LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY,

As adopted at a General Meeting of the Society, held in the City of Toronto, on the 3rd day of August, 1855, and amended at General Meetings held on the 13th day of April, 1880, 18th day of November, 1887, and 30th day of May, 1895.

[UNDER THE ACT OF INCORPORATION.]

ARTICLE I. This Society shall be denominated the "UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY," having the same object in view as the British and Foreign Bible Society—that is, the circulation of the Bible without note or comment.

II. This Society shall endeavour to unite all Bible Societies in the Province, and to concentrate their operation, in order to give more efficiency to the whole.

III. This Society shall maintain, in the City of Toronto, a general depot of Bibles and Testaments, from which all Societies in connection with it shall be supplied with the Scriptures at the lowest price at which they can be afforded.

IV. The business of the Society shall be carried on by a Board of Directors to consist of a President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Secretaries, and a representative from each Branch, as provided in Article V., together with twenty clerical and twenty lay members, so selected as to give the Board always, as before, a representative character as regards the principal religious bodies interested in the work of the Society, five of whom shall form a quorum. The three clerical and three lay members who shall have attended the least number of meetings of the Board shall not be eligible for re-election, except in cases where the non-attendance has arisen from illness or absence from the city, in which cases the Board may nominate such member or members for re-election.

V. Each Branch Society shall be entitled to a representative on the General Board. The President of the Branch shall be ex officio such representative, or any other resident member whom the Committee may appoint as a substitute, who shall be a member of such Branch.

VI. At any meeting of the Directors the President, or in his absence the Vice-President first upon the list then present, and in absence of such Vice-President, the Treasurer, and in his absence such member as shall be chosen for that purpose, shall preside.

VII. Each person paying annually one dollar shall be a member of this Society; and persons paying fifty dollars at any one time, either to this Society or to any of the Societies in connection therewith, or through them to the British and Foreign Bible Society, or who may have rendered important services, shall, at the discretion of the Directors, be declared Life Members.

VIII. Each Life Member of this Society shall be furnished with a certificate of membership, under the corporate seal of the Society, duly signed by the President and Secretaries.

IX. The Board of Directors for the time being shall have the appointment of the Permanent Secretary, Agents, Depository, Colporteurs, Book-keeper and Assistants of the Society, and the fixing of all salaries and allowances; and shall have the superintendence and management of all the property, real and personal, of the Corporation, as well as the management and control of its general affairs and the appropriation of its funds, with full power to enact such rules as may be requisite to effect the objects contemplated by the Act of Incorporation.

X. The Board of Directors shall meet for the transaction of business on the third Tuesday of each month, at the hour of 7.30 p.m. Special meetings may be called by the Secretaries at any time, at the request of the President or of any three Directors.

XI. The Annual General Meeting of the Society shall be held on the second Wednesday in the month of May in each and every year, or at such other time as the Directors, for the time being, may deem best for the interests of the Society, when the Officers and Directors for the ensuing year shall be chosen; a report of the operations of the Society during the foregoing year shall be presented, together with the Treasurer's and Depository's accounts duly audited. Special general meetings may be called at any time by the Board.

XII. In case of the death or removal of any Director or Officer during the year, the Board shall at the next ensuing meeting thereof fill such vacancy.

XIII. No alteration of these By-laws shall be made except at a General Meeting of the Society, and after one month's notice of the proposed alterations has been given to the Board.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RELATIVE TO GRANTS TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS, SEPTEMBER, 1878.

That in all applications for grants of Bibles to Sunday Schools the applicant be requested to furnish the Secretaries with an account of the state of the school; the number of scholars and teachers; the amount of funds at the disposal of the managers; who are its officers; and why it is necessary to make such application; all of which should in every case be certified by a minister of the Gospel, or some person of known respectability. And further, this Board recommends that the Secretaries make grants in future only to destitute settlements, reporting the same to the next General Meeting of the Board of Directors.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE RELATIVE TO "GRANTS TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS," ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, 18TH JUNE, 1888.

That the forms of application for grants, already in use, as authorized by the Board in October, 1867, and September, 1878, regarding Sunday Schools, be continued, although it is right to state that the superintendents of schools have not availed themselves of the privileges offered in the form of September, 1878, to any extent.

In the opinion of your Committee, mission churches and schools, under denominational auspices, are not in general to be considered fit objects for the gratuities of the Society; but missions among Indians, Jews, French-Canadians, Chinese, Italians, etc., though under denominational auspices, are not to be taken as coming under this general rule.

FIFTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY, 1894-95.

The British and Foreign Bible Society is unquestionably one of the noblest institutions of the present age, for the advancement of Christianity on the earth.

It has promoted the translation of the Scriptures in whole or in part, into three hundred and twenty languages and dialects, and is actively engaged in their circulation, thus shedding the benign influences of the knowledge of Christ in all portions of the world—cheering the sad and solitary, and giving that precious volume which tells perishing sinners how salvation may be obtained through the meritorious sacrifice of the Crucified Redeemer.

It is a great privilege to dwell in a land of Gospel light and liberty, and it is a blessed thing to be in possession of a knowledge of that saving grace of which the Gospel speaks, and which alone can make sinful mankind "meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light." These inestimable privileges lay upon those so happily situated the sacred obligation implied in the commands of our Saviour, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." "Freely ye have received, freely give."

Much interest has been taken in the recent struggle between China and Japan, and it is gratifying to know that the friends of the Bible have not been indifferent to the well-being of their fellow-men in those countries. Only a few months ago, November, 1894, the first copy (so far as known) of the New Testament, in the Chinese language, was received into the Imperial Palace at Peking. This New Testament, which was specially and beautifully prepared, was the gift of ten thousand nine hundred Protestant women, to the Empress Dowager of China, and it was certainly the first time such a gift had been made to one high in authority within the precincts of the "Forbidden City." The Emperor, having seen the gift Testament, immediately sent some of his officials to purchase copies of the books of the Jesus religion.

In JAPAN the agents of the Bible Societies, having received permission from the Commander-in-Chief, distributed hundreds of New Testaments and Gospels among the soldiers at the barracks, hospitals, etc., in the cities of Tokyo and Yokohama, and subsequently arrangements were made to follow up the distribution of the Scriptures by a personal proclamation of the Gospel of Christ. Until recently the Bible was a prohibited book, and the men were in some cases forbidden to attend Christian services. So the doors are opening more and more for the spread of the Gospel. (See April Recorder.) It is to be regretted that so many Christians take little or no interest in the circulation of the Holy Scriptures, but we rejoice in the belief that the zeal of the lovers of the Truth everywhere is on the increase, and will continue until every family and individual of the human race shall be in possession of the Word of God. The cause is so good that nothing should make us indifferent to it. Its object is so noble and world-wide, that no difficulty or trial should discourage or divert us from supporting it. It has so many enemies that all the energies of the people of God should be aroused to engage in the work and come "to the help of the Lord against the mighty."

The adversary whose name is Legion is ever active. Millions of our fellow-men in foreign lands have never heard the glad tidings of salvation by Jesus Christ. Mohammedanism, Buddhism and superstition prevail; while even in Christian countries infidelity is spreading to an alarming extent. It is, therefore, the imperative duty of all Christians to use every means in their power for the advancement and spiritual welfare of their fellow-men, and they cannot be permanently benefited without the knowledge and blessings revealed in God's Word.

In this Christian work it has been the privilege of the friends and patrons of the Upper Canada Bible Society to participate for the past fifty-five years in co-operation with our illustrious parent, the British and Foreign Bible Society, and while we can review a glorious past, we should be deeply impressed with the fact that the work is unfinished, and although much has been done, much more remains to be undertaken before the great purpose of the Society is accomplished.

In prosecuting the important trust committed to the Board of Directors of the Upper Canada Bible Society, the chief desire is, that the extensive field occupied may be thoroughly and faithfully cultivated, and that they may be enabled at the close of each successive year to show progress as the result of the efforts put forth. It therefore affords your Directors the highest satisfaction to be able to report that the year (1894-5) just closed has been one of gratifying success, for which we desire to acknowledge the goodness of God for His continued guidance and blessing in the conduct of the affairs of the Society, and to Him we humbly ascribe all the praise and glory.

OUR WORK.

In the divine providence, your Directors are pleased to be able to state that no breach has been made in the Directorate by death during the past year. The monthly business meetings of the Board have been well attended, and conducted with much harmony of spirit and action. Ten meetings have been held, with an average attendance of seven clergymen and seventeen laymen, clearly showing the deep interest of the members in the work of the Society.

The past year has been to the community generally one of continued depression and discouragement. "Hard times" and "scarcity of money" are expressions reiterated again and again by the officers of Branch Societies in all portions of our field. No doubt, under an overruling providence, the moral effect of such experience may be good. It is as difficult for a community, as it is for an individual, to enjoy without injury a long continuance of great prosperity, and the checks which from time to time we receive tend to repress a spirit of wild speculation, and cause people generally to realize the uncertain and unsatisfactory value of all earthly things.

Notwithstanding discouragement in ordinary business, we have no reason to complain of any falling off in our circulation of the Word of God, nearly thirty-three thousand (33,000) copies of the Scriptures, in whole or in part, having been issued from our Depository in Toronto, in twenty-eight (28) different languages, during the year. This is an increase of 1,316 over the previous year. (For details see page 11).

BRANCH SOCIETIES AND THEIR VISITATION BY AGENTS.

A great majority of our Branch Societies are healthy, vigorous and fruitful, under the management of earnest, active officers, assisted by a large army of collectors (male and female), who canvass for subscriptions in aid of the Bible Society, and otherwise help in this important work from year to year.

To those friends special thanks are due and are hereby sincerely tendered, for their valuable services to the glory of God and the advancement of His cause.

We regret, however, to say that there are a number of branches in a languid condition. Special efforts have been made by the Committee on Agency and Colportage in Toronto, and the visiting agents, to revive the interest of the officers and people in those localities, and place the societies on a more efficient basis, and thus strengthen and stablish branches in existence, rather than press for the extension and formation of new organizations during the present depression of trade.

In visiting the branches the unusual severity of the past winter was felt by the agents, some of whom had the unpleasant experience of being delayed for several days in snowbound trains, etc., etc.; however, no personal accident occurred to any of the forty-four gentlemen who participated in this work. In several cases, anniversary meetings of branches had to be postponed, and second and even third dates arranged before successful accomplishment. Much expense could be saved if the officers of Branch Societies and the local clergymen would unite, at least once in each year, in advocating the cause and claims of the Bible Society, and co-operate in the management of the work and conduct of the annual meetings, without the assistance of an agent. The meetings are generally well supported by the local ministers of the Gospel, although a few have been found who refuse to take any part themselves, and thus discourage the members of their churches from doing so. The reasons given are generally very trifling. Plans are now under consideration with a view to reduction in the expense of agency visitation.

Ladies' Auxiliaries, and Juvenile Societies in connection with Sabbath Schools or otherwise, are very desirable and helpful in the interests of the Society, and we trust soon to have a number of them organized.

During the past year ten new branches have been added to our list, viz.:—In Ontario—Elmgrove, Everett, Heathcote, Point Edward, York Road, Valentia and Verona. In Manitoba—Hamiota, Gilbert Plains and Lake Dauphin.

We have now a total of 590 branches and depositories.

COLPORTAGE WORK —EXTENDED AND INCREASED.

The work of Bible Colportage has been extended and increased during the past year. Twelve men (five in Ontario and seven in Manitoba and the North-West) have been engaged in this important work for longer or shorter periods as health and circumstances permitted. The operations were chiefly confined to the remote and sparsely populated portions of Ontario, where few, if any, Branch Bible Societies or Depositories are established; also in Manitoba and the North-West Territories. The visits of those self-denying laborers were much appreciated, and brought light and gladness to many dwellings, while the reading of portions of Scripture by your Colporteurs has, under God's blessing, been the means of reviving the zeal and hope of many of those hardy pioneers of our Canadian forests and prairies, who, on account of distance, were temporarily deprived of the social and religious advantages they had left behind in the older settlements. Religious services were conducted, Prayer Meetings held, Sabbath Schools addressed, the sick and dying were comforted, factories and workshops, saw-mills and lumbermen's shanties, etc. etc., were visited, and many persons were supplied with copies of the Scriptures at cost price. During the year, one hundred and twelve (112) families or individuals found destitute of the Word of God were supplied direct by the Colporteurs. Thus the "Good Seed" has been scattered—let us pray that God will abundantly bless the use of The Word—to the salvation of many precious souls and to His own glory.

The following extracts from Reports of our Colporteurs will, we believe, be interesting to the friends of Bible circulation:—

EXTRACTS FROM COLPORTEUR'S REPORTS

In writing this synopsis of my season's work, I desire, first of all, to thank our Heavenly Father for all His kind care and for the degree of success granted to me. On the 24th of April I set out from Toronto. My first stop for work was at the port of Manilowaning (Manitoulin Island, Algoma), where I sold a dozen copies of the Word of God. One young woman, to whom I sold a Bible, was very much interested in her "new book," in which I marked many passages showing "the way of life." My next point was Little Current, where I was requested to preach; the weather was not favourable for my work, so my sales were few. I then visited Gore Bay and Meldrum Bay. When at the latter place, a storm came up and continued for over a week, preventing the steamer from calling, which gave me an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the residents. There was no minister there at that time, so I held seven services. I also visited them at their homes, and read to them. It was indeed a blessed week to me. Some of the people professed Christ, some who were Christians were strengthened, and I trust God's blessing will follow. Bruce Mines was next visited. When here I heard of the sickness and death of my little son, and went back to Toronto for a few days. Returning to Bruce Mines, a meeting of friends interested in the Bible Society was held, and the work of the Branch there was revived by the election of new officers, and I made a book case for the Depository. I then moved on to Sault Ste. Marie, where I remained some time, selling about 70 copies of the Scriptures and helping in Christian work.

Rat Portage was next visited. Here a meeting in the interests of the Bible Society was held on Sabbath, which was a success, being attended by all the ministers in the town and a good large audience. As requested, I addressed the meeting, giving some details of my work. I also collected the cash for sales of Scriptures at the Depository.

I then pushed forward to Winnipeg, where I made my headquarters for the remainder of the season. I attended the Manitoba Exhibition, where I sold 45 Bibles and 154 Testaments.

In Winnipeg, I also visited frequently among the Chinese, Germans, Icelanders and Jews. Of the latter there are about 200 families residing there.

A number of very interesting incidents occurred in meeting all of these people especially the Jews, who received me very cordially. When leaving Winnipeg, expressions of sorrow were freely made by many of my Jewish acquaintances, and one asked, "Who will read to us when you are gone?" I sold eight copies of the Hebrew and English Bible, and by the aid of some friends in Winnipeg secured and distributed 60 copies of the German-Hebrew New Testament among them. During the summer I visited most of the City of Winnipeg, but the poorer class of the people were so scarce of money that my sales were few when compared with the number of visits.

I visited all the people along the Red River, both sides, from Winnipeg to the mouth of the river. This took a long time, as I was obliged to go over it twice. I worked day and night in order to meet the people at the times they were expected to be at home, and when they were to have money to buy; but for all that the sales were few.

My opportunities were very many, and I found plenty of work comforting the old people, who were worried, and showing the younger ones the way of salvation from God's Word.

I visited some of the day-schools. One of the Indian schools gave an entertainment, composed of recitations, dialogues, examinations in geography and other studies. I was much interested and surprised at the intelligence and brightness of these young Indians and half-breeds. I also visited Stonewall and Stony Mountain, and parts of the Prairie; also Emerson, Dominion City, Niverville, Bird's Hill, and the farmers in the surrounding districts. Very many blessed opportunities were given me in those localities. One farmer told me how well he had succeeded since coming to this country—enumerating his cattle, his crops, his acres of land and his cash. I asked him if that was all he had secured? He said, he thought he had done pretty well. I then asked him. What he would have if death came to him? He said, "Nothing at all." Then I pointed him to Jesus, and he told me that no one had ever spoken to him in that way before. He seemed much moved, and I believe the seed of the Kingdom was sown in good ground that afternoon.

A number of similar cases could be given if we had room. God has blessed my work to a number of individuals this year, for which I feel thankful. I preached 37 times, spoke at 3 Bible Society meetings, gave 14 Sunday School addresses, 12 addresses in the interest of the Jews, travelled about 4,000 miles, made 2,610 calls, circulated 1120 Bibles and Testaments, and supplied twenty-five families or individuals who were destitute of the "Bread of Life."

On my return trip I called at the divisional points of the C. P. Railway, viz., Port Arthur, Schreiber, Chapleau and White River, thus doing that part of the work which is away from the Lake Ports, and where the bulk of the Algoma work is situated.

Praying that God will abundantly bless these efforts to the extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom,

I am,

Yours, in the Master's service,
W. G. WHITE, Colporteur.

REV. JAS. MOSSIP, COLPORTEUR, MANITOBA.

May, 1894.—I find the work a branch of Christian labour and consequently I like it, though there are many things to try the patience and many discouragements, yet I am not discouraged. On the other hand, I feel better equipped for the work, mentally and spiritually, than I was in the start; for my experience has been a help in the work as I proceed from week to week.

August.—During the last month I have travelled all around the town of Neepawa. I have canvassed also in Gladstone, Austin, Sidney, Glendale, Eden, Orange Ridge and Spring Hill. I like the work well, and I would like to give such service as would be satisfactory to the Society. I preach at every opportunity and endeavour to do good by dropping a word here and there, as the Bible itself brings up the subject of Salvation.

September—I have been working in Southern Manitoba this last month. I canvassed in Carberry, Chater, Souris, Hartney, Melita and Lander. The longer I continue, the more I see it is the work of the Lord. Sometimes the colporteur will travel all day and sell comparatively nothing. At another time, he will sell in almost every house. The distance is often great between houses, frequently five or six miles without any call possible, and on an unknown road. It is interesting and instructive to sell to all classes and grades of people, and to hear all kinds of opinions and answers. Yet not always the most pleasant reception. The crops are small this year, and the people somewhat discouraged.

October.—I have travelled in Southern Manitoba this last month, and have met with a great many people who needed Bibles. The Bible work is a good work; it gives many an opportunity of putting in a word for Jesus, and sometimes I meet with sick folks, who need a kind word. I thank God for strength for this work. How little after all, can any individual do in comparison with what Christ has done. Many people who purchase Bibles begin to read, who were not previously Bible readers. I have noticed this fact several times in my travels.

November.—Winter has now fairly set in, and I am confining my work to the towns, and contemplate visiting Winnipeg in the coldest season. During the past month I have travelled mostly in country settlements, viz: Pine Creek (near Gladstone), Glenholm, Wellwood, Dempsey and Brookdale. I have met several families destitute of the Scriptures and have given away a number of Bibles. The churches here are mostly school houses, yet many of them have Bibles for worship, and I have sold some of those 60c. Bibles for church purposes. I preached last Sabbath to ten people in a little school house at Freeland, and in the evening to about fifteen at Lorndale school.

December.—This month I have travelled mostly through Brandon and have met opposition of a peculiar nature. A good many people who have been members of the different churches, have left them, through reading the works of Russell on the "Dawn of the Millennium." They say there is no eternal punishment, and they are very aggressive. They look on all rules and doctrines of the churches as traditions of men. They seem conscientious in their strange belief, but seem to think it their duty to try to turn every one else to their theory, rather than to turn the poor sinner from the error of his ways.

January, 1895.—This report is far below anything you have ever received from me, although I never worked more earnestly, and the results were never so disheartening. . . . On my way towards Winnipeg I canvassed in the village of Douglas, and the town of Carberry, which I left about five o'clock in the evening, intending to push eastward six or eight miles farther; there was a stiff breeze blowing, which increased to a gale, almost a blizzard. It was very cold. I passed a farmhouse some six miles east of Carberry, but as there was no light about the place, I did not stop. The storm grew fiercer and colder. I reached a log shanty, lighted up. I asked for lodging, but could not get accommodation there. Having watered my poor tired horse, I pushed on towards Melbourne P. Office. On reaching Melbourne there was no light in the house (for there was only one house). I then moved on towards Sidney, seven miles distant. I passed a house on the way; there was no light. I did not stop, as I knew that about a mile farther there had lived an old gentleman, a retired minister, so I made for his place. I knocked again and again at the door, but no response; the family had gone back to Ontario. I unhitched my horse as best I could, and put him in the stable, which was empty. I had oats with me in my sleigh, so I fed him, and he picked some of the old hay there. I could not unharness, and tried to warm myself by walking in the stable, but found I was freezing gradually; my feet were both feelingless. My fingers nipped; death stared me in the face. I tried my last resource and made my way back on foot to the house, a mile west; the people there took pity on me, made a fire and got me supper; this was at one o'clock in the morning. My left foot was frozen badly, but was restored with care. The people were Roman Catholics and showed me great kindness, for which I am very grateful. They would not accept a Bible.

An interesting circumstance occurred at Winnipeg. A man, who had been converted a few days previously, saw my stock of Bibles and Testaments; he looked longingly at them, remarking that he would buy one from me as soon as he could make a little money. He was out of work and poorly clad, but Saved in Jesus, and when I gave him a Bible, the joy which he expressed gave me more pleasure than anything that I had met during the whole month. He was apparently hungry "for the meat which endureth unto everlasting life."

FINANCES.

The total income of the Society for the year amounts to $35,709.86, which is the fifth highest of all previous years, and under the circumstances is larger than anticipated ; because, in addition to the stringency of the money market, the severe winter, with its unusually heavy storms and snow drifts, which blocked the roads in many parts of the country, prevented the ladies from making their collections for the Society at the usual time, consequently, in some districts, the canvass was neglected altogether, while in other cases the returns were not made in time to be included in the year's revenue, which is somewhat less than the previous year.

(Details are given elsewhere. See pages 11, 12.)

QUEBEC AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY.

This vigorous institution has been increasing its staff and extending its work, which is carried on with encouraging success. By the continued liberality of the Branches, the Directors of the Upper Canada Bible Society have been enabled to make another increase to the amount of assistance given the Quebec Society for the ensuing year.

We quote from letter of 30th April from the Rev. Edward J. Stobo, Secretary and General Agent of that Society, viz. :

Moved by Mr. R. Stanley, seconded by the Rev. I. P. Bruneau, and unanimously carried.

To the Upper Canada Bible Society, Toronto, Ontario.

" We as a Committee having heard read the letter of the Secretary of the Upper Canada Bible Society to us, so sympathetic and kind in its references to ourselves and the work of the Bible Society, would hereby voice our gratitude to Almighty God, that our work of Bible reading and Bible distribution finds so great favour in the eyes of the Directors of the Upper Canada Bible Society.

" And we would further tender to them our heartfelt thanks for their financial assistance from year to year, in aid of our Bible work in this wide and needy district of country. And we would not forget that the amount set aside for our use this year ($2,250.00) is largely in advance of that of former years and comes at a time when our wants are most urgent in the sustaining of our present staff of workers.

" We would also sincerely thank the different Branch Bible Societies for their thoughtful and liberal contributions towards the support of the work of French Colportage in the Province of Quebec ; and we would pray, and have them pray for us, that we may be forward to do the work which lies at our door and which is so urgently needed."

April 29th, 1895.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Ninety-First Annual Meeting of this venerable Society was held in Exeter Hall, London, Eng., on Wednesday, 1st May, 1895, and was a great success. The attendance was larger than in the previous year, and the audience was widely representative of the different Churches.

In the absence, through ill health, of the noble President, Lord Harrowby, the chair was occupied by Lord Kinnaird, and the speeches were full of interest.

All friends of the Society and its great work will be pleased to learn that the deficit in revenue, which caused some discouragement for a few years past, has now been cleared off, and that the Reserve Fund has been restored to its normal condition.

As the "Abstract of Report," as presented to that meeting, is reproduced in this issue, we only note a few statistics, viz : Issues of Scriptures, 3,837,222 copies.

From a letter dated 2nd May, 1895, from one of the Secretaries of the British and Foreign Bible Society, we quote, viz: "You will note with thankfulness that with the surplus, which has been given to us again this year, the deficit has been completely covered. For the share which the Upper Canada Bible Society and its Branches have had in bringing about this happy result, we are very thankful. Will you kindly convey the expression of our gratitude, both to your Board of Directors and to the Officers of your Branches, and also convey to them our thanks for the noble remittance forwarded in your letter of April 18th."

BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.

ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT, 1894-5.

I.—FINANCIAL AND GENERAL MATTERS.

'I will sing of mercy and of judgment' is a fitting introduction to a retrospect of the past year. The Committee have been sorely exercised by what in their view were adverse events. The death of two Agents and the resignation of two others necessarily created anxieties which are not yet appeased. The war between China and Japan has had a disturbing influence on their plans and upon the labours of their employés in those countries. There have been other causes of disquietude. But while 'judgment' has a place in the song, 'mercy' claims the loudest note.

The Committee refer especially to the relief graciously afforded them by the supply of the funds required for the Society's work. By the generous gifts of the living, and by the hands of the dead, sufficient has been received not only to meet the current expenditure, but also to more than expunge the remainder of the deficit of 1889-92. So that the Society now stands in a better position than in 1889, when what is termed the 'bad years' began. Thus 'mercy rejoices against judgment.'

A brief statement of the financial condition of the Society up to March 31st, is as follows:—

The General (New Income) and Special Funds amount to £139,810 8s. 7d., which is £1,418 6s. 1d. less than in 1893-4. Sales have realised £93,552 18s. 1d., which is an advance of £1,812 14s. 2d. The total Receipts are therefore £233,363 6s. 3d., which is only £921 12s. 8d. less than in the year preceding.

The expenditure has been £214,970 7s. 10d., which is below that of last year by £7,877 4s. 9d., leaving a balance in hand on the year's account of £18,392 18s. 10d. This balance, as already intimated, removes the residue of the long-standing deficit, and leaves a surplus to be carried to the next year's account.

The Committee cannot close this brief review of the Society's finances without an expression of their devout gratitude to the Author of every good gift, Who has, in a year of peculiar trial, so graciously lightened their financial burden. 'He stayeth His rough wind in the day of the east wind.' They would also convey their warm thanks to the friends who, whether by ordinary or by special contributions, have liberated them from the embarrassment arising from past deficiencies, as well as enabled them to meet every current claim. 'The Lord hath been mindful of us: He will bless us.'

II.—ISSUES.

The Issues for 1894 are encouraging, although they have not yet fully regained the point they reached in 1892-3. The Home Issues of Bibles, Testaments, and Portions are 1,651,566. Those disseminated abroad are 2,185,656. The total Issues are 3,837,222. The chief point of interest in these figures is that they show the large increase of 28,264 copies in whole Bibles.

III.—TRANSLATIONS.

The statistics with regard to translation and revision work are not yet complete; but the Editorial Sub-Committee have had to do in some measure with over one hundred versions during the year. Of these about a dozen will represent new work and new beginnings, but the most important Editorial work of the Society has been the steady, laborious, and protracted revision of the versions in the great languages of India and China, where missionaries of mature scholarship and culture are united with native Christian scholars in bringing up the translations of the older missionaries to the present standard of scholarship.

In China, Corea, and Japan, not only are the missionaries united in the work of translation and revision, but the three great Bible Societies are also united in defraying the necessary expenses entailed.

It is hoped that this year will see the first Pashtu Bible completed for the people of Afghanistan, as 1894 has already witnessed the publication of the complete revised Bible for Persia; and the Malagasi people will receive their first Marginal Reference Bible, which is now passing through the University Press at Oxford.

In Africa, in New Guinea, in Japan, on the slopes of the Himalayas, in Assam, native races are having the Gospel placed within their reach for the first time.

IV.—BIBLEWOMEN.

The returns for the Biblewomen who were more or less maintained by the Society's grants in the year ending September 30, 1894, show encouraging progress. Some superintendents by imperfect reports make it impossible to do full justice to their work in a statistical table. But the great majority by the growing accuracy and punctuality of their returns prove how much they value these missionary grants, and how carefully they administer them. Returns have been received for 429 Biblewomen,—27 more than in 1892-3. The number of native women to whom, on an average, the Scriptures were read by them has grown to 4,546 a week more than before, and stands now at 26,560. Out of those who are being taught by the Biblewomen to read, no less than 1,549 native women have attained, within the year, the power of being able to read the Scriptures for themselves. The whole circulation for the year comes to 15,263 Bibles, Testaments, or detached books of Scripture. The 429 Biblewomen were geographically distributed thus:—India 310, Ceylon 76, Syria and Palestine 14, Egypt 18, China 5, Straits 2, Mauritius and the Seychelles 4. The reports continue to bear ample evidence of the high spiritual value of their work.

VI.—REVIEW OF THE FIELD.

The latest year of the Bible Society's history has been, in some important respects, a peculiarly interesting one: and, in respects even more important, it has proved peculiarly pleasant. In their natural cycle, and for reasons which the meteorologist cannot always explain, some seasons are of a prevalent gloom, and wear out their course under a sky which never quite loses its shadow or fully enjoys its sun. Others are more fortunate. The summer is early, and it is long, and the winter is briefer than usual. There is a sense of pleasure in the air: life seems to forget some at least of its cares; and though there is always enough to remind us both of labour and sorrow, the year, when it is over, is remembered as one of unusual serenity and enjoyment.

To this latter and happier class—to pass from external to spiritual things—the year just over may be said to belong. There have been dark days in its course: and as one reviews it there is not a little to regret. But there has been a distinct, if a hardly definable, brightness in its sky, and a special sense of vitality in its air. From almost every part of the field the reports are, in varying degrees, encouraging. It is not only that the circulation has been very generally advancing, although the advance has been in many instances very notable, and that a large amount of important work has been done. There has indeed been much done; but there is something beyond these details, pleasant as they are. There is a certain vitality in narrative after narrative, a consciousness of progress, a hope of better things not distant—like that peculiar sense of the approach of morning after night, or of spring after a prolonged winter. Prejudices against Christian work, which have lasted for ages, seem in case after case to be relaxing: the very bitterness of opposition explains itself in the direction of encouragement, and as page after page of the record is turned, the sense is correspondingly deepened of the certainty of the progress which is being made, and of the incalculable value of the work which is being done.

