RUSSIA WAR-WORN, WOUNDED, MOURNING, BUT DETERMINED

Col. Kitching of the Salvation Army Tells of Russia's Fighting.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Aug. 14.—Col. Theodore Kitching, of the Salvation Army headquarters, in an article to the Chronicle from Petrograd, dated July 24, communicates his impressions of Russia, war-worn, wounded, in mourning, orphaned or widowed, with the enemy at her front gate, and yet determined, hopeful, secure in her faith of victory. "Within the last eight months," writes Col. Kitching, "I have visited many European countries which are affected by war. In each case I have visited the capital as well as the smaller cities, and have seen something of the underworld of poverty and sorrow and death which pervades the homes of the lower classes, as well as the grief and tears and sacrifice that reigns in the homes of refinement and luxury. Of all the cities I visited in none is the fact of war more evident, and that at every turn, than it is in Petrograd. It is impossible to get away from the memory. Everywhere there are wounded soldiers and nurses.

"And yet hope reigns, not despair. There are countless sad faces, but the sadness is rather the expression of sober determination than of grief or anguish. It is something that is typically Russian. It is something you feel you have seen before, but you know not where, and then you remember that you have seen it years ago in some war picture of Verestchagin, and as you look again the very look makes you clench your teeth and set your chin and throw your shoulders back and say to yourself: 'Yes, we must go on; whatever the cost, we must go on to the end.'"

"You may have to wait, but if you will only wait long enough you shall see this spirit of hopefulness, of resolute determination, of unshaken and unwavering confidence as the ultimate issue. It will well put by an accomplished student, the proprietor of large estates, with whom I conversed.

"It is true our brave troops have had to fall back from some of our fronts," he said, "and they may have to fall back still further, but we have plenty of room to fall back. If we fall back from Warsaw there is still Pinsk, in the Pripiet marshland. If we fall back from Pinsk, there is still Kiev. If we fall back from Kiev, there is still Kharkov, and if we fall back from Kharkov, there are still half a dozen places from which to fall back before we fall back from Saratov. And if we fall back from Saratov, there is still Vralsk and all Asia to fall back on.

"In government departments, ministers, permanent officials and junior clerks all breathed the same unchanging spirit of hope and of confidence as to Russia's loyalty to her allies in the great cause. There is no possible question, nor can there ever be. All talk to the contrary is so much clapnet, the sensational talk of dissidents and mischief-mongers.

"Especially is this true of Russia's fealty to England. The fact that I was an Englishman claimed and won for me wherever I went the respect, courtesy and co-operation of every individual with whom I came in contact. Official, clerical and private alike, they counted me their brother in the greater and mighty cause."

The magnificent and the consistent work of Cooper, the catcher of the Brantford team, has not alone deeply impressed local fans, but also outsiders.

BURFORD IS GIVING GUN FOR TROOPS

Burford village has decided to give a machine gun. After an enthusiastic meeting last night in that village it was arranged and a large number of subscriptions listed, with promises of further amounts to come. This is a gratifying thing to all concerned, and reflects much to the patriotism of the village, which has already subscribed much in the past.

RUBE BENTON SOLD
By Special Wire to the Courier.

Cincinnati, Aug. 14.—Pitcher John "Rube" Benton of Cincinnati club, was to-day sold to the Pittsburgh National League Club, according to President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club.

OPERATIONS ON AN EXTENSIVE SCALE ARE BRINGING RESULTS

Important Positions All Around Krithia Are Captured.

London, Aug. 14.—An Athens despatch to the Daily Chronicle says: "Operations on an extensive scale have been resumed on the Gallipoli Peninsula and the latest news is on the whole very favorable. The battle has been general in the region around Krithia.

The allies having been strongly reinforced, attacked the Turkish positions and in brilliant fashion won two lines of trenches which, according to French officers, possess considerable strategic importance.

BIG ARTILLERY DUELS

In the region of Achi Baba artillery duels have been intense. At Avi Burnu a British battalion was forced to retire for some 300 yards before a particularly violent attack, but the position is none the worse for that occurrence. During this attack three enemy aeroplanes flew over our lines directing the Turkish fire.

TURKS CLAIM SUCCESS

Constantinople, Aug. 14.—The war office yesterday made public the following official communications: "Within three days we have captured eight machine guns and munitions near Avi Burnu (on the Gallipoli Peninsula).

Our artillery has hit a hostile warship off Avi Burnu. Near Sedd-ul-Bahr, on the right wing, we took trenches of a hundred yards by storm."

TURKS CAUGHT UNPREPARED

Athens, Aug. 14.—Details of the operations of the allies in the Gallipoli Peninsula, beginning last Saturday night, have been received here. Small transports steamed in the darkness to a position in the middle entrance of the Gulf of Saros. A gigantic daybreak occupied the full attention of the Turks, leaving them no time to prepare for a landing which was made at a point not yet specified in the reports. Besides they did not know where, on a 50 mile coast, a landing would occur.

The British-French artillery poured a terrific hail of shells on the Turkish trenches, and knowing the range to within a fraction of a yard, the gunners inflicted severe punishment. At times the whole line was obliterated by a billow of creamy smoke. The Krithia tower, which had withstood a dozen bombardments, came toppling down. For an hour the air was rent with terrific crashes, one blending with another as whistling projectiles sailed overhead.

BARBED WIRE PENS USED AS MILITARY PRISONS

Turkish Prisoners Guarded Behind their own Barbed Wire at Sedd-ul-Bahr. Detention camps at the various battle fronts sometimes take curious forms, and above is shown one of the oddest yet depicted in the war pictures. The captives are a group of Turkish troops who fell into the hands of the Allies on the Gallipoli Peninsula, and they are being confined in an enclosure constructed of their own barbed wire entanglements pending removal to permanent detention camps. The barbed wire itself is not regarded as a sufficient barrier to their escape, a thing which the prisoners fully realize as they gaze into the muzzles of the guns of the guards stationed at nearby points.

ROUMANIA GIVES NO INDICATION OF YIELDING

London, Aug. 14.—The Daily Telegraph has received from Bucharest, Roumania, the following despatch: "Roumania has replied to the German threatened prohibition of Roumanian imports by removing all Roumanian restrictions on the export of grain and reducing export duties to the following rates per hundred kilograms (220 pounds):

"Wheat 6 francs ($1.17); barley and oats 5 francs; maize, 4 francs; peas, beans and similar products, 10 francs.

"Prompt action to stimulate exports was made necessary by the fact that it was impossible to find storage for the new crops on account of the unexpected balance of last year's harvest. Unless Germany's threatened boycott is carried out it is hoped that exports will proceed henceforth at the rate of six hundred cargoes a day.

"There is no indication of Roumania yielding to the German demands for the transit of munitions."

ARTILLERY RECRUITS WANTED

Unlimited Men are to be Enrolled From Here For Battery.

It was intimated to-day that recruiting for the Canadian Field Artillery would open at the 32nd Field Battery armory on King street or at the custom house beside the old post office, and that an unlimited number of men might be enlisted for active service.

Officers will be on duty at both these points to enroll and advise men, and with the popularity this branch has attained of late, it is anticipated there will be large numbers present themselves.

C. H. Pace, superintendent of St. Peter's Sunday School, Cobourg, has enlisted with the Cobourg Heavy Battery, and is leaving with them for Halifax.

OUTFOUGHT KID ALLEN

New York, Aug. 14.—Angie Ratner of New York, who won the national amateur welterweight championship in San Francisco this year outfoought Kid Allen of Brooklyn in a ten round bout at Far Rockaway last night. Ratner weighed 144, Allen 142 pounds.

DOMINION TROOPS ARE POPULAR EVERY PLACE THEY SERVE

Gen. Hughes Pays Tribute to Good Feeling Created.

London, Aug. 14.—General Hughes received a number of newspaper men last night, to whom he gave a description of his visit, extending eight days, to the front. He crossed and returned on a destroyer, among those accompanying him being General Lord Brooke, Sir Max Aitken, Colonel Carrick and Captain Guest.

ATTENTION DIRECTED.

Almost exclusive attention of military observers has recently been directed to the operations at Kovno, which is the first strong Russian fortress attacked by the method employed at Antwerp—a system devised by the Bavarian General Sauer. This consists of a cyclonic attack with heavy artillery on one point without an attempt at investment.

NEW COMMITTEE.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 14.—Following are the members of the committee appointed to inquire into the causes of insufficient ammunition suffered by the Russian military forces.

Chairman, General Petrieoff, a member of the Council of the Emperor; M. Naoumoff, vice-president of the Council of the Empire; Count Bobrinsky, vice-president of the Duma; Adjutant-General Panteleiff, Senator Postnikoff.

GERMANS HOLD YANKEE SHIP WITH COTTON

Berlin, Aug. 14.—Via London.—The German authorities have not yet released the American bark Pass of Baltimore, which was brought into port a fortnight ago, having on board 5,000 bales of cotton from New York for Archangel. The case is complicated with circumstances which may lead to considering the Pass of Baltimore a good prize, although her cargo of cotton is not contraband.

The case is similar to that of the American Steamer Dacia in that the vessel was transferred from British to American registry after the outbreak of the war and so far as can be ascertained, her cargo already had passed to the ownership of the Russian consignees.

The ultimate disposition of the Dacia may be awaited as a precedent. If this case results unfavorably to the American owners of the ship, and cargo under the accepted rule of enemy ship, the Pass of Baltimore also may be regarded as liable to confiscation.

CIVILIANS PASS THROUGH

Berne, Aug. 14.—More than 20,000 Italian civilians in all have passed through Switzerland on their way home from Austria. Twenty-five special trains were employed to convey them.

FAMILY OF VON DER GOLTZ GOES From Constantinople—A Sign of Desperate Straits There.

