Simmons Lunn, a former resident of Summerfield, died at Lowell, Mass., where he has resided for several years, on June 1. The funeral service was conducted at his late home by Rev. M. E. Curry, assisted by Revs. A. B. Briggs and John Gould and were largely attended. His remains were brought to Summerfield and committal services were conducted by Rev. D. R. Chown on June 5.

Mr. Lunn for many years was associated with the work of the church. He was led to Christ and entered the Master's service over forty years ago under the ministry of Rev. J. K. King, and has proved himself a faithful, useful and humble servant of his Lord. Besides his widow, Ella Smith, he leaves to mourn three brothers, Fred, Enoch and Amos Lunn of Lowell, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Smith and Mrs. A. Kingsbury of Bridgewater, Me., and also a large circle of relatives and friends.

HON. T. W. CALDWELL

On Pensions for the Civil Service Committee

In the House of Commons at Ottawa, on July 16, 1924, a Bill was introduced by the Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, to provide that the members of the Civil Service Commission could retire after serving fifteen years on the Commission, and would be entitled to a pension for life equal to two thirds of their salary (there are three commissioners and their salaries are six thousand dollars each, per year).

Hon. T. W. Caldwell, member for Victoria and Carleton at that time made the following short but forceful speech regarding the bill:

Mr. CALDWELL: The minister says that he explained this measure when the resolution was before the House, but unfortunately a large number of members were serving on committees at the time. Personally I was not in the House when the Superannuation bill passed or I would have said something in regard to certain features of that legislation. I protest against this bill. The Superannuation Act provides for the retirement of civil servants on a pension at a given age, but it is a different proposal altogether to provide a retiring allowance for the members of a commission. I object to government by commission. We are getting loaded up with commissions, and they are hampering the public service more or less. I take the view that any servant of the country who is getting a large salary as the Civil Service Commissioners is not entitled to a pension, and I very strongly protest against this proposal.

I go further, I do not think we should tax the ordinary taxpayers—our labourers, our farmers and our commercial men—to provide pensions for civil servants. I believe the Superannuation Act is sound: I think, however, the pension fund should be financed by those who are superannuated. In the post offices all over the country there is displayed the picture of two old men walking along hand in hand and underneath is the title, "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse."

It is a warning to taxpayers that if they want to provide against such an unfortunate contingency they should buy government annuities—but they must pay for them out of their own pockets. I do not see why we should put anyone in the privileged class which the Superannuation Act creates. Undoubtedly this bill goes too far altogether, and I shall oppose it as hard as I can. If it passes I am going to oppose it in the country. I think members will be derelict in their duty if they let the bill pass without protesting against it with all their might. If their voices do not prevail in the House they should in the country, and I for one propose not to stop opposing it even in this House if the bill passes.

Mr. GRAHAM: Don't leave the House.

Mr. CALDWELL: I don't propose to until it prorogues; I hope to get out to pasture a little while between this and next session. I am sorry I was prevented by attendance on committees from being present to protest against some provisions of the Superannuation bill. I want to make another protest. Next session, if we are living and here, I shall urge that committees should sit while the House is in session, and that several committees composed of substantially the same personnel should not sit at the same hour. We had to have a meeting of a committee this morning to correct something that happened when only a bare quorum was present. Members appointed to committees are derelict if they do not attend the meetings, but they are placed in a very difficult position when at the same time weighty matters are going through the House which need their attention—more attention than has been given them this session.

Mr. GRAHAM: Make the committees smaller.

Mr. CALDWELL: Yes, that would help.

Mr. CALDWELL: Will the Secretary of State again give the House the letter from the Civil Service Commissioners which he read when introducing the bill? Those of us who were serving on committees were deprived of an opportunity of hearing the letter read. After the minister has complied with my request I shall have something further to say.

Mr. Caldwell's opposition to the Bill met with such hearty applause from the members of the House that the Secretary of State withdrew the Bill from before the House.

If this Bill had been passed, and became law, it would have meant an obligation on the country of several thousand dollars, which goes to show the necessity of having a few men in parliament who have some idea of economy in public matters.

