FARMERS' GUIDE IS REPRIMANDED

New Brunswick Potato Exchange
Takes Exception to Editorial
In That Magazine and Answers Charges

March 9, 1925.

The Farmers' Guide,
Gardensville, Que.

Dear Sirs:

We have often noticed these words in your paper, they apparently seem to be the motto you adopted when your paper was first launched on the market, "Equal rights to all, and special privilege to none." In the face of this declaration, occasionally you take a side swipe at the merchants who are endeavoring to find a market for the farmers' produce.

While we must admit, you do not rely on so-called correspondents for your news items, you should exercise more care in publishing these items, and endeavor to ascertain the truthfulness of the statements, before you broadcast them to the public.

In your editorial of March 4th, you say, "The present great danger is that selfish politicians are going to use the battle cry, 'Maritime Rights' for the advantage of party interests rather than for the betterment of the Provinces by the Sea."

You may be right in this, although the writer attended the Maritime Delegation to Ottawa recently, and all sides of politics were represented on the delegation and nothing was said in our hearing that would even suggest such a thing as politics.

Politics seem to have been forgotten altogether in this mingling of great and unselfish men, who downed tools to meet in the interest of a common cause, to place the matter of the Maritimes before the Government.

But selfish party politics, did induce you to add to your editorial the statement that,

"While the potato enquiry in N. B. is in progress a discussion of the matter would be ill-advised, but a more review of market conditions and a comparison of prices, since and before the enquiry may form interesting reading. Before the enquiry farmers were getting 50c to 60c per barrel for their potatoes. After the announcement of the authority for the enquiry, the price advanced to 80c per barrel, although in the meantime, prices in Cuba had dropped from 60c to $1.00.

In making this statement, you relied upon some selfish politician for the news item, and published it in good faith. But we want to correct the statement, as it reflects, not only to the discredit of the potato shipment but it is an insult to the intelligence of the farmers in this part of the community, who keep themselves well posted on market conditions covering the commodities they have for sale.

During December before the enquiry into the so-called potato combine commenced, prices to the grower were 80c to 85c per barrel, and we were selling Cuba on December 24th at $2.30 per sack of 150 lbs. which left the shippers 44c per barrel.

The enquiry started on January 22nd, and on that day shippers were paying the growers 80c and selling Cuba $2.60, although they still had some cargoes to ship at $2.30, this price of $2.60 left the shippers 92c, on January 27th, the price to the growers was 85c, selling Havana at $2.65, which left 97c, on Jan 21, another cargo was sold at $2.60, which left 92 c, shippers paying the growers 90c.

On February 2nd, 3 cargoes were sold for $2.60, growers still receiving 90c. On February 10, 2 cargoes were sold for $2.75, which left $1.00 the growers getting 90c and in some points $1. On February 15, 5 cargoes were sold at $2.90, which left $1.19, the growers receiving $1.

On February 20, or thereabouts 1 cargo was sold for $3 but this was loaded chiefly from Prince Edward Island as the buyers in Cuba paid the extra price to get island stock as they are a better class of potato, they are not cut and bruised as much as the N. B. stock and it may surprise you to know that P. E. I. stock always brings 10 to 25c a barrel more than N. B. potatoes on the Havana market, as they are more uniform and free from cuts and bruises, and it will be but a matter of another year or two when P. E. I. (Continued on Editorial page)

Investigation by Harry Hereford
Started Here Yesterday—
Hatfield Makes Statement—
Probe to Last Some Time

Harry Hereford, Dominion Investigator under the Combines Act, is holding an enquiry into the condition of the business of the Hatfield Co., as called for by the charges laid against this company by the gentlemen named on another page. He is accompanied by P. J. Hughes, K. C., of Fredericton and Mr. Jackson as assistant. They arrived yesterday morning and spent a few hours looking into its affairs in the office of the company. Mr. Hatfield today stated that he had no fears and nothing to withhold and only wished that the enquiry was open to the public, as it concerned them vitally. The Fredericton Gleaser states that the enquiry is going to cost at least $100,000. This is most assuredly a terrible waste of money and one thing is certain that the investigators will be very careful as to the size of their expense accounts. So far there has been no statement made by the investigator and there is little hope that a report will be made until the investigation is completed and Mr. Hereford has had sufficient time to make his report, which will no doubt be very complete.

A Rival to Moirs Chocolate

Recently a ton and a half of Moirs' Sultana, Plain Pound and Cherry Cake went to Montreal in one shipment and over two tons to St. John's, Nfld., this shipment also including Fruit Cake, Marble and Layer Cake.

Regular shipments are now made as far west as Calgary—occasional ones even to the Pacific Coast. Considering the distance and the multitude of cake makers in Canada, this is a marvelous tribute to the goodness of Moirs' cake.

