New Peace Proposals From Ireland If Entente With Ulster Can be Made

BELIEVE OFFER TO ENTER COMMONWEALTH OF BRITISH DOMINIONS WILL BE MADE

Plebiscite of People of Southern Ireland One of Suggested Solutions—Dail Eireann in Secret Session Today—Rome Satisfied with Negotiations—Australian Criticism of De Valera's Stand.

Dublin, Aug. 18.—Debate on the reply of the Irish Republican parliament to the British government's offer of dominion status to Ireland was begun by that assembly in secret session here today. During public meetings held on Tuesday and Wednesday the members heard Eamon De Valera denounce the British offer, and assert that Ireland would insist upon separation from Great Britain, but with the exception of the applause which greeted his utterances, there was thought that some action might be taken by which observers could estimate the attitude of the majority toward absolute rejection of the terms submitted by Premier Lloyd George.

It was the general belief that the Dail Eireann would not break off the negotiations with Great Britain until it was proved today that the British government would accept the terms of the offer. It was also believed that the Dail Eireann would not break off the negotiations with Great Britain until it was proved today that the British government would accept the terms of the offer.

The possibility of calling a plebiscite by which the people of Southern Ireland might give their leaders a mandate governing their future activities in the negotiations remained today as one of the solutions of the situation. They arrived singly and in groups of young men and young women as most of the members are, with an occasional veteran such as Count Plunket and Prof. Stockley. All the women were in morning, some wearing widow's weeds. Most of these young Sinn Fein representatives are shy and bashful, avoiding any demonstration as far as possible and displaying particular skill in dodging the cameras men who are displaying much activity.

Judging from the reflections of public opinion however, the people of Dublin seem to have more confidence than many people abroad that the Sinn Fein hostilities will not be renewed. For instance, the "Irish Independent," which is closest to the Sinn Fein, says "We rejoice to find in Mr. De Valera's statement no suggestion that the negotiations are likely to be terminated."

London, Aug. 18.—Members of the British cabinet and leaders in both houses and parliament are keeping in close touch with departments in Dublin where the Irish Republican parliament is in session. Mr. Lloyd George was in conference with his ministers for many hours yesterday and it was understood that the Irish situation was the principal subject under consideration. The present session of the British parliament is to end tomorrow and it seems probable that in that brief interval no decisive step can be taken regarding Ireland. In any case, however, it is believed that the King's speech in proroguing parliament will be largely concerned with Irish affairs.

Outside Voices. London, Aug. 18.—In an editorial this morning, while confessing that the speech of Eamon De Valera Wednesday was discouraging, the London Times says: "We hesitate to believe the issues were raised will be lightly decided. During the past few days voices from the outside world have been reaching Ireland. There no longer is any doubt as to the general view of the British Commonwealth."

Refusal to accept the basis of dominion status is in effect reflection of the great mass of its citizens firmly believe. In the United States also important sections of opinion which in the past have been sternly critical of this country's attitude toward Ireland now require, in another light, the Irish leaders have begun to speak to the world in a language which the world finds it difficult to understand.

New York, Aug. 18.—With nearly one-third of the season yet to be played, National League sluggers already have rolled up 102 more home runs than they made during the entire season of 1920. The total to date is 383. Last year's total for the entire season was 281. The American League, despite the yeoman service of Babe Ruth, are trailing the Nationals by one circuit clout, with total to date of 302. The American total last season was 368. Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—Walter Hoover of the Duluth Boat Club has challenged Glick Kelly of the Maple Boat Club, world's champion amateur sculler, to a race for the Philadelphia Challenge Cup on Labor day, in connection with the middle states regatta. The challenge, signed P. P. Moore, chairman of the racing committee of the Duluth organization, asks that the six months' notification and training specified in the rules governing competition for the cup be waived, but indications early today were that this would be refused and an offer made to have the race on September 1, in a special race against Hoover.

Grand Circuit. Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—Weather conditions for the Grand Circuit races over the Belmont mile track were unfavorable this morning, but barring more rain the racing will be held on the regular order today, with the Bellevue-Stratford stake of $2,500 for 208 trotters as the feature event. There were ten of the fastest trotters of the year entered in this race. Total season, authorities estimate for 214 trotters brought together for the cup is claimed as the best field of three-year-olds ever assembled in the United States. There were nineteen entries in this event. Eighteen were named in the Keith MacLennan, president of the American Trotting Association, and eighteen also entered for the novelty race for trotters at one mile and 100 yards, which will be held over Saturday, and the original programme will be presented.

A further amendment limiting the bill to a two year period was likewise carried by 39 to 28. It is noteworthy that if the House of Commons rejects the amendments and the peers persist in supporting them, it will be necessary to prolong the session a month in order to give the bill protection as a money bill.

GERMAN APPEAL FOR ORPHANS. Circular Received in Montreal From Children's Association—Addressed to "Americans."

Montreal, Aug. 18.—That the efficiency for which Germany was singularly noted prior to the great war has not been by any means destroyed, is evidenced by the fact that the Association of Children's Friends of Clemmitz has taken advantage of the declaration of peace by Britain and the United States. A remarkable circular has been received by the Society for the Protection of Women and Children of Montreal from this association, appealing for aid for orphaned German children, overlooking, entirely, so it seems, that owing to Germany's ambitions there are thousands of orphaned children as deserving throughout Great Britain and the United States. The circular is addressed to "Americans" and may be that the signatories are unaware that Montreal is not a part of the republic to the south.

BETTER OUTLOOK FOR FUTURE, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Optimistic Speech in Caerphilly Election Campaign.

Hopeful for Success in Irish Negotiations—Welcomes Disarmament Discussion—People Growing Weary of Incitement to Class War.

London, Aug. 18.—Premier Lloyd George, in a message issued to the electors of the Caerphilly parliamentary division, where a by-election is in full progress, asking for their support for the coalition candidate, says: "There has been a remarkable change in the political horizon in the last few months. Tempests are subsiding. "There is a better spirit prevailing in the industrial world than there has been for a long time. "Here and there extremists still cry out: 'Destroy the capitalist, destroy private enterprise, destroy coalitions, let us socialize everything.' "But I believe the common sense of our people is growing weary of incitement to class war, of strikes and lock-outs, and threats of direct action, of sterile party strife. "There is a better outlook in Ireland as well. We have seen there a remarkable transformation. I pray with all my heart we may reach a settlement of the long controversies between the Irish and British peoples. "It has been a bitter and wasteful feud—in which there has been for ages a catalogue of disastrous blunders, by endless opportunities lost. Let us trust that this one will not pass in vain. "We are also engaged upon the problem of disarmament. "We accepted with joy and delight the invitation of the president of the U. S. and I pray that the result will be a path to peace that will make the Pacific ocean a really Pacific ocean. "These are the tasks on which the coalition is engaged, tasks that occupy our thoughts and demand our undivided attention. "Peace with Ireland, the ending of the deadly feud, the settlement of the Irish question, the glorious end of a splendid career, the organizing of peace and a pact of peace with the United States of America, and entering into arrangements to put and end to those swollen armaments of the world, which have slaughtered millions of mankind in the prime of life and left Europe half a wilderness, can you tell me why I should be attacked whilst I am engaged in these things?"

