HIT THE MARK. At 1 o'clock the signal to form column the New Orleans, Iowa and Vixen fell in in the order named. The Massachusetts steamed slowly until about five miles west of the harbor entrance, when she turned in toward the shore, and when about 5,000 yards off turned east again and bore down on the harbor, the New Orleans being close up and the Iowa half a mile behind. The flagship gradually increased her speed, water at the rate of ten knots an hour. She drew closer and closer to the batteries, and when she passed the harbor of them striking the Spanish flagship

RANDOM SHOTS. The Spanish ships, with the exception of the Cristobal Colon, were behind the hills, and could not see the enemy who threw shells around them with such rapidity that they knew he was somewhere on the other side of the hill, and they hopefully raised the muzzles of their guns and banged away. The result was what might have been expected. Their fire tore the bosom of the Caribbean Sea, but it harmed nothing else. After the Massachusetts had passed the point where she could fire into the harbor with advantage, she turned to the open sea, the other vessels following her. That fight was over. MORE COMPLICATIONS. London, June 2.-The Daily News says: The anxiety Spaniards betray publishing reports as to evolutions of a squadron outside Cadiz leads to a surmise that Admiral Camara is already on the way. Proof that the amendment was intended to weight the bill and embarrass the government is furnished by the fact that to be consistent it had to include New Brunswick; yet the New Brunswick senators, Conservatives as well as Liberals, voted against it on the ground that the present system was most satisfactory to that province. The majority then have passed an amendment unacceptable to the very province named, have done so on the pretense that it im-proves the bill. One serious result of the senate's action is that, if persisted in, it will kill the plebiscite bill, the franchise act of 1898. When the franchise bill comes back to the comsenate, as one repugnant to the principle of the bill. The measure will then go back to the senate, and that body will either reconsider their action or agree to abide by it. If they abide by it, then the Liberals could get no better ground for the struggle between the two houses, which must come sooner or later, for Sir Mackenzie Bowell himself holds the view that a bill affecting the franchise of the House of Commons alone is none of the senate's business.

ACCORSING HOME.

Accorsini, the London catcher, has returned here to get in shape. Accorsini fell ill in Bay City, and retired from the game on Monday. He will be all right by next week. He says the Londons were rather discouraged at Bay City by the mean attendance. At one game there were only about 50 people on the grounds. Roenig, the new dell, Phelps and Burns. BAY CITY TO DROP OUT. It is probable that the last game in gins. the International League series has been played at Bay City. Negotiations have been in progress to transfer the team to Guelph, and it is believed that the deal has been effected. The Bay City directors cannot hold up the club any longer. They claim they are already $1,200 behind. The average attendance at Bay City has been less than 100 people, and this with a pennant-winning nine. It is said that Sleeman, of Guelph, the wealthy brewer, has taken a financial interest ling, Frazer and Wilson. in the team. If so, the prospects for the new Maple Leafs are bright, and adian lovers of the game. At least, Guelph would support its club better than Bay City, which does not deserve

Ald. Cooper denied that the committee would be responsible for the architect's fees. The fees should be included in the estimates. All the tenders should have been called for, together, and the building should cost $65,000, leaving $5,000 for architect's fees, insurance and other contingencies. Ald. Douglass objected to the committee's report because the tenders had not been all called for. He did not see how a $70,000 building could be put up without a few thousand dollars in extras. fications, which were approved by the committee. There was nothing said about the architect's fees at that time. He was merely asked to figure on a $70,000 building. In the Toronto city hall, which has been in the course of erection for years, they were only thinking about elevators now. As for the insurance, while building, the contractors paid for that. Rejecting the report would only throw the work back

Ald. Wilkey said that if some of the hing settled. After the committee had idopted the McBride plan the doctors came in and said that a cement floor should be put in underneath and made other suggestions. He did not think these items should be considered in connection with the $70,000. The aldermen had no right to say there would be extras. It was proposed to send a deputation of the wanted tenders could be in. It was proposed Nays—Ald. Taylor, Douglass, Jolly, to send a deputation away to look at Carrothers, Winnett and Graham-6.

