THE CANADIAN DIED GAME IN FIGHT TO A FINISH

Refused to Surrender With His Comrades and Fought Singly Till he Fell—A Party of Five Separated From British and Surrounded by Boers
Near Klerksdorp.

Pretoria, Transvaal, March 28.—About 1,500 Boers, under Delarey, Liebenberg, Kemp and Wolmarans, were within the area of Lord Kitchener's latest movement, but through surprise by the rapidity displayed by the British troops, gaps in the latter's lines enabled most of the burghers to escape. The Boer prisoners totaled 179 men, including Commandant H. Kruger and ex-Landrost Neethling of Klerksdorp.

From the first prisoners captured, it was learned that Delarey himself was outside the actual cordon, having slipped some distance westward, but Liebenberg, Kemp, and other Boer commanders were inside the columns of troops. The first body, consisting of about 500 Boers sighted at 10 o'clock in the morning, March 28, retreated at full speed, making for a gap between the British columns. A race for the opening ensued. British mounted infantry which had already ridden up-wards of 50 miles, pressed their tired horses until many of them gave out, when the men jumped off and raced forward on foot.

Some of the mounted men, however, were able to gallop right into the gap, just ahead of the burghers, whom they met with a warm fire. These troops also succeeded in driving back another body of 300 Boers, who were forced to desert the guns they had captured from the Von Donop convey (south-west of Klerksdorp) in February. The Boers tried to get through several openings, but on each occasion were forced to double back until they ultimately found a gap and passed out of the British lines within sight of Klerksdorp. Night fell before the pursuing columns could overtake the Boers.

Five Canadians who fell out of their column and tried to work their way back were surrounded by a Boer force and made a splendid defense. But, finally, seeing their case was hopeless, four of the Canadians surrendered. The fifth, however, indignantly refused to throw down his arms and continued a single handed fight until he was killed. This was regarded as one of the most heroic incidents of the day.

An illustration of the resourcefulness of the Boers was given by Liebenberg and several hundred men, when taking advantage of the confusion of the drive, they formed a commando similar in arrangement to that of a British column. Moving close to one of the numerous gaps in the British lines, they succeeded in reaching it and in getting away before their ruse was detected. The guns captured from Von Donop's convey, were brilliantly recaptured by the Scottish Horse which charged up to the muzzle of the artillery and rode the Boer gunners off their feet before the latter had a chance to fire.

CECIL RHODES' GREAT PROJECT

Bulk of Fortune Goes to Vast Imperial Plan of Education.

Scheme Embraces Every Part of the Empire—The Funeral Arrangements.

Cape Town, March 28.—The coffin containing the body of Cecil Rhodes will be conveyed to the Parliament buildings here during the morning of April 3, and will lie in state in the vestibule till three in the afternoon, when it will be removed to the Anglican Cathedral, where the first portion of the burial service will be read. The funeral procession will afterwards traverse the principal streets of Cape Town to the railway station. Thence the coffin will be taken by special train to Bulawayo, stopping for a short time at Kimberley. Only a few intimate friends will accompany the body to Bulawayo. The coffin during the funeral procession at Cape Town will be carried on the gun carriage of "Long Cecil," the famous gun used at the siege of Kimberley.

HIS FORTUNE TO EDUCATION.

London, March 29.—The Daily Mail says it is in a position to assert that Cecil Rhodes left the bulk of his fortune, outside of some personal and family bequests, to the promotion of his vast imperial plan of education. This project embraces every land where the Union Jack flies. Its purpose is the intellectual betterment of the British race throughout the world and the fostering of the imperial sentiment. The Daily Mail adds that this idea of better fitting "Younger Britain" to cope successfully with rival nationalities was long a dominant scheme with Cecil Rhodes, but that even his closest friends little imagined the absorbing hold it obtained upon him until this was disclosed by the terms of his will. The details of this plan of education will be made public in a few days.

CONTRACT LET

The contract has been let for the factory of the Woodburn Sarven Wheel Co. Robertson and McKie have been awarded the contract. The building will be erected at once on the Seave-Newbury property, purchased near the G. T. R. station. The spur leading to the factory has been staked off, and the track will be laid immediately. The Woodburn Sarven Wheel Co. are losing no time and are pushing rapidly forward.

LEAPED FROM THE GALLOWS

Casper, Wyo., March 28.—Chas. Francis Woodward, the condemned murderer of Sheriff William C. Ricker, was to have been hanged early to-day by an infuriated mob of twenty-four masked men. Crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the gallows early in the evening, and a mob was formed. About 8 o'clock the mob descended on the jail, and the leaders demanded the boys of the sheriff. He refused to give them up, and the crowd then secured ladders and hammered and beat down the jail door. Once inside the jail, a rope was quickly thrown around Woodward's neck. He was taken to the scaffold, which had been erected for his legal execution. Some one pushed him on to the trap, but he gave a leap before the trap could be sprung and fell from the gallows, hanging himself.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

London, March 28.—The Government offices are shut up, and the War Office has announced that even Lord Kitchener's despatches will not be issued to-day or Monday.

A "prayer for peace" was the only novel feature of the observance of Good Friday in Great Britain. The Bishops of London, Rochester and St. Alban's issued special appeals to their dioceses to unite in prayer that both British and Boers be granted the temper of peacemakers, pointing out that similar prayers are being offered in the Dutch churches of Pretoria.

CITIZEN CALLED TO THE UNSEEN

Demise of William Douglas, K. C., Crown Attorney Yesterday Morning.

A Long and Useful Life—He Won High Honors in his Profession.

William Douglas, K. C., Crown Attorney for Kent County, passed away at six o'clock Good Friday morning. He had been ailing since the last Sunday in November from congestion and, although his trouble did not assume an acute form, still he suffered much. Since November Mr. Douglas has been receiving medical treatment both here and in Toronto. He was able to be around nearly all the time.

Thursday night about nine o'clock he was suddenly taken much worse and passed away at daybreak.

William Douglas, K. C., was born in Halkirk, Caithness, Scotland, on Sept. 1st, 1836. In 1848 he came to Canada with his parents. He graduated as an LL. B. at the University of Toronto and was called to the bar in 1861. In the same year he entered on the practice of his profession at Chatham, Ont. He was one of the leading lawyers in Ontario and in 1868 was appointed Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace for Kent County. He was created Q. C. by the Marquis of Lansdowne in 1885.