FIRE FIGHTERS RECEIVE PAY. Checks to the aggregate value of nearly $2,000 were issued this morning by E. S. Carter, secretary to Premier Foster, to men engaged in fighting fires in the Westfield district. They were issued for services from the latter part of July to August 14. A great deal of work at Westfield was entailed in getting the checks here this morning. Many of the accounts did not reach Fredericton until yesterday afternoon, and after that they had to be certified and checks made out for the amounts. Large numbers from other districts and some of those who had fought fires early in July appeared and presented their claims. They were disappointed at not finding checks ready for them. Mr. Carter has arranged with G. H. Prince, chief forester, to have Warden Brophy and Assistant Forester Webb at the government offices on Saturday morning to make a note of any complaints and explain to them when checks for different services would arrive.

NO PROGRESS IN MURDER QUEST

Berwick Suspect Eliminated—Check Up of Men Who Left City Since Crime was Committed.

The young man who was arrested in Berwick, N. S., and taken to Wolfville, where he was lodged in jail on suspicion of being the man sought in connection with the murder of little Sadie McAuley, has been ordered released. His photographs arrived in the city last night and when shown to the three little girls all were unanimous in the statement that he is not the man. They said he was too old and not at all in the face as the party suspected of the murder. This morning Sergeant Detective Power wired the chief of police in Wolfville, explaining this and thanking him for the interest manifested.

Photographs of the man arrested in Windsor, N. S., arrived at city headquarters this morning and this afternoon will be shown to the girls for identification. The detectives feel that he does not answer the description.

NEW PROPOSALS FROM IRELAND

(Continued from page 1.) quotes the Melbourne Herald as saying in commenting on the Irish situation that Ireland has no more right to secession than had the Southern States of America at the time of the civil war. The Argus is of the opinion that Sinn Fein, having refused dominion status, the duty of governing southern Ireland devolves upon the British government and add "we do not think De Valera is foolish enough not to bow to the inevitable, thereby postponing for the time being the realization of Irish aspirations, or reckless enough to declare himself an enemy of his people and plunge the country into strife."

PROVINCIAL ROADS.

Thanks to the progressive highway policy of the Foster government the province of New Brunswick has made a larger use than any other province in this Dominion of the federal appropriation for good roads. It has already received $2,828,253.29 on work done, and this work must be satisfactory to the federal road engineers before the money is paid. An Ottawa despatch says that this province will eventually get $1,102,776 in all, on the total estimated cost of $2,185,049 for 1,055.2 miles of road. Since the present government came into power the roads of this province have been greatly improved, and the present year has added materially to the mileage. This government has also constructed many new bridges of the most substantial character. The work has involved a large expenditure and the government in carrying on its general road work has had the same handicap all governments suffer, in that local road work is not done under contract does not measure up in quantity or quality, for the amount of money expended, with that which is performed under the terms of a contract. The old had notion that local road work is being done "for the government" or a real job when finished, still prevails to some extent; and yet the men who are responsible are not above asserting that too much money is spent for the results achieved, or desirable for the waste. The time must come when all road work will be so planned and supervised as to yield as good results as any that is done under contract. Meanwhile the roads are steadily improving, in spite of handicaps, and the evidence is found everywhere throughout the province.

A WARNING SUGGESTION

The Times desires to protest in the most vigorous terms against any movement in connection with aquatic sports that would dampen the ardor of young oarsmen, or tend to prevent the healthy development of local competition between crews of different clubs in clean amateur oarsmanship. Renforth has made an excellent start. So has Millidewell, So has Carleton. And so also should Hothey and each of the Improvement Leagues in St. John. An excellent beginning has been made. There should be at least eight or ten senior and junior fours, besides singles, each club or league confining itself to its own membership until the sport has been thoroughly established. We do not at this stage want one composite crew outclassing all others. We are not in this game at present to beat Halifax or any other city, but to encourage a healthy competition which in time will bring its own reward in world honors. Above all we want to keep the sport free from any taint of professionalism or of gambling. The dollar sign should be kept entirely off the standard of St. John aquatics, and the young oarsman should be encouraged to regard a defeat as merely an incentive to do better next time. We are doing very well. Indeed, we have accomplished a great deal in two years. Let the good work go on until we have a field of amateur oarsmen large enough to ensure for St. John a foremost place in all competitions.

THE INTERNATIONAL COURT

Today's cables tell us that the creation of an international court of justice is now assured. That is one very important outcome of the work of the League of Nations. Reviewing a recent speech by Lord Phillimore on this subject the Halifax Chronicle says: "The chief stumbling-block which has hindered the creation of the court in earlier years has been the fact that the nations could not agree on the method of the selection of judges, and this problem was by far the most difficult one with which the committee of Jurists has been faced. The solution was at last found in a scheme known as the Root-Phillimore project. It will be remembered that one of the principal men on the committee was Hon. Elihu Root of New York. Very briefly the method proposed was that nominations for the position of judge were to be made by each constituent state represented in the Hague Tribunal. Out of that list of nominated persons the council and the assembly were to choose eleven. In case the council and assembly could not agree a committee of conciliation was to be appointed, and in the event of still further disagreement the judges upon whom the council and assembly had agreed were to select the rest of their number."

The Holy See expresses a fervent wish that the Irish question may be settled to the satisfaction of both parties, by acknowledgment of their respective just aspirations. The trouble at the moment appears to be that Mr. De Valera does not recognize any just aspirations except those of the extremists among the Sinn Fein.

Samuel Gompers believes this content is on the verge of a trade revival. He may be right, but the signs are still few.

