ANNAPOLIS 55.

In the Municipal Council

ANNUAL SESSION 1909

Tuesday afternoon.

Council met at 2 o'clock. All Councillors present. Minutes read and approved. Upon reading the petition of John A. Fraser and upwards of twenty others, freeholders of the County of Annapolis, praying for the opening up of a road from a point at or near Beeler's Lake in Ward 10 to intersect the Liverpool Road at or near McKay Brook so-called, the report of Commissioners approving said road, the notices of the opening of said road, and it appearing that the law had in all respects, been complied with;

It was ordered that all proceedings hereunder be confirmed, and that said new road be opened and become a public road in the County of Annapolis.

Upon reading the petition of H. S. Potter and upwards of twenty others freeholders of the County of Annapolis, praying for the opening of a road beginning at a willow tree on the so-called Church Road and following a westerly direction through lands of Lindley V. Shaw and Mrs. Louisa Shaw to the main post road leading from Clementsport to Annapolis;

It was ordered that the prayer of said petition be granted, and that Edward Barteaux be appointed a Commissioner to inquire into the necessity of said road.

Upon reading the report of the Commissioners, Miner C. Daniels, Israel Brown and Heber Boland, appointed to make alterations in Trout Lake Road, the same was on motion deferred to April session.

Following is the report:—
COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.
To the Warden and Members of the Municipal Council for Anna. Co.

We, the undersigned Commissioners appointed at the semi-annual session for the year 1908 to report upon whether an alteration of Trout Lake Road so-called will be a benefit to the public, and, if satisfied thereto, to lay out the same, most advantageous to the public and least detrimental to the owner of the land through which the same shall pass, and mark out the same on the land, do hereby report as follows:

1. We have examined the proposed alteration around the first two hills on the Trout Lake Road so-called and consider said alteration will be a benefit to the public.

2. We have laid out the said alteration and marked out the same on the land as per plan annexed marked "A," which plan is in duplicate.

3. We laid out such alteration three rods in width as we deemed such width under the circumstances of the case and conditions of the locality sufficient for the public convenience.

4. We were unable to agree with the owner of the land as to compensation. Dated this 8th day of January, 1909.

MINER C. DANIELS,
ISRAEL F. BROWN,
HEBER BOLAND,
Commissioners.

Upon reading Auditors' report, it was ordered that same be laid on the table for further consideration. Ordered: That the report of the Superintendent of the County Hospital as read be received and adopted. Following is the report:—

SUPERINTENDENT HILTZ'S REPORT.

It will be seen that at the beginning of the year there were 50 patients in the Hospital and during the year 11 were admitted, 11 died and 11 were discharged, leaving 39 in the Hospital at the close of the year.

The removal of 22 patients by death and otherwise, during the year, is much larger than we have had to record in any previous year. Of the 11 discharged, 5 were transferred to the Colchester County Home, 4 to the N. S. Hospital, and 2 of Annapolis County discharged as cured.

I regret to report the unusual number of deaths which occurred during the year, the causes of which are enumerated in the medical report.

Notwithstanding the usual number of admissions, and in fact larger than in any one year for several years previous, we have a smaller number in residence at the close of the year than at any time since 1905. This is accounted for, however, by the large number removed.

We are particularly anxious to record the largest possible number discharged as recovered or improved, but we hope to record a much smaller percentage of deaths and transfers during the year, and there is no doubt but what the admissions will be sufficient to equal the accommodation.

We experienced the usual difficulty during the year in procuring sufficient help to carry on the work of the Institution in its various departments, and trust that we will meet with better success in the future.

There is no doubt, in my mind, but that there are many women who are capable and willing to accept employment other than that in an Hospital or Asylum, owing to some erroneous idea, or fear, and needs but a trial to thoroughly obliterate such and to prove that the assaults which take place are proportionately much less in Institutions of this kind than are those which occur in a community at large among the so-called sane.

The following table may be of interest, showing the admissions, discharges and deaths from February 1895 to September 30th, 1908.

Basket Ball at Y.M.C.A. Between Middleton and Bridgetown

Bridgetown witnessed two closely contested basket ball games here Monday evening, the competing teams being Middleton Seniors vs. Bridgetown Seniors, and Middleton Juniors vs. Bridgetown Juniors.

The Junior Teams were called to the floor first, and at the close of a very fast half, the score stood 2 to 3 in Middleton's favor. The play continued fully as fast during the second half. A field goal made by Ruffee gave Bridgetown the lead, which position they held to within a half minute of time, when a field goal, scored by Middleton, decided the game in their favor, with a score of 6 to 5.

LINE UP FOR JUNIORS.

Bridgetown:—
Forward—James Curran.
Centre—Guy Ruffee.
Defense—W. Dargie.
Defense—P. Slocum.

Middleton:—
Forward—Phinney.
Forward—Ross.
Centre—Tate.
Defense—E. Spurr.
Defense—Banks.

The Seniors played a fast and even game from start to finish, neither team having any decided advantage at any time.

Score at the close of first half stood 4 to 3 in favor of Bridgetown. At the close of the game Bridgetown stood one point ahead, the score being 6 to 5.

As three or four of the home team players had not been on the floor for several years, considerable surprise was expressed at the result of this game.

LINE UP OF SENIORS.

Bridgetown:—
Forward—E. A. Hicks.
Forward—H. B. Hicks.
Centre—E. Legge.
Defense—Joe MacLean.
Defense—P. Lloyd.

Middleton:—
Forward—Andrews.
Forward—Gullivan.
Centre—Morse.
Defense—Andrews.
Defense—Wiswell.

The Y. M. C. A. Hall was crowded with spectators to witness these matches. After the games were over a supper was served to the basketball players.

REQUIREMENTS.

The hot water tank contains but forty gallons of water. This may be sufficient for the ordinary family, but for an Institution of this kind it is necessary that one containing one hundred gallons, or thereabouts, should be installed. It would appreciably increase the facility for the bathing of patients and for the large amount of clothing which is washed daily. This item, unfortunately, I reiterate from that of 1907.

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS.

The fence in front of the Hospital was becoming more or less dilapidated and has been replaced by a new one. This, in addition to the amount of labor put on the grounds, adds very materially to the appearance of the front.

Several rooms in the basement were plastered. The rooms in the attic, fourteen in all, have been lathed and plastered. The windows were repaired and all the woodwork received a much needed coat of paint. The result so far as appearance and comfort are concerned need not be described.

The floors in the water closets were very much decayed and have been replaced by new ones. Various repairs were made in the different departments.

A water-power washing machine has been purchased at a very moderate price and its worth certainly exceeds its price a hundred fold, when one realizes the amount of work it does and the manner in which it is done.

At our Institution, after a demise, it has been the custom to keep the body therein awaiting burial very often at times exceeding forty-eight hours. Not only has inconvenience resulted from this condition, but the danger of infection due to having the body of a patient, who may die of tuberculosis or other infectious or contagious disease, as is often the case, lay for so long a time in our Institution. A building, 8x10, has been built for this purpose, and immediately after a death the body is removed to this building, awaiting

Farm Wages and Values

The census and statistics office issued recently the results of a report for the year ended December 31, 1908, on farm land values in the Dominion, the values of farm animals, and the averages of farm and domestic wages.