New York, Aug. 14.—A cable to The Tribune from Lugano, says: "The wife and family of Von Der Goltz Pacha, reorganizer of the Turkish army, passed through Bucharest on Tuesday from Constantinople, bound for Berlin. This is considered a sign that he believes the position of the Turks desperate.

"The substitution of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg for Liman von Sanders as commander-in-chief of the troops at Gallipoli, is called another proof of dissensions in the German staff at Constantinople. Germany is making her best efforts to intimidate Bulgaria and Roumania by pouring immense numbers of troops into Hungary. Nearly 140,000 are now concentrated between the Eas and the Danube.

TOPICS OF DAY

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 14.—The ability of the Duluth oarsmen to make another sweep of the river and the chances of Robert Dibble of Toronto for another championship in single sculls were the principal topics for discussion by the experts as they gathered to-day for the final events of the national rowing regatta on the Connecticut River. The weather continued of the best, with clear sky and only a faint breeze. The champion single sculls were set for 5.30 p.m. Two hours earlier the senior association singles was called and the winner of this event was to qualify to compete for the championship with Dibble and John R. Kelly of Philadelphia.

The German auxiliary Meteor was said to be laying mines off the British coast when she sank the Ramsey.

ENQUIRY REVEALS GUILTY

Commission on the Munition Scandal Appoints Commit- tee.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 14.—Details given the press of a secret session of the Duma on August 10, showed that an inquiry was initiated to determine the responsibility for the deficiency in war supplies.

The Duma engaged in a discussion of the committee report on military and naval affairs, relating to the matter of recruiting for the coming year. During this discussion the question of defence came up. In the course of debate on this, a number of members called attention to the alleged irregularities in supplying and in the failure to supply munitions for the army and navy.

The demand was made for an immediate cessation of irregularities and a correction of the shortage. All speakers on the subject emphasized the necessity of calling to account all persons responsible, regardless of how high the positions which they may occupy or which they have occupied.

IMPARTIAL ENQUIRY.

General Polivanoff, the minister of war, declared that for the purpose of an impartial inquiry into all that had taken place to bring the army into its difficult situation there would be appointed a commission of inquiry and that an investigation would be set on foot with the assistance of this commission. In its inquiry the commission would have the aid of both the members of the Duma and the council of the empire.

The Duma applauded the resolution. It has been informed that the council of ministers will visit the Grand Duke Nicholas at headquarters and lay before him the results of the Duma secret session.

ATTENTION DIRECTED.

Almost exclusive attention of military observers has recently been directed to the operations at Kovno, which is the first strong Russian fortress attacked by the method employed at Antwerp—a system devised by the Bavarian General Sauer. This consists of a cyclonic attack with heavy artillery on one point without an attempt at investment.

The check and partial repulse of the Germans in the Baltic region has stopped theoretical discussion of the possibilities of a German offensive against Petrograd, which is generally regarded as premature.

NEW COMMITTEE.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 14.—Following are the members of the committee appointed to inquire into the causes of insufficient ammunition suffered by the Russian military forces.

Chairman, General Petrieoff, a member of the Council of the Emperor; M. Naoumoff, vice-president of the Council of the Empire; Count Bobrinsky, vice-president of the Duma; Adjutant-General Panteleiff, Senator Postnikoff.

OLD WORLD NOTES.

The Croix Rouge Francaise, in a letter written by the Vicomtesse de la Paix to the hon. gen. secretary of the Franco-Scottish Society, Edinburgh, makes the following acknowledgment of the sum raised on the French Red Cross flag day in Edinburgh: "The French Ambassador has handed us your magnificent contribution to our fund, the proceeds of your flag day. I know the Ambassador has sent his thanks to Edinburgh with those of the French nation, but I feel I must add mine. We are infinitely grateful to you all helping us to tend those brave men who are fighting for our country and for yours. In conformity with your wish, it is proposed to devote the greater part of your cheque to the purchase of an X-ray apparatus in an automobile to work with the French army. If we have any money left, it will be employed on a useful way, and you will be kept in the informed. On the car will be inscribed that it is a gift from the people of Scotland, so that all our people can read the message of fraternality it conveys. As soon as the car is ready the photo will be sent to you, and in due time you will be advised on which part of the front it works."

NOBEL PRIZES

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Stockholm, via London, Aug. 14.—The amount available for the Nobel prizes this year is 144,000 kroner ($38,000) each, but it is possible that the distribution will be postponed. Next year the amount will be reduced by 20,000 kroner, this sum representing the amount of the new Swedish defense tax.

NEW WAR LOAN

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Berlin, via London, Aug. 14.—The central banks and bankers have sent a circular to their members calling attention to the forthcoming third war loan and declaring that it is the duty of the bankers to work against the tendency toward speculative investments and market speculation. The circular suggests that the bankers refuse to accept commissions to buy stocks on margins, and give clients no tips or advice regarding the purchase of stocks or otherwise encourage speculative dealings.

Graduated Tax
By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Aug. 14.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Petrograd says that the finance committee of the Duma has approved a government bill for the imposition of a graduated tax on incomes. The tax proposed is 6 roubles ($3.25) on incomes of 1000 roubles ($500) 25 on 10,000 roubles, 6,000 on 100,000 and a super tax on each 10,000 roubles over 100,000.

TRANSPORT TRUCKS SENT OVER AT LAST

Ottawa, Aug. 14.—After delay in shipment which Major Thomas, who purchased it, had a hard time explaining to the Davidson Commission into war contracts a month ago, the first part of the mechanical transport for the second contingent has arrived in England from Canada.

There are 15 motor trucks in the mechanical transport allotted to the second contingent. Major Thomas, who supervised their purchase, bought them six months ago, but considerable delay ensued, as brought out before the commission, because of the purchase of bodies for the trucks which were afterwards found too narrow and for other reasons. Major Thomas declared before the commission that the trucks would not be needed all the second division went to the front and that they would be sent straight to France instead of to England. It was urged on the other hand that the delay in shipping the trucks would place the sending of the second contingent to the front. It is learned, however, that they are now being sent to England.

It was stated at the Militia Department last night that the first contingent trucks which were purchased by T. Russell and were shipped in twenty days, have, on the whole, given a good account of themselves very hard wear commission, and have had to be replaced. They were given to Salsbury Plain before being sent to France at all.

THE DISASTROUS TREATY

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 14.—The newspaper Echo de Bulgarie, in an editorial on the anniversary of the treaty of Bucharest (August 10th, 1913), which the paper says has been disastrous not only to Bulgaria, but to all the Balkan states, declares that "until that stumbling block is removed from the path of the Balkan peace, there will neither be peace, tranquility or security in the peninsula." The paper, speaking of the conditions for joining the entente allies, holds that a Balkan entente is impossible unless this treaty, which it accuses of violating the racial rights of the interested nations, is annulled.

THE SITUATION.

"Russia war worn, mourning but grimly determined," so says a despatch from Colonel Kitching of the Salvation Army.

Through all the long retreats her armies have fought with courage, and it is now hoped that the evacuation of the Warsaw salient has been completed successfully. This withdrawal of over a million men from the Vistula and Bug fronts has given the Grand Duke a reputation in excess of any previously enjoyed.

Unofficially the statement is made that Vilna is to be evacuated, and the Bug-Niemien line given up in the hope of drawing on still further the German hordes who before the snows have fallen on the steppes will yet feel the weight of the Great Bear's paw.

In the west a quiet reigns, a strange portentous calm, which presages in the minds of critics great days of stir and the clashing of new onslaughts that will dwarf even the engagements of the Marne.

In the Dardanelles, despite the official taciturnity, there must be transpiring one of the dramas of the war. It is made known that Von Liman, German commander, was superseded, and that the family of Von Der Goltz has left Constantinople for Berlin.

The Austrians have been thrust back from Mount Chiana, a huge peak and when the story of these operations from the Trentino is unfolded there will be fresh laurels for Italy and renewed optimism for the Allies, now undoubtedly struggling to withstand what is to-day the high tide of Prussian success.

COST OF LIVING UNDER THE WAR.

The average change in the retail prices of food in the United Kingdom between May 1st and June 1st was an increase of about 5 per cent., says the Board of Trade "Labour Gazette."

In April increases as compared with the preceding month, were recorded in the price of fourteen articles, the rises being most marked in the prices of pork, rice, mutton, milk and veal.

In Vienna, as compared with the previous month, there was no change during April in the prices of flour, beans and sugar, while eggs and bread showed decreases of 6.5 and 2.4 per cent. respectively.

Compared with April, 1914, all articles were dearer—peas by 189 per cent., bacon by 150 per cent., lard by 144 per cent., wheat flour by 143 per cent., rice by 125 per cent., eggs by 112 per cent., and beans by 100 per cent.

There has been scattering criticism of the six months' statement of the Municipal Street Railway Commissioners for operations ending with July. Not much comment, however, has been heard, regarding a deficit of $3,000, as it is generally felt, considering all the circumstances, that the record is reassuring.

The citizens of this community are now the shareholders of that enterprise and the report in detail has been sent to the City Council as representative of the ratepayers.

The Eagle Place loop and the recent returns from the line to Mohawk Park—now so greatly improved—were not included in the statement mentioned as they did not come within the scope of the period reported upon.

There is the proposed sale of the Paris to Galt end of the road which will also help. Some people, and the right to criticize is, of course, thoroughly in order, are inclined to question the advisability of the disposal of this part of the property, but the complete details will constitute an efficient explanation.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The paws of the Russian bear still continue to give the Germans pause.

Don't forget that the further the Russians can draw the Kaiserites into the Czar's territory the more effective will be the round-up when it does come.

That $20,000 or more machine gun fund! Isn't it a dandy, with more yet to come. If you haven't, there's time yet to do your bit.

