PROVINCIAL HYDRO POLICY ATTACKED

MONTREAL GAZETTE SAYS N.B. LIKELY TO BE BANKRUPT IF HYDRO SCHEME FOLLOWED

Declares That Province Has Been Bitten by Craze for Public Ownership of Public Utilities

COMMENT ON MUSQUASH LAND CLAIMS

Quebec Province Warned to Go Slowly With Bill Providing For Pondage for St. John River Development—Exchange Of Water For Current Is Suggested.

MONTREAL, March 4.—Under the heading of "Quebec, Be On Guard," the Gazette today prints the following editorial: "The Province of New Brunswick, like some other communities, has been smitten by the craze for public ownership. It has developed a water power on the Musquash River, and left the appraisal of the value of private lands until after its dams have been erected and the plant is in operation. A heavy claim is now pending in the courts. Despite impassioned declaration on behalf of the government that the Musquash is in need of steam standby, it has been admitted during the hearing of the case that the estimates of the engineer who originally had charge have been entirely wrong, and that when the communities to which electric current has been sold are in a position to demand the full amount of their contract, the Musquash will be unable to supply it continuously throughout the year."

Grand Falls Project

The New Brunswick government has now turned to the development of the Grand Falls, on the St. John River, a project which has been discussed for at least 20 years, but which private owners, who formerly had the right to develop this opportunity, declined to proceed with it on the ground that the expense was prohibitive. The revenue which could be derived from its operation, Premier Veniot now proposes to develop this power to the fullest extent. To do this, he requires the right of ponding water and lakes and streams in the State of Maine, and, as well, in the Province of Quebec. For that purpose, there is now a bill before the Legislature of Quebec, introduced by Mr. Veniot and Dr. E. A. Smith, a member of his Hydro Electric Commission, for the purpose of expropriating territory and ponding water in this province.

Suggests Bankruptcy

"Under the present political regime in New Brunswick the debt of that province has nearly doubled in the last seven years. It is probable that if the Grand Falls exploitation is proceeded with, on the basis proposed by the Premier, the province will virtually be bankrupt within the next 10 years. As there are only a few industries available to take electric current, the chief asset of New Brunswick is its wood, and if Grand Falls were developed to its full capacity, the power generated could denude the province of its forest growth within a very few years. There are no other enterprises except pulp and paper mills which can be founded on the natural products of New Brunswick, and therefore the market is extremely limited.

Exchange Proposed

"Probably the most fortunate thing for New Brunswick would be if the Legislature of Quebec should require as a condition of giving the rights as set forth in this province, on the basis of equality of cost with all others, a proportion of the electric power developed, it is only right that she should reserve to herself some proportion of that which she helps to create, and it is desirable that she should reserve the right of having in view the diversion of Quebec water be carefully scrutinized."

VENIOT REPLIES

FREDERICTON, March 4.—In the course of comment upon statements in an editorial headed "Quebec be on guard," in the Montreal Gazette today, Premier Veniot stated that private companies were attempting to gain control of the potential water power at Grand Falls, on the St. John for hydro development.

Has Private Offers

"Instead of private companies refusing to go on with the development as the Gazette states, I have offers from different companies in my possession in which they have told me as Premier of this province that they are prepared to put up the necessary capital to carry out the development," said the Premier, "but the proviso was made that control of the Grand Falls should be handed over by the province. That I would not agree to. They wanted to gain control, but our policy is not to allow control of Grand Falls to pass out of the hands of the people again."

Says Market Ample

"There is ample market now in view for carrying on the successful development of Grand Falls to the extreme limit," said the Premier. "I only wish that we were going to have an opportunity to develop as much power again as there is at Grand Falls. Hydro development, under the policy which I have adopted, instead of driving New Brunswick into bankruptcy in 10 years as the Gazette says, will be the saviour of New Brunswick."

"The references to the financial position of the province in the Montreal Gazette are entirely unfounded."

OXFORD EARL MAKES HIS MAIDEN SPEECH

Asquith Discusses International Questions of Security in House of Lords.

LONDON, March 4.—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith, formerly H. H. Asquith, Prime Minister, made his maiden speech in the House of Lords yesterday. He cautioned the allies against occupying the central position in the world, when they had expected to keep troops there for a strictly limited time. France's feeling of insecurity against Germany, he said, afforded grounds for approving a comprehensive international pact in the interest not only of French security, but of the security of Europe and the whole world. That, he argued, was the most urgent need of the international world today.

Taxi Case Again Is of Interest Before Police Magistrate

WILL SEEK TO FORCE
ISSUE OF LICENSE
Mandamus to Be Applied For, Says Counsel in Case

A fine of $10 was imposed on Cecil Wiggins in the Police Court this morning, when he was found guilty by Magistrate Henderson of operating a taxi cab without a city license. The case, which has attracted attention, will be carried further, however, according to announcement made by J. Starr Tait, appearing for Wiggins, who said he would appeal and apply for a writ of mandamus compelling the chief of police to issue the license. Witnesses heard this morning included Chief of Police Smith, Thomas Wiggins, owner of the car operated by his brother, Cecil, Richard Hoey, taxi driver, and Robert Carson. The fine was paid in protest.

Speaks of Commissioner. In his testimony, Thomas Wiggins swore that the reason Commissioner Harding gave him for rejection of his application for a license was that he had signed a petition sent to City Hall for amendment of the by-law. He said the commissioner told him to write him a letter setting out that he had made a mistake in affixing his name to the petition, the witness swore that the Chief of Police had talked to him and said he had better write a letter of apology to Commissioner Harding.

Chief Denies. "Your Honor, that is not so," declared Chief Smith, who had just finished his evidence. Magistrate Henderson declared such evidence being adduced by Mr. Tait was absolutely improper and that he should know better than that. Mr. Tait replied there were two sides to the question and asked why it was not fair. He was trying to show, he said, that an injustice was being done to his client because the board was not functioning properly. Robert Carson was the first witness called at the hearing. He understood by Mr. Tait he was to be a member of the board. Asked if he attended a meeting of the board, which Wiggins' license was considered, he said he did attend a meeting where a list of the drivers was given over by Commissioner Harding, Robert Harris and himself. He did not remember the date of this meeting. He was called on the telephone by Commissioner Harding to attend.

Chief on Stand. Chief Smith next was questioned. He declared to answer several questions by Mr. Tait and was upheld by the magistrate. He declared the present case was not against the board but against Wiggins, and if Mr. Tait had any complaint against the board he should proceed against it. Asked if he could recall one meeting of the board at which taxi licenses were considered, Chief Smith said he was Commissioner Harding was secretary of the board and kept the records.

Taxi Man Called. Richard Hoey, licensed taxi driver, said that not to his knowledge, taxi drivers selected a representative from their number under the new act. In his summing up, Mr. Tait declared that under the act, the com-

HOME FROM CAPITAL

J. M. Truman, chairman of the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities, returned to the city this afternoon from Fredericton.

