WILSON QUITS WHITE HOUSE FOR OWN HOME

Iron Will of Sick President Carried Him Through Ordeal of Retirement.

SUCCESSOR VERY COURTEOUS TO HIM

Only Once in Day Did Mr. Wilson Show Remembrance of Bitter Attacks of Past.

Washington, March 4.—Eight storm-tossed years in the presidency of the United States filled with moments and scenes that will live in history, ended today for Woodrow Wilson. "Just plain Woodrow Wilson now," as he himself smilingly asserted.

Under his own roof again as a private citizen, the former president rested tonight with his burden of state transferred to other shoulders and the shouting and tumult of public place behind him.

No Hint of Regret

Through a day that had taxed his broken physical powers, he came smilingly and with a whimsical, humorous twist to his comments, yet with no hint of regret at his retirement from high office. There was but one incident of the day when that cheerful mood seemed to fail. As he stood in the president's room, Mr. Wilson had been telling Senator Knox that he would not witness in the Senate the inauguration of Vice-President Coolidge, as he doubted his ability, owing to his physical infirmities to negotiate the few steps he must climb.

Sore on Senate

"The Senate has shown me down," he said to the Pennsylvania Senator, in reference to battles of the past, and the source of his "sore," but I am not going to fall down."

A moment later someone touched his arm to call his attention to the fact that Senator Lodge had arrived in the room as head of the joint committee to inform the president that the sixty-sixth congress stood ready for adjournment, if he had no further communications to make to it. Mr. Wilson turned toward the man who led the light against the treaty. His face lost its smile as he listened to the Senator's formal report, and there was the air of one who was not content formally, as he said: "I have no further communication to make. I appreciate your courtesy. Good morning."

Wilson Very Weak

Mr. Wilson's share in the inauguration ceremonies remained in doubt to the last. It was not until he had finished the business that called him to the capitol that the retiring president made known his final yielding to the extraction of his physician and Mrs. Wilson to spare himself the ordeal his condition would make of adherence to precedent.

From the moment he emerged from the White House to mount first the rear seat of the automobile that carried them to the capitol, Mr. Wilson was shown utmost courtesy by Mr. Harding, who lost no opportunity to spare the president's feelings. As he started the painful descent to the White House steps, Mr. Wilson was aided by secret service men who placed his feet on each step and then on the running board of the automobile.

Rides With Harding

After he sank back into his seat on the right, Mr. Harding stepped in and they rode side by side down Pennsylvania Avenue, neither in courtesy to the other, responding to the cheers of the crowds.

"PEACEMAKER" MURDERED

New York, March 4.—"Joe the Peacemaker" Giannelli, proprietor of a pool room in the East Side Italian quarter, was shot and killed in a mysterious manner early today. As he left his place of business, Giannelli heard a shot across the street. He turned and was killed by the fire of a man who stood in a basement. The tragedy occurred within six feet of the spot where a month ago Tony Maur, Joe's best friend, met death in a similar manner. For many years Giannelli had settled disputes that arose between residents of the quarter.

VICTORY MEANS MEIGHEN READY TO RE-ORGANIZE

Some Announcements Regarding Quebec May be Made Within a Week.

DIVISION SUCCESS HEARTENS GOVERNMENT

Weary M. P.'s Accomplish Little in Day Session After Long Night.

Ottawa, March 4.—Weary eyes and a sort of "morning after" head the Commons reassembled this afternoon to take up a few odds and ends on the order paper. A score of questions out of more than a hundred were answered, while a quarter of the members remained to hear General Griesbach talk today on matters in Alberta and Mr. A. R. McMaster expound how politicians cannot serve country and mammon at one and the same time.

The member for Bromie is a gentleman who had his way would have cabinet ministers take a vow of both poverty and chastity and in the words of one parliamentary wag) make it as difficult for a rich man to enter the ministry as for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle.

What He Wants.

He would have no cabinet minister a director of a company; his theory being that one task conflicts with the other, generally to the loss of the former. The proposition would practically exclude successful business men from a place in the affairs of the country and after a brief debate, Mr. Stevens mercifully moved its adjournment—a parliamentary sentence of death.

Next Week's Work.

Next week the real business of the session begins; estimates will be brought down as soon as possible, supply voted and the legislative program taken up.

With Thursday night's decisive victory to its credit, the position of the government is now strong, its followers united, loyal and enthusiastic. The possibility of a defeat in the House has entirely disappeared.

The Prime Minister is once more in a position to deal with the matter of reorganization. This, there is a reason for stating, he purposes taking up without delay, and it would not be surprising if an important announcement respecting changes from Quebec comes during the coming week.

GERMANS FEAR LLOYD GEORGE GROWS HARDER

Would Rather Suicide, Says One, Than Accept Some of His Statements.

DEPLORE GUILT FOR THE STRUGGLE

Allege British Premier Has Under Estimated Value of German Plans.

London, March 4.—Awaiting advice from Berlin as to whether new proposals are to be submitted to the Allies on Monday, Dr. Simons, the foreign secretary, and the German experts are busy preparing a reply to some of the arguments used by Mr. Lloyd George in delivering the allied ultimatum yesterday.

The Germans strongly object to the verdict of the Allies that they were entirely responsible for the war, and the prime minister's arguments that if they taxed themselves as France and England has done they would be able to pay what is demanded of them.

Claim Too Low Review

They claim indirect taxes, such as those on sugar, tobacco and spirits, have not been taken into account, and they are prepared to produce figures showing the Allies have under-rated their resources.

With regard to the question of responsibility for the war, the Germans maintain the European powers were equally at fault, and cite a recent speech by Mr. Lloyd George in which he is quoted as saying that the world drifted into the war.

Would Prefer Suicide

"It is hard to make a man who believes he is innocent say he is guilty," said one of the delegates today. "As for myself I would rather commit suicide than admit Germany alone was responsible. Any government which made such an admission would promptly be overthrown. So if the Allies are determined to carry out their demands they must meet them upon us; they soon will find that the penalties which they outlined yesterday will not produce what they expect."

ENGINE CREW ARRESTED FOR DEADLY WRECK

Michigan Central Engineer and Fireman Held in Porter Accident.

WITNESSES SWEAR SIGNALS AGAINST TRAIN

Railway Brotherhood Claims Crossing Where Accident Occurred is a Death Trap.

Valparaiso, Ind., Mar. 4.—Responsibility for the death of thirty-seven persons in the train wreck Sunday night at the Porter, Ind., intersection of the New York Central and Michigan Central lines, was placed on the Michigan Central engineer and fireman at the inquest held today by Dr. H. O. Seipel, coroner of Porter County and they were formally charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Dr. Seipel, after several witnesses to the disaster had testified that the signals were against the Michigan Central, swore out warrants against the men, William Long of Niles, Mich., the engineer and George Block, of Michigan City, Ind., the fireman—and ordered them bound over for trial.

Out on Bail.

They were released late tonight on bonds of $5,000 and $3,500 respectively, furnished by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, which sent a special representative from Cleveland, prepared to give bonds up to $100,000.

Neither Long nor Block testified at the inquest although both attended. They issued a formal statement through their attorneys however, declaring that the signal at the derailment, 210 feet from the crossing gave them a clear track although the distance block, 4,500 feet away showed a yellow light which meant that they were to bring their train under control. This was done, they said.

Blame Railroads.

Charges that the railroads were largely to blame for the disaster in maintaining a crossing which they termed a death trap were made by the engineers. Witnesses today testified that they had seen the same or deral signal was against the Michigan Central train as late as one minute before it reached the crossing where the New York Central train crashed in cutting it in two. Two brakemen on a freight train on a siding and the engineer of the freight gave this testimony.

Were Lights Confused

Another bit of evidence was that the engine crew might have confused a green light on the order board just across the intersection with the deral light, both being in the line of vision.

Joe Cook, tower man, repeated his story that he had given the New York Central the right of way. He said that while he had only worked the levers but once before, he was certain he had made no mistake.

PREMIER HAS 25 MAJORITY ON DIVISION

By Vote of 116 to 91 King's Want of Confidence Motion is Defeated.

NO SUPPORT FOR THE SUB-AMENDMENT

Terrific Cheering for the Premier When He Wins Out on First Division.

Ottawa, March 4.—By a vote of 116 to 91 the want of confidence amendment of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, was rejected in the House of Commons a little before five o'clock this morning after an all night session. By the same vote the motion to adopt the speech from the Throne was carried. The sub-amendment proposed by a Western member was not accorded a single vote in its support, as both the mover and the seconder of the resolution were absent from the House when the vote was taken.

Cheer the Premier.

When the announcement was made that Premier Meighen's Government had been sustained in its final division since he became premier there was a burst of terrific applause from his supporters and for several minutes the House celebrated the victory. Major Andrews, Centre Winnipeg, and L. G. Gauthier, St. Hyacinthe, voted with the government. The address carried on the same division. Messrs. Bolvin, Molloy, Michael Clark, Maharg Reid (Mackenzie), Knox and Kennedy announced that they were paired and would have voted for the amendment.

Government Satisfied.

Keen satisfaction is felt in government circles with the result of the division. At the opening of the session it was felt that the government might command a majority of between twenty-five and thirty. But illness and absence had called several government supporters—there was difficulty over pairs—and it was thought that the government would be fortunate to secure even twenty. Some estimates placed the majority as low as from twelve to fifteen. A majority of twenty-five in a full debate, it is felt, is ample mandate, so far as parliamentary following is concerned, to the government to go ahead with its programme.

Dull Days Coming.

It is probable that business in the House will not be of great importance for the next few days. There is yet practically no contentious government legislation yet submitted, and discussion is likely to turn on motions standing in the name of private members. Questions, growing in number on the order paper, since the opening of session will receive attention and the estimates may be expected probably in the early part of next week.

I VENS IS FREE; TAKES HIS SEAT

Vehemently Protests He Was Innocent of Charge of Seditious Conspiracy.

Winnipeg, March 4.—Vehemently protesting that he was innocent of the seditious conspiracy charges on which he and other strikers leaders had been convicted, Rev. William Ivens, whose year term in jail expired last Monday, took part in the debate on the address at this afternoon's session of the legislature.

With grim humor, he commented upon the irony of fate which had sent him to jail, "seditiously" for the purpose of helping to make laws, declaring that he intended to be loyal to his convictions, whatever the result of that loyalty be.

Still Strongly Convinced.

He stated that he was innocent of the charges and that he stood for them today only "a little stronger."

Mr. Ivens predicted the doom of the Norris government, claiming that sooner or later it would have to give way to those who were better able to deal with the changing circumstances of society.

Bootleggers Using Airship As Carrier

Crosses Border South of Winnipeg With Full Cargoes of "Wet" Goods.

Winnipeg, Man., March 4.—An air plane, believed to be the link between an international gang of bootleggers, is reported to be making frequent trips from a place a few miles south of Winnipeg to a destination in the United States, according to a story published in a local newspaper today. The story says the plane apparently picks up its cargo from a shallow land depression six or eight miles west of the station of St. Aracah, about forty miles south of Winnipeg.

