Threat Made By Mussolini, Italian Premier, Alarms Allies

10,000 REFUGEES BURN TO DEATH

2 REGIMENTS OF SOLDIERS ARE LANDED

Italian Troops Reach Corfu to Give Relief to Sailors Now on Island.

TAKE UP POSITION

Belgium to Stand Solidly With Britain in Defense of League of Nations

(Canadian Press.)

Corfu, Sept. 5.—Two regiments of Italian infantry have landed here to relieve the sailors who have been garrisoning the island.

The Greek soldiers and gendarmes, together with the Greek prefect and police chief, have left for home aboard the steamer Imene. They were the last representatives of the Athens government in Corfu.

Vice Admiral Simonetti, the Italian governor of the island, has published a manifesto asking the people to be calm and await a solution of the Greco-Italian dispute. He has visited all the military posts established in the interior and along the coast.

The Italian troops have taken up their position at the famous villa which was once the summer palace of the former German Kaiser.

London, Sept. 5.—Friends of the league of Nations among the British newspapers are gravely perturbed at Mussolini's threat to withdraw should the league insist on intervening in the Greco-Italian conflict.

"The league is challenged at its foundation; it must take up the challenge or abdicate," says the Daily Chronicle. The Morning Post asserts that the league is now at the very crisis of its career and that it should make as if this present situation would be its death warrant.

Other newspapers urge the league to stand fast and not allow itself to be intimidated by the Italian premier, which would mean suicide. On the other hand, both the Daily Mail and the Daily Express indignantly demand against Lord Robert Cecil. The latter newspaper visualizes the dire consequences that would result from the application of the league to Italy, which it says would be where Great Britain and France would have to do most of the fighting.

The Manchester Guardian comments: "Language serves different purposes to different men, but if Mussolini means seriously and in cold blood that Italy will withdraw from the League after it has accepted its intervention, then the league is in great peril. If he surrenders to Mussolini, its life would be over, and it is clear that the reality of Versailles would not long revive the league."

Will Back British. Geneva, Sept. 5.—It is reported that Paul Hymans, the Belgian delegate, as received orders from Brussels to stand solidly with Great Britain in signing respect for the League of Nations pact even at the cost of Italy's withdrawal from the league. JESUITS PURCHASE OLD CARNEGIE HOME

Use Fine Estate of Stockbridge, Mass. for Work of Novitiate.

Boston, Sept. 5.—The Jesuit Order has purchased the former home of the late Andrew Carnegie at Stockbridge, Mass., to be used as the novitiate of the New England section of the Maryland-New York Province of the order. It is one of the finest estates in America, costing the late steel magnate approximately $2,000,000, but the Jesuits did not pay anything like this amount for it. The novitiate of St. Stanislaus at Woodstock on Hudson, N.Y., has been closed with the opening of the new novitiate in the Berkshires, which is known as Shaw Brook. The late Patrick F. O'Gorman, S. J., vice-provincial, who before his transfer a few years ago was attached to the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, New York. The rapid growth of the Maryland-New York Province made necessary its division, the Very Rev. Laurence J. Kelly, S. J., remaining as provincial.

BAD CHECK PASSERS FACE NEW PITFALL

New York Law No Longer Allows Days of Grace in Which to Pay.

New York, Sept. 5.—Two laws of the state which have gone into effect in New York State. One is known as the "bad check law." It provided a real remedy against the bad check passer, according to the Hotel Association of New York City. Under the old law, the passer of a bad check was entitled to ten days to notice before he could be prosecuted. The purpose of this was to give the passer time in which to make good the check. The hotel managers found, however, that in most cases it was difficult to locate the passer, then when he was located it was necessary to give him ten days' notice, in which time he usually decomped.

The ten-day requirement no longer is part of the law and prosecution may be started at once. Under the new law, too, any one with insufficient funds to cover an issued check is guilty of larceny and can be punished in the same manner as a thief. Another law which went into effect is known as the "fraud act, Chapter 508 of the laws of 1923 of New York State." It provides that where a guest has failed to pay his bill and departed from a hotel, he is guilty of a misdemeanor. Formerly it was necessary to show not only that a guest took his baggage without the permission of the proprietor, but also that he left with the intention of not paying his bill. Under the new law this has been eliminated. The refusal or neglect of a guest to pay on demand raises a presumption of fraudulent intent.

$1,000,000 BY RED CROSS STARTS HELP

Preparations Made to Rush Supplies to Victims of Japanese Quake

MEDICINE IS SENT

U. S. Ships, Army and Merchant Marine Ordered to Assist Sufferers.

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Coolidge, taking cognizance of the unparalleled disaster which has visited Japan, without waiting for official confirmation, this afternoon issued an appeal to the American people for contributions. The President has asked that the American Red Cross be the medium through which aid is given to Japan.

The President, after consultation with the State Department, issued the following appeal: "To the people of the United States: 'An overwhelming disaster has overtaken the people of the friendly nation of Japan. While its extent has not yet been officially reported, enough is known to justify the statement that the cities of Tokyo and Yokohama and surrounding towns and villages have been largely if not completely destroyed by earthquake, fire and flood, with a resultant appalling loss of life and destitution and distress, requiring measures of urgent relief.'

"Such assistance as is within the means of the Executive Department of the Government will be rendered, but realizing the great suffering which now needs relief and will need relief for days to come, I am prompted to appeal urgently to the American people, whose sympathies have always been so comprehensive, to contribute in aiding the unfortunate and in giving relief to the people of Japan.

"In order that the utmost co-ordination and effectiveness in the administration of the relief funds be obtained, I recommend that all contributions, directly designated to the American Red Cross at Washington or to any of the local Red Cross chapters for transmission to Japan."

Following the appeal by the President, the Red Cross, from its headquarters here, issued a statement requesting its plans. This statement said: "The Red Cross has started the national fund for the relief of victims of the Japanese earthquake horror with a contribution of $100,000. In addition it has appropriated from its reserve funds $100,000 for the assistance of Americans caught in the disaster zone."

Ready to Send Nurses. Supplementing these appropriations, which will be forwarded through the Japanese Red Cross through the State Department, it was announced that machinery for dispatching relief supplies and Red Cross nurses and relief workers to the scene was ready, should developments show this would be effective.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5.—Defendants named in thirty-one vice indictments returned by the Atlantic County Grand Jury are being rounded up by county detectives and held until their appearance before Judge W. H. Smithers in Criminal Court at Mays Landing.

Plainclothes men from out of town gathered the evidence on which indictments were based and in one instance a detective was engaged as manager in one of the places which was under investigation.

WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN SUITCASE

Head and Legs Missing in Find Made in Merrimac River.

Tyngsboro, Mass., Sept. 5.—The torso of a woman was found in a suitcase floating in the Merrimac River here. There was no clue to the identity.

An automobile party which had stopped on the bank of the river saw the suitcase floating down stream and notified a policeman. He got a pole and brought the receptacle ashore. On opening it he discovered the headless body. The legs also were missing.

The police began an investigation to determine if any woman in this section was missing. Tyngsboro is a small town on the New Hampshire border half way between the cities of Lowell, Mass., and Nashua, N. H. The State highway runs close to the river and there is a bridge in the centre of the village.

The torso had been in the water for about five hours, according to Merrimac Examiner Alling. The appearance of the hands indicated that the woman had not done hard work. She was about 30 years of age and of medium height.

The police learned that an automobile drove along the boulevard that parallels the river opposite the shore near which the suitcase was discovered. Traveling at high speed, according to Charles L. Nelson, who gets news from the open car across the Tyngsboro bridge and crashed through a fence in making the turn into the highway, but resumed its journey before he could reach it. There were two persons in the car.

