A Coronation Hymn.

Oh! King of Kings, from whom all Kings have power,
Look on this King, crowned in our sight to-day,
Stand Thou beside him, this and every hour,
Give him the grace for which his people pray,
King of all Kings, Father of all things living,
Receive this day our praise and our thanksgiving.

Master and Lord, behold Thy people kneeling,
Heart and feet, we have no place nor state,
Out of this earth, Thy glory ours revealing,
Made kinship holy and made us brethren,
Receive our devotion, this our prayer most lowly,
And save our King and make his people holy.

And now, O God, Thy presence we implore,
As we are gathered to our different homes,
May God that work which each alone can do,
Hasten our hopes and each right endeavor,
In God our King and Jesus our Lord forever.

Caroline.

Price Story, by Bertha M. Cleveland, of Wolfville, in the Boston Post.

Caroline was an outcast from the society of Dumpsey Corner. Beside that, she was an orphan.

The first position had been hers for three years by right of conquest. It had caused her no uneasiness—indeed, she sometimes gloried in it. For did it not mean that Abner, the once most admired man in all Dumpsey Corner, was exclusively her own? But lately things had gone wrong. They were headed that way by Abner's sister, who came from the city to visit her mother. Hot words ensued between her and Caroline, and ended only when Caroline, her little bundle of extra clothing under her arm, trudged out across the fields and pastures to her mother's farm, three miles away.

'It's you, Carrie?' said her mother, rising gaunt and shakily to meet her daughter as she entered the house.

There was the sorrowful wistfulness of old age in the eyes that rested on Caroline's face, then her hands, Caroline had always been headstrong, her mother eyes.

'You've not come too soon, I've been sufferin' untold miseries this week back. An' I'm not able to come over to tend the cow, bin' laid up with lamboleg. So I've not had a person to do a head's right. But you must be done out with your work.'

Couldn't you've sent me word so I could have come sooner? and Caroline line bustled herself making up the fire.

It was when the crab tree by the front door was tumbling down its harvest that Caroline put her mother to bed. And when the same twisted branches were stretched out ready for their spring garments of pale green, she walked out behind the black carriage that bore her mother to her long resting place in Dumpsey Corner churchyard.

In all that time she had not seen Abner.

Her mother's last advice to her had been, 'Don't go back to Ab, Carrie, Stay right here till he comes for you.'

So Caroline lived alone and cared for the dozen yellow hens and one red cow, just as her mother had done.

Her sensitive mother took a weaker droop, her hair ignored its comb, her red velvet dress was covered with blotches that showed more tears and less velvet, her skirts dragged apologetically, and her apron, stiffened by her huge rent, all because Caroline was giving up hope.

Little Emmie Dragg, who came up the road every evening to keep Caroline company over night, was her only tie to the world—Abner's world. For she went up to the Corner every day to school or meeting, her bright black eyes noticed everything, and her little red lips were never tired of telling all she saw. It was Emmie who brought Caroline news of Abner.

One Sunday afternoon she returned from meeting, with something unusual on her little mind. She had waited for the children before she had told her story. Emmie, who came from the post where Caroline was skimming milk, before she began any information.

Neuralgia and Sclatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing done until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have been afflicted with Neuralgia and Sclatica for 25 years. I had tried every remedy advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before I had finished the bottle I had confidence in this medicine. I have recommended it to dozens of my friends.

In every case of this nature the Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy gives relief. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all the ailments of the stomach and bowels, and is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of the nervous system. It is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of the nervous system.

As our fisheries. The fleet of the County of Lunenburg, with 100 vessels, caught, last year, over 300,000 quintals of cod fish, valued at $2,500,000. The total value of the fisheries of the province was $3,400,000; and a quarter of the population are dependent on this great industry.

With the very great natural resources this province has it could easily support a population eight or ten times as great as it now holds. There are large tracts of land still undeveloped—only last year a thimbleful was opened in this province which has been pronounced one of the richest in the world by an expert who has visited the forests, mines, and other resources, Australia, and elsewhere.

