AN APPEAL TO LIBERALS

An appeal to the Liberals of New Brunswick, signed by Hon. H. R. Emmerson, M. P., Frank B. Carvell, M. P., and O. Turgeon, M. P. is published in this morning's Telegraph...

Contrast to the Conservative plan, the Liberal leaders are appealing to the electors at large for a popular subscription to be used to defray the legitimate expenses of organization and preparation for the coming contest...

THE HOSPITAL

A question of high importance and of interest to every one in the community has arisen in connection with the General Public Hospital. The municipality is ready to spend $100,000 in enlarging and improving this institution...

So far as The Telegraph can learn from some of those familiar with the situation, and who have given it years of study, the position is substantially this: All are agreed that St. John's hospital accommodations are way below the requirements...

THE TREND TOWARD FREE TRADE

From the calm and philosophic attitude of the professional chair, Mr. William Howard Tait, ex-President, discusses the country's free trade. "If we are to have Free Trade, let's have it," he said. "Let the party that favors it vote for it. Let's try it."

of the big navy contractors by which these firms arranged between themselves the prices to be asked for contract work and for naval purposes. The firm that receives the contract must surrender ten per cent, not of the profits, but of the amount of the bill, and this is divided up between the other concerns that have tendered. It is evident that to enable a firm to pay ten per cent of the amount of the contract night away, a price must have been extorted much above the real value of the work executed or of the produce delivered.

The monster must eat, and if his mouth has to come by indulging foolish politicians to talk "emergency," then he will supply the material that will prevent them from checking the end-of-war reflection. The Krupp crowd cast a lurid light upon the "patriotic" rubbish with which, in all countries, the people are betrayed and deceived.

When Mr. Bryce used the word "America" it is very probable that he had in mind the northern part of the continent as well as the nation in which he was speaking. At any rate his words are equally true of Canada. It is in a very real sense the land of hope, and if a man is inclined to be pessimistic or dependent upon the present which is quite too much under the influence and direction of pusillanimous and feeble politicians, he has only to look back over the clouds which have the past have darkened the sky and which have vanished away. No one seriously regrets that the day of that class of politician does in all ways draw to its close, because the ultimate injury that they can inflict is beyond estimate.

It is fortunate that the scene of Saturday morning occurred. The association of Mr. Borden and Mr. Blondin on this historic occasion will enable the country at large to decide from the facts before it how much humbug there was in the last campaign when Mr. Borden and a certain group of Conservatives were shouting patriotism and attempting to save the Empire from the terrible Liberals, and while Mr. Blondin and his associates, Mr. Borden's allies, were talking about shooting holes through the British flag in order to breathe the air of liberty. After the violent oratory of the campaign was over, the country discovered that Mr. Borden regarded Mr. Blondin as a man whom he was delighted to honor. Mr. Blondin, together with Messrs. Pelletier and Nault, did not follow the honorable example of Mr. Monk. They have stuck to the ship, believing it safer to take their chances by remaining in office rather than by resigning and giving their constituents an opportunity to pass upon their conduct. This opportunity will come later.

Under his own interpretation of the rules, and with the assistance of Messrs. Blomdin and Sproule, Mr. Borden is attempting to give Canada irresponsible cabinet government instead of government by the representatives of the people in Parliament. "The situation is one which the public cannot well fail to understand thoroughly. Mr. Borden was pledged to consult the country before committing Canada to any permanent naval policy. As he desired to avoid going to the country, he devised his "emergency" plan. It was soon proved beyond question that no emergency existed, and from that time forward the Conservatives had little to say about emergency, and it gradually became clear that the present proposal to give $35,000,000 to the Admiralty is likely to be the first of a series of contributions from Canada, unless the Liberals have the support of the country in checking Mr. Borden's reactionary procedure. Mr. Borden is attempting to lead Canada back into the days of Downing street domination. The Liberals have no idea of permitting him to do so, and they believe, confidently, that the country will assist them in putting an effective check upon the present Prime Minister's activities. Sir Wilfrid and his followers have done great service by holding up the naval bill until the country could examine every aspect of it in the light of the evidence brought out in the House of Commons. It now seems impossible that the country can be deceived. It is usually born of politics. The people at large are more truly patriotic than the politicians who "appear" to them. The people do all the fighting when the fighting time comes. No man ought to be allowed to advocate war or to fan the war spirit unless he is able, and ready, to prove his sincerity and unselfishness by going into the first battle fought after his public pronouncement upon the issue leading up to the fighting. The influence of the churches, it is becoming evident, will make for peace more powerfully in future than has been the case in the past. The world waxes a king's ransom every day in preparing against wars that may never come, and the money and labor thus diverted from useful channels are provided by a world of workers already heavily burdened and restless under the load.