REPORT OF TOWN COUNCIL

Much Business Gone Through With At the August Meeting

Regular monthly meeting of the Hartland Town Council convened in the town hall Monday evening, August 4, at 7 p.m. Mayor McFarland was in the chair and all aldermen were present excepting C. W. McQuarrie and H. H. Hatfield. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Treasurer's report was read showing collections to be $3850.40; expenditures $1470.02. Report was accepted.

Town marshal reported having three boys before the police magistrate for stealing, who are to have their trial Sept. 16. Was called out by W. B. Nixon to look up a man who had wandered from his home at 3 o'clock in the morning. Man was located and returned to his home. Report accepted.

Committee on putting up sign boards at street corners having completed the work. Report adopted.

Committee on Tompkins matter recommended a rebate on his tap tax for the time he was without water. On motion this was carried out.

Water committee reported one hydrant that had gone bad had been repaired.

Police committee reported nothing further had been done in regard to purchasing land on which to build a lockup. On motion said committee was granted an extension of time. They recommended placing two or three more silent policemen on the corners of the streets, and suggested that they be of home manufacture which would mean quite a saving. Moved by Ald. White, seconded by Ald. H. R. Nixon the report be adopted and the recommendation carried out.

Poor committee reported having offered a town's man, who had suffered the loss of his wife leaving three small children, some help, but he had accepted very little.

Bills and accounts presented and ordered paid after being O. K'd. Moved by Ald. White, seconded by Ald. Dickenson that J. E. McCollum and H. E. Alton be revisors for the town. Moved by Ald. White, seconded by Ald. W. B. Nixon that the financial and water committees work in conjunction in arranging their finances.

STILL DANGER IN SPITE OF FINE NEW ROAD

The road commissioners have made a great improvement in the road at Burt's Hill. The road at this point has been widened by cutting down the hill considerably, and a fine cement wall has been built around the curve making a fine wide road with plenty of room for sidewalk. But even so with all this extra expanse of road pedestrians are not safe from the "auto fiend." Sunday evening, about ten o'clock two town's ladies had a very narrow escape from being run down. Two cars came up over Maple crossing at a swift rate of speed, one going up the hill, the other going down the back street. The ladies had waited for these cars before crossing over, then started to pass along, but another car came around the curve, hugging the left side at a most furious rate and not sounding the horn. On account of the thick dust risen from the former cars passing by the light of this car could not be seen. In another instant, had the ladies not drawn back in time, they would have been under the wheels and perhaps would not be alive today.

BATH BREEZES

More Insane Auto Driving—Many Visitors at Bath—Death of an Infant

On Sunday afternoon, M. G. Keenan of this town met with a bad automobile accident at Florenceville. Mr. Keenan was driving his own car, keeping to the right of the road, but swung his car across in order to enter a yard on the left. No sooner had he done so, when a large car from Massachusetts going at an excessive rate, struck his car broadside. Fortunately no one was hurt. Mr. Keenan's car, however had a wheel smashed and was otherwise injured. Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. Louis Boyd and Master John Scott were accompanying Mr. Keenan at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Drost and son Edward accompanied by Chipman Tompkins, motored to St. John on Sunday, returning Tuesday.

On Monday, the Misses Ella and Alice McGoldrick and Charles McGoldrick, Fredericton, arrived in town and are the guests of Matthew Bohan and the Misses Bohan.

Rev. Mr. Hennerbury, Devon, was the week-end guest of Rev. W. M. Donohoe, Johnville, returning home on Monday.

Many will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gillespie, upon hearing of the sudden death of their infant child, aged 3 months, on Friday evening. Interment taking place at Grand Falls, N. B., on Saturday.

Miss Mary Pickard, Portland, arrived on Saturday on a visit to her old home and is being given a warm welcome by relatives and old friends.

Mrs. Morse and party arrived Saturday morning from Augusta. Mrs. Morse chauffeured her own car, making the trip in 15 hours. Having left Augusta at 6 p.m. Friday she arrived here at 10 a.m. Saturday. Mrs. Morse is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Guest, Holmesville.