Ald. O'Meara-Take it out of the sewerage debentures. (Laughter.) Ald. Winnett favored postponing the building until next spring. Ald. Gerry said some very unfair statements had been made. He could not see what was the matter with some of the aldermen. The building can be put up for $70,000, said Ald. Gerry, emphatically. "I know what I am talking about. I think my reputation as a builder is second to none. I have gone over this carefully, and I should have tendered if I had not been on this board. I would not have been afraid to take the building for $70,000 and given $80,000 for security." To Ald. O'Meara, Mr. McBride said he would guarantee the cost would not exceed $70,000. Mayor Wilson took the floor, calling Ald. Greenlees to the chair. His wor-ship said that on April 11 the plans of McBride & Farncomb were accepted by the committee, providing the building, including heating, could be eregted for $70,000. The council approved this resolution. They had the architect present, and he said the hospital could be built for $70,000. They had see could be built for $70,000. They had accepted his opinion, and looked to him to fulfill the business. There were nearly $3,000 of extras in the present tenders, outside the specifications. Three or four months ago there was a different feeling among the aldermen They were then asking the county council to add $14,000 or $15,000 to the hospital expenditure. A number of them proposed to buy a lot of land. Why these little quibblings now? They had had this matter threshed out enough, and it was time to get down to business. There was $1,000 given by Mr. Kent towards the new hospital, and $14,000 from the county could be put into it. Some of the members criticised the architect for not bringing in tenders for the heating. The committee was unanimous in not calling for them. A number of doctors had come to the committee wanting this and that, and he did not blame them, but these things cost money. As to Mr. McBride's percentage, the mayor said he had been on the school board a long time, and he did not think that in estimating the cost of any building they included the architect's expenses. There seemed to be a feeling, to put this matter off indefinitely, and this would be the result if it were delayed my bed with inflammation of the lungs and heating, $10,500, making the cost tached to Mr. McBride, as elevators in reply to Ald Carrothers. London's Great Advantages. As the summer advances, the advantages of this London of the new world as a place of residence is shown on every hand. There is no city that we know of the size of London which so favorably situated. With wise forethought, those who laid out the city took care that its streets should be wide, and that whatever other centers of population might do, London should never suffer from the lack of Canada. a splendid supply of fresh air. As the city has grown, a similar object has been kept in view by the builders of residences. The result is that we have no thickly-populated tenements here, necessitating much earnest work by the philanthropic, either summer or winter. If every cottager in London has not a vine and a fig tree to sit under, he can at least have his home and a plot of land with the free air of heaven playing all around it. We have no slums or slum population in London such as they have in the large crowded cities where the workers have been the victims of booms and land speculations. There is not a man, woman, or child in this city, indeed, who cannot have every advantage at their very doors which is possessed by the most widely-advertised health resort in North America. The proof is to be found in our vital statistics, which demonstrate that there is no city on this continent that is, taking population into account, as healthy as London. But one does not require health statistics to convince him of the desirability of London as a place of residence. He has but to cast his eyes along our well-kept streets, with their handsome shade trees everywhere in evidence, and over our beautiful parks, to be found east, west, and by the river side, all easily reached by and open to the enjoyment of the humblest of our population. When to this is added the health-promoting spaces that surround even the most ordinary homes of the dwellers in this much-favored city, it would certainly G. F. to live, for it is untrue.

"Canada and its Capital" A handsome book relating to Canada, which is most timely, has just been issued by Mr. George N. Morang, publisher, Toronto. It bears the title of "Canada and Its Capital." Sir James Edgar, speaker of the House of Cominent figure in the public life of Canada that the presiding officer has had ample opportunity for gaining the information which he has imparted in this volume. Sir James is a clear and most attractive writer. Where graphic description is required, he does the subject full justice and he is always lucid. Those people who have been accustomed to look on the Dominion capital as an overgrown wooden village, chosen as the seat of government because of its non-importance, will find much in this volume to move them to change their views. Sir James Edgar traces the development of the national capital from the time when its romantic surroundings were first discovered by the exolorer Champlain down to the present time when the city has passed the 50,-000 limit in population. He relates some of the delightful legends which chuster about the falls of the Chaudiere and the falls of the Rideau, and he tells of the early settlement of the suburban city of Hull by Philemon Wright, and the subsequent founding of Ottawa by his assistant Sparks, whose name has been perpetuated in the designation of Ottawa's principal thoroughfare. Both men were sturdy New Englanders who had faith in the country and faith in the natural resources of the locality in which they cast their lot. Not in history and romance alone is the latest work of Sir James Edgar interesting. The author gives a delightful account of social and political life at the capital, and a sketch of our institutions that will doubtless be especially valuable to very many readers. Another feature of interest is the pen picture which Sir James presents of three of the leading statesmen of Canada-Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Prime Minister: Sir Charles Tupper, leader of the Opposition, and Sir Richard Cartright, Minister of Trade and Comce. A book about the capital would complete without a chapter on I essment of $17,000 Mce-regal office and its associations, attractive feature of the Speaker's work is that which deals with Rideau Hall Sensation attractive feature of the Speaker's work and its occupants. In a closing chapter, Sir James speculates lightly on the future of the Dominion. He holds that Canada will find her destiny in continued association with the motherland. but he looks forward to the time when the relations of this country with Great Britain will be broadened, to the advantage of both sections & the empire. The work is splendidly bound and illustrated with beautiful pictures of the public buildings and romantic scenery with which the neighborhood of the capital abounds. The full-page portrait of the author, of the Governor-General. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and other statesmen prominent in public life also enhance its value, though apart from these special artistic features the work is bound to secure and maintain a first place in the native literature of Elopement of a Farmer's Wife With a Young Englishman.