In 1891 he was chosen a bencher of the Law Society and has since been similarly honored.

In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a Conservative. During the regime of the Conservatives at Ottawa, William Douglas was often mentioned as a prospective Judge.

His widow, who survives, was Miss Hudson, daughter of Capt. Hudson, a sea captain, who, after a busy life, retired and settled in Toronto.

Besides the widow, eight children survive. They are Dr. William and John, of Puyallup, Wash.; Mrs. Harry Kirk, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and Donald, Jean, Lily, Mary and Isabella at home. Geo. B. Douglas and D. H. Douglas are cousins.

FALSE RUMOR

A canard was in circulation last night and this morning to the effect that a girl named Crow had been accidentally shot down the river yesterday. A yarn of this kind would have been more appropriate for April than for Good Friday.

The facts were that Andrew Crow and Douglas Stevens were out shooting, had a runaway and an steers of incidents, from which some individual with a lively imagination concocted the story.

MARTIN SITE AGAIN CHOSEN AS PUBLIC LIBRARY LOCATION

By a Vote of Five to Four Board Decides to Spend $2,650 in Preference to $1,800—Yeas and Nays Were Taken and Recorded—Mr. Sheldrick Cross-Examines Mr. Smith on his Vote.

"I think the choice you have made is a calamity," was a remark made by Mr. Sheldrick, after the selection had been made by the Library Board meeting Thursday night.

"It is the best choice possible in the city," retorted the Mayor.

All the members were present. The meeting was opened by the chairman announcing its object, namely, that of selecting a suitable site for the new Carnegie Library building.

A letter was opened by the secretary from Mrs. Craddock, tendering her property at the corner of Raleigh and Wellington streets.

A tender was also received from C. R. Atkinson, K. C., for two properties one next to the post office, and the other near the county buildings on Sixth street.

Also a letter from Fred Stone, who offered on behalf of E. W. Seane the place at present occupied by the Chatham Steam Laundry.

Communications were then read from Westman Bros., and the Hamilton Provisional and Loan Society; Westman Bros. offered their property, near the Presbyterian church for $1,500, and the Hamilton Provisional offered to donate to the Board the sum of $200 if their property, at the corner of King and Third streets was taken.

Dr. Charteris said he had been empowered by the owner to offer to the Board the property next to the fire hall for $600.

Mr. Sheldrick—it is best to have it in writing.

Mr. Scullard said that Geo. Stephens, M. P., had told him that he would apply to the government to have it put on the Park if the Board so wished.

Dr. Charteris—I think The Planet struck the key note on that proposal.

S. M. Smith—I move that the secretary thank Mr. Stephens for the courtesy, but that it could not be considered.

Mr. Charteris seconded the motion. Mr. Sheldrick—My opinion is that it ought to be considered.

The motion carried.

The question then arose as to whether the tenders sent in that night should be considered or not. After some discussion the motion of Messrs Scullard and Davis, that they be considered, carried.

The Mayor asked how and on what properties the voting was to be on. Ballot voting was decided on, and each member was given the privilege of nominating as many properties as he wished.

The nominations were as follows:—The Mayor moved the Centre street property, (Mrs. Martin). Mr. Humphrey—Property corner of

All Master Masons in good standing will be made welcome.

DISASTER ON THE WABASH

Two Engineers and Brakeman Killed in Terrible Head-on Collision.

Victims Belonged to St. Thomas Engineer Failed to Obey His Orders.

St. Thomas, March 28.—A terrible head-on collision occurred on the Wabash Railroad three-quarters of a mile east of Jarvis station, about seven o'clock this morning, and as a result three men were killed and one was seriously hurt.

The dead are:—John McGill, engineer. John Charlton, engineer. Harry McDonald, brakeman.

All three were married and belonged to St. Thomas.

The injured man is Martin Donnelly, brakeman, who had several ribs broken and was otherwise injured.

Conductor W. Algie left here with an extra east bound, with orders to meet a west-bound extra (Conductor D. McQuinn) at Jarvis, John Charlton, with engine No. 1,350, hauling the east-bound train, is supposed to have overlooked his orders, as he passed the meeting point at a high rate of speed, his train running into the west-bound train, which was also running about the same rate, wrecking both engines and piling up twenty cars or more. Two of the latter were loaded with cement and five with grain. The others were empty.

Both locomotives kept the track, but were badly damaged, their tanks being totally destroyed.

Engineer John McGill, with engine No. 1,480, was pulling the west-bound. He had a lag taken off and died an hour and thirty-five minutes after the accident.

Engineer Charlton and Harry McDonald, head brakeman on the east-bound, were buried beneath the debris and their bodies were not found until late in the afternoon.

The firemen on both trains jumped and escaped with a few bruises.

The rear brakeman, noting that the east-bound train was going through Jarvis without stopping up, signalled, but as the fog was very heavy he was unable to get the head end of the train.

The telegraph operator having been advised by the dispatcher that the trains were to meet at Jarvis, also tried to stop the east-bound by putting up the semaphore, but he was unsuccessful.

Wreckers immediately left St. Thomas and Fort Erie for the scene, and it was about 7 p. m. before traffic was opened up. All passenger trains during the day were routed via Galt.

George G. Jones, of Toronto, superintendent of the Middle Division, and L. J. Ferris, superintendent of the Western Division, were both at the scene of the wreck all day.

Brakeman Donnelly was brought to this city on No. 3, the bodies of the dead men being held at Jarvis until the coroner's inquest is over.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29.

MR. WM. DOUGLAS.

In the demise of Mr. William Douglas, K. C., who passed away at an early hour yesterday morning, the Maple City loses an old and honored citizen.

Although in later years The Planet did not enjoy the privilege of Mr. Douglas' close friendship, this journal always recognized in the deceased a gentleman of exceptional capabilities, kindly characteristics and worthy personality. By his demise we believe the city has suffered a distinct loss.

To the bereaved widow and family sincere sympathy is extended in the sad affliction which has befallen them.

CECIL RHODES.

