OPPOSITION MEETING.

Dr. Stockton and Mr. Hazen give the Hartland People Opposition Gospel

At the hour appointed for meeting two or three hundred people were ready to listen to Dr. Stockton, the Opposition Leader, and Dr. Hazen, his co-worker. Allan Rideout officiated as chairman. Seated on the platform were, besides the two speakers of the evening, J. K. Pinder, M. P. P., of York, J. T. A. Dibblee, M. P. P., Hon. G. W. White, Capt. Anderson, J. K. Fleming and representatives of the "Press" and ADVERTISER. The 67th Batt. band began the show by a lively strain, after which the chairman spoke a few well chosen words of introduction.

Mr. Pinder was the first speaker and expressed himself as glad of the opportunity for addressing a Hartland audience. He spoke of the just cause that impelled Mr. Dibblee to forsake his party; spoke of the exorbitant prices of material that entered the construction of bridges and other public works. Of the $66,000 expended on great roads and bridges $35,000 was given out without tenders. He proceeded to give a detailed account of the expenditure and showed where building materials were bought often 100 per cent. higher than they might have been. "We claim a right for tenders," said he. The government steadfastly refused to give fully detailed accounts of expenditure on permanent bridge accounts to the Opposition. He showed that the Record Foundry received so large a share of provincial patronage because of the direct interest the Premier himself had in it. If Woodstock bridge had been built as it should have been the people of Hartland might have had a bridge today. "However when we get in you will stand a fair chance for a bridge. But we are not in—we're out!" Regarding the "wheat policy" Mr. Pinder said the farmers know when it is best to sow wheat; what N. B. wants is a husbanding of the pork packing industry. He further pointed out that Julius Inches actually received $1000 as payment for resigning his position of secretary of agriculture, to give Peters of Kings an office so he wouldn't oppose A. S. White in the election.

Mr. Dibblee didn't expect to speak, he said, but he welcomed his honored confreres to Carleton county, and further wished to state his reasons for opposing the government. With regard to the Moncton convention, he could say the move met with his strong approval, but before that he was opposed to the Emmerson government. As a member of the public accounts committee, bills came before him he could not endorse. Not liking his opposition the government insinuated that his usefulness had expired. Mr. Dibblee claimed excessive prices had been paid for printing, hardware, etc. He did not, however, condemn the government for all of its policy. He felt confident of a return at the coming election. The one question above all that interested the Hartland people was the bridge. At his own suggestion a delegation was sent. The government said it was impossible to build a bridge at present, but asked if the Hartland people had any plans or suggestions, upon hearing which they promised if a local company was formed they would guarantee the interest at 3 per cent. for 15 or 20 years. They said an order in council would be granted at the next meeting of the government, but it has not yet come, "I am strongly in favor of a bridge for you. The opposition will build as good a bridge as any party. We will do all we can for you."

J. K. Fleming was glad for the opportunity of speaking. The bridge was uppermost in his mind apparently. The speakers to-night would give practical talk; while the government on the morrow would tell all about the bridge, as of yore. The government will be overthrown. They could have ere this built the Hartland bridge if they had been prudent and careful in their exchequer. Economy must be exercised. Referring to the motto on the wall—"We will vote for the party who will give us a bridge," he said it should be "We will vote against the party who did not give us a bridge." The speaker was loudly applauded.

Hon. G. W. White spoke a few minutes in his usual breezy and witty style, which brought him loud applause.

Mr. Hazen took the floor and said, "We were solicited to meet the people of Hartland here to-night, and expected to meet the government speakers. He spoke of the Moncton convention, commending its resolution to conduct the provincial politics on party lines. He cited many good and logical reasons why the move was best. Mr. Hazen is a remarkably fluent and gifted orator, and has provincial affairs in thorough comprehension. His denunciation of the government was an admirable piece of work from a rhetorical standpoint. He told how the various government supporting newspapers pulled cash from the public treasury, and how ridiculous was Mr. Tweedie's opposition to the Moncton convention. Emmerson knows his party would speedily collapse if he depended upon the Liberals of the province for support. Mr. Hazen then drifted into Dominion politics.