"What has his name to do with his fretfulness?" asked the unassuming wife. "Everything" replied the weired man. PROTECT THE PLAYGROUND. Replying to a letter in the press concerning parents for allowing their children to pick berries and play on the hills in rear of Douglas avenue, where little Sadie McAuley met such a tragic death, a north end resident writes: "Has it occurred to this thoughtful resident of the avenue who it is that creates such a place, one might say in the heart of the city? I am of the opinion that it is, for he asks: 'Will not the city fathers do something to safeguard their little ones?' It may be thought easier and cheaper to keep the children from such places, but I am of the opinion that it is neither. In the first place, we must remember that both in summer and winter children long for the country, and nobody will deny that it is the place for them; and when it is impossible for the parents to either take or send their children to the country, and when the children know of some place that at least resembles the country, they will go there, if possible, to enjoy themselves, regardless of anything that may be said. In the second place, would it not pay the city in stronger and healthier citizens to have a policeman on duty there, possibly mounted, to look after the children and drive those loafers and rummies out of their hiding place? Would it not be better for the city to spend a few dollars in placing a man here and let the children who cannot go to the country enjoy themselves than to either allow another tragedy to occur or deprive the little ones of this little bit of enjoyment? I am speaking from a little experience, for when a boy I have enjoyed more than one game of hide and seek and chase, etc., on these same hills, though living some little distance from them."

Miss Daisy Harrison of Gaudin Point has recently returned to her home after spending some time as the home economics worker for the county of Newport, R. I. She reports that the home economics educational endeavors under the university extension work of the United States colleges are rapidly becoming an important factor in both the rural and urban community life of the United States. She has many interesting things to tell of her work there and the people she met. She did much to increase the mutual understanding between the consumer and producer regarding foods, textiles and equipment.

OFFERS REFUSED BY "DUMBELLS"

Though Many Received to Join New York Production—Members of Soldier Company Close Eyes to Lure of Broadway.

New York, Aug. 18.—New York producers are still clamping on the trail of "The Dumbells." During their recent successful run here offers were received by a number of the members of the Canadian soldier company of roles in various New York productions. The boys rejected all these proposals as they were determined to keep the Canadian organization intact. But local producers have evidently not given up hope of enticing some of them to join the ranks of Broadway shows. Charles McLean, who plays one of the leading roles in "Big Bill Bang," "The Dumbells" show, has just received an offer from the Capitol Producing Corporation to play the principal comedy role in a new musical comedy which goes into rehearsal within a few weeks. Andre de Croisset, the French composer, has suggested the musical score for this piece, and he wrote from Paris suggesting that Mr. McLean be selected for the part. In his letter to Mr. McLean, Charles B. Craig, of the Capitol Producing Corporation, said: "Mr. de Croisset, having witnessed your performance a number of times around, believes you to be the very man for the part, and after watching you at the Ambassador Theatre in New York, I am sure we can talk him into it. He is a very fine actor, and you are available for the role."

GOLFER MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED

J. D. Edgar's Injuries Not Consistent With Auto Accident.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—The wound which caused the death of J. Douglas Edgar, former open golf champion of Canada, France and the South, could not have been caused by an automobile without inflicting other injuries which were not found on the body, according to Leonard Poole, chief of detectives, whose men are investigating Edgar's death. Poole asserts that his men have examined hundreds of automobiles, and that they have not found one, either with broken fenders or no fenders, which could have caused the injury. His men are working on the murder theory. The coroner's jury decided that he met death by bleeding from a severed femoral artery. All of his injuries were on the lower part of his body. The right hip was bruised and the skin slightly abraded. The wound which caused death was a narrow, deep stab on the inner side of the left leg, from which he bled to death. The physician at the inquest said that he found a projection in the flesh just below the left knee, which indicated the bullet might have been fractured or wrenched out of place. He would not say positively that it had been broken.

WAGE REDUCTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press)—It is officially announced by the ministry of labor that during July the wages of 8,600,000 workers were reduced, while about 5,000 received increases, making a net reduction in full time wages of about 1,070,000 sterling per week.

FAMOUS NOVA SCOTIAN. (Halifax Chronicle.) D'Arcy Ryan, the outstanding illuminating engineer of the world, is a "Blue-nose" and proud of it. His old home is in Kentville, where he returns frequently to visit his family, and, sometimes, to lure the speckled trout. His professional work calls him to all parts of the world. He has designed special illumination for the Panama Canal, London Underground Railway, the Maharajah in Palmyra in India, special effects at Niagara Falls, and most noteworthy, the lighting of the Panama Pacific Exposition. This particular piece of work has been commented on most favorably by the entire engineering profession. Mr. Edson was particularly well pleased with Mr. Ryan's work there. While the exposition was under way, Mr. Ryan had three hundred specially colored slides prepared at a cost of approximately $80,000. They are the most famous set of slides in existence. They measure five inches by seven inches, which is about four times the size of the ordinary lantern slide, and a picture is projected measuring twenty-four feet by thirty-six feet or about four times the size of the ordinary lantern picture. All these slides were colored under the microscope by the best artists obtainable.

NAPOLEON'S TOMB IS CRUMBLING

London, Aug. 1.—Napoleon's original tomb on St. Helena has fallen into a sad state of disrepair since the body was removed in state to the Invalides in Paris, eighty-one years ago, according to a letter received by Sir Lees Knowles, former cabinet minister, from a recent visitor to that remote island. "I walked to the tree and one-half miles up hill to Longwood, Napoleon's old home," the writer says, "and inspected his much neglected tomb, which is down in a deep corner of a deep valley—just a slab covered with dirty whitewash—no inscription whatever. The great around was unkept, and surrounded by a circle, about twenty paces in diameter, of tall trees, and there was nothing anywhere to tell a visitor when the body was removed, or to whom the old tomb belonged."

BURIAL SERVICE BY WIRELESS.

The Cunard Steamship Co. last week announced a singular occurrence at sea. The Carmania, bound from America, when 300 miles west of the Fastnet, received by wireless a message from the Canadian Trapper, of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Ltd., asking for the transmission to her by wireless of the words of the Burial Service. It appeared that a fireman on board the Canadian Trapper had been taken ill on the voyage and had died, and the captain, being desirous of reading the Burial Service over the body, discovered that there was no copy of the Prayer Book on board. Accordingly the Carmania's operator telegraphed by wireless the whole of the Burial Service in batches of 150 words at a time, and these messages were received while the service was being conducted. THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1921

RECENT WEDDINGS

Stears-Eagles.
A charming wedding took place at 4:45 yesterday afternoon at the St. John's (Stone) church when Canon G. A. Kuhnig united in marriage Miss Edythe Mary Eagles, daughter of John S. Eagles and the late Edith U. Eagles, to William Godolphin Stears, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stears, of this city. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Beatrice Eagles, of Newport, (N. I.), was gowned in a traveling suit of blue serge with hat to match and she wore a grey squirrel tie. She also carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. The groom was supported by his brother, E. LeBaron Stears, of Moncton. The wedding march was played by Robert S. Coupe. Mrs. George K. Bell sang "O perfect love" and the choir of St. James church sang several selections. The bride, who was formerly employed by the Western Union and the groom, who is employed by L. L. Sharpe & Son, were the recipients of many beautiful gifts including a substantial check from the groom's father. The groom's gift to the bride was a seal scarf and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch, and to the ushers and ushers gold cuff links.

