80,000 FRESH MEN FOR OYAMA

Japanese Concentrating on Linevitch's Left and Are Prepared to Strike
at Any Moment.

Tokio, May 15, 2 p.m.—It is definitely known that Rear-Admiral Rojstven-sky, after temporarily leaving Hon Koe Bay on May 8, re-entered the bay and continues at anchor there.

Hon Koe Bay is on the coast of Annam, several hundred miles north of Kamranh Bay.

Singapore, Straits Settlements, May 15.—Thirteen Russian warships were sighted May 12, off Cape Varella, about 50 miles north of Kamranh Bay, by the steamer Jason, which arrived here today.

Tokio Hits Back.

Tokio, May 15. — Noon.—The Government has prohibited the exportation of coal to Saigon. The embargo is to continue so long as the Russian fleet
is in Indo-Chinese waters.

80,000 Jap Reinforcements.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, May 15. —
Skirmishing continues in the Olorua Mountain region on the Russian left, but the fighting is not serious. Calm continues on the right. The Chinese, however, report that Field Marshal Oyama is directing large masses of
troops from Fakoman toward Toun-
akou, where a concentration is proceeding, and the river is being bridged
by pontoons. The Liao River is full of punks, which bring up stores and
provisions.

About 80,000 Japanese reinforcements
have arrived at the front. The Japanese army is considerably strengthened. Prisoners say that the Japanese armies are ready to advance when the Chinese are driven back. During a recent terrible duststorm,
which raged three days, the soldiers,
tents and entrenchments suffered severely.

The Russian troops are being fitted out with summer uniforms.

Nagasaki, May 15, 4 p.m.—The naval prize court at Sasebo has confiscated the British steamer Sylvan. The Sylvan was captured by the Japanese torpedo boat Yoshino on Feb. 2 last, bound for Vladivostok, with Cardiff coal on board. The place of her capture was not reported at the time.

EXPOSITION AND WORKERS

Lewis and Clark Centennial Said to Discriminate Against Union.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 15.—Over a hundred delegates were in attendance
when the convention of the Structural Building Trades Alliance of America was called to order today, representing 80,000 wage-earners, engaged in the building industry. Frank Buchanan, of Chicago, is president of the alliance.

One of the most important matters
to be considered at the meeting will be the resignation of President Buchanan.
At the last meeting of the board of governors of the alliance, held in Washington, Mr. Buchanan tendered his resignation. It was not accepted.
He is, however, determined to resign.

During the convention the delegates will consider the many claims of unsettled jurisdiction between various crafts that have arisen. The question of placing the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition on the unfair list will also be considered. It is alleged that the exposition authorities have discriminated against union labor in the erection of some of the buildings.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Train-men convened here today with a large majority of the delegates present.
Mayor Knight delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the organization.

The committee on credentials will occupy the entire day. The order now has 728 delegates, each represented by a delegate and an alternate. The meeting, at which Governor Higgins is expected to be present and deliver an address.

Marble Workers Out.

Toronto, May 15.—The Marble Workers' Union declared a strike this morning and 46 men have gone out in four shops. They demand a raise of 25 cents an hour for polishers and 30 cents for cutters. The men are at present getting from 22 to 27 cents an hour.

Maxine as Manager.

London, May 15.—Maxine Elliott has leased the Savoy Theatre here from Mrs. Brown-Potter for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Potter's experience as an actress-manager was so nearly disastrous that the uncontracted statement has been made that she is favorably considering the offer of a New York manager to enter vaudeville at a handsome salary.

Parker Saw the Spook Of Sick M. P. in House

New York, May 15.—The Sun publishes the following from London: At a meeting of the Society of Psychical Research, Sir Gilbert Parker made a remarkable statement regarding the following occurrence. Sir Carnie Rasch, member for mid-Essex, was ill and unable to attend Parliament.

Sir Gilbert Parker, who was in the House, saw what he thought was the baronet, and is positive in regard to the following, which is given in his own words:

"I wished to speak, but mislaid being called. As I was attracted by seeing Rasch out of his place. I knew he had been ill, so I nodded my head and said,
"I hope you are better." He made no sign or reply. His face was remark-

RUSS MAY DAY PASSED IN QUIET

Only Disturbance Caused by Drunken Cossacks.

KISHINEFF HAD SOLE DISORDER

Threat of Terrorists to Create a Period of Anarchy Did Not Materialize.

