BOHA ESCAPED THE BRITISH

Taken Prisoner, Unrecognized, and in the Confusion of an Expected Attack Allowed to Go Free—Disclosures May Result in Courts-Martial of Officers.

Chicago, March 2.—The Record-Herald says: War Secretary Brockard announced in the Commons Saturday that General Dewar's son, Louis Botha, had been taken prisoner at the attack on Knapdard. But he failed to impart to the legislators more surprising news. That is that the famous general, Louis Botha, had also been taken prisoner—and had got away again.

The affair happened after the capture of Botha's larger near Knapdard, and the astonishing details would not now be known had not a trick been played on the British command. The tidings came in a private letter from an officer in the field, the letter having been mailed by an intermediary at a post office to avoid the censor's scrutiny and certain mutilations. It will be remembered that, when Rimington's troops made the night attack at Knapdard they captured several prisoners and the camp equipment of the Boers. Among the men taken was General Louis Botha, but the British did not recognize him, and the other prisoners took care to shield him in every possible manner.

After the pursuit of the fugitives had ended the captured men were divided into groups, and Botha, fortunately for him, was included in the number that was entrusted to the care of the rear guard.

Botha makes escape.

Another force of the Boers, hearing of the disaster to the main body, and that their general had been captured, moved on to the rear of the British, and in the confusion of the expected attack, the body of British troops that held Botha as their prisoner, permitted him to escape, and he got away in a Cape cart, after being pursued seven miles. Nothing was reported at the time, that Botha got away in a Cape cart, after being pursued seven miles. Nothing was reported at the time, that Botha got away in a Cape cart, after being pursued seven miles.

SANG NEGRO SONGS.

Prince Henry of Prussia Entertained at Nashville, Tenn.

Nashville, Tenn., March 2.—Prince Henry of Prussia spent 15 minutes in Nashville this afternoon, arriving at 2:30 o'clock and departing for Louisville. Ten thousand or more men, women and children crowded the Union square and yards in front of the hotel, and the prince was greeted with a royal reception. The prince did not leave his car until he had said "thank you," being in substance his reply to the welcoming address of Mayor J. H. Boyd. During his stay here the desire expressed by the Prince to hear some of the old plantation negro songs of the South was gratified by the negro jubilee singers from Fisk University singing three of those tuneful melodies to the delight and enjoyment of the Prince.

PARING WITH REGRETS. AN EARLY MORNING FIRE IN UNION LOAN BUILDING

Caretaker and His Family Escaped by Crawling Out of an Upper Storey Window to Adjoining Premises—The Structure, Valued at $60,000, Will Be Almost Total Loss.

The Union Loan Building, 28 Toronto-street, the centre of a number of extensive business houses, was partially destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The flames were playing heavily upon the roof of the building, and the fire had evidently been burning for some time before being detected.

At an early stage of the fire it looked as though it would develop into a conflagration of no small dimensions, as the flames were bursting furiously from the windows at the rear of the building, coming in extremely close range to the brick walls of the south end of the Rice Lewis hardware building. Prompt action by the brigade, however, resulted in checking the spread of the fire to the surrounding premises.

HELPFUL TO THREE.

London Reviewers See Good in Prince Henry's Visit.

New York, March 2.—The London correspondent of The Tribune says: The moral for these times is that the interest of commerce are greater than the special industries. The weekly reviewers, after complimenting Americans for the strenuous repression of gush, adopt Mr. Redd's idea of the community of action of the United States, Germany and England as the progressive policy of the world.

ENTER A STRONG PROTEST LABOUR CRISIS PUT TIPPED THE BALANCE

Prominent Men in Oxford Commend Courts-Martial of Boer Generals.

The letter says: The world at large has been kept in ignorance of the fact that a civil war—possibly a successful revolution—in Italy has been escaped by the narrow margin in the last few days. The only news sent abroad has been of the mobilization of nearly 200,000 troops, and the government assumption of control of all the railways in order to avert a national strike of railroad employees. The far greater truth was suppressed, partly by the censorship and partly by official intimations to foreign correspondents that the transmission of alarmist reports would be followed by severe disciplinary measures.

HON. MR. TARTE'S SPEECH. Members Still Talking of His French River Advocacy.

Ottawa, March 2.—Hon. J. I. Tarte's third-and-a-half-day speech on the French River improvement, in the interest of the C.P.R., is still the talk in members' rooms. It is realized that the Minister of Public Works has not his heart on having this work carried out, and his speech of Friday night was as much addressed to the ministerialists as to the opposition, who were criticizing his estimates. A reviewer of this speech shows how unexpected was the minister's belittling of every other route from the Great Lakes to the sea. He said, "Depot Harbor is fairly equipped."