CALM FOLLOWS HOUSE DIVISION WITH ALL TIRED

Replies to Members' Questions Only Feature of a Listless Session.

PREMIER IS IN JOVIAL SPIRITS

Catches A. R. McMaster on Leadership of the Opposition Parties.

Ottawa, Mar. 4.—The all-night session of the House ending in an early morning division was followed by a listless afternoon wandering over a variety of topics. First came a deluge of answers from the government to the questions which have been growing on the order paper day by day since the opening of session. Subsequently there was discussion on oil lands in the western provinces; on the investigation now underway into the "wanton" destruction of public documents at the government printing bureau and on the bill introduced by A. R. McMaster (Brome) to resign any directorships he may hold in incorporated companies.

What About Opposition

Consideration of the bill on second reading brought some amusing reply. Mr. McMaster had been urging the necessity of his bill when the Prime Minister interrupted to ask if Mr. McMaster would not also make the bill applicable to the leader of the opposition.

"I have no objection," said Mr. McMaster as Mr. Mackenzie King nodded acquiescence. "Would you make it applicable to the leader of both opposition?" Mr. McKenna pressed, with obvious reference to Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressives and also president of the United Grain Growers Limited.

Mr. Crerar at the time was not in the House.

"I think it would be in the public interest to include the leader of the opposition in the bill," remarked Mr. King.

Just Leading Him On

Mr. Melgheon smilingly rejoined that it was not Mr. King he had in mind, it was just leading through him to the other. Mr. Melgheon said, the House laughing. Debate on second reading of the bill was adjourned and the House rose at 2 P. M. on Monday.

At the opening of the House the Minister of Justice submitted a bill to amend the Exchequer Court Act. At the present time in the Exchequer Court from a ruling of the commissioner of patents, a private party has the right of appeal to the Supreme Court from the Exchequer Court. The bill is to give the commissioner of patents, the same right of appeal.

Representations were made to the department of external affairs in August regarding the danger to the mission of Lieutenant Colonel Burnham of the Serbian Government.

The matter was taken up with the British foreign office and it was learned that a protest had been addressed to His Majesty's minister at Belgrade to the Serb-Croat-Slovene Government against threats said to have been made against Colonel Burnham.

The Serbian Government had denied that Colonel Burnham had been arrested, threatened or subjected to discourteous treatment. Colonel Burnham had withdrawn his mission from Montenegro, and the government saw no reason to interfere further in the matter.

Trades And Labor Council Meeting

No Prospects of Settlement in City Labor Disputes—Organizers Addressed Members.

A good attendance of delegates marked last evening's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council which was presided over by F. A. Campbell.

The delegates members of the Boy Survey committee reported that the survey would be held on the last two days of March. The council took steps to provide workers for the survey.

The organization committee reported no prospects of any settlement in the different labor disputes in the city at the present time.

Delegate Ties corrected a report which appeared in one of the city's papers. He stated that when the municipal committee went before the city council he had referred to the same "riggers" brought into the city, and not the same "riggers," as had been reported.

Organizer Lance of the L. A. Y. General Workers addressed the council and stated that the organization and stated that his international would stand behind and help the garment workers of the city in their trouble. Organizer Varley addressed the council on the local labor situation and the dual organization of the country.

Thousands Perish In Soviet Revolt

In One Village Alone 1,000 Persons Were Executed and 1,000 Were Jailed.

(Copyright by Public Ledger.)

London, March 4.—Recent disturbances in Petrograd and Moscow are regarded as a serious menace to the Soviet government by the British Foreign Office which today had dispatches from Russia believed to be accurate. There is no connection between the two outbreaks and neither has an organization worth the name in Petrograd a regiment of reserves, repressive because of inactivity and disorganized over poor rations, murdered their officers and began general looting. Soviet police and troops loyal to Trotsky rounded up the mutineers, the entire regiment was sent to the southern front and Petrograd has been quiet since.

Lack of Food.

The trouble in Moscow which came two days later was the result of a lack of food and a strike by some 14,000 industrial workers. It was much more an industrial than political disturbance and was put down by Soviet troops. The recurrence of trouble in Moscow would not be surprising as food conditions have been worse in the last sixty days than ever before in the capital and the workers are angry at the government for its attempt to abolish trade unions.

While these two outbreaks are not interpreted as immediately endangering Soviet rule, they certainly are not strengthening it. What political importance may be attached to them is increased by a number of sporadic peasant risings all the way from Siberia to Odessa reports of which are available in official quarters in London today.

WILSON QUILTS WHITE HOUSE FOR OWN HOME

Iron Will of Sick President Carried Him Through Ordeal of Retirement.

SUCCESSOR VERY COURTEOUS TO HIM

Only Once in Day Did Mr. Wilson Show Remembrance of Bitter Attacks of Past.

Before Mr. Harding had been President at least he had received a precedent set by George Washington by conferring with the Senate in executive session, submitting in person the nominations of his ten cabinet officers, all of which were immediately confirmed.

Within another hour he had gone to the White House to "hang up his hat and go to work" as he himself often had said, and had unlocked the White House gates which for four years had been closed to the public. The public celebrated the event by actually passing through the grounds and peering through the windows to see the new President in conference with cabinet officers.

Sworn In At 11.18

Mr. Harding took the oath of office at 11.18 p.m. exactly eight years to the minute from the time the same words of obligation were spoken by Mr. Wilson at his inauguration.

The inaugural ceremonies, conforming to Mr. Harding's wishes were kept free from almost every show of the pomp and circumstance that usually surrounded the incoming of a chief executive. Thousands witnessed the oath and cheered the old and new presidents along Pennsylvania avenue, but the crowd was only a fraction of the customary inauguration throngs.

On Washington's Bible

On the Bible used by George Washington at his first inauguration the office of the president of the United States is regarded as a serious menace to the Soviet government by the British Foreign Office which today had dispatches from Russia believed to be accurate.

There is no connection between the two outbreaks and neither has an organization worth the name in Petrograd a regiment of reserves, repressive because of inactivity and disorganized over poor rations, murdered their officers and began general looting. Soviet police and troops loyal to Trotsky rounded up the mutineers, the entire regiment was sent to the southern front and Petrograd has been quiet since.

Lack of Food

The trouble in Moscow which came two days later was the result of a lack of food and a strike by some 14,000 industrial workers. It was much more an industrial than political disturbance and was put down by Soviet troops.

While these two outbreaks are not interpreted as immediately endangering Soviet rule, they certainly are not strengthening it. What political importance may be attached to them is increased by a number of sporadic peasant risings all the way from Siberia to Odessa reports of which are available in official quarters in London today.

Dominion Loans

This information was given in reply to a question by Paul Michaud, (Bosticouche-Madawaska, N. B.)

Proceeds from Dominion loans exclusive of cash receipts from war savings certificates, debentures, stocks, etc., were as follows:

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1916, $27,000,000; 1917, $315,889,812; 1918, $517,430,056; 1919, $684,381,466.

DIAPHRAGM RASH ON FACE

And Neck. Burned and Itched. Cuticura Healed.

"I had pimples and a sort of rash on my face and neck. They would burn and itch and when I scratched would become red and scaly and peel off. It was hard for me to sleep and I dreaded to go anywhere."

I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them. My face began to get smooth and stopped itching and burning and when I had used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for about a month I was healed."

Wilson, still alone, made his way the short distance to the president's room and the business before him. He greeted the Senators waiting there, exchanged humorous quips with some of them, and signed or waved away the bills that were laid before him.

Sympathy From Successor

As he said goodbye to Mr. Wilson, the incoming president again displayed the sympathy he felt for his stricken predecessor. They clasped hands and Mr. Harding said: "Good-bye, Mr. President. I know you are glad to be relieved of your burden and worries. I want to tell you how much I appreciate the courtesies you have extended to me." Mr. Wilson seemed to agree that he was glad to be free, for he even gained in cheerfulness as he moved out of the room, with Senator Knox escorting him to the elevator.

"I can't get accustomed to this feeling," Mr. Wilson said to the senator as they moved slowly along.

At the White House before his own inauguration began, Mr. Harding attended that of his vice-president, Calvin Coolidge, in the senate chamber. Reaching the White House at three o'clock the president and Mrs. Harding had luncheon with immediate members of their families. Dr. George T. Harding, of Marion, the executive's father, sitting at his son's table as a guest of honor. Afterward the Hardings held open houses to the folks of Marion, who had come on several special trains to see their neighborly settler in the executive mansion.

Taken Policemen Off.

It was late in the afternoon before Mr. Harding made his first visit to his office and issued an order opening the White House grounds to the public. In doing so he fulfilled a prophecy of Mrs. Harding, who declared on election night, last November, that one of the first acts of the next administration would be "to take the policemen away from the White House gates."

Most of Mr. Harding's first evening in the executive office was spent with his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., making a preliminary survey of the unfinished business left by the retiring administration.

WHY "ANURIC"

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and you suffer from backache, sickle, dizziness, spots, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large trial package of his new discovery—"Anuric" (anti uric acid). Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test.

Tom Moore Predicts Industrial Warfare

Declares Employers of Canada and the United States Are Allied Against Labor.

Ottawa, Ont., Mar. 4.—Unless there is a distinct change of attitude on the part of employers, United States and Canada to a certain extent will be involved in serious industrial warfare, said Mr. Tom Moore, president of trades and labor congress of Canada today.

Mr. Moore has just returned from Washington where he conferred with the executive of the American Federation of Labor and representation of United States courts which declared unconstitutional practically all the laws they had for the protection of labor.

Allied Against Labor.

"Employers in United States are not hesitating to openly declare their determination to destroy the power of labor organization. The newspapers of all the large cities are full of paid advertisements by the employer associations attempting to influence the public against organization of labor. A tremendous amount of money is being spent in that way."

"On the other hand, labor forces are well organized now and in a good position to defend themselves. They are confident of the outcome of the struggle that they are entering into to maintain the position they have achieved for themselves and their standard of living."

"It all leads to one thing—unless there is a distinct change of attitude on the part of the employers, United States and Canada, by declaring degrees will be involved in serious industrial warfare."

We like to sell the kind of furniture that your children will like to inherit. Good looking, sensible, moderately priced furniture.

It is almost inconceivable to us that the "price" or "speculative" furniture that goes into some homes will be welcomed or even tolerated by the children who will inherit it.

But, consider yourself as well as your children, their friends, your friends and visitors—consider the satisfaction of owning, and showing and using really good furniture, that you bought right.

VESSEL CRUSHED IN ICE FIELDS BUT CREW SAVED

Seamen of Schooner Got Ashore by Crossing on Ice from Lost Ship.

STEAMER'S BOWS ARE SMASHED IN

"Road Jarid" Will Require at Least Two Weeks for Repairs.

St. John, N.B., March 4.—North Atlantic ice floes caught two vessels off the Newfoundland coast today.

The schooner "Pipery" bound here from Lisbon with a cargo of salt was crushed in a floe of Cape Race. Her crew reached land by walking over the ice, crossing the patches of open water in a small boat brought from the vessel.