It is one characteristic of a year thus generally pleasant that it has been in a special sense one of deputations—friendly embassies from the home centre to several of the most important parts of the field, and rich in unusually interesting and important results. In the spring Mr. Paull was commissioned to visit Algeria: the significance of his journey lies very much in the fact that it was directed to the great continent so rapidly opening up, not only to a new political but to a new Christian future; and that, in consequence of this visit, from the northern French colony, and directed by a Christian Frenchman, the hands of Bible influence are being stretched, as they have not been before, to meet those extended to them from the south. Later in the year Mr. Finch was deputed to Norway: and the peculiar interest of his journey to the Society's warm-hearted friends in the north consists in the arrangements then made, not for the withdrawal of old and faithful Agencies, but for their attaining the honour of an independent position in their own land, and side by side with the other Reformation countries which are one after another accepting the honour and the responsibilities of separate existence. The visit of Mr. Sharp and Mr. Victor Buxton to the Turkish Agency, joined as they were by Mr. Weakley and Dr. Thomson, had an even higher importance. A further visit to the Georgian and Armenian Churches, not only gained for these ancient Christian communities assurance of a popular Bible, and for the Society's work the goodwill of the ecclesiastical authorities, but imparted to the work in those interesting localities a stimulus it must long feel. Of a different character, but hardly less noteworthy, was the deputation to the Society's Auxiliaries in Australia and New Zealand—the Representatives of Bible work in the great British Colonies of the south; and Mr. De Wolf and Mr. Neave will long remember with pleasure how warmly they were everywhere received, and how heartily the Committee's messages were welcomed; and they will delight to think with what increased hope for the future the prospects of the Society's work may be regarded.

With one or two pleasant reservations, the field of the Bible Society is the whole world. Excepting Ireland and Scotland, where filial societies are at work, and several of the Continental countries which have accepted the responsibilities of independence, it includes the whole of EUROPE. It includes AFRICA, and counts within its peaceful annexation the territories of the political Powers represented there. It includes ASIA from Siberia to Ceylon, from the Caspian to Japan. It includes the Island Continents of AUSTRALASIA, and the Polynesian Groups which across the Pacific bridge a way to the new world. And it includes the whole of AMERICA—the States and those territories alone excepted in which the American Society has fallen heir to its labours, and is pursuing the work in the spirit and with methods like its own.

To survey in detail such a field is obviously impossible, and mere details, just in proportion as they are copious, often obscure those larger facts in which the summary of the year's work most suitably consists. Let us turn to these wider views and let us begin with the leading races of Europe.

When the Society began its work it found, as might be expected, prompt and cordial sympathy from many friends in the old countries of the Reformation. The history of these early days has been compendiously written—it might be written afresh—so instructive and so full of the genuine missionary spirit it is—written section by section, as the story of each separate country might be told. Such a history would recall many a delightful memory; it would also prove how indispensable the Society's direct work continued to be for many a year. But it would also show—what from the first must be inevitably felt—that the only successful development of that work, both for the Society itself and for the countries in which it was pursued, must be its transference to the hands of Christian Agencies there, and the acceptance by the Reformed Churches themselves of one of their highest and most natural duties. To this truth the more recent chapters of the Bible Society's history of these Reformation—it might be said of the Germanic—peoples has borne a close and significant relation. It has announced year after year the formation of independent National Societies, successively attaining their vigorous majority, and entering on the spiritual heirship which is so evidently their own.

Sweden undertook its own Bible work in 1884—Holland followed in 1892. With Switzerland the Bible Society has for years been related only as a friendly source of assistance and supply, and in Germany its colportage work is practically limited to the Catholic and non-Germanic populations of the Fatherland. To this list the record in 1894 adds another name; it contains the account of the Society's final withdrawal from Norway, and the beginning, with the Agencies there, of an independent career. Nowhere has the Society more faithful friends than those in the north, whose annual letters gave the results of the work of the year, and blending, as they constantly did, the simplicities of singularly attractive narratives with that evangelical warmth and tenderness one is so sure of finding in those northern homes. It adds to the interest of this new chapter of Bible history that its beginning almost synchronises with the death of the venerable Herr Mohn, of Bergen, who just anticipated, but did not enter on, work which he would have so vigorously assisted. Almost at the same time, and with a startling suddenness, died

Colonel Ravn, of the Denmark Agency; and there is little doubt that the story of Norway will be repeated in the southern kingdom, and that it may be unnecessary to appoint any new Agent of the Society there. In the later Christian history of the Germanic peoples, there are few more entirely satisfactory evidences of life than this acceptance of the duty of the supply of a popular Bible at home, while it leaves all the more for its conflict with over-sea heathenism the Society which gave them birth.

TO GERMANY there must be a more detailed reference, were it only because from that great Agency the restlessly active, the intense, the devoted spirit of Mr. James Watt has been so unexpectedly withdrawn. The story of Mr. Watt's life must be read elsewhere—it necessarily forms at the same time one of the most instructive chapters in the Society's own varied story. The report for the year shows a very large increase in the total German circulation; it amounts to 668,495, and is some 54,000 copies in advance of that of 1893-4.¹ The Society's own returns are also higher, and especially in Bavaria, Silesia, East Prussia and Posen—provinces which, from their Roman Catholic or non-German populations, are specially and peculiarly its care. It should be added that "in the colportage circulation of 1894 the highest average has been reached during Mr. Watt's tenure of the Agency, and probably the highest in its history; and that such has been the economy practised, without reducing the wages of the men, that the expenditure per copy has been the lowest ever known." Results like these would not only have given the highest satisfaction to Mr. Watt's statistical mind, but they are largely attributable to that incessant watchfulness to which the Agency owes so much.

From the Germanic let us turn to the Latin peoples—the versatile and gifted descendants of the races which, side by side with the Germans themselves, built up a modern Europe on the ruins of the old civilisations. No special reference can be made to Belgium,² to Portugal, or to Spain,³ where there is little specially distinctive; but no one can overlook Italy and FRANCE.

In the little town of Croisic, in the Loire Inférieure—it is the Croisic of Mr. Wedmore's Pastorals, with its homely farms, its salt marshes, its sifting Biscayan gales—there is a burying place, long ago forsaken, with suggestive memories of its own. In the sixteenth century Croisic had a population of six thousand—there are now little more than two—of whom four thousand were Evangelical Protestants; but the religious persecution of the time, which could not spare even this little remote place, drove them for refuge to England. One may find the graves of these people in the lonely Cimetière des Huguenots—they have left hardly a living representative—and the Croisic fisher-folk are described by the colporteur as intolerant beyond almost any other, and full of prejudices against the Word of God.

There are moods in which one is ready to think of Croisic, with its Huguenot cemetery, as indicating as an emblem or picture might do the state of modern France. The old Reformation piety seems to have departed, and to have left behind little except the graves of its fathers. But the conclusion, like many other pessimistic ones, would be an exceedingly mistaken one. M. Monod's report for the year is interesting in every page, and it goes very far to prove that if the Huguenots, as a party, have departed, the spirit which inspired them still lives in the country from which with heavy hearts they fled. One of the most suggestive facts in M. Monod's summary is that the people are becoming weary of a life without God—that secularism, like so many other seductive fallacies, is being "found out." Mme. Severine, a brilliant and influential writer of the Radical-Socialistic party, has been attacking the materialism of the University of France: "It will be seen some day," she exclaims, "that man by materialism steadily accomplishes his own ruin." "Our greatest Liberals," adds M. Monod, "the leaders of the popular atheistic movement, are stopping in amazement at the results; they are beginning to suspect they have forgotten to put a moral light in the educational lantern." And of these opinions in high places there are many curiously interesting echoes in the journals of the colporteurs. "Do not be discouraged," said a friendly artisan one day to one of the Society's men, as he offered his little Gospels to an unsympathetic crowd, "do not be dismayed; there are more among us who sympathise with you than you know." One remembers as he reads the incident that it was an answer just such as that which suggested the McAll Mission. "I have many proofs," says another colporteur, "that the people, though they are against the popular religion, are not themselves irreligious. 'Tell us of Jesus,' they will say wistfully; 'tell us what He said and did: of Him it is that we want to know!'" There is a strange tenderness in the stories which from time to time recur in these journals of the desire of the people that their children at least should possess the Word of God. One day—and the simple story might be paralleled by others—the colporteur found himself conversing with a man still young and very poor, but surrounded by nine children. "I saw his evident desire to have the New Testament, though he had no money to pay for it. At last a thought occurred to him—'Would I partake of his more than frugal meal in exchange?' I accepted with joy, and in less than an hour I had become the friend and counsellor of these poor people, who promised to read the Book and to ask the Lord's blessing upon it. The people seem to begin to understand that to bring up children without the fear of God is as much as leading them into evil; and oftentimes people who have no religion buy a Gospel for the children." Oftentimes, indeed, the young people buy a Gospel for themselves, and there are no more touching stories than those which meet us of the ardour of that first love which is awakened by the Friend Who has been found, as the charming and all-novel story won the reader's heart. "Write some of these words on my tombstone when I am gone," said a dying youth the colporteur found, with the Testament clasped in his wasted hands, "someone will perhaps read them there." These little Testaments, bought by one here and there, and read in secret, are the veritable seed of a harvest with which the French fields shall yet be white. "I have seen nearly all the flourishing evangelical stations of this Department," writes a colporteur on resigning his work in one of the northern provinces—"I have seen them all begin with a single family," and it is frequently possible to add, with a single Gospel. These things, endlessly varied and repeated as they are, have deep significance. They emphasize a wide and sound conclusion which M. Monod thinks not a few in authority are beginning to lay to heart, and which received a very felicitous expression from an honest fonctionnaire in the country of the Loire. 'I have had experience of men. I have no religion myself; but I know there is nothing but this—and he held up a little Gospel—' will save my brave countrymen.'

Much of all this—and herein lies the special significance of the report of the year—repeats itself in ITALY.¹ In Italy, as in France, there are signs of a reaction against atheistic theories of thought and life, and Signor Meille gives some extremely notable illustrations of the altering mood: 'I remember,' he says, 'that a commission was once named for choosing the text-books in our elementary schools, and before opening a single volume they laid down the rule that any book, however excellent, in which the name of God was mentioned, would be excluded.'

¹ Total circulation for the year in the ITALIAN Agency, 189,653 (previous year, 160,937); by colportage, 86,164 (previous year, 87,429). Adding 22,844 copies sent to other agencies for use among Italians there, a total of over 212,000 is reached.

'Things,' he adds, 'are much changed now. Our leading men seem to think not only that God exists, but that He rules the destinies of nations and individuals.' Signor Meille alleges by way of illustration some notable expressions of Signor Sonnini and Signor Crispi, and he follows them by a more detailed quotation from the greatest living poet of Italy,—Carducci, who had already signalised himself as apparently a prophet of rebellion against every form of Theism. His most recent utterances, delivered not long since at San Remo, are very different. 'From God, the Almighty, the All Perfect, we must take our departure in every enterprise, and He alone can bless all we do. Hatred of a pestiferous and tyrannical superstition, and the pride of observers who trusted too much in the victories over external nature, have made the Latin races forget God, but no crimes of the priesthood and no arrogance of scientists can exclude God from history. God is the highest vision to which nations raise their eyes in their youth; He is the Sun of sublime minds and of burning hearts. Where and when the divine idea shines in its power and majesty cities are born and flourish, where and when it oscillates and is obscured cities decay and perish.' It is the emergence of thoughts like these out of the confused darkness of so much of the past—thoughts which in one aspect seem to embody themselves as avenging fates, in another as the angels of Divine Hope—which mark with peculiar symptoms the latest spiritual phases of the history of the Latin countries of Europe.

There remain the many races of the AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN Empire—races in which the East meets the West, weaving into the network of their many languages a parti-coloured web of human speech; but under every variety of external life revealing from time to time that human nature—everywhere the same—which Mr. Millard so strikingly reveals in the incidents of his attractive report.¹ So attractive indeed is it, so illustrative of the Society's work in its most engaging aspects, that in its narrative sections it might profitably be printed, page for page, line for line, and distributed everywhere. It is the message of these cheerful pages, from first to last, that, for all the sharpness of mistaken opposition here and there, and for all the hardness of the heart, there is to be found, in whatever direction we turn, signs of deepening Christian life, an increasing activity, and of blessings which, like the soft and frequent showers of April, make glad the earth when it stirs at the touch of spring. Nothing can exceed Mr. Millard's sense of pain when he reads of the Gospel despised, except his thankfulness when he knows it has been welcomed; and there is more than enough in the journals of his faithful men to keep him in a spirit of unceasing praise. With his pleasant narratives, ever varying, if always impressively the same, it is impossible to linger; for when one has reached the eastern limits of Europe, he has but placed his foot on the threshold of a new world,—that vast world of the Slavonic, the Mongolian, the Hindu races towards which the West has for millenniums been irresistibly attracted, and never, perhaps, more seriously than now.

When a Russian peasant receives a Gospel from the colporteur, he uncovers his head, reverently makes the sign of the cross, and prays that he may have the divine blessing in using the sacred book he is so thankful to possess. In that simple gesture and act of prayer one may recognise the most hopeful characteristic of the Slavonic races—their spirituality of nature, their simplicity and receptiveness, their instinctive piety. He may also see, if he will but consider, one of the most hopeful facts in regard to the future—perhaps even the political future—of ages and of kingdoms yet to be. The Russian Empire is still in its youth; no one can easily forecast the strength and influence of its maturity. But if there is any single fact to which the reports of Dr. Nicholson and of Mr. Morrison bear uniform testimony, it is to the goodwill of the Russian authorities to the Agents of the Bible Society, and the readiness of the people to welcome the colporteurs when they appear. Of every seven copies of the Scriptures circulated by the Society last year, one passed into the hands of a subject of the Russian Empire. The circulation in the northern¹ and the southern² Agencies amounted to 540,000, and the numbers are steadily increasing year by year. A place of authority and influence much greater than it possesses even now may yet be held by the Russian race. The reports of the Bible Society—and none perhaps more than the last—give hopeful assurance that the influence will be exerted by a Bible-loving and a devout people.

These wider conclusions are illustrated by many pleasant incidents. The story of Mary Jones has been often told, and it will always have a significance of its own; but it may be paralleled, in the devotion it shows, by not a few from the journals of the Russian colporteurs. Dr. Nicholson mentions the case of a youth who set his heart on a rouble Bible, but without any means of paying the price. He disappeared, and the next day the colporteur found him, the rouble in his hand and a deep light in his eyes. 'How did you get it?' he was asked. His reply was given with characteristic simplicity: he had walked twenty-five miles to an employer of labour, engaged himself for a rouble's worth of work, and walked twenty-five miles back again. Yet the incident, among many similar, hardly engages the attention. In another instance given by Dr. Nicholson—it is a very rare one—the purchaser objected to the book as provided by our English Society. The answer of the colporteur—himself a Russian—was conclusive and emphatic: 'Every Russian knows how much we owe to the English Society.'

The closing during the year of the Society's Depôt at Kiev may seem to some extent inconsistent with views so pleasant, but those who are most intimately acquainted with the Russian mind and methods of government will not attach an unduly discouraging importance to the incident. Mr. Morrison can indeed strike a judicious balance between the weights of opposing scales. 'If the Governor-General of Kiev,' he writes, 'wrongly informed of our methods and our action in the district under his charge, thinks it right to prohibit our work as far as he can, we have the highest officials under the government conferring favour after favour upon us. If an Armenian priest in the fine fervour of his zeal tears a New Testament to pieces and vows vengeance against our colporteur for circulating "Freemason" literature, we have the Katholikos of all the Armenians, the famed Mighertich Khrimian, graciously saying the kindest things about the Bible Society, and promising to aid us by every means in his power. If a Georgian priest drives a colporteur out of the village with words of contumely, we have the Exarch of Georgia, the highest ecclesiastic in the land, and an honoured member of the Holy Synod, aiding us to print the Scriptures in the very capital of his country.' It is evident to which side the weight of encouragement turns.

The visit of Mr. Sharp, and of Mr. Morrison, to Tiflis and Etchmiadzin, is in some respects the central incident of the year. A detailed account of it cannot be given in this place. Mr. Morrison's account as he follows the route from Odessa to Batoum, thence through the Mingrelian forests, across the level Georgian plains, and over the delightfully wooded Suram hills to Tiflis, and the valley of the Kura, may be read in the pages of the volume to which this is a summarising preface. But some of the results may be stated in a sentence. 'Recognised Georgian scholars,' Mr. Morrison writes, 'have since then been appointed carefully to read and revise the Pentateuch, the Psalms, and the New Testament, with a view to bringing out editions of these books as well as of single Gospels. The revision work has gone on satisfactorily, and, as I write, the Psalms and the four Gospels are ready for the press, and the remaining books are well advanced towards completion.' At Etchmiadzin the result of a singularly pleasant visit was equally satisfactory. Long experience has shown that Armenian scriptures printed in London, in Germany, or even in Constantinople, if admitted to the Russian Empire at all, are received with suspicion, and that much would be gained if these scriptures were issued by the Armenian Synod itself. But as this would require more press power than was to be found in Etchmiadzin, the offer was made to supply a press for this special service. 'This suggestion,' writes Mr. Morrison, 'was laid by Mr. Sharp before the Katholikos, who at once expressed his satisfaction and sense of gratitude for the useful gift. It was my lot to visit Etchmiadzin again in the autumn, to arrange for handing over the press to the monastery. I was received with every expression of kindness, and during the four days I spent there in consultation with the Katholikos, I was treated with the most lavish hospitality. I firmly believe that the Society's relations with the Armenian clergy and people have been vastly improved, and that many of the difficulties experienced are for ever things of the past.'

From the home of the venerable Katholikos, lying as it does within sight, almost within shadow, of Ararat, one may continue the mental journey, which begins in the north, either eastwards, southwards or towards the west. If we pass eastwards by south down the broad valley which leads to the Gulf of Persia, we find that ancient kingdom on the one hand and the almost devoted haunts of the Arabian monarchy on the other. If to the west, we are led into Asia Minor and the provinces that yet remain of European Turkey. If southwards,—guided by once-frequented routes and by the ruins of once-populous cities—we approach the Land of Promise by Damascus, and passing its sacred sites, we enter as the Patriarch once entered Egypt. But whatever route is followed—or though, in succession, the mental voyager follow them all—they will each lead him into the homes of the Muslim races, and among the disciples of Muhammad. They will, at the same time, lead him into three of the most notable Agencies of the Society's work—the PERSIAN, the TURKISH,¹ and the EGYPTIAN.²

In this, as in previous cases, only the widest generalisations can be made; but here, as elsewhere also, they singularly agree in their favourable aspect. It is one of the few shadows on Dr. Thomson's pages, that he alludes to his own resignation and that this copious and encouraging report may be his last. But it contains passages which he must have written with deep gratitude, and with them he may be well content to take farewell of a work so dear to him. For years the printing of the Albanian Scriptures has been interdicted, and the restriction lay like a burden on Dr. Thomson's heart. That burden, like many another, has at length been removed, and 'now,' he writes, 'we look forward with joy to the work yet to be done for a brave and long-neglected people.' In other and wider aspects his retrospect of the year is full of hope. 'The Bible,' he writes, 'is respected more than ever, and we trust read more than ever, and as the people become acquainted with it they feel that it, and it alone, is the rule they must follow. This is but one of the sure symptoms of the approach of day after a long night of ignorance and superstition, and we cannot err in ascribing them to the diffusion of the Word of God.' 'That Word,' he writes elsewhere, 'is producing, both in Greece and Turkey, a moral renovation which no study of ancient philosophy or poesy could ever originate.' These words, which sum up Dr. Thomson's final impression of the state of spiritual mind on the Turkish Agency, are closely paralleled by those used by Mr. Weakley for that of Egypt. 'It is almost certain,' he writes, 'so far as the people of Egypt are concerned, that the large circulation of Scriptures during past years has awakened a degree of real interest in their contents which might be recognized thankfully and hopefully as the first working of the divine leaven. Among the Muhammadans, especially at Cairo, there is a spirit of earnest inquiry observable, and books which deal with the questions between Christianity and Islam have been eagerly purchased. It may be safely assumed that very much of this inquiring spirit is due to the effect of the reading of the Holy Scriptures, of which so many copies have gone among the people.' A similar feeling, if less distinctly expressed, is felt in Mr. Hodgson's summary: 'The circulation has almost doubled; the vast majority of the books have been passed into the hands of Muhammadan readers.' One of the oldest colporteurs reports a favourable mood he has never equally experienced before; and Mr. Hodgson, in referring to the Depot at Bushire and the supplies to the Arabian Mission, notices that 'the work of Bible distribution is being carried on with increasing results, and that a way is doubtless being prepared for the opening up to the Gospel of the hitherto inaccessible continent of Arabia.'

From these great countries, profoundly interesting as they are, let us pass to one which in many important ways surpasses in interest even them. 'There is a spell in that word INDIA which has always been drawing the West towards the East.' As one sails along the Malabar coast, and the little white churches come into view among the palms and dark green woods that line the shore, he remembers that the legends of the planting of the Syro-Christian community there lead the thoughts back to the time of the earliest missionaries, and even of St. Thomas the Apostle. And since then what Christian nation has not dreamt its dream about India—the dream sometimes of empire, more often of gain, and happily in these latter days of conquest for Christ. Compared with the millenniums of its history the story of Ziegenbalg and Schwartz and Carey, with their indescribable difficulties seems recent; one recalls how, in those days of the wild misconception of all missionary aims, the Bible Society itself was charged with placing our possessions in the East in the most imminent peril; with surpassing the ingenuity of Buonaparte in devising plans for the subversion of the British Empire in India. These times have passed forever; one may well forget them in the absorbing interest of the present and the future; yet the present cannot be fairly understood without such comparisons with the past. For years the successive reports of the Society's Auxiliaries have been singularly inspiring, and those of the year just closed continue the impressions the earlier accounts made. Where everything is interesting it is difficult to choose, and where there is so much encouraging, it is easy to generalise perhaps too favourably. One reads of circulation increasing rapidly, as in the case of Madras and Bangalore, steadily as in Allahabad, or slightly declining as in Bombay; of translations being revised; of the experiences of Colporteurs, of Biblewomen pursuing as only Christian women can their sisterly and noble work. But it is only one who knows intimately, and has long observed the currents of thought and life in India, that can fairly estimate their direction and their force. Perhaps, indeed, those currents are becoming too visible both in their flow and volume for any, even the indifferent observer, to be unconscious of them. 'It is manifest to all who have personal intercourse with educated Hindus,' writes the report from Madras, 'that their views and feeling in regard to religion in particular are undergoing a marked change.' And the Rev. J. Lazarus, who is well qualified to express an opinion, is then quoted: 'Christianity,' he writes, 'is in the air, and India is passing through a serious crisis. Materialism, once so popular, is growing out of fashion and yielding place to a religious sentiment. Though the educated masses are still at some distance from the threshold of Christianity, Christ is seldom out of their sight. He is more than ever in the van of moral and religious progress. In English and vernacular newspapers, the writers often exhibit an intimate acquaintance with the Bible. Even among the masses the Bible is making way. I have come across many villagers who are in the habit of reading the Word of God.' Who cannot but long for the day when such forecasts shall be uncertain and debatable no more, when the visions of Christian hope, visions no longer, shall be embodied, in realities brighter even than themselves; when India shall have passed the threshold to which she is now but approaching, and shall have consecrated the subtle intellect of her thinkers, the tender hearts of her women, the fulness of her resources to the service of Christ.

To forecast the future in CHINA—and with China, we cannot but think of JAPAN—may be just as unsafe as to many it may seem assured; but there can be little risk in estimating the value of what has, within the past year, become history. In Japan, as in China, the year opened gloomily, and while the memory was yet recent of the plague in Hong Kong, and of the earthquake in Yezzo, the war-cloud burst over both countries. Now that it has passed, and with such fuller light as comes from a clearing sky we read the pages of the reports, it is with feelings of interest as unusual as the events of the year. But if the chronicles of war have been, as they ever are, deeply written in blood, the records of the work of the Bible Society are singularly peaceful and, it must be added, singularly encouraging. The soldier too often leaves a waste behind his march, and in Korea and Manchuria he has for the time displaced the colporteur; but the circulation of the Scriptures in Japan has risen from 35,000 to 114,000 copies, and in China from 236,000 to 289,000. Of the large total of Japanese Scriptures, some 17,000 were distributed in the hospitals and garrisons, and in the ships of war with the full approval and the thanks of the military and naval authorities.¹ In China full one-half of the increase is due to the patient work of the colporteurs—a work that seems to grow year by year in its value as well as its compass, and which is increasingly accumulating those evidences of the growth of a new Christian life among the people which in every land, and especially among the vast populations of China, has a limitless interest and significance. During the months of 1884 there have been ceaselessly moving from place to place, not indeed in all the provinces—empires as not a few of them are in population—but in most of the more important ones, 170 colporteurs, six of them Europeans, all the rest, natives of their vast, almost voiceless, inscrutable land. One meets them on river boats, among the mountain villages, in the unlighted, unfreshened alleys of their labyrinthine cities. How patiently enduring many of these men are, how genuinely devout, we must read the journals to know. And though the Chinaman of the West seems too often hopelessly alien from his European or American brother, incidents such as we meet in these reports reveal the same human heart. Assuredly some of his words, as also his needs, may well reach the hearts and consciences of Christians at home. "Why is this news about God and Jesus brought to us only now?" said a fellow-traveller to one of the colporteurs; "has it never been known before?" And though they often seem stolid, the Missionaries who superintend the Bible-men know how impressionable and how receptive many of the rude people are. "Again and again," writes Mr. Jose-land, whose district is near Amoy, "the men are asked to read from and explain the books; again and again they are asked to make a longer stay and to teach the truth systematically; and when they leave they are nearly always importuned to return as soon and as often as they can." Another missionary superintendent compares their work to that of the pioneer in the prairie or untravelled forest; they are clearing away the undergrowth of centuries, they are opening up roads along which the settlers of a new time may travel, and bridging the rivers he may cross. The reports of both countries anticipate the best results from the war; that of Japan is almost jubilant in its anticipations; but it is safer to read with gratitude the pages of the accomplished past, and to wait for the turning of the leaf in a volume so full of surprises.

From the Mongolian, let us turn, though for a moment only, to the Malaysian race—that race we meet in Borneo, in Sumatra, and which we find reappearing again in Madagascar, as the fountain of Arethusa reappeared from its dark channel on the coast of Sicily. How disappointingly dull the Malay often appears many traders know, but how great are his capabilities when once awakened, how responsive he is to kindness and hope, Christian workers far better understand. The report for the Malaysian Agency for the year opens with a joyful expression of thanksgiving, and Mr. Haffenden announces with delight that the circulation has advanced from 36,000 in 1892-3 to over 75,000 in 1893-4.¹ He adds that "the distribution of the Word of God is having a very decided effect all over Malaysia; so much so that all who are engaged in work among the Malay race and Malay-speaking Chinese feel this to be the case, that in spite of the small number of actual conversions yet known the belief is increasing that we are on the very threshold of some great spiritual upheaval."

We are approaching the end of this necessarily brief survey, yet no detailed reference has been made to America, to the Auxiliaries in CANADA, to the Agency of the WEST INDIES, to those of CHILI, the ARGENTINE, and BRAZIL. Yet in each of these great fields, did the survey of a world permit a more careful study, there would be found much to interest, and, as in other cases, much to encourage. No one can speak too appreciatively of the work that is done in the Dominion in the North, nor too sympathetically of the difficulties which meet the Colporteurs and the Agents in the Republics and the Islands of the Centre and South. The languorous seductions of tropical climates and the lowered morality of populations which often seem to assimilate only the worst products of civilization will always make the work of the colporteur and missionary one of peculiar trial, but it is in unpromising regions like these that Christian zeal often finds its victories and reaps its richest rewards.

Let us, at the end, recur to AFRICA. Some reference has been made to Egypt. It may be added in this place that the work, which is largely centred in Cairo and Alexandria, has also extended, though little more than tentatively, to Harrar and the Galla country, that it has entered Abyssinia, that two of the new Versions of the year are for the tribes still further south—one in the C.M.S., the other in the Universities' Mission-field—and that the Ganda Scriptures, so eagerly read in Uganda, are being perfected in form, and supplied as they are needed. Passing southward along the regions of the great lakes, through tribes whose languages have been only recently added, as others are yearly being added to the Society's lists, we cross the Zambesi, and all beyond the Zambesi to the Cape is the adopted field of the vigorous and ever extending Auxiliary of Cape Town with its sister Societies. With "devout thankfulness" Mr. Nuttall reports a circulation of 32,000 copies, of which 7,000 have been circulated by the Colporteurs, and among the latest additions to a long list of Branches and Centres, new Depots at Buluwayo and in Mashonaland. Turning northwards again along the western coasts, on which we may localize one after another, among the various tribes of peoples, the versions printed for them by the Society—one of the most recent for the Bobangi people on the Upper Congo; passing along the Gold Coast and the Sierra Leone shores, the homes of that Wesleyan Mission which has gathered so many into the Kingdom of God—we meet at Casa Blanca one of the Colporteurs of the Morocco Agency; and in the report of that interesting Agency we find the same assurance of deeper interest among the Muslims, of extending work among the natives, of a sensible softening of the spirit towards Christianity, with which in the earliest report we began.

