BRIDGETOWN PAST AND PRESENT.

The Town's Industries To-day Include the Manufacture of Cider, Vinegar, Larrigans, Building Material, Barrels, Machinery, Farm Implements, School Desks, Monuments, etc.

J. H. HICKS & SONS.

Webster defines "Patriot" as "One who loves his country and zealously supports its authority and institutions." And truly may this term be applied to the controllers of the above business. Natives of the town in which their business is situated, content to remain and work out their love, faith and confidence in this fair land of great industrial possibilities in the near future, they stand as object lessons to other Nova Scotians who may be seeking the famed West as a greater field for their labor and prospects. Nova Scotia may be truly said to have made the West to a certain extent by giving of the best of her brains and energy, but here in this town we have this firm showing that the latter qualities can be applied here with equal success.

When Shaw and Fisher's business went out of existence in 1858, Edward and Herbert Hicks determined that here was a chance of stepping in and making a successful business venture. Possession of the building having been obtained, the brothers started in, and soon a busy hive of industry was making itself felt throughout the Province and Prince Edward Island. At first it was a very uphill fight, one or other of the brothers travelling over the Province and securing orders which were quickly filled and despatched to their various parts, and the firm of J. H. Hicks & Sons was fast becoming recognized as an important factor in the industrial life of the Valley. In 1904, however, things looked very black for these enterprising young men, for one night in December the whole structure was destroyed by fire, and all that was left were charred machinery and crumbling ruins, of what was beginning to be a prosperous venture.

This disaster would have daunted the ardor of many other young men, but the Messrs. Hicks, although somewhat disheartened, faced the situation with true Spartan spirit, and in a very short while another building, in Church Road, was constructed, machinery installed, and work commenced and carried on even more zealously than before. Mr. Herbert Hicks having just previously to the fire sold out his interest, Mr. Henry stepped in and took up the work. Things again went along very smoothly for about eighteen months, and orders were pouring into the factory in ever-increasing numbers when once again the fire-fiend showed its greedy maw and consumed the fine three-storied warehouse containing the entire stock of furniture and undertaking fittings, etc., in Queen Street. Two fire reverses in less than eighteen months, and with insurance by no means too fully carried, were indeed crippling and disheartening circumstances in every way, but even this last misfortune did not daunt the enterprising young firm, which showed its faith in its own possibilities by again reconstructing and giving Bridgetown what she has today—the finest and best stocked furniture house in the Valley.

The factory in Church Road at the present moment is very busily employed upon the manufacture of windows, sashes, mouldings, doors, and all other kinds of manufactured goods, from the rough timber to the finished article. Their undertaking business is also an important part of the firm's scope of activity.

The firm also contracts for building dwelling-houses, churches, and apple warehouses, and is securing a great amount of business in this way, and the work during the coming year shows promise of even greater prosperity.

When the work is at its height during the summer months sometimes as many as fifty to sixty men are employed, with the result that a large pay roll has to be met and covered from week to week. During the past year no less a sum than $14,000 was paid out, of which $8,000 at least came into the town.

Last year this house secured and dealt with no less than 1,500,000 feet of lumber, an immense figure for a rising industry, and appearances point to a greater demand for the ensuing twelve months.

During the slack periods of business, and to keep the men employed, building operations have been carried on very successfully, ten residences being constructed and nearly all having been sold.

Messrs. Hicks express the belief that the coming year will be their banner year, and are of the opinion that in order to cope with the orders in hand they will have to employ more labor—a most satisfactory state of business affairs.

MCKENZIE, CROWE & CO., LTD.

In 1890 Messrs. W. H. McKenzie and the late W. E. Crowe, Halifax, conceived the idea of instituting in Bridgetown a tannery and larrigan factory, and within a very short period of time a site was selected and operations commenced. The site chosen was the present one of the firm's operations, and the beginning of the business was of necessity very small. The two gentlemen above-named from the commencement determined that the business should be a success, and worked very hard to secure that honorable end.

The employees all told numbered no more than six and the pay roll was very small. Difficulties of course, were met with, and these were successfully overcome, the business gradually growing, and winning its way year by year into true commercial prominence.

At last, like other businesses which were becoming more widely known and successfully operated, the time arrived when it should be turned into a limited company, and in 1905 the present Company was formed, with Mr. Arnold McKenzie as Managing Director; W. H. McKenzie, President; Chas. F. DeWitt, Vice-President; and B. D. Neily, Sec.-Treasurer.

The business acumen introduced by Mr. McKenzie has developed a business of a very large and durable nature, and to-day not only have the premises been increased several times to keep up with the orders of this well-known house, but the hands employed have multiplied over and over again, there being now between 50 and 60 employees on the pay roll.

No less than a sum of $23,000 was paid to the employees in the year 1912, and when one comes to consider that the orders for this business came from outside the town, it means that last year the majority of this large sum went into the pockets of the tradesmen of Bridgetown. This amount indicates in part the loss it would mean to the town if this industry were to be removed.

When the firm first commenced operations the price paid for hides was 3 cents per lb; to-day no less a figure than from 13 to 15 cents is being paid, and this in the face of very great competition. Of course, the great increase in the price of hides, and the ever-changing factor of price makes it very hard to estimate on contracts, and in spite of this great difficulty the year 1912 looms up largely with a turnover of about $110,000, an increase of $20,000 over the preceding year.

The tannery itself is under the charge of a man who has had forty years' experience in his particular line, and this speaks volumes as to the quality if the goods turned out in this important branch of the firm's business. 7,500 to 8,000 hides were purchased last year at the highest price.

The rooms present a very busy appearance on ordinary occasions, but the work last year made them even more so, inasmuch as overtime has been worked continuously to keep up with the orders. In common with industrial conditions elsewhere the labor problem is very difficult to contend with, it being almost impossible at times to increase the staff of workmen and boys. However, this may not be so great an obstacle in the near future as it appears at the present time, as this year will probably see a boom of settlers into Nova Scotia, particularly from some of the large boot and shoe manufacturing centres in the old country. This will mean much greater facility for employers in securing the necessary labor.

Asked as to the prospects for the coming year, Mr. Arnold McKenzie said his trips to Montreal, Toronto and other places had resulted in orders which would keep the factory fully employed for seven or eight months to come, and he predicted that from present appearances it would probably be a banner year.

MESSRS. GRAVES & CO.

It is about twenty-four years since Mr. Minard W. Graves, the originator of the largest cider industry in the province, conceived the idea of manufacturing cider as a money-making concern. Many farmers at that time had small hand-presses and used to manufacture their own cider, but Mr. Graves was convinced that a central plant for relieving the farmers of this work would pay. Accordingly, having rented an old unused house, he installed a small hand press as a beginning. This was followed two years later by a horse-power press, with an output of about 1000 gallons. The utensils which held the cider were molasses hogsheads, and would now appear grotesque as compared with the huge tanks installed in the present day factory.

Business continuing to grow, naturally the increased output had to be met with by a further extension of plant, and about 1895 an hydraulic press worked by steam power was installed, including eight large tanks, with a carrying capacity of 3,000 gallons. At this period one generator was a part of the fixtures. Business still continuing to expand, Mr. Graves then sought for a more convenient site to construct a properly equipped factory, and selected the one upon which the present premises are located.

The factory here was built in 1903, and next summer the building was partially burned out, and had to be rebuilt. This factory had a storage capacity of 100,000 gallons, and showed that in a period of about seven years the output had grown from 1000 to 100,000 gallons per annum.

In 1905 Mr. Fred Bath joined Mr. Graves, but finding that he could help the firm much better on the road, he relinquished his interest, and Captain Salter in 1906 filled the vacant position, becoming now joint partner with Mr. Graves, the firm trading as M. W. Graves & Co.

With Messrs. Graves and Salter at the helm, and Mr. Fred Bath upon the road, the business began to advance by leaps and bounds. To cope with the increased business, new additions were made to the factory north and south, until today with the huge tanks now installed and with the very latest up-to-date machinery, the cider-vinegar industry here is probably the largest in Nova Scotia, if not in the Dominion.

In 1911-12, no less than 400,000 gallons of cider-vinegar were manufactured, and this enormous total was disposed of with easy facility, this fact speaking for itself as to the quality of the product.