St. Petersburg, May 15. — 12:30 p.m.—
With the Russian May Day happily passed without general disorders, the authorities breathe easier, and are inclined to regard the danger of a really serious interior crisis this spring as over. Turbulence doubtless will continue with sporadic disorders, but the plans of the Social Democrats to produce disaffection among the troops and co-ordinate peasant and workmen's movements for the creation of a state of general anarchy have signally failed.

The only place whence acute disorder
was reported yesterday was Kishineff,
and that was in no sense attributable to the revolutionists. Apparently a crowd of soldiers off duty got out of hand, pillaged shops and even government buildings, and created a reign of terror among the inhabitants until surrounded and arrested by their comrades. It is now evident that while the Social Democrats made a lot of noise, they had neither organization nor real leadership behind them.

Evening news from Kishineff, however, report that Field Marshal Oyama is directing large masses of
troops from Fakoman toward Toun-
akou, where a concentration is proceeding, and the river is being bridged
by pontoons. The Liao River is full
of punks, which bring up stores and
provisions.

About 80,000 Japanese reinforcements
have arrived at the front. The Japanese
army is considerably strengthened. Prisoners

driven back. During a recent terrible duststorm,
which raged three days, the soldiers,
tents and entrenchments suffered se-

ASSASSIN MUST DIE

Russian Senate Refuses to Grant New Trial for Kaleff.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—The Senate, acting as a court of cassation, refused the petition of Ivan Kaleff, who assaulted Grand Duke Sergius at Moscow, for a new trial. The appeal was based on the ground that Kaleff killed the Grand Duke as Governor-General of Moscow, and not as member of the Imperial family, the Russian law imposing the death penalty only for high treason in the murder of a member of the Imperial family.
Kaleff can now ask pardon, but his lawyer says he will not do so, and therefore he will be hanged in a fortnight.

ADMITTS OWING $20,000

Criminal Proceedings Against Lawyer Lloyd May Be Dropped.

Newmarket, May 15.—T. Hiram Lloyd, a well-known New York barrister, does not owe more than $20,000—at least, that is what he admits himself; and he thinks he can arrange a settlement with his clients and others to whom he is indebted.

As well as the police court proceedings,
which are the subject of the present case, will decide what is best to do.
It may be, if the crown officers are satisfied that an arrangement will be reached by which Lloyd will make an assignment, and the criminal proceedings will be dropped.

At a meeting of the magistrates, held yesterday, Mr. Woodcock is in possession of a statement of nearly all the claims made upon Lloyd before and since his arrest. No fresh charges have been laid,
and his bail bonds still remain at $2,000,
half of which is personal security.

Standard Oil Divided.

New York, May 15.—The Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, has declared a dividend for the quarter of $9 a share, payable June 15. The previous dividend declared by the company in March was $15 a share, and at this time last year a dividend of $8 a share was declared.

Four Killed by Lunatic.

San Diego, Cal., May 15.—Four persons have been killed and two others have been fatally wounded by a lunatic in the southern section of this city.

Floods Down South.

Houston, Texas, May 15.—A heavy rain has fallen over South and East Texas, and much damage has been done.

The Brazos River is rising at Bryan, at the rate of a foot an hour. With the rains along the lower river last night and today, the expectation is that the river will go over its banks in a few days, and indications are now that the flood will exceed that of 1890, the highest known. At points below Bryan the river is rising fast.

Death of Walter Neef.

London, May 15.—Walter Neef, the European manager of the Associated Press, died this morning in Liverpool.
He was born in Chicago 48 years ago.
Mr. Neef was stricken aboard the steamer Baltic recently, while returning to his post, after a brief visit to America. He was taken from the steamer to the house of a friend in Liverpool, where he died. He took charge of the Associated Press foreign service in 1890, having formerly been assistant general manager, with headquarters in Chicago.

CHICAGO GIRL KILLS A THUG

Concert Hall Singer Routs Pair
Who Attempted to Rob Her.

Chicago, May 15.—Eva Dakin, a concert hall singer, shot and killed one of two men who attacked her and tried to rob her. The man she killed was Charles Bennett. The woman was locked up at the police station, pending an investigation. Bennett's companion has not been found. Miss Dakin said she had been singing at a south side concert hall, and that with whom she says she was secretly married. His name was not disclosed in any of the court proceedings. She took up her residence in one of the quiet streets of the town and lived alone. Her beauty was the subject of much comment, and although
she had been a person of culture
and refinement she avoided the society of her equals. The only family with whom she was on any terms of intimacy in Troy lived across the street from her house. It consisted of Timothy Lanigan, a grocer, his wife, and Miss Lubec, relative of the latter.

