ENGINE CRASHES INTO SLEEPER

Eight Killed and Others Are Badly Injured

BURNED TO DEATH

Some Passengers on Grand Trunk Train in Michigan Killed as They Slept; Others Caught in Fire—Coney Island Steamer Runs Down Launch

Flint, Mich., Aug. 25.—In a recent collision between passenger trains Nos. 4 and 14, both eastbound, on the Grand Trunk Railway two miles east of Durand late last night, eight persons are known to have been killed, three were probably fatally injured and five were seriously hurt. It was reported early today that four passengers are missing.

Train No. 14 stopped to repair a defective brake, when No. 4 crashed into the side of the standing train. The engine of No. 4 plowed half way through the sleeper, and crashed to death some of the sleeping passengers. The wreckage of the sleeper caught fire, and others of the passengers were burned or scalded. It is said there were eighteen passengers on the ill-fated car.

When the forward train stopped, a brake man was sent back to signal the train following, but the explosion of the torpedo which was placed on the track a warning was heard too late by the engineer of No. 4 to stop his train. As fast as they were recovered from the ruins of the engine, the bodies of the dead were taken to Durand. Some of the injured were also taken to that village and others were brought to the hospital in this city.

The dead bodies recovered during the night are those of two unidentified women one about fifty years of age, another about sixty, and six persons whose bodies were so badly scalded and burned as to make identification difficult if not impossible.

The probably fatally injured are Clinton A. Davis, 24, of Antrim, scalded and cut about the head and body; George Nelson, of Battle Creek, fireman on train No. 4, scalded and cut; and Burr Mitchell, of North Huron, engineer on train No. 14, who was injured about the head.

The body of one of the two dead women may be that of Mrs. Davis, mother of Clinton A. Davis, of Montreal, who was injured. One of Mrs. Davis' correspondents to Mrs. Davis' description as to Mrs. Davis was an invalid traveling with her son and a nurse. The other woman's body is said to be too large to fit the description of the nurse.

Coney Steamer Sinks Launch
New York, Aug. 25.—Two lives were lost early today when the excursion boat Majestic returning to Newark, N. J., from Coney Island, ran down and sank a launch containing a party of merrymakers in Newark Bay. The work of rescue was made difficult by the fast running tide and darkness. Mary Ketsp and David Suen were drowned.

The Fredericton Business College is this week moving to commodious quarters in the inches building, Queen street. The Woodstock baseball team will play Fredericton in Scully's Grove this afternoon.

MURDER IN A BAR
Lumberjack in British Columbia Shoots Man Dead After Row

Fernie, B. C., Aug. 25.—Martin Hellar, a lumberjack, entered a hotel at Krags (thirty miles south of here) with a rifle, looking for the bar tender and trouble. Altercations arose among the proprietors, Mrs. Palmer, her son, William, the bartender, and ordered the proprietors, immediately pursued the retreating Hellar, who turned with the rifle on the combatant and ordered him back. This unarmed officer was forced to do, and the desperado disappeared in the bush. Strong reinforcements were sent to Lacey, where it is thought they will soon secure Hellar.

NORTHWEST POLICE
Conditions and Discipline Are Reported Satisfactory

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Col. Fred White, inspector of the Northwest Mounted Police, has returned after a trip of inspection of the force in the west. He says that he found conditions and discipline in every way satisfactory. While the agreement has not yet been signed, it is well understood that the force in Saskatchewan and Alberta will stay there another five years. At one time it was proposed that it be disbanded and a provincial force be established. A reduction of the establishment in the Yukon will take place soon.

Austria Short of Meat
London, Aug. 25.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Vienna says that owing to the enormous rise in the price of meat and despite the high protectionism system of the country, the government has decided to open the frontier to dressed meat from Argentina, Roumania and Serbia, and the state railways and the municipality of Vienna have reduced respectively their tariffs and octroi duties on meat by 50 per cent, for the next three months.

Town of Wallace, Idaho, Almost Destroyed by Forest Fire

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 25.—The mystery of the bodies that are being found in the Joe county Idaho probably will be cleared up today when the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound road runs its first passenger train to Avery. One hundred and six men living in the St. Joe Valley are missing.