Dr. Stockton was received with applause. He stated that he expected to meet the government. He didn't wonder Mr. Emmerson didn't dare to meet him, as he spoke untruthfully about his politics. He was a Conservative; he had supported the party seven years. He thought the premier must be a lineal descendant of Ananias. Dr. Stockton defended Mr. Dibblee's turnover. British justice would impel a

Prof. James W. Robertson

Gives Some Very Pertinent Reasons Why Winter Dairying Ought to be Engaged In by Farmers Generally.

To make his business profitable the dairyman must carry it on during the whole year, says Prof. James W. Robertson, the Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture. Milk and its products have been as a rule dearer in winter than in summer. A large amount of capital is invested in cows, barns and cheese factory and creamery buildings. It is wasteful policy to permit so much capital to be unproductive during five or six months of the year. In the past it has been not only unproductive but a source of expense. Considerable labor on farms during the winter is absorbed into the unremunerative chores of the farm buildings, unless animals are kept yielding a product, or increasing in value. Cows must be fed during the winter. If a direct revenue can be obtained, the work can be done with more enjoyment, more of it will be undertaken, and more profitable methods will be applied. Other branches of farm management, such as the raising of young stock, the fattening of swine, and the keeping of laying hens, will grow out of it. There are few more discouraging and joyless occupations than attending on cows all winter, without any revenue from the work.

There are hundreds of men who are employed as cheese-makers during the summer months and who unwillingly are comparatively idle during the winter months. If the capacity and ability which they possess, can be applied to butter making during the winter months, so much will be gained.

When dairymen obtain a satisfactory revenue from cheese factories during the summer, and get hardly any income during the winter, they can make only very slow progress in bettering their circumstances. The patrons who send most milk to the cheese factories in summer, might also send relatively the largest quantity in winter. As a result of the immediate revenue from butter-making in winter cows get better care and better feeding. As a consequence, they give more milk the following summer. After winter dairying was begun at the first Government dairy stations, the President of the Mount Elgin Dairy Company, who had thirty cows and had milked them during the winter, stated that during the month of May of the following year he obtained twenty-five per cent. more milk from his herd of cows than he had ever obtained in that month in any previous year. Doubtless that was mainly owing to the fact that the cows were kept in a fairly warm stable during the winter months and fed on succulent feed to induce a large flow of milk. Unless cows on the average are made to milk during ten months in the year, they are likely to become unprofitable as milkers. It will not do to let the cows become a leisurely class, on holidays for five or six months in the year.

The by-products of dairying in the form of skim-milk are more valuable for the raising of stock, the feeding of swine and the growing of chickens, during the winter and very early spring months than they are during the summer. The dairymen have not been, and cannot be fully prosperous until they have a revenue coming in regularly during the whole year.

Only Marked It Out.

A lovelorn youth had quarrelled with his ladylove, and with bitter, angry words they parted, and he decided that life was no longer worth living. Abruptly turning into a barber's, he sat in a vacant chair and calmly requested the barber to cut his throat.

The barber acquiesced, and tucking the cloth around his neck, fixed the head rest so that the customer's chin was well elevated. Then drawing a stout pin from the corner of his waistcoat and holding it firmly between his finger and thumb, he drew the pin quickly across the neck of the man.

Immediately, with a scream worthy of a red Indian, the despairing one leaped from the chair, shouting:

'Surely, surely you have not done it?'
'Oh, no, sir!' said the barber. 'Sit down again, sir. I've only marked it out.'—Pearson's Weekly.

A Friend's Advice Leads to Health and Happiness.

Paine's Celery Compound Used by a mother and Her Daughter.

Rheumatism, Nervousness, and Kidney Disease Banished.

A Letter that Should Inspire Hope

A Guarantee of New Life to Every Sufferer.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co.

Dear Sirs:—I think it a duty to write to you regarding the benefits derived by my daughter and myself from the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

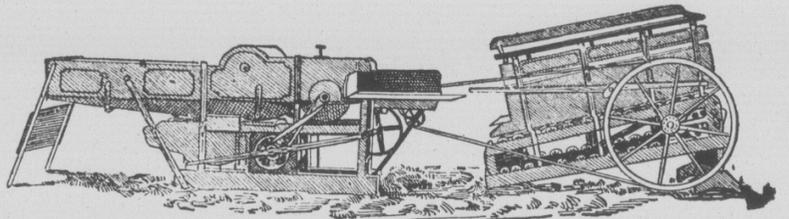

For years I was troubled with rheumatism and nervousness. I was treated by doctors, and tried medicine after medicine without any good results. Fortunately a friend of mine advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and after using four bottles I found I was stronger and better than I had been for years. My daughter was cured of kidney disease after suffering for twelve years, by using a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound. I advise all suffering from rheumatism, nervousness and kidney troubles to give the Compound a trial.

Yours Sincerely,
MRS. LOUIS LEFAVE,
Chapleau, Ont.

OPPOSITION MEETING.

man who turned because of honest conviction. Referring again to his disappointment at not finding Emmerson confronting him he uttered a challenge to him to meet on any platform. He considered cheese and butter of much greater import. He quoted Emmerson as desiring to induce farmers to try to compete with the west in growing export wheat. Wheat, claimed the speaker is a most unprofitable crop compared to others. Pork packing and cold storage needs development. The lumber industry has nothing to fear from the Opposition. If fair and honest business methods were employed in financing Hartland would not have to wait for a bridge. He understood the difficulties throughout the year of crossing the river, etc. The government had fooled and made promises and broke them, but the Opposition would endeavor to carry out in power what they promised without it.

After the meeting, the party, including a number from Woodstock and local Conservatives repaired to the Commercial Hotel where a sumptuous supper was enjoyed, and where toasts and speeches were drunk and made in abundance.

Publisher's Note.

Subscribers to the ADVERTISER can enjoy the pleasure of having their paper promptly stopped at the end of the time paid for, provided notice is given to that effect. The people throughout the country are heartily sick of having their local papers coming on and on and finally being confronted with a sheriff's writ. Yet subscribers are to blame in many instances on account of simple and uncalled for neglect on their own part to pay up. The fact is we have on our own books the names of several hundred subscribers who are in arrears. While we dislike to annoy them by a "dun," we desire very much that all the accounts be squared up. When ever a subscription is not paid in advance it is reckoned as one in arrears.

The cough, or puff, of a railway engine is due to the abrupt emission of waste steam up the chimney. When moving slowly the coughs can, of course be heard following each other quite distinctly, but when speed is put on the puffs come out one after the other much more rapidly, and when eighteen coughs a second are produced they cannot be separately distinguished by the ear. A locomotive running at the rate of nearly 70 miles an hour gives out 20 puffs of steam every second—that is, 120 for each of its two cylinders.

An Unique Insurance Claim.

A claim which is unique in the annals of fire insurance has just been paid to a Yarmouth man. The claimant was sitting on the seafront on a bank holiday with his trousers turned up. A little ash dropped into the tuck thus formed and burnt a hole. After inspecting the garments the company paid for a new pair, the claim being under a general fire policy.

West Side Notes.

Nicodemus Sends a Budget of News Worth Reading.

Now that there is a decided decrease in the supply of war news and a consequent let up to the demand for newspaper space I make bold to again ask for a corner in your valuable sheet for a few notes from West Side.

The West Side farmers have done harvesting their bountiful crops and are busy fixing up for winter.

Several West Siders took in the St. John Exhibition, among whom were Mrs. Colman and Frank R. Shaw, Miss Ada Dickinson and Messrs. Henry De Witt and Havelock Hoyt.

E. M. Shaw is making an extended business trip through the southern counties. He will probably spend a few days in St. John during the exhibition.

Henry K. York is in Fort Fairfield. He intends remaining 'til after digging.

The Birmingham mare did some fine work at Presque Isle during the late races there. We predict that this mare will yet step out and "just skin the rag right off the bush."

West Side has two interesting weddings in the prospective. Dame Rumor has it that the genial Ernest Sipprell is to take unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Beatrice Kilpatrick of Greenfield, on Wednesday, 28th. And invitations are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Emma K. Baker and J. Frank Albright, which will take place at the Free Baptist church in this place on Wednesday, September 28, at 4.30 o'clock.

The farmers of West Side are experiencing a new difficulty this season, and that is a lack of threshing machines. The old reliable Harvey Cook is on another beat this season, and York and Dickinson are not running their Moody. Kerry Dickinson is talking some of starting a machine this week.

Rev. A. M. McNinch is visiting his parents at present. He will preach to the people of Victoria in the new church next Sunday in the evening. Mr. McNinch is a production of West Side, and is the son of our much esteemed and venerable citizen, Asa McNinch.

Say, Mr. Editor, whatever became of Tim of Cloverdale? I for one would be glad to see him in active service again.

HARTLAND, N. B., SEPTEMBER 24, 1898

WE CAN HAVE A BRIDGE

It was THE ADVERTISER'S privilege to attend the conference of the Premier and Provincial Secretary with the Bridge delegates. The result was that all promises made by the government to the people of Hartland with regard to a Bridge will to all appearances be kept. For instance, when Mr. Emmerson was here three years ago he promised to send an engineer to make a survey of the site. He did so. Two surveys were made, and the calculated cost of constructing a bridge of steel and stone is $80,000, which expenditure the government could not make at that time, nor for years. The second promise was made to the delegates at the last session, Mr. Emmerson said if the people of Hartland and vicinity would organize a company and issue bonds for $20,000, the government would guarantee both them and the interest for a long period. A wooden bridge like that at Florenceville can be built for $20,000. The Premier reiterated his promise at the conference on Wednesday. The government engineer has been ordered to prepare an estimate of the cost of such a bridge as we desire from the survey made in '95. The next step will be to organize a company to issue bonds bearing the government's endorsement. With such collateral as this the construction of a bridge can speedily be begun.

The ADVERTISER commends the government on its action, and plainly sees the matter now rests with the people themselves, and confidently asserts we can have a bridge.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

The village was shocked to hear of the horrible death of young Edward Culbert on Tuesday evening. A special freight train consisting of engine No. 519, nine cars of lumber and a van, was running down the grade a mile and a half below the village. Fred Yerxa the head brakeman, was occupying the fireman's seat, when as the engine rounded a curve, he espied some object on the track. "What's that?" he shouted to driver McFarlane, who, glancing out, said, "It is a sheet of bark," but a moment later cried, "It's a boy!" He pulled the whistle for brakes and reversed his engine. The body never stirred and the train passed completely over, it being impossible to stop it.

The head and arm having been over the rail were completely severed. Death was instantaneous. The supposition is that the lad had sat down in the sun to rest and, as he had been up the night before, fell asleep from fatigue and did not waken upon the approach of the train. Others conjecture that the boy fell in a fit; though the former theory expresses the general consensus of opinion. He had attended the village school through the day and was seen at the railway station a short time before the accident. Conductor William Davis walked back to the station and wired his superintendent. Coroner Curtis viewed the remains and considered an inquest unnecessary. The funeral was held at Newburgh by Father Bradley on the day following. James Culbert, father of the boy, was nearly crazed with grief. Only two months ago his daughter died of consumption; his wife died recently; and not long since he had a son killed in the West. The poor man has the sympathy of the community.

Work on the New Gaol Stopped.

On Tuesday afternoon, Sheriff Balloch served Secretary Jones and Contractor P. McCanna, with an order issued by Judge Vanwart, on application of Dr. I. B. Curtis, to stop further proceedings on the construction of the new gaol, and prohibiting the municipality, or committee thereof, from borrowing any money to be expended in the construction of the said gaol. The penalty is placed at $4,000. D McLeod Vince is plaintiff's attorney, and Fisher and Connell and R. K. Jones have been retained to defend. It is probable no further move toward a new gaol will be made until the voice of the people is heard.

SUNDRY NOTES.

Advent quarterly meetings at Simonds next week.

Rev. J. J. Barnes wishes us to state that he has accepted a call to the Waterville pastorate.

S. M. Boyer has moved into his new residence and Rev. J. B. Daggett has taken up his abode in the Bradley house.

Sanford Ingraham of Middle Simonds who has put up a steam grist mill is so overcrowded with orders as to be required to run the mill both day and night.

The Provincial Secretary's address to the people of Hartland was crowded out of this issue through lack of space, but will appear next week.

The Harvest Supper at Middle Simonds on Tuesday was largely attended and very much of a success. The people present had the honour of having the Premier, and local members and others speak.

Last Wednesday the entire school marched down to the residence of James Culbert taking with them bouquets of flowers and wreaths, the whole being an endeavour to pay the respects to the memory of the poor boy who was killed by the train on Tuesday.

Plebiscite vote next Thursday.

The cold weather of the past week has given the stove business an impetus.

The Free Baptist church will meet in annual Conference at Sussex on Saturday, Oct. 1st.

Prof. Fox has organized two singing schools, one at Florenceville, another at East Florenceville.

Rev. D. B. Bavey, the Methodist pastor, has hustled his people into building a barn for his and all his successors' use.

Our West Side correspondent has awakened and provides our readers with a very savory list of interesting news items.

Grand Master David Hipwell of the L. O. L. of New Brunswick, addressed a meeting of Orangemen in St. John on Tuesday evening.

"Brayley" the chalk artist, gave a very interesting entertainment at Lower Brighton last night and will hold forth at Silville tonight.

Rev. A. L. Hayward will preach a temperance sermon in the Baptist church to-morrow at 10.30, and at Middle Simonds at 3 p. m.

Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Downey took their little girl, who had her eye put out last week, to the St. John General Hospital on Wednesday.

To-day a driving party of thirteen young people of Woodstock is expected to arrive in Hartland to do the town. They will dine at the Commercial.

Donald Innes of Kincardine, Victoria Co., carried off the first prize for wheat at the St. John Exhibition. Mr. Innes also captured several other prizes.

The Barker House stables in Fredericton were destroyed by fire last Saturday morning. Great difficulty was experienced in saving the horses and carriages.

Two carloads of sheep were shipped by J. E. Parsons on Monday. Mr. Parsons and W. R. Gillin have been in Montreal this week on business incidental to their stock trade.

Last Sunday Prof. Fox and four members of the band furnished instrumental music for the Catholic congregation at Newburg. It was very nice and created a good effect.

Handy F. Nevers brought the ADVERTISER a fine basket of apples, some well known varieties of grafted fruit and other extraordinary native apples—the best we have ever seen.

The Band boys' carnival in the Rink on Thursday evening was fairly well attended, and while not as successful as on previous occasions, everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. The prize winners were Misses Eva Campbell and Maud Kibmall for the ladies, while Misses Elgin Bradley and Millie Nevers received honorable mention, as did Prof. Fox, as the "Ulsterman." Geo. Grey of Presque Isle, "Brayley" of St. John and the TIZER man acted as judges.

John T. G. Carr and Col. Vince addressed a plebiscite meeting at Glassville the other night. On their return the following morning their carriage collided with another, with the result that both gentlemen were precipitated into the ditch. Mr. Carr received a severe contusion near the right eye, and the carriage was somewhat injured. The colonel escaped unharmed.

H. P. Timmerman and party in his private car took a trip over this division this week. On Thursday the car passed down on Conductor Dow's train en route to Montreal.

John H. Watt of the Canada railway mail service, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Watt, Lily Glen, Kintore, Victoria Co. On Monday a number of friends met and enjoyed their annual picnic.

At the St. John Exhibition Miss A. May Grey, proprietor of the Ladies' Emporium of this village, won two first prizes in fancy work, the articles being an embroidered table cover and a bureau scarf. She also took a diploma.

Tomorrow after the Sunday schools close all the scholars will meet at the Methodist church where a temperance service will be held for them. Local speakers will address the meeting and there will be singing, etc.

On Plebiscite Day there will be a children's parade headed by the band. Banners will be flung to the breeze and a gala day, entirely different from any other election day will be enjoyed. The stores will close.

Mrs. Aaron Campbell is lying very ill, and her physicians hold out but slight hope of her recovery. The origin of the malady is an internal tumor. Drs. Estey and Rankin, the latter of Woodstock, are attending the case. On Wednesday these two physicians, together with Dr. Saunders of Woodstock, met in consultation over the case, and it was deemed most advisable to remove the patient to a Montreal hospital. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Campbell and her family, and despite the outlook, all her friends hope for a final and speedy recovery. Mr. Campbell is the gentleman who manages A. H. Sawyer's business here, and is a member of the firm of Richardson, Porter & Co.

Last Sunday evening Rev. D. B. Bailey delivered a sermon having a particular bearing upon Prohibition. He chose for his text the words "Whatever a man soweth that shall he also reap," and made many good points and logically reasoned the question.

Don't forget that the fall is the best time to paint. We have lots of the celebrated Sherwin-Williams paint to sell this fall as well as white lead and oil. Shaw & Dibblee.

C. S. Osgood, the jeweller, has rented a window in Chase's store on Main St. where he will permanently do business. He already has assured the people in this vicinity that he has ability to do watch, clock and jewelry repairing and engraving in a first class manner. So Hartland once again rejoices in the possession of a first class jeweller.

"Brayley," the lightening chalk artist, impersonator and lecturer, will give an entertainment in the Foresters' Hall on Monday evening. This is not the first time he has come before a Hartland audience and is certain of a good house. He is a red hot temperance man and during the past three months has been lecturing on prohibition, and on Monday evening will take this for his theme. His entertainment is highly moral, even though there are many laughs in it. He will give a number of illustrated songs: "the bowery tramp," a temperance impersonation, showing effects of alcohol; then the automatic trick goat will make the young folks laugh heartily. Brayley's experience in temperance is unique; he has been shot at and assaulted while returning from the lecture room. Foresters' Hall, Monday evening. Admission 20 and 10 cents.

Don't forget us when in need of plastering hair, lime or other building material. We keep a full line. Shaw & Dibblee.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

Emmerson and Tweedie Address a Large Audience on Wednesday Evening.

Dr. Curtis officiated as chairman of the Government meeting on Wednesday evening, and first called on C. L. Smith who spoke of the delegation. In a fairly reasonable manner he excused Mr. Emmerson's delay in coming to Hartland. Denounced the allegation that they were asked to meet the Opposition here. The Government party had never heard of such a thing. He did not speak to any great length but gave way to the Premier. However before concluding he said he had been told that Dibblee was the only man who had tried to get a Bridge. Fact was at the first session Dibblee never said a word about it. As for himself he (Smith) had tried his best without ceasing, and he was glad the result was as satisfactorily received.

It was Mr. Emmerson's first speech to a public meeting in Carleton Co. outside of Woodstock. In vigorous terms he repudiated the charge of the Opposition that the Government party dared not meet them. He was sure he would not fear to meet Dr. Stockton, and any one who knows the Provincial Secretary, knows, like the people of his section, he would rather fight than eat. Certainly he would not fear Hazen who knows a little of everything but Provincial politics.

"With regard to our visit to Hartland I can say it is on purely departmental business. I knew nothing of the Opposition meeting until opening day at the Provincial Exhibition. I have met Dr. Stockton time and again on the floors of the house and did not fear him. If he is a great man people will certainly find it out without his blowing his own horn."

With reference to his (Emmerson's) forming the government he said it was done not without a full knowledge of the responsibility entailed. Of their policy attention to agriculture was one of the chief planks. Over $1,500,000 is paid annually for flour imported into the province. "Is not this a severe drain?" He believed every farmer who could should grow sufficient wheat for his own use and if he could supply his neighbor whose land was not adapted so much the better. "I believe this is in the interest of the people!" (Hear! Hear!)

"Dr. Stockton said I opposed the further growing of mixed crops. It is not so. I do not expect New Brunswick to compete with the west in raising grain for market." He argued the drain on the farmers' pockets should be stopped. Through all the wheat legislation the opposition threw themselves against it, banding themselves with those of little faith. The speaker cited how at the first of the season the wheat looked so prosperous that the countenance of the opposition fell, but when the rust came, they gloated over it. "Emmerson and Tweedie did it." The quality of our wheat is unexcelled. At the St. John exhibition Senator Poirrier's flour, ground in a bonused mill, was placed side by side with No. 40. Manitoba patent, and was seen to be the best. Because of the failure in this year's wheat, the opposition has sung peons of delight. But they must adopt patriotism and pride for their province or get left.