She once attended a party given by the Lanigans, where one of the guests
made a remark which she considered insulting, and the Lanigans sided with the person whom she accused of offending her. She called the following day on the grocer, and saying she had been badly treated, effected a reconciliation with him. At her request the family sent out for a quart of beer and into this she slipped a quantity of poison which resulted in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Lanigan and Miss Lubec.

Every effort was made to conceal the real name of the woman. In her isolated life in Troy she was known as Mrs. Henrietta Robinson.

was within the jurisdiction of the Federal House. The act was passed last year in the form of the Railway Act, and the railway act was not to come into force until the supreme court had said
whether it was within Parliament's jurisdiction.

afternoon at the Newsky shipyard on the Schuchbaugh canal on the left bank of the Neva, above St. Petersburg. The Chevalier Guards have been left their barracks on Horseguard Boulevard at a gallop. The Associated Press is informed by telephone that the men at the shipyard walked out in a body, carrying red flags and singing revolutionary songs. So far as is known,
the troops have not fired on the workmen.

gler, former American minister to Congler is accompanied by his son,

Mr. Congler's intention to proceed almost immediately to Mexico, unless he receives orders to the contrary.

Mr. Congler was asked concerning the periodical rumors of Boxer uprisings, and said there is absolutely no truth in such reports.

DEATH OF THE VEILED MURDERESS

Recalls Celebrated Crime of Fifty Years Ago.

WAS DAUGHTER OF QUEBECER

Forced Into Marriage With Titled Englishman, She Deserts Him,
and Later Kills Three.

New York, May 15.—The Herald says:
Miss Robinson, known as "The Veiled Murderess," who died in the asylum of the criminal insane at Mattawan on Saturday, and who had been in prison for more than a half century for three murders, was the daughter of a wealthy merchant in Quebec. Her maiden name was Charlotte Wood. Her father sent her to the Emma Willard Seminary in Troy, N.
Y., with her three sisters. As a young girl she was very beautiful.

Of every romantic disposition, she resented the plans of her father to marry her to a titled Englishman, and said that if she were forced to wed against her wishes she would leave her husband in less than a year and cause a public scandal.

She made good her threat after her marriage to Lord William Elliott. On her return to her father's house admission was refused to her, and she returned to Troy, where she sought the aid and advice of the head of the seminary. At a hotel she met a man with whom she says she was secretly married. His name was not disclosed in any of the court proceedings. She took up her residence in one
of the quiet streets of the town and
lived alone. Her beauty was the subject of much comment, and although
she had been a person of culture
and refinement she avoided the society

Captain Overboard.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 15.—The big freighter, H. B. Hawgood, came into port Friday night with her flag at half-mast, and under command of First Mate McGee. Her captain, Captain Thomas C. Ellis, of Cleveland, disappeared early in the day, and it is believed he fell overboard and was drowned. The last seen of Capt. Ellis was when he left the pilot house to go to the mess. The boat was then off Long Point, 63 miles west of here,
on the Canadian shore.

GOLD FIND MEANS DRESS FOR QUEEN

Rich Vein Discovered in Madag- ascar May Help Clothe Poor Ex-Monarch.

Paris, May 15.—The reports of the discovery of rich goldfields in the island of Madagascar have created a sensation here, and an epidemic of gold fever has broken out in France. Everybody wants to rush to the far-away island to try his luck in quest of the precious metal.

For some time it has been known that there was gold in the island, but the new discoveries seem to prove that the deposits are far larger than any found since the early days of Klondike.

The quantity of gold averages about six ounces per ton, and nearly $20,000,000 worth of the metal is in the island.
As much of this is on Government land,
there is hope that the annuity of the exposed royalty may be increased, so that the poor woman may be able to buy a few decent dresses for herself.

JESSIE B. DAVIS DEAD

Well-Known American Actress Passes Away at Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., May 15.—Jessie Bartlett
Davis, a well-known actress, died suddenly at her home here at 6:30 yesterday morning. The cause of death was heart disease produced by nephritis. Mrs. Davis first became prominent in the city of Chicago, where she was connected with the Bostonians. Her engagement on the stage was in the role of Buttercup in "Pinafore," about 20 years ago.