ONLY THE MOTHER KNOWS ABOUT THE COUGHS AND COLDS OF THE CHILDREN

It is hard to keep them from taking cold; they will run out of doors not properly clad, or have on too much clothing; play too hard and get overheated, and cool off too suddenly; get their feet wet; kick off the bedclothes at night, and do a dozen things which their mothers do not prevent.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will check the cough or cold before it reaches the lungs, and can be given to children of all ages. It is a natural, non-toxic, and perfectly safe remedy. Mrs. Everett E. Keetch, R.R. No. 2, Fredericton, N. B., writes: "My little boy, aged nine years, had a dreadful cold which left him with a bad cough. I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using three bottles he was completely relieved. I would advise all mothers to use this remedy for their children as it is an excellent medicine." Corporal punishment was inflicted only once on a convict in British prisons last year.

Funerals

Service in connection with the funeral of Miss Annie L. Orr was held in the city for some time. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. From the teachers of Winter street school came a tribute and one especially noticed was a floral star, sent by Miss Jessie Pedersen, a pupil, who always bestowed flowers upon her teacher as a token of affection, while she was alive. Others sending flowers were the Trinity Church Girls' Guild, Trinity Badminton Club, J. A. Stoddard, her uncle; Mrs. H. H. Pickett and family, aunt and cousins and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Heed. There were many other personal offerings testifying to the esteem in which she had been held.

Gains Popularity

The steady increase in the sale of Purity milk proves that the housewives of St. John appreciate the efforts of the Purity Milk Company to supply the best milk available. Purity realized that milk was as necessary as bread, so in addition to supplying a product of the highest quality, they placed a price upon it that even the poorest can pay. This act alone won them many friends.

DEMONT'S IN SESSION

Money Voted—Sympathy For Mrs. William Pugeley is Expressed. DeMonto Chapter, I. O. E. D. E., voted generous sums of money for various good causes this morning at their monthly meeting, held in the Government rooms, with Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley, regent, presiding. Plans were made for a bridge to be held at the residence of Mrs. J. Walter Holly, first vice-regent, at Rothesay, Mrs. Holly having offered her home for this function to be held after Easter. Mrs. William Pugeley, who is one of the councilors of the chapter, was spoken of with heartfelt sympathy in her bereavement. A letter expressive of the feeling of the members of DeMonto will be forwarded by Mrs. Frank R. Fairweather, secretary. The sum of $100 was voted for the establishment of a library in a country school and $10 for school prizes.

HON. DR. WILLIAM PUGSLEY.

Through the passing of Hon. Dr. William Pugsley, former Premier of New Brunswick, Minister of Public Works of Canada, and Governor of this Province, New Brunswick, and indeed the Dominion, loses one of its greatest sons. The national loss is grave, but New Brunswick's loss is greater in view of the extent to which the life of Hon. Dr. Pugsley was bound up with the life of this Province throughout a very long period, in fact during most of his active years, and he was from early manhood until a great age, in fact almost until the day of his death, an active and vigorous force in public life.

In another portion of The Times-Star to-day there is given an account of the outstanding features of the career of Hon. Dr. Pugsley, and all who read the details, or who well recall his connection with public affairs, cannot but be struck with the length, the variety, and the high value of the services which he gave to the public. As a young man he displayed rugged and resolute character, and evidence of a fine mind. He was a scholar of striking parts and a tremendous worker. He was both courageous and ambitious, and when he devoted himself to any task worth while he never spared himself, and no obstacle turned him aside.

Although for a long time past he had devoted himself to public affairs rather than to the law, his rank as a lawyer was very high in Canada. The best of Canadian jurists regarded him as one of the very foremost legal minds in this country. He was a constitutional lawyer of high achievement. In the whole country and in the Dominion Parliament men of his legal stature were few and far between. For many years he was the dominant force in the Provincial Legislature, and when at length he went to Ottawa he took rank immediately as a man to be reckoned with. As Minister of Public Works he administered that great office as a man of vision and of courage with tremendous faith in Canada, with a deep knowledge of the possibilities and requirements of every section, and he commanded the respect of men of all parties from one end of the Dominion to the other. Whatever his position, whether he was merely a member of Parliament or was a powerful Minister, he never forgot New Brunswick, and he never lost an occasion to proclaim his faith in and his devotion to this Province and the interests of the people of St. John which he did so much to build up. It was recognized on all sides that Hon. Dr. Pugsley and the late Charles M. Hays, of the Grand Trunk Pacific, had their plans permitted to come to fruition, would have carried out great work for national transportation and particularly for the port of St. John.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley, with all his serenity and friendliness, was on occasion a courageous and dogged fighter, and when some great evil or some urgent necessity moved him deeply there was no more resourceful or formidable figure in the House of Commons during the long period of his activities there. Yet, while he fought hard, he nourished neither antagonisms nor resentments. He struck hard in his time and he took many blows, but he took them smiling. There was nothing vindictive in his nature, and if at times he had enemies in this country they were political rather than personal. In his social life he was a man of rare charm, and his wide reading, his experience in public life, and his extensive knowledge of the world made him a distinguished figure in any company. No man who ever occupied the post of Governor of this Province discharged the duties of that high office, including the reception of Royal visitors, with more grace and distinction than William Pugsley.

New Brunswick will mourn sincerely for its great son, counting him among the very foremost of those who have loved it and who have served it. He was of truly national stature, and at one time it seemed as if he might become Prime Minister of Canada. Had he attained that post he would have ranked high among Canada's Premiers. He was a great optimist, and a great friend. He always looked to the future, in fair weather or in foul, smilingly and hopefully. It was like him that, in spite of shaken health, he remained actively engaged in public business until the beginning of his last brief illness. In every circle in which he was known his death will cause sincere sorrow. By his death Canada loses one who was great in ability, in service, in patriotism, a lover of his country, one who ever wrought resolutely for his good.

President Coolidge's inaugural address is marked by two features chiefly, his advocacy of world peace and his stressing of domestic economy and reduction of taxation. "Our country," he says, "represents nothing but peaceful intentions towards all the earth."

EDWARD THE PEACEMAKER.

The first volume of the life of King Edward VII., written by the official biographer, Sir Sidney Lee, has just been published in London, and a cabled summary indicates that, curiously enough, the author has dwelt at length upon, and even seems to have exaggerated, the importance of the lighter side of the life of the great son of Victoria the Good while he was Prince of Wales. Frankness, together with a great deal of gossip, appears to be the fashion in English biographies just now, and the public is apparently to be regaled with some of the familiar and frivolous incidents which marked the idle hours of the younger days of one who was later not only a wonderfully popular monarch but a very great force for world peace and in extending and upholding the prestige of the Empire.