The average value of farm land for all the provinces is $33.70 per acre. In five of the provinces it is under $30, being $27.30 in Manitoba, $25 in Nova Scotia, $21.40 in New Brunswick, $20.40 in Saskatchewan, and $18.20 in Alberta. In Prince Edward Island the average is $32.70 per acre, in Quebec $41.90, in Ontario $47.30, and in British Columbia $76.10. Values are high in the last named province owing to the comparatively large extent of farm land there in orchard and small fruits.

The average value of horses at the end of the year was $46 for those under one year, $106 for those of one to under three years, and $143 for those of three years and over. Horses of the last class are below an average of $120 in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Alberta; in New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario they are about $140, and in Manitoba and Saskatchewan they are $170 to $176. Milch cows have an average value in the Dominion of $34, ranging from $29 in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick to $36 in Ontario and $37 in Saskatchewan; but in British Columbia the average is $48. Other horned cattle have an average value over the Dominion of $9 for those under one year, $21 for those of one to under three years and $32 for those of three years and over. These averages are generally close for all the provinces, but the highest values are given for Ontario and the Western provinces.

The average value of swine is given as $5.86 per 100 pounds live weight, being lowest in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and highest in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia. Sheep are given an average value of $5.23 per head for the Dominion, and are below the average in the Maritime provinces, Quebec and Saskatchewan.

The total value of farm animals computed on the foregoing averages and the number of animals on farms in June was $530,000,000. The June price of wool for the Dominion was 18 cents per pound.

The average wages of farm and domestic help for the Dominion per month was $24.60 for males and $13.50 for females, and per year, $299 for males and $130 for females. The highest averages are reported for the western provinces, where they reach about $300 per year for males, and $160 for females. In Ontario and Quebec the average for males is about $240 and for females $120 per year.

Montreal Police Raid Candy Stores.

At Montreal an important move towards the prevention of selling intoxicating candies was made, when the provincial revenue police made a raid on candy stores and seized large quantities of chocolate candies, which were found to be mere shells, containing about half a teaspoonful of brandy each. The chocolates sold at sixty cents a pound and many complaints had been made that they were very popular with young girls and boys, who got drunk on them.

Chief Archambault, of the revenue police, states that he seized 100 cases of these chocolates, each containing four or five pounds, at Lowney's chocolate factory, as well as a cask containing twenty-five gallons of brandy.

Following this a raid was made, and warrants were issued against thirty candy stores for selling liquor without a license as a result of their handling these goods, which were known as "chocolate cordials." The chocolates are being analyzed, and the revenue people will push the cases to the limit. The Lowney people claim that the brandy seized was only used by them for flavoring purposes.

The city of Washington includes in its colored population 5,499 government employees, who receive salaries aggregating $31,000,000 a year. Repeat it:—Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds.

Bridgetown Hockey Team Plays Annapolis Team

The first game played by the Bridgetown hockey team with an outside team came off on Saturday afternoon in a match game with the Annapolis hockeyists. It is only justice to state that the Annapolis team is composed of all old players,—in fact, two were old First Royal men—while our home team has had a very few weeks practice. Bustin and Hicks, who were on the defence for Bridgetown, put up a good game,—Hicks especially, stopping what seemed impossible shots, played surprisingly well for a beginner. Ford also played a good hard game. Kinney only needs practice in shooting to make a good hockeyist. The town line up was:—

A. Kinney—R. Wing.
R. W. Elliott—L. Wing.
—Ford—Centre.
F. Beckwith—Rover.
H. Graham—C. Point.
H. Bustin—Point.
E. Hicks—Goal.

We were unable to get the names of the Annapolis team. Although the game resulted in a score of 6-1, with the first half 1-1, our boys played well enough to show that if they keep at it they will some day make a strong team. The rink is rather small for a hockey match, and it was the opinion of all present that the interest shown should be good encouragement for some one to go ahead and build an up-to-date rink before another season as the interest in hockey alone would be a good drawing card for the patronage which would make it a paying enterprise.

The play-off game between the Town and the Bankers, which came off on Thursday afternoon, resulted in a decisive win for the Town with a score 5-0. Both teams had the same line up as in the previous game which resulted in a tie. In this game Longmire on the Town team showed great improvement in his play.

New Vessel For Clementsport Man.

A recent Boston paper contains a full description of Schr. Stanley M. Seaman, launched Dec. 22, by the Cobb-Butler Co. The Seaman is a beautifully modelled and substantially built double deck four-masted schooner, designed for the coastwise and Porto Rican trade. She is 139 feet in length, 39 feet in breadth and 20 feet in depth. She has a gross tonnage of 1069 and net tonnage of 963. The frame is of oak, plankwood and hacketack, and the planking and ceiling are of yellow pine. She is square fastened and extra strong. There is an unusual amount of galvanized work in the vessel's equipment. One of her boats is fitted with a six horse power gasoline engine. The two houses are 32x26 and 29x23 feet respectively. The after house is beautifully finished in hard wood with paneled ceiling. It includes main cabin, dining room, captain's cabin, a bath room, two spare state rooms, rooms for the mate and steward, and pantry. All rooms heated by steam. The forward house contains engine room, galley and forecastle. An unusual feature is placing the windlass inside the engine room. It is thought the windlass "will pay for its lodging" by increased convenience and lack of exposure to the weather.

Government Annuity Plan

A few days ago there was issued the prospectus of the system of government annuities as decided upon at the last session of parliament and thus attention is again directed to a plan which has previously been the subject of considerable discussion. The system is not a charitable system, though the charity feature has its place in it, but it is a system which is designed to encourage thrift on the part of the people of the Dominion. Because it will tend to increase Canadian thriftiness the system is one of great importance since it must aid in adding to the wealth of a country which has every chance to become a country of immense wealth. Under the plan decided upon, as an exchange points out, the earning power of the money paid in will be calculated at four per cent. The amount of any annuity is limited to a minimum of $50 and a maximum of $600 per year. The annuities cannot be set for debt, nor forfeited nor transferred. The payments may be made in a lump sum, or by regular or irregular instalments as the circumstances of the individual permit. A man and his wife may obtain a joint annuity. If the claimant dies before the maturity of the annuity, his heirs will receive the amount paid in plus compound interest thereon at three per cent for the time since the payments began. Men employing labor can contract for their workmen and incorporated societies for their members. By paying twenty-five cents a week between the ages of twenty and sixty an annuity of $129.91 will be paid for the rest of his life. The yearly payments, of course, decrease in proportion to the lateness of the age in commencing the premiums.

In the year 1909 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon, says an exchange. There will be a total eclipse of the moon on June 3rd and 4th, partly visible in Nova Scotia; the beginning visible generally in South America, Africa, Europe and south western Asia, the ending generally in Africa, Central and Western Europe, South America and North America, except in the western parts.

