TUG SUNK.—On Monday morning the tug Minnie Walker, owned by Mr. Jas. Clarke, was discovered sunk in about 11 feet of water at the dock. The fireman was aboard of her on Sunday evening, and when he left she appeared to be all right, but the swell in the harbour kept knocking her against a spike in the pier, until a hole was worn in her side, and the water rushing in sank her. On Tuesday evening she was raised after much labor, and the fire engine pumped her out. She will immediately be refitted.

CRAMMING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—At the recent meeting of the Canada Medical Association, a lengthy discussion took place on the question of cramming as practiced in public schools, being brought on by a paper on the subject read by Dr. Grant. All agreed that the minds of the children were overtaxed, and that there were too many studies. It was also urged that more attention should be paid to ventilation. A committee was appointed to report on the subject, and a resolution passed calling the attention of educational authorities to the matter. A resolution was also passed urging upon the Dominion and Provincial Governments the importance of sanitary legislation.

A CLEVER HURONITE.—At the Dominion Exhibition of 1879, held at Ottawa, Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Agriculture, offered a prize for the best essay on pleuro-pneumonia and the contagious diseases of cattle. The subject being of great importance from an agricultural and commercial point of view, the six essays were submitted to the judgment of Professor Williams, of Edinburgh Scotland, who reported that the prize should be awarded to the essay signed "Vive et Discite," and which subsequently was found to have been written by Mr. J. T. Duncan, veterinary surgeon and Veterinary College, Toronto. The essay has been printed in pamphlet form, and is being extensively circulated by the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Duncan was a practitioner in Goderich for several years, and is a native of the township of Stanley. His many friends in this county will join with us in heartily congratulating him on his highly creditable success as an essayist, and in wishing him continued success and usefulness in his profession.

A TRIBUTE.—Rev. Dr. Ure, on Sunday morning, paid a tribute to the memory of the late John Mitchell. The Rev. gentleman, after stating that he had known the deceased from his earliest connection with the congregation, said: "By his death we miss one who was firmly and consistently attached to the church of his choice, and one whom we all esteemed and respected."

TIMELY TALK.—Township Clerks are asking for an increase of salary, and we don't suppose there are many people living in this enlightened country who will dispute their right to what they ask for. Without doubt they have the least remuneration and most laborious office in connection with our municipal system. They usually get a salary ranging from $30 to $80 a year, and for this they are expected to do all, or nearly all, the work of the municipality. It is not an unusual case when the Township Clerk furnishes all the brains for the Council. He must be well posted in municipal law; he is expected to give opinions which in towns and cities are procured from lawyers, and for which heavy fees are paid; and he has to frame all the by-laws, and perform the dignified office of bill-poster to the municipality. These are but a few of his duties for which he is paid as above.—[E.]

GAOL STATISTICS.—Through the courtesy of Gaoler Dickson we lay before our readers the following interesting statistical report of the County Gaol for the year ending 30th Sept. 1880.—Confined in jail during the year, 169, 9 of these were committed to the jail during the year. Of the 169 committed, 31 were committed for vagrancy, 25 for larceny, 21 drunk, 2 disorderly, 19 for contempt of Court, 14 insane. For the more heinous offences there were for forgery 2, shooting with intent 1, rape 1, for cruelty to animals 2. The longest sentence in jail was 6 months, the shortest one day. The longest time put in by any prisoner was 6 months and 16 days; the average number of days for each prisoner was nearly 25. The daily average of prisoners was 11 1/2. This is a lower average than last year, but it is accounted for by the shortness of the sentences. The number of prisoners married 62, unmarried 96. This looks hard.

BANQUET.—His Lordship Justice Cameron entertained the members of the Bar and Court officers to a dinner at the British Exchange on Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Geo. W. Thompson, Sr. and Jr., the brother and son respectively of our Town Clerk, left for Dakota on Thursday morning by steamer Ontario. They were accompanied by Mr. John Oake, of Goderich Township.

QUICK WORK.—Mr. A. M. Polley, returned from Saginaw on Saturday noon, 25th Sept., and bought and shipped 16 horses, by Wednesday, 29th Sept., he is purchasing six more for another shipment yesterday. Mr. Polley has a county reputation as a horse buyer.

TAKEN A SCHOLARSHIP.—We are pleased to learn that Mr. C. A. Crosswell, a former pupil of the Goderich High School, has taken a general proficiency scholarship at the senior matriculation examination in Arts, at Toronto University.

WEST HURON TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION. This body will meet in the High School to-day and to-morrow. An excellent programme has been prepared, and G. W. Ross, M. P., will take part in the proceedings. This evening a public meeting will be held in the Temperance Hall, when speeches, readings, music, etc., will be indulged in.

"Beaconsfield" at Detroit.
It always gives us pleasure to hear of the success, at home or abroad, of any of our residents. Mr. Richard Hawley, (who, as well as being a prominent figure in political and commercial circles in Detroit, is also "a Goderich man," and is making a name for himself amongst Canadian breeders of short-horn stock), had the luck to take his now famous bull "Beaconsfield" to the Michigan State Fair, held at Detroit last month, and comes off with flying colors, taking first prize in this class. The Michigan papers are loud in their praises of the white monster, and we make a few extracts from their columns on the subject.

The Columbus News says:—On Wednesday morning at the fair grounds Mr. Hawley's short horn bull, Beaconsfield, was removed from his stall to a grassy knoll for inspection by Secretary Sherman and party. The Secretary said:—"He is as good an ever I have seen," thus evincing his practical sagacity, for the animal is truly a marvel of symmetry, fine points and early development.

The Times, of the same city, remarks: "This morning we received a special invitation from Hon. Richard Hawley, of Detroit, Michigan, when on the ground to call and examine his white short-horn bull 'Beaconsfield.' We did so, and to say that a finer animal, in every respect, we have never laid eyes on, is but drawing in mid-air. The bull is now three years and four months old, pure white or cream colored, symmetrical in proportion, and developed to an astonishing degree. Our breeders and all others interested in fine blooded stock, now while they have the time should not fail to call and see this mammoth specimen of the bovine. He is a pure 'Bates,' with three top Booth Crosses. His sire was 3rd Earl of Goodness, out of the important British Baron.

The Detroit Post and Tribune says of him:—"Richard Hawley's 'Beaconsfield' of Goderich, Ont., is the plus ultra as far as form and style are concerned. The color is pure white. He weighs 2,350 pounds. Beaconsfield received the first prize in his class and elicited universal admiration from the numerous callers at his stall, 265, south end of the fair ground. Yesterday afternoon the Hon. David Christie, the president of the American short-horn association, looked him over in company with the Hon. Charles T. Gorham and the general superintendent of the fair. Mr. Christie greatly admired the bull, commented on his fine points, pronouncing him elegant, and concluded by expressing the wish that he might be at the provincial fair which begins at Hamilton next week. Mr. Gorham pointed out his wonderful display of milk points according to the eutectheon theory. Taking this animal all in all, Mr. Hawley has reason for his cherished conviction that his superior is among the developments of the 'good time coming.'

Mechanics' Institute.
The regular meeting of the Board of Mechanics' Institute met on Tuesday evening.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Morton, Vice-President, occupied the chair.

Mr. W. R. Miller took his seat at the Board, having been elected to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. R. S. Williams, being appointed Treasurer.

A resolution was carried, extending the lease of the reading rooms, which has just expired, till the 1st of Jan. next.

The Secretary was requested to write Dr. May, Inspector of Mechanics' Institutes, with regard to the Government grant, now a considerable length of time overdue.

Meeting then adjourned till 1st Tuesday in November.

THE TOWN CLOCK.
It Has Not "Stopped Short!"

It will be in its Place with a Smile upon its Face by the Middle of November.

The Town Clock is likely to become an accomplished fact at last. On Wednesday Mr. Pearson, the New York representative of the Howard Clock Co., was in town and had an interview with the Clock Committee. It appears that Mr. Shaw, the Canadian agent of the firm, who contracted to put in the clock at Goderich, died some two months ago, and neither the Company nor the Committee knew anything of his demise until a short time since. In addition to the difficulty occasioned by the death of Mr. Shaw, Mr. Prescott, who some months ago examined the tower of the Court House, reported unfavorably and the Howard Co. deemed the fulfillment of the contract impracticable in consequence of that gentleman's report. However, the matter is now in a fair way of being satisfactorily concluded.

Mr. Pearson, after due examination of the tower, is satisfied that the clock can be placed in position within the next six weeks. The dials will be 6 1/2 feet in diameter instead of 8 feet as formerly proposed; the face will be a black sand ground with gilt figures; the Committee will apply to the Warden's Committee to have a box run through the court room, and to the cellar, so as to afford a drop for the sinking weight; and the Company have agreed to put in the box, and paint and gild it so as not to mar the appearance of the court room. If this arrangement is faithfully carried out few residents of Goderich will express dissatisfaction at the result.

SCHOOL BOARD.
A Very Quiet Meeting and but Little Business Done.

The Board of School Trustees met in the Board room on Monday, Oct. 4th. Present—Messrs. Passmore, Buchanan, Swanson, Nicholson, Ferguson and McGaw. In the absence of the chairman, Mr. Ferguson took the chair.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The report of the Principal was received and filed.

The following accounts were read and referred to Finance Committee:—S. R. Macdougall, $10.32; W. Mitchell, $4.20; SIGNAL Printing Co., $3.75.

The Finance Committee immediately reported on the above, suggesting that the last two accounts be paid in full, but that the account of S. R. Macdougall be paid less $2 for spreading gravel, which item was to be considered by Mr. Cooke. It was moved and seconded, that the report of the committee be adopted.

Permission was granted the teachers in town to attend the sessions of the West Huron Teachers' Association on Friday.

The Board then adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

Colborne.
The lovers of the "light Batastic," the number of 68, assembled in the Ben Miller public ball room on the night of the 1st inst. to while away a few hours in the mazy dance. When the music from the accomplished violinist, Mr. Gibbons, of Duncannon, struck the first key note, there were 64 gentlemen ready to make their obeisance to 4 ladies, who require to be complimented for the number of gallants whom they had at their disposal for each dance. The great minority of the fair sex did not dishearten the gallants in attendance, and the programme was carried out as existing circumstances would permit, and the dance continued beyond the "wee sma' hours."