After being connected with the Bostonians for nearly ten years Mrs. Davis severed her connection with that company, and in 1901 she entered vaudeville.
Her last regular engagement
was in opera with Francis Wilson's company in "Pinafore." Mrs. Davis was the wife of Will J. Davis, a theatrical manager of this city. She was 46 years old.

EXPECTS A RECORD CROP.

Montreal, May 15.—Mr. William Whyte, of Winnipeg, assistant president of the C. P. R., who is in Montreal at present, says that there are good prospects for a record crop in the west this year. A good start has been made in seeding,
and the amount of moisture was never better. His estimate of 4,500,000 acres under cultivation would, at a yield of 20 bushels to the acre, give a total of 90,000,000.

Chicago, May 15.—Influences in the teamsters' joint council work to halt
a general strike movement, including all drivers in Chicago, are expected to bear fruit at a meeting of the council tonight and avert a new and greater international upheaval here.

The quantity of the executive board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters would meet in Chicago tomorrow and action of ice wagon drivers in accepting the wage schedule of last year, coupled with reports that dozens of strikers have applied for their old positions at the department stores, suggest a belief among the employers that the end of the strike is not far distant.

"FOR DISCIPLINE OF ROAD"

An Ex-Pere Marquette Man Tells Why He Was Discharged.

Toronto, May 15.—Judge Winchester resumed the inquiry this morning into the alleged employment of alien labor on the Pere Marquette Railway.
Wm. Cameron, a trainmaster, was the only witness examined before adjournment. He had been superseded by an American, he said, at $150 per month.
Mr. Woollett, the superintendent, had been replaced by J. S. Pyatt from the United States. Mr. Pyatt had never made any complaint to witness about the condition of the road, nor had he offered any suggestions for its betterment. Early in December witness was sent to Wallaceburg until the conclusion of the beet season. This was off the main line, and witness could not attend properly to his duties as trainmaster while so far away. On Dec. 22, 1904, Pyatt wrote asking for his resignation of the ground that "the discipline of the road requires a change of trainmasters." No previous complaint had been made of his work. He was replaced by E. C. Cain, an American, at an increase of $25 per month
over the witness' salary. Since he resigned witness had secured a position as operator at Port William at a salary of $80 per month, which included overtime.

a day, and the end was unexpected.
Rev. Mr. Rogers was ordained in 1850.
During his long term he was minister of the Owen Sound Presbyterian Church for some years; in Collingwood, where he was stationed for 25 years, and later in Crawford, Ont., and took up residence in Owen Sound. His wife passed away three years ago. He is survived by four daughters and one son.

Why Oppose Mr. Hyman?

Many Conservatives in this city feel that the city's interests would be greatly served, and that no national or party interests would suffer, by allowing Mr. Hyman to be returned unopposed for the balance of the parliamentary term.

A Conservative newspaper, perhaps in anticipation of Mr. Hyman's return by acclamation or his victory at the polls, observes that a bye-election is not an accurate test of public sentiment. There is much truth in the remark. Local and personal considerations loom larger in such a contest than questions of national policy, which can be decided only by a general election. There are few instances in this country where cabinet ministers, going back to their constituents for endorsement, have been opposed, because people realize that in the balance of a bye-election, and that without prejudice to their principles or their party they may honor a fellow-citizen who has been honored by his leader. There is no one constituency in which the elements are so mixed that it may be said to perfectly reflect the sentiments of an entire Province, and so we say again, for this reason, and the others mentioned, the Conservative party in this city and in the country can well afford to waive its right to plunge London into another election. The general election is barely over, the Government has an overwhelming majority, and its programme and policy will not be affected by whatever this city may choose to do.

The entry of Gamey's condemnation in the journals of the House has been crossed out in red ink. He will not be so fortunate as Uncle Toby.

A record-breaking crop is promised in the West and the railway construction in the country this year will be unexampled. Canada is on the eve of a wonderful development. She has better use for her energies than employing them in sectarian wrangles.

We read with a glow of satisfaction that the hundreds of thousands of emigrants are to come to Canada this summer. But how puny our immigration efforts seem when we hear that 12,000 emigrants entered the United States at New York in one day last week—Ottawa Journal.

