How to Buy or Sell a Home to the Best Advantage

To Save Your Building Costs Means to Increase Your Investment

Own your own home! A large percentage of the people who don't own—if they knew it. It is cheaper to pay a substantial first payment on a good property and then arrange for payments that you can easily meet, than to pay rent all your life. Reliable real estate men will tell you this. But suppose you own your own home and have some money to invest. Nothing better than good homes. The rate of interest is good and your money absolutely SAFE. And the place above all places to find such chances is on our Classified page thru the use of our little Want Ads. The Money Way starts by learning first to—

Order Now and Pay in December

This year, to offset abnormal manufacturing conditions, make November your Christmas Shopping Month. Certain lines will be "sold out" during the usual December rush. Avoid being disappointed. Possibly in the ordinary way it would not be convenient to make your purchases so early—so we have made arrangements to receive your order in November "on deposit" and to hold the parcel in readiness for Christmas delivery.

All you have to do is to send us 25 per cent. of the total cost of purchases. We will get the parcel ready and will hold till we hear again from you, enclosing the balance.

WOMAN'S DEATH LONDON SENSATION

Moved in Society Circles as Mrs. Haynes, Divorcee of Canadian

London, Nov. 21—London is in the midst of a social sensation of the first order over the sudden death of Mrs. Alma Verceira Steane under circumstances somewhat resembling Billie Carlton's tragic end after the Victory Ball of last year.

Mrs. Steane was a mystery to her friends. Various accounts of her antecedents have been published, only intensifying this newest mystery, but the correct version is in a position to give the authentic facts of her history in England whither she came six years ago, accompanied by her eight-year-old son.

She first took a studio in Cheyenne Walk, Chelsea. She mixed in with an artistic set and always had considerable means, and entertained at expensive hotels—one of her methods of getting into London society. She was taken up by the Princess Monaco, formerly the Duchess de Richelieu, nee Heine, who was born in New Orleans. The princess introduced her to all her friends. At this time she was known as Mrs. Layne, although she had said she had divorced her husband in America.

A seventeen she married Mr. Haynes, or Haynes, described as a Canadian, twenty years older than herself, and whom she divorced in the American courts.

Mrs. Steane called herself Mrs. Alma Verceira Haynes in the register on her marriage with Capt. Steane, a young man of twenty-eight, who served with a Manchester regiment during the war, though he is said to be of German descent, his father's name being Steine.

As she had given herself out as of Austrian birth, and as Prince Monaco's friends included many members of the United States diplomatic corps and staff officers, Mrs. Haynes's association with these individuals caused some one during the war to put Scotland Yard on her track as a possible spy. However, she satisfied her inquisitors, it is now said, by proving that she really was born of English parents in America. She was one of the most perfectly dressed women in London. One of her friends estimated she could not have spent less than $10,000 a year on clothing alone.

RECENT DEATHS

James Morrison.
James Morrison, son of the late John Morrison of St. Andrews, and brother of the late Mrs. Richard Davis, died in Los Angeles (Cal.) on November 8 aged eighty years. He is survived by one brother, Hugh Morrison of Los Angeles.

Robert G. Stewart.
The death of Robert G. Stewart, who for forty-five years was postmaster at Garnett, St. John county, occurred yesterday after he had been ill for only two days with pneumonia. Mr. Stewart was seventy-six years of age and had been engaged in farming and lumbering for many years. He is survived by his wife, five daughters, Mrs. Frederick Walters, Loch Lomond; Mrs. George Redmore, St. John; Mrs. Frederick Curry, Amherst (N. S.), and the Misses Margaret and Isabel at home; and three sons, John of Garnett; Ernest and Roy at home. One sister, Mrs. Edward Moore, St. John, also survives. The funeral will take place Sunday with service at 78 Exmouth street at 10 a. m. Interment will be in the Garnett cemetery.

G. W. Farrell, a member of the one-time firm of Farrell, Mather & Co., of Montreal, died in Boston recently. He was a native of Halifax, a son of the late Doctor Farrell.

The death of John Kirk took place at his home in Holderville, Kings county, N. B., recently at the age of eighty-one years. He leaves one son, one daughter and three granddaughters.

Frederick A. Cramphorn passed away at his home yesterday afternoon at North Woburn, Mass. He leaves besides his wife, one son and one brother. Mr. Cramphorn was born in St. John sixty-four years ago.

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF

Swampscott, Mass., Nov. 21—Mary E. Burke, aged eighteen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Burke of 55 Clarke street, was running for a train, which was about ready to pull out of the depot when her hand slipped and she grabbed for the rail on the step and she fell under the train. The last car ran over her, amputating both her legs at the knee.

She was taken to the Lynn Hospital, where her name was placed on the dangerous list. Little hope is given for her recovery.

She is the only daughter in the family. She has three brothers. Miss Burke graduated from St. Mary's High School in 1917. She has been employed in a large department store in Boston.

A postal card addressed to the Bath Commercial forty years ago, arrived at the Bath Post Office the other day and was put in the post office box of the Bath Times, as there is no Bath Commercial now. Where the card has been all these years the Bath postmaster doesn't know.

WHEN WILL CANADA BE AT PEACE?

Two Sets of Views Urged Upon The Government

Some Want Prohibition And Other Reforms Repealed After Dec. 1; Others Hold That, With War With Turkey And Bulgaria Still on, They Must Hold

(Special to Times.)
Ottawa, Nov. 22—The announcement that peace shall exist on December 1 does not necessarily mean that it will come into force in Canada on that date. It will rest with the government-in-council just when it will be proclaimed in Canada. The war with Turkey and Bulgaria is still on officially, as peace has not been concluded with those countries and may not be for some time.

It is contended that orders in council containing the words "The present war" entered the war, will therefore not lapse until peace with those countries is formally declared, although this country has never been officially recognized. As the liquor legislation was passed in 1919, and passed after Turkey entered the war, the contention is tenable that prohibition will exist until the order-in-council is repealed or peace is declared with those countries. The opinion of the justice department is that when peace is concluded with Austria and Germany it would be hard to continue war legislation because of Turkey and Bulgaria.

Two views are strongly urged on the minister. One body of men, who want the prohibition, race track gambling and the order in council repealed, insist that the government would be keeping this legislation in force only on a technicality, as the main war was with Germany. Others ask the government to withhold repealing until the powers have come to a decision on the Turkish question, saying there may still be conflict before a treaty is signed, or dictated terms agreed upon.

One of the decisions the cabinet will have to make when Sir Robert Borden returns will be as to when it will be best to restore peace conditions in Canada. To avoid legal friction the manner of accomplishing this will be, it is expected, to repeal one after another the orders-in-council which were intended to meet emergency conditions brought about by the war. Therefore peace will arrive piecemeal but at such a rate that when the Turkish question is finally decided there will be little noticeable change.

Hon. Peter Veniot has accepted the invitation of the New Brunswick Automobile Association to be present at the banquet to be given in his honor in the Union Club next week.

THE OWL AND THE SUN

An old owl sat on the court-house wall And hooded the whole night through, As he dolefully brooded on Thornton's gall And the rage of the vandal crew.

Oh sad was the hoot Of the old galeot As he sat on the court house wall, But at break of day He was up and away To the shade of the timbers tall.

The vandal sun rose up and lo! The ancient bird did fly! Oh, brutal orb! The tears that flow Would drown you in the sky.

The mail automobile owned by D. Love, the St. Martins mail contractor, was burned between Ten Mile Creek and Baines Corner about ten o'clock on Wednesday night. This is the second car Mr. Love has lost within a few weeks on the mail route to St. Martins, most of the mail was saved.

Making the Circular Fit the Prospect. There are many ways of using literature furnished to merchants by manufacturers. One way is to fill each statement envelope with as many as will go for the two cents postage.

Another way, used by a furniture man in Bowwell, N. B., is this: When the bookkeeper finishes addressing and inclosing the monthly statements she turns them over to the merchant.

THE TREATY

Declaring that the Treaty of Versailles still lives, and that it will be put into effect by the other signatories, the New York Times editorially adds that the United States shall not long remain in the "shameful position in which she has been placed by Senator Lodge and his associates."

Commenting upon the killing of the treaty insofar as this session of Congress is concerned, the Times goes on to say: "It has been the work of blind party prejudice, done in callous disregard of the need and the suffering of nations and of millions of men, who will have to bear their burdens unrelieved until, with the establishment of conditions of peace, words of mercy and upbuilding can be undertaken. It is a fearful responsibility that the enemies of the treaty and of peace have taken upon themselves."

Two-Thirds for It. The World says: "What the vote plainly shows is that there are two-thirds of the senators who are in favor of the ratification of the treaty. All that stands in the way is an agreement on the character and scope of the reservations, which could be settled very quickly if partisanship and personal vanity were subordinated to the colonial concerns of national and international welfare."

Blames the President. The Herald says: "The significance of this result is that President Wilson has been shown he cannot ride roughshod over the senate, a co-ordinate branch of the treaty-making power."

Responsibility for the situation rests primarily with President Wilson, who, more than ten months ago ignored the senate and a considerable portion of the American people by inextricably attaching the Covenant of the League of Nations to the treaty. In giving the impression to Europe that he spoke for all the American people he was wrong, as the result shows. How to extricate the country and himself from the "treaty entanglements" is his problem."

The members of the High Y. Club were the hosts at a theatre party at the Imperial last night and later on, assembling at the Y. M. C. A. building, they continued the enjoyment of the evening by partaking of dainty refreshments and taking part in a pleasant programme.

High Y. Club. The High Y. Club of the Y. M. C. A. spent an enjoyable time last night, about sixteen pairs attending the second show of the Imperial. After the show the party of young people returned to the Y. M. C. A. where dainty refreshments were served. The rest of the evening was happily spent in bowling and other games on the gymnasium floor.

WALLOP FOR THE TWO OLD PARTIES

(Ottawa Citizen.)
David Loughman, editor of the Veteran's Forum last Sunday night that representatives of the organized farmers, organized labor, and organized veterans should get together, to give the lead to the national People's movement for political action. He expressed the opinion that a preliminary conference between T. A. Cramer, president of the United Grain Growers; Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, and a representative of the veterans R. B. Maxwell, vice-president of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, would help to make clear how much several groups of Canadian citizens are interested in common. This proposed conference could be the preliminary of a national conference, with proper representation, leading up to the formation of a national People's party.
Mr. Loughman's proposal, indicated in the Citizen last week, in an open letter to the Great War Veterans, has already attracted much favorable comment. He does not suggest that the Great War Veterans' Association should form a political party. He is of the opinion that separate "soldiers' party" would simply split in the old parties putting up soldier candidates against soldier party candidates; the reactionaries would play off one group against the other, while they retain political power themselves, the old time political parties, indeed, would welcome the opportunity to dig themselves in again by promoting political hostility between the veterans and the general public, or between the veterans and any other considerable group in the community. A people's movement, suggested by Mr. Loughman, inclusive of veterans, labor, farmers, and other progressive forces of the general public, could go far towards preventing the disintegration that is liable to be precipitated by the present opportunist government in Canada.
The conference proposal should comment itself to the public, as well as to the leaders named by Mr. Loughman. The opinion might be put forward by some men, taught to be cautious, that the people are not ready for it. But it may be putting off till the eleventh hour to wait through the present winter before giving the lead for more straightforward political action than the present corporation-financed parties are prepared to take. The people are ready to go forward towards honest government. They need the opportunity.

RECEPTION TO REV. HENRY R. BOYER

New Pastor of Halifax Baptist Temple Receives Warm Welcome From Members

(Halifax Echo.)
One of the most enjoyable events in the history of the Baptist Temple took place Friday evening in the church vestry, when an informal reception was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Boyer by the church members. The vestry was last fully decorated for the occasion with flags, bunting and flowers with a large "Welcome" sign back of the speakers' platform. At 7 o'clock, in the chair, expressed pleasure at being privileged to preside over so large a gathering of the church members. The wives of the deacons were at the door to receive and extend the hand of welcome to the members and their friends on entering. Chairman Roland first called on Deacon J. H. Bentley, who welcomed Mr. Boyer to the church. Following this was an address of welcome from Supt. E. W. Giffin, representing the Sunday school. Then followed addresses of welcome and congratulations to both the church and Mr. Boyer of their respective choice by Rev. G. F. Bolster, West End Baptist church; Rev. L. J. Donaldson, Trinity church; Rev. A. L. Curry, Bedford, and Rev. W. A. White, Cornwallis Baptist church.
Mr. Boyer, in replying, expressed his regrets that owing to illness Mrs. Boyer was unable to be with him and to share the hearty welcome accorded them. He spoke feelingly of the choice he had made, referring to the bright future of Halifax, the North End and the place the Baptist Temple should take in the development. He referred to the wholehearted support he had received since coming to the city, the spirit of co-operation on the part of all members of the church, and the feeling of good fellowship existing, and briefly touched on the winter's work, both spiritually and socially. In closing, he thanked the other churches for their sincere expression of good-will and assured all of his willingness to work together for the good of all.
Mr. Boyer was called to the platform and was asked to accept for Mrs. Boyer a bouquet of roses and carnations from the ladies of the church. Refreshments were served.