In 1907 Nova Scotia had 600 industrial establishments in which 255,000 people were invested, and a pay roll computed at $2,751,000; the products of these establishments were valued at $32,574,000. While the number of establishments have increased since then, the capital investment has also increased and the number of persons employed from 23,135 to 36,000; the output had increased in 1910 to $69,000,000.

The exports of the province for the fiscal year ending March 31st were valued at $20,001,324—the imports amounted to $16,748,320.

Facts Worth Knowing.

No Province in Canada, and probably no State in the Union, equals Nova Scotia in the variety of her resources and its attractions to the migrant. The provinces of the West have their enormous crops of wheat, their valuable minerals, etc., but only one of them can equal Nova Scotia in variety. The far famed Annapolis Valley, one of the most apple producing sections (in proportion to its size) in the world, will within a few years produce upwards of 1,000,000 barrels of apples.

The crop of 1910 was valued at upwards of $5,000,000; the hay crop at nearly $11,000,000; the oat crop at $2,775,000. The total crop yield for 1910 was valued at $22,000,000. It is 100 years yet to judge what the crop yield will be for this present year, but the blossoms on the apple trees throughout the Valley came earlier this year than the fruit groves seen optimistic.

The lumber cut for 1910 year was estimated at upwards to half a billion feet, and while the present spring so far has been a dry one, the mill generally reported having been successful in their river driving, and a much larger cut is looked for in the present year than in the past. The condition of the lumber market at present is about the same as at this time last year; while the prices in the American cities are not any better than last year's, there is said to be a fair demand in the English and foreign markets.

The coal industry of the Province for this year is promising, and with the mines at Springhill again in operation it is expected that the shipment for 1911, if nothing untoward happens, will exceed those of 1910.

The total shipments during last year were 5,397,750 tons—an increase of 346,000 tons over the previous year; the output of minerals during 1910 aggregated $35,000,000 in value.

The number of men employed in the different steel works of the Province amount, approximately, 6,000, and the steel works of Sydney alone turned out 500,000 tons of pig iron, steel ingots, billets, bars and plates; the works at Sydney Mines and Trenton expected the output for all these points will be much larger the present year.

The Nova Scotia Elections.

The Liberal phalanx in Nova Scotia has been broken. The return of eleven Conservatives in the elections yesterday in spite of all the influence and weight of the Federal and Provincial Governments arrayed against them, indicates a strong change in public sentiment. Since Mr. Fielding went to Ottawa in 1896 and took the welfare of his party in Nova Scotia under his special care, the Conservatives had only been able in general election to the Legislature to elect

The Conservative gains yesterday are not due to any lack of interest in the result on Mr. Fielding's part. The lavish expenditure of public money in the Province is if possible greater than ever before. A glance at the recent estimates shows that besides the appropriations for the administrative services, in which Nova Scotia is interested with the other provinces, and for the Intercolonial Railway, which in a sense is a national work, there were 229 items for buildings, wharves, piers, etc., in the province. There was probably not a parish in the province but had in this connection some promised expenditure to catch the contractors or supply men, or those who want an easy job.

The tide is turning against the Liberal regime in Nova Scotia as it has turned in other provinces. Progress may be slower but the outcome will be none the less sure. The Conservatives in the sister province are to be congratulated on their gallant fight against tremendous odds, which resulted in the capture of six seats in the enemy's stronghold—St. John's.

Gambling and the Moral Sense.

It has been recognized for years, that the effort by gambling to get something for nothing, is the greatest destroyer of the moral sense known to man. In case of gain, it leads the young man to extravagance which produces a restlessness and recklessness undulating him for business. In cases of loss, it often leads him to borrow, then to embezzle, then to steal, then to rob, and then sometimes to commit suicide. This is not the result of the facts of one case, but the history of thousands every year. It may be said that legalized gambling is the school wherein is taught all the vices known to mankind.—Gov. Shafoth of Colorado.

Apple Exports.

The total apple export from Halifax during the season of 1910-1911 was 246,513 barrels, 885 half barrels, and 3,161 boxes, equal in all to 248,009 barrels. Add to this an estimated local consumption of 75,000 barrels and we have a total output of 323,009 barrels for the past season.