The Socialists in the Fatherland are becoming more and more restive with regard to the war, and they form a very large and important body there.

Another Zepp, raid on the British coast with a number of non-combatants killed and wounded is calculated to fill the breast of the Kaiser with more joy.

Sunday is quite often the day for the receipt of important war news. Let's hope that to-morrow will accord something definite regarding the Dardanelles.

GREAT BAYONET CHARGE

When the shell firing ceased orders for an advance were given. The French and Senegalese holding the left, and the naval division and the Gurkhas the centre and the British forces the right, plunged across the intervening hundred yards, cleared and occupied the first enemy trench.

North of Gaba Tepe the Australians simultaneously charged the trenches at the point of the bayonet. Twelve hours after the new landing the Turks succeeded in bringing up a large force. Another fierce fight followed. Details are not received here.

The dog warden of Montclair, N.J., has to catch stray felines for cats are tagged there too.

WORLD PRESS ON THE WAR

THEY UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER. Toronto Star:—The outsider may wonder why some apparently easy road to victory is not taken. But we are inclined to believe that all the Allies understand and are satisfied with each other.

LET US PINCH OURSELVES. London Daily Chronicle:—We have delayed too long in facing the burdens which it is duty of the nation to shoulder. Let us pinch ourselves now so that we may be better equipped to face the great struggle that will come when the artificial activity created by the war gives place to the exhaustion that will be the fruit of the war.

BRITAIN'S STAYING POWER

Boston Transcript:—Staying power as it develops in England is worth rather more to the ounce than it can be in Germany, for at Berlin it has monthly been fed on success, while London has had very little to give it new courage.

A POSER FOR GERMANY

New York World:—The Frye was sunk before the British orders in Council were issued. If the sinking of the Frye was a legitimate act of war, Germany can have no grievance against the British orders in Council, which carry out the principle that Germany defends in the Frye case.

THE CALL OF THE WAR.

Canadian Churchman:—This is no mere sectional, or even European struggle, but one that concerns all the nations of the earth, and it is of the first importance that the Allies should be enabled to obtain a victory which shall ensure beyond all present and future question the freedom of the various races and nationalities whose civil and religious liberty would be endangered, if not rendered impossible, by German supremacy.

"OUR GREATEST CARE." London Times:—Our greatest care must ever be that the strength and efficiency of the Grand Fleet should be maintained. Victory for the Allies depends upon the continued supremacy of the British Navy, and the struggle for that supremacy has yet to come.

DO BETTER IN CANADA. London Daily Express:—They do so many things better in Canada. The British public is denied, until the last moment, any knowledge of the personal prowess of its soldiers, while Sir Max Aitken, the Canadian "Eye Witness" makes his stories thrilling and dramatic by including the stories of individual bravery and devotion.

AN EVIDENCE OF UNITY. Westminster Gazette:—Canada will rightly be proud that her Prime Minister is thus called into conference with the British Cabinet, but it goes without saying that the door which is now opened to Sir Robert Borden is also open to the other Dominion Prime Ministers, if and when they can pay us a visit. Nothing but good can come of this close and confidential co-operation and consultation, and we have little doubt that yester's Cabinet will prove to be a red-letter day in Imperial development.

Vice-Admiral Bailey has been appointed to the position of naval commander on the Irish station, with headquarters and residence at Queenstown, in succession to Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Coke, who at present holds the office. Vice-Admiral Coke had previously occupied the position for a period of three years and on retirement was succeeded by the late Rear-Admiral Stobey, who died after a few weeks of occupancy of the position in the spring of 1914.

The drought has been rather severe in its effects in some of the southwestern parts of Scotland, according to the last report of the Board of Agriculture for Scotland. Thus in Wigtown, the oats, though looking well on deep loamy land, on the other classes of soil had become brown and had quite stopped growing.

Have You Done Your Bit?

THE CAMPAIGN IN BRANTFORD FOR A $20,000 FUND WITH WHICH TO PURCHASE MACHINE GUNS OR OTHER NECESSARY EQUIPMENT FOR THE CANADIAN TROOPS, IS NOW WELL ADVANCED. A SPLENDID RESPONSE HAS BEEN MET WITH THUS FAR, BUT THE AMOUNT NEEDED IS NOT TO BE SECURED BY A FEW LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS, BUT BY EVERYBODY DOING THEIR PART. THIS BRINGS HOME THE QUESTION, DEAR READER, HAVE YOU DONE YOUR PART?

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE FOR EVERY MALE CANADIAN OVER 21 YEARS OF AGE TO GO TO THE WAR, BUT THOSE OF US WHO ARE LEFT BEHIND, ENJOYING IMMUNITY FROM ITS RAVAGES, CAN DO MUCH TO SEND COMFORTS TO THOSE OF OUR COUNTRYMEN WHO ARE ON THE FIGHTING LINE; AND, ABOVE ALL, WE CAN SEE TO IT THAT THEY ARE GIVEN A FIGHTING CHANCE IN THEIR EFFORTS TO STOP THE GERMAN ADVANCE ON CALAIS, AND IN TIME TO DRIVE THE INVADING FOE OUT OF FRANCE AND BELGIUM.

IN THE HARVEST FIELDS OF CANADA THE REAPING MACHINE HAS SUPPLANTED THE HAND-WIELDED SICKLE; ON THE BATTLEFIELDS OF EUROPE THE MACHINE GUN HAS GREATLY SUPPLANTED THE RIFLE.

What Ralph Connor Says:

"What, then, is the immediate duty of Canadians? To raise large sums of money? Not so much. Old John Bull may be safely trusted to look after the financing of this war. But for Canada two things lie to her hand. Listen to the insistent iteration of Lloyd-George: 'Munitions and machine guns, munitions and machine guns.' Let every Canadian workman and workwoman that can get to a munition factory or gun factory get there, and with all speed. Shells and more shells. Machine guns and more machine guns. WHERE BRITISH SOLDIERS HAVE TWO MACHINE GUNS, GERMANS HAVE FORTY. SHELLS WASTED MEAN BATTALIONS SAVED. WE HAVE TRIED FIGHTING MACHINE GUNS WITH MEN AND HAVE LEARNED OUR BITTER LESSON: CANADIAN SHELLS AND CANADIAN MACHINE GUNS MEAN THE SAVING OF CANADIAN MEN."

Save Canadian Lives by Providing Machine Guns and other items of necessity in connection with this great war which means so much to the Empire and all of us.

What Sir John French Says:

"Sir John French reports that on Friday last the British, in a counter-attack, re-captured a portion of the trenches lost earlier in the day west of the village. On Saturday night the Germans made two further infantry attacks, which were successfully repulsed. There was no renewal of the action on Sunday. Details of the fighting at Hooge on Friday indicate that THE MOMENT THE GERMANS CAPTURED THE BRITISH TRENCHES THEY RUSHED UP A LOT OF MACHINE GUNS AND MOUNTED THEM, SO THAT BY A CROSS FIRE THEY SWEEP THE WHOLE FRONT OF THE NEWLY-WON POSITION AND MADE AN EFFECTIVE COUNTER-ATTACK IMPOSSIBLE. The British gained and held the Zouave Wood, but no progress was made in the open. In the face of such experiences of the wonderful efficiency of machine guns in stopping a charge it is startling to learn that the offer of a manufacturer to supply 20,000 Colt machine guns to the British army at the rate of 2,000 a month was turned down in November by General Von Donop, the British Master of Ordnance. He would give his eye teeth to have them now."

NOW, THEN, ALTOGETHER AND NO LET-UP. THE MOVEMENT IS NOMINALLY UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE BOARD OF TRADE, BUT IN ITS ENTIRE ASPECT IT IS A COMMUNITY DUTY.

YOU ARE GOING TO DO YOUR SHARE—NO DOUBT AT ALL ABOUT THAT—THEN DO IT QUICKLY.

BRANTFORD BOY

In the returns published for Lincoln, the name of a Brantford pupil of Hedley College, Master D. M. Andrews, English, 3, is quoted. This name was not carried on the bigger list, as Hedley is in Lincoln county, and the school at St. Catharines.

PAY DAY

Today is pay day at the headquarters of the Patriotic League, and there is a considerable rush there as the result, the dependents of absent soldiers being quite numerous. Great care has to be taken in issuing the cheques, as the names are often much alike.

HEATING DISCUSSED.

The Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Board of Education met last night in the City Hall. The most important business transacted was the heating system of the Collegiate Institute. It needs repairing slightly and more new radiators will be installed before the fall term opens.

PITCHER HUGHES HERE.

Pitcher Hughes, for the last three years with St. Thomas, and lately let out by that team, reports to Brantford to-day. Hughes is a hot water pitcher and with a good team behind him is one of the best in the league. He is expected to be let go, leaving six pitchers. The axe will fall on one of them shortly.

HORSE KICKED HIM

While Constable Stewart was on duty yesterday, on the corner of Market and Dalhousie streets, in a quiet rearing horse, he got kicked in the leg. The injury was not serious, and he will be all right again in a day or two. The accident happened at about 12 o'clock. He was taken home immediately after he was struck.

WILL PEAL TO-MORROW.

On the coming Sunday, Aug. 15th the bells in Grace Church Tower will be rung for the first time and they will be the finishing touches to the fine church and tower. If Mr. Hughes, of the noted Hughes Bell Company, had not come over from England to supervise the work, some difficulty would have been experienced in raising the bells, as the largest one weighs 3,700 pounds. But they are in place now and will peal out to-morrow for the first time.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS

In the official list of appointments and promotions in the Canadian militia, several Brantford names appear. In the May list, Charles Bygate Robinson's name is prominent as prov. lieutenant of the 38th Dufferin Rifles. The name of George Edmund Foster Sweet appears in the June issue, with the rank of prov. lieutenant of the 38th Dufferin Rifles. A. S. Williams' name appeared in the superannuation list of the 37th Haldimand Rifles. He is a brother of the popular local officer of that name. These lists came from W. E. Hodgins, Brig-General, Acting Adjutant-General at Ottawa.