W. J. Gorman and party motored to Grand Falls on Sunday.

Alexander O'Hardy, B. A. Sydney Mines, N. S., who arrived last week from Boston on a visit to T. C. Bohan, left on Monday for Charlottetown, P. E. I., where he shall visit his mother and sister, before returning to his home. Mr. O'Hardy stated that times were very quiet, throughout the coal-mining areas of Cape Breton due to the lack of orders for coal and that the miners were only operating on part time, causing a substantial reduction in every miners weekly pay envelope and thus affecting business conditions generally. Mr. O'Hardy wished to impress on all the fact, that all "Cape Bretoners" were not Bolsheviks, the opposite idea, he said, seemed to be the prevalent one, which he refuted, saying that only a small percentage were ultra-radical in their views.

Miss Eileen Bohan, arrived home on Saturday from "St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N. B."

Miss M. A. Hebert and Miss Rose Lenehan attended the St. Gertrude Church Picnic, Woodstock, on Tuesday.

Miss Geraldine McCarral who has been visiting her uncle, Dr. M. E. and Mrs. Commins, returned to St. Stephen on Monday. She was accompanied by the Misses Marion and Irene Commins.

John Ryan of Malden, Mass., who with Mrs. Ryan and son John, Jr., have been visiting Mrs. Ryan's mother, Mrs. McGinley, Main street, returned home last week. Mrs. Ryan and John, Jr., are remaining here for a few more weeks before returning home.

G. S. Larlee, chairman local division O. R. T., attended the funeral on Monday of the late Mr. Merriman, chief despatcher, which was held in Woodstock on Monday.

Dr. McManus and party, Washburn, Me., were in town Monday.

Moir's Chocolates have had a hold on the Bermuda Market (where by the way, the best confections of the old and new continents meet in competition).

Now it's the turn of Moir's Cake: the last boat sent sub-

Some of the orders for Moir's Wedding, and Anniversary Cake carry diagrams and directions almost like a blueprint. And they are executed just as carefully. And elaborately.

Laundry that makes clothing money go farther

Your sheer, lovely things—crepe, fine silks, lace—will be found to wear much longer, laundered this way. Perhaps as much as 50%. And your clothing money buys just that much more. For these snowy-white, crinkly flakes of purest soap do not harm the most fragile fabrics. If anything, they brighten and renew delicate colors. The foamy suds contain nothing injurious. But it gently dissolves and removes all dirt and soil.

PALMOLIVE PRINCESS SOAP FLAKES are used by thousands of women—for all washing and household purposes. They really cost no more than the most ordinary soaps—for they are nothing but pure soap, and so go much farther. Use them in the washing machine, for the small hand-cup, wherever you need soap. In handy one-pound packages. Ask your dealer for them today.

EXHIBITION CAR COMING

With weather conditions very favorable to forest fires, local and rapidly dried—the visit of the Exhibition Car of the Canadian Forestry Association comes at a time at which it should make a deep impression in all sections visited. The car as usual has attracted marked attention and has had thousands of visitors who have taken in not only the interesting exhibits but in the motion pictures also. The lesson everywhere was the value of the forests in themselves, to agriculture and to industry.

New Brunswick in 1924 has not had the scourge from forest fires which she had in former years but there is no reason for any relaxation of caution on that account. There is no doubt that much of the credit for reduced fire-loss lies in increased caution on the part of the people and that is a direct result of education in all its various forms, given to both child and adult.

In the Forestry Association's Exhibition Car was one panoramic layout which could not fail to make an impression upon the beholder. It showed the steady running stream, well kept bridges, prosperous farms and other evidences of well-being in a country with its proper proportion of land in growing forest and immediately adjoining the same area after a forest fire had swept, through, the stream dry with spots where floods have gulled away its banks, the bridge broken down, the farms gone except for a few crumbling ruins, the hillsides bare save for blackened stumps and rampikes.

