SPORTING MATTERS
THE CHAMPIONS
WERE EASY WINNERS

St. Josephs lined up very strong last evening and they were indeed the champions. Their opponents were the F. M. A. and the champions won a four-inning game with a score of 5 to 2. McGilgan was in the box for the champions and pitched an excellent game, not one hit being made off him, while he had four strike-outs to his credit. The two runs obtained by the F. M. A. were in the first inning, when errors of McGilgan and Long were responsible.

The St. Josephs managed to get six hits in the game and these with several errors made by the F. M. A., netted them two runs in each inning.

Mr. Wales, the umpire, gave very satisfactory decisions. About 300 persons witnessed the game. Following is the score and summary:

Table with columns for team names (St. Josephs, F. M. A.), runs, hits, errors, and other statistics.

Summary—Shamrock Grounds, Monday evening, June 3rd, 1907. St. Josephs, 5; F. M. A., 2. Struck out by Flynn, Cregan (2), by McGilgan, 4; viz: J. White, W. White (2), Flynn. AMATEUR LEAGUE
At the Victoria grounds last evening the team from the Portland Y. M. A. defeated the Algonquias by a score of 4 to 2. It was the Portlanders game throughout, but was also an interesting contest. The Y. M. A. team are steadily improving. Murphy and Lee were at the point for the Portlanders, Gorham and Woodworth officiating for the Indians.

JUNIOR LEAGUE
The Ramblers of the Junior League have been considerably weakened by the loss of L. McLaren, one of their best players, who has joined the pitching staff of the senior St. Stephens.

THE PIQUANT DENISON.
(Monetary Times.)
Colonel Denison, whose remarks are usually pertinent and piquant, his criticism of bank managers is rather strongly. "It is getting to be a very common practice for bank managers to be in Toronto police court," he said in his considered very valuable security, replied the crown attorney. "If some of these bank managers get into jail, it will serve them right," concluded his worship. These remarks were made during the hearing of a case concerning a Cobourg merchant, against whom the crown has been ordered to lay a charge of forgery. The prisoner is alleged to have forged a name for four hundred dollars. The banker who discounted the forged note will be required to give his explanation of the matter. Perhaps it is too early to make any comment concerning either Colonel Denison's caustic criticism or the subject of forgery. Both are interesting.

MONTREAL, Q., June 3.—A cable today stated that Laurier returns to Canada a month earlier than first intended.

ENGLAND'S FUTURE KING IS MAKING A GOOD START

LONDON, June 3.—The members of the Prince of Wales's household are much amused at the accounts which have been received from various sources of the doings of the Prince's eldest son, little Prince Edward, or "David" as he is called at home, at the Osborne College for Naval Cadets.

The other day a certain well-known woman who had lived all her life near Sandringham, the king's Norfolk home, and who, therefore, has known all the royal family since she was a girl, took her son to Osborne.

The little boy who, like Prince "David," was entering the college for the first time, had been laid up with the measles and so the young prince had several weeks start of him. The anxious mother naturally wished to see the dormitory where her son was to sleep.

As she entered the long bare apartment she witnessed a terrific struggle. A rather fat boy was pummeling another on the floor. The "under-boy" was purple in the face with rage and making determined efforts to get up and "do" for the fat boy.

The struggle lasted a long time, the under boy being severely punished, but refusing to shed a tear, "the amusement of the anxious mother, the "under boy" turned out to be Prince "David," the future King of England, who had been accused of "putting on frills."

The Prince of Wales on hearing of the incident from the anxious mother merely remarked: "It will do him good."

Among the American hostesses who will be especially honored by the king this season is Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, nee Burns, whose husband, Mr. Harcourt, seriously prophesied at a dinner party the other night will one day be a Liberal prime minister of England.

Mrs. Harcourt's husband obtained permission from the king to pay a week-end visit to Nuneham, the magnificent old seat of the Harcourt family. No date has yet been fixed, but the visit will probably take place after the Ascot races, toward the end of this month.

Nuneham is now fitted with electric light and many modern improvements. Mrs. Harcourt, who has just returned from Paris, where she has been visiting her brother, Walter Burns, and his bride (nee Cavendish-Bentinck), is as popular as her husband with both Liberals and Unionists.

Very few people who were present at the rather quiet wedding of Miss Beatrice Knolly, a niece of Lord Knolly, King Edward's life-long friend and secretary, to Sir Capel Worsley realized the pathetic opposition to the marriage which had been offered by the Knolly family.

There was no question about the bridegroom, who is a popular and charming man of much culture, but unhappily he is British consular at Archangel, that terrible Northern post in Russia, where the czar's unfortunate political offenders are compelled to live a life of absolute boredom through terrible winters.

They are the best class of political prisoners, it is true, and they are allowed much freedom, but theirs is the only society offered to Lady Worsley after her life in England, and it was for this reason that the match was opposed.

King Edward, however, has the strongest sense of duty, and when the Knolly family tried to prevail with him his answer was: "If she wishes to marry the man she must share his responsibilities as many royal women do." This was the king's advice to his own daughter Maud when she first objected to becoming Queen of Norway.

Both the King and Queen Alexandra, who is expected back in London from her cruise on the royal yacht on Wednesday next, are considerably worried about the health of Princess Victoria of Wales, who is with her mother.

It is an open secret that the Princess is subject to fits, but unhappily these incursions are becoming more and more frequent, and Her Royal Highness caused her mother the greatest anxiety at Athens recently.

In view of the fact that she is away at her worst in London, where her extra nervousness makes public functions a terrible burden to her, the Princess will be very little in town during the season and will spend most of her time at Sandringham with her great friend, Lady Strangways, in attendance.