There is one aspect of the Society's work,—one fact in regard to its activities, to which reference may be made at the close. It is an aspect absolutely true; it is too generally overlooked; it is at the same time of the simplest and most obvious kind.

¹ Total circulation for the year in the MALAYSIAN Agency—centre at Singapore, and including Java, Borneo, Sumatra, and other Islands, 76,867 (previous year, 36,180); of this by colportage 71,474 (previous year, 32,355).

The reports of the various countries are largely summarized in the statistical tables. Figures are made the symbols of facts. In a work so vast these numerical results are necessarily enormous. We become accustomed to millions. But we are sufficiently conscious that the only way to understand the value of the million is to understand the value of the unit; that the multiplying of many facts of life appeal in vain to the heart that forgets the meaning of one.

In the autumn of 1893—the story is one of the multitude which Mr. Millard has collected—a colporteur was climbing the woody hills of Galicia. He found in one of the huts a young forester whose leg had been crushed by the falling of a tree, and amputated probably with the rude surgery of the nearest village. He was in mental as well as bodily agony—is it an easy thing for youth, in the prime of earliest manhood, in the fulness of strength, in the dawn of ambition and of love, to turn from them all in a moment and enter the shadowy house of pain? The kind stranger spoke to him of the only source of comfort, and read with him some of the words of divine peace. But the sympathy seemed to have come too soon: the wound was too recent: and though at length he consented to have a Bible his bearing was hopeless and defiant. A year passed, and once again the colporteur found himself climbing the wooded path he had climbed before. The scent of the pines, the hush of the forest, the clang at intervals of the distant axe, were all as they had been then. He entered the hut, and at the table, in an invalid chair, but wasted almost beyond recognition, he saw his friend. In that weary year the glory of youth had vanished, the pomps of human life had been hurried from the stage, the last shadow was unfolding itself and about to fall. He was absorbed in reading; and the colporteur noticed, with a strange awe, that he was studying the volume he had sold him a year before. His head at length was slowly lifted; the faded and sunken eye could not at first recognize the stranger, but in a moment there shone in his face a light as if from heaven. "And then," writes the colporteur, "he addressed me in words like these: 'I cannot express my gratitude that you brought me this Bible and thus led me to God. You gave yourself much trouble when you saw me in my misery to induce me to buy the Scriptures. This is my only comfort, and I am happy, though I suffer fearfully. Since you were here my pain has greatly increased, but I am comforted, for I have found my Saviour, Who so tenderly loveth all the heavy laden. I came to feel how miserable I was through my unbelief, but since I have known Jesus Christ I bear the load he laid on me. In His Word I find comfort and salvation.' I cannot tell," the colporteur adds, "what I felt. When the poor sufferer mentioned the Saviour's name his care-worn face beamed with joy. A week later I returned, but the Lord had meanwhile taken the afflicted one home. His parents told me that during the last three days he repeatedly said: 'I long to die and be with the Lord.' His last word was 'Lord Jesus!'"

This is the unit. Who can understand the million!

REPORTS OF AGENTS.

REV. DR. AYLESWORTH.

Princeton, Nov. 6th.—The meeting was held in the Episcopal church. I had a very fine congregation and a pleasant meeting. Rev. Edward Lee, pastor, conducted the very impressive opening services according to the church ritual. He also gave a short address expressing a lively interest in the work of the Bible Society. A. Allison, Esq., President and chairman, made some very appropriate observations.

Drumbo, Nov. 7th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist church. It was a wet night, yet the congregation was well represented by all denominations. Rev. Mr. Shearer, Presbyterian minister, conducted the devotional exercises. C. K. Curry, Esq., the newly elected President, took the chair. There are hopeful signs of a much needed revival of interest in the work of the Bible Society in this part of the country. The older people talk to this day of the great meetings and liberal contributions in former days.

Washington, Nov. 8th.—This place is not a city, nor a town, nor yet a village: just a store and post office, a church and four corners, with some houses. The meeting was held in the Methodist church. Rev. A. Kennedy, the pastor, took an active part in the meeting. William Cook, the newly chosen President, occupied the chair. The night was clear and cold and the ground covered with snow. There was a very intelligent congregation, and the meeting was interesting and profitable.

Plattsville, Nov. 9th.—The meeting was held in the German Evangelical church. The pastor, Rev. L. Wittich, took part in the opening services. Rev. R. Walter Wright, B.D., Methodist minister, gave a short address. A blinding snow-storm came on about the time the people were beginning to assemble. The meeting was enthusiastic and the collection good. James Hunter, Esq., President, ably filled the chair.

St. George, Nov. 12th.—Saturday, Sunday and Monday were spent in this place. Occupied the Presbyterian pulpit Sunday morning and the Methodist pulpit Sunday evening. The meeting was held in the Presbyterian church. The congregations in this place are made up largely from the country, and are dependent on the roads. The weather was unusually severe for this time of year; yet we had a very fair turn out. Rev. C. Hollingshead, Baptist minister, and President, occupied the chair. He has a lively interest in the Bible Society, having been familiar with its operations in London, England. Short addresses were delivered by Rev. Thos. Collings, B.A., Methodist minister, and Rev. W. S. McTavish, B.D., Presbyterian minister.

Mount Pleasant, Nov. 13th.—The meeting was held in the large basement of the Methodist church. The officers and committee of the Branch met in the early part of the evening and had everything in readiness. As there was neither sleighing nor wheeling the congregation was small. Still the interests of the Society will be fully maintained. Rev. R. J. Sinclair, Presbyterian minister, the newly chosen President, occupied the chair. Rev. T. L. Wilkinson, Methodist minister, gave a short address.

Burford, Nov. 14th.—The meeting was held in the Congregational church. William Elliott, Esq., President, occupied the chair. Rev. Geo. Fergusson, Methodist minister, opened the meeting by prayer. Rev. J. T. Daley, pastor of the church, assisted in the meeting. Rev. Mr. Duthie, Episcopalian minister made a short but very enthusiastic address. The Committee appointed deputations, and made arrangements for meetings to be held at several outlying points.

Scotland, Nov. 15th.—The meeting was very well attended in the Baptist church. J. B. Merritt, Esq., who has been President of the Branch for many years, occupied the chair, and made some timely remarks. Rev. D. B. Cohoe, pastor of the church, added much to the interest of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Hay, Congregational minister of that place for forty-seven years, and a life-long friend of the Bible Society, regretted exceedingly that he could not attend the meeting because of ill-health.

New Durham, Nov. 16th.—One of the darkest nights on record; yet a very fair audience in the Congregational church. The choir of the church was present and added much to the interest of the meeting. Charles Walker, President, who lives at Beaconsfield, seven miles away, was present with a waggon load of people, and occupied the chair. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. Daley, of Burford, was also present, and gave a short but suggestive address upon the power of the Bible, as seen in all great revivals and leading reforms. The Committee arranged to have a thorough canvass of the whole country under their jurisdiction.

REV. W. S. BALL.

It fell to my lot to visit the following branches during the past year, viz: West Darlington, Orono, Kendal, Newtonville, Cartwright, Enniskillen, Hampton, Hope, Gardenhill. It was a most pleasant return, on a small scale, to a work which I love so well. There is a great difference between the state of the work now and the work thirty years ago. I found the ministers all in lively sympathy with the work. I renewed many pleasing acquaintances with comrades of '65 with whom I met at our gatherings. The meetings were not large but became quite enthusiastic, and the work at every point looks hopeful. At every branch I found active and earnest friends of the work, but here and there a former friend, whose activity seems to have spent itself. On the whole, I think the work was advanced during the year.

REV. B. BRYAN.

Beverly Branch, Kirkwall, Oct. 17th.—Very fair attendance. Pastor of the church was absent through illness. Mr. J. H. Stewart, President, occupied the chair and Mr. R. McQueen read the reports. These indicated fair progress, notwithstanding the depression throughout the country. The Kirkwall Juvenile Branch is still doing excellent work.

Rockwood, Nov. 7th.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. D. Strachan, President of Branch and pastor of the church, in the chair. Mr. J. R. Harris, who has had a long experience as Secretary of the Branch, read the reports. These were considered satisfactory. The business of the Society is well managed. A good choir added to the interest of the meeting.

Everton, Nov. 8th.—Meeting held in Disciples church. In the absence of the President, Mr. Hugh Black occupied the chair, and conducted the business of the meeting. The reports were satisfactory and addresses encouraging.

Eden Mills, Nov. 9th.—Meeting held in the Methodist church. The pastor of the church was absent through illness. Mr. W. Geddes, President, occupied the chair. Mr. E. Norrish, Secretary, read the reports. The attendance was very fair and the interest in the work was evidently continued and good.

Janetville, Nov. 19th.—Meeting held in Methodist church. Mr. John Burns, President, occupied the chair. After devotional exercise by the pastor of the church, the reports were read, and interesting addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Fusee and Oswald, followed by the address of the visiting agent, Pontypool, Nov. 20th.—Meeting in the Methodist church. After devotional exercises by the pastor of the church, Mr. Thos. Stanton, took the chair. The attendance was very fair, but much sickness in the neighbourhood prevented many from coming. No reports were read. Rev. Thos. Snowdon delivered a very interesting address. Promise for future work apparently good.

Bethany, Nov. 21st.—Meeting held in Church of England. Rev. H. F. Burgess, pastor of the church, conducted the opening exercise. Dr. Brereton, President, presided. The draft of the constitution and by-laws prepared at a previous meeting was adopted. Rev. R. Johnston and Rev. R. Allin delivered addresses. At the end of the meeting the visiting agent was asked to explain some matters relating to the working of the Upper Canada Bible Society, which he did to the apparent satisfaction of those present.

Cowansville, Nov. 27th.—Meeting held in Methodist church. Night very stormy and attendance small. Rev. J. Kilgour occupied the chair. The Secretary was not present and therefore his report was not read. Those present promised to make a greater effort during the ensuing year to increase the interest in the work of the Society.

Springville, Nov. 23rd.—Meeting held in Presbyterian Church. There were three hindrances to the success of the meeting; the church is at present without a pastor, revival services not far away and a concert in the neighbourhood. Mr. H. Wilson occupied the chair. A good choir assisted. Reports were read and considered satisfactory.

Omeme, Nov. 25th.—Sunday services. Preached in the Methodist Church in the morning and in the Church of England in the evening and addressed one Sunday School in the afternoon. Both services were largely attended. The executive of the Branch met on the Saturday evening before and arranged all the business of the Branch. The result of their work was announced at the Sunday services. The collections were very good and were given wholly to the Society.

Mount Pleasant, Nov. 26th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Mr. W. S. Graham, a very good chairman, presided. Large attendance. A very good choir assisted. Mr. James McLean, who has had a long experience as Secretary, read the reports. These were satisfactory. Promise very good.

Lakefield, Dec. 6th.—Meeting held in the Baptist Church. Mr. J. Hall, President, occupied the chair. There was a good attendance and a very excellent spirit prevailed. The pastor of the church took an active part in the proceedings. After devotional exercise, three appropriate and helpful addresses were delivered, one by Rev. W. Limbert, one by Rev. A. R. Macdonald, and one by the visiting agent. The reports were satisfactory.

Keene, Nov. 7th.—Meeting held in Methodist Church, the President, Mr. John Kindred, in the chair. Rev. E. E. Howard and Rev. F. Andrews, both good friends of the Society, were present and helped much by their words of counsel and encouragement. The reports were considered satisfactory. This was a good meeting. An excellent spirit was manifest in the transaction of the necessary business and in the reception of the addresses.

Hastings, Dec. 9th.—Addressed three meetings in the neighbourhood on the Sunday. The union meeting in the Presbyterian Church was very large and enthusiastic. Revs. D. A. Thomson, R. H. McGinnis and J. A. Jewell, took part in the service and helped much by words of counsel and encouragement. It was a meeting of great profit and help in many ways.

Norwood, Dec. 10th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. The attendance was not large. Rev. J. Gibson, President, occupied the chair. Revs. Messrs. Anderson and Summerville took part in the proceedings. A promise was made by those present, to put forth a special effort to increase interest in the work of the Society and to make the meeting next year a real success.

Warsaw, Dec. 11th.—Meeting held in the Baptist Church. Mr. S. Edwards conducted the business of the meeting. Revs. J. E. Robeson and R. Hyde took part in the proceedings and spoke in an encouraging way of the good work of the Society. The reports were satisfactory and the meeting was considered a good one. A heavy rain prevented some from attending.

Eramosa, Dec. 14th.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. There was a large attendance and much interest manifested in the work. The reports indicated that the work was at least holding its place in the hearts of the people. Mr. Thos. Armstrong, President, conducted the business of the evening. Rev. Mr. Wilkie, helped with an address.

Brampton, Jan. 9th.—Meeting held in Baptist Church. There was a very fair attendance. Mr. Geo. Dawson, a very old and valuable friend of the Society, occupied the chair, and gave a very excellent President's address. The reports of the year's work were considered satisfactory. Revs. A. Rankin, W. Clark and M. L. Pearson, took part in the proceedings. The meeting was an interesting and profitable one to the Society.

Malton, Jan. 11th.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. The President was absent through illness. In his absence, Mr. Henry Milner, occupied the chair. The attendance was small.

Guelph, Jan. 16th.—Meeting held in Chalmers Church. Very large attendance. The President, Dr. Torrance, presided, and conducted in a very efficient manner all the business of the evening. Two resolutions bearing upon the work of the Society and the extension of its work were spoken to very earnestly and un-animously passed by the meeting. Revs. Mr. Glassford, Dr. Wardrope, Mr. Sellery, J. C. Smith, Dr. Lowry and J. A. Davidson, took an active part in the proceeding and gave valuable assistance to the meeting and the Society by their encouragements. Guelph is alive to the importance of Bible circulation.

REV. ROBERT BURNS, F.H.B.

Niagara Falls South and Stamford.—Considering the counter-attractions which were going on in the Town Hall and the special services in the Methodist Church, the annual meeting of this branch, held in the Presbyterian Church, was pretty well attended. The Executive Committee met in the vestry at 7.30 p.m., and arranged the nomination for officers and collectors, which was submitted to the meeting of the Society. Dr. Dee, of Stamford, the enthusiastic president, gave a very good address on the history and work of the Society. The Rev. Messrs. Wilson and McCormick rendered valuable help by their wise counsel. The choir of the church gave a number of very suitable selections. The agent addressed the meeting on the "General work of the Society and reasons for supporting it." The treasurer's report showed this branch to be in a good, vigorous condition. The depository has changed hands a number of times and I think is now in a permanent place.

Niagara Falls and Queenston.—The annual meeting of this branch was held in the Presbyterian Church. The members present manifested a deep interest in the Society's work. The Ven. Archdeacon Houston, who was re-elected president, occupied the chair. Revs. John Crawford (Presbyterian) and F. Tapscott (Baptist) were present with their advice and sympathy. The collectors were appointed. Alderman S. K. Binkley was elected secretary in the place of Mr. Harrop, who resigned. The report of the Depository showed some advance in the sale of books. The president and the agent gave short addresses. We trust that the people of this town will take a deeper interest in the work of the Bible Society.

Thorold.—The 51st anniversary of this branch was held in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was good, for the churches came together on this the evening of their prayer meetings. In the absence of Jas. H. Beaty, Esq., the president, Rev. P. L. Spencer (Anglican), occupied the chair. The choir led in the singing. Addresses were given by the chairman, Rev. Dr. Clark and the agent. The routine business of the branch was despatched in a satisfactory way. One of the collectors (Mrs Jas. Munro) has completed the 50th year as collector and was re-appointed. The branch is in a fine state and will no doubt give a good account of their work.

REV. GEO. BURSON.

Camden, Nov. 5th.—After due notice to the branches of your Society committed to my care, and after receiving communications from the respective officers that the meetings had been arranged, I commenced my visitation as above. The president, Mr. J. Hipple, presided at the meeting, which was held in the Evangelical Church, whose pastor rendered valuable assistance. A warm interest in Bible Society work was manifested. The depository requires re-stocking with saleable editions. This branch is in the hands of efficient officers and flourishing.

Winona, Nov. 6th.—The meeting was held in the Anglican Church; it was not large but encouraging. The president, Mr. J. B. Henry, occupied the chair, and the Rev. W. Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church, delivered an interesting address. The officers of this branch are young and vigorous men, and will render a good account of their stewardship this year.

South Saltfleet, Nov. 7th.—I drove to the residence of the president, Mr. R. Ptolemy, who is an earnest friend of the Society, and received a hearty welcome. A snowstorm prevented our having a large audience. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Bowlby, bore testimony to the good work being done by the Society. The officers were re-elected and the worthy president seems determined to make this branch more efficient.

Caistorville, Nov. 8th.—Here I found special meetings in progress in the Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. H. A. Cook, gave me the service. We had a full house and much interest was manifested. The officers and collectors were appointed. This branch gives bright promise. The depository is in good hands and well looked after.

Caistor, Nov. 9th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, the president, Mr. Kerr presiding. On account of the stormy weather prevailing, there was but a fair congregation, mostly heads of families, who manifested an intelligent desire to help on the good cause. The Rev. W. H. Garnham, pastor of the church, rendered valuable assistance. The friends are hopeful and expect to do better this year.

St. Ann's.—Preached at St. Ann's on Sabbath morning, then on to Wellandport for another service; the congregations were good in both places. On Monday the 12th, the annual meeting of the Wellandport branch was held in the Presbyterian Church, the devotional exercises being conducted by the Rev. E. H. Taylor. Mr. W. Misener, president of the Society, was in the chair. The officers and friends expressed regret that the interests of the Society had been somewhat neglected in the past, but promised to meet at once and push the collecting. We hope for better things in the future from this branch. The depository needs replenishing.

Smithville, Nov. 13th.—We held our meeting in the Methodist Church, Dr. McMurchie in the chair. Owing to some popular counter-attractions, the audience was not as large as it otherwise would have been. The organization was completed, with the Rev. D. H. Taylor as president. This branch is well officered and should give a good account of itself in the cause. Depot is well appointed.

St. Ann's, Nov. 14th.—Meeting in the Presbyterian Church, the pastor, who is the president, in the chair. There was a good audience and everything points to better returns this year.

Beamsville, Nov. 29th.—Our last meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church here, with Dr. Comfort in the chair; all the pastors of other churches were present and a fair congregation. Officers were elected and collectors were appointed with the hope of doing well this year.

Grimsby was on my list. I visited the president who, after consulting with friends, decided to pursue the usual course—that of taking care of their own meeting.

REV. J. CARSWELL.

Grand Valley, Oct. 9th.—The meeting was held in the Disciple Church. The Rev. Messrs. Crozier, Isaacs and Stewart, were present and took part. The attendance was not large; but those present seemed to be deeply interested in the work of the Society. This branch does well in overtaking a large district of country and securing a good contribution.

Waldemar, Oct. 10th.—Had a small meeting on account of the inclemency of the weather. The business, however, was transacted and a brief address given. An effort is to be put forth this year to secure contributions from the entire field. Several districts last year were not visited.

Arthur, Oct. 11th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church, the pastor and president of the Society, the Rev. Mr. Smith, was in the chair. The attendance was fair and the interest manifested good. The Rev. L. W. Thom (Pres.) was present and made a few remarks at the close. He is a warm friend of the Society and in the position of president will doubtless do what he can to promote its welfare.

Harriston, Oct. 12th.—The weather was very unfavorable, so the attendance was small. The two Presbyterian ministers and the Methodist one were present, and addressed the meeting briefly at the close. This branch is well officered and will no doubt do its duty during the coming year.

Clifford, Oct. 13th-15th.—Spent Sabbath here preaching in the Presbyterian Church, in the evening in the interests of the Society and taking up a collection. On Monday evening, the annual meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, the Rev. S. Young, in the chair. A goodly number were present who listened very attentively to the remarks made by the agent and the Rev. Mr. Potter.

Cedarville, Oct. 17th.—A drive of ten miles from Mount Forest brought me to this little village, where a meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was good, but mainly composed of young people, who gave the very best attention to the addresses of the agent and the Rev. Messrs. Morrison and Honey. Both these gentlemen are warm friends of the Society. From the former and his estimable wife very great kindness was received.

Holstein, Oct. 18th.—Here a mistake had been made in reference to pulpit notices, so that no intimation had been given on the previous Sabbath. An effort, however, had been put forth to give publicity to the meeting through the school and by notices put in the stores. Despite this lack of intimation, there was a good meeting in the Methodist Church. The Rev. Messrs. Miller and Phillips were present and took part in the meeting. The choir were present in full force and added to the interest by their selections. This branch doubled their contributions last year, and the good record thus obtained will doubtless be maintained in the future.

Mount Forest, Oct. 19th.—The meeting was held in the Baptist Church, and was small for the size of the town. There is an excellent staff of officers and they had the business so prepared that very little time was spent in its transaction. The remarks of the agent, which were well received, had to be curtailed somewhat, to leave time for an evangelistic service to be held by the pastor at the close of the meeting. I cannot close my report of this branch without mentioning the kind attention shown to me by the efficient secretary, Mr. Smith, in providing for my entertainment at his hospitable home, and going round and introducing me to quite a number of the officers and friends of the Society.

Egmondville.—I visited this branch on the 13th Nov., and had a good meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, the Rev. Neil Shaw, conducted the opening exercises and was appointed president for the ensuing year. He is a warm friend of the Society and will do all he can to promote its interests. The address of the agent was listened to with attention and appreciation. The method to be adopted this year of raising money for the Society, is by an envelope collection.

Constance, Nov. 14th.—On reaching this place, I learned that no intimation of the meeting had been given on the previous Sabbath on account of uncertainty as to its being held. Definite information on this point had only been received the previous evening. Had it not been for this, there would no doubt have been a large meeting. As it was, quite a number gathered in, the business was satisfactorily transacted and an address given.

Seaford, Nov. 15th.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, Dr. McDonald, the pastor, in the chair. The attendance was large and the attention all that could be desired. Last year, on account of finding it difficult to obtain collectors, the plan was tried of taking up collections during the week of prayer; but this had not been successful, the amount realized being small for the size of the town. It was therefore decided to make an appeal to the ladies at the close of the address, asking for volunteers to act as collectors. This was done when six ladies very promptly responded. As they are ladies in a good position, a large increase may be expected from this branch.

Londesboro', Nov 16th. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Fair, in the chair. The attendance was small on account of the inclemency of the weather, but the business was transacted and an address given. The method of raising funds is by a special collection, which seems to work well, as a very fair contribution was received last year. Here and at all the other points visited, I received much kindness from my ministerial brethren and their wives.

REV. G. H. COBBLEDICK, M.A., B.D.

Kinlough.—The first meeting of the year was held on a very disagreeable evening, which prevented many from attending; still, the audience was fair and the interest apparent. The secretary, Mr. Alton, is removing, much to the regret of all. The depository will be supplied with additional stock.

Langside.—The following day your agent was cordially entertained by the president of this branch, Mr. McKenzie. The attendance at the annual meeting was larger even than last year, and the interest is evidently growing. A number of selections rendered by a volunteer choir were much appreciated. There is a complete change of officers, but those retiring are retained on the committee.

St. Helen's.—Here we were glad to find our old friend Mr. Millar, the secretary, much improved in health. The stock in the depository was carefully gone over and some of it reduced in price. The meeting was in the Church of England, and the president, Rev. Mr. Miles, in the chair. The attendance was good.

Whitechurch.—Here the meeting was in the neat and comfortable Methodist Church. The choir led the singing, and the president, Rev. Mr. Burton, ably filled the chair. An excellent feeling pervaded the meeting. The reports of all the officers were duly presented, and the stock in the depository is large and in first-class condition.

Bluevale.—The tried and true president, Mr. Jos. Leitch, met us at the train and entertained us. The committee had met the previous evening and had the business largely done. The Presbyterian choir, in which church the meeting was, were present in full force. Rev. Mr. Hartley, the pastor, conducted the opening exercises. Rev. Mr. Pring, Methodist minister, gave a short address, after which your agent presented the work of the Society. The attendance and interest were gratifying. The depository is being removed to the store of Mr. Joseph Pugh.

Molesworth.—The removal of Mr. Watson has deprived this branch of its secretary, treasurer and depository, who, for many years, has cared largely for the interests of the Society here. The aged and honored president, Mr. Andrew Mitchell, who has not for some years been able to attend a meeting, was unanimously elected honorary president for life. A new and, we trust, energetic staff of officers have entered on their duties, apparently determined to fully sustain the reputation of this branch.

Trowbridge.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Robinson, conducted the opening exercises, also gave a brief address. Mr. Code, the president, ably filled the chair. The choir rendered several choice selections, and an unusually large number were present from the Sabbath School, promising well for the future. The depository is well kept and the stock choice.

Atwood.—At the hospitable home of the Rev. Mr. Fisher, a pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent. The meeting, which was in the Baptist Church, was preceded by a committee meeting, in which all the business was found to be well in hand. Rev. Mr. Henderson, president, occupied the chair. The resident pastors gave brief but interesting addresses, after which your agent presented the claims of the Society.

Walton.—The meeting was in the Presbyterian Church, and, in the absence of the pastor, was opened by Rev. Mr. Cosens, of the Methodist Church, who also gave an address. The president, Mr. Smilie, was in the chair, and the choir kindly led the singing. The attendance was considerably larger than last year.

Brussels.—This banner branch still maintains its good name. By request of the directors, your agent was able to address each of the four churches on the Sabbath, in the interests of the Bible Society, thus bringing them before a much larger number than ever before. Two outlying points, Ethel and Cranbrook, were also visited, where large and helpful meetings were held, making in all six meetings in connection with this branch.

REV. CHAS. DUFF.

On Monday, Oct. 15th, the annual meeting of the Branch Bible Society of Avening was held in the Methodist Church of that place. By previous engagement, both the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers of the place were absent, but the meeting was better than last year both in attendance and enthusiasm. The officers were all in their places, and no doubt this branch owes its success to the quiet but efficient manner in which these friends of the Society perform their work.

My next meeting was at Creemore on the following Tuesday evening. The three Protestant ministers of the place, with Rev. Mr. Cameron, formerly of this locality but now residing in the State of Wisconsin, were all present and rendered valuable service. The meeting was held in the Episcopal Church, and, though the night was somewhat unpropitious, the attendance was very good. The Bible Society has warm friends in Creemore.

Wednesday evening found me at Dunedin. The attendance was not so good as I had expected, but nevertheless it was an enthusiastic meeting, the Rev. Mr. Henry, of Creemore (Presbyterian), occupied the chair. A new secretary was chosen, and I am persuaded that the work of the Society this year will be a great improvement on that of the past.

Maple Valley was my next place of meeting. There has been a Branch Society here for some years, and it includes true friends of the cause. The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, and, although by previous engagement both the minister of that church and also the pastor of the Methodist Church, were absent, the meeting was not by any means a barren one.

Singhampton was my next place of meeting. The Rev. Mr. Long (Methodist), was in the chair, and the Rev. Mr. Croll (Presbyterian) spoke for the Society. There was a much better attendance than the previous year, so that we may reasonably look for some fruit during the season.

On Saturday I made my way by stage to Duntroon, a place about six miles away, but, having left an appointment for Sabbath afternoon, I returned with the Episcopal rector, Rev. Mr. Lindsay, on Sabbath morning. I spoke in the Presbyterian Church to a packed house, and also to the Union Sabbath School of Singhampton. At seven o'clock I spoke again to a large congregation in the Presbyterian Church at Duntroon, and on Monday night, the 22nd, I met the Branch Society of Duntroon and brought before them the claims of our Society, and, although there is no Presbyterian minister in charge just now, I doubt not the many friends of the Bible Society will make a good show in the year to come.

My next place of meeting was Painswick, and here I had the pleasure of having our beloved and honorable chief, Hon. G. W. Allan (President of the U. C. Bible Society), in the chair. Like a good worker, too, he did not come alone. He was accompanied by the Rev. Dean Murphy, within the limits of whose parish he has his summer residence. Both gave very appropriate and hearty words, and the meeting seemed to be enjoyable throughout. The Society made the Rev. Dean Murphy president for the ensuing year, and I know that it was a matter of great encouragement to the friends here to have the chief officer of the U. C. Bible Society with them at their annual meeting.

Wednesday night brought me to Craigvale and Stroud. It was in the latter place, in the Temperance Hall, where the meeting was held. The veteran chairman, Mr. John Chantler, was at home and filled the chair. Last year, on my visit, he was absent in Manitoba. He is a very warm friend of the cause and made a characteristic speech. I wish space would allow so that I could give the readers of our report even a brief synopsis of it. He analyzed the subscription list as I never heard it analyzed before, and if the Christian people of Ontario could only have heard it, and for a moment have taken in the situation, instead of giving forty or fifty thousand dollars (which they do not give however), we should have three or four hundred thousand from this Province alone to support this great and good cause. It is due very largely to the warm-heartedness of the president and secretary and a few others of this Society, that this branch is as well sustained as it is. Societies of all kinds, and Sabbath Schools and Churches, as such, have been induced by them to give support to it.

My next visitation was at Lefroy and Bell Ewart. The attendance small, but good friends of the Society are here and our meeting was an interesting one.

Friday brought me to Churchill, where there is a good Society and warm friends of the Bible. The meeting was not as large as the previous year, but it was a good meeting. The Rev. Mr. Ross, who is a warm friend of the Society, filled the chair in the absence of the president, and our intelligent secretary, whose heart is in the work, was at his post.

Stayner.—Here the meeting was held on the 26th November. The evening was not very favorable, being cloudy and damp, but the Baptist Church was well filled and the mayor of the town and leading people being present. The ministers of the place were all present, every one of whom is a good friend of the Society. Dr. Jakeway was elected chairman, and the ministers gave the evening to the agent. In every respect the meeting was excellent, and we look for good fruits from it.