NO TROUBLE TO "KEEP 'EM DOWN ON THE FARM"

London, Nov. 21—England's girl farm laborers, who enlisted in the government's land army during the war to take the place of men who had gone to the front, have come to stay—picturesque slouch hats, corduroys, leggings, white smocks and all. Government control of the land army will be withdrawn after the potato harvest, about November 30, but the new open air woman has learned to love her work so much that she declines to be "demobilized."
The farmers who have employed efficient girls are so anxious to retain them that a voluntary organization is certain to be set up, it is said, to keep the army together. There are about 8,000 girls in the army and most of them want to remain on the land. The ultimate aim of many is a farm of their own.
Everywhere the girls have won friends, not only because of their good work, but by their splendid bearing in emergencies. Several instances of devotion and bravery have been rewarded recently with the Distinguished Service Bar, which is to the land army what the coveted Victoria Cross is to the regulars. Among the deeds cited were the successful treatment of an animal that had a contagious disease, the extinguishing of a fire in a barn, the saving of an old laborer from death by burial and the nursing of a farmer's child which was suffering from an infectious illness.

BILL WOULD STOP STRIKES

Massachusetts Measure For Protection of Traction Lines.

Boston, Nov. 20—Herewith is a draft of a bill, which is notable pioneer legislation in the way of making it unlawful for public service employees to strike. It is reported unanimously by the special recess commission on street railways, whose report will be the main feature of the special session of the legislature to begin on Tuesday.
Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any officers, employees, agents or other persons in the service of any street railway in this Commonwealth, publicly managed or controlled, by concerted action, combination or agreement, to hinder, obstruct or prevent the continuity of service of such street railway, or to threaten such hindrance, obstruction or prevention.
Sec. 2. The daily constituted operating officers of any street railway system and every person or association of persons in its service shall, by written instrument or instruments, agree to submit to arbitration by a board or boards, whose decision shall be final, to be selected as therein provided, every difference or dispute relating to wages or compensation, hours of labor or working conditions, and any disputes or differences that may arise in the course of the operation or management of such system, and to abide by the findings, determination or award of such board. Copies of all such written instruments shall be filed with the Public Service Commission.
Sec. 3. The board shall hear the parties or their representatives and determine all matters in dispute, and such determination shall be in force for such a period of time as the board may fix. To the extent that the matters in issue are controlled by statute or may require legislation the board may make recommendations to the general court, with drafts of such proposed legislation as may be necessary to carry the findings or recommendations into effect.
Sec. 4. In case of the failure of the parties to complete the selection of an arbitration board in accordance with said agreement or to make provision therefor, within sixty days of a request by either party, or by the governor, for the selection of such a board, the Public Service Commission shall serve as such a board and shall exercise all the powers set forth in the preceding section.
Sec. 5. Any person violating the provisions of Sec. 1 shall thereupon be discharged from the service, and his continuance in such service, or his re-employment or re-appointment in any capacity therein for a period not exceeding one year, as the Public Service Commission may determine, shall be unlawful.

There is sufficient reason to believe that organized labor will use all its strength to defeat this legislation.

WILL BE GUESTS OF PRINCE OF WALES

The Dominion government has arranged to give a dinner in Halifax on Tuesday in honor of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. This probably will be the last function at which His Royal Highness will be in attendance on this side of the Atlantic. His Royal Highness has issued invitations for lunch on board the Renown in Halifax harbor on Tuesday next. His Honor Lieutenant Governor Pugsley and Mrs. Pugsley and Hon. W. E. Foster and Mrs. Foster expect to leave here Sunday evening in order to be in attendance at the luncheon. Mayor Hayes and Mrs. Hayes have also received invitations for the luncheon on board the Renown and they expect to be in attendance.

THE WILDEST OF WILDCATS IS THE YELLOW GOLYBOSH

Hates Everything on Earth—Even Its Parents and Itself—Specimen Now in N. Y.

(New York Times.)
 Captain Sylvester Ruddle, formerly of the Formosa Fencibles, and who now describes himself as a Christian Scientist and a dealer in ivory nuts, arrived yesterday from Africa, accompanied by his native servant, Dingbad, bringing what he avers to be the only specimen of the striped yellow golybosh of the Umdingo forests on the upper Congo in captivity. The animal is said by its owner to be the biggest and finest specimen of the wildest tribe in Africa.

The captain, who was lurching yesterday at the Ritz-Carlton with his friend, Marmaduke M. Mize, the well-known Mincing Lane caraway seed merchant, appeared reluctant to talk about his pet, because, he said, to those who had not explored the great forests of the Umdingo his description of a real yellow-striped golybosh might look somewhat exaggerated.

"This cat is so wild," said Captain Ruddle, "that the parents eat the offspring and offend themselves by eating their parents. The golybosh hates everything on earth so much that the animal will frequently whirl round at frightful velocity trying to eat itself up and sometimes succeeds. That is why the golybosh is so rare. In fact, it is almost extinct through these causes I have mentioned."

"Raruzza, the name of the one I have brought with me, which means in the Umdingo language, 'Yellow friend of the black forest,' was given to me by King Umlobo for saving the life of his only daughter Ulobo from a roush elephant who was chasing her round the sacred baobab trees one day when she was out collecting some grasshoppers to make a salad for King Umlobo's tiffin.

The grasshoppers in the Umdingo land, I might mention, are much larger than any other insects of their kind that I have ever seen in tropical countries. The natives dry them and they are not at all bad."

Mr. Mize corroborated his friend's statement at this point, but added that he preferred the salted grasshoppers he had eaten at Sidl Oksa in the Sahara Desert which, in his opinion, had a more gamey flavor than those of the Umdingo country.

"It was a pure fluke," the captain continued, "that I managed to hit the wild porychid in the right eye with my express rifle, because he was tearing up the hoobabs by his powerful trunk and knocking down everything else that came in his way. Four big lions had just been taking their afternoon prow around the outskirts of the village, and I was lying doggo, as we call it, on my couch quaffing a cup of tea. I had not lost any lions and did not wish to take the trouble in the hot sun to interfere with their promenade until I heard the Princess screaming at the top of her voice, in the Umdingo tongue, for help. Apparently the lions had faded to the forest when they saw the rogue elephant coming with blood in his eye.

The dear, fat old King Umlobo was so grateful that he offered to give me his daughter Ulobo and making me the heir-apparent to the throne of Umdingo. Preferred to Visit Mother.

"I declined his kind offer with profuse thanks," Captain Ruddle said, "on the plea that I had to go home and see my aged mother, as I was the only son, and her sight was growing dim. After many attempts to induce me to change my mind the king presented me with his pet wildest Raruzza, which he kept in a huge cage outside the royal huts under the shade of the giant palms.

"Some idea of the springing qualities of the yellow-striped golybosh may be imagined when I tell you that this wildest of the wildest can leap into the air to catch a flying fox and eat it alive before returning to the ground. With its fondness for raw meat I had a great difficulty on my voyage from Umdingo on the Upper Congo to New York to keep its appetite satisfied. I found that the meat on the steamship of the ice made Raruzza so savage that she tried to eat up poor Dingbad, my faithful servant, when he went to clean the cage.

"By a stroke of good fortune I met an old Sudan friend, the venerable Hakeem Ahab of Wadi Halfa, on the Gold Coast, who told me that the best thing to do was to give the golybosh powerful doses of hashesh and feed the animal on kuskus, a kind of mush made from cornmeal, as the drug would make the wildest believe it was the choicest of raw meats."

Captain Ruddle added that the experiment had succeeded beyond his wildest expectations, and the only thing he was afraid of now was that his supply of hashesh would run out before he got his pet Raruzza safely to England. While he stops in New York the golybosh is being kept in an empty garage belonging to a friend of Mr. Mize, who takes a personal interest in the wildest and talks to the animal every morning in the Malagash language, which he asserts is akin to that of the Umdingo.

Histories of Nations Symbolized in Flags

How many flags do you recognize? Though the world war has served to familiarize us with flags of some of our allies, the average person's repertoire of flags still does not exceed half a dozen, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"Flags are important not only as patriotic and artistic emblems, but many times the histories of nations are symbolized in their flags."

"The red and white flag of Monaco floats over the smallest nation on earth. The entire area of the territory, whose symbol of authority it is, is only eight square miles. Although it is smallest in area, there are fewer sunnier in population. It has 28,000 inhabitants, as compared with 5,281 for Andorra, 10,718 for Liechtenstein and 11,519 for San Marino.

"Monaco is a small principality on the Mediterranean, surrounded by the French department of Alpes-Maritimes, except on the side toward the sea. After 900 A. D. it belonged to the house of Grimaldi. The reigning prince was dispossessed during the French revolution in 1792 and died in 1793. In 1814 the principality was re-established, but placed under the protection of the Kingdom of Sardinia by the treaty of Vienna in 1815. In 1860 the towns of Mentone and Rocca-bruna (now known as Roquebrune), revolted and declared themselves free. The prince thereupon ceded his rights over them to France and the principality thus became geographically an enclave of France, when the Sardinian garrison was withdrawn and the protectorate established in 1815 ended. The prince was an absolute ruler until 1911, when a representative government was set up.

"San Marino claims to be the oldest state in Europe. Next to Monaco, it is in area the smallest independent country in the world. It has thirty square miles of territory and a population of 11,518. The coat-of-arms consists of three hills of gold upon a field of blue. These hills are Monte Guata, Monte Cucco and Monte Gista, each bearing a castle surmounted by a plume. The shield has a gold crown as a crest and is surrounded by branches of laurel and oak united by a ribbon inscribed with the word 'liberty.'

"The ensign of the republic of San Marino consists of a field, the upper part of which is blue and the lower half white. The coat-of-arms is centered on it."

"The blue, yellow and red flag of An-quotes from a communication to the society setting forth "flag etiquette" as follows:

 "In raising the flag, it should never be rolled up and hoisted to the top of the staff before unfolding. Instead, the fly should be free during the act of hoisting which should be done quickly. It should be taken in slowly and with dignity."
 "The flag should not be festooned over doorways or arches. Always let the flag hang straight. Do not tie it in a bow knot."
 "Where colors are desired for decorative purposes use red, white and blue bunt-
 "International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of any other with which it is at peace."
 "When the national colors are passing on parade, or in review, the spectators should, if walking, halt; and, if sitting, arise and stand at attention and uncover."
 "Over only three buildings in America does the national flag fly officially night and day continuously—over the east and west fronts of the National Capitol and over the adjacent House of Representatives and Senate office buildings. The two emblems, over the Capitol (storm-flag size), are replaced every six weeks, the wear and tear, due to wind and rain,
 "Over the Senate and House of Representatives wings of the capitol the flags fly only while those bodies are in session and during a recess. At adjournment, either at the end of a day's work or for a session, they are lowered."
 "When the Stars and Stripes float from the flagstaff of the White House, from sunrise to sunset, it is indicative of the presence in Washington of the president."

BOWLING.

Y. M. C. I. League.

In spite of showing undue consideration for the pin boys the Owls won the first string from the Autos by eleven pins. The Owls had two representatives in the 90 class—Cleary and Garvin. For the Buzz Wagons, Veniot had 106.

The second string found the Owls rolling in better shape. They finished with 408 or forty-one pins ahead of the Benjine Buggies. McCaffery and Cleary were both in the nineties and McDonald had a nice string of 108.

Big Football Match of the Season This Afternoon—Harvard Slight Favorite

Boston, Nov. 22.—The line-up of the Harvard-Yale football teams for today's final game, as generally predicted last night, is—

Harvard	Position	Yale
Woods	Right tackle	Dickens
Wemeyer	Center	Callahan (captain)
Mark	Right guard	Kempson (captain)
Ne	Left guard	Galt
Ele	Right tackle	Walker
Gray	Quarter-back	Allen
Se	Right half	Lay
Green	Full back	Braden

Letting on the game appears to be more prevalent than in recent similar games. Harvard ruled a slight favorite last night, at odds ranging from four to ten to seven, though small bets were made between odds and even money.

Both varsity football squads were fully sequestered from the excitement attendant upon the night before game. The Yale players and substitutes visited the stadium in the afternoon for a few minutes of practice to familiarize themselves with light and conditions, after which they returned to the Belmont Springs Country Club, their temporary quarters. Aside from a talk and possible last signal drill on Tuesday forenoon, their football work is over until they face the crimson rep at two p. m.

The Harvard squad, located at the Essex Country Club, indulged in light signals and kicking drills.

THINKS WILLARD IS AFTER TITLE AGAIN

Rickard Expects Him to Meet Flueton as First Step—Refused to Train For Dempsey

Tex Rickard, who promoted the Willard-Dempsey championship fight in Toledo last July, announced in New York this week that he believed that Willard was getting ready to come back into the ring and make an attempt to regain his title. Rickard during the last week has received several telegrams from Willard stating that he was very anxious to see him on a very important matter.

Rickard has been so busy that he has neglected to reply and yesterday he received another message from Ray Archer, Willard's business manager, in which he stated that Willard was patiently waiting for an answer and that the business he wanted to see him about was imperative.

"Willard was deeply disappointed over his poor showing in the Dempsey fight," said Rickard yesterday, "and I know he is anxious to redeem himself in the eyes of the public. Willard now sees his mistake in not training conscientiously for the fight and also sees what a great mistake he made in holding Dempsey too cheaply. Why the night before the fight Willard was so sure of winning easily that he wanted me to arrange to come with him to New York immediately after the bout to help him organize his moving picture company. He never dreamed that Dempsey could hurt him and the possibility of the challenger knocking him out never occurred to him."