The flag of Denmark is the oldest in Europe; it has been flying in its present form since 1219.

Collision of Two Ocean Liners Off Nantucket Shore

Passengers Rescued From Sinking Steamers by Other Ocean Liners Summoned by Wireless Telegraphy.

New York, Jan. 24.—The marine accident which for more than twenty-four hours has held the attention of the world and which has not been without fatalities is tonight nearing a fortunate, if not happy, ending. The ramming of the White Star liner Republic early Saturday morning by the Italian liner Florida, off Nantucket, Mass., has been followed by a series of events making it one of the most remarkable ocean mishaps on record. No less than seven ocean liners, the Baltic, New York, Furnessia, La Lorraine and Lucania, and the two crippled ships, Republic and Florida, are figuring in this stirring story.

The 442 passengers of the Republic have undergone two transfers on the open sea, first to the crippled Florida, on Saturday morning, and again early today, to the more commodious Baltic, which is bringing also the 900 and more passengers from the disabled Florida. With this great human burden of 1,650 rescued persons, besides her own list of 930, the Baltic will arrive off Sandy Hook about one o'clock tonight. The Republic started for New York, towed by the revenue cutter Gresham, and steered by the Anchor liner Furnessia aft. The Florida, with her bow bent from the terrific impact with the Republic, is also slowly steaming under her own steam for this port, convoyed by the American liner Seneca. Until an early hour today it was believed the collision of the two ships off fog-bound Nantucket Saturday morning had not resulted in death or injury to a single passenger or member of the crew. Shortly after midnight, however, the wireless telegraph, that appraised the world of the Republic's distress and quickly brought other ships to her aid, flashed the news that two passengers on the Republic had been killed and two others injured. Late in the day another wireless message told of four deaths on board the Florida, but the identity of these persons was not made clear.

Martha's Vineyard, Mass., Jan. 25.—Captain Sealy and fifty members of the crew of the Republic were transferred to the destroyer Seneca off Vineyard Sound lightship at 8 a. m. today, and an hour later the Seneca started for New York. The captain of the Gresham stated that the Republic sank last night, nine miles south by east of Nantucket lightship in about forty fathoms of water.

Captain Sealy was picked up from a grating, but was not hurt, and none of the crew were injured. The Gresham, after transferring the Republic's survivors to the Seneca, started for Wood's Hole.

Character in the Face

I used to pride myself upon my power to read faces casually encountered, which is, I suppose, but another way of saying that I used to be young. Whole character sketches could I make out of the curve of the lips, the lines of the forehead, the contour of cheek and of brow, and, as I never again saw most of the people in question, and never really knew them, nobody was ever the wiser or the worse for my minute interpretations. It is only lately that I have begun to suspect that my instinct was more fallible than I had thought, that Dame Nature is a far more subtle lady than I had dreamed and that, in creating faces, as elsewhere, she follows her usual method of almost wholly concealing her meaning by partially revealing it.

It is from actual observation that we have grown to associate certain inner qualities with certain characteristics of cut and of coloring, or are fiction and drama responsible for our conventional beliefs? No amount of enlightenment can keep us from identifying golden hair with innocence; the black locks and heavy brow of the arch villain of melodrama, the square chin of the man of decision, the straightforward gaze of conscious virtue—all these time-worn generalities dominate, though we do not know it, our observation. If we had the use of our eyes we should see, I fancy, that, in real life, the villain wears a look of conscious virtue more convincingly than does any one else, and that, unlike his image in fiction, he almost never realizes that he is a villain. We hide our real vision under the shreds and patches of worn-out fancy, and I think that the angels would laugh if they could hear, as mayhap they do, our interpretation of those whom we see hurrying past us upon the street, or sitting beside us in railway trains or, dare I add? at our own hearths.

From "The Point of View," in the January Scribner.

In 54 cities of Italy, it is said that the deaths will reach 164,850—the result of the earthquake.

PLAYING HAVOC WITH PATENT MEDICINES

An Old-fashioned, Home-Made Mixture which Cures Kidney and Liver Trouble.

A prominent local druggist states that since the celebrated prescription of a distinguished specialist has become more or less known it is interfering with the sale of secret medicines. The prescription, which first appeared in a leading health journal, is reproduced here, just exactly as originally written: Fluid Extract Cascara, 1/2 oz.; Fluid Extract Carriana Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 6 oz. Directions: One teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good druggist can dispense this, or, even better, a person can buy the items separately and mix them at home by shaking them well together in a bottle. It is stated that the ingredients being vegetable, are harmless and simple. It has a gentle and natural action, and gradually tones up the eliminative tissues, leaving the kidneys in a perfectly healthy condition.

A merchant well known in public affairs states that this recipe cured his rheumatism. Save the prescription.

REBUILDING MESSINA.

Messina, Jan. 15.—Signs of renewed activity now that conditions are becoming more settled since the earthquake disaster are noticeable everywhere. Many persons who left the city immediately after the catastrophe are now returning, anxious to start life anew, encouraged by the unanimity of the nation in deciding that Messina, Italy's advance sentinel between the Ionian and Tyrrhenian seas, shall rise again. The number of cars transporting fruit, which is one of the leading industries of the city, is increasing and cars are being more frequently seen than at any time since the disaster.

Plans are being made for the building of a new town, to be situated on a field a mile distant from the ancient railway station. This plan was adopted in order to hasten the work of re-construction, for if the clearing of the site and the ruins of the ancient city were undertaken first, more than a year would be required and the undertaking difficult.

The type of buildings which will be safest in the event of another earthquake is being discussed. It is remarked in this city that only building which withstood the earthquakes was that of Dr. Camareri. This house was built on a platform of cement made of hollow bricks held together by wires. Competitive prizes have been offered for the best project bearing on the work of reconstruction with building material the durability of which offers the greatest guarantee of safety.

TREATY.

It is announced that Ambassador Bryce and Secretary Root have agreed upon the terms of a Treaty intended to provide for the friendly settlement of all differences and difficulties between Great Britain and the United States. The treaty was signed on Monday night. It will not take effect until sanctioned by the United States senate and the government of Great Britain.

"More than five thousand elephants a year go to make our piano keys," remarked the student boarder, who had been reading the scientific notes in a patent medicine almanac. "For the land's sake!" exclaimed the landlady. "Ain't it wonderful what some animals can be trained to do?"—Chicago News.

HUMAN MISERY

IN THE HOME

A vast amount of human misery is endured by thousands of men and women, who are never really well. Headache, sickness, nervous depression, dislike of food, sinking sensations, with distressing dizziness and weakness, make life a daily misery to such sufferers. And the cause is indigestion—a stomach that starves the body, because it cannot digest sufficient food to keep it well, and leaves the mind weak, irritable, depressed. To such unhappy ones Mother Seigel's Syrup brings a message of hope, brings the ready help to health, brings the quiet, strong sense of confidence which only health can give—health re-made and regained, through sound digestion. Take it daily after meals.

