SIXTIETH MILESTONE

Diamond Anniversary Is Celebrated in Park St.
Church

GOOD MUSIC RENDERED

God's hand is at the helm of all affairs of this world, and in his Palms David acknowledged God as the Great Arbitrator. This planet is ruled from above; all the machinery and factories in this world are run from above. Our time is set by the stars, the railways are run by the stars. Yes, all of them—unless possibly the Grand Trunk—Extract from sermon by Rev. Dr. Daniels in Park street church yesterday morning.

Yesterday diamond anniversary services were held in Park street Methodist church to commemorate the sixtieth milestone reached in the history of this splendid local house of worship.

Large and attractive congregations were present at both services, which were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Rutledge, assisted by Rev. Dr. Daniels, an eloquent and forceful young divine from the Forest City.

Mention must here be made of the splendid song service which characterized Sunday's services. A full choir of forty voices were present, lending strength, beauty and harmony to the devotional exercises. The singing by the choir showed long and careful training, and had been brought to a point of excellence which was most fitting to the auspicious occasion which was being commemorated. Miss Hollinrake, the gifted leader, is making praiseworthy progress, and she is deserving of great credit for the results so much in evidence.

Rev. Mr. Rutledge in introducing Rev. Dr. Daniels, the speaker of the day, prefaced his remarks with a few comments upon the remarkable success attendant upon the history of Park street church. It was one of the few Methodist churches in this province, he said, which were built along cathedral lines—a grand old church, with a splendid history of well-doing in the service of the Lord. He also made reference to the calamity which befel the church last June, when the big storm blew over the tower. The rebuilding of the tower was done at considerable expense, and funds are being raised by contributions to pay off the debt incurred.

Rev. Dr. Daniels at the morning service took his text from Psalm cviii, but more particularly from the first verse: "O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise even with my glory."

The preacher's message was to the effect that David was imbued with God's glory, and this was what he spoke of in the text—the glory of a holy and uprighteous God. This Psalm was a cluster of the brightest of literary gems, on which the reverend gentleman dilated with fervor and enthusiasm at some length.

This Psalm proved three things: First that God was the Great Arbitrator; second, God rules by forces which are placed in the hands of his agents. God moves, but it is through his people that he moves, and the intellectual and spiritual forces which uplift humanity are placed in the hands of the church; and third, he would continue to manifest himself in this manner, because of his great love for man.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Premier Alex. Rutherford, of Alberta, called on Mr. N. H. Stevens of the Canada Flour Mills Saturday morning. Premier Rutherford is on his way home from attending the conference of Provincial Premiers held in Ottawa.

Mr. Rutherford left for Blenheim Saturday morning to visit his brother, James Rutherford, of that place. He spent Sunday in Blenheim, and returns to this city on his way home to-day.

NEW WELLS

The well on the Burgess farm, Valetta, belonging to the Maple City Oil & Gas Co., was shot Friday, and ran five inches into the tank between the hours of five and eight in the afternoon. This would amount to something over three barrels an hour.

It is expected that the well will do better as time advances.

THE FERGUSON TROPHY

On Wednesday next at McKay's Corners, the annual contest for the Ferguson trophy will be held, the Palmyra Civilian Rifles and the Howland Rifles being the opposing teams. This club has been held by the Howland Club ever since it was put up for competition eight years ago. The following men will compose the Howland team: Capt. Jas. Leathbridge, Jas. McCormick, Jas. McBryne, Dr. McRitchie, Dan Galbraith, L. Galbraith, Jas. Clark, L. Galbraith, A. McCormick, Geo. Hales, Jas. Lawton, and M. J. Wilson.

HISTORY OF HURON DIOCESE

Special Services Held In Holy Trinity And Christ
Church

WORK OF FIFTY YEARS

Special services were held yesterday in Holy Trinity and Christ Church, commemorative of the fact that yesterday the Diocese enters on its fiftieth year.

It was in October, 1857, that it was decided to form a new Diocese in Western Ontario, the Diocese of Ontario, which then included the whole of the province, having been found to be too unwieldy for one Bishop to administer. Accordingly the thirty-two counties of the western peninsula were separated and the name Huron chosen for the new Diocese, probably on account of the proximity of the great lake of that name.

Since then the growth of the work has been remarkable. In 1857 there were just 39 parishes and 41 clergymen in the newly formed Diocese. To-day there are 162 clergy and 254 churches. The total membership for last year amounted to 87,945 and the total revenue was $234,148. From one of the smallest of the Dioceses of Huron has become one of the important Dioceses of the church in Canada, with a university and every other organization necessary to carry out its work.

When the Diocese of Huron was formed Mr. Rev. Benjamin Cronyn was chosen as the first Bishop. The selection was made for the first time by the election of the Synod representing the people instead of the Government, church and state having become separated about that time, but he was required to go to Lambeth Palace in England to be consecrated. Bishop Cronyn was destined to see a large increase in his Diocese during his life, and it was during his term in 1881 that Huron College was opened in London.

In 1871 Bishop Cronyn died suddenly, and was succeeded by Rt. Rev. Isaac Hellmuth, a native of Warsaw, who held the office until his resignation in 1883 and whose great work was of an educational nature, the founding of the Western University to replace Huron College being due to him.

The third Bishop was Rt. Rev. Maurice Baldwin, on whose death in 1905 the present Bishop, Rt. Rev. David Williams, then rector at Stratford, was chosen to succeed. There have thus been four Bishops during the 50 years, and the Diocese in that time has grown greatly in wealth as well as in population, until to-day it is one of the few Dioceses of the church in Canada in which the money raised for mission purposes is sent direct to the missionary society without any appropriation for home purposes.

BOARD OUT OF IT

Judge Houston Says The Hospital Board Had Nothing To Do With Getting Plans For Addition

Judge Houston had something to say this morning on the article which appeared in The Planet on Saturday relative to the proposed new addition to the Public General Hospital. The Judge is a member of the Hospital Board, and takes a great interest in all matters pertaining to this charitable institution.

"You were wrong when you said that the Board was to blame for the fact that tenders were not asked for the drawing up of the plans for the new maternity ward," said he. "The Board had nothing to do with it. The matter was left entirely with the ladies of the Assisting Society. I don't know what steps they took in ordering the plans, but the Board were invited to the meeting when the tenders on the plans drawn up were brought in. I understand that there was no competition for the securing of plans, and I don't know how the ladies went to Mr. Piper for them."

The estimate for the addition were about $8,000 and the tenders on the Piper plans went up to nearly $11,000. This was considered by all present to be too expensive, and the matter is still under consideration. The fact, however, does not lie with the Board."

OPENED NEW BRANCH

Messrs. Trudell & Tobey, of The Two T's, this city, have absorbed the Rankin interest in the Rankin and Wilson's furniture store of Wallaceburg, and opened up the new store Saturday under the firm name of Trudell, Tobey and Wilson.

The new store is situated on the corner of James and Nelson streets, Wallaceburg, and is one of the best in the town. Though the weather was not very favorable Saturday, the opening sale proved very successful.