Hestrington, Jno. Duxton, W. Hamilton, Bervie - Rev. C. Hamilton. The services throughout were of the most interesting character, and several members gave expression to the pleasure and profit they had derived from them. During the first session the chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Williams, Chairman of the District; but, as he was called away by other duties, the Rev. J. Caswell held the post of honor during the remaining sessions. The Rev. D. G. Sutherland was appointed Secretary, and E. F. Moore, Esq., of Goderich, Treasurer. The first hour on Thursday afternoon was taken up with reports from the various Sunday schools represented, and a brief conversation in reference to them. The reports generally indicated a good degree of prosperity. Attention was drawn to the work of temperance, and to the use of catechisms in the schools. It appears that on the district there are 52 schools, 563 officers and teachers, and 4,231 scholars.

At 3.30 S. H. Brownell, Esq., of Kincardine, read a short but able paper on "The importance of regular attendance on the part of teachers," and several members took part in the discussion which followed. The question, "How to promote the spirituality of the school," was then taken up by Rev. J. T. Smith - among the points important in that time, of keeping the subject in mind; the propriety of teachers themselves being converted, and having the heart filled with love; the advisability of holding special prayer and enquiry meetings for the scholars, and of giving an occasional sermon to the children in place of the regular public service; and the importance of cherishing faith in the early conversion of children. Other speakers also urged the importance of deep spirituality on the part of teachers. The chairman, Dr. Williams, then gave an interesting and instructive address on "century of Sabbath school work," in which he set forth the immense progress that had been made since Robert Raikes in his journal earnestly advocated the establishment of these schools; the great changes that had taken place in social and religious life in that time; the evangelization of heathen lands, and the increase of philanthropic effort, and the part that Sunday schools had taken in bringing this about.

A large audience gathered at the evening session, when addresses were delivered by Rev. D. G. Sutherland on "The propriety of instating the children in our doctrinal teaching;" Rev. J. Caswell on "The relation of children to the church;" and Rev. W. McDonagh on "The unity of the Old and New Testament in Gospel teaching." The session was lengthy but the audience remained with unabated interest to the close.

On Friday morning Ira J. Fisher, Esq., of Kincardine, began with a short address on "Methods of teaching." Among the points made by him and the succeeding speakers were, a thorough preparation before hand by the teacher, so that in the class he may entirely dispense with the use of Borean Leaves and helps; a filling of the history between the successive lessons; the bringing out of the doctrinal teachings and an earnest enforcement of vital principles on the scholar's acceptance; a heart full of love and a manner full of kindness. The use of the blackboard and other means of illustration was also urged; and excellent blackboard exercise was given by Mr. Bengough. Rev. J. Harris then took up the question of "The mental and spiritual preparation of the teacher." The teacher should feel the importance of his work. He has only one hour each week to do what should be done every day in our public schools. His teachings should be experimental, and for that reason he should himself have a knowledge of the deep things of God. Yet he should avoid asceticism and should cultivate a child-like spirit. He should know the children and take an interest in them outside of the school. He should be much in prayer about his work; should study the lessons thoroughly, examining the context and marginal references. Several gentlemen took part in the discussion. This was followed by an address from Rev. R. Davy on "Sunday school teaching not a substitute for the public or for home training." In some places too much is made of Sunday school work, to the neglect of public worship, by teachers and scholars. This is an error, for preaching is God's ordained means for converting sinners and affixing the church, and such has been used from the earliest times. Moreover, the instruction in the school is necessarily limited, imparting mere germs of knowledge, and at a comparatively early age the school is forsaken. How important, then, that in early life the habit of attending church should be cultivated! As to the home training, the burden of such training is both by nature and revelation laid upon the parent. The moral law was very strict in this respect. The parent cannot shift this responsibility upon any other nor has any other such a longed opportunity as the parent. At the same time, testimony was borne to the valuable help of the Sunday school, especially in the training of the children.

and ungodly. An interesting conversation followed, in which attention was drawn to the distinction between teaching and training, the latter lying very much in the parents example. Reference was also made to the importance of family prayer, such family services should be made short, lively and interesting. No parent should be backward in speaking to the child about religion, but should use every feasible means to lead the young heart into the love of a Christian life. If pious parents had children, it must be the result of a defect in the training, or because they have not been guarded against evil associates. The latter is a great source of mischief and woe. The subject of "Uniformity of teaching" was then briefly discussed by Rev. E. Teskey and others. A variety of views were expressed as to the different lessons helps in use. The importance of teachers' meetings for the study of the lesson was urged. In the afternoon the session began with a full and excellent address by Rev. J. Philip. He began with the church and home do for the Sunday School. The church can recognize the school as part of itself; can take loving care of it; can furnish teachers and see that they are properly qualified; can establish normal classes; can provide suitable rooms and ample funds for work; and should exercise some control over the expenditure. The home can help by beginning and continuing the child's training. Voltaire says the character is formed before five years of age; the experienced Froebel, founder of the Kindergarten system, says, before seven. Parents can help by securing prompt and regular attendance; by seeing the lessons are learned; and studying the lessons with the children; by questioning the children about what they have read in the library books; by saying kind words about the teacher and minister; and by visiting the school. In the discussion which ensued one brother insisted on having a sermon preached specially to children, at least once every three months. The question, "What sort of books should we have in our Sunday school libraries?" was then taken up by Rev. C. Hamilton. Our children will be like what they feed upon. Give them good literature and they will become mentally healthy and robust. Much of the literature to-day is flimsy if not pernicious. A mistake to buy some books merely because they are cheap. Let parents know what their children read. Our children should be especially furnished with Methodist biography and literature, a field full of tales of heroism and self-sacrifice. A lively discussion followed. Rev. Mr. Birks then dealt with the subject, "The best methods of interesting the children in missionary work." He said that parents were not interested in missionary work as they should be, and did not attend missionary meetings, and so the hearts of the children were chilled to that gross cause. There was no work in which the children could be so easily interested. The missionary workers of the future are in our schools. Bring missionary literature into the home. The subject of juvenile missionary meetings was discussed. Great benefit had arisen from them. At 4 o'clock there was a mass meeting of the children, at which interesting addresses were given by Revs. J. Livingston and W. Bryers, and a blackboard exercise by Mr. Bengough, of Belgrave. In the evening a public meeting was held, at which addresses were delivered by Rev. R. C. Henders on "Difficulties in the teacher's work and how to meet them;" by S. Yates, Esq., of Goderich, on "How best to promote the work of temperance through the Sabbath school;" and by Rev. W. McDonagh. The addresses were able and interesting. Thus ended the very pleasant and successful convention. Many members took part in the various discussions, and the debates were generally full of freshness and vigor. The services were enlivened throughout by the excellent singing of the Lucknow church. The town, in entertaining delegates, was most generous and was much appreciated. The following were appointed to draw up a programme for the convention next year:—Revs. Dr. Williams, Caswell, McDonagh, Bryers, Sutherland and Messrs. E. F. Moore, W. Bengough and Jas. Thompson.—[New Era.]

Gilt-Edge Butter There is always an active demand for butter that is up to the gilt-edged standard in quality and color. Much butter that is otherwise good sells at a reduction of from three to five cents per pound, because deficient in color. Dairy men should then use Wells, Richardson & Co's Perfect Butter Color to give a bright June color. This color is by far the brightest, purest and best made. Sold by druggists.

NOTABLE NUPTIALS.

Another Fashionable Wedding in West Side Society. The Milwaukee Sentinel of September 13rd, contains the following interesting account of the marriage of a nephew of Hon. John Hibbard, U. S. Commercial Agent at Goderich:

The Hibbard-Smith nuptials, which were solemnized at All Saints' Cathedral last evening, attracted one of the largest and most fashionable assemblages that has been witnessed in that edifice for some time. It seemed as if the pressure in the vast auditorium would burst the walls. Handsomely attired ladies and well-dressed gentlemen remained standing in the aisles, as it was impossible to obtain seats. In the gallery, which encircles the south wall, almost myriads of bright eyes peered in happy expectation, while upon the seats ladies stood on tip-toe and little children were given prominence upon the shoulders of many gentlemen. In the hall and upon the side-walks the crowd surged until a complete blockade was the result, and it required considerable judicious management on the part of the police and others to make a passage way for the bride. At the altar the party was met by the Rev. Bishop Wells, who performed the ceremony, according to the beautiful ritual of the Episcopal faith. The occasion was rendered more impressive by the subdued tones of the organ during the marital service. The background to the happy scene was a study for an artist. Whitehall, the florist had deftly arranged a great profusion of tropical plants. Palms of rarest beauty raised their lofty leaves at either side, while plants of exquisite beauty and fragrance intermingled their foliage to make a large and perfect flower-bed. The huge stone baptismal font was laden with the choicest of blossoming plants and vines, and it stood out in bas relief from the handsome arrangement of the chancel.

The hand railing was covered with pure white cloth, upon which wreaths of amaranth, rose buds and other flowers were gracefully draped. Banks of flowers loomed conspicuously in prominent places. At the conclusion of the ceremony the party took position in reversed order, the ushers supporting the bridesmaids. THE BRIDE'S COSTUME. The bride was attired in a magnificent costume of brocaded white satin with court train. The skirt was trimmed with deep ruffles of ombre-colored fringe and exquisitely draped with superb point lace. Delicate trimming of pearl net work covered the bodice, upon the front, point lace sleeves and neck. The conventional tulle veil was caught in the hair by a Grecian. Miss Eagle, of Chicago, wore white organdie, profusely trimmed with Spanish lace. Miss Sanderson, white muslin and Valenciennes lace. Miss Stevens, white India mull, handsomely draped with old Honiton lace. Miss Kate Smith, white India mull, elaborately trimmed with Spanish lace. A unique part of the bridesmaid's apparel was veils of Spanish lace, with baskets of rosebuds upon the arm. They also carried prayer books bound in ivory, the gift of the bride's father.

