DAILY AND WEEKLY
Chatham, Ont.

A LAST WORD.

Before another issue of The Planet reaches its readers the election contest will practically have been decided. For that reason we now make a last appeal to every elector to vote conscientiously and let the party suffer if it will. We do not believe that another five years of Tarte-Sifton rule will be in the interests of the people. We do not believe the majority of Liberals think so either. But, unfortunately, from a false sense of party loyalty most of these will risk the welfare of the Dominion to stick to a mere name, for that is all Liberalism now means.

Many men are Liberals because their fathers and grandfathers were. Their fathers and grandfathers adopted Liberalism for principle's sake. But what principle is there about it now? The present leaders have assassinated every vestige. They have overthrown responsible government by introducing the machine, by stuffing and burning ballot-boxes and by instituting a fund for which money has been raised by the sale of senatorships and trafficking with contractors and subsidized railways. All this is not "Liberal" in principle. Neither is the gross extravagance and corruption practiced by the various departments of Government. Why, then, should electors stick to a party which has utterly abandoned every plank which induced either their forefathers or themselves to join it?

At the opening of this campaign a number of conscientious and thoughtful Reformers tendered their support to Mr. Smith. We trust that the more they have considered the matter the more they are doing the proper thing. There should be no hesitation about any man doing what he knows to be right. Loyalty to party should not influence a vote. Partyism has caused men to do more infernal wickedness than anything else the devil ever set in their way to tempt them. A guilty conscience is easy to quiet when we can say, "Oh, I only did it for the sake of the party." If a man makes a scoundrel of himself it seems to us it won't lessen his standing in scoundrelism any just because he "did it for party," or did it for something else. Now, as many Liberals promised Mr. Smith on principle, we trust on election day they will keep their promise and thus help put him at the head of the poll.

Electors of all shades of politics must remember that to-morrow's contest settles the government of this country for five years. Do they want five years more of this Tarte-Sifton Blair rule? Five years more of high prices? Of extravagance? Of corruption? Of the rule of railroad corporations and combines? Of antagonism to Great Britain? If they don't they should vote the Conservative ticket. We ask every elector to-morrow to mark his ballot for either Smith or Clancy.

JUDGE THEM BY THE COMPANY THEY KEEP.

The Winnipeg Tribune, Liberal, which is opposing the machine, and fighting for party decency, cannot understand how respectable people, even some ministers, can so far forget their honor as to identify themselves with the present Canadian Tammany. The Tribune, it says, has not turned. It is still championing the cause of the people just as it always did. Mr. Sifton turned to be, and Mr. Greenway turned, but The Tribune has remained faithful.

The Tribune also exposes the kind of vote the good people who vote Liberal are endorsing. It says: "A year or so ago certain bye-elections revealed something of the methods of the machine. Now that the elections are on again, we already have had the curtain lifted a little, once or twice. There was the attempt in Mr. Sifton's own constituency to buy up Mr. King, and again to buy up Mr. Manby. How many others were approached successfully, and without exposure, cannot be known. Where does all the money come from? Have we not in this sort of work some explanation of the legislation by which Mr. Sifton has given to corporations the power to take tens of millions of dollars from the people? The people of Canada and especially of Manitoba are face to face with the question whether they are to be governed by corruption for the use of the corruptors. There can be no doubt what answer the manhood of the people will give."

LIBERAL REVOLT AGAINST TARTE

The excuses made by and on behalf of the Hon. J. Israel Tarte, one of Mr. Stephens' chief leaders, and his benevolent appeal, should make every elector the more determined to turn this man down and drive him out of public life. The Conservative press are accused of persecuting Mr. Tarte, of wrenching sentences of his out of their context and giving them wrong meanings. That this is false is proved

PITY AND BEAUTY

The most beautiful thing, in the world, is the baby, all dimples and joy. The most pitiful thing is that same baby, thin and in pain.

The dimples and joy have gone, and left hollows and fear. It is fat that is gone; gone with it, comfort and color and curve; all but pity and love.

The little one gets no fat from her food: has had none for weeks: she is living on what she had stored in that plump little body of hers. She is starving for fat; it is death; be quick!