The suitcase was found a quarter of a mile below the bridge. While the authorities seek to develop their theory that persons in the automobile cast the suitcase into the stream from the bridge, the police are dragging the river in search of the rest of the body.

Youth Says She Told Him to Shoot Neighbor in Quarrel.

(Canadian Press.) Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Peter Sawicki, said to be the youngest boy ever to face Canadian courts charged with murder, is in the provincial jail at the court house at Dauphin awaiting his preliminary trial. He is only 12 1/2 years of age. He is charged with killing Mrs. Anna Zukka at Pine River on last Saturday.

"I didn't know that it was wrong to shoot anybody," the youthful prisoner answered under examination at the coroner's inquest held on Monday at Pine River, "but my mother told me to shoot the woman's neighbor, because she wouldn't have told me."

His mother, Mrs. Paul Sawicki, is in hospital badly bruised as the result of a fight which preceded the tragedy. She is suffering from nervous shock and is unable to take the lightest nourishment. The fatal quarrel is said to have been caused by cattle belonging to the Zukka family running loose in grain fields.

Dr. Towne was married at the age of 14 the first time, and has had 10 children, including another set of twins and triplets. Towne is her second husband. She is a native of France.

Who says that children coming late in a person's life don't bring as much happiness as the first born? Dr. Towne is a living example of the contrary.

Refuses Tow To Port After 84 Days Of Battling In Seas Off Gibraltar

New York, Sept. 5.—Eighty-four days out of Gibraltar, alone in a battered 35-foot sloop in heavy seas about 200 miles off Nantucket Light, F. Gerbault, a French seaman on Wednesday forged a tow to port offered by the Greek liner Byron, Captain Vlahakis related today when the Byron arrived from Greek ports.

The lookout on the Byron, Captain Vlahakis said, saw Gerbault, standing clad only in underwear despite bitter cold and rolling seas on the deck of his diminutive craft, waving his arms furiously and shouting in French.

After explaining that he was crossing the ocean on a lot of 500,000 francs bound for New York, and that two other schooners which had left Gibraltar with him had disappeared, the hardy Frenchman asked that his empty water kegs and food bins be filled, took his bearings as furnished by the Greek navigators, refused an offer of aid and went on his way.

NEAR AGREEMENT AS TO FORESHORES

British Columbia and Ottawa Have Been Disputing Since Confederation.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 5.—Agreement on the control of British Columbia harbors and foreshores—a question over which the federal and provincial governments have been disputing ever since confederation—will be reached soon, it was announced at the parliament buildings yesterday. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, that drafting of the new harbor and foreshore agreement will proceed immediately on lines laid out last spring when Mr. Pattullo visited Ottawa.

The flames that swept the capital burned for fifty hours, leaving Tokyo and its environs in ruins and desolation. Fire and earth convulsions together have devastated an area of twenty-one square miles in and about Tokyo, demolishing 350,000 houses.

The suffering of Yokohama, too, appears not to have been exaggerated. An official statement received by U. Yamani, the Japanese consul general in San Francisco, says that the great port itself and the Yokosuka naval station have been wiped out.

From Osaka comes a despatch asserting that a new volcano has broken into activity in the Chichibu range, fifty miles northwest of Tokio. (Continued on page 2, third column)

REFUGEES LOSE LIVES IN FLAMES

Thousands are Burned in Attempt to Flee from Fire in Tokio

FOOD IS SCARCE

Many Foreigners are Now Reported to Be Among Earthquake Dead.

Osaka, Sept. 5.—Approximately 10,000 refugees, fleeing from the ruins of Tokio, were burned to death in the yard of a military clothing factory in the industrial suburb of Honjo.

Water and provisions are reported still scarce in Tokio. Three persons are sharing a single piece of bread.

THOUSANDS ARE DEAD

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Latest unofficial reports place the dead in Tokio and Yokohama at 204,000 and 450,000 persons injured as the result of the earthquake and fire, according to a wireless message picked up here last night to Admiral Edward W. Eberle, chief of naval operations, from Admiral Edwin Anderson, commander of the U. S. Asiatic fleet.

Reports Are True. As the story of the Japanese disaster is unfolded in the fragmentary messages from Press Association correspondents, Japanese newspaper and individuals, it is apparent that the magnitude of the catastrophe has not been overdrawn.

In only one dispatch has there been a suggestion that the death list will not reach the proportions already indicated. This was a message from the Radio Corporation of America in Japan which said the Japanese home office estimated the dead in Tokio at 10,000, in Yokohama at 100,000.

On the other hand, Admiral Edwin A. Anderson, commanding the U. S. Asiatic fleet, says the latest unofficial reports give the casualties in the capital and Yokohama as 240,000 dead and 450,000 injured.

Another estimate, this one coming from the Eastern News Agency, says that 820,000 persons have been killed in the entire stricken districts.

Report Fresh Calamity. Fresh calamity has overtaken smitten Tokio and the terror stricken remnants of its population. Nearly 10,000 people, seeking refuge in the yard of a military clothing factory located in a suburb, were trapped by flames and burned to death. Food and water are scarce in the capital.

Two hundred and sixteen earth shocks were felt in Tokio last Saturday, followed by fifty-seven on Sunday. The most severe tremor was of six minutes duration.

The flames that swept the capital burned for fifty hours, leaving Tokyo and its environs in ruins and desolation. Fire and earth convulsions together have devastated an area of twenty-one square miles in and about Tokyo, demolishing 350,000 houses.

The suffering of Yokohama, too, appears not to have been exaggerated. An official statement received by U. Yamani, the Japanese consul general in San Francisco, says that the great port itself and the Yokosuka naval station have been wiped out.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Harry Levinson, eighteen years old, of New York, was an unfortunate place to launch his career to fame and fortune when he stepped into the office of chief of Detectives Huges at the Detective Bureau. Clad in a sailor's uniform, he explained that he was on leave from battleship now at San Francisco, and that he had walked from the coast city.

While Chief Huges' back was turned, Levinson picked up a sheet of paper bearing the signature of the detective. Retiring to an outer room the boy sat down and wrote himself a letter of recommendation, signing it with Huges' forged name. Then the chief happened to look over his shoulder. Levinson is waiting now for Federal authorities.

Prior to prohibition, the plantations derived a considerable income from the molasses shipments to the mainland which were used for the manufacture of alcohol. Since then the molasses, which has a sugar content of one-fifth, has been used as fuel or thrown into the ocean. A discovery that molasses may be used as a culture medium in the production of yeast, has created a considerable demand recently. It also has been found that molasses makes a valuable feed for stock, as, it is said, it has about twice the energy value of any other feed tested. These two developments are expected to utilize most of the molasses produced by the plantations. The new demand is expected to add approximately $1,000,000 to the income of the Hawaiian plantations this year.

BRITISH EFFORT AT REFORESTATION

Lord Lovat, Recently in St. John, Speaks in Winnipeg.