Coronation Oath. Archbishop Said to Be Considerably Perturbed Concerning Working.

New York, March 2.—The Sun's London correspondent says: The Archbishop of Canterbury and York are believed to be considerably perturbed concerning the words of King Edward's coronation oath. The difficulty is not caused by the declaration against transubstantiation, which is not part of the oath, but by the promise to preserve inviolate the settlement of the United Church of England and Wales and the government thereof. It is argued that the monarch, by taking this oath, is bound to preserve the settlement of the United Church of England and Wales and the government thereof.

Pole Accused of Murder. Winnipeg, N.W.T., March 2.—West last night about 7 o'clock a Pole named Graszlach was shot through the window of his house about 15 miles from here. He came here a few months ago with the wife of a ranchman and other Pole named Walaschok, who followed the latter, and has since unsuccessfully tried to influence his wife to return to her husband's home in Poland. He was living with Graszlach, to go back to him. Walaschok is supposed to have committed the murder, and was to-day arrested by mounted police and lodged in jail here.

Arrests Made in Montreal in Connection With a Big Case. Montreal, March 1.—A special from Newport, Vt., says: Joseph Cote, a resident of Island Pond, Vt., a telegraph line repairer on the Grand Trunk Railway, thru the efforts of Collector Mansur and his special deputy, C. A. Bancroft, who had been working on the case for some time, was arrested by Deputy V. S. Marsalis Miles, for smuggling five packages of fur, valued at $3,000, coming from Montreal. These furs were shipped to stations near the border, in Canada, and were being smuggled to the United States. The furs were found in the possession of Cote, and he was arrested by Miles. Cote was arrested by Miles at Island Pond, Vt., and he was arrested by Miles at Island Pond, Vt.

FACTS ABOUT PORRIDGES.

Rev. George S. Weil Finds Them Not Only Indigestible, But Highly Injurious.

Do you remember in the old days Willie, you must eat your porridge, and that his stomach would rebel if he would not eat it? Willie would not eat it, and in some way get away with it. The mother was right, too, in a way. Her food common sense taught her that what and oats should not be her very best food, but that the porridge, as the starch, not being digested, would do harm to the stomach.

GREATEST ENEMIES OF FREEDOM.

Montreal, March 1.—The March term of the Court of King's Bench opened to-day, and Judge Wurtel made the following interesting remarks to the grand jury: "You will also have to consider and report on some bills by which certain persons are charged with having used corrupt practices at elections. Offences of this nature strike at the very root of our system of government, and, at the same time, they have been treated as trivial matters, and have not been given the attention which they deserve."

PROSPERITY AND CAPITAL

Never in the history of Canada have fortunes accumulated so rapidly as they are during recent years. The activity of the Canadian Stock Exchange is evidence of the appreciation of values that is so characteristic a feature of the day. Within a few months the stock of the Dominion Coal Co. has more than doubled in value. Stock that sold for 45 cents a year ago is now worth 90. This appreciation means a profit of nearly seven million dollars to the shareholders, most of whom are Canadians. In March, 1901, C.P.R. stock was quoted at 90. It is now worth 115. The appreciation on the total stock of 60 millions amounts to $18,250,000, a goodly part of which comes to Canadians. Millions of dollars have been made in Canada out of the rise in the price of Twin City stock, which is a United States street railway venture. There are only a sample few of the various securities that have increased in value so rapidly of late in Canada. A score others might be mentioned where the appreciation is represented by millions of dollars.

Canada is producing a bountiful crop of millionaires at the present time. The process of fortune building is developing in somewhat the same way it has developed in the United States. It is this appreciation of these securities that is to a large extent responsible for the shortage of capital in the banks. The latter find it safe and profitable to advance larger loans upon the appreciating securities, and as the money that is made from one venture soon finds its way into another the banks have little difficulty in placing all their available funds upon profitable rates. Notwithstanding the increasing volume of deposits the banks are unable to meet the demands of the community. There is apparently room in Canada for several new banks, many of which in our excitement will find it profitable to increase their capital. This demand for enlarged capital is a healthy sign. It indicates activity and prosperity in the industrial world. There is no reason why a single dollar should be idle in Canada at the present time. There are meritorious projects awaiting investment, and the country is in need of the funds of capital to develop its manifold resources. We need all the foreign capital we can get, and especially desirable is capital from Great Britain. It is from the United States, however, that our outside capital principally comes, and it is from this source that a considerable part of the capital of the new Sovereign Bank has been derived. A critical study by English capitalists of the finances of this country at the present time ought to convince them that there is no better field for their money than in Canada.