Owing to the dock strike in England last year, ships were held up in London loaded with cider, and this fact materially retarded the despatch of other consignments until such time as the docks were clear of all trouble. Again the season in England, particularly in the counties of Kent, Surrey, and Sussex had been particularly favorable to the culture of immense crops of apples, and this was a determining factor in preventing the despatch of larger consignments.

The spotted fruit of last year, although it was bad for farmers was good for the factory, there was a superfluous quantity of cider apples, and large purchases were made to meet the prospective demand of this firm's product.

The further development of this now well-known and established business is confidently expected. As showing the business proposition of today, no less a sum than $23,000 was paid for apples and labor for the preceding year, and a great proportion of this circulates within the Valley, particularly in Bridgetown.

MESSRS. BEELER & PETERS

Curry Bros. and Bent's business was taken over by Messrs. Beeler and Peters in 1895, who have made it a most successful and going concern. The former proprietors had carried on a wood working business, with plant appropriate for the same. The new firm cleaned the old machinery out, meaning to make a special feature of barrel construction, and with this purpose in view installed a rotary mill and barrel machinery of the very latest construction.

Since 1900 this industry has been carried on most successfully, and in 1901—the banner year—30,000 barrels were coopered and supplied to local demands, and stock for 20,000 was sent to Halifax. In addition, stock to the extent of between 50,000 and 60,000 was manufactured, and despatched throughout the length and breadth of the Valley.

On account of the meagre supply of apples locally in 1912, half of the preceding year's total for local purposes was only constructed, viz. 15,000 barrels, but 50,000 stock was sent to Halifax, and 50,000 to 60,000 throughout the Valley.

In addition to the manufacture of barrels, a large amount of work is involved in the lumber and timber trade for building materials, and last year no less than 500,000 feet were disposed of by this enterprising firm. Already three large contracts were in hand for supplying the necessary timber for the construction of three large apple warehouses.

Mr. Beeler stated that all they wanted at the present time was to get the timber out of the woods and work would be immediately proceeded with. Two large parties were already at work, and hauling would begin immediately if the snow arrived in sufficient quantities for this purpose.

On an average about twenty hands are employed during the eight months the factory is in work, and the wages over that period cover no less a sum than $7,000, one-half of which, at least, goes into the pockets of the local trades-

Mr. Beeler is also exceedingly optimistic as to the present year's necessities, and says arrangements are being made for turning out many thousands of more barrels than yet manufactured in any year in the history of the firm.

THE BRIDGETOWN FOUNDRY CO.

The Bridgetown Foundry Co. is one of our oldest industries, and one which unfortunately has had rather a checkered career. The business was first established by James Hillis, now the successful senior partner of the Richmond Foundry Co., Halifax. Mr. Hillis found the establishment of the enterprise rather up-hill work, as did also his successors, Messrs. Douglas and Craig, who purchased the business from Mr. Hillis a few years later. Mr. Douglas retired in the early eighties, and Mr. Craig was gradually establishing it on a sound basis when in 1884 fire destroyed the entire premises, and to make the loss complete there was not a dollar of insurance.

The following year a stock company was formed by the citizens of the town to assist Mr. Craig in re-establishing it. Mr. Craig continued in control for a period of twenty-four years, during which he devoted his entire energies to his work, in his endeavor to make it profitable to the stock-holders and a credit to the town. Unfortunately his health failed him several years before his death, which occurred a few years since, and he passed away without realizing to the full the desired results of his arduous labors. The struggling enterprise was then taken in hand by his son, Kenneth, who has worked hard with the same ambition.

A large amount of new business has been secured during the past few years, and the products of the foundry largely increased. Its manufactures include at the present time rotary saw-mills, gang edgers, stove machines and other saw-mill machinery, and in the smaller specialties school-desks, root-pulpers, etc. The manufacture of stoves has not been carried on since its earliest establishment, the products of the machine shop being considered more profitable. The present manager is quite optimistic concerning the future of this industry.

In spite of the treacherous weather and bad roads on Monday evening, the Recreation Hall was exceedingly well filled with friends from far and near to do honor to Supt. Hiltz, of the County Hospital, and Supt. Myers, of the County Home, for their faithful services to the county and town.

Quite a number of well-laden teams drove up to the Hall with their full complement of passengers, and many sturdily walked through the deep mire to the Hall. The decorations were still upon the wall from the Christmas festivities, and light and

Mr. Myers, unfortunately, was suffering from quinsy, and thus unable to be present.

Rev. J. B. Dustan ably presided as chairman. The program as presented consisting of no less than seventeen numbers, was in itself a perfect feast of musical and vocal talent, and reflected the highest credit upon all concerned. Fulsome flattery is a thing greatly to be deplored, but the writer is prepared to state, nevertheless, that Bridgetown can more than hold its own with any other town in the province as to musical and vocal talents.

The whole proceedings had been arranged by Mrs. J. I. Foster, with the assistance of Rev. E. Underwood and F. Cole, who rightly thought that the time had arrived for a generous public to show their appreciation of the services of the two above-named gentlemen, and the occasion was worthy of its promoters. The whole affair was in the nature of a surprise so far as the presentations were concerned, and one can only regret that Mr. Myers was not present himself to hear the kind words so ably spoken by the Rev. E. Underwood when making the presenta-

IN THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

The report of the attending physician on our County Institutions was then read and, on motion, adopted. The following is the report:—

REPORT OF ATTENDING PHYSICIANS, COUNTY INSTITUTIONS.

COUNTY HOSPITAL

Number of inmates at beginning of year	49
Admitted, during the year	6
Discharged	2
Died	7

COUNTY HOME.

Number of inmates at first of year	59
Admitted	25
Born	1
Discharged	22
Died	8

Inmates at close of year 53
 The deaths were large in the year or from chronic troubles. One death in the County Home was from an accident, the patient, a woman, having jumped from an upper window in the night while temporarily insane, and injured herself to such a degree that she died a few weeks later. This is the second time this accident has occurred in the Home within a few years, and suggests that some window guards should be placed on the sleeping chambers as are used in the Hospital.

The general health of inmates of both Institutions has been good throughout the year. As far as possible patients have been allowed and encouraged to work in the garden or about the farm, and those that have done so have shown the benefit of this open air and manual treatment. Everywhere in the medical world today this matter of furnishing employment to this class of patients is recognized as beneficial and curative. Our patients, as a rule, like to be occupied, and they go about the work as happy as a crowd of school boys at play.

To both Mr. and Mrs. Hiltz, of the Hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. Myers, of the Home, much praise and credit is due for their part in the successful solution of the problem of caring for the hundred and more unfortunate that have to be cared for here. To do their work requires particular tact and great patience and kindness, and in these qualities or virtues the Superintendents of both Institutions have proven their worth, and leave nothing to be desired in this respect.

Some further improvements about the buildings could be suggested, but as these are details that your honorable body has left largely with the Committee, we need not enumerate them here, as we have ever found the Committee ready to adopt any improvement that would add to the comfort of the inmates.

Respectfully submitted,
L. G. DeBLOIS,
M. E. ARMSTRONG,
 Attending Physicians.

Ordered that Mr. Fletcher Dargie be heard.
 Mr. Dargie addressed the Council on matters concerning the collection of back taxes.

The report of the Committee appointed to name standing committees for ensuing year was then read, and, on motion, adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO APPOINT STANDING COMMITTEES.

To the Warden and Councilors:—
 Committees appointed to nominate Standing Committees for the present year, beg leave to report as follows:

Finance.—E. H. Parker, W. L. Healy and A. D. Thomas.
 Tenders and Public Property.—Freeman Fitch, J. I. Foster, and F. H. Willett.

Assessments.—F. R. Elliott, J. C. Grimm, and W. FitzRanolph.
 Road Returns.—Elias Rawding, Bartlett Gillis and A. S. Brown.
 Insurance.—W. E. Armstrong, Watson Bent and J. C. Grimm.

The report of the Committee appointed to provide a right of way for W. H. Marshall was then read, and, on motion, adopted.

REPORT ON W. H. MARSHALL'S RIGHT OF WAY.

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis Co.
 We, your Committee appointed to arrange for right of way for W. H. Marshall, from Allen Settlement Road to New Cannan Road, beg leave to make the following report.