It has been allowed to leak out so far of the serious fight which is going on between the motor omnibus companies in London and the owners of valuable house property.

The general public are in the dark on the subject, but they have not failed to notice that hundreds of motor omnibuses have been taken out of the streets and that a number of old horse-drawn vehicles have disappeared.

The truth is that so many people have been obliged to leave the thoroughfares on which the motor omnibuses have been taken out of the streets and that a number of old horse-drawn vehicles have disappeared.

MEET ON ROLLERS; ELOPE IN AUTO; WED BY CYCLING PASTOR

Romance Breaks All Records for Modernity

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Cupid's annuals up to date don't contain a record of more modern courtship and elopement, than that of Pearl Francis Indig and Albert J. King, who met on roller skates, eloped in an automobile and were married by a clergyman who rode a motor bicycle.

The whole affair took place on wheels fittingly enough, for Mrs. King is an expert roller skater, and her husband one of the most progressive young auto-salmen in town.

The young people met at the skating rink last March, and since then they have skated and motored constantly together. Mr. King taught his fiancée how to run his big auto.

On Memorial Day the two took a run down to Atlantic City in the auto, and on their way back to town decided suddenly to get married. As so often happens in novels and so seldom in real life, a minister appeared on the scene. He was riding a motor bicycle, but he obligingly dismounted, put his machine on the tonneau of the car and returned with the young people to Hammon, N. J. Here they procured a license and were married at the Royal Hotel, after having gained the bride's mother's consent over the telephone.

The romantic young pair have been dining and feted constantly since their return to the Rittenhouse, where they are staying.

Mr. King is a salesman for the Key-stone Motor Car Company. He and his wife, who formerly lived at 4839 Hazel avenue, will take apartments at the Newport.

NOT USED TO OPERATIONS.

One of the brightest and nicest little patients in the surgical ward of one of the city hospitals lay on his bed moaning with pain. She had just come to consciousness after a slight operation, and, though only five years old, was exhibiting heroic nerve.

Yet she couldn't keep from occasionally low cries escaping her. She was the sort of child who hates above all things to give trouble, and when one of the nurses stopped before her and as she thought, looked a bit reproachfully down at her, she exclaimed between the narayxams, with a pitiful little smile:

"Oh, Miss Smith, I can't help it. I can't help it! I'm not used to operations."

THE SECRET OF KRUGER'S GOLD

Madame Marie Van Veltheim Claims to Know Location of Where it Was Buried.

The woman who can keep a secret has been found. The secret is one of millions—$4,000,000, to be precise, concerns the present whereabouts of Kruger's gold.

She is Mrs. Marie Van Veltheim, wife of the late John Veltheim, a man who buried a fortune of $4,000,000 in the Transvaal just before Lord Roberts occupied Pretoria.

Mrs. Van Veltheim had a duplicate of the map on which were marked the spots where the gold was buried. It is not sunk at sea in the wreck of the Zululand, as some would have it. Nor was it taken to Europe, as others insisted. Neither was it let down beneath the waters of the ocean in iron chests, as it was carefully buried in the dead of night in the mountains of the old Transvaal just before Kruger departed to Europe. It was not put in one spot—Kruger didn't want to leave all eggs in one basket. The gold was carefully divided into four parts. In all there was about $5,000,000, so each part was about $1,250,000 to $1,500,000. This one part has been found by John Kemp.

It was twenty years ago that Marie Veltheim and Ludwig Veltheim, her husband, they were married in Perth, West Australia. They were not long before the bride found her handsome husband was a good deal of a rolling stone. First they tried Australia, but from Veltheim couldn't make a go of business there, and they journeyed to the United States of Columbia, where Van Veltheim went into the banana trade.

"When this South American venture failed," said Mrs. Veltheim, "Mr. Van Veltheim joined the Boer army. As everybody knows fight as they might the little handful of Boers couldn't hold out against the overwhelming numbers of the British. Roberts took Pretoria and Kruger and his friends had to flee.

"Before he went, he entrusted the little capital of the republic—about $5,000,000—to my husband and three other men, one of whom was Jan Potgieter, another Peter Smuts, and the third I did not know. These four men took the money, put it into chests, and loaded the chests into carts. These they took up into the mountains at dead of night and buried carefully, far from the places where men might go. He made a chart of all the land about where the gold was hidden. Of this he took a copy, sealed both, and swaled developments. In 1897 Lord Roberts departed Van Veltheim. He was too poor to suit the British and they wanted him out of the Transvaal forever. So he went to London. When my husband arrived in London he found no one to turn to but myself. The hand of every one else turned against him—his reputation as a 'prober' was too well known.

"I am going back to the Cape again," he said to me one day. Before he went he told me the story of the buried gold. He gave me an exact copy of the chart which he made, and told me, too, not to expect to hear anything from him after he left Alexandria, because he expected to sink his identity.

"Now, I am going to stay here till I get some definite clue which will lead to proof that my husband is alive or dead. If he is alive, the secret belongs to us two. If he is dead, it is mine alone."

BRYAN SAYS ROOSEVELT IS NOT A DEMOCRAT

Remarkable Opinion Entertained by the Nevada Orator—His Feeling as to Government Ownership.

RICHMOND, Va., June 3.—William J. Bryan last night declared that the matter of section should no longer be a bar to a man's nomination for the presidency of the Democratic party. He explained why he could not regard President Roosevelt as a democrat and said that under certain conditions he probably would be a candidate for the nomination; that is, if the party demanded it, and if he considered it for the good of the party.

"No man's ambition should be considered on any other condition," he added.