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the fat she can take. It will save her.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

by certain indignant bursts of Liberal organs, before the general elections have in sight. It will be remembered that the Globe rebuked Mr. Tarte severely for his intemperate and inflammatory harangues and that Tarte responded in his voluble style reading the Globe out of the party and sneering at it as playing to Ontario public opinion. This was not so long ago but that it will be in the memories of many people.

But more significant than the Globe's rebuke was that of the Montreal Herald, the English Liberal organ of the metropolis, published right among the French population, which in June last plucked up courage to protest against the party being any longer responsible for Mr. Tarte and his words and work, and especially his traitorous talk over in France. On Wednesday, June 27, the Montreal Herald published the following editorial—its leader that day:

"MR. TARTE AT ROUEN.
"It is difficult to know what idea Mr. Tarte intended to convey to his Rouen audience, when he informed them that the French in Canada have remained French; that we are more and more French; we are more French than we were twenty years ago. Aye, we are more French than we were one year ago. But, whatever meaning may have been intended, it is still more difficult to understand what possible motive could have prompted these and other expressions in the same speech. One has to remember that it is charitable to hope he himself did not, that the speaker is the representative in France of a British country, that he is a minister of the crown in this British colony, and that whether he is right or not about Canada or even North America ultimately becoming French in the majority of its population, just at present there is in Canada a considerable majority of English-speaking people, and that he is in France to represent these even more than the minority from which he springs.

"It may be, for such things are always possible, and indeed natural, that a reactionary movement might find a certain measure of support in Quebec. Reactionaries of one kind and another are to be found everywhere. Every man is free to hold his own opinions. But in Quebec, not less than in the English provinces, the Liberalism of the present is the Liberalism of the past. It is the Liberalism of a century he has been in public life, permitted himself to be understood or even misunderstood in the way Mr. Tarte has made familiar. If we are wrong about the sentiments of the people of Quebec, if we are wrong in believing that Tarte speaks for his province when he goes beyond the language of Cartier and Lafontaine, it is just as well we should know it. But in that event it were seemly that the work of enlightenment should come from avowed opponents of the present Premier and not from one who sits with him at the council board."

It is believed the Montreal Herald's utterance was in pursuance of a movement to oust Mr. Tarte from the cabinet. The Montreal Herald's and the Globe's rebukes were both freely quoted in the press, and no doubt that Tarte would be deposed. But the movement failed, Tarte being too strong for his assailants. His occult influence over Sir Wilfrid prevailed, Sir Wilfrid asserting "W. en Tarte goes, I go."

Why do Liberal papers now falsely charge Conservatives with misrepresenting Tarte, when the Montreal Herald's utterance corroborates the Conservative attitude throughout? Does not candour and fairness survive in any branch of the party? The country should rid itself of Tarte and his dishonest apologist.

Teach Tarte a lesson.

A vote for Stephens is a vote for Tarte.

Remember, a Liberal triumph means another five years of high prices.

Do you approve of Cartwright defrauding the mails out of tens of thousands of dollars by abusing his franking privilege? If you do vote for Stephens.

Smith never went back on a fellow citizen, don't go back on him to-morrow.

Thank heaven these race and religious cries are getting so disgusting they will soon be called in for very shame.

If you want the Standard Oil Company driven out of Canada, vote Conservative.

Remember, it was the Liberals who increased the duty on sugar and thus doubled the price.

Malvey has had his innings. The Sons of England will have theirs at the polls to-morrow.

Had Laurier's refusal to send a contingent "zone" what would Great Britain think of us now?

Elect Smith and see that the interests of Chatham's wagon and carriage factories are safe-guarded.

To-morrow the loyal elector will have to choose between Tarte and Stephens and Smith and the Empire.

What did the newly discovered "workingman's friend" ever do for the workingman before he was nominated by the Liberals?

When Mayor Smith subscribed $25 to help the striking railway section men, how much did Ald. Stephens put up?

Blair has given every contract possible to Americans. What do you think of that? He is one of Ald. Stephens' chief leaders.