Archer told me that Willard had gone into the mountains where he wanted to live a hard rugged life and try to shake off the laziness which seized him during his training season in Toledo. Willard simply would not work hard at that time, and when anyone tried to advise him to get down to business he simply laughed. He feels pretty badly about that fight and is out for revenge. That is what I think he wants to see me about."

Rickard said that he did not believe that Willard would try to take on Dempsey until he thinks he is in the

A Rugged Bout
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 21.—Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, fought a terrific, bloody ten-round bout here tonight. The fight was vicious and close all the way and although several of the ringside experts called the bout a draw, the majority gave O'Dowd a slight shade.

Round one—The men clinched and Gibbons forced O'Dowd to the ropes. O'Dowd landed a right and left to the body. Gibbons made no effort to box the champion but stood toe-to-toe and slugged. Gibbons made O'Dowd miss and landed several blows in return. A tame round.

Round two—O'Dowd drove two rights to the jaw. Gibbons landed a light right cross. O'Dowd was contented for hitting in clinches. Gibbons bent to box the champion and O'Dowd missed again and again. Gibbons landed right and left to the jaw and O'Dowd was puzzled. Mike Gibbons' round.

Round three—Gibbons landed a left to the jaw and O'Dowd missed one. Gibbons landed a hard left, a right to the kidneys. O'Dowd began to break ground but Gibbons outboxed him. O'Dowd landed a right on Gibbons' eye. O'Dowd began to bleed and O'Dowd drove rights and left to the body. Gibbons landed a hard right cross on O'Dowd's chin. Round even.

Round four—Gibbons bored in and seemingly made no effort to dodge O'Dowd's swings, in an effort to get close to his opponent. O'Dowd swung a dozen times and landed twice. They traded swings to the body. O'Dowd again opened the cut over Gibbons' left eye. O'Dowd landed a stiff right to the jaw. Gibbons responded with a right uppercut to the jaw. Gibbons' round.

O'Dowd drove a terrific right to Gibbons' eye, which staggered the phantom. O'Dowd landed a straight left to the head and drove Gibbons to the ropes. Gibbons was bleeding. O'Dowd drove Gibbons into the latter's corner. O'Dowd was out-fighting Gibbons. O'Dowd's round.

Round six—Both fighters took things easy at the start. Gibbons landed a right uppercut to the jaw and they clinched. O'Dowd began to miss again. Gibbons began to outbox the champion. For the first time during the fight Gibbons was applauded for his clever work. Gibbons' round.

Round seven—O'Dowd began to rough it and Gibbons kept away from his heavy swings. Gibbons stopped O'Dowd's rush with a left to the jaw. Gibbons landed on O'Dowd's neck. O'Dowd landed a left to Gibbons ear and Gibbons went to the ropes. They clinched. Round about even.

Round eight—Gibbons' eye bothered him considerably. Gibbons hooked a right to the jaw. O'Dowd landed two lefts to the jaw. O'Dowd landed two more light blows. O'Dowd sank his left into Gibbons' stomach. Gibbons landed a right on the jaw. O'Dowd battered Gibbons in a neutral corner. O'Dowd's round.

Round nine—Gibbons began to force the fighting but O'Dowd again opened Gibbons' left eye and sent Mike to the ropes. O'Dowd kept on top of Gibbons and kept the phantom busy. O'Dowd crashed a right to Gibbons' jaw. At this state of the battle O'Dowd had a slight lead. They traded wall-punches. O'Dowd landed two straight lefts. O'Dowd's round.

Round ten—They shook hands for the final round. Gibbons hooked a left to the jaw. Gibbons again beat O'Dowd to the punch. O'Dowd spat blood as he backed into Gibbons' corner. O'Dowd missed two blows to the body. Gibbons pummeled O'Dowd's stomach. The men seemed tired and clinched. Gibbons landed a left to the jaw. The men were fighting viciously when the final bell rang.

Greater Co-operation Between Capital And Labor Essential

(American Architect)

Judge Charles Langelier of Quebec. It is reported that he is soon to resign from the Court of Special Sessions of the Peace because of ill-health.

Declaring that if satisfactory adjustments are to be effected between capital and labor there must develop a stronger co-operation between these two essential industrial elements, architects and builders this week expressed the opinion that unless this factor is made the main effort of both employer and employee the exceptional opportunities before the United States today will be lost and there will be difficulty in preserving the advantage already secured in many lines of business activity.

Through the wider market afforded by the increased purchasing power of the wage earner. The employee must realize that the capitalist, as the brain worker, is an essential factor in the conduct of the business. Further, that the employer is also essential to the stability of the job, without which the employee's existence becomes extremely precarious.

There has on many recent occasions been a decided tendency on the part of labor leaders in working for the interests of labor to insist on conditions detrimental to enterprise. If the manufacturer of building materials is so handicapped by the decrees of these leaders of labor as to restrict increased production and expansion of plants, it will simply be a question of time when foreign manufacturers will have a market for their products in our own territory. It must be remembered that while the American workman is fighting for shorter hours and increased wages the German workers are busy day and night seeking to regain for their country its place in the industrial world by the production of materials at lower prices than can be profitably met in the United States. This situation could not be remedied by any economic tariff legislation.

In discussing the relationship that should be maintained between capital and labor and which must be based upon mutual good-will and confidence as well as unreserved co-operation, Mortimer L. Schiff, a New York banker, states that as in any scheme of industrial democracy the worker should have a voice in determining the conditions of his employment. A profit-sharing system is, in his opinion, most desirable and advantageous. While not applicable to all types of industry, Mr. Schiff believes that a properly worked out plan for thrift and saving, fair to all concerned, will do much towards establishing sound relations between capital and labor, and through the participation by the employees in the earnings, give them a real interest in stimulate production and reduce operating costs.

It is further pointed out that salaried officers should participate in the plan and

It should not be restricted, as in many proposals appears to be the case, to those working for a daily wage. Mr. Schiff recommends that the distribution of the profits should not be in cash, as this would be of no permanent advantage to the employee and would not assist him in securing a permanent interest in the property. He suggests a non-negotiable, registered, convertible 6 per cent. debenture, bonds convertible into cash at a certain option of the holder after a certain period, but even in that period redeemable by the company in case the holder leaves its service.

In any event, there must be no element allowed in an industrial partnership which would give either party an unfair advantage over the other. The unfair advantage must be dealt face up on the table and there must be a full disclosure and no secrets. The worker must know he is getting a square deal and that it is thus his interest to secure the best results possible in production.

LOCAL NEWS

HOME FROM AMHERST.
Police Matron Ross returned from Amherst last evening, after escorting two girls, undesirable here, to that city.

MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS.
Seventeen marriages were reported to the registrar of vital statistics during the week ending Nov. 21. Births, thirteen boys and eleven girls, were also reported.

NOT OAK HALL.
The plans of the new St. John Housing Commission houses are on exhibition in the Semi-Ready store in King street, and not Oak Hall, as stated yesterday.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.
The many friends of Miss Jean Finlay of Loch Lomond road will be sorry to hear of her recent illness. She was operated on on Friday in the St. John Infirmary for appendicitis. Today she is resting as well as could be expected.

RUSSELL-McCORKILL.
The wedding of Edward F. Russell of this city to Miss Ethel B. McCorkill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McCorkill of Hibernia, Kings county, took place on Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, at the Portland street Methodist church parsonage. Rev. Nell Macleod officiated. The bride was given away by her father. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will reside in this city.

PROPERTY PURCHASED.
E. A. Schofield has purchased the residence of J. Willard Smith, 176 King street East and will occupy it during the winter season, moving his family in from his Hampton residence, Allards Farm, in about a week or ten days.

AT CHUBB'S CORNER.
A dwelling house at 177 Chesley street, owned by the estate of John McCrackin, was sold at auction at Chubb's corner at noon today by F. L. Fettes. Henry London bid in the property at $700.

WEEKLY WHIST.
The weekly whist of the Seldonia Inn Club was held Thursday evening at the home of Miss P. Warren, 222 Britain street, where a most enjoyable evening was spent. Prize winners were Miss A. C. Henneberry and W. J. Hooper.

FOURTEEN DEATHS.
The following deaths were reported to the Board of Health during the week: Senility, three; malnutrition, two; inanition, heart failure, typhoid fever, acute enteritis, premature birth, cystitis, chronic debility, broncho-pneumonia and chronic nephritis, one each, making a total of fourteen.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS.
Nothing developed this morning between the freight handlers and the C. P. R. and there is a partial tie-up of freight in the cars and sheds along the harbor front. The contract between the Freight Handlers Union and the C. P. R. expired on Thursday night and the men refused to continue work yesterday at the old scale. There is a feeling that the matter will be settled amicably and soon.

CONFIRMATION TOUR.
His Lordship Bishop Rivers arrived in the city at noon today from Fredericton, en route to Rochester, N. B., on an official visit to the parish there. On Monday he will proceed to Campbellton, where he will administer confirmation, and on Tuesday will visit Robbsey Collegiate school. On Wednesday he will administer confirmation at Loch Lomond.

GEORGE THOMAS.
The death of George Thomas occurred at his home in Missep yesterday, in the 94th year of his age. He leaves to mourn five daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Isaac Murray and Mrs. Doherty, of this city; Mrs. Thomas Shillington, of Silver Falls; Mrs. Wm. Garnett, of Scotchman; and Mrs. Bella, at home. The sons are Samuel and Robert, of Missep. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 12.30, from his late residence.

MRS. JANE DURANT.
The death of Mrs. Jane Durant, wife of the late John Durant, took place this morning at her home at 267 St. George street, West St. John, after a short illness from pneumonia, at an advanced age. She had been a resident of the West Side for several years and was highly respected and loved by all who knew her, and she will be missed by many friends and relatives. She leaves two sons, John and George, one daughter, Mrs. Wesley Williams, three brothers, John, George and James Robson, and one sister, Mrs. Stephen Purdy, all of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Stephen Bissett, of Malden, Mass.

SORRY THEY COULD NOT VISIT CANADA.
Daniel Mullin, K. C., Belgian consul for New Brunswick, has received an official communication advising him that their Majesties King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, who with their son, Prince Leopold, had been invited by the Canadian government to visit the dominion, were unable to do so because of the war. The Canadian people owing to an imperative necessity for their immediate return to Belgium and consequently were reluctantly compelled to decline the invitation so cordially extended to them.

THE G. W. V. A. AND POLITICS.
Winnipeg Nov. 22—It was announced yesterday by officials of the G. W. V. A. that while members of the association in Winnipeg favor amending the constitution so as to permit of political organization, a referendum on the question would be necessary before such a step could be taken.

Copies of a resolution adopted at a meeting on Thursday night will be forwarded for consideration to all the branches of the G. W. V. A. in Manitoba. The nature of the report and the recommendations to the dominion committee will depend on the general sentiment expressed by the various branches. In the event of the mandate being unanimous, it is possible that a dominion convention will be called.

ON FLIGHT TO AUSTRALIA.
London, Nov. 22—The airplane "Kangaroo" under command of Captain G. H. Wilkins and carrying a crew of four left the Hounslow airfield yesterday morning on the first leg of a journey to Australia.

LOUIS COMEAU DEAD

Passed Away Early Today in Shediac After Brief Illness

Louis Comeau, prominent in the business life of the city and province, died early this morning in Shediac after a week's illness of pneumonia. The report of his death came as a great shock to a host of friends and acquaintances. He was a man of robust constitution but a little more than a week ago he contracted a severe cold, which developed into the fatal malady. While it was known that he was critically ill the hope was expressed on all sides that he would rally and the sad news which reached the city this morning was heard with regret on all sides. He died about 2 o'clock.

Mr. Comeau was born in Petit Rocher, Gloucester county, in 1871. He completed a course of studies in St. Joseph's College, St. Joseph's, N. B. In later life he became a very successful traveler and then went into business first as a member of the firm of McIntyre & Comeau and later Comeau & Sheehan. Lately he had been conducting the Shediac Beverage Company.

Mr. Comeau was a man of excellent character and of a kindly manner which bound friends to him. He is survived by his wife, three daughters—Misses Corinne, Germaine and Rosa; and three sons—Edmour, Gerard and Louis. Of the sons Edmour, the eldest, was through the world war and was severely wounded. There are two brothers, Dr. F. X. Comeau of Caraquet and Thomas A. Comeau of Moncton, and one sister, Mrs. Leptale, of Tracadie. The members of his family were at his side when he departed. Mr. Comeau was a member of the C. M. B. A. but the place and the date of the funeral, where he was a devoted husband and father.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning from his residence in Shediac, due to St. Joseph's church, where requiem high mass will be celebrated.

POLICE COURT PRODUCES VARIETY FOR SATURDAY

In the police court this morning, Walter Axell and William Johnston were charged with vagrancy and having no visible means of support. Detective Bidcombe said that he and Sgt. Detective John J. Power went to St. John High School in Union street, and were talking to W. J. S. Myles, principal of the school, who was complaining that some overcoats had been stolen. The two men entered the steps of the school and the detectives went to the door with the principal Johnston, he said, asked for a lad named John Peterson, as he wanted to get some newspapers from him, he said, to put under a carpet in his father's house in Acadia street. During the conversation which followed, the accused had called the Peterson had three various names—John, George and Walter.