Not only in face, but in some essential qualities of mind and character, Cecil Rhodes closely resembled the great Napoleon, points out the Hamilton Herald. He was the most Napoleonic man of his generation. He had towering ambition, love of power, great talent for organization, a vivid imagination, fertility in resource, a will that no opposition could subdue, a courage no danger or difficulty could daunt, profound knowledge of human nature, perfect self-confidence and self-reliance, and a personal magnetism that gave him a mastery over men. He was a natural leader, a titan man born for great things. Like Napoleon, too, he means to use them, when it became necessary to use them, for the accomplishment of his vast purposes.

Mr. Rhodes has been reviled as a plutocrat whose chief aim was the making of a great fortune—the piling of million upon million. An intelligent study of his career will show that this view of him is absolutely false. It does not explain things. The fact is that he valued money chiefly for the power which it gave him to carry out his political plans. One of the most practical of men in the application of means to ends, he was in reality a dreamer, as almost all great men are. While yet a young man he dreamed of a dream of extending the British empire from Cape Colony up through the heart of Africa, to unite with the territory in northern Africa already under British protection—of binding Britain's African empire together with the steel bonds of a railway extending from end to end of the continent. He has not lived to see the realization of his dream; but he has done so much to make it come true that it can safely be said that no man of this generation, dying before 50 years of age, has achieved so much as has Cecil Rhodes. He has extended British rule two thousand miles northward into the heart of Africa; he has saved vast territories from the grasping hands of Mr. Kruger and the German Kaiser; he has carved out great British provinces, one of which bears his name and he has built many hundred miles of the transcontinental railway which he had planned.

The one serious stain upon Cecil Rhodes' fame is his share in the Jameson raid. There is no doubt that he was largely responsible for that unfortunate blunder—some would call it a crime. But something can be said in excuse for his action in connection with that affair. It should be remembered that the oppressed uitlanders of the Rand had appealed to him for aid, and that he had reason to believe, when he authorized his lieutenant, Dr. Jameson, to start on his filibustering expedition, that the uitlanders were powerful enough to bring about a revolution at Pretoria and secure the reforms which they demanded. He blundered in underestimating the strength of the Boer government's resources—a blunder which seems to have been common with all British and Anglo-African statesmen during the last quarter of a century. Mr. Rhodes has been blamed for bringing about the Boer war. Such an accusation is ridiculous. It is true that he urged the imperial authorities to be firm in their insistence upon the amelioration of the condition of the uitlanders; but it is more likely that the imperial authorities were guided by the reports and advice of Sir Alfred Milner than by the representations of Mr. Rhodes.

He has also been accused of cherishing the ambition of establishing an independent republic embracing the whole of South Africa, with himself as its first president. This accusation is also a groundless one. Rhodes was an imperialist of imperialists: all his plans and actions and public utterances reveal the spirit which dominated him. He loved England, and it was for the glory of England that he planned and worked. Only a few months ago he bought a great estate in his native country, with the intention of ultimately settling down and ending his days as an English country gentleman; and his last hope was that the doctors might stretch out his span of life long enough to enable him to die in England.

PITY THE POOR EAGLE.

Toronto Telegram.
If Oxford had beaten Cambridge today, the fact that two stalwart and estimable Americans rowed in the winning crew would have been advertised as proof that a great English university had to win its victories with the help of the United States athletes.

The all-English crew which rowed for Cambridge won easily against the Anglo-American crew which rowed for Oxford. The race is not an event of earth-shaking consequence, but there will be no general sorrow in Canada over a result which silences the editorial voices of the Great American Eagle.

No trifle is too small to be seized upon by the American press as a text for sermons upon the decay of England. The boat race on the Thames to-day does not provide the occasion for such discourses.

HONOR TO THE QUEEN.

Late Lord Dufferin's Tribute to His Sovereign That Is Peculiarly Interesting Now Both Are No More.

Leaving Toronto Lord Dufferin proceeded to Montreal, where a series of public functions awaited him. Not the least interesting of these was the unveiling of the Queen Victoria monument in Victoria Square. Here his lordship delivered an oration upon the Queen, which, now that Her Majesty has left us, carries with it added interest. He spoke of the statue as "this breathing representation of that grace and dignity, that frank and open countenance, that imperial majesty of aspect, which in her lifetime shrouded the presence of the Queen of England more august than that of any contemporary Sovereign."

"To you," he said, "I lay the charge of preserving for yourselves and the thousands that come after you this fair image of your Queen, this gracious impersonation of the majesty of Britain, this stately type and pledge of our imperial unity, this crowned and sceptered symbol of those glorious institutions which we have found so conducive to the maintenance of individual liberty and of constitutional freedom." Then followed a personal appreciation of the life of the Queen.

"It was my good fortune in early life to be allowed to serve near the person of the Sovereign. At that time no domestic calamity had thrown its indelible shadow across the threshold of her home. It was then, as a spectator of her daily life, its pure joys, its refined and noble occupations, its duties never neglected, but their burdens shared by the tenderest of husbands and the most sagacious of friends, it was then that I learned the secret of that hold which Her Majesty possesses over the hearts of her subjects in every part of her extensive Empire. And in later days, when death had forever shattered the visions of her early happiness and left her to discharge alone and unaided, during the long years of widowhood, in the isolation of an empty palace, the weighty and oppressive functions of her loyal station, renewed opportunities were afforded one of observing with what patience, patriotism, and devotion to the public service her brave and noble nature bore each burden and discharged each daily task. From galettes, from the distraction of society, the widowed Sovereign may have shrunk, but from duty never. When, therefore, you cast your eyes up to this work of art, let the image of the woman, as well as of the Queen, be enshrined in your recollection, and let each citizen remember that in her whose sculptured lineaments he now regards he has an example of prosperity borne with meekness, of adversity with patience, of the path of duty unfalteringly followed, and of a blameless career of existence which has been a source of pride to every English heart, and has shed its holy light upon a thousand British homes."

A thing is never worth while doing if it does not do us some distinct good, if it does not make us better, whether spiritually, mentally or physically.

HE SPRING FEELING

VARIABLE SPRING WEATHER DISASTROUS TO WEAK PEOPLE.

Even Usually Robust People Feel Run Down and Out of Sorts at this Time—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the Very Best Spring Tonic.