Price 60c. a bottle. Sold everywhere. A. J. White & Co. Ltd., Montreal.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TENDERS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY.
 To the Warden and Municipal Council of the Municipality of Annapolis.

Your Committee on Tenders and Public Property beg leave to make the following report for year ending December 1st, 1908.

The year has passed quietly and successfully at the County Institutions. The same Superintendents are in charge, and have given excellent satisfaction. We believe every effort has been made to make the unfortunate inmates as comfortable as possible under the circumstances.

We have as usual endeavored to keep a careful supervision over the expenditures during the year. All supplies have been purchased by tender as far as practicable. The quantity of the same has been good and the price quite moderate.

As instructed by Council we disposed of the marsh land owned by the County; price realized $320.00. We also purchased forty acres of land lying near the Institutions from N. E. Chute for $1,600.00. We have given a considerable time and care to the selection of this land and consider the same a good bargain and well adapted to our needs. It consists of ten acres of pasture, a promising young orchard of four hundred trees and the remainder of good hay land in fine cultivation. A new barn is a necessity on the farm. The present structure has about reached the age limit and is altogether too small for our present needs, as it was necessary to stack some hay after selling quite a quantity. We recommend that the Council take steps to provide a new barn.

The current expenses of the Institutions are as follows:—
 County Hospital.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

It is rumored that we are to have another meat market.

The bargain sales are bringing many people into town every day.

Mr. Norman Ramsey has sold his farm, it is reported, to Mr. H. F. Williams.

Don't forget the Bean Supper, tonight, in the Sunday-School house of St. James' Church, from 5 to 7.30.

The snow-plough made its rounds this season for the first time. Mr. Burpee Chase has the work this year.

A special train from Annapolis brought about eighty-five people to take in the amusements on Monday night.

"Reuben and His Sweetheart" was given before a large and appreciative audience in the Court House on Friday night.

The Annapolis Spectator of Jan. 20th says: "D. J. Murphy, track master of the D.A.R., is in town to look after the landing of the cargo of 125,000 feet of pitch pine, ex-schooner Malbo, for the railway bridges.

Light snowfalls continuing two or three days at intervals have given the ground a good covering, which is welcomed by the lumbermen, the farmers who have wood to haul, and the merchants who are looking for improved trading.

The Bag Social at the Methodist Church on Thursday evening last was quite a success. The novel idea of buying your supper in a bag was the feature of the entertainment. About $25 was realized and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed.

Mr. J. O. Elliott has sold his farm Bridgetown East, to Mr. Charles Ruffee, who will take possession next month. Mr. Elliott took in exchange the town place of Mr. Ruffee and two lots of land. Mr. Elliott has resold the house, we understand, to Mr. Hyson, who will occupy it.

The store of Mrs. A. J. Weir in the old post-office building has been nicely painted and papered, with new sheathed ceiling and makes a very neat appearance. We understand Mrs. Weir intends adding a line of groceries to her stock and the back shop has been fitted up for that purpose.

The N. S. Farmers' Association, which meets at Digby this week, will be addressed by A. H. Kirkland, chairman of the Brown Tail and Gypsy Moth Commission for Massachusetts. Another speaker will be J. A. Ruddick, who will speak on Canadian dairy interests with special reference to this Province.

One of the most interesting debates ever held in the Y. M. C. A. took place last night, and by a small majority it was decided that the expulsion of the Acadians was justifiable. The subject for next Tuesday night will be "Resolved, that a lie is sometimes justifiable." Opened by John H. Hicks; Responded to by Rev. A. J. MacDonald.

Outlook:—Mrs. A. B. Barteaux met with a painful accident on Tuesday evening. She was returning home from Mrs. Gullivan's when she slipped and fell on the ice. Mr. J. W. Baltzer, who came along a few minutes later, found her lying on the ground and assisted her home. Dr. W. F. Read was summoned and found that her hip was broken.

The Kings-Annapolis Medical Society will meet in Masonic Hall on January 28th, 1909. There will be a public meeting in the evening in the Masonic Hall on the subject of Tuberculosis. The subject will be introduced by a paper from Dr. Birt, of Halifax, and another from Dr. DeWitt, of Wolfville, followed by speeches and discussion by other members of the Society present.—Digby Record.

The trial of John Piggott, Municipal Councillor, accused of the practice of bribery in obtaining his seat at last election, was held at the Court House, before Judge Pelton, on Thursday last. F. L. Milner, who was the prosecuting attorney, had associated with him A. J. McLean, of Bridgewater. O. T. Daniels was attorney for the defendant. The case occupied a part of two days, a number of witnesses being tried, and the Judge reserved his decision.

One of the principal social events of the season was a Collar Social given on Monday evening by the young ladies of Autumn Leaf Rebekah Lodge I.O.O.F. It was a thorough success in every particular and nearly $30 was realized for the "Odd-Fellows Home" fund. Unity Rebekah Lodge of Annapolis chartered a special train which brought about eighty-five. The thanks of the Committee is extended to all who contributed to the evening's entertainment.

PERSONAL.

Inspector L. R. Morse, of Digby, is in town.

Mrs. W. A. Chesley, who has been confined to her bed for several months, is, we are pleased to state, slowly convalescing and is now able to sit up a part of the day. Mrs. Chesley's mother, Mrs. Lee, is spending the winter with her.

Mr. Blake Eagleson, of Boston, Mrs. Adna A. Mayberry, of Mechanic Falls, Maine, and Mrs. Fred L. Mayberry, of Poland, Maine, were called home by the illness of their mother, Mrs. T. J. Eagleson, who we are pleased to say is convalescent.

Mr. W. Hoyt Foster and son, Will, of South Framingham, Mass., former residents of Bridgetown, visited Mr. Foster's mother, Mrs. Abner Foster, now residing in Kings County, and relatives in Bridgetown last week. Mr. Foster who left Bridgetown about fourteen years ago, is now a prosperous New England farmer. Three sons and one daughter are also settled in the States.

NOMINATIONS.

Yesterday was Nomination Day for civic honors. Mr. H. Ruggles was the only nomination for Mayor, and the Councilors nominated were K. Freeman, J. R. DeWitt and George Dixon. The last-named gentleman is the only one new to the duties of civic office, but it is the unanimous opinion that he will prove a progressive and active member of the board. There being no opposition, all the nominees will go in by acclamation.

STORY PRIZE WINNER.

The $5.00 prize in the original Story Competition was won by Miss Lillian Gillis of Paradise, "Lillian," with 228 votes for the story "Too Obedient." The next was Mrs. Chas. HALLEY'S COMET.

This comet is rapidly approaching the earth and will be seen early in the year by the naked eye. The first record we have of it was eleven years before Christ. It has appeared to the earth twenty-four times, once in 76 or 77 years. It has an appendage one million miles in length. Edmund Halley discovered it in 1682, while making the tour of Europe, and completed its orbit; hence Halley's Comet. It was seen Christmas, 1758 and 1835. At its last appearance, the writer has vivid recollection of seeing it, though but a small child.