Of the apples exported, 10,948 barrels went to Newfoundland, 1,324 to the West Indies; 2982 barrels, 396 half barrels and boxes to South Africa. The rest found market in Great Britain, London total 209,473; Liverpool, 20,223, and Bristol, 2,365.

During the last three years the output has been—1908-9, 710,733 barrels, 2,547 half barrels, 3,052 boxes; 1909-10, 832,207 barrels, 628 half barrels, 4,885 boxes; 1910-11, 325,513 barrels, 855 half barrels, 3,161 boxes.

The customer had spent two hours in pricing and inspecting the various types of furnace kept for sale at the big establishment.

'Well, he said, turning away at last, 'I've got to find some cheaper heating plant than this you have in stock.'

'In that case, ma'am,' the salesman said, bowing her out, 'permit me to suggest that you try red pepper.'

Tommy, when told that he was growing so fast answered: 'Yes, but I think they water me too much. Why, I have to take a bath every morning.'

Starved Nerves.

THE CAUSE OF NEURALGIA—IT MUST BE TREATED THROUGH THE BLOOD.

Neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It literally means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. There is, therefore, no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the worst case of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich blood, carrying to the starved nerves the elements they need, thus driving away the sharp, torturing pain which nearly drives the sufferer wild. So many cases of neuralgia have yielded to treatment through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer from neuralgia should try a fair trial. Mrs. Sophia H. Johnson, Montreal, Sask., says: 'For upwards of ten years I was a periodical sufferer from neuralgia. It located in the side of my face and in the jaw, which would actually click every time I opened or closed my mouth. At last I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a half dozen boxes, and before they were half gone I felt much better, and by the time I had used them all every symptom of the trouble had gone, and I was enjoying a comfort I had not known for years. I have since remained in the best of health, and can only say I owe the joy of living without pain to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

When the Wind Blows.

On a windy day it is no easy matter for ladies to keep their hats from floating away. An array of hatpins, however formidable, does not always assure the safety of their headgear.

An excellent plan is to fix a metal curling-pin in the hair at the top of the head and push the pin under this. The hat will then keep on in the strongest breeze.

To love a friend, with all his faults, to associate with good in order to be good, to work in order to rest, to do right in spite of consequences, and good irrespective of persons, that shall bring thee joy.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 23, 1913

Editorial Notes.

Referring to the state of affairs which existed in Kings county during the recent election campaign the Truro News very pertinently asks: "Is any voter that a Moral-Reform candidate lost his deposit?"

A correspondent who hides behind the non de plume "Citizen" and alleges to be from Wolfville, makes many wild statements in yesterday's Western Chronicle. His reference to manliness and honesty would be better appreciated if he had the hardihood to write over his own signature.

The ladies of the town of Sackville, N. B., are showing a most commendable spirit by offering prizes for the best kept lawn in that town. Such a competition in our own town would naturally stimulate interest and excite a friendly rivalry that would show itself in many more well kept lawns and grounds.

The vote recorded by Mr. C. A. Campbell last week seems to indicate that there are at least 855 men in Kings county who are willing to put principle above party interest and the cause of prohibition above personal advantage. All honor to them. If these men continue to stand firm and shoulder to shoulder our county may yet be won for righteousness.

A by-law of the town of Wolfville provides that no placards or other advertising matter shall be nailed or posted upon any tree or post within the street limits of the town, and a very good provision it is. We notice of late, however, that this by-law has been disregarded in some cases, and would call the attention of the town authorities to the fact. Anything that tends to disgrace or deface the appearance of our streets should be at once looked after.

A lady reader asks THE ACADIAN to make mention of the thoughtlessness of drivers of teams in leaving their horses tied on the streets with their heads checked up. While the check may, or may not, be very necessary to a horse while on the road it is certainly cruel to leave an animal for perhaps hours tied to a post with the check unrelieved. Our subscriber has frequently noticed this state of affairs and is constrained in the interests of humanity to raise a protest. We trust it may not be without result.

Monday was declaration day in Kings county, and many were the official figures which are announced as follows:

Wickwire.....2413
Covert.....2156
Eaton.....1893
Parker.....1599
Campbell.....855
Wickwire's majority is 520 and Covert's 263 over Eaton, the next highest man. The totals of both Parker and Campbell are considerably less than was at first reported.

