MONDAY EVENING, JULY 29, 1872

Town and County News.

The potato bug continues its ravages about Orangeville.

PIC-NIC.—The employees of the Guelph Sewing Machine Company will hold a picnic in Mitchell's grove on Thursday next. Entrance to the grove through Dr. Clarke's grounds.

THE CARRIAGE VILLAIN.—We are glad to observe that the villainous trick perpetrated on Mr. Doyle's cabbages, about a week ago, has not been productive of the success anticipated; most, if not all of the cabbages that were replanted having taken root again, although of course, their growth will be much retarded. No clue as yet to the rascal.

QUEEN VS. LUDLOW AND MOORE.—Dr. McMichael for prisoner Ludlow, and Mr. Watt for prisoner Moore renewed application to the Judge at Toronto, to bail the prisoners, who are charged with shooting one Hunter at Arthur on the 12th of July last. Mr. Nicol appeared for the Attorney-General. His Lordship, Mr. Justice Galt, refused the application and commented strongly on the practice of carrying fire-arms.

AN ORCHARD CURIOUSITY.—Mr. Henlock Young, Guelph Township, informs us that he has a pear tree in his orchard, which has blossomed three times in the course of this season, and that pears have been set after each blossoming, and there is every indication that pears will be set for this third time. Friend Henlock is not only great on cabbages, but is evidently profuse in pears. We wish him much enjoyment in his "fruitful field" in his green age.

NEWS ITEMS. Six hundred shoemakers in Lynn, Mass., are on strike.

The grain crops of Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota, promise a full average.

Recent reports from Central Europe state that the crop prospects are favorable. The planting of placards of quack medicines has been prohibited in the streets of Chicago.

The mayors of Yaddo and New York have exchanged compliments by telegraph.

Professor Blackie will shortly publish a new volume of poems, entitled "Lays of the Highlands and Islands."

Tomato plants grow eighteen feet high in California, and the fowls of the air lodge in the branches.

The Merchants' Exchange in St. Louis is one of the largest and handsomest structures of the kind in the world.

An order has lately been issued by the Pullman Palace Car Company requiring each conductor to deposit $100 to secure their against loss.

Mlle. Christine Nilsson was married in Westminster Abbey, on Saturday, to M. Rouzand, a stock-broker of Paris, and son of a French Admiral.

It is understood that the marriage of the Earl of Breadalbane and Lady Alma Louise Graham, youngest daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Montrose, will take place towards the end of this month.

The Advocate says the most noticeable feature at a picnic recently held at Mary's Lake, Muskoka, was a young man 19 years of age, who stood six feet seven inches in height, and weighed only 125 lbs.

Detroit dog owners neither by muzzles nor allow their canine animals to be poisoned. Taking a bit of meat they sprinkle it with cayenne pepper, drop it down, and after eating it, the dog can't be made to pick up another piece.

In contradiction of certain rumors the Dominion Minister of Public Works states that working plans for the enlargement of the Welland Canal are in course of preparation and that tenders for the work will shortly be called for. It will take four years to complete the work.

A young merchant who is trying to struggle along in a falsely economical way took a class in Sunday-school recently. During the progress of the lesson he asked "what is solitude?" and was visibly disturbed when a miserable boy answered: "the store that don't advertise."

A man in Missouri is seeking a divorce from a person to whom he has been married sixteen years, on the ground that that person is not a woman. A sufficient ground, we should think, but it seems to have taken him a long time to find it out.

Livingstone is now 45 years old. His first journey to Africa was undertaken before he was 25 years old and lasted 16 years. It is now six years since he left England and turned his back on all the comforts of life and sweets of civilization to explore the geographical secrets of Africa.

The Newington Times says:—On Wednesday last Mr. James Ostrander sold that part of his timber limits situated on the east half of lot No. 6, in the 5th Concession West, Chingacousy, to Messrs. Lathur & Hayes, timber merchants, Toronto, for the sum of $14,000.

Walnut stamps have become an article of merchandise, and many of them are very valuable. The early grain of the roots is used for veneering, and some stamps are worth $150, after being properly worked into shape.

A Fond du Lac maiden who saw an outrageous man for the first time, followed the lady for a block or two, thought the obscure couple a good thing to prevent it by the passage of stringent laws. Pending this action, the Home Secretary has been instructed to notify all managers permitting such exhibitions that they will be held personally responsible for any accident that may occur during the performances.