Tuesday night we were appointed for Collingwood, but there was almost a North-West blizzard raging and the people did not venture out. The meeting was held in the Methodist schoolroom and was a contrast to the one held the evening before in Stayner, not more than a dozen being present. The business, however, was transacted, and it is hoped the fruits will be as good as on the previous year, which were excellent.

Meaford.—The meeting was held in the Episcopal Church. The rector was present and heartily co-operated in the work. The congregation was a trifle larger than on the previous year's meeting, though there were not as many ministers present. The president, Mr. Godfrey, occupied the chair, and, though not present when elected the previous year, consented again to fill the office. This branch will not this year be without some good returns.

Thornbury.—The Presbyterian Church was this year utilized by the Society. Owing to repairs going on in the audience room, the basement was occupied. The room was nearly full and the congregation better than on the previous year. The Rev. Mr. Simpson, Methodist minister, occupied the chair, and the Presbyterian minister, also of that name, spoke a few words. He is a hearty friend of the work.

Heathcote.—My attention having been called to the fact that this village, in the midst of Beaver River Valley, had no branch, and knowing it to be an excellent agricultural region all around, I consulted with the Presbyterian minister of the place, and also the Methodist minister, and, with the hearty co-operation of both, I visited it on Friday evening, the 30th. A very respectable gathering of people came to the Methodist Church, and, after the address of your agent, a resolution was passed to form a Branch Society to aid in forwarding in some degree the great objects to which their attention had been called. The Rev. J. L. Simpson was chosen president, and the Rev. Mr. Bedford and the Episcopal minister, vice-presidents; Mr. George Pentland, secretary, and Mr. John Pratt, treasurer. They determined not to open a depository. Collectors were also appointed.

REV. J. McD. DUNCAN.

Minesing, Nov. 5th.—Local circumstances prevented as large an attendance at this meeting as might otherwise have been expected. Those present manifested a warm interest in the work of the Society. The branch here owes much to its efficient and indefatigable secretary, Mr. S. Jacobs.

Elmvale, Nov. 6th.—In spite of disagreeable weather, there was a fair attendance at the meeting held here in the Methodist Church. Those present listened with attention to the address of your agent.

Rugby, Nov. 7th.—There was a good, enthusiastic meeting here. The Rev. Mr. Goffin (Congregational) gave a capital address. The Rev. Mr. Campbell (Presbyterian) sung a solo very effectively. Your agent had a sympathetic hearing.

Edgar, Nov. 8th.—The work here is in good hands. Mr. Miller, the treasurer and depository of this branch, is an efficient and painstaking officer.

Hawkstone, Nov. 9th.—Owing to insufficient advertisement, there was a small attendance at the meeting here. The necessary business was transacted, and your agent addressed those present on behalf of the Society.

Penetang, Nov. 12th.—A bright, interesting meeting was held here, from which good results may be confidently expected.

Midland, Nov. 13th.—A comparatively large and deeply interested audience greeted your agent at this place. The president of the branch, the Rev. David James, deserves the thanks of the Society for his untiring efforts on its behalf.

Gravenhurst, Nov. 14th.—The usual business was transacted and your agent gave an address. The Rev. John Burton, B.D., who has been so long identified with the work of the Bible Society, has been settled here recently, and will, no doubt, do much for the development of the Society's work here.

Huntsville, Nov. 15th.—The meeting here was fairly attended. This branch has efficient officers and may be expected to give a good account of itself during the coming year.

Bracebridge, Nov. 16th.—Under the direction of the president, Sheriff Bettes, a very good meeting was held here in the Baptist Church. A fair collection was taken up, and besides $29.50 was subscribed for the work of the Society. The prospects of this branch are brighter than ever before. Besides your agent, the Rev. Mr. Rowe (Methodist) and the Rev. Dr. Clarke (Presbyterian) gave good addresses.

Coldwater and Waubaushene, Nov. 17th, 18th and 19th.—On Saturday evening I reached Waubaushene. On Sabbath morning I addressed a fair audience in the Methodist Church, Coldwater, on behalf of the Bible Society. In the evening the church at Waubaushene was filled by an appreciative audience. Monday was spent in visiting the officers of the Society and arranging for the annual business meeting, which was held in Coldwater on the evening of that day. This branch may be expected to do better this year than last. In concluding my fourth report as an agent of the Bible Society, I beg to repeat my testimony to the sympathy of the Christian public with its work, and to the respect and kindness shown to the representatives of the Society.

REV. J. DYKE.

Qu' Appelle, Assa., N.W.T.—Your agent arrived in this town early in the morning, having travelled most of the previous night. The day was spent in visiting the officers of the branch and the leading men of the town, also distributing Bible Society literature and inspecting the stock in the depository. The public meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Messrs. Bunt and McAllister taking an interesting part in the service. At the close of the agent's address, the audience, which was much larger than last year, responded with a liberal collection, the usual officers were appointed, and judicious plans made for future work.

Indian Head.—After inspecting the Bible Society stock, the agent met the officers of the branch in Mr. Crawford's parlor. The affairs of the local society were discussed, and a programme arranged for the evening meeting, which was held in the Presbyterian Church. The president, Mr. Crawford, presided in an efficient manner, and the agent urged the claims of the Society. The usual officers and collectors were appointed at the close of an excellent meeting.

Grenfell.—This thriving town takes great interest in Bible work. Mr. W. H. Watkin, the efficient secretary, had been called away by very pressing business; but a large and enthusiastic audience greeted the agent in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. John McLeod ably filled the chair. The Revs. J. Lewis McLeod and Attwood gave valuable assistance.

Wolsley held its annual meeting in the Methodist Church. Mr. Bompas, president of the branch, introduced the agent in an effective speech. The Revs. J. H. Burrow and J. Campbell, Methodist and Presbyterian ministers, showed great interest in the work.

Broadview—Your agent reached this town about midnight from Grenfell. He spent Saturday in calling upon the officers and arranging for the Union service, which was held in the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. J. Barron, B.A. (Presbyterian) conducted the opening exercises. Mr. Beale, the president, urged the people to a livelier interest in the good work. The agent impressed the audience with the great need of the world for the word of God. The audience was large and attentive.

Whitewood.—After a drive of sixteen miles the agent reached this town; took part in an afternoon service in the Methodist Church. The Presbyterian Church was thronged at night, and all enjoyed the interest of the Bible Society meeting very much. The pastor, Rev. J. Muirhead, gave the agent a warm welcome and great assistance.

Virten.—The attendance and interest shown in the work of the Society at this point was much greater than last year. The Rev. F. A. August presided over the meeting, and the Rev. W. Beattie led in prayer. The agent spoke of the rapid spread of the Bible through the efforts of the Society, and urged greater liberality, so that the entire world may soon have the precious truth.

Alexander.—Mr. J. McEwen, president, gave a stirring speech which started the meeting with good tone. A united choir rendered very suitable music. The agent's address was well received, and the large audience unanimously agreed that this was the best annual meeting ever held in their village.

Griswold.—The friends at this point, remembering the small attendance a year ago through severe weather, made an extra effort to secure a large attendance. The Baptist Church was comfortably seated with an attentive audience. The Presbyterian and Methodist pastors, with the president, Mr. D. Buchanan, assisted the agent in the service. After the usual officers and collectors had been appointed, a session of the Union Sabbath School managers was held, to which a large number stayed.

Oak Lake.—The agent drove to this town during the day, called on the local clergy, met the executive of the branch, and inspected the stock in the depository, which is very well kept by Dr. Wright. The public meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Thos. Wright presided. The Rev. Messrs. Scarlett and Hodges took an active part in the meeting. At the close of the agent's address a collection was taken up, and the usual officers appointed.

Elkhorn.—The Rev. Mr. Fortune, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, presided over the meeting, the president, Dr. Rolston, having been called out of town. The attendance was not quite as large as it was last year, owing to another public meeting on the same evening. But the officers were hopeful that the funds would about or nearly equal last year's amount, which, considering the depression so keenly felt at all the points would be a very creditable showing.

Moosomin.—The annual meeting at this point was held in the Methodist Church. Mayor McCurdy, the local president, in the chair. The Rev. J. A. Reddon and Mr. B. W. Robinson, Baptist student, assisted in the service. The president gave a suitable address, and the agent urged the people to a more liberal support of the Society in view of the great good that is being done, and the need for more vigorous efforts to supply the world with the Holy Scriptures.

REV. GEORGE EDWARDS.

Garden Island, Jan. 7th.—A meeting was held in the schoolhouse of Garden Island, a small village three miles south of Kingston. The attendance suffered on account of unfavorable weather, but after a good meeting officers were re-appointed and collectors went to work, bringing into the treasury $11.35. This is a hopeful branch.

Wolfe Island, Jan. 13th.—The meeting was, for various reasons, held on Sunday, and a good congregation assembled at the Presbyterian Church in the morning to hear your agent, who also preached to a full house in the Methodist Church at night. The two collections amounted to $8.43. On the next day the agent met the committee and discussed the work of the branch, re-appointing the officers and securing collectors. With the Rev. G. R. Laing (Presbyterian) as president, this branch will be well looked after.

Battersea and Sunbury, Jan. 31st.—After two attempts, rendered unsuccessful by bad roads, meetings were held on Jan. 31st and the following day. Not much interest is manifest at present in Battersea, though, for the sake of future prospects, the branch should be maintained. Sunbury, lying between Battersea and Kingston, is in the heart of a good country, and with the Rev. R. Laird (Presbyterian) taking a deep interest in the Bible Society, this branch gives good promise.

Inverary, Feb. 12th.—A good meeting was held in the Methodist Church, the Rev. J. Follick presiding instead of the president (Rev. A. A. Radley), who has removed. A good attendance ensured an interesting meeting.

Harrowsmith, Feb. 14th.—The Revs. J. B. Robeson and A. R. Orser were present at a meeting in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. B. Robeson was appointed president, collectors appointed and routine business transacted.

Sydenham, Feb. 15th.—This branch, led by an active committee, arranged a capital meeting in the hall. The committee met earlier and transacted routine business, presenting its report to the meeting. Owing to the vigorous lead of the Rev. D. Winter, the work is well managed. Your agent addressed a large audience.

Odessa, Feb. 26th.—Dr. Meacham, M.P.P., is the president here, and as the secretary had removed, the Rev. W. B. Secombe was appointed to the vacant place. A full and enthusiastic meeting, in connection with a revival mission, was held in the Methodist Church on behalf of the Society.

Amherst Island and Bath, Feb. 28th.—In spite of bad roads, the Rev. J. Cumberland presided over an interesting meeting, while on the next evening the Bath branch met, led by the Rev. W. B. Tucker, B.D. Here, one lady, Mrs. Hall, was appointed president, and another, Mrs. L. Armstrong, as secretary.

Cataraqui, Feb. 25th.—This branch is very weak, but the committee met and appointed officers. President, Mr. G. Nicol; secretary, Mrs. E. W. Conoly; treasurer, Mr. W. Purdie. A meeting was held on the next Sunday in the Methodist Church, and your agent brought the work before the people.

Verona.—A depository existed, though the interest had languished, but this was revived by a good meeting; held in connection with special services in the Methodist Church. The defunct branch was re-organized, and the outlook is hopeful.

REV. S. C. EDMUNDS, B.D.

Gorrie, Nov. 29th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church, vice-president, W. S. Bean, in the chair. Revs. W. J. Brownlee (Episcopal) and J. Greene (Methodist) present, commended the Society, and offered to bring the claims of the Society before the people on Sabbath. Depository in good order and stock well kept. Officers are efficient and interested. Meeting was good, evening pleasant.

McIntosh and Belmore, Dec. 4th.—Meeting in Presbyterian Church, McIntosh, Rev. Mr. Stewart (Presbyterian) present, and gave short address. Meeting enthusiastic. Business very carefully attended to. Officers interested and hearty in the work. Preached in Methodist Church, Belmore, afterward, and urged the people to Bible study, and to deeper interest in the Society. Hope for good results from this branch.

Lakelet, Dec. 5th.—Interesting meeting held in Methodist Church; heard afterward it was enjoyed. Could have wished more to be present. Depository in good order. Officers anxious for the welfare of the Society.

Teeswater, Dec. 6th.—Meeting in Baptist Church. All the ministers of the place present. They propose to present the claims of the Society to their several congregations, and in this way many more will be reached. The depository deserves much praise for the way he does the work. The secretary is a great friend of the Society. It was a pleasure to visit this branch.

Wroxeter, Dec. 7th.—Meeting in Episcopal Church. Revs. W. G. Brownlee (Episcopal) and Anderson (Presbyterian), present, and gave very excellent addresses. Thos. Gibson, Esq., M.P.P., in the chair. Congregation very appreciative. Preached in Methodist Church afterward, and urged the congregation to attend meetings. Mr. W. M. Robinson, the secretary, is much interested in the work. No depository here. Branch flourishing.

Fordwich, Dec. 13th.—Meeting in Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Dobson (Presbyterian) present, and gave interesting address. The President in the chair. The secretary, Mr. Thos. Goggin, gave a good report, and is ready to do all he can to forward the interest of the Society. This branch is healthy and I hope for good results from it. Held meeting at Mayne on 19th December; the president and secretary of Fordwich were present; not many out to the meeting but am hopeful that good will come from it. Had meeting also at 9th line Howick, on January 11th in the Congregationalist Church. Rev. Mr. Gribble and secretary from Fordwich present. Those present seemed to enjoy it. This section of country prosperous, and we want them to divide their good things and help this Society.

Newbridge, Dec. 21st.—This about the only dark night we had, but a fair company present. They take an interest in the good work, and are hearty as I find them in any good work. Preached here also as well as at Fordwich, and trust the seed found its way into good ground. Many sales of Bibles have been made lately, and I am of opinion the people are learning to prize the Book more.

Dromore, Jan. 8th.—Meeting in Presbyterian Church, Rev. D. McVicar, B.A., in the chair. Beautiful evening. Many young people out. This branch has grown year by year since being formed. Have distributed literature at nearly every branch. Collection was good at this meeting, and I am hopeful that the returns will be generous. Much kindness was shown by all the branches, and the weather was very good indeed. We were anxious to reach everyone, and trust we touched many through those present.

REV. J. G. FALLIS.

Gesto.—We had a good meeting and a fair attendance in this place. Meeting was in the Methodist Church, Rev. Chas. Kennedy, the pastor, presided, and gave a short address. The choir gave valuable aid to the meeting. Your agent spoke on the great need of the Bible Society and the blessed work it is accomplishing. A collection was taken up. All the officers of last year were re-elected. Good collections were put in.

Pelee Island.—Your agent did not get to the meeting, as the boat did not run that evening, but talked by telephone to Rev. Mr. Gander who lives on the island; he agreed to see that the meeting was carried out in the proper order. Since that time I have received the report of the meeting from Mr. Gander. The old officers were elected, collectors appointed, and a collection of $1.00 taken up in the meeting.

Comber.—This branch is fruitful. Your agent found everything correct and all the officers present. Rev. Mr. Elliott, president, in the chair. Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Roy Ainslie gave his report in a clear way, which made it satisfactory to all. The Presbyterian minister made some pleasing comments. The agent spoke for a short time of the work of the Society. All the old officers were again re-elected and a liberal collection was taken up.

Lambeth.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. A heavy storm of rain prevented many from coming to the meeting, but enough were there to make it interesting. Rev. Mr. Blatchford was present, all the officers were elected and collectors. I believe a good work will be done this year.

Fingal.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. This branch has been bearing fruit for many years and shows no sign of decay. Mr. McPherson, the president for over thirty years, was present with good words for the Bible Society. The Rev. Mr. Sutherland and Rev. Mr. Hayhurst, together with the agent, spoke for over an hour. The meeting was enjoyed by all.

West Lorne.—The meeting was held in the Baptist Church. This branch did not make any returns last year, but are resolved to make up the loss of last year. Rev. Mr. Mallott was present, opened the meeting with reading the Scripture and offering prayer. A good staff of officers were elected and collectors appointed.

Rodney.—We had a most successful meeting here. Rev. Mr. Scott, president of the Society, occupied the chair. The meeting was in the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Mr. Snyder was present, and gave an excellent address. The necessary officers were all elected and collectors appointed, and a liberal collection was given.

Kintyre.—This is a flourishing branch. The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Barnett, president, opened the meeting with singing and prayer, and also gave some valuable thoughts about the Bible. Your agent then addressed the audience, showing the work of the Bible Society in distant lands. The collection was taken up and the officers and collectors appointed.

Aldborough.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Scott, pastor, occupied the chair, and opened the meeting with devotional exercises. The secretary read the report which was pleasing to all here. Your agent again had an opportunity of speaking to an earnest people who responded by giving a good collection. All the old officers were elected.

Duart and Orford.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Mr. Kay opened the meeting by reading a portion of Scripture and offering prayer. We had a profitable meeting, the people came for miles. A good collection was taken. The meeting was addressed by your agent, and all the officers and collectors were appointed.

Amherstburg.—Our meeting in Amherstburg was a blessing to all present. It was held in the Presbyterian Church. In the absence of the president of the Society, the Rev. Mr. Natrass, pastor of the church, occupied the chair. Addresses were given by Rev. Messrs. Allin and Natrass. Inspector Maxwell, M.A., Ph.D., gave some good thoughts and others likewise. All the old officers were put in again. Collectors have their work nearly done.

South Buxton.—Our meeting here was small. No minister living in the place, but I found the young people willing to work and do their duty. Miss Cassie M. Hill, is secretary and treasurer. This year four good collectors were put in. I expect good work done by this branch this year.

Tilbury.—Your agent has done what he could in this place, but met with opposition from a man calling himself a minister, who has come to reside for some time in the place. It is to be hoped he will see his error. He has done the young branch harm. The collectors will do what they can.

Point Edward.—We organized a new branch here this evening, had a large turnout. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. All the proper officers were put in. Twelve collectors were put in, four out of each church, to canvass the town. Addresses were given by your agent and the Rev. Messrs. Hale and Eadie. It is believed by all that this branch will do good work.

REV. JAMES FARQUHARSON.

Gretna.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church on a Sabbath evening. All the ordinary services were given up, and Canadians and Germans met together at the Bible Society meetings, filling the church. The president, Mr. Small, occupied the chair, and opened the meeting. Your agent spoke about the general work of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and Prof. H. H. Ewart, Principal of the Gretna German School, addressed the meeting in German. Collectors were appointed and it is the intention that they canvass the district for subscriptions towards the funds of the Society at once. The collection amounted to ten dollars.

Emerson.—In the absence of the president, the Rev. Mr. McHaffie was called to the chair. The meeting was very small, but those present pledged themselves to do their utmost to further the interests of the Society. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. McHaffie and Camp, and your agent. Collection, three dollars.

Morden.—The meeting was held in the Baptist Church. The Rev. H. P. Whidden was called to the chair. All the resident ministers were present, and each sought in a short address to impress some phase of the Society's work on the audience. All regretted that largely on account of the president having left the town, and of the illness of the secretary-treasurer, no subscription towards the funds of the Society had been taken up during the year, and gave expression to the assurance that the branch will be able to give a good account of its financial state at the next annual meeting. Collectors were appointed. The collection at the meeting was $5.80.

Pilot Mound.—This meeting was held on Sabbath evening, at the close of short services, and doubtless the attendance was much larger than it would have been had the meeting been held on a week evening. The Rev. Mr. Holling gave an interesting address on "The Bible." A promise was given that the Society's work will be vigorously prosecuted during the ensuing year. Collectors were appointed to canvass a large country around for subscriptions. The collection at the meeting amounted to five dollars.

Boissevain—Partly through some mistake the meeting had only been announced in some of the churches, and partly because everybody seemed to be preparing for some Christmas entertainment, the meeting was very small. In the absence of the president, the Rev. Mr. Hill was called to the chair. After transacting the business, it was resolved that, in view of the small number present, the meeting adjourn to meet again on the evening of the second Tuesday in January, when it is confidently expected there will be a much larger attendance.

Killarney.—The meeting having been held on the night on which the Y. P. S. C. E. meets, it was a joint Bible Society and Christian Endeavor meeting. The chair was ably filled by Mr. Bates, the president of the Bible Society. The Rev. Mr. Brown in an address recommended the Christian Endeavorers to charge themselves with the duty of seeing to it that there is a Bible in every house in the village and neighbourhood. The Rev. Mr. Johnston spoke of the Bible's influence on history and urged the need there is for its wide circulation throughout the world. Collectors, who are expected to commence their labours immediately, were appointed. The collection at the meeting amounted to $5.05

Deloraine.—Last year your agent on account of a train being cancelled, failed to reach Deloraine. Somewhat later in the season the resident ministers held a meeting in the interests of the Society and delivered addresses on its work. This year your agent was allowed to do most of the speaking. The meeting was small, but gave promise of good work being done for the Society during the ensuing year. Collectors were appointed. The collection amounted to $3.60.

Crystal City.—The meeting, which was large and enthusiastic, was held in the Methodist Church. In the absence of the President, the chair was ably filled by Mr. Laidlaw. The Rev. Mr. Bowman, who took the place and did the work of the absent secretary, gave an interesting address. There is no doubt this Branch will give a good account of itself during the ensuing year, even as it has done in the past. As elsewhere collectors were appointed. The collection at the meeting amounted to $7.15.

Cartwright.—Here no progress was made during the last year. No subscription was taken up and the depository was not opened. The number in attendance at the annual meeting just held was very small. But a young and vigorous president was elected and the two resident ministers present pledged their help to make the Branch the success it ought to be. Hence your agent is hopeful that the Branch is about to enter an era of greater prosperity and helpfulness.

Morris.—The Rev. B. Innis occupied the chair and gave an address. The Methodist minister also made a short speech. Regret was expressed that nothing had been done to raise funds for the Society during the year. Collectors were appointed to canvas the village and neighborhood in the interests of the Society immediately. The collection amounted to $2.80.

Manitou.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, on the 15th January, '95, and, notwithstanding the stormy evening and the bad roads, the attendance was fairly good. The Rev. Mr. Hewitt occupied the chair and opened the meeting with an interesting address. Addresses on the work of the Bible Society were also delivered by the Rev. Mr. Caven, the Rev. Mr. Spence and Mr. Stewart, as well as by our agent. Collectors were appointed with the view of canvassing not only Manitou and its immediate neighbourhood, but all the territory lying between Manitou and adjacent Branch Societies, and expression was given to the expectation that the contribution from the Branch to the funds of the Society this year will show a considerable increase on those of last year.

Boissevain.—The adjourned meeting was held at Boissevain, on the 9th inst., and although the attendance was not large, yet it was considerably larger than at the meeting a month earlier in the season. The Rev. Mr. Leitch, president, occupied the chair and delivered an address. The Rev. Messrs. Vrooman and Claxton were also present and addressed the meeting in such terms as make it certain that the work of the Branch will be prosecuted with vigour during the year.

REV. J. B. FRASER, M.D.

Blyth.—Meeting held in Presbyterian Church. Attendance smaller than usual, owing to local counter attractions. Attention to agent's address exceptionally good. Secretary efficient and depository well managed. Rev. A McLean (Presbyterian), the only local minister present, expressed his hearty sympathy with the work.

Auburn.—In absence of the president, Rev. Mr. Baugh (Methodist), the chair was efficiently occupied by Rev. Mr. Henderson (Presbyterian). Attendance large and collection liberal. In four years this Branch has doubled its contribution, and is now the banner branch in this district. Much of the success is due to the efficient and enthusiastic secretary, Dr. McLachlin. The claims of the Society were strongly urged, and greater things may be expected in the years to come.

Nile.—Revival services were being held in the Methodist Church, the only church in the place, which the local committee did not think well to interrupt with a Bible Society meeting; but your agent was allowed to address the large meeting before the special service of the evening began, and was listened to with much interest. The public business meeting will be arranged for after the special services are concluded.

Dungannon.—The meeting unfortunately encountered the opening day of the local agricultural show, and the attendance suffered in consequence. The business was, however, attended to, and the annual contribution will, I think, not be less. Rev. Mr. Jeans (Episcopalian) and Rev. Mr. Fairbairn (Presbyterian), both warm friends of the Society, were present and advocated ably the claims of the cause. When the local ministers are friendly, the contributions are usually correspondingly liberal.

Goderich.—A rainy evening and a rather small meeting. The claims of the Society were strongly commended by local ministers. A new plan of collecting, by distributing envelopes in all the churches and asking friends of the Society to enclose their contributions and place them on the collection plate on a subsequent Sabbath, tried last year, secured a considerably larger amount. The plan will be continued this year, it is hoped with even more gratifying results. The branch is a healthy and hopeful one and will bear good fruit. The officers are efficient and exceptionally cordial and courteous. Rev. Dr. Ure and Mr. Anderson (Presbyterian) and Mr. Edge (Methodist), pastor of the church in which the meeting was held, were present and took part.

Kippen.—A fair meeting in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. S. Acheson presided efficiently, and spoke strongly in favor of more liberal support of the Society. The attention was good, but the collection rather poor. Young men were appointed as collectors, as collecting in fall and winter is considered rather rough work for young ladies.

Blake.—The first snowstorm of the season. Meeting in Presbyterian Church. Attendance fair. Interest manifest in attention and in an exceptionally good collection. Rev. Mr. MacDonald, the pastor, absent through illness in his family. Improvement in returns may be looked for as the result of the meeting.

Bayfield.—Meeting in Methodist Church. Attendance rather poor, interest in address exceptionally good. Chair occupied by the president, Rev. Mr. Armstrong (Episcopalian). Both he and Rev. Mr. Davidson (Presbyterian) heartily commended the cause. A large staff of collectors was appointed, and they were encouraged to do their work promptly. It is hoped an advance may be made on last year.

Varna.—Meeting held in Presbyterian Church, some distance from the village. Attendance large. The pastor, Rev. J. A. MacDonald, opened the meeting and presided. The business was transacted efficiently and expeditiously. Several young men were appointed collectors, and will be sent out soon. Under the supervision of Rev. Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Armstrong, the secretary, better returns may be looked for. The meeting was a most encouraging one.

Brucefield.—Meeting held in Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Leitch, in the chair. The evening was very stormy and the meeting small. After the business was transacted, it was thought best to postpone the agent's address till the following Sabbath afternoon, when the church was filled with a deeply interested congregation. A good collection indicated in a practical way the interest taken, which may be expected to lead to larger contributions for the year. Services were also conducted morning and evening in the Presbyterian Church, where there were large and interested congregations.

Holmesville.—A poor meeting in the Methodist Church. Special counter attractions in Clinton, near by, were credited with diminishing the attendance. The agent's address was attentively listened to. The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Fear, advocated the claims of the Society warmly, and the promise is that increased interest will be manifest in increased contributions. The very efficient secretary, Miss Holmes, was compelled to resign through press of home duties. The president also, Mr. Elford, was replaced by another.

REV. R. DOUGLAS FRASER, M.A.

Of the branches assigned me, Grafton and Vernonville decided to hold their meetings without an agent. Their arrangements were completed when my notice of dates reached them. They afterwards telephoned me to come and help, but my engagements did not permit. The remaining branches were visited as below. The meetings were, on the whole, encouraging, although, as a rule, not large. The local ministers were either on the platform or sent satisfactory apologies and good wishes, when necessarily absent, and in most instances the choir gave valuable help.

Baltimore, Nov. 7th.—Meeting in Presbyterian Church; small but representative and hearty. Rev. J. Gilchrist, B.A., the newly appointed president, in the chair. No meeting had been held last year and no collecting done, but the arrangements made for the coming year will doubtless sustain the credit of this solid branch.

Coldsprings, Nov. 8th.—Rev. Mr. Gilchrist took me over from Baltimore—a charming drive. Under his presidency (as the evening before) the committee met previous to the public gathering and arranged all the details of business. Short but admirable addresses were given by Rev. J. F. Mears (Methodist), who was elected the new president, and Rev. A. McCormack (Congregationalist). The attendance was fair. The eight collectors, along with the officers, form the committee.

Harwood, Nov. 9th.—Meeting held in Methodist Church, at Gore's Landing, Rev. J. Ross, B.A., the president, in the chair. An unpleasant evening, winding up with a heavy snow-fall. Audience somewhat small, but hopeful, in that it was made up almost entirely of young people. Rev. Mr. Mears was again present and spoke. I suggested the opening of a depository at Gore's Landing, in addition to the one at Harwood.

Brighton, Nov. 12th.—Schoolroom of Presbyterian Church. A very small meeting, accounted for partly by a counter attraction in hall near by. Mr. Nesbitt, vice-president, an old-time friend of the Society, in the chair. Rev. C. W. Watch (Methodist), who is thoroughly conversant with the work of the Society, gave valuable assistance. The meeting, although small, was much interested, and the committee decided to convene at once to consider the extension of the collecting work.

Colborne, Nov. 13th.—A disagreeable night, after a fall of soft snow; but a good meeting in the Baptist Church. In the absence of Rev. Peter Duncan, the president, Rev. Mr. Watson, pastor of the church, took the chair, and gave an earnest and forcible address. Rev. Mr. Wilson (Methodist) also spoke. The district covered by the collectors is to be extended, and the collectors are to do their work as soon as possible. I look for larger returns from both Colborne and Brighton.

Castleton, Nov. 14th.—I used the day, as I do when possible, in calling on old friends of the Society and seeking to make new ones. The meeting was held in the Second Cramahé Baptist Church. It was the first meeting of the sort in the neighborhood, and the audience was not large. Rev. Mr. Vantassel, the pastor of the church, evinced a great interest in the work. He has seen service in Arabia as a missionary among the Bedouins of the Desert. Elder Prosser, of the Christian Church, also gave an able address.