MORSE—ELLIOTT.

On Thursday morning, Jan. 21st, a large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Elliott, Clarence, to witness the marriage of their second daughter, Mabel Miller, to Dr. Vernon H. C. Morse, of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The house was tastefully decorated with evergreen, and the American and Canadian flags suggested the uniting of two countries in a most happy way.

The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was efficiently rendered by Miss Grace Reynolds, of Granville Ferry, and the bridal party took their places beneath the arch, where the solemn ceremony which united the two was performed by Rev. H. H. Saunders.

The bride looked lovely in a traveling suit of dark green chifon broadcloth with hat to match. After a wedding breakfast, Dr. and Mrs. Morse drove to the station and there, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, took the west-bound train en route for their future home in Cambridge, Mass., where Dr. Morse has been practicing since graduating from Harvard in 1903.

Conspicuous among the wedding gifts were a set of crocheted tablemats worked by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. B. Miller, Clarence, in her eightieth year; and a centerpiece beautifully embroidered in carnations done by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Inglis Pinney, of Middleton, when she was seventy-five years old. Numerous other gifts of cut glass, silver, china, linen, furniture, and money testify to the loving regard of a host of friends.

We wish for Dr. and Mrs. Morse every happiness and a life of usefulness and prosperity in their new home.

NEW PARISH PRIEST FOR ANNAPOLIS.

Rev. Father Grace, who leaves this week for his old parish, Annapolis and Digby, farewelled from his parishioners on the western shores of the County during last week and Sunday (10th). Though not a robust man, Father Grace is an indefatigable worker and at Ferguson's and Herring Cove, Ketch Harbor and other points in the parish there is general regret at his departure. He has built a chapel and a hall and renewed other chapels in the parish and leaves it absolutely free of debt. At Ketch Harbor, Herring Cove and Ferguson's Cove last week purses of gold and addresses were presented to the beloved priest.—Halifax Chronicle.

(Rev. Father Grace and his housekeeper, Miss Munroe, arrived in Annapolis Royal, Thursday last.)

EVAPORATOR DESTROYED.

The evaporator building at Greenwich was totally destroyed by fire early on Wednesday morning. As there was a heavy gale blowing and no water facilities, nothing could be saved. The origin of the fire is not known. The building and plant had recently been leased, by J. William Smith, of Halifax, and business was to have been started early in February. About $300 worth of goods in the building were destroyed.

THE HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Halifax Crescents defeated New Glasgow 3-2 in the New Glasgow rink on Friday evening, thus taking the lead in the race for the hockey championship. The game was closely contested and very fast. The ice was in a poor condition, being slushy and sticky. Crowds gathered to witness the game, and there was a great crush at the rink.

SAVING THE DAYLIGHT.

The "Daylight Saving Bill," which was before the last Parliament of Great Britain, is to be re-introduced at the next session by Mr. Pearce, M. P. The new measure is to be drafted on the lines recommended by the Select Committee, to which it was submitted last session. It will, accordingly, propose an alteration in the time of one hour on a Sunday in April and September, instead of an alteration of twenty minutes on a Sunday in each of four months, as was originally suggested by Mr. Willett, the inventor of the scheme.

It is said that the Ontario educational authorities have ordered the letter U to be restored in the spelling of honor, labor, favor, etc. The only word to which we should like the U restored is Saviour, when that word refers to the Divine Redeemer. There is no need of restoration in the other cases. We recall the fact that Joseph Howe dropped the U in honor, and we have had no keener advocate of pure English than he. Where a reform is made let us adhere to it. It is not wise to hurry changes even in spelling, but to go backward is not wise.—Presbyterian Witness.

SERIOUS DEPLETION IN FUNDS

HARD TIMES HARD ON THE POOR CONSUMPTIVE

Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Makes an Urgent Appeal for Money.

$25,000 Required to Cover Bank Overdraft and Provide for Maintenance of Poor Patients.

These head-lines tell the story of our needs. They are heavy and urgent. Many times during the past twelve months the question has pressed itself upon the Trustees, "Can we continue the work further?" Every month brought its quota of accounts for salaries and wages of staff, bills of butcher, milkman, eggs, groceries, heavy coal bills—a serious item—and other uncontrollable expenses so long as the doors were kept open.

These had to be paid somehow. Contributions—especially after the turn of the year when the financial depression was felt at its keenest—fell off to such an extent, that each month the burden became heavier.

During all this period there was only one thing to do, and that was to lean on our banker—swelling the bank overdraft.

The trial was the severest in the history of these Muskoka Homes, in which nearly 3,000 persons, stricken by the dread white plague, have been cared for.

But never for a single hour did the doors of the Free Hospital fail to swing open, and give a welcome to suffering ones without money and without price.

The good news has gone forth of a rich harvest the wide Dominion over.

Friends, we come to you at this time, when the clouds of depression are being lifted, asking that you now—in the direness of our extremity—help to lift the burden being carried—not for any personal gain, but solely, alone, only on behalf of suffering sisters and brothers.

Our plea is on behalf of the sick ones.

What will you give?
Do not say nay.
Help generously.
Help all you can.
Help some.
Help now.

A TALE OF THE TRAIL.

(J. W. Foley, in New York Times.)

This life's a middlin' crooked trail, an' after forty years of knockin' round I'm free to say th' right ain't always clear.

I've seen a lot of folks go wrong—right off the main highroad. An' fetch up in a swamp some-where almost before they knowed.

I don't pretend to be no judge of right an' wrong in men; I ain't been perfect all my life, an' may not be again.

An' sometimes when I see a chap who seems plumb gone astray I think perhaps he started right but somehow lost his way.

I like to think the good in 'em by far outweighs the ill; Th' trail of life is middlin' hard an' lots of it uphill;

There's places where there ain't no guides or signboards up, an' so it's partly guesswork an' part luck which way you chance to go.

I've seen th' trails fork some myself, an' when I had to choose I wasn't sure when I struck out if it win or lose.

So when I see a man, who looks as though he'd gone astray, I like to think he started right an' only lost his way.

I've seen a lot of 'em start out with grit an' spunk to scale Th' hills that purple over there, an' somehow lose th' trail;

I've seen 'em stop an' start again, not sure about th' road; An' found 'em lost on some blind trail almost before they knowed.

I've seen 'em circlin', tired out, with every pathway blind, With cliffs before 'em strainin' through th' dusk, when twilight's gittin' gray.

A-lookin' for th' main highroad—poor chaps who've lost their way.

It ain't so far from right to wrong—th' trail ain't hard to lose; There's times I'd almost give my horse to know which one to choose;

There ain't no signboards on th' road 'r keep you on th' track; Wrong's sometimes white as driven snow an' right looks awful black!

I don't set up to be no judge of right an' wrong in men; I've lost th' trail sometimes myself—I may git lost again.