Ten Tests of a Town

A very well thought out list of ten attributes of a town, which make it attractive, has just been made by Dr. F. L. Flint, chairman of the Department of Journalism in Kansas University, and it appears in "Kansas Municipalities."

The ten questions which are generally asked are given as follows:

1. Attractiveness—Is it pretty and well-kept?
2. Healthfulness—Is it well managed?
3. Education—What are the facilities?
4. People—Are the residents good citizens?
5. Recreation—What is provided?
6. Living—Is this expensive?
7. Accessibility—Is it easy reached from other towns?
8. Business—Are there good opportunities for investment?
9. Employment—Are there prospects of employment?
10. Progressiveness—Is it going ahead?

It concludes: "You cannot control the climate, natural scenery nor historic association of your town; measure up to the standard that will be applied to it by intelligent townbuyers; get busy and help make it measure up. The first big job of a town salesman is to see to it that his community is right."

WORKING GIRL'S EXPERIENCE

Read How She Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Arnprior, Ontario.—"I must write and tell you my experience with your medicine. I was working at the factory for three years and became so run-down that I used to take weak spells and would be at home at least one day each week. I was treated by the doctors for anemia, but it didn't seem to do me any good. I was told to take a rest, but was unable to, and kept on getting worse. I was troubled mostly with my periods. I would sometimes pass three months, and when it came it would last around two weeks, and I would have such pains at times in my right side that I could hardly walk. I am only 19 years of age and weigh 118 pounds now, and before taking the Vegetable Compound I was only 108 pounds. I was sickly for two years and some of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken a bottle of it I felt a change. My mother has been taking it for a different ailment and has found it very satisfactory. I am willing to tell friends about the medicine and to answer letters asking about it."

A day out each week shows in the pay envelope. If you are troubled with some weakness, indicated by a run-down condition, tired feelings, pains and irregularity, let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound help you.

OVER SIXTY WAYS TO SERVE CHEESE

That Canada will soon take its place with the nations that are the largest consumers of cheese seems assured, considering the consumption in the past few years since the Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Company of Montreal introduced the five pound box. The Kraft Company were the originators of the popular tinfoil wrapped cheese without rind or waste, in the five pound wooden box, and while the original product has had many imitators none have been able to produce a cheese of the same uniform quality and flavour because the Kraft process is protected by patents. The Company does not make cheese therefore, it is not competing with the cheese factories. But it purchases Canadian cheese in enormous quantities, thus keeping the cheese factories busy and adding to their prosperity and that of the farmers. Kraft Cheese is simply a scientific blending of these manufactured cheeses by means of the patented Kraft process which absolutely controls the flavour.

The company has just issued a beautiful recipe book showing over 60 different ways in which cheese may be served. A copy may be obtained free, on writing to the Company in Montreal mentioning this paper.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN EDMUNDSTON

Edmundston, N. B., March 9.—On Saturday night and Sunday morning the people of Edmundston were much alarmed by the earthquake.

The first shock came about half-past ten, and was the most severe earthquake shock ever felt in this vicinity by the oldest inhabitants in this section.

We have not heard of any damage being done, except some chimneys are reported to have been slightly displaced and in one or two cases, bricks from them falling.

When the shock was felt in the town there were considerable people in the shopping district and it is reported that a great many immediately made from the stores where they were making their Sunday purchases, to the street. Men who were half-shaved, and others who were in the process of having their hair cut, rushed from the barber shops, believing in safety first, rather than in a little matter of tonsorial art. The motion picture places, which were full were emptied with remarkable speed, and for the moment there was nothing else thought of but making for the "great open spaces," as the novelist puts it.

We have heard of one or two people who fainted, and those who were sick at the time were naturally the ones most alarmed.

The time occupied by the shock varies. Some report that they timed it as nearly three minutes, whilst others say that by their watches it only, occupied the space of a half-minute.

It is also reported that there were distinct shocks felt at half hour periods throughout the whole night, until five o'clock on Sunday morning, we are not able to say from personal observation whether this is true, as we slept without disturbance until the light of morning broke our slumbers.

Reports from various parts of the continent show that it was felt in widely scattered places, in some places causing damage and much alarm.

Determine Origin
Quebec, Que., March 2.—That the origin of Saturday night's seismic disturbance was in the vicinity of the Saguenay River was proved beyond a doubt this morning as the result of a long distance telephone conversation with Agent Harvey of the Dominion Express Company at Murray Bay. That official gave out the surprising information that shocks were yet being experienced. The latest one was at 10 o'clock this morning. They were felt at stated intervals on Saturday night, according to Mr. Harvey and all day yesterday, continuing through the night and this morning.

A number of chimneys were shaken down and wooden dwellings suffered some damages and there were a few narrow escapes by falling debris.