Queen Victoria's own writings and those of her biographers long ago confirmed the public impression that Edward when he was Prince of Wales was by no means content with a milk-and-water existence, that he was full of life, fond of adventure, amusement, and of lively company; but the British people did not hold that against him, and they were profoundly impressed by the promptness and the resolution with which, at the good Queen's death, he lived up to the dignity and responsibility of the sovereignty. The British public admires a sportsman, and as Prince and as King, Edward ever showed the true spirit of sportsmanship. There was never a more popular Prince, just as there never was a more popular or respected King.

When the biographer comes to the later chapters of the great King's life he will describe one who filled a wonderful place in the life of Great Britain and of the Empire. Perhaps the crowning work of King Edward VII. was the influence he exerted in perfecting the Anglo-French entente. While he was careful never to exceed constitutional limits, he was a great diplomat and his personal influence with European statesmen, and indeed his popularity in France and in other countries, did much to pave the way for friendly alliances, of which Britain at one time stood in much need.

His wonderful personality was of high imperial value, and in Britain as in the overseas Dominions he was ever held in the highest esteem and respect. When in other countries republicanism grew apace, the sterling worth and high example of the British monarch ever tended to confirm the people of Britain and of the Empire at large in their devotion to the Throne and in their conviction that a constitutional monarchy is for them the best form of government, a feeling from which there is no dissent to-day in any part of the British world. The Empire will never forget, and indeed year after year it more steadily appreciates, the high qualities which made Edward VII. an outstanding figure in the long line of British sovereigns, which made him the first diplomat in Europe, and which have given him in history the proud name Edward the Peacemaker.

WHAT IS GOING TO BE DONE?

Just what is Parliament actually going to do this year with respect to increased trade with the West Indies and with parts of South America? Mr. Hance J. Logan is back from his special tour of investigation of the possibilities of enlarging Canada's trade, and has gone to Ottawa to make his report to the Government.

While the West India despatches have been meagre in dealing with this mission, there have been reports from many West Indian centres showing that the Canadian representatives were received gladly, that there was a general eagerness to bring about a much greater exchange of trade, and a belief that this not only can be done, but would be of the greatest benefit to all concerned. Just now the question of West Indian steamship subsidies is to come up, and undoubtedly there will be a demand in the House of Commons for the required refrigerator accommodation, more speed and the requisite cargo capacity. When a trade arrangement was perfected with the West Indies some few years ago, greatly improved accommodation was both contemplated and promised, and the West Indies have since complained that Canada has not lived up to the obligations at that time undertaken in this respect.

Parliament, the country has been led to believe, has professed to be satisfied on general occasions that there is a very great volume of trade, both import and export, to be had through preferential and proper steamship communication. It has been pointed out again and again that the West Indies are ready to take greatly increased quantities of Canadian products, and that this would be new and profitable business at least so far as the increase is concerned. We know, too, that we import our fruit from the West Indies almost entirely through the United States, only the meagre dribble coming direct, and that we do this at an acknowledged monetary loss to ourselves. Not only is this the case, but under such circumstances we in this northern country do not bring in much of the fruit as is really needed in Canada. With a direct service up to the requirement and the possibilities of the case, it is quite obvious that our exchange of goods with the Indies would grow rapidly and steadily to their profit and to ours.

The time evidently has come for dealing with this situation along progressive lines, and the expectation of the country is that this will be done at the present session of Parliament.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

"Americanized"

Edward Bok in his book, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," tells of a special service that was run in the magazine of which he was editor, and says on page 174: "The service was finally stopped by the Great War of 1917-18."

This proves, perhaps better than anything else in the book, says the Toronto Star, how thorough was the Americanization of Mr. Bok. Familiar as we all have been with the claim that the Americans won the war, Mr. Bok's new claim goes further than that; he only did they win the war, but evidently, as he sees it, there wasn't any war until the United States entered it in 1917, or even if a war had been going on between 1914 and 1917 it did not become the Great War until the Americans got into it. The Americanization of Edward Bok is as thorough a job as we have seen.

Queen Square and Lancaster avenue should receive some consideration from the New Brunswick Power Company in the matter of car service. We would naturally desire a resumption of the full former service on the Queen Square loop line. If that is impossible, and thus far to my knowledge no explanation of the impossibility has been given, then an earnest effort should be made by the Power Company to make better arrangements than at present exist, and to try to remove the inconveniences and hardships that the residents there are now placed under. If the company officials are unable to restore the full service, then they should consult the people interested and make a real effort to do something.

On the other hand, if the company have no intention of giving street car service on that section of their lines, should not the rails be removed and an opportunity be given for a bus line to be established? Trusting that something may be done, and thanking you for your valuable space, Mr. Editor, I remain

Queen of Rumania

POINT to another woman in the world today whose beauty, power and vibrant personality are equal to those of Marie, Queen of Rumania! "A tall, majestic figure, hair of red-gold, a round white throat, flashing violet eyes and long lashes sweeping demurely the rose-leaf of her lovely cheeks." One who knows her well describes her thus.

Granddaughter of Queen Victoria, cousin to the King of England, to the Queen of Spain and to the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, she has lived from birth in the midst of the great affairs of Europe.

At sixteen she became the bride of the fortunate heir to the Rumanian throne and entered upon the vivid, flashing life of the Balkans.

And today no queen in Europe has such influence in state and international affairs.

Even after her twenty-nine thrilling years in Rumania, Queen Marie is still extraordinarily beautiful. When she wears the national dress and mingles with the simple peasant folk she is just as lovely as when she wears her gorgeous robes of state and her magnificent crown jewels. She is known as the queenliest queen in Europe just as her daughters were called the prettiest princesses—before they married kings.

After Twenty-nine years, still Beautiful

A womanly woman as well as a queen—and one to whom many things have come because of her own beauty—Queen Marie feels that "No woman is so highly placed that she can afford to neglect her beauty. Personal appearance is vital to her success—she cannot allow fatigue or exposure to show in her face."

RESOLUTIONS ON UNION PASS IN PRESBYTERY

Members Urged to Loyalty as Church Moves Towards Union

ASK NO CHANGE BE MADE IN BILL

Six of Ministers Register Opposition to Second Resolution.

Two important resolutions were adopted at the afternoon session of the Presbytery of St. John, held yesterday in St. Andrew's church. The first that the St. John Presbytery remain loyal to the Presbyterian church as it moves forward into union and the second that the N. B. Legislature be asked not to make any change in the present Union bill.

The first was carried by a vote of 26 to 7 and the second by about the same vote. Six of the ministers present asked that their names be recorded in opposition to the second resolution. They were: Rev. John Hardwick, Edmundston; E. J. Kerr, St. George; W. M. Fraser, St. Andrew's; J. W. Britton and R. Moorhead Legate, St. John and W. M. Townsend, Fairville.

Church Union.

On motion of Rev. J. A. Ramsey, Moncton, a new church union committee was appointed with Rev. Dr. Sutherland as convener. Dr. Sutherland was given power to appoint his own committee to be composed of 11 with power to add. The members appointed were: Rev. Mr. Ramsey, Rev. W. A. Ross, Rev. G. V. Morash, Rev. J. Miller, Rev. S. H. Prince, Rev. J. S. Bonnell, C. E. Everett, Judge Forbes, T. H. Sommerville.

