D. McCallieby,
Editor of THE SIGNAL,
Goderich, Ont.

In other places men specially adapted for work of this kind, are selected and sent to Ottawa or Toronto or other points where railway interests are involved, to keep the needs of their respective localities before the Government and others who are interested in the promotion of the scheme. Such a plan was adopted in Winham, where Mr Harry Meyer worked in sunshine and shadow, until the line was diverted to his town. And work will have to be done in like manner for Goderich.
The old style of sending four or five men on a week's trip to Ottawa or other points will have to be given the go-by and a new order of things instituted, where a competent man, armed with authority to act, and loaded with facts concerning the town and the proposed route will be able to talk Goderich, Railroad, and Railroad and Goderich, until something gives.
Now, Messieurs of the Council, you have an idea of what the railway committee and the people who put you in power want: 1st, Bury the old provisional board of directors, and elect men who will do something; 2nd, set apart a generous appropriation for railway purposes, so that if the town is called upon to cooperate, by delegation or otherwise, it will be in a position to stand by at short notice; 3rd, Select a competent man to do your lobbying—and in this selection it will not be absolutely necessary to confine yourself to the fifteen men who comprise your own body.
If you do these things, and are wise in your selection of your delegate, you will have done something to show that you are anxious to make amends for past neglect in this matter.
If you don't,—well, that will be a matter for the electors to attend to on a future occasion.

Opening the Session—Debate on Address—The Opposition Leader—The Premier's Speech—The Address Adopted—Vote—Regal Drawing Room—Notes of the Session.
From our own Correspondent.
OTTAWA, Feb. 28, 1888.
Parliament was opened on Thursday, the ceremony accompanying the event being that described in my last letter. Your readers can read the speech from the Throne for themselves, as I will not dwell on it. There could scarcely be less in it, but the Government are not bound to mention all their intended measures and as a matter of fact the most important bills are usually unmentioned in the speech. But I understand the Government desire to get through the session as easily and as early as possible. There have been six election since last session, 5 in Ontario, 6 in Nova Scotia, 3 in Quebec, the New Brunswick and 1 in British Columbia. Of these nine are new members. The vacant seats are: Kent, Prince Edward, West Middlesex, Russell and Glangary. There is one vacancy in the Senate caused by the elevation of Senator Nelson to the Lieut. Governorship of British Columbia. Two, Mr. Master and Senecal, deceased, are replaced by Senator Macdonald (Toronto) and Rolland (Montreal). The new Northwest Senators have yet to be appointed. Hon. Wilfred Laurier is in his place as leader of the Opposition, and will be presented with an address by the Liberal club of Ottawa when he will have an opportunity of addressing a few words to the party throughout the country.
DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS.
On Friday the public galleries were crowded in expectation of the debate on the address. The House contained nearly all the members. The Premier looked well in black coat and vest and light tweed trousers. Beside him Postmaster General McLean and Mr. Bowell. On the left sat Sir Hector Langevin as near as the Minister of Militia. Behind him were Messrs. Carling and Ouligan. Behind Sir John was Mr. Pope with the Minister of Justice at his right. Tom White sat still further back as keenly attentive as any other newspaper man. To the speaker's right, Mr. Blaine, Mr. Mackenzie's chair was empty and adjoining sat Sir Richard Cartwright. Next to him Hon. Peter Mitchell had his still pulled low over his eyes. Behind him sat Mr. Carling and Mr. Serrier. Behind Mr. Serrier was Mr. McMillen in a front seat looked as keenly aggressive as ever. The House patiently waited for the mover and seconder to finish their formal talk in order to hear the leader. Dr. Monaghan made a complimentary reference to the Governor General which was joined in by subsequent speakers.
THE OPPOSITION LEADER.
Mr. Laurier on rising was warmly supported by his followers. He first referred to the absence from the House of Mr. Blake to whom he paid a glowing tribute. Then he denounced his frock coat and saluted into the Government. They were a Ministry of broken promises, their path was paved with good intentions. They declared last session the necessity for a Minister of Trade and Commerce yet he looked on the treasury benches in vain for such a man. Neither had they the Solicitor General promised. What was the matter? Passing to the Speech he trusted the Franchise Act would be amended by being repealed. At this Sir John smiled. Mr. Laurier expressed no opinion, nor did any one else on the subject. He had expressed some doubt as to being in the words of the Speech "both honorable and satisfactory." The mover and seconder had said that the country was in a prosperous state so the Liberal leader marvelled at the statement. In his view the country was in a very depressed condition. One proof was found in the great number who went to the States. Was not the cause of this, he asked, to be found in "our vicious economical system." The orator then grew eloquent in denouncing rings and combinations formed under the protection of the law by greedy men. An end should be put to this and also to emigration; and an effort made to keep our native population at home. Treating of the financial situation he judged that we had had to pay the U. P. R. instead of the lands in the northwest paying. He denounced disallowance which prevented the grain being exported from the country. In his admirable epigrammatic first Mr. Laurier put it that the blessing of God was taken away by the hand of man.
THE PREMIER'S SPEECH.
Sir John Macdonald's reply was characterized by light, jaunty anecdotal manner in which he has no equal in Parliament. He was seriously grave at first though when he spoke of the loss sustained by the House in the absence of Mr. Blake whom he described as a well informed, able and earnest statesman. The occasion for these expressions of appreciation does not often arise, and it was pleasing to see the sincerity with which the Premier spoke of his absent political foe. He disposed of the Ministry of Trade complaint by saying that Mr. Bowell discharged the duties so efficiently that there was as yet no necessity for a new Minister. The Solicitor General might safely be left to the Minister of Justice. How gentlemen opposite were crying blue ruin, but it was strange that the deluded victims kept on returning the Government to power. They seemingly prefer ruin at our hands than prosperity at their. The Government was in power for the same reason that the man was in the lunatic asylum—because the people willed it. This was a free country and the people had a right to ruin themselves if they wished. All this was said with a jaunty air and in the same vein the leader of the House went on to say that if Manitoba was served by the water stretches proposed once by the Liberals, it would take 667 years to take out one crop of 400,000 tons of grain. In answer to the Premier's allude to the alleged wheat blockade or to the disallowance question. He closed by referring to a Bourbon—one who remembered nothing and forgot nothing. Strange for such a well read man. Sir John misquoted Tallmadge's famous epigram describing the Bourbons—"They learn nothing and forget nothing." This allusion was intended to give Mr. Laurier with calling up old scores and introducing a new question.