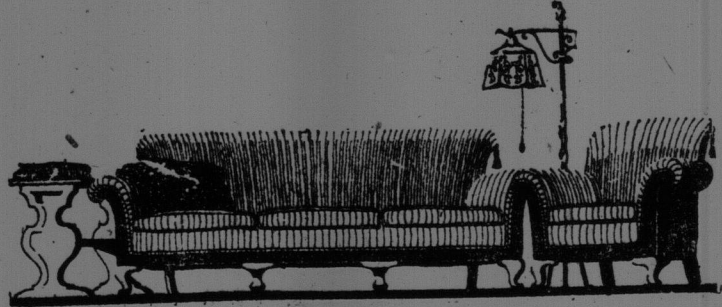

Lord Lovat, chairman of the British Empire Forestry Conference now touring Canada, speaking before the Canadian Club in Winnipeg of the manner in which reforestation had been handed in Great Britain, said in part:

"Forestry commissions, like other commissions, as a rule, do nothing. But at this time of crisis, the commission not only made a suggestion, but the Government acted upon it. I think it might be interesting if I should recount some of the things which resulted from the efforts of the commission. In the first place, I might say for the first time in Great Britain, the forestry commission set before it a definite objective. Upon this occasion we definitely set out with the objective of making Great Britain safe for a three-year period of war or for three years' stringency in trade.

"It was decided that sufficient trees should be planted and sufficient land given to private landowners, municipalities, etc., to make the carrying out of this programme possible. We received a ten-year block grant. At the end of the ten years, they are going to look around and see what we have done with the money help thus given. Independent of Politics.

"It was arranged that the whole scheme should operate independently of politics. I think this policy was good. There was another principle of ours, which was accepted by the Labor, as well as the Conservative and Liberal parties. That was, that in view of the crisis in the timber production of Great Britain, municipalities and even private landowners might receive subsidies where it was shown that they had managed their woods in a proper way. We had the warm support of all parties, not only in the legislation passed in 1919, but in another bill which we got through the House just before we left on our present tour.

"We think that both the idea of starting out with a definite objective, and that of having a trial period, like our block grant for ten years, were good. As to results in Great Britain, we have planted for the state some 28,000 acres of land, and we have got private enterprise to either plant or prepare for planting 40,000 more—or some 70,000 acres looked after, in all. This may seem small, but in the approximate period it is more than the whole continent of America, including the United States, has done. Overburdened as we are by taxation, we have been able to accomplish this, to harden our hearts and get this amount of work done."

"I would say this," the speaker concluded, "If you believe you are drawing on your capital, you should ascertain at what rate you are drawing on your capital. If the rate is high, you must take immediate steps; if it is low, you may still have time to think. This is not a point for a visitor to decide. But while you yourselves have to make this great decision, we can come in and help you if you decide to take action.

"We have the accumulated knowledge of 200 years of similar problems in Europe, and thirty years in India. I do not think, therefore, that one can offer one or two remarks which might be of suggestive value to you.

"The first principle we accept in Great Britain—that you must know the amount of your timber and whether or not you are living inside your increment—is a good one. Secondly, I would like to say that the state forestry idea is one which has been accepted in Great Britain, even though they have refused to have anything to do with the state-owned railways, etc. They have accepted the principle of a state forest and state forestry because they believe that without a continuous and efficient management of forests throughout a period of years, you cannot get your maximum yield.

"If you have accepted the principle of providing for the assistance of municipal and private enterprise."

CANT FIX PATTERN PRICES.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The Butterick Company and five other dress pattern concerns affiliated with it through consolidation or joint stock ownership are prohibited by the Federal Trade Commission from selling their patterns to dealers for resale to the public at stipulated prices.

FINDS DIVORCE TOO EASY.
Justice Taylor Refuses Decree When Direct Proof is Lacking.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Supreme Court Justice George H. Taylor Jr., in declining to grant a divorce to George Held of Yonkers, said:

"I want you to bring the defendant and the alleged co-respondent to court. I cannot grant a judgment of divorce on this evidence. It seems incredible to me that the evidence should have been obtained on the same day the defendant was served with the summons."

The complaint charged that Mrs. Held was at a farmhouse with a man named Walten near Millbrook, Dutchess County. A witness testified that in company with two other men he visited the farmhouse on July 23 and said they found a woman there who admitted that she was Mrs. Held.

"Did you see a man there?" Justice Taylor asked.

"No, but I saw a man's clothing and a pipe."

"The evidence is insufficient," said Justice Taylor in directing the attorney to subpoena the parties involved.

"Divorces are easy enough to get nowadays," he said, "and it is a scandal that it is so. I must have direct proof."

SALE OF CATHOLIC CHURCH WIPES VILLAGE FROM MAP

Last Vestige of Norwich, Pa., Disappears With Removal of Old Edifice.

Fifteen years ago one of the flourishing small towns of northwestern Pennsylvania, the last vestige of Norwich will appear with the sale of St. Mary's Catholic Church and its removal this fall, writes a special despatch from Kane, Pa., to The Philadelphia Public Record.

Norwich is located in McKean County, and formerly was a thriving lumber town, with stores, schools, theatres, churches and many fine homes. Over 1,200 persons resided in the town, a large number of the inhabitants being employed in the big lumber mills which operated in the immediate vicinity. The biggest sawmill was torn down a few years ago, after the standing timber for miles about the town had been cut and turned into building and commercial channels.

With the town's principal industry gone residents began moving away, seeking their livelihood in other climes. Gradually stores, theatres, schools and churches were torn down and the building materials moved to neighboring towns. Finally not a house was left standing, and the only building untouched was St. Mary's Catholic Church, which must now go, as there are very few parishioners in the surrounding country. The church is advertised for sale, and the purchaser must remove the edifice. The sale and removal must be completed by fall, as

FOSTER'S OLD KENTUCKY HOME NOW SHRINE; BOUGHT BY STATE

Place Immortalized in One of the Undying Songs He Wrote.

By Jefferson L. Harbour in Boston Transcript

One more song writer of the past has been honored. The State of Kentucky has now purchased the old home where Stephen Collins Foster, while on his honeymoon, wrote "My Old Kentucky Home," and has presented it as a shrine to his memory and to his genius.

that sends men no longer young back to the days of their lost youth when the song was new. Few songs were more popular in the days of the covered wagon and no doubt there were many campfires around which the wayfaring pilgrims of the plains sang:

"I come from Alabama with my banjo on my knee, I'm going to Louisiana My true love for to see. It rained all night the day I left, De weather it was dry, De sun so hot I froze to death; Susanna, don't you cry."

controllable appetite for "the wine that is red." It would not be easy to name a singer who touched his lute to sing sweeter songs than Stephen Collins Foster sang. When he came into the world on Independence Day in the year 1826 he brought with him the gift of song that will make his name immortal.

There is something tragically pathetic in the author of "Old Folks at Home," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Darling Nellie Gray" wandering from publisher to publisher offering his songs for any amount they were willing to pay for them—some times for as little as five dollars each.

ONCE RICH, ENDS LIFE IN POVERTY

Former Chicago Diamond Queen Dies in Squalid Cottage.

West Haven, Conn., Sept. 5.—Life was stranger than fiction for Mrs. Ellen Hermoine Wallace, who was found dead here in a squalid little cottage near Long Island Sound.

She was at the height of her career when she suddenly disappeared, leaving her beautiful home and wealthy husband without a single word of explanation. Every effort was made to find her, but complete mystery shrouded her whereabouts until 10 years ago, when she appeared in West Haven and purchased a little cottage on Savin avenue.

took a strange delight in diamonds, and these she purchased in profusion. At social functions her fingers blazed with them. They sparkled at her throat and glistened in a magnificent tiara upon her head. She was soon known as the diamond queen.

terious disappearance, although she never admitted it. A number of the diamonds which had such a strange attraction for her were still in her possession when she came to West Haven, and by pawing these and selling some of the finery which she wore in her younger days she managed to secure enough to live on.

CHEAP MOVIES AND TRASHY STORIES BLAMED FOR BOYS' 'TORTURE' DEATHS

Belmar, N. J.—'Wild West' movies plus lurid detective tales plus juvenile imitativens equals tragedy. Such a sum brought about the death of two boys here, and the arrest of two others, held for the grand jury. The deaths came by fire while the four youngsters were playing 'Indian' after the fashion of the cheaper movies.