Speaking on Church Union, Dr. Sutherland said the St. John Presbytery should fulfill its duties as a presbytery, and that was to obey the injunction of the General Assembly. Dr. Sutherland said that was the question that the churches looked to the Presbytery, leadership, and there was one thing the Presbytery must do and if it did not do it would resign, and that was to supply that leadership. He therefore moved the following resolution:

The Resolution.

"That in line with the action taken by the synod of the Maritime Provinces of Canada last October, the Presbytery of St. John affectionately enjoins all its members and members and adherents of all its churches to further its loyalty to their mother church as it moves forward into the Union, and not to permit any temporary or local consideration to turn them from their purpose of entering the United Church of Canada."

Rev. Mr. Morash, Sussex asked how this resolution would be put into effect, and Dr. Sutherland gave it as his opinion it might be a matter for the Church Union committee.

Rev. Mr. Kerr, St. George, said he did not want to stir up animosity but he would like to ask if it would not be fair and just to present the anti-union as well as the union side of the question.

Dr. Sutherland—"There is only one side to the question recognized by the General Assembly." There was no such thing, he continued, as absolutism, but the General Assembly has a system of constitutional government and that was not being observed by many.

Harmony Here.

Rev. Mr. Brittain strongly dissented from the view there was only one side to the question. He said he was a newcomer to the St. John Presbytery where all had been harmony and good feeling.

Rev. Mr. Legate agreed with Mr. Brittain's view and said both the Gen-

PROMOTION OF CANADIAN PORTS

No Need to Worry About the Feeling of Our Neighbors, Says R. E. Armstrong

To the Editor of The Times-Star:—The press of Canada from coast to coast seems to have reached the almost unanimous conclusion that the Maritime Provinces are fully justified in the national appeals that they have made to the government for the routing of Canada's traffic through the ports of Canada in preference to outside ports.

Since it is the duty of all progressive citizens to endeavor to develop and improve their homelands and home ports, there need be little fear that the effort that is being put forth to build up Canada and Canada's ports will awaken any feeling of enmity on the part of the United States. What is our right in this respect?

It has been a disappointment to many of our agriculturists to be deprived of marketing their products in the United States by the Fordney tariff, but it has aroused no hatred on the part of our people, since they realize that it is one of the national rights of the neighboring republic, and that the object they have in view is not to weaken or impoverish Canada but to assist in the marketing of their own products and at the same time to endeavor to improve the individual rights of their own people.

The strong desire that the people of the United States have expressed to visit Canada's beauty spots, West and East, in the summer season impresses the fact that they are interested in the development and improvement of the Dominion. Furthermore, there have been so many immigrants from Canada to the United States in the past 20 years, and such a pressure of visits on the part of the people of both countries, that their friendly relations have reached practically permanent lines. This situation is further impressed by the fact that there have been no unfriendly walls erected between these two territories, except those that Nature has provided, and that for over a hundred years there has been a peaceful spirit on the part of both people.

The Maritime Provinces, having linked up with other parts of Canada in order to develop this section of the British Empire, and having contributed both men and money in the building up of the Dominion, have every right to press for the betterment of the utilization of their own ports, just as other parts of the Dominion have a right to strive for their improvement and expansion. The Maritimes have been urging this matter ever since Confederation, and more particularly since the completion by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. of the transcontinental railway line from Vancouver on the Pacific Coast to Saint John on the shores of the Atlantic.

The people of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have been endeavoring to improve the condition of their provinces and ports. New Brunswick, being the connecting point between the other Maritimes and the rest of Canada, has felt that it should not be allowed to stand still or be neglected. Since 1889 both time and money have been spent for the development of the port of Saint John, which was created as the eastern terminal port of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Prior to 1889 the port of Portland, Me., had been used as a winter port for the traffic of Eastern Canada, because there was no rail connection between the Maritime Provinces and Central and Western Canada, but when the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, with the assistance of the Government of Canada, had completed its course from the West to the East, thence the men of Saint John felt that it was their duty and their right to insist upon the utilization of their own port. Moreover, when the Maritime Provinces established a transcontinental line on Canada's territory at the expense of all other parts of Canada, the opinion was strengthened within this province that it was the duty of both the railways and the Government of Canada to develop and utilize the port of Saint John, whose door was open in summer and winter, and whose intimate connection with the motherland, particularly during the winter season, brought all parts of Canada in close touch with Great Britain.

To the credit of the people of this city, let me say that they acted intelligently in equipping their port as St. John. One of their first acts was to give the Dominion Government $40,000 for the branch line connecting from Fairville to the water front. This line was presented to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and ever since that date this energetic and progressive company has been assisting in the improvement of the port and in the extension of its water front railway system.

Following the acquisition of the Carleton Branch Railway, the city spent over a million of dollars in building piers and warehouses on the west side and in dredging berths and channels. The action of the people of Saint John impressed upon the Dominion Government that as part of its duty to assist in the expansion of the port. In 1911, through the efforts of our dear friend, the late Hon. William Pugsley, a tripartite agreement was entered into between the City, the C. P. R. and the Government, the latter enlarging the port system on the west side of the harbor and rendering other assistance in port development. Ever since that time the subsidies that were being paid to Canadian ships connected with Portland, Me., the public of Canada began to realize that Saint John was making in the demands that it was making.

From time to time there were some criticisms on the part of a few outside papers, but now these criticisms have practically passed out of existence, and the whole of Canada is in full sympathy with the development of the Maritime Provinces, and their ocean ports. Mr. Belding, of the Times-Star staff, has rendered great help along this line by his western trip. It is the hope and desire of all of us, and of the large delegations that received such a cordial reception on the part of the Government at Ottawa, that hereafterward sufficient governmental assistance will be rendered in the expansion and development of this traffic of these ports between Canada and the West Indies, the British Empire and all other world ports.

If the Government is sincere in the expressions that it made to the delegates—and it undoubtedly is—one of its first acts should be to increase the C. N. R. terminal system on the eastern side of the harbor. With both sides of the port operating together, it should be of great assistance to the Province of New Brunswick. It would also help in the advancement of the Dominion and create a friendly feeling throughout all Canada.

Yours truly,
R. E. ARMSTRONG.

VERNER BANNER IS VERY BEAUTIFUL

Will Require Six Men to Carry it—Public Presentation by Mayor Tonight.

The banner to be presented tonight to Verner Lodge, No. 1, L. O. L., by the Sentinel Publishing Co. for securing the most subscriptions of any lodge in Canada for the Sentinel, is very beautiful. It arrived here a few days ago and will be presented tonight by Mayor F. L. Potts. It is made of silk with a gold fringe and is 54 by 72 inches. The silver trimmings on the banner, two to handle the poles and four to look after the guy lines. One side of the banner bears a picture of William, Prince of Orange, while the other side has the new Canadian coat of arms. The manner was made by Ambrose Kent & Son of Toronto.