The spring months are a trying time to most people. At no other time of the year do health and strength seem so hard to gain, and to hold. You do not feel that you are really sick, but you feel about as bad as you could if you were seriously ill. That feeling ought to be got rid of—and it can be. What you need is a tonic to enrich the blood and free it from the impurities which have lodged in your system during the winter, and which are responsible for your present condition. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only reliable, never-failing tonic medicine. These pills make new, rich blood, strengthen the nerves and bring health and vitality to every organ in the body. They are an ideal spring medicine and the best thing in the world for all diseases having their origin in impoverished or impure blood. The case of Miss Belle Cohen, White Rock, Minn., N. S., is a strong corroboration of these statements. She says: "Three years ago this spring I was very much run down. The least exertion exhausted me. I seemed to lose ambition and a feeling of languor and sluggishness took its place. My appetite failed me and my sleep at nights was disturbed and restless. In fact I was in a pitiable condition. After trying two or three medicines without benefit, I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they speedily worked a change for the better and by the time I had used a half dozen boxes I felt stronger than I had done for years. I have since used the pills in the spring and I find them an excellent tonic."

Because of their thorough and prompt action on the blood and nerves these pills speedily cure anaemia, rheumatism, sciatica, paralytic paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, erysipelas, kidney and liver troubles and the functional ailments which make the lives of so many women a source of constant misery. Other so-called tonic pills are mere imitations of this sterling remedy. Get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The British Schoolboy on Animals.

A correspondent who offered prizes in different schools for essays on kindness to animals sends up a few extracts from the papers received. "There are two kinds of animals, and they are the quadruped and biped; the quadruped is lions and tigers and such like, and the biped is man."

"Some people kick the poor dog and give it no food. Then the poor animal bites the first person it comes to, and this causes the person to have diptheria, and the animal gets killed. This is all through people giving the animal nothing to eat."

"Animals do not go to church nor say any prayers. They never sit down to get their meals, and we do."

"When the animal dies it is no more good except for food. But when we die we have a resurrection."

A POSTMASTER'S OPINION.

No one is more qualified to give an intelligent and truthful experience. His conclusions seem reasonable.

No more intelligent, reasonable, and capable public officers can be found than the postmasters of Canada. Honest, faithful and conscientious they are generally consulted by their neighbors and patrons and their opinions are universally respected and their advice followed.

The postmaster is a power in the land and they have been careful to maintain the respect of the people by not hazarding an opinion which could not be supported as a sound one.

Mr. H. Janowski, postmaster at Fenelon, Ontario, is known personally to every man, woman and child among the patrons of that office and to many others outside.

"I have given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial and can with every confidence recommend them."

"I have known of many others who have found this remedy to be all that could be desired as a cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble."

The opinion of Mr. Janowski is concurred in by everyone who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets anything like a fair trial.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have established themselves as an honest, honest remedy that does everything that can be desired as a cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Of course by removing these causes they cause all the ailments resulting from the deranged stomach to disappear. Headache and Heart Trouble, for instance, are most frequently the results of indigestion, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion and with it goes the Pain and Headache.

There are many thousands to-day in Canada to whom this experience should come as a message of hope, for there is really no reason why none should suffer a moment longer with Dyspepsia or other Stomach Trouble, when such an infallible remedy as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets is for sale in every drug store in the land.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured and cured completely many skeptical Dyspeptics.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Mayor G. W. Sulman was in Detroit yesterday.
Mrs. Owens, Jeffrey St., is ill with rheumatism.

Thomas Walters leaves this evening
for New York.

Wm. McCaw, of Detroit, will spend
Easter Sunday at his home in this city.

Mrs. E. E. Brock, of Toronto, is spending the Easter holidays with friends in the Maple City.

Norman Buse, of Walkerville, passed through the city yesterday, enroute to Dresden, where he will spend Easter with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Albert Sheldrick, and son
Charles, have gone to Columbus, Ohio,
Ohio, to visit Mrs. Sheldrick's son Fred. They will be gone for a couple of weeks.

Dr. A. W. Thornton has returned from Dresden, where he attended the convention of the Ridgetown Methodist choir.

Owing to the crowded condition of our columns to-day many local features, including the "Suebel of the Sallitite," District Dashes, etc., are unavoidably held over.

The flag is flying at half mast on the new Harrison Hall flag pole out of respect to the late Wm. Douglas.
It was said that the first duty of the flag should be a last tribute to an officer who had served the County so long and faithfully.

Cupid Martin, an aged colored man, has had a charge of assault against Arnold. Martin is a resident of the County House of Industry. He has a penchant for praying and while engaged in this devotion he alleges that Arnold threw a broom and a piece of iron at him.

The Park Street Epworth League held a good meeting last evening, with quite a large number present. W.
Miller acted as chairman, and an exceedingly good program was rendered,
including, solo by Miss Edith Reid, recitation by W. Johnson, quartette by Misses White and Sanderson and Messrs. Plevins and Miller, and a talk from Rev. T. T. George.

J. L. Scott has on exhibition in Sheldrick's window the first piece of peat fuel put through the presses at the new factory at Round Bay. The peat is of an excellent color and weight and those interested in the factory are well pleased with the sample. William Dobson, who superintended the work of putting in the presses, expressed his opinion that it is one of the best samples of peat fuel he has seen. The factory has not commenced running yet but will be started in the course of a week or two.

NO EXPLOSION

The Macey Dynamite Cartridge
From Police Station Didn't Cause Damage.

A dynamite cartridge laid at the Police Station for 15 years. It was found in the lot on Dynamite alley, next the residence of Dr. Musson. The cartridge was thrown away by Macey the night he blew up the residence of License Inspector Evans. The late Chief Young was proud of this chunk of explosive, because it was one of the links in the chain of evidence that convicted Macey and reflected great credit on the late Chief's detective ability.

Judge Houston has always disliked
the presence of the dynamite cartridge at the Police Station and, after the death of William Young, he gave instructions that it be removed. Col.
Sen. Holmes, by reason of his great knowledge of military matters, being well versed in explosives, secured the cartridge with the intention of blowing up some stump on his Harwich farm. Not being well enough acquainted with this brand of con-spiration, the Colonel secured the services of John Paulucci to adjust the cap and prepare the dynamite for use. Mr. Paulucci having blown up the stump when the Lake Erie R.R. tracks were laid knew a thing or two about dynamite. Yesterday Charles Hawthorn to blow up the cartridge, however, failed to set. Fifteen years residence at the Police Station had sapped its vitality. The fuse was the only thing that had life left in it. Col. Holmes had some cartridges of a more modern vintage and with them did some strong work.

