

RIEL'S DEFENCE OPENED.

EVIDENCE IN SUPPORT OF THE INSANITY PLEA.

Testimony of Gen. Middleton and Charles Nolin for the Crown-The Prisoner Becomes Excited-Comma's Address for the Defence.

REGINA, N.W.T., July 30.—A big storm interrupting telegraphic communication generally in the Northwest and with Chicago and other points, was the reason for not getting through with the trial before today. George Kerr and Edward Walters, storekeepers at Batoche, testified to Riel's personally going to their stores and demanding arms, which on their being refused were taken by the breeds by force. Kerr said he was arrested and taken before the council. In January he (Kerr) attended a meeting and met Riel. He said that he had seen Riel raised for Riel. Hilliard Mitchell, justice of the peace, being called, said that Riel was a prisoner, being called, said that Riel was a prisoner, being called, said that Riel was a prisoner.

MAUD S. CUTS HALF A SHROUD OFF HER RECORD.

The Scene on the Track-How the Dead Was Borne-The 2.04 Quarter.

CLEVELAND, O., July 30.—Maud S. ran the turf at Glenville track to-day. In presence of over 10,000 people the five-year-old mare trotted a mile over a slow course in 2:08 1/2. This beats her previous record in 2:09 1/2. The mare was a quarter faster than the best mile ever trotted by any other horse. The trial was for a cup and the time goes on record. The day was warm. There had been heavy showers during the night and the dawn broke with a great band of damp-looking clouds fringing the western sky. The heavens gradually grew hot and sunny, and the sun shined brightly on the track. The conditions seemed favorable to fast time, but the track was heavy and the quarter stroke was slow. THE DILKE SCANDAL.

Failure of Attempts to Rush it up-Insinuation of the Betrayed Husband.

LONDON, July 30.—Not a word has been published here yet about the Dilke scandal, but the topic is an everybody's lips. A general hope has been expressed that it is untrue, but an order for legal proceedings has already been given. The story is that Mrs. Crawford, wife of an officer of the local government, discovered another woman Dilke's name, who was in the house waiting for him. Infuriated, she told her husband all her own private life. The husband all her own private life. The husband all her own private life.

A BROKEN SKULL DID IT.

JOHN WARDEN'S DEATH INVESTIGATED BY CORONER DUNGAN.

J. C. Gibson Held on a Charge of Murder-Pending the Result of the Inquest-The Evidence of Three Eye-Witnesses.

The direct cause of John Warden's death, who expired under suspicious circumstances at his residence, 170 Berkeley street, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, was clearly made known at an inquest which was opened last night by Coroner Dungan at the Elephant and Castle tavern, Queen and Parliament streets. The inquest was continued until a few minutes after midnight and adjourned until 8 o'clock this evening. Warden's death was caused by a fracture of the skull on a line with the top of and just anterior to the right ear. The fracture is about as large as a 25 cent piece, almost a straight line, and extends from the top of the skull to the base of the brain, showing that considerable force was used in forcing it in. A clot of blood weighing four ounces formed just inside the fracture. There is however not a little mystery surrounding the infliction of the wound, which was kept by C. Gibson, the young man who was charged with murder, pending the result of the inquest. Gibson was present at the inquest and was asked to give evidence. He was asked to give evidence. He was asked to give evidence.

THE WORLD IN THE REBEL PITS.

A Possible Time as How the Rebels Came to Be-Middleton's Advance on Batoche.

Editor World: I enclose you a copy of your paper for April 24, which I found in one of the rebel rifle pits at Batoche on Tuesday, May 12, the day of the charge. I thought you would like to secure this evidence of the extensive circulation of The World. It was at the time of later in the World, the rebel pits at Batoche, and in Gen. Middleton's camp, much to the credit of the rebel's postal service. Yours truly, Geo. A. Flinn, correspondent Winnipeg.

MAKERS OF MINISTERS.

CHANGES THAT ARE LIKELY IN THE CABINET.

Mr. Charles Tupper's Hasty Departure From England in Connection With the Reorganization.

OTTAWA, July 30.—What cabinet changes have been made is the question in everybody's mouth, but no one appears to answer satisfactorily. That changes are imminent is admitted on every hand. The delay in swearing in Thomas White yesterday as minister of the interior was at first alleged to be due to the absence of Chief Justice Ritchie, who has power to administer the oath of office, but it is now claimed that Sir Chas. Tupper's sudden departure for Canada had more to do with it. Mr. White is to be minister of the interior in now absolutely sure, but speculation is rife as to the other members of the cabinet. Yesterday's cabinet council was thought to be the last before vacation, but another was held this afternoon, at which nearly all the ministers were present. After the council meeting Sir John and Lady Macdonald left in a special car via the Canada Atlantic railway for Cochrane. The statement made in the Ottawa correspondence of the Toronto Mail that the statesman had reconstructed the cabinet is followed by the names of the proposed members: Thomas White, minister of the interior; Senator Dickey, marine and fisheries; Pope, railways; Kirkpatrick, minister of agriculture, and Sir Leonard Tilley to remain in office as simply a blind to provoke discussion. The cabinet was thought to be a mere formality, but the statesman had reconstructed the cabinet is followed by the names of the proposed members: Thomas White, minister of the interior; Senator Dickey, marine and fisheries; Pope, railways; Kirkpatrick, minister of agriculture, and Sir Leonard Tilley to remain in office as simply a blind to provoke discussion. THE LOSS OF THE SETTLERS.