[St. Marys Journal.] Some two weeks ago a smart young fellow stepped into the Journal office and inquired for R. Dixon, of St. Marys, whose acquaintance he had made near Oil Springs, while Mr. Dixon was engaged as agent on a Petrolia newspaper. Dixon had canvassed him, he said, and he had subscribed. He was now in town for a day or two, and wished to meet him. In the meantime the young man registered as Duncan Millet, of London township, at the Grand Central Hotel. Here he remained for a day or two, when he vent west to Lucan or Craig, he said. returning on the 4 o'clock train on Wednesday, May 18. He paid that day week's board in advance at the Grand Central. On the 24th he met a lady at the 3:30 train from the west, whom he brought to the hotel and inroduced as his wife. The next day he inquired the price of tickets to Imlay City, Mich., but finally pur-chased two for Port Huron of Mr. Sharp, and had a $10 bill changed to American money. On Monday morning of this week,

Rev. J. Learoyd was called out of bed at 6 o'clock in the morning by two men who were looking for a woman who had fled to St. Marys, where it was rumored she was married to a young man, Duncan Millett, who met her here. One of the men was Bert Abray, a respectable young farmer of Enniskillen township, about two miles from Oil Springs. The other was his neighbor, Harry Hill. The missing woman was Abray's wife. Mr. Abray said Millet was a young Englishman, the son of a Church of England min-Transfers of Ministers-Cases of ister in the old country. He was sent out to Canada to be reformed. For a couple of years he had worked near Denfield, in London township. Since Christmas he had been working for Abray in Enniskillen. A couple of weeks ago he said he was going to Mount Brydges, and got Mr. Abray to drive him to the train and loan him $10. A few days before this Mrs. Abray had left to visit friends near St. Marys. Neither of them had since returned. It appears Mrs. Abray had a sister married near Ilderton, that she herself was an adopted daughter of the late Lionel Shipley, and that she was visiting in that neighborhood, and in all probability Millet, after coming to St. Marys, went up to Lucan crossing and down to Denfield, and met her at that place and made all The husband had suspected nothing wrong. Mr. Peter Cole, the well-known pump, basket and cheese box manufacturer, of Ridgetown, had the misfortune to lose three fingers of his left hand the other day. He was running a jointer, when his hand slipped, and as a result he is now minus three fingers. Dr. E. B. Marr dressed the wounds.

What may prove a fatal accident occurred on the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Electric Railway, Wednesday, at Idylwild Park, between Hespeier and Preston. The car was running at a good rate of speed, when the trolley became disconnected and Conductor James, of Galt, in endeavoring to replace it, leaned out from the side of the car, and in doing so was struck on the head by a post. His recovery is doubtful.

The marriage took place at the manse on Wednesday, of Miss E. F. F. Mc-Mullen, daughter of Rev. Dr. McMullen, of Knox Church, and James Maxwell, of St. Marys. Dr. McMullen was assisted in the ceremony by Rev. Mr. Robertson, of Merritton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids were Miss Louise McMullen and Miss Maxwell, and Miss Verna Lee was maid of honor. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. James Chalmers, of St. Marys.

A number of accidents happened at Mr. Robert McArthur's barn-raising on Tuesday at Embro, in which no less than four men were hurt. A stick of timber struck Mr. Robert Sutherland, from near Campbell's Corners, and broke his leg. Mr. David Brock, of Thamesford, got a severe bruise on the shoulder with a falling brace. Mr. D. McArthur, of Holiday, and Mr. David McClure were also painfully, but not seriously injured.

Continuation of the Gathering at Chatham - Probationers and Superannuations.