THE INFRIMITY OF PROHIBITION.

Hishop Potter, the well-known advocate of practical temperance reform, delivered an address Friday night last in support of introducing the reform now being adopted in England. The underlying principle of this reform is the elimination of profit, as far as possible, on the sale of alcoholic beverages and the encouragement of the sale of non-intoxicants. Incidentally he exposed the infirmity of prohibition, and instanced the State of Maine, whose prohibition law tended to make frauds and hypocrites. He quoted the report of an investigator in the old town of Sixt, which is perforated with holes in a most extraordinary manner. These holes were bored by a sort of small coral, the lithothodous, which is often found in coral reefs and is a favorite delicacy of the Neapolitan market. It is not yet understood how it bores its way into a solid rock. Its shell is perfectly smooth, and there is no evidence of any tool or drill about it. The head man at the aquarium here told me the other day that the boring is probably done by a fluid, which dissolves the marble. The lithothodous, having attached itself to the side of a pillar or a block of stone, secretes a fluid that slowly dissolves the crystal and floats away. Thus it gradually bores a hole the size of its shell and makes its way through holes are always very smooth, and, in some of them, the shells of the lithothodous have been found.

Family Traits of Sponges—Quantities Told by Neapolitan Fishermen.

Chicago, March 2.—W. E. Curtis, writing to The Record-Herald from Naples, says: The Bay of Naples, like the city, is remarkable for its curious and queer life. The fishermen draw their nets every morning at a landing near the hotels, and it is one of the most interesting sights to be seen here, because they usually bring in forms of life which are unknown to other parts of the world. Nobody seems to be able to explain why this particular arm of the Mediterranean should be inhabited by freaks. There is nothing peculiar about the water except it is very salty, but the bottom of the bay and the rocks which isolate it are covered with algae and sponges, which are not found elsewhere, and among the microscopic organisms are several which have not yet been classified.

THE DOMICILE OF THE OCTOPUS

One of the most curious forms of life hauled up by the nets of the Naples fishermen are "sea cucumbers"—odd shaped bodies, about the size and shape of the vegetables of that name, of a sulphur color, covered with a scaly skin and small calcareous scales or granules of lime. They belong to the same family as the starfish and sea urchins, and feed on small crabs and other floating animal life that they can capture. They have no teeth, but the walls of their alimentary canals secrete the fibre which kills and dissolves the bodies of the animals which are caught with the sucker feet and broken into little morsels. They suck in sand and mud and digest the nourishing particles, while those which are not used to the digestion pass through the body and are voided in the form of small granules.

TOWNSHIP SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION

The consolidation of township schools and the conveyance of children is the subject of an article in the March number of The Forum. We have already referred to the increasing popularity of this educational reform in the rural districts of the United States. The writer of the article in The Forum speaks very highly of the benefits of the system. One typical instance of consolidation is cited by the author. This is the Township of Buffalo Centre in Iowa. The system was changed in 1895. For the year ending September, 1894, the township maintained five district schools for six months, with an average daily attendance of 90; for the year ending September, 1900, eight teachers were employed nine months; average daily attendance was 290. In 1894 the total expenditure for all school purposes was $533 per pupil per month; in 1900 it was but $231. Not only has this centralization given rural children a graded school in charge of well-qualified teachers, with a school year less cost, but it has made the pupils more punctual, has brought the attendance from 90 to 290, and at much less cost. Speaking generally of the benefits of consolidation the writer says: "They would be unwilling to admit it, many rural taxpayers would more readily adopt a plan to lessen the expense of schools than one to improve them. But when the same plan improves the schools, lowers the rate, and raises the value of real estate, the taxpayer ought to support it. In a large number of cases, outlying farms that have been left because parents wanted better school advantages have been re-occupied—at an increased value—since the consolidation of schools has been accomplished. Land has sold more readily and at higher prices. Parents who intended to leave the country for the city have often been retained because the city's best blessing was brought within their reach.

We wish you would ask your doctor what makes you so nervous, why you are so easily tired, and what makes your digestion so weak. See if he doesn't say, "Impure blood." He will probably speak about Ayer's Sarsaparilla, too.

is filtered of all the nutritious particles it contains. It requires just as much and sometimes a little more exertion to pass the water than the animal that runs the animal thru the water.

Also the careers which nature has marked out for corals, sponges, oysters, barnacles and other fixed crustaceans do not require the usual muscular intelligence. Ichthyologists still insist that they have brains and reasoning powers as well as muscles, and digestion; they are aided with the sense of self-preservation, with a consciousness of hunger and a satisfaction, and they prefer security to greater animation and greater danger.