Mrs. Smith, the mother of the bride, wore an elegant costume of heliotrope brocade velvet, with trimmings of Duchesse point lace. The gentlemen wore conventional black. The ceremony was followed by a RECEPTION AT THE RESIDENCE of the bride's parents, on Marshall street, and was as brilliant as the other details of the affair. Carriage after carriage rolled up before the paternal residence and hosts of richly dressed ladies, belonging to the higher circle of Milwaukee society, were escorted to the door, where colored waiters attended them to the dressing rooms. The interior of the home was bewildering in its wealth of flowers, which under the subdued light of the chandeliers shed a delightful fragrance. In the airy hall balls of tube roses and other floral devices greeted the eye. Around the Newell lamp and up the columns of umbrellas and endless shapes, while buds of sweetest perfection peeped out. In the main parlor, centered between the windows, was a half moon of tuber roses and amaranth, while directly beneath it was a mantle of carnations. From the folding doors a huge bouquet composed of many flowers of brilliant hues, was suspended. On the marble mantel was an immense bank of flowers, in which the letters "H" and "S," the former in carnations and the latter in tube-roses, were plainly distinguishable. A floral design in the shape of a Japanese parasol was placed in the west parlor. Besides these there were innumerable emblematic devices, such as anchors, horse shoes, baskets, and harps. The chandeliers were lavishly entwined with smilax, but particularly noticeable was the perpendicular arrangement of smilax upon the walls. The house was lighted from basement to roof-tree, and the floral decorations greeted and enchanted the eye on every side. The Sextette Club, which was stationed in the upper hall, wafted the sweetest music through the rooms below and heightened the enchantment of the scene.

Following congratulations, Conf. as chefs de cuisine. SERVED AN ELEGANT COLLATION. The tables were the centre of attraction with their pyramids of fruit and flowers. A magnificent center silver piece was in elegant contrast to the rest of the surroundings.

The reception lasted until a late hour when the newly married pair were driven to their new home on Waverly Place, the traditional slipper being thrown after them as they left the house. This morning they will leave for a two weeks tour in the Eastern States.

HOPE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

See what Physicians and the People say about SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND HYPOPHOSPHITES, as a remedy for Consumption, Scrophula, and Wasting Affections! Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: GENTLEMEN—I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc., in my practice and used it in my family. I am greatly pleased with its effects. It is better borne and can be taken for a longer time than any other preparation of Cod Liver Oil. In Consumption and children's diseases I have found it especially valuable. JOHN A. O'CONNOR, M. D., Vis. Physician, Louisville City Hospital. Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: I have used Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in various instances and I have found it to be easily taken, readily assimilated, and rapidly improves the nutrition and flesh. I consider it the best Emulsion I have ever used. R. E. HAYGHTON, M. D., Indianapolis, Ind. Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: I have given your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc., a fair trial, and am glad that I can say I think it the best remedy for weak lungs and bad coughs. I can highly recommend it. When the doctors had given me up, I commenced using your medicine, and I am gaining health and strength very fast and I think I shall soon be well. Yours truly, G. A. BIEDERSTADT, Indianapolis, Ind. SCOTT & BOWNE: I feel it my duty to let you know the benefit I have derived from the use of your Emulsion. I had a very bad cough for years, and on consulting Dr. J. E. Gorsuch of this city, he informed me that my lung was diseased, and prescribed Scott's Emulsion with Hypophosphites. After taking two bottles, I began to improve very rapidly, and continued using it until I had taken ten bottles, and now am as healthy a man as there is in the city of Baltimore. When I began using it I weighed 145 pounds. I now weigh 180 pounds. Yours, D. P. FARQUHAR, Baltimore, Md. CANANDAUA, SEPT. 15, 1877. SCOTT & BOWNE: Gentlemen: I would write to you, as I saw a notice upon your bottles of late upon its long continued use. This has proved true in my case. I was given up to die last March with consumption, the best medical aid made no use of any treatment. My husband applied for your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. He has bought twenty-six bottles and it is restoring me to health, beyond the expectations of my friends, I should like to hear of my death every day. I would like to take it for a year, when I think I will be perfectly cured. Yours with respect, MOS. ELDRIDGE. For sale by druggists at $1 per bottle. 1751

Fun and Fancy.

On an orator's declaring that fortune knocked at every man's door once, an old Irishman said, "When it knocked at mine I must have been out."

"Mother sent me," said a little girl to a neighbor, "to ask you to come and take a cup of tea with her. 'Did she say at what time, my dear?' 'No ma'am, she only said she would ask you and the thing would be off her mind, that was all she said.'"

It's funny when you ask a man to advertise he generally declines with the statement that nobody will see it. But if you advertise some little caper of his in the news column gratis, he gets indignant over the certainty that everybody will see it.

An impetuous fortune-hunter having been accepted by an heiress, at the wedding, when that portion of the ceremony was reached where the bridegroom says: "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," a spiteful relative of the bride exclaimed, "There goes his valise!"

A gray hair was espied among the raven locks of a charming young lady. "Oh, pray pull it out!" she exclaimed. "If I pull it out ten more will come to the funeral," replied the one who made the unwelcome discovery. "Pluck it out, nevertheless," said the dark haired damsel; "it's no consequence how many come to the funeral, provided they all come in black."

A vendor of cheap jewellery was knocked down by an Irishman the other night, and at once brought action against his assailant. The defendant protested before the Court that the agent called him a liar. The latter swore positively that he used no offensive language. Upon being asked to give the agent's words, the Irishman said:—"He tried to sell me an old ring, and I told him it was brass. He turned around to another man and sez, 'Tis alloy.'"

A fortune teller was arrested in Paris, and carried before the tribunal of correctional police. "You know how to read fortunes," said a man of great wit, but rather fond of a joke for a magistrate. "I do sir replied the sorcerer. "In this case," said the president, "you know the judgment we intend to pronounce?" "Certainly." "What will happen to you?" "Nothing." "You are sure of that?" "Yes; you will acquit me." "Acquit you?" "There is no doubt about it." "Why?" "Because, sir, if it had been your intention to condemn me, you would not have added irony to misfortune." The president, disconcerted, turned to his brother judges, and the sorcerer was discharged.

ESSAY ON HENS.—A teacher asked some time ago for an essay on hens. One of the pupils soon after presented him with the following:—Hens are curious animals. They don't have no nose, nor no teeth, nor no ears. They swallow their wittles whole and chew it up in their crops inside of 'em. The outside of hens is generally put into pillars and made into feather dusters. The inside of hens is filled up with marbles and shirt buttons and sich. A hen is very much smaller than a good many other animals, but they will dig up more tomato plants than anything that is not a hen. Hens are very useful to lay eggs for plum pudding. Hens have got wings to fly when they are scart. I cut my Uncle William's hen's neck off with a hatchet and it scart her to death. Hens sometimes make very fine spring chickens.

A SAFE PLACE FOR SECURITIES.—Old John Walsh was a banker, and also a money-lender. He was accounted a greedy, close fisted old chap, yet he possessed a sort of grim, rigid, humor, which in some cases, was really funny. One day a dashing, reckless young man of the period called upon him, "Mr. Walsh," said he "I want to borrow five hundred." "For how long?" "Six months." "What security can you give me?" The young fellow drew himself proudly up. "My own personal security sir," he replied with a flourish. Old John turned and opened a stout, iron chest by his side. "Get in here, sir," said he. The young blade looked first at the chest and then at Walsh. "What for," asked he. "Because here is where I always keep all of my personal securities."

A young, smart-looking Scotch clergyman was preaching in a strange country church. Fearing that his harp was not properly parted in the middle, or perhaps that he might have a smudge on his nose, he quietly and significantly said to the deacon, there being no mirror in the vestry: "John, could you get me a glass?" John disappeared, and after a few minutes returned with something under his coat, which to the astonishment of the clergyman, he produced in the form of a lemonade bottle, with a gill of whiskey in it, saying: "ye maunna let on about it minister, for I got it as a great favor; and I wadna hee got it ava if I hadna said it was for you." It may be well to mention that among the humbler orders in Scotland "a glass" is the expression for a dram of liquor. In the foregoing anecdote we are not told whether the minister or John consumed the gill.—Chamber's Journal.

Farm and Garden

Anything which interferes with the comfort and health of sheep will injure the quality of the wool.

Farm animals, when kept on grass or green succulent food, naturally make more salt than when kept on dry fodder. Salt increases digestion.

Early potatoes are better if dug as soon as ripe, and sold or stored in a cool, dry, well-ventilated cellar, than if allowed to remain in the ground and run the chance of injury from the effects of unfavorable weather.

Use a roller immediately after the plow, or after the harrow has been used once. This is the only proper use of the roller on fall sown fields. To roll the ground after the grain is sown is a mistake; it gives to the surface a smooth and pleasing appearance, but it is much more inclined to crust over; besides this, the protecting coat of snow is not held in winter as it would be if the surface was left rough. Besides having the soil in a proper mechanical condition through the means mentioned above, it must be provided with a good supply of manure.

COMPOSTING is the art of mixing organic matter, such as straw, muck, dead animals, etc., that must undergo decomposition before they become available as plant food, with inorganic matter that will absorb and retain the valuable gases that the organic matter would otherwise let pass into the air and thus be lost. Such a mixture must be kept moist, but not exposed to rains that would wash away the valuable soluble salts. Stable manure and muck make an excellent basis for a compost heap, with which ashes, leached and fresh lime, weeds (not in seed), waste matters, etc., can be mixed.

A PRINCIPLE IN FEEDING.—All food beyond such amount that is properly digested and assimilated by the animal is a source of loss to the owner, and that in two ways: First, the food is lost; and second, the animal is not kept in the best condition for getting the most out of its feed—its stomach is overloaded and its digestive apparatus more or less disarranged. Just inside the limits of assimilation is the point to have in view in feeding; in this way the animal will have a good appetite, and other things being equal, is sure to give the best returns for food consumed. There is a golden mean in feeding farm stock, which the farmer should find.