THE ADDRESS ADOPTED.
Sir Richard Cartwright by way of rejoinder called Sir John on his slim means. Sir John, however, and the Premier placed his hand on his breast and bowed his acknowledgement. Sir Richard alluded to the leader's attendance at private services by saying, he had heard that Sir John was a changed man, and he hoped he would give proof of his repentance by repeating some of his bad statistics. In proof that Canada was not prosperous he ventured to say that three of our immigrants out of every four crossed into the States. He denounced the disallowance policy as "a waste of money and a waste of brains" and declared no other country in the world would stand it. The galleries now became attentive in expectation of a series of oratorical thunderbolts, but it was almost six o'clock and Sir Richard concluded by stating his opinion that the Fishery Treaty was hopelessly unfavorable to Canada. Hon. Peter Mitchell quietly made two or three remarks and then the address was adopted without a division.
VICE-REGAL DRAWING ROOM.
Saturday evening the Governor General and Lady Lansdowne held a Drawing Room in the red carpeted chamber of the St. Charles Hotel, where all the lights and people with the best society of the Dominion for all quarters were represented. Ordinary mortals were there too, but who looks at panes when roses are in bloom. The Governor General, the Cabinet Ministers, Lieutenant Governor Daykin and the staff officers all wore their rich and gorgeous uniforms while the brilliant toilettes of the ladies, mingled with the broadcloth suits of their escorts, formed a picture to be seen nowhere else in Canada. The press gallery was well represented and all its members, Miss Broadbent and Miss Duncan, (Garth Grafton) looked as pretty as any.

Description of What is Likely to be the Most Extensive University in the World—$50,000,000 Devoted to the Furtherance of the Scheme.
Special correspondence of The Signal.
PALO ALTO, California, 7th Feby, 1888.
Visitors to California, should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the great University now being built at this place. Taking the cars at San Francisco for Menlo Park, a distance of thirty-three miles, we find ourselves just three miles from our objective point. Being a fine morning and an excellent road we prefer to walk and well repaid we were, for to me, at any rate, a genuine look at California rural life was a treat. Everybody was busy, either ploughing or seeding—the rains for several weeks, having just terminated put everything of an agricultural and horticultural nature in a ferment. We arrived on the grounds in about an hour and commenced our walks and enquiries. Senator Leland Stanford conceived the idea of richly endowing and, if possible, consisting during his lifetime, one of the most gigantic and comprehensive educational establishments in the world. Leaving his own son and only child, he determined to appropriate a portion of his large wealth towards the education of the children of others and richly nobly has he set about it.
THIS PHILANTHROPIST'S UNDERTAKING.
Up to the present time the enormous sum of twenty millions of dollars have been devoted to the furtherance of his plans. In the deed of trust everything that human foresight and judgment could suggest has been done to secure without fail the accomplishment of this generous hearted man's views. The course of instruction, which will include that of both sexes, will be of the most liberal and general nature. All the learned professions, civil and mining engineering, the fine arts, and all branches of agricultural and mechanical pursuits will receive attention. The latter is to be most thoroughly carried out, so that boys with ideas for such occupations will be encouraged and taught to make either a watch or a steam engine, build a house or shoe a horse. The necessity of this course can be well understood when statistics abundantly prove that the want of a trade, with its consequent enforced idleness, has been the greatest factor in producing our criminal class, and to meet this evil Mr. Stanford has adopted the most practical method of remedying it, bearing in mind no doubt the forcible lines of Doctor Watts, "That Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do." Although the corner stone was only laid last May, a considerable portion of the building is up.
THE STYLE OF ARCHITECTURE
is the old Mexican, which is more adapted, perhaps, than any other as in correct looking with its massive, massive, massive centre building, or chapel, will be the highest part and beneath its roof will rest the remains of his boy, who died far away from home while travelling in Europe. The superintendent of the works—a Scotch Canadian—was exceedingly kind and at once furnishing me with information as to the progress of the work. At present about a hundred stonemasons are engaged, comprising Scotch, Germans and Canadians; their pay is $4 per day, and they are charged four dollars per week for their board, which I can testify from personal experience is of the most generous kind. There being no public places near by where refreshments could be obtained, my friend and myself were invited to join the men at dinner. They all sat down at two long tables, where an abundance of most excellent roast beef, vegetables, good bread and butter, tiffin, pudding and coffee, all well cooked and well served was to be had. After the meal was over, all hands enjoyed a game of foot-ball for a quarter of an hour, before returning to their duties. Let a good mechanic once get a position here, and he is pretty sure to be comfortably fixed for some time to come.
THE ESTATE
comprises eight miles square, a large portion of which is under crop, while the breeding of horses and cattle forms a large business of itself—five hundred horses, comprising racers, trotters, drivers and draught, are now on the premises, ranging in value from one hundred dollars up to twenty-five thousand. Your townsman, A. M. Polley, would just be in his glory going through the large, perfectly kept and extensive stables. In these days of schism and apostasy it is good to know on what basis this great college will be conducted as far as its secular conditions are concerned, perhaps a paragraph defining the duties of the trustees, will give your readers a fair idea. "To prohibit sectarian instructions, but to have taught in the University the immortality of the soul, the existence of an Allwise and Benevolent Creator, and that obedience to His laws is the highest duty of man." After a journey by rail and water of about a hundred miles and a walk of seven, I reached my home in Berkeley, Calif., but well pleased with my day's holiday Beautiful bright days here now, with the thermometer at about 62° in the