Of these, 12,000, at least 10,000 were destitute city-dwellers from the continent of Europe, alien in blood and language, who will add to the congestion in the great centers of population and lower the standard of living. Nearly all of Canada's immigrants were English-speaking men and women, reared under free institutions, who have gone on the land where there is plenty of room for all. Quality is more to be desired than quantity.

The First One.

[McClure's Magazine.]
I loved a girl when I was young.
A girl I dared not try to kiss;
Our love was shy and found no tongue,
But eyes told tales we could not miss.

The years have stretched a lifetime now,
And I have loved more girls than one;
And I have kissed with deepest vow,
And kissed before I knew 'twas done.

And that first girl I never met
After her pigtail curled behind her head;
And I can't say my eyes were wet
When some one told that she was dead.

Yet there it is; she is the one,
The only one of women all,
Whom I have loved and lost and done,
Whom dreams of day and night recall.

Only last night she came to me,
Still silent came, and shy and sweet,
And then I learned what life might be,
Dream-dreams I sought my sweet-heart's feet.

I laid my head upon her breast;
Within that haven reached at last
I dreamed that I had never rest,
From all the life-long weary past.

To each poor dog his day, we're told;
Of my queer luck here is the best;
I dreamed that girl, forgot of old,
Carried my head against her breast.

Success vs. Succession.

[Washington Post.]
Rubber—Well, Gen. Linevitch hasn't succeeded yet, anyway.

Cum gratia—Yes, he has. He succeeded Gen. Kuropatkin.

Frightened Off.

[Toronto Globe.]
What has become of Beattie Nesbitt's threatened motion on the autonomy bills?

Mr. Hyman and Mr. Calvert.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
The local Tory organ asserts on the authority of a rumor invented by another organ of the party for the purpose of making mischief, that Mr. W. Calvert thinks he is more entitled to be a minister than Mr. Hyman, Mr. Calvert and Mr. Hyman are the warmest personal friends, and no man would be more unlikely than he to indulge in such ungenerous thoughts. The rumor is just as baseless as the other story that Mr. Hyman, if he joined the cabinet, would seek re-election in North Oxford in preference to London.

A Bull.

[Cleveland Leader.]
Patty Fonger, Esq.—You wish to sue this man for breach of contract? Let's have a copy of the contract.

Hiram Eze—Well, they wasn't nothing but a verbal contract.

P. Fonger—A verbal contract? What's that good for anyhow? My dear sir, a verbal contract isn't worth the paper it's written on!

Now for Jack.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]
Well—I've decided to marry your cousin Jack.

Belle—The idea! Why, Jack never said a word to me about—

Well—Oh, Jack doesn't know it yet.

One Very Valuable Citizen.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]
In a recent address, Dr. Emil Hirsch paid a tribute to "the man who makes us laugh." No one more deserves the gratitude of humanity than such a man. The great destroyer of the human race is war. The great enemy of worry is laughter. You cannot worry and laugh at the same time. The "man who makes us laugh" does his part in relieving life of its pains and lengthening its span. He delays old age by prolonging youth. He makes the poor forget the time that they are in need, and while they laugh they are as well off as the rich.

The Biter Bit.

[The Khan.]
One day a cat came up the stairs. And saw the barn owl blinking there; She said: "I'll get one when it's dark. They're nice and fat. Oh, what a lark!"

The Tom-owl heaved a little sigh. The Sis-owl winked the other eye. And when 'twas dark they fluttered down And made that yall-catt their own.

When morning came, oh, where was it? The biter had been badly bit.

A bit of tail, a fluff of fur, Was all that did remain of her.

Excusable.

[Chicago Tribune.]
"It seems to me that Bliggins doesn't know his own mind," said the judge. "Well, you can't blame the man. He has been on the jury and has listened to arguments of opposing lawyers so much that he doesn't feel sure of anything."

No Apologies There.

[Judge.]
"Do you think it a disgrace to die here?" "Well, I've seen a few tombstones over people who had done it, and they didn't apologize."

It Will Be Awful.

Supposing Major Hugh Clark, M. P., acquires the Lincolnton habit and insists on kissing all his constituents in the Bruce Blazers when that gallant corps goes into camp at London.

The Woman With the Reins.