SPRING AND FALL PIGS.—Pigs littered in the fall or early winter, owing to the cold weather, lack of green food, etc., seldom make a good start, and in many cases are eaten so soon as dropped by the voracious dams. Pigs for the greatest profit should come about the opening of spring, with its fresh grass and warm sunshine; they can then be ready for the market by fall, and very few risks will be run. For this end sows should be bred in December or January. At one time large hogs were highly prized in the market, but now smaller ones are in demand, and such pork can be produced at less expense per pound than that of large hogs. Young hogs are the most profitable, born in spring and marketed in the fall.—[American Agriculturist.]

ADVANTAGES OF UNDER-DRAINING.

1. It prevents drouth.
2. It furnishes an increased supply of atmospheric fertilizers.
3. It warms the lower portion of the soil.
4. It hastens the decomposition of roots and other organic matter.
5. It accelerates the disintegration of the mineral matter in the soil.
6. It causes a more even distribution of nutritious matters among those parts of the soil traversed by roots.
7. It improves the mechanical texture of the soil.
8. It causes the poisonous excrementitious matter of plants to be carried out of the reach of their roots.
9. It prevents grasses from running out.
10. It enables us to deepen the surface soil by removing excess of water.
11. It renders soils much earlier in the spring.
12. It prevents the throwing out of grain in winter.
13. It allows us to work sooner after rain.
14. It keeps off the effects of cold weather longer in the fall.
15. It prevents the formation of acetic and other acids, which induce the growth of sorrel and similar weeds.
16. It hastens the decay of vegetable matter, and the finer communication of the earthy part of the soil.
17. It prevents in a great measure the evaporation of water, and the consequent abstraction of heat from the soil.
18. It admits fresh qualities of water from rains, etc., which are always more or less imbued with the fertilizing gases of the atmosphere, to be deposited among the absorbent parts of the soil, and given up to the necessities of plants.
19. It prevents the formation of so hard a crust on the surface of the soil as is customary on heavy lands.
20. It prevents, in a great measure, grass and winter grains from being winter killed.

Young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business.

He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it." From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Illinois.

New York Butter Market. In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought worth sold at 8 to 10 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing dairymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

THE DAYS OF MISERY AND NIGHTS OF UNREST endured by the sufferer from a persistent cough soon sap the vitality of the system and wreck the constitution. Such a catastrophe can only be avoided by precautionary measures. Prevent the climax of a cough with Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda—approved in professional quarters, and which is a combination of the purest and most salutary ingredients in perfect chemical harmony. Coughs, colds, croup, acute and chronic bronchitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs, are speedily relieved by it, and it has likewise proved to be a useful specific in scrofulous maladies. The loss of strength consequent upon being diseased is checked, and the flagging physical energies restored by its invigorating action.

Phosphorus, the active principle of the hypophosphites, not only supplies the system with an important element of strength, but gives a healthful impetus to the circulation. The lime and soda also add to vigor of the frame. In wasting diseases of all kinds, this preparation can be depended upon to produce a beneficial effect. A fair, persistent trial, is all that is necessary to prove its general efficacy, either as a pulmonary or general invigorant. For poverty of the blood, with which so many invalids are troubled, it is a sovereign remedy, promoting the acquisition of both strength and flesh. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

AS SURELY AS EFFECT FOLLOWS CAUSE so surely will disease eventually fasten itself upon a system deficient in vital energy, if tonic medication is not resorted to in time. The necessary tendency of a weak discharge of the functions of the body is to disorganize its organs. Invigoration, prompt and thorough, is the only safeguard. Non-removal of depleted physical energy, no restorative of lost flesh, nerve power and cheerfulness, has more clearly demonstrated its efficacy than Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. In this preparation, and associated with the salutary medicines which form its basis, is pure sherry wine and certain aromatic constituents which impart an agreeable taste to the article, and gives additional emphasis to its effects. In cases of general debility and dyspepsia it is invaluable and the desired effect is, in the vast majority of cases, remarkably prompt, as well as decisive. That good natural appetite, which gives a relish for the coarsest fare, is insured by the use of the Quinine Wine, which also confers brain soothing and body refreshing sleep. Fever and acute and chronic remittent fever, are diseases to the eradication of which it is specially adapted; but it should be used only in the intervals between the seizures. The far-reaching effects of a good tonic, in all complaints involving loss of physical energy, are well understood by physicians, and the comprehensive influence of good food upon the system, upon the professional belief in the value of invigorants as opponents of disease. Be sure to ask for the "Quinine Wine" prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto. Sold by all druggists.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT.—A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced: "The following is a translation of a letter from P. O. writes, 'I have been troubled with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all.' J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Sheffield, P. Q., writes, 'I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in case of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as man.' A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, 'I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Electric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence.' Joseph Rusan, Township of Percy, writes, 'I was persuaded to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing, lameness. It is a great public benefit.' Beware of imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottles, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents. ANOTHER C. P. R. R. JOB!

The following letter has not been received from Sir John A. Macdonald:

Office of the Canadian High Commissioner, LONDON, Eng., September 1880.

The Estate of R. B. SMITH,

Dear Sir,— Having learned from my personal friend, the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, who has lately passed through your town, that you keep THE LARGEST AND BEST STOCK OF DRY GOODS IN GODERICH, and that you sell very cheap, I wish to make arrangements with you to supply the men working on the C. P. R. R. They will require piles of Shirts and Drawers, also Over-coats, Tweeds, Cloth, Flannel and Cotton Shirtings, Socks, Mitts, Hats, Caps, and a regular supply of nice fresh Groceries.

I learn with deep regret that you still have a large number of Reformers in that section of Canada, and as I know they are wonderful people for cheap goods, I fear that even the N. P. won't prevent them from buying you out before my return—but be sure to keep plenty of the above goods for me, and when I get back from Ottawa I will make it all O. K.

I remain, your friend,

THE HURON SIGNAL. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1880.

A LAST CALL. A NUMBER of persons in the United States and distant parts of Canada are in arrears for THE SIGNAL.

The Australian Provinces are about to consider the question of Chinese immigration. It is not many years since the Australian aborigines were considering whether they would allow the haughty European to land or not.

The new Roman Catholic Bishop, of Kingstown, will be Rev. Dr. Cleary, of Dungarvan, Ireland, recently parish priest, the Pope having given him the diocesan appointment.

The Quebec Government will encourage the agricultural societies not by the aid of money, but by grants of superphosphates. Arrangements have been made with a company to supply the various societies with this valuable fertilizer for ten years, and good results are expected to follow its free use.

UNEASY lies the head that wears a crown. Constables have been appointed to guard the Czar's yacht, Livia, now at Glasgow, fears being entertained that the nihilists are prepared to hide nitro-glycerine on board her.

The editor of the Sarnia Observer carries a level head upon his shoulder. He says:—One of the worst plagues raised by the N. P. is the bonus hunter. There has been more of him during the past two years than ever before known or heard of, and he invariably turns out to be all wind and no wool.

JUSTICE CAMERON threw a bombshell into the legal circle attending the assizes, when he declared his intention of allowing no adjournments for luncheon during the Court here. His Lordship is evidently a believer in the doctrine that an empty stomach makes an active brain, and he heroically kept in the judgment seat without so much as munching a wine biscuit.

Is the course of his sermon on Sunday morning last, a clergyman of this town said: "Some men believe they are pleasing God when they use the most unholiest means to accomplish holy ends." There was much truth in the remark, and now that the season for necktie and apron socials, church bazaars (on the cheat-him-at-any-rate principle), raffles, candy-pulls, election cakes and other pious frauds, is at hand, we hope the above statement will be pondered.

It will be for those who happen to take up stray cattle to know the rules necessary to be observed before they become entitled to recover any expenses they may be put to for feed, etc., of such cattle. At once as soon as the beast is taken up, word should be sent to the clerk of the township, and then, if a public journal is at all convenient and likely to reach the section from which the beast is supposed to have come, an advertisement should be inserted describing the time the beast was taken up and its color, etc., so as to lead to its recovery by its owner.

THE Russian Government is making great concessions, and a better state of things will be the result in the Czar's dominion. The people are to be allowed to exercise their rights, the Government will inquire into and correct abuses, and the press will have more liberty in discussing national affairs.

WHEN a man receives notification that he has been appointed judge at a fall fair, he feels flattered to think that his judgment and worth are so much appreciated by those enterprising fellows who manage the affair.

THE Biddulph murder case is now being tried at London. The number of witnesses is exceedingly large, and the trial is expected to last many days.

COMMUNICATIONS.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our Correspondents. Contributors to this department must confine themselves to public questions, and be brief.

WALKING ADVERTISEMENTS.

While visiting the Clinton fair last month, I was extremely shocked at what appeared to me to be one of the most ridiculous means of tantalizing a good natured person. As any one who was present is aware, some business men had small paste backed bills printed. Now, what I wish to speak about is the use of these bills were put to a gang of boys, and even some young men, who should have had more sense, would walk around with one of these bills concealed in the palm of the hand, and all ready for a stick.

MAN AND HIS DEPENDANTS.

AND God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them. Weak, ignorant, uneducated, domineering, and self-willed as thou art, O Man! Humble as thou oughtest to be, O child of the dust!

ARM BROKEN.

THE youngest son of D. McLennan had the misfortune while performing on the horizontal bar on Tuesday, to break one of his arms. Medical aid was at once summoned, and he is progressing as favorably as could be expected.

DEATH.

MR. D. B. McKinnon, who has been agent for the Montreal Telegraph Company here for the past eight years, has resigned, and J. M. Hamilton, of the firm of Lawrence & Hamilton, has been appointed his successor. The office will be transferred on the 1st of October.

SOME POINTS FOR OUR READERS.

Among those who have never had any experience as journalists, there are not many who understand and appreciate the difficulties and trials that surround an editor. The actual routine work is enormous, but this is the easiest part of his labors.

It is a mistake to ask or expect an editor to publish everything that is sent him for insertion. Each one who writes for publication is very liable to be so much attached to his own production as to overlook altogether its defects, and count upon its insertion as a certainty.

WHAT TO SAY.

Say "I would rather walk, and not 'I had rather walk.'" Say "I doubt not that I shall," and not "but I shall."