Every election campaign has its vagaries. Chief of the late contest was the editor of the Western Chronicle. This great and good man has a faith which is beautiful to behold. He repudiates the thought that intoxicating liquor was used for election purposes during the past few weeks above the ordinary. "We believe that the late campaign was the first in this county in which the present editor of the Western Chronicle had a hand, and therefore are in a position to state as to what constitutes the 'ordinary' use. Evidence is not lacking, however, that there was an abundance of intoxicating drinks used in preparation for the late election, and the statement of our contemporary to the contrary is not taken seriously by even those who would like to think so.

For Teething Babies.

There is only one medicine for teething babies—that is one that will make teething easy and at the same time can be given with absolute safety. The medicine is Baby's Own Tablets—every box of which is sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to be free from all those injurious opiates and narcotics which make 'teething' stuffs so harmful. Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. George LeBlanc, St. Paulville, Que., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby when he was teething and constipated and found them an excellent remedy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Valley Medical Society.

The annual meeting of the Valley Medical Society was held in Middleton on Friday, 21st inst. After the usual business had been transacted, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Dr. J. A. Sponagle, Middleton; Vice president, Dr. W. B. Moore, Kings; W. P. Read, Annapolis; L. H. Morse, Digby; Secretary-Treasurer, W. V. Cooney, Hantsport.

The scientific portion was omitted on account of the approaching Maritime Medical Association.

It is proposed to hold a joint session with the Maritime Medical Association.

Honor the Flag.

During this, the Coronation Year, Canadians of all classes will feel it a privilege, says the Canadian Field, to join in the celebrations by displaying flags at every opportunity and on every appropriate occasion. It seems that the members of the Canadian Defence League might perform considerable service to the public by giving some information and suggestions as to the flags that British subjects should use.

We should honor the flag by using it intelligently. There is one flag and only one to be used, therefore there ought not to be so much confusion in the public mind regarding it. But, unfortunately, the general public does not know its own flag, and buys flags of all descriptions and colors, including foreign flags, and displays them anywhere and everywhere, regardless of their meaning. Such indiscriminate multiplication of bunting may signify joy and may please the children, but it does not proclaim the intelligence of the community.

The one flag that belongs to the individual British subject, and that is appropriate for a municipality or a corporation, is the Union Jack. This flag is red, white and blue, and each color should be in its proper place and of its proper proportion. The Union Jack is not the Canadian ensign. The latter is a red flag having the Union Jack in the canton at the upper left hand corner next to the staff, and the coat-of-arms of Canada displayed in the fly. This flag is authorized for the Canadian mercantile marine and should never be displayed on shore. Perhaps the majority of our people believe it is the authorized flag for Canada, and that is why they call it the 'Canadian Flag.'

The flag that is authorized for Canada and for every other part of the British Empire is the Union Jack. It is steeped in tradition and history and is emblematic of the noblest attributes of our race. It stands for the highest ideals of civilization, and is the flag on which the sun never sets. For a thousand years it has braved the battle and the breeze. It is the flag under which the English and French alike laid down their lives in the defence of Canada in the War of 1812-14. It is sacred because of the thousands of lives in all parts of the world that have been given in its defence. It is the highest privilege of a son of the Empire to lay down his life in case of need in defence of the flag. It is the highest duty of men and women in the Empire to show by acts, words and deeds that they are worthy of the flag that protects them.

We should not display white ensigns, blue ensigns, red ensigns and Royal Standards indiscriminately. The white ensign is the flag of the merchant marine. The blue ensign belongs to the public service and naval reserve, while the red ensign is the flag of the mercantile marine. The Royal Standard should never be displayed except when members of the Royal Family are present, and then only on official flag poles.

As the government has authorized the floating of the Union Jack over public buildings every day throughout Canada, it is to be hoped that Canadians will soon learn that it is the Union Jack alone, that they should use on all occasions to manifest their patriotism. As a people it should be our first duty to see that our flag is honored and respected, and that no foreign flag without authority is displayed on British soil.

Monday's Fire.

We didn't hear it said that when there's a fire there must be 'three' this 'Monday' has again been proven to be no exception. The third of the series in Wolfville took place on Monday afternoon, when fire was discovered in the second story of the small building on Main street occupied by the Chinese laundry.