We find, after careful enquiry that the Allen Settlement road already is laid out through his cleared field, and that the right of way which Mr.

Marshall asks for is in our opinion, unnecessary at the present time, and further, the owners of part of the property being the Sisters of Charity, whose agent, we understand, is in Halifax, we therefore are unable to approach.

Respectfully submitted,
C. R. BANKS,
G. W. WHERLOCK,
W. J. ARMSTRONG.

Ordered that R. J. Messenger be heard in re the Nova Scotia Horticultural Exhibition held at Bridgetown.

Mr. Messenger then addressed the Council, showing a deficit of $28.30, of which he asked the Council to pay half the deficit, Bridgetown paying the other half.

Mr. Messenger also spoke to the Council, as to the under-draining of farms and recommending the traction ditcher and the passing of a resolution, requesting our County representative to use his influence in having the duty on this machine and its outfit removed.

Ordered that this Municipality pay one-half the deficit of the Nova Scotia Horticultural Exhibition, of the sum of $14.15, and that the Clerk be authorized to issue an order on the Treasurer for the same.

The petition of B. G. Fair and upwards of twenty others, freeholders of the County of Annapolis, was then read, praying that the Council take no action in reference to the Marsh Road at Moschelle, but that the same be allowed to remain as it is with gates and bars.

A communication was then read from Arthur Roberts, secretary-treasurer of the Union of Municipalities, asking for the appointment of delegates to the meeting of the Union of the Nova Scotia Municipalities for 1913, which will be held at Bridgetown.

Moved by Councillor Healy, seconded by Councillor Grimm, that:—Whereas Traction ditchers are not manufactured in Canada; Whereas there is now an almost prohibitive duty of 27 per cent on these outfits coming from the United States; therefore resolved: That this Municipality in session urge Mr. A. L. Davidson, our federal representative, to use every influence possible to secure the removal of the duty on traction ditchers and their outfit coming into Canada from the United States, and that the Clerk be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to Mr. Davidson in Ottawa.

On motion the Council adjourned until 2.30 p.m.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Council met again at half-past two, all the Councilors being present.

The minutes of the morning session were then read and adopted.

The report of C. F. Armstrong in re the Saunders Road on Comeau Marsh at Moschelle was then read, and, on motion, placed on the table for discussion.

The following is the report:—
 To the Warden and members of the Municipal Council of Annapolis County.
 Gentlemen:—

On the receipt of your precept instructing me to go to Moschelle and look into all matters pertaining to the Saunders Road that had been brought before the Council by Mr. Geo. W. Shipton, my first business was to find out what Mr. Shipton had brought before the Council, what was the nature of the information you wished me to obtain, and bring before you, and the dispute you wished to settle.

After receiving five letters from Mr. Shipton, one from the Municipal Clerk and one from your respected chairman, I concluded that the point in dispute was "Is the Saunders Road a public road or not?" and I have since used my best efforts to get all available information bearing on this point to bring before you. I found on investigation that the dispute was confined to the portion of road crossing the Comeau Marsh from B to F on the accompanying plan.

I sent a notice to every person owning land adjoining the said road, requesting them to meet me at the residence of Mr. Shipton, and give me what information they would concerning the matter in dispute, on Tuesday, August 27th.

They met me at the appointed time and place, and their statements follow.

In order to have a clear understanding of the facts, and be able to place them intelligently before you, I went over the road with my compass and chain and have made a plan, which I also place before you. I find by examining the plan of Annapolis Township as originally granted a road is laid out in practically the same place as the Saunders Road as now travelled. An exact copy of the Grant plan from Saw Mill Creek to Round Hill is placed alongside of the plan of my survey, so you can compare the locations of road.

I had in Municipal record books, containing records from 1861 to 1873, page 273 date 1870, a list of Road Districts "No. 44" (is called) "Saunders Road" (and described as follows): "Commencing at gate in front of John Bartlett's thence round to the LeCain school house."

Church's map of Annapolis County, 1864, shows a public road from LeCain school house passing Saunders and Creelman houses and crossing the marsh the same as now travelled.

Geo. W. Shipton presented a letter from the Hon. Geo. Whitman herewith presented and marked A, stating that his father, Elnathan Whitman, was a member of a committee which laid out the Saunders Road crossing the Comeau Marsh "awarded to be a public road free of gates and bars."

B. F. Williams stated that sixty years ago Elnathan Whitman was unable to go farther than from his house to his barn with a cane.

Geo. W. Armstrong stated that he did statute labor on the disputed portion of the Saunders Road from the time he was sixteen years old until he moved to Round Hill about seventeen years ago.

Geo. W. Shipton stated that he did his statute labor on the aforesaid disputed portion of the Saunders Road in five of the six years in which he had lived in his present home.

John F. Tupper stated that he had done statute labor on aforesaid disputed part of Saunders Road during every year in which he had lived at home for the past twelve years since he was sixteen years old. Also that he was called upon, about three years ago by the Surveyor of Highways to repair the said road, in response to a complaint of C. Williams, who is not a marsh owner, and he repaired it.

Geo. W. Shipton stated that whilst Councillor W. C. Healy was retracing the road, Bernard Saunders said in his presence that it was a three rod road, and Councillor Healy ordered him (Shipton) to fence out a road three rods wide across his farm. John F. Spurr and John F. Tupper both stated that Councillor Healy told them two rods wide would do.

John McLeod stated that he had lived on the Barrett place thirty-three years. A gate at the head of the lane across the road from his house, one at the railway crossing, and one on the bridge across the creek, were there when he moved on to the farm, and had been kept up ever since, only being closed when the cattle were turned on the marsh in the fall. The gate at the head of the lane was closed often. He also stated that if the road were fenced, as it would need to be, to pasture his cattle if the gates were removed his marsh on one side would be without water.

B. G. Fair stated that he had enjoyed the privilege of keeping a gate on his lane across the road as long as he could remember, about fifty years. If the gates were taken away he would have to fence both sides.

Geo. W. Shipton asked Messrs. McLeod and Fair if, in keeping up these gates, they were putting them on their own private property. They both answered "yes" they considered them as their own private property. They were. B. F. Williams stated that he was a marsh owner. The disputed road crossed his marsh. He kept up a gate on his line. Alex. Harris, Charles Barteaux, Alfred Barteaux and Geo. Barteaux had a right of way across his marsh as marsh owners. He believed the road was a marsh road for the use of marsh owners only. His deed covered all the land from high water mark to the creek, without any reservation for a road of any kind. He a non-resident, had fixed the bridge six years ago, Alex. Harris also non-resident, had helped fix the same bridge, this year, furnishing material. Geo. Barteaux and Henry Ritchie also helped, being non-resident marsh owners. Three years ago the Surveyor of Highways had fixed this bridge in such a way as to prevent the drainage of his marsh, and he had to do it over again. Twelve or thirteen years ago the Municipal Council had granted twenty dollars to repair the creek bridge. B. G. Fair, Alex. Harris and himself, non-resident marsh owners, had found legs and labor and received no pay for it.

John F. Tupper stated that his father, being Road Surveyor at that time, had warned all persons liable for statute labor in the district, to turn out and help fix the creek bridge.

Mr. Shipton called attention to the fact that according to Mr. Williams' statement, all marsh owners had a right to use the road from B. G. Fair's east line to McLeod's corner, but only four had a right across Mr. Williams. Mr. Williams modified his statement by allowing B. G. Fair, Charles Ritchie and Edward Ritchie had a right to haul hay and other marsh requirements.

John F. Spurr stated that he had travelled the disputed road at all times for the past three years, in which he had lived in his present home, as a public road without let or hindrance except gates.

Wm. M. Bally, of Middleton, formerly of Round Hill, stated to me that when he was a boy there were gates across the Saunders Road at what is now Delaney's Corner across the road going west. Also the road leading to Fair's wharf, also a gate across the road near John Spurr's barn. These gates were made of a long stick of timber with a pile of stone on one end, and he remembers distinctly of opening and shutting them. He also states that these gates were removed by the authority of the Court of Sessions. You will see by the plan that Geo. W. Shipton and John F. Tupper have to pass through four gates, and John F. Spurr seven gates to get to Annapolis and the outside world.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
C. F. ARMSTRONG,
 Middleton, Jan. 13th, 1913.