GOOD SHOOTING.

The fall show of the Ashfield and Wawanosh Branch Agricultural Society, held in Dunbar on the 30th ult., was a success, both in regard to entries, which were larger than at any previous year, and in the number and variety of the exhibits. The morning promised a wet day, but fortune smiled on the promoters of the society when after the exhibits had all been arranged the sky suddenly cleared and the sun shone out brightly on the lively appearance of our streets.

The exhibits in cattle, sheep and pigs were excellent, more than could be said for the horses, which were below the average. The carriages, wagons and implements shown were first class, among which our townsman, Mr. Pointer, shown the brightest, as was his face over the judges had made their awards in his class. The exhibits inside were splendid. The roots and fruit were the best, among which we noticed some mangels exhibited as beets. The ladies' work was hardly up to the average in quantity, but certainly in quality, to the exhibits of former years.

On Tuesday afternoon the councilors were called together in Mrs. Day's hotel in this village, and were met by Messrs. Wragge and Beatty, officers of the Company, accompanied by the Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Company, who was on a tour of inspection over the narrow gauge road.

Mr. Beatty stated to the Council that arrangements had been concluded with Mr. Hickson, General Manager of the Grand Trunk, and the contract sent to England for confirmation. He then proceeded to read a copy of the contract, a lengthy document, after which he asked the Council to submit the by-law presented some time ago with the figures altered so that the amount asked for would read $16,000, and such other changes made in the provisions of the by-law as were necessary.

The Reeve invited the council and ratepayers present to discuss the subject, when a long and earnest debate ensued which drew out the opinion that a $16,000 bonus would not carry at the polls, some of the councillors contending that it would be a difficult matter to pass even a $10,000 by-law. In answer to a remark by a gentleman present that the bonus previously granted to the road had not been a paying investment for the municipality. Councillor Weir, ex-Reeve Perkins and Henry Perkins Esq., advanced some strong arguments showing that Howick had received a great lift towards civilization and prosperity by the advent of the line. Councillors Cook, Johnston and Jaques explained that they were satisfied that the north-east and south-east parts of the township would oppose the granting of a bonus as they were supplied with railroad facilities by the Great Western, and advised the representatives to reduce the amount of bonus asked to $10,000 or $12,000 in order to make the by-law successful. Mr. Beatty was not authorized to exceed so low a figure as this. He had expected at least $15,000 from Howick as his share of the $900,000 required to widen the gauge. If other municipalities insisted on such a reduction as this from the sum asked of them the company would fall short of the amount required and the scheme fall through.

A long argument followed when Mr. Johnston moved, seconded by Mr. Jaques, that the Council recommend the granting of $12,000. Mr. Cook spoke on this motion, saying that while he did not desire to saddle the township with any more bonus debt than was absolutely necessary yet he was sorry that the council and the representatives could not agree on an amount. He would suggest that Mr. Beatty would accept $12,500. Mr. Beatty said that that amount was considerably below what he was instructed to accept, but as that was evidently all that could be obtained from the township he would, as the Company's solicitor, advise them to accept it. Mr. Johnston then reluctantly withdrew his motion, and a motion recommending the granting of $12,500 was unanimously passed.

The council then complimented the representatives of the Company on their fairness and candor in the matter and the Council adjourned. [Gorrie Enterprise.]

The Council of the town of Wingham met the representatives of the T. G. & B. railroad who were here last week, and offered to submit a by-law for $10,000 to build the road to Wingham.

NARROW GAUGE BONUS.

A Special Meeting of the Howick Council Recommends the Granting of $12,500.

On Saturday last the Reeve was requested by the Directors of the T. G. & B. R. R. to call a special meeting of the Howick Council in order to present a by-law to the ratepayers granting aid to the railroad company to widen the gauge.

On Tuesday afternoon the councilors were called together in Mrs. Day's hotel in this village, and were met by Messrs. Wragge and Beatty, officers of the Company, accompanied by the Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Company, who was on a tour of inspection over the narrow gauge road.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF MODERN TIMES.—The Pills Purify the Blood, correct all disorders of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys and Bowels and are invaluable in all complaints incidental to Females. The Ointment is the only reliable remedy for Head, Legs, Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers, of however long standing. For Rheumatism, Diptheria, Coughs, Colds, Gout, Rheumatism and all Skin Diseases, it has no equal. BEWARE OF AMERICAN COUNTERFEITS.—I most respectfully take leave to call the attention of the Public generally to the fact that certain Houses in New York are sending to many parts of the globe spurious imitations of my Pills and Ointment. These imitations bear on their labels some address in New York. I do not allow my Medicine to be sold in any part of the United States, I have no Agents there. My Medicines are only made by me, at 533 Oxford Street, London. In the Books of directions affixed to the spurious make is a caution warning the Public against being deceived by counterfeits. Do not be misled by this audacious trick, as they are the counterfeiters they pretend to denounce. These counterfeiters are purchased by unprincipled Vendors at one-half the price of my Pills and Ointment and are sold to you as my genuine Medicines. I most earnestly appeal to that sense of justice which I feel sure I may venture upon asking from all honorable persons, to assist me, and the Public, as far as may lie in their power, in denouncing this shameful Fraud. Each Pot and Box of the Genuine Medicine bears the British Government Stamp with the words "HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, LONDON," engraved thereon. On the label is the address, 533 Oxford Street, London, where also they are manufactured. Holloway's Pills and Ointment bearing any other address are counterfeit. The Trade Marks of these Medicines are registered in Ottawa. Hence any one throughout the British Possessions, who may keep the American Counterfeits for sale, will be prosecuted, signed THOMAS HOLLOWAY, Oxford Street, London, Jan. 1, 1879.

HOME EVIDENCE IN FAVOR OF PAIN-KILLER.

Hint No. 1. If you wish to ease your- self, your family, and your friends a world of suffering and pain, which at present they endure needlessly, and also save many dollars in Doctor's bills, go at once to the nearest store, and buy a few bottles of PAIN-KILLER.

Why experiment with unknown mixtures without character or reputation, when this world-renowned PAIN-KILLER which has stood the test of 40 years, can be had for the same price at any Drug Store in the Dominion!

READ THE FOLLOWING. OTTAWA, Ont., March 2, 1880.

The writer has been selling Perry Davis' Pain-Killer now for the last 22 years, and can confidently recommend it to the public as a sure remedy for Cholera, Diarrhoea, Sore Throat, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Burns, Scalds, &c. Have known it to cure a case of Syphilitic Sore Throat of two years' standing, when all the usual remedies failed. The patient took half a teaspoonful in water three times a day, and gargled the throat three times a day as follows: one teaspoonful in a wine glass of water, and used as a gargle.

Yours, H. F. MCCARTHY.

MAITLAND, Ont., February 26, 1880.

I have much pleasure in adding to the number of testimonials you have already received, as to the value of your renowned Pain-Killer. I have sold it and used it in my family for twenty years or more, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the best patent medicine I have ever used for the purposes for which it is recommended, and, moreover, every person to whom I have ever sold it, has been perfectly satisfied with it, and I know many persons who will not go to bed at night unless they are sure there is a bottle of "Perry Davis" in their house. All who have used it once, will use it again: it makes friends and retains them.

Yours truly, JOHN DUMBRILLE, Druggist.

SPRINGFIELD, Ont., February 26, 1880.

We have much pleasure in certifying that you have kept Perry Davis' Pain-Killer constantly in stock for upwards of twenty years, during which time it has taken the lead in sales over all other patent preparations, and has become an old, reliable family medicine. No effort is required on our part to sell it, as it is a staple article as flour in our trade.

Yours truly, W. F. IRELLIE & CO.

MADOC, Ont., February 16, 1880.

It gives me much pleasure to state that during a drug course of more than a quarter century, I can testify that your justly celebrated Pain-Killer has not only held its own as a family medicine, but still occupies the front rank wherever it is sold. My customers speak very highly of it, and I could send you a number of testimonials showing up its merits and intrinsic worth, were it necessary, which it is not. It should, however, be called "Excelsior Pain-Killer." I pride myself in never being out of it.

Yours very respectfully, JOHN G. DEANS.

STOCK, Ont., February 17, 1880.

We have great pleasure to state that the Pain-Killer holds its position in this place as the old, reliable family medicine. Although there are a great many others in stock for sale, none are nearly so good as Pain-Killer, Pain Remover, Pain Destroyer, and such like names, we find the people know the difference, and are sure to ask for Perry Davis' Pain-Killer. We have been selling Pain-Killer for the last fourteen years.

Yours truly, P. & P. MURPHY.

PORTLAND, Ont., March 9, 1880.

I have been using the Pain-Killer for many years with results that justify me in recommending it. As a family medicine, we consider it almost indispensable: being good not only as a pain-killer, but for colds and sore throats, and many other ailments for which it appears specially adapted. I pronounce the Pain-Killer chiefly as a liniment, and find it valuable for rheumatism and other ailments belonging to old age. I pronounce the Pain-Killer a good and cheap medicine, and worthy of all acceptance, and send you this certificate that you may assure the public that it is no humbug.

Yours truly, THOS. GRAHAM.

SCOTT, Ont., March 4, 1880.

We hereby certify that we have used Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in our families for several years. We consider it a very useful and necessary article to be kept in all households as a resort in case of accidents and exposure to attacks occasioned by cold.

JEREMIAH CURTIN, J. J. DOWSLEY, JOSEPH P. REDMOND, ARCH. GREER.

MAITLAND, Ont., February 25, 1880.

I have used your Pain-Killer for the last twenty years. I tested it with me all through the American War. I believe I would have been dead long ago, if it had not been for your Pain-Killer. I think it is the best remedy to the world for which it is recommended.

Yours very truly, N. W. LAFONTAINE.

PORTLAND, Ont., February 26, 1880.

I have sold the Perry Davis' Pain-Killer for over thirty years, and the same has always given my customers entire satisfaction, and I have much pleasure in recommending it as a good and reliable family medicine.

S. S. SCOVILL.

PRESCOTT, Ont., February 27, 1880.