BATTLEFORD, N.W.T., July 29.—Messrs. Murra and Oulmet, commissioners for settling the losses of the settlers, visited a number of farms in this neighborhood, and today opened a court for the hearing of evidence. They promise prompt payment of all claims which are well established.

Capt. Doocet Dying.

WINNIPEG, July 30.—Capt. Doocet A.D.C. to Gen. Middleton, now in the Winnipeg general hospital, worse, and was on April 24. I remained there until I could get rid of the wounded and then went to Batoche. On reaching the plateau near the river I saw a large number of men and fired on them. Batoche was carried on May 12, and I was engaged in the fight. I was engaged in the fight. I was engaged in the fight.

Alfred Parham and James Wright, who are neighbors, were living in St. Mark's ward, got into a row about a wall on Sunday last. Parham told Wright that if he intended to use his (Parham's) wall, he must put the cover on it when he was through with it. This led to an altercation which resulted in a fight. Parham was struck on the head with an axe, and was taken to the morgue. In the little while he was grasped a piece of soap with which it is supposed he was going to wash the dog. About 4 o'clock the body was identified by the coroner as that of Alfred Parham, aged 12 years. The body was then removed to his father's home.

It would seem from this that the Pall Mall Gazette's party is not to have all the benefit of the standard which that journal has established.

It is a pity that Gen. Gordon did not have the Kamala garrison with him in Khartoum. With such a following he would have held the fort.

Lord Salisbury's eulogy of Lord Beaconsfield's eastern policy will be generally understood as signifying that the scientific frontier is not to be abandoned.

Free Advice for Young Liberals. The "young liberals," who propose holding a convention in this city shortly, are receiving a good deal of gratuitous advice from several quarters.

Free Band Concerts During August. A correspondent wants to know if arrangements could not be made to have free band concerts in one of our public parks once or twice a week during the summer months.

It at least seems clear that the report of El Mahdi's death is not a omen, and that his holy humping has gone over to the majority.

Even the sultan wants his pickings of the bone. He is willing to send an expedition to the Sudan if Egypt pays for it.

The world will watch with unusual interest the result of the split in the English Tory party on the Irish question.

STATEMENT. The undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report:

1st. The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment, and Tontine policies.

2nd. The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are indefeasible after three years, and payable immediately after proof of death.

3rd. The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but while the latter is only payable in the event of death the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own life-time, after his producing years are past, he can without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.

4th. Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to, or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policy-holders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums.

5th. Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death.

6th. Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policy-holders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit.

7th. Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the state, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected.

8th. The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business; the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned.

BLUE BUNNIES. Mrs. Brown stepped on board the train with a tiny blue bunny in her arms, holding it with a careful tenderness which showed that an exceedingly precious little bundle it was.

It was so muffled up in its long black that not a particle of it was visible but it was known that it was a baby, the baby of all the world to fond, maternal heart to which it was bound so closely.

The car was rather crowded, but the further end at a lady, who, together with her baby and various boxes of parcels, occupied two seats, and as being turned so that they faced each other.

On perceiving Mrs. Brown look around with an air of perplexity, taking special notice of the animal bundle, she was the exact counterpart of Mrs. Brown, moved the parcels on the opposite side of the car, and, as if by magic, so as to make room for her baby, she, Mrs. Brown, smiled and, as if, singly acknowledged as she sat, and said:

The two babies were evidently a pair, the same age, and attired in long cloaks the same color and texture. For the purpose of challenging the notice of the spectators, and to make sure, the two mother carefully uncoiled the heads of their respective treasures.

The little creatures laughed and, as if by magic, the mother looked smilingly on her own and then at each other. For the purpose of challenging the notice of the spectators, and to make sure, the two mother carefully uncoiled the heads of their respective treasures.

Both time and cars sped swiftly Mrs. Brown, number one, was in the act of entering the car of the time when the baby nearly died with the group, the conductor shouted:

With an ejaculation of surprise sprang to her feet, and taking up the blue bunny hurried out to the platform for her.

As he helped her into the car, she offered to Mrs. Brown, but she would not accept it, and Mrs. Brown kept it under her warm cloak.
