Wilson's Note Clearly Declares That Germany Must Limit Submarine Operations to Enemy Warships, or Relations Will Be Severed—Reply Expected Within Four Days—Dramatic Message Stirred Congress to Display Deep Sympathy.

"Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels, the Government of the United States has no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German Empire altogether.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Wilson's long expected final warning to Germany that the United States will break off diplomatic relations unless she abandons her present methods of submarine warfare and immediately declares her intention to do so, was delivered today in note to Berlin, and was announced by the president in an address to a joint session of congress.

Must Reply Speedily.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

CHANGING the venue of their attacks from the north and northwest of Verdun to the southeast of the town, the Germans violently assailed yesterday the salient at Les Eparges, which was driven into the lines at St. Mihiel about a year ago, and suffered a severe repulse, the 200 yards of trenches which they had penetrated in the last assault being covered by a French counter-attack.

German activity on the British front has been transferred chiefly to the Artois ridge, especially in the quarry sector of Neuville St. Vaast, which was recently taken over by the French.

President Wilson, in his latest note to Germany, despatched yesterday, makes an immediate demand that submarine warfare against merchantmen cease. He calls for an immediate answer and threatens the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany by dismissing Count Von Bernstorff.

FRESH ATTACK ENDS RELATIONS

Wilson Sets Forth Issue Clearly in His Note to Germany.

CONGRESS IS STIRRED

Dramatic Message Recognized as Committing U. S. to Definite Policy.

The government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the humanity of the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue.

Clear Warning Given. Unless the imperial government should now declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German Empire altogether.

Climax of Outrages. Had the recent attack on the channel steamer Sussex, the note that Germany, been an isolated case, the submarine commander acted in violation of his government's solemn pledges, and that the ends of justice might have been satisfied by a disavowal, reparation and his proper punishment.

Congress Deeply Stirred. Congress yesterday reviewed the evidence of his course with mixed emotions of concern and approbation. Most of the leaders, Democratic and Republican, were heard to say, "hardly could do less, and some expressed the opinion that his action would not lead to war."

Germany, in the past, has been acting on the belief that the United States is afraid to fight her. She does not want war with the States. The defeat of the Turks in Armenia is fast becoming a debacle, for on the morrow of the news of Trebizond's capture, comes the official news from Petrograd that the Russians have captured a strongly organized chain of hills in the Aschikha region, west of Erzerum, in a night assault, with the slaying of many Turks and the taking prisoner of others.

It is perhaps over sanguine to say that the fall of Trebizond settles the Turks, but it is correct to say that the Russian column has been advancing on its own account with the object of cutting off the retreat of the enemy from the coastal region. The main Russian army is progressing southwestward upon Erzerum, and a fourth column is marching south from Mush and Bitlis upon Diarbekr. Thence it will strike for Nisibin, the western railroad of the Bagdad railway. Once that is in Russian possession it should be a comparatively easy matter for the Russians to reach Aleppo and the coast of Syria.

What especially delights Paris is that the Germans have been unable to give much assistance to Turkey. They were lured to the west by the offensive of the allies last September and the accident that created Verdun has forced them in an attempt to restore their falling prestige to comb the Balkans for troops to move to the east. It should be a splendid time for the allies to begin their Balkan offensive. The French and British are probably awaiting the transfer of the Serbian army, reorganized and refitted, to Saloniki. They have, it seems, established a naval base on the Island of Crete, probably for future offensive action against Turkey in Asia, in conjunction with the Russians.

Monte Fume Pass, about 10,500 feet above sea level, has been occupied by Italian Alpinists who have driven the last detachments of the Austrians from the summit of the ranges in the Admetto region. Progress is being made by them in their advance towards the summit of Monte Sporno. The extreme western peak of Monte Ancora, on the Col di Lana, in the upper Cordevole Valley, has also been assaulted and taken from the Austrians. Survivors of enemy troops to the number of 164 were taken prisoner and a large quantity of arms, ammunition, and war material was captured.

United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue, and that unless the Imperial German Government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations altogether.