Policeman Jumps Out of His Cab and Prevents a Robbery.

New York, Sept. 5.—Policeman Patrick Mullins of the West 182d street station was riding in a taxicab at Varick and Watts streets on his way to the subway station to report for duty when he saw three men standing about another taxicab, and one of them pointing a pistol at the chauffeur. Mullins had passed the second taxicab before he realized that a hold-up was taking place.

A block farther north he stopped his car around the corner. Then he jumped out and, pistol in hand, crept up on the group surrounding the stalled taxicab. He seized a man, who later said he was Charles Hannon, 20 years old, of Greenwich street, who was pointing the pistol at the chauffeur. The latter was Joseph H. Criscuolo of 164 East Forty-second street. When Policeman Mullins knocked the pistol out of Hannon's hand the other two men fled through Watts street and escaped.

Criscuolo told the policeman that when he was driving north in Varick street the three men, strangers to him, ran into the street in front of him and Hannon, pistol in hand, commanded him to halt.

"Criscuolo said he 'stepped on the gas,' but the three men jumped on the running board and Hannon, pressing his pistol against his head, said: 'Why didn't you stop for us? I've got a good mind to blow your brains out.' Hannon, he said, ordered him out of the taxicab and one of the trio took the wheel. Criscuolo said he had turned an automatic lock in the machine, which was worth $2,300, before he left his seat, and this prevented the men from getting away with the machine before the appearance of the policeman.

At the Beach street station Criscuolo lodged a charge of attempted larceny against Hannon. Later Magistrate Corrigan in the Tombs Court held Hannon in $5,000 bail for court.

WET RESOLUTION GETS SUPPORT OF VETERANS

Encampment Will Go on Record on Question.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 5.—Opposition to prohibition in general and the Volstead law in particular, found its way to the floor of the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The movement was led by the Virginia department and it found ready and willing support from practically the entire Northern delegation.

Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut were strong for the passage of the resolution which, if adopted, will put the veterans on record as favoring an amendment to the Volstead act to permit reasonable dispensing of alcoholic beverages. The resolution went the way of all similar business and will be acted on probably shortly.

It is said in the resolution that the ever growing disregard for the law will lead to a willingness to overlook and disregard other laws and greatly endanger the safety of the nation.

SAD ROMANCE IN SARGENT'S LIFE

Belasco Says Suicide Involved Loss of Mary Anderson's Love.

New York, Sept. 5.—The body of Franklin H. Sargent, head of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, who ended his life in a Plattsburg hotel last Tuesday night, was brought to New York today and placed in Campbell's funeral home.

Benjamin Roeder, David Belasco's business manager and executor of Sargent's will, made arrangements for the body to be taken to Jamaica Plain, Mass., where under recent arrangements the burial will take place in the Sargent family vault next Monday.

Mystery Is Cleared.

Sargent's suicide is no longer a mystery. David Belasco, an intimate and life-long friend of the dead dramatist, said that he attributed Sargent's death to overwork and mental strain. He does not believe that Sargent's unrequited love for Mary Anderson, the actress, was the direct motive for the tragedy, though he says that from the moment of their broken engagement, 38 years ago, Sargent became a changed man. His youthful love affair affected his whole life.

Sargent's will, which was drawn up less than a year ago, reveals a number of bequests of family heirlooms to relatives and friends. Owing to the suddenness of Sargent's death, his attorneys are unable to state the exact value of his estate. It is certain, however, that he was in no financial difficulties.

Under the will which Sargent made in October, 1922, the stock in his Academy of Dramatic Arts is divided into three parts, each part to be held in trust during the lives of Emil L. Diestl, Charles Lehinger and Benjamin Roeder, all of New York. After their deaths the stock is to be held in trust for the academy and all revenues are to be applied to the foundation of scholarships to assist promising aspirants to dramatic honors.

To Arthur Winthrop Sargent, a half-brother of Avron Park, Fla., $500 is bequeathed, and the same sum to the Sargent Murray Gilman House, Gloucester, Mass. Family heirlooms, consisting of silver, portraits, furniture and oriental woods of art, are bequeathed to Edward H. Sargent, Mrs. Lucette Dickinson, Eliza M. Olier of Lexington, Mass., Mrs. William Appleton and John J. Carlin of New York. The residue is to be held as a trust fund for the American Academy of Dramatic Art.

Unfolds Tragic Story.

David Belasco at the Monterey Hotel, North Ashbury Park, today unfolded Sargent's tragic life story. It is the history of a proud, sensitive, ambitious man, who for many years had lived the life of a recluse, and who died from mental strain caused by hard work and over study.

"My friend, Franklin," said Belasco, "was a lovable character and, though he lived buried in the past, his intimate associates were proud of the friendship he bestowed upon them. He was one of the most highly respected men in the theatrical profession.

Lumbermen Say Compensation Board Levy is Too Heavy.

Fredericton, Sept. 4.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, Premier of New Brunswick, was in conference for upwards of three hours this afternoon with the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association, the conference having been requested in view of the recent doubling of the rate of assessment under the Workmen's Compensation Act upon lumber and allied industries, the association objecting strongly to the increase.

Premier Veniot said tonight that he had met the association and heard its presentation of the matter. At present he could make no statement. In October he hoped to have a conference of all parties interested in the question of workmen's compensation rates for the purpose of discussing the matter.

The report of S. L. Chalk, of the staff of Price, Waterhouse & Co., who is making an investigation, would be ready by that time, said the Premier.

R. W. McLellan, K. C., secretary of the Lumbermen's Association, said after the conference that the members represented some 50 of the lumbering firms of the province. General objection to the increase in rates was made and the expectation was that when the reports of the expert were ready that the entire matter of the Compensation Act would be discussed. Industry in general was not satisfied with the act, which was too great a burden for New Brunswick to carry.

Members of the association, of which Angus MacLean, of Bathurst, is president, said before the meeting opened that they would renew their demands that the Compensation Board officially recognize the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association as an organization which they could deal under the provisions of the act. The lumbermen said that they would show that the rates upon the lumbering industry had been advanced to a point where they are "absolutely prohibitive."

"We are ready to show the Premier that the rates as now being put into effect are nothing more nor less than a capital levy—they can no longer be taken care of out of profits," said an officer of the association.

Premier Veniot was accompanied at the conference by H. L. Chalk, of Montreal, efficiency expert, upon whose recommendation the latest advances in rates were made, and John A. Sinclair, of St. John, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Premier Veniot last night stated by long distance telephone that the report appearing in the Globe in connection with the lumbermen's convention at Fredericton contained false reports.

The Premier took exception to the statement of H. L. Chalk, of Montreal, efficiency expert, who is reported to have recommended advances in rates.

The Premier further said that the item referring to logging rates was very misleading. It was stated that the rate originally was $1.50, then it was doubled and now it had reached $3.

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

River Desert, Quebec—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it too as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. Burpee, River Desert, Quebec.

Woodbridge, Ontario—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles. I would have headaches, backaches, pains between my shoulders and under my shoulder-blades and bad feelings in the lower parts on each side, in the groins. I was sometimes unable to do my work and felt very badly. My mother-in-law told me about the Vegetable Compound and I got some right away. It has done me more good than any other medicine I ever took. You are quite welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you think it will help some poor sufferer."—Mrs. EOWAN SIMONS, Woodbridge, Ontario.

Carnival at Time of Union and Advent of C. P. R. to St. John.