Tonight's presentation, for which 750 invitations have been sent out, is open to the public. H. T. Brewer, Provincial Grand Master, and Rev. David Jones, provincial organizer, will be speakers. The presentation will take place in Orange Hall, Germain street.

Deaths

Mrs. W. H. Ross.

Mrs. Margaret E. Ross, wife of W. H. Ross, 84½, Spring street, died at her home on Tuesday night. She was a well known and highly respected resident of St. John, having lived here for the last 20 years. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, William B. and Ernest L., of this city, and Charles E., of Boston, and four daughters, Mrs. Helen Currie, and Mrs. James McCullough, of St. John; Mrs. Albert E. Austine, of Alberta, and Miss Myrtle Ross, of this city, and one brother, Phileas Goguen, of New Bedford, Mass. Funeral Friday morning at 8:15 to Holy Trinity church.

Mrs. F. W. C. Nase.

Many friends in New Brunswick will learn with much regret of the death of Mrs. F. W. C. Nase which occurred yesterday at her home, Nerepis Station, in the 79th year of her age, after a short illness of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband, one son, Philip, and one daughter, Nettie. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from her late residence.

2 MORE PASSENGER TRIPS FROM INDIES

Chaleur and Chignecto to End Service Unless Contract is Renewed.

Only two more Royal Mail Steam Packet vessels will come to this port from the West Indies with passengers unless the Government reaches an agreement with the company before March 31 according to announcement made in a despatch from the company's office at Halifax. A freight service may be continued according to the despatch but the passenger and mail services will be discontinued. The Chaleur and Chignecto are the two steamships still scheduled for this port within the time limit.

The company, it was said, has offered to build four new steamers for this service, which has outgrown the present vessels, providing the Canadian Government will give the company a ten years' mail subsidy contract similar to the one previously in force, which has been extended periodically in recent years. Thus far the matter is still pending. It is reported that the Government will make some announcement soon.

Fables On Health

MR. MANN'S EARACHE.
CHILDREN were not the only ones in the home of Mrs. Mann who had to be looked after. Mr. Mann would get sick occasionally, and when he was ailing, everyone had to wait on him. One night he had the earache. He could not eat supper, and he would not look at the evening paper.
Mrs. Mann knew a good remedy that the doctor had told her, however. So she filled the hot water bag and had Mr. Mann lie with the aching ear pressed against the bag.
Heat is one of the best remedies for earache, she told him. If she had had no hot water bag, a piece of flannel, heated over a lamp even, and placed against the ear, would have proved effective. Sometimes these remedies do not work. And then Mrs. Mann found that syringing the ear with hot water afforded a relief.

The water should be about 105 or 110 degrees Fahrenheit.
Babies who have earache should be taken to an ear specialist and a careful examination of the ears made.
Hailstones have been found in temperate climates measuring as much as fifteen inches in diameter. In torrid regions masses of 100 pounds have been found.

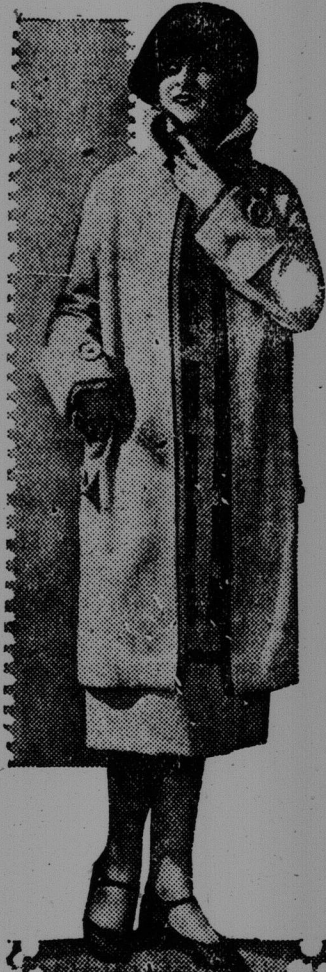

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.
THE MAGIC LAWN MOWER.

"Well, well, well! If here isn't Mister Peg Leg!" declared Mister Woodchuck hospitably, when Nancy and Nick and the little fairy peddler man knocked at his front door one fine spring morning. "Don't we count for anything?" asked Nick.
"Yes, yes, indeed," said Mister Woodchuck, "but I'm always extra glad to see Mister Peg Leg because he always has something that makes life easy for me."
"I'm afraid you are lazy," laughed Nancy.
"Mebbe—mebbe!" admitted Mister Woodchuck, looking uneasily at the kitchen floor. "That's what my wife says. But just the same I believe in saving oneself all one can. Eh, Mister Peg Leg?"
"I'm sure you are right," agreed the little peddler man pleasantly. "There is no use in sewing things by hand, for instance, as long as there are sewing machines, and ironing things with an iron, as long as there are electric ironing machines, and sweeping the floor with a broom as long as there are clean—"
"Sh!" warned Mister Woodchuck, looking again toward the kitchen door. "Those are all things my wife wants, but I see to her I see, sez I. Mrs. Woodchuck, what are hands made for?" I see, sez I. "Fingers were made before forks and hands were made before electric washing machines and what not." Say—Mister Peg Leg.
"What?" said Peg Leg.
Mister Woodchuck leaned quite close. "Have you—do you have such a thing as a magic lawn mower. No, I know you couldn't carry one around with you, but could you take an order? You see it's this way:
"It's getting along in the spring and the grass is growing faster than sheep's wool. I see to Mrs. Woodchuck, I see, sez I, 'Let it alone—it's good grass and besides it sort of hides our house from all sorts of prowlers. It's a shame to waste good grass.'
"But Mrs. Woodchuck she sez, sez she, 'Why, Wally—when all our neighbors keep their places in such fine shape, shame on you for being so lazy! It looks so sort of shabby when we don't keep the place in order, so it does. I do my part, keeping the children all washed and ironed and the house clean, and the meals cooked—it's as little as you can do to keep the grass cut.'
"So you see, Mister Peg Leg, it's up to me. And as I have the misery in my back so, why I thought maybe you could tell me where to get a magic lawn mower."
Mister Peg Leg looked sort of queer but he said right off, "Why, yes, Mister Woodchuck, I can get you a magic lawn mower. But the only trouble about magic lawn mowers is that they are a little hard to work the first few times. They sort of have to get used to the kind of lawn you have. After that they work simply fine. I'll get you one."
Mister Woodchuck sighed with relief. "That's just fine," he declared. "I guess I'm getting too fat, and even if I do have to coax it a little at first, it may be good for me. When may I have it, Mister Peg Leg?"

Plans for an Easter offering, in form of a monster Experience Social, were discussed at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Aid of Ladlow street Baptist church, held last evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Robbins, 228 Prince street. Mrs. J. E. Rupert, president, was in the chair, and the missionary study was conducted by Miss H. M. Thompson. One new member was received by the aid.

