THIRTEENTH YEAR.

SORROWING AT RIDEAU HALL

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SON, ARTHUR, IS DYING.

It is expected that no very great change in the tariff will be announced in the Budget speech. The intention seems to be to wait another year.

OTAWA, Feb. 12.—There are sad and sorrowing hearts at Rideau Hall to-night, and the angel of death is hovering over the second son of the Governor-General. Just a week ago yesterday a telegram was received stating that the Hon. Arthur Stanley and the Hon. Victor Stanley were both ill, and the case was considered so serious that Lady Stanley left for New York, en route for England, to attend to her engagements at Rideau Hall were cancelled.

Later cablegrams, however, were so hopeful that Her Excellency returned to Rideau Hall on Thursday and the usual Saturday afternoon tobogganing party was held yesterday. This morning, however, a change was caused by the following cablegram: "Mr. Arthur Stanley much worse; head symptoms very serious; most critical; we can only hope for the best."

This evening another and even less hopeful cable was received as follows: "The pulse quicker, but quite insensible." The sad news was not generally known this morning, but this evening it was the general topic of conversation at the houses of the House and the clubs and hotels, where the utmost sympathy was expressed for Lord and Lady Stanley.

Rev. Mr. Herridge referred to the sad news, and offered a brief but impressive prayer for the sufferer.

No very great changes. There is naturally some little curiosity as to the budget speech on Tuesday, but the impression is that no very great changes will be announced, and that Mr. Foster will confine himself very much to the lines laid down in his Budget speech.

Nothing, however, is definitely known as to what Mr. Foster will announce, except that it is freely said by those who are assumed to be in the confidence of the Government that he will positively announce no change in the matter of Indian corn, which will not be put on the free list.

The annual meeting of the press gallery was held yesterday, when the following officers were elected: President, Fred Cook, Toronto; Editor in Chief, A. Maguire, Toronto Globe; Secretary, W. J. Healy, Toronto Mail; Executive Committee, A. E. Payne, St. John Sun; Fred Williams, Montreal Herald; R. M. MacLeod, Ottawa Citizen; J. D. Clarke, London Advertiser.

The annual dinner will probably take place on the 25th instant. The Executive Committee of the World's Fair have received assurances from the Chicago Executive that Canada will be well represented in the judges in classes in which Canada competes.

The Cattle Embargo. As the opening of navigation approaches the question of the embargo on cattle imported by Great Britain attracts more attention. There does not seem to be much hope that the embargo will be removed, although the Canadian Government is leaving no stone unturned to accomplish that end.

In this connection it has been ascertained here that the case of alleged pleuro-pneumonia last October 68 carcases of Canadian cattle, comprising over 15,000 head, have been without the slightest trace of disease being found.

SPRING STYLES IN HATS. A few notes regarding what will be worn this season.

A story is told of a man whose friends forsok him and passed him by on the other side of the way without even a nod of recognition. Just because he had a shabby hat.

Finally, the hat was discarded, and then the fact was made public that he had worn the rusty headgear on a wager for a stipulated length of time.

All this goes to prove that a shabby hat is one of the principal articles in the make-up of a fashionable young man. No matter how well a man is dressed, a shabby hat spoils his whole appearance, and even if his clothes are a trifle "off" in the cut a stylish hat remedies the evil.

Now, Dimes is getting in just the sort of shabby hats that would make even a tramp look up and envy.

The first shipment of English hats have arrived and were opened Saturday at the Grand Emporium, 100 King Street East. This is only an advance consignment to meet the early spring demand, but many more cases are on the way.

Only hats from the best makers are ordered from England and Scotland, large consignments coming from Paris, London, and the Continent. Health's, Christie's, Lalcock-Bennett's and firms of equal repute.

On the first of March Dunslop's New York hats will be taken from the cases and opened for inspection.

Mr. Dimes states that so far as he can gather from the letters he has received from celebrated hat firms the style of hat worn this season will be lower in the crown and broader in the rim than last year's styles. Fedoras will be worn greatly by the cream of the "upper ten."

A BRUTAL DOG FIGHT. Buffalo and Toronto Dogs Fight for Two Hours Unrestrained.

The recent loss near Devonport-road and St. George's street were the scene of a brutal exhibition yesterday afternoon. For two hours the "dead game" sports of the city witnessed a dog fight. The contestants were a Toronto and a Buffalo dog, and the fight all through was in the Yankee animal's favor.