EDITOR'S TABLE.
A Well-known About New Publications that have come to hand.
"THE NATIONAL SIN OF LITERARY PLAGIARISM." An earnest and vigorous exposition, in a cheap, handy form, of the moral aspects of the international copyright question, is something that has been much needed. Such a paper has now been published by Charles Scribner's Sons of New York, in the well-known price which makes it a volume of thousands throughout the country. The title of the pamphlet is "The National Sin of Literary Plagiarism" and the author is the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke. Dr. Van Dyke considers the subject under three phases—(1) The Plagiarism of the National Sin of Literary Plagiarism, (2) Its Punishment, and (3) Its Cure. His paper will well worth reading, and ought to touch the public conscience and have its effect upon public opinion. The publishers will send any one a copy upon receipt of 5 cents.
"HARRIS' FOR MAN." Under the title of "A New Epoch in Vagabondage," Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, in Harper's Magazine in March, tells the story of a tramp of revolutionary times, in a fascinating manner. It is the career of one Henry Taft, a despised, and a precious name, was in addition to his other iniquities, he wrote a book, and it is from the voluminous memoirs that Colonel Higginson, in review, has collated the significant incidents grouped under the name of "Vagabondage as Taft could not be called our tramps are altogether more interesting rogues; their memoirs would be commonplace; but Taft, with Colonel Higginson's help, allows us glimpses of revolutionary times from a new point of view, and gives us fresh ideas of material which made up a part of Livingston's army. They were incorrigible patriots, of course, from one point of view; but they had their seamy side. It is only trouble with this article is the too short.
A TOPICAL CYCLOPEDIA.—A Cyclopaedia which presents concise and readable biographical sketches together with choice and characteristic selections from the writings of eminent authors of all ages and all nations, surely ought to be in great popular demand if its cost were not prohibitory. Such a work is Alden's Cyclopaedia of Universal Literature, Volume VI. of which contains 470 pages, large, beautifully printed and bound, and includes within it the names of eighty-two eminent authors, among which are: Dana, Dante, Darwin, DeQuetteville, Jefferson, Davis, Sir Humphrey Davy, DeFoe (of Robinson Crusoe fame), Demosthenes, DeQuincy, Descartes, Dickens, Diarasi, Doddridge, and Douglas. It would seem hardly possible to plan any literary work more eminently readable and interesting, if the compiling and editing were well done.—And the nearly universal verdict seems to be that this is very well indeed. And the price is only $1.00. The Literary Revolution could have accomplished such a wonder—50 cents volume for these beautiful cloth-bound books, or 60 cents for half Morocco binding! The publisher offers a sample volume to any one with privilege of return if not satisfactory. Anyone interested in high class literature ought to send for Mr. Alden's large Catalogue of Standard Books, which is free to any applicant. Address JOHN B. ALDEN, publisher, 393 Pearl-st., New York, or 216 Clark st., Chicago.
THE CANADIAN METHODIST MAGAZINE for March, 1888. Price $2 a year; $1 for six months; 20 cents per number. Toronto: Wm. Briggs. This number opens with a charming illustrated article by Marie E. Bancroft, "Above the Cloud-line." It describes one of the most picturesque regions of the Engadine in Switzerland. The second article describes and copiously illustrates the unfamiliar scenery and cities of Cuba, including Havana and the old cathedral in which lie the remains of Christopher Columbus. The illustrated articles on "Picturesque Ireland," which have attracted much attention are continued—the engraving illustrating Castel, Kilkenny, Barnry Castle, the Wild West Coast, etc. The Rev. Hugh Johnston, B.D., begins a series of articles on the "Life of Dr. Punshan," which will awaken much interest. He criticizes frankly the Portraiture given by Mr. Macdonald of the distinguished orator. The heroic career of Lord Lawrence in India is described with much vigor by the Rev. Alex. Langford, himself a son of a British officer, and therefore in hearty sympathy with his subject. The editor contributes a review of Recent Canadian Poetry, in disproof of those who say that we have no native literature. An appropriate tribute is paid to the memory of the late Dr. Wood, of whom a portrait is given. A pathetic Negro dialect story, "Uncle Mingo," and a chapter of special interest of "The Last Silver of Britain," complete a capital number. Back numbers from January can be supplied.
Dr. Hutchinson intends removing from Brussels to practice his profession in Montreal, after a residence there of five or six years. He proposes leaving in the course of a few weeks.