THURSDAY MORNING. The London conference resumed its session at 9 a.m., the president in the chair. The president nominated Revs. Dr. Hannon and Jasper Wilson to prepare the pastoral address for 1899. Rev. Dr. Williams, an ex-president, was invited to take a seat on the platform. What probationers are continued on trial? Ans.-Wm. J. Mortimore, H. A. Graham, Alex. Rapson, D. H. Trimble, S. L. Tole, A. C. Farrell, J. L. Stuart, A. E. M. Thompson, E. F. Armstrong, C. W. Morrow, D. W. Harvey, J. F. Knight, C. R. Carscallen, J. C. Reid.

lution expressing sympathy with Rev. A. K. Birks, of Stratford, on the death of his father, the Rev. Wm. Birks, formerly a much respected member of this conference. THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Conference resumed business at 2 p.m., Rev. S. Bond presiding. The discussion on employing young men was resumed, and waxed warm, many taking part. A committee was appointed to consider the needs of the work for the year. Rev. Dr. Hare, president of the Whitby college, was introduced, and addressed the conference in the interests of the Ontario College, Whitby. The enrollment for the year has been 140. It is the only ladies' college in Canada that has successfully undertaken the work of a collegiate institure, as well as a university course through two years. The several de partments have received special attention during the year. The conference placed on record not only its high appreciation of the work done by the institution, but also extended its assurance of sympathy and support. The following are recommended to be continued as superannuated ministers: H. Orme, W. Wilmot, W. Chapman, D. Ryan, T. Crews, J. P. Morden, Geo. Bennett, L. W. Wickett, T. Nattrass, Smith, F. M. Smith, R. Paul, W. Norton, B. Sherlock, T.Hadwin, H.Cook. W. Mills, H. McLean, A. E. Griffith, R. Wm. Huggins, J. H. Stinson, J. Reynolds, N. E. Scott, A. Scratch, D. Pomeroy, C. Burdette, T. Webster, J. R.

Swift A resolution was voted down to prin College, Whitby, in the conference minutes, largely on the ground that it made the minutes bulky and expensive.

Supernumerary ministers: Revs. R. Sarvice, J. Rawson, J. Hill. The following are referred to committee on conference relations: John Russell, Eli Middleton, Jas. McDonagh, Wm. Hayhurst, E. Fessant, W.Fansher The pastoral address was presented by Rev. Dr. Williams.

Conference adjourned at 3:30 The conference Sunday school and Epworth League meeting last evening was addressed by Mr. W. H. Kerr, of Brussels; Revs. S. Salton and A. C. Crews, general Epworth League secretary. The meeting was one of interest and profit to this department of church

Would it have every young man from 20 to 23 serve an apprenticeship in war? Would it place governmental military service above every other consideration? Would it turn us all from peaceful citizens into uniformed, padded, corseted fashion plates? Would it put army above utter unpreparedness of this country for war. We are woefully unprepared, but that condition has made possible our great growth in healthy ways. We cannot do what Germany can do, but in many useful ways Germany cannot do what we can do. For instance, the Poughkeepsie Eagle could not criticise the Emperor of Germany were it the Eagle often does, it would find that of Municipal Affairs. [American Magazine of Physics.] The leading and most commendable feature of the management of public affairs is the principle of the sinking fund, which is applied to every enterprise or business in which the municipality is interested. Whatever debts it has are on the sure and safe road to liquidation by the automatic operation of the sinking fund device. By this means the city of Glasgow will, inside of 50 years, furnish free water to its citizens, give them the best electric lights free, electric or water power at cost, allow them to ride on its electric road at the nominal fare of 2