The Toronto canine had his breast so badly torn that one of the gang more humane than the rest relieved him from his suffering by battering his brains out with a club. The Buffalo dog, which was brought here by a York-street restaurateur, was the favorite and considerable money changed hands on the event.

RAILWAYS AND CANALS.

The Yearly Report Thereof—Revenue and Expenditure for January and Previous Eight Months.

OTAWA, Feb. 11.—The annual report of the Department of Railways and Canals was laid on the table by the Hon. John Haggart yesterday. From it it appears that the number of railways, including Government roads in operation, was 78; the number of miles of railway completed was 14,633 (besides 1664 miles of siding), of which 13,869 were laid with steel rails. There were 14,000 miles of railway in operation, the paid-up capital amounting to $316,662,758; the gross earnings to $13,239,649; the number of passengers carried was 16,522,688, and 2,163,290 tons of freight were conveyed by these roads. The number of miles run by trains was 43,939,178. The total amount expended by the Government for the construction of railway works, for subsidies to railways down to June 30, 1892, was $133,498,758. The net loss on the Government railways in operation was $612,204. The number of passengers carried on the Intercolonial was 1,267,732, a decrease of 572. The number of barrels of flour carried was 904,915, a decrease of 115,222; of live stock, an increase of 885,756 bushels. The quantity of lumber carried decreased 8,713,864 feet. The number of live cattle, an increase of 885,756 bushels. The quantity of coal carried decreased 64,292 tons. The quantity of raw sugar carried was 21,837 tons, an increase of 3064 tons, and of refined 32,721 tons, an increase of 16,127 tons.

With regard to canals, the report states that the total expenditure on canals to June 30, 1892, was $68,548,686. The expenditures during the year were $1,687,197 for construction, $239,800 for repairs and $340,478 for staffs and maintenance. The total canal revenue was $224,975. With reference to the question of canal tolls, the report says: "It seems proper here to record briefly certain facts relative to the tolls charged for the passage of wheat and other food products through the Welland and the St. Lawrence canals. In the year 1882 the toll on the Erie Canal was abolished. In the year 1884, on urgent representations from shippers and others interested in the trade, orders in council were passed with a view to meeting the abolition of the Erie Canal tolls. They reduced for the current season by one-half the tolls for passage through the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals on wheat and certain other food products shipped from Montreal or other Canadian ports west of Montreal. In the following year, 1885, tolls were further reduced on such goods to 2 cents per ton, and thenceforward, year by year, up to and including 1891, this concession has been made. In the year 1892 the reduction was conditioned by the provision that it should be applicable only to products actually exported."

The Toll Levy. In August, 1892, the United States adopted a system of tolls on the Erie Canal, levying 20 cents per ton on all freight carried to any port in the Dominion of Canada. The Canadian Government has taken the Canal. The tolls should be forever free from toll, and that such transfer took place subsequently to the Treaty of Washington, and the undertaking of the state conformably thereto that British subjects should have the use of the canal on terms of equality with the inhabitants of the United States. The report states, with reference to the Canal, that an agreement was made on Nov. 22, 1892, by which the canal is to be completed by July 1, 1893. The canal now will have a width at low water of 102 feet, and a depth of 20 feet. The lock is to be 900 feet long, with a width of 65 feet, and will lock the canal for a distance of 1000 feet. The expenditure for the eight months of the fiscal year was $341,474. Between July 1 and December 31, 1892, further expenditures of $296,275 were made, and the total expenditure on the works so far has been $1,182,357. The expenditure on the canal from December 31 was $118,691. Contracts have been let for eight out of the 13 sections.

Revenue and Expenditure. The statement of revenue and expenditure for January shows the former to have been $2,123,370 and the latter $5,347,306, an increase of $240,604 in the former and a decrease of $119,470 in the latter as compared with the corresponding month of the fiscal year. For the eight months of the fiscal year the revenue has been $21,772,601, against $20,716,440 last year, a decrease of $1,056,160. The expenditure for the eight months has been $19,189,893, against $19,808,325 last year, a decrease of $618,432. The surplus at present is $2,582,707, as compared with a surplus of $248,126 at this time last year.

The statement of the public debt on Jan. 31, 1893, is as follows: Gross debt, $27,387,854; Net debt, $240,044,891. This shows an increase in the debt during the month of $2,127,386, which is $17,253 less than the increase in the month of January, 1892, compared with June 30, 1892, the end of the last fiscal year, the net debt on Jan. 31 showed an increase of $1,088,653. The expenditure on capital account during January was $238,243, and for the eight months $2,278,364, compared with $256,815 in January, 1892, and $2,104,419 for the eight months.