The living sponges is fixed and apparently motionless; its children are free to go out into the world and select their own field of enjoyment and labor. The young sponge varies in size from a small to a large pin head and swims freely by means of little waving hairs that grow upon its surface, each one of which functions as a propeller. When its permanent home it becomes attached to a rock and then reaches out its hairy tentacles to catch and secure its anchorage. At the junction of the tubes which you see in a sponge its vital organs are once situated, little bags of microscopic size which grew with the sponge and received and digested the nourishment that was brought to it. This portion of a sponge is killed when it is captured and removed by the hand of man.

STORY OF BITTER HARSHIPS

Brigands, Molested By Troops, Led Their Captives Thru Perilous Escapes.

FEARED THE CHILD WOULD DIE

By a Circutous Route, Amid Snow Storms, the Band Avoided Detection.

Constantinople, March 1.—The following account of the captivity of Miss Stone has been obtained by the Associated Press from reliable sources, some of the information having been secured from accomplices of the brigands.

After the capture of the missionaries near Banako, Sept. 3 last, the brigands hastened across the boundary and established themselves on the mountain of Guektepe, in the Elio-district of Bulgaria, where the whole population was in sympathy with the band to live comfortably and safely and in touch with the outside world. While awaiting the ransom, the brigands drew their supplies from the adjacent village of Ledzima, feeling perfectly secure, the members of the band used to show themselves openly in Kamelica and neighboring villages until they were warned by the local authorities to move more carefully. The prisoners, however, were frequently mistreated.

When C. M. Dickinson, United States Consul at Constantinople, arrived in the city in October last and disclosed to the authorities the whereabouts of Miss Stone's capture, the result was nearly disastrous to the prisoners. The Bulgarian government, ill-advisedly pushed troops to the vicinity of Guektepe, forcing the brigands to break off negotiations, and the band changed its quarters to Kilo. The cold weather made travel in the mountains a dreadful ordeal, for Miss Stone and Mme. Talika endeavored to escape with the latter's infant. Every change of camp occurred at night. The mountain roads were frequently impassable, being often deep in snow. The brigands treated their captives as kindly as the circumstances permitted, but the food supply was necessarily precarious, the ladies were given the best of the mountain produce. The strain and suspense equalled the physical hardships.

The band never at any time knew their whereabouts, the brigands always telling them that they were not in Bulgaria; and they were in constant fear of an attack by the troops, whom the friendship of the natives was not always able to prevent coming close upon the trail of the band. An equal cause of anxiety was the baby, which it was frequently feared, would die from exposure.

Not until Nov. 2 did the American emissaries come in touch with the band, which was then established in a cave near Dubinita, but fear of the troops forced the brigands to leave the night. This was made in a binding storm, which covered the tracks of the capture, but caused bitter sufferings to the captives. After this the brigands succeeded in completely eluding the authorities, and toward the end of November, by a long circuit, they succeeded in returning to their old haunts in the Elio-district. They then caused to be circulated a report that the captives were dead, and from that time managed to keep Miss Stone and Mme. Talika under cover until the actual release of the captives took place.

WHY THERE WAS NO ELECTION.

Prohibitionists Feared That Convention Would Drop Premier Ross.

A quiet laugh is going around in prohibition and Liberal circles regarding the omission at the prohibition convention of the election of officers. As officially announced at the convention, and repeated by the president of the Alliance, Rev. Dr. MacKer, in answer to the question of Rev. J. E. Starr, said it was the regular annual convention of the Alliance, and the most important functions of which is the election of officers. When at the morning session there was a motion on the part of the prohibitionists for the appointment of a Nominating Committee, the independent prohibitionists were set thinking, and the question became significant. It has been asked since that owing to the imminent danger of Premier Ross being stricken from the office of vice-president a special resolution was passed at the meeting of the executive the night before the convention, deferring the election of officers until a convention to be called before the provincial elections.

FOR SEA FOG SIGNALS.
Inventor Carries Out Successful Experiments on Channel Steamers.

London, March 2.—Some most interesting experiments with a new fog-signaling apparatus were made in mid-channel today between the mail packet Calais and the French steamer Nord. It was the first time such experiments have been adopted by cross Channel ferries. The apparatus, a Belgian invention, was with his friends on board the Calais.

A correspondent who accompanied him carried some interesting details. First all the signals were exchanged between the Nord and the Calais within six miles apart, and so clearly were they noted that the invention was considered most satisfactory.

According to the arrangements, the Nord began using the fog blast soon after leaving Calais Harbor, the Calais being then about half way across. The fog blasts were distinctly heard by the Nord, and the inventor was able to locate the position of approaching vessels and the approximate course they were taking.