FIFTY PERSONS DROWN IN NEW JERSEY RAILWAY WRECK

Three Cars Of Electric Line
Are Submerged But Few Passengers Escaped

ATTEMPTS AT RESCUE

Train Goes Through Drawbridge
With Appalling
Results

Atlantic City, Oct. 29.—By the wrecking of a three-coach electric train on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad yesterday afternoon, at least 50 passengers perished, and the list may reach the appalling total of 75 when all is known.

While crossing over a drawbridge spanning the waterway known as "The Thoroughfare," which separates Atlantic City from the mainland, the train left the track and plunged into the water.

25 Bodies Recovered.
The passengers in the first two coaches, with few exceptions, were drowned. Up to midnight last night 25 bodies had been recovered, and it is possibly more bodies are still in the submerged coaches.

The disaster is the worst that has happened since the terrible Meadowbrook of July 30, 1898. The train, made up of three heavy vestibule electric coaches, which left Camden, N. J., at one o'clock in the afternoon, carried probably 88 passengers, as that number of tickets are held by the conductor. He is uncertain, however, just how many passengers the train carried, and until all the bodies have been taken out of the submerged coaches, it will not be possible to give an approximate estimate of the dead.

Cause Not Established.
The cause of the wreck has not been established. It was probably due to a defective rail or the breaking of some part of the superstructure of the first coach.

While running at a speed said to have been moderate and not unusual the first coach left the rails and dragged those following it over the ties for a distance of 50 feet. Suddenly swerving the first two coaches plunged over the side of the bridge into the water 20 feet below.

The third coach struck a heavy abutment, broke its couplings and for a brief time hung perilously suspended over the water.

Brief as was this period, however, it gave more than a score of passengers an opportunity to escape by the rear door. Then the car slid off and followed the other two into the water. It is believed every one in the rear or third coach escaped alive, though all were more or less injured.

The accident was witnessed by many persons on shore, and assistance was promptly sent from Atlantic City. Little could be done, however, towards saving of the lives of those imprisoned in the submerged coaches. They quickly settled in the mud, and as the tide rose they were soon hidden from sight except for the trolley poles.

Divers were sent down and tried to reach the dead bodies, but darkness set in and the tide ran too swiftly for them to accomplish much.

Brave Attempts at Rescue.
John Taylor of Camden was among those who went overboard with the cars, but he kicked in a window of the rear car and swam to the piling of the bridge, where he held fast until bravely rescued by J. P. DeFord.

Charles Kessler, a local merchant, got an axe, jumped to the top of a submerged car, and began to hack in the roof to liberate the imprisoned passengers. He did good work, but could not release many, under the circumstances. Mrs. McDonald of Philadelphia, who was in the third car and is a good swimmer, escaped by a window as the car toppled into the water. She dived four times for her husband and rescued him after she had brought to the surface three other men.

John Eades of this city was on the train and escaped by crawling through a window of the rear car and swimming ashore.

The man who attends the bridge says the bridge was properly closed and that the tracks had been inspected.

Not More Than 57 Dead.
Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—Late last night the Pennsylvania Railroad made the statement, showing, according to information received here, not more than 57 of the 80 persons on the train lost their lives in the Atlantic City accident.

A FORMER CANADIAN

Mr. Root, manager of the company "Babes in Toyland," which appears at the Erie-Opera House to-night, was a native of this city. He carries a large company and has secured all who attend at the Opera House to-night that they will see a good production. The company arrived in the city yesterday from Detroit, where they have been playing for a week.

FALL WORK AGAINST INSECTS.

Prof. C. J. S. Bethune, of the Guelph Agricultural College, in a recent bulletin, gives some valuable pointers on the subject of fall work against insects. The time of year has now arrived when most of our insect foes have ceased their active work and are withdrawn from observation and consequently most people come to the conclusion that the season's fight is over and that nothing need at present be done. But this is very far from being the case. There are many destructive insects that can be more easily dealt with now than at any other time of the year.

First and foremost the Pea-weevil. The losses from this insect have been very much lessened during the last two seasons in Ontario, but this does not mean that we have got rid of the trouble. The insect is still with us, but being in greatly reduced numbers can be more easily dealt with. If there is the least suspicion of the presence of the tiny beetle in the newly harvested peas, they, and in any case peas intended for seed should be at once treated with bisulphide of carbon which will kill every one that is exposed to its fumes. The method is familiar enough; put peas in an air tight cask or bin, and place in an open pan on top of them one ounce of the bisulphide to every 100 pounds of peas (a bushel weighs about 60 pounds), cover up tightly and leave for 48 hours. Then open up either out of doors or where there is a thorough draft of air; do not allow any fire or light to come near it, as the vapour is very inflammable and explosive; every weevil or other insect among the peas will be dead and non-infested seed will be available for next year. The same treatment should be used for the Bean-weevil, which is a serious pest in some parts of the province.

In addition of this treatment of the peas themselves, the pea-straw and rubbish should be cleared up and burnt and all refuse where threshing has been done should be similarly got rid of. This will destroy any weevils that have already come out and are hiding away for the winter. It will pay to do this whether the insect is known to be present or not. This brings us to the next important matter, namely clean farming and gardening. All sorts of insects find their winter quarters in refuse. Many that infest grain take refuge in the stubble, others are sheltered by loose rubbish, others again hide in tufts of grass, among the weeds in fence corners, under bark, wherever, in fact, there is shelter of any kind. Now is the time to turn them out and expose them to the frost and wet. Clean up and burn weeds of every kind, this will destroy many seeds as well as insects. Leave no heaps of rubbish anywhere. Gather up and add to the manure pile the leaves and stalks of roots, potatoes, etc. Plough up old pastures that are infested with white grubs of the larvae of Rose beetles. Scrape the rough bark off the trunks and limbs of fruit-trees but this may be done later on in the winter. By keeping the farm, the orchard, and the garden clean, myriads of insects will be prevented from finding on the premises the shelter they need during the winter, and will either perish or go somewhere else for a hiding place, and thousands more that are in the egg or chrysalis stage will be destroyed. Many, no doubt, will think all this too much trouble, but if they faithfully try it, they will soon find that it pays.

"If you want maladministration, approve of it; if you want the Government to steal elections, approve of it; if you want them to appoint criminals to public service, approve of it; if you want all these things, support the Government candidate. But if you want honest administration, if you want to show your disapproval of these methods, vote for the opposition candidate. One vote with another does not matter much. But it is a serious question for the electors whether they shall give their approval of such corruption or shall by their votes settle it once and for all."—From address of R. L. Borden at Kincardine.

MILLION FOR THE POOR

WHAT BRITAIN WILL SPEND IN LONDON THIS WINTER.

Parliament Votes the Money—John Burns is to Have the Spending of It In His Hands—His Frank, Not to Say Brutal, Talk—Some Men Better Dead—The Pauper Army of the Metropolis.