DRAGOONS ARE COMFY AT THE CAMP

Recruiting was quite brisk yesterday a round dozen joining the local detachments. A noticeable feature is the number who are coming in from surrounding towns, Ayr, Bright, Jarvis, etc., supplying men even Hamilton claims the home of one recruit taken yesterday. Quartermaster Plummer of the 25th Brant Dragoons returned late yesterday from Niagara camp and speaks enthusiastically of the quarters accorded the men there. They have the best site in camp, and their commander, Lt. Col. Stewart is most solicitous of the men's welfare. The local men received their khaki equipment yesterday and their old uniforms are on their way back to Brantford, so there will be no delay in fitting out recruits here. Just to show how hard the work is in camp, Quartermaster Plummer stated that yesterday he handed out uniforms to 500 men. Of the 110 men of the 25th Brant Dragoons and 105 men of the 2nd Dragoons, 105 men of the "D" Co. of the 84th Battalion, which is otherwise made up chiefly of the 109th regiment of Toronto.

DISTINGUISHED HINDU WAS A VISITOR

The Courier yesterday was visited by an interesting prosage, viz., Dr. Sundar Singh of Victoria, B.C. The Doctor is a Hindu, and has travelled over Canada several times in the interests of the Sikhs, of which he is a devoted adherent. He is a man of great energy and resourcefulness. He was beloved by all. His death, coming at the time it did, robbed the battalion of an officer we could very ill spare. I am sorry to say that I can give no particulars of his burial, as I was at the time working at another part of the line. So many of the boys fell at a time, and placed the body in a trench, and only under cover of darkness could it be done, and that right where they fell. It was all we could do to get the wounded carried off, and many a poor chap was killed trying to rescue another.

CHAPLAIN VOICES SINCERE FEELING OF THEIR SORROW

The esteem in which Lieut. Brant was held by his comrades is shown in the following letter, a copy of which was forwarded to the Indian Office, Brantford people will be particularly gratified to learn of the bravery of this young officer. Shorncliffe, Eng., July 13th. I do not know any of the relations of Lt. Brant, who fell in the Battle of Ypres, but I would like if you would make known to them the very high regard we all held him and our proud admiration of his fearless conduct on that and on all other occasions. He was a splendid officer and so full of energy and resourcefulness. He was beloved by all. His death, coming at the time it did, robbed the battalion of an officer we could very ill spare. I am sorry to say that I can give no particulars of his burial, as I was at the time working at another part of the line. It was all we could do to get the wounded carried off, and many a poor chap was killed trying to rescue another. You might allow Lt. Brant's friends to read this letter and assure them of my sincerest sympathy. I am almost recovered from my injuries, and hope soon to return to my boys in France. W.M. BEATTIE. The above letter was sent to Rev. G. A. Woodside of Zion Presbyterian church by Rev. Wm. Beattie, chaplain 1st Brigade.

TURK PASHA RECALLED FOR HIS REPORT

SAID THAT GERMANY AND AUSTRIA WERE IN LAST STAGES OF EXHAUSTION.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Aug. 14.—A despatch to the Daily News from Athens says: "Mukhtar Pasha, Turkish ambassador at Berlin, has been recalled at the Kaiser's request because he reported to Constantinople that Germany and Austria were in the last stages of exhaustion, and that the first serious German repulse would bring destruction."

The ambassador recommended to the Porte to employ discretion, pointing out that if Germany lost she would use Turkey as a scapegoat.

Field Marshal Von Der Goltz, on hearing the report, immediately called a request for Mukhtar's recall.

ITALIAN RESERVISTS LEAVING CHICAGO FOR THE FRONT

A citizen of Brantford who was in Chicago on a business trip this week relates a thrilling and a unique experience when at the station preparatory to leaving. Several hundred Italians had gathered to take a train to New York and go from there to Italy to serve in the war. Their enthusiasm passes all description. They had a huge American flag and several Italian flags, and when all together they sang the Italian National Anthem the effect was profoundly moving. Time after time they rendered their native hymn, then they joined in singing, "Tipperary." Following that they broke into other songs and with cheers, gesticulations and other methods peculiar to themselves showed their unbounded enthusiasm for the cause of their country.

While noisy, they were very orderly, but the policemen about the station, many of them German-Americans, discreetly allowed them plenty of latitude. They kept up their songs and cheering after they boarded the train, their train pulling out almost simultaneously with the one for Brantford.

A peculiar twist to the incident occurred after the Brantford man boarded his train. One of the train officials, with whom he was conversing, after stating that he was a Canadian, said that while collecting the ticket from a hyphenated-American, the latter remarked: "I hope everyone of them are killed."

"Why don't you go out there and tell them that?" retorted the official pointing to the cheering Italians on the platform. But the Chicago apostle of Kultur couldn't see it that way, and went inside the Pullman car instead.

West Lambton Liberals nominated Fred F. Pardee, M.P., as candidate in the next Federal election.

WHAT HEINE SAID ABOUT PRUSSIANISM

London, Aug. 14.—The Suffragette, official organ of the Women's Social and Political Union in England, spreads across its front page the following quotation from Heine, Germany's greatest lyric poet, which was written in 1882:

"I regard this Prussian Eagle with apprehension, and while others vault his daring glances toward the sun, I look the more attentively at his claws. I could not trust this Prussia, this tall, pietistic hero in gaiters, this braugart with the capacious maw carrying a corporal's staff, which he first dips in holy water before bringing it down upon one's head. I had great misgivings about this medley of beer, deceit and Brandenburg sand. Repulsive, deeply repulsive, to me was ever this Prussia, this pedantic, hypocritical, sanctimonious Prussia—this Tartuffe among nations."

"Prussia has made use of its most thunderous demagogues to preach to the world that all Germany ought to be Prussian—Hegel himself has been obliged to demonstrate the advantages of servility."

The corner stone of a new union station was laid at Quebec.

REGATTA OPENS

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition yachting regatta, which is to last a month and for which preparations have been in progress for three years, opened to-day. Races of three classes of yachts were on the opening program, the first event being a race for the gold cup sent by King George V. of England. Five boats were entered in this race and it was predicted before they started that world's records in this class would be broken. The course is 14 miles.

BURGLAR FATALLY SHOT.

Montreal, Aug. 14.—Detected while trying to effect an entrance into the second hand store of H. Pearson, 55 Craig street west, at two o'clock this morning, one of two burglars was shot fatally by Harry Pearson, the 23-year-old son of the proprietor. The other intruder fled. The wounded man was taken to the General Hospital, but died a few moments after his arrival, within fifteen minutes of the shooting. The physical characteristics of the body, together with papers found in his pockets, indicate that he was a Russian. Papers signed by the Russian consul, bore the name Marian Norvitzki. A pocketbook containing a silver pencil and a small sum of money, was also found on the body, together with a pocket knife, a silver watch and a card reading "P. Bowen, 36 St. Nicholas street, Quebec, watchmaker and jeweller."

SOMETHING DOING

London, Aug. 14.—The Manchester Eng., correspondent of The Morning Post sends the following despatch: A trade committee is about to restrict of export cotton piece goods on the ground that they may reach the enemy through neutral countries, has caused excitement in trade circles.

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce is negotiating with the committee in an endeavor to limit the restrictions to certain markets abroad. The manufacturers want to keep their markets open in India, China and other countries, not contiguous to the enemy. The order is expected next week and traders are anticipating a congestion of goods.

NO CONFIRMATION By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 14.—No explanation of reported cancellations of orders for wheat from America by the entente allies has been obtainable here. Persons connected with the wheat market, including a government broker on the Baltic Exchange, professed ignorance on the subject. It was suggested by those in touch with the market that the report, if correct, might have been due to the fact that the Indian wheat crop was much larger and of better quality than anticipated, and the improved prospects of Russian wheat getting out through the Dardanelles.

ATTACK THWARTED By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, Aug. 14.—A plan for an attack on the Suez canal is said by the ministry of marine to-day to have been detected and thwarted. Announcement was made in the following statement: "On August 12, after warning had been given to the governor of Jaffa and time given for the evacuation of the vicinity, a French cruiser bombarded and destroyed the principal building of the shops of the German Wagner, which were making arms and munitions and constructing boats destined for an attack on the Suez canal. The houses in the vicinity were not damaged."

Felix Gould, sculptor, of Paterson, N.J., had to pay for a calf killed by his lioness.

WATERLOO COUNCIL VOTES ON TWO MACHINE GUNS

Waterloo, Aug. 14.—At a special session of town council yesterday a majority of the members approved of a proposal to contribute two machine guns to the Canadian forces.

The Board of Trade appeared before the town council yesterday, and the large crowd of citizens present made it necessary for the council to adjourn to the town hall above the council chamber. President, Alois Bauer, Messrs Thomas Hillard, E. W. N. Grigg, and J. G. Strachan addressed the council for the board of trade, asking the council to make a contribution of five guns. Some of the members maintained that subscriptions for some of the guns should be raised by the citizens, while a few disapproved of issuing debentures for machine guns.

The request of the board of trade was not favored by a majority at a late hour, and finally agreed to meet again this morning. It was a brief session, and the proposal of two guns was adopted by a vote of six to three, Councillors Weegman, Knut, Hallman, Moyer, Woeller and Mayor Kaufman voting in favor, and Councillors Holle Stroh and Bohlander against.

IDEA RIDICULED. By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Aug. 14.—Reports that Germany has made overtures to Russia for a separate peace by offering to Russia a free use of the Dardanelles is ridiculed by the Hamburg-Nachrichten, according to a Reuter's despatch from Amsterdam.