"Cascarets" 10c if Dizzy, Bilious, Constipated

To clean your bowels without cramping or over-acting, take "Cascarets." Sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, gases, indigestion, sour upset stomach and all such distressing conditions are relieved by Cascarets. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use. It is not at all expensive.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT
"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a stomach authority.
Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach troubles.
Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach with Cascarets. Cascarets is a hot water and Bisulphate Magnesia and not only will the pain and burning stop, but your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Cascarets is a safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use. It is not at all expensive.

Weights 314 Pounds—Only 35 Years Old
Could Hardly Walk Due to Gas on Stomach
"I am 35 years old, weigh 314 pounds and suffer terribly with gas and cramps. Could not walk four blocks without suffering pains in my right side. After taking one bottle Adierka I was entirely relieved of the cramps and of the gas on the stomach." (Signed) Leo Bonese.
Intestinal Evacuant.
There is now offered to the public a liquid preparation which is not only a wonderfully effective and QUICK intestinal evacuant, but which also seems to stimulate the glands of the intestinal tract and to cause expulsion of flatus (GAS). This preparation, known as Adierka, is a valuable agent for the purpose of cleansing the bowels of matter which has been in the system a long time and which other less effective means have been unable to dislodge. It is often astonishing the great amount of matter Adierka draws from the intestinal canal—even right after a natural movement. It sometimes brings out unsuspected quantities of additional matter. Many times it brings out much GAS, thus relieving pressure in the abdomen. Adierka is especially valuable when PERISTALTIC action is necessary or to encourage the stimulation of metabolic poisons through the bowel. In slight disorders such as occasional constipation or gas on the stomach and headache (when due to bowel inaction), a single spoonful of Adierka often produces surprising and gratifying results. In cases of obstinate constipation or stomach trouble, if Adierka does not bring relief in 24 to 36 hours the advice of a reputable physician should be secured.
Reports from Physicians.
"I congratulate you on the good effect from Adierka since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langford.
"Adierka is the best in my entire 27 years' experience." (Signed) Dr. G. Sagers.
"I prescribed Adierka with highly satisfactory results." (Signed) Dr. A. C. C. (Name given on request).
"I can't get along without Adierka." (Signed) Dr. W. H. Bernhart.
"J. E. Puckett (a user of Adierka) writes: 'After taking Adierka I feel better than for 20 years. Haven't languished to express the impurities eliminated from my system.'
Adierka is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its RAPID and QUICK action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere.

SIX CHAPTERS OF I.O.D.E. MEET AND PLAN WORK

Lady Roberts, Windsor, Valcartier, Royal Standard, Fundy and Alexandra

SEWING ACTIVITY IN LENTEN SEASON

New Members Received; Sales and Tea Are Planned For.

Six of the primary chapters of the I. O. D. E. held their March meetings yesterday and planned for various activities.

Lady Roberts Chapter.

Lady Roberts Chapter met at the home of Miss Constance White in Sydney street in the afternoon with Miss Olivia Gregory, the regent, presiding, and made arrangements for doing sewing for the Red Cross during the Lenten season.

Windsor Chapter.

Windsor Chapter meeting was held at the home of Miss Ida Belya, Union street, West St. John, with Miss Hazel Mylon, first vice-regent, presiding in the absence of the regent, Miss Edna Shaw, through illness.

Valcartier Chapter.

Valcartier Chapter met at the home of Mrs. Laurence MacLaren, Coburg street, with Mrs. P. R. Taylor, regent, presiding, and made plans for the rose ball to be held on Easter Monday.

Royal Standard Chapter.

Royal Standard Chapter meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. T. Wetmore Merritt, Sydney street, with Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, the regent, presiding. The Chapter voted $25 towards a scholarship for pupils of the kindergarten teacher training class, decided to give the usual prizes for Grade VIII pupils of Victoria School, and arranged for the rummage sale to be held in April.

Fundy Chapter.

The meeting of Fundy Chapter was held at the home of Miss Edith Cummings, 17 Orange street, with Miss Frances Alward, regent, in the chair. Plans were made for a small bridge to be held shortly after Easter and for a pantry sale to be held just before Easter.

Alexandra Chapter.

Alexandra Chapter met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Parlee, 120 Main street, with the newly elected regent, Mrs. Walter L. Gregg, presiding. The sum of $81 was voted to the I. O. D. E. War Memorial and $10 to the relief work of the chapter. Plans were made for a tea which it was hoped could be held the last week in March.

AUTO VAGRANT. ALBANY, N. Y., March 4.—The auto vagrant has appeared in New York state. Joseph Saplin has been charged with vagrancy in a town near here because he is alleged to have made a practice of driving about the country in an auto and begging for gasoline, instead of the proverbial food handout for tramps.

OBJECTION TO GARAGE FILED WITH COUNCIL

Princess Street Matter Is To Be Taken Up Tomorrow

CITY WILL NOT TAKE OVER MIDDLE STREET

Bond Issue for Legal Expenses in Injunction Case Agreed To.

A protest against the erection of a public garage in the Princess street district, recently swept by fire, was lodged with the city council yesterday and will be further discussed at the committee meeting on Thursday morning. The Commissioner of Harbors was given authority to call for tenders for the revenues from North and South and Sydney Slips for the next year and routine matters were dealt with.

An offer to sell to the city a lot of land adjoining the West Side playgrounds was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works for a report. Commissioner Prink reported that as Middle street, running from Waterloo to Prince Edward streets, was only 20 feet wide the city could not accept it as under the law they could not accept any street less than 30 feet in width. He moved the offer of the W. F. Hatheway estate to deed this street to the city be declined, and this carried.

For Tax Exemption.

The application of the Energy Electric Company for exemption from taxation was referred to the Mayor to arrange for a hearing on the matter.

A communication from the secretary of the West Side G. W. A. asking that in any move to abolish tag days there be nothing done which would stop the sale of poppies on Armistice Day, was referred to the Mayor. Street lighting bills amounting to $2,908.40, for the month of January were ordered paid. Commissioner Prink reported that some of the material being dumped in the ravine in Somerset street had fallen on the lot owned by Judge Armstrong, but as the former lease of the lot had expired in September of this year to redeem his equity in the lot that nothing be done until that time. He expressed the opinion that it would be well for the city to obtain this lot as it would do away with the necessity for building a retaining wall. Mayor Potts suggested that an option be secured on the lot at once.

Approve Bond Issue.

On motion of Commissioner Harding a bond issue amounting to $1,741 was authorized for the payment of legal expenses in connection with the injunction case of the New Brunswick Power Co. vs. the City of St. John.

VETERANS HONOR MISS SUTHERLAND

Present Certificate For Exceptional Service—Drive For Members Considered.