[Arthur Stringer, in Smart Set.]
You take your course with careless rein And airy hand through park and square—

Too well you know the paths of pain! And who would dream you could disdain Life's curb and bondage, smiling there? You take your course with careless rein—

Who guesses at Love's broken chain And blood-flecked bit, from your light air? Too well you know the paths of pain!

Your laughing lips not once complain Of each old pang you used to bear— You take your course with careless rein.

Nor shall men see Love's fire again Beneath your smile so debonaire— Too well you know the paths of pain!

Still glad and smiling to their stare, And take your course with careless rein— Too well you know the paths of pain!

He Proved It.

[Chicago News.]
It's easy to understand why a little learning is said to be a dangerous thing when you meet a man who thinks he knows it all.

Carpets First.

[Montreal Herald.]
Those who start out to beat Hyman in London had better take a lot of preliminary practice on carpets.

It Didn't Interest Her.

[Chicago Record.]
"I see," said Mr. Hennepe, "that a New York man killed himself the other day to make his wife happy."

"Oh, well," she answered, "what's the use bringing up such a disagreeable subject as that? Your policy has a suicide clause."

One Consolation.

[Toronto Star.]
People who forebode that Niagara Falls will dry up evidently do not realize what a lovely sight it is when it is dry.

"I see," said Mr. Hennepe, "that a New York man killed himself the other day to make his wife happy."

The Power's Off.

[Toronto Telegram.]
This is the "tenth day of the vacancy on the wires from the China Sea."

Ma and Mars.

[Detroit Tribune.]
"Pa," said the farmer's boy, who had been studying astronomy at college, "have you heard about Mars changing color?"

"Gosh, no!" exclaimed the old man, "I startled tones. She hadn't changed color when I saw her out in the barnyard five minutes ago."

Printers in Politics.

[Brooklyn Record.]
The "printer's devil" has a knack of working his way to the top. Speaking of Hon. Mr. Oliver, the new Minister of the Interior, the Peterboro Examiner says "he is an editor, who rose from the ranks, was once a printer's devil, swept the office, had ink on his face, pulled proofs, ran errands, sawed wood, scrubbed types with crude lye, got kicked and cursed like the average printer's devil, 'stuck type,' and went through all the grimy details of an apprentice printer's grim career, and on and up to the reporter's desk, the editor's chair, and finally he has emerged before the world wearing the political life away."

Others devils mentioned who have reached the dizzy heights of political life are: William Lyon Mackenzie, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, the late Hon. C. Fraser, Hon. Thomas White and the late E. J. B. Pense, of Kingston; P. H. Ferguson, of Brantford; J. P. Downey, of Guelph; Hugh Clark, of Kincardine; C. N. Smith, of the Soo; Bowyer, of East Kent; Hon. G. W. Rens and Hon. G. P. Graham.

Very Serious Case.

[Toronto Star.]
It is easier to prove that there is not a surplus than that there is one. It is easier to get rid of one than to get one. Col. Matheson seems to be following the advice of the old village doctor who gave some counsel to a young doctor. "When you are called to see your first patient," he told him, "feel his pulse, look at his tongue, shake your head and say he's going to die. Then, say that he does die, and people will say that you're the wisest doctor in the whole country, because you knew the man would die the minute you clapped eyes on him." Col. Matheson knew there was no going to be any surplus before he entered the treasury.

Building Up the Canadian Northwest [Philadelphia Record.]
When the Dominion of Canada decided to build up its Northwest provinces by inducing immigration its first step was to map out an advertising campaign. The number of incoming settlers had been averaging about 15,000 per year. Under the direction of the Minister of the Interior nearly 320,000 was spent in setting forth the attractions of the great Northwest, and an immigration boom immediately followed. Last year 128,364 settlers, nearly 50,000 of whom hailed from the United States, took up their residence in Canada, and the tide is still increasing. The Dominion has officially demonstrated that advertising pays.

Considerate Parents.

[Brooklyn Life.]
Martha—Mrs. Fulcher says she taught her husband all he knows.

Blanche—Yes, but they have a governess for the children.

The Strangest Task.

[Chicago Tribune.]
City Editor—What has become of that new reporter who was hired three days ago to get up a special article on "Politeness in Street Cars" and he hasn't come back? I'm afraid he hasn't found any material yet.

Merely Misled.

[Houston Post.]
"Doctor," said the man who several weeks before had been operated on for appendicitis, "I'm all right except for a heavy feeling in the pit of my stomach and a slight metallic rattling when I walk."