PRIZE WINNING RECIPE FOR MORNAV SAUCE

Miss Anita Davis, Montreal, has just been advised of her success in winning first prize in the 1924 Borden Recipe Club Contest. This club, which is international in membership has such a contest each year, open to all members of whom there are approximately two hundred thousand. Miss Davis essayed a sauce recipe the plan of the contest being for each contestant to compete in the classification in which she feels she excels. Her recipe follows:

Mornay Sauce—International Winner
1/2 cup butter.
1/4 cup flour.
1 teaspoonful minced onion.
1/4 teaspoonful thyme.
1/2 bay leaf.
1/2 teaspoonful salt.
1/8 teaspoonful white pepper.
Dash cayenne.
3 egg yolks.
1 cup white stock.
1 cup Borden's Evaporated Milk.
1/4 cup grated Canadian cheese.
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

In the top of a double boiler melt one-fourth cup butter; add onion and cook until yellow. Add the flour and stir until smooth. Combine milk and stock; pour gradually into the mixture, beating well with wire whip. Add seasonings and cook slowly for one hour. Strain, reheat, add cheese and let cook until cheese is melted. Cream remaining fourth cup butter. Beat in the egg yolks, gradually, one at a time; add, slowly to sauce, mixing well, using care that water in lower part of boiler is not boiling.

This sauce is excellent for all gratin dishes—crab meat, lobster, also fish, substituting fish stock for the white stock.

Any woman wishing to receive the Borden Recipe Book can write the Borden Company in Montreal, mentioning this paper, and she will be sent a copy free of charge.

OBITUARY

Enoch Tompkins

On February 8, the death occurred of Enoch Tompkins at Stickney, N. B., after an illness of a few months in the 81st year of his age. Deceased leaves to mourn besides his aged wife, five sons, Frank R., George and Samuel of Stickney, Norman of Amherst, N. S., Winton of Massachusetts and one adopted daughter, Mrs. Harvey Estabrooks of Salisbury, N. B., and one sister, Mrs. George Campbell, Stickney, a number of grand children and a large circle of relatives and a host of friends. Mr. Tompkins was a man well-respected, of Christian character, professing religion in early life and will be much missed in the community. Funeral service was held from the home of his son, Frank, conducted by Rev. H. V. Bragdon, assisted by T. R. Foster. Burial in Hunter Cemetery.

Earl M. Clark

The death occurred on Feb. 9, of Earl M. Clark, only child of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Clark of Royal Oak, Mich., formerly of Stickney, N. B., after about twenty days illness of pneumonia. Although the very best doctors were in attendance, and even a specialist called, yet Divine Providence over-ruled and the flower was plucked in the morning of life.

The child who was a little more than four years old, was one of those bright loving ones who won his way into the affections of all he came into contact with.

Previous to bringing remains to their old home for burial, a service was held at the home of David Phillips, conducted by Rev. Dawkins which was largely attended. Both father and mother accompanied the remains. Funeral service was held at Peel Baptist Church, Rev. H. V. Bragdon officiating, assisted by Rev. J. M. Mallory. Very appropriate music was furnished by a selected choir. The large concourse of people in attendance, and the many floral tributes from friends in Michigan as well as at home bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which the family are held. Interment took place at Hunter Cemetery. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved parents.

James W. DeLong

At Wilmot on February 26 the death occurred of James W. DeLong after a lingering illness, the result of paralysis at the age of 65 years. He is survived by his wife and seven children, four sons and three daughters and twenty grandchildren, and a large circle of other relatives and friends. He has gone to reap the reward of the true and faithful followers of the Lord. The funeral service was held at the Wilmot church on the 28th, and was largely attended, being conducted by Rev. O. W. Shaw. Interment was made at the Waterville Cemetery.

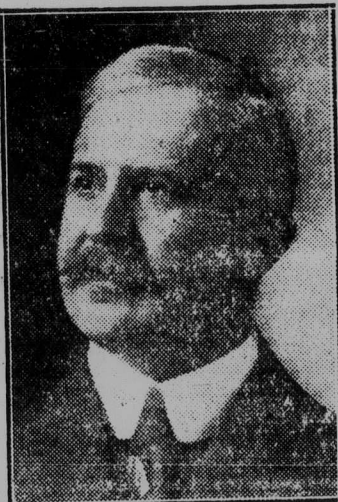

Edward Boyd

Edward Boyd, a highly respected citizen of Johnville, died in the Fisher Memorial Hospital Saturday morning after a very serious surgical operation, in the 78th year of his age. He leaves a wife, five sons and two daughters. The body was taken to Johnville the same day and the funeral was held on Tuesday.

HOPE TO MARKET POTATOES IN WEST

Ottawa, Feb. 27—Half a million bushels of potatoes, now in New Brunswick are barred from Great Britain by an embargo because of suspicions of the Colorado beetle. New Brunswick shippers hope to find an outlet in the west.

They had an interview today with several ministers to see if rates and other facilities can be extended for shipments to prairies. The proposal is being looked into.