The room where the fire started was occupied by a father named Keeble, consisting of family, mother and infant, all of whom were absent at the time. The fire was apparently caused by 'no' cigarettes and had made considerable progress before it was discovered.

In a remarkably short space of time the flames were on the scene and speedily had three streams of water in readiness. The building is an old one and had been added to from time to time and was consequently a difficult one to fight fire in. It is, besides, in such near proximity to St. Hales & Co.'s dry goods store as to make the danger of a big fire considerable.

The contents of the building were removed in a damaged condition, and although the building itself was badly wrecked by fire and water the flames were soon subdued.

There was insurance to the extent of $500 on the building. During the fire nothing of the amount had a narrow escape and Mr. J. H. Hales was considerably injured by a chimney falling upon him. We understand that the insurance company has undertaken to restore the building.

At the recent commencement of Carleton University the degree of Ph.D. was conferred upon Rev. MacLeod Harvey, of Worcester, Mass. Dr. Harvey is a native of Hants county and is well known here. He is a son-in-law of Mr. E. R. Archibald, this town.

Miss Annie Fitch, who will spend the summer with her brother, Mr. W. F. Fitch, at Virden, Manitoba, was recently presented by her fellow teachers in the Wolfville Baptist Sunday school with an address and gift as a token and recognition of faithful services in the school.

The record year book of the graduating class of the Dental School of the University of Pennsylvania, which has just appeared, gives prominent mention to George E. H. De Witt, of Wolfville. Mr. De Witt is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity, the Kirk Dental Society, the British Association and the Cosmo-politan Club. He was one of the star players on the University team. Wolfville Boy Ahead. The following news we clip from the Daily News, of Nelson, B. C., refers to a gentleman well known in this town. Mr. Currie was a former resident of Wolfville and is a graduate of Acadia University. He was for one time on the staff of THE ACADIAN before going west. His many friends here will be very glad to learn of his continued success, which he so richly deserves.

The publicity committee are to be congratulated on their choice of a secretary last night. In Mr. Herbert H. Currie they have secured a man who will undoubtedly give Nelson excellent service. As a newspaper man of some years' experience he has seen much in the way of publicity work and will be able to bring new ideas regarding the carrying on of this work into play. In saying this no disparagement is meant of the manner in which the work has been carried on in the past, but it is only fair to point out that the training of a newspaperman fits him particularly for work along this line.

Mr. Currie will assist in the introduction to the people of Nelson, not to the people of various sections of the Kootenay, for he has been for the past two years a member of the editorial staff of The Daily News, and it is with regret that the paper loses his services. With this regret is coupled, however, the conviction that in his new position Mr. Currie will render the city of Nelson equally as faithful and satisfactory service as he has rendered The Daily News.

In a glowing congratulatory to the committee who choose The News also desires to congratulate Mr. Currie on the fact that he was the successful out of a total of eleven applications received and to wish him every success in his new position.

A party of twenty gentlemen from Chelsea, Mass., were in town this week. They were mostly members of the Masonic fraternity. After visiting the 'Look Out' and other points of interest they left on Wednesday for Halifax where they will spend some days.

Promising Life Ended. From a copy of the Knickerbocker from Albany, N. Y., we copy the following concerning the sad death of a young man, who is greatly regretted in Wolfville and graduated at Acadia in the class of '07. Mr. Adams had many warm friends here, where the news of his early death was received with deep sorrow. His beloved parents and family have the sincere sympathy of Wolfville friends.

The body of Superintendent Frank Freeman Adams, who was one of the three men to lose their lives in the explosion which wrecked the still house of the Albany Chemical works in the Van Rensselaer island, will be taken from Tobit and Palmer's undertaking rooms this morning and shipped to Brooklyn, where funeral services will be held to morrow afternoon by the Rev. Charles Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, at the Montrose apartments, in 64 Hoyt street. Burial will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

Frank Freeman Adams, B. Sc., was born June 2, 1885, at Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada. He was the son of Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Adams, now of New London, Conn. Mr. Adams graduated from Acadia University, Nova Scotia, in 1907, and entered Columbia college for a post-graduate course. He completed the course, with the exception of his thesis in 'The Devotedness of the Heroic and took charge of a new plant manufacturing a newly discovered insulator at Bayonne, N. J. Mr. Adams entered the employ of the Albany chemical works in 1909, as head chemist and superintendent.