Patience is Exhausted. The note to Berlin declares: "The Government of the United States has been very patient. It has accepted the successive explanations and assurances of the Imperial German Government as of course given in entire sincerity and good faith, and has hoped, even against hope, that it would be possible for the imperial government to order and control the acts of its naval commanders so to square its policy with the recognized principles of humanity as embodied in the laws of nations. It has made every effort to secure the best possible conditions and has been willing to wait until the facts became unmistakable and were susceptible of only one interpretation."

Backed Up by Evidence. Attached to the American note is an appendix, and the facts in the case are set forth. They show that three American army and naval officers found in the hull of the destroyed ship, the Lusitania, a large quantity of explosives in use and identification marks with those on German torpedoes in possession of the French government at the naval station at Toulon, but that the American officers actually found 18 pieces of metal which they identified as parts of German torpedoes. Four of them, steel parts of the "war-head" of the torpedo, still bear the distinctive paint common to German warheads.

Wilson's Address. President Wilson began by recalling the protest made by the United States in February, 1915, of its intention to attack merchant ships of the enemy. He stated that the United States had been forced to do so because of the long-established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals, and the sacred immunities of non-combatants.

friendly relations between the two countries may be rent. The crisis now resolves itself into the question of whether the United States will have opportunity to accede to the American demands. Before another week begins settlement of the long-standing issue either will be assured or Count Von Bernstorff probably will have his passports and Ambassador Gerard will be leaving Berlin.

Wilson Deeply Affected. When the president had finished reading, he looked up and said: "You look as sad as I feel." The chairman's response was to enquire of the president why he should be so sad. The conference thus ended.

which the Imperial Government has mistakenly adopted, and which from the first exposed the government to the reproach of thrusting all neutral rights aside in pursuit of its immediate objects.

The government of the United States have been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy, in which its own citizens were involved, it has sought to be restrained from any extreme course of action or of protest. HOPE PERSISTS MINISTRY MAY SURVIVE SPLIT

Cabinet Situation in England Still Remains Extremely Precarious.

LIFE HANGS BY THREAD

Lloyd George Controls Situation and May Wreck Government.

LONDON, April 19.—After the ministerial conferences this evening a more hopeful feeling that the break-up of the government will be avoided prevailed in the parliamentary lobbies. It was based on nothing tangible, however, and the general opinion among the public, owing to the unexpectedly grave nature of Premier Asquith's statement in the house of commons, is that the life of the ministry hangs by a thread.

Lloyd George Controls Situation and May Wreck Government. David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, controls the situation, and, according to the best information, declines to reconsider the position unless it can be proved to him that the useful men for service under the colors can be secured without compulsion. He submitted to the cabinet a proposal to form a cabinet of 10 members, to be in operation only if 80,000 men per month are not forthcoming under the voluntary system.

Women's Petticoats

1,000 "Queen Quality" Taffeta Petticoats at $3.95 and $4.50. Never until this year have we been able to offer the famous "Queen Quality" taffeta petticoats at such low prices, and now, despite the extra width, which necessitates the use of more material, they are procurable in two pretty styles at the amounts mentioned above. Such values are only made possible by the fact that we secured the whole of a manufacturer's stock of this taffeta at considerably less than "before the war prices."

The petticoats are well cut, neatly finished, with strapped seams, one having a three-piece flounce, tucked and inserted with a pleated band over a dust frill; the other having two gathered frills, the top one undulating on the deep flounce. The color range is excellent, and includes black, cardinal, Mexican red, maroon, brown, mustard, royal, maize, purple, salmon, wine, Copen, rose, gold, reseda, cerise and mahogany. Lengths 36 to 42. FITZGERALD NO MATCH FOR BATTILING LEVINSKY

Main Bout at Irish Fusiliers' Boxing Show in Arena Lasted One Round—Good Prelims.

A fine crowd turned out to see Battling Levinsky perform under the auspices of the Irish Fusiliers last night at the Arena. He was listed as the light heavy-weight champion of the world, which title is of course not on the list, but the bold Jew caught the fancy of the fans all right.

The other part of the show was up to the standard those who pay $1, $2 and $3 expect to see some sort of a final.

Referee Donovan sent Harry Westery and Kid Burd from the ring for not trying and the decision was received with boos.

The referee stopped the bout between Dick Dundee and Charlie Christie when the latter was all in. Ed Williams out-punched Kid Dunn of Buffalo. These two were hurricane bouts.