The church, where the wedding was held, was decorated for the occasion with golden rods, ferns and evergreens. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stears left on the train for a honeymoon trip to Montreal and New York, on their return they will reside at 156 Germain street.

Lyons-Sisson.
A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the officiating clergyman, 88 Duke street, yesterday afternoon, Aug. 17, when Rev. F. S. Dowling united in marriage Miss Cecil E. Sisson, of Andover (N. B.), and Owen P. Lyons of Boston. After two weeks spent in New Hampshire Mr. and Mrs. Lyons will take up their residence in Boston.

DeMerchant-Kee.
Miss Ethel E. Kee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kee, and Oscar L. DeMerchant were married in St. James' church yesterday afternoon by Rev. H. A. Cody. The bride wore a costume of midnight blue satin and a hat of the same color with a black silk-plush hat, she carried a shower bouquet of Opheelia roses. The church was very prettily decorated with flowers and ferns, the work having been done by girl friends of the bride. During the ceremony appropriate hymns were sung by the church choir and Heber C. Collins sang "Because." Miss Kee is a graduate nurse, having obtained her training at the Public Hospital and is very well known among the younger people of the city. Mr. DeMerchant is a native of Perth (N. B.). He went overseas with the 116th Battalion and served in France until late in the war. He is now engaged in the lumber business at Quebec, N. B., and Mrs. DeMerchant left by the Valley train for the Tobique. They will make the return journey by canoe and later take up their residence in Quebec.

Parker-Stevens.
A wedding of much interest was solemnized at the home of Rev. O. E. and Mrs. Stevens, Clementvale (N. S.), on Wednesday morning, Aug. 10, when Miss Hazel B. Stevens, B. A., eldest daughter of the officiating clergyman, became the bride of Oswald Waldo Parker, of Wakefield (Mass.). The groom was a member of the class '16, Acadia College, and now a public accountant, Boston. The bride is a graduate of Acadia College of the class '16. Mr. and Mrs. Parker carry good wishes of their many home friends.

Patterson-McGirr.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waring Harrington, 68 Mecklenburg street, last evening, Rev. ## "Sovereign" Electric Flatirons

There is nothing considered any better by folks who know the difference between electric ironing and the drudgery of using ordinary irons.

Ordinary irons make sad ironing days. Probably that's why they are called sad irons.

It is cheering to know, however, that thousands of homes throughout the country no longer find ironing day a trouble day.

"Sovereign" Electric Flatirons have driven the old-fashioned flatirons to the obscurity of some out-of-the-way shelf, thus doing away with their list of worries.

A "Sovereign" Iron consumes only a few cents worth of electricity in doing the week's ironing of the average sized family.

New Brunswick Makes Best Use of Federal Road Fund

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Of the $30,000,000 federal appropriation for good roads, the provinces to date have only undertaken projects which would entitle them to assistance from the Dominion government to the extent of $7,660,604.48. The federal government only pays its forty per cent of the estimated cost when the work is completed. Up to August 1 the total amount paid was $1,051,773.63. Looking over the whole field of Dominion road building activities it appears that New Brunswick has made the best

FRANK CRITICISM FOR BOTH SIDES

Miners' Acting President Says Some Pointed Things About Both Government and Federation Regarding Coal Strike.

London, Aug. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—Herbert Smith, acting president of the Miners' Federation, said some frank things at the annual meeting of the federation yesterday at Llandudno concerning the blunders made in the recent coal strike.

Owing to the economic position of the coal trade during the war, he said, "the sense of power and importance developed in the minds of workmen which had not been altogether healthy, gave many men an exaggerated opinion of their powers."

Alluding to the government's sudden decontrol of the mining industry, Mr. Smith said this action made it virtually impossible to proceed with the negotiations then underway for an equitable distribution of wages and profits. The government, for this act, if no other, said Mr. Smith, should cease to hold office.

The federation leaders, however, continued Smith, lacked vision and enterprise in their subsequent action. Said he: "It was a wrong policy for the districts not to have concentrated on the wages question, upon which they had public support. It was a wrong decision to fight the pool issue. The withdrawal of 'safety men' from the mines was another mistake, and the consequences are now seen in the physical breakdown of many mines."

Alluding to aspersions upon the loyalty of federation officials, Mr. Smith said they were too loyal to the public majority rule; too loyal to their colleagues while swallowing their convictions and better judgment because they were outvoted by the usual narrow majority vote.

PREMIER HUGHES AND EMPIRE STATUS

Predicts a Bright Future for Australasian Textile Industry—Preferential Tariff.

London, Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Speaking at a public gathering in his honor at Bradford, Premier Hughes of Australia, in making allusion to the words of a previous speaker regarding the overseas dominion remaining within the empire offered the following comment:

"Did it ever occur to you that this is not a one-sided thing and that we now stand on a footing of absolute equality. The time has long gone by when you might have said 'we hope you will always remain members of the empire'—meaning by that a greater market for your goods. On our side, we hope that you will always be a market for our goods, but whether you are or are not, let me remind you that for the last twenty years we have given you a substantial preference in the markets of Australia, although at the same time we have had to fight desperately for a commercial foothold in the island of our race. And even now while you speak of empire, do not forget that you good people of Bradford buy wool for your knitting mills wherever it best suits you. Let me tell you that in twenty years we shall be on your heels in textiles, and in fifty years we shall outstrip you."

TWO ENQUIRIES ON SAME VESSEL

Mina Brae Twice Grounded on One Trip in St. Lawrence—Contradictory Evidence.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—It is a rare occurrence to hold an enquiry into two groundings of the same vessel on the same trip up the St. Lawrence, but this is what was the duty of the marine court yesterday, when two separate enquiries were held for two separate groundings of the steamship Mina Brae, Imperial Mail Company tanker.