"Germany does not own the Dardanelles and therefore cannot offer them to anybody," declares the Nachrichten. "They are the property of the Turks, who for five months have proved that they know how to defend them. The German empire does not bring its allies."

DECLINE TO BELIEVE IT. By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—Via London—The admiralty declines to comment on the report published abroad that the German submarine U-30 had been sunk off a German port by accident, in consequence of a defect in operation, but subsequently had been raised. Official information is refused also concerning the fate of the crew. As the German navy has a special ship for raising sunken craft and other facilities for coping with such emergencies, the report may quite possibly be true.

A despatch from Amsterdam on July 5 said the U-30 had been sunk off the mouth of the Ems and raised thirty-six hours later, one member of the crew losing his life.

Col. Jonathan Eastman Pecker, a noted journalist of U. S. Civil War days, died in Concord, N.H., aged 77 years.

The White Star Line steamer Adriatic, which sailed from New York on August 4, arrived at Liverpool yesterday.

Queen's Stationary Hospital, which left England on August 1, reached Alexandria, Egypt, yesterday.

Appeal to Mexicans is Sent Out

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, Aug. 14.—The Pan-American appeal to all of the Mexican factions calling upon them to end their civil strife was being dispatched from the state department to-day in original Spanish directly to Generals Carranza, Villa, Governors of states and to other Mexican chiefs.

The next step in the administration's plan for restoring peace in Mexico will be persistent though friendly efforts to persuade the Mexican leaders who are indicated in opposition to the movement to eliminate themselves for the common welfare.

Now that General Villa and his adherents have indicated their readiness to join in a peace conference provided the old Cientifico group is not recognized and that a stable government is established, no opposition to the plan is looked for except from the Carranza element.

European Governments directly interested in Mexico have approved the peace plan, it was said.

PREMIER BORDEN CONFERS WITH LORD KITCHENER

London Aug. 14.—Premier Borden had an interview to-day with Lord Kitchener, also with the Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Premier visited Wandsworth Hospital, addressed a gathering of about 250 British, Canadian and Australian, and afterwards met each of the Canadian officers and men. Sir Robert is going to Bixley Heath to-morrow to call on Sir Charles Tupper and also visit the hospitals in the vicinity of London.

In the course of his discussions with the Government departments here, Premier Borden has brought forward the ability of Nova Scotia to supply coal equal in quality to the best South Wales article. The Provincial Agent-General is in communication with the Admiralty on the same subject.

SWORD FOR KING ALBERT IS COMPLETE

Gift of People of Paris a Fine Sword.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The sword of honor to be presented by the people of Paris to King Albert has been completed by the City of Paris in blue and red enamel, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor and the date: 1914 in diamonds upon an oak branch in green enamel. On the other side of the hilt, in gold, is the inscription: "The people of Paris to his Majesty Albert I, King of the Belgians." The inscription on this side is surmounted by a laurel wreath set with emeralds and rubies.

The blade of the sword is in steel of Saint-Etienne, ornamented with panoplies of steel upon gold, with these lines by Jean Richepied: "Droite, sans tache, sans effroi, J'ai pour arme ton ame, O Roi." "Straight, spotless and fearless, I have for my soul thy love, O King."

The sheath is of fish skin, tanned by a process revived from the 18th century. The chape bears the arms of the thirteen Belgian provinces on a field of flowers and vegetation of the country: flax, hops and colza. It is surmounted by a mural crown.

The belt is a very rich piece of embroidery, designed by Madame Van Ostrien in eight different golden tints, with ivy symbolizing attachments; wheat, figuring abundance; oak, indicating force, and the laurel leaves of glory interlaced upon velvet in the colors of Paris. The golden belt buckle is composed of three civic crowns, one of them forming the frame of the figure of a charging chevalier—emblem of war; another, the Gallic cock, and the third the Belgian lion. The sword is enclosed in a white satin case with the crowned monogram of King Albert.

Everything is symbolic in the design and execution of the work, even the unsheathed tip, to indicate that it should not be sheathed except after the liberation of Belgium.

A report from Manchester, N.H., states that the ball team of that town has signed Jim McGinley, formerly a pitcher of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Brantford lost again yesterday, but gave Ottawa a frightful scare in the ninth. Close, usually reliable, blew in the first innings.

Reports are now circulating that Montreal and Pittsburgh scouts have been looking over Cooper and have London, Ont., Aug. 14.—St. Thomas broke the Tecumseh's winning streak yesterday when the Senators won by a score of 3 to 0. Fulton, pitching for the Saints allowed only four scattered hits. Rain fell through the early part of the game and made fielding very difficult.

Increased demand for oil and the action of mid-continent producers in advancing prices since August 1 were given as the causes for the change.

Famous Men In To-days View

Mr. H. O. McCulloch, who has been elected a director of the Union Bank in succession to the late Hon. Samuel Barker, is head of the well-known firm of Goldie & McCulloch, Galt. He is regarded as one of the most progressive business men in Western Ontario.

Hume Blake, or to give him his full name, Edward William Hume Blake, K.C., of Toronto, has just been elected a director of the Union Bank. Mr. Blake is a son of the late Hon. Edward Blake, and was born in Toronto in 1869, and educated at Galt, Upper Canada College, and the University of Toronto. Mr. Blake is a director of the National Horse Show Association, and is vice-president of the Ontario Brewers' and Malsters' Association.

Sir John A. Simon, Secretary of State for Home Affairs in the Coalition Cabinet, is one of the coming men in the Liberal party in Great Britain. He is a son of a Congregational minister, was educated at Oxford, and called to the Bar in 1899. He was one of the counsel for the British Government in the Alaskan boundary dispute, and as a result of his work created a favorable impression. He was knighted in 1910, and three years was Solicitor-General. John holds the long distance talking record in Great Britain, having made a ten days speech when the telephone arbitration matter was up for settlement. It was not only a record, but was a masterly effort, and still excites the favorable comment of all who heard it.

The Rev. John Scrimger, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, whose death has just occurred while summering on the Lower St. Lawrence, was one of the best known men in the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Principal Scrimger was born at Galt, Ont., in 1849, educated in that town, at the University of Toronto and Knox College. He was pastor of Calvin Church, Montreal, for several years before being appointed to the staff of the Presbyterian College. He was made Principal in 1904 and has done most effective work in the cause of education, temperance and church union. A short time ago his son, Captain Scrimger, won the Victoria Cross for conspicuous bravery at the front.

Samuel M. Felton, President of Chicago Great Western since 1909, is reported to have refused a two hundred and fifty thousand dollar salary.

to take charge of the construction of the new two million five hundred thousand dollar plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and later superintended the manufacture of eighty million dollars worth of war munitions for the Russian government. This is said to be the largest salary ever paid to a man in the country with the exception of the million dollars which Charles M. Schwab is said to have got as head of the Carnegie Steel Company. Felton was born in Philadelphia in 1853, and commenced his railway career as a codman away back in 1868. He has been connected with a half score of railway corporations, but always climbing until he is regarded today as one of the most efficient railway men in the United States.

General Sir Leslie Rundle has been sent to France to take the place of General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, who has returned to England as a result of developments which cannot be discussed in this column. Rundle is a Kitchener man, having been a classmate at the Royal Academy at Woolwich. The intimacy which started there was augmented through a long association in the Sudan, and later in the South African War. In Egypt he was chief of staff of Engineers, and in South Africa he commanded a division. At the outbreak of the present war he was governor of Malta, but was taken home and placed in charge of the military forces in the northern part of England. He is regarded as a most efficient officer, and can be depended upon to hold his own against the Huns.

William Randolph Hearst, who is being sued by Herman Ridder, editor of the New York Staats Zeitung, is a well known publisher in the United States. As a matter of fact, Hearst is regarded as the father of yellow journalism. He was born in San Francisco in 1863, and educated at Harvard. He commenced his journalistic career in 1886, when he secured control of the San Francisco Examiner. He later established a string of papers in a number of the leading cities in the United States, all of which are extremely yellow and violently anti-British. Hearst ran for Mayor of New York in May, 1905, on the municipal ownership ticket, and again in 1909, but was defeated both times. He has also his effort to become governor of New York State. He is the worst type of journalist.

accident in the future, that we, at least, had registered a protest. The crowded conditions allowed will result in the loss of thousands of lives even though tied to the dock. "We notice in press dispatches that former President Mellen of the New Haven railroad, referred to the coast steamers as 'tinder boxes.' The same applies here because, as our committee has said, it seems that United States inspectors are more concerned with the vessel owners' interest and support than the protest of the public."

HOMESTEADS FOR GERMANS

Known There Would Have Been No War. (From the Public.) A formidable movement more or less embarrassing to the ruling classes is the demand in Germany for homesteads for war veterans and their families. The specific proposition is that every soldier who has served in the present war be allowed a site for a home and garden. The Government is to secure title to lands for this purpose and give the soldiers perpetual leases to the sites. The lessees are to pay ground rent annually, and be exempt from taxation. They may purchase whatever improvements may be on the land but the government is not to alienate its title to the land itself. Those needing help to secure needed improvements are to be furnished it. This movement has not only the support of the League of Boden-reformers, but of many others who hold that when a government orders men to fight for "their" country, it is in honor bound to make the possessive pronoun express a literal truth. Soldiers in the trenches are being supplied with the Berlin daily paper, Die Deutsche Warte, which gives them to understand that they may justly demand without securing by purchase the right to the use of the land of a country for which it orders them to risk their lives.

It is safe to say that had the ruling classes foreseen the possibility of such a development from the war there demand is at present restricted so as to benefit none but men in active military service. It must, if granted, be soon extended to all classes. Those who have remained at home to raise food and make supplies for the men in the field can easily show that they have performed services without which the men at the front would have failed. But actual recognition of the right of the people to the land would put an end to the power of the privileged classes to exploit the workers. That must make this movement as embarrassing to the ruling classes as it is just to the men in the field.