The Exhibition Association of the City and County of St. John was incorporated in the year 1889. The first president was Charles A. Everett and the vice-presidents Henry J. Thorne and W. M. Jarvis. The first directors were these three and W. H. Thorne, George Robertson, T. W. Peters, J. M. Johnson, A. L. Law, Jonas Howe, R. Emerson, C. N. Skinner, Gilbert Murdoch, Thomas McAvity, S. S. Hall, James Pender, William Peters, W. Walker Clarke, R. P. Starr, William Shaw, J. McA. Hutchings, Simon Jones, James A. Estey, Alex. Macaulay, William Greig, J. C. Robertson, Dr. Thomas Walker, A. O. Skinner, James F. Robertson, Samuel Crothers, S. D. Scott and Ward C. Pittfield. The secretary was Ira Cornwall, the most irrefragable optimist who ever held an official position in St. John.

It is interesting to look over this list of names. H. J. Thorne, Thomas McAvity, W. W. Clarke, Dr. Thomas Walker, A. O. Skinner and S. D. Scott and possibly one or two others are still living, and of these Mr. Thorne lives in the western states, Mr. Clarke in Fredericton and Mr. Scott in Vancouver. The list includes the names of men who in their lifetime did much to promote the welfare of St. John. In an announcement made in the year of its incorporation, when a ten days carnival and electric exhibition was held in honor of the union of St. John and Portland and the extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway to this port, the Association said:

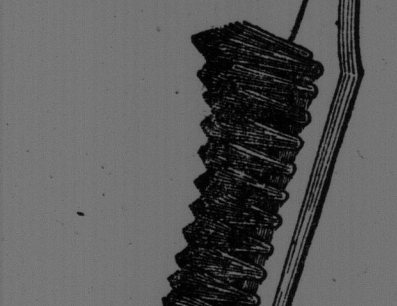

"St. John N. B. being most centrally situated for the railway system of the Maritime Provinces, but also the Atlantic terminus of the great trans-continental route of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is most admirably situated for holding exhibitions of art, manufactures, agriculture, horticulture, etc. The Association having extensive and conveniently situated grounds, as well as ample building accommodations, purposes holding annual exhibitions commencing about the first of October each year, and incorporating some new and attractive features for the public entertainment."

The policy of holding annual exhibitions was not adhered to, and it was found that October was too late for a successful fair. The Association of today has successfully inaugurated the

The electrical exhibition of 1889 was under the patronage of Lieut. Gov. Emerson, Andrew Hunter, James F. Robertson, James Hunter, George F. Calkin, James Fleming, John D. Howe, A. A. Knudson and A. M. Cogswell. The electrical display was a marvel for those days.

The executive and managing committee of the Carnival were: A. O. Skinner, chairman; Ira Cornwall, secretary; and W. W. Clarke, assistant secretary. Mr. Skinner was also chairman of the sports committee; James F. Robertson, finance; Roy Davenport, music; S. D. Scott, press; Ald Blackadar, fireworks; regatta; Dr. J. W. Daniel; advertising and printing; also parade, George Blake; military, Lieut. Col. Blaine; fire department, John Kerr; reception and hotels, Ald. Shaw. The mention of these names recalls many things to citizens whose memory goes back thirty years or more.

The men of that day had faith. Only a dozen years had elapsed since the great fire, but the rebuilding had been largely accomplished, the union with Portland consummated and the C. P. R. brought to the city. Electricity had come to transform the conditions of life. The people surveyed the past with satisfaction and looked forward to the future with confidence. Expansion of industry and trade were in sight and the changed conditions and better outlook seemed to warrant ten days of carnival as fitting to the ushering in of a new era. Much that was hoped for has not fully come to pass, but real progress has marked the period between 1889 and 1923. Today as then the people look forward with confidence that their city cannot be deprived of its birthright as a national port.

THE FIRST BOY SCOUTS.

(New York Tribune)

The controversy over credit for the founding of the Boy Scouts seems a tawdry matter, though in another respect it may be regarded as a tribute to the spirit of the movement. Nations and individuals do not claim authorship of anything that is not worth while. The question seems to be whether credit is to be given for the inception of the thing itself or of its name and form. In respect to the latter the Boy Scouts of America have a claim. Powell organized troops of Boy Scouts in England in 1908, while the first incorporation under that name was made in the United States in 1910. On the other hand there had been prior to 1908 two similar organizations in this country. One was the "Sons of Daniel Boone," founded by artist Baden Powell, and the other the "Woodcraft Indians," founded by Ernest Thompson Seton, and it was by the union of these two bodies that the Boy Scouts of America came into corporate existence at Washington on February 8, 1910. More than twenty-five years before that time Baden Powell had begun for and among boys a movement similar to that of the Boy Scouts, and during those years he published a number of books on the subject. It is on that reasonable ground that he has been regarded as the founder of the Boy Scouts organization.

The two movements in the United States and England appear to have developed almost simultaneously, though it is probable that that in this country was a little the earlier in starting, while the name by which both are now known was first used in England. Thus it might be contended that England got the idea from the United States, and the United States goes by the name of the organization from England. If so there is no cause for rivalry or heartburning. Both countries are to be credited with the promotion of an admirable work.

PETER MANNING'S RECORD MILE

(By Stanley Woodward in Boston Herald)

Peter Manning, 1.59 8-4, champion trotting horse of the world, covered a mile in 1 minute and 29 seconds yesterday at Readville in a race against time, thereby chipping one-quarter of a second off the track record. A sensational second half mile, clocked in 57 1/2 seconds, enabled the great bay gelding to set up the mark. A crowd of nearly 15,000, one of the largest ever attending a Grand Circuit race meeting at the Readville track, saw him perform. First Quarter in 28 3/4.

Peter Manning was accompanied only by a running horse in his assault on Readville's long-standing record. No spur of actual competition gave him incentive for the feat, yet when he thundered across the finish at the Grand Circuit drivers, held him in for the first half. The quarter was turned off in 30 1/2 and the half in 1:01. Then Murphy let out the champion, and from that point to the finish his speed was cumulative, with a final quarter in 28 3/4.

His performance was not the fastest ever produced on the famous "two-minute" track, but it actually was the fastest legitimate mile in the history of the oval. Dan Patch once covered it under 1:29, but he did it behind a wind shield. Star Point, a pacer, set the track record in 1897, and it later was equaled by Lou Dillon. Peter Manning himself equaled it last year in his second appearance on the track.

Conditions for the feat were perfect, but recent resurfacing of the track and the lack of time for the new clay to set may have stolen a fraction of a second. Wind and weather were ideal. The last trace of heaviness was gone from the track.

CONSUMER'S VIEW OF MILK PROFITS

Figures That Farmer Gets Only 6 1/2 Cents and Dealer 6.

A milk consumer has been doing some figuring, and has given The Times-Star the result, in the following statement, which he declares is based on the facts of the case: "Now that the milk consumers of St. John are called upon to pay another peck per quart per day for this morning's milk, an analysis of the cost of milk will not be out of place, and the reason for St. John's high milk price will readily be seen. "After the first day of September, the farmer or milk producer received per quart six and a half cents, and for this amount he feeds and milks his cows, and hauls his milk to the railroad. These two items appear to be any sign of ruthless profiteering at this particular stage, and if any of the Kings County producers are rolling in wealth, it is hard earned, and they are entitled to it. "Now let us proceed to build up the cost from this six and a half cents. The dealer will receive 10 cents, and collect his fifteen cents, or fourteen cents, (there are two prices). Freight 0.01/2 Pasteurization, etc. 0.01/2 Bottle losses, etc. 0.01/2 Actual Cost to Dealer 10 1/2 cents. "Now we have arrived at the landed cost of the milk to the dealer, and the next question is what is a fair working margin for the dealer to add to this cost and this particular question is the crux of the whole situation, for it is entirely a matter of economical distribution. Eminent Jurists Give Views on Penal Reform to Bar Association.

