BREEZY NOTES FROM TOWN OF DALHOUSIE

Hon. Chas. MacCall and Mr. F. Bujad are Addressing Meetings in Bonaventure Co.

Dalhousie, N. B., Aug. 4th.—People coming here from Bonaventure Co. report that Hon. Charles MacCall, M. P. and Mr. Fabien Bujad, M. L. A., have been holding a series of political meetings in the parish of Nouvelle. Mr. Geo. Frenette, a native of Petit Rocher, N. B., who is now a prosperous merchant at St. John Evangeliste, and Mayor of the township was elected chairman. In a few well chosen words he introduced the speakers. Both members received a splendid hearing. Their references to the war when they spoke about the Union Jack and the Tricolor floating side by side on the battle field of Europe, and being defended by the brave sons of the Empire, including many of our Canadian boys, filled the large audience with great enthusiasm. Both members with eloquence spoke hopefully of victory soon for England and her allies. Many leading Conservatives have attended the meetings held. It speaks well for the two members for Bonaventure Co. The people of both sides of politics in our neighbourhood are giving a fine example. They are showing their appreciation of honesty, broadmindedness and patriotism. By all accounts there will be no serious opposition to the present members when the elections are brought on.

Mr. Andrew Loggie, who has been several months absent on account of illness, has returned home from one of the Montreal Hospitals. Mr. Loggie's many friends welcome him back home and look forward to his recovery.

Mrs. Jelliet, Cross Point, P. Q., was a visitor to town last week and was the guest of the Misses Stewart at "Glen Cottage."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Doyle and family came here on a visit to St. Anne, P. Q. Having resided in Dalhousie in the past they always receive a hearty welcome.

Miss Audrey Troy, who has been attending college at St. John's, P. E. I., is home to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Troy. Mr. Andrew Barberie, who has been kept in his room for several days through illness is much improved.

Miss Stella B. Poier and her friend Miss Petre of Bonaventure, arrived here yesterday and left at once for Salmon Lake, Q. to visit friends. On their return they intend spending a few days in Dalhousie, the guests of the Misses Allain and the Misses Samson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. R. Cragg and family enjoyed a very pleasant trip on Saturday, motoring to Paspébe. On Sunday they returned to Carleton. On Monday morning they arrived here early after returning via Campbellton.

Miss Annie McIntyre of Campbellton, who has been spending sometime the guest of her uncle Mr. John Giroux, at Charlo Station, was a visitor to Dalhousie this week and took in the Bazaar. From here she will go to visit friends on the Quebec side. Her many friends are glad to see her so much improved in health.

Miss Barthe, Campbellton, was in town on Tuesday visiting at her old home.

Miss Mary McLean and Miss P. G. Stevens, Campbellton are visiting the Misses Allain this week.

Miss Blanche Ayotte, Athol, is in town and is taking in the Bazaar. Miss Ayotte has three brothers who expect to go to the front. She resided in Dalhousie in the past.

To-day, August 4th, exactly one year since England declared war against Germany is being celebrated in many cities and towns. Dalhousie, for its size and conditions has probably furnished more young men, natives of the place for the war than any other town in Canada; yet there is little effort made towards celebration. Some of our citizens have decorated their homes.

The event of the week here is the St. C. Bazaar which is being held in the large new rink. The building is a perfect one for any public function and the many folks who have patronized the affair speak highly of the nice manner in which everything is conducted.

Mr. Charles Brown, Edmundston, P. Q. was in town last week. His many friends were glad to see him so much improved after his recent illness.

Mrs. Laureat Champoux and children of Upper Charlo, are visitors in town this week. They are the guests of Mrs. H. J. Guignard.

Miss Kelly, Fredericton, is visiting Miss Grace McEwen at Maguasha, P. Q. Both ladies have been the guests of Miss Eliza Wallace this week.

Mr. John Roy and family, who sold their property here a few months ago and went to Madison, Maine, will reside in Dalhousie in future. Mrs. Roy and children arrived this week.

Mr. Arthur Thompson and wife, who

ANNIVERSARY WAS OBSERVED WITH PROPER CEREMONY HERE

Wednesday, 4th August Was Observed in Campbellton in Fitting Manner. Prayer Service Held in Christ Church. Public Meeting in Opera House

H. A. POWELL WAS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Wednesday the fourth of August, the first anniversary of the declaration of war was fittingly observed in Campbellton. In the morning a service was held in Christ Church where special intercessory prayers were offered. In the evening at 7:15 a united prayer service was held in Christ Church, the Rev. J. E. Purdie, Rev. H. Miller, Rev. C. W. Squires and Rev. John Squires all taking part.