LUMBER INDUSTRY AGAIN REVIVED IN NEWFOUNDLAND

By Special Wire to the Courier. St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 13.—The lumber export trade from this colony which has been almost non-existent for the past few years has been brought into prominence again by conditions growing out of the war. A great demand has developed in Great Britain not only for pit props for the collieries, but for lumber for general purposes. Lumbering concerns throughout the island which have been operating entirely on the local trade have decided to go into the export business on an extended scale. The export of pit wood alone for the year is estimated at 200,000 tons. A regular fleet of steamers have been engaged for several months in transporting this material from Newfoundland and Eastern Canada, the British collieries having been unable to secure their usual supply from Europe because of the closing of the Baltic sea and the lumber requirements of the allied armies in France.

During the past ten years, most of the soft wood logs cut in the colony have been sent to the pulp mills for use in the large paper making industry which has grown up during that period.

TO RACE TO-DAY. By Special Wire to the Courier. Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 13.—Three races, postponed yesterday, were to close the Grand Circuit race meet here to-day. The events were a 2.04 trot; 2.13 trot and 2.09 pace. Although the track was in bad shape yesterday from heavy rain, another postponement was not looked for.

FACTORY-LIGHTS MUST STAND THE STRAIN

HEAVY, whirring machinery—crashing, clanging blows, bumping trucks, and all the rush and roar of a factory's busy life bring a constant jar on the lamps that light a factory's way. These Lamps must be dependable—they must be strong enough to stand this daily jarring strain. Thousands of Hydro Quality Lamps in hundreds of busy factories have proven their durability by standing continuous unimpaired service month after month. You cannot imagine any condition in your home which would so severely tax the long life excellence of Hydro Quality Lamps. Why not profit by the experience of discriminating factory managers and equip your home with Hydro Quality Lamps. You may buy them at—

LABOR NOTES

The Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron Works at Moose Jaw has secured new contracts that has enabled it to take on 155 new hands.

In Edmonton, Alta., more unemployed have already applied for work and relief to the civic employment bureau in that city than the total number applying in 1914.

Waitresses of St. Louis, Mo., have won their strike against the Gem restaurants. The management has agreed to an eight-hour day and a wage of $1.10 per day.

Employees of the Crucible Steel Company of Harrison, N. J., who struck recently for a wage rate, have secured an increase of one-half cent per hour.

Regina, Sask., has employed a large number of its own workmen on laying of water mains and other municipal enterprises. While this has tended to alleviate the unemployed problem to some extent there is still a large number of idle men in the city, and business of all kinds continues extremely dull.

There is no lack of labor in Fort William as is attested by the fact that the city was paying a nominal wage of only $1.25 per day on sewage work. This is the lowest rate of wages that has ever been paid in this locality, and is entirely inadequate to support a man even working full time with no wet days off.

If reports are correct, Newcastle, N.B., is quite a busy centre at present. It is said that the building trades are active and both skilled and unskilled labor is fully employed. Lumber mills are also busy. Not in many years have as large a number of vessels loaded at this port. All lines of business and all industries are working full time, and no idle men are in evidence.

Quite a number of the labor men in various Ontario cities who are too old to go to the front and who are on the unemployed list have taken advantage of the opportunity to enroll in the home guard and many of them are putting in time in various capacities that is bringing them in a few dollars that help out considerably during these dull times. They say a dollar in the hand is better than a bird in the bush.

A move is on in Winnipeg to have the members of labor unions in that city patronize restaurants and eating places that are fair to the Cook's and Waiters' Union. This organization is now negotiating with the proprietors for the inauguration of a six day week and fair scale of wages and improved working conditions. In return the patronage of union men is promised to establishments that display the union card.

Business is very dull in Woodstock, Ont., most of the factories are on short time and wages in very few trades are up to the normal. More than one factory will have to shut down in the near future unless expected orders from Western Canada materialize. The few organized crafts there are the only ones that have succeeded in maintaining wages and conditions. The unorganized workers have been forced to accept drastic cuts in wages, and in some cases to work longer hours for less pay.

The Manitoba fair wage officer has accepted the following figures as being the standard rate of wages per hour in the city of Winnipeg: Bricklayers 70 cents; stonecutters 67 1-2; plasterers 75; marble workers 55; tile setters 55; lathers 50 1-2; carpenters 55; 50 1-2; derrick engineers 60; concrete mixers 50; asbestos workers 50; sheet metal workers 45; painters and decorators, 45; laborers, 27 1-2; steamfitters, 55; steamfitters' helpers, 27 1-2; plumbers, 55; boilermakers, 50; machinists, 50.

Orillia is one of the Ontario municipalities that has found out that day labor is more economical and secures better results than those obtained under the contract system. The town is constructing more than a mile of main sewers and several thousand feet of street connections by day labor. The engineer's estimate of the cost was far below the figure of contractors who tendered on the job. Not only is the construction of a better character than would have been the result under the contract system, but the work when completed will be well under estimates. It is employing a large number of hands; and has helped to largely solve the unemployment problem.

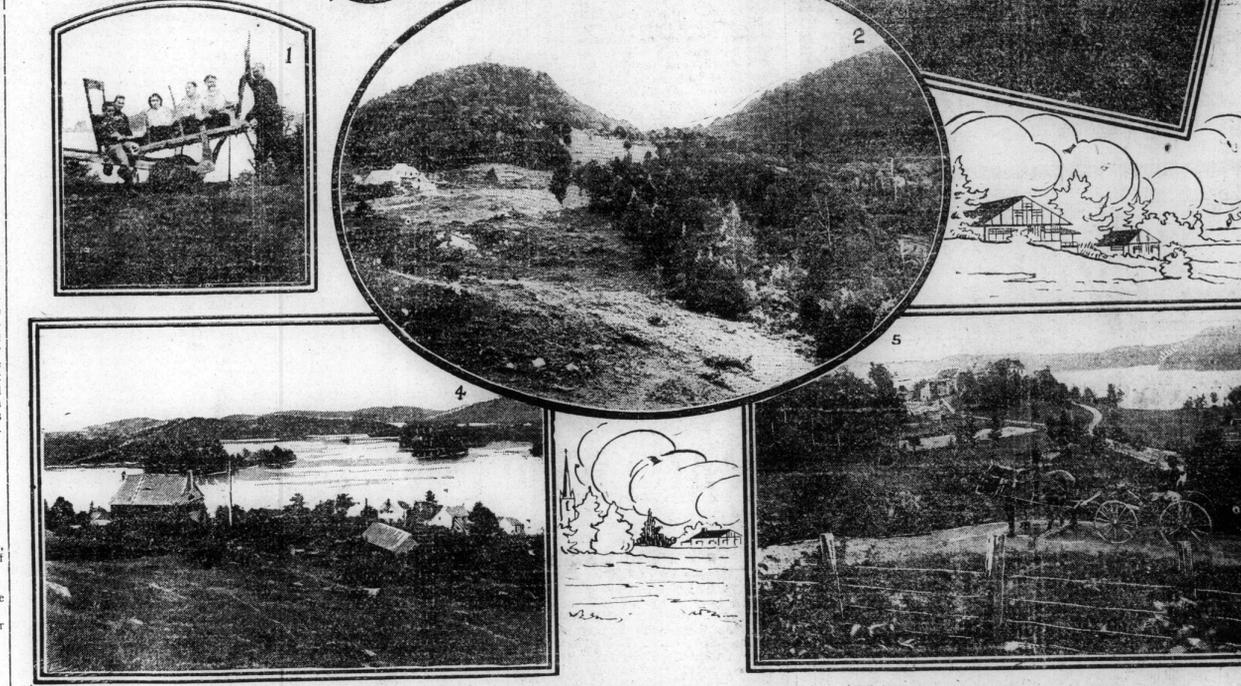

The crest and crowning of all good, Life's final star, is brotherhood: For it will bring again to earth Her long-lost peace and mirth. Will send new light on every face, A kingly power upon the race, And till it comes, we men are slaves, And travel downward to the dust of graves.

Come, clear the way, then, clear the way; Blind creeds and kings have had their day. Our hope is in the aftermath— Our hope is in heroic men Star-led to build the world again. To this event the ages ran; Make way for brotherhood—make way for man. —Edwin Markham.

PROTEST THAT WAS IGNORED In 1914 Chicago Federation of Labor Predicted the Eastland Disaster. Forwarded a Resolution on the Matter to the Federal Department of Labor which Was Pigeonholed. In notifying President Wilson of the Eastland disaster, which resulted in the loss of approximately 1,300 lives, Secretary Nockles, of the Chicago Federation of Labor, enclosed a copy of resolutions forwarded to the federal department of commerce June 22, 1914, in which an Eastland disaster was predicted.

This resolution of protest against the steamboat inspection service declares: "We believe the conditions of the excursion passenger steamers are altogether too unsafe to be permitted to continue without a most vigorous protest from this federation as a matter of record, in the event of any

A Drive in the Laurentians of Quebec

(1) Home-made hay cart. (2) Mountains near Ste. Agathe. (3) A corner of Lake Manitou. (4) Lac des Isles, Ste. Agathe. (5) A country road.