With the first touch of frost the thin-limbed, ill-nourished tramps are driven to the cities for warmth and food. It is in winter, for this reason, that the problem of the unemployed obtrudes. Another cause is the cessation of many industries and employments that give work to unskilled labor in warm weather. Accordingly to its population and its general prosperity. London, the richest city in the world, has the most serious problem of all in reference to the man out of work, and London has already made preparations for grappling with the tremendous and dangerous task the winter of 1906-7 is sure to bring.

Parliament Votes the Money.
Mr. John Burns in presenting the estimates of the Local Government Board to Parliament, said $1,000,000 will be spent by the British Government in relieving the hungry and homeless men, women and children over the winter. A great proportion of this vast sum will be spent in the City of London, whither the unemployed from all parts of the British Isles flock in pursuit of employment. Beside this million dollars that will be spent by Hon. John Burns, private philanthropy and charitable institutions will continue to do their part, but it will be a lessening of the Government's burden. Indeed, it may well be doubted if more money will be spent on the unemployed this winter than last, for thousands of people will excuse themselves from giving on the ground that they have already done so, through the Government.

John Burns' Plans.
For the deserving unemployed, therefore, the situation will be chiefly improved by the fact that John Burns is to have the spending of the money. In a recent interview the president of the Local Government Board explained his plans for distributing the money. It is to be divided into 15 or 16 amounts, each being apportioned to a different area, there to be spent by the local authorities. He said:

"There is plenty of work to be done, when I get the unemployed at work they will have a chance of earning their wages. For instance, an immense amount of work can be profitably engaged in the reclamation of waste lands, the repairing of coast erosion, in the building of public works, digging ditches, and other things. All of these works can be made eventually profitable to the community which carries them out, and by each local district employing men and setting them to work on useful jobs, they will earn their wages, so far as the funds at my disposal will allow, I hope to do a little toward the solution of the unemployed problem which confronts the country."

Some Men Better Dead.

In brief, then, the million dollars is to be spent in wages. On this point Mr. Burns is frank, not to say brutal. Of late he has been speaking about London at nights, talking to the homeless men who sleep under the arches of Waterloo bridge, and on the Embankment. Speaking of them for them to be crushed and even to die from their hardships—is it not more in keeping with the decencies of manhood than to go into the workhouse and allow themselves to be supported out of the public purse? It is better, in my judgment, for a man to wear a ragged coat, tramp the streets than to lose his independence and manhood by taking his ease in some of the workhouses in London, which I have had to show up recently. For professional loafers and cadgers, I have no use. It is really better that they should die off."

London's Pauper Army.

Mr. Burns declares that, if he can help it, not a penny of the million dollars will go to the relief of these wretches. They too generally benefit from present charitable institutions, and deprive the philanthropy that should go to the real workers. Things should be made hard for them instead of easy. He does not believe in "do-as-house" economics or soup-kitchen charity, but reserves all his sympathy, private and official, for the man who wants to get to work but cannot. That he deserves work but cannot. That he deserves it is indicated by Mr. Burns' statement that in London there are 124,000 paupers and vagrants, 30,000 casual poor in lodging-houses, 20,000 pauper lunatics, 6,000 imbeciles, and 50,000 criminals—all living off the workers.

It is not likely that such a frank statement of his views will further endear Mr. Burns to the Labor party, some of whose leaders have taken the ground that the nation owes every man a living, and that all must be provided for, if necessary, at the public expense. They also insist that the capitalist and competitive systems are responsible for the unemployed problem. Burns blames drink and gambling.

John Burns in Canada.

His visit to Canada should have opened the eyes of the president of the Local Government Board to the advantages this country offers to Englishmen of a type who, through no fault of their own, lose employment and eventually become a charge on the rates. So far as mere numbers are concerned Canada could supply every idle man in the British Isles with a farm; but the man who is a "cadger" in the Old Country is not likely to be anything else in Canada or wherever he may be sent. The man who is idle because he can find nothing easy enough to do is no more wanted here than in England, says The Mail and Empire. But the industrious artisan or laborer who sees before him in the Old Country nothing but a lifetime of hard work for mere wages would be not only helping himself, but doing his part in solving the problem of the unemployed, by coming out to Canada and taking up land.

DO NOT BE A BURDEN

Some Good Advice to Readers of The Planet.

A weak stomach and its resulting ills are not natural. With proper care and the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, the very worst case of indigestion or stomach trouble can be completely cured.

It is a sin to deprive oneself of enjoyment in life and become a burden to others through indigestion. The backaches, headaches, distress after eating, loss of appetite, gulping up of undigested food, all gases are not natural. Mi-o-na stomach tablets used for a few days before meals will so strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat anything you want without fear of distress or remaining sick.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be taken, while the ordinary remedy is taken after meals, and simply digests the food without strengthening the stomach.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with results. Mi-o-na is sold by drug stores everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents. Write to-day for a free sample package, and a 50 cent box of your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give you your case his careful and personal attention without charge. ## Even a—Will Turn.

The secretary of the American embassy in London was piloting some of Uncle Sam's children through one of London's museums the other day when he observed an attendant wearing a sort of military uniform surrounded by a host from which a chin strap hung. Meantime an inquisitive tourist was firing volleys of questions at the man's defenceless head. His final question was: "Say, what is that strap under your chin for?"

The attendant sighed. "The strap is to rest my jaw when I get tired answering questions," said he.—Tatler.

DIET NOT THE WHOLE THING.

Your table is loaded with food—digestible and wholesome, yet you never gain strength. What's the trouble? Look within, and what do you find? A lazy liver, stomach overloaded with work—useless work because the bowels and liver are not sufficiently active. Relief is quickly supplied by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They make weak folk strong by removing the cause of the weakness. Digestion improves, constipation leaves, liver takes new life, kidneys wake up—the whole system is enlivened by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No better medicine for the sick or well, 25c. at all dealers.

IRELAND A LITERARY FONT.

Its Folklore is the Source of Many English Books.

That Irish literature is the source of much of the literature of England and America, and that many of the plots of the stories of both nations were taken from the folk tales and legends of Ireland, Prof. Dr. Thomas Taylor, at a luncheon of the Irish Fellowship Club at the Union restaurant in New York recently. Prof. Dr. Hill recently returned from a visit to Ireland, where he was invited by the Irish Choral Society of Chicago, to begin a movement for the revival of the music and folk songs of Ireland. He is the musical director of the society.

"Rip Van Winkle is a steal from an Irish legend," said Prof. Dr. Hill. "There are innumerable stories in Ireland of the long sleep of heroes and of adventures on awakening. At Killarney a man fell asleep and slept 300 years. The peasants still show the marks in the rock worn by his arms and hips."

REBELLIOUS CLERGY.

Must Yield to France or Property Will Be Sequestered.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Cabinet has reached a decision regarding the application of the law providing for the separation of church and state, by which the property for revenues of the churches, in the event of the clergy persisting in their present rebellious attitude, will be sequestered Dec. 11, but the churches themselves will remain open for public worship under the law of assembly of 1881 during the ensuing year before the law goes finally into effect.