(Montreal Gazette) That a group of fourteen eminent jurists should draw up a report for presentation to the Canadian Bar Association on the Administration of Criminal Justice, which embodies proposed reforms and ameliorations which are popularly attributed to faddists and theorists, came as a pleasing surprise to board members of the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association.

"GO STRAIGHT; BEWARE OF BROADWAY!" IS EVELYN NESBIT'S ADVICE TO GIRLS

BY BOB DORMAN.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Evelyn Nesbit, whose merry-go-round of life has whirled her from the greatest luxury to the deepest tragedy, even to death's door itself, is happy again, and smiling sometimes. Two years ago she saw only one way out—death. But quick medical attention thwarted her attempt at suicide. Today, she sees only the future and hope ahead. "I have learned my lesson," she says. "And it has been a bitter one. But I thank God that I can still laugh, can still enjoy life—that I was born a comedienne, and not a tragedienne. "Otherwise I would not be here." As she sat in a corner of her cabaret, just a few steps from the famous boardwalk, where she is hostess, this woman whose name was once headlined on the front page of every newspaper in America, that the time of her connection with the famous Harry Thaw murder trial, revealed the philosophy of her life. "It doesn't pay to do wrong," she says. "You can't cheat and get away with it. Some day the bill will have to be paid.

"Because payment is delayed once in a while some people think that they can get away with anything. But the time will come when the bill will be presented, and the interest will only be the larger for the delay.

"I know that the mistakes I made when I was young and thought that the world was mine to do with as I pleased, have cost me dear. Heavy in tears and sorrow has been my payment.

"But I have also learned that when persons have made payment for their wrongdoing that they can make their own future.

"Don't worry. The past is dead, atoned for. Look at the future. There lies hope, no matter how dreadful the past; that is, providing one is ready to be on the level.

"And if girls would only realize the sham that is 'Broadway,' how few of them would set that gilded path for their goal.

"If they could only know the holowness of the life that is led there, the mockery of its loves, its friendships.

"But I suppose the fame will always attract the moth, and 'Broadway' will always draw its dupes. "I am through with it."

THEATRE MANAGER SLAIN BY ACTOR

Cahen of the Paris Trianon is Killed by Leading Man.

Paris, Sept. 5.—M. Bonnal, popular leading man of Bordeaux, recently killed M. Cahen, his theatre director, in the Theatre Trianon. Toward the end of last winter, Cahen made money in the lumber business and took over the direction of the Theatre Trianon in Bordeaux. He lost his position there on account of the type of plays he put on, went to the Apollo and eventually to the Trianon, where he was chief stockholder as well as director. The theatre was under the management of M. Bonnal, an administrative council of the theatre—a talented actor who as leading man at the Trianon was very popular with the people of Bordeaux. Soon after the new director-proprietor's arrival at the Trianon, he got into arguments with Bonnal and wanted to discharge him. On the day of the murder the administrative council had met to talk over the affairs of their manager and director. Cahen and Bonnal were alone in the director's room, arguing violently. Their voices carried far down the hall. Then several revolver shots were heard and before any one had time to interfere Cahen came down the hall and into the street, where he crawled along for a while until he collapsed.

While doctors were calling an ambulance to take Cahen to the Saint-Andre Hospital, Bonnal approached the only person in the theatre at the time, handed him his revolver and said, "Take this. I have just freed up as prisoner." Bonnal then went to the chief of police and told him the story of the murder. He said that he regretted the act, but he had to do it because of the threats and violence of Cahen. Bonnal said that Cahen wanted to ruin him.

At the hospital Cahen died while doctors were preparing to operate.

BIG RUSH AT MARRIAGE BUREAU; ITALIAN-GREEK WAR A REASON

New York, Sept. 5.—The marriage license bureau is crowded with a rush of applicants which set a record for this year. One hundred couples were married by City Clerk Michael J. Cruise. A majority were Italians and it was suggested that the clash between Italy and Greece might have hastened some of the marriages because of the likelihood of the men being recalled to Italy for military service. The bureau issued 5,021 marriage licenses in August, a slight increase over the same month last year, when 3,466 licenses were issued.

JOHNNY WILL MAKE GRADWELL TRAVEL

Arena Boxers for Thursday Night Keyed Up to Keen Competition.

Willie "Young" Gradwell, who claims to be New England's premier lightweight and winner of 23 consecutive boxing bouts, will have to look to his honors when he meets Johnny McIntyre at the Arena tomorrow night. Gradwell has a wonderful record and is said to be in line to meet Benny Leonard, whose bout with Johnny Dundee was called off tonight owing to the illness of the latter. That St. John is to have the class of men like Gradwell speaks well for the promoters of clean sport in this city. See-saw bouts will not be tolerated. When a man wins he will be advanced; when he loses, he drops. This is the motto, it was stated last night. The card for Thursday night at the Arena is by far the greatest ever put on in this city, according to local fans. McIntyre is a great favorite here and St. John fans are eager to see how he will stalk up against the American boxer. The records of both men will appear in this paper tomorrow.

Groff is training faithfully for his bout with Gordon Paris, the local man. This, in the opinion of the fans, will be one of the greatest boxing exhibitions in the history of the game in St. John. To keep a toehold in the game here each must win. The loser will go into discard, so far as the present promoters of the game are concerned.

The reserved seat idea is receiving praise and many seats for the big card are being reserved each day.

COW GIVES 93 TONS OF MILK

Animal 17 Years Old Continues to Produce. Seventeen years old and having produced 93.9 tons of milk, 3.19 tons of butterfat and still producing is the record of Artis Plebe De Kol of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture herd. This showing is surpassed by few cows. Freshening at the age of two, fifteen years ago, she has since that time produced a daily average of 84.3 pounds of milk. She was not in milk during the entire period, having gone two years without freshening prior to her last freshening. Stable records for the fifteen years show that her average yearly production was 12,520 pounds of milk and 426.19 pounds of butterfat. During five years, she produced more than 500 pounds of fat. Artis has consumed in the way of food sixty-five tons of silage, twenty-eight tons of concentrates, more than eighteen tons of hay, and seventeen tons of roots and soiling crops.

BITES NAIL IN CAKE CANNOT SUE MAKER

Court Decides Against Waitress Who Loses Three Teeth.

New York, April 5.—A decision by the Court of Appeals, just made known, holds that a person injured by eating cake in a restaurant which contained a nail concealed in such a way it could not be seen by inspection, and which pierced her gum and caused an infection necessitating the removal of three teeth, cannot recover from the manufacturer of the cake. The court held that the customer of the restaurant had no contractual relation with the manufacturer of the cake, and for that reason could not collect. Judge McLaughlin reversed a verdict for Bertha Chysky against the Drake Brothers Company, and dismissed the complaint, with Justice Hogan dissenting. The court said in its opinion that the plaintiff was employed as waitress in a luncheon at $30 a week, and received board and lodging. She sued the maker of the cake for the injury resulting from eating the cake with the nail concealed therein, and alleged that the manufacturer was liable on the theory that he had impliedly warranted that the cake was fit for human consumption. Justice McLaughlin stated that in a previous suit of Race against Kram the court held that accompanying all sales by retail dealers of articles for food for immediate use there is an implied warranty that the same is fit for human consumption. He held that the defendant was liable, if at all, under a section of the Personal Property law, providing that "there is no implied warranty or condition as to the quality of goods supplied under a contract to sell, or a sale except as follows: Where the buyer, expressly or by implication, makes known to the seller the particular purpose for which the goods are required, and it appears that the buyer relies on the seller's skill or judgment (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not) there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be reasonably fit for such purpose."