Referee Donovan announced that no decision would be allowed.

Ed Williams, the amateur 100-lb. champion, made an auspicious debut into the pro ranks, when he took on Johnny Dunn of Buffalo who substituted for Kid Reim.

Williams had the better of the bout and easily got the popular decision. It was the best bout Williams ever put up. He used head, hands and feet to perfection.

The best bout of the night was between Charlie Christie and Dick Dundee of Buffalo. Christie had reach and cleverness on the Buffalo boy, who was a very muscular fellow, and Christie made the mistake of his life when he tried to swap punches instead of using the advantages he possessed.

The great light-heavyweight, Levinsky, had no trouble whatever with Fighting Mike Fitzgerald, and without much effort put his man down in the first and out in the second.

CANADIAN LEAGUE LAID DOWN EASY

BRANTFORD, April 19.—The Canadian League for 1918 is a dead issue, with no hope of a resurrection. President J. Nelson of the Brantford Baseball Club, who has held out to the last, has finally given up hope, following the announcement that there would not be troops stationed at Brantford.

President Nelson has received offers for Brantford, outfielder; Dunlop, shortstop; and Cooper, catcher, from the Brantford Baseball Club, who has put in a bid for the services of Close and Cooper, shortstops in the league.

President Nelson is none too well pleased with the action the league has taken this year. He states that last year May was set as the date for the meeting of the league to take up the schedule. This year, in February, the league met and decided practically to disband, as a result, in place of sitting tight and disposing of players to clubs that wanted them, the managers have now to get just what they can for the use of the players.

Second Division Athletic Association Prepare Splendid Program.

Rickford, G.S.O., who is president of the Second Division Athletic Association, announced that the association, to offer two valuable cup-pen-tions will be drilled order, with the Marathon race will close, tonight at six o'clock.

Great interest has been aroused in the association, and some capital sport should result.

Controller Joe Thompson set in touch with Captain Flanagan, secretary of the association, to offer two valuable cup-pen-tions to be given to the winner of the company, and the other to the company, making the best showing in their respective events.

At the end of the evening, the following fellows-judges at the end of their seven-mile hike, when they pass in front of the reviewing stand at the park.

Poor Chauffeur Made Mistake This Time

NEW YORK, April 19.—The jitney bus was overcrowded as it left Newark for Jersey City yesterday afternoon, and the chauffeur was a big, raw-boned individual, his feet two in his stockings, and full of fight.

Who is he? demanded the other passengers. Only one knew. "He's Knockout Brown, the light-heavyweight pugilist," he answered jubilantly.

YALE ANXIOUS TO BEAT DE WRIGHT SATURDAY

Guy Nickalls is Giving His Heavy Crew Plenty of Work.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 19.—With the return of Roland Harrison at stroke in the Yale variety crew, the eight as it will start in the race with Joe Wright's Pennsylvanians on the Schuylkill River next Saturday has settled down into good rowing form and Guy Nickalls, the stroke, believes that the crew will be one of the strongest early-season combinations turned out at Yale in several years.

The crew has put in a hard week and wound it up with fifteen miles of almost steady pulling yesterday, this being one of the heaviest day's work a Yale crew has ever experienced.

Yale and Guy Nickalls are anxious to have the edge, and the Philadelphians Saturday, and a victory, in a way, would partly atone for the defeat of the Yale crew at the hands of Columbia last autumn on the local harbor.

COACH COURTNEY'S Last Year at Cornell

ITHACA, N.Y., April 19.—After three weeks of rowing on the narrow inlet, Cornell's crews are now out on Cayuga Lake and the important business of training for the Harvard and Yale and Princeton races is well under way.

The first big race facing the Cornell crews now is to get in shape for the race with Harvard on May 20. The word has gone out from Courtney that Cornell must beat Harvard and Yale this year to regain prestige lost when the big Ithaca eight was beaten by both the crimson and blue in the early races last spring.

Courtney, whose active coaching days are nearly over, is very anxious in what will be his last year at Cornell, to score a clean-cut victory over Cornell's old rivals, the English rowing methods, and he realizes that he has some splendid material at Ithaca this year which will make it possible to win the Cornell Varsity eight has not yet had any time trials of consequence, as the inlet course does not permit of such tests, the coaches plan to put the first and second crews thru a series of two-mile brushes from now on in an effort to determine just how fast the first eight—a fine-looking, smoothly-rowing aggregation already—can push thru the water.