Mr. Bryan declared that President Roosevelt is neither wholly a Democrat nor wholly a Republican. "He is not consistently Democratic nor consistently Republican," he declared. "On the matter of a 'two cent rate' Mr. Bryan was outspoken, declaring that he was the first to advance the idea that inter-state rates should not be more than the total of the various state rates.

As to government ownership, he said, in his opinion, it would find an ultimate solution in the railways being owned by the government, but he added that it was not an immediate issue. Speaking of the next Democratic nominee for presidency, Mr. Bryan said that the section in which a candidate resided no longer played any part; that it was simply a question of finding a man to fit the platform.

BARN, WHILE IN FLAMES, IS SOLD AT AUCTION

Assignee's Vendue Bid up to $3,500 When Fire Was Discovered.

OXFORD, Pa., June 3.—Selling a barn at auction while it was burning to the ground is the rare feat performed by Clarence M. Orth's this afternoon. The barn was in flames when it was knocked down to James Pennock of Russellville. The sale was an assignee's vendue of the property of Clark H. Jackson, in Russellville. The farmers were gathered in front of the house from all sections of the country, and had bid the price up to $500, when some one smelted smoke.

Upon investigation, the barn behind the house was discovered to be on fire. A number of the visitors had their horses in the barn, and just managed to get them out. The blanket on Mr. Orth's horse was burned full of holes. The entire building was destroyed, and it was only by the strenuous efforts of those attending the sale that the house was saved.

After the fire, however, he had a "blow," and refused to stand by his bargain, so that the property will have to be resold.

H. A. Allison of the legal firm of Lougheed, Bennett & Allison, Calgary, was in the city yesterday en route to Seattle to spend a few days with his father, David Allison. Mr. Allison has recently been in Europe on legal business.

FOR AN ART GALLERY.

The suggestion made by Mr. Craven L. Betts has been taken into consideration and approved by the Art Association, and a committee has been appointed to consider ways and means of arranging the preliminary steps towards founding an art gallery in St. John. Such an institution would be of value in the city's list of attractions, now regrettably meagre and while there are other and more pressing schemes which need assistance yet it is fitting that a proper share of attention should be bestowed upon an object such as this. The very small amount of money which a citizen would be asked to contribute would really not take the form of donations, but rather be handed out as admission fees to exhibitions of paintings. A year or two ago when Herman Hunt's Light of the World was brought to St. John very many persons visited the rooms, the exhibitions held by the Art Association are always well patronized, and there seems that there is no lack of artistic appreciation among our people. The only failing is that the creation of an art gallery or similar institution has never been suggested in a practical way.

Mr. Betts proposes to have brought here two or more fairly good paintings, to charge a small admission fee to the public and to devote the proceeds to the purchase of these paintings. With an active local committee the scheme could be admirably carried out and in a very few years an art gallery of no mean proportions might be established. It is well worth trying.

COLLECTING MAILS.

The present system of collecting the mails from street boxes in certain parts of the city is a most inconvenient one, and that could be devised. It is now possible for a city letter mailed at 10:30 p. m. on Saturday to reach its destination on Tuesday morning, or about as quickly as it could be delivered. In North End and various other sections the boxes are emptied at 10 p. m. and in the vicinity of 2 p. m. some six or seven hours elapsing between these two afternoon visits, while for the other eighteen hours the mail is allowed to accumulate. The three o'clock collection catches the outgoing Boston, Montreal and Halifax mails; the ten o'clock round brings the letters to the post office in time for despatch on the 11:30 p. m. train, and for the morning mail. The three o'clock collection is not early enough for the afternoon city delivery nor late enough to convenience people writing to Upper Canada or elsewhere. It is of very little use to anyone, for business men as a rule are unable to get through their correspondence at such an early hour. Most private persons write their letters in the evenings, and ten o'clock seems quite early for a local office mailed at 10:05 p. m. on Monday would be collected at 3 p. m. on Tuesday, would miss that afternoon's delivery, and would reach its destination in the city on Wednesday morning. This is surely not the quickest possible arrangement, nor is it one which can commend itself to the public.

THE FRENCH SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

The great strike called by the seamen of the French naval reserve appears to have been brought to a somewhat speedy termination, and despatches intimate that the government has exercised its authority in forcing the men to return to their work. The orders for the strike were issued from Marseilles where the general committee of the splendidly organized naval reserve has its headquarters. The seamen were not supported in their demands, but had the sympathy of officers, engineers and other employees. Yet in spite of this their plan has failed through too hasty action and without an endeavor to reach a satisfactory settlement. They will now accept the compromise offer which was made to them some time ago, will return to work at once, and will not be subjected to punishment. The French naval reservists number fully 115,000 men of whom 25,000 belong to the war fleet. Under the conscription system practically the entire personnel of the merchant marine as well as of the longshoremen are inscribed in the naval reserve. The cause of the strike was the dissatisfaction of the sailors at the long delay of Parliament in passing a bill to increase the rate of pensions for invalided men belonging to the French naval reserve. A bill designed to increase the scale of pension and half-pay in all ranks of the naval reserve was drawn up by Jules Siegfried and approved by the Seamen's Congress ten months ago, but the Minister of Marine refused to accept the proposed measure on the ground that it would entail too considerable a cost on the exchequer.

A compromise which he suggested was rejected by the Seamen's Congress, which thereupon announced its intention of organizing a great national strike of all seafaring men, from captains down to sailors before the mast. Under the present system an officer holding a master's certificate is entitled to only $150 and a seaman to $40 per annum when incapacitated for work by age or accident.

CANADA OF ENGLAND.