If the article sold were negligently prepared or manufactured," the court said. "But the recovery in the present case is not based upon the negligence of the defendant. Plaintiff limited her right to recover to a breach of warranty, by having not been able to find any authority, in this State at least, which would permit a recovery upon that ground, and the great weight of authority in this country and England is directly to the contrary."

TOO MUCH LIKE BOCHE, WANT NAME TO BE CHANGED

Paris, Sept. 5.—A new twist has been given to the old problem of renaming the streets and avenues of Paris by a petition just lodged with the municipality by the inhabitants of the Rue des Boches, one of the most picturesque thoroughfares of the old Faubourg district, which still seems to be under the spell of Victor Hugo, Balzac and Dickens. The reason they allege is the fairly obvious one. They are tired of having their friends poke fun at them for living in the "Street of the Boches." They are fed up on being insulted by taxi drivers when they give them the address. They don't think, in short, that any street in Paris should have a name in any way recalling the barbarians from the north. But the Committee on Old Paris, which is an historical society that actually "works at it," is likely to give the petitioners a stiff fight. The old Parisians quite properly remark that a real Paris-bred person could never pronounce "Boches" in the same way as "Boche"—a fine point, but worth considering. Furthermore, "boche" in old French, means nothing more or less than "poor" or "poor"—one of those placid stretches of water which the great Corot loved to immortalize on canvas. To change the name would, according to the old Parisians, destroy just one more of the ties that bind the modernized, fashionable Faubourg with the tranquil and rustic village which it was in its mellow literary past. The municipal council itself is likely to reject the demand, for the simple reason that so many names would be proposed for the rehabilitating street that it would be impossible to pick one without discontenting many prominent and influential persons. To date Paris—unlike the majority of the cities and towns of France—hasn't its Avenue Georges Clemenceau, its Cours Marechal Foch, nor even an Allee de la Victoire. It renamed, shortly after the armistice, a number of highways, but President Wilson, King George V, King Victor Emmanuel, King Albert I. and King Peter I, Allied sovereigns all, were the only ones to profit thereby.

on Tuesday, is comparatively new to this country as a body of coherent doctrine. Indeed, the word Socialist is not yet a hundred years old. It first appeared in 1833 in a journal entitled "The Poor Man's Guardian," established by Henry Hetherington, mainly in the interests of an organization called the National Union of the Working Classes. It always referred to the King and Queen as "Mr. and Mrs. Guolph" and it was unfriendly to titled folk. But its particular aversion was the Bishops; and, considering some of the prelates of the time and their views on the social questions of the time one can hardly blame it.

TURN BOGS INTO GARDENS IS BY STATE PROPOSAL

Boston, Sept. 5.—(Associated Press.) The vast lands of the state, it is estimated, cover from 300,000 to 500,000 acres, and range from small-sized bogs to one large swamp of 7,000 acres. Many accessible swamps can be drained and tilled, Mr. Plamsted points out, and the soil may be made to produce crops of hay, vegetables or pasture, thus helping to meet an ever growing need for agricultural land in these days of rapidly expanding towns and cities. Financing has been the main problem in former reclamation projects in Massachusetts. The present law provides three separate methods: funds may be raised by assessments in a given district, and deposited with the state treasurer; the members of the district may vote to incur debt, to be liquidated according to the terms of the law; or the old method of mandating by appropriations by county commissioners may be adopted.

The law is held also to apply to lowlands in need of irrigation, and it is believed that such territory may be developed with the district methods outlined. The intent of the act is declared to be to help the people to help themselves. It is a private matter supervised and encouraged by the state, and according to agricultural authorities, it represents a movement of the greatest promise.

Paper of good quality is made from the eucalyptus tree.

COAL STEALING BY GANG IS ALLEGED

Matter Aired in the Police Court on Complaint of Railway.

Four juveniles were before Magistrate Henderson this morning on charges of stealing coal from the C. N. R. Special Officer Ryan of the C. N. R. said that the boys were an organized gang of boys in the coal stealing business and that they were being encouraged in the illicit trade by persons buying the coal from them at fifty cents a bag.

The magistrate sent the boys before for a time and later, on the undertaking of their parents that they would be sent to school and otherwise look after, they were allowed to go with a warning.

Mrs. Charles Bree and Mrs. Martha Williams of Erie street, and Mrs. James Gould and Mrs. John Gould of Brunswick street, pleaded guilty to buying coal from the boys, but said they did not know it was stolen.

The magistrate said the boys were guilty of receiving stolen goods, and would have to be dealt with. They were brought before the court again later and allowed to go with a caution.

Magistrate Henderson said the practice had to be stopped. The women, he said, should have known that the coal was not come by honestly, and should have refused to buy from the boys.

C. N. R. Policeman Pierce said he did not think these boys were members of the gang, but that a great trade was being done.

HYDRO MATTERS.

Plans and specifications were now being prepared for the distribution system for the Aporagu-Millstream district, it was said this morning at the office of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, made an inspection trip to Musquash yesterday and returned to his home, Shediac, last night.

The stringing of primary wires in Germain street was begun this morning by the Civic Power Commission, and from Cranston avenue to Main street, via Rockland road, to feed the West Side distribution system. Men are placing secondary wires and service leads in the main part of the city. To date 283 meters have been installed.

Power Company Thornton said this morning that the city electrician had called his attention to a letter received from the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, complaining that more instances of dangerous construction by the Civic Power Commission had been noted by them, and asking that steps be taken to remedy these conditions.

The commissioner said he had instructed the electrician to make an investigation and report, and if it was found there was danger to the public it was his intention to take steps, as the commissioner responsible for the safety of the citizens, to put an end to it in some way.

ARCHIBALD FOSTER DEAD

Archibald Foster, B. Sc., died at his home in North King street, on August 29, after an illness of a year's duration. He was born in 1860. He received his higher education at Mount Allison University, and was for many years a land surveyor, later becoming a civil engineer. He was a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

From 1904 till 1910 he was engineer on the Transcontinental Railway, and will be well remembered in both St. John and Fredericton in this connection. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and a member of Luxor Temple, Mystic Shrine. The funeral was held on Friday from the Kingston Methodist Church. Services were conducted by Rev. John Hockin. Mrs. Foster and three children survive.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "you folks is awful good to the pigeons an' sparrers. You hev hollers in them streets that holds the water fer 'em to drink an' wash in, an' when it don't rain you send the water in' curts round to fill 'em up. I guess the folks that comes to the Exhibition don't always give you credit fer kindness to the birds. I seen a gal walkin' down Charlotte street yesterday, an' when e'er she come to cross over at the corner o' Duke street she walk right into one o' them hollers. She got her foot wet, an' the way she went on was dreadful. She said a town that made people welcome by wettin' their feet onto be in Japan where they hev airthquakes. I tried to tell her she orto think o' the pigeons an' sparrers, but she said they was lots o' water without makin' deep holes in the streets fer people to walk into an' spill their noo shoes. Aint it curious how onreasonable some folks is? What's a pair o' noo shoes an' stockin's? An' I distassy half the folks don't wash their feet unless they hev to. Yes, sir—well, we want is more hollers in the streets—even if we hev to use rafts to get across. When folks goes visitin' they orto hev an extra pair o' shoes—anyway."