GROW THEM MORE CHEAPLY

That's the Theme at the Big Potato Meeting in Fort Fairfield March 18.

Wednesday, March 18 at 1.30 p. m. is the time set for the big meeting of potato-growers here in Fort Fairfield at Municipal Hall, to discuss cost of producing potatoes.

Accounts kept by Aroostook growers during the last three years show that some farmers can produce a barrel of potatoes much more cheaply than others. How do they do it? That is the question that will be answered at this meeting. M. D. Jones, Farm Management Specialist, of the Extension Service has made a study of the costs and methods for the past few years. He will be present to explain the methods that lower costs and to lead the discussion.

Such specific matters as the reduction of labor cost, the use of different amounts of fertilizer, and the use of clover to maintain soil fertilizer will be taken up.

Every man and woman in the county is invited to attend this meeting, especially those persons living in Fort Fairfield and vicinity. If they are unable to go to Fort Fairfield they can attend meetings to be held in Houlton, March 16; Caribou, Tuesday, March 17; Presque Isle, Thursday, March 19; and Sherman, Friday, March 20. They are all free and open to the public.

The Chamber of Commerce of Fort Fairfield, along with the Granges, Maine Potato Growers' Exchange, and dealers, are all co-operating with the County Farm Bureau and Extension Service to make these the most valuable meetings of the year. Lower the cost and increase the profits is the idea.—Fort Fairfield Review.

THE POTATO BUG EMBARGO

(Toronto Star.)
Ever since the news came out that Canadian potatoes are to be refused admission to the British market lest they carry with them the Colorado beetle we have felt that this action was based on a misapprehension. For, said we, everyone must know that the Colorado beetle or potato bug, does not infest the potato itself, but devotes itself entirely to the vines. It is a leaf eater. You can handle Ontario potatoes all winter and never find a trace of a bug. However, it seemed fitting that some recognized authority on potatoes and bugs should comment on this new British embargo, and we waited. Nor did we wait in vain. The Flesherton Advance says editorially: "Great Britain has placed an embargo on Canadian potatoes, to prevent the risk of introducing the potato beetle. Does the Englishman think our pretty little potato beetle lays its eggs in the tuber or clings to it himself when it is dug? It is about as probable that potato bugs would be carried from Canada to England in shipments of potatoes as it would be for an elephant to be landed from Africa on our shores by aeroplane. A potato bug would be more likely to travel in the coal bunkers of some ship, or even clinging to the rigging."

Encouraged by this to speak out we would say that we do not believe the potato bug knows that there are potatoes at the root of the vine he is eating. Nor will there be any if he has his own way with the vine early enough. Nature did not endow this particular bug with much, if any, sense. He has not sense enough to know that the potato of this year furnishes seed for next year. He thinks the vines grow of their own accord for bugs to eat, so in the autumn he crawls underground, gets frozen solid for months, thaws out and is ready for business. The eggs of the bug do not go through the winter—they are hot weather eggs and hatch in a day or so. Making all due allowance for the way parents delude themselves concerning their own children, we still think it incredible that potato bugs can be fond of their young. It is unbelievable.

It is the adult bug that does the traveling, and it can't be done in winter. Cold suns them, but in warm weather a potato bug will travel on anything that is going anywhere—if it lights on a freight car it will hang on as long as the car keeps moving and get off wherever the car stops. If it lights on a man's hat, it will ride there as long as the man keeps going, but if he sits down or stands still it will quit him. If it flies through the air it hits up high speed until it crashes into the side of a house and falls to the ground. It concludes that where there is a house there may be a potato patch, and it scouts around, and if it finds nothing it will buzz off at a high speed until it crashes against another house or a fence, or a tree. It flies crookily with its shoulder thrust out so that its armored sides will take the impact and prevent its getting hurt in collision—but if there's a hill of potatoes concealed somewhere in one out of a hundred city flower gardens the potato bug will find it, and there raise a large and prosperous family.

The potato bug migrates only in hot weather and as an adult. He does not fly far on his own account, but he will ride on anything that is moving and that will give him a lift. If he

And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since he lingers there,

And we—oh we, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and the glad return.

Think of him faring only as dear In the love of there, as the love of here.

Think of him still as the same, we say He is not dead—he is just away.

gets to England he will have to go in summer on a ship, and he is not much more likely to make the journey on a potato ship than on a millionaire's yacht.

(Note: The Minister of Agriculture of Great Britain was in Boston some weeks ago and while there held a conference with representatives of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and the potato shippers of Maine. On his return to England the embargo was at once applied to New Brunswick potatoes. This shows the results of combined work on the part of the shippers and gov't. Something that we are unable to obtain in Canada at the present.)

FARMERS' GUIDE REPRIMANDED

will have driven the N. B. growers off the market, both at Havana, Montreal and Toronto, as they do not mix the different varieties together and exercise more care in handling to avoid cutting and bruising the tubers.