In the meantime, should the clergy refuse to yield, Ministerial declaration will be issued, indicating very clearly the intention of the Cabinet to ask Parliament for special legislation to meet the situation.

Give Impetus to Schism.

Some of the newspapers declare that the Council of State is prepared to render a decision that only associations with the consent of the church wardens and parish priests are legally entitled to take over church property, those formed by outsiders having no previous connection with the church wardens or parish priests being ineligible. If this proves to be correct, the decision will give an impetus to schism, as of all the associations thus far constituted but two have the concurrence of both the parish priest and church wardens, and these have been formally interdicted by the bishops.

Threat to Priests.

Bordeaux, Oct. 27.—Cardinal Lecot, Archbishop of Bordeaux, has issued an appeal to the faithful not to join "false Catholics and bad priests" in the formation of associations to take over church property; warned the parishioners who display his injunction that they will lose the right to confess and receive the sacrament, and notified the priests that they will be prohibited from preaching and administering the sacrament, adding that those "who thus wrongfully acquire church property will not die in a state of sin, but the obligation will rest upon their posterity so long as the memory of the robbery endures."

Colors That Cure Consumption.

The value of light as an agent in curing diseases is becoming increasingly recognized, says the Chicago Journal. The latest development of the idea is the assertion of a medical man that the clothes worn by consumptives should be of a color which will allow the light to penetrate the body. White material, it is found, are the best for this purpose, and consumptives are consequently advised to clothe themselves in snowy raiment, either of linen, velvet, cotton or cloth. Silk, however, is barred.

From London Bridge In a Sack.

Some years ago a porter named Fuller, employed at Billingsgate market, London, made a bet that he would jump from London bridge tied up in a sack, his only stipulation being that he should be provided with a knife, which he was not to open till he touched the water, with which to rip open the sack. He succeeded in accomplishing the feat and when picked up by some friends in a boat was none the worse for his dive.

THE BULLET THAT KILLED

Belanger Was Fired By Alex MacLaren Of Lumber Company

EVIDENCE AT INQUEST

Buckingham, Oct. 27.—At the enquiry before Coroner McMahon of Montreal into the deaths of Belanger and Theriault, who were killed in the strike riots here, one of the witnesses swore that the shot that killed Belanger was fired by Alex. MacLaren of the MacLaren Lumber Co.

Drs. Wallace and Secord, who made the autopsies, gave evidence that the bullet wound in Theriault's body was from a .32 calibre revolver. He died one shot. Belanger had three bullet wounds, but all the bullets passed through him and were not found.

Dr. Rodrigue was put under severe examination by M. Maylen, counsel for the MacLaren Co., as his presence in the buggy with the rifles. The doctor denied that he knew anything about the rifles being in the vehicle until he heard it by rumor afterwards. He also denied that he told any persons there would be bloodshed that afternoon. He swore Albert MacLaren used a revolver.

Why Riot Act Was Not Read.

Coroner McMahon said he would examine all the magistrates to learn why they did not read the Riot Act. Magistrate Pearson explained that he was out of the town, and Magistrate Gorman, who was at the affray, said he did not anticipate serious trouble until the firing became furious.

J. B. Clement, a striker, swore that Belanger did not have a revolver, and that Alex. MacLaren fired the shot which killed Belanger. He was positive that the police fired the first shot.

Louis Landry, in whose rig the rifles were found, said that he did not know the names of the men who had the rifles. He is secretary of the union, and said that the strikers' rifles were not loaded, being designed as a bluff to frighten them.

Buttons.

Buttons are certainly as ancient as the siege of Troy, in the ninth century before our era, for, both in that unfortunate city and at Mycenae, Dr. Schliemann discovered objects of gold, silver and bronze which could have had no other use than that of buttons. In mediaeval times the clothing of the common people was generally fastened with wooden pegs of the type and form of those resorted to in emergencies by the country boy of the present day. Buttons covered with cloth were prohibited by George I. in 1720 to encourage the manufacture of metal buttons.

Manthorn, owned in Liverpool, N.S., on her passage from Havana to Mobile, has been out 32 days, and as the trip should be made in six days all hopes for her safe arrival are given up. Hawkesbury, Oct. 27.—Mr. Alfred Eanturel is confined to his room with inflammation of the lungs, contracted while campaigning in the County of Quebec last week.

Left Handed Animals.

It may seem queer to speak of an animal or a bird as left handed, but the naturalists use that term in discussing the question, just as they do in speaking of human beings. Many of them claim that all animals and birds are left handed. Livingston, the famous African explorer, was among these. One of his illustrations is the habit of the lion in always striking with its left paw. Parrots are probably left handed, for they nearly always take with the left claw anything that may be handed to them. A student of parrot habits says, however, that this may be accounted for by the fact that people use the right hand in giving anything to a parrot, and the bird naturally extends the claw that is nearer the object.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because the food is not properly digested, and its products accumulated by the system. The blood is clogged with poisons which come from the disordered digestion and the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, depression, and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor blood the body is not properly supplied with the elements of life, and the system is a mass of poisons. The body is a mass of poisons, and the system is a mass of poisons. The body is a mass of poisons, and the system is a mass of poisons.

Many reprimands from the force are looked for on account of the order. Many men have been on plain clothes duty for six or more years.

SITUATION IN JAPAN

Exclude of Japanese May Lead to an Open Rupture With Us

NEEDS DELICATE WORK

Washington, Oct. 27.—At yesterday's Cabinet meeting, among the important matters discussed was the situation growing out of the anti-American sentiment in Japan and the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco.

It was stated by a member of the Cabinet after the meeting, that the general opinion of the members was that the Japanese situation was exceedingly grave and would require the most delicate treatment to avoid an open rupture.

It developed yesterday that proceedings initiated in San Francisco Thursday, to compel the authorities to receive Japanese pupils into the public schools, were directed by the Department of Justice.

Telling In Japan.

London, Oct. 27.—In a despatch from Tokyo, the correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says the Japanese Foreign Office has received a reply, through Ambassador Viscount Suze Aoki, at Washington, to the effect that the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco was quite a local affair.

The American Government was not aware of the details of the incident until after the receipt of the cablegrams from Japan. The American ambassador at Tokyo, Luke E. Wright, has given a pledge that the United States will not discriminate between Japanese and other foreign children, and that she undertakes to protect Japanese interests fully.

Lamentable Incident.

Baron Kentarō Kaneko, a member of the Privy Council, the correspondent continues in the course of an interview on this subject, said the incident was lamentable in view of the ever-increasing friendship between Japan and the United States. He applauded the moderate tone of the Japanese press, which he declared to be based upon gratitude.

He said further, there was no doubt evidence that Japan was deeply pained at the action of San Francisco, but it was universally held that the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was an outcome of the present electoral campaign in the United States.

Japanese Restaurant Suffer.

Japanese restaurant-keepers have suffered indignities in San Francisco as well as Japanese school children, according to reports received by the Japanese ambassador from the Japanese consular officials in that city.