Local and Other Items.

Lombard the little is now infested with burglars.

The railway laborers on the Collingwood and Meaford railway are paid $1 40 a day.

The grain crop about Brantford are not so prolific as it was at one time thought to be.

A MANUFACTORY for making articles of jewelry from horn has been started in Sherbrooke. By a certain process the horn is dyed any color desired.

It is understood that the contracts for the Montreal and City of Ottawa Junction Railway are to be signed this week, and that the work will be at once commenced by an American Company.

The Bruce Reporter says that the wife of Sam Butler, of Listowel, who was supposed to be murdered, was seen passing through Bayfield shortly after her mysterious disappearance, probably en route for Detroit or Port Huron.

The Hamilton Local Committee of the Provincial Exhibition have adopted a resolution authorising the Secretary to inform the Provincial Committee that the City Council would give $5,000 and the County Council $1,200.

J. A. CONNELL, convicted at London last week, of kidnaping, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary, was sent there last Wednesday. It is said he intends to appeal for the purpose of quashing the indictment, claiming that it is unsupported, insufficient to base a trial upon.

The New York Times says whiskey is responsible for a woman being kicked to death, a boy fatally stabbed, two policemen assaulted, four people feloniously attacked, and one man robbed on the public highway in the city of New York, between Saturday and Sunday night last. The demon alcohol is scoring up a fearful record of accountability, and somebody must in the end atone for it.

THERE is an elderly gentleman at Grimsby, who has in his possession some trees which are not seen growing in the open air in Canada. He has a number of orange and lemon trees, the oldest of which—one twenty-one and the other twenty-five—bear fruit regularly and present a healthy appearance. The fruit has not the same taste as that produced in Southern climes, but it is very fine. So says the St. Catharines Journal.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.—The Berlin Telegraph says it has been proposed to hold a grand Musical Festival in Berlin some time during the month of September, when prizes to the amount of from four to five hundred dollars will be offered to be competed for by the different Bands in the Province. A number of the leading men in town have the matter under consideration, and we hope by next week to be able to give more particulars.

"SMALL POTATOES."—There are some very small insurance companies in Canada, but the litter of baby companies that New Hampshire is able to support is something to be wondered at. Fifteen of these town mutual fire insurance companies had assets of $2,555, or $170 apiece. One of them has $8 13 of realized assets, and four of them are unable to show $15 apiece. Perhaps the most remarkable feature in the case is that insurance in the Province is so cheap, and we hope by next week to be able to give more particulars.

MURDER OF A MISSIONARY.—Our Halifax despatches mention a report of the murder of the Rev. Mr. Gordon, missionary of the Presbyterian Church of the Lower Provinces to Erromango, one of the new Hebrides group. The history of the mission on this island is a tragical one. It was here that Williams and Harris fell under the clubs of the natives, and several years ago Rev. Mr. Gordon and his wife were cruelly murdered by the people for whom they had laboured for over a year. Immediately upon the news reaching Nova Scotia, his brother volunteered to succeed him in the same good work, and now, if the report be true, he has met the same fate.

WEST MONTROSE.—The Berlin Telegraph says:—Haying is well advanced. The crop is generally light, with however an exceptional good average of field. A larger amount of barley than usual was this year sown by way of experiment. The venture is likely to prove a profitable one the crop looking in most instances exceedingly well. Turnips and potatoes are for the time being at the mercy (and by and by) of the former crop of the fly and bug. Of the former crop there cannot be above half the usual yield, although, here also, as in the case of hay there are exceptions. A number of mean petty thefts have been committed in this neighborhood of late. A few evenings ago Mr. J. M. Woodard lost in this manner a 25 pound cheese; Mr. Musser a bag of potatoes, and Mr. Anderson a quantity of butter.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF NATIVE TALENT.—The publisher of the Montreal Heartstone is desirous of unearthing the hidden talent buried throughout Canada, and for this purpose has offered a handsome premium of $500 as a first prize for a story of one hundred columns; also $200 and $150 respectively as second prizes. And for the two best short stories complete in one number a first prize of $50, and a second prize of $25. Here is a splendid opportunity offered for a display of native talent, and we hope to see a lively response from all parts of Canada to the liberal offers of Mr. Desbarats. The scenes must be laid in Canada, and the tales of a purely native character. Stories will be received until the 1st of October next when the selections will be made and the prizes forwarded at once, any further particulars may be obtained from the publisher of the Heartstone, Montreal.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT OTTAWA.