The steamship first grounded off Matane on July 30, when considerable damage was done to her side by a boulder, causing the loss of a good many tons of oil and gasoline.

The high tide floated the vessel off and she proceeded up the river St. Lawrence to Quebec and thence to Montreal, only to run ashore again just above Sorel, and lose a good deal more of her inflammable cargo. Captain A. L. Owen and First Mate Eliaz Jones completely contradicted each other in evidence.

Daniel Rouker, B. A., of Sydney, the valedictorian of this year's graduating class at St. Francis Xavier's University, in the city visiting his uncle, Edward Connolly, 221 City Line. Mr. Rouker, who is a native of St. John, will leave in a few days for the Jesuit novitiate at Lacapelle (Que.).

POPULATION OF ST. JOHN, 46,504; INCREASE 9 P. C.

Increase in 1911, When Figures Were 42,511 Was 4.42 Per Cent.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Census figures just made available today give St. John a population of 46,504 as compared with 42,511 in 1911 and 40,711 in 1901. These figures are not final as there were a greater number of absentee cards in the case of St. John than with most cities of the size. By June 1 and before the census taker got around a surprisingly large number of families had gone to Robbsey or to summer resorts scattered along the St. John river.

The dominion bureau of statistics points out that it is the duty of any one who thinks he or she has been omitted from the census to notify the bureau and an investigation will be made. The figures do not include East St. John, Fairville, and other nearby places in St. John county, which, with the city probably make the population about 55,000.

Amherst (N. S.), population 9,975; 1911, 8,975; 1901, 4,965; increase over 1911, 1,002, or 11.16 per cent; 1911 over 1901, 4,009, or 80.77 per cent. St. John (N. B.), population 46,504; 1911, 42,511; 1901, 40,711. Increase over 1911, 3,993, or 9.38 per cent; 1911 over 1901, 1,800, or 4.42 per cent.

MORE ARRESTS IN THE ROSS MURDER CASE AT NEGUAC

Newcastle, Aug. 17.—Millet S. Stewart, held in connection with the murder of James Ross, of Tabouline, testifying at the resumption of the inquest before Coroner Benson, at Neguac this morning, admitted going to the house where Ross was on the night of August 2, the night on which Ross was murdered, but denies that he fired the shot which killed Ross. He denied having any weapon on his person that night, but added that after he had left the house he heard three shots from that vicinity.

After the inquest, four persons, three men and one woman, were arrested in connection with the murder and were brought from Neguac to Newcastle to be held and lodged in the county jail. They are: Fred Philippe, Joseph Philippe, John Savoy and Victoria Philippe, all of Neguac. They were in charge of Sheriff Cassidy, Chief of Police Coughlan and Policeman A. Dickson.

Your child's health

YOUR child's health depends upon correct natural development—lungs—muscles—bones.

If the feet are crippled by ill-fitting shoes that prevent natural movement they will induce a stooping walk—the chest will not develop—the lungs will suffer. A child that walks well is always healthy.

HURLBUT cushion sole shoes are made to develop the foot on sound natural lines and induce a free, natural upright carriage. They are well and insure the lowest cost per day of wear.

Write for booklet about Hurlbut "Re-built Service" and we will tell you the name of the Hurlbut dealer nearest to you.

The accident was caused, the court found, because the ship was not properly navigated.

THREE CARS FOR WEST END ROUTE

The manager of the Power Company announced yesterday afternoon that he expected to have three cars in operation on the West St. John Friday morning. He said that as only one track would be ready for use in Douglas avenue on that day, three cars were all which the company could operate for about ten more days, when he hoped to be able to place the full service on that line. Regarding the work in Prince Edward street, he said that the company's work in connection with laying one track there had been completed and that they were awaiting the completion of the concrete work by the city before commencing work on the other track.

ROTHESAY CHAPTER BRIDGE AND TEA

The bridge and tea held by the Duke of Rothesay chapter of I. O. O. E., yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. William Allison at Rothesay was one of the most successful and enjoyable entertainments that has been held in Rothesay this season. There were thirty-eight tables of bridge players and many guests who did not wish to play came for the tea which was served to them under the trees in the spacious grounds. Many of the guests came from St. John and other places outside of Rothesay and the rows of automobiles outside the grounds announced clearly that there was some very popular function in progress. Miss Annie Puddington, the regent, and Mrs. Allison received the guests. Mrs. DeB. Carrite was the general convener. Mrs. Thomas Bell and Miss Allison were in charge of the bridge tables. Mrs. F. W. Hoach, Mrs. Harold Ellis and Mrs. John McIntyre were conveners for the tea and the members of their committee were Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Hooper, Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. F. Blanchet, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. H. Campbell and Miss Lizzie Thompson. The decorations were particularly attractive. The color scheme of each room and of the verandah hangings was carried out in the flowers which were everywhere in great profusion. Pink dahlias were used in the pink room and in the library, nasturtiums in the sun porch, flex in the living room, golden glow in the billiard room and nasturtiums in the dining room where the tea table was placed.

Those who presided at the tea table were Mrs. Oliver Peters, Mrs. Joseph Henderson and Mrs. Harold Ellis. Among the girls who assisted as waitresses were the Misses Henderson, Doreen McAvity, Ruth Robinson, Margaret and Katherine Peters, Helen Allison and Margaret Hoach.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR NOVA SCOTIA FOLKS TO REGATTA HERE

Apparently large numbers of supporters of the St. Mary's Club of Halifax will accompany the club's excursion to St. John for the regatta at Renfrew on Tuesday. A special excursion over the D. A. R. to Digby and thence to St. John by boat has been arranged and an announcement in a Nova Scotia paper says that already a large number have booked passage for the trip. A drawing for free transportation to St. John was held by the club and Miss Rita Larkin and George Perrier were the winners. Both ladies and gentlemen are coming over to root for their home club. Delegations from Windsor and Kentville will also take in the excursion trip.

How Old Age Comes To Those Who Invite It

—“There's a Reason”

THERE are plain rules, well understood, about keeping a piece of machinery in repair and running smoothly.

Is the body as important as an automobile engine or a furnace?

Is it as reasonable to talk about the best ways of sustaining the body as it is to talk of proper care for the engine or the furnace?

Well, then—

The body is strengthened, warmed, sustained—kept young—in a very practical and scientific way.

Some Simple Facts

Food is heat and power and renewal for the body.

After all, there's nothing mysterious or magical about what food does in serving human need.