As the slave of the combines and railroads, Laurier is a success. Is that the kind of man you feel like keeping in power?

If Laurier had been man enough to be real prime minister of this country instead of simply Tarte's tool, he would not now be so hard pressed for his political life.

The Stratford Beacon speaks of the West Elgin felons as "purporting" to work in the Liberal interest. Purporting to work! Of course the Beacon imagines there is room to doubt who hired and paid them.

T. A. Smith has always extended the right hand of fellowship to the workingman. With him it is no election campaign shake. Now, watch the workingman stand by T. A.

The Canadian boys in South Africa had to pay two cents on every letter they sent home, but Cartwright can mail $20,000 worth at a time and never pay a copper postage.

Every Conservative can help his party by voting early—not later than noon. With the bulk of the vote in the afternoon will then be clear to look up stray and delayed electors.

Bourassa, the Liberal whip, who resigned his seat in L'Abadie because a contingent was sent to South Africa, is the government candidate in that county again. Are you voting that way?

Partisanship is a bad malady. It can make many otherwise honorable men vote for a dog biscuit government.

If Laurier and Tarte had had their way in refusing to send a contingent what position would Canada be in now, among the nations? Do you want to leave such men in control of the Dominion's honor and loyalty?

Has Laurier ever yet made a speech before a French-Canadian audience without logging in the announcement half a dozen times that he is a French-Canadian and a Catholic. Yet he charges his opponents with raising the race and religious cry.

When Blair had cars for the Intercolonial to buy he went to the States. When he had 20 engines to purchase the order was given to Yankees. When supplies were sent to the Yukon they were largely bought in the States, sent over American railways to Seattle and shipped in U. S. boats to Skagway. Is Blair the kind of man you are going to support via George Stephens?

The Globe publishes the Queen and Laurier side by side—an equality as it were. This is really surprising. We thought the Globe looked on the man who didn't want to send a contingent to help the Empire, as a much more important personage than Her Majesty. On the other hand, some people might think the picture grossly insulting to the Sovereign.

A well known cattle dealer of Guelph told the Mercury that he had saved enough as a result of the reduction in postage to buy all his binder twine and coal oil for the past year.—Galt Reformer.

The man may not have lied when he said so, either, who knows? In the first place, what would a cattle buyer need with binder twine? And in the next he may have used incandescent electric lights. But if he used the same amount of binder twine and coal oil as an ordinary farmer he lied. You can figure for yourself how many lighters a day he would have to average at a cent each—the amount of the saving—to make up the required sum.

To the Editor Planet.

T. A. Smith the Workingman's Best Friend!

I have worked and voted for the Liberal party for over thirty-four years, and I am now sorry for it. The lying, unfair abuse heaped upon Mr. Smith in this election will cause many old Liberals to support him. Many years ago, when I came here a perfect stranger, and pretty hard pressed, I fell in with T. A. Smith, and, although a complete stranger to him, he promptly offered me financial assistance to open up a Barber's Shop in Chatham, and while in buying out an established shop no financial aid was required, yet Mr. Smith nobly and generously backed me up, which amounts to the same thing. He has been my good friend ever since, and moreover, I can tell of scores of other men in hard lines that Mr. Smith kindly picked up and assisted. Mr. Smith don't particularly hob-nob with the high stiff collar gentlemen who need no aid or assistance, but you will find Mr. Smith every time seeking out those who need kindly, generous acts, and these he promptly renders. It ill-becomes Mr. Stephens or his claquers to say that Mr. Smith never succeeded in anything he undertook. What I have mentioned is probably one of the good reasons why he did not succeed. No danger of Geo. Stephens failing in business through generous or charitable acts to the poor people. Mr. Smith very likely gave away far more through his generous left hand than he made by his right hand. This, however, is a failing characteristic of many noble men, and one that will be praised and admired rather than used as a contemptible slur upon the whole-souled kindness and generosity of Mr. Smith. The word selfishness is not in the vocabulary of our future M. P.

HUGH FITZSIMONS.

FROG SPEARING.