Percy, Nov. 15th.—Meeting in the new and city-like Presbyterian Church at Warkworth, the venerable president, Mr. John Douglas, in the chair. It is refreshing to find still active and enthusiastic such old and tried friends of the Society as Mr. Douglas and the secretary, Mr. R. P. Hurlburt. Forcible and practical addresses were delivered by Rev. Mr. McFarlane (Methodist) and Rev. Mr. Sutherland, the pastor of the church. There was a fair representation of the Christian people of the village present. Percy is a capital and steady branch.

Roseneath, Nov. 16th.—The early evening was very dark, but there was a fairly good meeting notwithstanding. Rev. W. Tomlin (Methodist), who had driven five or six miles to be present, occupied the chair, and was afterwards elected president for the year. The secretary, Mr. W. Harstone, had the business in good shape. The ministers had exchanged pulpits previous to the sending out of the collectors. A telling address was given by Rev. Mr. Sexsmith, a former missionary on the Pacific Coast, where he had found many instances of the value of the Bible Society. He told the story of a Scotchman who went to purchase a Bible, in order to puzzle the ministers who might call. Finding the book—which was from the British and Foreign Bible Society—so cheap, he bought one for his neighbor also. In reading the book, he was arrested by the truth and became a humble Christian.

Mill Brook.—This branch and the one following were not visited last year until March, and my visit was therefore postponed until February 4th and 5th. I was met at the station by the president, Mr. R. W. Clarke, and most hospitably entertained by him. The night was extremely cold, which perhaps accounts for the very small meeting in the Town Hall. The branch is, however, well organized and will render a good account of itself, as formerly. There was a strong platform, including the Venerable Archdeacon Allen; his son, Rev. W. C. Allen, B.A.; Rev. A. L. Brown (Methodist) and Rev. W. Johnston (Presbyterian).

South Monaghan and Cavan.—A still colder night, the coldest of the season, but a very fair meeting in the Methodist Church at Bailieboro'. The venerable president, Mr. Edward Kerr, although not in the best health, had driven five or six miles to be present. Rev. J. Cattanach, B.A. (Presbyterian), who is fresh in the field, gave a sympathetic address, and was appointed treasurer, to succeed Mr. Hugh Waddell, who has removed to Peterboro'.

REV. JAMES FRAZER.

Mount Albert.—A meeting had not been held here for some time and the attendance was small. Rev. A. L. Macfadyen, B.A., Presbyterian, pastor of the church where the meeting was held, was elected chairman. The choir of the congregation furnished appropriate music. An efficient executive was appointed and the whole field will be faithfully canvassed for subscriptions. Your agent preached morning and evening on the Sabbath, and addressed the public meeting on Monday evening.

Zephyr.—Meeting held in lecture room of Methodist Church. There was a good audience chiefly of young people who paid good attention to the address of your agent. The whole district was thoroughly organized and will give a good report when work is done. The depository is in good hands and well kept.

Unionville.—Rev. P. Nicol in the chair, Rev. Mr. Fallis, of Methodist Church, was very ill and unable to be present. Meeting very small. Officers were elected for the year. During past year very few sales were made, owing, no doubt, to proximity to Toronto. There was a good spirit pervading the whole meeting, and prospects are good.

Markham.—A poorly attended meeting and a very cold evening. The cause here seems at a very low ebb. Meeting was held in the Methodist Church and Rev. R. Thynne, of Presbyterian Church, presided, and conducted devotional exercises. It is sincerely hoped that interest in this great work will soon revive and the accompanying blessing be poured out.

Eldon.—A good meeting in the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. D. D. McDonald taking charge of the meeting. The address of your agent was closely listened to and words of appreciation were expressed at the close. The collectors will canvass the whole of the surrounding country.

Mara.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church, at Brechin, the Rev. Mr. Rodgers, missionary in charge, conducting the meeting. This section always manifests an interest in Bible Society work.

Coboconk.—A little hamlet, but well supplied with churches, as no less than four, viz: Episcopalian, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian, minister to the need of somewhere about four hundred people. Your agent took part in the service in the Presbyterian Church in the morning, drove fifteen miles in the afternoon and preached, returning on Monday to the meeting of Society. The opening services of the Methodist Church in some measure interfered with the meeting, but the Society's interests were presented at their tea-meeting in the evening.

Sutton.—Meeting held, according to usual custom, on Thanksgiving day, the Rev. Mr. Martin, of Methodist Church, preaching in Presbyterian Church and your agent at an outlying station.

Keswick.—Meeting held in Methodist Church. Music furnished by the choir in their usual cheerful and hearty manner. Very little interest is taken in the work of the Society here, but hopes are entertained that there will be a revival of interest.

Beaverton.—A very stormy night, but a better meeting than last year. The Rev. D. Watson, D.D., president of the branch, presided, and Rev. Mr. Tucker, of the Methodist Church, in which the meeting was held, conducted the devotional exercises. Your agent was given a hearty reception by this branch, which continues to cherish a warm regard for the Bible Society and its work. Mr. Cameron, the secretary, presented an exhaustive and able report. The work here being in good hands will be found well to the front as in former years.

Sunderland.—The way here had been well prepared for your agent, the ministers of the various churches some time before exchanging pulpits and awakening interest in the people. The collectors were at work and there was a good turnout to the annual meeting, giving your agent encouragement to set forth the work of the Society in some measure of detail, and we are sure the reflex influence of added interest in Bible Society work will be felt on all their home interests.

REV. W. JNO. GARTON, MANITOBA.

Stonewall, Oct. 30th.—The annual meeting was presided over by the Rev. O. Darwin. All the resident ministers were present, except the president, who was out of town. Able addresses were given by our local friends, and a promise of greater effort was made on behalf of the Society. The agent endeavored to show the importance of the work of the Society, and set forth how God had blessed its work in the past, how He is blessing it now, and how the future is bright with promise. Officers were elected, collectors appointed, and a collection taken up for the Society.

Wawanesa, Nov. 6th.—A nice meeting. President in the chair. Your agent spent from Monday evening till Wednesday morning at this place, during which time he visited the depository and took stock. Also visited several friends of the Society. At the meeting, addresses were given by the president, Rev. A. Gordon, and agent. The different reports were read. A word of praise must be given to the collectors for their valuable services; at this small place and district the sum collected amounted to $34.30.

Miami, Nov. 7th.—A pretty little town on the Northern Pacific branch. The agent reached this point at 7.45 p.m., having been travelling on a freight train about eight hours, average rate of speed ten miles an hour. The meeting had commenced when I arrived at the Methodist Church. It was a most interesting meeting, but, unfortunately, few were present. Rev. J. Baikie proved himself to be an able chairman, and very ably told the story of Mary Jones and her Bible. The Rev. T. M. Talbot also interested the audience with a good address. The agent dwelt upon the world-wide influence of the Society, and illustrated his address with some personal reminiscences of his work amongst the Indians of Athabasca, Great Slave Lake, and Mackenzie River. On the morrow, the secretary and agent visited the depository and took stock. The free contribution ($50.25) to the Society shows that there is some energy among the collectors.

Roland, Nov. 9th.—Two days were spent at Roland. The weather was very unpropitious, but we had our meeting. In the absence of the president, Rev. C. Teeter occupied the chair. The depository, Mr. Stein, gave a brief verbal report. This branch has been very lax during the past year, but promises to do better in the future.

Baldur, Nov. 8th.—Notwithstanding the unavoidable absence of the agent, our friends at Baldur held their meeting. Reports were submitted, officers were elected, and a collection taken up for the Society. Sales fairly good at this point, viz., $18.04. It is unfortunate that no collectors have been at work; the only free contribution is $2.40, collected at public meeting. It is hoped a better showing will be made next year.

Douglas, Nov. 14th.—Owing to the time of train arrival at this point, it was necessary for the agent to arrive there the night before the meeting. During the stay I visited the depository, secretary, treasurer, and Rev. W. D. Chegwin. No sales of bibles were reported at the depository, and your agent urged upon the officers to obtain a fresh supply of Scriptures suitable for the requirements. In the absence of Mr. T. E. Greenwood, president, Rev. W. D. Chegwin occupied the chair. After the opening exercises, and minutes of last meeting read and confirmed, the agent gave his address, which was very attentively listened to. The old officers were re-elected.

McGregor, Nov. 15th.—Arriving here in the early morning, an opportunity was afforded for looking round. Unfortunately, a strong wind was blowing and the weather was bitterly cold. The Rev. J. H. Sykes very kindly took the agent in charge. The meeting in the evening was very well attended, and great interest shown in the address. The old officers were re-elected.

Portage la Prairie, Nov. 16th.—Small attendance at meeting, but great results expected. Those who were present showed a real determination to make this branch a success. Rev. W. Halstead was in the chair and gave good advice, urging all present to greater enthusiasm in the work. The chairman was very ably seconded by the Rev. P. Wright, who, after following in the wake of the chairman, spoke upon the Bible in the schools. Mr. W. W. Miller, a former president of this branch, has been elected secretary instead of Mr. W. Keyes, who has moved to Midway.

Brandon, March 11th, 1895.—After two attempts to hold a meeting here, the third one proved successful. The multiplication of societies, religious services and meetings, proves at times very embarrassing to the agents of the Bible Society. It is difficult, sometimes, to get our friends to see eye to eye with us on the paramount importance of this grand, useful, and God-serving Society. However, eventually our meeting was held. The Hon. James A. Smart, president, in the chair, Mr. G. B. Coleman, retiring secretary, supported the hon. chairman in the religious exercises. Mr. Smart gave an interesting address on the value of the Bible, and your agent on the work of the Society. A good staff of officers was elected, with James Shirriff, Esq., as principal officer. The Society may rest assured that the interests of this branch will not languish in the hands of Mr. Shirriff and his co-workers.

Carberry, March 12th.—This town is one of the flourishing points in the Province, but the branch, for some reason or other, is the reverse. Probably, one reason is, the idea of the Society only existing for the circulation of the Bible among the people who have it already. Of course, there is very little excuse for such reasoning as this, especially as the Society is "Foreign" as well as "British;" and, further, as the Society gives every information as to its method of working and the various fields occupied. The Rev. C. Williams acted as chairman of the meeting. After the agent's address, the acting chairman was elected president for the ensuing year. The other officers were re-elected. Since the meeting, your agent has heard that the collectors are at work; may they do well.

REV. DR. GERMAN.

Downsview.—I began my work by visiting Downsview on Oct. 31st, 1894. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Edward Pearson, rendering valuable assistance. The Executive Committee met before the public meeting and transacted the necessary business. The night was not favorable, yet the attendance was encouraging, and it was made evident that the work of the Bible Society is heartily sustained by the prominent families in this community.

Thornhill.—A comfortable church (Presbyterian), an efficient choir, and a good audience, contributed to make a successful meeting. Your agent enjoyed the kind hospitality of Thos. Parker, Esq., president of the branch, and an enthusiastic friend of the Bible Society. Rev. W. W. Percival, (Presbyterian) and Thos. Edwards (Methodist) co-operated heartily in conducting the meeting. There is a good prospect of increased contributions from this branch.

Newmarket.—The meeting was held in the audience room of the Presbyterian Church, the pastor conducting the opening services and presiding. The pastors of the Methodist, Baptist and Christian churches, were also present, and contributed very much to the success enjoyed. Notwithstanding counter attractions, the audience was the largest that had been present for years. The presence of the pastors, the intelligent audience, and the good singing by the choir, were sources of inspiration to your agent. A good collection, and a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks to the agent at the close of his address were evidences of appreciation on the part of the audience.

Aurora.—Here your agent was also greeted by a comfortable church (Methodist), the presence of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist pastors, and a good audience. The executive had the business thoroughly arranged, the sing-

y a comfortable church and Baptist pastors, and oughly arranged, the singing was led by an efficient choir, and the whole service evinced a most hearty and intelligent interest in the work of the Bible Society.

Queensville.—The Rev. Geo. Washington, W.A., is the only resident pastor in Queensville, and did all he could to make the visit of your agent a success. Upon the afternoon and evening of the date appointed for the meeting a very severe snowstorm raged, so that the attendance was not what it otherwise would have been. This was especially unfortunate, as this branch was only established a year ago, and the annual meeting was welcomed as an occasion that would give inspiration and extension to the work. Sabbath services are desired for next year.

Laskay.—Your agent was greatly indebted to Rev. R. Large for entertain-ment and for kindness in driving him from King station to "Wesley Church," the place of meeting. The Rev. Dr. Carmichael, and the Presbyterian minister from Laskay, were also present at the meeting and gave stirring addresses. A good choir led the singing. The attendance was good and the collection liberal.

Richmond Hill.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, and was well attended. The audience may be said to have been enthusiastic, judging from the applause that greeted some of the utterances of your agent. The Rev. W. W. Percival, president, had just removed from the town, but we had the presence and help of the Revs. J. Vickery and W. Dean. Special mention should also be made of the services of the choir. The collection was nearly three times as much as that of last year.

Eglinton.—A good meeting was held in the Methodist Church. J. R. Miller, Esq., the president, presided. Mr. Reade, pastor of the Baptist Church, gave a short address; and after your agent had spoken, the Rev. Mr. Ball, Presbyterian pastor, gave a very practical and inspiring address. It is the purpose to extend the canvass for funds to certain points east and west of Yonge St.

In these series of meetings your agent endeavored to secure the co-operation of all the pastors, the help of Union choirs, and the presence of the young people. In most cases he was very successful in this, and to this he attributes much of the success of the various services.

REV. JAMES GRANT.

Tara, Jan 22nd, 1895.—The meeting was a very successful one, and was held in the Methodist Church. After my address the Revs. Jas. MacAlister and Rural Dean Cooper spoke very interestingly. Branch thoroughly alive.

Arkwright, Jan. 23rd.—A very stormy night, but officers urged to keep the fire burning.

Allenford, Jan. 24th.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. A large gathering and decided interest.

Burgoyne.—Meeting held in Presbyterian Church, and was reported as much larger than usual. Supporters here wide awake.

Wiarion.—After much difficulty, succeeded in holding a good meeting here. Preached in the morning in the Presbyterian Church, and in the evening in the Baptist Church. Everything flourishing except the depository, and made arrangements for its removal.

Hepworth.—Very stormy night. was snow-bound just outside the village, but made every arrangement for carrying on the work.

Paisley.—Meeting in Presbyterian Church. Branch doing good work.

Pinkerton.—Good meeting here. Dr. Morrison is the soul of the Society.

Riversdale.—A very fair meeting, and interest manifestly growing.

Hanover.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Jas. Craigie in the chair. This was in every way the best meeting of the society I have attended for years. The supporters in this place take a real interest in the circulation of the Bible.

Glamis.—Meeting in the Presbyterian Church. A very good attendance, but a very stormy night.

Walkerton, Feb. 13th.—Meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The local secretary will send report.

REV. W. G. HANNA.

Etobicoke South.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, at Islington. The attendance much larger than last year. The pastor of the church and the agent gave addresses, setting forth the work and claims of the Society. It was arranged to hold the next annual meeting at Mimico, with a view to awakening an interest in the Society there.

Etobicoke North.—Meeting held in the Baptist Church, at Highfield. The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. W. A. Wallis. The attendance was not large, but much interest was manifested in the work of the Bible Society for the past year.

Humber Summit.—The meeting was held in the Congregational Church, but, owing to a severe snowstorm was quite small. The work of the Society was presented to those present, and arrangements made to canvass the community for contributions.

Weston.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church; special meetings were in progress in the Methodist Church. In the absence of Rev. J. H. Locke, the chair was occupied by Mr. Elliott, B.A., Head Master of the High School; attendance good. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Richardson and the agent of the Society.

Woodbridge and Pine Grove.—This branch was re-organized, and new officers were appointed. Meeting in the Presbyterian Church; attendance good. The depository is now managed by Mr. Hollingshead. It is hoped that this branch will do much better this year.

Bolton.—A well managed branch, as will be seen from the fact that last year the contributions amounted to $95.70. The annual meeting was held in the Methodist Church, and addressed by resident ministers as well as by the agent. The attendance was good, and much interest manifested in the work of the Society.

Lloydtown and Schomberg.—This branch being ten miles distant from the railway station at Bolton, has not been visited so frequently as the other branches near the line. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church; attendance fairly good. Addresses were given by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Strangways, and the agent. The claims of the Bible Society were faithfully presented, greater diligence urged, and collectors appointed to canvass the community in its interest.

Caledon East.—An average attendance. Meeting in the Presbyterian Church, addressed by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Fleming, and the agent of the Society. Considerable difficulty has been felt here in obtaining collectors who were willing to do the work, and much care was taken in the selection of collectors for this year.

Mono Mills.—There was an average attendance at the annual meeting, though roads were blockaded with snow. The work and claims of the Bible Society were presented by the agent and encouraging words spoken by the Rev. J. W. Orr, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

Charleston.—A good audience attended the annual meeting; addresses were delivered by Rev. A. Wilson and the agent. Much interest in the work of the Society was manifested. Collectors for the villages and adjacent districts were appointed, and the necessity for greater diligence in this part of the work strongly presented.

Uxbridge.—A fair attendance. Addresses were delivered by resident clergymen, and the claims of the Society fully presented. This branch loses one of its oldest and best workers in the removal of the depository, Mr. A. D. Weeks, but other workers are enlisted in its service, and manifest a good interest.

REV. E. B. HARPER, D.D.

Alliston, Nov. 12th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Rev. H. S. Matthews, pastor, had all things in due readiness. The choir was on hand, the attendance was very fair. The Rev. E. Carroll, president, and Messrs. Matthews, Burnett and Hughan, took part in conducting the devotional exercises. Mr. Hood presented the secretary-treasurer's report; the new officers were appointed. The ministers present spoke well and to the point, the agent followed for thirty-five minutes, and the collection was made. On the following day the depository was inspected, and found to be in every respect in a satisfactory condition.

West Essa, Nov. 13th.—No notice of a meeting had been given and consequently none was held. The agent consulted the ministers and officers of the Alliston branch, who advised the formation of two branches, each having a distinct centre. This advice was accepted, and the result will appear under the heads of Elmgrove and Everett.

Beeton, Nov. 14th.—The meeting was held in the English Church. The Rev. W. E. White, rector, conducted the devotional exercises, and afterwards spoke well and effectively. Mr. Lannin, secretary-treasurer, presented the financial report, and was followed by the agent. Collection made, and a report relating to a change in the location of the depository was adopted.

Tottenham, Nov. 12th.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Moore, took the chair and opened the meeting. The attendance was fair in number. After a report from the committee, the chairman and the agent addressed the audience, who gave good attention.

Thornton, Nov. 20th.—The Methodist Church accommodated the gathering. Mr. Thomas Lennox, president of the branch, filled the chair. Rev. E. T. Douglas, junior pastor of the church, conducted the devotional services. Ample time was allowed the agent. Collection, report of Committee presented, and the present officers re-appointed.

Cookstown, Nov. 21st.—The attendance was small. The Rev. Mr. Scott (Church of England) and the Rev. Mr. Morgan (Methodist) took part. Mr. Duff, president of the branch, occupied the chair. Report of the secretary was presented, present officers re-appointed. The agent had great freedom in addressing the few who were present. No collection was given, but assuring promises were made that the Society would sustain the claims of the Bible.

Rosemont, Nov. 22nd.—Meeting held in the Church of England. Rev. H. J. Lynch, rector, and the Rev. W. Ferrier, president, and Rev. R. J. Stillwell, both of the Methodist Church, gave efficient aid in every way; also Rev. Mr. Hughes, Presbyterian. It was pleasant work for the agent with such surroundings and sympathy to plead the cause of the Bible. The collection was received, and officers appointed for the current year.

Bond Head, Nov. 27th.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Hill, presided. Rev. Henry Harper gave valued assistance; as did also the Rev. Carswell, secretary of the branch. The agent had ample time allowed for his address. The collection was made and the usual appointment of officers.

Elm Grove, Dec. 4th.—This is one of the branches growing out of the late West Essa branch. It is four miles from Alliston. Our meeting for organization was held in the Methodist Church. The Rev. W. J. Hewitt (Presbyterian), assisted by the Rev. Mr. Carroll (Church of England), opened by the usual devotional exercises. The night was bright, the roads good, and the attendance fair. The Rev. Mr. Hewitt occupied the chair, and the agent addressed the congregation. The organization of a new branch having been accomplished, and the officers having been appointed, the prospects of success are good. There are three churches, Methodist, Church of England and Presbyterian, all friendly, that have promised their support. No depository will be needed, owing to the convenient nearness of Alliston. Collectors were appointed, whose canvass of the neighborhood it is believed, will give a favorable report. I owe much to the Rev. F. L. Brown, of Alliston, for his hospitality, and for conveying me from Alliston to Elm Grove, and bringing me back again to his dwelling there.

Everett, Dec. 5th.—The second branch springing from the defunct West Essa. Our meeting was held in the Church of England (St. David's) whose rector, Rev. F. J. Lynch, and Rev. W. J. Hewitt (Presbyterian) attended and gave valuable help. The number present was very fair, and their attention to the agent's address all that could be desired. Following the appointment of officers, six collectors were selected who will call on the friends of the Bible for a liberal contribution. Collection taken, and a pleasant and successful meeting closed.

Bradford, Dec. 12th.—The meeting had been appointed for 26th Nov., but by request was postponed to the time named above. The Rev. Mr. Smith (Presbyterian) who met me at the station and took me to his manse, where I was hospitably entertained, has my heartiest thanks for his great kindness. Our meeting was held in the school-room of the English Church, whose rector, Rev. E. Chillcott, d president. He presided with great urbanity, while the Rev. Mr. Smith opens the meeting with devotional services. Both these ministers materially aided the agent by appropriate addresses. The evening was rather unfavorable, owing to the wet snow that was falling and the sloppy state of the streets; yet the feelings which manifestly animated those present were hopeful and encouraging. The collection, $3.50, was said to be the best in several years. The stock is small, but is well kept and so exhibited that it can be at once seen by those who enter the depository. Bradford is bound to advance in its support of Bible interests.

Barrie.—Bible meeting was held in the Congregational Church on Tuesday evening the 5th March. The pastors of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Reformed Episcopal Baptist and Congregational Churches were present and assisting. The attendance was fairly good, and the collection was double that of any former year. The principal address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Thomas, pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, and was one of great power and excellence. Collectors were appointed, etc., and good results are looked for when they have completed their canvass of the town.

REV. E. HOOPER, M.D.

Oct. 30th, visited Dunbarton. Found Rev. Mr. Chisholm in active sympathy. The attendance, though small, showed interest in the Society, and business was attended to satisfactorily.

Tuesday, Oct. 31st. Highland Creek branch meeting in Presbyterian Church. Mr. Chisholm again present. New officers were appointed and promise given of renewing effort in behalf of Bible work.

Wednesday, Nov. 1st. Received at Prince Albert by the venerable Rev. Mr. Philp, who for long years has been faithful to the cause. Meeting was held in the Methodist Church and much interest evinced. The local ministers were present and greatly helped by their hearty words.

Monday, Jan. 14th. Greenbank is in good hands. The secretary, Mr. Cragg, is ready with undiminished zeal to push on, and the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers are quite with him. Collectors were duly appointed and a good meeting was held.

Jan. 17. Port Perry branch is well organized and means to keep up to former times at least. The public meeting was excellent in its influence, the ministers of the town speaking and acting nobly.

Thursday, Jan. 16th. Ashburn.—The public meeting was fairly well attended. Rev. Mr. Smith gave all the aid he could, but the people are apathetic on this great work. As nothing was done last year, an effort was made to secure results for the present season, we hope, with success.

On Monday, Feb 25th. Brougham was visited. A good meeting was held, and officers re-appointed. The depository burnt out a few years ago has not since found a home in this place: The expressions of ministers and people here should encourage us to expect good work for the Society.

On Tuesday, Feb. 26th, Greenwood and Kinsale branch held the annual meeting at Kinsale Methodist Church. Interest in the Society is not very general. The officers stand too much alone in the work. The Methodist minister rendered aid at the meeting and there is hope of better times for this branch.

Tuesday, March 5th. Pickering held the annual meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Rev. A. McAulay, B.A., was chosen president and threw himself unreservedly into the work at once. The venerable secretary-treasurer can be relied on for his part. The meeting, by no means large, was thoroughly representative in character.

REV. A. LESLIE, M.A.

Milford.—Weather very unfavorable. A small but interested audience. Rev. E. A. Tonkin in the chair. Expect to hear a good account of this branch.

Cherry Valley.—Weather against the meeting, a few gathered. Rev. W. J. Young in the chair. Business was attended to, and an effort is to be made to do better for the future.

Bloomfield.—A fairly good meeting. A number of the Society of Friends interested. Found here a live branch.

Wellington.—Meeting held in the Friends' Meeting House. Collectors volunteered after the address of the agent. Have good hopes for the future of this branch.

Napanee—The interest in Bible Society matters here has been allowed to flag. The sales from the depository during the year had been large. The ministers of the town are to make an effort to put the Society on a better footing.

REV. J. G. MANLY.

The meeting at pleasant and picturesque Glenallan, though affected by two counter-attractions, was not discouraging. Hollin, after Sunday service, did well. Drayton, with like antecedence, did better than before, though disadvantaged by a large afternoon funeral and by the illness of one of its pastors. Palmerston would probably be better developed by the addition of Sunday services. Fair attendance, for a young branch, at Teviotdale. Appointments for work duly made at Rothsay, before Sunday service there, and twice in Moorefield, where also a capital meeting was held next evening. Preston meeting well and heartily conducted, with three ministers, and the announcement of an early meeting at an out station. Good meeting, well attended in Mimosa. Hearty and helpful meeting at Belmont, after three sermons in Garafraxa, Mimosa and Belmont.

Large audience at Bloomfield on Sunday and also next evening (instead of the small audiences of mere week-days), with unmistakable evidence of appreciation and sympathy on the part of both ministers and people, especially of the young. Stocktaking showed everything suitable and satisfactory. Good meeting at both Winterbourne and Elmira, under good management Hawksville no less. Snow-storm at Linwood, but compensatory service on Sunday, there and at Hawksville, followed encouragingly by Hamburg and Shakespeare.

Large Sunday congregations at Streetsville, and good attendance next evening. No disappointment at Cheltenham. Fergus meeting, on Thanksgiving evening, officially pronounced the best in six years—reporting, hearing and arranging well. Better attendance at Erin, with three ministers, followed by Sunday service at Erin, Cataract and Belfountain, followed by Monday meeting at the last place. Specially good meeting at Mansewood. Milton attendance large, and all ministers cordially co-operative.

Large Sunday congregations at Mitchell, and next evening all three ministers at the "forefront." Collection, $7.70, with $15 promised as a beginning for collectors now appointed, instead of previous year's omission.

Capital meeting in Millbank Presbyterian Church, with the hospitable pastor's hearty help. Good, appreciative audience at Milverton, with capability of greater help to the good Bible cause. Fullarton postponed on account of presidential bereavement.

Three Sunday services at Thames Road, Kirkton and Elimville. Good annual meeting next evening in Thames Road Presbyterian Church, whose pastor kindly conveyed and aided me throughout, in unison with the assistant minister at Elimville, whence came also the secretary and depository, on Monday in unpropitious weather. Reported sales, $18.25.

In Derry West field, two Sunday services, a third involuntarily prevented. Monday evening a good and pleasant gathering. Most kindly helped by the young secretary, as well as entertained in the hospitable parental home.

Encouraging attendance at Hillsburg in a stormy day. Good report, showing increase; resident ministers aiding and addressing. Kindly entertained in Baptist manse.

Sunday services at Port Credit, Dixie and Cooksville, confronting a severe storm. Fraternal welcomed and aided by Rev. Messrs. Linton and Simpson. Annual meeting (for second time) next evening at Port Credit, this time with encouraging attendance. Business well transacted, and collectors appointed for six neighborhoods.

Good Sunday congregations at Berlin in Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Encouraging attendance next day, in adverse weather, in Evangelical Association Church, including four ministers. Collection, $9.41, in advance of last year's larger audience. Sales of Scripture in ten months, $113 43.

REV. W. A. J. MARTIN.

Lynden, Oct. 29th.—The annual meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church at Lynden, this evening. The attendance was not large, but there was a hopeful spirit pervading all who were present. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Miller and your agent.

Fersyville, Oct. 30th.—The annual meeting was held in the Baptist Church, a considerable distance out of the village. This, combined with a very heavy downpour of rain, interfered with the attendance. Rev. Messrs. Yorston and Cousens were present, and the meeting, though small, was thoroughly alive to the interests of the Bible Society.

Burlington, Oct. 31st.—All prayer meetings were cancelled and a union meeting in the interests of the Bible Society arranged for, in the Presbyterian Church. A large number of those who usually attend prayer meeting did not come out; the result was only a fair meeting, but one of the most attentive and helpful your agent ever addressed. The pastors of both Presbyterian and Methodist Churches were present, and took part in the meeting.

Waterdown, Nov. 1st.—Annual meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Rev. Messrs. Collins and McEachern were both present, and with them a fair representation of both congregations. Meeting was very hearty for Bible Society work.

Copetown, Nov. 2nd.—This branch arranged for their annual meeting to be held in Zion Hill Methodist Church, about two miles out of the village. The attendance was small. Rev. Messrs. Morrow and Cousens were present and assisted your agent.

Strabane, Nov. 12th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Pastors of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches were present. The interest of the people could not but be marked.

Kilbride, Nov. 13th.—This evening your agent visited this branch and found it in an all but disorganized condition. No one was present to preside. No arrangements had been made for music, or any other part of the exercises. After addressing the meeting, your agent called for a re-organization which was effected and officers appointed from those present, who promised to do faithful work this year.