The detectives took the men to the police station and searched them, finding ten cents on Johnston, but no money on Axell. The accused were remanded while the detectives are investigating the case.

John Arling, a Russian, was charged with being drunk and also with having liquor in his possession. He pleaded guilty to being drunk but did not say anything regarding the liquor charge. Policeman Colwell, who made the arrest on Friday afternoon in Mill street, said the defendant was making considerable noise. He said he found a bottle containing some sort of liquor. A fine of $8 or two months in the workhouse for the drunkenness charge, but he was remanded on the liquor charge, as there was a question as to the contents of the bottle.

William Pendleton was charged with pointing a revolver at his wife, Mary E. Pendleton. Mrs. Pendleton said that they were married about four months ago. She said she did not see the revolver and would not be certain whether it was one or not. She wished to withdraw the charge, and the sitting magistrate allowed this to be done on condition they would go home and live together. This they agreed to do. The accused said that it was not a revolver, but a water pistol he had used.

Arthur Wright, of Milford, was charged with a statutory offence. The case was postponed until eleven o'clock Monday morning.

Former New Brunswicker Raising Row Over Sale of Liquor

Hon. J. W. de B. Farris Says B. C. Government Selling A Lot Camouflaged as Medicine

Nelson, B. C., Nov. 22.—The government of British Columbia is now selling more than $150,000 worth of liquor a month, camouflaged as medicine, and this condition cannot continue, said Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, attorney-general, in an address here.

Hon. Mr. Farris is a former New Brunswicker.

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of Wm. Alwood took place from his late residence, 169 Leinster street, this afternoon. Rev. D. J. MacPherson conducted services and interment took place at Cedar Hill cemetery.

Mr. Alwood for many years was active in church work with the Brussels street Baptist church, having been a deacon for many years and at his death was senior deacon of the Central Baptist church.

He leaves two sons, Frank S. and Zebadiah G., also one step-daughter, Daniel Vaughan, all of this city. His wife, Sarah Louise, daughter of the late Zebadiah Gabel, predeceased him in 1908.

Mr. Alwood enjoyed remarkable health and vigor to the last, and only within a few days was able to take his customary walk with friends and relatives. He was respected and beloved by all and will be much missed by many citizens.

The funeral of Frank Neirin took place from Chamberlain's undertaking rooms this afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. R. Taylor. Burial and interment took place at Cedar Hill.

Canada and Anthracite.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The situation as to anthracite coal in central Canada is very good indeed, said J. P. Wilkie, president of the Canadian Trade Commission, last night, when asked as to what the effect would be of the embargo placed by the United States on all anthracite coal for export except to Canada.

CAPTAIN OF THE SCANDANAVIAN PRAISES MONTREAL

Montreal, Nov. 22.—Travelling up the river at full speed, the C. P. O. S. liner Scandinavian arrived in port last night with a full complement of passengers, bound for various parts of Canada, and many of them for oriental and Pacific ports.

"I have been on this route for the last twenty-two years," said Captain Griffiths, "the first thing that struck me most as we came up the gulf and river for our last trip of the season was the difference between present conditions and those prevailing when I started on this service. Then it was impossible to come up the river at night at all, and the port of Montreal was a very medieval concern. On our present trip, we were able to proceed at full speed from the entrance to the gulf, day and night, until we slowed down to swing into the berth."

"And when we got into port the arrangements were as perfect as any commanding officer could desire. Whoever may be responsible for it, the port of Montreal today is about as fine a harbor as exists in the world and its accommodations for ships coming in are wonderfully good."

He married Miss Annie McBean, daughter of the late Alex. McBean. He is survived by his wife and twin daughters, also one brother, Dr. Ludlow Russell, of Buffalo, an eminent physician in that city.

"Be Master of Your Health"

—Dr. Chase

Make your blood rich—strengthen your nerves, increase your vitality and build up your system generally by using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

You may be skeptical of what any medicine will do for you. But you are human—your vitality depends on an abundance of rich, red blood. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the ingredients from which new blood is created, and is bound to help you in the same way that it helps many thousands of others.

L'Etete

Miss Viola M. Williamson, L'Etete, N. B., writes: "I suffered much from nerve trouble... was all run down and had all the usual symptoms—loss of appetite, weak, sensitive to light and sound, stomach trouble, headaches, etc. After taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, along with the Kidney-Liver Pills, I am able to work with renewed strength and vigor, and feel that I should add my testimony as to its wonderful curative powers. I am not able to say enough in praise of these medicines and shall always recommend them to sick and suffering humanity. I have taken, in all, about 15 boxes of Nerve Food, and am well satisfied with what it has done for me."

Balmoral

Madame Joseph Le Belle, Balmoral, N. B., writes: "I was paralyzed for five years and during that time was treated by two doctors without obtaining much benefit. When I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac how people were being cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I immediately sent for some and began its use. I can now say that I have been completely cured by using this treatment and many of my friends, hearing of the remarkable results obtained in my case, have since begun the use of this medicine. I am so gratified at being cured after suffering so long that I never tire of telling people about my remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Parleville

Mr. Edmund E. Perkins, Parleville, N. B., writes: "It gives me great pleasure to state that I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with the most gratifying results. I was greatly broken down in health three years ago, and in a very weakened condition. I tried all the celebrated doctors and despaired of ever getting better. Finally, however, I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and in six months I had gained twenty pounds and felt just as well as I ever had. I can never fail to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, as I never expected to look so well or feel so strong again." ("Declared before me in the town of Sussex, Kings Co., N. B., this 20th day of November, 1917.—H. W. Folkins, Police Magistrate.")

St. Francois

Mrs. Xavier Albert, St. Francois, N. B., writes: "My daughter, Imelda, was troubled for four years with nervousness. Almost every night she used to take nervous convulsions. We took her to a doctor, but he did not do her any good. Finally we began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually the convulsions were less and less frequent, until they disappeared altogether. It was two years ago that she used the Nerve Food, and six boxes completely cured her. We are very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for her."

Muniac

Mrs. Walter Wright, Muniac, N. B., writes: "I suffered for about six years with stomach trouble, described by the doctor as indigestion. There was kept distress in the pit of the stomach, so bad at times as to cause vomiting. I had very severe headaches and was also much run-down when I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The use of four boxes completely cured me and I want to express my appreciation of this medicine. My husband was cured of a bad case of piles by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Maxwell

Mrs. Robert Bustard, Maxwell, York Co., N. B., writes: "I can say that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food entirely cured me of what I believe was the beginning of locomotor ataxia or paralysis. My nerves were very bad and at night I could not sleep at all, nor could I control my arms or legs. They seemed to fairly jerk me off the bed. For six months I was in this way and cannot describe what I suffered, but now I am entirely cured, thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is a pleasure to recommend this great medicine to anyone suffering as I did from nervous disease."

Albert

Mrs. George T. Tingley, Albert, N. B., writes: "Will you please allow me the privilege of giving my experiences with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food? I was for a long time in a very nervous, run-down condition, and much depressed in spirits. I suffered a great deal at times, and it was four or five years before I fully discovered what the real trouble was. The least noise would irritate me, and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I took various medicines recommended to me, and consulted different doctors, but to no effect. A friend advised me to begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at once. I complied with the request by procuring the medicine at the earliest convenience, and can truly testify today to the great benefits I received therefrom. I was able to see a marked change in my condition before I had finished the use of two boxes. I kept up the treatment, however, until I had taken about a dozen boxes, and now feel safe in saying that I am cured of nervousness. I am entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have, and cannot too highly speak of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has done so much for me. I shall ever be ready to testify to the merits of this wonderful remedy, and gladly recommend it to all who suffer as I did, feeling sure it will give them quick and permanent relief." (This letter was endorsed by George C. Anderson, J.P.)

St. John

Mrs. S. M. Barton, 34 Adelaide St., St. John, N. B., writes: "For over fifteen years I was afflicted with spells which were of exactly the same nature as epileptic fits. My body would twitch all over, my hands would close, then I would get rigid and become unconscious. I used to have these spells as often as every two weeks, and they would leave me with terrible pains in my head, lasting two or three days. I would be so weak and melancholy that life was a drag to me. I suffered terribly, and although consulting several doctors, received no results from their treatment. I read in the newspapers of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and noticed that it had cured cases similar to mine, so I commenced using it, along with an occasional Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could see in a short time that this treatment was helping me, so I continued using it for some time. The result was a perfect cure, for I have had none of these spells for the last three years. I have five of a family, do all my own work, and feel real well. If this letter is of any use to you, you are at perfect liberty to use it for the benefit of others."

"Oh, You Do Look So Strong and Well"

"I don't think I'm any stronger than I was when I was sick, but I feel so much better. I can do my work now, and I'm not so nervous. I'm glad to see you so well."

Children's Diseases Are Not Necessary

"I Am So Short of Breath"

"I'm sorry to hear you're short of breath. I've been there myself. It's a terrible feeling, isn't it? I hope you're getting better now."

"I Wonder If It Would Help Me"

"I wonder if it would help me. I've tried everything else, but nothing seems to work. I'm really desperate."

"I Am So Afraid It is My Heart"

"I'm so afraid it's my heart. I've been having these spells for so long, and I don't know what to do. I'm really scared."

"You Will Have to be Careful, John, the Doctor Says Your Heart is Very Weak"

"You'll have to be careful, John. The doctor says your heart is very weak. You must take good care of yourself now."

"What is This Nerve Food You See Advertised in all the Papers, Some Kind of Patent Medicine?"

Workers in Chemicals and Metals Are Often Subject to Anaemia

"I've heard that workers in chemicals and metals are often subject to anaemia. I'm a chemist, and I know how it feels. I'm glad to see this medicine advertised. I'll try it."

A Mother's Tribute

"I'm a mother, and I know how important it is to keep my children healthy. I've used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for my children, and it's worked so well. I'm really grateful for it."

"I don't think I can go, Jessie, for I just feel wretched"

"I don't think I can go, Jessie, for I just feel wretched. I'm so nervous and tired. I can't go to work today."

"Will Morning Never Come"

"I wish morning would come. I'm so tired and nervous. I can't sleep at night."

"I Shall Have to Quit, Principal, I Cannot Manage This Class"

"I shall have to quit, Principal, I cannot manage this class. I'm so nervous and tired. I can't teach anymore."

At this season almost everybody is in need of restorative treatment to keep up energy and vigor and to maintain health, strength and vitality. Everywhere people are talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because it seems to be exactly what is required in the great majority of cases to restore the run-down human system. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Company With Capital of $75,000 Given Grazing Area of 75,000 Square Miles in North

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The North American Reindeer Co., capitalized at $750,000, and with a Canadian charter, has secured a permit to graze reindeer within an area of some 75,000 square miles north of the Churchill River.

The proposal of the company is to drive a herd of reindeer overland from Alaska to the west coast of Hudson Bay to carry on re-breeding.

The company has to furnish five per cent of its total herd to the government to provide reindeer for the welfare of the natives at a price not to exceed fifty dollars each, this to be effective after five years.

The company also provide trained herders for structural purposes for the government's herds. The company must also apply Dr. Walton for his mission to the coast of Hudson Bay with 300 reindeer at a price to be approved by the minister.

MENNONITES BOYCOTT CANADIAN SCHOOLS

Forces at Work to Demoralize All Schools in Their Settlements

Swift Current, Sask., Nov. 21.—Further trouble is threatened by Mennonites of the old colony in the settlement in the vicinity of Swift Current. Recent reports intimate that once more it is quite clear that an organized system of passive resistance to the school attendance act has been established by the old colony.

There are now three new Canadian schools established in the settlement. The latest of these, Clemeceau, was opened at Blumanhof about three weeks ago, but no day pupils so far have turned up.

ADVENTISTS BUY McMANUS PROPERTY AT MEMRAMCOCK

(Sackville Post)

A record has just recently been achieved by the maritime conference of Seventh Day Adventists in the removal of its school equipment from the academy at Williamsdale to Memramcook, where within just twelve days after notification of the purchase the school authorities were located and by October school was started after many necessary improvements had been made.

For fourteen years the maritime conference conducted its academy at Williamsdale and on Aug. 19 last it was decided to purchase the property at Memramcook. An order to move was sent the school authorities on the same day and by Sept. 1 the authorities were comfortably located.

HOOVER ON RESULTS OF THE BOLSHEVIST REIGN. Examining the results of Bolshevism in Russia, Herbert Hoover, in a recent address before the American Institute of Mining Engineers, said: "Today two-thirds of the railways and three-fourths of the rolling stock that they control are out of operation. The whole population is without any normal comforts of life and plunged into the most grievous famine of centuries. Its people are dying at the rate of hundreds of thousands monthly from starvation and disease. Its capital has diminished in population from nearly two million to less than 600,000. Prices of every city and village have run with the blood of executions; nor have these executions been confined to the so-called middle and upper classes, for, latterly, the opposition of the workmen and farmers to this regime has brought them also to the firing squad in appalling numbers."

With Three-Point Suspension Springs New Overland 4 Seems to "Sail Over The Roads"

THE new Three-Point Suspension Springs of Overland 4 permit the wheels to go up and down but protect car and passengers from ordinary road jolts.

Bumping, twisting, swaying and vibrating are wonderfully lessened. The blows of the road seldom reach you. There is less tendency to bodily fatigue after long rides.