If as successful as to-day's, the experiments will prove it a system worthy of being adopted by cross Channel steamers, which will be a great boon considering the danger these steamers have to face of colliding with the down going Channel steamers in a fog.

Be a Law to Himself.

Every Man Must Be That, to Retain His Health and Digestion.

There are thousands of people in this world who eat to most from one year's end to another, and certain savages tribes in Africa and Polynesia eat most exclusively meat, but while there are thousands of these there are millions who live upon a mixture of meat, vegetables and grains, and it is this mixture which makes a man a man. The fact that you will find many vegetarians who appear healthy and vigorous, and many eat meat equally so, and any number of robust specimens who are not, have done so and myself, and know positively that I owe my present health and vigor to their daily use.

"From the time I graduated from school with broken health from over-work, until I was 34, I scarcely knew what it was to be free from stomach weakness. I had no appetite whatever for breakfast, and very little for any other meal.

"I had acidity and heartburn nearly every day, and sometimes was alarmed by irregularity and palpitation of the heart, but all this gradually disappeared when I began using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I can eat my meals with relish and satisfaction which I had not known since I was a growing boy."

Mrs. James Barton of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work."

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared, and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble, and one of them treated me for rheumatism."

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work, and low spirits are unknown to me."

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, I have made up my mind to give them as a gift to every one who is suffering from stomach weakness."

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Cal., says: "I have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Mr. E. H. Davis of Hampton, Va., says: "I doctored five years for dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctor's treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is probably the safest, most popular and successful digestive on the market, and sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

OWEN SOUND NEWS
Owen Sound, March 1.—While no official account has been reported, crew members are looking for the establishment of wireless telegraph stations on the west side of the lake.

Eugene Coste, Public Works Inspector, looked over the harbor work in progress here this morning.

William Lowe, who has been an employe for 20 years in William Owen's shoe store, leaves with his family on Monday for Dakota to engage in farming.

The recent mild weather with rain has spoiled the sleighing. A portion of the 10th line of Sydneyham is under three feet of water, and yesterday a span of horses were, with difficulty, saved from drowning.

The military concert in the Town Hall and the social of the Northern Business College students in Spens Hall last night were both successful.

George F. Blackstock, W. E. Hiddell and H. L. Drayton of Toronto were engaged at the assembly here this week.

"Trixt Love and Duty."

Anyway, they furnish the best enjoyment to be got out of a cigar. They are cool, fragrant, delicious and far less expensive than the usual price for that grade of cigars.

DEATH DUE TO TRIAL.
London, March 2.—Charles Lillywhite, the American arrested in New Zealand for a murder he never committed and yesterday tickets for the whole of his life in jail for several months, sailed today on the St. Paul on his way back to New Zealand.

Lillywhite's vindication and the repatriation to him by the British government came, however, too late for that member of his family who followed his trial with the keenest interest, for Lillywhite yesterday buried his aged mother, who died on Wednesday. The death, he believed, was much hastened by worry over his arrest and trial. The British government, several weeks ago paid Lillywhite £900 ($3,000), for his acquittal and his return to his home thru the American Embassy.

You will be pleased with the way you have had your order and the coal we send you. F. Burns & Co., 28 East King-street.

THE GREAT MUSCLE.

strong muscles and steady nerves; these come only from wholesome food, thoroughly digested; a fifty cent box of Stuart's Tablets taken after meals for a few weeks will do you more real good than drugs, stimulants and dieting combined.

Henry Kirkpatrick of Lawrence, Mass., says: "Men and women whose occupation precludes an active outdoor life should make it a daily practice to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. I have done so and myself, and know positively that I owe my present health and vigor to their daily use."

"From the time I graduated from school with broken health from over-work, until I was 34, I scarcely knew what it was to be free from stomach weakness. I had no appetite whatever for breakfast, and very little for any other meal.

"I had acidity and heartburn nearly every day, and sometimes was alarmed by irregularity and palpitation of the heart, but all this gradually disappeared when I began using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I can eat my meals with relish and satisfaction which I had not known since I was a growing boy."

Major Galt in Montreal.

Montreal, March 1.—Major Ethel Galt and Captain Lee Dwyer have returned to Montreal after a very successful tour of the coupe across Vermont. They will hold special meetings at Point St. Charles all day to-morrow and the day after to-morrow, when they will stay in the city altogether for ten days. A series of drawing-room meetings are being arranged to be held during their visit.

A LIMEN FOR THE LOGGER.—Loggers lead a life which exposes them to many perils. Wounds, cuts and bruises caused by the axe and other tools, when wet and cold combined, often cause rheumatism, colds and muscular pains cannot be cured. Thomas' Kiefer Oil when applied to the injured or administered to the ailing worker does good.