TWO LIVES LOST—$150,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED.

OTTAWA, July 28. About 8 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the back part of the three storey stone premises on Sussex-street, occupied by Mr. Geo. Mortimer, druggist, and quickly spread through the building. Before the alarm was given the flames had made considerable headway, and soon extended to the adjoining buildings in the same range, occupied by Messrs. Nye, tobacconist; Bartlett, confectioner; Meadows, tinware, &c.; Frank Macdonald, hardware; Faulkner, dry goods and confectionery; and Linways. All of these shops with the stock and furniture in the dwellings overhead, were almost entirely destroyed. The fire at the same time extended through the stables in the rear to the outbuildings belonging to Matthew's Hotel and caught the roof of the latter building which, from want of proper supply of water was speedily destroyed. The bulk of the furniture however was saved, but in a very damaged condition. The fire was unfortunately attended by loss of life. The wife of Mr. Evans, formerly proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, and who occupied the dwelling over Nye's tobacco store, was burnt to death. Mr. Evans, after vainly endeavoring to rescue her, narrowly escaped being badly burned himself. A servant girl in his employ sprang from the third storey window, and received injuries which it is feared will prove fatal. The servant girl of Mr. Mortimer also dropped from the third storey window into the street, and was severely but probably not fatally injured. The family of Mr. Mortimer was fortunately absent, or the list of casualties would no doubt have been much greater. The loss is estimated at over $150,000, a large portion of which was probably covered by insurance.

Death of Juarez Confirmed. Elmira, New York, July 28.—Twelve cars of oil were burned on the Erie Railroad just west of this city this morning. Loss $16,000, which covers the damage done to the track. The oil was consigned to parties in New York.

New York, July 29.—The Herald's Matamoros special says that an official communication has been received confirming the report of the death of Juarez, on the 18th, of heart disease. Lerdo de Zafada was immediately inaugurated. Telegraphic communication between here and Monterey is interrupted.

A London special says Stanley has been greatly lionized in Paris. It is reported that he has been offered fifty thousand dollars for a book. Minister Washburn gave him a breakfast at which Gen. Sherman was present.

Burning of a Farm House near Hespeler. An Old Man 87 Years of Age Burned to Ashes.

(From our own Correspondent.) The farm house of Mr. Eli Wilfang, about three miles from Hespeler, was burned down on Sunday morning last. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfang and four children awoke in time to escape in their night clothes, but old Peter Musser, Mrs. Wilfang's father, was burned to ashes, nothing but a few charred bones being left of the unfortunate old man. It appears that the house consisted of two parts, an old and a new, the new being built against the old. The family used one room of the old as a kitchen, and the old man occupied the two remaining rooms, and was averse to having any member of the family sleep in his room, so much so that it was customary for some one to go quietly into his room, when he was unwell, after he was asleep, and remain until morning, slipping out again before the old man awoke. On Saturday night the old man was quite well, and retired at the usual time. About two o'clock on Sunday morning one of the boys, who slept upstairs in the new part, was awakened by smoke blowing into his room through an open window, and awoke his father, saying, "The house is on fire."

Mr. Wilfang ran to his father-in-law's room and opened the door, but was driven back by the fire. He then tried to gain an entrance by two windows, one after the other, but was prevented by the flames. By that time the fire had got through the door into the kitchen, and thence spread through the rooms on the lower flat, thus preventing the family from saving anything.

Nothing is known of the origin of the fire, but it is supposed that the old man had got up, lighted a candle, and gone into the next room, and on his return had fallen, dropping the candle, which had ignited some light wood near the stove, and Mr. Musser, from his great age, being stunned by the fall was unable either to escape or give the alarm.

This view of the case is borne out by the fact that his remains were found lying across the threshold with the head below the room where he slept, and the feet under the other room. Dr. Swan, of Hespeler, is holding an inquest and the jury will probably give a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The neighbors are doing all in their power to assist Mr. Wilfang. Messrs. David Panabaker, and David Holm, went out among the friends yesterday and succeeded in getting sufficient clothing, bed-clothing, provisions etc., to make the family comfortable until they have time to make the necessary arrangements. Insurance companies are being notified. It also appears that out of about $100 which the old man had in the house, $40 in silver was found very little damaged, but the balance being in bills was burned.