LICENSE BOARD

The License Board held a meeting
Thursday afternoon in the office of
T. C. Macnabb. Chairman W. M.
Stone, Dr. Knight of Walkerville, being present. The object of the meeting was a request from Jno. Peate, of Merlin, to have his license transferred from his old hotel to new addressed. The request was granted. Mr.
Macnabb went down to Merlin yesterday and handed the permit. Mr.
Macnabb says that Peate's new hotel is a very fine one.

The License Board adjourned to meet April 11 to consider applications for tavern licenses for next year.

Theatrical

On Wednesday, April 2nd, we are to have at the Grand that favorite and breezy, musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl." This favorite of all the New York Casino emulations is now in the fifth season of continued popularity and from all indications bids fair to run indefinitely.

THE LYCEUM COURSE.

The sixth number of the Lyceum Course will be given on Friday, April 4th, by Miss Jessie McLachlan, the Scotch prima donna, and Miss Marietta Ladell, Toronto's favorite entertainer, in place of the English Ardor Concert Co. Miss Jessie McLachlan appeared in Chatham, at the Grand in December 6th last, under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland. On the following day The Planet said: "Should Miss McLachlan ever appear in Chatham again there is no doubt that it would be impossible for the opera house to accommodate the numbers who would seek admission."

Miss Marietta Ladell appeared in Chatham, on February 14th, with the La Bell Concert Co. From The Planet on February 15th: "Miss Marietta Ladell, the star of the company, is a host in herself, and is well capable of entertaining an audience for a whole evening."

Paine's Celery Compound

HAS THE APPROVAL AND INDORSEMENT OF THE BEST PEOPLE AS A LIFE GIVER.

No Other Spring Medicine Can Give Such Cheering and happy Results to Sick and Diseased People.

As spring ushers in the physically weak, sick and distressed realize that their condition is one of extreme danger. It is a well-known fact that while the trees bud and dress anew thousands of men and women are cut off by the common diseases of life. This fact should arouse the attention of the ailing and sick to the folly of underestimating and neglecting the ills that make life miserable at this season.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this time will save many a precious life. The great compound equalizes and calms all the nervous tissues and induces the body to take on firm and solid flesh. It purifies the blood, as is shown by the rapid clearing of the skin of all evidence of bad humors within; it regulates the organs of digestion; it gives natural sleep and sweet rest.

All our best physicians recognize Paine's Celery Compound as the one scientific spring remedy, and it is universally prescribed by them wherever there is need of a vigorous and prompt restoring to health and strength. The use of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will bring the happiest results to all weak, broken-down and despondent sufferers, and will quickly banish the fears of doubters and unbelievers. Paine's Celery Compound has the approval and indorsement of clergymen, professional men generally, judges, members of parliament, merchants and the best people. Test its virtues, dear sufferer; it cannot disappoint you.

Mrs. Steen is quite ill.

THREE MONTHS AND NO SLEEP

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred this would mean the lunatic asylum for the patient, but South American Nervine was the "stitch in time."

Mrs. White, of Beaverton, was dangerously ill from nervous trouble; no sleep at night for three months; so low, friends had given up hope of recovery. She began using South American Nervine, and the next night she took the first deep sleep soundly. She put on flesh rapidly and in a short while every symptom of her trouble had left her, and although it is five years ago, she has never had a sign of a return. It is sold by J. W. McLaren, Chatham.

Method is the very hinge of business, and there is no method without punctuality.—Coell.

FAMOUS HISTORIC DOORS.

One Priceless Relic Was to Have Been Used as a Pigsty.

A certain wealthy banker, who resides near Pontefract, Yorkshire, has gradually acquired quite a collection of interesting and historic doors. Among them is one which separated the most contented Round-head pursuers when he was sorely pressed.

Another is reminiscent of the French Revolution. It is the door of the famous prison in England in the year 1745. To its stout resistance several of his prominent partisans owed their lives, for the door still shows the deep indentations made by a battering ram that was used against it at that time.

Three or four years ago the banker, while in Paris, offered $5,000 for a door that had figured in the French Revolution. Though it had such famous folk as Marie Antoinette, Charlotte Corday, Danton, and Robespierre, it was not to be. The collection comprises doors from various ancient halls and castles, each of more or less historic value.

The authorities of the Carnavalet Museum, in Paris, have in their possession a door of the old Bastille. When the Prison of Mazas was demolished they thought of purchasing one of its doors, but for some reason or other changed their minds.

These relics were, however, eagerly bid for, and our purchaser, a latter-day Samson, actually carried his bargain home on his back. The 1,200 keys of the prison were disposed of at the same time, but brought exceedingly poor prices.

Even the most interesting of them were sold at the low price of a franc, or a trifle less than four shillings each.

When that celebrated old hostelry, the Crown Tree, at Fulham, England, was about to be altered, Mr. W. A. White particularly requested that the door should be carefully preserved.

This was a very famous door, with quite a unique history, running back to the time when Good Queen Bess left her black-letter Bible in the bar parlor as she fled from an unexpected police raid.

Unfortunately, owing to some misunderstanding, the door, with certain names of landlords and other notabilities with their own autographs, was completely destroyed.

Although Mr. White offered a considerable sum for half or even a quarter of the valued door, not even this much was forthcoming. All that the workmen could bring him was a barrowful of bits, on which not a name or a mark could be made out.

All possibility for preserving an extremely interesting relic had vanished forever, much to the disappointment of Mr. White, who regarded the door as one of the most precious features of his property.

Seven years ago the people of Stratford-on-Avon waxed highly in honor of the fact that one of the churchwardens had sold as old lumber the ancient carved oak-panelled doors of the north porch of the church celebrated as the burial-place of Shakespeare.

The doors, which were in perfect condition, had just been temporarily removed to bring to light some old carving and a peculiar heavy water stoop in the porch. The purchaser intended using them in the construction of a pigsty! The inhabitants had some difficulty in getting the doors returned and restored to their proper place.