Add the number of dead horses, seven-forty-four, bodies found near Avery, the ten Japanese who perished near Avery Valley, in the Clear Water country and the various known dead in Washington, Idaho and Montana, and the total is 142. This is without taking into account the 150 rangers imprisoned on the head waters of the St. Joe. The appalling loss of life among the forest employes has taken the heart out of the surviving foresters, and an order has been issued not to risk life to save timber. The little fires are being extinguished, but the great fires to fight with which might result in more loss of life, will be allowed to burn themselves out or until the rains extinguish them.

In the Coeur d'Alene mining country, the fires have extinguished their fury as they have also done in the Pond Reille Valley. In the Clear Water country and the thickets timber of the Coeur d'Alene national forest, however, the flames are hungry and active as ever.

No lumberman or forester gives an estimate of the timber losses. Even after the fires are out, it will be difficult to reckon the cost. It is believed, however, that the present fires are the most expensive the United States has ever known. A prominent railroad builder estimates the loss of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railroad at $2,000,000. The Spokane chamber of commerce has begun the raising of a large relief fund. There are 180 men surrounded in the mountains between Lolo Pass and St. Mary's and Major Fenn has sent three guides to pilot them out.

Conditions in the Clear Water reserve are hopeless and Major Fenn has received instructions from the forestry laboratory at Missoula to recall all the fire fighters and get them to work on the outside of the fire zone. The message said: "Save the lives of the men and let the timber go."

More Digging Today
One piece of the foundation of the Main street paving was taken out a little before noon today and another was about ready to be present. The results so far as this morning's exhibits are concerned, is declared by Ald. Holder, one of the investigating committee, to be far from satisfactory. He was on the scene during the morning, and he expressed the opinion that what was dug up showed little better than that taken out at the Mill street end.

The latest sample taken from the foundation measures about 2 1/2 square feet, when lifted out, the size being reduced by pieces broken off. Here Ald. Holder and George Clarke, son of one of the contractors, who was in charge of the workmen, had some words.

The alderman, taking up a pick, struck at the edges of the block, knocking off some pieces. Mr. Clarke retorted, "I do so but the committee paid no heed, saying that he had a perfect right to do so. After he had stopped his own second, much had been chipped off the sample, but what remained seemed to be firm and about 7 1/2 inches in depth. The place where this piece was taken from is directly in front of McArthur's store, and about three feet from the curb. The second is about 150 feet down the street and about six feet in front of Ald. Laidley's office close to the curb and running diagonally to the opening first made near the Mill street junction.

Though not so many were on hand as on former occasions, still there was no lack of interest, the largest number was around the first opening. Along with Ald. Holder was Alderman Fitts and R. S. Low was also on the job. Some difficulty was experienced in removing the paving stones and at all three openings a number of picks all agreed with their stumpicks. But when they tackled Carleton's resignation it made 'em all sick. Hey, what?"

NIAGARA FRUIT CROP Only Half as Good as The Bumper One of Last Year

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 25.—The fruit crop of the Niagara district will not be more than half as good as the bumper crop of 1909, according to a statement made by Carl E. Fisher, secretary of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, after a consultation with Government Scale Inspector Clement, who has just completed an inspection of the orchards in this district.

Peaches will not be half as numerous as a year ago, the plum crop will be scarce by 20 per cent. of that of last year, and grapes will be only fairly abundant. The pear crop will be a medium one, and apples will be far from being plentiful—particularly in the Number 1 class. One of the principal reasons for this falling off is the failure of many growers to spray their trees properly.

COSTLIEST LINE IN WORLD
London's New Tube Means Expense of $5,000,000 a Mile

London, Aug. 25.—The Central London Railway (the tuppenny tube) is beginning work on the costliest bit of railroad in the world. The company is to extend its line east from its present terminus at the Bank of England to Liverpool Street station, one of the busiest railroad stations in London and the one with the biggest commuter traffic.

The distance is a quarter of a mile and its estimated cost, at $1,250,000, or $5,000,000 a mile. The district under which the extension will be burrowed is the heart of London's financial and business region. The large cost of the extension is not due to any engineering difficulties, but to the necessity of providing new foundations for many of the buildings under which it will pass. The part of London is of chalk formation, and boring a tunnel through it is about as easy as boring a hole through cheese.