Nothing mysterious, but much that is interesting—and important.

Some foods are particularly good for the body.

GRAPE-NUTS is such a food.

Grape-Nuts is made from whole wheat and malted barley flour—product of the two grains which are richest in food elements for human need. Under the outer, or bran coating of the grain, nature has placed phosphates and lime which go to the making of bone, and the red blood corpuscles.

This may sound like physiology, but it works like health.

Hunger Not Cheated

All the richness of the kernel, together with essential mineral elements, are retained in the making of Grape-Nuts. Often, in the manufacture of foods, some of the most vital of nature's provisions are thrown away.

The long baking process (Grape-Nuts is the result of 20 hours continuous baking) partially pre-digests the food substances, develops the starches into dextrin and maltose—giving to Grape-Nuts its own natural sweetness—and produces a food which, when served with milk or cream, has been found by chemists to be almost perfectly balanced in qualities of nutrition.

The Enemies Within

Now, old age begins in the larger intestine.

This is what the scientists have found who know the human body as the mechanical expert knows his automobile engine.

No need to go into the particulars—it's enough to say that certain effects produced by food which is slow in digesting develop fermentation and other conditions which cause the bodily machine to slow down and wear out sooner than necessary.

Grape-Nuts digests quickly and wholesomely.

Much of this is due to the fact that the long baking has partly pre-digested the nutrient; partly to the fact that there is contained in Grape-Nuts the essential “roughness” to stimulate the action of the intestines.

Health's Splendid Champion

Grape-Nuts is a delightful food, for it is uniquely rich and sweet in flavor, and always crisp. It is unusually nutritious, for it has all the body-building elements of the most perfect food grains. It is a convenient and economical food, for it is ready to eat from the package, keeps in any climate, and is appetizing to the last bit.

It builds strength and vigor without taxing the digestion or leaving, within the body, elements whose familiar harm is really the beginning of “old age.”

Grape-Nuts has been a favorite food, around the world, for nearly a quarter of a century.

And there is a reason!

An Expedition to Explore Roosevelt's "River of Doubt"

The tree sloth which climbs trees and eats the bark

Scientists to Spend Two Years in South American Wilderness First Traveled by Colonel Roosevelt

By Dr. W. H. Ballou

THERE may be as strange animals, plants and Indian tribes elsewhere in the world as in South America, but no one would venture to say where to look for them. Little that comes out of that archaic continent remotely resembles such life as we are familiar with, nor has any man of science, from Agassiz to today, been able to find other than hypothetical relationships elsewhere on earth with its living creatures and its tangled masses of vegetation. The nearest that has been come to similar creatures refers to certain fishes in Africa almost directly across the Atlantic Ocean from the mouth of the Amazon. On this basis, together with a similarity of certain fossil forms of the African and South American coasts, geologists have set up a former hemisphere, which they call "Gondwana Land," as representing a time when there was no southern Atlantic Ocean and when an east and west continent replaced the present South America and Africa. To the mind of geology, the Atlantic Ocean is rather a young fellow and the Pacific still younger, if not in its youth. In former times there were horizontal oceans and continents, which some earth shake-up has changed into north and south running lands and waters. Every expedition which returns from South America brings back something entirely new to knowledge. Although the sum total of our knowledge of South America makes many books, what is not known, in comparison, would mean a vast library.

An expedition has just sailed from New York to make a two-year intensive exploration of a section of South America, covering a million square miles, into which no white man has ventured so far as is known. This section is largely the bed of the ancient Andean Sea, dried up for the last several geological ages, but now largely overgrown with tangled jungles and forests, penetrated by rivers and bodies of fresh waters. The area forms sections, or hinterlands, of Brazil, Ecuador and Peru on the east side of the Andes and partially along the slope of the mountains. If you exactly divided South America into north and south sections, it would lie wholly in the northern half at the southern end.

Its letterhead reads: "The Mulford Biological Exploration of the Amazon Basin; H. H. Rusby, M. D., Director, College of Pharmacy, Columbia University, New York City." Six men of science accompany Dr. Rusby, a moving picture outfit and a rifleman. The roster includes Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician and vice-president of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, who is to study conditions that affect white races; Dr. William M. Munn, government entomologist, who will collect and study insects; Dr. Everett Pearson,

Colonel Roosevelt and Colonel Rondon, photographed with a day's bag of game at Porto Campo

University of Indiana, to study and collect fishes; Dr. Orman E. White, Brooklyn Botanical Garden, representing the Harvard University herbarium; George S. McCarthy, Woodbury, N. J., rifleman; Gordon McCasagh, Oriental scholar, to direct motion picture work, and Owen Cattell, photographer.

Dr. Rusby will concern himself in searching for new medicinal drug plants. In addition he will have an eye out to collect and photograph certain other objects, a description of which is outlined below. Dr. Rusby may well answer to the popular term of "tough guy." He is undertaking, at the age of seventy-six years, the roughest type of exploration. He started on the trip after six weeks of confinement with pleurisy, at La Caruso, against all advice and appeals of family, physicians and friends. He is perfectly familiar with all the conditions and hazards to be encountered. He made the trip entirely across South America in 1890, at the latitude of Rio de Janeiro, at a cost of only $6,000, while the first estimate for the present expedition, owing to higher costs, is $50,000. The official announcement of itinerary for the coming exploration reads: "From La Paz the expedition will plunge into the unknown terrain and traverse the uncharted regions of the Madeira and Amazon rivers. It will cross the Andes at an elevation of 19,000 feet, beginning at Antofagasta, Chile. It will trace the Amazon to its source. The territory passed over by the late Colonel Roosevelt will be traced and his River of Doubt charted to its source."

All that is known of the River of Doubt is contained in Roosevelt's work "Through the Brazilian Wilderness," Charles Scribner's Sons, publishers. From this work the following much condensed account of the mysterious stream is taken by permission:

Natives of Matto Grosso participating in a dance for the members of the Roosevelt expedition

"The region through which it flows was unknown, no civilized man having ever penetrated it. All conjecture as to what the river was, its length, its place of entering into some highway river, was mere guesswork. Colonel Rondon, Brazilian explorer, in 1869 entered it upon his maps as the Rio da Duvida, or River of Doubt, having come across a part of it and could only guess where it debouched. It might go into the Gy-Parana, in which case its course would be very short; it might flow into the Madeira low down, in which case it would be very long; or, which was unlikely, it might empty into the Tapajoes. So I combined my expedition with a new one starting out by Colonel Rondon, in an effort to find out something about it.