The petition of B. G. Fair and upwards of twenty other freeholders of the county, and interested owners in Comeau Marsh, was then read, and, on motion, laid upon the table for discussion.

Ordered that all parties wishing to speak on the question of whether the Saunders Road was a public road or not be allowed to address the Council.

George Shipton, B. G. Fair, John McLeod, Benjamin Williams and John Spurr then addressed the Council on the subject at considerable length.

Moved by Councillor Healy, seconded by Councillor F. H. Willett, and passed, that the further discussion of the matter be deferred indefinitely.

EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING

From my books I learn that out of 1000 watches repaired in my establishment last year there were less than 5 per cent. of those returned for adjustment. This is a fact worth remembering when your watch needs attention. My jewelry and clock repairs give excellent satisfaction.

New Era in the Nation's Life

Irrespective of Station in Life a Child With the Mental Capacity will be Able to Climb to Top of Educational Ladder.

London, Jan. 13.—All England is agog today over the colossal scheme forecasted by Viscount Haldane for the improvement of the education of the people of the United Kingdom.

This scheme will be the next great reform to be undertaken after the Franchise Reform, Home Rule and Welsh Disestablishment Bills are disposed of.

The avowed object of this scheme is to increase the efficiency of the nation as a whole, to make the fullest possible use of the natural abilities of all children, irrespective of their station in life, and to maintain the productive powers of the nation on a par which will give them at any rate equal advantages with any of the great nations of the world.

Can Reach Top of Ladder.—The scheme will link the primary school with the university, so that in future the child of any man will be able to climb to the top of the educational ladder, if he has the mental capacity, and will not be handicapped for want of money.

By the scheme the whole structure of national education will be strengthened and made complete. It will work a new era in the development of nation life. Education will begin earlier and continue later, while the universities will be increased in number, with the object of serving local needs.

All in Harmony.—Some of the opponents of the Government profess to see in the scheme a defeat for the Lloyd George section of the Government, and say that this is put forward instead of land reform. I am in a position to state however, that not only is Mr. Lloyd George in full agreement with Viscount Haldane in this great national scheme, but he has been actually associated with him in formulating it, believing that it will form a fitting complement to the Old Age Pensions and Insurance Acts. Mr. Yoxall, M. P., is now advocating a grant of £2,000,000, or $10,000,000 a year extra to the elementary schools.

THE OLD KITCHEN FLOOR.

(This tender little home song has been forwarded by an interested reader as a well-loved favorite of the other days)

Far back in my musing my thoughts have been cast,
 To the cot where the hours of my childhood were pass'd,
 I loved all its rooms, to the pantry and hall,
 But the blessed old kitchen was dearer than all.

The chairs and the table, none brighter could be,
 And all its surroundings were sacred to me—
 From the nail on the ceiling, the latch on the door—
 Yet I loved every crack in that old kitchen floor.

I remember the fire-place with mouth high and wide,
 And the old-fashioned oven that stood by its side,
 Out of which each Thanksgiving came puddings and pies,
 Till they fairly bewildered and dazzled our eyes.

And then old St. Nicholas, slyly and still,
 Came down every Christmas our stockings to fill,
 But the dearest of memories laid up in store,
 Are of dear mother's steps on the old kitchen floor.

Tonight those old visions come back at their will,
 But the wheel and its music forever are still;
 The hand is moth-eaten, the wheel laid away,
 And the fingers that turned it are mouldering in clay.

The heartstone, so sacred, is fast as 'twas then,
 And the voices of children ring out there again;
 The sun through the window looks in as of yore,
 But sees other feet on the old kitchen floor.

I ask not for riches—but this I would crave,
 That when these lips speaking are mould in the grave,
 My children would gather theirs' round by their side
 And tell of the mother who long ago died.

'Twould be more enduring—far sweeter to me
 Than 'n inscriptions in granite or marble could be,
 To have them tell often as I did of yore,
 Of a mother who prayed on this old kitchen floor.

"IMPOSSIBLE TO HELP MY KIDNEYS"

Until I Used "Fruit-a-lives" Worlds Greatest Kidney Cure

Practically everybody in Toronto knows Professor J. F. Davis. For years, the elite of that city has taken lessons from Prof. Davis in the art of Dancing and Deportment. His constant activity gradually weakened his kidneys, which calamity threatened to make him an invalid. But read Prof. Davis' letter—

563 Church St., Toronto, Ont.
 December 29th, 1911
 "I want to say that 'Fruit-a-lives' is my only medicine, and has been for the past five years. Previous to that, I had been troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies without satisfactory results. Noticing the advertisements of 'Fruit-a-lives' I adopted this treatment altogether, and as everyone knows, I am now—and have been since taking 'Fruit-a-lives'—enjoying the best of health."

If Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble is making you miserable, take "Fruit-a-lives" and get well.

IN THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

SCOTT ACT INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of the County of Annapolis.

Gentlemen,—
 I beg leave to lay before you the following report of my work as your inspector for enforcing the Canada Temperance Act during the year just closed.

Eight informations were laid, on which search warrants were issued, and thorough searches made thereunder by a constable and myself in each instance, with very little success, other than at Lequille, save that some home-brewed beer was found, and, in one case, a small supply of liquor shown to be for genuine personal use.

Fifteen other informations were laid charging persons with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, on which eight convictions were secured. Two persons thus convicted are now serving terms in the county jail; two have paid fines, and costs in full; one woman is too ill to be proceeded against by way of arrest, and the others have warrants issued against them, and have, so far, evaded service.

In March, 1912, accompanied by an officer of the Town of Annapolis Royal, I made seizure of nine casks of alcohol at Lequille, and thus prevented its distribution throughout our County.

The amount of work accomplished has been extensive and, correspondingly, the expenses have been large. In all cases of conviction the defendants have been given the option of paying fines or of being incarcerated ated for terms varying in length of time. It has happened that in 1912 several have taken the alternative of imprisonment and, as a consequence, less cash has been collected than would otherwise have been the case. Furthermore, some of the convictions were obtained very late in the year, one on the 30th day of December, and in those cases I am not yet certain whether imprisonment or payment of fine will ensue.

Up to date, the excess of expenditure over income is $265.90, but if all the outstanding fines for the year, other than those for which imprisonment is being undergone, should be paid, the deficit would be only $23.70 for the year's work. It is probable that all of these will not be paid, but it is fair to assume, I think, that at least two of them will be paid—Onkes' and Silver's—which would make the deficit $142.50 only.

Permit me to say, in answer to inquiries, that my failure to follow up certain convictions obtained in 1910 by pressing for payment or imprisonment of defendants, is wholly because of the fact that the Records of those convictions in the office of Stipendiary Magistrate, were entirely destroyed in the great Middleton fire of January, 1911, and nothing definite remained on which to issue warrants of commitment or other papers.

I have endeavored in this year just closed to discharge my duties faithfully and promptly, and trust that this presentation of an outline of my work may meet with your approval. Hereto appended you will find my general account, with itemized bills annexed.

Respectfully submitted,
 JOHN HALL,
 Inspector

THE PROGRESS OF MEDICAL SCIENCE.

"Won't you buy some Christmas stamps?"
 The speaker was a young lady seated at the table of the King Edward Hotel, with a table before her covered with the cheery little red waters, which, when affixed to holiday mail, carry their messages of greeting and reminders of the sick and suffering. Incidentally their sale adds to the fund available for combating tuberculosis in Ontario. She addressed a kindly faced old man who was passing.

"What are they for?" he asked.
 "To help in the cure of consumption," the young lady began.
 "Well, well," he broke in. "If I had only known about these before my poor cousin died. I might have saved him. How do you use them?"
 "You can stick them on the back—"

Here the old man interrupted again. "On the back? How simple!" And he walked off murmuring: "Stick them on the back! Ah, if I had only known!"

MADE A DIFFERENCE

Uncle Henry Altman had a two-year-old colt, of which he was very proud. Many were the disputes he had with his neighbors over the weight of the animal, and he considered that it was jealousy that caused many of them who were regarded as experts to put the weight at a figure a few hundred pounds below the weight on which he had set his heart.