At least seven or eight reports have been made concerning a boycott inaugurated against Japanese restaurants in the California city. Agents have been posted to prevent patrons from entering the restaurants, and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken, according to the statements of Japanese officials.

Aggression Is Purely Local.

These cases have been brought to the attention of Secretary Root by Viscount Aoki, who says it is with great reluctance that he brings to the attention of the central Government demonstrations against the Japanese, which are purely local in their nature.

Viscount Aoki said that all the trouble has been confined to San Francisco. The ambassador assured his Government again yesterday that the outbreak against the Japanese is purely local, and was much gratified at receiving despatches which showed that the Japanese press is for the most part attempting to check the feeling against Americans.

May Be Partial Renewal.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Col. Orbis, president of the Canadian Improvement Co., and P. H. Clerke called at the Parliament buildings yesterday afternoon and had an interview with the Ministers present, including Premier Whitney, who returned by the 4.30 train. Premier Whitney stated that there was nothing to be said until after November 1. "There is nothing to trouble the Government in the affairs at the Box," was Premier Whitney's declaration. There is a belief in some circles that a partial renewal of the lean may be expected.

Sum for Loss of Wife.

Peterboro, Oct. 27.—A writ was issued in the high court yesterday at the instance of Wellington Gannon, a farmer of North Monaghan Township, against J. J. Boyd and J. Ames Boyd of the same township, claiming $50,000 from the defendants for the alleged alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's wife, and for harboring her. The Boyds are father and son.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old-fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs, found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as the class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped in the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

No. 6

Said Mary to her little Lamb:
"The autumn days are bright,
Yet I am feeling very blue—
I'm sure I'm just a fright."

P. S.—"Surething!" rejoined the lamb with that smiling complacency which always characterized him. He gave his gaudy green tail a shake. It was dyed with Eclipse dyes—2 packages for 5c at Radley's.
"What you need, Mary, is a bottle of Radley's Female Tonic. It costs only 50c and will do you 50c worth of good."

DR. CAMPBELL'S FINE ADDRESS

Splendid Sermons Were Given in William St.
Baptist Church

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

"Never in this history of the church have there been such successful anniversary services as this year." So remarked many of the leading members of the William street Baptist church last night at the conclusion of the service. The pastor, Rev. J.
W. Hoyt, and the officers of the church, have spared no pains to make this anniversary occasion a huge success, and their efforts have been highly rewarded. At the suggestion of pastor Hoyt, Dr. J. L. Campbell, of Boston, Mass., who thirty-eight years ago was pastor of the William street Baptist church in this city, was invited to visit his old field of labor where he has yet many warm friends, and the congregation was de-lightedly when he arrived. He made the trip at the doctor's had decided to accept the invitation extended to him by the church. As was stated before in the columns of this journal, Dr. Campbell is a preacher of great ability and power, and has made a name for himself both in Canada and the States as a man of great intellectual and scholarly attainments.
Preaching services have been held in the church since Thursday night and meetings have been held every afternoon, at which Dr. Campbell gave very helpful and instructive Bible readings along the line of the Christian life, dealing with such subjects as Prayer, the Study of the Word, Work, etc.

For the services yesterday,
the pulpit and choir loft were artificially decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums, the work of the Young Peoples Society. The church edifice couldn't begin to accommodate the crowds that gathered last night to listen to the doctor's last address, and many who went at fifteen and ten minutes before the hour for service were turned away. The preacher took his text from John 4: 42:
"Now we believe, not because of thy saying, for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed Christ, the Saviour of the world." After some general remarks about the various inviting and tempting forms of arguments against the authenticity of the word of God, the speaker developed his subject under two heads, viz.: We accept the truth of Christianity on the testimony of others, and (2) we accept the truth of Christianity because we have the testimony ourselves. Referring to the second thought, the speaker said that if you want to know if God's book is true then apply the precedent truth and you will find out for yourself. Repeat of your sin and you will find out if God's book is true.
Taste it for yourself, then you will know all about it.

The choir, under the able leadership of Miss Helen Carter, rendered excellent music at both the services.
Three anthems and a male quartette consisting of Messrs. W. Wrigley, Aikins, A. Wrigley and Wheeler were sung in fine style. The chorus parts of the anthems were well sung, while the solo work was well taken by Miss D. Carter, H. Carter, J. Skovr, and F. Herries. At the close of the evening service Miss H. Carter rendered very sweetly "There is a Green Hill Far Away."

The offerings for the day were largely and liberally given, the total amounting to about nine hundred dollars. This sum, it is expected, will be considerably augmented when all the contributions are handed in.

His heart was as great as the world, but there was no room in it to hold the memory of a wrong.

MAN SHOTS WIFE

Tragedy on the Quebec Esplanade—
Has Been Acting Strangely.

Quebec, Oct. 25.—Saturday morning a man named George Lecouteur shot and instantly killed his wife on the Esplanade here.

The pair, it seems, were sitting on one of the benches facing St. Louis street, near the Garrison Club, when Lecouteur suddenly drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering his wife's left cheek and passing through the brain, causing instant death.

No cause is assigned for this dreadful act, but it is said, by Lecouteur's friends that he has been acting strangely of late, and it is thought he was mentally deranged.

Lecouteur was immediately arrested and lodged in central police headquarters. The body of his victim, a lady of about 60 years of age, was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Lecouteur is a man about 45 years old, and is the father of Donald Lecouteur, who was killed in the Transvaal after the South African war.

A BIG LIST OF OFFENDERS

Judge Houston Deals With Many Cases—Several Remanded

BOOZE CAUSES TROUBLE

There was a big Police Court docket this morning. Owing to the absence of the Crown Attorney, who is out of the city, many of the cases were adjourned until such time as he will be able to be present.

The case against Edward Jackson, who is charged with impersonation, in connection with the cashing of a check, was adjourned until to-morrow.

ALSO REMANDED.
William Gordon, who is charged in the same case, was also remanded until to-morrow. Jackson claims that Gordon was the man who found the check and gave it to him. Gordon is out on his own bail.

HE GOT BAIL.
Albert Chrysler, who is charged with misappropriating a sum of money belonging to William Lef-h, of the Metropole Barber Shop, was also remanded until to-morrow. His father went his bail, and he was allowed out to appear to-morrow.

PAID THE COSTS.
The man Dungey, who was charged with stealing, was allowed to go after he had paid the costs in the case, which amounted to $18.25. He was the man who bought liquor for a number of small boys. He works for Hedley, and is a good workman.

When asked whether he would pay a fine or take a term in the Central, he replied that he could pay a fine. The $18.25 was paid by Mr.
Hadley, who was anxious to get Dungey to work again.

A DRUNK FINED.
Thomas Pearson, a drunk, was run in Saturday night, and allowed out yesterday, after he had paid the usual fine. Pearson was found sitting around on Laurox street in the rain. He was sober and penitent yesterday, and the Chief allowed him to settle and go.