The monthly business meeting of the St. John Branch of the G. W. V. A. was held in the Association Hall, Wellington Row last evening with the president, J. G. Dryden in the chair. Four new members were presented by the membership committee which also reported plans under consideration for a membership campaign with particular attention to re-instating of former members.

The financial report showed a satisfactory balance despite recent heavy expenditures on improvements in the club building.

The sports committee reported the formation of a twelve-team "two-man"

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach such like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food; or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys, and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

bowling league in conjunction with the House League.

The benevolent committee reported calls for assistance still numerous though slightly less than during January.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation to Miss Agnes Sutherland, superintendent of the Women's Division of the Local Employment Service of a valuable service certificate as issued by the Dominion Command of the Association to members who have rendered exceptional service to the association. Miss Sutherland was presented this certificate in recognition of her services on several special committees of the local branch during the last three years, particularly the Poppy Day, orphans' fund and fair committees. The presentation was made by President Dryden at the opening of the meeting.

Miss Sutherland replied briefly but appropriately expressing her appreciation of the honor shown in awarding her the first of these certificates to come to a member of the St. John branch.

Bishop Richardson To Preach In Hamilton

His Lordship Right Rev. John A. Richardson, D. D., of Fredericton, is going to Hamilton for a 10-day mission at the Church of the Ascension next week. In 1909 he was chosen, as the youngest bishop, to preach a sermon in St. Paul's cathedral. Since that time, besides his busy administration of his eastern diocese, he has been much sought for by many of the great conventions of America. At the general synod in London last autumn he spoke to the Canadian Club on imperialism, and has consented to honor the Canadian Club of Hamilton in a similar way.

Snyder's Sani-Bilt Moth Proof Furniture is Built for Every Day Wear and Tear

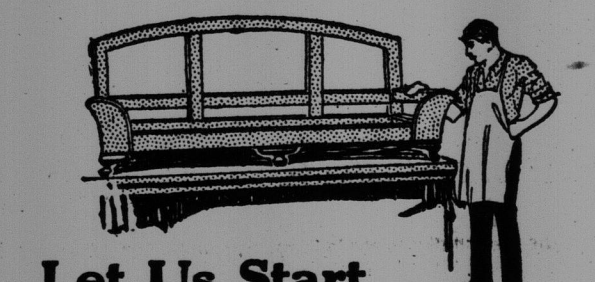

SNYDER'S Sani-Bilt Living Room Furniture is the furniture that stands up under every-day living-room wear and tear. The upholstery doesn't sink into hollows. The springs do not give out or sag from place. It doesn't lose its full, heavily-upholstered effect. The coverings are the best of their kind; according to what you pay, and they keep their beauty of color and design under hard wear and constant use. And, remember, moths cannot harm Sani-Bilt in the slightest degree, inside or out. Every particle of fabric used is immune from moths. Beware of imitations and cheap substitutes which have to be renewed every few months.

Over All Go the Coverings

In these high-grade Chesterfields a strong white cotton lining is first nailed, taut and neat. And now, at last, we are ready for the coverings. Select which material you like best. Here's a plain velour, with a shadowy pattern embossed in its pile. It looks like a long-napped velvet—catches the light in varying glints and shades. Here is a rich foliage tapestry, to add a strong decorative note to your room, in harmony with the rug and the hangings. Here's a plain mohair—a dignified, as well as a wear-withstanding, covering. Or, perhaps, you would like an English canvas-weave denim—it wears like iron.

The covering once shaped, tacked on and trimmed with cord or braid, your Suite—with Cushions to match—is complete. And what a handsome, good-looking Suite it is! Don't you think so? It was worth the trip to the factory, just to see how it was made.

Let Us Start at the Frames

In imagination, let us take a tour through our factory at Waterloo, Ontario, and watch the work of the men who make Sani-Bilt Suites. First, we stop in the shop where the frames are constructed. We are proud of our factory and no department is more worthy of pride than this shop where the frames are made. Notice how thick and heavy the lumber is—solid Canadian hardwood, without knot or flaw. It is strength we want under upholstery—sturdy, rigid, real strength. Note how Sani-Bilt frames are put together and reinforced. Each joint is dowelled, corner-block, glued and screwed. You cannot find the slightest shake, rattle or "give" in a Sani-Bilt frame. Our men are experienced at this work and each stage of construction is carefully inspected. It would be well-nigh impossible to break up a Sani-Bilt frame without tools.

Oil-Tempered Steel-Coil Springs

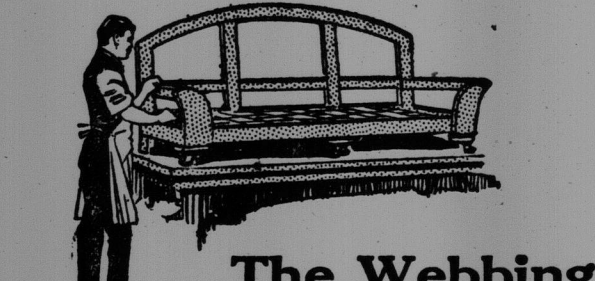

Sani-Bilt Chesterfields and Chairs contain more springs than any other furniture of the deep-upholstered kind that is made in Canada. All except our very lowest priced Chesterfields have at least forty springs in the seat (four rows instead of the usual three) and twenty-seven in the back. The springs are double-coiled coils of oil-tempered steel wire, japanned and rust-proof. Each is securely and permanently cross-tied in place by extra-strong, heavy twine, so that it cannot lean or sag out of true. The edges of the seats are maintained by this heavy, taut steel wire, reaching like a piano string across from arm to arm and anchored solidly at each end.

Curled Hair is Laid Next

You know the kind of hair used for stuffing hair mattresses. This is the sort of hair we use in Sani-Bilt upholstery. A thick layer of real, curled hair is spread over the sea moss and smoothed down into shape. The hair we use is made absolutely mothproof by the Sani-Bilt process before it comes near the Chair or Chesterfield into which it is to go. It is specially treated to make it "lively", also, so that it won't crush flat under pressure of weight.

White Felt Layer on Top

Over the hair stuffing goes this smooth, silky layer of cotton felt, so that you can feel nothing in the slightest degree coarse, rough or lumpy under the upholstery coverings. Press your hand down upon it. You do not notice the least coarseness of texture—just an even, down-like surface, which gives under pressure and instantly returns to place when the pressure is removed. This felt layer, of course, like every other material used in Sani-Bilt upholstery, is new and fresh. To make assurance doubly sure, all Sani-Bilt fillings are sterilized.

The Webbing Underneath

Let us, on this imaginary factory visit, examine the construction of one of the highest-grade Sani-Bilt Suites. The basis of the upholstered seat or back of a Sani-Bilt Chair or Chesterfield is the interlaced Scotch webbing. This is one of the weak places in some furniture and we take particular pains to make sure that there is no weakness or slackness here in Sani-Bilt. We use a heavy Jute Hessian Webbing of the finest quality, made in Scotland. We stretch it to the frame with a generous hem and we nail it to stay, so that there is no slack or danger of slack. These bands of webbing interlock in basket-weave fashion and form the foundation for the springs.