Oakville, Nov. 14th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, and was fairly well attended. Rev. S. S. Craig (Presbyterian) conducted devotional exercises, and reports of a good year's work were presented.

Glenmorris, Nov. 15th.—The annual meeting of the Bible Society is always looked forward to and planned for. The consequence is that there is always a good meeting with good music, and a deeply attentive audience. This year was no exception to the rule. Much credit is due Rev. Mr. Pettigrew for his training of the young to take part in these meetings. Other branches might follow the example of Glenmorris with much profit.

Alberton, Feb. 13th.—The annual meeting in the Methodist Church. If all displayed as much interest as the pastors of both Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, the meeting ought to have been an overflowing one. The meeting was fairly well attended and the interest was good.

West Flamboro, Feb. 14th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Attendance was small. Rev. Mr. Fisher, Presbyterian, was present and took full charge of the meeting. He has been the active and efficient president of this branch for years, and continues to direct the work for another year.

Campbell Cross, Feb. 27th.—By special invitation your agent visited this branch this evening. Meeting was held in Englewood. Rev. Mr. Farquharson, of Claude, was present and delivered a short address. This branch is so large, that it is not to be expected that those from the extreme end of the field can attend the annual meeting. The attendance was fairly good, however, and the interest deep.

REV. A. C. MILES, B.A.

Mono Centre.—Meeting held in Ebenezer Methodist Church, situated in the eastern part of this branch's territory. A satisfactory meeting, at which the agent was well assisted by resident ministers, Revs. Stillwell and Ellison, the former being the retiring president. Mr. John Barclay, an old friend and officer, was elected president, and the earnest sec.-treasurer, Mr. G. F. Stewart, was re-elected. Arrangements were made for reopening the depository at Mono Centre post office. This branch is over thirty years old, and a former supporter, the late Mr. Bowers, took such an interest and had such confidence in the work, as to bequeath $200 to the Society, on his death a few years ago.

Camilla.—Much interest is manifested in this young branch, and an audience of over eighty gathered in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Ellison, the pastor, again rendered good service as chairman and by an address. No trouble about officers and collectors. It was decided to open a depository here also, as it is a good business centre. The falling off in last year's free contributions was due to collecting being put off by some till bad roads in spring, and then not done at all. Better management was promised for this year. If everything else is like the meeting, there will be success, as it could hardly have been better, and was pronounced "the best yet."

Alton.—This old branch has fluctuations in interest and work, but has many warm and constant friends. The officers of the past do their work so well that they were re-elected this year. Fair attendance at meeting, held in Congregational Church, Mr. D. Macdonald (Presbyterian) in the chair. The pastor, Mr. Bolton, assisted in devotional exercises, and the agent gave a lengthy address. Collectors were appointed this year for territory hitherto uncanvassed, lying toward Orangeville. The Society's work is well and systematically conducted in this branch.

Horning's Mills.—Here your agent labored under the difficulty of being one of the local ministers, which probably accounted for the smaller attendance than usual. But the meeting was a good one in other respects. The other resident ministers, Revs. Hall and Neilly, gave valuable aid. Meeting went by rotation to the Anglican Church this year. The efficient sec.-treasurer, Rev. Wm. Hall, was chosen president and took the chair after his election, your agent being the past president. There is improvement in this branch from year to year, both in sales and collections, and a large and interested committee of laymen look well after the Society's affairs.

Whitfield.—Meeting in Presbyterian Church, well in the centre of the territory covered by this branch, and was one of the largest since organization, five years ago. The fact of its being the regular prayer-meeting night for the church probably furthered the large attendance of about 100. The president, Mr. George Laking, occupied the chair. All the former officers were re-elected. The Rev. Mr. Neilly, the pastor, was present and gave a stirring and helpful address. The collections improved last year, and this branch shows continued promise.

Dundalk.—The Rev. E. A. Harrison, president of the branch and pastor of the Presbyterian Church, presided at the meeting, which was held in his own church. According to local custom, the Methodist minister, Rev. Dr. Campbell, was chosen president for the coming year and that church appointed for next meeting. The attendance was small for a place as large as Dundalk, but the explanation was given of many meetings the same week. However, there is much interest in the work, and the collections last year (though not sent in in time and though some districts uncanvassed) were considerable. A better situation has been obtained for the depository and sales were much larger last year.

Corbetton.—Your agent was much encouraged at this place. It had been a weak branch and last year was somewhat discouraging. But, if the meeting is any criterion, better times will set in. An audience of nearly fifty met in the Presbyterian Church, under the chairmanship of the Rev. E. B. Service, the Methodist minister. A bright meeting followed, the chairman, the Rev. N. Morrison, and the agent giving addresses that were all intently listened to, being interspersed with hearty singing of gospel and missionary hymns. The old officers were reappointed, except that the Rev. Mr. Morrison takes the presidency, Mr. Service expecting to move away. Improvements in the depository were suggested and are being carried out.

Orangeville.—This active branch always has a good meeting, and this year was no exception, though attendance smaller. The president, Mayor Bailey, was in the chair, and made a good opening address, full of spiritual thought. Most of the local ministers were present, but left the speaking to the newest minister in the town, the Rev. Mr. Mackenzie (Presbyterian) and the agent. The former's address was replete with information and inspiration, being a model one for the occasion. Your agent followed for about forty minutes, giving further information and urging continued support for the Society. The Baptist Church was the place of meeting. No changes in the officers, except that necessitated by the removal of the earnest and efficient secretary of past years, Mr. J. A. Aikin. This branch is a place of refreshing to an agent.

Mansfield.—This branch was organized last year at a small meeting, but had been dormant. Meeting this year very small, owing partly to stormy and wet evening. Your agent spoke at some length to the few present, explaining the objects and operations of the Society and encouraging perseverance in the establishment of a branch. Officers and collectors were appointed and arrangements made for opening a depository. As several of those at the meeting seemed to earnestly desire the furtherance of the cause, your agent is not without hope that an abiding work may be done. The president, Rev. R. Hughes (Presbyterian), was at the meeting and gave good aid as chairman and speaker.

Shelburne.—Last year was a depressing one in Bible Society matters, except that the sales in the depository were good. But the meeting was very small and no collecting was done. This year, owing largely to the zeal of the president, Rev.

J. J. Redditt, and the other local ministers, the meeting was a large and encouraging one; between 80 and 100 present. The speaking was left to the Rev. George Backus and your agent. The old officers were re-elected, excepting the customary change of president here to the minister of another denomination this year, it being the Rev. Geo. Backus (United Brethren). It was resolved to go back to the former system of collecting through envelope-offerings.

REV. J. H. MOOREHOUSE.

Ancaster.—I am sorry to be unable to report favorably of this branch. The meeting was poorly attended. There does not appear to be much interest in the Bible Society at present in this part of the field. However, we appointed the officers, and I gave a brief address on the Society's work. I also tried to do what I could in personal conversation to induce the officers to revive and strengthen the Society's work.

Glanford.—Owing to inadequate notice the attendance here was small, but the interest manifested by those present was good. The secretary was away from home and his report was not presented. No resident minister was present. The officers were re-elected. I asked for collectors to be appointed this year, and this was entered into thoroughly. Next day I called on the Rev. S. J. Kelly, resident minister. He consented to preach to his people on behalf of the Bible Society. To aid him in this, I wrote to Toronto for some literature on the Society's work, and anticipate good results from his labors, and we hope the details mentioned above will have the requisite stimulating and strengthening effect to produce good results this year. Indeed, the annual visit of the agent seems essential to prevent some branches from going to sleep altogether.

Binbrook.—A pleasant contrast to the two preceding meetings! Some branches make a heavy draught on the agent's energies, while others are of an inspiring nature. The energetic president of Binbrook has his field under thorough supervision, and works hard for the Bible Society. The secretary of this branch also sets an example of faithfulness, having been absent from only two meetings in 27 years. The officers were re-elected, and all the resident ministers are vice-presidents. The meeting was held this year at Blackheath, and the Rev. Mr. Marsh, pastor of the Presbyterian Church there, was kindly present. Unfavorable weather probably lessened the attendance, but the meeting was a warm and satisfactory one.

York.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Circumstances having prevented the resident ministers from attending, your agent conducted the opening exercises. The attendance was not large, but, as a rule, I give the address thoroughly whether inspired by numbers or not. The president was in the chair. The officers were re-elected, and collectors were appointed. We have reason to hope for improved returns from this branch this year.

Oneida.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, Nov. 9th, at 2.30 p.m. The worthy president, Mr. Stark, was in his place, and in earnest words expressed his devotion to the good work. Rev. Mr. Turnbull, pastor, by his genial presence, added life to the meeting. Rev. Mr. Fisher, who had been conducting special services here, was also present. Though a snowstorm interfered we felt that this meeting was a profitable one. This is a good solid branch, and may be relied upon to do its duty.

Hagersville.—On Sunday I used such opportunities as I found open to me, preaching in the Presbyterian Church on behalf of the Society in the morning, and visiting the Methodist S. S. in the afternoon, where I delivered a short address. The officers expressed their intention of having a union service on Sunday evening, Dec. 9th, instead of the annual meeting, the different resident ministers to give addresses. We trust this plan will promote the interests of the Bible Society. The Depository here, in charge of Mr. Hager, is well kept. On Monday I called on the Baptist minister who expressed himself as willing to co-operate in the Society's work.

Farvis.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Bennet, pastor, conducted the opening service. The attendance was fair. After the address, the minutes of last annual meeting having been read and confirmed, the officers and collectors were appointed. Besides being kindly entertained by Rev. Mr. Gardiner at Farvis, I wish also to gratefully record the hospitality received in the country district and kind help in getting from one branch to another.

REV. CHARLES R. MORROW.

South Cayuga, Oct. 2nd.—A fair audience assembled in the Methodist Church. Rain interfered much with the attendance. The president, Mr. V. Houseberger, ably conducted the meeting. Revs. Messrs. Morlock and Ockley added to the interest of the meeting by their addresses. The two church choirs united and gave us good music. The Depository is well kept. The officers are efficient. This branch is doing good work.

Selkirk.—The meeting was held in the Baptist Church. Mr. D. Duff presided. The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Trickey, read the Scriptures and the Rev. Mr. Munroe (Disciple) led in prayer. Good addresses from the above. Mr. Phillips, a merchant of the place, also gave an interesting address. Officers re-elected and collectors appointed. Mr. Derby, the efficient secretary, is also depository.

Cheapside.—It rained a little and threatened more, which made the audience that gathered in the Baptist Church a small one. Dr. Sherk, who has for some years been president of this branch, was in the chair. The Depository was burned last July and all the stock of the Society (about $28.00) destroyed. The depository was re-elected and will shortly order a fresh stock.

Nanticoke.—A fair audience met in the Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Garden (English Church), the only minister living in the place, was unable to be present. This was much regretted, as he greatly helped to make the meeting a success a year ago. The president, Mr. Low, was in his place. The officers and people in general, in this neighbourhood, are interested in the work of the Society.

Cayuga.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. G. Foote (pastor) conducted the opening exercises and also gave a short, but very interesting address. Hon. Dr. Baxter in the chair. The doctor is an enthusiastic friend of the Bible Society. Officers re-elected and collectors appointed. Rain again interfered with the attendance.

Canfield.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Rev. J. G. Foote, of Cayuga, has charge of this church. Mr. Harvey, who has been president, being about to move away, Mr. Foote was elected to the office. He will look well after the interests of the Society. Mr. Foote was present and gave us a good address.

Dunnville.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, owing to illness, was not present. The president, Rev. T. Albert Moore, gave a short, but very beautiful address. The secretary takes great interest in the work. Through his influence the Orangemen of Dunnville give $10.00 to the Society this year. They also gave a contribution last year. The secretary remarked "that, as the Papists were burning Bibles in Quebec, the Orangemen would give money to pay for others." This, so far as I know, is a unique experience in connection with our Society. The Baptist minister also assisted in the meeting.

Port Colborne.—I spent Saturday, part of Sunday, and Monday here. I preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning in the interests of the Society. We had a fine meeting in the Baptist Church, on Monday evening, Rev. A. Bonny (English Church) was in the chair. He also gave an interesting and profitable address. The Baptist minister was absent from town. Rev. Mr. Morin, Presbyterian, and Rev. A. Hamilton, Methodist, both helped in the meeting. The officers were re-elected and collectors from each of the four churches appointed. Port Colborne has given nothing for the past two years. I thought it wise to spend Ridgeway.—On Sunday I came here from Port Colborne and preached for the Presbyterians in the afternoon and the Methodists at night. The annual meeting was held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening. Rev. Mr. Baillie, in the absence of the president, who was sick, took the chair. Officers and collectors appointed. I hope for good returns.

International Bridge (formerly Fort Erie and Victoria).—This was my last meeting. It was a good one. The meeting unanimously resolved that henceforth this branch is to be called "International Bridge." Rev. J. E. Russ gave us good assistance. This branch is well officered and I believe will send in a good contribution. Your agent was kindly received and hospitably entertained by the friends at all the branches in the district.

REV. ARTHUR MURPHY.

Botany.—A meeting of this branch was held on Friday evening, Sept. 28th, in the Methodist Church. The president, Mr. David Hutchison presided. After the election of officers and transaction of other business, the meeting was addressed by Rev. Mr. Campbell and the agent; the former speaking upon the Bible and the latter upon the work and methods of the Society, as well as the claims upon the Christian world for support. The attendance was good, and there appeared to be a marked interest taken in the work of the Society.

Chatham Township.—The meeting here was held in Knox Presbyterian Church. The appearance of rain, and a social meeting being held close by at the time, interfered considerably with the attendance. Mr. Oliver presided. After the election of officers and collectors for the ensuing year, the meeting was addressed by the agent. A liberal collection was then taken up, and after the singing of an hymn, the meeting was dismissed with the benediction.

Windsor.—On Tuesday evening, Oct. 2nd, the annual meeting of this branch was held in the Baptist Church. The incumbent, the Rev. H. A. Vinning, was unable to be present on account of illness. The president, Captain Sullivan, took the chair. Business being completed, addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Henderson, Rev. Canon Hincks and the agent. The attendance, though very good, was not so large as expected, on account of a heavy shower of rain at the time of meeting.

Dresden.—The meeting was held here on Wednesday evening, Oct. 3rd, in the Baptist Church. The attendance was large. The clergyman present, besides the agent, were Rev. Messrs. Hoyd and Ford. Mr. Hoyd opened the meeting with prayer and the singing of a hymn. After the business portion of the meeting was disposed of, addresses were delivered by the agent, the Rev. Messrs. Ford and Hoyd. This branch is in a very healthy condition, and all the churches appear to take an active interest in the success of the Society.

Thamesville.—Friday evening, October 5th, was the date of this meeting. It was held in the English Church. The Rev. Mr. Bray, Rev. Mr. Kennedy and the Rev. Mr. Becket were present, and delivered short, forcible addresses. The agent also addressed the meeting. The chair was taken by the Rev. J. Becket, president. He said it was the best attended meeting they had for some years, as the church was almost full and the collection a liberal one.

Dover.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 10th. The Rev. G. W. McLintock opened the meeting. After the election of officers and collectors, the meeting was addressed by the agent and the pastor of the church, Mr. McLintock. The latter spoke upon the power the Bible possessed over any other book. He also stated that he had the privilege of assisting in several translations, and also of preaching the Word in four different languages. The attendance was very good, though the night was unfavorable on account of it raining.

REV. A. F. MCGREGOR, B.A.

Beachville.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church on Monday evening, Oct. 15th. The re-opening of a neighboring Methodist Church considerably lessened the attendance and prevented the pastor from being present. A new secretary was appointed, the other officers re-elected and collectors designated. The Rev. Mr. Morgan of the Baptist Church and the agent addressed the meeting. It is hoped that this branch will make a better showing at the end of the present year.

Corinth.—On Wednesday 17th Oct., the depository was inspected and the annual meeting was held in the evening. No ministers of the district were present, but the Society was ably represented by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Jas. Amoss. A new president was elected, and the work of the Bible Society at home and abroad was fully set forth by the agent, who believes that there will be progress made this year in connection with this branch; if not, it will not be the fault of the indefatigable secretary-treasurer.

Burgessville.—There was an excellent gathering in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening. The pastor, Mr. Cunningham, entered into the work of the evening with energy and cheer. The attendance, interest and collection, were said to be better than for years previous. The officers, committee and collectors of last year were re-elected.

Dereham Centre.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church in Cullo-den. The attendance was small. The officers conducted the necessary business, and the agent gave an address. The depository was visited and the stock found to be an excellent one and well attended to by Mr. T. R. Wood, a faithful servant of the Society. I was kindly met and entertained by Mr. John Allison, the efficient treasurer of the branch.

Thamesford.—This branch gave us a capital meeting in the Methodist Church, under the energetic oversight of their new pastor, Rev. H. D. Moir, who was appointed president of the branch for the year. Addresses by Rev. Mr. Bloodsworth of the English Church and the agent; hearty singing and inspiring counsels to the collectors by the president-elect made the meeting one of more than ordinary interest and promise.

Kintore.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. A dark, rainy, stormy night, threatened to make any meeting impossible, but a few hearty, heroic souls gathered and carried on the business of the annual meeting. No change of officers was made. The Rev. John Hart, the pastor, was unavoidably absent from the meeting, his eldest son being very ill at St. Mary's. The chair was ably filled by the Rev. J. M. Munro, of the Presbyterian Church, long a faithful servant of the Society. I had the great pleasure of being entertained at the hospitable home of the secretary, Mr. Whetstone, a good friend of the work and the workers.

Harrington.—The meeting was held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st, in the Presbyterian Church. The Christian Endeavor Society of the church holding their meeting just previous to the public meeting, gave their numbers, brightness, and inspiration to our meeting. Mr. Geo. Manson was appointed to the presidency, the other officers were re-elected. Addresses were given by the agent and by Rev. Mr. Ferguson, pastor of a neighboring Presbyterian Church, and also by the pastor of the church. The officers of the branch are wide awake, capable men, and there is every encouragement to look forward to a good year's work in this field. I have to mention the exceedingly kind reception given me by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. McLachlin and his estimable wife in their home, and the courtesy of a twelve mile morning drive by this good charioteer to enable me to reach in time my homeward train.

Tilsenburgh.—After consultation, this branch decided to arrange for the annual meeting through the resident pastors.

REV. J. F. McLAREN, B.D.

Kimberley.—This branch, organized last year, was the first I visited this year. The meeting was held on the 12th October, but, unfortunately, it turned out to be a very wet night, and so the attendance was not so large as last year. The report of the depository showed a gratifying sale of Bibles and Testaments during the past year, but, on account of some misunderstanding, nothing had been done in the way of collecting for the British and Foreign Bible Society. To remove these difficulties, your agent delivered an address on the aims, management, and success of the Society. Officers were elected and all expressed themselves resolved to have a good record in the forthcoming year.

Priceville.—The meeting held in the Methodist Church was about the average in attendance. On account of the unavoidable absence of the president, Rev. Mr. Harley, the chair was occupied by ex-president Rev. Mr. McLeod. The reports were all very encouraging, and Priceville is certainly a live branch. One sad feature of the secretary's report was the removal by death of Mr. James, a very promising young gentleman, and one who had a deep interest in the work of the Society. After the address by your agent, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place and a very pleasant meeting terminated.

Maxwell.—Unfortunately, our meeting collided with an entertainment under the auspices of one of the churches, and, to make matters still worse, the night was very dark and wet. The attendance was not large, as might have been expected, but it was of the right quality. The various reports were presented and adopted, and after the address by your agent, the situation of the branch was thoroughly discussed, with the result that all present, officers and others, solemnly pledged themselves to increased activity on behalf of the Bible Society. Next year will prove it.

McIntyre.—The meeting here was the largest in point of attendance of any in my district. The Presbyterian Church was well filled. As at Kimberley, some misunderstanding had rendered this branch inoperative during the past year. Your agent spent the evening with them in endeavoring to make clear the nature of the work undertaken and the best methods of accomplishing it. Officers were then elected for the ensuing year, who, I feel sure, will look faithfully after the interests of the Bible Society.

Flesherton.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, and was the largest in the history of this branch for several years back. The Rev. Mr. Wells presided. Reports were read and adopted. A good collection was taken up. The various officers were elected, followed by a free discussion of the working of this branch, which had the effect of stirring up every one present to a deeper interest in this good work. Flesherton will have a good record next year.

Markdale.—The meeting, according to arrangement, should have been in the Methodist Church, but, on account of evangelistic services, we had to meet in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Forrest presided. The various reports show this branch to be in excellent working order. The Rev. Mr. Goldberg, the new president, gave an excellent address. On account of the removal of Rev. Mr. Forrest to Owen Sound, the branch here loses a very devoted servant.

Holland Centre.—The meeting took place in the Presbyterian Church, and, as it was well announced, there was a good attendance. Rev. Mr. Husband presided. The various gratifying reports proved that the officers had not been idle during the past year. On account of illness, the treasurer, Mr. Norton, was unable to be present.

Desboro'.—As formerly, the meeting was announced to take place in the Town Hall. The Patrons of Industry, whose regular night of meeting it was, kindly waived their right in our favor. The attendance was much larger than last year.

In order to have a more suitable place of meeting in future, it was resolved to meet alternately in the local churches. Your agent did some visiting in the neighborhood.

Kilsyth.—This meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Mr. McNabb presiding. The attendance was large. The financial report showed this was the banner branch of this district, and they are determined to maintain that position in the years to come. Addresses were delivered by your agent and Rev. Mr. Ledyard. Officers were elected and a very enjoyable meeting was brought to a close.

Kemble.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church, Rev. D. McLean in the chair. There was a good turnout of the people, and a good deal of interest in the work of the Society manifested. The various reports indicated activity. Most of the former officers were re-elected.

Chatsworth.—Various causes combined to make the meeting small. Two of the ministers had resigned their charges and had left the village; and the notices sent by your agent never reached the hands of the officers. Consequently, there was no announcement made. On meeting the president and secretary, they considered it advisable to call a meeting next week. This was agreed to. Returning on the night appointed, the meeting was held in the Methodist Church. There were not many present, but all had the interests of the Society at heart. Mr. Churchill presided and gave a brief address, followed by your agent. Officers were elected for the ensuing year; reports were read and the meeting closed.

Walter's Falls was visited early in December, but as the attendance was poor on account of the rain and darkness of the night, it was considered advisable that the agent should deliver his address on a Sunday evening in the Methodist Church. Accordingly, I went there on the 30th of December. The church was crowded, and, after delivering the address, the business meeting was announced for Wednesday evening. At the latter meeting reports were presented and officers elected, who will present a much more successful record than last year. The branch is now in earnest, active working hands.

REV. JOSEPH PHILP, B.D.

Mooretown.—We visited this branch on Oct. 16th. The evening was very fine, but the attendance at the meeting was small. All present manifested great interest in the work. Rev. Mr. Howard, Church of England, was with us.

Courtright, Oct. 17th.—A fair audience met in the Methodist Church. Rev. Messrs. Tyler, of the Methodist Church, and Smithers, of the Baptist Church, assisted us. This branch was organized a year ago; very little work has been done, but we are all hopeful for the present year.

Camlachie, Oct. 19th.—The night was fine and the Methodist Church was well filled. We had good music and the congregation listened very carefully to the addresses. The resident ministers and the officers of the branch are alive to the interests of the Society.

Parkhill, Nov. 6th.—The night was stormy but the attendance was good, and the meeting a very interesting one. Rev. Messrs. Holmes, Aylward, Hunter and Dr. Beaumont were on hand, and assisted nobly. This branch is well officered and is sure to live and prosper.

McGillivray and Biddulph, Nov. 7th.—Another stormy night. Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Chown came from Lucan to help us. The Bibles of the Depository were placed in a better position for securing sales. Mr. D. Shoff, the faithful secretary, has been for a long time the life of this branch.

Ravenswood, Nov. 8th.—A stormy evening and bad roads did not prevent a fine congregation from gathering in the Presbyterian Church. Excellent music by the choir, and spicy speeches by Rev. Messrs. Millson and Hamilton, did much to make this one of the most enthusiastic of meetings. Collection $5.10

Forest, Nov. 9th.—A heavy snow-storm interfered with us here, and the attendance was not so large as we had expected. Rev. Messrs. Pritchard, Whiting and Dr. Hindley, the choir of the church and the officers of this branch deserve honorable mention. Financial prospects encouraging.

Thedford, Nov. 11th.—We spent the Sunday at this place. About two feet of snow had fallen in the mud on Saturday night, so that the streets and roads were almost impassable. We preached to a handful of people in the Presbyterian Church in the morning. In the afternoon we went to the Baptist Church, to find that it had not been unlocked. We proceeded to the Methodist Church and spoke to about fifty persons. At night we addressed a Union meeting, the representatives of the different congregations in the Methodist Church, Rev. Mr. Currie, Presbyterian, being with us. Had the day and streets been clear, the houses would have been crowded.

Lobo, Nov. 12th.—The weather still unsettled and the roads very bad, yet a good audience met us in the Disciples Church. We had very fine music from the choir, Rev. Messrs. Sinclair and Lindsay spoke well, and our address on Bible work in Bible Lands was highly appreciated. This is a vigorous young branch and this was one of our best meetings. Collection $6.04.

Sombra, Nov. 15th.—On reaching this village, I was told that the meeting a year ago numbered seven persons. I therefore visited the school, all of the stores, hotels, shops, etc., and nearly all of the homes to invite the people to the meeting. At night I lighted the lamps and fire in the Methodist Church, gathered about thirty-six people together, spoke on our work in the East, and secured a collection of thirty-six cents. We appointed officers and I visited the collectors personally, giving them the collecting cards and urging them to faithful work. I trust that their report will show progress.

Corunna, Nov. 16th.—A rain storm interfered with us here, but the efforts of live officers and energetic collectors will not allow the work to suffer. This branch is in a healthy condition.

REV. DAVID Y. ROSS, M.A.

Cambay, Oct. 15th.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. William Feir, president, was the only officer present, the secretary-treasurer having removed to Fenelon Falls. The meeting was not large. I tried hard in private and public to increase the interest. Collectors were appointed, and there is reason to believe Cambay will do well by the Society. Rev. F. J. Anderson, of the Methodist Church, gave a brief, earnest address. Mr. Isaiah Feir was appointed secretary-treasurer and Mr. Edgar Lytle recommended for the position of Depository.

Woodville.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Attendance was small. The president in the chair. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, opened with devotional exercises and during the progress of the meeting sang a solo, "My precious Bible." Your agent was publicly invited back again, when the collectors had finished their work. Those present promised to have a large attendance at this proposed supplemental meeting, which will take place on Dec. 10th. Mr. Gilchrist has been an officer of this branch for thirty-five years. Depository in good order.

Manilla.—Meeting held in the Baptist Church. The minister of the Methodist Church was unavoidably absent. Mr. Moyle, of the Baptist Church, a devoted friend of the Society, opened the meeting with devotional services, and afterwards gave a brief address full of sympathy. Mr. Douglas, the secretary-treasurer, has been in this branch for thirty years. The meeting was said to be larger than usual. The business arrangements were well attended to, both in the reports for last year and in the arrangements for collectors this year. Depository in good condition.

Fenelon Falls.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Devotional services were conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. M. McKinnon, B.A. Rev. James Frazer, of the Baptist Church, and Rev. F. Farncombe, B.A., representing the Church of England, gave valuable assistance. A meeting for special services in the Methodist Church prevented us from having any of that church present. In Fenelon Falls, as in every other branch visited, are to be found many devoted friends of the Society. The Depository contains a good stock of the various editions of the Society.

Bobcaygeon.—Meeting held in the Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. Samuel Binch, conducted a song service till the greater part of the people arrived, and then read a portion of Scripture and engaged in prayer. Whatever apathy may sometimes be discernible in a community about the work of the Society, your agent has found that the ministers are in full sympathy. Here we had the presence of Rev. Samuel Sing and Mr. Gardiner, representing the Methodist Church. Rev. R. J. Creighton, M.A., Church of England, and Rev. Wm Anderson, M.A., Presbyterian Church. All gave brief addresses. The president, Mr. Cane, and secretary-treasurer, Mr. Junkin, are good officers for the business department.

Glencorn.—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. D. McDona'd in the chair. Mr. Alex. Gilchrist, makes a good secretary-treasurer. This is almost entirely a Presbyterian district. It is in thorough sympathy with the Society. Had a good meeting, though the night was cloudy and dark. Arrangements had previously been made for appointments of collectors, etc.

Little Britain.—There is a warm feeling here to the Bible Society. Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Dr. Vrooman, president, in the chair. Rev. J. C. Bell opened with prayer, praise and reading of the Word. Rev. Elder Garbutt, of the "Christian" Church, was present. He delivered a very appropriate, brief address on the Bible. Mr. Boynton, of the Methodist Church, was also present. Mr. Ford, the secretary, is a painstaking officer. Arrangements were made for the collectors to cover a larger territory. The Depository is kept well by Mr. Morton.

Sonya.—The contributions to the Society for some years past has consisted of the collection taken up at the public meeting, and the collection taken upon Thanksgiving Day. The same method will be employed this year, though it was mentioned that if it is not considered satisfactory, collectors will likely be appointed next year. Rev. A. Currie, M.A., presided. The pastor of the congregation, Rev. P. A. McLeod, B.D., was also present and gave valuable assistance.

Oakwood.—Meeting held in the Methodist Church. Enthusiastic officers and ministers. Meeting not very large. All present who spoke look forward to increased interest. Mr. Cummings, president, in the chair. The secretary treasurer, Mr. Rennie, had collectors appointed for several of the districts. As at Little Britain, it was determined to extend the territory heretofore covered. Rev. S. McAulay was requested with Mr. Rennie to attend to the appointment of collectors.