On March 3, 3 of the cargoes sold at $2.90 were cancelled, as the mild weather had brought out large quantities of potatoes, and the price in Maine had dropped very considerably. Last week it was impossible to sell in Cuba at any price, the price in Maine, dropping from $1.75 to 60c to 70c per barrel, consequently shippers here were obliged to drop from $1 to 80c, and that is the price today, with every indication it will be 60c per barrel in a few days.

Meanwhile the enquiry is still going on, in a most thorough and efficient manner, the Government agents being now at Florenceville, N. B.

The price did not drop in Havana as stated by you, from 60c to $1 per sack, the price advanced 60c per sack.

The price did not advance to 80c to the growers, the price advanced to 90c and $1. Did the enquiry raise the price in Maine from 80c to $1.75 per barrel, if it did, why did it not hold it there instead of letting it slip back to 60c and 70c? This advance in Maine was the direct cause of the advance in the Havana market, and the advance in Maine and N. B. was caused altogether by the severe weather conditions, for many days it was 40 to 50 below zero, absolutely cutting off the supply, which made a temporary shortage.

The enquiry, which every shipper welcomes, had not the slightest bearing on the market, as it was purely a temporary condition caused by weather, which prevented the growers from delivering their goods to market.

Did you notice an editorial in the Wall Street Journal of Sept. 19 last, which referred to a report based on actual returns on 8 cars of farm produce traced from the growers to consumers, by the Railway Companies Bureau of economics, out of every dollar paid by the consumer,

The grower received 26.53 cts.
Cost of loading 2.33 cts.
Freight 8.83 cts.
Heat 1.20 cts.
Shippers or com'n men31 cts.
Retailers 60.45 cts.

The shipper made the magnificent sum of less than 1-3 of a cent on every dollar.

If you are looking for a way to assist the poor farmer, instead of bothering with the little 1-3 of a cent the shipper gets, get busy on the 60 1/2c paid out of every dollar to the retail distribution of these goods.

Henry Phillips, and R. K. Tracey, M. L. A., are both farmers and also engaged in the potato business and can verify the accuracy of the statements contained in this letter and are more capable of giving a truthful and accurate statement of the facts, rather than the selfish party politician that provided you with the false statement from which you wrote your editorial. If you actually believe in "equal rights to all, and special privilege to none" you will publish this letter.

Yours truly,
N. B. POTATO EXCHANGE LTD.

W. C. T. U. MEMORIAL SERVICES

The members of the W. C. T. U. held their annual memorial service for Frances Willard, Feb. 25, in the Reformed Baptist Church. The attendance was not large, but those present listened with interest to an address given by Mrs. S. H. Shaw, a veteran member of the W. C. T. U.

She reviewed the life of Miss Willard briefly and gave many interesting facts concerning her early struggle for an education and later her wonderful devotion to the cause of temperance. There was a short program of readings and several solos which were very much enjoyed by all. Several visitors were present.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Shaw for her splendid talk, who because of her age and the distance which she lives from town, can not attend the meetings of the W. C. T. WHAT WM. PEACOCK, ASST. SECY. TREAS. POTATO ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA SAYS

THE ECONOMY OF PLANTING CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES

Good seed potatoes produce larger yields, tubers usually more uniform in size and shape, and the demand for such stock is better and consequently brings higher prices than that raised from common seed. It never pays to plant poor seed for such is always dear at any price.

Why plant from 12 to 15 acres of potatoes with ordinary seed the same number of bushels of a better quality can be grown on 10 acres with certified seed? The writer can refer to authentic reports to justify the above statement.

It has been learned through crop surveys and farm cost accounting methods that approximately 100 hours of man labor and the same number of hours of horse labor are required to produce an acre of potatoes. Furthermore, horse labor means the use of equipment, and planting, spraying and harvesting machinery are expensive; also, it takes more seed and fertilizer to grow from 12 to 15 acres than 10 acres of potatoes. With these facts in mind it should not be difficult to figure whether it is more economical to plant certified or common seed potatoes.

Seed potatoes as well as commercial stock of the 1924 crop have been selling at low prices. Potato growers who have been planting ordinary seed, or who have had good seed which has become diseased, or who wish to grow a larger yield of potatoes per acre and of a better quality, should take advantage of the opportunity to buy seed at the present prices. Growers who live in a region favorable for good seed production and who can not financially buy enough seed for their 1925 commercial stock, should purchase enough certified seed for foundation stock even though they do not wish to produce certified seed for sale, and not wait till the last moment because the supply may be exhausted at that time.

THE EVER-POPULAR PHONOGRAPH

(From Canadian Bureau of the Advancement of Music, Ryer Building, Toronto.)

A well-known musical writer has been giving his readers his personal views respecting the phonograph and radio as musical instruments. Though he does not attempt to minimize the wonders of radio, he does show considerable partiality for the phonograph as an instrument for the home as you will see from the following. He says: "In comparing the radio and the phonograph, I must certainly point out the advantages of both to the best of my ability, and leave it to the reader to decide in favor of the better form of entertainment."