THE RAILWAY QUESTION.
Nearly a year ago, a charter was opened for a railway between Goderich and Winham, and a provisional board of directors was appointed. The obtaining of a charter involved an expenditure of funds to the extent of some $20,000 from the day of the getting of the charter to the present, no meeting of the provisional board of directors has been held, and nothing has been done by a body to keep faith with the corporation that created it. The members have taken no action to entitle them to a permanent board, no stock book has been opened, and so far as practical matters are concerned, the directors act as well as have been chosen from the bits of Maitland Cemetery.
The charter, as obtained, will lapse, if no action be not taken, within two years, and almost half of the time has passed by without any of the provisions of the charter being carried out. The fact that the appointment involved more than the paying of his name in the resolution is not to be taken at once the expended in obtaining the charter prove to be another dead loss laid upon the town by the incompetency of 1887, and another retrograde will have been taken by our town. Now, municipalities are alive nowhere on the railway question, and all to see why Goderich should lag behind. In Kincardine, Southamport Elgin, Inverhuron, Duncannon Albert—yes, all along the line, and on half a dozen proposed lines—able men are bestirring themselves working with might and main in the best of their respective localities. In which until the present there has been the silence of Death.
Well, no—not quite that, for the members of the citizen's railway committee have been looking into the matter, and meeting held Monday evening last determined to take some action in the direction of the dereliction of the provisional board of directors appointed by the town last year. The question will be up for discussion this (Friday) evening, and we hope that there will be a clearing up of the dead branches of the provisional directors.
Effort will also be made to have an election set apart by the town towards paying for necessary delegations or agents in pushing necessary railway legislation. Failure on the part of the council respect will entail the entire loss amount already expended in obtaining the charter, as we have before pointed out.

LATE NEWS FROM OTTAWA.
This year the tariff will not be revised or amended in any particular. If this proves to be a fact, it will show one of two things—either that the Tory Government now considers the tariff perfect, or else they despair of improving the outrageous act by further tinkering.
We have the sugar combine, the woolen combine, the stove combine, the millers' combine, and a hundred other combines that tax to the utmost the consumers of this land under the beneficent auspices of the Tory Government at Ottawa. A sure cure for these ills would be an electors' combine against the Tory Government at the next election.
In another column we give particulars of the alleged conversion and change of heart of Sir John Macdonald. We hope the report is true, in the interest of the country, and that the convert will lose no opportunity of undoing the wrongs that he perpetrated while he was "of the world, worldly." The repeal of the gerrymander and franchise act will go a long way to proving that he is not merely a professor but a possessor. The Good Book tells us "Faith without works is dead."
For years past, Hon. Edward Blake, although acknowledged to be the most eminent member of the Canadian bar, has been scouted by the Tories as a statesman of no parts. It is satisfactory, however, to know that in his absence from the House this session, through illhealth, justice, although tardy, has been done to him by Sir John Macdonald, who, in opening his remarks on the debate on the address, paid a glowing tribute to the ability and integrity of the great ex-Liberal leader.
If Mr W. H. C. Kerr, of Toronto, who appears to be anxious to get some information on the exodus question, will take a week's trip to the county of Huron, we will drive him around and show him evidence where some hundreds of families are annually leaving this county for the United States. We will also show him many towns and villages as well as townships where the population has not increased since 1878, but has actually decreased. And Huron is one of the most, if not the most, progressive county in Ontario. Mr Kerr thinks because Ontario is growing that the Province is relatively improving, but Mr Kerr ought to know that Toronto is not Ontario. Another feature of the exodus is that the departures are not all from the "disloyal Grits," as Mr Kerr would be pleased to call them.

HELEN LAFONE: OR THE FOES OF A HOUSEHOLD. A TALE OF ENGLISH LIFE.

CHAPTER XIII.

THINKING THE FIRST BLOW.

They were both reading. Alice turned over the pages of a new novel with a feeling that these stories were the most wearisome things in the world; and Helen was trying to concentrate her attention upon a pamphlet which Percival had handed her to read. But she could not do it; she kept thinking of what she wanted to say to Alice, and wondering what would be the result of their conversation. So she presently laid down her book, saying: "Are you very much interested in that novel, Alice? Because if you are not I should like to talk a little."

"So far, so mine only. Percival, fortunately, has no idea of what is going on." "And in your eyes I am ridiculous," with a little laugh. "You will forgive my saying that the idea has no great terrors for me." "Possibly not, but before long you would be worse than ridiculous, and that would be if Percival saw it."

tion; you know I spend the whole day with Alice—you seldom see her except in the evening—and I confess I can endure it no longer. I gave her broad hints a day or two ago, but she did not take them. You will not mind doing without me for a day or two.—HELEN. She read it over with tolerable satisfaction, thinking: "I do not think that will tell him anything I do not want him to know, and he will never guess what these 'broad hints' were. I think it will do."

once been to London in connection with her legacy from Dr. Hazlitt, and it had occurred to her to allege a second business call as a reason for going away so suddenly. She felt at ease for the first time for many days, and as she leaned back in the railway carriage and looked out upon the beautiful country through which the train was speeding she began to think of the immediate future, and to ask herself why she should go to London. She had certainly given reasons for going to London, but after all, what did it matter? She did not want to go; the country looked so beautiful sleeping in the mild autumn sunshine that she felt it was beyond her strength to voluntarily exile herself in London. It would make no difference to Percival where she went, and she could easily send him her address from one place or another. She took her Bradshaw from her bag and began to study the railway map, to find some place to which she could get without much difficulty from the next junction, Dewhurst.

or by a coronated nobility, but by an aggregation of traders, farmers, factory hands, hired laborers and Irish peasants who, to say the least, are neither in intelligence nor in the antiquity of their accession to power at all superior to ourselves. On the seat of the Blantagnies now sits the common son of toil, and so all the sentimental income which Canadian fancy can offer him it is to be feared that he would in his heart prefer "a pot of the smallest ale." One may surely have the most intense affection for Old England, and the strongest desire to preserve the moral in which binds us to her, without desisting from our loyal duty to sacrifice the interest of the masses on this side of the water to the interests of the masses on the other side.