According to the testimony of Dr. Mayer, the president of the company, he had achieved remarkable results in perfecting the plant and the oil which he had been working on when the accident occurred.

He was married to Miss Clara Westhall in October, 1909. Mr. Adams was of a genial disposition and his untimely death cuts short a most promising career in the world of science. He is survived by his parents, wife, one brother who is at present in the Canadian northwest, two sisters, one of whom will graduate from the Walden High school, June 26, and the younger who is a pupil in the Williams Memorial High school in New London.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A man who stole a city pigeon pleaded that he 'took it for a lark'—a plea surely, which showed a lamentable ignorance of natural history.

'I started out on the theory that the world had an opening for me, and I went to find it.'
'Did you find it?'
'Oh, yes; I'm in a hole.'

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The Girl—Go back and lick him you coward!
The Victim—But he's already given me two black eyes.

The Girl—Well, he can't give you any more, can he?
On Sunday morning a minister's wife saw her son chasing the hens with a stick. She went to the door to investigate and heard him say: 'I'll teach you to lay eggs in a minister's family on Sunday morning.'

The Burdens of Age.

The kidneys seem to be about the first organs to wear out and fall to pieces. The result is backache, rheumatic pains and falling eyelids. Many people of advanced years have recovered health and comfort by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They ensure the beautiful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

'My husband is particularly liable to seasickness, captain,' remarked a lady passenger. 'Could you tell him what to do in case of an attack?'
'Tain't necessary, mum,' replied the captain. 'He'll do it.'

In one of our provincial workhouses the Guardians have decided to provide hammocks for casual tramps. I shouldn't wonder, however, if the tramps come to the conclusion that a night's rest is hardly worth swinging for.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

The Judge—But your head doesn't show it.
Raatus—But you done oughter to see dat plate.—Life.

Paralyzed Limbs.

Today it is sleeplessness, digestive trouble, and irritability. Next thing you know some form of paralysis has developed. Mr. Alex. Housinger, 18 Moore street, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: 'I had a severe case of paralysis of the limbs in that I became helpless. Doctors failed me, but after using ten boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I resumed work, and now feel better than I did for 20 years.'

'Does your wife ask you for things she knows you cannot afford?'
'She hasn't asked me for a thing since we were married.'
'Great! How do you manage it?'
'When she wants a thing she does not ask me; she tells me.'

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Chase

A child was given instruction in the way it should go.
'And remember this,' said the father—'you should never hit back. If anyone strikes you on the left cheek you should turn to the other right. You know that, don't you?'
'Yes, objected the child, 'but what am I to do if they kick me in the stomach?'

'What's the matter, Mary? Is there a burglar in the house?'
'No. The maid and her big, ruffin' boys are still sitting in the kitchen, and it's nearly one o'clock. I want you to go down there and tell 'em to go home.'

'Now, wait, my dear. Let's not be hasty about these matters. We don't.'

'Hasty! Do you call it being hasty to let 'em stay there till after midnight? I want you to go down there and tell 'em to go home.'

'I don't remember to tell 'em anything of the kind. How do you know that he has come to go? Let's be reasonable about these things.'

How to Open a Can.

One of the smallest of the little girls in a West Philadelphia family had often assisted her mother in preparing the meals. She observed that her mother, who was rather hasty, always talked to herself when she had any difficulty in opening cans of vegetables.

The little girl thought that the business was a part of the operation. One day she was visiting a neighbor and went into the kitchen to help prepare a meal.

'That's not the way to open a can of corn,' said the little girl. 'Well, what other way is there?' asked the neighbor.

'Well, you take the can of corn and start to open it, and then you bear down and the opener slips. Then you say "Durn this can, and finish it." That's the way my mother opens a can of corn.'

TO HELP THINGS ALONG.