Fair Canada of England!
Thy hills are wide and high,
And upward, heavenward soaring,
Thy sons! We likewise hasten
To glory's starry dome;
Fair Canada of England!
Land we can call our home.

Fair Canada of England!
Thy fields are fresh and green;
The thistle, rose and lily
Grow in the rustic sheen;
These gems we weave together,
Our emblems sweet and fair,
Which on our hearts entwined,
We proudly onward wear.

Fair Canada of England!
Thy waters flow in sons,
They ripple ever onward,
And carry us along.
We live 'mid bright fields fragrant
With breezes nectar-blown,
And all this glowing beauty
Is our great country's own.

Fair Canada of England!
No foeman e'er shall smite
Thy land of breezes and blossom
Without a rousing might;
And in a stormy conflict
Thy conquering waves shall foam;
Fair Canada of England!
Land we can call our home.

VANDAL AT SHELLEY'S GRAVE.

A correspondent who visited the Protestant Cemetery at Rome the other day reports an act of silly vandalism at Shelley's grave. "As we wandered about," said the correspondent, "we saw for about half an hour a young man tourist sitting on Shelley's grave, carefully occupied in cutting the marble with a sharp instrument. 'We thought he was restoring the lettering, but coming to his side, we found that he had cut his own name (which I will not give) 'New Zealand, April 1907, I love thee,' close to the inscription on the flat white marble surface. He had then soaked with ink his own work, leaving the disfigured fruits of his vandalism for all who visit this interesting place." How any professing admirer of Shelley could be guilty of such conduct passes belief.

THE HEN AND THE GARDEN.

Yes, our garden beds we rake, and all manner of pains we take to have them slick [lick] and [lick] the fact they simply can't be beat. We turn our backs and walk away and view them on the coming day—Horror! those beds so again and spade were laid and wolvered—we raise a kick! our neighbors' chickens are running loose and garden making's 'but little else, and those old hens our garden looting, may tempt us yet to do some shooting and to alleviate our wrath we'll make our dinner on chicken broth.

RAIN BETTER THAN SPEECH.

A candidate for Congress spoke at a mass-meeting, and afterward a politician asked an old farmer what he thought of the speech. "Well, I dunno," said the old man soberly, "but I think six hours rain would 'a' done us a lot more good."

MRS. CADBURY DID NOT COMMIT SUICIDE.

Was Thrown Down a Stairway on the Steamer by the Rolling of the Boat During a Heavy Sea.

MONTREAL, June 3.—Charles M. Alexander, Dr. Torrey's former associate, passed through Montreal on Saturday and again this morning, accompanied by his wife, on a sad mission. He went to Sudbury on Saturday to meet the eastbound C. P. R. train bearing the remains of Mrs. Cadbury, his mother-in-law, who was accidentally killed while crossing the Pacific on the Empress of India, some days ago.

THE CIRCUS.

It was Cardinal Richard, Archbishop of Paris, who said: "The circus is the theatre of childhood, and the priest goes there as a guide to children." Surely these words, uttered by such a good man and true, ought to dispel any doubt which may exist in the mind of any parent as to the propriety of taking the boy or girl to the circus. When the circus comes to town we speak, of course, of a real circus, one which carries a menagerie—parents are duty bound to take their children. Duty bound, by reason of the real enjoyment the little ones will get in witnessing the comical capers and antics of the score or more clowns and the estimably valuable lessons in natural history, which must inevitably be absorbed by seeing the numerous wild animals which have been collected from all points of this great globe. And as parents, remembering these things and don't fail to take the children to see the great Hargreaves' Railroad Shows, which come to St. John on Wednesday, June 5, for afternoon and evening performances.

MEAGRE RESULTS OF CONFERENCE.

Premiers Express Opinions on the Failure of That Body to Do Much.

Now that the Colonial Conference has come to an end, the Colonial Premiers consider that they are free to give their own versions of the proceedings without awaiting the verbatim report that has been promised. Mr. Deakin and Dr. Jameson addressed a large meeting in the Baltic Exchange, and Sir William Lyne and Sir Robert Bond were interviewed. Dr. Jameson, Prime Minister of Cape Colony, speaking at the Baltic Exchange meeting, asked: What had they obtained as the result of the present conference? They had obtained the alteration of one word, and nothing more. That sounded meagre, but it was a step quite worth their journey over here. They had practically emancipated the conference from the agenda of the Colonial Office. Future conferences would be of Governments, between and with Governments. They had now established the status of British dominions overseas. They wanted to make the Imperial Conference an effective consolidation of Empire. It was true they had got a secretariat, but what was it? A department of the Colonial Office. The Empire could not be managed by secretaries alone. They must have sentiment plus material interests. What the Colonial Premiers felt grieved at was that they wanted machinery to make the Imperial Conference an effective consolidation of Empire. Mr. Deakin, Prime Minister of Australia, also speaking at the Baltic Exchange meeting, said that there could be no reciprocity which was one-sided. In Australia they had undertaken to carry it on to the centre arch. There they must wait for the bridge to be brought from the home country. They were told that no preference was possible except by taxing raw materials. That was a proposal which had never been submitted from his side of the water. They did not adopt protection as a fetish, as Dr. Jameson called it, or as a shibboleth.

NEWNHAM-KAYE.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place in St. John's (Stone) church at 6:15 o'clock this morning, when Miss Florence A. Kaye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sydney Kaye, was united in marriage to Harold Newnham, of the general freight department of the C. P. R. The ceremony was performed by Venerable Archdeacon Newnham, of St. Stephen, father of the groom, who was assisted by Rev. Gustav A. Kuhnring. The bride was unattended. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Newnham left by the C. P. R. for a trip through Nova Scotia. The groom's parents and sister, Miss Florence Newnham, were here to attend the happy event.