Later on in the evening a public demonstration was held in the Opera House, the spacious building being packed to the doors, many having to stand throughout the meeting, while a great number were turned away unable to stand all the time, owing to the great heat. Mr. H. A. Powell of St. John was the principal speaker at this gathering. His Worship Mayor Andrew presided and in a few words welcomed the public to this demonstration of our loyalty and patriotism, after which Mr. A. T. LeBlanc briefly addressed the audience in French. Quite a laugh was caused when in the course of his remarks Mr. LeBlanc uttered the words "Kaiser William", this being all the French that perhaps a few of the audience understood.

Mr. Powell was then called on and received a most gratifying reception. Speaking in a quiet conversational tone he early caught the attention of the vast audience and for nearly an hour kept their interest while he spoke on many phases of the war. Speaking as one with authority the learned gentleman gave many instances of things the general were in ignorance of. The whole trend of his remarks being on the theme of "Canadian Sacrifice."

Mr. Powell is no stranger to the people of Campbellton, but we doubt if ever he received such a flattering reception as he did last night. In his denunciation of the German Emperor when in the strongest language he ranked the Kaiser as a son of Hell, he carried his audience with him in a glorious peroration. His comparisons of Germany with other nations were apt and to the point, and his gift of subtle humor kept the interest going over a long period.

Mr. M. A. Kelly moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Powell and in a few graceful sentences thanked the speaker for keeping the one idea before us that of the "spirit of sacrifice." Dr. Murray seconded the resolution which was unanimously adopted.

Mr. A. T. LeBlanc then moved the following resolution:—That on this anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this meeting of the citizens of Campbellton records its inflexible determination to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of liberty and justice, which are the common and sacred causes of the allies.

This was seconded by Mr. F. E. Blackhall and unanimously adopted. His Worship then spoke a few words on the request for machine guns for the 55th Battalion. He made known the steps he had already taken with regard to this matter in sending out letters to the citizens, a copy of which had been given out to those attending this meeting. He reported that so far

WELL-KNOWN NEW CARLISLE MAN HERE

Mr. A. M. Caldwell, the genial proprietor of Caldwell's Hotel, New Carlisle, is in town this week, motoring to town with Mr. Wm. Guster on Wednesday. When seen by our representative today, Mr. Caldwell said his visit was purely a business one, but was making a few calls on some of his old friends. Speaking of conditions in New Carlisle, Mr. Caldwell said things were normal and the crops were looking very favorable. Early in June owing to the cold weather they seemed to have a set back, but now it looks as if the crops would show a good yield, although to the small side. The fishing to the east of New Carlisle has been very good, large catches having been the rule and the prices ruled fairly good, the market prices now dropping a bit. A great handicap to the fishermen in the early part of the season was the shortage of salt, but this had now been overcome, plenty of vessels coming in with cargoes.

Speaking of recruiting Mr. Caldwell said that in the counties of Bonaventure and Gaspé there was a big field

In addition to this amount the employees of the I. C. R. between Campbellton and St. Flavie had undertaken to raise money for one gun, as had also the employees of the Shives Lumber Co. He asked therefore that the public deal as liberally as possible with this machine gun fund. His Worship also made known to the meeting that Mr. A. McG. MacDonald had been appointed Recruiting Agent in this town by authority from Col. Rutherford and intended recruits could receive all information from him. A large choir furnished music during the evening and the Campbellton Band discoursed a number of selections outside the hall previous to the meeting.

These were accorded a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. W. A. True-man, seconded by E. A. LeGallais. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

In addition to the above recorded subscriptions we are informed that at a meeting of the employees of the McLennan Foundry and Machine Works held at noon to-day, it was unanimously agreed that each employee would contribute two days pay towards the purchase of a machine gun. This amount, with the contribution from the firm will amount to $200.

It is therefore highly probable that five guns will be sent from the county of Restigouche. Mayor Montgomery of Dalhousie, who was present on the platform at the meeting last night stated to the Graphic that Dalhousie would do their part all right, and although he could make no official statement on the matter, would endeavor to have the matter put in good shape in the shiretown. Charlo, Jacquet River and other towns in the county are taking a deep interest in this fund, and we feel certain that Restigouche will not be far behind the leaders in this movement.

for enlistment, and felt that at least there should be 1000 men got in these two counties. Under the present conditions he did not think a local representative would be suitable, but thought that a recruiting officer sending out literature ahead could spend a profitable week in the field of enlistment making his headquarters at New Carlisle.

Mr. Caldwell was glad to say that the threatened epidemic of diphtheria had been stamped out. Dr. DeWolfe had made the statement that the outbreak was now under control, the patients being treated with serum. In all three families were effected and there were two deaths from the disease.

NAME TO GO

The name "Intercolonial" is soon to pass from the list of Canadian railways. The line which is designated is being joined with numerous branch lines and with the eastern section of the National Transcontinental Railway. All these roads are coming under one management and it is deemed more convenient to have all under one name. "Canadian Government Railway" is the term that is now replacing the several other names. As new cars are being built and as old cars are being renewed, the new name is substituted for the old.

BOY SCOUTS HAVING MOST GLORIOUS TIME

Visitors Entertained by the Boys on Saturday at Their Camp at Charlo Falls

Through the kindness of Scoutmaster P. De La Perrelle and the officers and members of the patrol at present camping out at Charlo Falls, a party from Campbellton motored down on Saturday afternoon to the camp and were entertained to tea by the boys.

The camp is pitched in a lovely spot in the heart of the woods close to the falls and the boys are having a glorious time in a place of beauty and eminently suitable for them. Some of the lads however, could not do without being tied to their mothers apron strings, so had to go home to get over their sickness, but the twenty-eight who are now in the camp have the best of appetites and are having the time of their life. One or two of the boys enjoyed themselves too much at a picnic a few days previously and were sick for a couple of days, one of them having to go home, but the others are able to be jumping around once more. Everybody seems satisfied in the camp at the present time, and the few who went home the second day don't know what they have missed. So far they have been blessed with glorious warm weather, and not too many flies. They have the best of spring water to drink and plenty of good swimming pools all around, which are taken full advantage of, so that clothes are abbreviated as much as possible. To get into the water quickly the few things to take off the better.

There were rumours about town about the boys having to stand guard till midnight, but unless that they were guarding in their sleep, they were not out around, as all lights are out at nine thirty, and the last guard in at ten thirty. As for food, nobody has died of starvation so far, everyone has enough to eat and plenty of it, but we lack the strawberries and cream and a few luxuries to suit a few who have therefore gone home to enjoy them there. Arnold and Horace Jardine, A. LeBeuf, G. Graham and Walter Ferguson are learning to swim, and the other boys trying hard. When the party left on Saturday they were cheered to the echo by the boys, and as the car turned into the woods, was heard the faint far off cry, "Send us a Graphic"

THE TRAINING AND TREATMENT OF ARMIES

What Horatio Bottomley Says in Article "If I Were Kitchener"

(By Horatio Bottomley, Editor of "John Bull.")

Once upon a time, when a very young man I thought I could play billiards, and after witnessing a professional match in the saloon of the old Westminster Aquarium I remember asking one of the players to whom I spoke during the adjournment of the game to give me a short lesson. He placed the balls in various positions, and before I made each stroke—or missed it, as the case may be—I was questioned as to the position in which I proposed to leave them for the next and the succeeding shot. I gave my answers glibly and went about my work; and at the end of a quarter of an hour was highly flattered when the professional assured me that he did not think "there was much he could teach me," adding: "You know the game almost as well as I do." I need not say what pride I listened to this compliment, and I resolved to repeat it verbatim to the young man with whom I had an appointment for "100 up" later in the evening. Imagine my chagrin, however, when the expert of the cue immediately added: "The only difference is that you can't play it." Therefore, let it be clearly understood that if I now talk about what I would do if I were Kitchener, I mean what I think I ought to do—being perfectly confident that I couldn't do it.

With which preamble I approach the subject of my discourse.

To begin with, I should reflect that at the outbreak of the war, just as I was about to embark for Egypt, I was pulled back by the coat-tails and entrusted with the terrible responsibility of creating a new British Army—that is to say, of obtaining under our voluntary system, the necessary number of recruits—training them, equipping them, and providing them with the necessary munitions and accessories incidental to a foreign and protracted field campaign.

And when I should sit quietly down and look upon my handiwork. Ten became more than two million British soldiers—a million of whom are ready to take the field, or as ready as they can be under our present system of training and equipment, and another million of whom are preparing to back them up. And I should reflect with joy and pride upon the fact that pending the preparation of the first million the more than half I sent out in August last—France's "contemptible little Army"—had been instrumental in frustrating the march of the Germans upon Paris, and of giving them a foretaste of the revival of the martial spirit of our race. And then I think I should say to myself, "What is my next duty?"—and this is how I fancy I should answer the question.

First, I should endeavour to realize that all the old methods of training are obsolete, and that practically every book upon military strategy written prior to August last, is useless. I should admit freely to myself that the million splendid fellows now at, or en route to the front, have been trained upon the wrong basis; just as I would not disguise from myself the fact that all original calculations as to the quantity and character of munitions required had been more or less falsified by the devilish ingenuity of the Germans. I should make up my mind that the second million men should go out trained and equipped in such a manner as to place them upon equal terms in every respect with the enemy. And that being my determination, I should make a formal demand upon the government for at least twice as much in the way of munitions as General French asked for, and then for facilities for training the second million men in the light of the lessons already taught by the war.

I should take them down to low-lying parts of the country, where they would be taught trench work and trench life in all their reality—including draining, lighting, drilling and everything else. They should be made familiar with the use of dummy hand-grenades, machine guns, fortifying houses, and indeed with everything else likely to be required of them at the front. And all the young officers

TOOK THE ADVICE OF HIS FRIEND

Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism Relieved By "Fruit-a-lives"

MR. L. LABRIE

504 Champlain St., Montreal.

"I have been restored to health by taking 'Fruit-a-lives'. For two years, I was a miserable sufferer from Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. I became very weak, had frequent dizzy spells and when I took food, felt wretched and sleepy. I suffered from Rheumatism dreadfully, with pains in my back and joints and my hands swollen.

A friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives' and from the outset, they did me good. After I had started the second box, I felt I was getting well and I persevered in the treatment. I can truthfully say that 'Fruit-a-lives' is the only medicine that helped me.

LOUIS LABRIE.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" is the famous medicine made from fruit juices. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, retail size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

I should be put in touch with experienced sergeants, who should subsequently remain attached to them throughout the whole of the campaign.

I am not unmindful of the traditional prejudice which exists against the rank and file, but the new Army is a very exceptional thing, and I think I should put some of the forces under the command of existing non-commissioned and warrant officers of experience, giving the men so promoted a special rate of pay, sufficient to maintain them in their positions, with an adequate separation allowance for their dependents. Then I should promote experienced men from the Territorials to act as N.C.O.'s and form a Non-commissioned Officers' Training Corps, which would be open to the raw men now looking for commissions.

I would see that everything was done to make my new men contented, loyal and willing, and to prevent any of them from declaring—as many now do—that they are "fed up" before they leave England. To this end, I would annul the present stringent rule forbidding correspondence between regiment and War Office. I would invite one weekly letter from all men of each unit who had legitimate grievances to ventilate; and such complaints would be carefully considered and adjusted.

I would impress upon my Commanding and Company officers that they should study military law, and that they should not impose arbitrary, harsh and unconscionable sentences for trivial offences.

I would abolish the trussing of men and the chaining of them to trees or wagons or gun wheels when they are sentenced to field punishment. The degrading sight does not make for recruiting.

I would at any cost see that the dependents of my soldiers obtained their allowances promptly and fully, one day a week at the War Office. And I would not spend more than one day a week at the War Office—devoting the rest of my time to personally supervising training operations at the various camps.

Finally, I would take the second million men out myself and back up French and Joffre in one mighty onslaught upon the German trenches—using every fiendish device known to chemistry to give the enemy a taste of their own medicine, and stopping at nothing short of outrage upon the civilian population.

So much for what I would do, from the military standpoint. But I would not stop there.

I would call upon the First Sea Lord—never mind the civilian Lord—and ask him to sign with me a protest to the Government against any kind of political interference with the conduct of the war. I should point out that from now until the Germans are driven back to Berlin, and have admitted themselves beaten, it is a soldiers' and sailors' job, and that any discussion in Parliament, before the terms of peace come to be considered is mischievous and embarrassing. And I would respectfully suggest that until peace is declared the whole function of the Government, consists of providing the men, the money and the munitions called for by the Navy and the Army, of protecting the food supplies, and the property and the lives of the civil population. And I should demand that every German-born person in this country be either put under control or deported, and that every person who did anything calculated to encourage the enemy or to dissuade the British in this war, should be conducted forthwith to the Tower, tried by court-martial, and, if condemned, shot without ceremony.

TOBACCO IS MUCH NEEDED AT THE FRONT

Lt. Col. Morrison Views With Alarm Resolution to Stop Sending Tobacco

(Ottawa Free Press.)

Some of the gentlemen of the Toronto Methodist Conference who are so fearful that "the pure lips" of the Canadian soldier boys at the front will be sullied by smoking, might gain valuable information on the subject under their consideration if they paid a visit to the trenches. If they are afraid of contamination from such a vest they might at least seek information from those who are there. We should like to see them drop an inquiry to the army officers, asking for information as to the evil of smoking and the wisdom of placing an embargo on tobacco for the front.

The latest letter of Lieut. Colonel Morrison, D.S.O., while it might shock the sensibilities of conference members since it tells of chaplains smoking, should be read by them. Colonel Morrison has not found smoking injurious to the soldiers and neither have the brave chaplains who are doing soldiers' work where the bullets are thickest. The colonel "views with alarm" the resolution of the Conference advocating that tobacco should not be sent to the soldiers. Apparently he has not been informed of the reception that resolution received among the sensible people of Canada.

Some of Col. Morrison's references to the subject of soldiers' smoking are very enlightening. Speaking of the chaplains as "a fine lot of men" he says:

"They risk their lives in battle . . . and nearly all of them smoke. Tell it not to the Methodist Conference; but those who don't smoke carry cigarettes in their pockets for they know that in most cases when they come upon a wounded man gasping on a blood-dripping stretcher and that sallow grey tint on his face that comes from physical exhaustion, shock, and loss of blood, his first whisper will be: 'Oh, Chaplain, could you shove a cigar in my face?'"

The moral reformer who would take away the soldier's comfort very probably has experienced neither physical exhaustion such as Col. Morrison speaks about, nor the relief and solace to such exhaustion that such "a smoke" will bring. He is busying himself about something he knows nothing of. The ministers who have gone to the front as chaplains are among the most worthy of their profession, and they have seen the necessity to the soldier of smoking. Some of them have found it necessary to smoke themselves. And by doing so they have neither degenerated morally nor soiled their "pure lips."

Fortunately Col. Morrison need not worry. The people of Canada will not heed the request from the boys at the front, not the fears of the moral reforming busybodies. Incidentally Col. Morrison has seen that anything that affords relief from the exhaustion and shock of the trenches is of value, for he deprecates the thoughtless decision of the War Office in removing the dram of rum from the soldier's rations. The soldiers, he says, are suffering from the effect of the base accusation of drunkenness in many income months ago against British workmen.

NEW CARLISLE

Mrs. W. L. Kemper and family sincerely thank their friends for the many kindnesses and floral offerings tendered to them in their recent sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Astles and two daughters Lilian and Ruby, paid a visiting visit to Port Daniel on Saturday.

Why do I indulge in these random reveries? Because I believe they express the inspired voice of the Man in the Street, who has somehow or other got it into his head that Lord Kitchener is not having a free hand to finish this ghastly job in his own way. I believe the man—and he is a man—has been overworked and overwrought in welding together out of a huge mass of raw material, and without conscription, an army twice as big as any which ever fought in the Franco-Prussian war, and eight times as big as the force employed in either the Crimea or at Waterloo. It is a stupendous accomplishment, the grandeur of which is intensified by the almost unbroken silence of the wizard who has achieved it. But in my ignorance I do not think we shall ever get, or require to get, more than our present two million men to the front, for which opinion I may be permitted upon another occasion to give my reasons.

At the same time, we will go on recruiting, as one never knows what may happen in an upheaval of this kind—and in any case we shall want a large body of occupation in Berlin, and Vienna and at all the German and Austrian garrison towns and ports; pending the payment of the indemnity which the devilish Kaiser and the deluded Emperor will have to pay as the price of retaining such remnants of their empire as may be left to them by the Terms of Peace.

YOUNG LAD DROWNS

AT NEW BANDON

Lee Hodnett, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allister Hodnett of New Bandon lost his life on Saturday under very shocking circumstances. It appears that Mr. Hodnett was going out to his salmon net, and when he left the shore his two little boys were playing there. During his absence they went in for a bathe and one of the little fellows getting beyond his depth, the other attempted to save him. When the children's father returned, he was just in time to see the boys disappear for the last time. He quickly dived and bringing both to the surface, carried their senseless bodies ashore. With the help of friends whom he summoned, frantic efforts were made to resuscitate the children, and after some time these efforts were successful in the case of one of the boys, but in the case of Lee the spark of life had fled never to return.

He was an exceptionally bright little fellow and the deepest sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

GULLEIN SERVICE

For the past year the Graphic has maintained a Bulletin Service supplying two bulletins each day, which has cost the publishers so far $375. Of this sum the Graphic has been paid something in the vicinity of $110.00 by subscribers who put down their names to pay 10 cents per week for this service. The publishers of the Graphic would like to have the service continued, but at such a cost to them is an impossibility. The total liability of subscribers is $4.80 each and quite a number have paid sums on account of this, but a great many considered that the first dollar paid to this settled their whole liability. The Graphic is still quite willing to handle the bulletin if some one else takes in hand with the financial arrangements, but if they are to bear the loss of over $200, then the service must be discontinued as far as this journal is concerned.

INDIVIDUALS OF KINDNESS

Mrs. Florence Moberly, a trained nurse, faithfully attended Rev. Dr.
Batterson, and later was equally kind in nursing Mrs. Batterson. Now comes the reward of $400.00 which is left to her by the will of the clergyman's wife. Not every act of kindness has a spot each value of that extent, but it gets its pay, large or small, in some coin quite as good.
A modest railroad brakeman aided an elderly lady from a train, and she was so pleased by the kindness that she told her son about him. The son happened to be H. H. Rogers, the Standard Oil magnate, and the young railroader was lifted from one place to another until he became an important man in the business world. A street railway conductor in Philadelphia won a notable promotion and an increase of 200 per cent. in pay for kindness to an old gentleman who was powerful enough to help the poor man who had helped him. A Philadelphia bank president says that the courtesy of a minor employee brought to his bank a new depositor with $100,000.

RED CROSS MODESTY

One of the chief characteristics of the Red Cross Society is modesty. It shrinks from making its needs known to the public. It is the bearer of unpleasant news and is reluctant to cause pain by a frank revelation of the horrors of war which it is endeavoring to alleviate.

The public in return for this concession to its sensibilities, should meet the Red Cross half way. It should have imagination enough to comprehend the pain and suffering which constitute the stern reality behind all Red Cross appeals.

Nobody should need to be told that the Red Cross is in need of money and supplies. The perusal of the casualty lists in the newspapers should conjure up in the mind of every thinking man, a vivid picture of an immense need.

The price for foolish speech ought to go to the cheerful optimist who assures you that the Red Cross have more money and material than they know what to do with.

A shell which occupies ten seconds on its mission can cause destruction which it will take months to patch up let alone cure. The Red Cross with its slow curative processes is hopelessly outclassed in a competition with these rapid instruments of ruin.

The number of its workers is few compared with the millions of men in the field. It never can catch up. There is therefore no man more ridiculous than the man who will not give to the Red Cross because he thinks that the armies are not giving them enough work.

HEADACHE?

Thousands of persons who have never known a day's sickness in any other form are subject to frequent attacks of Headache that almost drive them mad.

Whatever the nature may be and the cause, the immediate condition that produces the pain is a congestion or filling up of the blood vessels of the brain with blood, thus causing a pressure on the brain cells and nerve filaments.

In treating all forms of Headache the first thing to do is to relieve the congestion of the blood vessels of the brain. Abbey's Effervescent Salt is laxative doses does this promptly.
Sold everywhere at 25c. and 60c.

Full blooded people who are subject to frequent attacks of Headache can be entirely relieved by taking laxative doses of the Salt every morning.
Headaches from "Indigestion" and Biliousness are also entirely banished by continuing the use of the Salt until the normal action of the liver and stomach is restored.

BEAUTY SPOTS IN BONAVENTURE CO.

East or West—Homes Best—From Sketch of New Carlisle
By Mr. J. T. Hawke.

Mr. J. T. Hawke, the popular proprietor and Editor of the Moncton Transcript has just returned from a visit down the Gaspé coast. As a result of his trip Mr. Hawke has delighted the readers of the Transcript with some splendid articles on the beauties of the North Shore and of Bonaventure and Gaspé Counties. From one of his articles the following excerpt is taken.

The Eastern boy is sometimes lonely in the far West. The writer one Sunday afternoon was walking in the outskirts of Edmonton, Alta., when he entered into casual conversation with a sturdy looking young man. It only required a few utterances from the stranger for the writer to notice that he came from "Down East." Incidentally he remarked to the young man, "You don't belong here. Where do you come from?" The young fellow replied "Did you ever hear of a place called New Carlisle?" The reply instantly came that the writer had, and he gave its location and other information. The young fellow instantly was delighted, and though not over proficient in the English language, nevertheless persisted in talking about his eastern home. He had come from New Carlisle and consequently had been employed in Dalhousie, and he wished to know all about the life at Campbellton and whether the town was being rebuilt and whether New Carlisle was growing. Other travelers say that this is a common experience. The Eastern man out West is always an Easterner. His old home is his home.
There is no place it. Possibly after all this is an excellent trait, but then New Carlisle is worthy being proud of.

It is the county seat. It has an academy school. It has a court house and also a jail. It contains the shops and offices of two railway companies.
When Mr. C. R. Scoles, manager of these two companies, took hold of the one company, which formerly existed, there were only two or three locomotives in connection with the road.
Now, they cannot be counted upon the digits of two hands. The road is rapidly increasing its rolling stock. It is purchasing cars, which are suitable for the existing two railways here, but which are being discarded by a very large railway company in Pennsylvania.
I saw a body of men from the machine shops at New Carlisle dismantling some portions of newly purchased iron cars, adapting them for use upon these roads. The incident showed that the road was not standing still. In fact it is very easy to say that, when it may be recalled that within a few years past the former road, under another name, has been practically extended over a hundred miles in length from New Carlisle to Gaspé, and that the road is remarkably well built.

Walking from New Carlisle along the road looking towards Paspébiac, a charming line of country residences marked the left and on the right along sloping fields one looks out over the sweep of the great bay. The shores of New Brunswick are dim in the distance. In the immediate foreground lies a stretch of sandy beach, strewn with the wreckage of a broken boom.
A useful harvest is being reaped by those, who gather the logs. A long pier stretches into the waters of the ocean with a signal house near its extremity. The view eastward reveals a shore line sweeping in three great curves of red sandy cliffs more or less covered with trees, blending away in the distance, into a long sandy spit at the extreme point of which a white lighthouse with a revolving flash light of frequent brilliance sends forth its warning at night. At the base of the sandy promontory, a cluster of houses for drying fish appear. The first morning's walk was under an overcast sky. The mist was sweeping over the water. The clouds were breaking here and there, and these breaks found a reflection in lighter shades on the ocean's bosom. As one stood gazing a strong wind blew the clouds rapidly away, and the sun burst forth in all its radiance. A sky of vivid blue was revealed and scarcely a cloud remained. The water assumed a hue of blue slightly denser in coloring than that of the sky. The breeze whipped the surface into vigorous waves. It was early morn. The gulls were no longer poised listlessly, as at a dead calm, but were hunting for breakfast, darting here and there and then with sudden swoops and upward triumphant squawking flights flew away with pal-pitating masses of something white and glistening within their claws.

The shores of New Brunswick were almost lost in the far distance. A light belt of fog hugging its outline, toned it down until it was difficult to recognize the distinction between the land and skyline; they were so blended. Looking towards Paspébiac, the morning sun brought out all the glories of the brilliant view. If a painter were to reproduce upon canvas the coloring of this brilliant scene as the writer saw it on this sunny morn following a storm, and to label it "A scene in Bonaventure County, Que.," the average Canadian would regard it as a license on the part of an imaginative painter. The colorings were marked. The very houses, with their red roofs, seemed to harmonise with the prevailing red and green and blue and glitter, with which nature had decorated the scene, the curves of the shore swept eastward, each curve slightly projecting further than its predecessor into the sea. The beach parian may be judged.

rise with moderate abruptness. The shrubs, the trees and verdure here and there find a foothold on the sheer cliffs and relieve by their greenness, the prevailing ruddiness of the shorelines.
From the summit of the cliffs, the fields slope gradually to the higher level country. Clumps of trees, numerous houses, the spires of two Churches; all combine to produce a scene, somewhat resembling that of South Devon, in the vicinity of Dawlish. As that portion of South Devon is a beauty spot in England's most beautiful country, the value of the comparison may be judged.

This year the Studebaker announcement is more significant than ever before. It demonstrates more conclusively than ever Studebaker's leadership in the industry. For once again, Studebaker is announcing new cars at prices that completely recast all standards of value in the automobile industry. And never before has a dollar bought so much as it buys in these new Studebakers. They are the best car in every detail that Studebaker ever built.

But while the prices are remarkably low, Studebaker has made no effort to manufacture a small, low-price car, to compete purely on a price basis.

A whole Book of Specifications couldn't begin to convey the impression that your first glimpse of the cars will give—you must see the cars to appreciate them.

Vegetable Compound
Saved Her Life

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had feeling, indigestion,
and constipation,
female weakness,
pains in both sides,
backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory,
nervous, impatient,
passed sleepless nights, and had no other strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body.
I had a place in my right side that was so raw that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again.
I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have

All pains, aches, fears and doubts are gone, my home, children and husband are no longer neglected, so I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your medicine, and all the

NEW STUDEBAKER A SPLENDID CAR

Mr. E. A. LeGallais Has 1916 Model on Exhibition This Week

The 1916 Studebaker car is a beauty. This is the universal opinion of those who have inspected the model exhibited by Mr. E. A. LeGallais this week, and which has been delivered to Mr. C. Kane, Cross Point.

The graceful lines and noiseless running of the car, together with its ample power and seating capacity for seven passengers, are also favorably commented upon.

The price is now so low, that no doubt many will be sold in this locality. Mr. LeGallais has ordered another of the same model and will have same on exhibition in about ten days.

PORT DANIEL WEST

The following is a letter received by Mrs. John Garrett, Port Daniel West, P. Q., from her son who has now gone to the front.

From Pte. Johnson Garrett, Batt. 43, Reg't. 20056, 1st Coy. Address reply to Shorcliffe, Kent, England. July 11th, 1915.

My Dear Mother:— I am writing you a few lines, to let you know that I received your letter, and glad that you were all well, as this leaves me at present enjoying good health. I was glad to hear that Annabella was home. I wrote to her in Quebec, suppose she will receive the same. I did not write to Lindy yet. I can hardly write, for reasons why. This is Sunday, and the boys are playing the "Cock of the North" on a piano and a violin together. I just wish you could hear it. It is charming.

I feel sure that the Chief Superintendent would act as Treasurer to whom all contributions would be made. Here is a chance for the teachers to express their views and enter the great struggle. Shall we?

It may interest our readers to know that "a teacher in uniform" is Capt. L. D. Jones of the Wireless Station, Newcastle, who for nine years was the efficient principal of Dalhousie High School and who has been granted leave of absence by the Trustees until such time as his military duties allow him to return.