Seven of Cornell's Varsity oarsmen were members of last year's eight, which won at Poughkeepsie. The only member of that combination not in this year's crew is O'Brien, who rowed seven last year.

PLAYERS OF FORMER DAYS MUCH THE BEST

Stars of Present Day Soon in the Discard—Naps Stung on Speaker.

Arthur Duffy remarks that "the more we consider Larry Lajoie's case the more we wonder at the hard luck of Joe Wood, Bill James and a few more of the competitive youngsters in that pastime of ours.

Twelve young men, with stormy careers ahead of them, were graduated in Cincinnati the other day. Each one has a diploma which says that he has served for a full year in the Cincinnati Public School department, known as the "School for Former League Umpires."

Frank C. Menke thinks the management of the Cleveland Indians has been stung in paying $50,000 for T. P. Speaker.

Billy Sullivan, the Tiger baseball coach, has caused some 1200 games in a score or so of years, and has yet to sustain his team and today definitely secured the services of Colwell, a right-handed pitcher, who has been used by Brooklyn.

At Brooklyn (National)—Brooklyn won its first game of the season yesterday, defeating Boston from 7 to 3.

At Philadelphia (National)—Wildness on the part of Boston's pitchers proved very costly yesterday, the home players hitting the ball hard after batmen had given the Philadelphia winners a 7 to 5.

At Chicago (American)—St. Louis hammered Cicotte yesterday, and defeated Chicago 6 to 2, while Wellman, except in the second inning, had the White Sox at his mercy.

FOR THE SUMMER CRUSADE

A Strange Old Leap Year Custom

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young man of 24, in love with a certain young lady, and admired by several others, and one of these others—making advantage of leap year—proposed to me. Please give me your advice as to whether I should accept this offer or try for the one I prefer. Is it necessary for me to give the lady whom I would refuse, a silk dress as in keeping with the custom of leap year?

In Doubt.

IN DOUBT: Why should you marry this young woman simply because she has proposed to you? If you really and truly love the other young lady why should not take your fate in your hands and abide by your love and find happiness in it? No, my dear young man, there is no reason why you should give the young lady who proposed to you, and whom you refused, a silk dress. It is an old custom—and one that is very pretty in its way—but it is not necessary for you to keep an old custom at so great an expense. Indeed, it is a custom that is not universally observed. Simple love, simple faith and frankness are ever so much better—they are appreciated the world over.

Do not publish letter.

SOUTH: If you are in love with the girl, why not tell her about your friend's death? She will not be jealous of one who is gone, and it may save her from worrying over your lack of spirit.