Grinding ice so injured the bow of the steamer "Road Jarid" from Philadelphia for this port, with coal that she will be tied up for two weeks before repairs can be completed.

Chipman Aviator Fell At Panama

Ralph Beardsley Escapes With Slight Injuries While His Companion Broke Legs.

Special to The Standard.

Chipman, Mar. 4.—Ralph E. Beardsley, son of Mr. J. D. Beardsley of this place, has been injured in a flying accident at Panama. He served with the 9th Battery, C.F.A., and later joined the United States Aviation Corps, and has been stationed at Panama. In a letter home he describes his accident:

I feel lucky tonight to be able to write, as I have a cut about six inches long "under my" left arm. I was detailed to go up in a plane with an officer to make observations up the Chagres River for a base for our surveying camp. We left the hangars at the flying base about 9 o'clock, flew out over the Atlantic at a height of about 3,500 feet and then up the coast to the mouth of the Chagres. We flew inland over the canal and descended to 300 feet to make our observations, then started for home. About seven miles from home and while over Lawson Bay, near Colon, something went wrong with the engine. We made for shore as fast as possible, about 200 feet from the shore we crashed, smashing our wings and fuselage. The officer had both legs broken, while I was lucky enough to get off with a scratch—will scarcely have a scar. A piece of the gunwale of the car broke and sliced my ribs a little. If we had been 100 feet further out we would have drowned and 100 feet nearer shore, we would have been smashed up far worse than we were. I'll be all O. K. in another two days. I have watched dozens of planes crash in France, but never knew it gave one such a queer sensation.

BROKE HER ARM

Mrs. Simon Simpson of Neguac, who is visiting at the home of Hon. Robert Murray, met with a painful accident a few days ago, falling and breaking her arm. Dr. Marven was called and rendered the necessary surgical aid. Mrs. Simpson, who is advanced in years, is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

Senator Serenaded By Shediak Band

Shediac, March 4.—Mr. J. A. McDonald, the newly appointed New Brunswick senator from Nova Scotia, arrived in town on Saturday evening from Amherst and was the guest over Sunday of Mr. E. R. McDonald.

On Sunday evening the band serenaded Mr. McDonald, and among those on the verandah with the new senator were noticed Mayor Sormany, A. W. McQueen, Avard White, Leander Cassidy and Armand Cassidy. The friends of the National Liberal-Conservative party were conspicuous by their absence. Mr. McDonald is reported to have stated in his remarks that he intended to move to New Brunswick before long.

No doubt, Prime Minister Meighen and Mr. Wigmore fully appreciate how perfectly satisfactory this appointment has been to the friends of the Hon. Mackenzie King in Shediac.

Camp and Charles E. Howie, in Carleton ward. The first and last named are also endorsed by the Good Government Association. The platform is as follows:

4. The retention by the city of its lighting plant under municipal operation and ownership.

Mining Active In Albert County

Albert, Mar. 4.—There is considerable activity in mining work in Albert county just now. At Hillsboro, where more men are employed in mining work than anywhere in New Brunswick except the Grand Lake coal regions, the Albert Manufacturing Company, of which Hon. C. J. Osman is president, is enlarging their plant so that the output of gypsum and gypsum products will be about doubled.

And one or two smaller companies are increasing their output. At Albert Mines, the site of the former albite production, men are seeking the veins of this mineral, which are generally believed to be quite as rich as the ones formerly mined. The company promoting this work are said to be satisfied that the development of this property will soon reach the proportions of the first operation here.

At Rosevale another company is erecting a plant of large dimensions for the purpose of extracting oil from the extensive beds of shale that exist in that district.

Votes Estimate For Campbellton Bridge

Structure Will Cost About $800,000 and New Brunswick's Share in Estimate.

Fredericton, N. B., Mar. 4.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works in the Provincial Government, announced this morning that the Provincial Government has decided to place in the estimates to be submitted at the approaching session of the Legislature an amount sufficient to meet New Brunswick's share of cost of the preliminary work in connection with the proposed inter-provincial bridge across the Restigouche River from Campbellton, N. B., to Cross Point, Que.

Cost About $800,000.

The estimated cost of the bridge, he said, was between $700,000 and $800,000, of which the Federal Government was asked to pay one-half, the other half to be divided between the New Brunswick and Quebec Provincial Governments, the suggestion having been made that each of the provincial governments pay one-quarter of the gross cost. The Government has been bombarded with telegrams and messages from Campbellton asking for a decision of the matter, and, with a by-election in sight in Restigouche as a result of the election project which was decided a few days ago, the Campbellton Board of Trade and other organizations there evidently seized upon the present as the psychological time to get New Brunswick definitely committed to the scheme.

CANADIAN CURLERS HOME FROM SUCCESSFUL VISIT

Happy Number Reached Port on C. P. O. S. Empress of Britain—Received Great Hospitality While Abroad—
Captured Greater Percentage of Matches— Farewell
Address to Judge Patterson.

The Canadian Curlers arrived in the city on the C.P.O.S. Empress of France yesterday after a most successful tour of the curling centers of Scotland and England, a tour which was described by one of the party as "one grand jaunt of joy." The picked squad of Canadian exponents of the "roarin'" game left St. John on the Empress of France Dec. 30th.

Grand Reception.

They were met in Liverpool by the president and the secretary of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club and officially welcomed to the old country. From that time until their departure they were the guests of the club, and were overwhelmed with hospitality by their Scotch friends.

Four Districts Represented.

Four districts of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club contributed the six rinks who represented Canada in Scotland. Nova Scotia, and Quebec sent one rink each, Ontario and Manitoba, two each. The players were: From Nova Scotia: H. F. Adams, and W. J. Busch, Halifax; J. A. Craig, Yarmouth; E. A. Fullerton, Pictou; W. H. Semple, Truro; J. J. Turnbull, Sydney, and Judge Patterson, New Glasgow.

Farewell Meeting.

Prior to the Empress' arrival in St. John a farewell meeting was held on board the boat and a number of complimentary speeches were made congratulating Judge Patterson of New Glasgow, N. S., the captain of the team for his zealous and excellent conducting of the tour that had done so much to make the trip the grand success it was. Thanks were also returned to the secretary, J. Bruce Stewart of Montreal, and to the Song Leader, J. A. Turton also of Montreal.

Series of Banquets.

Two matches were played every day, with the exception of the test matches when only one game was played. After each match the Canadians were the guests of honor at complimentary banquets, tendered by their opponents. They were also the guests of the Mayor and city of Edinburgh, and of the Glasgow Ice Rink Corporation. Following the final match the Canadians were hosts to the Scottish rinks in a farewell dinner when they endeavored to repay to some extent all the kindness that had been showered upon them.

Trip To Loch Lomond.

At the conclusion of play, they were the guests of the Caledonia Club on a two days' delightful trip to Loch Lomond. Ten motor cars were placed at their disposal and a most enjoyable excursion resulted.

Memorial Service.

The first Sunday the curlers were in Scotland they journeyed in a body out to Dirlston, a small village outside of Edinburgh, where a memorial service was conducted by the Royal Caledonia Club's chaplain, and a wreath placed on the grave of the late Rev. Dr. Kerr, who was captain of the first team of Scottish curlers to play in Canada.

Indoor Track Meet Last Night

High School and School Boys
Were in Action in Y. M. C.
I.—Close Contests.

A High School and School Boys' Indoor Track meet was held in the Y.M.C.I. last evening and witnessed by a large number of interested spectators. The 60 yard potato race for school boys was won by Chandler with Murray second.

Rockwood Park.

The question of allowing automobiles in Rockwood Park was brought up and discussed at length. It was felt by the members of the association that if a road was made one way for all traffic the matter of any danger would be eliminated as far as automobiles were concerned. Horses driven past each other are just as liable to cause danger as automobiles. It was further mentioned that all the parks in other cities are open to automobiles and if Rockwood was opened it would afford a great chance to summer visitors to view the place without walking miles.

Drive to the Right.

The "Drive to the Right" matter was also discussed and it was pointed out that while the matter had passed the House the only thing lacking for some time was the order-in-council to make it law.

THE END OF THE DEBATE.

The House of Commons has decided by a vote of 116 to 91 that there is no longer any necessity for the Government to appeal to the country for a mandate to carry on for the remainder of the present term of Parliament, despite Mr. Mackenzie King's declamatory assertions that it ought to do so. The result of the division must be very satisfactory to the Government and its supporters, who found the course for which they have contended upheld by a majority of 25, and this in the face of the fact that many of the Government party are away on the sick list.

Looking back over the speeches of the Opposition, one cannot help being amused at the line taken. What was the sense of moving an amendment to the address complaining to His Excellency the Governor-General that his present advisers do not possess the confidence of the House when the mover has not the backing in the House to carry such an amendment? It is not by a succession of speeches, but by a majority of votes that resolutions are passed in Parliament. In the point of silliness the laborious progress of Mr. King and his followers and allies to show that the House of Commons is a transgressor and the Cabinet a usurper surpasses anything in the history of Canadian politics. It makes a laughing-stock of the Liberal Opposition and of its outside press. If the Government is sustained by a majority in the House of what avail is Mr. King's refusal to be comforted? As the Mail and Empire says, it is something new to contend that the Government should resign its office, but aside its own sense of bounden duty to attend to pressing national business, and dissolve Parliament because the leader of the Opposition won't stop sulking until he has a chance of a new deal.

PRESIDENT HARDING

Mr. Warren G. Harding who was sworn into office yesterday as President of the United States, may not be a great outstanding figure in American political life in the sense that some of his predecessors have been, but he is blessed with lots of sound common sense. His speeches indicate that he is a man with a broad and well balanced mind capable of taking a statesmanlike view of affairs. He has selected a Cabinet which is really superior in ability to the executive with which President Wilson surrounded himself. He put his foot down on an extravagant inauguration show, and did not indict on the Republic and the world a lengthy inaugural speech. He showed himself a really great newspaper editor by condensing his views on the problems of the universe into two thousand words, which is something of a feat.

The two outstanding references in his address were not unimportantly, the League of Nations and the Tariff question. Though in his election he was supported by all the elements which are opposed to the League of Nations and all the anti-British forces in the Republic, yet he has plainly manifested that he does not propose to be dominated by such influences. His references to Great Britain have been most cordial and he has refused to recognize the Sinn Feiners. The impression seems to be that he will ultimately bring the United States into the League, though it cannot be said that his address foreshadowed any such outcome. He declared that the United States "seeks no part in directing the destinies of the Old World, and is unwilling to become entangled in European politics." This is a very wise view to take. There are those who think that America cannot plough a lonely furrow, that she must cooperate with other nations. To a certain extent and along certain lines, this is of course true; but the Old World problems such as the League of Nations will be called upon to deal with in the main. America has nothing whatever to do. There are enough problems arising in the Western Hemisphere to take up all the time and attention the United States has to spare for such matters, without that country interfering with those of the other hemisphere.