Killed in a Fight.
Willemstad, Island of Curacao, March 1.—According to advices from Caracas, the Mochist leader, Garibira, a thousand men, nearly all of them Colombians, attempted a new invasion of Venezuela.

After a bloody fight at Las Casabas, the insurgents were completely routed and obliged to retire across the border, leaving a large number of dead on the field.

Want Him Arrested.
Port Huron, Mich., March 2.—There is a movement on foot to secure the arrest of K. O. M. Thompson, the defaulting finance keeper of the Supreme Court, who is under no circumstances to let the Supreme Court officials pass for the warrant. The expert endeavor to look into Thompson's work, and he has been found a deficiency of $24,000, while Thompson has confessed to a deficit of $37,000.

Public Amusements

A New Clyde Pitch Play. At the Princess Theatre to-night and all this week we are to have the much-discussed Clyde Pitch comedy, "Love's Lane," which comes with the prestige of five months' acceptance in New York, and an all-summer run with a more recent mid-winter revival at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago.

Miss Millie James, in "Love's Lane" upon its moral tone, its rustic charm and its blending of comedy with deft touches of pathos. Its scenes are laid in a small town in Massachusetts and its quaint characters are typical of the old-fashioned New England village.

"The Devil's Auction" To-night. There is no regular corps de ballet in this country outside of grand opera, such as is presented at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, and by Chase H. Yale, who gives us his spectacular production of "The Everlasting Devil's Auction," a full and complete corps de ballet.

"A Gambler's Daughter." The attraction at the Toronto Opera House all this week, commencing with a matinee to-day, is the new sensational melodrama, "A Gambler's Daughter."

Daughter." It is a play that has been magnificently staged by the famous scenic artists, Bühler & Mann, and the many stirring scenes depicted are vividly true to life, notably a reproduction, exact in detail, of the Chicago Board of Trade on a day of panic, when the heroine, amid scenes of great excitement, becomes the queen of the wheat pit, also her operations are the financial ruin of her father, who is a member of the board, and one who also surreptitiously conducts a well and luxurious gambling palace. Another thrilling act takes place in this fashionable gaming house, and is an exquisite stage picture.

At Shea's. To-day at Shea's a program abounding with variety will be offered. There will be the Florens Troupe, seven truly wonderful acrobats. Will M. Cressy and Blanche Danes will present a dramatic sketch of the very highest order, entitled "A Village Lawyer." Frank Lincoln, "the Globe Trotting Humourist," has a line of work entirely different from any other monologist. For real fun and shrieks of laughter McCarty's dog and monkeys will probably head all others on the bill. Then there will be O'Brien & Havel, the Maude Beall Price, completing a bill that promises to be exceptionally good.

At the Star. One of the most attractive programs presented at the Star Theatre under the management of Mr. W. A. C. Orr is the production of one week, commencing with the matinee to-day. Entertainers are Jeanette Dupre, West and Williams, Hawthorne and Allen, Bros. Leonard, Bitter and the Johnnie Webber & Co., and Ella Shields. In addition there are two big burlesques. Matinees will be given daily.

O'Rell Surely Coming. On account of the disappointment caused by the railway accident, which prevented his arrival here in time for his advertised lecture on Feb. 22, Mr. O'Rell has consented at Mr. Houston's request to defer his sailing until he can get to New York on Monday afternoon and evening, March 10. He will arrive in Toronto on Wednesday, March 11. He will be at the Star Theatre on Wednesday, March 12, at 7.30 p.m. He will also give a lecture at the Star Theatre on Thursday, March 13, at 7.30 p.m. He will also give a lecture at the Star Theatre on Friday, March 14, at 7.30 p.m. He will also give a lecture at the Star Theatre on Saturday, March 15, at 7.30 p.m.

George Grosvenor Here. Mr. George Grosvenor, the brilliant comedienne who arrived in town yesterday and is staying at the Queen Hotel. He is in excellent voice and will give a performance at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday evening, March 4. He will be in Toronto on Friday, March 5, at 7.30 p.m. He will be in Toronto on Saturday, March 6, at 7.30 p.m. He will be in Toronto on Sunday, March 7, at 7.30 p.m. He will be in Toronto on Monday, March 8, at 7.30 p.m. He will be in Toronto on Tuesday, March 9, at 7.30 p.m.

Paderewski. Paderewski, who will be heard in Massey Music Hall on Wednesday evening, will repeat undoubtedly in Toronto the enormous successes which he has met in every American city he has visited this season. It is an unfortunate fact that many of his admirers in Toronto are unable to obtain admission. Paderewski is a wonderful master of pedal effects, his music is beyond tonal gradation that are beyond the reach of trained fingers; he calls upon them for aid when he thunders forth a stormy polonaise or grand finale.