"On February 27, 1914, we started down the River of Doubt into the unknown, not knowing whether we should come out later on the Gy-Parana or Madeira or where, whence, which. We only realized that the stream had been properly christened. Our general course was northward, toward the equator, through a vast forest. . . . We had a hard and dangerous but very successful trip. No fewer than six weeks were spent slowly, with peril and exhausting labor, forcing our way down through what seemed a literally endless succession of cataracts and rapids. For forty-eight days we saw no human beings. One of our best men lost his life in the rapids. Under the strain one of the men went completely mad, shirked all his work, stole his comrade's food, and when punished by the sergeant he, with cold blooded deliberation, murdered the offender and fled into the wilderness. Colonel Rondon's dog, running ahead of him while hunting, was shot by two Indians and by its death probably saved the life of its master. We have put on the map about 300 miles of the river, of which the upper course was unknown and unguessed by anybody, while the lower course, while known for years to a few rubber men, was utterly unknown to map-makers. It is the chief affluent of the Madeira, which in itself is the chief affluent of the Amazon.

"It was time to get out. The wearing work, under very unhealthy conditions, was telling on every one. Half of the camaradas had been down with fever and were very much weakened. Only a few of them retained their original physical and moral strength. Some had had sores on their legs from bruises received from water work. I was in worse shape. The after effects of jungle fever still hung on. My leg, which had been hurt while working in the rapids with a sunken canoe, had taken a turn for the bad and developed an abscess. I could hardly hobble and was pretty well laid up. When my serious trouble came we had only canoe riding ahead of us. It is not ideal for a sick man to spend the hottest hours of the day stretched on the boxes in the bottom of a small dug-out, under the wellnigh intolerable heat of a torrid sun of the mid-tropics, varied by blinding, trenching downpours of rain, yet I could not be sufficiently grateful for the chance to get out. . . . And finally we saw the Dipper above the horizon."

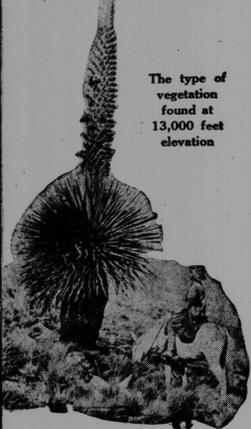

One has to read this wonderful book clear through to know something of the awful hazards of exploration in the interior of South America. Yet the Rusby expedition, notwithstanding Roosevelt's emphatic declaration in the book that it is no business proposition, no place to risk the lives of good men, will take similar chances, and probably be even more grateful when the chance comes, if ever, to get out alive, however crippled. Rusby saw strange things on his last hurried trip, but was unable either to collect or photograph them. Further, he got accounts from natives of even stranger things, which he feels he must get in touch with at all cost of life and limb. He gave me the story of these things as he saw them himself or heard them from the natives. Here, in brief, is his chronicle from his own lips: "The Indians who shot the dog of Colonel Rondon were identified by the peculiar arrows and arrow points left on the field, a tribe known as the Parens Tin Tin. They are so primitive in structure that scientists refer to them as 'fossil Indians,' meaning that they belong to a past age of the world, the Pleistocene. Only two of them have ever been killed and examined, so far as there is record. These two had such peculiar sex organs that the organs were preserved as curiosities, one set of which Dr. Rusby owns and the other set of which is in the museum of Para. After killing the dog these queer tribal representatives must have heard the sound of guns, and being wary and superstitious fled into the bush. At least, neither the Roosevelt nor other expedition ever saw representatives of the tribe alive. Hence the anxiety of Rusby to get in touch with them. The bows taken from the two dead types years ago were nine feet in length and of prodigious strength. The arrows were six feet long, the tips three inches wide and spoon shaped at the points, the spoons being an inch deep. The tips were feathered so that the arrows in flight revolved with great rapidity, going long distances with ability to cut off a man's head and completely penetrate body and bones.

The most deadly poison used on arrow tips which Rusby heard of comes from a peculiar species of frog, of which there is no zoological knowledge and which he hopes to collect. It must be found by collecting all species of frogs until the right one is located. The story is that the natives sweat the frog or toad, whichever it is, over a fire by fastening the creature alive to a thong. The sweat from its body is collected by dripping into gourds and is a white, milky substance. A mere touch of the liquid is sufficient to kill a man. So virile is the poison that on arrow points fifty years old it is as deadly as when fresh.

The type of vegetation found at 13,000 feet elevation

To Search for New Medicinal Plants—Strange Animal and Vegetable Life Which Thrives in the Perilous Jungles

Dr. Rusby particularly desires to find and collect a plant of similar nature to hashish, a word the meaning of which seems to be "assassin." The natives call the plant Caspi. Humboldt witnessed its effects and Richard Spruce saw the plant, a large shrub, covered with stinging hairs and bearing poisonous red fruit from flaming blossoms. So far as is known, it belongs to a great order of harmless plants known as Malpighiaceae, of which this, if found, will be the only medicinal member. Weiss, a well known South American explorer, at least got a glimpse of a cup of the decoction of the plant and noted its effects on a native. It is alleged to be a drink used by certain tribes of natives before going into battle. Its effect is such that the warriors run amuck, unfeeling of man or beast and fighting to the last extremity. After killing as many of the enemy as remain on the ground the warriors go into a trance until the effects pass off.

The natives told Dr. Rusby of a snake-catching bird, of which we have no knowledge, differing from the American snake-catcher, companion to the cormorant. The natives use the bird as a retriever and as a guard for their habitations against snakes. When set down in the bush it captures all types of snakes found, bringing them to its master, the same as a dog gathers birds. It is a land bird, described as the size of a stork, with long, very speedy legs.

Dr. Rusby also is anxious to get specimens of the so-called man-eating fish Roosevelt encountered. This fish is named the piranha or cannibal fish. Of it Roosevelt says in his book above named: "We caught many fish belonging to the most formidable genus, the fish that eats men when it can get a chance. It is the most ferocious fish extant. Unlike most other carnivorous fish, the piranhas will attack anything of any size. They will snap off fingers trailed in the water from canoes. They rend and devour men or beasts wounded in water. Blood excites them to madness. They tear waterbirds to pieces and bite off tails of other fish when hooked. They are stout bodied, with blunt jaws armed with razor-edged, wedge-shaped teeth."

PREPARING FOR RENFORTH DAY

Halifax Oarsmen Will be Well Represented at Maritime Rowing Championships.