The springs of Overland 4 attached at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase give the riding comfort and road steadiness heretofore possible only with cars of long wheelbase and great weight, yet Overland 4 retains the light weight and economy advantages of 100-inch wheelbase.

Three-Point Suspension Springs protect the car from the hammering and wear of road blows. They lengthen its life and reduce upkeep costs.

Equipment of Overland 4 is dependable and complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

250,000 miles of test have made the strength and endurance of this car a matter of record.

VICTORY BOND WORKERS CALLED TO NEW EFFORT

"Let's Paint the Name, St. John, in Big Fat Letters Across the Map of Canada"

A CHALLENGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

In Final Letters to Those Who Put the Drive Across R. D. Paterson Asks if Spirit of Aroused City Cannot be Turned Through New Channels to Good Account.

A stirring letter was sent out on Thursday by R. D. Paterson, chairman of the central committee of the Victory Loan for St. John city and county, to all the ward captains and canvassers who achieved such successful results under his direction during the campaign.

The big show is over and last and you and I can get back into the routine of our respective callings, picking up the threads of a business that has been sadly neglected for three weeks or more.

It is safe to say that the voluntary contribution of time and energy has been a very real sacrifice on the part of each individual of the organization; and the fact that the effort has been crowned with such remarkable success is, I am sure, the tangible evidence of public appreciation.

To me, the campaign has been a pleasure, and at the same time a revelation— a pleasure because I formed new and valuable acquaintances, while broadening into friendship many that I had met before; a revelation because of the unmistakable fact that away down deep in the heart of the community there still glows the fire of a truly inspiring fidelity and zeal for the out town. I should say it is probably what remains of that remarkable example of pride and faith, shown at the time of the great fire, when the "big men" of that day gave to the world an unmistakable example of the "stuff" St. John is made of, and built out of the ashes a better city, while at the same time, fanning to a blaze a community spirit which, through the years, by indifference and self interest, has been allowed to die down until it was all but forgotten, or until a few days ago, when the good name of the "old town" was at stake and her honor hung in the balance; then, it was discovered that the coals were still alive; they were fanned into life, and the spirit of '17 was in the air.

Think over your calls of the last week, Bill—how many visits did you make, where all your calls well recognized responsive ability failed, where the exceptional interest returned, brought no favorable response, and even patriotic appeals fell on deaf ears, and the case seemed hopeless until as a last stab you put in a plea to "save the name and honor of St. John by helping her over the top."

If your experience, Bill, was the same as many others, then you will recall many a man who said, "that's different" and dug down into his jeans beyond the cash balance, and until it stretched his credit. Why did he do that, Bill? Think it over.

Now it seems to me, Bill, that it would be a crime to let an opportunity like this go by without each one of us making up our minds that we will add a stick or two to the fire from time to time, or until the flame becomes a beacon light, and the roar and crackle of its activities are heard from one end of the country to the other.

The work of our victory Loan organization is all but finished and we disband, but as individuals having had a manifestation of the wonderful heritage that is ours for the asking; and, having come to the parting of the ways, let us not continue along the old road, paved with indifference and pessimism that leads to "Stagnationville," but with renewed determination, take the other road that leads to the NEW ST. JOHN, the "New York of Canada," a road paved with efficiency and optimism.

LIFT OFF CORNS WITH FINGERS

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only few cents

You'll laugh. Apply a few drops then lift sore, touchy corns right off. No pain. Yes, magic!

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Frezzone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Frezzone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Frezzone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

renewed determination, take the other road that leads to the NEW ST. JOHN, the "New York of Canada," a road paved with efficiency and optimism. What do you say, Bill? We have the chance of our lives to paint the name— St. John—in big fat letters across the map of Canada, and we'll go and do it you say so.

SINN FEINERS DENY COURT'S AUTHORITY

Belfast, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—In the Crimes Court of Armagh today, Edward Donnelly, Sinn Fein organizer from Galster, Edward Hughes, a farmer and William O'Brien, a Galway University professor, all charged with unlawful assembly at Tynan, in October, and soliciting funds for the Dail Eireann (Irish parliament) loan, created a scene by declaring that they did not recognize the authority of the court. The accused men were carried into the court. Mr. Donnelly said the Dail Eireann was a legal body in the eyes of Irishmen and the only body that had the moral right to legislate for or to the Irish people. "Your authority," he added, "is that of an usurper, backed by the military, machine guns, tanks and rifles."

Mr. O'Brien made a similar statement. Mr. Hughes declared that he had been born a Sinn Feiner and would die one. Donnelly and O'Brien each were sentenced to three months' imprisonment, while Hughes received a two months' sentence.

Democracy's Demands. (Westminster Gazette.) The University of Oxford has taken legal advice on the question of the admission of women to degrees and to full membership of the university, and it is proposed to promote legislation in case university statute should not be valid. We congratulate the old universities on this sign of a somewhat belated concession to the Time Spirit.

ST. JOHN CHOSEN AFTER CAREFUL CONSIDERATION

Selection of This Port as Winter Terminus of French Line a Tribute to Its Desirability—Officials Dined at Union Club.

Representatives of the city government, board of trade, and other business interests, as well as the press, were invited by Messrs. Nagle and Wigmore to meet, at luncheon yesterday at the Union Club, Messrs. L. A. W. Doherty, T. J. McCaffrey and W. Van Wyck of Canada Steamships Limited. This company will operate the steamship service between Canada and France which will have three sailings per month from St. John this winter. It is probable that there will also be a monthly sailing to Antwerp.

Mr. Wigmore, at the close of the luncheon, briefly reviewed the development of the port of St. John from the time when the first winter steamship line was started, in the nineties, until now when St. John stands next to Montreal in the volume of traffic by ocean steamship lines. He referred to the efforts made to get this company to bring its steamers to St. John this winter and to the gratification of the citizens that this port had been chosen. Mr. Wigmore predicted great future development for the port and was very glad that Canada Steamships Limited, had been added to the list of those sending their vessels to this port.

Mr. Doherty, replying in behalf of the company, referred to the very kindly reception given to himself and the other representatives of the company. He said that, when it came to a question of a winter port for the steamships, the whole matter was carefully considered and St. John was chosen. It was now up to the authorities in St. John to give the company's vessels such satisfactory despatch as would ensure that when the officials went back to Montreal in the spring they would merely say good-bye until next winter. He pointed out that the company carries a large amount of perishable freight which it is necessary to send forward with as little delay as possible. This company handle a large quantity of American freight for France. He expressed confidence that the city and the company would get along so well together that there would be no criticism of St. John as a port not properly suited for the prompt despatch of business.

Mr. McCaffrey and Mr. Van Wyck spoke briefly along similar lines expressing their pleasure at the hearty reception given them.

Mayor Hayes, in behalf of the city, welcomed the representatives of the steamship line and said he was sure every effort would be made to give quick despatch to freight by providing berths for the steamships as they arrived. It would be good business for the city as well as for the company.

Commissioner Bullock endorsed the mayor's remarks and said he felt that except in case of congestion arising from very bad weather, or other unforeseen cause which could not be anticipated or prevented, the vessels of all the lines coming to St. John would be handled without serious friction or delay.

Mr. Wigmore, on behalf of his firm, said it was a great pleasure to them to be connected with the steamship company and to be able to have its representatives meet a group of citizens in this informal way. Mr. Doherty and his associates left last night for Montreal to make final arrangements for their business in St. John during the winter season.

COAL MINERS MAKE COMPROMISE OFFER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—An embargo effective today, on export of anthracite coal except to Canada, was announced tonight by the United States Fuel Administration.

Abandon Stand. Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Bituminous coal miners today abandoned their demands for a thirty-hour week and sixty per cent increase in wages. In a counter proposal to the operators in conference here, they said they would accept a forty per cent wage increase and a seven hour day.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—Any attempt on the part of the governors of states affected by the strike of bituminous coal miners to seize the mines might complicate the negotiations now under way between the miners and operators at Washington and for that reason Governor Goodrich of Indiana does not favor such a move at this time.

DISCUSSED WAGE RATES.

Members of local 1089 Ship Liners' Union, I. L. A., met last evening in the "Prentice Boys' Hall, Guilford street, West St. John and discussed matters connected with wage rates here. It was announced after the meeting that no decision had been reached in regard to any demands that might be made. Duncan Webster, president of the union, was in the chair.

WESTFIELD OUTING ASSOCIATION GAVE ENJOYABLE DANCE

The first big social event of what bids fair to be a very lively season in St. John, took place last evening when the Westfield Outing Association gave a very enjoyable dance at the Knights of Columbus rooms. About 125 couples attended and among these were several of the finest, budding forth into the social world of the city for the first time last evening. Some of the ladies wore very gorgeous gowns and the dance music, rendered by Jones' orchestra, was much applauded. Eighteen dances and three supper extras made up the programme and a very excellent supper was served. The guests were received by the reception committee composed of the president, D. W. Ledingham, Mrs. H. C. Grout, wife of the vice-president, Mr. E. N. Robertson, the secretary-treasurer of the association, and Mrs. Robertson. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of: Byard Coster, chairman, T. A. McAvity, Arthur Rankine, Kenneth Creighton, C. H. McDonald, Balfour Paterson, Mrs. F. N. Robertson, Mrs. H. A. McKeown, Mrs. P. D. McAvity, Mrs. Kenneth Creighton, Miss Marion Moore, Miss Margaret Eason, and Miss Eileen Keefe. The dining room was very taste decorated and the tables were trim with yellow chrysanthemums and while the candleabra contained clusters of red candles. Mrs. S. S. McCa Mrs. John E. Moore and Mrs. R. B. Eason poured coffee; Mrs. C. P. Finney, Mrs. H. J. Evans and Mrs. Ch. Warwick cut the ices, and Mrs. I. McKeown was in charge of the d. room.

Secretary Stokes Reports Things Are Really Booming

ACTIVITIES ARE REVIEWED

Organization Along Various Lines—Capacity Limit For Boys' Work in Building is Passed and North End Hall is Being Sought

Following is the report of S. B. Stokes, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., submitted at a recent meeting:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Count. Includes Business men (295), Returned men (90), Limited (88), Business college (12), Partial payments (12), Life members (11), Boys (653), Total (1,218).

The physical department under Mr. Armour's direction is working at top speed. The total number attending classes in October was 1,804, as against 820 last year (influenza). The total using the physical privileges for October this year is 1,580.

ton on October 29, for a special conference on maritime athletics. Major Fred J. Smith, national physical director, was with us on Friday, November 14, and remained over the week-end. He met the Senior Leaders' Corps which has a membership of fourteen, on Friday evening at their annual banquet, and the junior leaders (of whom there are thirty) on Saturday evening.

In the boys' department the month of October is a somewhat topsy-turvy month, and was taken this year in setting up the work; the rooms were crowded and the gymnasium classes well attended.

The organization of the church co-operative work was completed, and the first "Lexus" supper for this season held on Tuesday, November 4. There were twelve churches represented, and 125 boys present.

Tuesday, the 11th, brought the super-attendance up to 130. This total was again reached on Tuesday, the 18th. It is unfortunate that we are so cramped for room, for even though one of the members took sixteen boys to his own room in the dormitories and another used a trunk room, we still had to double up, by putting two classes together in some of the rooms.

We have passed the capacity limit for boys' work in this building, and are now endeavoring to get the use of a hall in Murray street, for the North End church co-operative work. This would make provision for the "Tuxis Boys" from St. Luke's, Portland street, Douglas avenue, Victoria street and Main street churches.

The "Trail Rangers" will very largely be taken care of by their own churches this year. There will, however, be some

THE AFTERMATH OF THE FLU EPIDEMIC

Necessity Pointed Out of Public Being on Their Guard for Several Years to Come

In a recent number of the Saturday Evening Post a writer calls pointed attention to the special dangers existing in the years following an influenza outbreak. It quotes the vice-president of a great insurance company as saying that after the 'flu wave of 1889 the mortality rate, especially from pneumonia, was high for some years.

A noted physician is also quoted as saying: "It is altogether probable that as an after effect of the influenza there will be an unusually high pneumonia death rate for several years to come." Warnings such as these should be borne in mind and drive home to every person the necessity of prompt action in every case of cold—usually the forerunner of influenza, pneumonia and kindred ailments.

It is possible to afford effective relief for a cold by home treatment, especially if it is taken in its early stages. Just as soon as the sneezing, running at the nose, closing up of the head occurs—start taking Grip Fix. This preparation contains Cofeina Citrate and Camphor Monobromate—drugs which any physician will say are the proper treatment for colds. So effective is it that Grip Fix relieves a cold in a night and a case of Grippe in 48 hours. This statement is made on a merchandising experience of over 10 years during which the preparation was used all over the country.

Get a box of Grip Fix tonight and take it home. Then, when colds come, a reliable treatment is at hand. Be sure and get the genuine Reid's Grip Fix as there are no substitutes which do as effective work. It sells at 25 cents per box and can be obtained at any drug store.

groups here on Friday evenings, as last year, but taking their physical work in the regular afternoon classes. The High "Y" Club held its first luncheon on the 18th, with twenty-six present. An excellent vocational address was given by Mr. King, vice-president of the C. I. R. This club promises to be as successful as ever, and has a splendid programme for the season ahead.