President Harding has a great opportunity to make a name for himself, and such indications as he has given so far of what his line of policy is to be rather leads to the conclusion that he'll make it.

GRAND FALLS WATER POWERS

That the citizens of the County of Victoria should be up in arms at the announcement that the Grand Falls Water Company is about to ask for an extension of time in which to commence operations for firing the water power there to some practical purpose, is not to be wondered at. The proposition has been foisted with for eighteen years, and is today in precisely the same position as it was in 1902 when the original company was incorporated. The franchise is in the hands of an American corporation which cannot, or will not, afford to develop the water power itself, and is therefore hanging on from year to year, getting extensions from time to time, simply and solely to retain control of affairs and keep on any one else who might be disposed to do something, unless the newcomers should be willing to pay a long price for the privilege of taking over the franchise.

The people of Grand Falls and the neighboring district realize quite well the tremendous asset the province has in the Falls, and they are, not at all unreasonably, getting rather tired of the shilly-shallying policy that has been so pronounced for so many years now. They feel, and very rightly so, that if the present owners of the franchise are not prepared to go ahead with the development of the power, they should stand aside and give some one else a chance to do something. These owners were allowed one year from the time of the Declaration of Fees in which to show their bona fides, by spending at least $100,000 in commencing the work of development. This period has now expired some time ago, and all that has been done towards development has been to advertise a few times asking who would take light and power if it were made available. It is said the American concern which owns the franchise is contemplating asking for an extension of two years in which to begin work. It may safely be said that should such extension be granted, precisely the same conditions which prevailed today would be found prevailing when the two years expired and still another extension would probably be asked for. The Government should stand firm and cancel the franchise granted and sequester the $50,000 deposit which the Company made. The Company has evidently not the least intention of doing anything.

A FAKE CANVASS

According to the cabled dispatches, the defeat at Dudley of Sir Arthur Boscawen, the new Minister of Agriculture in England on his seeking re-election upon taking office, was accomplished largely through the efforts of Lord Beaverbrook, who flooded the constituency with his newspaper, the Daily Express, in which it was stated that the British embargo upon Canadian cattle was the cause of the high cost of meat in England, and that the importation of live cattle would bring the price down. If it is the truth, as stated in the dispatch, that such a canvass was used, then the seat was won by false pretences. Lord Beaverbrook knows, or at least he should know by now, for he has been in England long enough to know it, that the cheapest meat that can be bought there and which is the meat that the working classes are compelled to buy on account of its price, is the meat which is imported from other countries. Home fed and home killed carcasses cost from 30 to 50 per cent, more per pound than foreign meat. To send Canadian store cattle to Britain to be finished and slaughtered there will not reduce the price of meat at all; it will simply mean that more high priced, home fed and home killed meat will be put on the market, and the cheaper foreign supplies will be lessened by just that quantity.

Where the working classes are going to benefit is hard to say. Dudley is in the heart of what is known as the Black Country, and its population consists wholly of iron and steel workers and coal miners who are easily stampeded into believing any power that will affect the purchasing power of their wages. Lord Beaverbrook's paper has apparently taken advantage of this condition of affairs; and it is difficult to understand why it did not do the same thing in Woolwich, another great labor center, where one would have thought the same argument would be just as effective. The only contention to be drawn is that the electors of Woolwich are not so gullible as those of the Staffordshire constituency.

The usefulness of the League of Nations has received somewhat of a jar, from the fact that two of its members, Costa Rica and Panama, have gone to war over some little trifling dispute. After a gory battle between the contending armies, eighteen combatants were left dead on the field. The incident merely goes to show that however desirable a "pop-wow" may be in theory as a means of settling international differences, in practice it does not take VI et armis has been the favorite method of settling disputes ever since the time of Cain and Abel, and we doubt if any other method will ever supersede it.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Proportional representation has apparently not proven a success in the recent Federal election, and already there is a move on foot for its abolition. One afternoon described proportional representation after the elections as "the worst-complicated system of mathematical insanity." Another city father expressed the opinion that it would be fairer and more satisfactory all round to shake the dice for wins—London Free Press.

The Costly Telephone. People in this part of the continent thought they were being hardly treated when war-made conditions forced up the cost of having a telephone in the house. They may get consolation of a sort by reading that in Great Britain the rates have been boosted 67 per cent, in order to retrieve the heavy deficit resulting under the former charges. As the 'phones in the old land are used under the post office department, the increase cannot be attributed to the greed of the shareholders who seek to profiteer the popular propensity to talk.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Influenza and Social Conditions. So widespread and devastating were the effects of the influenza epidemics in 1918 and 1919 that the Ministry of Health has been well advised to issue a report upon the disease. It caused the death of more people than fell in the course of the war, a comparison which is true of many outbreaks of plague in India alone, and it brought back to our civilized societies some of the horrors of the great plague years of times gone by. Sir George Newman, Chief Medical Officer of the Ministry of Health, reports that the only sure way of defeating ourselves against such epidemics is to raise the whole standard of social conditions, not only of our own but of other nations. Improvement at home, however, would be of considerable avail. Society is a single whole. We cannot shut ourselves off, as Boccaccio's party of rascals did, and live in comfort while the plague spreads itself on others. One overcrowded slum is a danger not only to its inhabitants, but to all of us.—Westminster Gazette.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL
 A DOUBTFUL V. C.
 The Editor of The Standard, Sir—In your issue of today there appears a despatch from Cumberland, Md., that a Captain Brock is dead at Oakland, Md., that he took part in the Charge of the Light Brigade, and that he held the Victoria Cross which bore the words, "Your Queen is proud of you." Permit me to say that the above name is not in the list of those awarded the Victoria Cross, either living or dead, and that the Victoria Cross does not bear any such words. It seems strange that such trash and mis-statements should be allowed a place in Canadian papers. Yours truly, H. T. STURDIER, March 4th.

A BIT OF VERSE

ON THE TRAIL

Field upon field of Indian paint and daisy,
 Mile after mile of hot, white sky—
 Down the yellow trail three horses plodding lazily—
 And you and I—
 All the little lizards in the sunbaked ledges
 Lie like dead leaves wrinkling in the sun.
 O'er the world's shoulders, in the mesquite
 This straggles run.
 There after sundown we shall halt our horses,
 Take stiff legs from the saddles and the quest,
 And make our camp where, by dwindling water-course,
 Tall weeds rust.

Out there at nesting time, the great sky over,
 Myriads of ancient stars shall watch us where we lie,
 White clouds shall swirl at us, and dim bats hover—
 You and I—
 On the lone plains where night comes down like sorrow,
 We shall keep content, with the homeless wild above,
 Wearing the day and fearlessness of the morrow,
 You and I and love!
 —Howard Mumford Jones, in The Freeman.

Montreal, March 4.—As an example of the wide range of activity of a steamship company's passenger department, the headquarters of the C.P.O.S. were requested yesterday to bring a lady from Johannesburg, South Africa, to Vancouver. Arrangements will be made by agents of the company in South Africa, it was stated yesterday, for the transportation of the lady in question from her home to Cape Town and passage provided thence to Southampton. She will be looked after on arrival in England and placed on a C.P.O.S. steamer at either Southampton or Liverpool for St. John, and will later be cared for by the C.P.R. on her trip across Canada. The journey will take about six weeks, and will cost between $600 and $700.

OPERA SALARIES CUT

New York, March 4.—A substantial salary reduction has been accepted by virtually every artist who thus far has signed a new contract with the Chicago Opera Company for the 1921-22 season. George M. Spangler, business manager, announced last night that the new contracts, it was stated, call for as much as a 50 per cent, cut in the fees collected during the current year by the singers in the stellar group, while others were persuaded to accept 25 per cent.
 Exceptions had been made, it was announced, in the salaries of Mary Garden, artist-director, Mme. Gall-Curci and Lucien Muratore.

NEW PRESIDENT FOUGHT HIS WAY UP FROM BOTTOM

Began His Career as Teacher in a Little Country School.

BECAME EDITOR OF A NEWSPAPER Man to Attract a Second Glance in Any Crowd Says a Friend.

Washington, March 4.—Whatever else he may be, Warren G. Harding, always classed himself as editor, publisher and printer, proud of his professional accomplishments and training. His luck-charm and most sacred possession is a printer's rule, which he carries wherever he goes; and his close friends say he would rather set a stick of type any day than grant an audience to an ambassador.

For more than thirty years Mr. Harding's bread and butter has been earned by the Marion Star, whose responsibilities he assumed under heavy mortgage and whose care he has nourished at the expense of going hungry more than once himself. Since his nomination for the Presidency he has faced only one public ordeal that aroused emotions he could not master. That was the temporary severance of the ties that bind him to the Star. On election night, when a group of his employees came to congratulate him, his voice broke and his big frame was shaken by sobs when he undertook to speak of the separation that must be the price of his triumph.

Election day was Mr. Harding's fifty-fifth birthday, and as the interests of his lifetime were riding in the immediate vicinity of Marion, O., in an adjoining county, the son of a country doctor, George T. Harding, who still visits his patients about Marion in the one-horse carriage of the old-school practitioner. The new President's mother has a 223 dead for many years and his father's remains.

Tried School Teaching. Young Harding attended college at Oberlin, O., and then tried school teaching for a year before entering the newspaper career. Always a partisan and a Republican, he lost his job as a reporter by wearing in the presence of his Democratic editor a "spine hat," which was which was a badge of support of James G. Blaine.

Although it was a pioneer newspaper age, Mr. Harding's mind ran of progressive notions even in the day when the Star still was a liability. He broke with his first partner over the question of installing a telephone in the newspaper office, a proposal which the partner held to be impractical, extravagant and revolutionary. Although he retains a controlling financial interest in the Star, now a successful newspaper, Mr. Harding will occupy but a titular relationship to it during his Presidency.

Previous Offices. Three times before he has held public office. He served in the Ohio legislature and as lieutenant governor of the state, and six years ago he was elected to the United States Senate, where he became a member of the Foreign Relations Committee. In 1916 he was chairman of the Republican national convention. In personal appearance the new President is a man to attract a second look in any crowd. He carries his two hundred and ten pounds with an air of ease, although he is not quite six feet tall; and his massive features round out an impression of force and distinction. His hair is from gray—almost silver—making sharp contrast with the unusually heavy black eyebrows that almost mask a pair of calm grey eyes. It is only in repose that he has a slight smile, the aspect of severity seen so often in his photographs. When he talks or listens the lines are broken by a smile that radiates cordiality.

Not An Orator. As an orator Mr. Harding never has rated himself as witty or eloquent, though he attained considerable success a few years ago on the chautauqua platform. He seldom attempts fine word pictures or humorous passages, but cultivates a deliberate, unembellished utterance.

He never gives the impression of stilted dignity. He likes to know men well enough to call them by their first names and to slap them on the back when he meets them. He likes to shake hands and make conversation about the weather and the crops, and when he does he usually lapses into the vernacular of an Ohio countryman. It is Mr. Harding's affability that has made for officials close to him some of their hardest problems. He never likes to refuse an audience or to terminate a conference until his visitor has talked himself out. On his first campaign trip his managers ruled that time and endurance would permit him to appear at wayside stations, but after the train had whizzed past the first waiting crowd he ordered that a stop be made wherever the people had come out expecting to see him.