KAISER USES THE PHONE INCESSANTLY.

Gets Information, Transmits Orders and Talks to Friends Over Hello Lines.

BERLIN, June 3.—Although it would be useless to look in the official telephone directory for his number, the Kaiser uses the hello lines every day. In fact the emperor makes it a point to utilize all time-saving appliances and inventions. He seldom uses a carriage now, and is nearly always seen in a motor car. He uses the telephone frequently and the telephone almost incessantly.

In his private rooms there have been installed specially made and artistically designed instruments. Not a day passes but that the Kaiser extensively, whenever the matter at issue is perfectly clear, or when he desires further information on any points, rings up the State Department or the government office concerned.

The Kaiser loves to ring up long distance numbers, such as the calls of sporting friends and commanding generals in far-off provinces. But his most frequent telephonic conversations are with the empress. When the imperial pair are separated the Kaiser does not let a day pass without ringing up the empress. When he is detained anywhere longer than he expected he always telephones the empress that he won't be home till late.

MADRID, June 3.—The trial of Senor Ferrer, director of the modern school of Barcelona; Don Jose Nakens, editor of El Motin, and others with complicity to assassinate King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, May 31, 1906, began today. The state demands that Ferrer be sentenced to sixteen years imprisonment and the others to ten years. Ferrer declared he did not know Morales, the man who actually threw the bomb, was an Anarchist and said he, himself, was an Anarchist, his ideal being to perfect society by means of education. The documentary evidence against Ferrer is said to be strong.

ST. JOHN'S, N.B., June 3.—Premier Bond, who is in London, sent a cablegram to Attorney General Morin today announcing that the syndicate of English capitalists, who secured concessions from the Newfoundland legislature last winter for a fast Atlantic steamship service, would begin immediately the survey of a proposed railway line across the island. The plans for a steamship service between Ireland and Newfoundland provide for a new direct railway across the colony in order to make connections with the mainland. Premier Bond is not expected home until July, as he is still busy negotiating with the British government regarding the American fishery dispute and the question of locating the proper boundary between Canada and Eastern Labrador.

NEW YORK, June 3.—In a despatch from Middletown, N. Rogers has taken no food or nourishment for a week, and the effect on his flesh is very noticeable."

BOSTON, Mass., June 3.—The so-called Soldiers' Gratuity Bill, which provides for the payment of $125 to all veterans of the Civil War who did not secure a bounty, was enacted in the house today and now goes to the governor for his approval. A similar measure has been passed by the legislature at every session for the past three years, only to be vetoed by the governor. Once the bill was passed over the veto, but was found unconstitutional by the supreme court.

IRISH BILL IS FORMALLY DEAD

Dropped by Government Yesterday Afternoon

Could Go No Further With It In View of the Unanimous Decision of Convention

LONDON, June 3.—The Irish bill was formally dropped by the government this afternoon with scant ceremony and only the perfunctory signs of mourning even on the part of its ministerial sponsors.

The House of Commons was well filled when Premier Campbell-Bannerman rose to speak.

"I believe," said the premier, "that the Irish people would have done well to give the details of this measure greater attention than appears to have been the case at the recent convention. But in view of the announcement of the leader of the Irish party in the House of Commons, that he would abide by the decision of the convention, and in view of the unanimous decision of the convention to reject the bill, the government cannot, of course, go any further with it."

The premier added that the decision of the representatives of the Irish people was a source of sincere regret and disappointment to the minister, but now that the Irish bill was dropped the government intended to introduce, during the present session, an "evicted tenants restoration" with powers of compulsory purchase.

As the cabinet has decided against an autumn session, the premier continued, it was necessary to drop the licensing bill. This, however, would be the first measure to be taken up at the next session.

The measure designed to relieve the "passive resisters" from paying education rates for religious instruction, the premier announced, would also be crowded out, but the government was determined to introduce at the next session a comprehensive education bill, putting the whole education system of the country in order.

Regarding the long promised attempt to restrict the power of the houses of lords, the premier said that so soon as they had made a little further progress in the essential business of the session he proposed to introduce a resolution on the subject either June 17 or June 24, when the government would fully state its views on the matter.

The premier then announced the abandonment of a number of the measures of only domestic interest, and enumerated those which it was intended to pass.

CAPT. MCKINNON SAYS SHIP COULD HAVE BEEN SAVED

Master of Wrecked Steamer Morena Thinks Government Boat Should Have Aided More Promptly

NORTH SYDNEY, June 3.—Capt. W. R. McKinnon, of the wrecked steamer Morena, which has been lying on Brandy rocks since May 16, was a passenger on the steamer Bruce on his home to Yarmouth. The captain and officers of the Morena have been attending the court of inquiry held at St. John's before Judge Conroy in the presence of Captain Moss and English. The decision of the court was unanimous in completely exonerating the captain and officers from blame in connection with the casualty. Wrecking of the steamer was simply a result of the steering gear becoming suddenly deranged and unmanageable and as there was a strong tide running north through Cabot Straits, the vessel stranded on Brandy Rocks.

Capt. McKinnon said that there were good chances for the Morena being saved had there been less red tape in connection with the movements of the steamer Montcalm, which was cruising about the coast in search for fast mail boats when the accident occurred, acted more promptly. The moment the breakdown was discovered in the Morena's steering gear the steamer's engines were reversed full speed astern, thus causing the Morena to ground easily on the rocks.