I have sold your Pain-Killer for the last sixteen years in this place, and feel safe in recommending it to the public for the diseases given in your circular. I can assure you my customers speak well of it as a general family medicine. It takes the lead of all other similar preparations.

Yours, GEO. BIRKS.

CONROSGO, Ont., March 3, 1880.

I have been selling Perry Davis' Pain-Killer for the past 22 years, and have much pleasure in stating that its sale in that time has been larger than any other patent medicine that I have on my shelves, and in those years I have never heard a customer say aught but words of the highest praise in its favor. It is an article that seems to have combined in it all that goes to make a first class family medicine, and as long as I have a house and store, Perry Davis' Pain-Killer will be found in it.

Yours, &c., J. E. KENNEDY.

MADOC, Ont., February 16, 1880.

Your Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire a better one. It never fails me! I call it the "Old Reliable."

Yours very truly, HORACE SEYMOUR.

TAMWORTH, Ont., March 4, 1880.

For twenty-three years last past I have sold Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, and have always found it to give good satisfaction. I have frequently used it in my family, and received great benefit from the use of it in that way. Although many imitations of it have been put on the market, and are pushed hard, yet the old, reliable Perry Davis' Pain-Killer holds its own, and is a very popular domestic medicine.

JAS. AYLWORTH.

Words of Wisdom.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Compulsory goodness is impossible, for the essence of an action is in its motive, and a motive can never be inspired by force or fear.

It is necessary sometimes to refrain from questioning our friends, that we may not draw from them what we ought not to know, and especially that we may not tempt them to deceive us.

Life is divided into three terms: That which was, which is, and which will be. Let us learn from the past to profit by the present, and from the present to live better for the future.

It is evident that the most worthy efforts often fail, while the worst succeed. That fact alone ought to show the folly of basing an estimate of character on a superficial reckoning of results.

"What would I give," said Charles Lamb, "to call my dear mother back to earth for a single day, to ask her pardon upon my knees, for all those acts which I grieved her gentle spirit?"

The way to avoid evil is not by maining our passions, but by compelling them to yield their vigour to our moral nature. Thus they become, as in the ancient fable, the harnessed steeds which bear the chariot of the sun.

The man who waits for what he desires takes the course not to be exceedingly grieved if he fails of it. The man, on the contrary, who labours after a thing too impatiently thinks the success, when it comes, is not a recompense equal to all the pains he has been at about it.

FRIENDSHIP.—Many have talked in very exalted language of the perpetuity of friendship—of invincible constancy and inalienable kindness; and some examples have been seen of men who have continued faithful to their earliest choice, and whose affections have predominated over changes of fortune and contrariety of opinion. But these instances are memorable because they are rare. The friendship which is to be practiced or expected by common mortals must take its rise from mutual pleasure, and must end when the power ceases of delighting each other.

There is a story told of a workman of the great chemist, Faraday. One day he knocked into a jar of acid a little silver cup. It disappeared, was eaten up by the acid, and couldn't be found. One said he could find it; another said it was held in solution, and there was no possibility of finding it. The great chemist came in and put some chemical into the jar, and in a moment every particle of the silver was precipitated to the bottom. He lifted it out a shapeless mass, sent it to the silversmith, and the cup was restored. If Faraday could precipitate that silver and recover his cup, I believe God can restore my sleeping and scattered dust.

Act well your part. Don't be selfish. Remember that it is by imparting happiness to others, and making ourselves useful, that we receive happiness. Stand by this truth; live it out, and always keep doing something useful for the common good, doing it well, and acting sincerely. Endeavor to keep your heart in the attitude of cherishing good will to all, thinking and speaking evil of no one, and always with a kind word for everybody. Selfishness is its own curse; it is a starving vice. The man who does no good gets none. He is like the heath in the desert, neither yielding fruit nor seeing when good cometh, a stunted, dwarfish, miserable shrub. Let all your influence be exerted for the purpose of doing all you can for the common good and individual welfare of everyone.

VOLUNTARY MADNESS.—One of the best definitions of drunkenness was given by the philosopher Smeed. He said "drunkenness is voluntary madness."

A drunken man is a self-made madman. A madman, according to Webster, is one who is "raving or furious with disordered intellect." A drunken man, therefore, is one who has disordered his intellect until he is raving and furious. Such a man has no right to liberty when he is drunk, for, in his raving fury, he may do great damage to himself and others. If he is in the habit of getting drunk, his liberty should be restrained, to keep him sober. His place is in the mad-house. His confinement should be repeated every time he gets drunk, and lengthened upon every repetition, to teach him, if possible, sobriety. A drunken man should not be permitted to vote. He is unfit to do any duty devolving upon the citizen; especially is he disqualified to take part in the government of the country. He should not be permitted to hold property, or to dispose of it. Contracts made by drunk men should be legally void. Habitual drunkards should have guardians appointed to manage their estates, for the benefit of their wives and children, and they should be provided for as wards. People who are not the victims of this voluntary madness would do well to stop and think of it, and do their duty in reference to it. It may knock at any door, and enter any home. It is the sum of all wickedness, the body-servant of every vice, the eating cancer in the body-politic, the destroying devil in the vineyard of the Lord—and yet how do patriots, philanthropists and Christians sleep while the evil grows.

Household Hints.

MINT SAUCE FOR ROAST LAMB.—Put four tablepoons of chopped mint into half a cup of vinegar; sweeten to taste, and let stand for two hours before serving.

EGG BROTH.—Beat an egg until it froths; stir in into a pint of boiling hot broth, free from fat; season it with a salt-spoonful of salt, and serve with thin slices of dry toast. This broth abounds in flesh-forming elements.

VINEGAR FOR SALADS.—Take a handful each of dried farragon, chives, savory balm and mint, and a slice of onion; cover with half a gallon of vinegar; cork closely in a bottle and set in the sun for two weeks, then strain and press out all the juice.

SCOTCH COOKIES.—Beat two cups of sugar with one cup of butter and five tablepoons of milk in which has been dissolved one teaspoonful of soda. Beat two eggs quite white and add them. Mix two tablepoons cream tartar with half a pound of flour, and a teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon. Mix the whole together, adding more flour from time to time to make a dough. Roll thin and bake quickly.

APPLE FRITTERS.—Make a smooth batter of half a pound of flour, three eggs, and a half pint of sweet milk; salt to taste. Cut a dozen large, juicy apples into slices, after peeling and coring them. Throw the slices into the batter. Have ready a pan of equal parts of lard and butter, boiling hot. Take the batter up in a ladle, allowing a slice of apple to each fritter, and drop into the hot lard. Fry brown, drain for a moment and serve with powdered sugar and nutmeg.

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.—One quart of thin tomato catsup made and spiced the usual way, with the addition of cayenne pepper and a sufficient quantity of crushed garlic, added to the catsup while boiling and before it is strained, to give it a decided garlic taste. Then add enough toy sauce—to be obtained at almost any good grocery store—to make the catsup a deep chocolate color; two tablepoonsful will probably be sufficient.

SURPRISE PUDDING.—One cup not quite full of sugar; two cups of flour; four eggs; two full tablepoons of baking powder; a little salt, and fresh lemon. Break the eggs in an earthen dish without beating; pour over these the sugar; sift in the flour and baking powder; first stir then beat all well for ten minutes. Bake in well-buttered oval tin in pretty quick oven (it ought to bake in twenty minutes). Eat with cream or any sauce preferred.

PHOSPHORUS FOR RATS.—The following recipe was sent to an English Agricultural Society several years ago, and was found to be a sure means of getting rid of these troublesome little animals: "Melt lard in a bottle plunged in warm water and heated nearly to a boiling point. Turn into it half an ounce of phosphorus for every pound of lard, then add a pint of alcohol or the very strongest of whiskey. Cork the bottle tightly, and shake it until it is well mixed, and looks milky. Let it cool, and then the lard and phosphorus will have become mixed together, and the spirits will be separated from it, and can be used again for the same purpose, as it only serves to diffuse the phosphate through the lard, which can then be warmed a little and mixed with wheat or cornmeal pellets, and laid into rat holes. It will become luminous in the dark, and attract the rats, and being readily eaten by them it will surely prove fatal. Some persons mix a little molasses with the dough to make the rats devour it more quickly.

The Government is expending some $4,000 or $5,000 in improving the navigation of the Du Lievre River. There are obstructions to be removed at the Little Rapids and also at the Long Rapids.

FALL ASSIZES.

A Very Light Criminal Calendar.

The Result in the Various Cases Before the Court, up to Thursday Noon.

The Hon. Mr. Justice Cameron presiding. Monday, Oct. 4th, 1880.

The Assizes for the county of Huron opened to-day, before His Lordship, Mr. Justice Cameron. On the civil docket there were eighteen cases entered for trial; one of breach of promise, three of seduction, one of slander, five of ejectment, and the balance on insurance policies, notes and accounts. On the criminal docket there were three cases; one of rape, one of forgery and one of larceny. The Crown is represented by Mr. Colin McDougall, of St. Thomas.

At the opening of the Court the county Bar were present in full force, and Mr. M. C. Cameron, Q. C., after a few appropriate remarks on their behalf, read the following address To His Lordship, Mr. Justice Cameron:— We, the members of the Bar of the county of Huron, gladly avail ourselves of the opportunity which your first judicial visit to this county affords us of expressing our high estimation of the ability and integrity which have successfully carried you through a brilliant professional and public career to the distinguished position you now occupy. Considering as you have done with the best and ablest men of your time in matters of the greatest moment, you have not only won the regard of those with whom you acted in a public capacity, but the respect of the people at large, and they, as well as we, hail with satisfaction your advancement to the well-earned honor of the Bench. The qualities which have ornamented your life thus far will not, we are confident, cease to govern your judicial life, and we are equally confident, will not fail to preserve for you the admiration and esteem you have so honorably won. But will enable you to gain fresh distinction and a still more enduring place in the affections of the public. We trust you may long be spared to grace the Bench to afford us the benefit of your wisdom and experience and the example of your pure and upright life. Accept, therefore, our congratulations upon your recent elevation, and be assured that no efforts shall be wanted on our part to render your relations with the members of the Bar of the County of Huron as pleasant as we are gratified to know they have been with the other members of the Bar of this Province.