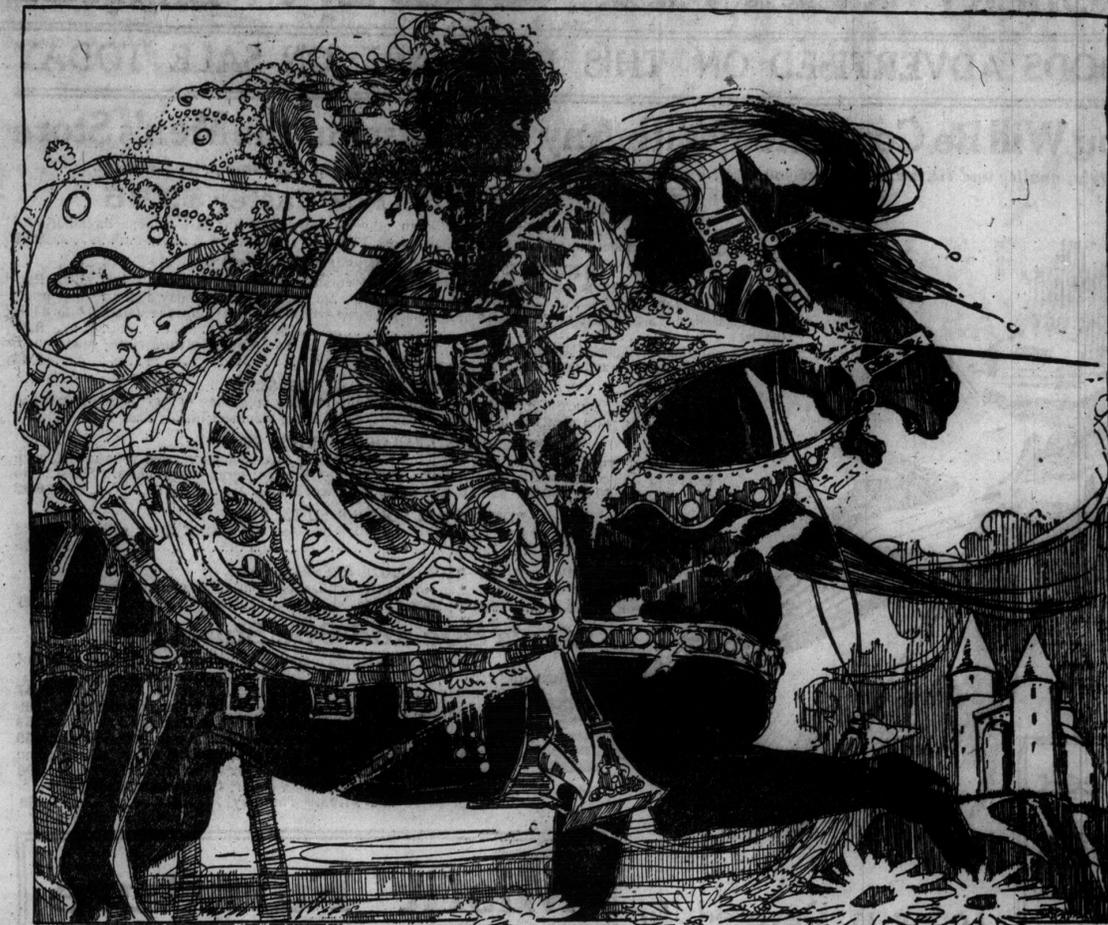

ANNIE LAURIE.

Toronto, March 8, 1916.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: About a year ago I commenced going with a girl whom I met in a distant town. In a few months we became engaged and everything went smoothly until about a month ago, when she allowed a sister and other people to prejudice herself against me. The result was an estrangement that lasted several weeks, when she discovered that a lot of accusations against me were false. Eventually in a telephone conversation she admitted she loved me as ever and would marry soon, but in a few days she withdrew promise, and says that if her brother asks her to promise not to marry me before he leaves for the front she will consider his wishes. Now, please give me your advice. Is a girl of that type worth marrying? I love her dearly, altho she almost cost me my position and caused my health to reach such a stage that I am on the verge of a physical break down. In every way she is honorable and good, but feels that wishes of her brother, who is younger than she, should be her guidance. She has promised to be faithful for a year, and if at the end of year I prove worthy she will be free to write me. Can I trust her? Please give me advice.

WORRIED: Why not plan to wait the year and see how things turn out? You are both young enough to wait, and as the girl insists upon this period of probation, there seems to be no other course open to you.

ANNIE LAURIE.

In days of old, when knights were eager and the air of the world thrilled with romance, crusades were the craze, and the hope of Christendom. Wild were the quests on which they went—strange were the adventures which befell them—and fine are the tales of their conquests. Today we have crusades, but somehow they seem not so romantic. Yet they're really even MORE romantic—only we don't brag about 'em quite so much.

For instance, there's the crusade on which every little Curly Locks is embarking this very minute. The romance of spring is a thrill in the air and the promise of summer sings in every breeze. Hearts leap to the lilt of triumph from the robin on the budding bough. And, mounted on the hobby-horse, she ever rides, equipping herself in imagination with all the trills and the laces of her dreams, Miss Curly Locks arms herself with her trusty parasol and gallops to meet Happiness. And usually the handle of the parasol is HEART-SHAPED—the emblem of CONQUEST.

"Let's Ask Mother"

By FLORENCE HOWARD

NOT a lemon in the house, and I wanted to make some hot lemonade for daddy," said Lois. "Will you go to the store?"

"Of course, I'll go," said Harriet, "but I'd much rather be able to stay here and study. Why don't we have lemons in the house?"

"They dry out so, I suppose," said Lois. "Let's ask mother, and maybe she will let you get a quantity this time."