That the children of New Brunswick are learning the needed lesson of forest conservation is apparent in the remarks which could be heard at the various places visited by the car, from the lips of children who saw the exhibit, the same opinions were expressed in the essays which the recent prize contests produced.

The rising generation is realizing that growing forests mean prosperity to everyone especially in the Province of New Brunswick which numbers the forests first among its resources.

Here and There

The value of Ontario's mineral production for the first quarter of the present year, as shown by a report of the Department of Mines, has increased $2,332,000 over the corresponding quarter of last year, the total being $11,575,151 and $9,243,151 respectively. Silver was the only metal of importance to record decreased production during the period under review.

Among the passengers sailing on the Canadian Pacific liner "Mont-laurier" for England on July 28th, was E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. While in England, Mr. Beatty is scheduled to address the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World on July 17th on the subject of "Building an Empire with Advertising."

Excellent reports as to the hunting in the Caribou district of British Columbia are being received. F. W. Pridham and Fred Shaver recently returned from a month's sport in that district with an excellent specimen of grizzly bear weighing about 1,400 pounds. They saw moose, caribou, deer, black bear, pheasants and grouse, and consider the district a hunter's paradise.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Bond Dealers' Association of Canada at Toronto recently, the President declared that during the 12 months ending May 1st, $507,917,000 worth of Canadian bonds had been distributed, this being by far the largest total issued in the Dominion in any post-war year. The most striking feature in this connection is that about 89 per cent. was absorbed within the borders of Canada.

On June 18th Winnipeg, Man., celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its incorporation. From a struggling frontier village of the 70s, Winnipeg is forced into the position of third largest city in the Dominion, with continental reputation as a railroad centre. It is the Gateway of the West and 100,000,000 bushels of prairie grain pass through it to the head of the lakes, whence it goes to the markets of the world.

Twenty-five officers and 200 men of the Royal Navy, from the sixtieth service squadron headed by H. C. S. Hood, enjoyed a trip through the Rockies over the Canadian Pacific line while their ships were anchored at Vancouver recently. The sailors, who made a point, in true naval style, of seeing and doing everything, were enthusiastic over the scenery at such show-places as Banff and Lake Louise, which they declared the most beautiful they had seen in all their world cruise.

To add encouragement to the raising of high-class swine which has been fostered by the governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway is awarding a champion ship cup to the Boys' and Girls' Swine Clubs winning the club competitions in these provinces. The cups are for annual competition, but will become the property of the club if won for three years in succession. Medals will be awarded individual members. This year winning teams resident on the Company's lines will also be granted a free trip to the Royal stock show at Toronto.

The Arts, Science and Letters Society of the Province of Quebec recently sent a questionnaire to the various parishes of Quebec and Montmorency counties, seeking information as to the age and size of families residing in those territories. It was discovered that the family of Ismael Bedard had remained on the same land at Charlesbourg since 1629, that the largest family in Montmorency was that of Hector Laliberte, of St. Jean, Island of Orleans, who has 20 children living, and that Joseph Gagnon, St. Pierre, Island of Orleans, has the largest number of living descendants, 210.

A teacher told her class to bring something to demonstrate the use of the word "immaterial." Next morning a bright youth brought a stick. "Now," said the teacher, "how does that demonstrate the use of the word

PUTS HEALTH AND VIM INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, pain in the nape of my neck, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without crying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be beaten for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. JAMES H. MACPHERSON, 309 Greenwich St., Brantford, Ont.

"immaterial?" "I'll show you, miss," said the lad. "Take hold of both ends of the stick—that's it. Now let go one end." "Which end?" asked the teacher. "Oh, well—it's immaterial," replied the youth: "there's treacle on both ends."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Marks came from Fredericton on Friday morning to chronicle the results of the efforts of the applicants for Normal School Entrance and matriculation in the examinations on the first of July. Some rejoiced, while others were most unhappy.

George Kennedy of Fredericton spent last week with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Kennedy, at the Kennedy House.

The Centreville base ball nine went to Grand Falls on Friday and played a good game with the team from the latter town.