Sea Moss Buries the Springs

Let us watch the building-up of one of these high-grade Chesterfields. A great bulk of a special sort of teased sea moss is laid over the Sani-Bilt springs and compressed into shape. This moss, cured and dried, is the greatest stuff for deep upholstery. It is so soft and resilient. We use plenty of it for our foundation, procuring it from the far South. See how completely we bury the springs under a profusion of fine, loose, curly sea moss.

And Don't Forget Guaranteed Absolutely Mothproof

With every piece of Snyder's Sani-Bilt Living Room Furniture, there goes the Sani-Bilt Guarantee against moths. Every particle of material used in fillings and coverings has been thoroughly treated by the Sani-Bilt mothproofing process right in our own factory. No other upholstered furniture in Canada is made under this system. There is no attraction for moths in a Sani-Bilt Chair or Chesterfield, either inside or out. Mothworms, as proved by actual experiment, wither up and die if placed on materials treated by the Sani-Bilt process. It is not a surface treatment. There are plenty of superficial imitations out now, to trade on Sani-Bilt's reputation. There is only one Sani-Bilt. Sani-Bilt is mothproof through and through. Remember that fact when looking at upholstered furniture. Ask always to see the Sani-Bilt Guarantee Tag that accompanies every piece and the Sani-Bilt trade mark under the cushion, as well.

Prices Range to Reach All

The Sani-Bilt price range covers a wide scale. But, at every price, from lowest to highest, Sani-Bilt is solidly made and each grade is covered by the same absolute Guarantee against moths. For sale by leading dealers throughout Canada.

THE SENATE stands adjourned until March 10.

IN THE HOUSE.—It is private members' day.

Methodism in Canada was the subject of a lecture delivered in the Exmouth street Methodist church on Monday evening by the pastor, Rev. E. E. Styles.

Reference was made to the Canadian century of this year and early days were recalled.

The educational work required about $10,000 a year.

Rev. Mr. Styles referred to former unions within the Methodist church and said: "The larger union with the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, into which we enter on June 10, is not a new movement."

Mr. Styles referred briefly to the missionary enterprise of the church because that was to be the subject of a subsequent lecture, probably in May.

Exmouth Street Pastor Speaks on Methodism in Canada.—Figures of Interest.

Methodism in Canada was the subject of a lecture delivered in the Exmouth street Methodist church on Monday evening by the pastor, Rev. E. E. Styles.

Reference was made to the Canadian century of this year and early days were recalled.

The educational work required about $10,000 a year.

Rev. Mr. Styles referred to former unions within the Methodist church and said: "The larger union with the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, into which we enter on June 10, is not a new movement."

Mr. Styles referred briefly to the missionary enterprise of the church because that was to be the subject of a subsequent lecture, probably in May.

Yesterday In Parliament

THE SENATE did not sit. IN THE HOUSE.—A resolution was carried favoring the approval of the treaty for the suppression of emulating operations along the international boundary between Canada and the United States.

Another resolution was passed in favor of the extension of the list of crimes for which extradition proceedings can be taken.

Most of the day was spent in debate upon the contract between Sir Wm. Peterson and the Dominion Government by which Canada will undertake to subsidize a fleet of 10 ships for the purpose of giving the Dominion control over certain ocean routes.

The debate was adjourned and will be resumed by J. A. Clark, Conservative, Burrard, probably on Thursday.

NEW MOVIE REFORM. BIG SANDY, N. B., March 4.—The manager of a moving picture theatre here is demanding an unusual reform in moving pictures.

Recently Siler offered a legacy of $5,000 to any person furnishing Joe a suitable home for life.

About 1,200 offers were received, and the place finally selected is the home of William I. Mertz, near Alton, in St. Louis County.

THIEF IS CAUGHT AFTER 2 MILE DASH

NEW YORK, March 4.—Captured by Detective Joseph Conerton after a chase of two miles through the crowded streets of the lower east side, James Sorrente was locked up at police headquarters, charged with attempted grand larceny.

Sorrente is alleged to have tried to wrest an envelope containing money from a girl who had just come out of a bank.

Another resolution was passed in favor of the extension of the list of crimes for which extradition proceedings can be taken.

Most of the day was spent in debate upon the contract between Sir Wm. Peterson and the Dominion Government by which Canada will undertake to subsidize a fleet of 10 ships for the purpose of giving the Dominion control over certain ocean routes.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
Like many other companies, The Sun Maid Raisin Growers wanting to equip their travellers with automobiles, spent six months testing and experimenting with different makes, as they did not know what car would stand the best, and after this thorough test—bought Essex.
Mr. Wholesaler—and all prospective buyers, it will be interesting for you to read what Mr. Gillis the popular New Brunswick Sun Maid Traveller has to say about the Essex allotted to him.
"MY ESSEX has been driven two years under all weather conditions and over all kinds of roads.
"I have been absolutely satisfied with the performance, reliability and low cost of up-keep of the ESSEX, which is the greatest car at or near its price class in the world today."

from Perfect Grapes these finer raisins.

Raisins—good raisins—are grapes dried in the sun. Nothing more.

They can be no better than the grapes from which they are made.

The grapes for Sun-Maid Raisins are grown in the finest vineyards in the world—in the beautiful San Joaquin Valley of California.

Only the tenderest and sweetest are selected for Sun-Maids. They are dried in the clean, mellow sunshine. Then they are so thoroughly cleaned and sterilized that they do not require washing before use.

In the red or blue package with the smiling Sun-Maid girl they bring you all of the goodness of the perfect raisins from which they are made.

Always look for the Sun-Maid girl upon the package. Throughout the world she is the sign of highest quality in raisins.

In all your cooking—wherever you use raisins use Sun-Maids. You will notice the difference—the finer, more delicate flavor. You can get this extra goodness only with Sun-Maid Raisins.

F. G. BLACKLOCK FOUND DEAD IN BARN BY HIS SON

Resident of Red Head Had Ended His Life By Hanging

FORMER KEEPER OF MISPEC LIGHT

Was Missing Few Hours Before Gruesome Discovery Made.

The community of Red Head was shocked and grieved yesterday afternoon when the news spread that Frederick G. Blacklock, aged 67, had died, ending his life during a fit of despondency.

Yesterday at noon he asked his son Fred if he intended to have a sleep and when he was answered in the affirmative he took two water pills and started for the well apparently intent on renewing the supply for the house.

During the morning Mr. Blacklock went about his duties apparently as usual and his actions did not indicate that he was more nervous than usual.

When the body was discovered Coroner Porter was notified and drove to the scene and after deciding no inquest was necessary gave permission to hold the funeral.

Mr. Blacklock was a son of the late George C. Blacklock, keeper of Cape Spencer light, who was appointed to that position on May 19, 1876, who passed away on January 1, 1888.