With regard to the Moncton convention, the Premier desired to say that because the local government was not wholesouled conservative it need not be denounced. Himself he was a Liberal, but believed provincial and federal politics should not be complicated. Any provincial affair was paramount to those of Ottawa.

He spoke of Dibblee's overturn and of Dr. Stockton's stand in federal politics. Stockton said no longer ago than last winter that he was as much a Liberal as ever. The opposition speakers claimed the conservative had taken them up. Fact was they were as the Wandering Jew. With regard to the disputed accounts it was found that the over charge amounted to only $22.45 which in an account of $1500 didn't cut much ice. Fact was Dibblee was responsible for the purchase of one road machine for $250 and three for $200 when they were bought by the government for $185 each. With regard to the steel bridge boodling charge the Premier said he patronized local manufacturers for the purpose of encouraging home industries. New Brunswick bridges are famous all over Canada and throughout the States for their substantial character. Every dollar expended has been put to good use. He spoke of the government agriculture policy and said they were spending $25,000 by issuing new bonds to enable them to take up old ones that bore higher interest. Concluding Mr. Emmerson asked what kind of a policy had the Opposition thrown out?

On Loving Care.

The Chautauqua Assembly Herald relates the following amusing incident:

Miss Burton was trying to develop the idea of loving care in her Sunday school class. To illustrate the idea she asked 'What does mother do for grandma?' 'Makes her work,' shouted a youngster. The visitors were convulsed, but Miss Burton rose to the occasion and pointed a moral to adorn the tale.

Clean Eggs.

Nice clean eggs always find ready sale. If they are dirty, they should be washed with warm water. A Southern exchange says that if this does not take off all the stains cider vinegar will. It will pay to try this if you have a nice lot of fresh eggs that by accident or otherwise have become stained, for a dirty egg is distasteful, even if the egg is alright inside. The sight of it outside is obnoxious to the delicacy of one's taste.—Massachusetts Ploughman

Anecdote of Aldrich.

A very clever anecdote is told of Thomas Bailey Aldrich. One day the distinguished author happened to saunter into an auction room while a sale of rare editions, old manuscripts and autographs was going on. The auctioneer, holding in his hands a bundle of letters said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I have here two autographs which were written by a man named Thomas Bailey Aldrich. I shall now start them for you at the price of two for 5 cents." No bids were made, and they were sold for that sum.

Mr. Aldrich, in speaking of the incident afterward to a friend, said, "I wouldn't have cared at all if they had gone for 5 cents each, but 'two for 5, reminded me very forcibly of little apples.'"—Philadelphia Post.

The Proper Definition.

An acquaintance meeting an Irishman carrying a small box, and asked him what it contained.

"Sure, and it's full of nothing," replied the son of Erin.

"Nothing! And what does nothing look like, pray?"

"Faith, an' if ye'll shut your eyes ye'll be after seeing it immediately."

Christmas cards first came into fashion in 1846.

SUCCESSFUL MEN

MANY OF THEM ARE HANDICAPPED WITH CATARRHAL DISEASES.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THEIR AID.

Success in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from catarrh; sometimes from catarrh of the stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from catarrh somewhere, and catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box, blower free.

His Definition.

"What is a flirt?" asked the small boy.

"A flirt," replied the old bachelor, "is a pretty woman."

"But what kind of a pretty woman?" persisted the small boy.

"Any kind of a pretty woman," answered the old bachelor.

"Well, how pretty must she be?" the youngster insisted.

"On pretty enough to have a chance to flirt!" returned the old bachelor irritably.

And still the boy was not satisfied, but as he grows older he will understand it better

Signs of a Good Cow.

One or two signs will denote a good cow, Prof. Heacker says, as well as twenty; in a poor cow the thigh runs down straight, so there is no space between the udder and the tail. One of the best ways to tell what kind of a cow you have is her temperament. A good cow has a large wedge-shaped stomach, for she must have a large and powerful digestive system to use up her food quickly and make the best returns for it.

Pain in the Back.

Being troubled off and on with pains in my back, caused by constipation, I tried several kinds of pills I had seen advertised, and to put the truth in a nutshell, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the only liver pills that have proved effectual in my case. I can heartily recommend them.