A Sport as Full of Thrills as Angling For Black Bass.

To achieve success as a frog spearer ("frog sticker" sounds like slang) one must have a keen eye and a steady hand and be able to refrain from useless discourse. It has some of the elements of fire hunting and some of giggling for fish. Two men get in a boat with a headlight attached to the prow. One of the men handles the paddle or oars, and the other sits close up behind the headlight, spear in hand, and watches out for frogs. When the man with the spear sees a frog, he says "Steady" in a low tone. The paddler brings the boat almost to a halt, and the man in front prepares to strike. This looks easy, but the first time you try it you will find it isn't. The spear is at the end of a long pole 10 or 12 feet long. The spearsman holds it in his right hand, letting it trail in the water. In striking the shaft is sunk, and the point barely comes to the surface. This is the instant when the frog is struck, and the frog is struck so that he cannot struggle out of the times. As soon as the spearsman is assured of his position and distance he thrusts at the frog. If his aim is true, the frog is impaled and is lifted high out of the water. As soon as the frog is disengaged from the barbed point he is thrown into a bag, which must be kept tightly closed to prevent escape, for a frog is a restless and independent worker for liberty even when his diaphragm is punched full of holes.

The sensation that a 12 inch frog can send into your arm through the medium of a ten foot pole is equal to the shock that a three pound bass conveys up the length of a split bamboo rod, and when a man has once speared a frog he never is satisfied until he has repeated the feat, and he isn't satisfied then, for he is sure to try it again.

Of course you don't need to be told that frog legs are good to eat, but possibly you may not know that not one restaurant in a hundred prepares them properly. They should be treated precisely like spring chickens are treated by old time southern cooks.

HIS IDEA OF A WIFE.

The Bride Who Answered the Little Widow's Matrimonial Ad.

"Love" said a short letter to the advertisement window.
"Speaking from experience?" inquired the young man who splices ink and answers questions about the weather.

"Yes, hard experience."

"Can you confide?"

"I suppose so. You see, I inserted a personal in the paper the other day."

"So I remember."

"And I only received one reply."

"Was that satisfactory?"

"I must confess that it was not."

"How was that?"

"Well, I just tell you all. You see, it has been two years since I lost my last husband, and naturally I feel alone in the world. So I hit on the idea of a personal in the paper. I went on to say that I was a widow, with a child, and would marry a man who could appreciate true love. Here is how my lone bride of a correspondent replied:

"Dear Madam—In reply to your personal will say that I am an old bachelor and the owner of a 1,000 acre farm. I was considered handsome before the sun wrinkled my neck and the rain formed wrinkles as big as cart runs in my face. Madam, here is a note to you: A wife that can read novels and makes caramels on the kitchen range has my dislike; a wife that can put up fruit and make quills has my liking, but a wife that can milk 12 cows before sunrise, feed 30 farmhands, put up preserves on wash day, make soft soap on Saturday night, patch my clothes and then go to meet on Sunday with a fresh milk has my love. If you come under the latter, let me know, and I will meet you at the depot with the farm wagon. Always the same. CYRUS KALL."

"He doesn't want much for his love," remarked the clerk.

"It's a brute!" said the little widow.

"Then I suppose you will decline?"

"Decline? Why, I would rather drift alone forever than ever meet such a monster."

The Kicking Tree at Wells.

The "kicking tree" is a landmark half way between Wells college and the nearest village, which bears evidence of peculiar treatment from the students of that well known educational establishment. It is described as a large elm, whose branches shade the walk traversed by the college girls whenever they go to the town to make purchases, and it is about half a mile from the college. For two or three feet from the ground its trunk is sadly marred. There are scars on it and indications that it was once properly covered with a tree's usual growth, but all of it is gone now. The college girls have done it. Years ago some erratic girl started the fashion of walking as far as the tree and marking the progress by administering a vigorous kick upon its side. The fashion came to stay. Now not a college girl thinks of walking by it without touching her foot against the trunk in a casual, matter of fact way. Millions of times, probably, has the old elm been thus assailed.

He Captured Goethe.