AN OLD PENSIONER.
Thomas Walls was arrested for damaging the residence belonging to Mrs. Judith Letourneau. Walls used to board at this house, and Saturday at noon he came home intoxicated.
There were only women in the house at the time and they were considerably frightened. They asked him to go away, but Walls had paid his board in advance, and he thought that he was entitled to his dinner.
The women sent him to the door, outside the door, and Walls went away.
He came back again, and tried to get in at the door. In doing so the door was damaged to some extent, and Walls found himself in Police cells.
He came up this morning and was remanded until to-morrow.

Walls is an old pensioner of the British Navy, and served in the Navy 25 years. He did not know where he was until yesterday, when he woke up in the jail. He was just over his drunk and one of the inmates had to tell him that he was in jail. He claims to know nothing of what happened while he was drunk, and does not remember anything about trying to break into the Letourneau residence.

Elihu Root Finds Way Out Of Japanese - U. S.
Difficulty

NATION IS ABOVE STATE

New York, Oct. 26.—Washington advises to The Tribune point out that for the first time in the history of the United States the sixth article of the constitution is to be invoked to compel local authorities within a state to respect the provisions of a treaty, and the doctrine of states' rights seems destined to receive the severest blow it has experienced since the civil war.

Previous administrations have remained helpless in the face of local action, which has seriously embarrassed the nation in its relations with foreign powers, and outrages within the boundaries of the states have gone unpunished by the Federal Government because of the belief that the Federal Government was without jurisdiction.

It has remained for Elihu Root, the present Secretary of State, to annu-ciate the principle that the constitution of the United States affords ample authority to compel observance by a state of the provisions of an international treaty.

Article 6 of the constitution of the U. S. declares:

"This constitution and the laws of the United States, which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land;
and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary, notwithstanding."

Confident that Secretary of State Root is correct in his belief that there is full authority under the constitution, the administration will promptly endeavor to put a stop to those discriminations against Japanese citizens which local authorities within the State of California have been and are practising in violation of article 1 of the treaty of 1894, between the Japanese Empire and the United States of America.

Japs Won't Boycott.
Tokio, Oct. 26.—The course of action pursued by the United States, with the view of protecting the treaty rights of Japanese has been somewhat effective in soothing the feelings of the Japanese people, injured by the San Francisco school incident, and it is altogether unlikely, and there is yet no sign whatever, that the Japanese will imitate the Chinese in boycotting American goods.

Great powers and natural gifts do not bring privileges to their possessors so much as they bring duties.

Alicia's Home Coming

Copyright, 1936, by Ruby Douglas

"It isn't even as if you needed to do this, Alicia," Bob Kendal held his voice to a cool, argumentative tone that made the girl before him still more indignant.

"We are you that you should decide whether I need to do anything at all?" she blazed indignantly.

"I am your fiancé, and"—he was beginning when she interrupted him.

"If that is your excuse for such unjust interference with my wishes, I can at least relieve you of your duty." And she placed her engagement ring on the table between them. The young man glanced at it without seeming to see it. Then he looked sharply at the angry girl who was drawn to her full height.

"Alicia," he said gently, "you are too angry to realize what you are doing. Put the ring on your finger again. You do mean this."

"Pardon me, I do mean it," said the girl icily.

The young man's face whitened, and a hurt look sprang into his steady brown eyes. Then he straightened up and squared his shoulders and set his strong chin firmly. When he spoke there was a note of hardness in his voice which the girl had never heard from him before and from which she shrank mentally.

"Alicia, do you realize what you are doing? We were to be married in May. Your trousseau is begun, I know. And you've given me every reason to believe you cared for me as much as I do for you. And now, because I ask you to do this one thing—for your sake as well as mine—you are going to give all this up?"

The girl turned suddenly and went to the window, where she stood looking out into the dripping garden. She felt her lips quivering, and she must not let Bob see.

Bob looked at the crown of dark red hair against the deep green of the window draperies, and his voice softened.

"This is all I've ever asked of you, Alicia. I've been too confident of your love for me after you confessed it; I've believed in you too utterly ever to be jealous of your flirtations, as many another man would have been—and rightly too. I've submitted cheerfully to being 'trilled' in public because it was you who did the 'trilling'."

Alicia turned and faced him again, her foot tapping the floor impatiently.

"Is the list of your virtues a long one, sir?" she asked.

"I shall not name them all," he answered calmly. "The only thing I've ever insisted upon your doing is this one: we're talking about. Give up this silly concert tour. I've never said a word when you've sung for sweet charity's sake or for any society affair, even when the publicity of the events has often made me write. This time you haven't any real reason. You are not in need of money, and you're not doing it for charity. It isn't even the necessary ambition of the professional to win a higher place for herself. You will get flattery from the critics who do not think it worth the effort to spend real criticism on society amateurs. If they should criticize you honestly—the way they do professionals, to whom it means bread and butter—you'd see the point I'm trying to make. I appreciate the charm of you and your voice as no one else who looks and listens to you possibly can, and Alicia Fairall, I don't want to see you 'damned with faint praise' or humiliated by any conscientious critic. Can't you see that?"

"When you are quite through," interrupted Alicia, "you can doubtless find your way out. I must ask you to excuse me." And she swept from the room, pausing once in the curtained doorway as if to speak.

Unconsciously she assumed a theatrical attitude. Her face was turned back over her shoulder, and her lips were parted a little. With her glowing head and her soft green dress between her heavier green of the curtains she looked like a tall, beautiful dahlia, and Bob involuntarily started forward. But she closed her lips to a thin red line and went on dropping the curtains behind her. Presently he heard the tapping of her slippers upon the stairs and then the bang of a door.

He did not leave the house at once, but stood at the window where Alicia had stood and looked out into the gray twilight. It was early spring. As he looked wearily at the sparrows on the soaked lawn Bob felt his throat tighten and brushed his hand across his eyes.

"She couldn't mean it," he muttered as he turned and picked up the emerald ring and slipped it into his vest pocket. "It is too close to May for her to mean that." Then he sought for paper and pen and sat down at the table. He wrote:

Dear, I have been too harsh to forgive me. I have said too strongly, perhaps, what I believe to be true, and all I want is to spare both of us the pain any failure of yours would be sure to cause. Think it over well, dear, before you decide. What I came to tell you today is that our house is all done. The last workman has left. I am enclosing a key—there are only two—and I beg you will go there and think it all over at least once before you decide finally.

He inclosed the key and on his way out handed the envelope to the butler to "be taken up to Miss Alicia."

As for Alicia, she had gone straight to her desk and had written the following note:

My Dear Mr. Courtney—I have decided, as I promised I would by today, about the concert tour. You may depend upon me for your soprano. And as I have been the only one to object to the longer trip you planned I withdraw my objections to that also. Under your management I feel sure we shall be successful. Sincerely, ALICIA LEE FAIRALL.

When she had heard the closing of the outer door she gave the note to the butler and took from him the envelope Bob had left. With it in her hand she went slowly upstairs and sat down before her grate fire. She felt her anger melting away, and by the ache in her throat knew that tears were not far off. She tore open the envelope, hoping to find some stimulus to her indignation, but at the gentleness of the words and the sight of the key to the home she and Bob had so eagerly, carefully planned the tears came with a rush, and, burying her face in the arm of her easy chair, she cried herself to sleep.