MacKENZIE & MANN BUY FOUR THOUSAND ACRES OF IRON LANDS

Toronto, Aug. 25.—(Special)—MacKenzie & Mann has just closed the agreement for the purchase of more than 4,000 acres of iron lands on the Mattagami at Grand Rapids. The purchasers are bound to start five diamond drills at work at once, and the price will be high. It is said that the United States Steel Corporation were interested in the property at one time but not willing to pay as much as MacKenzie & Mann for it.

CITY ALL WIRED READY FOR SPECIAL EXHIBITION LIGHTING
The work of wiring the city streets as provided for in the $3,000 grant from the city council, for special illuminating purposes at the time of the Dominion Exhibition, is practically completed, and about the only unfinished part of it is the placing of the globes on the sockets, which will require but little time. A test will be made when the globes are connected, but this was almost unnecessary, it is thought, as the work of wiring has been carefully done.

THE BILLS COMMITTEE

CONSIDER THREE MATTERS

Petitions dealing with early closing, tea-makers' license fees, and a tax on Chinese laundries, were dealt with last night. About 100 citizens were at the meeting.

Ald. Potts and D. B. Pidgeon spoke in opposition to the movement favoring the closing of all the city stores at 7 o'clock, except on certain days. James Morgan and M. E. Grass were heard in approval of the movement. It was decided that an open conference be held between the opposing interests, after which they would report to the committee.

The committee heard H. Alexander, on behalf of the tea-makers of the city protest against the taxing of teas as at present. Decision was reserved. Regarding the tax on Chinese laundry-men a petition was received from some of them, asking that they be made to pay a license of $20, but that the number be limited to thirty. Messrs. Munde, Vail and Godose, representing the steam laundries of the city, spoke in favor of the imposing of a tax of $150 to $200. They said also that there was need of a medical inspection of Chinese laundries. No action was taken.

Two more charges have been made against Henry Phillips, the Englishman sentenced to four years in Dorchester by Judge Forbes. One is stealing a fishing rod and case worth $25 from the store of Sinibaldi & Smith, and another stealing a gold filled watch from W. H. Petersen, Brussels street.

Miss Mary Murphy, while at Rinforth last evening, fell and broke her leg. She is now being cared for in the General Public Hospital.

RESTAURANT COSTUME FOR SUMMER DINING

Most of the little dinners a delectable feast taken in summertime out of doors on sheltered verandas or terraces and the costume must be designed for out-of-door wear albeit of a cool and summery character. The pretty French frock is of cream white silk lined with Persian hands and worn in tunic effect over a under frock of cream satin and flame red satins combined. The red satin, forming the top of the bodice and the sleeves shows through the cream voile tunic, as does the deep red satin hem on the skirt. With this costume are worn silk gloves which repeat the color of the satin where it shows through the voile, and the gloves are the embroidered sort which have dainty patterns in self color on the silk ground.

The little mother listened to her daughter's harangue at first, indignant, then quizzical.

"Then an idea seemed to come to her. 'Would you really like to have me try it, Marjory?'" she asked.

"Of course, will you?"

"I think I will," said the little mother slowly.

"Good, I'm sure that means that when I come home from work I'll find you much less tired. I'm sure you could be just as well as not if you didn't putter so."

"Yes," agreed the little mother serenely. "I didn't wind it, you know. I was afraid that was puttinger."

"I can't find my clean collar, mother," this was from big brother. "You didn't send the laundry? Why not?"

"Mother," this was from Marjorie again, "what do you think has happened? The buttons weren't taken out of my white shirt and the washer-woman did it up with them in, and they rusted and most ruined the shirt. Puttinger! Oh, mother, that isn't fair. No, I'll take it all back if you'll just help me get the iron out of this shirt so it will be fit to wear to-morrow."

And then little mother, being one of that wonderful sisterhood of almost super-human forgivers, that all good mothers belong to, suppressed a desire to tell her daughter that getting the rust out of a white shirt was out of the prescribed routine, and patiently worked away at the stains until she had gotten them out as and then pressed the skirt neatly.

"That was the end of the experiment."

"Mother doesn't use the word 'puttinger' now."