Fond of Children. The new President is unusually fond of children, though he has none of his own. He is a life-long Baptist and a trustee of his home church in Marion. He has been a member of the Elk and Moose societies for years, and since his election to the Presidency has become a thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner. Golf is his favorite recreation and he likes to fish but does not hunt. He plays hard, and possesses the faculty of putting all his worries out of his mind during vacation hours. Of all the presidents, Mr. Harding's close friends like him most often to McKinley, with whom he has in common a predominant passion for obliteration of class and sectional lines.

Deceased was the youngest brother of the firm—Joseph, J. Walter and Fred E.—who did a large ship brokerage and shipping business in St. John, their active city, before the great fire.

Since the death of J. Walter Scammell, in 1897, Frederick E. carried on the business of the firm alone. He married Miss Willie McAdam, daughter of Hon. John A. McAdam of St. Stephen, who died in 1916. He leaves three sons, John McAl, Tom's River, N. J.; P. Allison, St. John, N. B.; Herold B. Scammell, Tom's River, N. J. One brother, Charles E. Scammell, St. John, and one sister, Mrs. G. Byron Cushing, St. John also survive. Mr. Scammell was 72 years old. Determined That Something Be Done

Executives of Business Clubs Act to Prevent Pilfering at West Side Docks.

The much mooted question of proper police protection at the West Side freight sheds, with a view to putting a stop to the pilfering going on from ship's cargoes in transit, was thoroughly threshed out and viewed from all angles at a meeting held in the Commercial Club rooms Friday afternoon. The executive of the Commercial Club, Board of Trade, Rotary Club, and representatives of the shipping and insurance interests met in joint session. They discussed the matter of pilfering of goods in transit, also the matter of insurance as well as the question of proper fire equipment for the property on the West Side. The meeting also considered ways and means to correct the condition existing in the sheds, and which is reflecting unfavorably on the city's interests.

After discussing the city's as well as the transportation and insurance companies positions, a committee was appointed to draft an expression of the meeting's opinion on the subjects concerned. This opinion will probably be submitted by the executive named, and the shipping and insurance interests to the Mayor and Commissioners in committee on Monday morning. An invitation has been extended to the Longshoremen and Checkers' Union to have representatives at the meeting on Monday.

Business men in the North End, conducting a grocery business there for the last 46 years at the corner of Adelaide and Main streets.

Before going into business for himself he was a clerk with E. J. Turry. For many years he was prominent in shipping circles and at one time owned as many as fifteen vessels, sailing out of this port, but some years ago disposed of his interests. His last vessel was the Cora May, which he disposed of three years ago.

Mr. Scott was an active member of German street Baptist Church. In politics he was a Liberal. Besides his wife, who was formerly Miss Mary E. Branscombe of Waterbury, Queens County, he leaves four sons, Frank S. of Amherst, Ira D. who was associated with his father in business; O. Harold, of the Furness, Withy Company, and A. Gordon, at home.

Mrs. Warren Ogilvie, of Truro, and Mrs. F. C. Bonnell, daughters, were killed in an automobile accident in New Glasgow on August 17, 1918, and the death of the dearly loved daughter was a great shock to Mr. Scott, and since that time his health had been impaired. He is also survived by two brothers, Fred E. of St. John, and Joseph E. of Pittsburg, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Elston of Milford and Mrs. Joseph McColgan of Sea Dog Cove; also one grandchild, Margaret Phyllis Ogilvie of Truro.

Mrs. James Ward.

Sackville, March 4.—The death of Mrs. James Ward, of Mapleburg, took place Tuesday night. Deceased, who had reached the advanced age of 85 years, came here from P. E. Island, being formerly Miss Mary McNeil. She leaves to mourn their loss her husband and a daughter in Montreal.

FOR WOMEN

A MUSEMENTS

Music As It Should Be Taught Children

What pains, what untruthfulness, what expense we have endured through the old-fashioned music lessons for little children, declared Mr. Surette of the Concord Summer School speaking in Toronto on music and education. He implied his teachers no longer make children's lives as evil a thing.

Good songs and a mother who can sing with her children is the best possible beginning to a child's musical training, said Mr. Surette. Much comes from too many mothers turning over every bit of responsibility in the training of her children to others.

In his opening remarks the speaker stated that he had no method—no book, no better still, for the violin, said the speaker. From the kindergarten up, all should be trained to listen. Most people, after leaving school or college, do little more than listen. It is in this they should get their chief enjoyment, but to acquire enjoyment the listening must be intelligent. True and rhythm should be taught by getting a realization of it into the system through the feet and hands—by marching, running, dancing, clapping, and so on. Melody, harmony and counterpoint should come into the knowledge of the student by degrees, and principally for the purpose of obtaining enjoyment from listening.

The day of "Monastery Hells" and "Sivory Waves" is done, said Mr. Surette, who closed these as a true one hand and a trapeze performance in the other.

Children go unerringly to good songs, yet send some children to the piano and they hate it. Be sure that they like it before you lead them to the piano.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable—one bright, the next one cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Abolishment of Restaurant Stalls No Assurance of Results Wanted by Authorities

A prominent lawyer of the city, commenting on the proposal of the city authorities to seek legislation authorizing the abolition of stalls in the restaurants of the city, is of the opinion that the city will not accomplish that which it hopes to accomplish by the method.

Decorative Portieres
The stalls might be removed, he said, but what is to prevent the proprietors of these restaurants hanging curtains or portieres that will furnish the same seclusion to parties who now seek the corners of the so-called stalls. "I am frankly convinced," he said, "that these stalls, as now employed, are a moral menace to the community, and from all reports that I have heard they furnish a convenient rendezvous for persons whose mission could not be regarded as an uplifting one morally. Their banishment might possibly produce some good result, but I am inclined to the belief that decorative portieres could and would be so arranged as to prove more objectionable to sensitive ears than are the present stalls. It would be exceedingly difficult to legislate against the use of decorative curtains or portieres in a man's place of business."

MEAT RECIPES.

Boiled Shoulder of Mutton
Take the main bones out of the shoulder of mutton, fill the cavity with oysters and bind the meat firm by over the incision. Sew the shoulder into a neat shape in a piece of stout material; put on in boiling water, slightly salted, allowing 18 minutes to each pound in cooking. When done, unbind carefully upon the dish in which you are to serve it. Pour over it a sauce made of equal parts of oyster liquor and the broth from the boiling meat seasoned, then thicken with a generous lump of butter, cut into bits and rolled in flour, and some chopped parsley. Boil up once well, put half upon the meat and the rest in a sauce bowl.

Pork a la Saugnette.
Make 1 1/2 pint of bread sauce for each pound of meat to be used. Cut the pork into neat slices and trim off all the fat; the best part for this dish is the kidney end of a loin that has been stuffed with a mild sage and onion stuffing. Let it heat through in the sauce, and if there is no stuffing in the meat, season it with sage, thyme and parsley. When hot through beat in the yolk of a raw egg for 1/2 pint sauce with a pinch or morsel of made mustard and chutney. Serve hot with a border of potato chips. This is a really good dish prepared from left over pork.

BREAD PRICES DROP.
London, March 4.—The price of the one and a half pound loaf of ordinary bread will be dropped 2 1/2 cents, and the price of fancy breads 1 1/2 cent on Monday by most of the English bakers in the city. It was announced today. Competition for new business by the leading bakers is said to be responsible for the cut in prices.

Ex-Service Men Building Houses

Lady Rhonda is Carrying Out Housing Experiments on Her Estate.

Lady Rhonda, one of the English vicar's sisters, is employing ex-442 and officers to carry out housing experiments on her estate. Just recently Sybil Lady Rhonda gave a luncheon at Llanwrn Park, Newport, Man., to a number of prominent South Wales men to meet Sir Theodore Chambers and Captain Selva, two of the directors of Welwyn Garden City.

The applicability of the satellite city principle to South Wales conditions was discussed, and the importance of the far-sighted planning of our future urban districts was debated.

It was stated that a London newspaper had begun the building of its village on the Welwyn estate, where already over 100 houses were in course of erection. The freehold ownership of the whole area of the projected city, four square miles in extent, and held by the city company in trust for the community, was stated to be the most essential feature of the garden city scheme.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' SUCCESSFUL WORK

It was announced at the regular meeting of The King's Daughters, yesterday afternoon, that the total receipts from the Tea and Sale held recently amounted to $752.81, with expenses of $69.06, leaving proceeds of $683.75 for the Paraline Home.

Mrs. C. A. Clark presided and devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Arthur Kirkpatrick and Mrs. George A. Henderson. Reports of standing committees were received, Hospital, House and Spiritual. It was stated that the Doorkeepers' Circle visited the Hospital last month and this circle will also have charge of the Sunday Service to be held the second Sunday in March.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The modern girl doesn't offer to be "a sister" to her rejected suitor, but to be a nice, little, bold-faced, chummy "brother" to him.

A man is shocked, first, to discover that a girl is a little bit wicked—and, later, to discover that she is not as wicked as he had hoped.

There is much wisdom fit a fool, and so much folly in the wisest man, that, to a normal woman, they are but two slightly different kinds of baby.

When you read of "petting parties," it makes you feel very anxious to be able to remember the time when it was thrillingly daring to let a man slip your hand into his overcoat pocket on the way home, and positively shocking to let him kiss you, before the third call.

A man is usually something halfway between the saint his worst heart imagines him to be before marriage, and the sinner who suspects him of being, afterward.

People rush in—and get all the fun and excitement, while angels are putting on their overcoats and hunting for their umbrellas.

When a man is suffering the pangs of unrequited love, some little blonde "Cutie" is always sure to come around and offer to act as an amnesiac.

If a man married according to his reason, he would pick out a worthy girl; if he married according to his interest, a rich one; but, should he always marry according to momentary inclination, he picks out a little "Sweetie" who slips baby-talk and calls him "Dada"—and lets it go at that.

Some adventurers live by their wits—but most of them, by woman's wifeliness.

Novelties Seen By A Paris Visitor

(Copyright 1921, By Cross-Atlantic)
London, March 4.—Over to Paris and back! Now, what have I to tell? Fashions of course! Who can remember Paris and forget fashion?

It is believed that the hats and shops are selling off old stocks and getting ready for new. But while the new fashions wait, there are some amusing little novelties. There is a new powder box in the shape of a china doll, a lovely lady with a crisoline which divides half-way down the skirt and discloses a powder puff at the side.

There are jobs of every kind, but the favorites are in black moire ribbon. They are attached to the waist-belt, and from them hang old-fashioned watches which have long since ceased to go.

A new but eccentric fashion is to slip the feet in the hose and to thrust them into sandals made in fine, soft glove kid with a tiny heel, in white, in green, in gold or in any color. With them a tea gown is worn with long but slit draperies.