Cannington.—Meeting in the Methodist Church. Rev. G. A. Rix, conducted devotional exercises. The pastor, Mr. Greatrix, and Mr. Moyle, minister of the Baptist Church, sent apologies for absence. Good business arrangements have been made and good collections are hoped for this year. The Rev. G. A. Rix, of the Church of England, is the new president. The territory has been extended for collection.

Valentia.—New branch organized on the evening of Nov. 13th. Mr. J. M. Emerson was appointed president, and Mr. William Suggitt, secretary-treasurer and depository. Arrangements were made for dividing up the territory into districts and appointing collectors. It is the general belief that Valentia will be a hearty, solid branch.

Dunsford, Jan. 14th.—Held the meeting here in order to revive the interest in the work of the Bible Society. The night was very cold; nevertheless, had representatives from the various parts of the district present. The Rev. J. W. Creighton, M.A., and Rev. M. Metherill, assisted in arranging the districts and nominating collectors, as well as by brief addresses highly commending the work of the Society. New officers were appointed—active, earnest men—and no doubt Dunsford will show a good record in the future.

Lindsay, Feb. 11th.—By invitation of the executive, I gave the annual address this year to a very considerable audience just after the great storm. His Honor judge Dean presided. Mr. J. H. Knight presented the report of the secretary, who was absent, and his own as treasurer. Envelopes had been distributed in all the churches on the previous day. Mr. Euston was appointed to attend to the collection of amounts promised and not paid at the meeting, and any others he could obtain. I urged in private, and afterwards at the public meeting, that the territory around Lindsay should be sub-divided and collectors appointed for small districts. A pleasing feature of the evening was the handing in of three contributions of one dollar each by resident Chinamen, in recognition of the Society that prints the Bible for them in Chinese.

In closing your agent desires to express appreciation of hospitality and personal kindness in the various places visited, and hopes the work of the Society will be heartily supported.

REV. R. ROSS (Manitoba and North-West).

Shoal Lake, Dec. 4th.—Meeting was held in the Baptist Church, and well attended. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Mr. Ireland, Methodist, and Rev. Mr. Williamson, Presbyterian. The people here take hold of the work.

Newdale, Dec. 10th.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, and fairly attended. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Baxter, Captain of the Salvation Army, and Rev. Mr. Cruikshank, Methodist minister. The people are interested in the work of the Society.

Minnedosa, Dec. 11th.—Meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was small on account of other meetings in town, but those who were there seemed heartily engaged in the work. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Andrews, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Mr. Gill, of the Church of England. Both are whole-hearted men.

Neebawa, Dec. 12th.—Meeting was held in the Methodist Church. Congregation small. Rev. Mr. Leach, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Mr. Patterson, of the Presbyterian Church, addressed the meeting. Collectors were appointed at last year's meeting, but did not do their work. I believe it will be attended to this coming year. A few paid in their subscriptions at the meeting.

Gladstone, Dec. 13th.—Here we had an excellent meeting in the Presbyterian Church, the best congregation I had anywhere in connection with the work. Collection, six dollars. Short addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Munro, Presbyterian, Rev. Mr. Girling, Church of England, and Rev. Mr. Tozeland, Methodist.

Russell, Dec. 18th.—A very good meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Cameron, Presbyterian, and Rev. Mr. Ross, Methodist, addressed the meeting. This branch is doing well.

Saltcoats, Assa.—I sent word for the meeting to be on the 20th December, but when I got there it had not been announced. Went on to Yorkton and came back to Saltcoats, and on Lord's Day preached in the Presbyterian Church (morning and evening) and presented the claims of the Society. Had our regular meeting. The collectors did not do their work. However, we appointed collectors for the coming year, and urged upon them to do their work promptly.

Yorkton, Assa, Dec. 21st.—Had a meeting in the Presbyterian Church. Collectors who were appointed last year failed to do their work. I personally canvassed the town in behalf of the Society. Not any too much interested in Bible Society work. It is a new place, and many nationalities gather there.

Birtle, Dec. 27th.—Had a fair meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The ministers and people present were quite interested. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Frew, Presbyterian, and Rev. Mr. Wilson, Methodist. Little was done at the Bible Depository. Some thought it was not in the most suitable place, still it is to be continued there for the coming year.

Rapid City, Jan. 2nd.—The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. The night was cold, but a goodly number was present at the meeting. Rev. Mr. Garrloch, Church of England; Rev. Mr. Davis, Methodist, and Rev. Mr. Chisholm, Presbyterian, took part in the meeting. They are all interested in the work.

Hamiota, Jan. 9th.—Held a meeting in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was not large. Rev. Mr. Moore, Presbyterian, took part. By a unanimous vote of those present, they organized a Branch Bible Society at Hamiota. Rev. Mr. Moore was appointed President; Rev. Mr. Summerville, Treasurer; Miss Floss Fraser, Secretary, and Mr. H. H. Knox, to hold the Bible Depository.

REV. W. L. H. ROWAND.

Fort William, July 26th.—The meeting was held in the town hall. The Branch at this point was organized over two years ago, and, as no subsequent meeting had been held, the interest of the people in the work of the Society was not so great as could be desired. Nevertheless, the attendance at the meeting was fair, and a manifest interest was displayed by those present. Officers were appointed and arrangements made to push the work of the Society. There is a large number of foreigners here, and it is believed to be important that the Society should have a Branch here in good working order. Rev. B. W. Merrill, Baptist Minister, conducted devotional exercises, and Rev. John Laycock gave an excellent address on the priceless value of the Bible.

Port Arthur, Oct. 18th.—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. The ministers of the Baptist, Episcopal and Methodist Churches were present and gave short, spirited addresses on behalf of the Bible Society. Good work has been done by this Branch in the past and liberal contributions made. The Branch here, as at Fort William, has missed the visit of the agent. For over two years no meetings in the interests of the Society have been held.

REV. J. M. SMITH.

Langton, Nov. 7th.—The first snowstorm of the season thinned our audience considerably. This Branch has lacked in interest for several years, and a Sabbath would be well spent here. New officers have been appointed this year and the interest of the old ones retained. The meeting was held in the Baptist Church. The pastor, the Rev. T. Bingham, conducted the opening exercises and delivered a short address. The outlook is more hopeful, but the community is apathetic on the subject of Bible Society work.

Delhi, Nov. 8th.—The annual meeting of this Branch was held in the Anglican church. The President, Dr. Housberger, presided, and, after reports were read and officers elected, addresses were delivered by two of the resident clergymen and your agent. The choir of the church rendered a service of praise, which added much to the success of the meeting. A fine night brought out a large audience, who showed by their attention the interest they felt in the work. This Branch is well managed and the interest is on the increase.

Vittoria, Nov. 9th.—The people here say it always rains on the night of the annual Bible Society meeting. It certainly rained and stormed, so that we did not expect any meeting at all, but we were happily disappointed, and a fair audience met in the Presbyterian Church to hear of the trials and triumphs of Bible work in all lands. The Rev. Mr. Shields, of the Baptist Church, presided, and contributed largely to the success of the meeting. This is an old Branch, yet a Sabbath could very profitably be spent here in the interests of the Society.

Waterford, Nov. 12th.—The annual meeting of this Branch was well advertised but poorly attended. It is not easy to account for the indifference of the people, except it be, as the Rev. Dr. Murdock put it, that there is not much seen here of the Society's operations, although this is also true of any foreign mission work. Dr.

Otterville, Nov. 13th.—The annual meeting was held in the Baptist Church. Although the evening was stormy, yet there was an encouraging number present. The officers are most efficient and energetic, the President, Mr. Paxton, being a life member of the Upper Canada Bible Society, is warm hearted and active. This is one of our best branches. The financial depression has decreased the annual contribution seriously this year, but no more satisfactory work for the Bible Society is done anywhere in Ontario than is done here.

Norwich, Nov. 14th.—The annual meeting was held in the Presbyterian church. After the reception of reports and the appointment of officers and collectors for the coming year, the clergymen of the town gave each a short address, warmly endorsing the Society's work. The audience was only an average one in size, but the interest is good and the officers devoted. This Branch does its work in a thorough and satisfactory manner.

St. Williams, Nov. 15th.—After a drive of seventeen miles from Simcoe through deep slush and mud, I reached here in time for the annual meeting and I received a warm welcome. All of the clergymen of the village were present and assisted in every way to make the meeting a successful and profitable one. The choir of the Baptist Church increased the interest and enjoyment with a service of song.

Port Rowan, Nov. 16.—The annual meeting was held in the Baptist Church. Bad roads meant a small gathering, but here, as elsewhere, the work of the Society lies close to the hearts of a few faithful ones. All the clergymen of the town were present and participated in the exercises of the evening.

Bookton, Nov. 19.—Still suffering from a severe cold. I was driven out to this sub-branch of Otterville by Mr. Paxton. The people here have given generously in the past, and with careful attention will continue to send a handsome contribution yearly. Fresh life has been infused into the Society here, and it will be well worth caring for by a visit of the Agent each year. Mr. Paxton presided, and ably looks after the Society's interests here and at Otterville.

Port Dover, Nov. 20th.—Notwithstanding a dark, stormy night, a good audience gathered in the Presbyterian Church to the annual meeting of this vigorous Branch. The officers here are efficient and energetic and manage the affairs of the Society with conspicuous ability. A large, united choir rendered some choice music during the evening. Two of the resident clergymen gave short addresses. My visit here was a pleasant one.

Lynedoch, Feb. 4th.—At the request of Mr. William A. Charlton, M.P.P., the Secretary-Treasurer of this Branch, I deferred my visit to this date. The meeting was held in the Methodist church, and on account of the severe weather the audience was smaller than usual. Mr. John Charlton, M.P., occupied the chair, and was supported by the resident clergymen of the place, Rev. Messrs. Barclay and Whitworth, who all gave short addresses. Your agent got a sympathetic hearing. It is a pleasure to visit such a Branch and to meet such friends of the Bible Society as the Charlton family. The collection and subscription list right there in the meeting went up to the figures of last year, and with judicious canvassing last year's record will be easily passed.

REV. F. B. STACEY, B.A. (N.W.T.).

Lethbridge (Alberta), Nov. 14th.—My first meeting of the series was held in the Presbyterian Church here. The Rev. Messrs. McKillop, F. J. Bates and Woods-worth tendered hearty service. The night was stormy, with an attendance of about twenty. Collection $10.00. Sales of Scriptures at the Depository very good during the year. Officers were all re-elected. Business is dull in the town, and the executive decided that it was not expedient to send collectors over the town at present.

Macleod (Alta.)—Meeting held in the Presbyterian Church. The President, Mr. Hudson, delivered a practical introductory address. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Hamilton, gave hearty co-operation. The weather was unfavorable and attendance small. This, however, is a good live Branch. The books are kept in excellent condition and position. Good returns may be expected. All the officers were re-elected.

Calgary (Alta.)—Here I had the opportunity of speaking in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, and of preaching in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening. On the following evening the annual meeting was held in the Baptist Church. The President, Mr. Mackay, occupied the chair, and Rev. Messrs. Herdman, Buchanan and Good were present and addressed the meeting. Your agent was very cordially received. New officers were appointed, and I fully expect that Calgary will have a fair report to present when the collectors have finished their work.

Medicine Hat (Assa.)—A very interesting meeting was held in the Methodist Church, whose pastor Rev. F. W. Locke, occupied the chair in the absence of the President, Mr. Niblock. A short address from the resident Baptist minister was followed by a lengthy address from the agent. Two additional collectors were appointed, making in all six. New officers were chosen, and a very enthusiastic meeting closed with a good collection.

Maple Creek (Assa.)—One of the best meetings of the series was held here, the President, Mr. Dixon, in the chair. Both pastor and choir contributed to the success of the gathering. The collectors finished their work before the meeting, and made an advance on last year; sales were light, but the Branch is vigorous.

Moose Jaw (Assa.)—The meeting was held in the Methodist Church. In the absence of the President, the chair was taken by Mr. J. E. Annable, the efficient Secretary-Treasurer. A short address was given by the Presbyterian minister. The town is passing through very severe financial depression, and the contributions were not quite equal to last year; sales were very good. The Society has some true friends here.

Regina (Assa.)—Several other local attractions lessened the attendance at the meeting considerably. The choir of the church (Methodist) was present, and assisted in making the meeting successful. Sales here were good. The President gave a very interesting address as did also Rev. Mr. Carmichael, (Presbyterian). The usual business was transacted.

Prince Albert (Sask.)—Ministers representing the three Protestant denominations of the town (Church of England, Presbyterian and Methodist) were present at the meeting. There was a good attendance, and your agent was requested to occupy all the time in presenting the aims and claims of the Society. All the officers were re-elected. The Depository is in an excellent location and the sales have been good; a further stock was ordered. This is one of the best Branches in the West but owing to financial depression, the free contributions are not equal to last year.

Saskatoon (Sask.)—The President conducted the meeting. Rev. Mr. Bethell and Mr. G. E. Horn delivered interesting addresses. This Branch is not strong numerically, but considerable interest is taken in the Society's operations. The officers were all re-elected, and the collectors will do the very best they can for the Society before the close of the year.

REV. E. A. TONKIN,

Deseronto, March 4th.—Arrived at 4 p.m. Called on Depository, Secretary, President, etc. Only ten out to the public meeting, but we went on with it, the Presbyterian minister assisting. Meeting became very enthusiastic. Several ladies offered themselves as collectors. Collections, $1.45, to which the President,

E. W. Rathbun, leading men, did not see the depression.

E. W. Rathbun, Esq., added $5. The next morning we called on a number of leading men, and arrangements were made for active work next September, as they did not see their way clear to have the town canvassed now on account of the depression.

Newburgh, March 5th.—Found every interest of the Bible Society in good condition. Friends very kind, meeting well announced, held in Methodist Church, the pastor away on another part of the field, but the Presbyterian minister in attendance and gave a good address. A good meeting; collection $2.80; and a subscription list passed around realized as much as the total returns last year. Arrangements were made for a thorough canvas of the neighborhood and all seemed to hope that when the collectors have done their work we would be able to report a large increase.

Melrose, March 6th.—The President of the Melrose Branch, Mr. McFarlane, drove us from Napanee to Melrose and entertained us very hospitably during our stay. The arrangements had all been well made. In the afternoon we visited the Public school, addressed the children, and invited them and their friends out to the meeting. I then called on the Presbyterian minister a young man just settled, and quite interested in the work of the Society, who gave us a good address and led in the service of song. We had a capital meeting; collection $3.05; which, with a subscription taken out on the spot, made the receipts already ahead of last year. A good staff of collectors were appointed. Rev. Mr. McArthur agreed to have collectors appointed for Lonsdale, where we formerly had a Branch, but now for some time defunct. On the whole we hope to have a good increase in the receipts for the year.

Shannonville, March 7th.—This Branch had already held its meeting, so we only visited the depository which is well kept, called on the resident minister and received from the Treasurer the available funds (proceeds of sales, $3; collection $11.79; total $14.79) from the Secretary-Treasurer. The amount was not equal to last year, but the meeting was held during the stormy time and the agent, Rev. Mr. Leslie, was unable to reach it.

REV. L. H. WAGNER, B.D.

Tavistock, Oct. 23rd.—Began the work again allotted to me, at this place. Was cordially received and hospitably entertained by the genial president of this branch, Rev. L. Wildfang. Visited the depository in the afternoon, finding it kept in a prominent place and well supplied with the Word of God in both the English and German languages. The annual meeting was held in the German Evangelical Church, the choir of which rendered valuable aid at the service. Through unavoidable circumstances, the pastors of the village could not be present and consequently the venerable president and your agent were the only ones to address the company of interested friends who had gathered. It was hoped two additional meetings might be held before March, in connection with this branch, in the country. Collection and subscription, amounting to $14.51, were taken up, giving to collectors so much of a start.

Sebringville, Oct. 25th.—Owing to other meetings going on at the same time, only a comparatively small company of workers gathered at Trinity Church to hear the report of the work. The treasurer announced the pleasing circumstance of having received $15 more this year than last. Sales of Bibles were also larger by one third than last year. Besides myself, Rev. F. Meyer, of the Evangelical Association, addressed the meeting. $11.91 were secured for the cause at the close.

Dashwood, Oct. 31st.—Was welcomed by quite a large gathering of interested villagers. It being a mixed congregation, i.e., not all of one tongue, my address was given partly in English and partly in German. The pastor, Rev. E. Eby, of the Evangelical Church, where the meeting was held, also spoke. The special revival effort evidently was not set back by the interception of our annual meeting, the Bible being the backbone of all true religion. Increased sales and contributions bespeak a prosperous future for this branch. Collected $9.50 at our meeting.

Zurich, Nov. 1st.—A well-trying board of officers evidently has charge of the work here, which is proved by their repeated re-election. The community is almost exclusively German, so my mother-tongue here again came into good use. The depository is in a prominent place and well kept. Voluntary contributions are systematically collected and the work generally looked after with interest and enthusiasm. Gathered to-night $12. Rev. D. Brandt also addressed the congregation.

Crediton, Nov. 2nd.—On account of the inclemency of the weather of Tuesday evening of this week, the meeting was postponed to this evening and held in the Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Baker, taking the chair, who, together with Rev. J. G. Litt, of the Evangelical Association, and your agent, addressed the small company of people present. Judging from the attendance, there is room for improvement at this place. The venerable treasurer, who is also depository, Mr. Charles Braun, having been elected in 1868, and retained these important offices ever since (that is for 26 years), was again elected. Collectors were appointed; it is hoped the returns will exceed former ones. A start of $8.52 was given at the meeting.

Ayton, Nov. 6th.—Here I was cordially received by the aged president of this branch, Mr. Wm. Langdale, who has now passed his 25th year as president of this and other branch societies. Rev. J. H. Grenzenbach, pastor of the the Evangelical Church, where the annual meeting was held, spoke in German and your agent in English. There was only a small company of people present who, however, started the free contributions with $15.30. The outlook is good.

Elmwood, Nov. 7th.—Met in the Methodist Church, whose pastor, Rev. S. E. Couch, acted as chairman. After routine business, addresses by the resident pastors and the agent followed. Though returns were small, yet the meeting was interesting and no doubt awakened enquiry. Collectors were appointed and with the help of the local committee and pastors will be able to show increased contributions.

Mildmay, Nov. 8th.—The sales at this place have fallen off during the year. Contributions, however, are probably up to previous years. A large attendance at the Methodist Church greeted the speakers, a large number of young people being present. More enthusiasm seemed to be at this branch than any it was my privilege to visit this year. Much good will, no doubt, result from the gathering. A collection of $17.51 was taken up, which will be greatly augmented by the collectors appointed.

Breslau, Dec. 4th.—Here the work is almost entirely dependent on the church, the United Brethren in Christ, who are popularly known as the New Mennonites. Only a few came to the meeting. Rev. Peter Geiger, who was elected president, took the chair. There was an increased amount of sales. With the encouragement of the committee, no doubt good returns will be made by the collectors.

Morrison, Dec. 5th.—Here Rev. Jacob Willhelm was elected president and took the chair. Your agent spoke with a two-edged sword—English and German. Though not a large gathering, it was enthusiastic and promises good work.

REV. J. WASS.

Ashfield (Lochalsh).—The work in connection with this branch is confined almost entirely to one congregation. Your agent failed to connect with this meeting because it was impossible to learn where it should be held. The Rev. Mr. Hall, of Lucknow, drove me to Lane's, the Post Office address of the secretary of the branch, but when we reached the place we found we were six miles from the church, Lochalsh, in which the meeting should be held, and it was then too late to reach the place in time for the meeting. Rose, pastor of the church, and found that the officers of last year had been re-appointed and arrangements had been made for carrying on the work of the Bible Society at the branch. The meeting is always held at Lochalsh Church. The interests of this branch are in good hands and will be faithfully attended to.

Port Albert.—At this place the meeting was not large, but those who were present were interested in the work. Mr. Quaid, the secretary, is alive to the Society's interests and this branch will doubtless make a fair showing for the year.

Ripley.—Through want of interest on the part of the retiring president and secretary, no meeting was announced for this once active branch. Arrangements were made with three ministers of the place, two Presbyterian and one Methodist, who are in hearty sympathy with the Bible Society to call a meeting and reorganize the branch at an early date. You may expect good returns from Ripley this year.

Bervie.—Mr. Henderson, secretary of this branch, is a live officer. Everything was in excellent order for the meeting. The attendance was fair and the interest good. The Rev. Mr. Sanderson was chairman and spoke in behalf of the Society. The people here appreciate the work that is being done.

Armow.—Your agent spent Sunday at this branch and preached in the Methodist Church in the morning, and in the evening attended a meeting of the Christian Endeavour in the Presbyterian Church and spoke for a few minutes. On Monday evening the Bible Society meeting was held in the Methodist Church. The attendance was good and deep interest was manifest on the part of the people. The ministers of the churches and officers of the branch are doing their part to uphold the work of the Society here.

Underwood.—A drive of ten miles, on a beautiful day, brought us to the next place of meeting. Here we found efficient officers, who had everything in readiness for the meeting, which was well attended. The Rev. Mr. Fitzpatrick (Presbyterian), was present and gave a good address. This branch is in charge of good men and will render a creditable account of itself.

North Bruce.—Here we found Rev. Mr. McQuarrie, who has done good work as agent for the Bible Society in the past. His interest in that work has not diminished. The meeting was larger than usual, and we hope for better financial returns.

Southampton.—This branch is not active because of the indifference of the officers. Nothing has been done for some time toward collecting money for the Bible Society. If the officers could be induced to appoint and send out collectors the people would give liberally. We still hope that they will do better in the near future than they have done in the past. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church and was well attended. The Rev. Mr. Ferguson, pastor of the church, occupied the chair and spoke forcibly in behalf of the Bible Society, as did also the Rev. J. T. Smith, of Saugeen.

REV. C. W. WATCH,

Campbellford.—A very fair meeting, held in the Methodist Church, presided over by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe. The officers are active and take an interest in the work. The depository is in excellent condition. The Rev. W. S. Barker was elected president.

Frankford.—The attendance was not large. The young people of the neighborhood took quite an interest in the meeting, which speaks well for the future. Mr. Sills, who has been president for many years, retired owing to his leaving the place. Mr. A. Davidson was elected in his stead. We were entertained at the home of our friend the treasurer, Mr. Thos. Foster.

Trenton.—The meeting was held in Canterbury Hall, the schoolhouse of the English Church, the president of many years presiding. The ministers of the town were present and addressed the meeting. It was a very stormy evening and the attendance was small. Arrangements were made to visit the outlying neighborhoods to be addressed by the resident ministers. The old officers were re-elected.

Madoc.—The branch in this town is to be commended; they arranged their own work, and provided for a Bible Society Sabbath. They covered the entire section of the country around Madoc, and by an exchange of pulpits over twenty sermons were preached. Eleven collectors have been appointed and they are hopeful of raising $100. It would be an excellent thing for our churches and branches to follow Madoc's example. They have a staff of good officers.

Flinton.—A very long stage drive from Madoc brought us to Flinton, just in time for our meeting. A dark night prevented many from coming. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church and Rev. C. Mearing presided.

Moir.—A very good meeting in the Methodist Church. Addresses were delivered by Revs. T. P. Steele and R. Duke. This branch has many friends of the Bible Society.

Roslin and Thomasburg.—I spent Sabbath with this branch. I preached at Thomasburg, Roslin and Tapton to large congregations. Great interest was manifested during the day, and I felt the time had now come when all the churches should unite and a Bible Society Sabbath should be observed and sermons preached in the interest of our work.

Tweed.—A small meeting in the Methodist Church. There were many things to prevent a large audience. In the absence of the president, Rev. J. C. Wilson, an old friend of the Society, occupied the chair. Tweed will, however, make a good financial report.

Stirling.—A very good meeting. The branch is well officered, and the pastors take a good interest. The meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church and Rev. C. L. Thompson took part in the meeting. The attention during your agent's address was very marked.

Belleville.—This branch deserves credit for their methods of work. They arranged for a mass meeting and the city pastors delivered addresses on different phases of the work. It was a Union meeting of all the churches, well attended, excellent addresses, and the officers gave a great deal of information in their reports. A strong and representative committee has been appointed and Belleville will certainly make a good report.

REV. P. WRIGHT, B.D.

Treherne.—I visited this branch on Dec. 12th, and had a very good meeting. The interest in and sympathy with the object of the meeting were very evident. Rev. Mr. Fraser was the only resident minister present, the others being unavoidably absent. The president, Mr. J. K. McLellan, gave a very interesting and carefully prepared address, after which your agent and Mr. Fraser addressed the meeting. A collection was taken up, amounting to $10, and collectors were appointed to canvass both the town and the country districts. All the officers were re-appointed. The depository has done during this year much better than in previous years. We had good singing and an enjoyable meeting, from which I anticipate good results.

Cypress River.—This meeting was rather a small one. Still there is a good deal of life in the branch, and the officers seem interested in the work. After an address suitable to the occasion, and the reports of secretary, treasurer and depository, the officers and collectors were appointed, and arrangements made for immediate work.

Glenboro'.—The meeting here was held on Dec. 15th. Rev. Mr. Haig, president of the branch, was in the chair, and spoke encouraging words. After which your agent addressed the meeting. Everything is in good order in the branch, though probably some more organized effort should be made to reach the country districts by our collectors.

Stockton.—This branch did well last year, and I hope it will do even better this year. We had an excellent meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 18th. Both the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers were present and gave excellent addresses. The agent's address was listened to eagerly. The usual reports received and officers appointed. An increased

Nesbitt.—The meeting here was on the 19th of Dec. The village is small, and in the winter season the inhabitants are not numerous. Crops around were poor, and the hard times are severely felt. The branch was organized only last year, and we need not expect much aid from it for this year. The meeting was hearty, and all the ordinary business transacted, and a collection of $3.20 taken up, which is remitted as the first instalment of their free contributions to the U. C. B. S.

Carman.—This meeting was held on Dec. 20th. This is a spirited branch, though, owing to the death of the late treasurer, no free contribution was forwarded last year. I, however, received $21.90 on account of last year. The report of Secretary Honeywell was carefully prepared, and showed great interest in the work. After the agent's address, a collection was taken up, amounting to $3.00, and officers and collectors appointed.

Melita.—Reached Melita on the evening of Feb. 12th, just in time for the meeting. This branch was formed only last year, and has done well. The depository has sold over $23 worth of Bibles, and the treasurer has a nice little free contribution to forward. Three resident ministers, Presbyterian, Episcopalian and Baptist, addressed the meeting with good effect. Your agent also spoke at length. The reports were on the whole encouraging. But money was never so scarce as at present.

Oxbow.—The meeting was held on Feb. 14th, and addressed by Rev. Joseph White, of Melita, while your agent passed on to Estevan. This was rendered necessary by the paucity of trains along that line (only two per week). The meeting was fairly well attended, and all the business duly transacted. This branch was formed only last March, and has proved its usefulness by the good work the depository has done.

Estevan.—Meeting on Feb. 14th, in Hopkins' Hall, as there is no church building in the place. This village has gone back considerably within the last eighteen months, on account of the coal centre having moved away about twelve miles to the south-east. Still, the little branch is doing some good work and has good officers. The president, Mr. Bell, and your agent addressed the meeting. Officers were appointed and arrangements made for collecting.

Napinka.—The meeting here was called for the evening of Feb. 15th, but owing to an accident at Estevan Station, that delayed our train four hours, your agent did not arrive till 10 p.m., by which time the meeting had dispersed. I, however, met with the officers, and examined the depository. It was agreed that all the officers hold office for another year, and they promised to make arrangements for an immediate canvass on behalf of the U. C. B. S.

Souris.—I spent Sabbath in this place. I preached three times—twice in the town and once in the country. So that the meeting for Monday evening, Feb. 18th, was well advertised. The consequence was that we had the best meeting of the series. The resident ministers, however, were unavoidably absent, so that your agent's address was the only one delivered. We had a meeting of officers in the forenoon and made arrangements for collectors, not only for the town but for all the country tributary thereto, and I expect good results from this new departure.

Hartney.—The meeting was held on Feb. 19th, and was well attended. The spirit of the meeting was good, and earnest addresses were delivered by all the resident ministers. The old officers were all re-elected. The officers were to meet next evening with the collectors and lay out the districts.

Holland.—The meeting was held on Feb. 20th, in the midst of their great curling bonspiel; it was in every respect a success. Reports of work done were read. Mr. W. R. Ross, president, in the chair. Very helpful addresses were given by the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers. All the officers were re-appointed and arrangements made for a good canvass. A collection of $8.70 was taken up. This is one of the very best branches in this group. The depository is well kept.

REPORTS OF BRANCHES WHICH HELD MEETINGS
WITHOUT AN AGENT.

East Westminster.—The annual meeting of the East Westminster branch was held in the schoolroom of the First Presbyterian Church on the evening of Feb. 14th, 1895, and was well attended. The president, Mr. Edward Beattie, occupied the chair. No agent of the Bible Society visited the branch this year to address the annual meeting, but the Rev. Mr. Quance, of Dorchester, was present and delivered an able, interesting and instructive address—subject: "The Bible,"—at our annual meeting for which he was tendered a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks. The total contributions for the year amount to $102. The officers elected for the coming year are:—President, Edward Beattie; Treasurer, Adam Nichol; and Secretary, Walter S. Laidlaw.

The annual meeting of the Chesterfield, Ratho and Bright branch Bible Society was held in the Methodist Church, Bright, on January 21st, 1895. The night was very unfavorable, yet there were representatives from all these places. Mr. Teasdale Hall occupied the chair and made some opening remarks on the claims of the Society. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Johnston, Chesterfield; Straith, Ratho, and Vollick, Bright. There is an active interest in the work and no doubt this field will send a good contribution for the year.