This view of the case, however, is inaccurate, as, in theaters are rather larger than smaller than those of other countries. The Carlo Felice in Genoa seats 2,500, the Scala, now no longer used for cal performances, in Milan, 2,100. The size of the theaters can be seen when compared with some New York houses, the average seating capacity of which is 1.500. The Garden, Garrick, Hoyt's, the Lyceum and the Empire, all well known houses, have less than 1,500 seating capacity each. A more plausible and more satisfactory explanation of the larger number of theaters in Italy is to be found in the fact that the cultivation and appreciation of music are perhaps more general in Italy than in any other country, and many of the playhouses, therefore, are not devoted to theatrical, but to musical entertainments. What are called concert halls in the United States or England are theaters in Italy, and the gardens, which prevail so largely in Germany, and in which the popular taste for music is in part supplied, are not to be found in Italy, to any similar extent. "I hope you do not flatter yourself that you are charitable now," she said with great frankness. "Because you might just as well have called her a rascal." He became serious. "I have no wish nor intention to say anything of the kind. She is a very interesting lady." Valeria's next effort was with Mr. Clive Willis. "I have been trying to form some idea of Miss Cromo; but no one will give me a definite answer. I shall not ask you." "If she had been a man she would have been a lawyer," he said, concisely. "And if she were a man and a lawyer, and I needed someone to prove that I never existed, and that all who imagined to have seen me were suffering from an optical illusion, and that my own notion that I existed was an hallucination, and, since a person who never existed cannot have an hallucination, that I never even fancied that I existed; and then, this having been all satisfactorily proved to the world, if I need that my counsel should turn about the next day, and prove to all the world that he never said any such thing-I would instantly retain Mr. Kate Cromo for any fee which he

Valeria had a will like the wind's will, which goes inevitably on its general course, yet swerves around impediments, seeming momentarily to turn back at times, but still going ever forward where its face was first set. She liked to softly breathe her wishes, and preferred to give up important ones rather than contend; but she had at need the power of the storm. In the affairs of others she had no will, and she was incurious to a fault. All her life had been passed in retirement, with little society beside books and nature; and standing, as in a magic circle, surrounded by these companions, she was only too prone to look upon the persons and personal interests about her as mere pictures, or, at most, as scenes in which she was never to take a part, and actors with whom she had little or nothing to do. A dreamy veil of unreality covered it

EIGHT DAYS WITHOUT FOOD.

Terrible Experience of Two Fishermen Adrift in a Dory.

St. Johns, Nfld., June 3.-Two seamen from the Gloucester fishing schooner Atlanta were rescued and landed here, after having passed eight days and nights without food, drifting in a dory on the fishing banks. The men will probably recover, although they were reduced almost to the condition of skeletons. Incoming vessels report numbers of icebergs along the North Atlantic shipping track, which are very dangerous to navigation.

King's Daughters.

The Bishop of Huron and Rev. Thomas Wilson Speak on the Work.

A temperance meeting under the auspices of the King's Daughters was held in Bishop Cronyn Hall yesterday afternoon. The attendance was not shown. Mrs. (Rev.) Sage presided, and on the platform were Mrs. Thornley, Mrs. Gordon Wright, Rev. Messrs. Sage and Wilson, Secretary Sayer, of the Y. M. C. A., and the Bishop of Huron. The meeting began with a hymn, and prayer by Mr. Sayer. In opening, Mrs. Gordon Wright spoke a few words, urging the import-not use fermented wine in churches. or eat an apple because there is cider in it. A few people take this as the temperance movement. It is not these things we aim to kill, but the terrible liquor traffic, which blasts so many lives. What have the temperance people accomplished? Are we going forward or backward? The temperance cause has been going steadily forward. The liquor traffic is being curtailed, which is largely due to the efforts of the W. C. T. U. and King's Daughters and other temperance bodies. In 1871 in the Province of Ontario there were 6,185 liquor li-censes, and in 1897 there were only 3,132-a decrease of over 3,000 licenses. In Toronto twenty years ago there were 487 licensed places, and today there are only 207. Under the old law there were four hotels for every 1,000 persons; now the proportion is only three per 1,000. Earlier closing had also been secured. A move should be made to have the bars closed at 6 o'clock." These, he said, are just a few of the things accomplished by the The Bishop of Huron followed with an earnest and eloquent address. In opening the speaker said: "I wish to say that the progress you are making for the furtherance of temperance shows that you are most likely to succeed in the present struggle. One of the most important things is to impress the temperance idea upon the minds of the young. They will grow up and become a great power to the cause. I believe the way for Canada to be won for temperance is for the whole church to take it up. The Church of Christ should take the little ones and make them swear that they would arraign themselves against the liquor traffic. The church has a power which the world has not. Strong liquor or wine is not necessary for a healthy constitution. They who are the strongest drink water. Man can do the most severe work without spirits. Take twenty men, supplied with whisky, and twenty with coffee, and the latter will be better fitted to London, Ont., complained that he do the hardest work. The same is went into Nick Miller's saloon at 67 true with soldiers on a march. The present commander of the British forces in Egypt has refused his solwas unconscious. When he came diers liquor. On one occasion a large to his senses an hour or so later he number of casks containing whisky were discovered, which he ordered to be broken, and the whisky was allowed to run in the sand. The human frame is injured by the use of alcoholic stimulants. Their effect may make you seem stronger for a time, but in the end you will pay dearly for it. The system at last must become a physical wreck. A great deal has been said in favor of the use of alcoholic stimulants in moderation. A great many young men and women think they can remain moderate drinkers. It is in trying to do this that so many fall. The love of liquor grows people of that town are urging the and I am persuaded that the moderate Grand Trunk Railway to give them bet- drinkers make the largest proportion ter railway connection with the Lon- of drunkards the world over. They do don, Huron and Bruce Railway. They desire that Goderich, the county town, be reached more conveniently than at present. One of the propositions is that the evening train from London, God's people are the light of the world instead of remaining over night at in everything. Everyone has some in Wingham, should run on to Palmer- fluence, and I cannot speak too highly ston, stay all night and return to of women's influence. A young man Wingham next morning in time to take will confide in his mother. She knows the regular run to London. This would every peculiarity and habit about him. give them a first-class connection each A mother's influence is a blessed and way, and would leave the run about the consecrated power. Use whatever insame as when this train went on to fluence you have, not merely for the cause of temperance, but consider to guide us. I don't want to say any passage to condemn this. But deny yourself this for Christ. No selfsacrifice is too great for the one who died on the cross that we might be saved. This should be a higher law of self-denial." In conclusion the reverend speaker said: "Go on with your good work. God's blessing will ever attend the work being done by you. I am persuaded that he is with all movements for the good of the world. It is my prayer that God's blessing the Trust and Hospital, pleasure to many, and mingled with regret by all connected with the London General Hospital, took place at the Music Hall last night, when the medals and diplomas were presented to the young ladies, who have qualified as professional nurses. There was a large attendance, and the stage, being adorned with a profusion of palms and flowers, together with the uniformed contingent of graduates, made the affair in many respects picturesque. Col. Lewis. occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were Dr. Balfour, medical superintendent, Dr. Hodge, C. F. Complin. Thomas Purdom, and Dr. James Campbell