Le charretier came for me. I was sitting out in the long gallery watching the building of a brick house. Brick houses and cement paving stones are coming to these villages. I hate to see the wooden houses and the rough pavements of cedar wood go. No one can say much in favor of these ugly brick houses—but they came with electricity and sanitation, and we have got to make the best of it. Most of the old wooden houses were made of wood cut by the axe, and put together with nails made by hand. Revere follows revere in these villages of Quebec. But the charretier Le Blanc was waiting below. He had hitched up Frank to the rig. Frank is the brown and does not go at such lightning speed as Joseph—a white horse who does 50 miles at a stretch, and another 50 the next day. The roads are in no way made. They are plain earth—and dust in summer is three inches deep. But the Canadian horses are wonders! Le charretier is young and very fat. He is as jolly as he is big—and speaks American-English with a French accent. "En avant, Frank!" he calls—and Frank starts off. No whip is needed. The rig is on four wheels—these traps are never cleaned. They carry the dust of ages. A smart turnout in these parts centres in the horse. We came to the forge, and after that we are in the mountains. The Laurentians are sharply outlined and take dark blue shadows as the afternoon wears on. The farms have been "put down" anywhere, and at any angle, and most of them are prosperous. Many children, and many cows, good barns and a small flower garden, surrounded by acres of land—these are the riches, and it is almost impossible to tell the educated people of "gentle" birth, who have "come out" to farm—from the children of the soil who belong here, because all care as to personal appearance disappears, and small wonder—when you realize the work there is to be done. Farming here is hard labor for master as well as for man. There seem to be no class distinctions, and why should there when any man who can work may own the land? We passed, high up in the mountains near a river which runs out of the lake—an old man ploughing. And, working in the field with him was his old wife, and their son. Ordinary farm-laborers an Englishman would think. We stopped to buy new laid eggs. The farm house was merely a wooden cottage—the wash bucket stood on the veranda. Madame came in to bargain with the charretier. Eggs are twenty cents a dozen. He told her they were sixteen. She insisted that her son could get seventeen in St. Joseph. Le charretier closed with her for seventeen; making three cents a dozen on the bargain, the cheat! We bought six dozen—and saved eighteen cents. A French-Canadian must bargain. Monsieur came up now. A bent old soil worn man in moccasins and dust coloured sun-baked clothes. An ancient five cent hat, a lined face, and long hair—long beard—with a face almost like that of an Indian. Madame wore moccasins too—and her clothes were of the same type as his. Full skirt which had seen ages of wear and was patched. Tramps—they looked! But they have twenty-five thousand dollars made and saved—as well as valuable stock. "Il dépense pas un sou!" laughed Le Blanc, lighting a cigarette, "pas un sou." "A remarker leur habits? eh! eh!" He—a comparatively poor man—(except for his fine horses) was never more proudly conscious of his own ready-made, reach-me-downs and his new check cloth cap. The smell of bread-making was in our nostrils. We were just passing one of the read-side ovens, made of cement, or brick, with a top like a dog kennel, and built upon stones. Every farm has one. And the manner of heating it is this: You put lighted wood into the oven, which soon gets very hot; then you clear out your sticks and put in your bread. Et voilà! As we drove on, the scent of burning pine trees took its place—there was a fresh fire further on. "Oh! la! la!"

SHE WALKS IN SILK ATTIRE.
Fashion decrees that we shall walk in silk attire, probably because there is a greater need than usual on the resource of woollens. Some of the woollen mills in France are no longer working, while the silk ones continue the even tenor of their way and Italy has been preparing her silks since the time she took part in the war.
They are getting stiffer, and the plain kinds are gradually yielding to those which display more or less decided patterns. Stripes, especially in black and white, head the fashion.
Gros de Londres is a rival to taffeta, having a little rib on the surface. It is firm of make, and recalls the old silks of long ago, while we have of late despaired of ever getting back to the old glory. Still there is a copious demand for taffeta, plain or woven. Some with self-covered designs, spots of old brocades, and the styles of making that obtained when brocade was the fashion. Hair line stripes make useful gowns, and very beautiful and tender are the colors of taffetas for evening wear. Some are so soft in weave they resemble foulards. Polka spots and Dresden china designs are both to be found here.
Black and white patterns that entirely cover the fabric are of Persian inspiration. Surrah and dark tinted foulards, often with patterns not unlike brocade, wear well and do not crease.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

(By Chas. G. Percival, M.D.)

Proper food properly cooked and properly eaten plays a great part in obtaining and keeping perfect health.
There is a great need for the proprie of this nation for proper instruction in diet. Few people know the right kind of food to eat at the different seasons of the year, and not always does custom prove a good guide.
Upon the diet of a nation lies its importance among the nations of the question of a proper diet that many of the large industrial plants hiring men into the thousands, have hired expert dietitians to go thoroughly into the matter for the benefit of its help.
One food expert so employed evolved the following valuable advice which the concern in question issued as a bulletin to the wage-earners on pay rolls:
Blood-making foods are a delusion.
All good foods when well digested make good blood.
Constipating foods—White bread,
rice, boiled milk, soup, etc.
Laxative Foods—Whole wheat bread, fresh vegetables, fruits, corn products, etc.
Avoid extremes of heat and cold in food and drink; your stomach has no teeth.
Chew your food; your stomach has
no teeth.
There are five types of food as follows:
1. Proteins. Make and repair tissue. Consist of eggs, cheese, nuts, beans, peas, fish, fowl, lentils, etc.
Very important food elements. Concentrated foods. Most expensive type of food. Apt to be constipating. No storage places for them in the body.
Avoid excess.
2. Fats. Heat producers. Consist of cream, cheese; fat meat; butter; olives; nuts; olive oil; etc. Excess fats delay stomach digestion.
3. Carbohydrates. Energy producers. The most abundant of all food elements. Consist of starchy foods, cereals, bread; macaroni; figs; raisins; dates; fruits; etc. Starchy foods should be thoroughly cooked. Excess stored in liver and muscles. Laxative tendency.
4. Sugars. Are energy producers as found in fruits, but not cane, boot, or maple sugar. Require but little or no digestion. All fruits, raisins, dates, figs, etc.
5. Mineral salts. Nerve stimulants and bone builders. Small but important part of human sustenance. Greens, lettuce, cereals, vegetables, fruits in general. Spinach and tomatoes rich in iron. Baked fruits contain more salts than boiled foods.

PRISON DOESN'T CURE.

Alcohol Victims Need Some Place to Reform them While Incarcerated.
Chatham, August 14.—An institution halfway between the prison and the booze cure, where inebriates can be treated and at the same time incarcerated, is regarded by Magistrate Stanworth as something that is needed in counties in Ontario. Prison has failed to reform men addicted to the use of liquor and the court has found that to impose heavy fines only means that their wives and children are made the ones to suffer and still the unfortunates are no nearer being cured than before.
In Kansas the younger pedagogues are displacing the old teachers, who are stranded.

INCIDENTS OF THE WAR FROM A GERMAN VIEWPOINT

RUSSIAN PRISONERS IN GERMAN HOSPITAL

GERMAN LANDSTURM ON THEIR WAY TO THE FRONT

German Army Discouraged, Naval Officers Hopeful, Swedish Captain Learns

In Conversations in Swinemunde He Is Told That Unless the Land Forces Can Win in Three Months the Nation's Position Is Critical.

(Special Despatch.) LONDON, August 14. A Swedish merchant captain, whose steamship has arrived in the Thames after an exciting voyage, but who for obvious reasons does not care to see his name in print, had an interesting tale to tell about the optimism of German naval officers with whom he came in contact, as compared with the pessimism of the military.

When crossing the Baltic, he said, his vessel was "arrested" by a German destroyer, and, its cargo being suspicious, the ship was taken to the German port of Swinemunde for further examination. The innocence of the Swedish cargo finally was established, but incidentally the captain passed three days in Swinemunde, during which he had many opportunities of discussing the progress of the war both with German naval officers and with German military men, for the most part invalided from the front and residing in a wing of a Swinemunde hotel.

It was the opposite opinions expressed by these naval and military men which so much puzzled this neutral skipper. Invariably the latter would preface every argument with the assertion that Germany had proved, and would prove victorious, but they proceeded to qualify this assertion by the remark that, of course, Germany could not hope to prove victorious in a war of exhaustion. In fact, she could not possibly stand a war prolonged beyond the next few months, not alone because of the appalling drain on her man power, but especially because of the losses among the professional officers and non-commissioned officers, without whose lead the German private would not stand up to the enemy.

What the German army seemed particularly to dread was an allied advance from Italy into South Germany. If Germany did not win within the next three months or so her position would be desperate, they said, but she was sure to win within that time.

At the date of this conversation, it may be mentioned, the Russians were retreating all along the line in Galicia, apparently badly beaten.

The German naval men, on the other hand, seemed to take quite a cheerful view of the situation. Thanks to the number and efficiency of the German submarines, they thought the British could never venture into or even near the narrow waters and river estuaries on which Germany's North Sea harbors are situated. True, Germany's Baltic coast was more vulnerable, but then, the Allied battle squadrons, before they reached the Baltic, would have to run the gauntlet of the German submarines in the Sound. And the submarine—so Admiral von Tirpitz's subordinates asserted—has rendered the battle ship quite useless. The French and Sir Percy Scott were right; the British could no more effect a landing on the coast than the Germans could carry out their original idea of invading England—an idea already abandoned by all the serious German naval thinkers, even before the war began.

A picturesque detail noted by this Swedish captain was the lavish consumption by German naval and military men of French cognac and other French liquors, such as champagne. Whiskey, however, they would not touch, as the product of hated Britain.

Tragedy of War Lays Heavy Hand on Beautiful Belgrade

(Special Despatch.) BERNE, August 14. There has been very little news from Belgrade since the war started, and much interest, therefore, is manifested in the trip of Mr. Paul du Bochet to that city. "The streets of Belgrade," writes this Swiss journalist, "are practically deserted. The city looks as if it had been visited by a plague. There is little life anywhere. Everywhere there are deserted houses and the desolation of war is seen all about the city. Even the tracks of the street cars are missing, as there has been no traffic for months." "The parks are ruined, the trees shot away and weeds grow where flowers used to be seen. The university building is almost wrecked by shells, and in ten places its beautiful facade has been pierced by the bullets, making a very pathetic description of Belgrade appears to be gone, no. The King's palace, too, is no better. A one knows where. The city is as quiet as few gardens are seen standing before it. The palace has the appearance of a haunted castle. At the main entrance of the palace some one has written with chalk 'L'Entree' (Entrance Forbidden)."