Until your hair becomes dry, thin, and gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little, daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world." "My hair was faded and dry," writes Mabel C. Hardy, of Delaware, Ill.; "but after using a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it became black and glossy."

Prescription Drug Store. Scribners Magazine. PROSPECTUS FOR 1888. Beautiful Christmas Number

The holiday issue, now ready, is complete in itself, containing no serial matter. The cover is enriched by a number of plates printed in gold. The price is as usual, 25 cents. It contains the most delightful stories, poems, and essays by distinguished writers, and superb illustrations.

Among the important articles to appear during the year 1888 are the following—Send for prospectus:

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON will contribute regularly to each number during the year. He will write of many topics, and his stories will be in a familiar and personal way, which will form new bonds of friendship between the author and his thousands of readers. In the first paper, entitled "A Chapter on Dreams," appearing in the January number, he relates, incidentally, in connection with the general subject, some interesting facts concerning the origin of the new fungus story. "Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

RAYMOND ADAMS, of Philadelphia, will be the first of an especially important and interesting series of papers on railways, their administration and construction, including great engineering feats, famous tunnels and bridges, and indeed, those branches of the subject which in this day engage the attention of the whole country. The illustrations which will accompany these papers will be very elaborate, original and beautiful. The authors and the names of the future articles will be announced later.

DR. D. A. SARGENT's paper on Physical Preparation and Physical Training will be continued by several of increasing interest, which have already appeared.

ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES of special interest will be given on the Lampyris of Waterloo, by John C. Ropes; on "The Man at Arms," by E. H. Blaisdell; two papers by Edward L. Whitney, illustrating results in recent Egyptian research; a further article by William F. Apthorp, on a subject connected with his recent contribution on Wagner, and many others of great interest. Professor Slater's articles on the Surface of the Earth will be continued; and articles upon two of the most interesting groups of contemporary European writers will be accompanied by rich and novel portrait illustrations.

ELECTRICITY in its various applications as a motive power, Explosives, etc., will be the subject of another group of illustrated articles of equal practical interest by leading authorities upon these topics.

REBECCA'S LETTERS written to his friend Moschles, at a peculiarly interesting time of his career, will furnish the substance of several articles of great interest to musical readers, which will be illustrated with portraits and drawings from Moschles's own hand. FICTION will be strong, not only in the work of well-known writers, but in that of new authors, in securing whose co-operation the magazine has been so fortunate during its first year of publication. A serial novel, entitled "First Harvests," by Frederic J. Simpson will be begun in the January number, and early in the year novelettes will be published by Henry James and H. C. Fenner. The short stories are of noticeable strength and freshness.

ILLUSTRATIONS. The Magazine will show its excellence in its illustrations. They will be very abundant and elaborate than ever. It is the intention of the publishers to represent the best work of the leading artists, and to promote and foster the most skilled methods of wood engraving.

Goderich, Feb. 2, 1888.

WHAT'S UP?

Things That Are Happening Around Us.

Something on the Railway Question.—Why some men don't favor the coming of a new line—the man who would be the delegate.

I've been told by the neighbors that the railway fever has reached us, and that in Goderich as well as in Wainfleet, the rustles are rustling, the buzzers are buzzing, and the noise and turmoil and bustle of bonus elections are in the air.

Mr. Luke Ellard, his son William, and five daughters left on Saturday morning for Sioux City, Iowa.

Mr. E. C. Russell and wife, of Waukegan, arrived in town on Saturday on a visit to relatives.

Tory Hays returned from Detroit Tuesday last. He appears to be "growing up" with the country.

The old Soobie salt works at the station, recently purchased by Mr. Joseph Kidd, jr., are now in operation.

Miss McArthur, of Thorold, assisted North-st. choir materially on Sunday last. She possessed a well-trained voice.

Mr. Geo. E. Parsons, well-known Auditor Department, Toronto, was in town last week looking as well looking as well as ever.

Mr. Thomas Roddy, of Meadville, Pa., was present at the funeral of his mother, the late Mrs. Gibbons. He left for home Tuesday last.

Dr. McDonough will be in Goderich for consultation on Saturday, the 3rd of March, and afterwards on the first Saturday of every month.

Miss Graham is on her usual spring trip to Toronto, attending the millinery openings, and getting the latest novelties in hair-dressing, bonnets, etc.

The Y. W. C. T. U. will hold their next regular meeting on March 8th, in the library room of Knox church, commencing at 7.30 o'clock p.m.

We would call the attention of the farming community to the advt. of D. K. Strecher who is the local agent for the Harris Steel Binder in this section.

When the old, sore ich broke away a few days since, it carried out a number of herring nets, some of which could not be found when the field came back again.

COLONIST TRAIN.—A C. P. R. train will leave Wingham for the Northwest on Tuesday, March 13th. For particulars see advt., or enquire of R. Radcliffe, local agent, Goderich.

Knox church Band of Hope will meet on Saturday at 3 o'clock p.m. At the close of the meeting arrangements will be made for the coming entertainment. All the members are requested to be present.

Dr. M. Nicholson, the West street dentist, makes the preservation of the natural teeth a specialty. Gas administered from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the painful extraction of teeth.

To HORSEMEN.—C. Quintal, the Montreal horse-buyer, will be at the Colborne hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday next, March 6th and 7th, and will purchase sound horses of all classes.