LOCAL NEWS

NOT THIS WOMAN Mrs. Samuel T. Allen, Main Street, has asked The Times to say that she is not the Mrs. Allen who figured in police court proceedings recently.

DANCE AND BRIDGE At the weekly dance and bridge of the Millidgeville Summer Club last evening the bridge prize was won by Mrs. W. H. Turner. A very pleasant evening was spent.

AWAY TO BOSTON The Eastern Steamship line Governor Dingley sailed this morning for Boston via Eastport and Lubec with 550 passengers and a large general cargo. Mr. Turner was expected to embark at Eastport.

COUNTY COURT The case of A. S. Merrill vs. Maurice Doherty, set to be heard before Judge J. A. Barry in the County Court this morning was postponed until Tuesday, September 11. E. P. Ryan is for the defendant and Charles J. L. Millard for the plaintiff.

LIQUOR CASE FINE William Lewis was fined $200 this morning by Police Magistrate Henderson on his plea of guilty to a charge of selling liquor in his beer parlour, 111 Mill street. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution.

Two men, charged with drunkenness were fined $8 or two months in jail.

GLAD TO SEE HIM R. H. Tait of St. John's, Newfoundland was in St. John yesterday on his way to Boston. He was a student in the St. John Law School some nine years ago prior to going overseas with a Newfoundland battalion. While a resident here, Mr. Tait played on the St. John hockey team and he took the opportunity of looking up some of his old team-mates yesterday. He received a hearty welcome.

TRAFFIC CASES. Robert Harten was fined $10 this morning in the Police Court for speeding on Saturday night at the intersection of Prince Edward and Richmond streets. Policeman Quinn said he had been travelling at 30 miles an hour.

Grover Keith pleaded guilty to driving on the wrong side of Mill street at 7:30 p. m. on September 3 and was fined $10.

WAR ENDS. A case in which Frank Jerros of Main street was charged with attempting to stab Nick Agar of Long Wharf with a knife was settled this morning. The complainant said he merely wanted to be assured that he would have no more trouble with the accused. The accused assured him that war should cease and they departed together. The trouble occurred on Sunday night.

KINDERGARTENS RESUME The Free Kindergartens were reopened for the season today and this term will be under the supervision of the Board of School Trustees, although carried on by the Free Kindergarten Association. The schools will be located in the same buildings as last year and with the same directors but it is expected there will be one or two changes in the staffs. It was said that most of the first week would be taken up in getting things lined up for the work of the term.

VANDALISM The desire to destroy willfully is hard to explain but the execution of the desire leaves a mark. Last night some one on an evil bent carved a large piece out of one of the green benches in King Square and this is not the first time such vandalism has been noted. The men entrusted with the care of the square do their best to make it a beauty spot and it is a great disappointment to them to see its appearance marred by wanton destruction. They say it will not be well for the first person caught in the act.

MORE OLD COINS. BOY ESCAPES. Last evening as Deputy Sheriff Lyons of Albert County was bringing Russell Harbour of Coverdale to the Boys' Industrial Home, the lad made a getaway and has not been recaptured as yet. The deputy got the lad to the city all right, and as he was putting him on a street car to take him to the police station he made a leap and got away. He is described as being a resident of age, light complexion, about five feet four inches tall, weighing 125 pounds and walking with a stiff gait.

HEAR MASS: THEN SCHOOL. Solemn high mass was celebrated in St. Peter's church this morning in honor of the Holy Communion. The mass was celebrated by Rev. James Cloran, C. S. R., assisted by Rev. George Coffin, C. S. R., as deacon and Rev. L. Wojciechowski as sub-deacon. It was attended by the children of St. Peter's schools, who assembled to receive a blessing prior to the commencement of the school term. In the Cathedral a mass for the children to ask God's blessing in their studies was celebrated by Rev. William Duke, who spoke briefly concerning the opening of the schools, the importance of education and the necessity of application and study.

PLEASANT OUTING. A very enjoyable outing was held on Saturday afternoon and evening when the staffs of Emerson & Fisher, Ltd., journeyed by cars to Morrisdale, the home of Mrs. Aldon Howe, a former member of the staff. Various games were played. Supper was served on the lawn by Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Elliott and after doing full justice to it, the party tendered a vote of thanks to the hostesses for the pleasant time spent. The party then motored to Public Landing and, returning made a stop over at Grand Bay, getting into the city at an early hour. The committee looking after the affair was composed of E. H. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Elliott and Miss Jean Babcock.

MAKE IT MARITIME NOW SUGGESTION

Question of Representative to Preach Doctrine of Using Our Ports.

That the Maritime Provinces cooperate in the suggested scheme to have a representative visit the manufacturers and shippers in central and western Canada to impress on them the duty of using Canadian ports for the shipment of their goods overseas was the suggestion made this morning at a conference between G. E. Barbour and W. S. Fisher, representing the Board of Trade, and Commissioner Bullock. The conference was held to talk over port matters in general and the need for increased berth accommodation and more grain conveyors was stressed by the Board of Trade men.

It will be recalled that some time ago the idea of commercial travelers representing the city and port of St. John, to call on the shippers of the Dominion, was mooted and the suggested trip is that it be made to include the Maritime Provinces. This will be one of the matters brought up by the St. John delegation at the meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade in Halifax.

EXPECT A BIG CROWD TODAY AT EXHIBITION

Indications early this afternoon were that there would be another large crowd at the St. John Exhibition today and the ideal September weather was greeted with pleasure by the exhibitors as well as the patrons of the big fall show. There was another good morning crowd there today and about noon all the streets leading to the grounds were thronged.

Judging in the various live stock and poultry lines went forward today and keen interest centered around the dog exhibits where it is expected the judging will be completed tonight.

On account of some misunderstanding at Ottawa a beef was appointed to handle the live cattle. This work will be undertaken today jointly by Thos. MacIntosh and C. J. Baillie, of Fredericton.

The management announced this morning that the apparatus for the fair was being moved to the grounds and the open air programme this afternoon.

Sergeant Scott, who is in charge of the police detail at the grounds reported everything quiet this morning. The only case treated at the booth of the St. John Ambulance Association was that of a man with a boil on his arm. He was afforded relief.

And Away She Went.

A small detail may often lead to grave complications, as a certain suburban resident who attended the Exhibition can testify. It appears that this gentleman, accompanied by some members of his family, motored to town to attend the big fall show and parked his automobile in the space reserved on the grounds.

After he and his relatives had had their fill of the sights presented by the exhibition they returned to the country home. This was about supper time.

He tried the spark plugs; he examined the ignition wiring; he inspected the gas tank, the carburetor, the commutator and the myriad of things which makes a car go—and at times prevents it from moving—but all to no avail.

In desperation he accepted the invitation of a friend to transport himself and family to their homes. Returning in the evening, he had another go at the balky motor but his endeavors were as fruitless as before. Finally he gave up and the car remained on the grounds all night.

Next morning a mechanic appeared, lifted the hood, poured a small quantity of gasoline into each of the cylinder cocks, stepped on the starter and was rewarded with the pleasant hum of the motor as he drove off. The professional touch had won.

CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN. Mayor Fisher this morning received a letter asking for co-operation in making the first annual course of practical agriculture at the Experimental Farm, Fredericton, a success, and he was asked to forward the names of young men from 16 years up who might want to take the course. The course will be given from November 5 to 8.

6 to 10 lbs. More Milk Per Day

Gained by clipping cows, and the milk stays sweet longer because it is cleaner.

Clipped cows require less feed and they put on weight easily. They are not bothered by lice or vermin which everybody knows keeps cows poor. Long hair invites vermin.