One day he sent him to town with the boys to have him weighed. A few days later a neighbor came along and said to him: "Well, Uncle Henry, did the colt weigh as much as you expected?"
 "He might have been a trifle shy," said the old man, "but I can explain that. It was all on account of a mistake by the boys. I told them to have him weighed on a scale they weigh coal to sell, but they had him weighed on the scales of a fellow who buys hay."

FOR EMERGENCIES.

In some of the college settlements there are penny savings bank for the children.

One Saturday a small boy arrived with an important air and withdrew two cents from his account. Monday morning he promptly returned the money.

"So you didn't spend your two cents," observed the worker in charge.
 "Oh, no," he replied, "but a fellow just likes to have a little cash in hand over Sunday."

OBEYED ORDERS.

"I thought I told you not to cut your corns with my razor!" thundered the exasperated husband, who was trying to lose a few of his whiskers.
 "And I haven't since you told me you were so particular with your old butcher knife," replied the wife sweetly.

"Well, it feels that way."
 "I did open a can of tomatoes with it. Would that hurt it any? You did not say I wasn't to do that."

ECONOMICAL WIFE.

"Henry, dear, the children are needing shoes."
 "Needing shoes again. Do you think I am made of money? Where are the ones I bought for them just a few days ago? I suppose you have given them to some beggars under the impression that their father's amusement was to buy new ones."
 "No, my dear, I have not given them away. I have put them through the meat chopper and will serve them tomorrow as hash. Be home early for dinner, dear."

"Ah say, Miz Mandy, am yo' program full?"
 "Lordee, no, Mr. Lumley. It takes mo'an a san'wich an' two olives to fill mah program."

THE MEAT OF THE NUTS THAT WISE MEN CRACK.

Life is a battle of brains, and man's mind needs every encouragement. You should read bolstering books, inspiring, optimistic, up-lifting magazines. You should support your mind as you would sustain your body.

Your mind is the key to the situation; the combination that will unlock your success.

You can make yourself what you will, for man is made and unmade by his mind. You can ascend to high achievements mentally, materially, and morally; or you can sink out of sight, and be a slave.

You are where you are by the influence of your own mind. Had you aimed higher, and worked harder, you would be miles ahead. Any time you feel content, any time you feel satisfied with your situation, you are drifting backward.

This is not Science, Theory, Thought, Scheme, Creed or Cult. It is good, old-fashioned horse-sense.—The Silent Partner.

DEATH OF HON. G. J. TROOP.

The community will hear with the deepest regret, says the Halifax Recorder, of the death of Hon. G. J. Troop, M. L. C., which occurred about half-past ten this morning at his late residence, 24 South Park Street, aged 86 years. He had been in delicate health for some time, but was not taken dangerously ill until Friday last.

Mr. Troop was a native of Bridgetown, Annapolis County, came to Halifax in the early fifties, and entered the firm of Black Bros., and later was admitted to the firm, and became head of the establishment. After retiring from business some ten years ago, he accepted a seat in the Legislative Council, which position he filled with great acceptance. He is survived by his widow, a daughter of the late John Morrow, Mrs. H. A. Nicholson, Mrs. H. B. Duxton, Mrs. R. C. Brown, Mrs. W. A. Henry, Mrs. J. T. Shirreff, and three sons, W. H. Troop, Rio de Janeiro; Geo. J. Troop, Florida; Arthur G. Troop, Ottawa.

The funeral of the late Hon. Geo. A. Troop took place on Saturday afternoon from his late residence, 24 South Street. The cortege was very large, many prominent public men and citizens paying their last tribute of respect to the deceased. The body was interred at Fairview Cemetery.

PROPRIETOR AND PUBLISHER

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1913.

A matter of general interest and importance was touched upon in the report of Dr. M. E. Armstrong, County Health Officer, to the Municipal Council, which was published among the proceedings in the last issue of the Monitor-Sentinel. It referred to the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Dr. Armstrong recommended to the Council the employment of Municipal Nurses, who had been given special training in the treatment of this disease. Their duties would consist of visiting patients suffering from tuberculosis and instructing them how to care for themselves, giving their entire time to their work of preventing the spread of this dreaded and dangerous malady.

The proposition appears much more practical and feasible than the establishment of County Sanatoriums, which, to be of any extensive value, would necessarily be large and expensive.

The Monitor-Sentinel trusts that the Municipal Council will give encouragement to the adoption of Dr. Armstrong's suggestion and assist in securing the government legislation, which would make possible the employment of such practical means of preventing the contagion of this much-dreaded disease.

Unless February proves contrary to the leadings of the past two months of this season the year 1912-13 will go into history as the year without a winter, so far as the Annapolis Valley is concerned.

The river is open to its mouth, and has only been concealed with an icy covering once this winter and then but a few days, navigation being quite possible with that exception.

Ploughing has hardly been interfered with during the entire season. There is no frost in the ground to speak of, the slight freezing at night being counter-acted by the rise of temperature during the day and frequent heavy rains.

Farmers and lumbermen are yet awaiting sufficient snow to get their cord wood and logs out of the woods. All low-lying fields when they are not sheets of ice are flooded with water. Carpenters have been shingling and doing other out-door work through January with as much ease as is usual two months earlier or later.

Last night, however, the temperature dropped to three degrees below zero, and it is quite possible winter has begun.

Deaf Mute Mechanical Genius.

The inventor referred to in the following item, which has been handed the Monitor by Mr. T. D. Ruggles, is a personal friend of Mr. Ruggles, and he, with Mrs. Ruggles, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilson at their home in Toronto two or three years ago. Mr. Ruggles states that his friend is also a clever artist.

Charles E. Wilson, a deaf man of Toronto, Ont., is a remarkable mechanical genius. He recently constructed a piece of mechanism, which is worked by means of a small crank, showing a woman milking a cow. The woman's hands move, and occasionally her head will turn. The cow is slowly chewing its cud, and will once in a while brush away the flies with its tail. Even the streams of milk are seen. A pig standing by is feeding out of a pail. Its mouth moves as a frog's does in breathing. All these different movements are caused by wires running into the fingers, which are controlled by the small crank. Mr. Wilson, who invented and made the curiosity, is a draughtsman at the Toronto Engraving Company's works. He was born in Richmond, Eastern Townships. His father was a retired English officer, and his mother took charge of her child's education. Mr. Wilson is also a successful amateur carpenter, upholsterer and taxidermist.—British Deaf Times, (Eng.)

is Mr. Ronald Whiteway, who is now in England on a visit to his parents, consequently the Monitor is unable to get any definite facts or details as to the output of the business. The bulk of the bottled product of unfermented cider, of which this firm makes a specialty is marketed in England.

Bridgetown's youngest industry in the line of wood-working is that of Mr. Wm. Howse, who commenced in a small way three years ago the manufacture of shingle and barrel heads. The first two years progress was remarkably good, but in the third year machinery which had been purchased proved to be almost worthless and new had to be obtained. To a man with small capital this was a serious matter, and required serious consideration. He, nevertheless, installed the new machinery, and succeeded last year in sawing no less than 75,000 feet of timber into shingles and barrel heads. The Monitor-Sentinel trusts that the coming years will prove this creditable venture successful.

The Larigan Factory of George M. Lake & Co. is an infant industry that has hardly had a fair opportunity to establish itself. In the two years it has been in existence, however, it has established a good working plant, and has secured a market for all the products it can manufacture, establishing as well a reputation for the excellence of its output. This should be ample encouragement for the securing of the additional capital needed to place it on a substantial foundation.

The Bridgetown Marble Works is one of the smaller though successfully conducted industries of the town, the proprietor being W. J. Hoyt, one of the ex-mayors of Bridgetown. A moderate amount of neat monumental work is turned out annually by this establishment, which helps to round out the total sum of the town's manufactures.

"God Save the King."

In making the presentation, Mr. Underwood asked Mr. Hiltz and, in the absence of Mr. Myers, Mrs. Myers, to come upon the platform. He then requested them to look straight ahead, and to take no notice of any noise they might hear behind them, the reason being that two splendid hat racks were being placed there in full view of the audience. In the course of his further remarks, in which he was quite equal to the occasion, Mr. Underwood continued:

"We all feel that in Mr. Hiltz and Mr. Myers we have ideal men for the positions which they occupy. This occasion is a testimony as to the expression of this feeling. I want you, Mr. Hiltz, to think of all the lovely and kind things we could say concerning yourself, and also you, Mrs. Myers, to do the same concerning your husband and yourself. In the name of your many friends I want you both to accept these gifts as a token of the appreciation and esteem in which you both are held by them."