Captured the Thousand Dollar Prize. A Canadian of high standing in the literary world has just been awarded the above prize for the most successful American novel of the year. Stinson Jarvis is a Canadian whose last book had an immense sale. Dr. Fardine, the latest work of this fortunate author, and for which he has just received $1000, is far and away better and more readable than the bulk of everyday novels, being a very strong and marvellously interesting story. It is a long time since publishers have given us anything half so good. John P. McKenna, 305 Yonge-street, near King, has special arrangements with the publishers to issue the work to-day simultaneously with the New York and Chicago editions.

The quest of compensating the Queen for the loss of rank and privileges and the Princess for damage to her prospects will be considered.

CANADIAN HISTORICAL PICTURES.

Valuable Papers Read By Dr. Sandford Fleming to the Members of the Canadian Institute.

A large audience gathered at the Canadian Institute Saturday night to hear Dr. Sandford Fleming read two interesting papers. In his first paper on "Canadian Historical Pictures," Dr. Fleming referred to the great wealth of material possessed by Canada for national pictures commemorative of the men and deeds famous in our history. The annals of the French in Canada furnished many themes. The intrepid mariners who sailed from France to the St. Lawrence in the 16th century, the intrepid men who planted the first germs of civilization between Stadacona and Hochelaga in the 17th century, the voyageurs who in the succeeding century followed the coasts of the great lakes and ascended the remotest streams flowing through prairies west of Lake Superior, were names whose prominence should be recorded as pioneers in exploration, conquest and civilization.

Dr. Fleming's second paper gave an account of the explorations of travel and hardships of Alexander Mackenzie, who in 1793 traversed the whole of the country now known as the Dominion of Canada. His discoveries settled the doubts of a practical northwest passage through the temperate zone he set at rest. The long agitated question with the disputes which had arisen regarding it; he added new regions to the realm of British commerce, and in doing so extended the boundaries of geographical science. He did much more, although the full effect of all he accomplished was unknown to us at that time, however, attribute to the enterprises which Mackenzie's discoveries led to the Rocky Mountain territory west of the Rocky Mountains became a British province; indeed, it is problematical whether, in the absence of his discoveries, any portion of that country would at present constitute part of the Dominion of Canada. In my judgment there is no event which we can point to with greater interest and satisfaction than the completion of Sir Alexander Mackenzie's arduous enterprise on that day, July 22, 1793, when, with his Canadian companions, he floated on a small canoe on the waters of the Pacific.

Prof. Coleman's paper on "New Trails in the Rockies" was listened to with much interest.

Meeting Contractor Read. Montreal, Feb. 12.—John J. Macdonald, a leading Canadian contractor, died here at an early hour this morning, aged 57 years.

Mr. Macdonald was connected with some of the biggest contracting works in the Dominion, including the Intercolonial and Canadian Pacific Railways. He was also the builder of the Temuco railway.

The body will be removed to Ottawa tomorrow, where the funeral will take place on Tuesday morning.

Manufacturers' Life. (Journal of Commerce.) The annual report of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company more than passing mention. The number of policies issued during the year was but a mere fraction less than those for 1891, being in number 250, and covering $2,099,250.

This steadiness and maintenance of business is commendable and much to be preferred to the boom of the early years of the company. The total amount of business in force on the first of January was $1,180,969 as compared with $7,413,761 a year before.

The premium income advanced for the year 1892 was $1,108,888, while the interest from investments advanced during the year was $1,000,000.

GERMANY'S LABOR LEADERS.

THEY ENERGETICALLY COLLEAGUES IN ENGLAND.

And Wonder Why the Britishers Accept the Assistance of Either of the Two Great Political Parties.—A Journal Deuoness Chamberlain in Vigorous Epithets—Epidemic Diseases.

Berlin, Feb. 12.—Despite the valiant efforts of the semi-official press and the semi-official orators the prospect of passing the army bill without substantial concessions from the Government is again darkening. The statistical campaign of the last three weeks has failed to move popular opinion to the extent expected, and the dailies having connection with Chancellor Caprivi's press bureau have been reduced to ringing the changes on the statement that the triple alliance has but 1,176,838 men in its standing armies, while the dual alliance has 1,906,000, a disparity of numerical strength to be altered only by Germany's taking the lead of Austria-Hungary and Italy in increasing her peace efforts.