A new color or perhaps an old one under a new name, is called mahogany, and is much in favor for dresses in crepe de chine, for hats in satin or panne, for silk stockings, for silk jumpers and anything indeed that shines, for it must shine or it ceases to be mahogany.

Most of the new hats show points. The Napoleonic hat in some form or another is worn in satin with no trimming, with a fringe of feathers, with a short lace eye veil, or with a feather dipping over it. They are everywhere. Low general is the quite small toque with a lift on one side, but by those who know the value of such a snape it is made up in satin with a feathery fringe round the top edge of the turned-back brim. The all-feather hat is worn also. One of the uncurled sweep the right shoulder, could only be for a Frenchman.

It is said that the high collar closely buttoned to the chin will be much more popular and becoming in the summer. One might suppose that the winter is the time to muffle the throat; but the reason why the high collar will prevail in summer and not in winter is that when a woman opens her big fur coat and discloses a high-necked dress the effect is pronouncedly dull, without style or coquetry. Therefore in summer, when there is so great a need to open the high neck, will be the point of interest. It is a subtle ruse that could only occur to the French mind.

CORSICAN CONCERT PARTY PROGRAMME

Large Audience at Seamen's Institute Delighted With Entertainment Last Evening

Another of these concerts, which have become so popular with St. John people, was given last night in the Seamen's Institute by the Corsican Concert Party before a very large and appreciative audience. Mr. Goodman, of the steward's department, made a very capable chairman.

The features of the evening were the very laughable sketch, "A Sister to Assist Her," very ably given by Messrs. Jackson and Gilliam, and the really clever, slight-of-hand work of Jack Peters, the wonderful wizard, who has been at the institute for some weeks looking for a ship, and who volunteered for services. The following took part in the programme:—J. Huntington, W. Brindle, R. Atwell, J. Keating, F. Newell, R. Haynes, J. Jamieson, G. Gilbody, J. O'Neill, F. Paine, Mr. Jackson, Mr. Gilliam, J. Gallagher, G. Gilbody, J. Smith, J. Peters, J. O'Neill.

Miss Myrtle Fox and Mr. J. Smith were accompanists.

ENTERTAINMENT AT EAST ST. JOHN

Before an audience which taxed the capacity of the Hall, a concert and illustrated lecture was held under the auspices of the Live Wire Class of the Edith Arena Mission, East St. John. J. W. Flewelling presided. The proceeds of the entertainment are for missions.

William Mcintosh, by means of fine pictures and word painting gave a splendid description of the beauties of the St. John River pointing out the wonderful scenery and telling interesting things about the animal and plant life of the region. Several cleverly presented dialogues were given by the boys and solos were well rendered by Misses Blanche and Gladys Dykeman.

OLD COUNTRY CLUB

R. E. Armstrong and A. M. Belding were speakers last evening at a largely attended meeting of the Old Country Club held in Orange Hall.

Basel Hornstoll and Major Greig, of Montreal, who have been in St. John in the interests of British Motion Pictures, left last evening for Halifax.

Salts In Hot Water Clears Pimply Skin

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, vitamins and impurities which are generated in the body and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of iodine salt and take 1/2 tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jed Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithine. Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Eggs and Artichokes.
Boil 8 artichokes, cut them into slices, place them in a fireproof dish; hard-boil four eggs, when cold, shell them and chop them up; place the eggs on top of the sliced artichokes and pour over the whole a good white sauce flavored with Parmesan cheese. Dust over with bread crumbs; make thoroughly hot in the oven.

His Imperial Majesty cursed to the speaker and said: "Did I say that? I don't remember."

Women On Jury At The Old Bailey

New Epoch in Administration of Criminal Justice in Famous London Court.

London, Mar. 4.—A new epoch began in the administration of criminal justice in London when, at the Old Bailey, women for the first time served on the jury and a forewoman returned the verdict in a case which was tried by a jury of herself and eleven men.

The time-honored phrase "Gentlemen of the jury" was altered to suit the occasion to "Lady and gentlemen of the jury."

Since the institution of the jury in Anglo-Saxon days none but men have acted as jurors.

No little historic importance, therefore, attaches to the event, though in the Midlands women jurors have already been seen and a forewoman has given the verdict.

In a clear and decisive voice a well-dressed woman announced the verdict.

Gave First Verdict.

She was the first forewoman of a jury that there has ever been in the most famous criminal court of the Empire, and her short speech was an historic event. The case was that of a Danish stoker named Harry Jensen, charged with firing a pistol at a dock policeman with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

The jury asked to consider the verdict. There was a rapid discussion in the box, and the one woman among the jury, who sat at the end of the front bench nearest to the Common Sergeant spoke with keen interest to the jurymen.

The "lady and gentlemen of the jury," a side board for the first time at the Old Bailey, were asked for the verdict. The woman stood up and gave the jury's decision. "There was no intention of doing bodily harm," without hesitation or nervousness.

The forewoman was Mrs. Helen Barnstead, of Adelaide road, Hampstead, a good looking woman with a keen face and alert eyes watching behind place-rows. She wore a toque of black straw with osprey feathers and a lawn costume with a fur collar. All through the case, and the one following, she watched the witnesses and the prisoner, and

TH ENIGMA OF HOME.

I wonder if the patient waiting still Holds for me in their days, a place
A part; and know the loneliness that often fills
My solitary yearning wandering
Heart.

Ah, oh I feel them very near my side;
I clutch them closer as I softly tell
The woe that pain that sweeps me as a tide.

Because afar from home I have to dwell.

I hear the many whippers of the wind
As twilight weaves her shadows in the gloom;
They urge me back, the trusting bluffs to find.

I own a kindred spirit in their runs,
O hills of home, my loneliness would leave
 If I might hear your voices, which never cease;
To you, to open wide my secret soul,
 Together, hold calm converse with the stars!

But up and down the favored street of Mine,
Your memory, constant faith and blessing give
The joy and peace to brave each daily strife
And teach me just how good it is to live.

White House Servants COST $30,000 YEARLY

Twenty Men and Women Are Provided for White House Family by America.

Washington, Mar. 4.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding found her servant problem solved for her when she became mistress of the White House today.

Cooks, chambermaids, laundrywomen, butler and pantrymen—29 in all—are provided by the government at a cost of $30,000 a year and there is a housekeeper who has been in charge of the servants since the administration of former President Taft. Previous to that time a steward was in charge.

Only the expense of the personal servants which a new President and his wife may choose to have accompany them to the White House is borne by the chief executive. Mrs. Harding has retained the services of Mrs. McWhorter, her cook, and a chauffeur, but she found at the White House four cooks retained by the government and four chambermaids.

The matter of supplying the White House table may not prove as simple for the private table or for state functions must be paid out of the pocket of the chief executive. Caterers to the White House usually are selected by the housekeeper unless the "first lady of the land" desires to follow particular precedences which may previously have been formed.

heard the evidence with the greatest attention and understanding.

New Jury Salutation.

"Lady and gentlemen of the jury," said the judge as he addressed the jury, speaking with an easy familiarity as though the expression were not a revolutionary one.

In another court, in the same building two women were sitting on a jury. One was a little, elderly figure in black with a sad face. She was a Harriet and boarding house keeper of 60, and was obviously intensely conscious of her position. Before being called on to serve she confessed to her nervousness, but nevertheless she took her place without delay.

Beside her sat another middle-aged woman with a hat of blue silk and a stylish pink blouse and a fur collar on her coat. She was as comfortable as her neighbor. During the trial of the case they sat stiffly, with expressionless faces, in marked contrast to the men on either side of them, who leaned forward on their elbows, watching every step of the proceedings with absorbed interest. They agreed to two verdicts of "not guilty" in a bigamy case and the other in a case of alleged theft.

When the Common Sergeant, a grave figure, had taken his place an usher called out the opening formula for the day. He began: "You good men and women..."

Mrs. Harding Made Husband President

Determined and Tireless Worker to Advance Interests of Her Husband.

Washington, Mar. 4.—Florence King Harding, the new first lady of the land, possesses an unusual degree of pluck and outspokenness. She has ideas of her own on many subjects and she does not hesitate to speak her opinion freely and strongly from the rostrum. Those who work for her count her a kindly and delightful mistress, but they know that any delinquency will call down a reprimand they will not soon forget. On occasions she has been seen shaking a forefinger at her husband—but of course nobody knows what that all is about.

A Determined Worker.

All her life Mrs. Harding has been a determined and tireless worker, not only in the details of her household, but in the broader field of business and community work. Her husband, fighting blood, her father, Amos Kling, having been a rugged power of the pioneer days of Marion. She was born there, and although they will not soon forget. On occasions she has been seen shaking a forefinger at her husband—but of course nobody knows what that all is about.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON
P. O. Box 133, Parabola, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance. I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back. In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-A-Tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Skirts Fuller And Waistline Low

Long Sleeves and Some Short Ones Noted in Spring Display.

Paris, March 4.—Most of the famous houses, but Callot and Charuit, have had their openings. The tendency to make skirts with greater fullness, for example, is a strong one, whether developed in circular style, with simple gathered treatment or with drapery, is done in some cases, more fabric used but lines kept straight and slim.

The waistline, in general, is kept low and has even been further elongated by some houses, resulting in a quite new style of dress, consisting with a tunic skirt. There has been little of the Directorate in Paris, an omission in line with earlier predictions, though some houses have used the line and others who promised to do so have ignored it.

In trimmings, there is on the whole a great deal less of embroidery, although one or two houses have taken a contrary position and used it lavishly. The presence of lace, a lacy artificial silk, is a pronounced feature, offered in both afternoon and evening models.

Period treatments seem to be fewer, though there is repetition in one or two instances of the 1850 and 1890 periods. Decolleté especially features these latter. The Louis 16th mode is likewise reflected and the Spanish note is strong in certain types and groups of dresses. Other period or robes de style are included, but the effect seems less extreme than some previous interpretations.

The large collection, developed by Lanvin, keeping straight, fairly long lines, with low blouse effect at the back, shows little change in the prevailing silhouette. A large use of tiny shoulder capes, however, suggests the Directorate period. There is some period influence in another group, in an entirely fresh series of Empress Eugenie dresses.

Contrary to predictions, the House of Worth did not launch the high crin, but retains instead the normal or slightly low placing, resulting in soft, easy lines. Ample cut long sleeves are included, although there are some shorter styles also. With the blouse bodice treatments are acted longer skirts, many of them circular, and others with drapery movements. Necklines are open.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

Cheese Canapes.

Take six rounds bread three-quarters inch thick, about the size of a biscuit cracker, fry them a golden brown color, sprinkle them with a dust of dry mustard, a layer of grated cheese, salt and pepper to taste. Place them into a quick oven until the cheese is cooked, then place a spoonful of hot sauce on each, garnish with capers, and serve very hot. These can be prepared early in the day but the final putting together.

Spiced Rabbit.