An' if I see some chap who looks as though he'd gone astray I want to shove my hand in his an' help him find th' way.

Extraordinary Development of Devonshire Girl

That there is one, Peter Pan the fewer in real life this Christmas is due to the striking success of a medical experiment which a well known London doctor has been trying with Mildred Hart, the 23-year-old Devonshire girl who "never grew up."

This girl, who last October was crooning baby talk to her doll and required the constant nursing and protection of her family, is now well on her way to become a normal, useful being. The doctor who has been directing the treatment, which has added so many years' mental and physical development in a few weeks, described the case.

"The young woman," when treatment began," said the doctor, "was to all intents and purposes a dull and backward child of five. Thirty-three inches in height, with lanky, dry hair, bulging forehead, broad, fat nose, and pale complexion, she sat all day, even in summer, shivering before an open fire! The limbs, hands, and feet were cold and harsh to the touch.

"The anterior fontanelle or 'soft spot' of the head, which, in the baby, becomes closed in the first few months of life, could still be felt. She was uninterested and unobservant, and could speak only three or four words. Her teeth were the teeth of childhood; her appetite was very poor, and frequently she took no more than half a pint of liquid food a day.

"Treatment was begun two months ago, twelve, and a half grains of thyroid extract (the thyroid gland is in the lower part of the neck) being taken each night. Her condition now, after two months' treatment, is as follows: In height she has increased over two and a half inches; the skin, which was harsh and dry, is now moist, warm and natural. The nose has taken on a more normal shape, and the dull vacant expression has been largely lost. The hair, which was scanty and dry, is growing fast and has a more natural appearance. She has cut several fresh teeth, and her lack of appetite, which used to be such a source of worry, has been replaced by a constant hunger.

"The most wonderful change, however, is in her mental condition. She has acquired a most extraordinary loquacity. It seems as if she had been listening and storing up words from babyhood. She could not have learned her present vast vocabulary in the last few weeks; she evidently knew the words before, but was unable to reproduce them until the thyroid extract stimulated into activity and development the hitherto-latent powers of speech.

"The slight increase in weight which has taken place in the two months shows the bumper the system must have had for the hitherto missing thyroid secretion. If the ordinary individual takes extract of thyroid he rapidly loses weight, since the slightest excess of this peculiar substance causes a rapid breaking-down of the fatty tissues of the body. Here, however, the twelve and a half grains taken daily did not make an excess, but barely supplied the amount which nature had been craving for years."

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism. If as Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Put this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

The estimate is made by Nova Scotia newspapers that the agricultural and fishery, manufacturing and mineral industries of the province last year produced wealth to the amount of $108,000,000. That is a fairly large figure, meaning fully $1,000 a family. If it is right, Nova Scotians should be well up among the people of Canada, who are proving rich, says the Montreal Gazette.

WATER GAUGE BURST

C. P. R. Fireman Badly Scalded

To C.P.R. fireman, Geo. H. Duffus, who lives in Robertson Street, Fort William, while on his engine near Westford happened a nasty accident. The water gauge of the locomotive burst and scalded the whole of the left side of his face and head terribly.

"It so happened," said Duffus to our representative, "that I had a box of Zam-Buk in my pocket, which I used for a sore on my lip, and when I had recovered from the first shock of the accident, I produced the balm and had it applied freely to the scalded parts. At the time I applied it I was suffering acute agony, but within a wonderfully short time Zam-Buk gave me ease. I was able to continue my journey, and upon reaching home I obtained more Zam-Buk and continued the treatment. It acted wonderfully well, and in a few days had the wound nicely healing. I don't know anything so fine as a healer of burns, scalds, cuts and similar injuries which workers are so liable to; and in my opinion a box of Zam-Buk should be kept handy in every worker's home."

There is something different and superior about Zam-Buk. Time and again workers in all branches of trade have proved its vast superiority over the advertised ointments and salves of the day. No doubt the fact that Zam-Buk is made entirely from herbal essences and extracts, while ordinary ointments contain more or less animal fats and oils, goes a long way to explain Zam-Buk's superiority. However this may be, the fact remains that in four continents to which it has been introduced within ten years it has become the leading household balm!

For burns, cuts, scalds, bruises, eczema, piles, ulcers, ring-worm, itch, salt-rheum, bad leg, festering sores, shapped places, colic-sores, frost-bites and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is beyond doubt a most marvellous cure.

Druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box and the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, will mail a box, post free, upon receipt of price, to any of our readers who may have difficulty in obtaining a supply of the genuine Zam-Buk from their local stores.

AT DEATH'S DOOR

Doctors had to give her Morphine to ease the pain

Five boxes of "Fruit-a-lives" Cured Her

ENTERPRISE, ONT., Oct. 1, 1908.

For seven years I suffered with what physicians called a "Water Tumor". I would get so bad at times that I could hardly endure the pain. I could neither sit, stand nor lie down. Physicians of Memphis had to be given to me or I could never have borne the pain. Many physicians treated me, but my cure seemed hopeless, and my friends hourly expected my death. It was during one of these very bad spells that a family friend brought a box of "Fruit-a-lives" to the house. After much persuasion I commenced to take them, but I was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I commenced to experience relief. I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes I was cured, and when I appeared on the street my friends said, "The dead has come to life." And this seemed literally true because I certainly was at death's door. But now I can work almost as well as ever I could, and go camping and berry-picking with the girls. I will be glad if you will publish this testimonial, if it will further the interests of "Fruit-a-lives." They should be in every household. Yours very truly, Mrs. JAMES FENWICK.

Through the whole country around Enterprise, Ont., people are talking about this wonderful cure. By their marvelous action on the Kidneys, "Fruit-a-lives" cured Mrs. Fenwick when the doctors said she could not be operated on and was doomed to die. "Fruit-a-lives" cured Mrs. Fenwick when all else failed. Try them for your trouble, 25c. and 50c. a box, at dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price. Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

RESULT OF MONCTON'S SCOTT ACT CRUSADE.

Moncton, N. B., Jan. 14—In seventeen successful searches made by the Moncton police during the Scott Act campaign of 1908, $3,500 worth of liquor was seized and later destroyed according to the annual report of Chief of Police Rideout.

There were 107 Scott Act convictions during the year, twenty-five were taken to jail for one month and nine for three months, besides fines imposed, the year being a most prolific one in Scott Act matters.

The report also shows a decrease in drunkenness, there being 228 arrests for inebriation during the year against 326 in the latter nine months of 1907.

Serious offences against the law were almost unknown in Moncton during the year, despite the large amount of foreign labor in and about the community. There were 434 arrests for various causes during the year, seven being females.

While we are nagging our people to buy from home merchants instead of sending abroad, says a contemporary we have our weather eye on the merchant who sends abroad for office supplies when he can get them at home just as good and as cheap.

THE COMING WAR.