Dr. R. W. Perkins of Mars Hill spent Friday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Perkins.

Miss Julia Flewelling of Berwick, N. S., was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Flewelling for part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McDonald of Campbellton visited Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Niles over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hatfield of Fredericton were in town on Saturday.

Rev. H. R. Bell will preach on Sunday, Aug. 10, at Centreville, 11 a.m.; Good Corner, 3 p.m.; Lakeville, 7:30 p.m.

Rev. E. Bridgewater will hold service on Sunday, Aug. 10, at Church of the Good Shepherd, East Florenceville, 11 a.m.; St. Barnabas Church, Greenfield, Evesong, 3 p.m.; St. James Church, Centreville, Evesong, 7:30 p.m.

Camp meeting at Robinson caught the usual number of devotees of Sunday last, though subsequent reports point to a smaller crowd than former years.

Charlie Lunn of Westfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Agnew.

Earl Stiles spent part of last week in St. John.

Miss Vera D'Arcy of Lynn, Mass., is visiting Col. and Mrs. Kennedy at the Kennedy House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. D. White and children of Arnostook Junction spent Sunday at Mrs. Alice White's.

R. J. Lee, Miss Marjorie Lee and Gerald Lee returned from Shediac on Wednesday.

Miss Dora Lee and Miss Glenna Wade spent the week-end at Grand Falls.

Mrs. Sam Charlton of Houlton, Me., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Morley Lunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilma Bart of Upper Woodstock are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Harold.

"The Flame of Life," which was shown at the theatre on Wednesday was a most vivid and enthralling pictorial representation of life and adventure among the middle class in the great English coal areas.

Priscilla Dean was entrancing in the leading role and the work of Wallace Berry was very clever indeed. A second reel of scenes in the far north was also shown. On Saturday Nestor himself would burst with merriment over the comedy stunts of Buster Keaton in "Our Hospitality," sort of a travesty on the old Kentucky fends of 1830. Although running to comedy the piece possessed many thrills.

WHAT FOREST LOOKOUTS ARE DOING IN N. B.

That an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure is being amply borne out by the results which are being obtained from the campaigns for the prevention of forest fires in New Brunswick.

Prohibition of indiscriminate slash burning and regulation of forest travel, two important steps which have been taken towards the prevention of forest fires in this province, are believed to be largely responsible for the lack of serious forest fires in New Brunswick.

Brunswick this year in spite of the long periods of continued dry weather.

Despite the fact that forest fires have so far not been serious this season the Department of Lands and Mines through its forest service is constantly prepared to cope with any situation which may rise insofar as human activities can accomplish anything. Just what is being accomplished by the lookout system that has been established in the way of locating fires is by an incident contained in the reports regarding fires which reached the Department in the last month.

The lookouts at the towers at St. Quentin and Mount Carleton recently registered a heavy black smoke to the northwest of their locations. Both lookouts immediately reported, the angles were plotted and the location read from the map gave two miles north of the Pollard Brook, a branch of the Matapedia, on the inter-provincial boundary between New Brunswick and Quebec. Crews were dispatched to investigate and returned with the information that a party of fishermen had built a large smudge on the beach to keep mosquitoes away. The smudge had made the smoke which had been spotted by the lookouts, who believed it to be a fire breaking out. The same party moved down stream some distance and made another smudge which the lookouts also spotted later that afternoon. And one lookout was thirty-six miles away and the other was fifty-six miles distant.

The gentlemen responsible for the smudge fires was a lessee of fishing waters and when the matter was brought to his attention he forwarded his check for the amount involved.

SEWING CIRCLE GOSSIP

There was some discussion at the Sewing Circle this week about the Chinese game of Mah Jongg. The wife of the new Bank Manager said that she liked it very much and that she thought it was going to supersede Bridge.

With the latter view, however, the wife of the Radio Operator did not agree. She said Mah Jongg was a game invented for a people who could not learn to play Bridge, and—fortunately at this point the discussion was interrupted by the arrival of a mail carry a pot of the famous LUXOR COFFEE, and was not renewed. Mah Jongg is a good game, but LUXOR is a better coffee.