ANGIER'S PETROLEUM EMULSION THERE'S NOTHING TO EQUAL IT. PHYSICIANS tell us there is nothing to equal Angier's Petroleum Emulsion for quick and positive results. It is pleasant to take, agrees with the most delicate stomach, aids digestion and promotes a healthy appetite. Under its administration, the patient rapidly gains in weight and strength.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS Spring Freshet Has Done Much Damage to Works of Humber Power Company. Toronto Junction, March 2.—The spring freshet in the Humber has done considerable damage to the construction works of the Humber Power Co. at Lambton Mills. The ice has gone out as far as the Bloor-street bridge, where there is a dam. Suckers are being caught at Lambton Mills.

THE JUNCTION'S PRIVATE BILL Will Be Discussed To-night—Palpably Filled Sunday By Student Delegates. Toronto Junction, March 2.—The spring freshet in the Humber has done considerable damage to the construction works of the Humber Power Co. at Lambton Mills. The ice has gone out as far as the Bloor-street bridge, where there is a dam. Suckers are being caught at Lambton Mills.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council will be held to-morrow night. It is likely that the new clauses in the town's private bill before the legislature will come up for discussion. Mimico Lodge, A. F. & A. M., last night decided to give an entertainment at Lambton Mills on March 14. The pulpit at the St. Andrew's church in town were, for the most part, filled by visitors to-day. Roger Walker of the Virginia Seminary, a delegate to the Students' Volunteer Movement, and Rev. H. C. Dixon preached in St. John's Church. Dr. Montague and Dr. Cade occupied the pulpit in Annet-street Methodist Church, and Mr. Bond and Rev. D. C. Hosack preached in Victoria Presbyterian Church.

A concert, under the auspices of the Annet-street Baptist Church, will be given in the College of Music Hall on Tuesday evening, by the choir of the College-street Presbyterian Church. The choir will be assisted by Miss Eva M. Boyd, soprano; Miss A. Pentecost, contralto; Mr. C. J. Wallace, tenor; Mr. W. L. Mills, bass; Messrs. J. Alton and A. C. Parker, humorists; Mr. H. D. Williamson, comical; Miss Mabel A. Croose, pianist; Mr. A. H. Greene, organ.

East Toronto. Mr. Michael Fitzgerald of Woodbine-avenue has been confined to his bed for about a month. His condition is regarded as serious. The Aberdeen Curling Club will hold their banquet at the club on Friday night. There is still about four inches of ice in the rink, and if there is a few degrees of frost the rink will be in good condition.

Tomorrows. The plate glass window of the post-office store was smashed late on Friday night by a drunken man falling thru it. He was afterwards found by some late travelers, who procured a wagon and took him home. He was not cut or injured by the glass.

The Don flats are still under water, and on Sunday hundreds of people went down into the valley to see the unusual sight. The ice at the mill dam is banded very high for a long distance up the stream. A cow was washed away when the ice broke up the other day, and was probably carried out into the lake. The deer in Riverdale Park have to keep to the bank, their shelters being partly submerged. On Sunday there were dozens of rafts in use, and the boys had a high tide paddling over the marshes. Doncaster. A county constable has been told off to investigate the dog nuisance here. There are so many curs of all breeds at large just now that something must be done to mitigate the nuisance. The assessor will be on his annual round directly, and in response to his usual query no person will have a dog.

DEFEAT OF A GOVERNMENT Will Have No Immediate Importance, But is an Ominous Sign of the Times. IS IT A NEW "PRIMROSE LEAGUE"? Speculation as to What Following Lord Rosebery Will Gather to Him. New York, March 2.—The Herald's London correspondent says: "Alto the vote of the House of Commons on Tuesday night will have no immediate political consequences, it was an important event which has a normal majority of 130 is an ominous sign of the times."

The question was not of the first magnitude, but it excited very great interest among railway servants and indirectly concerns the traveling public. Capt. Norton, one of the few Liberal members re-elected in London, moved that the Board of Trade should require from railway companies a return of all of the cases where the men were worked for more than 12 hours continuously, or employed again after an interval of less than 9 hours. This the Board of Trade has power to do under Mr. Mundella's Act of 1883, but it has neglected to do it.