The Junior Business Boys' Class is twice as large as last year, and will be well looked after by Mr. Robertson, who is also starting a junior industrial boys' basketball team. The boys are most deserving of encouragement, and the ones who can benefit most from the association's activities.

The bowling alleys were open from the first of October. Senior, intermediate and dormitory bowling leagues are being formed and will tend to increase their usefulness. The dormitories are absolutely filled, and we are fortunate in having a splendid lot of men, with a good spirit prevailing.

The building is now in a splendid state of repair. The committee has decided to repair the building and when the rust finally gets out of the small heater on the swimming pool line, the swimming pool will be ready for use. The building features of the building will be about as good as we can make them under present conditions.

The painters have not quite finished the dormitory halls, but promise to do so within the next few days. The religious and social work has been delayed somewhat, in working out the general work, but these intermediate monthly supper and address, arranged for Thursday, November 20, was a decided success. A. H. Wetmore spoke on "Municipal and Civic Responsibilities," advising the young men to get well acquainted with the condition of things prevailing in their home city, look squarely at its problems and boost instead of knocking.

The Senior "Get-Together" Club will meet on Thursday, November 27. William Jessop's visit was a decided success from the foreign work standpoint, and we should endeavor to see that this advantage gained is made proper use of during the year.

I am getting a foreign work bulletin board made for the lobby and will have statements posted there regularly. The week of prayer was followed by the staff. Copies of the programme were sent to all the churches and directors, and we hope beneficial results will be felt from this spiritual effort.

This report is respectfully submitted. S. B. STOKES, General Secretary.

A Blood-Food Discovered That Entirely Overcomes Anaemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS.

Heretofore it has often been a hopeless task for a thin-blooded person to gain either strength or weight. Neither food or medicine in many instances had beneficial effect.

What is practically a perfect blood-food, containing such elements as Iron, has at last been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people that have despaired of ever being strong again.

This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate-coated Ferreroze Tablets at the close of every meal.

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy—sends a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibre sing with new-found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferroze drives it away. Sleepless nights because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition.

Think it over—Ferroze is a wonderful tonic, in fact, it is more than a tonic, because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition.

RIBBON AND HOLLY TO COVER BOMBS

Red Plot to Slay Officials by Internal Christmas Packages

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 22.—Discovery of a Red plot to slay officials with explosives in Christmas mail packages, is announced by Superintendent of Police James Robinson.

Information of the plot which he considers reliable indicates it is nation-wide, and directed against federal, state and city authorities who took part in the national roundup of radicals planning the overthrow of the government.

Steps were taken to prepare federal investigators, postal authorities and police of large cities for action against the "mail terror," which is scheduled to begin operation shortly before and during the Christmas holidays.

Evidence of the existence of a plot to send bombs through the mails under various names, was reported to Superintendent Robinson by Andrew Emanuel, head of the bomb squad, who said he unearthed it during his investigation of recent activities here.

The information was carefully withheld by the police. It is believed to have originated from an Anarchist "squealer" who was afraid of the consequences of the plot.

THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES WORK
Report of Miss Robertson, Secretary, For The Year
THE LIVING PROBLEM

Higher Wages Received But Prices of Necessities Prevent Saving—Applications of Various Kinds During The Year Total 1,623

Following is the report of Miss Grace Robertson, secretary, presented at the annual meeting of the Associated Charities last Thursday evening:

At this, the 20th annual meeting of the Associated Charities, I beg to submit the following report of work done during the year. There were eight board meetings and fourteen conferences held. All the cases which come under the notice of this society are dealt with at these conferences. These meetings are held weekly during the winter months and are attended by the ladies of the board of management.

We received 1,623 applications of various kinds. Of these 340 were seeking employment, 150 were seeking relief, 21 were seeking transportation, women were asking to have their children adopted, 6 women were asking for children for adoption, 8 men were seeking night's lodging; requests from employers in the city, 191; requests from employers out of the city, 121; requests for women by the day, 298; requests for maids, 178; requests for housekeepers, 7; requests for experienced nurses, 16; requests for women to care for aged the work. These services with many others have meant heavy work to the secretary and visitor and there are many problems we feel we might help if we had the time. We are hoping, however, that when the war problems have been adjusted many of the people who have given so generously of themselves for their country will continue this interest and come to our assistance. Many of our families need the friendly guidance and personal service to help in adjusting their lives that those with better education and advantages can give. Such friendly visitors have wrought many changes in families where busy mothers (often ignorant) are unable to plan for and guide their children in the difficulties arising, where poverty obliges them to live in the poorest neighborhoods, where every evil influence has to be met. It is only by following up the different cases that the most thorough work is done, our chief aim being to prevent pauperism and to help them to help themselves.

We would ask for a further co-operation of the churches, organizations and citizens, for it is only by means of an operation of those interested in social welfare that the best results are obtained. Before closing would wish to thank all those who have so promptly responded to aid in cases where special relief was required, to Oak Hill and many of our friends who have sent us such generous donations of clothing, and to the press.

Respectfully submitted,
GRACE O. ROBERTSON.

U. S. GOVT. TO CUT PRICE OF FLOUR

Will Sell Good Grade at Reduction of 2 Cents a Pound

(New York Times)

In a statement issued yesterday Julius H. Barnes, director of the United States Grain Corporation, announced that in about three weeks the corporation would put on the market a good grade of pure wheat flour made from the finest wheat at about two cents a pound cheaper retail than is quoted at present in the fair price committee's list of foods and prices. It "will put the solution of one phase of the high cost of living directly into the hands of the consumer," said the director in his statement. The statement follows in part:

Following a conference of the vice-presidents of the eastern zones of the United States Grain Corporation with Mr. Barnes, the corporation has announced that it will offer to the retail trade, particularly in the large cities, under its own brand, standard pure wheat straight flour in 48½ and 12½ pound packages, at prices which will reflect the grand corporation buying price of the flour. This will place in the hands of the consumer a quantity of flour made from the best wheat and used in large quantities before the war by both bankers and the grocery trade. The brand offered is No. 10, 100% pure wheat flour. It is in no way identified with the war grade flour, a distinction which should be fully appreciated by the consumer.

"Rumors, possibly inspired by overzealous flour salesmen, have been current in the market from time to time of an impending flour shortage and the possibility that the use of substitutes would be resumed. Mr. Barnes asserts that there is no authority whatsoever in the present food regulations for the reinstatement of the use of substitutes or of war flour.

"Production of flour has been extremely heavy and for the season ending Nov. 7, has amounted to 2,433,000 barrels against 4,174,000 barrels last year. Exports have been only about the same as last year. Consequently flour stocks are very heavy and amounted to about 50 per cent more than a year ago on Nov. 1.

"Many reports concerning scarcity of flour and advancing prices for certain grades have been circulating. The facts are that stocks of flour are very large and production enormous. It is expected the retail price will be about seven to five cents for a 12½ pound sack."

The Real Estate Owners' Protective Association yesterday made public a letter to Mayor Hylan requesting him to either refer to the mayor's committee on rent profiteering or appoint another committee to look into the matter of the "unnatural" profiteering in milk, bread, butter, eggs, fish, meat and other necessities of life, in addition to fuel, clothing, shoes and other wearing apparel.

Resolutions adopted by the association declare that the rent profiteering committee has successfully sought to invade the domain of the rent control board and further and look for other profiteers.

THE NEW WOMAN AND THE OLD (London Daily Express)

All the young women who worked for their living in the domestic service or governesses sixty years ago. Not at all. They engaged waitresses, they were telegraph clerks, they were dispensers, they did household work, they painted dials. Yes, and they brought up large families in an atmosphere of simple virtue that we can never emulate, and they wrote great books and painted great pictures. Of course, you have bettered their example. The war has struck off petticoats and fetters. You do everything and do it very well, and we are your admiring slaves. But sixty years ago your grandmothers did very well, didn't they? They had petticoats—and crinolines. They were not admitted to the men's club. They had to do their jobs with all the weight of prejudice against them. But they did them; and don't you forget it.

You've seen it often—just as the singer, preacher or great actor reaches the climax and the audience is keyed up to the highest pitch of anticipation, there comes that uncontrollable cough or sneeze from somewhere in the audience. How embarrassing for the victim who knows that the pleasure of many has been spoiled.

They Saved Her from the Operating Table

It is a pitiable fact that many of the serious operations which are performed every day, some with such direful results, are unnecessary. At best, the operation is frequently the outcome of neglect. A considerable percentage of them are due to kidney and bladder trouble. These troubles can usually be relieved and the organs made strong and healthy by the use of that great and proved remedy—

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS

Be advised. Derangement of the kidneys is likely to occur at any time in life. A vigilant watch should be kept, so that corrective measures may be taken at the first suspicion of trouble. Gin Pills, which contain all the healing and toning qualities of the Juniper and several other diuretics and antiseptics, exert a marvellous power on the delicate tissues of the kidneys and bladder, soothing and overcoming inflammation, relieving the pain, and enabling these vital organs to do their work of purifying the blood with efficiency and without strain. Thus the deposits of uric acid and other poisons which cause rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia, are taken out of the system, the constipation is cured, the headaches cease,

"Gin Pills did for my husband and me," writes Mrs. T. H. Plestid, Richmond P.O., P.E.I., "what no other remedy could. I have advised two other parties to use them, one of them being my mother, who has been a great sufferer for upwards of 20 years. One box cured her, so as to enable her to sleep on her left side, something she could not do for many a year. She was advised to undergo an operation for a floating kidney. Instead she tried Gin Pills which promptly brought her the relief she so much desired."

The above is just one of many similar letters, sent in gratitude from men and women who have been benefited by these most efficient of all Kidney Pills. Get Gin Pills today from your druggist or dealer, who will refund your money to you, if you are not relieved. Or send us for free sample.

PUBLICITY OF TARIFF-FRAMING PROPOSED.

(Grain Growers' Guide.)
This secret co-operation between politicians in power and the beneficiaries of protectionism has all along been the regular thing in the framing of protection tariffs, in which the line between public duty and private interests has always been lost sight of. The plank in the Farmer's platform which declares that "every claim for tariff protection by any industry should be heard publicly before a special committee of parliament" strikes at a main root of an evil system. If the whole truth about the actual work of tariff-framing could be laid open to the daylight of publicity, the revelations of greed, self-deception, graft and indifference to the just rights of others would arouse the whole mass of the people to indignation.

BAD BREATH IS CAUSED BY CATARRH

Canadians suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. On this account Catarrh is dangerous and should be checked at the outset.
It isn't necessary to take internal medicine to cure Catarrh. There is a far better method.
Doctors now treat Catarrh by sending a purifying, healing vapor through the breathing organs. In this way the germs of Catarrh are destroyed.
The only successful vapor treatment is CATARRHOZONE, which the patient breathes through a special inhaler to the real seat of the trouble. The rich, piney essences of Catarrhozone heal and soothe all inflamed surfaces. They effectively treat the nose, throat and lungs with a powerful antiseptic that destroys irritation at once.
Catarrhozone brings into the system the balmy air of the pine forest. It cures completely colds, coughs, catarrh, weak throat and bronchitis.
Once tried, Catarrhozone is always used. Nothing so pleasant, so simple, so quick to relieve, so absolutely sure to permanently cure. Accept no substitute. Large size lasts two months, and costs $1.00; small size 50c; sample trial size 25c; at all dealers.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA
A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and youthfulness.
Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.
While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

THE TRIUMPHANT LOAN.

(Toronto Globe.)
"Where did all the money come from?" was the query heard from many lips yesterday, as citizens grouped the significance of the success of the Victory Loan campaign. The total realized—$673,000,000—seemed to be above almost every one's expectation, though there had been prophecies of $600,000,000 by some of the more sanguine. It is a real mystery to many as to how the money was raised, but the Victory Loan workers in the thousands throughout the country know what it meant in sustained, well-organized effort. A tradesman was heard to say: "Now, no one will pay his bills for six months," as he contemplated the drawbacks of a credit business, with not a few people paying all their ready money into Victory bonds' funds. But he was an exception. The general feeling was one of satisfaction. Some expressed real anxiety that extravagance would be found in some quarters, but against that was a vigilant government, and surely a watchful opinion.

Tells How to Regain Perfect Health and Keep It By Bathing Internally

Are you aware that nearly one million bright, intelligent people throughout Canada and the United States alone bathe internally instead of loading their systems with drugs? Why? Because it keeps them in better health in every way.
Internal bathing is the only sure means of keeping the intestines clean and free from accumulated waste matter, which is sure to slowly poison the system and become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the system, thereby causing rheumatism, impure blood, indigestion, headaches, and a hundred other ailments which are directly the result of constipation.
If you want to be healthy all the time we would strongly advise you to get a J.B.L. Cascade, which is the only perfected appliance ever devised for efficiently cleansing the colon and lower intestines. It is the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell of New York, who is a specialist on Internal Bathing. The J.B.L. Cascade is shown and explained at E. Clinton Brown, Druggist, Union and Waterloo streets, St. John; F. N. Munro, Dispensing Chemist, 357 Main street, St. John, where you can receive an interesting book called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 per Cent Efficient." It tells you facts about yourself that you probably never realized before, or write Tyrell's Hygienic Institute, 168 College Street, Toronto.