Mr. R. Stanley Hays returned from Chicago last Saturday to be present at the funeral of the late Mrs. Gibbons. It is said that he will not return to the States, but will open an office in this country.

THE SCOTT ACT IN HALTOS.—As we go to press we learn that, as far as heard from there is a majority of 64 for the repeal, with a few places yet to hear from which, it is believed, will increase the figure to 120.

The partnership heretofore existing between Fraser, Porter & Kay has been dissolved, Mr. Kay retiring. Fraser & Porter intend to shove off their present large stock of stationery, &c., at prices to suit purchasers. Goods no object, but money everything.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anstey, who have been the guests of Mr. E. Downing during the past few months, left for England Thursday last. They are going via Stratford, Bowmanville, Chatham, N. B., and Halifax. The best wishes of their many friends in this section go with them.

SALVATIONIST FAREWELL.—There was a largely attended meeting at the Salvation Army barracks on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the farewell services connected with the departure of Captain Russell and Lieut. Harritt. During the stay of these young ladies in town they have earned the good will of all with whom they came in contact, and we bespeak for them a cordial reception in their future stations.

TOWN TOPICS.

A child's drawing, re fabric notes, by Mrs. J. A. Reid.

Card-wanted in exchange for farm-lots.—D. Godwin.

A Good Present.—The most useful gift you can make is to give a gift from the heart.

The fast meeting on the square is attracting considerable attention notwithstanding the blizzard, but there is no institution in town can get along the gentlemen's wear turned out by F. & A. Prichard.

Today closes my second year as grocer, with the best possible security for their money, all being invested in mortgages on farm property.

THE HURON AND BRUCE LOAN AND INVESTMENT COMPANY.—Depositors in this company have the best possible security for their money, all being invested in mortgages on farm property.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anstey, who have been the guests of Mr. E. Downing during the past few months, left for England Thursday last.

SALVATIONIST FAREWELL.—There was a largely attended meeting at the Salvation Army barracks on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the farewell services connected with the departure of Captain Russell and Lieut. Harritt.

There was considerable changing of pulpits last Sunday. Rev. Dr. Urs occupied Victoria-st. church, and Rev. G. F. Selton, conducted the service at North-st. in the morning, while Rev. I. B. Wallis went to Leeburn in the afternoon.

NEW POSTAL REGULATIONS.—On and after the 1st of May, under the postal convention recently concluded between Canada and the United States, all parcels, except closed ones, will be sent to the United States on payment of the rates now in force in Canada, those from United States for Canada on payment of rates in force there.

CELEBRATION.—On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Gibbons, wife of the worthy sheriff of Huron, was attacked by an apopleptic stroke, to which she succumbed on Thursday of the same week.

MUNICIPAL EYE-ELECTION.—Wednesday last a nomination meeting was held in St. George's ward to fill the vacancy in the council caused by the resignation of Mr. Butler.

A TOKEN OF APPRECIATION.—The following letter from Mr. Albert E. Guest, member of the choir of St. Paul's, Toronto, dated Feb. 25th, 1888, was addressed to our townsman, Mr. W. J. Downing.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Goderich Branch Bible Society was held in North-st. Methodist church on the evening of Friday, Feb. 24.

FAREWELL SUPPER.—Friday evening last the members of Goderich Gun Club honored Mr. William Ellard, one of their old members, with a farewell supper, prior to his departure for Sioux city, Iowa.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—On Thursday of last week the members of North-st. Methodist choir with a few of their friends, met at the residence of R. W. McKennie, to tender a farewell to Mr. W. and the Misses Ellard who were about to leave Goderich for Sioux City.

RESPECTED FRIENDS.—On this, the eve of your removal from our midst to another country, where you will witness as well as take part in other scenes, the members of North-st. Methodist choir, Goderich, feel that we should be reminded in our duty if we allowed you to depart without an expression of our esteem for you.

Who SUGGESTED THE PITMAN JOURNAL.—The Compendium Shorthander says—in the Phonetic Journal, Mr. Thomas Allen Read, in a sketch of the Phonetic Journal, gives the credit for the idea of the journal to the gentleman who suggested it in his Reporter's Magazine in January, 1886.

Noticed the personal sacrifice made by you in order to advance the interests and happiness of our circle, and that without fee or expectation of earthly reward. It seldom falls to the lot of a choir to lose at any one time so many members, of the same family, and thus to be so severely shorn of its strength, but we hope that the loss we shall so joyfully feel will result in increased prosperity and happiness for you.

It seldom falls to the lot of a choir to lose at any one time so many members, of the same family, and thus to be so severely shorn of its strength, but we hope that the loss we shall so joyfully feel will result in increased prosperity and happiness for you.

THE HURON AND BRUCE LOAN AND INVESTMENT COMPANY.—Depositors in this company have the best possible security for their money, all being invested in mortgages on farm property.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anstey, who have been the guests of Mr. E. Downing during the past few months, left for England Thursday last.

SALVATIONIST FAREWELL.—There was a largely attended meeting at the Salvation Army barracks on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the farewell services connected with the departure of Captain Russell and Lieut. Harritt.

During the stay of these young ladies in town they have earned the good will of all with whom they came in contact, and we bespeak for them a cordial reception in their future stations.

There was considerable changing of pulpits last Sunday. Rev. Dr. Urs occupied Victoria-st. church, and Rev. G. F. Selton, conducted the service at North-st. in the morning, while Rev. I. B. Wallis went to Leeburn in the afternoon.