Clean out and the rabbit into pieces, sprinkle with salt, ginger, black pepper and paprika and pour over some vinegar. Simmer in a tablespoon of dripping; add the slices of rabbit and one sliced onion, two bay leaves, a few peppercorns, two sprigs of parsley, thyme and hair, square effort along with certain perfectly natural lines (of which he can easily learn), and will lead that sort of a decent existence which Nature demands that all of us SHALL lead, if we are to prove up to the normal standard of vigor and manly capacity, as we see it exemplified in the best men of the world today.

VENUS OF STONE AGE DISCOVERED

Was Slender and Graceful of Form According to Early Drawing.

Paris, March 4.—That contrary to the general opinion the woman of prehistoric days was slender and graceful, much like the woman of today, by the drawing of the Aurignacian period, 20,000 years ago, which has been found in the caves of the Colombar in the Alps. It is among these that a picture of the Venus of the stone age was found. The drawing, which was made on a part of the bone of a mammoth, has been carefully examined, and described by Dr. Lucien Mayer, at Lyons University.

The picture, according to Dr. Mayer, shows two figures, a man and the headless torso of a woman. The man wears the popular conception of the prehistoric man, being covered with hair. In the woman has a figure of exceptionally high type, with a slender and graceful waist, and the general lines that remind one of the early Greek art. Perhaps the only thing about her that the modern man might take exception to is that her hips are somewhat prominent. The woman is shown in a kneeling position.

Women may replace men in the world of work but when it comes to hobnobbing, the male has a monopoly.

RAIL TRADINGS DECLINE WHEN RUMORS FLOAT

Wall Street Restless Through Inauguration of the New President.

GULF AND INDIES ARE PRESSED DOWN

Only Cheaper Class of Rail-way Stocks and Bonds Found Any Demand.

New York, Mar. 4.—Business on the Stock Exchange today was overshadowed almost from the outset by the inaugural ceremony in Washington, the most magnificent annual interest in the streets attendant upon the change of administration.

Excerpts of President Harding's address were issued by the news tickers during the intermediate period of the trading. The views of the new chief executive regarding abnormal expenditures in the United States readjustment of war taxes and adequate credits struck a responsive chord in the financial district.

Other developments included advice from the Pittsburgh district indicating a further let-down of operations in the steel industry, an advance in oil prices on the Pacific Coast and the firmness of foreign exchange.

Spectacular Features

Atlantic Gulf and West Indian shares were again the spectacular features of the irregular to heavy market.

The common and preferred stocks retaining early losses of five points on heavy selling due to postponement of dividend action on the major issues, prompted by the company's financial requirements.

Other oils, as well as motors and their subsidiaries, steels, equipments and food specialties were tossed to and fro reacting quite generally, however, in the last hour. Trading in rails was negligible, apart from a moderate inquiry for the cheaper issues, where variable gains were partly retained. Sales amounted to 475,000 shares.

Conditions in the bond market were unchanged, many of the more prominent domestic and foreign issues, especially the latter, extending their recent declines. Liberty Bonds continued to ease the 3 1/2's making a new low at $90.80.

Total sales (par value) aggregated $9,675,000.

Riordan Gains Four Points But Breweries Most Active Trader

Car, Canadian Cottons and Glass Made Good Recoveries from Recent Losses.

Montreal, March 4.—Breweries led today's market on the local stock exchange with Brompton second. The former ranged between 46 and 46 1/4, and the latter over a range of two points between 86 3/4 and 84 1/4. The only outstanding feature, was the recovery in Riordan which regained four points lost yesterday and extra 1 1/4 point selling up to 123 3/8 and closing 123 1/4. Howard Smith also in quiet trading added 1 1/2 points at 91 1/2; Abitibi was up a fraction at 36 7/8; Laurentide gained 1 1/4 points at 82 3/4; Spanish common was up 1 1/2 points at 71 1/4, and the preferred, a fraction at 82 3/4, with Way gaining the only leader in the group, selling down a point to 69.

Canada Car Gains

Only material net gains were Canada Car common up 2 points to 32; Canadian Cottons preferred up 4 1/2 points to 77; Glass up a point to 59, and Wabasso Cotton up 2 points to 48. The largest losses were scored by Canadian Cottons common, which was down a point; General Electric down 2 points; Lyall and Twin City down a point each. In the banks Montreal and Nova Scotia each lost a point. Bonds were slightly less active and held their ground. Total sales: Listed, 7,826; bonds, $210,000.

May Wheat Makes Three Cent Jump At Winnipeg Pit

But Heavy Selling at That Point Turned the Buoyant Tone Into One of Depression

Winnipeg, Mar. 4.—Further gains were made on the local market today with May reaching 190, an advance of three cents from yesterday's close. At this figure there was heavy selling which broke values fractionally, but the market acted very stubbornly and reverted to 190 on three different occasions. Futures closed 2 3/4 to 2 cents higher.

At the same time the cash market was very strong and premiums increased 1 1/2 cents during the early part of the session, considerable quantities being sold at nine, six and two cents over for the three top grades, basis in store Fort William. Near the close the premiums weakened slightly on the increased offerings.

Attractive to Investment Capital

True, prices for pulp and paper products may go lower, but they can go far and still leave a satisfactory margin of profit, provided by increased production efficiency and reduced production costs.

It is true also that the speculative era in pulp and paper shares is over for the time being, and that not a few speculators have been taught a salutary lesson.

But the Canadian pulp and paper industry is not run for speculation. It is too great—and too necessary to national welfare.

It is the result of this self-same magnitude and national importance, as well as of the fundamental security offered by mortgages on vast areas of pulpwood and enormous resources of water powers, that is attracting a flow of both American and Canadian investment capital into new issues of Canadian pulp, paper and lumber securities.

Why New Financing?

The financial necessities of the Canadian pulp and paper industry have always been, and always will be, provided for by the Banks and Investment Bankers responsible for financing the industry. It is quite as much of a national necessity to finance the export to the United States of our yearly output of pulp, paper and lumber as it is to finance the export of our wheat crop.

The reasons for current financing by some of the larger pulp and paper companies are sound and may be stated quite simply. During the past few years the larger Canadian companies have expended many millions, for the most part out of earnings, to increase plant capacity and to add to supplies of pulpwood and power. This increased capacity, now coming into effect, requires larger working capital. Also, pulpwood of which some companies use as much as 500,000 cords per annum has risen in cost from $6 to $12 per cord, necessitating largely increased working capital. It is, then, a matter of wonder that some of the larger Canadian companies are now borrowing to the extent of one-half to two-thirds of cost of plant extensions, thereby replacing working capital expended! That most of the Canadian pulp and paper companies have been able to make their extensions out of earnings, with as little borrowing as has taken place, is in reality a tribute to their earning power, and is one of the soundest reasons we know for the fundamental strength of the industry.

Every world industry is financing at this time; but very few indeed have the assets and earnings on which to borrow that are shown by the strong Canadian pulp and paper companies.

That investors are alive to the opportunities this new financing affords of placing their money both safely and profitably is proved by the rapidity with which such issues as the recent 8% bonds of the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Limited, were taken up.

It is for these reasons that we are continuing to buy and offer to our clients the Mortgage Bonds of Canadian Pulp and Paper Corporations, that combine capable management and conservative capitalization with extensive timber holdings and large water power resources. We recommend these Bonds to Canadians as investments that are at once safe, profitable and commercially patriotic.

RAW SUGAR MARKET.

New York, Mar. 4.—The raw sugar market was unchanged at 4-5 1/2 for Cuba, cost and freight, equal to 5 1/2 for centrifugal. There were sales of 1,000 bags of Porto Rico.

Refined was unchanged at 7 1/2 for fine granulated.

Futures were quiet but prices were steadier on coverings and at midday showed net gains of five points on all five positions.

AROUND THE CITY

INQUEST NOT NECESSARY. Coroner F. L. Kenney has decided that an inquest into the death of Robert Johnston, from the S. S. Corcoran, by falling into a hold of the vessel on Thursday evening, will not be necessary, death having been accidental.

SEAMAN INJURED. Peter Recker, a seaman of the C. G. M. S. Canadian Otter, was severely injured yesterday morning when he fell from the rigging to the deck, about thirty feet. He was taken to the General Public Hospital. It is thought his leg may be broken.

POSITION FOR GORMAN. H. R. McLellan, secretary of the Commercial Club, is in receipt of a wire from R. W. Wigmore, minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, saying that he has arranged for the temporary employment of Charles Gorman in the Customs House, and that it will be made permanent later.

PREMISES INSPECTED. An inspection of the Leinster street office of the water and sewerage department and of the city land and buildings nearby was made yesterday by the mayor and commissioners to inform themselves of the ground on which it is proposed by the water and sewerage department to carry on considerable improvements.

BREAK IN WATER MAIN. A break in the 10-inch water main at the corner of Erin street and Marsh Road was reported yesterday morning and a crew was put to work immediately, repairing the break. Repairs were made in the afternoon, and only a comparatively small area was affected by the accident.

NO. 5 TRESTLE. The old agreement with the C. P. R. about use of the railway No. 5 trestle will not be renewed, Commissioner Bullock said yesterday. Negotiations will be entered into at once looking towards a new agreement, and in any event the city will benefit by the new arrangements. An official of the C. P. R. stated that the company would not undertake the maintenance of the structure.

BROKEN RAIL. The Sussex express was held up for a few minutes yesterday morning by a broken rail between Hampton and New Brunswick, but the short delay did not prevent the train from reaching the city on time. A serious run-out might have resulted by reason of the break had the section men not been on the job early yesterday morning and flagged all trains. It was said that about one foot of the rail was gone, caused by the frost coming out of the ground.

DISPLAY OF PRIZES. Twenty-four cups and eight medals were won by Charles Gorman, speed skater and are on display in Charles Gorman's window, King street. The lot includes those won at the Canadian championships at Montreal, the national championships at St. John's, the Lake, and the international championships at Lake Placid, also cups won since his return in the maritime championships. The window is tastefully decorated and is attracting considerable attention.

COURTNEY BAY WORK. Alexander Gray, chief engineer of the department of public works, returned from Courtney Bay yesterday afternoon. He said that work at Courtney Bay would be resumed when further appropriations were made. The work being done there was by contract and there was no question but that it would be renewed with the voting of money. The engineer said that it had been decided to go ahead with the extension of the Negrotown breakwater.

WINTER PICNIC MUCH ENJOYED. A largely attended and very enjoyable winter picnic was given last evening at Charlotte street Baptist School room, West St. John. Games, such as are usually carried on at summer picnics were adapted for indoors and were enjoyed into with great interest. Arrangements were made for the sale of ice cream and candy and these booths were well patronized.

Empress of Britain Docked Friday

Brought Many Notables Among Passengers—Canadian Curlers Return. The Empress of Britain, from Liverpool, docked at Nos. 2 and 3 berths Friday forenoon at 11.30. She brought 1,180 passengers, 100 first, 432 second cabin and 646 steerage. The Empress had 1,200 tons of general cargo, in addition 1,700 bags of mail, of which 285 are for the Maritime Provinces and 800 pieces of parcel post. A large proportion of the cabin passengers are returning Canadians, and about the whole list of passengers are on their way to Canadian points.