Hespeler, July 29th, 1872.

Base Ball Notes. The Boston Red Stockings defeated the Brooklyn Atlantics, on the 26th of July, by a score of 9 to 1.

The Troy Club, owing to their non-success, has quietly departed this life.

To-day the Bostonians play the Atlantics on the Capitoline Ground, Brooklyn.

To-morrow the Haymakers (late Troy Club) play the Mutuals on the Union Ground, Williamsburg.

The Boston Red Stockings, the champion base ball players of the world, will play with the Daintless Club, of Toronto, early in August.

It is expected that the Boston Red Stockings will play the Maple Leaf of the middle of next month.

The employees of Messrs. Armstrong, McCrae & Co., and those of Messrs. W. D. Hepburn & Co., tried their skill at base ball on Saturday afternoon, the weaver's shuttle proving too omnipotent for the shoemakers'awl. The score at the close stood, Weavers 47, Shoemakers 35.

The Athletics beat the Dominions, both York Road clubs, on Tuesday last, by a score of 12 to 9.

Latest from Fort Garry. Fort Garry, Man., July 27. Dr. Punshon delivered his lecture on the Men of the Mayflower to a large and delighted audience.

The Land Grant is being apportioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. The grant is made into Townships as the laws direct, but so as to secure as nearly as possible the blocks selected last year.

Harvesting has been commenced in some parts of the Province.

Lymphoid fever is prevalent; one case proved fatal yesterday.

The Halton Election.

Mr. McKindsey, Sheriff of Halton, has at last issued his address, and entered on his canvass. A report was started last week that Mr. White had resigned in favour of Mr. John R. Barber, but the Milton Champion contradicts this, and states that Mr. Barber is thoroughly in accord with Mr. White, whom he will heartily support.

Tom Daly, the Champion Plagiarist.

One of the best things which has occurred during the present contest is Tom Daly's stealing Mr. George Brown's Confederation Speech of 1865, and issuing it as his own address to the electors of North Perth. The Stratford Beacon has the credit of detecting the plagiarism, and is using the bare-faced theft with excellent effect in the constituency which slippery Tom seeks to represent.

ELECTION NEWS.

The Tories have induced Mr. Vidal to oppose Mr. Mackenzie in Lambton. They don't expect to beat, only to bother him. That is their ambition. Mr. Baird has been brought out by the Conservatives of North Brant to oppose Mr. Fleming.

Mr. McDougall says he was sacrificed by Sir John. But do you think he allowed his injured personal feelings to overcome his love for his country's interests? Not much. He's a martyr to his welfare, and still he refuses to recognize his virtues.

"Moderate Association" is the latest name for "Tory Convention." "Give a dog a bad name and you may as well hang him," unless he can trade it off for a better one.

The Kincairdine Reporter says that some have been industriously circulating the report that Mr. Blake, the Reform nominee for South Bruce, will not sit for that riding, if elected. Mr. Blake will not only be returned by a sweeping majority, but will also take his seat in the Commons as member for South Bruce.

The Bruce Reporter pokes fun at the South Bruce Tories in the following paragraph:—Really the two wandering knights have behaved altogether too badly in declining at the eleventh hour the urgent invitations and entreaties sent them to visit Bruce in the interests of Messrs. Sprout and Hurdon.

Mr. Alonzo Wright, the late member, has been returned by acclamation.

MORE OF THE SAME.—The assistant-editor of the Herald is terribly thin skinned. On Saturday he roundly abuses the Fergus News Record for freely commenting on his little spurts at Dr. Orton's meetings. Any one who even looks at the unstable turncoat just now other than with a smile of approbation, or says a word other than to shower on him a large dose of flattery, is a blackguard, a slanderer and everything else that is bad. He forgets that in taking the stump he has put himself up as a fair mark for criticism, and he must lay his account to be dealt with in the same manner as he deals with others, and to be met with the same weapons as he himself employs.

AGAIN we ask, and impatiently wait for an answer, what has become of the impersonality in which the assistant-editor of the Herald was wont to shroud himself.

THE MANITOBA.—The Sarnia Observer says:—We were very much pleased to learn that the Manitoba arrived in port on Thursday afternoon, and was to go over to Port Huron to go into dry dock at once. The damage she sustained is but slight, only one plank having sprung and we are glad to learn it will be repaired in eight or ten hours. She will resume her trips on the first of next month as advertised.