His Lordship replied in most eloquent and feeling terms, and said that it was a worthy ambition to attempt to follow even distantly in the footsteps of Canadian jurists.

His Lordship then made the following ADDRESS TO THE GRAND JURY:

I am happy, on my first judicial visit to Goderich, to find the calendar so light, consisting of only three criminal cases. After explaining the law in relation to the crimes of rape, forgery and larceny, his Lordship continued: The lightness of the calendar in so large a county as Huron reflects much credit upon the inhabitants. Since I have been on the Bench there has been a contemplated change of the Grand Jury system, and it is well that the constituted authorities should know the feeling of the country in connection therewith. Recently the Local Parliament passed a statute reducing the number of grand jurors to fifteen, but twelve of that number had to agree to a prima facie case requiring investigation at the hands of a petty jury, and then twelve had to agree as to the guilt of the accused. Fifteen grand jurors may be found inconvenient, for this reason, that four may not answer for some causes, and thus delay the business of the Court. I observe there are twenty-one of you, as the Bill spoken of has not yet come in force, no proclamation having been issued, thus far, by the Lieut. Governor, calling it into operation. I understand the reason such proclamation has not been made is that there is some doubt as to the right of the Legislature to pass such a law. If the grand jury system is a part of the Constitution of the Local Parliament has such power; but if you are a part of the procedure of the Court, then only the Parliament of Canada can deal with you. I wish to get the feeling of the country on the question of the abolition of grand jurors. The grand jury system was done away with, then some other tribunal must be brought into existence to perform your present duties. If another body were supplied, it must be an individual of some standing, and must cost no more than you do now. Grand juries have often ignored cases that magistrates have sent for trial, which may be taken as an evidence of their usefulness. I wish you to express an opinion as to any change you think should be made in the system. From the observations I have just made, you may have gathered my personal views on the matter, but I hope that, should you have formed my private opinion, no matter of delicacy will prevent you from presenting your own ideas on the subject to me. Prisoners are sent to be kept in your jails, and I believe some of them are better kept while in durance than many of those engaged in the administration of justice. There is, I find, a great jealousy existing between the outlying municipalities and the County town, and anything done in the direction of beautifying the grounds or the Court-house, is looked upon with suspicion, as they think they are doing something for the town. Personally, I know of one County Council that granted the magnificent sum of $100 for this purpose. The County Council of Westmorland has built a Court-house that does credit to the administration of justice, but after it was built they were loath to furnish it with anything like proper conveniences until a committee of the County Council were induced to visit the city of Buffalo, and inspected the Court house there, which was built under republican institutions. In one of the Counties which I had occasion to visit judicially the grand jury room, in which the gentlemen of the County were called to take part in our system of law, did not contain sufficient chairs for them to sit upon. Such niggardliness is not creditable, and I hope none of it exists in the County of Huron. The grand jury are entitled to every comfort and respect, as they are an institution having great powers.

The following is the order of the cases:— Dominion Loan and Investment Society vs. Trow—Action of ejectment. Without jury. Consent to verdict for plaintiff, which was accordingly done. Mr. Ira Lewis for plaintiff; and Mr. J. T. Garrow for defendant. Dominion Loan and Investment Society vs. Pierce—Ejectment. Without jury. Consent to verdict for plaintiff. Mr. Ira Lewis for plaintiff; Mr. F. W. Johnston for defendant. Jackson vs. Scott—Ejectment. Without jury. Verdict for plaintiff by consent. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; Malcomson & Wade for defendant. Cameron et al. vs. McEwan—Action of bill of costs. Without jury. Verdict for plaintiff by consent for $500. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; Mr. Adam R. Creighton for defendant. Anglo-Canadian Mortgage Co. vs. Pierce—Action for Ejectment. Without jury. Verdict for plaintiff by consent. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; Mr. B. L. Doyle for defendant.

Tuesday, Oct. 5th. Walper vs. Pollock—This was an action for seduction brought by one Walper, formerly of the Township of Hay but now residing in Michigan, against Wm. Pollock, a fisherman at Bayfield, for the seduction of his daughter some two years since. The defendant was not present in court, and the case was referred to the jury after hearing the testimony of Miss Walper. Verdict for $100 for plaintiff. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; Garrow & Proudfoot for defendant. Fisher vs. Graham—An action for breach of promise of marriage, brought by Rebecca Fisher, of Colborne, against Wm J. Graham, of the same township. It was alleged that defendant had seduced plaintiff to work for him and had seduced her, and had also promised to marry her. Previous proceedings had been taken against defendant for seduction, but the matter had been settled by Graham paying plaintiff's father $200. The present suit was brought by plaintiff to recover damages from $250 for breach of promise of marriage. Verdict for plaintiff for $200. Mr. B. L. Doyle for plaintiff; Garrow & Proudfoot for defendant. Holmes vs. Holmes—Action on note and money lent. Verdict for $500, subject to award of Isaac Francis Toms, Esq. Mr. C. Seager for plaintiff; Malcomson & Wade for defendant.

Sneltzer vs. Acton—This was an action for trespass on land in the eastern division of Ashfield, where both parties resided. Non-suit. Mr. Warren Rock and C. Seager for plaintiff; Davison & Johnston for defendant. The Queen vs. Johnston—Forgery. Prisoner was charged with the forging of the name of Hugh McBurnie, of Wawanosh, to a note for $35.00. When arraigned prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge, but on the trial he denied having forged the note knowing it to be forged, but not guilty of the forgery. This is the prisoner who in August last, attempted to escape by jumping from the top of the jail wall, but who was severely injured by the fall, and subsequently captured. He was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the Central Prison, with hard labor. Mr. Colin McDougall for Crown. Prisoner not represented by counsel.

Wednesday, Oct. 6th. The Queen vs. Richard Bennett—Rape. In this case the principal witnesses for the Crown did not appear, and prisoner entered into his own recognizance to appear at next assizes in the sum of $2,000. At this stage the Grand Jury made the following PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury on their oath present, that in performance of duty they have inspected the Gaol, and found that the courteous Gaoler, Mr. Dickson, has to all appearance faithfully discharged his duty in keeping the Gaol clean, and in caring for those committed to his charge. They were pained to find a young woman who has lately given birth to a child there. She has been incarcerated for the past six months on the charge of vagrancy; her time expires on the tenth inst., and then she will be thrown on the charities of the country in a helpless condition, she having no friends or means of support, under her existing circumstances. We, the Grand Jury, consider it a great injustice to the Gaol authorities that they should be compelled to look after such cases, and would hope that some plan may be adopted by which she may be removed to some home for such unfortunate. In your Lordship's able, instructive and courteous address to the Grand Jury, you enunciated an opinion relative to the number of jurors, and wished an expression from us as to our opinion, if we thought a change necessary, and if so, what? We, therefore, take the liberty of presenting that we do not feel justified in recommending the abolition or change of a system of such long standing, and which wise legislators have viewed as essential to secure the liberty of the subject. In justice to the minority, we would say that seven of the jurors wished a reduction in the number. The greater number of guarantees thrown around the subjects of any government, that their liberties were secured by a diversity of tribunals, and that their liberties were not jeopardized with a limited investigation, would tend to endear them to institutions leaned upon. We, the Grand Jurors, beg respectfully to record our dissent as above expressed, and also to present that our opinion is that that system which has been considered the great palladium of civil liberty for centuries should not be interfered with, without cogent reasons, and that no financial reasons based on a system of economy should be considered paramount to the liberties of the subject. We have to congratulate your Lordship on the lightness of the calendar, for criminal offences.

JOHN KAINE, Foreman. Drew vs. Drew—Action for slander. The plaintiff and defendant are brothers, and live in the village of Exeter, one being a carpenter and the other a retired hotel-keeper. It was alleged that defendant had accused plaintiff of stealing lumber from him. Verdict for plaintiff by consent for $200. Mr. B. V. Elliott for plaintiff; Mr. Warren Rock, Q. C., for defendant.

Baird vs. Howick Mutual Insurance Co.—Action on insurance policy. This was brought against the Co. by William Baird, a farmer in Turnberry, to recover insurance on property destroyed by fire. The defence contended that a fraudulent representation had been made in the application for insurance, in that as incumbrances were concerned. Verdict for plaintiff for $612.02. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; Malcomson & Wade for defendant. The Queen vs. Ellen Weston—The prisoner was charged with larceny. The property alleged to be stolen was a buffalo robe. It appears the taking of the robe was more of the nature of a practical joke than a theft. Geo. Weston and Geo. C. Petty are rival butchers in the village of Hensall, and an undue emulation in vending meat, and personal spleen, appears to have inspired the practical joke. The prisoner is the wife of butcher Weston, and was subjected to annoyance by the boy of Petty, and wishing to see Mr. Petty, she took the robe so that she could complain to him of the wrong action of the boy when that gentleman came for the robe. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Angus Cameron, Esq., for the prisoner; Mr. Colin McDougall for Crown.

STILL THEY COME. More Friendly Comments from our Exchanges. THE HURON SIGNAL.—This old established journal has passed into the hands of the McGillucuddy Bros., formerly of the Brussels Post. It has been much improved both in size and appearance. We wish the Signal under its new management to be as energetic and experienced as the Brussels Post, and will no doubt show in their political fights all the valor and chivalry worthy of the McGillucuddy of the Reeks. We wish our old friends the greatest success. Mitchell Recorder.—THE HURON SIGNAL, under the management of the McGillucuddy Bros., who have recently purchased it, came out in a new and handsome form last week. The Messrs. McGillucuddy are energetic, practical printers, of long experience, possessing also a large share of editorial ability, and THE SIGNAL, in their hands, will at once take its place among the best journals in the Province.