Signals were then hoisted asking the Marconi operator at Cape Ray to communicate with the steamer Montcalm and urge her captain to their assistance. This was on Saturday, and the Morena lay for twelve hours before she began to break up, during which time the crew was jettisoning the cargo in order to float the ship. Shortly after a wireless message was sent asking for assistance from the government boat, Captain Bellanger of the Montcalm answered that he could do nothing unless instructions came from the department at Ottawa. To the latter place an appeal for assistance was sent over the wires, only to be told that the officers were closed, and would remain closed until Monday.

While all this was going on the Montcalm arrived around the entrance of the harbor, while the Morena, with her valuable cargo of one thousand tons of pig iron, smashed to pieces on Brandy Rocks.

Captain McKinnon is of the opinion that had the Montcalm come to his assistance when asked by the operator at Cape Ray, there would be no difficulty in taking the Morena off Brandy Rocks. Capt. McKinnon, who has been master of vessels for twenty years, experienced his first accident by the loss of the Morena.

WANT LOBBYIST AT THE CAPITAL

Decision Reached by Montreal Methodist Conference Bureau Started

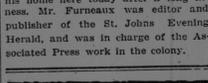

TORONTO, June 3.—The Montreal Methodist conference, meeting at Gananoque, has given approval to the appointment of a lobbyist at Ottawa in the interest of moral reform. Rev. Dr. Eby of Kingston has been superannuated to allow him to take up work of organizing an association in Canada of ten thousand persons who will pledge a dollar a year each to the objects of the association, which is called the International Reform Bureau. Dr. Eby stated in support of the movement that the Roman Catholic church kept an apostolic delegate at Ottawa in the interest of hierarchy and every big business corporation also had persons to look after legislation in their interest, and he thought the Christian people of Canada should do the same. Among the matters to be looked after are the enforcement of laws, prevention of gambling, preservation of the Sabbath, defense of religious equality, protection of girls, prohibition, purity and war on political corruption and partisanship.

BOY DROWNED IN LIKELY'S POND

John Lobb, Aged 13, Was the Victim

No Eye Witnesses of Tragedy, But It is Believed He Fell From Raft

—Body Recovered.

Another drowning fatality took place yesterday afternoon in Likely's pond beside Mill street, the scene of a number of similar tragedies. The victim of the second drowning accident which has occurred in this vicinity this spring was John Lobb, aged 13, who lived with his widowed mother on Mill street. In one of the houses next to the store of Ald. McGoldrick and on the opposite side of the street from the Union depot.

The house, which they have only occupied for a few months, almost stands over the spot where the boy lost his life being erected on piles, and at first it was thought that he might have fallen from one of the rear windows. He was, however, seen about six o'clock paddling across the pond, the tide being at that time almost at the full and the depth of water therefore considerable, upon a raft which consisted of a number of sleepers held together only by boards across them, such as the boys in the vicinity may any day be seen upon. About a quarter to seven young Lobb's cap was found by his brother Herbert, who is older, and the alarm was raised. Young Lobb had no companions with him at the time, and there seemed to have been no witnesses of the accident, but it is supposed that the raft broke apart. The boy was not able to swim, and from the time of the raising of the alarm half-hearted efforts were made to recover the body, but it was not till the tide had fallen away at ten o'clock that with the aid of a lantern the boy's body was located by Raymond Grant and Wm. McDonald, sailors of the Rebecca W. Huddell, and by Norman McLeod of the North End. The body was found facing toward and was carried to the grass plot between McGoldrick's and the railway tracks.

The family were notified and Mr. Lobb asked that the body should not be taken to the house but conveyed directly to Brennan's. A weary walk followed. The time was a busy one on Mill street, and an immense crowd, sympathetic but curious, consisting of men, women and children, soldiers in uniform, but principally youngsters, attempted to look at the dead boy as he lay in the lantern light. Only the police officer at the boy's head and the sailor Grant attending astride the boy's body, kept it from being trampled upon. A pathetic incident of this hour of waiting was that although the whole of the body of the dead boy, but resembling him in appearance, stood with hands clasped in prayer, and in a coat and with his eyes tragically fixed upon the cold form of his brother.

The same day, the same day, I was inspired by the example of sacrifice of his partner, he generously turned over every cent of his proceeds to Mrs. MacDonald. The last conscious words of little Willie to his mother, when she told him of this, were: "Don't you worry now, ma; Jake will take my place till I get well. He will be kind and good to you."

At her home, 63 West Newton street, last night Mrs. MacDonald was found weeping and sobbing over the loss of her little hero. Almost two years ago she came to Boston from Prince Edward Island with her six little children, but the hope that drew her here proved false.

Her little stock of savings soon thinned out. Handicapped by six little babies, of delicate constitution herself, it was impossible for her to give them the nourishment they needed.

"If my little Willie had proper nourishment he would be alive today," she sobbed. "He would go without his meals so that we could have more. He has starved himself to death for us."

"The coldest day last winter he was out from early morning until late at night, shovelling snow and selling papers. Every cent he made by running errands and doing the little jobs a boy does he brought home to me. But he wasn't strong enough to stand it. He didn't have proper nourishment, but I couldn't give it to him."

"He didn't know me at the hospital, I asked him: 'Do you want to go home, Willie?' and he just nodded his head. Then he died."

Since the night Willie was missing from his stand his customers, business men, firemen and policemen, have inquired for him. When they learned the story of the little hero's life of sacrifice they were deeply grieved.

For two long weeks he tossed on his little cot, his eyes burning, his fevered lips muttering in delirium. In his dreams he spoke words of his mother, worrying lest she was suffering because his sickness deprived her of his assistance.

But they were not allowed to suffer, for another little hero, unheralded, took up the work so suddenly broken off by the illness of Willie, when his assistant, little Jakey Silverman, took his stand on the self-same corner and supplied the wants of the sick and suffering.