Press notices of "a concert to be given in the near future by the best amateur talent the city afforded" began to be frequent during the next few weeks. Then came the programme and pictures of the principals. Alicia was often mentioned, and one Sunday paper contained her picture, a theatrically posed, full length affair, with her head over one shoulder and her lips as if speaking. Bob's heart sank and turned sick. She did mean it, then.

As the time drew near he thought he would go to the concert, and when the night finally came he dressed early and fidgeted miserably till time to start. Then, suddenly changing his mind, he had himself driven to the door of the little new home he and Alicia had planned together. Bob let himself into the house with his key, which he always carried, and walked through the empty, desolate rooms, which by now should have been furnished and ready for the bride's home coming. He roamed clear through the house, drawing the shades and lighting all the chandeliers till every room was blazing with light. Then he turned them off and lit a blazing fire in the dining room grate, and, sitting down on the high settee built into the niche by the fireplace, he closed his eyes and deliberately conjured up the presence of Alicia.

He was almost asleep when he heard the front door open and close and the click of high heeled slippers on the bare floors, accompanied by the unmistakable swish of a woman's silken skirts. Then he heard a match scratched and an impatient exclamation as something was dropped. Then, with his heart pounding violently, he laid his head back against the settee and feigned sleep.

He heard the steps come to the dining room door, heard Alicia's voice say "Oh!" in frightened, breathless surprise, felt his heart beat almost to suffocation, and then he heard the steps recede with a rush to the hall and the front door open. He was about to call to her when he heard her say to some one on the porch:

"Tell Mr. Courtney I am sick or dead or buried—anything you like only that I shall not sing tonight." Then the door closed again and Bob immediately went to sleep. It seemed to be a very sound sleep, for he did not open his eyes, though Alicia coughed three times. But when she could stand it no longer and shook his shoulder he woke up with a most excellent look of surprise on his face.

"Is it too late?" she asked breathlessly.

Looking at her as if dazed, he pulled out his watch.

"Oh, I don't mean for the concert! I mean"—but Alicia could get no further, and, dropping to her knees beside the settee, she leaned her head against his arm and cried.

"I guess it isn't too late for a wedding," said Bob, "but we'll have to hurry."

The Sunflower and Its Uses.

The sunflower is a native of America. In 1569 it was introduced into Europe and is now extensively cultivated there, particularly in Russia, where it is grown principally for the oil contained in its seed. The seeds after the shells are removed contain 34 per cent of oil. This oil is clear, light yellow, nearly odorless and of a peculiar pleasant and mild taste. It is said to be superior to both almond and olive oil for table purposes and is used in making soap and candles. In Russia the larger seeds are sold in immense quantities to the lower classes of the people, who eat the kernels as we do peanuts. The stalks furnish a valuable fertilizer, while the green leaves are dried, pulverized and mixed with meal as food for cows. The stalk produces an excellent flavor. It is said that Chinese silk goods commonly contain more or less sunflower fiber. The so-called Niger seed oil is made from a species of sunflower family which is a native of Abyssinia. It furnishes the common lamp oil of upper India, where it is largely cultivated.

Bay Tree Beliefs.

Long before the time of Shakespeare the bay tree was an object of superstition. The withering of such a tree was believed to be a sure indication of coming misfortune to those with whom it was in any way connected. Shakespeare gave voice to the superstition in "Richard II." when he made one of his characters say:

"'Tis thought the king is dead; we'll not stay—
The bay trees in our country are withered."

It was thought by the ancients that lightning would never harm this tree, and it was customary among them to carry bay leaves as a charm against the thunderbolts of Jove. The same belief was long prevalent in England, and reference to it may be found in an old poem dedicated to Ben Jonson:

I see that wreath which doth the wearer
Arise
Against the quick strokes of thunder is No charm
To keep off death's pale dart.

THE ROYAL VICTORIA.

Cost Little to Organize This Life Company—Insurance Investigation Concludes at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Evidence in the investigation of the Royal Victoria Assurance Co. of Montreal was concluded yesterday, and with it ended the session of the Insurance Commission in Montreal.

Chief emphasis was laid in the evidence of David Burke, general manager, on the small cost with which the company had been organized. He stated that the entire cost of stock, Parliamentary expenses, etc., had been only $1,700, and the Royal Victoria, unlike many new companies, had never had any bonuses or gifts from shareholders or directors.

No Dividends For Long Time.

Mr. Burke had organized the company. The men he sought to interest in the first place were A. P. Gaul, James Crathern, Senator Forget, Senator Mackay and S. Finley. In the matter of inducements there was nothing of a personal character held whatever. The witness had pointed out to the stockholders that a considerable period must elapse before there could be any dividend. He had never felt safe in naming any definite period, and he had never discounted any notes.

The capital stock authorized was a million dollars, and the sum was now subscribed. No premium had been charged for the stock, but the cost of obtaining business was not so great then as now.

Rebates Prohibited.

The policyholders took no part in the annual meetings. It was true that if the directors were so determined, no policyholders could participate in person except at meetings called to increase the capital stock. The matter had never been discussed by the directors. No compensation was given to agents, where they had to give a rebate. In every instance it was prohibited.

Estimates were readjusted in 1930, judgment of surrounding conditions and previous experience setting the rate. A comparison of different insurance in different years was then gone into. The Royal Victoria estimate had been lowered in recent years annually.

The Commission adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday next in Ottawa, when the I. O. F. will be resumed.

THE SAME O'MEARA.

Four Witnesses Testify to His Identity—Magistrate Refuses Bail.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Yesterday John O'Meara of London, who on Monday in the Police Court swore he had no connection whatever with the Brantford election of some years ago and that he had never met John O'Gorman, now on trial for election conspiracy, during the Heyd-Henry election in 1897, was brought before Magistrate Denison on a charge of perjury and positively identified by four witnesses as the man arrested in Brantford for impersonation.

J. Walter Curry, K. C., has been retained with Robinson, Godfrey & Phelan for the defence. O'Meara was locked up last night, as no argument could induce the magistrate to grant bail. The case will be continued on Wednesday when the bribery cases are resumed.

A TRAITOR'S FATE.

Once Revolutionary Leader Killed For Betraying His Party.

Milton, Courland, Oct. 27.—A man named Sprogge, once a prominent revolutionary leader in the Baltic provinces, was killed here Thursday while on his way to America, because he had betrayed his party.

Army Officer's Crime.

Kiev, European Russia, Oct. 27.—Lieut. Konovall, an artillery officer, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment at hard labor for having bombs in his possession.

Three Terrorists Executed.

Warsaw, Oct. 27.—Three terrorists, who had been sentenced by drumhead court-martial to death, were executed yesterday morning by shooting. Over 150 other terrorists have been arrested.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Use Iron Pump to Scale Wall and Jump to Liberty.