There is no such luxury as privacy to him whose name is Goethe.

Some no doubt enjoy the distinction, but the majority must detest the intrusion.

Goethe once arrived at such a pitch of irritability from the prying curiosity of visitors that when a tourist would not be denied he descended from his study, lighted candle in hand, and without a word of greeting merely placed the candle on a table and sat still. In the noise of the candle he calmly seized the tourist and round and round the great man, examining his physiognomy with deliberate scrutiny. Whereupon the poet broke into a loud and ordered wail.

And this persistent visitor, needless to remark, was an American—Argonaut.

Compensation.

Clevertown—I find nowadays that if a man wants to marry a girl he has to work till he gets her.

Dashaway—But it's the right girl he doesn't have to work afterward.

The Face Behind the Mask.

A ROMANCE.

can help it! This gentleman has a gold coin in one of his pockets. I believe, and it will fall to you if you keep quiet and answer decently. Tell me how many have been in that house since the young lady was brought back like a drowned rat."

"How many?" said the man, meditating, with his eyes fixed on Sir Norman's garments, and he, perceiving that, immediately gave him the promised coin to refresh his memory, which it did with amazing quickness.

"How many—oh—let me see; there was the young man that brought her in, and left her there, and came out again, and went away. By-and-bye he came back with another, which I think this as gave me the money is him. After a little they came out, first the other, then this one, and went off, and the next that went in was a woman in a mask, with a mask on, and right behind her came two men; the woman in the mask came out after awhile; and about ten minutes after the two men followed, and one of them carried something in his arms, that didn't look unlike a lady with her head in a shawl. Anything wrong, sir?"

Sir Norman gave a violent start and caught Hubert by the arm.

"Nothing! Where did they carry her to?"

"What did they do with her? Go on! go on!"

"Well," said the watchman, eyeing the speaker curiously. "I'm going to the river, both of them, and I saw a boat shove off, shortly after I saw the woman, with its head in a shawl, lying as peaceable as a lamb, with one of the two beside it. That's all—I went to sleep about then, till you two were shaking me and waking me up."

Sir Norman and Hubert looked at each other, one between despair and rage, the other with a thoughtful, half-inquiring air, as if he had some secret to tell, and was mentally questioning whether it was safe to do so. On the whole, he seemed to come to the conclusion that a silent tongue maketh a wise head, and frowning and saying "Thank you" to the watchman, he passed his arm through the door of Leoline's house.

"There is a light within," he said, looking up at it; "how comes that?"

"I found the lamp burning when I returned, and everything under the door, and I saw the man entered noiselessly and carried her off without a struggle," replied Sir Norman, with a sort of groan.

"Have you searched the house—searched it well?"

"Thoroughly—from top to bottom."

"It seems to me there ought to be some trace. Will you come back with me and look again?"

"It is no use, but there is nothing else I can do, so come along."

They entered the house, and Sir Norman led the page direct to Leoline's room, where the light was.

"I left her here when I went away, and here the lamp was burning when I came back, so it must have been from this room she was taken."

Hubert was gazing slowly and critically around, taking note of everything. Something glistened and flashed on the floor under the mantle, and he went over and picked it up.

"What have you there?" asked Sir Norman in surprise; for the boy had started so suddenly and flushed so violently that it might have astonished anyone.

"Only a shoe buckle—a gentleman's. Do you recognize it?"

Though he spoke in his usual careless way, and half-hummed the air of one of Lord Rochester's love songs, he watched him keenly as he spoke.

It was a diamond buckle, exquisitely set, and of great beauty and value, but Sir Norman knew nothing of it.

"There are initials upon it."

WAS A GOOD FELLOW

When he Worked For the Reformers—It is All Different Now.