NEW POSTAL REGULATIONS.—On and after the 1st of May, under the postal convention recently concluded between Canada and the United States, all parcels, except closed ones, will be sent to the United States on payment of the rates now in force in Canada, those from United States for Canada on payment of rates in force there.

CELEBRATION.—On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Gibbons, wife of the worthy sheriff of Huron, was attacked by an apopleptic stroke, to which she succumbed on Thursday of the same week.

MUNICIPAL EYE-ELECTION.—Wednesday last a nomination meeting was held in St. George's ward to fill the vacancy in the council caused by the resignation of Mr. Butler.

EPSS'S COCOA.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. EPSS has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills.

It is the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.

for 1888. Hamilton, Ont.

The HARRIS STEEL BINDER.

Having had about fifteen years' experience in repairing mowers and reapers, there are a few important items that I have discovered in regard to the Harris Steel Binder, which to my mind proves its superiority over all others.

1. Repairs can be furnished on shorter notice than by any other company.

2. Orders left with me at 8 a.m. can be filled by 3 p.m. from the manufactory.

3. The machine, though light, is compactly built, almost exclusively of steel, and is therefore better able to stand work and weather than any of the others.

4. I am not a travelling man, and can always be found at my shop, attending to business.

5. Farmers wanting the best machine, the most easily handled, the most durable, the most easily repaired, are invited to leave their orders at my shop. I have the largest stock of repairs for various machines of any agent in the section.

EVERY MAN IN BUSINESS SHOULD GET HIS OFFICE STATIONERY PRINTED.

EVERY PER GUARANTEED.

Writes Thin and Thick Letters, as with a dipping nib.

It is the most reliable Fountain Pen in the world. This may be compared to a good instrument to make, but it is a far superior pen.

No paper spoiled by blotting. No time wasted dipping into an ink bottle.

Always ready for use. Always a source of pleasure to the owner.

Writing at all angles, in all directions, in all climates, in all seasons, in all countries, in all places.

This large number of these Pens which have been sold in Goderich and vicinity, some of which have been in constant use for years, testify to their durability and economy.

Each Pen is enclosed in a neat case, and is accompanied by full directions for filling, cleaning and using, also a glass and rubber bulb injector for filling the Pen.

Price, $3.00 and upwards.

Temperance and Hygiene.

From the Educational Journal. The correspondence with the Minister of Education, which appears on page 223 of this issue, settles authoritatively the place of the above subjects in the public school program. The decision given is, of course, the only one sound and logical. The Legislature, having resolved, after full consideration, that the best interest of the people demand that adequate instruction in regard to the nature and effects of alcoholic stimulants should be given in the public schools, and the Department having authorized a textbook on the subject, the duty of trustees and teachers becomes plain. The subject must be dealt with as any other subject on the program; and similar tests applied to ascertain the efficiency of the teaching. If the teacher is competent, he prefers to teach without the use of a text book, he is at liberty in regard to this, as all other subjects, to do so. If not, he must use the book authorized by the Department. The end, in either case, is that the subject must be taught to all the children in the public schools, and that the teaching must be comprehensive and thorough within the prescribed limits.

We are glad to believe, however, that whatever difficulties may be, in some cases, caused by school boards, the great majority of teachers need no compulsion to undertake this good and necessary work. They recognize the obligations of a higher law than even an act of the Legislature or a regulation of the Education Department. Whatever room there may be for difference of opinion on minor points, or questions of degree, there can be none in regard to the main facts; they are patent to all observation. No one can lift up his eyes and look around him in any community without finding confirmation abundant, and strong as Holy Writ, of the poisonous effects of alcoholic drinks. On every hand he will see the evidence in the shriveled, haggard features, the lack-lustre eyes, the pallid face, the staggering gait, the absence of nerve and will power, the loss of energy and ambition, and the pitiful eagerness to degrade appetites and passions, which mark the pathway of the destroyer through modern society. What more truthful lessons can the teacher who is anxious to do his whole duty, set before his pupils; what better service render to the state; what nobler work do for God and humanity; than to impress deeply upon the young minds under his training, the plain, demonstrable facts with reference to the baneful effects of alcohol upon body and brain, and so open personal manhood and national character?

A STORY ABOUT STEEPLES.

The Wily Methodist Lying Low While Others Fight the Battle.

While we were camped on the edge of a little Nebraska town a man came over and began to praise the place, mentioning among other improvements a new steeple that was going up on a church near at hand. "Isn't that steeple just a little high for the size of the church?" suggested Peter. "There, break it the first week! I told 'em that the way it would go! Now, I'll tell you, he went on confidentially, "bout that steeple. It's a 'Piscopal church; they put it up 'bout a year ago with just an ordinary steeple stickin' upon it. Then when the Baptists but up an' build a church over here an' 'r up a steeple on their 10 feet higher! This nat'ally galled the 'Piscopal some, an' this spring up they socked their steeple 15 feet higher! It ran along till July, an' all the time the Baptists was gittin' hotter 'n hotter, an' one day jes' after the Fourth what should they do but put some carpenters to work on their steeple and shove her up 'nother ten feet! Then they went round town steppin' high, an' the 'Piscopal began to sweat again. It ran along till day before yesterday, when they seen the Baptists an' are goin' 'em 10 better! An', do you know, I'll be swaked if I don't believe the Baptists'll raise 'em 'for winter! Oh, we're game in this town ev'ry time!" "Et—well, which one do you belong to?" Brian inquired. "Neither I'm a Methodist that's your church over there on the hill." "Well, you're getting left entirely, aren't you—no steeple?" "S—h! That's all right—we know our play! We go on we don't b'lieve in steeples, an' we round blowin' 'bout our big bell an' the scollered shingles on the side of the buildin'." "But next June you'll see these Baptists' an' 'Piscopal's steeples blow over, an' then jes' what us Meth'dists shak to the front an' 'r a long slim steeple up into the air, so high that they'll be too sick to ever build again! Us Meth'dists may be laggin' a little jes' at present, but you wait till the proper time comes, an' we'll make some o' these light-weight demominations think the brick-ought house has fell on 'em!"