"I always buy lemons a dozen or two at a time," said mother, "and if you will look down in the basement closet you will find a fruit jar full of them, covered with cold water and sealed up. This keeps them fresh for a long time. I change the water every few days."

"And, girls, if you should happen to find a lemon which is not inclined to be juicy, just let it stand in hot water for a few minutes and see how much more juice it will yield. Of course, if you are going to use the juice for salad dressing, it must be chilled again before using, but for hot lemonade it will be all right to use it without chilling."

Success With Vegetables

Have good soil properly prepared. Purchase seeds from a reliable seed house. Always sow seeds according to directions. Give proper cultivation from the time the seedlings appear until the crop is harvested. A heavy clay soil will not produce good vegetables. Clay soil should be lightened by applying sittings from coal ashes or sand and lime should be used freely, with plenty of stable manure. Cultivation must begin as soon as the seedlings appear and continue before, keeping the weeds from getting a start. Never allow the ground to become hard or "baked" on the surface. When the seedlings are tall enough to thin, give the plants ample room.—W. M. L.

SUMMER EVENING WRAPS

FUR-TRIMMED AND FULL

Artistic Cloaks for Wear Over Warm-Weather Dance Frocks Are Extremely Pretty.

TWO EXCLUSIVE MODELS

One in Turquoise Taffeta, the Other in Rose Faille, Have Bands of Fur.

Perhaps some vogue enthusiasts are laboring under the illusion that fur will be no longer in evidence when the long plush or cloth coat has been discarded in favor of the Easter taffeta. But this false impression must be put away, for all thru the storied summer months fur-trimmed wraps, evening wraps for wear over snuffy dance frocks, will be popular with the up-to-the-minute devotees. The greatest difference to be seen in the fur trimming used on summer wraps is in the width. All bands are narrow, and usually in a light-toned marabout, or fur not so long-haired.

New Designs and Models. Yoke designs, novel sleeves, and very modish lines, distinguish models now being launched by the best couturiers. A wrap in turquoise changeable taffeta displayed a number of interesting features. The yoke was cut down into pointed sections over the shoulders, which extended into the long full sleeves, finished with a broad cuff. The high collar, yoke, and hem of the skirt portions, shirred into the yoke, were all embroidered in gold. A touch of black was seen at the base of the neck in crossed cords and a long silken tassel. White marabout trimmed the high collar and was also applied top and bottom of the trimming band on the skirt part of the coat.

Another attractive model was in deep rose faille, trimmed with silver braid and narrow bands of sable. The upper part of the coat hung straight from shoulder to low waist line, and was lengthened by a full gathered skirt trimmed with two bands of fur, about the hem.

Two Banana Recipes Well Worth Trying

By ANN MARIE LLOYD

Banana Pudding. After cutting a number of stale pieces of bread into slices and buttering them slightly, take a few bananas—not overripe—peel and slice them, and put them with the slices of bread in alternate layers in a greased pie dish so as to well fill it. Beat up in a basin one egg with a little water, sweeten it with two table-spoons of moist sugar, and pour into it while stirring half a pint of boiling milk; then pour this into the pie dish. Grate a little nutmeg on top, and bake for about 30 minutes in a moderately heated oven. Sprinkle a little powdered sugar over the pudding before it is served.

Banana Preserve. Take about a dozen well-ripened bananas, remove the skin, and cut the fruit up into small round slices. With a lemon squeezer press out the juice of eight small, sweet oranges, and also the juice of four lemons. Preserve the pulp, adding it with the juice to the bananas. To each pound of the bananas allow half a pound of preserving sugar. Put all these ingredients into a jolly pan, and boil rather slowly for three-quarters of an hour.

GARNISHING CHOPS.

A luncheon dish of French chops may be prettily garnished by placing a diamond-shaped piece of pimento in the center of each chop. Paper holders for French chops, by the way, makes an absorbing occupation for the youngsters when it is necessary to stay in doors. A strip of paper four inches square, doubled over and clipped at the fold into tiny strips, a half inch deep, makes a pretty holder, and a good supply of them may be made by the children and tucked into a drawer in the kitchen for future use.

