PEOPLE SAID SHE HAD CONSUMPTION

Was in Bed for Three Months.
Read how Mrs. T. G. Buck, Bracebridge, Ont., was cured (and also her little boy) by the use of

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

She writes: "I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A few years ago I was so badly troubled with my lungs people said I had Consumption and that I would not live through the fall. I had two doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about me. I was in bed three months and when I got up I could not walk, so had to go on my hands and knees for some time. I gave up all hopes of ever getting better when I happened to see in B. B. Almanac that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs. I thought I would try a bottle and by the time I had used it I was a lot better, so got more and it made a complete cure. My little boy was also troubled with weak lungs and it cured him. I keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything."

Prior 25 cents at all dealers. Beware of imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Ask for it and insist on getting the original. Put up in a yellow wrapper and three pine trees on the trade mark.

A PROBLEM

The legislatures have quite a problem to solve in dealing with applicants who seek to acquire a portion of the public right for their own purposes. Some pushing men want a railroad to convey the ore which they dig out of a mine to the seaboard, and they need wharves from which to load the ships that carry it to the place at which it is to be converted into a commercial article. Or, it is some other flatter of a like character. With great confidence in the justice of their demand they ask of the government assistance from the public treasury, and their request being of a class which we are accustomed to hear we stop quite naturally to give it the opportunity. Yet it is a purely private venture. Or, some one wants to control a river for a purpose of his own. He may, perhaps, seek to enjoy the privilege of fishing as a pastime, or he may desire to dam it so that the lumbering operations may be facilitated. His main thought is how much of the public right he can acquire at the least possible cost to him.

But in all probability he rarely considers the matter from that point of view. The people's ownership of that which he seeks to acquire is a nuisance, or at least an obstruction in his pathway, and to get rid of it expeditiously is his desire. He imagines himself to be a patriot moved wholly by the desire to do good for his fellow men by creating employment for them although his system may, by his manipulation, give him all the profits of the labor. It would seem right to demand of every man who gets control of a portion of the public domain, the property of the whole people, that he should say the people something for it. Limitations put upon the ordinary tolls are many. Take the fisherman as a case in point. Originally there was no restriction to his law upon his industry or his enterprise. His own will or his desire moved him to labor or to rest as he pleased. But time developed the fact that undue restrictions were placed upon him the industry which he followed would be, at so very distant date, destroyed. A remedy for the general benefit a portion of his natural right is taken away. It would seem reasonable to say to the man who wants to go to sea, that he should pay an annual fee to the public treasury for the use of the privilege; and a limit of time should be fixed to the right given him—a time when his acquired privilege, in the public waters, should cease to be effective, and the property which he desired should return to the original owners—the people. Reasoning of a similar character will apply to the purposes of those who seek to acquire mineral rights or privileges. Why should the toilers of the province—the man who has the hoe or the spade, or the laborer in the factory, the doctor, the man who makes goods, or the man who makes goods—be means for transporting the property of the mine owner to an easy shipment? The man who raises cattle, or potatoes, or grain, the man who makes goods of any kind in the manufacturing, is as much entitled to be regarded as the man who gives out no material. The simplest way to deal with these is to treat them all alike. The working man has much to learn. He is yet pursuing phantoms. He gains little by the mere increase of work if he has to pay for that work by contributing to the subsidies—direct or indirect—which keep it alive.

Without consulting the taxpayers of the Parish of Durham, a movement was set in motion to have that parish made a Police District, and legislation was asked authorizing this, and also to provide at a cost of approximately $500, a lockup in which to confine prisoners.

The legislation was duly introduced by Premier Hazen and was reported in the Graphic and other papers. Immediately the members of this county were communicated with to have the bill delayed, and on request of Hon. Mr. Lethbridge, delay was granted.

The members then hastily presented a petition, which was last week presented to the government, and one has only to glance through the names to recognize the fact that nearly every resident of any standing in the parish has signed it. It is hardly likely in the face of such opposition that the bill will be passed.

MANY MASSACRED BY REVOLTING TURKS

Thousands Slain and Towns Being Devastated by Fire and Sword.

MISSIONARIES KILLED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 18.—The telegraph line to Adana has been re-established, but owing to the fact that five of the clerks were killed the line is congested, and it is difficult to get messages through. Over 1,000 persons were killed at Tarsus and Alexandrette. The massacre and incendiarism continue.

The Saloniki army has six batteries of machine guns and two batteries of quick-firers. They expect by morning to number 20,000 men at Spakakuloh. Quiet reigns in Constantinople and the several barracks here looked to be deserted.

Confirmation has been received here of the killing of two American missionaries at Adana. The murdered missionaries were Mr. Rogers and Mr. Maurer. The others connected with the missions are safe, including Mr. Christie, who is at Tarsus.

Three French warships are hurrying to Mersina, where the situation is dangerous. Foreigners and many Christians have taken refuge in the consulates. The local troops and the government are doing their best to protect the town, but there is great fear that it cannot hold out much longer.

AN OPEN LETTER
Results so Surprising That They Seem Marvelous—Good as a Life-Saver—Stomach Remedy

Mrs. J. A. Pillow, of North Street, Guelph, Ont., says: "My son-in-law is worth his weight in gold for quickly and permanently curing dyspepsia. I became so bad that I was unable to leave my bed. There was a constant burning in my stomach I would belch up gas every few minutes, and could eat but very little, as the food would quickly ferment and make gas that caused a serious depression of heart. Perspiration would break out all over my body. I would become so weak that I could not stir and would often fall on the floor in a helpless state. The pains in my stomach were terrible. I could find no position in which to sit or lie without suffering, and I was so nervous that the least noise affected me. Headaches were constant. I would become dizzy and spots would appear before my eyes. I had no ambition to get around, and everything seemed to tire me. The first box of Min-o-na gave me more relief than anything I had previously tried. The second box of Min-o-na cured me. I am well and strong and I have not had an hour's suffering since. I will always feel grateful to Min-o-na for the cure given me and glad to recommend it. I would advise every one in the face of such evidence it is easy to understand why Thos. Wren feels assured in saying to you, money back if Min-o-na fails to relieve your trivial or serious stomach trouble."

MILLINERY.

I have a most complete assortment of millinery consisting of ladies' and children's hats for spring and summer wear, also veils, ribbons, laces, flowers, feathers, belts, collars, etc.

SALT RHEUM CURED.
Mrs. John O'Connor, Burlington, N.S., writes:—"For years I suffered with Salt Rheum. I tried a dozen different medicines, but most of them only made it worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I got a bottle and before I had taken half a dozen I could see a change in my condition. I used one and now I am completely cured. I cannot say too much for your wonderful medicine."

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.