It is earnestly hoped that war in the Near East will be prevented. Austria eagerly aims at the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina but Serbia and Turkey declare that this will be a cause for war. England, Russia and Italy want peace now more than ever. In the face of so great a calamity it would ill become Christian nations to begin shedding Christian blood. If Austria insists on war it may prove a very dangerous business; the beginning of a great and dreadful conflagration.

FEVER SORES.

Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by W. A. WARREN, BRIDGETOWN; A. E. ATLEE, ANNAPOLIS ROYAL; and BEAR RIVER DRUG STORE.

The Ceiling For Looks--And All Else

You wouldn't put anything BUT a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling in any building of yours if you really knew how far ahead of every other kind of ceiling mine really are. Just as a matter of economy—for a Pedlar Ceiling costs no more to start with than the very best decorated plaster; and yet it will be a perfect ceiling long after the best plaster has become a dangerous network of cracks. Economy is the first thing to think of in ceiling any room, of course; for it can't be a low-priced ceiling if you have to repair it every year or two. My Art Steel Ceiling will last as long as the building. Why shouldn't it last?—it's STEEL. It can't crack, no matter how unevenly the building settles. Its surface can't flake off. Moisture can't possibly get through it. The heaviest jarring overhead cannot loosen it. It is THE permanent ceiling. Which one of those facts is true of a plaster ceiling? And, as for the looks of a plaster ceiling compared with the beauty of a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling—comparison simply isn't possible. For my ceilings, designed by notable artists—some Two Thousand Designs—are absolutely correct from an artistic viewpoint. The patterns are doubly stamped by huge and very powerful special Pedlar machinery, into sheet steel, in a way that embosses the design in clear, sharp, high relief, with every detail wrought out to perfection. Some metal ceilings are blunt from the most delicate pastel shades to color-schemes fairly Byzantine in their strength and strikingness. And, of course, my ceilings are fireproof,—which is one reason why anybody who carries insurance will save their whole cost in a few years time, simply through reduced premiums. I wish you could see some literature I would like to send you—free, of course—upon this ceiling question. Between the illustrations and the text I guess I could show you that Pedlar Art Steel Ceilings are the kind of ceilings you really want to get the next time you build or repair any structure worth ceiling at all. Tell me your address (write to our nearest place) and I will see you get the information you ought to have about the ceiling you ought to buy.

G. A. Pedlar

Pedlar products include every kind of sheet metal building materials—too many items to even mention here. You can have a catalog—information—estimate—price—advice—just for the asking. We'd like specially to interest you in our Art Steel Ceilings and Side Walls—they are a revelation to many people. More than 2,000 designs. May we send you booklet and pictures of some of them?

FAMILY DISCORDS.

A New York scientist, the father of a large and growing family, has his troubles. One evening his youngest was holding forth in her best style. The mother could do nothing with the child, so the man of science went to the rescue.

"I think I can quiet little Flora," he said. "There's no use humming to her in that silly way. What she wants is real music. The fact that I used to sing in the glee club at Yale and sing well, too, may make a difference."

Accordingly, the professor took the child, and striding up and down the room, sang in his best manner. He had not finished the second verse of his song when a ring was heard. The door was opened, and there stood a girl of fourteen, who said:

"I'm one of the family that's just moved into the flat next to yours. There's a sick person with us, and he says, if it's all the same to you, would you mind letting the baby cry instead of singing to it."

TWO HERE, ONE THERE.

"I canna leave ye thus, Nancy," a good old Scotchman wailed. "Ye're too auld to work, an' ye couldna live in the almshouse. Gin I die, ye maun marry anither man, wha'll keep ye in comfort in yer auld age."

"Nay, nay, Andy," answered the good spouse. "I could na wed anither man, for what wad I do wi' twa husbands in heaven?"

Andy pondered long over this, but suddenly his face brightened.

"I hae it, Nancy," he cried. "Ye ken auld John Clemmens? He's a kind man, but he is na' a member of the kirk. He likes ye, Nancy, an' gin ye'll marry him, 'twill be all the same in heaven—John's na' Christian."—Success Magazine.

SCOFFS AT RUBBER TIRES.

An old farmer, who by hard work and thrifty habits had got together a small fortune, decided that the time had at length arrived when he was justified in ordering a family carriage, says the Philippines Gossip.

He went to a carriage builder and described in detail the kind of vehicle he wished to buy.

"Now, I suppose you want rubber tires?" said the carriage builder.

"No, sir," replied the old farmer, in tones of resentment. "My folks ain't that kind. When they're ridin' they want to know it."

ANIMAL DIET.

Doctor (upon finding his patient weaker than before)—What does this mean? Haven't you been following my instructions?

Patient (feebly)—Yes, doctor.

Doctor—Been eating animal food right along, have you?

Patient (grimly trying to smile)—Well, doctor, I tried to, but somehow it did not seem to agree with me very well. I managed to worry down the hay and the clover tops all right, but the thistles kind of stuck in my throat, and I had to give it up.—Judge.

This is how a driver of the prison van known as "Black Maria" distinguished himself. A would-be wit on the causeway hailed him:

"Got any room inside, Robert?"

"There's room for one," replied the driver. "We kep' it for you."

Not entirely disconcerted, the wit made another shot:

"What's your fare?" he asked.

The answer entirely extinguished him.

"Bread and water—same as you had before."—Tit-Bits.

THE EXCEPTION.

"Darling, I like your face so sweet," the lover said; "your form so neat. Your lovely waving auburn hair. Your forehead, milky white and square. Your lips that curve so prettily. Your azure eyes—in fact with me just everything about you goes. Except—except your saucy noes."

ANIMAL DIET.

Newly-wed Husband—The time has come, dearest, when I shall have the painful task of acquainting your father with the fact that I am heavily in debt.

Wife—Don't mind that. I'm sure he'll give you the sympathy of a companion in adversity.—Fliegende Blaetter.

BRIBERY—AND CORRUPTION.

James—"I get a penny every time I take my cod-liver oil."

Thomas—"What do you do with them?"

James—"Mother puts 'em in a money-box till there's enough, and then buys another bottle of cod-liver oil."

A BEGINNER.

"Won't you take my seat?" said the man in the street car as he lifted his hat to the pretty girl.

"No, thank you," she replied. "I've been skating all the afternoon, and I'm tired of sitting down."—Puck.

