here has been taking place elsewhere. In the older provinces the investment has been perhaps as great as in the newer country.

This commercial development has multiplied the necessary investment of money by governments. In the newer country roads and bridges had to be constructed.

This expenditure, both under private and public auspices, was the investment of money which had been lying in the banks and other financial institutions.

STILL AT SEA. A more than usual amount of nonsense is being substituted these days for intelligent and purposeful discussion of the immigration question in Canada.

It is possible to over-emphasize the money stringency, to insist too strongly that there is a stringency, to exaggerate its effects and to ignore the promises of betterment.

we have been borrowing are hampered by unusual demand, an over supply our needs only at unusual rates.

NO REMARKS ALLOWED.

The Edmonton Journal devotes a column to denouncing the iniquity of the Bulletin in alluding to the recent statement of the city auditor.

The censor of the Bulletin is founded on the following initial paragraph: The Bulletin of Saturday has a lengthy article on the civic finances.

After all, the scarcity so far has been practically confined to a scarcity of funds for investment; it has not paralyzed current business.

WHICH? The Mail and Empire denounces the federal government for alleged failure to secure a sufficiently large provision of immigrants for the older provinces.

The stoppage of investment is of course serious, but it should be a temporary disability from which the country will make an early recovery.

Public confidence is a mighty factor in maintaining or recovering stable commercial conditions; but while distrust is quite as potent an agency for destroying those conditions.

THE C.P.R. AGREEMENT. Divers members of the City Council evaded their attention and tendered their compliments to the Bulletin last evening for venturing to question the public wisdom of the C.P.R. agreement.

FROM THE SAME GENTLEMAN came the assertion that the Bulletin is taking stand on the C.P.R. entrance was taken only when the agreement had been finally prepared for submission to the ratifiers.

that deporting from the country whose resources it is tapping.

DON'T EXAGGERATE THE TROUBLE.

THE VIEW OF THE WEST.

The Toronto News' Ottawa correspondent characterizes Dr. McIntyre's speech on rural mail delivery as "a particularly important deliverance."

The following clause might also be considered in connection with the somewhat astonishing statement that the whole affair is not going to cost the city five cents.

IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED AND UNDERSTOOD by and between the parties hereto: THAT the parties hereto will join in an application to the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada for approval of the terms and provisions hereof.

THE SPIRIT OF THE NATION

Rev. Mr. McDonald, Speaker at Anniversary Luncheon of Canadian Club—A Stirling Address.

The first anniversary of the Canadian Club was celebrated last evening by a luncheon at Cronin's cafe.

Rev. Mr. McDonald was the principal speaker of the evening: "I feel," he said, "a considerable amount of timidity in attempting to address this club after having heard some of the speeches delivered in the past, but my subject, 'The Spirit of the Nation,' is, I think, a theme not foreign to the occasion.

THE VIEW OF THE WEST.

The Toronto News Ottawa correspondent characterizes Dr. McIntyre's speech on rural mail delivery as "a peculiarly important deliverance."

Dr. McIntyre's argument is that the West is too thinly settled to admit of free rural mail service. Therefore, the West will tolerate it being given to the East. Stated so badly there is a good deal of arrogance in such an attitude.

Dr. McIntyre did not state it baldly, but there is a trace of bitterness in the way he expressed Western yet.

The Cohesive Spirit. "Suppose a new land were to be discovered and the land were in our possession. We would see mosques, palaces, harems, and minarets rise."

"We have in this country today a great problem, the greatest problem that the United States has ever had."

Edmonton Journal says the stenographer charges that the city has been spending money in violation of law. "Wrong again. It is the auditor who says so."

The present is a splendid time to go onto the job, and a very poor time to go travelling about the country looking for more congenial employment or better wages.