McGillucuddy Bros., formerly of the Brussels Post, in taking charge of THE HURON SIGNAL, Goderich, have made a great improvement in the latter journal. They have changed the shape to the popular quarto form, provided an entirely new dress, and present to the journalistic world one of the neatest local newspapers in Canada. We wish them large returns for their undoubted ability, spirit and enterprise. (Warton Echo.) Listowel Banner.—The Goderich SIGNAL, under its new management, comes to hand in an eight-page form and in a handsome new dress. In the hands of the enterprising McGillucuddy Bros., the old Signal has undergone a complete metamorphosis, and once more takes its place in the journalistic world, with every appearance of renewed vigor, and promise of success. THE SIGNAL has our best wishes, and when it succeeds in turning all the Goderich papers into the "Banner" will be its debtor to the extent of a leather medal.

Maitland Presbytery. The Presbytery of Maitland met in Melville Church, Brussels, on the 21st ult., at 2 o'clock p.m., Rev. Geo. Brown, of Wroter, the Moderator, presiding. After devotional exercises the minutes of last meeting were read and sustained. The first item of business was the consideration of a call from the pastoral charge of James A. Anderson, B. A., a graduate of arts in McGill University, and in Theology of the Presbyterian College, Montreal. The salary pledged is $725 per annum, to be paid in quarterly instalments, and also a free manse. On motion the call was sustained as a regular pastoral call, and ordered to be transmitted to the necessary papers of the Presbytery of Sauguené—Rev. Duncan Campbell, of Lucknow, to prosecute the call before that body.

An "Order of Business" was reported by the Clerk, Rev. R. Leask, which, after some discussion and slight amendment, was adopted and ordered to be printed. Rev. Ross submitted the report of the committee on the Presbytery's visitation. The questions proposed to be used in such visitations were ordered to be printed for the consideration of members of the court, the whole matter to be disposed of at next regular meeting. Home-mission business occupied most of the evening session, and after the appointment of a Sabbath School committee, Rev. D. B. McKay, convener, the Presbytery adjourned at an early hour. The next meeting for the transaction of business will be held at Logknow, on December 21st, at 2 p. m.

OUR TOWN FATHERS.

What They Do in Conclave.

A Digest of the Doings at last Meeting.

FRIDAY, Oct. 1, 1880. Council met this evening at 7:30, the Mayor in the chair. Present, Reeves Garrow and Johnston, and Councillors Hutchison, Acheson, Elliott, Campion, Bingham, Mitchell, Gordon, Nicholson, Jordan, Sloane and Dancey.

The minutes of regular and special meetings were read and approved. A letter was read from the Provincial Secretary's office, stating that no further extension of the town limits would be proceeded with. A communication was read from the solicitor of the G. T. R., asking that action be taken in reference to the boxing of a public drain through their private property, as injury was being done by the constant wash from the open drain. Mr. Bingham said the drain had been examined by him, and he did not think there was any danger of damage being done by the action of the drain, and suggested that the solicitor be communicated with to that effect. Mr. Jordan thought if there was any danger to be feared, the matter should be attended to, so that the Council would not be brought into a law quarrel. Mr. Garrow took a similar stand. The Council had no right to raise the water through the drain property boxed. The land in question was the private property of the R. R. Co., and if the matter was not dealt with at once, there would be cause for a chancery suit between the G. T. R. and the R. R. Co. Mr. Bingham said that he had examined the records and could not find that the land belonged to the G. T. R. Co. The report of the Street Inspector was read, which stated that the water in the tanks was holding out well. No damage was being done, or was likely to be done, by the water in the tanks at the foot of Waterloo street; but a box might be put down which might settle all complaints at present existing. The cost would not be more than $65. Moved by Mr. Garrow, seconded by Mr. Sloane, that the report be adopted and the Public Works Committee be carried.

A communication was read from Mr. Scobie, asking permission to have Maitland street crossed by a switch from the G. T. R. to his salt works. Moved by Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. Garrow, that the same privileges be granted as to Mr. Williams, and that the matter be referred to Public Works Committee. The following accounts were recommended to be paid by Finance Committee:— C. Crabb $14.53; R. Bonnamy, $39.20; Williams & Murray, $47.22; R. W. McKenzie, $13.65; J. A. McKie, $6; John Hillier, $5.75; Jas. Doyle, $4.00. The following accounts were presented and referred to Finance Committee:— E. Graham, relief, $5.38; E. Graham, cleaning hose, $2.12; G. H. Parsons, window blinds, $25.14; G. H. Parsons, nails, &c., $19.20.

THE COW BY-LAW was then introduced, passed through committee of the whole, and read a second and third time. Messrs. Elliott and Dancey strenuously objected. THE BY-LAW. Mr. Acheson asked if the Fire Limits By-law was a dead letter, and stated that an infringement was being made by Mr. Horace Horton who was putting up a frame building within the precincts. Mr. Jordan explained that Mr. Horton had torn down a large building and was substituting another, and more compact one, and did not consider it an infringement of the By-law. The Mayor—it certainly is an infringement. It was then moved by Mr. Jordan, and seconded, that the Street Inspector be instructed to investigate the matter, and if it be an infringement of the By-law that action be taken in accordance with the provisions.

THE PAUPER QUESTION was discussed at considerable length, and the opinions of the different Councillors regarding "honest poverty" and its opposite were given without stint. THE PARK HOUSE. "Warm water and other accommodation" matter was next brought up by Mr. Elliott, and a lively time was experienced. Recent communications in outside newspapers and letters from S. S. superintendents were quoted from by Messrs. Elliott and Sloane, while Mr. Nicholson was the principal advocate of the opposite party. The debate degenerated into a squabble as to the relative merits of whiskey and water. It was finally moved by Mr. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Sloane, that the Street Inspector be instructed to estimate what it would cost to fence off the Park from the summer hotel.

During the discussion on the motion Mr. Nicholson objected to a fence being put up, and contended that it was in the interest of the town that such should not be done. He thought if excursionists wanted cold water they could get lots of it in town, and need not bother people who kept houses of public entertainment. Mr. Hutchison did not think church or temperance excursionists could expect to get accommodation and necessary conveniences without paying for them. Mr. Jordan did not favor the putting up of a fence because it would militate against the pleasure of regular guests, although every inducement should be given excursionists to come hither. Mr. Nicholson said Mr. Marlow had given ample conveniences to all excursionists and the public, and this Council should not be ruled by two or three extreme temperance people. Mr. Elliott thought Mr. Nicholson had gone out of his way to insult the temperance people. Mr. Marlow had no right to charge for his private ground when he and his guests got the full benefit of the public Park. Mr. Bingham had enquired into the grievances alleged by the excursionists and had found that they were to a great extent foundationless. On division the vote stood as follows: Yea—Messrs. Elliott, Sloane, 2. Nay—Messrs. Johnston, Hutchison, Acheson, Campion, Bingham, Mitchell, Gordon, Nicholson, Jordan, Garrow—10.

THE BACHELORS.—As the year draws to a close the bachelors in this neighborhood are in a very uncomfortable state of mind and body. Holmesville.

VISITORS.—The inhabitants of this village had the pleasure of having another look at their late post master, Mr. Edward Kelly, who with Mrs. Kelly paid them a visit on Monday last. They seem to enjoy good health, but how could it be otherwise, when they are now residents of Goderich.

SABBATH SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.—On Sunday last sermons were preached in the Bible Christian Church by the Rev. Mr. Vealy, of Fullerton, on behalf of the Sunday School, both morning and evening. The collection being taken up on each occasion in support of same. On Monday evening tea was served to a large number in the shed, when the ladies of the church showed without a shadow of doubt that they are still able to spread a good table. Tea being over all, at the solicitation of the pastor, (Rev. Mr. Thomas,) went to the church, where they were highly edified by two eloquent speeches—one delivered by Rev. Mr. Broad, of Colborne, and the other by Brother Vealy, of Fullerton. The choir discoursed some fine music during the evening, and two pieces sung by five little girls, viz: J. Murch, E. Pickett, E. Murch, P. Holdsworth and C. Murch, were well rendered and highly appreciated by the audience. A vote of thanks having been conveyed to all concerned in a "hump," at the suggestion of the pastor the meeting was brought to a close in the usual way. Proceeds $29.

ILL. OBITUARY.—It is our painful duty to record the demise of Richard Ryan, one of our oldest settlers in this vicinity. The subject of this brief memoir was born in the County of Tipperary, Ireland, about the year 1812. He immigrated to Ontario in 1838, and resided for a few months in Streetsville, near Toronto; afterwards he came to the neighborhood which was then a comparatively wilderness, where he spent the rest of his pilgrimage, respected by all who had the pleasure of forming his acquaintance. He was married in the year 1844, and leaves a wife and large family to mourn his loss. He was a member of the Methodist church since 1845, and since that time lived in the blessed enjoyment of religion. He was Master of L. O. L. No. 324, for a considerable length of time. He was naturally amiable and honorable in all his business transactions, and obliging in his dealings with others. His friends, of whom he leaves many to mourn his loss, were called to witness that time rises in the Church, and the interring of his remains in the Dunganon cemetery on Sunday, 3rd inst. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. R. Davey, Methodist minister, who improved the occasion by an excellent discourse from the text: "Neither shall they die any more." (Luke 20 and 36,) to a very large congregation. Much sympathy is felt for his bereaved family, but what is their loss is his gain. He departed this life Friday morning, 1st inst., trusting in a crucified Redeemer.

LEEBURN. THE CROPS.—Nearly all the farms at Leeburn have thrashed, with the following result: Oats, 38 to 50 bushels per acre; peas 25; spring wheat rather poor; barley 60.

RETURNED TO HIS DUTIES.—Mr. Reynolds, whose home was ransacked last spring, has again been making calls on the farm yards, his latest capture being a fine fat goose which a farmer was getting ready for his thrashing dinner.

It would be well for the Council to dig a ditch on Horton Hill, and widen the road at the bridge. It would be well, also, to put a railing on the bridge, or in case of a collision some one may get a dip when returning home from church or temperance meeting.

THE BACHELORS.—As the year draws to a close the bachelors in this neighborhood are in a very uncomfortable state of mind and body. One has measured his farm off into fields; another has been busy logging up his bush front near the lake; another recently took an enjoyable trip on the cars and didn't tell his many lady friends where he was going; and another lately painted his gates, fixed up his house, and went off to Butternut Row to get a partner without the consent of his bachelor brethren at Leeburn.