To the farmer and laboring men of the County of Kent.—How is it that when I was with the Reformers at the last Provincial election they recognized me as a good, smart fellow. Now they try to do all in their power to down me. I have claims on the township of Raleigh that the people of that township recognize. It was through my exertions that a refund on the Government drain No. 1 of $17,000 was secured to the rate-payers. It was I that got the Raleigh plains' drain constructed which made the townships of Raleigh and Tilbury East what they are. Did George Stephens in any way help to do this? No, he owned land in the township of Raleigh and cast his vote for R. L. Morrison and did all in his power to defeat me in this undertaking. And now he asks the voters of Raleigh to support him. I recognize the rights of the farmer and the mechanic to his earnings and that he should not be taxed any more than what is necessary to carry on the Government of the country. To tax them for the benefit of the manufacturer, the railroad lord or the monopolist is an outrage to be resented and by casting a vote for George Stephens you are supporting a Government that is in favor of this. I make an appeal to the laboring men and mechanics and farmers to look this matter square in the face and vote against it. Do not believe that George Stephens is a friend to the laboring man or farmer.

BRIBERS, BEWARE!

It is said that a quantity of money has been sent into this riding from the Central Liberal Corruption Fund and that the distribution of this money will begin this evening. It is just as well for the local "machine" to understand that this will not be tolerated this election as it has been before.
The parties who are accessory to the proposed felony know the new law and know the consequences of breaking it. It is not pleasant for friends and neighbors to have to prosecute each other over political matters, especially when it means the Central prison. Therefore it is just as well that this reptile fund be returned to those who sent it. There will be hundreds of convictions no doubt throughout the country under the new act, and there will be no need for Chatham and Kent to swell the list.
At the same time, any act of corruption coming under the notice of a Conservative should be promptly placed in the hands of the police. All bribers should be nipped at the outset.

To cure a cold in a night—use Vapo-Cresol-

THE BALLOT IS SECRET.

The Dominion ballot is absolutely secret, and it is utterly impossible for any person other than the voter himself to discover how a man's ballot has been marked. Voters who are threatened by bosses of any kind should remember this and mark their ballots for the man and party of their choice.

He Kept His Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 11-2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For Eruptions, Bo-zema, Tetters, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. A. L. McGill & Co. will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

BROKE HIS NECK.

Washington Man Was Jammed

He May Live, Doctors Think—He Is a Spanish War Veteran.

Washington, Nov. 6.—John Mc-Quade, a clerk in the war department, is lying in Emergency hospital, his life in the balance. The doctors say there is an even chance he may live. Mc-Quade, who is 19 years old, was formerly a student in Georgetown university. He enlisted as a volunteer at the outbreak of the Spanish war and when he returned home accepted a position in the war department. He was an enthusiastic football player.
Sunday some of the young men of the neighborhood organized two scrub eleven and started a game. A number of skilled players were engaged and the sport soon became very fast.
On a fumble McQuade caught the ball and started for the opposite goal.
He was tackled hard and came directly down on his head. Several players fell on him, and when he was lifted from the ground his head fell back on his shoulders, his neck having been broken.

NEVER TOO LATE

To Try a Good Thing.

I am fifty-two years old, and for forty years of that time I have been a chronic catarrh sufferer, says Mr.
James Gieshing, of Allegheny City, with every change of weather my head and throat would be stuffed up with catarrhal mucus.
I could not breathe naturally through the nostrils for months together and much of the time I suffered from catarrh of the stomach. Finally my hearing began to fail and I realized something must be done.

I tried inhalers and sprays and salves which gave me temporary relief and my physician advised me to spray or douche with Peroxide of Hydrogen. But the catarrh would speedily return in a few days and I became thoroughly discouraged.
I had always been prejudiced against patent medicines, but as everything else had failed, I felt justified in attempting a trial.
Our good family physician, Dr.
Ramsdell, laughed at me a little, but said that if I was determined to try patent medicines, he would advise me to begin with Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because he knew what they contained and had heard of several remarkable cures resulting from their use, and furthermore that they were perfectly safe, containing no cocaine or opium.

The next day I bought a fifty cent box at a drug store, carried it in my pocket, and four or five times a day I would take a tablet; in less than a week I felt a marked improvement which continued until at this time I am entirely free from any trace of catarrh.
My head is clear, my throat free from irritation, my hearing is as good as it ever was and I feel that I cannot say enough in praise of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.
The tablets contain extract of Eucalyptus bark, Guaiacum, blood root and other valuable anti-septics combined in pleasant tablet form, and it is safe to say that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are far superior in convenience, safety and effectiveness to the antiquated treatment by inhalers, sprays and douches.
They are sold by druggists everywhere in the United States and Canada.