"There!" exclaimed the M. D., slapping his thigh. "The knot, that case of surgical instruments would turn up eventually. Will you pay me for them and keep them or shall I remove them? The cost will be about the same."

The Easter Man.

[Arnold M. Anderson.]
The fickle years have come and gone, And though the world has changed so soon, Yet you of all that singing host That Pegasus did ride—

Though faintly it might scan— To that poor soul, neglected long, The countless Easter man!

The poets sang to gowns and hats, To lingerie and hose, To flowers, ribbons, gems and plumes And to such things as these ran, But not a thought was given to The spotless Easter man.

Inmaculate he is arrayed, This hero of the style. Who spends his every cent to buy A necktie or a tie.

Oh, Easter! be thy parade, Dressed up all spick and span— "Twere charity to notice him, The stylish Easter man."

Advice.

[Washington Star.]
"Would you advise a man to go into the army or the navy?" Asked the ambitious youth.

"The navy," answered the Russian official. "Then you can have the whole ocean to run in."

Such a Difference.

[Yonkers Statesman.]
Yeast—I notice that it is fresh paint which always smells strongest.

Crimsonbeak—Yes, it's different with eggs.

Timely Information.

[Milwaukee Sentinel.]
Many housewives find, during these busy days of spring cleaning, that the dust gathered in corners of rooms is hard to remove in a satisfactory manner.

There are two ways of properly ridding a room of dust, the favorite, and perhaps the better plan being to kneel in the corners and blow the dust out with vigorous puffs. After blowing it from the crevices it can be swept out with a broom. Another way is to put molasses on the corners, and when the sugar has hardened, it can be scraped off the corners, thus allowing the dust to cling to the fingers. Though this scheme was so far as the dust is concerned, of course, the fingers become rather dirty, but they can easily be washed.

The Poet and the Spring.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
I plucked a quill from Fancy's ring And swiftly wrote, "Reign, lovely Spring!"

It rained.

I turned my Muse to softly sing In accents sweet, Hail, gentle Spring!

It hailed!

Troubles of the Married Man. [Philadelphia Record.]
A married man longs for either some excitement to relieve the monotony or some monotony to relieve the excitement.

Being out of a job soon gets to be a habit with the lazy man.

PALE-FACED AND ANXIOUS

The Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

This is the half-sick man is pitifully faint in fact, almost criminal when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Perrozene.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated, muscle and fat added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly gushes with new-found life.

Proved successful in debility and weakness by the people of many nations. Perrozene stands unrivaled as the greatest of all uplifting medicines. Read the evidence of Mr. John Carter, of 44 King street east, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of tripe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would awaken with terrible palpitation and heart-pains. Work became a great effort. At last I knew what I was so tired and weak. I could hardly work another minute."

Then came a bad attack of rheumatism, which laid me in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound, and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Perrozene, and he knew what I was so tired and weak. I could hardly work another minute."

Mrs. Griffin has made good use of her vocal equipment, and with an attractive personality she passes all the requirements of an efficient interpreter on German Lied.

SPENT LIFE ON ONE FARM.

Deceased spent nearly the whole of her life on the farm where she died, and where her brother, Philip, still lives. Five brothers and two sisters, who are as follows, survive: Robert, of Michigan; John, of Colorado; Henry, of Washington Territory; Philip, on the home stead, and Frederick, of Warwick, and Mrs. Oscar Britney, of Petrolia, and Mrs. T. DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Miss Minnie Todd, formerly of this city, passed away Saturday afternoon in Detroit at the family residence, 203 Greenwood avenue, after a very brief illness. NEWS OF CITY CHURCHES.

In St. George's Church Sunday School yesterday afternoon, the annual distribution of prizes took place. Dean Davies, of Thamesville, and Bothwell yesterday, and his own services in St. James' Church were taken by Mr. Cornish, student of Huron College.

"The Romance of Missions" was the theme of both sermons in the Wellington Street Methodist Church by Rev. James Livingston yesterday. Mr. Livingston dealt with missionary effort from the time of Paul to the present day, and crowded congregations listened closely.

Rev. W. J. Clark will preach in Strathroy next Sunday on behalf of the Caven Library fund. Rev. W. J. Knox, of that town, will take the solo voices in the First Presbyterian Church in his absence.