Inspired by the example of sacrifice of his partner, he generously turned over every cent of his proceeds to Mrs. MacDonald. The last conscious words of little Willie to his mother, when she told him of this, were: "Don't you worry now, ma; Jake will take my place till I get well. He will be kind and good to you."

P.E.I. NEWSBOY PROVES MARTYR IN BATTLE FOR LIFE IN BIG CITY

(Boston American.)

A martyr to life's unending struggle for existence, a struggle of self-denial to make his delicate mother's burdens lighter and provide her and his five little brothers and sisters with sufficient food, little Willie MacDonald, the 10-year-old newsboy, who had been a familiar figure at the corner of Columbus avenue and Yarmouth street, gave up his young life at the Children's Hospital early yesterday morning as a result of spinal meningitis, superinduced by an attack of typhoid fever.

Standing for hours on a cold corner selling papers, employing his spare time throughout the severe winter shovelling sidewalks and running errands, the brave little lad, often going without food that his mother and the children might not suffer the pangs of hunger, managed to keep the small family together by his meagre earnings, but the efforts told on his delicate constitution, and a month ago he became sick and had to give up school. He refused, however, to listen to his anxious mother's advice to stay in the house, because he knew if he missed one night's paper money, there would not be enough to eat in the morning.

Thus he struggled like a hero until his delicate constitution could no longer stand the strain and he was forced to give up his stand. Typhoid fever set in and he was carried unconscious to the Children's Hospital, where the dread disease developed into spinal meningitis.

For two long weeks he tossed on his little cot, his eyes burning, his fevered lips muttering in delirium. In his dreams he spoke words of his mother, worrying lest she was suffering because his sickness deprived her of his assistance.

But they were not allowed to suffer, for another little hero, unheralded, took up the work so suddenly broken off by the illness of Willie, when his assistant, little Jakey Silverman, took his stand on the self-same corner and supplied the wants of the sick and suffering.

Inspired by the example of sacrifice of his partner, he generously turned over every cent of his proceeds to Mrs. MacDonald. The last conscious words of little Willie to his mother, when she told him of this, were: "Don't you worry now, ma; Jake will take my place till I get well. He will be kind and good to you."

HAIR CAUGHT IN SEPARATOR WHEEL; TORN OUT BY ROOTS

ROTHESAY, June 3.—Miss Prince, a young daughter of the late Robert Prince of Jubilee station, met with a serious accident a few days ago at the home of her uncle, Lorne Prince, where she is staying. Her uncle had just finished separating the cream when the little girl ran forward to stop the separator. Her hair caught in the cogs of the wheel, and in an instant her head was stripped, every hair seeming to be drawn from the scalp. It was a wonder the scalp was not torn from the little one's head, but a little fringe of hair was left in front. Dr. King of Kingston was summoned at once and attended the little girl, who is a great favorite with her relatives with whom she is stopping in the absence of her mother, who is in Boston. It is stated a day or two later that the little girl was getting along nicely.

MAGISTRATE MARSH SENDS LIBEL CASE TO SUPREME COURT

FREDERICTON, June 3.—At 5:30 this afternoon Judge Marsh delivered his decision in the Emerson-Crocket libel case, sending the defendant up for trial. The proceedings were very brief, not taking five minutes. There were very few present and included J. H. Barry, representing Mr. Emerson, and H. F. McLeod in behalf of Crockett. The latter was also present with his bail and several newspaper men. Judge Marsh said, after having considered the evidence, "I feel it my duty to send the matter up to the next session of the superior court for the county of York. I think that is all I am asked to do. If there is sufficient evidence to send the matter up in this case I think there is enough to warrant me in thus deciding. I will not ask Mr. Crockett to go to jail but will admit him to bail on the same recognizance."

The court then adjourned. The police court was crowded almost to suffocation this morning to hear the decision. Neither Mr. Crockett nor Mr. Emerson appeared in court. The prosecution was represented by J. H. Barry, K. C., and Mr. McLeod appeared for the defendant. Upon taking his place upon the bench the magistrate looked over his glasses at the crowd assembled in the court room and said: "In the case of the King v. James H. Crockett, on the information of H. R. Emerson, I will allow the matter by consent of the accused and counsel to stand over until this afternoon at 4 o'clock, having not as yet received the depositions from the stenographer, who has promised to have them here by that time."

On the third night, however, she resolved to take advantage of a chance that arose. Merridew had been away all day and returned the worse for drink; the violet had been sent up to town; Mrs. Merridew, after another quarrel with her son, had gone to bed ill and agitated, having taken a sleeping draught.

LONDON, June 2.—Rev. J. A. LOCAL NEWS.

A full attendance of the Artillery Band at their morning concert is requested.

The Every Day Club Juniors will meet the Independents, of Carleton, in another baseball game on the Victoria grounds next Saturday evening.

A letter has been received at City Hall from F. R. Murray calling attention to the condition of the sidewalk and gutter in front of his house, 211 Princess street.

A meeting of the Board of Works has been called for tomorrow afternoon. New developments in connection with the Clarke wharf are to be considered. The question of Director and a number of other matters will probably also be brought up.

E. G. Day has written a letter to the city calling attention to the condition of his lot, 171 Duke street west, which adjoins the station lot on King street west. The engine house lot he says is lower than his, and the city authorities have dug away the earth at times so that his land has fallen away, interfering with the foundations of his barn. He asks for a retaining wall.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rhea through her solicitor writes to the city that she has received notice from the city of the appointment by the city engineer to appraise the buildings on lot 371 Union street west. Mrs. Rhea says that she is anxious to retain at this property and asks that the lease be renewed. On her behalf Col. J. R. Armstrong asks that a committee be referred to a committee to confer with her with the view of agreeing if possible on the terms of a new lease.