GET UP THE LEVELS.

The property owners on Lorne Ave.
are dissatisfied with their new granolithic walk. It is on a level with the road and a good foot below the boulevard. W. L. G. Snell said he couldn't understand why the walk had been put down so low. He had taken the trouble to explain to the city engineers that the walk across the road was too low, and Mr. Shackleton had promised to see that it was built higher. Instead, however, it was even lower, and the residents of the south side of Lorne Ave. would have a sidewalk under water when the wet season arrived. All the water from the boulevard would run down on the walk.
One of the London men told Mr.
Snell that in London the granolithic walks were built four inches higher than all the surrounding ground. Mr.
Snell can't see why this wasn't done
on Lorne Ave.

Mr. W. E. Ripin is having extensive repairs made to the Elbera building, corner of King and Fifth Sts., putting in water-works and modern conveniences, and otherwise putting the property in good condition. There are a number of good rooms to rent in this building which can be secured on application to Mr. Ripin.

It's Your Nerves.

It's the Condition of Your Nerves That Either Makes Your Life a Round of Pleasure or a Useless Burden.

To many women life is one round of sickness, weakness and ill health. To attempt even the lightest household duties fatigues them. Many of the symptoms accompanying this state of decline are: a feeling of tiredness, waking, faintness, dizziness, sinking feeling, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, loss of appetite, cold hands and feet, headache, dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back and sides and all other accompaniments of a run down and weakened constitution.

All these symptoms and conditions are simply the result of a poor quality and defective circulation of the blood, with a wasting away of the nerve forces.

By feeding the system with

Dr. Ward's BLOOD AND NERVE PILLS.

You strike at the root of the disease and lay a solid foundation on which to build. Soon the weight increases, the sunken cheeks and flattened bust fill out, the eyes get bright and the thrill of renewed health and strength vibrates through the system.

ISRAEL'S ORGAN,

La Temps, Declared That not a Map, not a Cent

"Should be Contributed to Aid Great Britain—Every Loyal Elector Should Read These Facts."

When the Tarte government had quarrelled for six days over the question of sending the first contingent to Africa, and at a time when Le Temps, a French paper at Ottawa, was directly inspired by Mr. Tarte, that disloyal sheet said (October 14, 1899):

"This anti-Canadian, inhuman work (fighting Britain's battles abroad) the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not wish to undertake. If it is Mr. Tarte who has prevented the government from taking that deplorable step towards the dread unknown, from this day we shall owe him an immense debt of gratitude. But already we congratulate the cabinet on its not having committed the good name of Canada to this reprehensible course."

"The Canadian government does not take part officially in the African war. It will not raise any troops for England, but only facilitates individuals who may desire to go to fight the Boers."

"NOT A SINGLE MAN, NOT ONE CENT, NOT ANY OFFICIAL CONTRIBUTION ON THE PART OF CANADA TO A WAR AGAINST THE LIBERTY AND INDEPENDENCE OF A BROTHER NATION. SUCH IS THE DECISION OF SIR WILFRID LAURIER. HE DESERVES WELL OF HIS NATIVE COUNTRY."

That was the attitude not only of the Government's French press, but of the Laurier-Tarte Government itself, and the course indicated is that which would have been pursued if it had not been for Sir Charles Tupper, the Liberal-Conservative press and ultimately the imperial demand of the people of Canada.

A Prominent West York Liberal

TAKES THE STUMP FOR CLARKE WALLACE—HE SAYS HE IS DISGUSTED WITH HIS PARTY.