The annual meeting of the Innerkip branch was held, on December 19th, 1894, in the Presbyterian Church. The night was unfavorable and the meeting was small. Mr. James Hotson, jr., president of the society, occupied the chair. Rev. P. Straith gave an address on the work and claims of the Society. The other ministers of the place were unavoidably absent. This branch has made one of the best contributions this year that it has given for years.

East Williams.—The annual meeting of this Branch was held in the Presbyterian Church at Nairn on March 5th at 8 p.m. In order to save the Society's funds, the proceedings were conducted without an Agent, his place being ably filled by the local ministers, viz., Rev. Messrs. Coutts and Dewar, of Ailsa Craig, and Rev. J. Elliott, pastor of Nairn congregation. The favorable weather and good roads brought out a very fair audience, who listened with close attention to the instructive discourses of the above-named speakers. The experiment of doing without an Agent was a complete success. Good weather, good speakers, a good cause, a good collection, with God's blessing; was anything more wanted?

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY
FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

The fifty fifth annual meeting of this Society was held in Knox Church, Toronto, on the evening of Thursday, May 30th, 1895.

On and surrounding the platform were Senator Allan, President, in the chair; His Worship Mayor Kennedy and Rev. Dr. Thomas, Honorary Secretaries; Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C., Reverends Dr. Parsons, Principal Caven, Dr. Barrass, Dr. MacLaren, Dr. Gregg, A. B. Chambers, T. R. O'Meara, Charles Duff, J. G. Manly, Wm. Frizzell, D. McNeill, J. G. Potter and Robert Wallace, with Messrs. David Higgins, W. B. Geikie, M.D., J. G. Scott, Q.C., A. T. Crombie, John C. Copp, James McNab, C. R. Cooper, Robert W. Doan, Albert Ogden, W. J. Robertson, John Harvie, Permanent Secretary, etc.

The Choir of Knox Church led the singing.

After singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," Rev. Dr. Parsons read from the 119th Psalm, after which he led in prayer.

THE PRESIDENT mentioned, in opening, that an invitation had been sent to His Excellency the Governor-General, who is the Patron of this Society and one of the Vice-Presidents of the Parent Society, asking him to be present this evening. His Excellency had replied in a kind note that a previous engagement prevented his presence, and sending his best wishes for a successful meeting and for the prosperity of the Society.

THE PRESIDENT then proceeded: It is my pleasing duty and my privilege once more to welcome you to the annual meeting of our Bible Society. I only regret that I have not the pleasure of welcoming a larger audience; but still I trust that to all those who have come here to-night, this meeting will be one both of interest and instruction, and that the words we shall hear will send us away more determined than ever to exert ourselves to arouse fresh zeal and interest in the promotion of the Bible cause. As you all know, this has been especially a week of meetings. There have been meetings almost every day for some benevolent or philanthropic purpose. They have been attended by large numbers, and been presided over in some instances by those who occupy the highest official positions in the land. I am sure that we cannot but be thankful to God that there is such a zeal for the promotion of all that is good, not only as regards the material welfare but the spiritual and moral improvement of those around us. At the same time I think that I may say, without fear of contradiction, that it is to the Book, which it is the chief aim and object of our Society to circulate all over the world, that we owe these very meetings that are being held here now. It is the teachings of that Book, the example there given us of our Lord and Master who went about doing good to both the bodies and souls of men, that have infused the same spirit into Christian men and women here to do what they are now doing for the benefits both moral and spiritual of those among whom they dwell. If this be so, then I am sure you will agree with me that the Bible Society, whose sole object is to circulate this Book which has brought this light and power and furnished all these motives for doing good, which have proved such a blessing to our race, deserves our very best endeavors to support it to the utmost of our power. Again, I do not suppose that at any period the missionary spirit has been more active amongst all our churches than it is now; and I suppose that you will all agree with me that there is no truer sign of spiritual life than the active development of a missionary spirit among Christian bodies. But have you ever reflected how missionary work could be carried on without the aid of the Bible Society? and when I speak of the Bible Society of course I associate ourselves with our great parent, the British and Foreign Bible Society, because it is our great privilege to assist and to bear our share in the world-wide work of the Parent Society. Have you ever reflected how much we owe to the British and Foreign Bible Society in this very work of Missions? What would the Missionary do were it not for the translations of the Scriptures into almost all the languages and dialects of the world, which is the work that has been performed and is now being carried on to such a wonderful extent by the Parent Society? What could the missionary do without those translations of the Word of God by which he is enabled to carry its glad message to all parts of the world to those heathen nations to whom he may have gone to preach the Gospel, bearing in his hand the Word of God in a tongue which they all understand. For that reason we are bound, I think, to do all in our power to support and to help on the work of the Bible Society. Great as has been the missionary work in heathen countries, and there is hardly a part of the heathen world to which the sound of the Gospel has not been carried, yet we should not forget that there is another and most important work, colportage, which is being carried on by the Bible Society, not only in heathen countries but in the different countries of Europe where there are still thousands who do not possess a Bible and know nothing about its blessed teaching. They are out of reach altogether of ministers of the Gospel or missionaries; but the colporteur of the Bible Society, with his pack upon his back, goes through populous cities, visits remote villages, tramps over mountain and valley, and wherever he goes with his pack of books there he brings the sound of the gospel and that Holy Book itself within the reach of those whom he visits. A wonderful work has been carried on in that department. Take for example France and Italy. We all know that in both those countries the revulsion from superstition and oppression has sent the pendulum swinging in another direction, and now while the old religion has been given up, nothing has been taken in its stead, and there is either indifferentism or downright atheism. In both these countries the colporteurs and teachers of the Bible Society have been doing a wonderful work, and in the very last report of the Parent Society I observe that the effects of this distribution of the Word of God so widely throughout both France and Italy are beginning to be seen; and they say, referring more especially to France, "that these little Testaments sold here and there, purchased secretly in many cases, are beginning to bear fruit which will one day make the fields of France white for the harvest." In the same way a revulsion of feeling has taken place in Italy. They are beginning to feel what a wretched thing this materialism is—no hope for the future, nothing but this world; and they are beginning to feel that without God's Word they cannot hope to bring up their children in virtue and morality; so much so, indeed, that they are beginning to be anxious in many parts of Italy that their children should not only possess the Bible but should read it and be taught it, and that it should form part of their educational training also. I would to God that we in Canada were half as zealous for our children in our public schools to be trained in the same way. (Hear, hear.) I noticed in the last annual report that a great work has been done in the mighty empire of Russia, which I think will surprise many of us. There is no country in Europe where the Bible Society and its agents have received greater assistance or been more warmly welcomed than in many parts of Russia; and this last report states that out of every seven copies of the Scriptures circulated by the Society, one went to the subjects of the Russian Emperor. Now, when we reflect for a moment upon the part that that great empire may still be destined to bear in the history of the world, I think that we may rejoice that this Christianizing influence is being brought so largely to bear upon it through the instrumentality of the Bible Society. Of our own work here the report will give you a very full account; but what I desire and long to see is a warmer and heartier interest taken in the work of the Society generally, and I should hope on another anniversary for a larger attendance than we have this evening. Truly this is an association in which we can all join, no matter to what religious body we belong. It is for the dissemination of God's Word, the Word in which we all believe; and that is truly a work in which all Christian men who love their fellows and who desire to further the coming of that kingdom for which we pray every day, can join heartily and without grudging, and should endeavor to evince their interest in it upon all possible occasions, and so strengthen the hands of those who have to do with the management of the Society here and by their contributions and their prayers help on the glorious work of sending forth the glad tidings of salvation to every quarter of the globe. I shall not detain you further, because we have two gentlemen here to address you this evening who will occupy your time to much greater advantage and profit and pleasure and satisfaction than I could. (Applause.) Before calling upon the speakers there is a matter of business which the rules of the Society require to be taken up at the annual general meeting.

W. B. GEIKIE, ESQ., M.D., then moved: That Clause No. 4 of the Laws and Regulations of the Upper Canada Bible Society be amended, by substituting the word "three" instead of "five;" also that the word "city" be substituted for "country."

He said: As no change can be made without a month's notice, and the matter having been brought up before the Board and then before the general meeting, this resolution is now introduced. It is found that removing five clergymen and five laymen from the committee weakens us rather much, and we think that three would be better. We find also that an apology for absence from the city should be accepted rather than from the country, because it is just as impossible if a man is in Hamilton to attend the Bible Society Directors' meeting as if he were in Jericho, and the reason of it is perfectly plain,

The resolution was seconded by J. C. COPP, Esq., and carried.

THE PRESIDENT: I now have pleasure in calling upon His Worship Mayor Kennedy to move the first resolution.

MAYOR KENNEDY: The task handed me is a very easy one, and I can discharge it in a very short time. I move:

That the report as printed be adopted, and that the following gentlemen be officers and directors for the ensuing year (1895-6). See list.

C. R. COOPER, Esq. seconded the resolution, which was carried.

After singing the hymn, "Oh Word of God Incarnate,"

THE PRESIDENT said: I now have very great pleasure in calling upon one who needs no introduction to any of you, because his name and his person and his voice are so well known—that voice ever raised in support of all that is good. I have very great pleasure in calling upon the Honourable S. H. Blake, Esq., Q.C.

MR. S. H. BLAKE, who was received with applause, said: I think we owe a very considerable debt to our chairman, Senator Allan, for being busy in Ottawa from 10 to 11 this morning, and then taking a train and suffering all that is suffered on such a day as this, travelling up to our city to be present with us at the annual meeting of the Bible Society. (Hear, hear.) It is an honour, to my mind, to speak on the platform of the Bible Society. I am old-fashioned enough to love to take part in those assemblies where, from any matter of expediency, we need fear to open the meeting with the Word of God and with prayer. One feels safe in standing on such a platform. One feels doubt in standing on other platforms. Now, this evening, I am asked to speak upon the subject: "The work of the Bible Society indispensable to the Missionary Efforts of all Churches throughout the World." The first part of that is the work of the Bible Society, and therefore for a few minutes I desire to present to you somewhat of that work which has been outlined already by our chairman. Some one said: "The Bible Society is taken for granted; there is very little said about it. Why do not people from the platform tell us more about the Bible Society and what it does? We all look upon it simply as a place where you publish so many copies of the Bible, and from which they are sent for distribution." I take the hint that was given by my friend, and I ask you to suffer for a few minutes a short description of this Bible Society. Society in the world. It is admitted on all hands to be the handmaid of every missionary effort in the world, because six-sevenths of all Bibles or portions of God's Word that are being used by missionary associations are derived from this Bible Society. The British and Foreign Bible Society occupies a grand position ; first, because it was the original Bible Society of the world. Very soon on this continent—in the year 1816—the American Society was formed, one doing a noble and splendid work, a most lusty child of the British and Foreign Bible Society. There were formed also the National Society of Scotland, and the Hibernian Society of Ireland, and from the mother have gone out many children which are responsible, each in its position, for the distribution of God's Word. In 1886 Denmark became a Bible Society of itself ; a little later Norway ; and in the year 1894, Sweden. These are the later children of the British and Foreign Bible Society ; and I am glad to find in the last report, as is usual, there has been a most kindly reference made to this Canadian auxiliary as being one of the great aids of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and one that has stood by it and aided much that Society in its work. Now, you say, is this Bible Society nothing more than a mere institution for having printed and ready for sale a vast number of Bibles ? The thought of this Bible Society in 1804 was the old Pentecostal thought, that each one should hear in his own tongue the wonderful words of God. As I was thinking a couple of hours since of what I should speak of to you, there occurred to me the wonderful illustration that is given in the 19th Psalm ; and I thought, well, at all events, there is no one who will not feel the force of that, that is the sun—"There is nothing hid from the rays thereof." Which of us could hide from the searching rays of the sun this day ? And just as God said, "There is nothing hid from the heat thereof," so he says in the same way this Book is to enter into every place, and there it is to rule the conduct of the world, as the sun directs and rules the day. The wonderful illustration that is given, the wonderful thought that is presented, that which came to us at Pentecost, and that which slowly, how very slowly, has been carried out until the more recent years. We must consider that it was not until the year 1380 that we had from good John Wycliffe's hands the Bible in the English tongue. We must remember that it was not until the year 1520 that we had even the New Testament printed by the good hand of one who followed John Wycliffe in his good work ; and we must remember that up to that time, slowly by the hand of the scribe, was written out one copy and then another of this wonderful Word of God. We had it in the Hebrew, we had it in the Greek, we had it in the Latin, we had it by the slow transcription of the scribe, until it came to the 15th century, and then even a long lapse until it was put into the heart of good men, with another outpouring of the Pentecostal Spirit, that more should be done, and this Word should cover the earth as the waters cover the sea ; and so they set to work. And let me just ask you, have you thought what is covered by the first work of this Bible Society ? Have you thought of the immense difficulties of persons entering into the land of Africa, into India, into China, sitting down endeavoring to master the language, and endeavoring to convey in words the marvellous thought of our

Bible? Have you thought of the immense work there is among the Indians of our Northwest, and of the days and weeks that have been necessary to endeavor to get some of these abstract thoughts of our Bible into such shape that the Indian can apprehend it—writing them, listening, revising, re-revising in many cases, you can see, actually forming the language in order to give them in their own tongue the Word of God? Are you aware that to-day there stand over one thousand people that are engaged in the work of revision and in the work of preparing in various parts of the world in these languages the Word of God? You know what a loss we had in Dr. Kellogg, whom we had for some years in our city, and the great knowledge he had of the Indian tongues; and he has gone there for the purpose of revising the edition of the Bible that is coming out—spending years there, and bringing his acute knowledge, his intelligence and his grasp of the Bible to bear upon the work of giving to the people of India the Word of God in their own tongue. Do you know that in our own depository here we have for sale the Word of God in 30 languages? Do you know that in the agency in Turkey they have the Word of God in 40 different languages? Do you know that in Russia in the agency there they have it in 60 different languages, covering a portion of Russia? Are you surprised, therefore, when I tell you that this Bible Society has put into 320 different tongues and languages the Word of God; that with the aid of other Bible Societies we now have this Word in over 400 different tongues? Well, you say, had we not better stop? Have not we got to the end of this? Do you really think so? Do you know that in China we want 400 languages or dialects yet? Do you know that the calculation is that in Africa alone there are 600 different dialects into which that Bible is to be translated in order to give to the whole of those in the dark continent the word of God? Why, dear friends, we have only begun; and instead of having a body of a thousand we should have ten thousand people out into all parts of the land to acquire, to learn, to put into the shape of a language the Testament and finally the whole Word of God. It is immense what is yet left to be done in this way. But we have it in the 400 tongues; and you say, what does the Bible Society do with them? Why, lest you should think it is a mere place for selling the Word of God, I am glad to say, notwithstanding the financial depression, the income of the Society last year was over one million, one hundred thousand dollars, and of that about seven hundred thousand dollars went in free distribution of this Word; and that work was done by colporteurs in some 46 different lands, and done by a body of 429 Bible women; and the report is that last year these 429 Bible women read the Bible to 26,100 women. Now, will you not take more interest in this as being, not only what we have called it, a Bible Society, but a most magnificent missionary undertaking? Of these 429 Bible women that are engaged in this work, there are 303 of them in India alone invading the households, teaching the women there in their zenanas and otherwise making an entrance, opening the doors which up to that time had been closed and barred. So give your prayer and your thought on behalf of this glorious work. We might throw our "Trilbys" and other abominable trash into

The lives of our Patons, and McKays, and Duffs, are ten thousand times more interesting and absorbing than any of this trash which is here to-day and gone to-morrow. (Hear, hear.) I should like that I had time to have dwelt somewhat on these instances, where the soul has been touched by God's Word brought home by His Holy Spirit, and where, years after, that life has been a changed life. I should like to have gone into those places where they had said, "You may as well give that Word of God to the cattle in the field as give it to those people;" and after some five or ten years of the pervading power of it, these people by thousands and tens of thousands, clothed in their right mind and displaying the truth of that saying, "He hath made of one blood all nations," and that as there is a common disease there is a common cure, and it is found alone in God's Word applied by God's Spirit. (Hear, hear.) I should like if I had the time to go into that, but I only want you to bear with me for this remark, as it closes one of the reports of the colporteurs. These Books have been distributed by the million. Last year it reached very nearly four millions of copies. The chairman has referred to the work that is done here in the winter time amidst the shanties, untouched because untouchable by ministers, where the colporteur with the pack on his back enters in, and the little pack is the entering of the new life. And I think it is a very interesting fact for us to know that most of this work of the British and Foreign Bible Society, the first work that it did—and which should give it a warm place in our hearts—in the shape of foreign work, was to publish for our Mohawk Indians a copy of the New Testament in their own tongue. You know that splendid tribe, true and loyal to the Queen, and that they will show you in the little Mohawk Church the little communion service that the Queen sent out, and amongst all that is honored the most honored gift is that of this Bible Society in 1804; then they gave in the Indian tongue, in the Mohawk dialect, this wonderful Word of God. Therefore, you see, there is not merely the translation, there is not merely the immense preceding work of putting it into shape—not as if we were translating a French book or a German book, but, as I say, in many cases completely making the language; and then there is distributing and selling and the work of revision. You know what work Henry Martyn did in Persia, but it is not until last year that they have revised the whole of that Persian Bible, and one of the greatest works of the Society has been to send out there a revised version of the Bible. This year the great task has been finished, of giving to millions of people in Afghanistan the Bible in their own tongue. The translation or revision of one hundred versions was in progress during the past year, as part of the work of the Bible Society. Perhaps you would ask me how many copies of the Bible it is supposed there have been issued in the world? There have been issued 250,000,000 by all the Bible Societies distributed throughout the world. You see how far short we fall of our duty in this, because we have at least 500,000,000 of inhabitants and of the 250,000,000, at least one-half have been distributed amongst those dwelling among and being Protestants, so that there is only in the heathen lands, possibly, something in the neighborhood of 100,000,000 of copies, and we have about 130,000,000 or 140,000,000 yet to distribute. There has been a great increase in the distribution. In Japan there has been an increase from 39,000 to 114,000. The moment the note of war came, the Bible Society gave to every officer in the Japanese army a copy of the Word. They had great opportunities of distributing in the garrisons, in the hospitals, in the ships. In China the increase has been from 236,000 to 289,000; and in the Malaysian Archipelago it has run up to 75,000 from 36,000; so that there has been a great increase in the work in the past year. Now, having spoken for a little upon the work of the Bible Society, I want to say a word or two upon the second branch—that it is indispensable to the missionary work of all churches throughout the world. Why, one of the very first things that the missionary asks is that there should be the Word. The missionary can go and do a little work in the neighborhood, but if he can leave God's Word to carry the work on, then he may hope not only that it will be permanent, but in each case that it will be a seed which will grow and bear much fruit; and with what care do they distribute these? It is to get into each neighborhood some person that can read and some person that will read, and some person that will undertake when the missionary comes and does his work that he will keep that alive; and he gives them the only means whereby that can be done—a copy of this Book. As I say, six-sevenths of all that work done by these missionary societies is done in and through the Bible Society, that has prepared the Word in these various languages or tongues. Now, is not that true? I read what the Church Missionary Society says: "The work of the Bible Society is indispensable to the missionary efforts of all churches throughout the world." And the great Wesleyan Association says: "The cause of missions throughout the world is under inexpressible obligations to the British and Foreign Bible Society for its services in the past." As I said, there is no fairy tale that I could tell you that would be as pleasing as what is happening in and through the Word used in and through these societies. One person in writing about the benevolent work says: "I landed upon one of the Fiji islands, possibly the hardest place, humanly speaking, next to Patagonia, to do any work. This Word spread. This Word was drunken in. This Word formed Christ in the hearts of these people." The missionary left the Word. He was absent something over a year. They heard that he was coming back, and one of the ways of greeting him was by making a public holiday, and 4,000 children had prepared a little kindergarten display. It was called, "The Song of the Two Books," and the 4,000 children had come to the water, singing to meet the missionary, and the one book which they each had was a club, and they sang two verses talking about this club and about the blood-shed, and about the fighting and about the misery and the wretchedness, and all that was going on in that island; and then they dropped book number one, and each child took up the New Testament as book number two, and they began to sing of the peace, joy, happiness and grace that came from the using of this Book.

That was their little kindergarten display—one book a club, and that thrown away and replaced by God's Word. (Applause.) Why, it would rejoice anyone's heart to read a letter from the colored elders of the church at Uganda: "Although we are black, we thank you much for the present you have sent us. It is of very much more use to us than a very great deal of gold." I was delighted to see that Ethiopia was stretching out her hands, for the Emperor of Abyssinia and his Queen, to whom was sent a very beautiful Bible, received it with grateful thanks, and sent a handsome present of elephant's tusks to the Society as their return for what had been done; and it is stated that these Bibles are packed up and carefully carried by them wherever they may go. Is it not astonishing to find that that black land of Madagascar has got her own Bible Society? Does not that sound like a miracle? Only the other day such a land, and now we have the Madagascar Bible Society. I tell you, dear friends, unless we are truer to our Bible here these places will leave us in the lurch. (Hear, hear.) They are beginning to love it, while we seem to be cold. Poor, dear C. H. Spurgeon said, "I can write damnation on the dust of the unread Bibles of the people of England." Warm in their affections and in their love, and giving subscriptions to this that would shame the citizens of the city of Toronto. (Applause.) I say, therefore, that it is indispensable, that it is something without which the work cannot be carried on; and when you give your subscription to the Bible Society it is not only as a Bible Society that sells you or others a Bible, but as the grand handmaid of every missionary enterprise that we have. Walk up and down our hospitals, walk up and down our jails, go to the Young Men's Christian Associations, and find there that the gift of the good Bible Society is found wherever you turn. Wherever there is good work done, there you find the mark of this Society. Now, only a word or two more, and that is just to take another view of the Bible, because, although it is a good thing to get the microscope—and I like that when a man uses it honestly—I have no stock in the carping criticism of to-day. If you were to offer me all the wealth of the world I could not give up my old-fashioned thought that this is God's Word from Genesis to Revelation. (Hear, hear, and applause.) I believed in that Word with the first thought that I had, and God knows that He will keep me true to it—(hear, hear)—every word of it. I remember, dear, good W. J. Erdman saying, "Yes, I believe not only in the Book, and not only in the chapter, and not only in the verses, not only in the words, but I believe in the letter; I believe that God said, 'He is like a tree planted by the waters;' I believe He has put that 's' there so that as one river of water dries up, God's people may have other rivers to keep them fresh and to water them with;" and I gladly take my place as a humble disciple of that splendid Bible student, W. J. Erdman, and I believe in every letter of that Word having been inspired by God. My dear friends, if you are going to follow higher criticism, take nothing but the highest criticism—take nothing lower than the criticism of Jesus Christ. You stand true when you stand on the platform with Him ; you stand in a place of uncertainty when you stand without Him ; and i there is one thing above another that makes me feel absolutely certain about this, it is that He that is The Great Teacher of the world, when He was giving to His people that which was to be their guide, gave the Bible unqualified. He gave the Bible as a whole ; He gave the Bible without a warning as to any part ; He gave us Joshua and He gave us Jonah, and He gave us Deuteronomy ; He gave us every part of it ; and all those parts that that superficial criticism of those who do not want to know what is in the Bible, but who desire to be thought very wise by taking out those parts that they especially attack, are the very parts that the Lord Jesus Christ especially laid stress upon, and especially gave us splendid lessons from. (Hear, hear.) I say, therefore, take, if you please, the higher criticism, but let it be the higher criticism of Him that is the Teacher of the world, and would have been false to Himself if He had given us implicitly the whole of that Bible if there was part of it that was not to be received. It is indeed the impregnable rock ; and I want to read a few lines that a friend sent to me from England, because when these very shallow critics are talking here, it is well to see what a master mind says upon this subject. It is no less than Professor Huxley. He thought it would be pleasing to know what he says. Listen to it : " Greatly to the surprise of many of my friends, I have always advocated the reading of the Bible and the diffusion and study of that most remarkable collection of books amongst the people. Its teachings are infinitely superior to those of the sects who are busy now, as the Pharisees were eighteen hundred years ago, in smothering them under the precepts of men. It is so certain in my mind that the Bible contains within itself the refutation of nine-tenths of the sophistical metaphysics and old-world superstition which has been piled up around it by the so-called Christians of later times,—it is so clear that the only immediate and ready antidote to the poison which has been mixed with Christianity to the intoxication and delusion of mankind, lies in copious draughts from the undefiled spring,—that I exercise the right and duty of free judgment on the part of every man, mainly for the purpose of inducing every layman to follow my example. If the New Testament is translated into Zulu by the Protestant missionaries, it must be assumed that the Zulu convert is competent to draw from its contents all the truth which it is necessary for him to believe. I trust that I may, without immodesty, claim to be put on the same footing as the Zulu." (Applause) Then just a word more. Possibly one of the most remarkable developments of this age is that God has been locking under his buried cities that which proves irrefutably the truth of our Bible and dispels nine-tenths of what is said; and as good Hugh Miller said: " These men meet and they have their conference, and they have their talk, and they prove that the Bible is all wrong, and that their theories of to-day are all right, and as they go home they cross a field, and one picks up a little bit of a stone or a shell which dispels all their theories and shows that the old Book after all is right." And so it is. And God has taken Moabite stones, and God has taken Sir Henry Rawlinson and Mr. Layard and Mr. Sayce, to prove exactly that whether it is to the Hittites or to the Moabites, or as to whether there were two kings in Babylon, or anything else, all these men are utterly wrong and the Bible is absolutely right. How good it was of God to bury all this away in safety until these attacks are made, and then to open and to display to the face of all the world, kept by his power and by his forethought that which has proved to demonstration that our Bible is what we claim it to be. (Applause.) Then, lastly, I would say, see the lands. Where is there anything of good that is in the land which is not of the Bible? Go up and down the nations of the earth—and our Roman Catholic friends will find they are making a great mistake in not letting this Bible be open to the whole people. In France a century ago over a million died as a result of casting out God's Word and endeavoring to blot out His teachings, Go up and down in that land of anarchy, and then go to our land and Great Britain and to her dependencies, and then walk up and down the United States of America; take those two great nations which, God knows, are not doing their work, and yet are in the foremost front of it; and take all the world, whether heathen or infidel, or what you like, where is there anything that can be compared with those two great English-speaking nations for honor, for truth, for probity, for kindness, for love, for mercy, for all those qualities that flow from the Cross and the law of Jesus Christ? For all those, these nations stand as one and all these others are as nothing compared. I am not surprised to read that as a Frenchman took a little copy of the Testament, he said to one of these colporteurs, "My friend, there is naught that will save my brave countrymen but this little book." Shan't we stand true to it? Shan't we love it more? Shan't we study it better? Shan't we love it more truly? Shan't we, having felt all the good that comes from it, also desire to spread it broadcast? Shan't we let it be as the rivers of salvation from one end of the world to the other? I say, friends, let us take a greater interest than we have ever done before. Let us pray for it. Let us be true to it. Let us speak about it; and as Jesus said, "Go into all the world"—and the best means of going is bringing His Word wherever that Word can be brought. Let us see that we do all that in us lies thus to prepare the vineyard of our Lord for the second coming of His dear Son. (Applause.)

The choir sang an anthem, during which the collection was taken up.

THE PRESIDENT then called upon Rev. Dr. Thomas to speak on "What the Bible Society has done and what it is doing."

REV. DR. THOMAS: My dear friends:—I want to go down to the grave with the reputation of having a little modicum of wisdom. We have had a grand meeting to-night, although it has not been as large as I would have liked to have seen it. There are reasons for that. I don't know that the reasons altogether justify the absence of a great many. These influences cannot be controlled. I don't believe I have listened to addresses in a Bible Society meeting that were more full of information, that ought to enlarge our sympathy and intensify our zeal in this good work. I conscientiously believe that for me to attempt, at twenty-five minutes to ten, a formal address on any branch of this subject would tend to destroy the excellent feeling that must have been produced by what you have already listened to. And then if you look at the resolution, it is a hard thing to follow a lawyer. The next time I speak in a Bible Society or any other meeting with Mr. Blake, I am going to speak first. (Laughter.) I find that the subject that I was to speak upon to-night has been most thoroughly treated—absolutely exhausted, as Mr. Blake exhausts everything he touches—(laughter and applause); and, with all these reasons before me, I am convinced that under the conditions in which we are met to-night—such a warm evening—that anything after this would be ineffective and not calculated to promote the interest of this Society. I am profoundly in sympathy with all that I have listened to to-night. I am profoundly in sympathy with the utterances of Mr. Blake in regard to that Book. I believe that it is the Book of God, that it is the Word of God; not that it contains it, but that it is the Word of God; and that the world needs it, and that it was God's purpose that this Book should be communicated and circulated to the uttermost ends of the earth. I do not see how the great commission could have been fulfilled in any other way. We cannot be in sympathy with the great heart that yearns for humanity, and that has given us that Book, without being in sympathy with the operations of this Society. May God grant that our enlarged conceptions this evening may have an influence on our relations to the work in which we are engaged, and in which I trust we are all personally interested. (Applause.)

REV. A. B. CHAMBERS moved the following resolution:—That the hearty thanks of this meeting be presented to the Rev. Dr. Parsons and trustees of Knox Church, for the use of the building on this present occasion; also to the organist and choir for their valuable services.

J. G. SCOTT, Esq., Q.C., seconded the resolution, which was carried amid applause.

The meeting closed by singing the doxology, followed by benediction pronounced by Rev. Dr. Caven.