APRIL SHOWERS AND BEAUTY POSSIBILITIES

By LUCREZIA BORI

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

APRIL SHOWERS bring many flowers, we sing every time, if you should happen to find a lemon which is not inclined to be juicy, just let it stand in hot water for a few minutes and see how much more juice it will yield. Of course, if you are going to use the juice for salad dressing, it must be chilled again before using, but for hot lemonade it will be all right to use it without chilling.

welcome it as an aid to beauty, and catch every drop that you can by placing tin basins, pans and other receptacles about your yard.

BUTTERMILK FOR MILDEW. When clothes become mildewed they should be boiled in buttermilk. The same process will bleach materials that have become yellow from lack of use. Rinse them well in warm water afterward and hang them in the sun.

HER FORTE. "I hear that Ethel has a splendid position for which she is pre-eminently fitted."

DYEING RAGS FOR RUGS. When dyeing rags for homemade rugs tie the bunches of rags tightly round before dipping in the dye. This will give intervals of rags without color and the effect when woven will be greatly admired.

Production and Thrift

"To win the war with the decisiveness which will ensure lasting peace, the Empire will require to put forth its full collective power in men and in money. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by multiplying our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon luxuries and non-essentials. Only in this way shall we be able to make good the loss caused by the withdrawal of so many of our workers from industrial activities, repair the wastage of the war, and find the funds for its continuance. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict still lie before us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who remain at home, supreme patriotic duties upon whose faithful fulfilment our success and consequently our national safety, may ultimately depend."

SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.
MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.
SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.
SPEND MONEY WISELY.

LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE—
The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—men, munitions, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who enlist must be taken by those at home, men and women, old and young. The more we produce the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.

LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR—
In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in production. Make it as efficient as possible. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off till after the war and make your labour tell now. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.

LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS—
Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on the home—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things being wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.

LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY—
Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war time? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily risking their lives for us at home. Is it not our duty to be careful and economical? Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

The Amateur Gardener

ARE you going to plant some shrubs this season? If so, have you decided on the kinds you will use? You will make a serious mistake if Spiraea von Houttei is not one of them. I consider this shrub as worthy of a place close to the head of a list of our most desirable kind, if not at the head of it. It has the merit of hardness, it grows symmetrically without pruning, it blossoms early in the season, and a fine specimen of it will be a solid mass of whiteness at the height of its flowering period. Another excellent shrub for general planting is the too much neglected flowering almond. This has but one fault, if fault it can be called—that of not being quite hardy enough to stand a severe northern winter without protection. But its branches are of such slender habit of growth that it is an easy matter to bend them flat upon the ground in fall and fasten them there by laying strips of board across them after having spread an armful of straw or hay over them.

If this is done there will be no difficulty in wintering this shrub, whose dainty pink and white flowers in early spring make it a sight worth going far to see.

I have a particular fondness for the flowering currant, because of its graceful shape, its sturdy character, its ability to stand 20 below zero weather, and its great profusion of yellow flowers of delicious, spicy sweetness. It is to the outdoor garden what the geranium is to the window garden.

I want to speak a good word for the sadly neglected lilac. In it we have an almost ideal shrub. It will grow anywhere and in any soil. It has never been known to winter kill.

Simple Sponge Cake

INGREDIENTS 3 eggs, 3 ounces powdered sugar, 3 ounces flour, Rind of 1/2 lemon.

METHOD Put the eggs and sugar into a bowl; set the bowl in a deep pan of very hot water and beat steadily for 20 minutes until very frothy. Shake the flour very gently into the mixture and mix lightly so as not to break down the creamy look of the cake. Bake in a greased and lined tin. Have the oven rather cool and cook for three-quarters of an hour.

Misfit Furniture Slaughtered

It was made to order. It didn't "fit" the place, so we must make it FIT YOUR POCKET. This is true specifically of the rich walnut dining-room set described below. Be sure and bring measurement of where you want the Buffet to stand. One misfit is enough. The two bedroom sets were specially imported to meet the views of customers who said "Everything in this house must be British." They proved to be too expensive. The room they occupy on our furniture floor is worth so much that on these two sets alone we take the LOSS OF NEARLY $2,000.00, which it will cost the department to obey orders and TURN THEM INTO MONEY TODAY. This is our vigorous policy; it is your amazing opportunity.