The oarsmen of the North West Arm and St. Mary's Clubs are busily engaged on arrangements for their trip to the Maritime Championships at Renforth, N. B., on Tuesday of next week.

The North West Arm Club party of about twenty-five will leave on Sunday night by the C. N. B. going direct to Renforth and that avoiding the bad shifts at Digby and St. John.

John Power's single shell was so badly damaged on route from Buffalo that it is unfit for use, and Jim Gowen of the North West Arm Club, who is also a member of St. Mary's Society, has offered to Power, a college mate of his, the use of his Stims single, which is almost identical in construction with Power's own boat.

Paris, Aug. 18.—A fatal duel between two men with knives, a fight between two girls armed with scissors over an unfaithful lover, the murder of a soldier outside of a man who tried to kill his wife, and of another who killed his mistress, and the murder of her former lover by a girl at a crowded race meet, are some of the week-end crimes in papers.

The wave of killing and violence which has continued all summer is calling forth loud denunciation on the part of the press, which condemns the leniency of magistrates and of the government in including many criminals in the general post-war amnesty.

People carrying arms for defence and for offence is stated by gunsmiths to be enormously greater than ever before, and it appears that if arms are bought occasionally for defence, they are being used freely for attack.

The police and the government are puzzled whether to strictly enforce the law against carrying arms or to allow everyone to carry them.

COMMANDMENTS FOR MOTORISTS
A St. John motorist brought The Times a clipping setting forth the "ten commandments" for driving, and said he would suggest two more—one that both lights should be kept burning at all times to avoid confusion in the mind of a motorist coming the other way; and the other that in turning a street corner the driver should not cut across, but right up and turn the corner as nearly as possible at right angles, thus avoiding possible collisions at a crowded traffic street crossing.

1. Drive on the proper side of the road; it's just as good as the other.

2. Slow down when approaching a cross-road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.

3. Look out for children. You can never tell what they'll do, and you're always wrong if you hit one.

4. Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he's there for your good, and he's got a tough job.

5. Be sure that your "dimmers" really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.

6. Read and obey the warning signs; they're not put up as ornaments.

7. If you feel you've got to speed do it where you won't kill anybody but yourself.

8. When making minor repairs, stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.

9. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day the jury may call it manslaughter.

10. Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life least of all your own.

BOYS GOOD WORK

The good work for the needy ones who suffered loss in the Westfield fire goes steadily on and co-operation is the watchword. Last week the ladies of the Pandemic club raised $100 and presented it to Mrs. Robert Black of Ononetto who with her husband had come to this country recently from England. They lost everything in the fire. Not to be outdone by their seniors, six boys of Pandemic organized and carried through a pantry sale which was held yesterday afternoon on the lawn of Charles Swanton. After a busy day in which everything was sold the boys found that they had realized $86. The money was given to Mrs. Black last evening and no words could express her gratitude for this second demonstration of kindness on the part of the people of Pandemic. The boys were highly gratified with their success. All were under fourteen years of age. Their names were Russel Fleet, Charles Swanton, Noel Fleming, Neilson Lewis, George Chilton and Douglas McAndrews.

G. O. Spencer of Moncton, president of the N. B. branch of the society, announced that the entertainment committee had arranged for the ladies to visit various places in the city, including an inspection of the N. B. Telephone system and the H. M. C. Cambrian, after which they will proceed to the Manor House for tea, returning in time to take in the show at the Imperial. The meeting then adjourned to meet this afternoon at 2.30.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL MEETS

Unification of Port Control Stressed—The Lowering of Freight Rates on C. N. R.—Mediterranean Cargo from Here.

At the meeting of the council of the board of trade this morning the need for further development of the port of St. John and the unification of port control was strongly stressed, and it was determined that the question should be taken up before the full board at its next meeting and a decision reached as to the method to be employed to secure that development. A special committee will be appointed for that purpose.

A progress report as to the marking of imported goods was submitted by the wholesale interests committee. The secretary reported that the matter of landing the maritime portion of the Mediterranean cargo of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine ship at either Halifax or St. John had been taken up with the management of the line at Montreal and that a reply had been received that if 200 tons of cargo could be assured the ship would land at Halifax. Halifax interests have advised the board that such a guarantee has been given and that the ship will call at Halifax. Halifax and vicinity have already contributed 180 tons, St. John is expected to come up with 20 tons.

The council approved the resolution of the Calgary board of trade asking for a conference to consider the live stock situation of Canada.

Correspondence was read from the Halifax Board of Trade with respect to the lowering of railway freight rates on the Intercolonial portion of the Canadian National Railways. It was pointed out that the council had already asked that consideration be given to this matter.

The council approved of the "Buy in Canada" recommendation of the Canadian Manufacturers Association. The resolution of the Canadian Manufacturers Association with respect to a general taxation policy, federal, provincial and municipal, was referred to the legislation committee of the council to bring in a report.

PLAN ELEVATOR FOR CITY HALL

Matter Before Council Meeting Today—Dufferin Avenue Wants Water and Sewerage.

At this morning's committee meeting of the common council Hugh Bruce of Dufferin & Bruce was heard with reference to water and sewerage connections in Dufferin avenue. The matter of paving had been settled and now came the question of water and sewerage. Commissioner Thornton brought up the matter of the installation of an elevator in city hall and the city engineer was instructed to present plans and specifications which he had prepared.

Mr. Bruce said that there were sixteen lots on each side of Dufferin avenue and it was desired to have the necessary installations made and charged against the land. This would be a similar matter to that of Douglas avenue. Mr. Bruce presented plans of Dufferin avenue. The matter was referred to the commissioner of water and sewerage. Mr. Bruce was told to put his application in writing.

Commissioner Frink said he thought the work might be done this fall but Road Engineer Hatfield said it might better stand until spring.

Commissioner Thornton brought up the matter of the installation of an elevator in city hall. The matter had been held up providing the possibility of the erection of a municipal building. The committee had prepared plans and specifications and had submitted an estimate of the cost. He moved that he be authorized to call for tenders, the cost to be borne by bond issue.

Commissioner Frink said it would be a very desirable innovation in the building as three flights of stairs was a long climb. The mayor said the stairs were dangerous. It was decided to have the engineer submit the plan.

Commissioner Jones said that until the matter of the other building was decided on, this matter should be left in abeyance. He doubted that an elevator in the building would result in its bringing any higher price. Commissioner Thornton said the commissioners had exercised the greatest frugality and he thought they would be justified in making the necessary outlay.