Mr. Bell, the member for Derby, and a workman, who seconded the motion, gave some appalling statistics of excessive labor. He cited an instance in which an engine driver had some duty at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and remained at work till midnight and resumed at 6 next morning, and gave another example of 20 hours continuous employment, with yet another of 118 hours on duty in the six days he showed that for some years in spite of Mr. Mundella's Act, the hours of railway labor tended to increase, and that the number of accidents was increasing. It is only what might be expected. An engine driver wants a cool head and strong nerve. If he is tired he must be inefficient. Both to the men and themselves, and to the passengers for whose safety they are responsible, this process of exhaustion is most pernicious.

Mr. Jackson, the chairman of the Great Northern Railway, did not succeed in refuting Mr. Bell's arguments or in disposing of his statistics, while the president of the Board of Trade, who proposed the motion, took the dry official line that all complaints received due consideration. He proposed a question of confidence, not of humanity and safety. The motion only called upon the government to carry out the law. It would have done better to accept it. By opposing it, it turned it into a vote of confidence in the government. A Minister must support the orders of the House or resign. Mr. Gerald Ralfour is an able man, but he ought to be a college don. His one idea of managing an office is to use on all occasions the reddest of red tape. He has been a director of too many companies to be impartial in trade disputes. He failed to carry his own party with him. Some of them voted against him, many more abstained. He was beaten, as he deserved to be. The division was not taken during the dinner hour, when, in Lord Salisbury's opinion, no divisions ought to count, but at midnight, when the House often at its fullest. If it were not for the war the life of the ministry would not be worth a month's purchase. Liberal Unionists. The annual meeting of the Liberal Unionists usually an important event, now the Duke of Devonshire's speeches excite a very great interest. He is, in fact, between Liberal Unionists and Conservatives has long been invisible to the naked eye. The Duke, the regarded as a possible Premier, is unobtrusive to the verge of self-extermination, but this year the meeting has an object, and the Duke had a subject. Liberal Unionists would be either more or less than human if they did not chuckle over the new "Primrose League." Sixteen years ago they separated from the Liberal party because they would not support Home Rule for Ireland. Now Lord Rosebery has definitely abandoned Home Rule. Of his three vice-presidents, Sir Edward Grey is understood to have practically done the same. Sir Henry Fowler never mentions the topic, but the third, Mr. Asquith, has hitherto been a strong Home Ruler. His future attitude is the subject of much speculation. He is one of the ablest debaters in the House of Commons, and it is believed to be formed there he will be a valuable leader.

A new edition of Sir George Cornwall Lewis' classic book on the "Use and Abuse of Some Political Terms" is very much required. The King, by means of the new Imperial Library, has issued the new Imperial Library. The phrase, our "Indian Empire," whatever a perfectly accurate one, but it is not a new word, it is a word that has been in use for many years. It is not a word that is new to the world, but it is a word that is new to the British colonies. The very name "Imperialism" is a standing protest against the unhappily misused word "Imperialism" which the Liberal party is the South African war. The British colonies are essentially democratic. The very name "Imperialism" is a standing protest against the unhappily misused word "Imperialism" which the Liberal party is the South African war.

Upon the really pressing question of an honorable peace, Mr. Rosebery differs at least as much from the majority of Liberals as from any other member of the cabinet to speak on this point, that the only terms which could be accepted from the Boers were unconditional surrender. Lord Rosebery, on the other hand, advocates a policy of extermination, and favors a re-arrangement of the map of South Africa. The governments of the world are all in a state of confusion. The Liberal party is the South African war. The British colonies are essentially democratic. The very name "Imperialism" is a standing protest against the unhappily misused word "Imperialism" which the Liberal party is the South African war.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY. Young Woman at the Sea Shot Her Husband in the Cheek. Saint Ste. Marie, Ont., March 1.—Mrs. Theresa Hunt, wife of J. A. Hunt, a barber of this city, is in jail charged with shooting her husband with intent to kill. The affair was the climax of frequent quarrels. Last week Hunt was ordered to pay $2 a week for his wife's maintenance, and on Friday he secured a writ of replevin, which authorized a bailiff to remove his household goods from the room the pair had occupied. While this was going on Mrs. Hunt pulled a 22 calibre revolver and shot her husband in the cheek. The wound is slight. Mrs. Hunt, who is 29 years of age, says she meant to kill herself, and not her husband.

Woman Was Excited. Between 10 and 11 o'clock yesterday morning Foreman Henry McHenry was on his way to the eastern stables when he saw a middle-aged woman running down the bank towards the Don. Followed by a boy, who was crying. Believing the woman was about to end her existence, he called to a stranger on the railway tracks to stop her. The man did so and held her till McHenry had telephoned for the patrol wagon and Sergeant MacFarlane. In the meantime the boy, who had followed the woman to his home on East Front-street and brought some of the woman's relatives, who took charge of her. The woman was very much excited, her condition being, it is said, to suitly troubles.