I wonder if there is any suggestion in that little tale for any other Marjorie who can't see what her mother finds to keep her so busy all day.

THE PRESS ON SIR WILFRID'S RECEPTION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Must Have a Tonic Effect on The Whole Dominion, Says The Conservative Victoria Colonist

(Victoria Colonist, Conservative)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—as foremost citizen of the dominion, and as a type of the true Canadian whose eyes glimpse the splendor of his country's future and whose faith in her destinies is absolute—last evening received at the hands of the government and the people of British Columbia a welcome since a reception unprecedented in all the history of the confederated provinces.

Unique was the occasion in many diverse ways. Unusual is it to find a political knight, such as Premier McBride, surpassing himself in courteous homage and hospitality to the chieftain of an opposing party. Unprecedented in brilliancy and completeness was the reception itself. The keynote of the situation was found within the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier came as a great Canadian, on a self-declared visit of non-political character, and the provincial first minister as such was invited to receive him to pay him every mark of honor, two of the greatest statesmen of all fair Canada thus meeting, although of an antagonistic party political creeds, upon common ground, each measuring no doubt and each appreciating the many sided strength and talents of the other.

That such a reception should have been offered, accepted and given—by a Conservative premier and government to a national leader, albeit of Liberal faith—must have a tonic effect upon the whole dominion. It will, moreover show to the people of eastern Canada, and more particularly those of the old province of Quebec, that British Columbians are just as ready, because of the constitutional position of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of his greatness as a man and as a Canadian, to do him honor, as though British Columbia were in political faith Liberal instead of, as it is, Conservative.

It will show to all of Canada that the people of this province are, first of all, Canadians, admirers of constitutional rights and privileges, and that nationalism in the west is happily as warm and strong as it can be developed in the older Canadian states beyond the mountains and beyond the prairies. And—perhaps—last evening's reception, viewed and shared in by representatives of many of the foremost public journals of almost all the provinces of Canada, may serve also to dispel the east of some of its mistaken notions of the west, and link together the provinces in bonds of closer understanding and therefore more harmonious unity. It was the west greeting the east, and sending back a message which cannot be misunderstood by the westerners, cordiality and bigness.

The person who would not have been pleased with the reception extended to Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday, would be hard to satisfy. Indeed, we venture to think that the prime minister's heart must have been deeply touched as he stood upon the deck of the steamer, and looked out on the beautiful scene and the throng of his admirers in the city. He also last night when so many people thronged the legislative chamber to grasp him by the hand or filed the spacious parliament grounds, he must have felt that it is good to be a Canadian. The greeting was, as we said yesterday, it would be to the man and the statesman, to one who is in every sense a representative Canadian.

Not only must the distinguished visitor have felt it good to be a Canadian, but he can hardly have been a person in all the throngs who did not feel his patriotic strength by the demonstrations. The one thing that has been lacking in the dominion in the past is a sense of unity, the one thing that has been lacking in the dominion in the past is a sense of unity, the one thing that has been lacking in the dominion in the past is a sense of unity.

He may gain a certain amount of political strength from it and he is entitled to all that is justly his on that account, but far greater than any effect which his tour will have in that behalf, will be the promotion of this spirit of unity without which Canada can never realize her high destiny. We make bold to say that, if we know our visitor at all, he will feel far greater pride and satisfaction at being able to contribute to such a result than he will derive from any personal gain that may come to himself and partly as the outcome of his tour.

That was the end of the experiment.

"Mother doesn't use the word 'puttinger' now."

One pound of round steak, 1 pint of milk, 1 cup of flour, 1 egg and salt and pepper. Cut the steak into dice. Beat egg very light, add milk to it and then pour upon the flour. Put the meat in a two-quart dish, pour over the latter. Bake one hour and serve hot.

HARD SAUCE.

One tablespoon butter, 1 cup fine white sugar, 1 tablespoon cream. Put in bowl, cream, sugar and butter together, add butter, two tablespoons of flour, one gill of boiled milk, yolks of five eggs. Put all in a saucepan and heat until it thickens. When cool, add the whites beaten to a stiff froth, put in a buttered dish and bake one hour. Serve immediately.

CHEESE SOUFFLE.

One-half pound cheese grated or sliced, one teaspoonful mustard, a little salt, a little white pepper, one tablespoonful butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one gill of boiled milk, yolks of five eggs. Put in a saucepan and heat until it thickens. When cool, add the whites beaten to a stiff froth, put in a buttered dish and bake one hour. Serve immediately.

BOILED DRESSING.

Yolks of two eggs beaten, one teaspoonful mustard, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon of cayenne, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cup of cream, one-half cup of vinegar, whites of two eggs beaten stiff. This will keep in a cool place three or four weeks and is excellent for lettuce, celery, string beans, asparagus and cauliflower.

PLANKED FISH.

A good way of serving slices of cod, halibut or any large fish is this: Get an oblong plank a foot wide and one and a half feet long. Butter, lay on slices of fish or whole fish, cover with strips of pork; bake in roasting pan. When done put pyramids of mashed potatoes around it, and return to oven and serve. Those woodshed embers shall empyrethian plank on a platter and serve. These woodshed embers shall empyrethian plank on a platter and serve. MR. CARLETON'S DENIAL

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir:—In the evening papers there is a report of a memo of the conversation between his worship the mayor in the front hall of the city building, in regard to digging up the pavement in Main street. Why I say private is because his worship told me in the presence of four gentlemen that he intended to speak to the mayor privately. Mr. Ward's office and I accompanied him down stairs. I emphatically declined to do so. I spoke to his worship in the manner described by Mr. Jones. It is true the mayor asked me to accompany him to Main street and mark the place.

I asked him where the men were, and I thought the men who did the work before would be the best that we could get. His worship told me that he did not intend to have them dig at this time, but assured me that I should be present if I so desired. He told him that I would not agree to those terms, but would be at his disposal at any time. I then left him. I have a loss to understand why Alderman Jones should think it necessary for me to use the language he did. In the first part of his memo he is sadly mistaken as four gentlemen who were present, can testify for, and his worship knows to be a fact.

I therefore ask his worship either to deny or affirm that the statement given by Alderman Jones is correct. Thanking you for your valuable space,

Yours truly, JAMES CARLETON, St. John, Aug. 24.

OBITUARY

Mrs. James Wilson

The death of James Wilson, of 30 Brunsels street, last evening. Deceased, who was a very elderly woman, had been ill for some time. She is survived by five daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. F. W. Henderson, and Miss Eliza, of this city; Mrs. Thomas McComb, Staten Island, New York, and Miss Carrie, of New Brunswick, New Jersey. The son is George W. Wilson, of New London, Conn.

Samuel W. Kain

Samuel Walker Kain, for many years clerk to the collector of customs in St. John, and a long and patient sufferer, which caused his retirement from active work in April last, died yesterday at his home, 139 Elliott Row. In his official capacity he gained a wide knowledge of revenue affairs, which made him a very valuable officer. He was appointed to the position in 1885, and had therefore served over twenty-seven years. During that period his record was very creditable. Outside of official work Mr. Kain found time to devote to literary work, chiefly of an archaeological nature. With Professor Ganong he made many excursions through the uninhabited portions of New Brunswick and gathered a large amount of information regarding the country. He wrote several interesting papers giving an account of his observations during his various tours. His work in that direction was so much appreciated by the University of Toronto that in 1900 it conferred upon him the honorary degree of M. A. He was also an active member of the Natural History Society for many years. His wife, who died nine years ago, was Augusta, daughter of the late Samuel Allison. They had three children, all of whom died in early life. He is survived by three brothers: William A. and Francis K., of this city, and George of Stevensville, Montana, and one sister, Isabella, of St. John. The funeral is to take place Saturday.

FINDS LOST SWEETHEART IN NEW YORK SURF

Strange Re-Union of Baron and Daughter of Russian Governor

New York, Aug. 24.—In the surf at South Beach, N. Y., there was added just a week ago an intensely dramatic climax to the romance of a young couple that had begun at the court of the czar of Russia. That romance went through the turbulent stages of banishment to Siberia at the order of Baron Kuznetsov and years of intriguing to keep the sweethearts apart, after the escape of Alla Treppoff to America.

The reunion of the couple came to light through the announcement that they were to be married.

Separated for more than four years, she believing her fiance was married to another and the baron no longer hoping to find the object of his three years' search, the two met by chance when bathing at South Beach.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

T IRED mother?

But why, mother, with only four of us and this small house and all the washing and ironing put out, and a woman to do the cleaning—there sure can't be such a great deal to do.

"Now, mother, do you know what I think? I think you putter. I've been watching you and it seems to me that you do lots of little things you don't really need to. Now, for the next few days I wish you'd just try to let those little things go. Just do the regular routine of the things that you do every day, and let the rest go. Every time you start to do any one of those things that you don't really need to do, let it slide. I'm sure you wouldn't get half so tired if you'd do that sometimes."

The little mother listened to her daughter's harangue at first, indignant, then quizzical.

"Then an idea seemed to come to her. 'Would you really like to have me try it, Marjory?'" she asked.

"Of course, will you?"

"I think I will," said the little mother slowly.

Strong Healthy Women

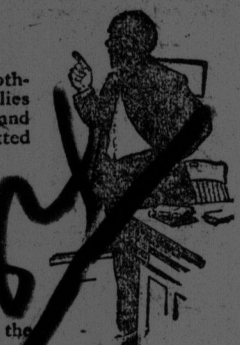

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

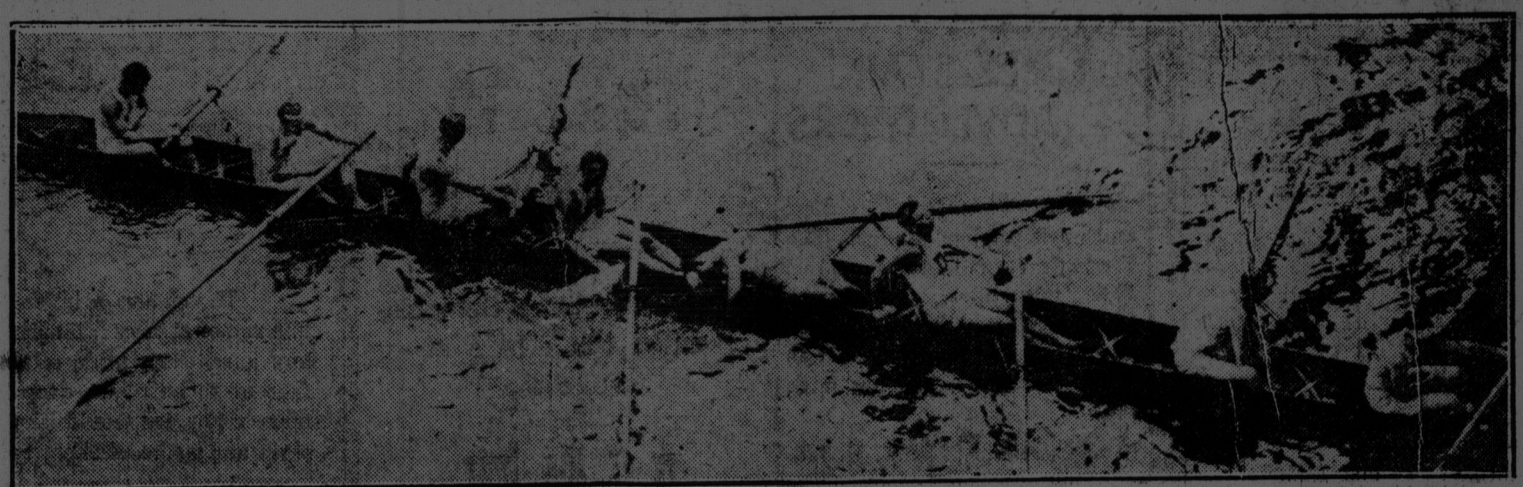

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the impurities of the period of expectancy and makes the maturing of the organs a healthy and robust baby.

Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this so-called remedy.

YESTERDAY'S LATE PAVING MATTERS

Another visit to the Main street paving work was made yesterday afternoon by the special investigating committee.

The concrete was laid on Thursday last and it was found to measure from 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 inches. These places were near Sprague's saloon. Two other places were marked off in the upper section of the pavement, one near Acadia street and the other in front of McArthur's book store.

A diagonal section extending from the first hole dug, near the corner of Mill street to Lyle's alley was also marked out for removal.

Mr. Carleton afterwards declared that the foundation was not concrete and said also that he had nothing to do with the work above the cold storage warehouse.

The committee held a session last evening and Ald. Sprague, Geo. Palmer, general foreman for the Hazzard Co., and Assistant Engineer Hatfield gave evidence.

Ald. Sprague, who was a member of the sub-committee of the board of works which considered the specifications for the paving said that such class as the one giving the engineer authority to accept any other genus, was common practice.

Mr. Hatfield in his evidence said he wished to qualify his former statement by saying that the work in Main street was not good. The piece taken up in front of Young's hardware store was good concrete though not of the requisite thickness.

Mr. Palmer told of a conversation he had with Mr. McDonald, of Mc Donald & McLeod, in which the latter said he had been advised by Mr. Carleton to have the concrete laid in the main street as he had intended. He described the method of putting in the foundation.

Mr. Lewellyn's company was called upon to increase the guarantee of the piece from Young's hardware store to Lyle's alley from two years to ten years. He did not think they ought to be held responsible for something which he considered the fault of the inspector appointed by the city.

KATE GLAXTON WANTS DIVORCE SET ASIDE

"Two Orphans" Actress Says Husband Secured it Fraudulently

St. Louis, Aug. 25.—Kate Elizabeth Stevenson, known on the stage as Kate Glaxton, famous for her work in "The Two Orphans," has filed suit to have set aside a divorce decree obtained by her husband, Charles A. Stevenson, on Feb. 11, 1910, without her knowledge, she alleges. She says the decree, which was granted by Judge Cook, now mayor of East St. Louis, was obtained by false pretenses. Her husband is an actor.

The Stevenson were married on March 3rd, 1878, and Stevenson charged the divorced actress with adultery. He set forth that he had been a resident of Illinois for nine years, residing in Chicago and East St. Louis. Mrs. Stevenson charges that all these statements are false. She says her husband had not been a resident of Illinois for ten years at the time of his suit, and denies adultery. The divorce was obtained, she states, by an attorney in St. Louis, who advertises that he obtains divorces cheaply.

Mrs. Stevenson says she did not learn of the divorce until last April. At that time she obtained from the County Board of Health in Jersey City a record of the marriage of Stevenson to Miss Frances Riley, 21 years old, who then lived at 3783 West End avenue, New York.

Miss Riley was the daughter of James Riley, a retired real estate operator. She was on the stage. Her marriage to Mr. Stevenson took place last Christmas morning, the ceremony being performed by Judge Queen. Mr. Stevenson gave his name as C. S.

DISCIPLINE FOR METHODISTS UP AT CONFERENCE

The Matter of Dancing, Theatres, Races, Etc.—Matter Shelled for Delegates' Consideration

A Victoria, B. C. dispatch says that the discussion of church discipline at the Methodist conference will probably prove second only in interest to that on church union, involving as it does the principles upon which the Methodist faith is founded.

At the last quadrennial a commission on rules, with personnel of 35 of the most prominent members in the church, was appointed with a view to revising the discipline. The commission presented its report today.

In the discipline, as it at present stands, appears the following synoptical clause, which in effect summarizes the code of morals in Methodism: "The general rules are to be understood as forbidding neglect to duties of any kind, unrepentant conduct, including in sinful tempers or words, the buying, selling or using intoxicating liquors as a beverage, dancing, playing at games of chance, encouraging lotteries, attending theatres, horse races, circuses, dancing parties, patronizing dancing saloons, taking such other amusements as are obviously of a misleading or questionable tendency, and all acts of disobedience to the order and discipline of the Church."

The commission's report pointed out that these rules should not comprise the code to be enforced, but merely epitomized the godly life which Methodists ought to lead. It went on to recommend such changes in the laws as would allow more liberty of action to the members of the Church.

"Now we can dance if we like," remarked one delegate on hearing the suggested changes. A burst of laughter greeted this reply.

Mr. Justice Maclearen, of Toronto, said that the present was the first attempt to interfere with this portion of the church's discipline. It was an attempt to deal with principles which had been partly laid down by John Wesley himself and ratified by succeeding conferences. The matter had agitated several conferences and was a theme of grave importance to the church itself. Whatever was done should be the result of mature deliberations as the principles of Methodism were involved.

Another delegate held that thousands of would-be Methodists were standing outside the church waiting until the restrictions under discussion were removed.

It was finally decided to shelve the discussion until such time as each delegate should have had time to study the proposed changes in the wording of the code of morals of the church.

The city council at Paris, Mont., has passed a resolution approved by the mayor, that no municipal tax be levied this year, since revenue from other sources is sufficient.

NEWS OF REXTON

ATTEMPTS TWICE TO END LIFE

James O'Brien Was Determined in His Efforts at Suicide

IN POLICE CELL

Hanging to Bars by Neck When Police Find Him—Second Attempt About an Hour Later—Overalls Used as Cord

While in a cell in the Water street lock-up at an early hour this morning James O'Brien, an old man about whom little is known in this city, attempted to end his life by hanging himself to the bars by means of his overalls, and had it not been for the prompt arrival of Policeman Chas. Rankine and S. Perry, there is no doubt that he would soon have breathed his last, as he was unconscious when they found him.

O'Brien made two attempts to end his life, first about 1:30 a. m., and, not being successful, resolved to try again, and did so about 2:45, but this time was interrupted by Policemen Rankine and Perry, who, hearing his moans, ran to the cell and cut him down from his position. Dr. D. B. Berryman was called and said the man would recover.

O'Brien was arrested last night in North street by Policemen Rankine and Hughes, after he had created a disturbance in a boarding house in the vicinity. On being brought to the lock-up in Water street, where he was placed in a cell, where he kept crying "Murder" continually. Not long afterwards, Rankine and Perry, who were in an adjoining room, heard sounds as of some one choking. Running to the cell they found O'Brien hanging from the bars suspended by his overalls, the legs of which were wound about the bars, while the top part was knotted about his neck. He was slowly strangled to death. They cut him down, and called Dr. Berryman. Not long afterwards he repeated the performance, and this time he was taken to the central station.

FORESTALLING IS GOING ON IN THE MARKET

Some Instances Which Suggest That Time for a Change Has Come—A Citizen's Complaint

"It isn't any use to paint the pump when there's a dead dog in the well." "I'm not the author of that sentence," said a citizen to the Times-Star this morning, "but I want to apply it to this town. If you people on the newspapers want to boom St. John, make it a clean city and a cheap city to live in. Then you can't keep 'em away."

"What's your particular complaint?" asked the Times-Star. "Just now it's forestalling in the market," replied the citizen. "Why should chickens sold by a farmer for $1 a pair be sold from a stall later the same day for $2? Why should a dealer tell me he will pay 50 cents for an article of produce if I have it to sell when it costs me $1.20 for my own table. Why should a dealer when a countryman writes in for prices, quote him 30 to 50 per cent below the then actual selling price?"

The citizen then got down to instances, and gave particulars of transactions that justified his question. "But there's more than that," he said. "There are some small stores where food is sold in this city that ought to be closed by the board of health. I'm not knocking St. John. I'm knocking the conditions that make it a dearer town than it should be to live in, and that make a bad impression on visitors."

WILL GUARD HERE AGAINST THE CHOLERA

Dr. Ruddick, Quarantine Master, Gets Word from Ottawa—All Vessels From Continental Ports to be Watched

Dr. R. C. Ruddick, quarantine master at the station on Partridge Island, has received notice from the federal authorities at Ottawa in reference to the existence of a violent type of cholera in Italy. This notice has been sent to every quarantine station in the dominion, as well as a circular letter telling of the plague of cholera in Russia.

Dr. Ruddick said yesterday that in future all vessels from European ports would be very closely watched, in order that no person apt to spread the disease in this country would be allowed to land. Because of the approach of winter, however, it was very unlikely that the cholera would reach this country.

The chemical engine in the north end was called out this morning to extinguish a fire which has been burning on the Victoria square since Tuesday. The fire had worked its way in the debris for quite a distance, and a forceful stream of water was kept playing on the dump, so "square" as it is more highly termed, for about one hour before the fire was extinguished.