Hon. N. C. Wallace held a meeting in the Conservative interests at Thornhill on Friday night last. Among those on the platform were Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, John McGregor, Toronto; T. Humberstone, Newtonbrook; Rev. Peter Campbell, Maple; George Wood, York Mills. Without any preliminaries, Mr. McGregor was introduced as the first speaker. Said he: "I have been a life-long Reformer, and many of you may perhaps think in strange that I should be on Clarke Wallace's platform tonight." Reverting to the last general election, he paid an eloquent tribute to Mr. Wallace for the stand he had taken on the Remedial Bill, when he had stood for principle rather than party. For this he respected him highly, and continued: "I am here tonight with the same feeling for this noble statesman that I had in 1896, and am only sorry to say that the party I have been supporting for years have bartered every single particle of principle they ever held or professed to hold, and have wrecked the Reform party in Canada, leaving it without a policy and without a single atom of principle to sustain it, if the party were turned out of power tomorrow."

NO ECONOMY NOW.

"You know that one of the principal planks in the Liberal platform was the question of economy in the administration of public affairs. They said that the public money was being squandered, and it was mainly upon that plank that they were returned to power. But, ladies and gentlemen, what was this horror and consternation of all true Reformers to find that the party had rolled the expenditure from $10,000,000 at which the Conservatives left it, to $63,000,000 this year. (Hear, hear.) We say that this was an outrage upon the people of Canada. It was a distinct insult to every true Reformer in Canada, who had supported them while in Opposition, and placed them in power on the distinct understanding that the expenditure of the country was to be lessened."

A graphic illustration of what such a violation of pledges means in private life was given. "In private life," said he, "such conduct is outrageous. Ask me to have one standard for private life and another for the public affairs of this country? Most emphatically I say 'No.' (Hear, hear.) I demand from the Reform party the same account as I would from an individual who has run up seven million dollars in debt, as the Government has done, as well as having squandered the entire amount that was received in prosperous times. Is that a realistic and reasonable cause? (Hear, hear.)

ARE MASQUERADERS. "We find," he continued, "among the other things that were advocated for years for the Reform party—and I have the right to a realistic understanding of the party, to call to account these men who were masquerading under the colors of the Reform party—was this, that Parliament should be entirely independent, that no member of Parliament should be appointed to any public position from the floor of the House. There was a great principle involved in that. Every member elected to the House of Commons in Canada occupies a judicial position. It is the high court of Canada. Frequently did Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers contend for this principle when in opposition, and Mr. Mulock actually moved on the floor of the House that hereafter no member of Parliament be appointed from the House of Commons to any position in the gift of the Crown (Hear, hear). Here was a principle that I, as a Reformer, had advocated for years, and expected that the gentlemen whom we elected to represent us would have carried out to the letter."

AN AWFUL RECORD.

They were bound by every obligation of honor and decency, to carry it out. What did they do? During the 18 years of Conservative government I think there were some 14 or 15 such appointments. During the four years that the Liberal government has been in power over 17 members have been appointed from the floor of the House. (Hear, hear, and applause.) The party was also guilty, perhaps of a few grafters and contractors of a certain class, and of their friends who had been appointed to office, but he believed they would find to their cost that they had permanently forfeited the respect of all honest Liberals in the country. (Applause.)

A GOOD SMITH MEETING. A very successful Conservative meeting was held at McCol's school house, Harwich, on Monday evening. The meeting was very enthusiastic. Ward Stanworth and J. M. Pike made earnest and forcible appeals on behalf of the Liberal-Conservative standard bearer, while Edwin Bell and R. L. Brackin spoke on behalf of the opposition. The chair was occupied by Neil Watson. Cheers for Smith closed the meeting.

BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL. Illegal Voters' Lists in Algoma are Now Legalized.

Port Arthur, November 6.—The Algoma election has not been postponed, as has been supposed. All the voters' lists for the unorganized territories which have not been finally passed upon by the district judges, and are consequently not legal, have been legalized by an order-in-council at Ottawa, the order evidently being intended to override the Election Act. It looks now as if it was a straight attempt to snatch a verdict, no matter whether legal or not.

THE BALLOT IS SECRET. The Dominion ballot is absolutely secret, and it is utterly impossible for any person other than the voter himself to discover how a man's ballot has been marked. Voters who are threatened by bosses of any kind should remember this and mark their ballots for the man and party of their choice.