Brown Six-Row Potato Sprayer

BROWN POTATO SPRAYERS have for several years been the favorite with the potato growers on the St. John river for the reason that the clog proof nozzle makes it possible for the operator to spray for hours without stopping to clean the nozzles.

THE DOUBLE CYLINDER DISPLACEMENT PUMP takes its power from wheels by a convenient chain drive direct from axle thus doing away with side motion and drive chain trouble. The pump has brass plunger 2 1/8 inch in diameter, packed with graphite composition, from the outside thus assuring a high pressure at the nozzles. All check valves in pump are brass fitted to brass seats and can be easily ground or replaced. Large air chamber tested under higher pressure that assures a steady pressure at the nozzles.

REVOLVING TWIN PADDLES in tank to assure Bordeaux mixture being well mixed when in operation.

The HUNDRED GALLON TANK is square and of cypress wood, with the top removable in case of any trouble in the tank, whereas with the barrel tank sprayer it is impossible to do this.

THE WHEELS ARE GENUINE SARVIAN WHEELS, 4 feet in diameter, with 3 inch tire, all of good material that will stand for years which is very necessary in a sprayer that is to carry 100 gallons.

THE AXLE is cold roll steel 1 3/4 inch in diameter and we have never yet known one to break.

Hundreds of these sprayers are now in use and have given perfect satisfaction. We have a limited number for the season of 1924 and would advise anyone in need of a sprayer to place his order with us or with our agent nearest to him. The price is $200 on reasonable terms.

NINTH of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

IN THE UNITED STATES

FOR many years the Bank of Montreal has played an active and constructive part in the banking and business relations between Canada and the United States.

In 1855 the Bank established its own office in New York and today its Agency at 64-68 Wall Street holds a leading position among foreign financial institutions represented in that city.

In 1861 the Bank's Chicago Office was opened to care for extensive Western business. Today, at 27 South La Salle Street, Chicago, the Bank is participating actively in banking affairs. In San Francisco and at Spokane the Bank also has its own office.

The grounds of the C. P. R. look very attractive this year, with the bright blooms of the flowers and the white rock edging. A few flowers make a great difference to a place, especially when they are as attractive lively laid off as they are at the C. P. R. station.

Those who were planning to attend the Presbyterian Sunday School Picnic are notified in another part of this paper that the picnic is postponed on account of the scarlet fever epidemic, and that the Sunday school will not convene again until further notice.

The Editor is in receipt of a letter from Miss Greta Hayes who was on the staff of the Vocational Department of the Edmundston School last term. Our readers will be interested to know that she is now at Nash Creek, N. B.

Our readers will be interested in the announcement on another page of the Big Sale to be held at the Hammond Store. Bargains such as are being offered are rare in Edmundston. It is an unusual thing to put a sale on at this time of the year, and our readers will surely make the most of the opportunity. The prices which are quoted speak for themselves. The stock carried by this store is always of the best. The Sale will continue until the advertised lines are cleared. There is a limited stock in some of the articles advertised, and it will be the early customer who will obtain the best chance of securing these.

The Russian Fly has made its appearance in Edmundston. It is characteristically Russian and Bolshevik in its activities, as it destroys everything it touches. It strips potatoes and some kinds of beans, and leaves nothing but the stalk.

The emergency hospital on 21st avenue is being fitted up with all possible speed. We hope that this hospital will meet the immediate needs of Edmundston, and that it will not be a great while before our citizens see the necessity of providing a hospital for the needs of the town.

The Chief of Police is determined to stop the congregation of cars in roads adjacent to a fire, and has caused to be published this week in this paper an extract from a Provincial Law, which shows that there is a fine for violating same. The Chief told the Editor that in the future this law will be enforced with the utmost impartiality and vigor and the public is warned accordingly.