Brantford, Oct. 27.—A man named Macdonald, who is in jail on a charge of attempted murder, escaped from jail last night. A prisoner charged with a minor offence also escaped. They slipped out of the corridor door, which had been left open, pulled up an iron pump about 25 feet long, stood it against the wall, climbed to the top and dropped over.

The sheriff offers a substantial reward for recapture.

Decides What Is "Dead Animal."

Hamilton, Oct. 27.—The decision of Justice Anglin in the Stroud case caused general rejoicing last evening amongst the members of the Board of Health. The Police Court decision was to the effect that official slaughtered animals might be fed to hogs. Judge Anglin upset that finding and ruled that a slaughtered animal came under the meaning of "dead" animals in the act.

Must Not Marry Divorced.

New York, Oct. 27.—At the meeting Thursday night of the Union American Methodist Episcopal conference, which is in session here, the committee on divorce brought in a report forbidding any pastor in the connection marrying divorced persons. The resolution was passed unanimously by the general conference.

John Shaw of Forest, Dead.

Forest, Oct. 27.—John Shaw of Forest is dead, in his 71st year. He was a native of Renfrewshire, Scotland, and came to Canada fifty-two years ago. For many years he was in the wholesale lumber business, supplying dealers in Western Ontario from Georgian Bay in his own vessels.

Bring Water 13 Miles.

Stratford, Oct. 27.—The G. T. R. has completed drilling an 8-inch well, 13 miles from the city, to secure a supply for the company's system here.

The little scuttle shows how little coal is needed by the Happy Thought compared with others.

Here's a chance to see the "reason why" a Happy Thought is the best cooking range before you buy it. The more heating surface, the less time required to do the cooking—and the less time the less fuel. The corrugated oven-lining is as quickly heated through as an ordinary flat lining and gives one-third more surface for radiating heat.

The corrugated oven-lining is an exclusive feature of Buck's Happy Thought Range and is the only one which gives hot air free access to top, sides and bottom of the dish. These Happy Thought ovens will not warp or crack. The only stove that will suit you in every way is the

OUR WAY

When a man takes out his pocket-book and pays us $7.50, $9.00 $10 or $15 for his Fall and Winter Suit, we don't consider the transaction closed by any means.

The Salesman probably told him good points about the particular suit he bought, and we consider it our duty to see them carried out to the letter.

For this reason we want your co-operation and we want you to insist that your suit fulfills our representation of it, or bring it back and get your money.

Remember our way of doing business and we ask that you please remember, also, that you take no chances, whatever, with cheapness when you buy your clothes here.

A NASTY ACCIDENT

Mrs. R. Grist of Blenheim Injured In Runaway—Rendered Unconscious

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Blenheim, Oct. 27.—While driving to town yesterday, Mrs. R. Grist met with a nasty accident at the Pere Marquette station. A freight train was shunting, and several persons were there with rigs and thought there was time to cross before the train backed up. Mrs. Grist and Mr. Cox, of Blenheim, both tried to cross.

They were almost over when Mrs. Grist's horse became frightened and made a jump and collided with Mr. Cox's buggy, throwing her out and hurting her head badly. When picked up she was unconscious, and up to last evening had not regained consciousness. Marvellous to say, her little daughter, who was with her, was not hurt in any way. The horse got clear of the buggy, which is badly smashed.

E. W. Osborne is confined to his room, suffering from a gripe.

Miss Edna Reid, one of our office stenographers, has returned to her home after spending a week at her home in Elmhurst, Ont.

Mr. McLachlan, who has been on a trip extending as far west as Edmonton, Alta., is expected home the first of next week.

The students had an unusual privilege on Friday afternoon of listening to an address by Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Cambridge, Mass. Cambridge is the home of Harvard University, and Dr. Campbell's connection with that famous educational centre formed the subject of a most interesting and inspiring address to the pupils. His closing remarks were particularly helpful and encouraging to all who are striving for an education. At the close a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the pupils and staff of the college was moved by Mr. Powers and seconded by Mr. Clemens. Those who heard this address can only wish that they had more opportunities of listening to such men as Dr. Campbell. They are also grateful to Rev. Mr. Hoyt, of William street Baptist church, who interested himself in arranging for this address.

GOOD REASONS FOR ITS SUCCESS

The majority of catarrh remedies are useless. But one that does cure is Catarrhzone. It clears the head of all mucous discharge. Putrid matter, the coxistis, phlegm in the throat, and disease germs are completely swept away. The cause of the disease is destroyed, its results are destroyed, and the system so thoroughly cleansed of catarrhal poison that cure is permanent. All types of febrile, throat, and bronchial trouble, colds and coughs are more certainly cured by Catarrhzone than anything else. Two sizes, 25c. and $1, at all dealers.

STRIKERS READY

Union Men Had Arms Ready, One of Them Swears.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The Inquest at Buckingham on the dead strikers did not continue on Saturday. Adjournment was made to Tuesday.

Sensational evidence was given by Joe Mercer, a member of the Millmen's Union, who swore that at a meeting of the union the proposal to fight with arms was broached. He also saw rifles stacked in and around the room.

This damaging evidence rather seriously affects the moral position of the strikers at least.

Murder and Suicide.
New York, Oct. 29.—Louis C. Hampton, assistant secretary of the United States Trust Co. of this city, shot and killed Victoria I. Tazkrow, a beautiful young woman, in the Hotel Griffon, in West Ninth street late Friday night, and then committed suicide. Hampton was infatuated with the woman, and they were registered at the hotel as "Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Burlington, Vt."

Hampton, who was about 40 years old, leaves a wife and two children.

The scheme of the play is a dramatization of the famous "Babes in the Woods" nursery fairy stories. It is around a scene and scene that so much of the thrilling interest of the show centres. The first act shows the home of Contrary Mary and her sisters, Boy-Blue, Red Riding Hood, Miss Muffet, Tom Tom the Piper's son, Bo Peep and all the other characters familiar in nursery rhymes.

The succeeding acts show the children lost in the Spiders' Forest and their arrival in the mythical country of Toyland. The cast engaged is an exceptionally strong one and embraces the names of artists well known to our theatregoers, including Budd Ross, who has made the success of his stage career as Alan. Scenically, the production will in every way be of the same grandeur as previous seasons, and the costumes are simply beautiful.

"A Bell Boy," that very charming bunch of music, pretty maidens and laughable situations, will open for a one night engagement at the Brisco Theatre Wednesday, October 31. This show is recognized by both press and public to be a winner. The title role of the mischievous Bell Boy is in the hands of the clever young comedian, John Galvin—to see him once is to see him again. He is ably assisted by little Miss Ella Galvin, the charming singing soprano.

Miss Irene Drew is seen to great advantage as the Widow Lowell, a fly flirt. James Harris, as A. J. Hawk, has a character part which he handles to the best, and Ned Nelson and James A. The entire production is the hit of the season. Bright, clean and captivating, it holds the delighted attention of the audience from the prelude to the final fall of the curtain.