We have a piano and two bands. I am sending a book of us on the boat, there is one picture just showing my own platoon about twenty of us, but another lad's shoulder is hiding my face. But I am sending it anyway, it includes the "43rd Farewell" in verse. We are working very hard here now, we do a lot of night marching, and sham battles, we work at all day, and part of the night, three nights a week. I can tell you, we will make the "Germans Bleed," for this when we get there, I guess we will soon be there. They have shipped our bayonets the other day, and we are going out shooting at three o'clock tomorrow morning. I can say the Canadians are doing fine work over here, they think the Canadians are just the Boys in Scotland. If you go along the street, even the ministers will come and tap you on the shoulder and say "Another Bonny Canadian". I suppose you know what that means. The wounded are well taken care of here. The Queen has a hospital put up named the Queen's Canadian Hospital. It is just two miles from here. We marched past there the other day, our band was playing. They appeared in all directions, then that could move at all, watching the march past, two hundred of us fully armed. We had a hundred rounds of ammunition in our cartridge belts. We are wearing kilts now, you know we are the Cameron Highlanders of Canada, and their regular dress is the Kilt. We had a swim in the English Channel, we were just 21 miles across the Channel from France. It was a clear day and one could see the land very plain. The climate is very nice, not cold all winter and no snow, we were eating new fruit long ago. They have sufficient rain in the winter time they tell me. They gave us a book the other day just as a bank book and a will combined, when you make your will, you have just to sign your name and the place, and the persons to whom you are leaving the same. Then the will is completed. This is for soldiers in active service. But they stop our pay now and enter it into this book, the record of it is kept in London. If you get knocked out in six months after in the war, the person you leave your pay to, goes to them up till your death. I can tell you they work very careful and strict for a soldier. Well, I think I will now conclude, With love to all, I remain your affectionate son,

N. B. SCHOOL TEACHERS ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE

A Suggestion That N. B. School Teachers Contribute to Purchasing Machine Gun

(Newcastle Advocate)

The following suggestion, from a New Brunswick school teacher, now in uniform, is a most timely one and worthy of space in this paper. In no more fitting manner could our school teachers prove their loyalty and patriotism than by following out the suggestion outlined below. It is felt certain that this matter will be taken up in earnest and the scheme thoroughly organized by the time our next issue is put to press. Following is the suggestion:

To the Editor of the Advocate.
Dear Editor:— I would like to suggest that the School Teachers of New Brunswick give a machine gun to the 64th Battalion which is about to be mobilized and whose Commanding Officer is a prominent New Brunswick Officer. We have our schools by the sacrifice of our fathers gone before, we shall keep them only by giving our lives and means. Our freedom is perpetuated in our schools, our homes are secured.

If each teacher would give $1.00 the machine gun would be a possibility and a mighty factor in the great struggle, and each teacher who thus contributed would be represented on the firing line which is upholding our Empire and guarding our shores. How can we teach patriotism next term if we fail to represent ourselves in this great struggle for freedom. The opportunity is ours, the need is great. Shall we like the brave boys from Canada, stand by "our guns" and win, or withhold our means and go down to defeat? We are not Canadians if we do.

I feel sure that the Chief Superintendent would act as Treasurer to whom all contributions would be made. Here is a chance for the teachers to express their views and enter the great struggle. Shall we?

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear and that is by constitutional remedies. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

BE A BLESSING.
When you rise in the morning, say that you will make the day blessed to a fellow creature. It is easily done.

A left-off garment to a man who needs it; a kind word to the sorrowful; an encouraging expression to the dejected—trifles in themselves, as light as air—will do it at least for the twenty-four hours.

By the most simple arithmetical sum, look at the result. If you send one person away happily through the day, that will be three hundred and sixty-five in the course of a year. And suppose you live forty years only, after you commence that course of mad life, you have made fourteen thousand six hundred persons happy—at all events for a time.—Ex.

However others act toward thee, Act thou toward them as seemeth right; And whatsoever others be, Be thou the child of love and light. I CANNOT UNDERSTAND The mystery of its changes, day by day. I cannot see the hidden Hand divine, Which moves and guides the shifting scenes away; Yet, through the light of faith I dimly see That all which He hath sent is best for me.

I cannot understand the grief and pain, The sorrow and the anguish of the years; I cannot see, alas, why falls the rain; And some must look at life through mists of tears; Yet, well I know that He in whom I trust, In all His leadings must be wise and just.

I cannot understand why so much joy Falls to the lot of some, while others weep, I cannot see why some, without alloy, May drink of pleasure's draught, so full and deep; Yet, well I know that joy, too, hath its place, If he but deemeth best its smiling face.

I cannot understand the mystery of the love Which sets the way, or glad, or sad, for each; I cannot see the One, all other friends, Who, while loving, all our need Yet, well I know in His bright realms of air, Him I shall see, and all His mysteries share —Christian Observer.