The Labor Movement. The Home Rule conflict in Great Britain is casting its shadow in Germany. Among the social Democrats especially the progress of the debates in the House of Commons is watched with interest.

The Parliamentary representatives of the independent labor movement and the social Democratic chiefs express contempt only their surprise that English labor leaders should accept the assistance of the Liberal bourgeoisie or the Tory landowners.

The Vorwarts, central organ of the social Democrats, in a half conciliatory article, explains that the labor interests of Great Britain may be able to gain some in the present Parliament, but that the labor party will not pass before the middle of April. The delay has caused much adverse criticism among medical authorities, who have been urging constantly the necessity of immediate action.

Prof. Koch is said to have predicted last November in an official memorandum that cholera would reappear in Hamburg and other cities infected by the cholera germ, the first outbreak in next March, and his opinion has been verified recently by the epidemic in Nienstein, and the occasional deaths from cholera in Hamburg and Atlanta.

Unless the bill be rushed through the Bundesrat and Reichstag in speedy haste it is likely to become operative too late for the accomplishment of anything like prevention.

International Conference. Most of the European powers have accepted the Government's invitation to an international conference concerning cholera.

The conference will meet probably in six or eight weeks and will take steps toward international co-operation in checking the progress of the epidemic from country to country, while interfering as little as possible with the course of international trade and travel.

Defective Rifles. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Koshakische Zeitung says that the defective work of the Russian small arms factories on the new small calibre rifles will delay for four years the rearming of the Russian infantry. According to the understanding between the War Offices of Russia and France, the latter factories were to make some 500,000 of the rifles and the Russian Government factories were to produce the rest, so that the deliveries should be completed simultaneously. France delivered her share of the rifles last summer. The Russian factories, however, have delivered up to date but 6000 rifles, which stand the test. The Russian War Office is making an investigation of the causes of the defectiveness of the work and is trying to fix the responsibility among the officials in charge.

Henry De Mille Dead. New York, Feb. 12.—Henry C. De Mille, who wrote "The Wife of a Soldier" and "The Charming Lady," died at his home in Pompton, N.J., yesterday.

Why I'm Sober? The hoodlum danced in his little hands, And dashed about by the neck of his hands; She came from the best and the better lands; She touched my shoulder and spoke my name; I still for a moment stand still and dumb; Look at the path that you feet have trod! I promised her then that I'd never drink; And I'll keep my promise—so help me God!

Why do women and children weep? The world should ring with a splendid song; If only man would his promise keep; And love his love and never do wrong; And kiss the darling who loves him best; And fondle the woman who saves his soul; And keep his secret—and keep it whole.

And that is why I'm sober now; Somebody's holding my hand; You see, the faith of those has lashed her brow; But nevertheless she sticks to me; Her hand is leading me up the way; Where only those who are good and true can ever go; some summer's day; I'll kiss her foot-prints—wouldn't you?

The world is sweeter than days gone past, The days are wiser and better, far; I've found a lover and friend at last; Like men of old I will follow a star; Last night my soul's condition slept; I woke and the world was bright and broad; I've made a promise that must be kept; I'll keep that promise—so help me God!

MOSS PARK WINS AT HAMILTON.

A very pleasant club match was played last Saturday afternoon at Hamilton between Moss Park and the Victoria Club of Hamilton. This was the first game between these clubs, and as the Moss Park Club was so hospitably entertained it is expected that annual matches will be played hereafter.

THE INTERNATIONAL MATCH POSTPONED.

ALBANY, Feb. 11.—The international two rink match for the Gordon medal, arranged to-day here, has been postponed without delay, probably until next Saturday, as the Montreal curlers are anxious to cross brooms again with the curlers on this side of the border, and the latter are just getting ready to meet them.

CURLING BOOMS IN NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 11.—The Tuxedo Curling Club has offered four handsome prizes to any rink going out there next week and playing a Tuxedo rink a game of 15 ends, the winners to receive the property of the club. This offer has promptly been accepted by the following rinks: Monday, Feb. 13, Yonkers; Tuesday, New York; Wednesday, Tuxedo, New York; Thursday, Empire City, and no doubt others will fill up the dates so that the finely wooded hills and fertile valleys of Orange County will resound around Tuxedo with the boom of the curling stones and musical voices of the curlers.

BANK HOCKEY LEAGUE.

The group matches have been completed in the Bank Hockey League. On Saturday the Eastern combination defeated the Imperial team, which gave the champions a clear record in Group B. The final will be played this week between Commerce and Imperial, and an exciting contest is expected. Here is the standing in the two groups:
