CHAPTER V (Continued)

The education of the little Melisse began as usual, while the post was still deserted. It began, first of all, with Ma-bella. She stared dumbly and with shattered faith at these two creatures who told her of wonderful things in the up-brooding of a child-thing of which she had never so much as heard rumor before.

THE author was reading aloud to us the other night. "There's an awfully clever parody on the 32nd Psalm somewhere in this book that I want you people to hear," he said, as he consulted the table of contents.

well prepared to care for the company's wants, and the quarter-strained and half-strained mongrels from the south; and upon these unfortunates the other preyed. Packs of fierce Labrador dogs, never vaunted except by death, came from close to Hudson's Bay, Tean after team of the little yellow and grey Eskimo dogs, as quick with their legs as were their black and swift-running "huffers" with their hands and feet, met the much larger and darker-colored Malamutes from the Athabaska. Enemies of all these fighting animals, and snarling, big the best of killing deep bays. It then from their wolf-progenitors, packs of fierce huskies trailed in from all sides.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Viscount Who Drove a Cab in London and Worked as Theatre Stage Hand—Knighthood for Survivor of Cawnpore

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company) Viscount Dangans, only son and heir of Earl Cowley, although his father refuses to have anything to do with him, has by no means the least of the names of Tom and Lady Adina Brassey, which they bore until Lord Brassey was advanced to an earldom last summer on the occasion of the king's coronation.

Lord Dangans, however, did not cross the ocean with "Peggy" but remained in London, and is engaged in rehearsals of a new play which is to be produced by George Gessie at the end of the month. He does not figure on the programme by his title, but under an assumed name, and as George Edwards, who engaged him for his Gaiety Theatre in London, in the play entitled "Peggy" and which was brought from London to St. John, N. B., by the Atlantic.

Foy, the castle was besieged by Henry V. of England, and was defended by Perette, widow of Guy V., killed at the battle of Agincourt. Finally driven by hunger to surrender, she declared the British monarch's permission to retain the castle and the estates as his vassal, declaring that she would sooner starve than accept anything in the hands of the enemies of her country and of her king.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent Newspaper. These newspapers advocate: British connection, Honesty in public life, Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion. No graft! No deals! "The Thistle, Shamrock, Rose and the Maple Leaf for ever!"

THIS IS GOOD NEWS

The announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will establish a model and experimental farm in New Brunswick will be heard with great satisfaction by the people. The company has done work of this sort in the west, and that it has decided to pursue a similar course in this province means that in the future it will take a much more practical interest in New Brunswick development.

THE FAMINE IN CHINA

With the horrors of war, Central China faces the still greater horror of famine. An appeal has been issued by the Central China Famine Relief Committee, composed of Chinese and foreigners, telling of dreadful conditions in the Yangtze Valley. Floods have broken the dykes, overflowing the cultivated lands and causing great destruction, with loss of life. Crops have been ruined, and in a thickly settled region of 30,000 square miles the conditions are described as terrible.

RIDDLES

The riddle is the oldest form of humor that has survived from past times. The perplexing and fanciful riddle of the Sphinx at Thebes held the whole land long in its shadow, for death was the penalty of failure to supply the answer. When Oedipus comes and receives from the Sphinx the riddle that had puzzled and undone so many, he quickly interprets it, and the Sphinx, mortified at his understanding, casts herself down at his feet and pays the forfeit of death like the others who lacked the power of interpretation.

creeping and helpless, as a man straight and erect, in old age supporting by a staff his tottering footsteps. The riddle proper is all but extinct outside of folklore and savage life today, but in earlier days the power of answering riddles was regarded as a proof of great sagacity. Homer is said to have died of vexation at not being able to answer the riddle which was propounded in the form of the statement: "What we caught we threw away, what we could not catch we kept." It was used as a kind of game among some nations, and bets were staked on the answer. Satsion's riddle set to the Philistines is an instance of this. The Deacon put this riddle: "What is wingless and legless, yet flies fast and cannot be imprisoned?" Answer: The voice. The German riddle asked: "What can go in face of the sun, yet leave no shadow?" Answer, the wind.

HA PY LIVES

Not on life's crowded highway; Do they the journey make, Enchanted paths they take, With comrades ever near them To share their happiness— With birds and flowers to cheer them, And books to balm and bless. Faith's are the stars that guide them; Their hearts with hope are strong; And joy keeps close beside them With wonderings of song. They have no need to hurry Because the shadows blend; Night brings no thought of worry; God's dawn is at an end! —Frank Dempster Sherman.

DEAD AT 103, IS MOURNED BY CHUM TWO YEARS YOUNGER

Pierre de St. Amour Had Lived in Reign of Five Sovereigns—Dead in Gray Nuns' Hospital. Montreal, Jan. 12.—To live under the rule of five sovereigns, and to see the direction of the affairs of his church by four popes was the exceptional privilege of Pierre Frette de St. Amour, who died yesterday in the Gray Nuns' hospital at the age of 103 years. There is grief in the old man's ward at the departure of the old man, who was a favorite with all, and the grief is felt keenly by Pierre Desjardins, who, with his own 81 years, bearing lightly upon him, attended to the other in his little ways. Desjardins is lonely for he will no longer see his companion's pipe tobacco, fill his pipe, and hold the lighted match while his old friend kindles the tobacco. Both of these amenities came from St. Jerome together, two years ago.

In the Duren cases the government received $1,500,000 by civil process and $50,000 in fines in criminal prosecutions. The recoveries in the Bradford Lining cases, presented in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago amounted to between $400,000 and $500,000.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

President Higgs Puts Forward Several Projects for Booming Things in the Province—Peat Development is One of Them

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 12.—At the annual meeting of the board of trade held on Wednesday evening President E. T. Higgs said the island should, with a car ferry service develop rapidly and become a trans-shipment center for the Maritime Islands and many ports in the north.

Mr. Higgs referred to the large deposits of peat in this province. In one section alone there were 1,777,283 tons in sight. The Dominion government undertook to develop the peat bog of Ontario and proved that the peat of that province could be profitably prepared. He suggested that the government be petitioned to establish an experimental peat-plant in this province.

Syrian Stabbed Twenty-Six Times With Dagger in Marseilles Hotel Which She Managed

Marseilles, Jan. 12.—Stabbed twenty-six times with a Turkish dagger, a young woman expired here in a hotel for emigrants, of which she was the manager. The police suspect her husband to have committed the crime during a fit of madness. The victim, Mme. Myriam Jangochian, was a Syrian by birth. She arrived in Marseilles with her husband, Alexander Jangochian, and her daughter, aged six, about eight months ago. They intended to emigrate to America, but Alexander took a liking to Marseilles and accepted a situation as waiter in the hotel where the tragedy took place. Lately Mme. Jangochian, a woman of remarkable intelligence, was appointed manager and the family lived on the second floor of the hotel. Toward seven o'clock cries for help were heard from their private apartment. They were uttered by Alexander, who told the persons who responded that he had just found his wife brutally assassinated. In the bedroom which was bespattered with blood was the young woman's body. Her clothing was disordered, and around her neck and ankles were strong cords tightly bound. It was evident that she had not succumbed without a terrible struggle. A doctor found twenty-six wounds on the right cheek, on the temple, on the neck and on the arms and both hands. The dagger used by the murderer was found near a water tap, and it was noticed that Alexander Jangochian's hands were covered with scratches and marks of biting. This led to his arrest.

AUSTRALIAN STATE BANK IS ABOUT TO BECOME A FACT

Dream of Labor Party Soon To Be Realized by Legislation of Fisher Government

Melbourne, Jan. 12.—The long cherished dream of the Australian labor party, the creation of an Australian state bank, competing with private banks and providing the labor government with a powerful financial arm, is about to be realized. The Fisher ministry has brought in a measure establishing the institution and already the private banks are talking of amalgamations and unions to meet the new rival. The scheme has, as at present outlined few alarming features. It provides, however, for a savings bank branch which must seriously compete with the savings banks of the six state governments and attract therefrom a considerable portion of the spare cash of the thrifty working classes. The capital of the bank, which is to be raised by debentures, convertible into inscribed stock, is fixed at $5,000,000. The management is placed in the hands of a governor and a deputy governor. The commonwealth revenues are to guarantee the advance of the bank. Half-yearly balance-sheets are to be laid before the federal parliament. The commonwealth treasurer is to be supplied by the governor with quarterly statements of assets and liabilities. With the exception of the issue of bank notes—which monopoly is still retained by the commonwealth government's treasury department—the new bank is to fulfill all the functions of a lending and financing machine. Advances may be made on any security which its management deems sound.

WHAT DETAINED HIM (Yonker's Statement)

"You seem to be later every morning," said the manager. "Yes," replied the meek-looking man, "my wife seems to add a few more buttons to the back of her waist every day."

LOST DIAMOND FOUND IN GIZZARD OF CHICKEN

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 12.—After reposing three months in an impromptu jewel case in the form of a chicken's gizzard, a 200-carat diamond, valued at $75,000, was found in the gizzard of a chicken. The diamond, belonging to E. M. Reel, a motion picture machine operator of Spokane, has been restored to its owner. Reel lost the gem, which he valued at $75,000, from its setting in a ring he wore, while working in the yard at his residence. The chicken swallowed it and it lodged in the gizzard. In the meantime Reel gave up his search for the gem, concluding it was lost to him for all time. A few days ago he went to the henhouse and killed the fowl for dinner. Mrs. Reel was directing it when she found the missing diamond.

EAT WHAT YOU LIKE

And What Agrees With You, but Do Not Eat Too Much

Digestion Will Be Good If You Regulate the System With DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Overeating is the great cause of liver troubles, biliousness and constipation. The digestive system becomes clogged with poisonous waste matter, the liver fails and then follow kidney disorders of the most painful and fatal form, such as rheumatism, Bright's disease and dropsy. The beginning is almost invariably with the liver and should be overcome by the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before serious disease is developed. An occasional dose of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when the liver gets sluggish and the bowels constipated will keep the whole digestive system in healthy working order. Hundreds of thousands of people have found this out by their own experience and would not think of being without this medicine in the house. Others have been restored to health by this treatment after their cases had reached more serious and complicated stages. There does not seem to be any medicine obtainable which is so successful in arranging the action of both liver and kidneys as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Merit alone an account for their enormous sales. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, at all druggists or Edmundson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

USED ALARM CLOCK IN DYNAMITING TO HELP PROVE ALIBI

M. Manigal's Story to Grand Jury in Investigation of the Conspiracy

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—How Orrie E. McManigal, in blowing up machinery owned by an "open shop" contractor at Mount Vernon, Ill., on April 18, 1910, first used the alarm clock attachment and a time regulator in setting off the bomb, was investigated by the government officials who are conducting the grand jury inquiry into the dynamite conspiracy. The clock experiment at Mount Vernon was pronounced by McManigal to be such a success that it was later used in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building and other places. James L. Parker, formerly a hotel clerk at Evansville, Ind., was before the grand jury and is believed to have been called in connection with McManigal's visit to Mount Vernon. In connection with Parker's testimony McManigal was taken before the grand jury. In his confession McManigal told how he prepared for the Mount Vernon "job" which happened on the same night that an attempt was made to blow up a hotel in Salt Lake City, Utah. McManigal said a few days before he had been called to Indianapolis by John J. McManigara and while here in the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, he was shown the alarm clock scheme, which McManigara called "the invention." "The purpose of the clock was to enable us to secure alibis," said McManigal. McManigara explained how, by setting the alarm to go off several hours after we placed the bomb, we could make a good getaway on the train, and the clock being blown up, we could prove we were in some other town, when the explosion occurred. "If your purchase amounts to $100 you get one worth $1.00 and so on. These goods we sell to you at the same price as you would pay for them at any other store in the city. Instead of giving you the cash we give you a check worth $1.00 for every $100 you spend. We make our checks give you the goods you purchase afterwards with our checks are given you at the wholesale price. To get you to make the first purchase costs us something, with the second purchase, with our checks, you are bound to make from us. There is no selling expense attached to the latter.

CANNON'S WITNESS

Washington, Jan. 12.—Andrew Carnegie pressed hard today by members of the house committee of inquiry in the United States "steel" corporation, admitted he had recommended the appointment of Philander C. Knox, then president of the Carnegie Steel Company, as President McKinley's cabinet member of 1901. Mr. Knox having been one of the chief conspirators in the formation of the Carnegie Steel Company, 1880, which the german-american trust law was passed. Carnegie repeatedly declared before this committee that he never knew that the participation of his company in the steel pool and other like pools was unlawful, and Representative McMillan of Maine, sought to show that he had recommended to President McKinley the appointment of Mr. Knox after the latter's assumption of his company had led him ignorant of the government statutes so many years.

To the person who most clearly expresses the leading reason why everybody in St. John should make their purchases at the Asepto Store we will pay $15.00 IN CASH

For the next best reply $10.00, for the next best reply $5.00, and for the next twenty, each a bright new dollar bill.

Meantime an examination of our store, a small purchase, a talk with our clerks, a look over our lines and a general sizing up of our whole business will be of service to you in earning one of the prizes.

THE FACTS IN BRIEF. For years we have been offering our selection for your coupons. Every article in our store is for sale and the price is marked in plain figures. Also every article is a premium and is given you at the same price for coupons as if you paid cash. The plan we follow is the only one of its kind in Canada, and even competitors are compelled to remark that we have the finest line of premiums ever brought under one roof.

These Are the Three Questions That You Are Requested to Answer

FIRST—What in your judgment is the feature in the Asepto plan that has made our store do a volume of business in less than six months that other stores have not been able to get in years?

SECOND—What was the most important feature that first induced you to buy at the Asepto store?

THIRD—Which of these four vital points—Accepts Quality, Accepts Service, Asepto Store Location or Asepto Premiums—would you advertise with the conviction that when people knew that fact they would go to our store and take advantage of our whole plan?

Answers to this advertisement must not exceed five hundred words. The best replies will be used for advertising purposes, but the names of writers will not be published unless requested. A box will be placed in our store Wednesday morning, Jan. 2, 1912, at eight o'clock, where replies may be deposited at any time until the close of the competition. ### LED BY TRAIN FROM HALIFAX NEAR MONCTON

Moncton, N. B., Jan. 11.—Theophilus Short, of Bede Bridge, was almost instantly killed at Humphrey's Mills this morning by being struck by the C. P. train from Halifax. Hebert was on his way to Moncton with a load of apples, and stopped at S. W. Seaman's store, the I. O. O. F. crossing at Humphrey's, was selling fish to residents there, crossing his journey to Moncton through Humphrey's and Lewisville, his horse was struck by the train at Humphrey's station crossing. Lewis was in the case of Hebert, had his head buffed and did not hear the approaching train, which was partially hidden from him by the station and embankment. The horse was thrown a considerable distance and instantly killed, the sled demolished. Harris, the coroner, was notified, after taking the statements of eyes, decided an inquest was not necessary. Hebert, who lived at Shediac, was a married man, about forty years of age, and leaves a family of eight children. The body was brought to the home for interment.

WANT $3,000 MORE FOR THE YEAR 1912

Safety Board Takes up The Estimates for Department
FIRE CHIEF'S REPORT

Recommendations are Discussed and Some Radical Changes are Proposed at Meeting — Police and Other Matters.

The estimates of the safety board for the present year, showing an increase of $3,000 over last year's figures were adopted yesterday by the board after three hours' discussion. Ald. Russel presided.
C. P. Baker appeared to explain that the offer of his firm to buy certain lots at Greenhead for $6,000, did not cover the whole property valued by the assessors at $8,000. The purchase of 1,000 feet of hose; the replacing of all iron tires on hose wagons with hard rubber; the completion of the grading and other work at No. 7 engine house, including the building of a shed; the employment of a permanent fireman by the department; the installation of several new hydrants, and the purchase of a new motor truck.

The chief reported at length as to the value of a motor truck, giving figures to show that the cost of maintenance would be much less than the cost of horse carts. The chief also spoke of the necessity of another truck for Carleton which is provided for the estimates, and of other work for the installation of a sprinkler system at Sand Point and the new water main down from Union street, no action in this line having been taken.

Change in Hydrants.
The change in the hydrants recommended by the chief in connection of the hydrant in front of Old Hall with the ten inch main in King street; connection of the German street hydrants with the inch main on two-way hydrants in Charlotte street, one at the corner of Union and one in front of the market, one in Carleton at the corner of Church, one in German in front of the Masonic Hall, and one in Britain street near the corner.

Several of these hydrants had been recommended in previous years, and there was some discussion as to why they had not been installed, and Mayor Frank, who was present, said that the commissioner had laid up the work because the appropriation was exhausted. The director said that since 1910, the water and sewerage board had been making the hydrants, and in the end, the recommendations were left with that board. Ald. Green charged that the city was not doing the duty of the city in not installing them.

The chief concluded his report with a recommendation that strict inspection be made of moving picture houses before licenses were granted and that the committee on the report take into consideration the advisability of reducing the call and increasing permanent firemen.

Ald. F. B. Jones in moving for a small committee to consider the report, said that there was much in the report which would be left out when it was published. Ald. J. B. Jones, Wigmore and Green were named as the committee. The chief gave authority to have the report published.

When the first item in the estimates, $1,000 for the chief's salary, was read, Ald. Green created a small stir by saying that he had intended to move for a reduction in this amount. While this was a large salary in itself, the cost of two drivers and the keep of the horses brought it up to something over $2,000, making the chief a very expensive man.

The chief denied that he had two drivers and pointed out the extra man was employed largely in driving the team of the superintendent of the fire alarm. If Ald. Green wanted him to walk to fire, to be plain, he would not do it.
Some time was spent in counting up the estimates and Ald. Green moved that the vote for 25 be reduced to 24 men. He said that the aldermen were told when they came into the council that the work of the year had been accomplished when the estimates were made up and that they must only sit and vote like dummies. Now the estimates were being made for another year and the time for retirement had come.

Ald. Wigmore said the extra driver was needed to assist the man looking after the fire alarm and Ald. Green's motion was lost, 5 to 2.
Ald. Green took exception to the grant for two probationary drivers, two probationary drivers to get full pay and two substitute drivers and moved that one man only be employed at $600 a year instead of the six at $2,430 a year. The chief said it would be impossible to work out the holidays without the extra men appointed Ald. Green that he was trying to interfere with the officials of the department.

Ald. Green—We are not getting the worth of our money out of this fire department. It is running away with itself and the city has nothing to show for it.
Ald. Green's motion to substitute one of $1,040.39 in the fire department last year, $4,472.55 in the police department, and $338.36 in the light department, making a total surplus of $5,851.30, from which there should be deducted $1,000 for item which was assessed for twice.

Yes—Green, C. T. Jones, Elliott, Potts, McLeod and Scully.
There was also another motion on the matter of the substitute engine-men employed to give the permanent men one day off every two weeks. In this way the man employed earns only $244 a year and is prevented from securing employment elsewhere.
Ald. Green said he should be engaged permanently or dismissed. The whole scheme of granting the extra holiday was simply brought up on an eve of election to elect certain aldermen.
Ald. Elliott—"I rise to a point of order. We all know who the voters are to and there is no necessity for it."
Ald. Potts warned the alderman against making expressions calculated to do the city injury.
Ald. Elliott's motion to find a place for a substitute engine-man at an adequate salary was lost as was also Ald. Green's

A TANGLE IN FRANCE OVER PENSION LAW

Complications Because of Court's Ruling on Matter of Men Contributing

LEGISLATION TOO MUCH HURRIED

Latin, Fighting for Life in University of Paris, Has Stout Defender—Typewriter Thief Who Pled a Profitable Trade

(Times Special Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 11.—One of the fundamental principles of the workmen's pension law of 1910 has provisionally been upset by a decision of the high court of appeal. The civil division of the high court has just rejected an appeal by an employer who had been condemned in costs by the lower courts for having deducted from the wages of one of his employes against the latter's will the amount of his contribution to the pension fund.

Contribution on the part both of employer and of workman is supposed to be obligatory. By article 23 of last year's law the employer is bound to pay into the pension fund office the amount of his contribution. The amount thus represented may then be deducted from the workman's wages.

But the court of appeal has decided that, if the workman refuses to present his card, the amount of his contribution may be deducted by the employer from his wages. The workman is, of course, actionable by the public prosecutor, however, who has the burden of proof if he attempts to prosecute every recalcitrant workman—but Article 23 is interpreted by the court of appeal to mean that the employer is bound to pay in only the amount of his own contribution.

Successive ministers of labor have contended that this article empowered the employer to obtain the employe's contribution and the public prosecutor in this case before the appeal court. The question would now be definitely settled as far as the existing law is concerned had not the government decided to bring a bill before the chamber of deputies to amend Article 23 and 25 of the law which is to be amended.

In view of the impending proposals for lowering the pension age, the government is increasing the state contribution, and for introducing an invalidity insurance scheme, the government is anxious that an attempt may be made to impose upon the employer the full burden of his contribution.

The bill and the confusion which the application of the pension law has caused cannot be considered being developed here, with which the measure was carried. The truth is that the problem of national insurance in France is a very serious one, and the government is anxious to see the necessary amendments to its constitution for the French people to be met by this state of affairs.

Latin Fighting for Life

Oxford has been discussing the question of compulsory Greek, and for the first time in the history of the University of Paris even Latin is now fighting for its life. It is not yet threatened officially with complete destruction, though it has already, for some years, disappeared from the purely scientific degree of science, but some university men with influence are agitating to turn Latin out of the curriculum, even for literary degrees.

To the ordinary man it seems obvious that no one can know French etymologically, that is to say, thoroughly, without some knowledge of Latin. It has been the question whether or not Latin is of any use for students of the French language and literature, and the matter has been discussed in academic circles here for months past. Books and articles have been published on both sides, but at present looks as if the classicists were likely eventually to win the day.

The seemingly obvious argument, that the French will not accept Latin, is not so very new. Another and different argument is now being put forward, in a science master this time. Working on statistics, he has found that Latin helps for science degrees. The general figures for the last B. A. examinations are, to begin with, interesting. Out of 6,288 passes, only 2,149 were in the examination for science and modern languages, and the remainder were in the classical, Latin and Greek or Latin only.

This does not look as if the old humanities were dying out so quickly after all, but the important thing is the discovery that boys who have learned Latin are better at sciences than those who have studied only science. The proportion of passes compared with the total number of candidates is perceptibly higher in the classical examinations than in the others.

Strange Disposal of Property

A traveler on the railway line between Lezard and Pan, who owned an estate worth about $50,000 sold all his property and insisted on being paid the full purchase price in negotiable bearer shares and in coupons payable to the bank of France. He disposed of some of his money and then, during a brief halt of the train approaching Pan, saved his pocketbook containing the remainder, approximately $10,000 into a hedge bordering the line. There it was found the following day by a hedge-clipper, who deposited his find at the nearest police station. By the laws of France it will become his property at the end of twelve months unless the original owner claims it and proves his right.

A Typewriter Thief

Apparently the way is made very easy for thieves in French public offices and other buildings under the charge of the French government. There was the case of the Louvre, where a succession of these vandals in list of the "Mona Lisa." And recently Maurice Migon,

The united women's missionary meeting which is an annual event in connection with the week of prayer meetings, was held yesterday afternoon in St. David's Presbyterian church. Mrs. J. W. Miss Irvine contributed a vocal solo, and Mrs. Gordon Decker acted as accompanist.

WRITES 125,000 WORDS ON POST CARD

It Took Mauvais 300 Hours to do it—His Way of Killing Time

Geneva, Jan. 11.—M. Marcel Malraux, of Chaux de Fonds, believes in wasting time to be happy. His one hobby, he says, is to waste time. In 1910 he wrote 25,000 words on a post card, but was not satisfied. So last year he spent exactly 300 hours in copying on an ordinary post-card the story of the "Thousand and One Nights," a bagatelle of seventy-four printed pages, comprising 22,600 words. He has asked for a reproduction of his work, but publishers in Paris, London, and Berlin have refused to undertake it. He has decided to reproduce it by photography.

Dahli, Jan. 11.—In memory of the imperial durbar, Mr. Schweiger, a collector, has determined to present to the British Museum the famous incised steel peacock, which was the idol of the Yezidis in Mesopotamia. These men are worshippers of Lucifer, from the extreme belief that the devil has now regained his place as the highest archange of God.

MESMERISM DID NOT SUCCEED WITH TIGERS

Calcutta, Jan. 12.—A Hindu who boasted of magnetic powers over beasts of prey was taken by two skeptic friends to a neighboring jungle near Yodotee, where a tiger was known to lurk. The mesmerist had his business near a thicket. As a direct response the tiger pounced upon him and maulled his shoulder. The believers held while the injured man lay senseless. Two days later he is reported, in spite of his wounds, to have intercepted a large number of villagers in his power, and they located a second tiger for him. The immediate result of this attempt was that three injured persons were removed for treatment. The report was indignantly said that the mesmerist "has disappeared."

C. P. R. TO HAVE FORTY ACRES FOR A LARGE MODEL FARM IN NEW BRUNSWICK PLANT HERE

Purchase Not Yet Made But Start Expected This Spring—Another Step in the Forward Movement

A model farm for illustration purposes is to be started in New Brunswick by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The matter has been under consideration for about a year and the railway company has in view several farms which will serve their purpose.

Not only an effort be made to secure the best possible results from the crops which are now generally raised in the province but experiments will also be made with others which are not so common or which have not been introduced here, for the purpose of learning the uses with which they can be adapted to our soil and climate.

The farm will be operated somewhat on similar lines to the government farms in other provinces and will be a valuable contribution to the agricultural interests of New Brunswick. It will be for the benefit of the farmers and in order to give as many as possible an opportunity to visit it and profit by the practical lessons taught there, excursions will be run periodically from different parts of the territory served by the C. P. R.

Part of the products of the farm will be used in supplying the dining car and hotel departments of the railway.

MONTREAL ENTERTAINS SCOTCH CURLERS WELL BUT BEATS THEM

Visitors Seventy-Six Points Behind at Close of the Day's Play—Playing St. Lawrence Today

Montreal, Jan. 12.—Another wild of entertainment started with a rush for the Scotch curlers this morning. It was only at two o'clock that the visitors finished the challenge of a Scotch "nick" at the Caladonia Club, but they were out fresh as daisies to plunge into the next round of entertainment which opened at nine.

Their entertainment began to tell on the Scotchmen last night. After holding up their end well in the afternoon games, they went to pieces in the evening play with the result that on the day they were beaten by no less than seventy-six points. Caladonia, whom they defeated in the afternoon, routed the visitors in the evening by thirty-one points. Yesterday's scores were:

SIX ARE SENTENCED

Prisoners on Remand Given Temperance Lecture and Then Sent in

Magistrate Ritchie handed out a good sound temperance lecture to six remanded prisoners in the police court this morning. All were charged with drunkenness and had been in jail on remand for about a week. Two of them, Dennis Burke and Daniel Pich, besides having this charge against them were also charged with assaulting and robbing Edward Martin, a sailor of the bark Hector lying at Starr's slip. They pleaded guilty to the drunkenness but denied the theft.

"Most of you unfortunate fellows who come before me," said His Honor, "are not really to blame. It is the liquor dealers. If they would refuse to sell you fellows the rum you would be much better off and would not be inmates of the jail so much. Each of you will be fined $8 or two months in jail, but the time you have already served will be taken off. To give you a chance I will say that just as soon as any of you make up your minds to leave the rum alone and are willing to become 'men' I will consider your cases, and perhaps you will be allowed your freedom."