BAY FISHERMEN WILL LOSE THOUSANDS THIS YEAR

Season is a Month Later Than Usual and the Dispute with the Cannors Has Serious Results

DEER ISLAND N. B. June 4.

At last the police have made their appearance, and the fishermen, who have been anxiously awaiting their arrival are making good catches at the different fishing grounds of Passamaquoddy Bay. Up to the last few days very few fish had been caught and the outlook for the season's catch was very discouraging, as the police arrived here last year the first of the fish were plentiful enough to make up for the deficiency in the spring catches.

Herring have been very scarce the last few days, and the fishermen have found it difficult to obtain bait. When herring were plentiful in the water, the first of the season, the majority of fishermen did not sell as they were all members of the Weirmen's Union. Taken collectively, the fishermen of Deer Island lost thousands of dollars before a compromise was effected between the Union and the Maine packers. The fishermen feel the loss keenly now, as fish are scarce and after the 15th inst. the price of herring will be reduced from $8 to $4 a hundred.

Potatoes are very scarce here, and are bringing a high price. The people of Deer Island were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Howard Cook of Lord's Cove, which occurred on Friday, the 31st ult. Mrs. Cook was taken ill Friday morning and died the evening of the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Linden Fountain, Mrs. George McDonald and Mrs. John Emery, all of Eastport, Me., visited friends at Cumming's Cove Sunday, the 2nd inst. The Misses Sylvia and Lydia Hoop, who have been spending the winter in Lowell, Mass., have returned to their home at Chocolate Cove, Deer Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seary and family of Chocolate Cove, have moved to Eastport, Me.

J. K. Fountain has returned home from a pleasant visit to Moncton, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McNeal, of Chocolate Cove, visited relatives at Indian Island, Saturday.

J. M. QUEEN BUYS EQUITY AGENCY

Change of Owners in Fire Insurance Business—F. E. Flowering Associated With Mr. Queen.

M. Fred Flowering, who for over twenty years has been identified with the business interests of M. R. A., Ltd., is now to be found at the office of J. M. Queen, in the Canada Life building, Prince William Street. Mr. Flowering will be active on behalf of Mr. Queen's important insurance interests including the Canada Life, Equity Fire and Imperial Accident and Guarantee Companies, attending to local policies and the many phases of that work.

It will doubtless be news to many here that J. M. Queen, who was acquired from the E. K. McKay Co., Ltd., the New Brunswick business of the Equity Fire Insurance Co., also purchasing all existing business as well as the good will. Under the vigorous management of the enterprising citizen assisted by Mr. Flowering, the Equity will doubtless be boomed. Mr. Queen's five years of business in this city have already been marked by much progress, one of the best features of which has been the erection of the fine Canada Life Building, such a modern and handsome structure.

SAYS OFFICER KICKED HIM ON THE WOODEN LEG

Leo Smith Who in Court Called Policeman Boves a Liar, Was Sent to Jail to Repeat

There was only one prisoner to face Magistrate Ritchie this morning. He was Leo Smith, a South African veteran, who was arrested yesterday on Charlotte street by Policeman Boves and charged with drunkenness. The prisoner lost both his legs in an accident during the African war and walks on one wooden leg and crutches. He pleaded not guilty to being drunk. He said that he came in from the country on business and entering a Charlotte street saloon, asked for a glass of ginger beer and porter. He was abused by the saloon keeper who refused him the drink and called in Policeman Boves who ejected him and kicked him on the wooden leg damaging the same. When Policeman Boves was called to give evidence Smith objected saying that Boves was not in uniform and was indecent. Boves was sworn, however, and said that Smith acted badly and after being ejected tried to return to the bar. Smith asked him if he swore that he tried to return after being ejected. Boves replied in the affirmative and the prisoner cried out, "Then you're a liar."

The court ordered that the prisoner be taken to the cells, that for using bad language in the presence of the court he could be committed to jail for twenty days and he would certainly go to jail if he did not apologize to the officer for what he said.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary A. Duncan will take place from the residence of G. J. Dean, Garden street, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

James Gibbon, truckman, through his solicitor, R. G. Murray, asks for damages from the city for injuries caused to his horse, so serious that he was forced to put the animal out of its misery. The injury to the horse was caused by a pipe protruding from the level of Water street, near the Globe office. The horse running into the pipe broke one of his legs. Mr. Gibbon asks $120.

A young man with a deep voice and a foreign accent has been haunting the city's office for the last two days trying to get a job as an iron worker. He went with letters from the mayor to a number of the mills but found no employment. This afternoon he started for the Union Foundry in the West End. The young man claims that if there is no job for him in this city, he should not be prevented from going through to the United States where he thinks there is any amount of employment.

NEW YORK, June 4.

A despatch from Washington says—It was reported last night that a British sailing vessel had been captured by the United States revenue cutter Thetis, in the Behring Sea, while poaching. Captain Ross, chief of the revenue cutter service, was seen at midnight, but declined to discuss the story.

The Westfield Outing Association commenced work on the two new tennis courts last evening. The courts are to be situated on a lot of land opposite B. R. Macaulay's house at Woolastock. This will probably be the only thing done this year by the association, as the executive has about given up the idea of erecting a pavilion until next summer.

The funeral of the late Captain John Leonard took place this morning from his late residence, St. James street. Rev. J. F. Floyd officiated and the body was taken to Deer Island for interment.

The Orinoco left Bermuda yesterday at 11 o'clock for St. John direct and will be due here about Friday morning.