Rev. R. S. W. Howard preached in Blenheim yesterday, and his pulpit at Christ Church was filled by Rev. Mr. Purton, of Mitchell.

A large crowd gathered at the song service in the Methodist church yesterday afternoon and evening. The show was not a howling success from any standpoint, and those who paid to see it were none too well pleased. There was a sample of almost everything that is done in a real circus, from the clown's pranks to the looping the loop.

There were also one-third of a dozen assorted elephants and several other animals. In the hippodrome a number of ladies rode their horses at a moderate speed around the ring, evidently fearing that the police might interfere if they galloped too fast.

Lemon Bros' circus, a very small show, was rewarded by small audiences Saturday afternoon and evening. The show was not a howling success from any standpoint, and those who paid to see it were none too well pleased. There was a sample of almost everything that is done in a real circus, from the clown's pranks to the looping the loop.

There were also one-third of a dozen assorted elephants and several other animals. In the hippodrome a number of ladies rode their horses at a moderate speed around the ring, evidently fearing that the police might interfere if they galloped too fast.

Congregation Decides to Erect New Place of Worship at a Cost of $10,000.

At a meeting of the congregation of All Saints' Church last evening, it was unanimously decided that a new church should be erected as soon as the funds for that purpose can be raised. The congregation, under the energetic leadership of Rev. T. B. Clarke, the rector, has had wonderful success during the past two years, and although not rich, is full of such determination and enthusiasm that there is no doubt that the required money, about $10,000, will be secured quickly. It is hoped that aid will be forthcoming from many quarters, and that the new church will be built to hold 500 persons, and the cost has been figured out on as low a basis as possible.

There are about 500 people who attend, or wish to attend, the All Saints' services, and about 150 families on the membership list. The seating capacity, on the other hand, is only 220. The congregation has just passed beyond the stage when it can receive help from the missionary society of the Anglican Church in Canada, but when the above facts are taken into consideration, there is no doubt that the other branches of the Anglican Church in this city will be forthcoming with financial aid. The new church will be built to hold 500 persons, and the cost has been figured out on as low a basis as possible.

Askin Street Church—86th Anniversary.

A large number of citizens watched the big parade which yesterday afternoon made its way from the lodge rooms of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in this city to Askin Street Methodist Church, where services in commemoration of the order's 86th anniversary were held. The parade, which was headed by a band, marched from Choralin street, east end, to the corner of Clarence and Dundas streets, where the lodge rooms are located. The whole body then marched down Dundas street to stirring strains of music, along Richmond street, and over to South London.

The services in the church, which commenced at 3:45 o'clock, were in charge of Bro. J. P. Maine, of Chatham Lodge, who delivered an interesting sermon. He dwelt upon the growth of the order from the time it was founded in 1819 by John Willey, until now, when it has a total membership of one and a half millions. Four and a quarter millions of dollars, the preacher pointed out, had been paid out in benefits during that time. Special music was rendered by the choir and the church quartet in the course of the services.

Afterwards the parade reformed, and headed by the band, marched back to the

Rev. Dyson Hague Speaks for Railway Employees in Sabbath Observance Sermon.

Large congregations heard Rev. Dyson Hague discuss the question of the observance of the Lord's Day, in the Memorial Church yesterday, morning and evening. Dwelling first upon the divine origin of the Sabbath, and the fact that its observance was a duty which man owes to God, the preacher passed to the practical side of the question. He urged that railway employees should have more Sunday time to themselves, and that the companies should make some effort in this direction. Mr. Hague said he recognized that there must always be a great deal of activity on the part of the railway men, and that the fact that freight, especially of the perishable kind, cannot be kept waiting. However, he thought it might be arranged without a great deal of trouble that each employee of railway companies might have two Sundays in the month to himself.

Mr. Hague also urged that people who accept Christian principles should do their shopping as early as possible on Saturdays. Although many stores had adopted early closing on Saturdays, there are a great many which had not, and probably would not, until the public ceased to postpone its Saturday shopping until the evening. It was hard for clerks who had to work overtime on Saturday to get to church on Sunday.

Mr. Hague dwelt also upon the domestic aspect of the question, and said that Sunday should not be a day for lazy lounging. Parents ought to exert their authority in their home on the Sabbath day, insist that secular reading matter be set aside, and that the family attend divine worship. Sunday should be made a cheerful day in the house by the singing of sacred songs and other means.