The Krupp crowd cast a lurid light upon the "patriotic" rubbish with which, in all countries, the people are betrayed and deceived. One result of the disclosure may be that the nations will decide to manufacture armor plate, ships, and guns exclusively in their own yards and arsenals. These exposures come at a good time for Canada. "Emergency" arguments are of little value just now.

When Mr. Bryce used the word "America" it is very probable that he had in mind the northern part of the continent as well as the nation in which he was speaking. NOTE AND COMMENT

President Taft said the other day that "sluggishness" was the leading characteristic of the American people. To which the New York Evening Post rejoined that last November "sluggishness" was the nation's diagnosis in the case of Mr. Taft.

THE LAND OF HOPE.

No country ever has had a more intelligent observer representing it than James Bryce who has just completed his leave taking at Washington. In the speech in which he reviewed his six eventful years as ambassador he spoke of the United States as the land of hope. He said: "There is a large proportion of men now in your cities who are resolved to secure good government by working for it. There is a more settled purpose to root out abuses and improve the lot of those who need help and protection than there ever was before. There is a higher conception of the duty which the rich owe to the poor, and which we all owe to secure just and upright administration. We are all apt, when our own ideals are rising to be more dissatisfied with the contrast between ideals and practice. But this affords no reason for despondency. Let whoever begins to despond, look back and see how much worse things were in previous epochs in your history than they are now. There have been many times in the United States when your sky was darkened by clouds, and many times the clouds have vanished away. No country has shown greater power of overcoming difficulties and escaping from danger than America has done. We in British shall watch from afar your onward march with the warmest sympathy and the confident hope that you will show to all mankind the example, not only of a nation of always growing prosperity, but also of a constant progress towards those noble ideals which fired the imagination of the founders of your Republic, and have made Europe look to America as the land of hope."

When Mr. Bryce used the word "America" it is very probable that he had in mind the northern part of the continent as well as the nation in which he was speaking. PUGSL HAZ

In Returning De Golden Op Blow-Th Keep Faith and the N (From Hapsard, M. Hon. Mr. Pugslay-I just another word or two in statement of my own friends (Hapsard), that in some way seeking to do him an injury...)

When the value of the late Joseph Pulitzer was being probated in New York the other day, the value of the estate was fixed at $18,525,116. In connection with the proceedings it became necessary to estimate the value of Mr. Pulitzer to the New York World and to his estate generally. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, said that Mr. Pulitzer's services were worth $100,000,000 a year, and Mr. Arthur Brisbane placed the figure at $150,000,000 or $200,000,000.

The death of Mr. Arthur P. Hazen, following close upon the death of his wife, is a melancholy event which causes regret in this community, and wherever Mr. Hazen was known. He had gained a position of importance in the banking world, and every one who recognized his ability believed that he was destined to rise much higher in his calling. The occurrence comes as a shock to the whole city, and in their season of grief the surviving relatives will have the heartfelt sympathy of a great circle of friends.

Mr. Frank Carvell, M.P., has been pointing out in the House of Commons that recently in Quebec members of the Conservative-Nationalist alliance have been telling the people that the proposed Borden naval contribution was "for moral effect only," that it was intended to "satisfy all possible opinions," and that it was "a measure which binds us to nothing definite." "Thus we see," says Mr. Carvell, "what a fearful humbug has been perpetrated on the people of Canada from start to finish." Mr. Borden selected a leading Orangeman as Speaker of the House, and a leading Nationalist, Mr. Blondin, as Deputy-Speaker. Then he altered the rules of procedure without consulting the House of Commons at all. Mr. Borden and his lieutenants have one policy for Quebec and another for Ontario, as they had in the last Federal elections. But the Canadian people have learned a great deal about the Borden brand of politics since Mr. Borden got into power under false pretences.

Mr. Borden's deputy speaker, Mr. Blondin the Nationalist, did his perfect work in the House of Commons in the early hours of Saturday morning. This is the Mr. Blondin whose inflammatory speeches in Quebec in denunciation of Great Britain were a characteristic feature of the Nationalist-Conservative campaign there in 1911. That is to say, Mr. Blondin was carrying on that portion of Mr. Borden's campaign which appealed to the French in Quebec, while Dr. Sproule and others were attacking the other part of Mr. Borden's campaign, intended to appeal to English-speaking Protestants in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces.

It is fortunate that the scene of Saturday morning occurred. The association of Mr. Borden and Mr. Blondin on this historic occasion will enable the country at large to decide from the facts before it how much humbug there was in the last campaign when Mr. Borden and a certain group of Conservatives were shouting patriotism and attempting to save the Empire from the terrible Liberals, and while Mr. Blondin and his associates, Mr. Borden's allies, were talking about shooting holes through the British flag in order to breathe the air of liberty. TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

Efficient organization is the keystone of success in business or politics. The recognition of this fact and the request for their supporters to join in sharing the necessary expense brought success to the Democratic leaders and their party in the United States Presidential elections last year.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

The Liberals of New Brunswick are in need of more thorough organization, of committee work, and wider distribution of party literature, for which purposes a considerable sum of money will be required.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

The Liberals are today fighting in the House of Commons for free speech and the people's liberties. We do not know how soon they may be called upon to struggle for their rights at the polls.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

In asking the financial assistance of Liberals for that purpose we are inviting every member of the party to co-operate and stand shoulder to shoulder with us in this memorable struggle.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

Subscriptions for any amount from one dollar and upwards will be received by those in the different polling districts in the parishes who are authorized to do so, as well as by the County Treasurers, who will forward all amounts they receive directly, as well as those from parish collectors, to the Provincial Treasurer who will acknowledge the same.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

The funds collected will be expended under the direction of the undersigned Provincial Committee representing the Liberal members from New Brunswick in the House of Commons, and subject to the audit of Henry E. Hill, of St. Stephen.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

The treasurer for St. John county will be John Lee, of Simonds, and for St. John city Frank V. Hamm, secretary of the Liberal Association. The other county treasurers will be announced in a few days.

Nine Delegates to Be Chosen from the Members to the International Congress of Women at Rome

Ottawa, May 7, 1913.—The final stage of the twentieth annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada was reached this morning.

A communication from the secretary of the Centennial Committee asked the co-operation of the National Council in making the celebration of the centennial of the Confederation of Canada, 1867-1917, a success.

The subject of mothers' pensions having been referred to a special committee for a report next year, the president named the following women as a committee: Mrs. Hueston, Toronto; Mrs. Shout, Ottawa; Mrs. Walker Lyman, Montreal.

The appointment of a convener for the new committee on professions for women was left over until the autumn meeting of the executive, the members submitting nominations in the meantime.

Delegates to International Council. Mrs. Forrester, president of the national council, is an official delegate to the quinquennial meeting of the international council at Rome next year.

T.M.'S SAT LOVE FEAST

Sir Robt. Perks, M.P., the Host F. B. Carvell and R. B. Bennett Present

"Props" of the Church Listen to Englishman's Appeal for More Interest in the Work of the Denomination, Especially in Regard to Immigrants of that Persuasion.

Ottawa, May 9.—Sir Robert W. Perks, the well known contractor, of London (Eng.), and one of the leaders of Methodism in England, gave a luncheon today of "love feast" as it was humorously termed by some of the guests...

Too Busy Getting Rich. Sir Robert Perks suggested that more consideration be shown to Methodist immigrants from the old country on their arrival in Canada...

Among the guests present were: Sir MacKenzie Bowell, Hon. T. S. Sprout, Hon. Sam Hughes, Hon. T. W. Brotherton, Senator Daniel, R. B. Carvell, R. J. Ball, R. B. Bennett, (Carter), Richard Blain, A. Broder, W. A. Buchanan, W. M. German, B. J. Law, Samuel Sharpe, W. W. Sharpe, W. W. Wright, and a number of local pastors and laymen.

"I hope there will be a closer federation on the part of Methodists in Canada in regard to the tide of immigration pouring into the Dominion," said Sir Robert, in opening his remarks.

"I am told that no less than 10,000 Methodists landed at Canadian ports last year. Many of these young people come out here not knowing where they are going, and consequently are in the hands of the seductive agents that are on the lookout for immigrants without friends."

"I came to this country in 1833 and I said to the privilege to live for a few months longer I shall be ninety years old and I think I am a fair specimen of what the Canadian climate will do for a young man if he will live the right life."

"Outside Props" of the Church. Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes humorously remarked that he had no idea there were so many Christians in the house of commons who might be regarded as props of the church, even if they were bowlers.

"I sometimes think of the lines of one of the old Methodist hymns," he said, and he looked smilingly at Dr. Clark. "We might accept the philosophy of two lines in one of these hymns which reads: 'Let love be in all your actions, and all your words be mild.'"

SAYS SCOTT AND PARTY DIDN'T DIE OF STARVATION. One of the Men Who Found the Bodies Declares They Succumbed to Exhaustion.

Winnipeg, May 8.—Exhaustion and not starvation was the cause of the death of Capt. Scott and the men who died with him on their way back from the South Pole, according to Lieut. Grant, a member of the supporting party which found the bodies. Lieut. Grant stopped off in this city for a few hours on his way to London.

"The end of the party apparently was peaceful," declared Grant. "When we came up to the tent in which the bodies lay something seemed to tell us that the end had come. The men were lying on their backs, and their faces were as white as paper. They were all dead."

The Methodist Church

Bishop W. F. McDowell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, spoke at the opening of the "World in Chicago," last week.

Rev. W. S. Jones, who for the past four months has been applying the Methodist Episcopal church at Conway (N. H.), in 83 years old, has been preaching for sixty-five years, and has been in the Maine conference fifty years. He attended the recent conference in South Paris (Me.), it being his first time he has been present.

Within the bounds of New York city there are six prosperous German Methodist Episcopal churches, and within the city of Brooklyn seven more.

Rev. Dr. Allen A. Stockdale gave one of his brilliant and able addresses on the Optimism of a Preacher last week before the Boston Preachers' Meeting. The only hope, he said, for the salvation of the world is with the preacher of optimism.

A recent number of the Edmonton Journal reports that the plans have been prepared and every detail is now in readiness for the erection of a new addition to the McDougall Methodist church, to cost about $50,000. These plans call for a new Sunday school building, with all accessories to a modern institutional church.

On Sunday, April 13, another new Methodist church was opened in the city of Edmonton to be known as the Beacon Heights church. The Rev. A. Lewis, B. A., chairman of the Methodist City Mission and Extension Board, conducted the opening service and preached an appropriate sermon from the subject, "The First Miracle of Jesus." In the afternoon a Sunday School was organized, with an address of instruction by Sunday, and the prospects for a healthy cause in that district are very bright.

The town's interest in this matter, which was not the case. It developed, however, that no written agreement existed as to the conditions on which the town gave the bonus of $5,000. It is understood that parties who wished to expand the business want the lien released, and there is a disposition to do this, in view of the increased business that would follow the organization of the concern, but it may take legislation to bring this about.

The basketball season opens Monday with a game between two teams of the town league. The games in this league will be keenly contested as much rivalry exists among the thirty new uniforms have been ordered and will be worn for the first time in the games of May 24.

Woodstock Council Said to Be Willing to Relieve Packing Plant to Help Reorganize.

Woodstock, N. B., May 11.—According to reports, the buildings in the spotting park are to be removed at an early date and citizens are curious as to the object. The park and buildings were bought some months ago by parties closely identified with the St. John & Quebec Valley Railway, presumably in connection with the establishment of a divisional point here. Officials of the company are expected here next week when some announcement will probably be made.

One of the councillors stated at Friday's meeting of the council that the town had a lien on the property of the Imperial Packing Company which had ten years longer to run. The lien was given in 1903 for twenty years. A statement in the papers would convey the impression that the council of that date was negligent of for the mill for the first few years, but he did not think it would long be missed.

The St. John Railway Company is planning the erection of another large warehouse in Wentworth street, adjoining and duplicating the new barns recently built there. To connect with the new shed it would be necessary to lay four more turnouts from the barns to the street track, and permission to do so was asked in a communication submitted to the commissioners yesterday morning. Commissioner Agar was authorized to arrange for a conference with representatives of the company on the matter.

Joseph A. Lively had plans drawn by H. C. Mott, architect, for a large two-story wooden warehouse, 75 by 100 feet, on his property, Marsh road. The property is to be rented to the International Harvester Company for storing their reserve stock.

Tenders for paving the north side of King Square and Sydney street were opened by the city commissioners yesterday morning. The lowest bid was made by an engineer to report on the most satisfactory today.