This brought forth a round of applause. Mr. Hiltz said that the presentation was indeed a surprise, and in a few suitable words he warmly thanked the donors and the audience who had done honor to the occasion.

"God Save the King" heartily rendered concluded a most memorable and happy evening's entertainment, one to be long remembered by those present.

The balance of the fund raised for the presentation amounted to about nine dollars. It was decided to appropriate this sum for the purchase of a drop-curtain for the stage of the Hall.

Why Zam-Buk is Best Cure for Skin Sores.

An illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even the most serious and chronic cases of ulcers, eruptions and sores is provided by Mr. R. H. Barker, of Glencain, Ont. He says: "I would not have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly, and at the same time so effectively, as Zam-Buk cured me."

"My face became covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash then turned to sores, which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and then another, but nothing seemed to do me any good, and the eruption got worse and worse, until my face was just covered with running sores."

"Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when some one advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and, marvellous as it may sound, within little under a month every sore on my face was healed. I was so amazed that I have told the facts to several persons, and I have no objection to your stating my experience for the benefit of other sufferers."

Zam-Buk is purely herbal in composition, and is the ideal balm for babies and young children, for whose tender skin coarse ointments are so dangerous. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped faces, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 10c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Mrs. J. F. Brown, of St. John, announces the engagement of her daughter, L. Elta, to Dr. Harry B. Havey, of Stewiacke, N.S. The wedding will take place the last of the month. Dr. Harry Havey, son of Mr. E. Havey, of Digby, and who is now enjoying a lucrative practice at Stewiacke, has been appointed a co-ordinator for the county of Colchester. Dr. Havey is one of the youngest M. D.'s in the province, and was graduated with honors from McGill two years ago.—Courier.

Victoria Beach Fishermen Saved

Capt. Hayden and Crew of the Life Boat Daring Made a Brave Rescue in the Surf.

Herbert Taylor and Norman Apt, the two fishermen, who were missing from Victoria Beach, were rescued from the breakers on the Bay of Fundy shore just east of the entrance to Digby Gut late Tuesday afternoon by the life boat Daring, of the Bay View Life Saving Station, just in time to save their lives and their tools, which also contained a valuable lot of fish. Capt. J. W. Hayden and his brave crew risked their lives in the Bay three times on Tuesday endeavoring to locate the missing men, and when they found them, the rescue was indeed a heroic one, says the Digby Courier. The boat fishermen had a terrible experience in the Bay and were about given up for lost by their relatives and friends.

When the other boats returned home Monday night these men remained out to fish the high water slack about nine miles off shore. They got their fish and were returning home when about three miles off Point Prim at the entrance to Digby Gut, their boat began to fill up by the heavy sea. They stopped their motor to bail out the water, and the electrical apparatus having got wet, they were unable to again start their engine. They anchored, but at two o'clock Tuesday morning the line parted and from then until Tuesday afternoon they rode out the terrible S. S. W. gale with a drag made of two trawl tubs. At one o'clock when the wind suddenly shifted from the north, they drifted back toward the Gut.

Seven miles N. N. E. of Point Prim they were spoken by the steamer Yarmouth from Digby for St. John, but refused to leave their boat. Capt. MacDonald threw them a small sail, which they were unable to get, and they continued to drift towards the breakers until picked up by the Daring as stated above.

They had no food or water and were more or less exhausted from their terrible experience.

Mr. Lee Ellis, the popular keeper of Point Prim Light, telephoned the Courier that the Yarmouth had stopped for a time, about seven miles off shore, and Capt. McDonald promptly wired the Courier on his arrival in St. John that he had spoken the men, but that they had refused to leave their boat.

Norman Apt had a similar experience sixteen years ago, when he was blown across the Bay almost to St. John, when the wind changed and he again drifted across to Digby, returning home without assistance.

Won Fifty Dollar Prize

The Family Herald and Weekly Star recently offered a series of prizes for letters on the subject of making the Maritime Provinces take their proper place in the development of Canada.

The first prize of $50 was won by Reginald A. Longley, of Paradise, a son of the late I. M. Longley, a well-known teacher for many years in the county. Among the many letters received so close was the competition that the judges had some difficulty in awarding the prizes, which shows that the efforts of the prize-winners must have been of a high order of merit. The $50 prize-winning essay will be published in a future issue of the Monitor. Mr. Longley's many friends will congratulate him upon this gratifying recognition of his talent.

Obituary.

MRS. SARAH BANKS.

On Jan. 15th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James McLaughlin, Round Hill, Sarah, widow of the late Abram Banks, died of pneumonia. Mrs. Banks was the daughter of Rev. Israel Rice, of Bear River. She had reached the ripe age of eighty-six years, and, although her general health has always been good, she sustained a fall about twenty years ago, which fractured the hip and left her almost a cripple. For a number of years she was able to get about on crutches and attend to her household duties; these, however, finally proved too arduous, and thirteen years ago she came to live with her daughter. During the last few years she has been nearly helpless, at times only able to go from one room to another on a wheel chair. Her wants have been attended to by Mrs. McLaughlin and family, from whose hands she has received the most devoted care and attention. Being a life-long Christian, she had been anxiously, yet patiently, waiting for her Master's call. It can truly be said her end was peace.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. F. Allen, of Annapolis Royal, assisted by Rev. Gilbert Ruggles, of Bear River. Interment took place at Bear River. She is survived by four sons and two daughters, together with twenty-four grand-children and eleven great-grand-children.

G. W. WHEELLOCK.

On the 15th Mr. G. W. Wheellock was taken suddenly ill and after two days' suffering with heart disease, passed to the great beyond at the age of sixty-six years. Mr. Wheellock was of fine physique and evidently in the best of health, and his death came as a sad surprise to all. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter, besides a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a genial companion and neighbor. Dr. Frank Wheellock, of Mount Allison University, is a nephew, and Mrs. Alfred Brown of Bridgetown, a sister of the deceased. The funeral on Sunday was largely attended, the Baptist church, of which he was a member, being filled with sympathizing people, who had come to pay a tribute of respect to the departed brother.— Torbrook Correspondent, Outlook.

MRS. DAVID H. MACPHERSON.

At Lawrenceton, on Friday, Jan. 17th, Mrs. David H. MacPherson, aged eighty-three, died suddenly of apoplexy, at the home of her son, W. C. MacPherson, with whom she had resided the last thirteen years. Two other sons, J. A. MacPherson, of Lawrenceton, and Alfred B. MacPherson, of Leominster, Mass., and one daughter, Mrs. R. B. Fiske, remain of her own family to remember a good mother.

Burton Parker, of South Farmington, and Miss Abbie Parker, of Clarence, are brother and sister of the deceased. Interment took place in North Brookfield, Queens Co.

The auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society are planning for a special series of meetings in the interests of their important work: One of the General Missionary Society's Missionaries, Rev. James Neave, who is now on furlough from China, has been engaged to speak in Bridgetown Friday evening, Feb. 7th, and Sunday, Feb. 9th.

Nomination Day

Yesterday was Nomination Day and there being no opposition to the four candidates offering for nomination, there will be no civic contest in Bridgetown this year, a Mayor and three Councillors being elected by acclamation.

It has been a foregone conclusion for some weeks that there would be no opposition to the nomination of the retiring Councillor Karl Freeman, who was presented with a largely signed requisition to accept nomination for Mayor. Up to within a few hours of the closing of the polls yesterday on the other hand it appeared that the Councillors' seats would not be won without a contest.

Opposing forces finally agreed to disagree and the only nominations made for Councillor were S. F. Prat, Louis Brooks and E. A. Hicks, who will complete the circle around the civic board for 1913.

Tempting the Fire-Brand.