We Pay for all We Get in Life

There is no doubt that we pay for all we get in life, but a great many of us drift into getting in a half-hearted, unthinking way of paying only when we must and then unwillingly. It would be vastly more advantageous to think out our problem beforehand, to decide what things we really must have in life, and just what we are willing to give for them: how much comfort, how much drudgery, how much renouncement. Of course, the incurably childish mind will cling to the end to a wavering doubt that it may somehow eat its cake and have it, too—get the rewards of labor and escape making the payments; but most of us who believe in any law of cause and result will sooner or later settle to some sort of rough calculation as to what we want to pay, and pare our purchases accordingly. But if we do not, we also pay for making no decision, and few things, in the end, come higher than drifting through life trusting somehow that bills will never come due. We pay for drifting, and we pay for living; we pay for liberty, for unconventionality; we pay a pretty price for conventionality and uniformity; we pay for our habits and we pay for having none; we pay for joy and we pay for grief; we pay for our doubts and we pay higher for our faiths. The truth is, life and its fruits are not presented to us, a free gift, as they were to Adam but living and all its prizes are dangled before us, a little out of reach, while the Sybilline voice sounds out from the darkness beyond saying, "Here, my little man; here is life, and here all the fruits of life. Come, find out the prices and buy." And it is quite useless to try to snatch and run. The attempt never succeeds. We are always caught and the worth of the goods gotten from us, and a heavy interest extorted, too, as a punishment for trying to escape. We pay for our doubts with much darkness and uncertainty; we pay for our faiths with infinite courage and trust, often in the teeth of calamity and the face of destruction. We pay for our high ideals with great loneliness. We pay for life itself in much effort to sustain it, in greater effort to train it into worthy channels, in unremitting effort to keep it there. We pay for our inevitable sorrows and losses and errors sometimes with anger and denunciation; sometimes with feeble complaining; and sometimes with resignation, but whatever the coin we give, we know at least that nothing is got for nothing. A complete and resigned outlook upon life is a purchase which must necessarily cost a goodly sum, a long and careful training, even perhaps a long line of godly ancestors.

Who choose the great ideals and the high emotions must be ready with the payment of the more poignant agonies and greater dangers. But the great point is to know what we want to buy, and, secondly, whether or no we are able and willing to pay the price.—Harper's Weekly.

Misery in Stomach

Why not start now—today, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food—the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of Indigestion.

Rev. John Hackenly, B. A., has been taking duty in the Lockport parish with much acceptance for the past six weeks. The congregations at all the stations were much larger than they have been for several years and his visiting was very effective. He left on December 28th to begin work in his own parish, St. Peter's, St. Margaret's Bay—Church Work.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

A St. John Stone Mason Cured of Rheumatism

By "Father Morrissey's No. 7" After Seven Doctors Had Failed.

647 Main St., St. John, N.B.

FATHER MORRISSEY MEDICINE CO., LTD.

I am writing to tell you I have been a victim to Rheumatism for several years, and have been treated by seven doctors without finding any permanent relief until I got Father Morrissey's medicine. It has cured me so I am able to do my work and find I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours truly,
JOHN CRAWFORD.

Rheumatism is caused by sluggish Kidneys failing to take the Uric Acid out of the blood. The whole system becomes loaded with poison, which gathers in joints and muscles, causing agony at every movement.

"Father Morrissey's No. 7" Tablets act directly on the Kidneys, stimulating them to vigorous work. They dissolve the Uric Acid in the blood and free the whole system of the poison. Then, of course, the Rheumatism leaves. Price 50 cents at your dealer's or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

When giddy youngsters scoff at things religious, there is not likely to be harshness in the judgment passed on them because their conduct is all due to thoughtlessness, but when men and women in middle life assume that attitude they are worth watching. The workers in the highways and byways, although the victims of mistakes and accidents at times, are doing what they can to promote happiness and prosperity and alleviate suffering in all parts of the earth, while scoffers are of no use to God, man nor the devil.

Mrs. William Hunt died Tuesday morning, the 26th, after a lingering illness. She was about seventy-five years old and is survived by a husband, six sons and two daughters. Much sympathy is felt for the aged husband, who feels very lonely, the tie that has just been severed having been in existence for upwards of half a century. A few years ago he was called upon to mourn the death of a son, and it is only ten months since death claimed his eldest daughter. The surviving sons are Lorenzo and Edgar, at home, Edward, a resident of Granville Centre, Alonzo, Charles and Burke, living in Everett, Mass. KEEPING YOUR WORD.

A middle aged man who has succeeded in establishing a lucrative business one in which he deals with many persons and often comes in contact with them, says that the strongest feature of his success that he can acclaim is that he made it a point to always keep his word. When he began business in a modest way he determined to do that, for he believed that it was better than any minor strategy often employed by men in dealing with their fellows.

Often in beginning it would have been much more profitable and much easier to resort to subterfuge, but he was looking toward future rather than present results. By and by, as time passed, his reputation for keeping his word with customers grew, and this very circumstance acted as a safeguard to integrity. There was no longer danger that "tricks" of the "trade" would be substituted for candor. On this basis the business grew to large proportions, and the public came to recognize the value of the treatment that emanates from the dwelling place of such a principle.

"Keep your word, no matter at what cost," is the advice of this man to the aspirant for a successful career.

Obituary.

VIOLA MYRA BETTON.

The death of Miss Viola Myra Betton, only child of her widowed mother, Mrs. Robert S. Betton, occurred at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Betton, Clarence, on Friday, January 23rd.

While teaching school at Jordan Falls, Shelburne County, this beautiful young girl, only twenty-four years of age, was taken ill with measles, followed by pneumonia, which left her in a weak state of health. After completing her school term, her physician advised change of scene and climate, to seek which she went to Worcester, Mass., where she remained some three or four months, always writing her mother she was better. Two weeks ago she came to Clarence, where it was evident to all the dread disease consumption had claimed her for his own. She sank rapidly, without a murmur or complaint, always giving a sweet smile and cheery word. So she passed on to the home beyond. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing and bereaved mother.

COM.

TAKING CARE OF HORSES.

Adjust the hames to the collar and save sore necks and shoulders.

Horses feed naturally on the ground. Remember this in arranging the mangers and feed boxes.

Take a jack-knife and cut off those blinders. They have no place on the horse. Keep the throat strap loose.

If you want the horse to stand while you are getting the sleigh or buggy don't touch him with the whip before you tell him to go.

Treat the horse in watering as you would yourself. You drink frequently and in small quantities; let the horse do the same.

In feeding the colt bear in mind that it is bone and muscle that it needs, and the nitrogenous foods are what should be fed, such as oats and bran.

If possible have your horse stall at least six feet wide and nine feet long so that your horse can turn around and lie down comfortably. Have the floor nearly level.

An ill fitting collar is like an ill fitting shoe on the human foot. You wouldn't wear a shoe, would you, that causes corns, bunions, and blisters? Be careful and humane.

While the sweat pad will make the collar at a little better it is better economy to have a collar that fits without a pad. Metal collars are being used extensively and are growing in popularity.

If you have a sick horse feed him food that will nourish him most and at the same time require the least exertion to digest. Food that will sharpen the appetite and not repel it. Never give a sick horse cold water.

One of the common wastes often lost sight of on the farm is the keeping of too much horse flesh. If the farmer has enough horses to work with his farm he has just about enough with the exception of young colts that he may be raising from a span of brood mares which every good farmer should possess.

If there is not enough work for the mare on the farm and she is kept merely to breed, the chance is nine times out of ten that the colt will cost the farmer more than it is worth when ready to turn on the market. No matter how much the farmer may admire horses he should never let the horse power on his farm be overdone or outgrow its usefulness.—Island Farmer.