Interesting Experiment

On Men That Are Deemed

To Be Habitual Criminals

In Camp Hill Prison on the Isle of Wight there has been taking place for some ten years a most interesting experiment upon men deemed habitual criminals. It is proving that apart from men who are deranged there is no such thing as the incurable criminal, and Winston Churchill, who is credited with having established the Camp Hill and other similar prisons, is immensely proud. Indeed, it may be remembered to his credit when his other services to the state are forgotten. In England there are some 500 men listed by the police and recognized by the courts as habitual criminals, that is to say men—and a few women, too—who upon their release from jail immediately commit a crime, who have no desire to support themselves otherwise than as criminals. Five hundred is not a large number of habitual criminals for a country with England's population, but it is enough to give the police a lot of extra work and worry when any considerable percentage of them is at liberty.

There has been an increase in crimes of violence, including murders of passion, in the past ten years, but in the crimes by habitual offenders there has been a sharp reduction. Then there were 1,200 habitual criminals in the country. Today there are 500. In fact, the habitual criminal is disappearing and a similar rate of decrease in the next decade will find no officially listed habitual criminals in England. This is believed to be due wholly to their treatment, not to any particular increase in morality. The disease exists, but it can be cured; it is being cured, and by just such means as a lot of ascertained molly-coddles and sentimentalists have urged, namely, by kindness, law which Winston Churchill sponsored, a man may be declared a habitual criminal after a certain number of offences. When it became plain to the judge and the police that as soon as he served on sentence he would commit another crime, it was apparent that by merely imprisoning him again the problem was not being really attacked.

The new law permitted habitual criminals to be sent to what is called preventive detention, for from five to ten years. It was admitted that if they were sent back to the same old prisons, the law would have merely the effect of increasing their imprisonment, and this was not the object. Now a sort of prison was established, with, we suspect, new kinds of guard or at least with new sets of instructions for the guards. Kindness was to be the keynote. The habitual prisoners were not to be punished, punishment had signally failed in their case. There is not the regular prison atmosphere or discipline. One habitual criminal was conveyed on the first morning after his arrival when he was asked politely whether he preferred tea or coffee for breakfast. The whole idea is to civilize or recivilize the criminal. His years of evil doing have not been comfortable or pleasant. Obviously they have not been successful. The idea at Camp Hill is to prove to him that he will have a much better chance of prosperity and happiness by being law abiding.

He is not being punished for anything at Camp Hill; he has paid his legal debt to society. He is being educated. He is taught a trade, and he can choose what trade it shall be. He is paid a little for his work, given a little money to spend, and the rest is saved up for the day he leaves. The room he occupies is not like a cell; it has a carpet on the floor and the doors are not locked at night. The attendants are not uniformed. The newcomer is not forced to take a bath nor is his hair cropped. He can shave himself, and we learn from an article by David Edwards in the Buffalo Express, that the thing the men most delight in is the little looking glass in the room. The men might escape from Camp Hill, we gather, but what good would it do them? They would be speedily recaptured. Of all the patients of Camp Hill who have been discharged it is said that but three per cent. have been re-arrested, and bear in mind that this is a reduction of 97 per cent. among habitual criminals.

The regeneration of the men is not, as a rule, achieved by a single leap. They work their way up. After six months' good behaviour, the prisoner is given permission to eat in the hall with other men of his grade with whom free conversation is permitted. A second period of good behaviour gives him two after-supper hours of intercourse with other progressives, and he may play games and see a good film now and then. The third good conduct ticket extends this privilege, and the fourth permits him to live by himself in a small cottage on the grounds, where he can cook his own meals and where supervision is reduced to a minimum. By the time the patient is permitted to leave he has learned a trade, he has ready money in his pocket, and what is perhaps most important he has come to the conclusion that to live by crime is a mistake and that the eater is one that only a wise man would choose.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Forms.

It is because of their rigorous form that the ballade and the rondeau have established themselves by the side of the sonnet; and the lyric who has learned to love them finds in their rigidity no curb on his power of self-expression. So in the kindred art of music, the sonata and the symphony are forms, each with a law of its own; the composer has abundant liberty within the law.—Brander Matthews.