"With a wireless set we sit entranced listening to a wonderful programme. Perhaps we are treated to our favorite song, admirably rendered by a well-known artist or our favorite fox-trot splendidly played by some well-known and really first-class orchestra."

Should we prefer something more serious, more instructive, an address, say, by a politician, will hold us enthralled and fascinated.

"After an enjoyable programme, we put down the headphones with a happy sigh, and feel proud to be the possessor of a 'listening-in' set. But—and here's the trouble—can we retain the joy of that particular programme No. One heard, however, much we may desire a repetition, we most reluctantly dismiss the entertainment we so much enjoyed and be content afterwards to listen to whatever the broadcasting station wishes to give us."

"We trust the organizers' kindness and understanding to provide us with something equally as pleasing in the programmes of the future; perhaps, in time, the entertainment we most desire will be broadcast again. Until then although we wish we could select our own programmes, we must remind ourselves that the station has, of course, to consider thousands of people with different tastes, and be satisfied."

"We will now analyze the phonograph. All our favorite songs, selections, etc., whether old or new, are provided for us on records, rendered by celebrated artists and famous orchestras that we would never otherwise hear. We can reproduce the records as often as we wish."

"We are always able to select whatever we like, therefore we can organize our own programmes and never be disappointed."

"When we see and hear a musical comedy or an opera at our local theatre, to our delight, we find we can buy the music of either of them at the phonograph store."

"What happy moments we spend in the days and weeks that follow, listening to the beautiful music and living over and over again, the joy of that night at the theatre."

"We do not need to regret the end of the show since we can recall it as often as we please on the phonograph."

"Just an illustration: To mention the King's speech at Wembley, how many of us enjoyed the privilege of 'listening-in' to the splendid words of our Royal Sovereign? But who can boast of hearing it in years to come and treating our wondering grandchildren to it? Only the owner of a phonograph and a record of the King's speech can. As to the recording artists themselves. When they are too old and feeble to sing and play they can prove their once splendid gifts to their descendants imbuing them with the desire to carry on the work—so well begun."

The tunic shown above is quite simple, and it makes a most effective use of this new color contrast. The foundation skirt is a narrow black satin affair. POTATO RATES CUT BY RAILWAYS

Montreal, March 3—The promised reduction in freight rates upon New Brunswick potatoes in carload shipments to various points from Winnipeg to Vancouver has been made and averages about ten cents per hundred pounds.

New Brunswick shippers who have bene here and who, as a result of their activities in Ottawa last week and here since the week-end, have been successful in getting this special rate put into effect agreed today that prospects are now fairly bright for moving a part of New Brunswick's surplus which was in jeopardy of having to be "dumped" as a result of the ban which the British Ministry of Agriculture placed upon Canadian potatoes thus shutting off the English market which had been successfully opened up.

The new rates will be effective from the three Maritime Provinces and it is expected large shipments will soon be commenced.

To the Farmer:

Why do we potato growers grow potatoes at a loss? Is it for the fun of it? Is it to have the name of being the largest grower; or is it for charity in order that those who do not worry about the hard steady work and large expense of growing potatoes, can get potatoes for almost nothing?

If that is the case with some growers, it is very charitable and patriotic, of course, but with many potato growers—myself for one—potatoes are not grown for any of the above reasons, but with the hope and the expectation that two will get a fair living out of it.

The problem then is, what is to be done to insure reasonable profits and how. One can't depend on the president as he has other business that takes his mind and is far more important than the grievance of potato men. Too much cannot be expected from the government, either, as it been doing and is still endeavoring in every way possible to help all producers of farm products to realize greater profits on their work. Various associations, co-ops, and organizations have done more than anyone else by standardizing, advertising and systematically marketing their respective products. They can be of no help to the grower with a surplus on his hands, if they are "loaded to the gunnels." What can be done when there are more potatoes on the market than the public can consume? Buyers refrain from buying because they know that there are more potatoes on the market than will ever be used—waiting for the price to drop—consequently there are less potatoes used in years of plenty than years of scarcity and this is the way I figure it out.