Method of Removing Grease.

A novel method of removing grease from cloth, woolen or silk goods, and especially applicable to goods of a delicate texture where the color is easily injured, is the use of potato water. Grate the potatoes to a pulp and add water to the amount of a pint to a pound. Let it stand, and when clear pour off all but the potato sediment at the bottom. This is your cleaning mixture, to be applied with a clean linen rag, and followed by the use of a small amount of spirits of wine. I tried it on a very delicate shade of blue silk, removing every trace of grease without injuring the color in the least.

A Car Carrying Capacity.

It has been computed that the carrying capacity of a freight car of ten tons is: Wheat, 340 bushels; apples, 370 bushels; oats 680 bushels; lumber, 6,000 feet; butter, 20,000 pounds; flour, 90 barrels; whiskey, 90 barrels; wood, 6 cords; cattle, 18 to 20 head; hogs, 50 to 60 head, and sheep, 80 to 100 head.

A Parrot Content.

My parrot is one hundred years old said Erastus Judd, of Chicago. "I have had him for thirty years, and my father had him for about forty years. 'Old Putnam,' as we call him, used to belong to my grandfather, Seth Judd, who lived at Shelburne Falls, Mass. The old gentleman got him from a sailor in Boston. I have family letters dated 1790 in which 'Old Putnam' is referred to as a 'pretty bird which hath been taught to say after one much of our New England primer and certain of Dr Watts hymns for the young.' I do not see that the parrot is not as young as ever. He is very docile and talks as cleverly as a child of six. His plumage is still bright, but his sight has failed him somewhat. The way to tell the age of a parrot is to count the rings on his claws. A new ring (or wrinkle) comes every tenth year. 'Old Putnam' has nine of these rings and a starter for the tenth."

Not a Book Agent

Mr Goode, druggist, is not a book agent, but has the agency in Goderich for Johnston's Tonic Bitters, which he can heartily recommend for any complaint to which a tonic medicine is applicable. This valuable medicine has been with most astonishing good results in cases of general debility, weakness, irregularities peculiar to females, extreme paleness, impoverishment of the blood, stomach and liver troubles, loss of appetite, and for that general worn-out feeling that nearly every one is troubled with at some part of the year. Don't forget the name—Johnston's Tonic Bitters 50c. and 1/2 per bottle at Goode's drug store, Albion block, Goderich, sole agent.

Commercial Maxims.

Energy in action is a requisite to even moderate success in business. Some men seem to do business without any opinion of their own. They are the subjects of circumstances and the prey of other and more decisive men. Perseverance is necessary to success in almost any undertaking in life. A business is not built up in a year, and often not in three or four years. A man of many controls many circumstances otherwise unpropitious, and opens up opportunities for himself by which he advances to honor and wealth. The prompt recognition of persons who have before traded with him, and the prompt recollection of their names, are of great importance to the merchant.

Be on Your Guard.

Don't allow a note in the hand to slowly and surely run into Cataract, when you can be cured for 25c. by using Dr. Chase's Cataract Cure. A few applications cure incipient cataract; 2 to 4 boxes cure ordinary cataract; 2 to 4 boxes guaranteed to cure chronic cataract. Try it. Only 25c and sure cure. Sold by all druggists.

Kaiser Wilhelm's Receipt.

It appears that Kaiser Wilhelm is a severely frugal old monarch as to the use of ornaments and personal luxuries in dress. His waist has before never to bring a certain far coat until the thermometer falls five degrees below zero. This year, when the garment in question was brought out, the Kaiser remarked that it wanted refining. "Your Majesty, it is really necessary that you should have a new one altogether," meekly suggested the valet, "the coat is worn out." "Oh, no; it will do well enough with another lining," maintained the Emperor. "I have made inquiry, and I have not had it yet so long as a soldier's overcoat should last."—London Modern Society.

Mercantile.

The Golden Plover has a tendency to scamp off, especially during hot weather. To obviate this we must be careful in watering not to neglect foliage, especially the heart of the plant. There are over 1,300 named varieties of chrysanthemums in the United States, besides many new seedlings waiting to be named. The chrysanthemum is a native of China and Japan, from which countries new varieties are being introduced. There are flowers on exhibition which measure seven inches in diameter, rivaling the sunflower in size; others, smaller than the English daisy which they most resemble.

Sore Feet.

When the feet are swollen from walking or long standing, the soreness may be relieved by soaking them in the following: Take some wood ashes and oven-wash water; let it stand for two or three hours; strain off the water and place the feet in it. The soreness will disappear almost immediately.

THE KEY TO HEALTH.

BLKDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Unlocks the clogged channels of the Bowels, Kidneys and Liver, carrying off gradually without weakening the system, all the impurities and foul humors of the system, and the same time Correcting Acidity of the Stomach, curing Bilemness, Dyspepsia, Headaches, Migraines, Heartburns, Constipation, Dryness of the Skin, Dropsy, Diarrhoea, Rheumatism, Jaundice, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scrofula, Swelling of the Heart, Nervousness, and General Debility; all these and many other similar Complaints yield to the happy influence of BLKDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.