I know it hardly seems possible that in these enlightened days women are still doing the prehistoric thing; yet it does so happen. There are women who rise a little too late to get breakfast on time, or dash home too late to get dinner ready at the stated hour, and the fire, low, the stacks of wood so green that they simply will not light in a hurry, and so, in their desperation, throw on a little kerosene. There follows a flash and a roar, and a mass of screaming, blazing humanity writhes in the agony of death. Her husband and motherless children will calmly tell you that she had done the same thing a thousand times with no bad results, and wring their hands. The neighbors will attend the funeral and go home and do precisely the same thing the next time their own dinner is late.

Almost every country home boasts of a large cellar and a spacious attic—both of them used as an out-of-the-way place to store useless bits of broken furniture, rag bags, old clothes and other inflammable articles. When the housewife wants to explore these rubbish heaps she takes a lighted candle or kerosene lamp, sometimes merely a box of matches, striking one after the other, throwing the dead ones away as they go out. Where do they fall? She knows not; neither does she care, so long as she finds the particular piece of old carpet she is hunting for.

As you read this, these things may seem like trifles; but they are large enough when you recall the fact that the most disastrous fires in years, the ones which have swept away the greatest number of human lives, have been started by the careless use of a match. The Triangle Shirt-Waist factory fire, which burned up one hundred and forty-seven persons, most of them young girls, was started by the careless use of a match. The Equitable Life Assurance Building fire, which gutted a city block and burned up a million dollars worth of property, was caused by the careless use of a match. Do not argue that such a fire will happen but once in a lifetime. Surely this is enough. And remember that your daughter can burn to death but once, just as did these helpless young girls in the Triangle Shirt-Waist building.—Editorial Review, (New York), for January.

Industrial Tax Direct Robbery.

Bishop Williams Says Present System of Taxation is Immoral and Unethical.

"The present system of taxation is immoral and unethical (1) because there is no other influence that has done so much to undermine the public mind in regard to truth and honesty. It encourages perjury and falsehood and places a fine on truth; (2) it puts the heavy end of the load of taxation upon those who are least able to bear it and (3) it discourages industry and energy, because everything that is taxed, if it is movable, tends to disappear," said Rev. Chas. D. Williams, Bishop of Michigan, in his address at the luncheon of the Single Tax Association of Toronto, in St. James' Parish Hall, recently.

"I believe that taxation of industry by the state is direct robbery. The state has an income of its own and has no right to take mine," continued the speaker.

The remedy for the defect in the present system of taxation is, in the opinion of Bishop Williams, the taxation of land values, known as the single tax and the non-taxation of industry.

"In the nature of things," continued the speaker, "land is distinguished from all other property because we had no part in the creation. It is a free gift of God, and should be enjoyed equally by all His children. I may own the building erected on the land, but I cannot own the storehouse of nature, the land itself.

"If any city should say, 'We will remove all taxes from industry and its products and tax only the land values,' that city would grow and prosper as no other city ever has, owing to the influx of people who would rush to partake of the benefits to be enjoyed under the new order of things," said the bishop.

Truro Agricultural College.

Short Courses of Lectures on Sheep Breeding and Alfalfa Growing.

Truro, Jan. 13.—Things moved at a rapid rate yesterday, in connection with the short courses at the Agricultural College here. There was so much doing and it was all so interesting.

In the live stock pavilion Prof. Stevenson schooled in pigs, the Berkshire and Yorkshire breeds being scored on detail and the strong points of the bacon hog brought strongly out to the class, while later in the day Dr. Stadish lectured on driving horses. Poultry Superintendent T. P. Landry conducted a class of ladies through the mysteries of poultry raising and introduced them to the better sort of hen. In the Domestic Science Department, Mrs. Dunbrack schooled a large number of ladies in the finer arts of cookery and graciously gave callers a taste of the delicacies prepared. Mr. Sladden, Agriculturist for the Dominion, had bee culture for his subject, before large classes, and Mr. Clarke, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm on Prince Edward Island, dilated on alfalfa growing in the Maritime Provinces, of which he has made a careful study.

TWO CONVENTIONS.
Two strong organizations are in convalescence, the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association's executive, of which Col. Campbell, of Sussex, N.B., is head, prepared for a meeting to-day, and the Nova Scotia Veterinary Association held its annual meeting and elected officers for the coming year.

Features of today's programme will be Sheep Raising, conducted by Mr. James A. Telford, recently appointed by the Dominion to assist its industry in the Maritime Province. He will follow a plan of encouraging the individual farmer to return to the old practice of keeping a small flock of these highly profitable animals, and still show that the profit comes not alone in the mutton and wool sold, but the value done to the farm in eradicating weeds and increasing fertility.

Dr. Hewes of Washington, D.C., arrived at the college tonight and announced that he would try and interest the class in the cheaper and better methods of improving and maintaining earth roads. He has had twenty years experience as head of the Public Roads Department of the United States and informed the class that they need not be afraid of technical discourse, but a practical talk on his experience on the roads, in which the farmer was most interested, and which mitigated the macadam road one hundred to one.

ALFALFA GROWING.

Mr. Clarke, of Charlottetown, found a most appreciative audience in his talk on alfalfa, which he has been growing, with much success, in the Island for ten years. He explained that being a dryland plant, it needed drainage and cultivation, and the opportunity of plenty of heat and sunshine when young. He carried his hearers into details, with the sowing and care of the crops to secure a catch and he had been enabled to have two cuts a year, and in some instances, three, with a yield as high as seven tons to the acre. He enthused the audience on the subject and they evidenced a desire for further discussion along the same line.

Yesterday was Professor Klinck's first day with the students, and it is no reflection on other lectures to say that his instruction is making a strong bid for first honors as a director with the students. His methods are exceedingly practical.

The class numbered over three hundred in seed judging, and they were distributed about the large hall at long tables. He distributed to each member a head or stock of oats, the object being to show the desirability of having an oat with a strong straw. He further demonstrated, by the use of two different varieties, the Tartar King and the Banner, that was the stronger.

Prof. Klinck delivered an illustrated lecture on crop improvement in experiments carried on at Macdonald College, Quebec, of which institution Mr. Klinck is professor, in cereal husbandry, and he strongly showed the need for such improvement with cereals, grasses, clover, foliage and root crops. Through Prof. Klinck and a staff of experts have been conducting these experiments for some years, this was the first time the lecture was ever delivered before a body of farmers, and in doing so, the speaker laid emphasis upon the cultivation of soils and crops in order to procure the best profits even from the select seeds.

Carmangay

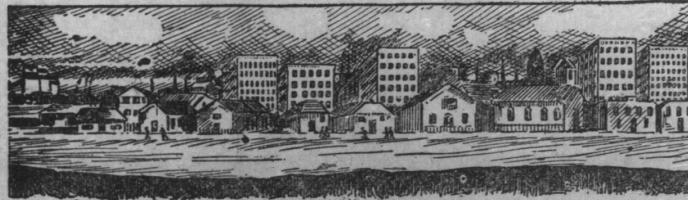

"The Star of Alberta"

PAST The splendidly strategic site of Carmangay was discovered by a far-seeing, shrewd railway engineer attracted to the district by the lure of the finest wheat in the Canadian West. He snapped up lands where the wide canyons of the Little Bow River narrows to a point. Here must all railways cross. The C. P. R. came and the shipping center created went ahead by leaps and bounds.

PRESENT Carmangay to-day is a thriving incorporated town, with not less than 53 business places. Her up-to-date electric and natural water supply systems are owned and operated by the people. Carmangay boasts an eight-roomed schoolhouse, two banks and four big elevators, shipping over a million bushels in 1911 and 1½ millions in 1912. Carmangay has coal mines operating, and the entire district is underlaid with coal of finest Galt quality.

FUTURE Carmangay grows as Alberta grows. That means a wonderful future. Four new railroads are heading for Carmangay. Four new elevators are trying to cope with the tremendous wheat yields of the district. The mines are opening up splendid prospects. Carmangay is being rapidly developed into one of the greatest towns in the Canadian West. YOU can just as confidently invest in Carmangay as her own people do, who are building in brick and stone for a tremendous future. Carmangay has her own supply of finest brick clay and stone right at her doors, and will soon supply her sister cities in Alberta.

INDIVIDUAL DRINKING CUPS.

(American Journal of Public Health)

Most teachers who have tried individual drinking cups in schools with large attendance have met a host of difficulties, to obviate which they have been trying a new plan. This has been successful for over a year in one of the largest primary schools of the State of Florida, and is recommended to a trial in other States.