In the stomach of a cow killed on Wednesday, by a resident of Petersville, near London was found nails of every description, one of them measuring over two inches, pieces of wire, and other articles in the hardware line "too numerous to mention." The animal was aged about six years, and when slaughtered was in a healthy condition. Until the discovery was made after death, the slightest suspicion was not excited by her actions.

The Foster Brother; OR The Orphan of the Wreck.

CHAPTER X. THE NEW REGIMENT—LITTLE GEORGEY SAYS "Oh!"—MATTHEW GREIGSON IS PROVIDED FOR.

"Did you notice that child?" said the latter in an animated tone. "Child—what child?" asked Nathan, without turning round. "The child standing on the other side of the stream. That is the little orphan of the wreck—the only rational survivor of all the inmates of the doomed ship."

"Oh—yes; by the bye, the newspapers did speak of a child being rescued," returned Nathan, in what seemed an indifferent tone, though he still refrained from looking round. "Was that really the poor thing? How does he come to be here?"

"Mr. and Mrs. Bruce have adopted him, and mean to bring him up as their own. He was found in the arms of a man whom the horrors of the night had turned mad, and the dead body of the mother was lying beside them."

"Just so—I read all about it," said Nathan; "and do the Bruces really mean to keep the boy and bring him up?" "That is their intention. Very noble and generous—is it not?"

"Hum—well—they can please themselves, of course. I don't see how they were called on to take charge of the boy." "No call but the dictates of their own kind hearts," returned Mathew. "No trace can be found of his friends and relations. They have been advertised for, both in this country and Jamaica, and the owners of the Eglantine caused inquiries to be made at Kingston, but nothing at all could be learned. So the boy remains with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce."

"Wasn't the parish bound to take the burden?" "Oh, yes, of course; but they could not think of casting such a handsome well-born child on the parish, to be brought up in poverty and obscurity. His relations may be found yet, and who knows but they may be great folks—who knows but the little fellow may be the heir to an estate?"

"Bah," growled Nathan, quite savagely. "A pretty likely story that is, too. Curse it, I say, is this road never to end? Are we never to get out of this infernal ravine?"

"Turn to the right at the first branch of the path, and—"

Mathew was stopped by a clear voice on the other side of the stream calling on him by name, and the sound caused both of them to look across, to behold Kenneth Bruce standing on a knoll by the water's edge.

"Would you oblige me by coming across for a few minutes, Mr. Greigson?" said Kenneth. "I have a communication to make to you."

"Certainly, Mr. Bruce," answered Mathew, and was about to make a spring across the stream when Nathan abruptly stopped him.

"You can't go," he gruffly observed. "I have no time to waste just now, and I want you with me."

"I won't be a minute," said Mathew. "I will be back in five minutes, and overtake you presently."

"I tell you, you shan't," cried Nathan, in a loud imperious tone. "You are my servant as yet, I guess, and you shall do as I require."

"Your servant—your servant, Mr. Garret?" returned Mathew, indignantly. "Of course you are—up to the moment you are paid off; so if you want your wages, you'll follow me instantly."

"Never mind at present, Mr. Greigson," said Kenneth. "The communication I have to make can be deferred till the evening. Come over at eight and have a bit of supper with us."

"Thank you, sir; I shall not fail to come," responded Mathew, and turned to follow in the steps of Garret who was now half-way up the slope.

The communication which Kenneth had to make to Mathew when he appeared at Mossgrove in the evening was a highly agreeable one to the factor. It was to the effect that he and Lucy, with the children, were soon to remove permanently to Edinburgh, where it was necessary that Kenneth should have his fixed abode, for the sake of progress in his profession, and it was now proposed that Mathew should become the farmer of Mossgrove, at a moderate rent. Nothing could suit Mathew better at the present juncture, seeing that he was deprived of the factorship of Ardgowan. It was, indeed, the rumour to this effect which prompted Kenneth to make the proposal, though it was an arrangement which would prove advantageous to both parties. Mathew would enter on a quiet, remunerative occupation, and Kenneth would secure a good tenant for his property.

When they parted that night everything was settled to the entire satisfaction of both parties, and in two weeks from that time Kenneth and his little household had removed to Edinburgh; and Mathew Greigson had entered on the tenantry of Mossgrove, at a rent of one hundred and fifty pounds a year.