Originator of "Breaking the Line." Admiral Rodney, the originator of the distinctive British naval manoeuvre of "breaking the line," was born February 19, 1719. A veteran of the French wars, he had a brilliant share in Hawke's victory of October 14, 1747, had served under Boscawen at Louisbourg in 1758, and commanded a squadron which in 1759 bombarded Havre and won a battle intended for use in the invasion of England, had in 1762 captured a number of West Indian Islands, had in 1780 heavily defeated a Spanish squadron off Cape St. Vincent, and had in the same year fought three decisive actions with a French fleet. Then, on April 12, 1782, when he was an old man of 63, at a moment when the Revolutionary war was drawing to its glorious conclusion and gloom had settled upon the nation, his opportunity came. His battle with Count de Grasse began in the old formal line, but as the French order was dislocated and several of the French ships idle, while the British squadron was concentrated upon and destroying the remainder. The opposing commander-in-chief and seven ships were the trophies of a manoeuvre which Nelson afterwards imitated upon and put to such brilliant use.

Union Settlement in Newfoundland. Mr. P. T. McGrath, editor of The Evening Herald, St. John's, Newfoundland, recently said with respect to confederation with Canada that "While the question is not a live one at present, the sentiment in favor of union is steadily growing. The old-time unreasonable animosity to it has vanished, and it is being discussed now on practical lines. If union comes in the future it must be by liberal terms being granted to Newfoundland. The first consideration unquestionably in any scheme to bring about Confederation with the Dominion would be the assumption of the debt of the colony, which now amounts to about $17,000,000. One of the principal advantages to Canada of union with the colony, would be the improvement of the St. Lawrence route."

ANOTHER HAPPY MOTHER.

Tells How Her Baby of Eight Months Profited by W. A. Treatment.

Teething time is the critical age in a child's life. Any slight disorder in the stomach or bowels at that time greatly increases the peevishness of the little one and may have serious and even fatal results. It is impossible to take too great care of your baby's health during this period, and no better remedy than Baby's Own Tablets is known for the minor ailments of childhood. Among the mothers who have proved the worth of this medicine is Mrs. R. McMaster, Cookstown, Ont. Her little baby girl was suffering from the combined trials of indigestion, constipation and teething, and the mother's strength was severely taxed by the continuous care the child procured a box of Baby's Own Tablets, however, made such an improvement that Mrs. McMaster is now enthusiastic in their praise.

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the value of Baby's Own Tablets," she writes. "My baby of eight months was much troubled with constipation and indigestion, and was very restless at night. I procured a box of Baby's Own Tablets, and the results were so satisfactory that I have not used any other medicine since. My baby girl is now regular and healthy, and getting her teeth seems much easier, and she rests a great deal better. These Tablets are a great help to little ones when teething."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. They produce natural sleep, because they regulate the stomach and bowels and comfort the nerves. They promptly cure such troubles as colic, sour stomach, constipation, diarrhoea, worms, indigestion and simple fever. They break up colds, prevent croup and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. Dissolved in water, they can be given with absolute safety to the youngest infant. Sold by druggists, or sent postpaid at 25 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Free sample sent on application. Mention this paper.

BEAR LINE.

The Bear Line Easter concert is going to be one of the day. It will be held in the hall on Monday evening, the 31st.

The A. O. F. gave a very nice supper to the members and their friends. The supper was magnificent. The ladies should be congratulated on the loaded tables they provided. After the supper was over a good program was rendered. Rev. Purser was chairman. The program consisted of songs by Miss Armstrong and Mr. James, readings and recitations by Miss Pope and Mr. Gibb Fleming, and photograph selections on Warden Rankin's and Jos. Brown's photographs. The entertainment was a success throughout.

The Miss Hutchinsons, of Harwich, spent Sunday with the Miss Doolittles. The parlor social held at Mrs. John Foy's last Monday evening was not very largely attended.

The young men of this section have organized a football club. Ernest Glasford was elected Sec.-Treas., captain and manager. They have twenty-five members all ready. They will be ready to play against other teams in the near future.

A RAILWAY MAN

Extraordinary Unpleasant Symptoms of Kidney Troubles in This Case.

Tortured by All Kinds of Pains and Aches He Tried Everything, but Failed to Find Relief till a Friend Advised him to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made a well man of him and he is Grateful.

Ottawa, Ont., March 28.—(Special.)—Frank Charrand, a railway man, whose home is at 130 Little Chaudiere Street, has acknowledged that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done more for him than anything else in the world has ever done. He says: "I suffered with backache and was always drowsy and had a very heavy feeling in my limbs."

"I had frequent severe headaches and more times very sharp pains in the top of my head, which gave me much annoyance in my work."

"My fingers would cramp and I would have an uneasiness in my legs and occasional pains in the loins."

"I was dizzy in spells and short of breath. If I ate a hearty meal I would have a pain in my left side. My appetite would sometimes be very good and sometimes I couldn't eat anything."

"I had a constant soreness and tenderness over the spine and tired feeling in the region of my kidneys. I suffered quite a little with a dragging heavy feeling across the loins."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend of mine who had been cured, and I began to use them."

"Almost from the start I began to feel the wonderful improvement, which continued as the treatment proceeded, till the unpleasant symptoms had one by one entirely disappeared."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have worked a wonderful cure in my case and I cannot speak too highly of this great and good remedy."

What Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for Mr. Charrand they have done for thousands of others, and they'll do the same for you if you give them a chance.

There are many railway men in Canada today who find Dodd's Kidney Pills indispensable. They are the railway man's surest and best friend. The constant vibration on trains and engines is very hard on the kidneys and Dodd's Kidney Pills make these organs well and able to resist all causes.

NEW FORCE IN AFRICA.

The British Government Has Decided to Create a Native Army.

The British Government has decided to create a native army in its various protectorates on the eastern coast of Africa. Somaliland, East Africa, Uganda and Central Africa. Somaliland was created a protectorate in 1884. East Africa in 1895, Uganda in 1894, and Central Africa in 1901. In both of these districts the ruling powers have erected and maintained forces composed of natives, officered by British, and serving solely under the authority of the Resident or Commissioner.