ONTARIO LABOR MINISTER, HOME AND FAMILY

Some Simple Puddings

Puddings, in some unexplainable way, had committed the unforgivable mistake of growing old-fashioned, even temporarily disappearing from view, until the recent adoption of new recipes, to back up slender, most courses, restored their popularity. With some regret, many now realize that good dishes were missed by neglecting the puddings and new recipes for their making.

Sweet Apple Pudding—Chop 1-2 pound of tart apples and add to them 1-2 pound of carefully washed currants, 1-2 pound of finely chopped suet, 1-2 pound sugar, 1-2 teaspoon of salt, 1-2 blanched and chopped almonds, 6 well beaten eggs, and a grating of nutmeg. Beat well, pour into a buttered mold, cover, and boil three hours. Serve with a fruit or regular pudding sauce.

On the right of the picture is shown Mr. Walter Rollo, Hamilton, Labor Minister, slated for Minister of Labor in the Farmer-Labor Government. Next to him is his son, Gordon, aged eighteen, on the upper left-hand side of his house at 13 Pine street, Hamilton. In the right-hand corner below, is his daughter, Jeanne, aged fourteen, and on the right, Mrs. Walter Rollo.

BENEFACTORS OF THE STUDENT BODY

On the left is shown Chester D. Massey, president of the estates of his father, the late Hart Almerin Massey, through whose beneficence the idea of the magnificent Hart House was conceived and bequeathed to Toronto University. On the right is his brother, Vincent Massey, Dean of residence of Victoria College, whose zeal in the minutest detail of the new building has been indefatigable.

slurp to the strained fruit juice, with 1 tablespoon of chopped nuts. Prune Custard Pudding—Soak and stew 1-2 pound of prunes, cool and remove the stones then chop them fine. Add 1 cup of cream, 1-2 cup of sugar, 4 beaten eggs and 1 cup of milk. Turn into a pudding dish, setting it in a pan of water, and bake until the pudding sets. Chill and serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Rice Cookery

Methods of rice cookery vary in the countries where rice is a staple food, though all cooks agree on one point, that the finished product must be dry and flaky, each grain standing apart, after which it may be eaten as nature's or disguised in made dishes.

The Japanese method is to take 1 cup of rice, wash it thoroughly, then put it into a pottery skillet where it is covered with water to the depth of the wrist bone, when the hand is laid flat on the rice. It is boiled until it absorbs all the water, 12 to 15 minutes, when it is set on the back of the stove to dry.

Spaniards and Creoles cook rice in the same way. Wash 1 cup of rice and add it slowly to 8 cups of boiling water in which there is a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of butter. Cover and boil 15 minutes, then uncover and set it back to dry. With each method, good judgment must be used in regulating the heat under the rice pot.

THE USE OF BASIC SLAG

In quoting results of experiments it is well to note the quality of the materials used in the experiments as compared with those which are commonly sold in the Canadian farmer. In a recent issue of Canadian Farm appears an English article in which the writer says: "Farmers are recommended when purchasing basic slag to see that at least 80 per cent of the total phosphates are soluble in what is known as Wagner's citric acid solution."

Another important point which should call attention to in this connection is the quality of the material used in the experiments and actual farm practice. Basic slag has been tested at some of the oldest experiment stations in America, and is found to be giving results consistent with the nature of the material that is being added. We have been surprised to note the difference in analysis between the slag being used in the experiments and the slag being offered for sale.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver. There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B. C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses. Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"WORLD WAR" NOW OFFICIAL TITLE

Washington, Nov. 21—The four years of war ended by the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, is still so close to modern times that all sorts of names have been used to distinguish it from other wars that have gone before. It is usually known as "the Great War."

But the war department, through the secretary of war, has decided to call it "The World War." An official order declaring that "the war against the Central Powers of Europe, in which the United States has taken part, will hereafter be designated in all official communications and publications as 'The World War.'"

How Bees "Depose" A Queen

"What can be said of the intelligence of insects which murder their mother—she upon whose prosperity, if not the very life of the hive depends—and then, immediately after committing the crime, run about in a state of panic and bewilderment, self-inflicted losses?" So asks Clarence Williams, a well-known English apiarist, in the current number of Chambers' Journal, and then continues:

"Most persons would reply that creatures which acted in so insane a manner could not possess intelligence at all, and some might be disinclined to believe that insects could be guilty of such extraordinary behavior. It sounds altogether too human in its utter foolishness to be true. And yet that wise little bundle of nerves and animation, the honey bee, is addicted at times to these strange acts of frenzy. Perhaps it is a form of hysteria, for as every one knows, creatures of a delicate and high-strung nervous organization are liable to singular aberrations.

NOT SUFFICIENT ATTENTION PAID TO PUBLIC HEALTH

(Halifax Chronicle.)

Col. John Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health at Ottawa, who, with Dr. J. D. Page of the Federal Immigration Board, is visiting Halifax, was the chief speaker at a meeting of representative citizens in the Legislative Chamber at the Provincial Building Tuesday afternoon. Premier Murray occupied the chair and introduced Col. Amyot, remarking that it was a pleasure to him to welcome a Federal Health official to the city. Not sufficient attention had been paid to the important question of the public health in the past and he was delighted to see evidence of an awakening.

Referring to the campaign of the present week, Dr. Amyot said that the baby in whose cause it was being carried on, was the important one—in him lay the hope of the future and it was his right to be properly born, to come in with a fair chance. We had heard a good deal lately about quality and not quantity, he said. It was not true that highly civilized people had small families. Normal human beings had large families if they began young enough. He deplored late marriages and said that a good part of the low birth rate might be traced to effects of disease contracted by people before they were married.

The enforced examination of men during the period of the war had revealed the fact that three and one-half per cent were suffering from acute and obvious venereal disease—disease which brought in its train early mortality and mental disability.

Veneral disease was something that could be got at. It was a question of ability to their progeny. The Government had come down to brass tacks and had voted $200,000 which it is expected will be augmented by the provinces to establish clinics for the treatment of such diseases. "Reduction of these diseases will reduce infant mortality," he said.

Continuing he emphasized the necessity of feeding the baby mother's milk if at all possible. Animals produced milk suited to their own young and it was highly important that the human baby should not be forced to accommodate his digestive organs to cow's milk which was in many cases impure. He scored mothers whose desire to attend pink teas prevented their giving their babies their proper food, and speaking of those mothers who were forced for economic reasons to give up nursing, said some way must be found to obviate this necessity.

city and to keep the babies in their own homes, in decent homes.

The high infant mortality in Montreal was due in no small part to the living conditions. "Let us forget that dividends are the biggest things in the country," he said.

Col. Amyot spoke in strong terms condemning the use of soothing syrups which mothers frequently used to quiet restless children. Nearly everyone of the remedies advertised contained opium, its derivatives or the salts of its derivatives, and if the mothers knew that this was the case they wouldn't give it to their babies," he said.

Health Centre.

Dr. Royer addressed the meeting on the matter of the "Health Centre" which it is proposed to establish here. He sketched the development of the health centre idea until it reached its present form—a sort of a clearing house for all the health work done in the community, a centralizing and co-ordinating agency for the different organizations engaged in looking after the welfare of the whole city. The modern health centre, he said, was a listening post for disease and a fighting outpost.

Plans were already underway for securing a building which would be the headquarters of the centre. It would probably contain clinics to deal with tuberculosis, venereal diseases, eye, nose and throat troubles; a dental clinic; a posture clinic which would combat the evil of improper marriage, and possibly a milk laboratory for the testing of milk and quarters for the quarantine nurse. The quarantine nurse would visit houses which were quarantined for some infectious disease and give proper nursing instruction in proper nursing and advise with the mistress.

Dr. Hattie, on being requested to address the gathering by Premier Murray, said that he had little to say beyond this—that what had been done elsewhere could be done here. If what had been done in other places were done in Halifax, it would result in a saving of many babies every year. We were afraid of taxes, he said, but if we were not taxed in dollars and cents we would be taxed in human life.

Premier Murray thanked the speaker for their very excellent addresses and the meeting closed.

UNDER COMMISSION HARBOR TRAFFIC BEARS BURDEN

Editor Times-Star.—

Sir,—In order that the citizens may be clear in their minds on what it is the government really proposes to do with St. John harbor under commission. Here are extracts from the act itself.

HARBOR COMMISSION.

An Act Relating to the Harbor of St. John (Assented to 7th July, 1919). Section 20—The principal interest of the sums of money which may be borrowed by the Corporation (Harbor Commission) under this Act, and the principal and interest of the debentures issued under the authority of this Act, shall be repaid out of the revenue arising out of the rates and penalties imposed by and under this Act for and on account of the harbor.

(a) The payment of all expenses incurred in the collection of said revenue and other necessary charges.

(b) The defraying of the expenses attendant on keeping the wharves and other works vested in the corporation in a thorough state of repairs.

(c) The payment of interest due on the debentures issued by the corporation to the city under the authority of this Act.

(d) The payment of interest due on all money hereafter borrowed under this Act.

(e) Providing a sinking fund for paying off all money borrowed or the liability for the payment of which is assumed by the corporation.

(f) The cost of operating docks and wharves and otherwise carrying out the objects of this Act.

Section 18.—The elevator, the property of His Majesty, and all wharves the property of His Majesty, in the right of His Government of Canada within the limits of the harbor of St. John shall be subject to the control of an administrator by the corporation, and the corporation shall pay in consideration thereof to the Minister of Finance of Canada interest at the rate of 8-1/2 per cent per annum upon the amount of the cost of construction thereof.

You will see that the government does not promise to do anything. It sets forth very clearly what the commissioners must do and where they are to get the money from, viz.—The traffic in and out of the harbor. A further reference to the act shows that the government does not give or lend any money to the commissioners; they must sell their bonds the best they can. Neither does it guarantee their bonds or interest thereon except those given to the city.

Yours for NATIONALIZATION WORKING MEN'S SALE AT OAK HALL ENDS TONIGHT

This is your last opportunity to take advantage of the unusually successful sale for working men, that has been running at Oak Hall all this week. This is the last day, the sale coming to a close at 10 o'clock tonight. Although hundreds have been outfitted by Oak Hall this week, the last day does not find many broken lots, missing sizes and so forth. Oak Hall prepared for just such a large volume so that those who have been obliged to leave their shopping until the last day will still find a very pleasing range of hosiery, underwear, gloves, mitts, sweaters, nightshirts, overalls, neckwear and so forth to choose from. But the end is now at hand, you must make up your mind at once, if you wish to take advantage of the final day of the greatest opportunity that has been offered the working man for some time, and one that will not come again for some time to come.

DANCE AT HAMPTON.

An enjoyable dance was held last night in Hampton at the Wayside Inn. A large number of young people enjoyed a nicely arranged programme of dances. Refreshments were served and the party broke up a little after twelve.

1,320 BRITONS CONVICTED OF PROFITEERING

Prison Terms and $35,000 in Fines Follow Campaign

WHOLESALE DEALERS ARE BLAMED

Effort to Wipe Out High and Unwarranted Profits - Small Dealers Say They Are Gouged; Complaints Have Widest of Ranges.

London, Oct. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain's stupendous effort to grapple with profiteering is just isolated by the work of 1,600 tribunals which have prosecuted 7,350 offenders and secured 1,320 convictions, with fines aggregating $35,000.

Besides setting up these local tribunals to which complaints against dealers are submitted, appeal tribunals have been established in specified areas of England, Scotland and Wales. In addition, central committees also have formed to investigate supposed trusts or monopolies which may be manipulating wholesale prices.

This has been done under the profiteering act. Apart from the prosecution of complaints, the board of trade, which is charged with the administration of the anti-profiteering law, is independently investigating prices, costs and profits of large number of articles in common use. It has formed a costings committee, composed of distinguished accountants, which is assisting the central committee in its task.

A sub-committee on trusts has been empowered to obtain whatever technical and expert assistance may be required.

Broad in Scope.

In scope, the act applies to "any article or class of articles which is one of kind in common use by the public" or any "material, machinery or accessories used in the production of such articles." The act does not apply to "controlled" articles, such as butter, tar, beer, flour, liquors—commodities which maximum prices were fixed by war-time legislation.

A clear-cut definition of the term "profiteering" has been a point which has been accepted as a basis for prosecution of their tasks. So far, definition laid down by Sir Auckland Geddes, president of the board of trade, has been accepted as a basis for prosecution. It follows: "The making of an unreasonable large profit, all the circumstances being known, by the sale to one's fellow citizens of an article which is one of a kind in common use."

On the most question of what constitutes an "unreasonable profit," C. A. Curdy, parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, recently declared, "One of the causes of profiteering is the fact that the public seems to have lost all sense of what is a reasonable profit. A principle for tribunals to work on is not to ask themselves whether the profit is higher than someone else is charging, but is the profit arrived at on any reasonable business principles, or is it merely dictated by avarice and greed?

Called Help to Trade. Mr. McCurdy has characterized the profiteering act as "an abnormal remedy for an abnormal state of public feeling—an act not intended to harass British trade, but to help it restore it to normal and healthy conditions."

Critics of the government's anti-profiteering machinery point to official figures just published in the board of trade's "Labor Gazette," showing that, despite efforts to beat down living costs, the general level of retail prices on October 1 was about 120 per cent above pre-war figures, or an increase of 5 per cent as compared with the level of September last, when the local tribunals were just getting under way.