C. A. Morrison, who recently sold his dairy farm on the Manawagash road to W. U. Homrby, has purchased from Garnet C. Coburn, real-estate in Lancaster avenue, Lancaster Heights. The property includes a freestone lot 50 by 100 feet and a two and a half story wooden self-contained dwelling, built about four years ago.

The new post office which is to be built at Hampton and which tenders have been called for by a handsome structure which will be a credit to the community. The plans have been drawn by H. H. Mott, architect, of this city and the work of construction will be carried on under his supervision.

BUDGET SPEECH TAKE OF PROGRESS

(Continued from page 1.) Age of increase in imports was greater than of exports as ascribed by the minister to national expenditure upon capital account and partly owing to the increased demands of the home market for the products of mixed farming especially that class described as animal products.

Mr. White said that the West Indian trade agreement, in other words the West Indian representatives were very desirous of getting an exclusive preferential market in Canada and consequently that was abolished. The British preferential tariff is eight cents intermediate, 11 cents, and general, that we would be justified in reducing the tariff to British preferential, seven cents, the rate for the intermediate... The minister then dealt with the question of immigration and attributed the steady progress of Canada in an important measure to the tide of immigration from abroad from Great Britain, Ireland and the United States...

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hazen were much surprised at the city, and when it was learned that it was likely Mr. Hazen's illness would have a fatal termination, there were many sincere expressions of sympathy for the little children who were thus left fatherless and motherless. Mr. Hazen was a keen clubman, a member of the various clubs of the city, and a little time before he left for Montreal he was elected president of the Union Club of this city.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hazen were much surprised at the city, and when it was learned that it was likely Mr. Hazen's illness would have a fatal termination, there were many sincere expressions of sympathy for the little children who were thus left fatherless and motherless. THE HALIFAX SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

The forty-second annual report of the board of managers and superintendent of the Halifax School for the Blind, which has just been received, shows that 139 pupils are in attendance, 60 being males and 79 females. The report particularly dwells upon the financial condition of the school and the accounts for the year just closed show a deficit of more than $2,000. It is suggested that the legislatures of the provinces give this matter consideration...

CEMENT DUTIES

Continuing the Hon. Mr. White said during last afternoon account of short-ages of cement, particularly in Western Canada a temporary reduction of duty on cement was made. It was possible to make a reduction in the duty on cement without injuring existing industries. The duty on cement is presently 43.4 cents. The cost of production is 28 cents per hundred pounds. A barrel of cement weighs 112 pounds, therefore the duty on a barrel of cement would be 48.4 cents. The cost of production is 28 cents per hundred pounds...

HARD WORK TO MAKE MAINE "DRY"

(Continued from page 1.) In this manner from Boston and he says that the dealers there are willing to furnish the autos, drivers and take the risks. If this is true, it is possible that within the next few weeks machines will be regularly employed in the business, and there is no reason why their activities will not extend as far as Bangor. In Androscoggin county, where former U.S. Deputy Marshal Fred E. Stevens now holds sway, the deputies seem to be confining their efforts largely to get a raise. They say they think that a state law was passed in 1910 which reduced the amount of a deputy's salary as a court officer, which is $3 a day. Heretofore the deputies have received $2. The matter is to be sent to the Supreme Court for a decision. If allowed there will be a mad scramble for back pay.

In Cumberland county Everett G. Souther, who has replaced Sheriff Moulton, has his own cut out for him. Portland under strict enforcement has gone back to kitchen barrooms and "hides." Old hiding places for the ardent, unused for years, are being brought back into use. In Portland the automobile will play a particularly important part in the battle between the enforcement and the liquor elements. The deputies will do their work from machines, enabling them to get about quickly and cover a lot of territory in a short time and, on the other hand, the dealers have automobiles as well for the traffic in liquor in Maine is a profitable undertaking under open conditions. They will employ them in bringing in and distributing the ardent.

Four Boats Carrying Liquor. The power boat will also figure in the game in Portland and along the southern western coast of Maine. It is not a long run from Boston to the Maine coast, and there are plenty of places where a load of liquor can be stashed away from the prying eyes of the deputies. The automobiles can take it to its destination, and the trick is done. There is many Mr. White who are wondering what effect Gov. Haines' new policy of enforcement will have on the campaign next year, when the present government will resign and the Republican party for the Republican party. There are many who believe that his attitude will spell the political death, while others claim that the increased prestige that it will give him for the Republican party will be a political element, which is strong in the State of Maine, will save him. It is apparent, however, that he cannot look to the cities of Maine for support.