When people are needing some dough and are pending for aid and support for some good worthy plan, don't knock and don't holler, but give them a dollar, and help things along like a good little man. The knocker is hated and feared and berated in every live burg from Beersheba to Dan, be active and willing and cough up a-shilling and help things along like a smooth little man. Be known as a booster and crow like a rooster, don't yelp like a howl wot that's tied to a can; laugh, sing and kyoodle and blow in some bubble, and help things along like a nice little man. Quit pinner and pilgrage to whoop for your village, and win a renown as an optimist fan; don't c'er be a winner, but shell out a shinner, and help things along like a dear little man. The towns are a going to keep on your growing and filled with good fellows who will follow this plan; so don't be a miser; to loseoff up a wiser, and your village will say you're a sweet little man.—Walt Watson.

It is worse than useless to take any medicines internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

A Neat Compliment.

The late Dean Hook, of Chichester, was greatly beloved by his flock, and indeed by all classes; his cheery, genial manner made him welcome everywhere. There was a quaint old blacksmith living in the outskirts of Chichester who was a great friend of the Dean. The old man's only fault was his attachment to the site house, and for this the Dean had frequently reprimanded him. One day, the Dean looked into the smithy and saw the blacksmith talking, as it appeared, very seriously to his son. The Dean called out, 'Hallo, Tom! What are you going to do with that boy of yours? The old man answered to the door and replied, 'What am I going to do with him? Well, I will tell you what you cannot do with yours. 'Oh, indeed?' said the Dean. 'And pray what is that?' 'Why, I am going to make another man of him than his father.'—The Glasgow News.

The Oldest Member!

In a short time Mr. Samuel Yagoc, British M. P., will enter on his ninetieth year. He is the oldest man in the House of Commons, though it is hard to believe it, for he is wonderfully active. Mr. Young was hailed the other day by an old friend, who congratulated him on looking so well for a man who must be at least 75. With a twinkle in his eye the aged M. P. replied: 'Yes, I am at least 75, for in a short time I celebrate my 80 birthday. He has sat in Parliament since 1892.'

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Sheridan was once staying at the house of an elderly invalid lady of his country, who wanted more of his company than he was willing to give. Proposing one day to take a stroll with her, he accused himself on account of the badness of the weather shortly afterward she met him sneak 'tag out alone.'

'So, Mr. Sheridan,' she said, 'it has cleared up.'
'Just a little, wasn't enough for you, but not enough for two.'

The father of a small family tells us this one:
'My wife instructed our little boy when he was invited out to lunch the other day that when he was asked to have a second helping of cake "he should refuse." "You must say, "No, I thank you, I've had enough," said she. "And don't you forget it."

'He didn't. When asked if he'd have some more cake he said, "No, I thank you, I've had enough, and don't you forget it."

A little boy was reading in his Scottish history an account of the battle of Bannockburn. He read as follows: 'And when the English had the new army on the hill behind their spirits became dampened.' The teacher asked him what was meant by dampening their spirits. The boy, not comprehending the meaning, simply answered, 'Puttin' water in the whusky.'

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers Your Photograph May Win a Prize

AMONG the prizes we are offering in our big Prize Contest is one of $3,600 (Prize "C") for the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with a photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. For this prize, work of every description is included. Now just as soon as you take that new silo, barn, feeding floor or dairy, that you've been thinking of building, why not photograph it and send the picture to us? The photograph doesn't necessarily have to be taken by a professional of an expert. As long as you can get your photograph to show the work done on your farm, your photograph will do the trick. In any event, don't let the idea of having a photograph made deter you. Particularly as we have requested your local dealer to help you. It is not convenient for the farmer to procure a camera in the neighborhood. By this means you are placed on an equal footing with every other contestant. Get the circular, which gives you full particulars of the conditions and of the other three prizes. Every dealer who sells "CANADA" Cement will have on hand a supply of these circulars—and he'll give you one if you just ask for it. Or if you prefer, you can use the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—send it to us and you'll receive the complete details of the contest by return mail.

If you haven't received your copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," write for that, too. It's a finely illustrated book of 148 pages full of useful and practical information of the uses of concrete. Write us to-night, and you'll receive the book and the circular promptly. Do not delay—act right down—take your pen or pencil, and fill out the coupon NOW.