Those who would receive diplomas and medals had served two years, and while many would think this too short a time, the nurses no doubt thought it London's hospital now hold responsible positions in large cities. He went over the hospital briefly, showing how the council of last year had dealt so favorably with them and the citizens, sanctioning the debentures for $70,000. This year's council had acted differently. He did not know why. Whether the trust could not be trusted, or whether the council knew more about hospital matters than the hospital board, he could not say. The council had taken the matter into their own hands, but after 20 years of faithful service, he would ever consider it a great slight. He hoped that the new hospital would soon be a reality, and with a doctor at the head of civic affairs they should have a good

The young sophomores, always at hand on occasions of this kind, from the other end of the hall, had something to say of each. They were either "jolly good fellows" or "all right." Miss Tye, lady superintendent, in sub-mitting her annual report, said: "The London General Hospital Training School for Nurses now enters upon the fifteenth year of its history, having been established in 1883 for the purpose of offering women desirous of becoming professional nurses a systematical course of instruction in theoretical and practical work pertaining to nursing. The course of study comprises anatomy, physiology and hygiene, together with practical nursing. Lectures had been given on "Surgery" by Dr. Wishart; "Diseases of Women and Children," Dr. Eccles; "Acepsis in Surgery," Dr. Meek; "Medical Cases," Dr. Hodge; "Materia Medica," Dr. Ardiel; "Physiology and Hygiene," Dr. W. At any rate, with two and log-rolling there had already been years' training, many who graduated at over it. He spoke of the local medical profession, medical superintendent, Dr. Balfour, and Miss Tye, as a credit to any city or district. Dr. Hodge, in addressing the nurses, congratulated them, and took this opportunity of informing them of a resolution to be presented to the trust, increasing the period of training from two years to three. Dr. Balfour spoke in the most kindly manner of the young ladies about to sever their connection with the hospital. They were as good as the best class that had graduated-capable and kind. Any assistance the hospital or staff could render them would always be

Mr. H. Ruthven McDonald sang by request "The Ship Afire," and in response to an encore, Dream of Home." Mr. Carpenter, late of Toronto, sang "You," and was encored. Miss Sylvia Warren sang with a rich and cultured voice, "A May Morning," and "Mignon" to an encore. Both Miss Warren and Mr. Carpenter are young artists, and possess the abilities that will doubtless place them in the front rank of vocal artists. Mrs. H. R. McDonald and Mr. Bleuthner acted as accompanists. Mayor Wilson was not present.