Three Special Trains. Three special trains were despatched by the C. P. R. for the accommodation of ship's passengers in reaching their destinations. The first train carried passengers to Montreal and Toronto. The second special was for points in Western Canada, while the third had passengers for various Canadian points.

Curlers Return. Among the passengers arriving on the Empress of Britain were members of the Canadian Curling team, which made a triumphal tour of Scotland. There were twenty-six of them in the party, and each and all speaking most highly of the treatment accorded them while away.

Distinguished Passengers. A number of distinguished passengers disembarked from the Empress of Britain when she docked yesterday at the west side. They included Lieut. Michael O'Leary, V.C., of Kanturk, Ireland, the first Canadian V.C. of the great war; Lord Charles Cavendish, one of the younger sons of the Duke of Devonshire; Major H. R. Northover, M.C., Winnipeg, and late of the Royal Gun Service, Royal Air Force; Alderman H. Palford, wife and daughter, of Winnipeg. Alderman Palford, who was a member of the All-Canadian Curling party which arrived on the Empress after a visit to the land of curlers, Scotland, has also the distinction to be the only member of the 1921 curling team to have been elected by acclamation. L. Kempf, the new German Consul-General for Canada, his wife, children and secretaries, were also passengers on the boat.

The voyage across was a pleasant one, excellent weather prevailing, there being no storm or gales encountered to mar the serenity of the trip. The Empress was near establishing a record trip from Liverpool to this port. The officials commented very highly on the prepossessing appearance of the steerage passengers. It is doubtful if a finer looking class was ever landed at this port. There were many children in the party, and the head Cross workers were kept busy providing entertainment for the tots while their mothers were given an opportunity securing a little rest in the room so admirably fitted out and provided with comforts for the wearied traveler.

Sub-Inspectors Have Merry Time. Arrested Two Suspected Bootleggers, Seize Liquors, But Men Buck on Arrest. Sub-Inspectors Thompson and Henderson had a merry tussle last night with two men suspected of being pocket peddlers. They came upon the men, back of the General Public Hospital, where it was believed, they were awaiting the arrival of prospective customers.

Seize Liquors. The inspectors proceeded to search the men and took three quart bottles of liquor from each. They placed these in their pockets and started with their prisoners for the police station. The men under arrest decided they didn't want to go to the station and put up a fight for freedom. Each officer grappled with his man and to the ground they went in general mix up.

Roll Over Embankment. Henderson and his man rolled over the embankment bringing up on a rubbish pile. In the shoot down the hill there was a smashing of bottles, the men were moving over to Main street from Spar Cove Road and Robinson offered to sell him some household goods, as he was breaking up housekeeping. Robinson brought the articles to the defendant's room and he bought an oil stove and the bedding that had been produced in court.

Former Statements Untrue. Questioned by J. A. Barry for the defense, the witness said the statements made by a former witness were untrue. He had not taken the articles from the C. N. R. He worked for that system, but the blankets seized were not the kind he had seen. He worked on the road for two or three years, about that time witness had seen such blankets on collector cars.

Cruselly Case. Lovet Cowan was before the court charged with working a horse unit for service. The charge was preferred by S. M. Watmore, secretary of S.P.C.A. which was represented by J. King Kealey. A. Barry conducts the defense. The defendant had purchased the horse at Market Square at a sale conducted by Auctioneer Potts, and which had been advertised as a sale of five of the city's horses.

Thomas Stears Died from Injury. As a result of injuries sustained on Tuesday in a fall from the C. P. R. trestle near Acadia street, Thomas Stears, of Fairville, died in the General Public Hospital yesterday morning about nine o'clock. He was employed as section foreman between the city and Fairville and had been in the employ of the C. P. R. a great many years. Mr. Stears was fifty-nine years of age and leaves, besides his wife, five sons, two daughters, three sisters and one brother. The sons are Harold, Kenneth, Jack, George and Robert, and the daughters are Mrs. R. Laidlaw and Miss E. Stears. Mrs. E. Pittmore are the sisters surviving, and John Stears a brother. All the relatives are in the city.

First Canadian V. C. Winner Arrives

Lieut. Michael O'Leary Charged German Machine Gun Nest Single-Handed. The first Canadian V.C. winner of the Great War, Lieut. Michael O'Leary of Kanturk, Ireland, late of the Irish Guards, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on the C. P. O. S. Empress of Britain and left last evening for Ottawa. The Council adopted the recommendation of the Committee that upon the surrender of Lots Nos. 1073 and 1074, Brooks Ward, by Mr. Jarvis Wilson, and upon payment of the rental up to May next, renewal leases of these lots be issued to J. Harry Robson and Eva Robson, for a term of seven years from May 1st next at $10 per annum rental for each lot, they having purchased the improvements from Mr. Wilson.

A Modest Hero. Tall and fair, with roushish blue eyes, not brown hair and a smiling boyish face, modest and unassuming, there were few of the boat's passengers who were aware that the soldierly passenger in muff, who spoke with an unimpeachable soft Irish brogue, was the first Canadian to win the most coveted distinction in the British Empire, the Victoria Cross for valor.

Irish Reservist. Fortunately the press had been tipped off to the modest hero's arrival and he was immediately submitted to a volley of questions by reporters. O'Leary stated that he was an Irish Reservist, and on the outbreak of war was serving with the North West Mounted Police. As soon as hostilities had been declared, he enlisted with the 1st Canadian contingent and proceeded overseas with them. On arrival in England he transferred to his old regiment, the Irish Guards.

How He Won It. As to his further experiences he had little to say; but it will be remembered that O'Leary, during the battle of Givenchy in February, 1916, single-handedly charged a German machine gun nest and slew some eighteen of the Fritzies and then turned the gun on the Hun. It was one of the most daring acts of the war and O'Leary was called back to Blighty, where King George himself placed the Victoria Cross on the Irish guardsman's tunic in recognition of his gallantry. He was not only decorated but awarded a commission with the Connaught Rangers, and the Cross of St. George of Russia.

Will Settle in Canada. O'Leary has now come to the Canada he quit on the outbreak of war to settle in Ottawa, but had not made any definite plans as to his future. He lived in the west before the war and will now have a try at the east. He did not think he would sign up with the Mounted Police again.

The pretty Irish colleen, whom he married shortly after his furlough after Givenchy, is waiting for him in Ireland along with two bonny twins, full of a finer looking class was ever landed at this port. There were many children in the party, and the head Cross workers were kept busy providing entertainment for the tots while their mothers were given an opportunity securing a little rest in the room so admirably fitted out and provided with comforts for the wearied traveler.

Police Court Cases Dealt With

Evidence in Case of Dixon Robbing C. P. R.—Cruelty to Horse Proves Interesting. Half the furnishings in the room had been purchased by witnesses at Ritchie's second hand store, and the rest he had purchased from a man named Robinson, whom he met near Long Wind. The witness told him that he was moving over to Main street from Spar Cove Road and Robinson offered to sell him some household goods, as he was breaking up housekeeping. Robinson brought the articles to the defendant's room and he bought an oil stove and the bedding that had been produced in court.

Sand Point Wrangle Becomes Wearisome

Commissioner Frink Thinks It Is Time for Showdown on Part of Officials. At a meeting of the Common Council yesterday afternoon, Mayor Schofield presiding and all commissioners present, matters of routine were discussed and the report of the Committee of the Whole acted upon.

The Council adopted the recommendation of the Committee that upon the surrender of Lots Nos. 1073 and 1074, Brooks Ward, by Mr. Jarvis Wilson, and upon payment of the rental up to May next, renewal leases of these lots be issued to J. Harry Robson and Eva Robson, for a term of seven years from May 1st next at $10 per annum rental for each lot, they having purchased the improvements from Mr. Wilson.

On application of J. H. Holder for permission to place a 500 gallon gas tank with pump on his premises, No. 250 Main Street it was referred to the Council. The Council decided to grant the application, subject to the condition that the tank be placed in a position or place in said street which may be designated and agreed upon according to the plan submitted under the direction of the City and Road Engineer with or without financial remuneration for such privilege as the Council may decide.

The Council decided to grant further permission to W. H. Gorman and R. B. Black to operate a lunch wagon on the south side of Market Street. The present privilege expires May 1st.

The tender of the General Supply Company of Canada to supply a portable stone crusher bin to go with the city Acme crusher for the sum of $2,025 l.o.b. St. John was accepted. The Commissioner of Public Works was authorized to purchase a Ford car for his department at a price not to exceed $900.

The Clerk of the Common Council reported the result of the plebiscite on Daylight Saving. On motion of Commissioner Jones it was decided to make Daylight Saving time become effective at midnight of May 21st.

The report of the Free Public Library was received and placed on file. A communication was received from the Board of Trade relative to the granting of franchise rights to the 22 credited representatives of outside corporations doing business in the city. In the discussion of the communication the question arose as to whether or not, if such were granted, the occasion might arise where one man would have two votes.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock the matter was laid on the table for further consideration. The Sand Point police protection wrangle was brought up by Commissioner Frink. Mayor Schofield reviewed what had been done at the various conferences, and of the negotiations which Commissioner Bullock had been authorized to enter into with the C. P. O. S. officials.

Commissioner Bullock said he had written to the officials at Montreal setting forth certain propositions, but had no reply from them. Commissioner Thornton said that they were getting more protection than they ever had before. Sand Point said he thought that if there had been as much property stolen from the West Side sheds as had been reported it was rather strange the plotters arose as to whether or not the police. He felt positive conditions were not so bad as painted.

Commissioner Frink said that so many letters from the Board of Trade and others, besides newspaper stories and editorials on West Side pilfering were becoming wearisome, and caused an impression that the Council was inefficient and not capable of carrying on. He said the C. P. R. had not seen fit to swear in their special police as he constables and didn't appear to show much concern in the matter. He said the steamship people seem to forget that done on the big seas and surely the good people of St. John should not be held responsible for that.

After some further discussion of the question without any action being taken the Council adjourned.

G. W. V. A. Executive Was In Session

Effort Made to Look After Returned Soldiers Unemployed. An interesting report from the Committee of the Employment Bureau was heard at an executive meeting of the G. W. V. A., held in the rooms last evening. First Vice-president, Colonel G. G. Corbett presided.

The bureau has been recently instituted by the G. W. V. A. to deal with the unemployment problem. A list will be compiled of all returned soldiers who are unemployed, and an effort will be made to secure suitable positions and work for them. Assistance and support has been promised by a number of firms, and it is confidently hoped that others will come forward to help in this department.

A report from the Finance and Audit committee, submitted last night with recommendations, will be brought before the next general meeting. A plaintiff failed to appear to press the charge, although summoned three times.

John Murphy, John Lusa and Clarence Dunstee, charged with vagrancy, pleaded guilty. Officer Coughlan arrested and said he found the accused in railway shed No. 7 about four a.m. Friday. They were unable to give a satisfactory account as to their present address, and were remanded.

Henry Frink pleaded guilty to the charge of using abusive language to J. Heestle, and was fined $1.