BOHEMIA, THE OPPRESSED, WAITING TO STRIKE BLOW FOR FREEDOM

Ten Million People Who Honor Memory of the Great Reformer, Johann Huss Have No Desire to Become Part of the "Greater Germany" Into Which Austria May Be Incorporated—Unrest Against Hapsburgs Grows.

(Special Despatch.) LONDON, August 14. Writing from Milan, a correspondent tells of significant signs in Bohemia which augur ill for Austria. Ever since the beginning of the war, he says, all kinds of reports have been current regarding the attitude of the people of Bohemia toward the Austrian monarchy, reports which were for the most part in irreconcilable contradiction with one another. On the one side the official press agency, the Kaiserliche und Konigliche Correspondenz Bureau, and the government press organs represented the population of Bohemia as a model of fidelity to the house of Hapsburg and full of enthusiasm for the war. On the other hand, independent reports declared the country to be seething with sedition and almost in open rebellion against the war. In the last week or two, however, things have happened in Bohemia and Moravia which leave no doubt that an acute conflict has broken out between the Bohemian people and the Austrian government. The arrest and condemnation of several influential deputies to death for high treason in Moravia, suppression of several widely read newspapers, the distrust of the fidelity of Bohemian regiments and the deliberate removal of Bohemian troops from Bohemia and Moravia all give proof to unprejudiced observers that the anti-Austrian movement is a serious one. There is not the slightest doubt that the Bohemian nation does not approve the war. Nothing can alter this fact, and a German socialist organ is right when it declares that such an attitude gives grounds for anxiety. The Bohemian constitution—which from a juridical and historical point of view has the same value as the Hungarian one—has never ceased to exist. When Francis I. came to the throne in 1804 he solemnly recognized the Bohemian constitution. In 1835 the Emperor Ferdinand V. was crowned King of Bohemia in Prague, and the present Emperor has repeatedly recognized the rights of the Bohemian State. The various royal acts have, however, remained a dead letter, and up to the present time the centralized constitution, forced on Bohemia by German and Hungarian influence in 1867 in spite of the protests of the Parliament, has remained in force. Bohemia has always refused to recognize it. The autonomy of the kingdom was suspended on July 20, 1913, and a régime of pure absolutism introduced. Absolutism in Bohemia, permanent obstruction in nearly all the diets of the monarchy, trials for high treason in north and south, with racial antipathies roused to the highest pitch—such were the internal conditions when Austria entered on the present war. Germany had to save Hungary; Germany had to negotiate with Italy, and after a victorious war Germany is to "restore order" in the interior of the dual monarchy. This the German Austrians, who have hitherto supported the Vienna government, know full well, and this "imperial German internal order" is their innermost desire. They make no secret of what this new "order" will look like or what the relations of Austria to Germany after the war will be. They have already found a name for it—the "great solution of the German problem"—the "smaller solutions" having been those of 1763 and 1870. Germany will put a rapid end to all the national disputes from which Austria could never free herself by taking in hand the political and economic reorganization of Central Europe.

Sweet Yvonne! War Is Far Away from Her Tiny Cafe

Pretty French Sprite in Midst of Desolation Banishes All Thoughts of Strife and Erects Her Own Temple to Humanity.

(Special Despatch.) BERLIN, August 14. The following remarkable word picture of a little French café in the western theatre of war, probably at Lille or at Leen, which now are occupied by the German forces, was sent to the Berliner Tageblatt by William Schindt. The article is being reprinted in the newspapers throughout Germany and Austria. "No door in the city opens so often. The words 'Boulangerie Viennoise' appear in golden letters on the front window. It was a little French bakery before the war, but circumstances have changed, and now there are two tables in front with six chairs, and the little bakery has become a café. I have christened it 'Café Yvonne.' Why will be explained, as the chairs in front never are vacant and the back room has been fitted with more tables and chairs and cute little figures of plaster of paris. The host was busy baking bread and cakes throughout the night and has stepped late in the morning. In the afternoon, half awake, he stands in the middle of the room in everybody's way, talks to a few French customers who are sipping their cognac and then disappears for the day. The hostess, as jolly and round as the host, entertains the patrons. Uniforms have a fascination for her, and every time a soldier or German officer comes in or passes by she stares in wonder. Just now she is hypnotized by the brilliant costume of an officer who is representing a South American country with the German army. "The whole work in this café is done by Yvonne. She does the work of five grown-up persons, and yet she scarcely is more than a child. How can I describe her? Only a poet can do that. Her praises can be sung only in the soft trembling tones of a harp. She is only fifteen, but so small and slender that she does not look as if she were a child. Her quickness of wit and wit that she has the quickness of lightning and the quiet grace of a nymph. She wears a dress that comes barely to her knees. Her throat, soft and white, rises from out the folds of her dress as Venus in love with the girl and she now is his fiancée. He will take her to Germany when the war is over and marry her there. She needs a special little teaspoon with her soup. "Her Voice Is Music. "Yvonne has learned a few words of German. 'Guten Tag, mein Herr.' 'Auf Wiedersehen.' 'Danke, sehr.' 'Bitte, sehr.' 'Wetter schön.' "She must speak German. When she talks French there is at once a loud protest. Her teachers are bearded men of the Landsturm, and now and then a young officer. Recently some young French soldier taught her an obscure German word, of which she had no idea of its meaning. It caused a decided shock when she innocently repeated it. The culprit was found and received a good Bavarian beating. "A little room, not very tidy, but an island of rest, a temple, and a triumph of humanity in the midst of war and desolation—and Yvonne, the beautiful! Let us hope that before long the whole world will sit together at one table as we sit here."

WHERE THE GERMAN CASUALTY LIST IS RECORDED

WITH a thoroughness characteristic of the German military organization, the system for compiling and recording the casualty list of the army and navy is complete as human effort can make it. The card index is used for keeping the names of the missing, killed and wounded, and a large force of clerks, in charge of officers, is kept busy night and day. This work is carried on in one of the governmental buildings in Berlin. The above photograph shows a part of one of the card indexing rooms, where hundreds of young men and women are employed.

Disease Carrying Flies New Menace to Soldiers in Trenches

(Special Despatch.) LONDON, August 14. There are other things than bursting shrapnel and poisonous gases which are dreaded by the soldiers in the trenches. One is the common prevalence of flies in enormous numbers. This has become such a pest that a society recently has been organized in England for the purpose of devising means to guard troops from the serious annoyance. Flies are not only a source of great discomfort, but constitute a very grave menace to the health of the troops by carrying germs of diseases from one place to another. In some trenches the flies are more of a pest than in others. A British newspaper correspondent who inspected a trench in Flanders told of immense swarms of big green flies which he found nested in every nook and corner of the winding trench. When a soldier, temporarily relieved from duty, tried to take a much needed rest, the flies would swoop down on him and pester him unmercifully. At meal times clusters of flies took possession of all the food in sight, and the soldiers had to brush them off every morsel before putting it into his mouth. Garbage pails, which are placed in the immediate rear of the trenches and which are emptied and scoured once a day, gather swarms of flies. Here their buzzing sometimes is so noisy that it drives the heads of the soldiers. Worst of all, the flies infest the improvised field hospitals behind the firing line. The correspondent inspected one of these hospitals, a badly damaged farmhouse, where three soldiers had just been brought in for surgical treatment. Two of them were only slightly wounded and were able to fight with the whizzing, however, was unconscious, and when a Red Cross surgeon came to wash and bind up his wound an attendant had to stand by to drive away the insects.

Teutons Told That United States Would Not Even Consider It.

Washington, Aug. 16—A Hungary and Germany now officially that there is no hope of United States discontinuing or restricting shipments of war supplies to the allies.

This Teutonic Government have learned from the note which State Department has sent to Berlin and which was made public today. This communication in form of a reply to the Vienna test against the business being by Americans in war munition forth the attitude of this Government clearly and firmly. Austria is said flatly that this Government not even consider according to request. So strong is the stand by the Washington Government this note not only will probably the diplomatic exchanges on the check upon sentiment developed this country in favor of an em While President Wilson in this as in all others to European Governments on the war issues, and asked firmly upon the principle involved and upon usage of the introduces another feature by many is regarded as the striking in the note. The President's refusal to consider the suggestion on the grounds of its effect upon the of the United States to meet in the event of war.

The Government tells Austria it has been the policy of the United States from the founding of the public not to maintain in time peace a large military establishment or stores of ammunition and that the United States has always depended upon the right power to purchase arms and ammunition from neutral nations in case of foreign attack.

In citing the democratic against militarism the American makes this remarkably frank acknowledgment: "In consequence of this policy the United States was the event of attack by a foreigner at the outset of the war, wiously, if not fatally, embarrassed the lack of arms and ammunition by the means to produce them in sufficient quantities to supply the requirements of national defense." BREACH OF PROMISE CASE OF INTEREST Further Particulars of Kerr-Hammond Damage Suit.

The following further particulars from Detroit regarding in which Brantfordites are interested and which mention has been made in these columns: "Miss Ethel F. Kerr, who is living on a typewriting office of the Page-Detroit plant, has brought suit against Rochester, N. Y., man for all because the wedding bells ring on schedule time. Who did finally part forth, the suit was there, but another girl, Kerr's place, which made it more bitter. The defendant is together G. Hammond, Jr., who agent in Rochester for the States Glue Co.