On the first day of school the teachers asked each child to bring next day a square of colored cloth of such pattern or so marked as to be easily recognized. The last half-hour of next day's session was used to make these cotton squares into bags for drinking cups. Then they asked each child to bring a small agate or tin cup, to go into the bag, which would hang on the pupil's back in the cloakroom, or on the desk frame where pupils did not pass through the cloakroom to get a drink.

In either case the cup is ready to use, and is protected by the bag from the germs and dust of the schoolroom; while it is much less in the pupil's way than when on the desk or in it. It is less apt to be lost when in the bag, and, as the bags are easily distinguished by the cloth cover, there are few disputes as to ownership.

Nails or hooks are put up in the yard; where the bags may be hung during recess.

On Fridays the pupils are asked to take the cups home with them, and have them carefully washed and scalded; occasionally the bags also are washed.

This trains them in practical sanitation, and is a sure method for getting and, what is far harder, keeping individual cups.

A quarrel took place between two little Quaker brothers. At the height of this quarrel the older brother, exasperated beyond endurance, seized the younger by the shoulders, shook him and hissed—
"The little you, thee!"

Then the enormity of his words overcame him, and he added earnestly—
"Please don't tell mother I swore."

POSITIVELY the LARGEST SALE in CANADA

THE HOME

TO MAKE A FIRELESS COOKER.

The following way of making a fireless cooker is given by The Kansas City Star:

A good-sized wooden box will do to begin with. The lid should be fastened on with hinges and a hook and eye be fastened to it to keep it firmly shut. The box may be lined with asbestos or with an old carpet or blanket. In the bottom should be placed a flour-sack stuffed with hay; and it is an advantage to have this sack about the same size as the bottom of the box. The whole box is then stuffed with hay or excelsior or a mixture of both. A double piece of asbestos to fit on top and another stuffed flour sack complete part one of your outfit.

The next thing to do is to buy two or three pails of different sizes, with close-fitting lids. Granite iron kettles are excellent for this purpose, but the tin ones are just as good, except that they do not last quite so long. But whatever kind of kettle you use, be sure that the lids fit just as tight as it is possible to get them.

The article to be cooked is put into the pail, and the latter should be pretty full. Bring it to a boil, allow it to boil ten minutes and then pour a hole of the proper size in your hay, put in the pail a boiling point, cover with hay, asbestos and cushion, and forget all about it until next morning.

DOMESTIC POINTERS.

The short ends of candies, nuts and mixed with equal parts of turpentine, make a fine polish for floor and oilcloth.

A little sugar added to oatmeal when it is cooking, instead of putting it all on at the table, improves the flavor greatly.

Put a little dry starch in the clear warm water with which you wash windows. When dry, rub off, then polish with a cloth.

When sewing on buttons, insert a pin between the goods and the button; this allows for shrinkage of the thread, and the button is not so likely to be torn off.

DOCTOR NATURE.

(Dr. Leonard Keene Hirsberg, in Physical Culture)

A consumptive is ordered to sleep in the open air, and is fed on rich milk and eggs in order that his blood may become clear and healthy and so be able to wage a successful war against the tubercle bacilli in his lungs. He is given no drugs whatever and no effort is ordinarily made to combat the bacilli directly.

The same thing occurs in the case of pneumonia, typhoid fever, yellow fever and other diseases. The patient is well nourished and well nursed, and whenever medicine may lend a hand by reducing a fever or aiding in the removal of waste products—this aid is given. But the main fight—the actual war on the germs—must be conducted by the body itself.

"WHEN A CHILD GOES WRONG."

"When a child goes wrong, blame the parents," says a judge. "Eighty per cent of delinquent children," he continues, "are children who have been neglected by their parents. They were not given the training and attention they should get at home. Parents seem to have no conception of their duty."

The best dietetic authorities in England and elsewhere say that children under fourteen should never touch tea or coffee. But after seven years of age, cocoa is recommended.

GO-CARTS AND BABIES' EYES.

A warning to mothers is put forth by an American exchange against the form of child's collapsible go-cart now in very general use, which it asserts does not afford sufficient protection to the eyes. Says this paper editorially:

"There are annually sold more than one hundred and fifty thousand of this form of child's vehicle. At this time there are more than three hundred thousand babies being nursed in these carts. We call attention to the leather hood or top on these vehicles which does not adequately protect the eyes of the child. The child lying on its back, with its eyes directed toward the sky, the strong light of the sun causes it to close its eyes for protection. This weakens the baby, disturbs its waking hours, and undoubtedly causes headache, which in turn makes the baby cross, feverish and sick. The doctor is called and, not knowing the underlying cause of the illness, is apt to make an incorrect diagnosis, again adding to the baby's misery."

It is a well recognized fact in medical practice that young children are peculiarly susceptible to the action of opium or its derivatives. So true is it that the qualified physician hesitates to prescribe these drugs for children, and seldom does unless he is able to supervise the administration himself or has a competent person in charge. In spite of this well known fact, it is permitted that these dangerous preparations be fraudulently advertised and placed on sale and the mothers of this state furnished the means of innocently poisoning their own offspring. Yes, mothers, the soothing syrup will quiet your babies. We look upon the saloon-keeper as having descended low in the business scale, but he is a prince along side of these purveyors of soothing syrups. This is strong language I am using, but I feel that I am not doing the subject justice. These are facts and not fancies, people. What do you think of it?—Selected.

DIET AND THE CHILD

The diet of the child must be as nutritious and varied as possible; the proportion of meat at all meals should be small; preference being given to fruits, cereals, vegetables and milk. Regularity should be the keynote in the taking of food, and ample time must be allowed for the child to eat its meals. It is especially during the early years of school life that the nutrition is apt to suffer; for the child is then under a new kind of excitement; there is the worry over lessons, the desire to hurry off to school, and meals become to the child a secondary consideration.

We have grown to like red cheeks and clear skin because they spell health. We must try hygienic living and we will find that our skin will be all right. When your skin gets rough or out of order, go over your diet, sleep, exercise, and thoughts. You will be sure to find the cause in some of them. One of the reasons that pimples come on the face is because the pores of the body are stopped up and the poison which it must throw off, comes through the pores to the surface only of the face. The daily bath is a preventive. Diet plays a most important part in the beauty of the skin. No girl who eats too much rich food can expect to keep a clear skin.

When you want a reliable medicine for a cough or cold, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by druggists and dealers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of Monitor-Sentinel:

As we have many friends in Annapolis County, will you be kind enough to give space in your valuable paper for a few words from my present field. Four years ago, Nov. 1st, under the direction of the Home Mission Board, we came to this field. We found here a large scattered field, but a very kind-hearted and appreciable people. God's blessing seemed to be with us. Quite a change in the social and spiritual atmosphere, pastor's salary well looked after, convention funds larger than asked for, fine horse sheds at Lake George for sheltering the horses while the people are in their comfortable meeting houses for worship, large improvements on the church property (meeting houses) in every part of this field. It is doubtful if in this province a country field can be found where the meeting houses are in a better condition. This is praiseworthy and the people have not been unmindful of their pastor and his wife. Ever since our coming, there have been expressions of sympathy and kindness in many, what people might call, small things, yet ministering very much to the encouragement of the pastor and comfort of his home. Amongst the many things a fine fur cap, a beautiful fur coat and a very fine large sleigh robe, and to Mrs Langille, money for a beautiful dinner set and teaset, and many articles of linen. These are not small things.

During our recent illness much kindness has been shown. On the evening of the 20th of December last, quite a number of our people made us a surprise, spending with us a very pleasant evening, and leaving us much the better off by their coming, and the end is not yet.

MYSTERY.

When outward from the dark the new soul leaps
We hear the babe's first cry before it sleeps;
But when from out the hush the summons come
That bids the longing cease, the lips be dumb,
The dying heart breathes out no cry of pain,
Of one who clings to earth and clings in vain.
One low, serene, contented sigh is all,
Such as a heart gives when great burdens fall—
The sigh of one renewing vanished bliss.
Who feels upon his lips a dead love's kiss.
—Arthur Wallace Peck, in Springfield Republican.