The new order combines these separate organizations into "The King's African Rifles," under a brigadier-general, whose headquarters will be Entebbe, Uganda. He will be under the supervision of the British Foreign Office, and will spend a part of each year in England, advising the Foreign Secretary. The resultant army is described as the nucleus of a native army for colonial defence, but is really the first step in the direction of making colonies out of the titular protectorates, which in two cases have come under British supervision by way of "chartered companies."

The natives have shown themselves to be excellent soldiers, they have been put to severe tests in several expeditionary movements, and have left little to be desired. Detachments from two battalions of the Central Africa Rifles visited England a year ago, and made a good impression; and the new force can probably be filled several times over from natives who apply for enlistment. Six battalions—regiments in every thing but name—will be created—two Central Africa and two Uganda battalions and one East Africa and one Somaliland battalion. These will be permanent organizations, officered by officers detached from their regular commands. In view of the successful development of the native Indian troops, which have a certain percentage of which officers appointed permanently, it is possible a similar system may be introduced in the King's African Rifles.

It has been proposed that the provisional Puerto Rico regiment of infantry and the Philippine scouts be incorporated in the permanent establishment of the United States army. The success of the Puerto Rico regiment, composed of natives enlisted from the "Mainland," is an argument for such incorporation, and the success of the British in India their native regiments, and in Africa and elsewhere, is still another argument.

New Testament in Brail Script.

"The New Testament in Brail Script," rendered by Rev. William W. Scott, of St. Catharines, Painsville, 1901. This is a very curious and interesting undertaking, and one not very easy of accomplishment, writes Prof. Clark, of Toronto; for, though it may be contended that Brail script is not properly described as a dialect of English, it can hardly be said, with strict accuracy, that it is a language in the sense that English was a language which was received by the people of the people in a number of dialects. Hence it is that any rendering of a book into Brail script must be only partially satisfactory to the Brail script readers. "Johnnie Gibb," for example, written in the dialect of Aberdeen, would be almost unintelligible to a native of Ayrshire.

The translator of the volume before us has selected what he thought the best Scotch Brail script—that is to say, a language spoken in any part of Scotland, and yet in another sense, spoken and understood throughout the whole of Scotland. We were to imagine a classical Scotch language being formed, we imagine that it would be very much the language that Mr. Wye Smith has adopted.

It is obvious, therefore, that if this work was worth doing, the translator has done it in the best possible lines. With regard to the intrinsic qualities of the translation we have nothing but good to say. The work is well done, and the translator has done it in the best possible lines. With regard to the intrinsic qualities of the translation we have nothing but good to say. The work is well done, and the translator has done it in the best possible lines.

LETTER TO MOTHERS.

By Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club.

Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

All who are at all familiar with social life at the southside of Chicago know well the Arcade Club, and will tell you that it is one of the largest and most influential clubs in Chicago. It can be readily understood, therefore, that such a prominent woman as the head of this club could have only one object in view in allowing her portrait and letter to be published in connection with any medicine, and that is, to do good to other suffering mothers. Well does Mrs. Haskins know that there are thousands of women who dread the period of childbirth; thousands who are prostrated with pain and death at the birth of each child, and for months afterwards are weak and miserable, and almost courting death as a relief from suffering.

A capable mother must be a healthy mother. The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation. Care and careful counsel is what the expectant and cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

Thousands and thousands of women have been carried through this trying ordeal safely and comfortably by a faithful reliance upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. Haskins generously loans us her name and portrait to help us to convince all skeptical women that health and happiness abounds in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. J. H. HASKINS,
President Chicago Arcade Club, Chicago, Ill.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Mothers need not dread childbearing after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved children I dreaded the ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief; but before my last child was born a good neighbor advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth;—it brought me wonderful relief. I hardly had an ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health and happy in mind. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it keeps me in continual excellent health; $2 or $3 a year keeps me well and strong."—Mrs. J. H. HASKINS, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"She is a Pinkham Baby." "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot thank you enough for what you have done for me. I wrote you some time ago about not being able to go my full time during pregnancy. Now, after taking the treatment you advised, we have a dear little girl baby, the joy of our home. I tell my friends she is a Pinkham baby, for had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound we never could have had her. My health is good, thanks to your medicine."—Mrs. HARRY RURT, Urbana, Iowa.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of New York, which will pay to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were obtained before the price of the Pinkham Compound was $5000. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A HELPLESS CHILD. A weak and puny child is badly handicapped in the battle of life. It is isolated from the healthy enjoyments of its little fellow-beings. It cannot partake either of their play or their study work and progress in the world; its whole life is embittered by incapacity and weakness.

Any woman who expects to become a mother ought to know what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do both for her own health and safety during her time of trial and also to insure her in becoming a fair measure of health and strength to the prospective little one.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow (Easter Sunday)—The Risen Christ—John 11:1-18.

Golden Text—"Jesus saith unto her, I am the resurrection and the life."

The last thing expected by the disciples who hastened to the tomb on this first day of the week was to find it empty, "for as yet they knew not the Scripture that He must rise from the dead." Only having hope in Christ in this life, while He was with them at his death made them "of all men most miserable," the more love and hope the more misery. Without a risen Lord our faith is vain and there is no deliverance from sin and misery. "Let us eat and drink for to-morrow we die," like dogs, if Christ is not risen. Not a dead but a living Saviour at the right hand of God for us, is our joy now and for ever. But here and now we must be raised from a death of sin to a life of righteousness. Are we crucified, dead and buried, and raised into the newness of a divine life, by the teaching, experience and power of the Word and Spirit of God? Have old things passed away and all things become new? But all things are of God—to speak, to walk, to work, to war against sin, and our labor is not in vain in the Lord.

Church Notes.

Rev. W. E. Knowles, pastor, will occupy the pulpit in the First Presbyterian Church on both occasions to-morrow.

Motto—Good cheer.
Have you had a kindness shown? Pass it on.
I was not given for you alone—Pass it on.
Let it travel down the years.
Let it wipe another's tears.
Till in heaven the deed appears—Pass it on.

So many have said to me Sunshine is simply a "charitable work" in looking after the poor, etc. This is all very well as far as it goes, but right here let me give a word of explanation. Sunshine certainly is a charitable work, because we aim at all times to do kind and helpful deeds and bring sunshine and happiness into many hearts and homes as possible.

Our membership fee distinctly states that it is the loaning of books, periodicals, or pictures or any articles that cease to be of any use to the owner, fancywork or material for it furnished to a "shut-in" or any who are unable to obtain such articles as would bring a little sunshine into their lives.

In order to raise means for "Our Branch" to carry on its "good work" the young ladies aided at a meeting held yesterday that they would give a set of fancy and useful articles about the end of July and sincerely hope that the citizens of Chatham will do all they can to aid these young people.

In Montreal Sunshine has a firm hold there are many active branches among them, "The Westmount Branch" being the most active. In looking over The Ladies' Home Journal for February I noticed an account of an entertainment given under the patronage of "Lord Strathcona," who is the honorary member for the Westmount Branch, also an account of the West End Chair Circle, and Canada having started free "Sunshine Libraries" as well. Is this not encouraging to the Sunshine Society of Montreal, and why should Chatham be in the background when all we need is a little enthusiasm and a helping hand to those who have already struggled hard to place Sunshine on the same footing as it already is in Lower Canada and the United States.

In speaking of Sunshine dues here is a chance for those interested to send stamps which will be used to help forward sunshine bundles always awaiting the stamps to send them on their round of "Good Cheer."

A pocket full of Sunshine
Is better far than gold.
It drives the daily sorrows
Of the young and of the old;
It fills the world with pleasure,
In field, in lane and street,
And brightens every prospect
Of the morrow that we meet.

A pocket full of Sunshine
Can make the world akin,
And lift a load of sorrow
From the burdened backs of sin;
Diffusing light and knowledge
Through thorny paths of life,
It glides with silent wing
The storm clouds of strife.

WHAT SOLDIERS USE IN AFRICA.

Kinington Pl. London, Eng.
December 1, 1900.

Gentlemen—

I have great pleasure in testifying to the excellence of your remedy, Kellogg, as I found it of great use while on active service in South Africa, and I believe it has no equal as a cure for saddle chafes, sore feet and skin diseases of every kind.

(Signed) Private M. Hanlon.

I have been troubled for some time with eczema in two parts of the body, and although I have tried several supposed cures, and even had medical advice, I was afforded no relief. After rubbing Kellogg twice into the affected parts, however, I must acknowledge myself surprised, though naturally pleased, to find that the eczema had disappeared.

Business Goes On

Our stores are open to-day, and business falls into its old routine again. The work of life goes on, however sore a gap may be left when one of the workers drops in the very flush and ardor of his manhood.

It has been the practice of this firm to talk freely to the public through its newspaper space; not in the set phrases of conventional advertising, but much as one man talks to another. In the same spirit we use this space to-day to say a word of the true man gone from us. Our thoughts are all of him; let the speech follow the thought.

The name of Walter S. Thornton stood for many things. Abounding energy, a quick versatile mind, neighborly help and sympathy in time of trouble. Faults, too, no doubt, but only those of a feeling, lovable nature. His name remains a cherished legacy to the house which he helped to build up; the unblemished name of an honorable man.

King and Third streets.
Mr. Twohey—Property at the corner of Cross and Queen streets.
Dr. Charteris—The properties on the East side of Sixth street.
Mr. Sheldrick—The Davis properties Knight property and Westman Bros.
The above being all that were nominated the voting began, the lowest going out at each vote.
The first vote stood:
Martin ($2,650) 3 votes.
King and Third streets ($1,800) 3 votes.
Cross and Queen streets ($1,450) 2 votes.
Sixth street ($2,700) 0 vote.
Knight, ($1,650) 0 vote.
Davis, ($2,300) 1 vote.
Westman Bros., ($1,500) 0 votes.
Consequently the Sixth street (the Knight and Westman Bros. properties) dropped out.

The second vote stood—Martin, 3 votes; King and Third streets, 4 votes; Cross and Queen streets, 1 vote; Davis property, 1 vote.

A vote was then taken on the Cross street and Davis properties which stayed in the contest. The Davis property lost by three votes, the ballot standing 6-3.

The matter stood now between the three properties and by the next vote they stood—Martin, 4 votes; King street, 4 votes; Davis, 1 vote.

Consequently the Davis property dropped out. The final vote was now taken and some excitement prevailed.

The vote stood—Martin, 5; King street, 4.

It was at this point that Mr. Sheldrick said he thought the choice was a calamity and the Mayor differed with him.

Mr. Humphrey—Although it was not my choice I move that the decision be unanimous and, as there has been a good deal of feeling about the matter, I would like the public to know how I voted; I call for the yeas and nays.

The Mayor endorsed Mr. Humphrey's statement.

Yeas—Sulman, Thibodeau, Smith, Charteris and Davis.

Nays—Sheldrick, Twohey, Scullard and Humphrey.

The vote of Mr. Humphrey for a unanimous decision was put.

Dr. Charteris—if the property neglected can be shown to be not large enough I am willing to withdraw.

The secretary read a communication from the Ontario Library Association, also a clipping from the Globe, which was as follows:

SUITABLE LIBRARY BUILDINGS.
The increasing interest in various parts of the Dominion in the public library question, which is held to be due to a great extent to Mr. Andrew Carnegie's library grants, has resulted in many requests to Librarian James Bain for information as to suitable buildings and furnishings, to be illustrated by a large number of excellent illustrations.

On motion of Messrs. Davis and Humphrey the Chatham Library Board became members of the Ontario Library Association at a fee of $2.

The Chairman and Mr. Scullard were appointed as delegates to the Association at Toronto next week.

The conversation, however, occurred just after adjournment, while the gentlemen were putting on their overcoats.

Mr. Sheldrick—Mr. Smith, I thought you indicated this afternoon that if they reduced the price of the King street property you would support it.

Mr. Smith—Why, if the offer had been made before the offer was made, I would have supported it, because I wanted the King street location.

Mr. Sheldrick—I don't understand what you mean, because the offer was read at the opening of the meeting and you told Mr. Humphrey that we could not ignore that $200 offer.

Dainty Portraiture

Requires Years of Experience in the Art

Your next portrait may be dainty or not, as you choose. It is merely a question of artists. To turn out choice work a thorough knowledge of every detail is necessary. As we know our business from start to finish and do not let a portrait go home unless it is absolutely first-class, we are safe in offering to make "money back" pictures.