Against such objections may be set such testimonials as that of the Yorkshire Profiteering Committee, which claims that a reduction in wholesale prices by as much as thirty-five per cent has been noticeable in that locality.

Women Are On Boards. Membership of the local tribunals was fixed at from seven to twenty-five, two of whom must be women. All complaints are heard in public, except in special cases, when, under authority of the board of trade, proceedings may be in private. Books or documents produced at private hearings are to be treated as confidential, if the person represented on the local tribunals and on the Central Committee, among the members of the committee being J. H. Thomas, executive head of the railway.

Local tribunals have been empowered to investigate all claims brought before them and, if the allegations of excessive charges are established, to institute proceedings against the seller before a court of summary jurisdiction where, upon conviction, fines of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for terms not to exceed three months, or both, may be imposed.

Questions before local tribunals are decided by a majority of the members of whom must be women. Any seller aggrieved by any finding of a local tribunal, other than a decision to take proceedings before a court of summary jurisdiction, may appeal to the Appeal Tribunal for the area in which the local tribunal is operating. The institution of court proceedings is not the only function of the local tribunals—they may dismiss the complaint entirely, declare the price which would yield a reasonable profit on the article in question, or require the seller to repay to the complainant any amount paid by him in excess of this stipulated price.

Complaints Are Varied. Local tribunals all over England have lists of complaints for investigation. The articles range from flannelettes at thirty-six cents a yard to bootlaces at twenty-five cents a pair, from enamelled saucepans at $1.45 to spoons of cotton at fourteen cents; a Westminster committee has been called on to investigate a charge of $125 for a woman's hat, another of $80 for a coat and skirt and a charge of eight cents for a breakfast roll.

A complaint was made before the Walton-on-Thames committee of a charge of sixty-two cents for a lamp shade, which, it was alleged, could be purchased a few miles distant for thirty-two cents.

At Bangor a man complained that he had been charged sixty-five cents for tea for himself and a friend. The committee ordered a refund of sixteen cents.

FAMOUS PEARLS FOR SALE. London, Nov. 21.—A historic pearl necklace, regarded by experts as one of the finest in existence, will be sold at auction in London next week by order of members of the former Russian imperial family. It consists of four strands of 188 perfectly matched pearls, the largest of which weighs twenty-eight grains, the total weight of the necklace being 4,000 grains. It is understood that the reserve price is £25,000.

It is believed that the necklace belonged originally to the Czarine Natalia Narishkina, but for many years it has been out of Russia and came to England recently worn upon the body, "but not in the usual way," it is mysteriously ascertained.

If the necklace is not sold complete, it will be offered for sale row by row.

The collection was commenced two or three centuries ago.

"You may say," your correspondent was informed, "that the pearls were not offered for sale by refugees from Russia or from any other country, nor is the sale due to lack of money on the part of the owners."

Good to Look At. (The Nomad, in Boston Transcript) The success of The Literary Digest in the fire which threatened to destroy and several other periodicals in getting themselves out nominally without type-setters raises the question whether the Gutenberg art is really so necessary to our modern life, as we have been supposed it to be. These papers have been improving in appearance ever since they started under the process which they have adopted of reproducing type-writing by photography, and they can improve themselves still further if they wish to. The Literary Digest, for one, does not employ the kind of type-writing which produces a page more closely resembling print. By adopting the right sort of type-writing, the pages of these periodicals could be made to resemble ordinary print very closely in all respects except the justification of the lines—that is, the bringing of them out even at the end—a process which is possible only in typography. Yet that justification is not necessary; after a very little reading, the eye ceases to notice the fact that the lines end irregularly. There are, by the way, some typographers who think that the justification of the lines in printing is an entirely unnecessary bother, and that irregular lines (as the blank verse) are actually more pleasing to the eye than lines brought out at the end to an even finish. For some years Benjamin R. Tucker, the philosophical anarchist, ran a very good-looking periodical called "Liberty," neatly printed always from good type, in which the lines, as in the current numbers of The Literary Digest, were not justified, but ended irregularly, and it must be said that the pages of Liberty were good to look at. Tucker considered it a typographical reform, but his example was not followed. Perhaps the periodicals now being got out without typography will popularize this method. Except in the most careful book work, the necessity of justification often results in uncouthly wide spacing, which is a worse affliction to the eye than the varying space at the end of the lines, when they are printed without justification.

Assistant District Attorney Kilroe Declares Albertus Also Sought His Wife Through Circular Letter.

(New York Tribune.) The District Attorney's office continued to delve yesterday into the mysteries of the inner circles of the Neva Esperanza or New Hope Society, Inc., which shut down the Mason Avenue and 127th Street marriage hall last Wednesday on Assistant District Attorney Kilroe's official order.

Albertus, who offered his clients wives with formidable bank balances, as well as personal charm, formerly was rector of a Lutheran church in South Ozone Park, Long Island, Mr. Martensen said, according to Mr. Kilroe, but ceased being a clergyman of the Lutheran church in October, 1918.

Teaching English

(Written for the Christian Science Monitor.) There is no more popular subject for a textbook than that of English composition. Anyone who is connected with the English department of an eight or ten institution is accustomed at frequent intervals to find on his desk either a new textbook or a fresh compilation of essays for use in English composition courses.

Those academic household words, unity, coherence and emphasis, together with their companions, clearness, force and interest—how often they are thundered from the classroom rostrum, how much more often the teachers are devoted to them! This six-headed verbal Cerberus guards the entrance to college; its formidable howls resound throughout freshman year, yet the average undergraduate, whose receptivity rivals a duck's back in its imperviousness to drops from the Pegasus, goes on in his old sweet way, writing such charming phrases as "along these lines" and "to a great extent," to name only two of his pet habits.

This statement, with all its sweeping implications, will of course be challenged, particularly by the vast host who are publishing textbooks. Nevertheless the actual facts bear out its truth. The average freshman "theme" causes one to shudder, and when these essays arrive once a month in batens of 50 or more, the instructor who must read them, faces a veritable mountain of paper.

And yet most instructors not only enjoy teaching composition—a truth, no man who attended it would deny—but with such a Sisyphean-like task—but they put into it an amount of enthusiasm which is proof against all discouragements. In any other subject similar devotion and enthusiasm would assuredly be rewarded. English composition alone remains a stone wall against which the best of us are continually bumping our heads.

This is a difficult subject to discuss, because each textbook, as it appears, is accompanied by a "method" explaining that the method described therein is a new one, differing in all respects from its predecessors. As the results, however, as far as freshman themes are concerned, remain the same, it is fair to conclude that the right method has not yet been found. Perhaps it never will be—a gloomy thought. But are we wise to lay so much stress, in our colleges, on the teaching of composition during the first two years of the course? It is unnecessary to mention that in order to write, man must have something to say. Even if we rebash Huxley, Arnold, Spencer and Ruskin, for the freshman, in frequent classroom discussions, are we really giving him anything to say? Do we make a sufficient distinction between esthetic and practical problems in our methods of instruction? Is it to be expected that the immature underclassman can be as easily taught to write as the junior or senior who has begun to think upon life?

In short, when the next textbook on composition appears, it should be particularly stress upon the problem from the teacher's point of view. Composition should not be regarded as an elementary subject, fit only for freshman and sophomore years. If it is anything, it should be concerned with the more mature thought of the undergraduate. Let the preliminary years be taken up with simple illustrations of the art of thinking. Such mental five-finger exercises are at present much needed. The relation of the various subjects of a college course to one another should be made clear to the freshman. When he performs laboratory experiments or solves problems in mathematics, he should know what thought-processes he is pursuing, and why. Then when he reaches junior or senior year he will have a position to be taught to write. His education will have led him to think, and one has attained this most desirable goal, it will be an easier matter to let him learn first to put his ideas together according to a coherent plan. Daily themes and general essays should not, therefore, be mixed, at first, with this drill in logical expression. The latter at least is a practical equipment which no man in after life may do without. And it is on this practical attainment that we should focus our efforts in teaching elementary composition—efforts which may be better made when the student himself has had more experience with college work than is possible in freshman year. Finally there will still be time in the senior year, to take the time of natural literary ability and give men of natural talent to write "literary" essays.

It was a tiny little bedroom in an apartment, but it really was surprising how much space there was in it, after all. Although the room contained a single brass bed, a chiffonier, a generous-sized dressing-table, a bedside table and a square chest built into one corner of the room, it was not crowded in the least. Its occupant was even heard to remark, when expatiating on its spaciousness: "I can turn around two or three times like a dog, before I go to bed, and not bump into anything."

It is for this that we read poetry and fiction, yes, and history, too, that we may identify ourselves in imagination with the heroes bound to the mast among his steaming crew to hear the shrens sing, or Hannibal crossing the snowy passes of the Alps, or Socrates drinking the hemlock at the order of his judges, or Angelo when he drew that picture of the "roasting of Man" or Washington at Valley Forge or Yorktown, or our own Army clearing the woods of the Argonne Forest, to make a way for the freedom of the world.

The point at which all deeds of valor meet, if they are to hold our admiration, is the point of thought or help for others. There must be some element of service. We soon tire even the best life spent in the following of pure selfishness. So even Napoleon wears us at last. At this point many a quiet, all unstudied deed or word, takes on the color of heroism and makes us feel a stir of brotherhood, yes, even a wish that we might do as well when our own opportunity offers. There is no heroism, for example, in saving money for a cause, though it may be difficult if wages

There are tales of individual devotion that stir the heart. Mr. Richard Kearton, the famous English naturalist, tells of a Masai boy when his own soldier brother was ill in Africa, "ran seven miles through a country infested by man-eating lions to obtain the milk on which the invalid's life depended." It was in love of Christ and in the love of men which Christ teaches, that those missionaries in Asia of whom I have been speaking held to their work. But we are not to think that deeds of love and service which stir our hearts to thoughts of emulation are a monopoly of Christians. That dark-skinned boy who for love of Mr. Cherry Kearton ran fourteen miles among the lions tells a braver story. It was a Samaritan, a Jew, who took pity on the man who fell among the thieves on the road to Jericho. Christianity does not create it; it evokes and enlarges and directs the natural courage and devotion of the human heart. And it is able to make its appeal on the example and character of its unflinching and courageous Lord.

No man ever learned to be a coward in the companionship of Christ. We do wrong to picture Him as He is shown in the weak, sentimental and effeminate paintings which have come to us from Germany. For the other side of the sentimental is too often cruelty and the black despair of self-sweeping. Sargent has yielded to this weakness of representing Christianity as an exclusively emotional faith in his new picture of Christ in the Boston Public Library. He has put a tortured Christ almost out of sight between the knees of a staring woman as a symbol of the courage and forth-reaching enterprise to which the manly Christ sent his disciples. Strength and courage and enterprise and authority were the elements which His own generation recognizes in Jesus. Dr. Newman Smyth once asked a Japanese student who had come to Yale what was the strongest impression made upon his mind when he first read the Gospels. "It was Christ's journey up to Jerusalem," he said. "O, the courage of Christ was the one man of history of whom it is true that He never knew fear." We shall have to look well to ourselves and to our teachings, lest the new children of the Church from other lands and races have a stronger and manlier thought of Jesus than we who inherit the traditions of the Christian ages.

I do not know how old was that African boy who ran through the land of lions for his master, but I must put beside it the story of an American boy, only eleven years old, who was drilled captain of five hundred boys in a New York grammar school. One day he went forward to recognize some suspicious strangers. "In the day of raids," he said, "I do not trust my mare to my own brother, lest he should see the foe and fear and ride away. But to you I give her because I know that the heart of the English is strong." Would it not thrill us to think that we in our own person and we as a nation might deserve like testimony to courage and to character? And yet as a result of the life and work of the men and women who have represented us in these same regions of the world, who stayed and served and nursed and taught through the war and massacre and starvation, the Armenians—yes, even the Turks and Syrians—trust us and want us and their helpers in the bringing back of peace and security to their impoverished lands.

That Useful Chinese Stool

It was a tiny little bedroom in an apartment, but it really was surprising how much space there was in it, after all. Although the room contained a single brass bed, a chiffonier, a generous-sized dressing-table, a bedside table and a square chest built into one corner of the room, it was not crowded in the least. Its occupant was even heard to remark, when expatiating on its spaciousness: "I can turn around two or three times like a dog, before I go to bed, and not bump into anything."

The only mirror, however, was the one over the dressing-table and to use that, of course, one had to sit down. So a chair was needed. There did not seem to be one to spare anywhere in the apartment, and as the sort of chair which the owner of the room wanted to go with that pretty mahogany table would cost more money than she cared to put into such a piece of furniture at that time, she looked about for something else.

One member of the family proposed covering a box and using that with a nice little crotone cover on top, but that idea did not appeal; no makeshift was wanted, but, rather, something that would be both lasting and satisfactory. Then the inspiration came, just when it was needed. Why not get one of those Chinese wicker stools, which could be pushed right in under the dressing-table, when not in use?

Uplown, in an oriental shop, the stool was found exactly the right thing for the place it was to occupy. It was small and round, so light that it could easily be carried about anywhere in the apartment, yet strongly enough built to be durable. It fitted right into the room, as though it had been included in the original plan, cost much less than a chair or mahogany bench, and proved both attractive and useful in almost every other room in the apartment, at various times. AT WATERWAYS CONVENTION Charles P.