I have had experience as a potato grower and potato shipper in three different states, have wholesaled and produced states, have wholesaled and retailed in two states, in one of which business was done on a large scale, and have noticed during those seven years that when potatoes were scarce people buy freely and the selling is brisk. A store that handles 25 bushels a week would buy 30 or 35 bush. if the price were fairly high and especially if the market were advancing. As a result this store is never out of potatoes and is in a position to fill all orders. Families, in securing their supplies for the winter, will take an extra bushel or two if the crop is short and prices are on the upward trend. Nearly ever meal the consuming public eat potatoes. If they feel that they have an extra bush, on hand they will cook an extra one. It is this extra potato which sometimes means a fair profit to the farmer. On the other hand in years of large crops everything is drab. The same dealer that bought 25 or 30 bushels the year of scarcity will buy 15 or 20 bushels when there is a big crop, thinking that at the end of the week, he can get some cheaper. When that time comes he is almost out of potatoes but he fails to order even a few bushels because in a day or two they will be still cheaper. His customers come in and want potatoes. If possible he will sell them something else instead, perhaps extra bread, macaroni, crackers or vegetables. In the course of Friday and Saturday quite a few customers come in. Five or ten bushels of potatoes are not sold that might have been, and several such storekeepers will make it quite certain that many farmers will find in the spring potatoes on their hands which will either have to be dumped on the markets or in the "Big Brook."

Take the family trade that buys in the fall, stocking up for the winter. If the market has been on the decline they will buy ten or twelve bushels and maybe less, when in years of shortage they would put in fifteen or twenty bushels. This is because they think that if they wait they will be able to buy them a little cheaper later and instead of cooking an extra potato will prepare one potato short. Once more a farmer will have to add another potato to the dump, and it is that extra potato or that potato short that makes a whole lot of difference to the farmer.

Now, what must we do?
I believe the solution lies right here. We must plant an acre or two short, instead of an extra acre. There is no cause for worry. There will be potatoes enough. We are now producing as much on an acre as we used to on an acre and a half, and maybe more. This is due to scientific methods. Modern machinery, improved seed, methods of cultivation, best of fertilizer and proper spraying. By not expending our acreage we can do our planting on the proper land, take much better care of our crop, have our work a day ahead of time instead of a day late, which has often meant a loss to the farmer instead of a profit. Last and most important, when your crop measures a bushel or two short, you can handle it comfortably. You can market it much better advantage, because you are not hurried. Your stock will be carefully prepared for market, it will be sold promptly to the right customers at the right price, whereas when you "loaded to the gunnels," then you become anxious, your stock is hurriedly prepared for the market, you sell hurriedly, regardless of whether you will get the cash on your sides or not. You know you haven't fit storage, so you grumble. You are worried. Your brain goes on a strike and you become reckless and unload at a real loss that means another year's work gone for nothing just because you planted more than you ought to have done.

During the last twenty years I have made a specialty of potato growing. I had planted a reasonable amount for three consecutive years, at the end of which time I had made a few dollars. Then the following year I planted too heavily. That year I lost what it took me four years to make. I have watched the potatoes in Aroostook County, Maine, from close range for a good many years and found out that is the way it has worked out with many of them also. Others are planting just what they can handle properly and are laying by a reasonable profit each year. One man in particular comes to mind. He has bought land, built a house, repaired sheds and barns, bought new machinery and is clear of debt. He has accomplished all this on the ten to fifteen acres of potato-raising in the last seven years, four years of which were very hard on the Maine growers.

You will probably ask, "What has my acreage to do with the question of prices?" Here is just the point. When everybody is going full blast, if you and your little crop hang back you can zig-zag between the drops and realize a little profit but if you too have over-produced then you have to follow the natural channels "for better or worse." Let us then resolve to plant what we can easily handle, both in producing and marketing and by so doing hope to realize a little profit to which we are entitled.

EDITOR'S MAIL

The following letters were received by the editor yesterday from T. W. Caldwell, M. P., and are of interest, no doubt, to the people of this section of the country.

House of Commons
Ottawa, Ontario
March 7, 1925.
Editor, Carleton Observer,
Hartland, N. B.

Dear Sir:
I am enclosing some correspondence of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and myself regarding freight rates on potatoes, which might be of interest to your readers and which you might care to publish.

I have found that the Fruit Branch of the Department of Agriculture here, have been both willing and able to render us very great assistance in matters of this kind.

Yours sincerely
T. W. CALDWELL

House of Commons
Ottawa, Ontario
March 3, 1925.

Mr. G. E. McIntosh,
Fruit Commissioner,
Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Mr. McIntosh:
With further reference to a recent conversation re the possibility of getting a further reduction in the freight rate on New Brunswick potatoes to the Western Provinces, we appreciate very much your recent effort and the results obtained some time ago in securing a cut in the above rates.

Due to the British embargo on Canadian potatoes, it has become increasingly imperative that we should be able to market more or our surplus stock of potatoes in Western Canada, and in order to do this, it will be absolutely necessary to get a lower rate to these points. Knowing the success that had crowned your former efforts in this direction I hope your Department will spare no efforts in this direction as an emergency measure for the balance of the season, if it is not possible to get a permanent reduction.

Believe me,
Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) T. W. CALDWELL.

Office of the Fruit Commissioner,
Department of Agriculture,
Ottawa, March 6, 1925.
Mr. T. W. Caldwell, M. P.,
House of Commons,
Ottawa.

Dear Mr. Caldwell:
Your letter of March 3rd in reference to freight rates on potatoes from Eastern Canada to the Prairies and Pacific Coast.

You have perhaps noticed press reports of the announcement by the Deputy Minister, and for your further information I shall outline the situation in more detail.

As already stated, our Transportation Specialist has been working on this matter for some time. Last week five prominent potato shippers from New Brunswick were in Ottawa with the Maritime Delegation—Messrs. Foster, Hatfield, Clark Anderson and Webb. It was arranged for our Transportation Specialist to accompany them to Montreal and interview the Freight Traffic Departments of both railways. The whole situation was discussed in conference before this interview, and the conclusion of, the shippers was that the extent of the reduction they could reasonably expect of the railways in their rates to British Columbia would be of doubtful assistance and that there was more to be gained by so informing the railways and requesting them to go the limit in reductions to the Prairie Provinces instead, where is considered four or five hundred cars can possibly be placed. Their representations along these lines were very favourably considered by the railways, who expressed appreciation of the shippers' withdrawal of pressure regarding rates to the Pacific Coast.

In previous correspondence we had informed the railways that to be really useful, their reduction would have to be from $1.31 as at present to $1.07 or the Edmonton rate blanketed to the coast. The railway stated positively that they could not go as far as that without actual out-of-pocket loss on the traffic. They did promise, however, to pare their rates to the Prairie Provinces as far as possible below the reductions which we had already been able to obtain and would reduce for 30 days right to the point where they might be better off without the traffic. In order to take care of the emergency resulting from the British embargo. My information is that they extracted from the shippers that these rates would not be used as a measure of other rates or of the ordinary rates for this traffic.

We have no official information to the effect that the rates will scale from 76 cents at Winnipeg to 94½ c. at Calgary, but that we have been unable to get any further reduction to Vancouver. The rates' situation is therefore as follows:

From St. John Group	8th Class	Earlier re-duction to Class	Now reduced to
Winnipeg	90½	83½	76
Calgary	131½	102½	94½
Vancouver	153½	121

It is realized this is a somewhat disappointing finish to our efforts towards opening up British Columbia markets to this season's surplus stock of potatoes in New Brunswick and I can assure you it is with reluctance that it appears necessary to abandon the effort. At the same time I feel we are compelled to admit there are reasonable limits to the possible radius of distribution of all commodities in this particular case stock at about $10 a ton would have to be rated down for a 3,300 mile movement to compete with a rate for 300 miles or less, plus 33c duty.

You will note our efforts so far have brought the potato rate from N. W. Brunswick to Winnipeg down from 90½ to 76 per cent, to Calgary from $131½ to 94½ cents, and to Vancouver from $153½ to $121.

Realizing the interest which you have always manifested in the potato industry which is of so great importance in your province, I am sure you will be pleased with the results in behalf of your growers and only wish we had been able to do more for them.

Yours faithfully,
P. E. MCINTOSH,
Commissioner.

CHARLESTON

Charleston, March 9.—The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Jane Barrette were saddened by her death which occurred on Monday, March 2, at the home of her son, James Barrette, Waterville. Mrs. Barrette has been in failing health for some time, but the end came quite unexpectedly as she was away on a short visit at the time of her death. The deceased was seventy-three years of age. She leaves to mourn, one daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Bell, Waterville, and three sons, James and Marky of Waterville and Harry of this place, with whom she made her home. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon March 4, and as it was the largest seen here for some time, it showed the esteem in which the people held her. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Lyons. Interment was made in the Baptist Cemetery.

Jersey White and sister, Mrs. Alva Turner of Lakeville made several calls at this place on Wednesday.

Murry Mulhean and niece Louise Gallagher, St. Thomas, were visiting at John Rice's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bell, Jacksonville, were visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Crouse on Wednesday last.

T. O. McElroy, Bath, returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardiner spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart.

About one of the first signs of the approaching spring was seen, here last week, when several crows put in their appearance.

OBITUARY

Guy Atherton

Guy Atherton died suddenly on March 2. He went to the barber shop of Nick Lester, where he has been employed as a barber in apparently his usual health, and after assisting in cleaning up the shop and shaving a customer, had shaved himself and was wiping his face with a towel when he fell dead on the floor. He was forty-five years old and leaves a wife, three sons and two daughters, Benjamin Bell, Waterville, and three sisters. The funeral services were held at the house, conducted by Rev. P. J. Quig, assisted by Rev. E. B. MacLacherty with interment in the Methodist Cemetery.

The Arctic Sea Cow.

An authentic writeup of the Arctic sea cow (now extinct) was made about the middle of the sixteenth century by George W. Steller, who was shipwrecked on Bering Island, 1741, with the Russian navigator, Captain Vitus Bering. This "cow" was not unlike the manatee or dugong of southern waters, weighed 3,000 pounds, and was from twenty to thirty feet long. Steller and his companions ate its flesh.—Detroit News.
