Another Great Advantage

women find in using Crisco for frying purposes, is that it does not smoke, and it leaves no odor of cooking fats around the house. Crisco is used with remarkable results in pastry and cake making. For flaky and digestible pastry, for wholesome digestible fried foods, for delicious cakes which stay fresh longer, there is nothing like Crisco. If your grocery store does not keep Crisco, phone Gerald S. Doyle, Distributor, who will tell you the nearest place to get it. Crisco is sold in one pound cans, and is cheaper than butter for you use one fifth less. mar28,3t

LADY LAURAS' RELEASE —OR—
THE STORY OF A SPOILED BEAUTY.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

"If Angela dies!" He found himself repeating those words a hundred times each day, and mentally determining what he would do in that case. If ever the property became his, he had made up his mind as to many things. One was that he would purchase a steam yacht in which to cruise with the love of his life—Glady; another, that he would form for himself a fine stud of racers. He would be the envy of all the men, as he was now the admiration of all the women.

If Angela died, if the fragile, unhappy wife followed, there would be a career, a future before him; and Glady—dark, beautiful Glady, with the passionate eyes—she would form part of that future, too.

Then for a few days the captain would shake off the thoughts. Angela was young, healthy, and likely to live as long or even longer than himself. But suppose she met with a fatal accident? She might be drowned, she might fall from some great height, she might by some misadventure take poison—a hundred unforeseen things might happen. There was no end to the list of accidents that might befall any one.

The next time he looked at her there was a new expression on his face. He was wondering if it were probable that any of these accidents might happen to her; and his look was so vexed, so strange, that Angela grew nervous under it.

"You make me feel quite uncomfortable by looking at me in that fixed fashion, Captain Wynyard," she said at last.

"Do I, Angela? Still you should not, deny me the pleasure."

"But what are you thinking of when you look at me in that way?" she asked.

"Many very pleasant things," he replied, turning away.

With feignish cruelty the captain wondered what would be the effect on her mother if Angela met with a violent death.

In all human probability, he told himself, she would die too. The only gleam of comfort and hope she had came from her daughter; deprived of that, it was not likely that she would live long.

With such thoughts gradually strengthening their hold upon the captain, the autumn passed, and then winter followed with its snow and ice.

RED PIMPLES ON FACE 3 YEARS

Itched and Burned. Lost Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My face was afflicted with pimples for about three years. They were hard and red, and fostered and scaled over. The pimples itched and burned causing me to scratch and irritate them, and I lost many a night's sleep on account of the irritation."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample which helped me so I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Soap with the Ointment, I was healed." (Signed) Miss Martha Thomsch, R. 2, Box 45, Winning, Minn.

Give Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum the care of your skin.

pression became cruel. His friends noticed how changed the captain looked, and wondered what had happened to him. All that had happened was that he had brooded in silence over a cruel thought until it seemed to have become part of his nature, till it so far influenced his whole nature that it had changed the very expression of his face.

As the days passed, as they grew darker and colder, so his demeanor seemed to change with him. He grew grave, stern, and cold, the bantering words, the light jests, the brilliant smiles, the cheerful, genial manner, all vanished. The master of Rood Abbey went about with a gloomy face, absorbed in thought, for the shadow of a great crime was over him.

The winter was a severe one; the cold was intense, and all the lakes and ponds round Rood Abbey were frozen, the river that ran on to Hetfield being in some parts covered with ice. The prevailing pastime therefore was skating. The captain never tired of forming skating parties, and every day brought a goodly number of friends to enjoy the sport offered by the smooth ice of the Abbey ornamental lakes.

One morning, when Captain Wynyard came down to breakfast, he found his newspaper untouched on the table. He unfolded it, and almost the first thing he saw was a paragraph headed, "Fatal Accident at Newton Mere." It related how a young lady, out skating with some friends at Newton Mere, had met with a sad end. She had been told which part of the mere was safe, and where it would be dangerous for her to go. She had evidently mistaken the directions, for she went to that part of the mere where the alder trees bent over the ice against which she had been especially warned. Either she had mistaken the locality or the directions, for she tried to cross the mere, and so to get to the alder trees. The thin ice at once gave way, and before the young lady could be rescued, she was dead.

Some impulse made the captain fold up the paper and take it to his study, lest any one else should read the account, and it should become a subject of comment. He read it over and over again with ever-increasing interest. This was an accident, a pure accident, which no one could help or avoid; and the sufferer was a young girl. If an accident like that could happen to one girl, why not to another? Who could say anything if it did? With skating there was always a certain amount of risk and danger; even the cleverest and most skillful skaters came to grief at times. Then, when he had read and re-read until he knew the whole paragraph by heart, he destroyed the newspaper, lest any part of the story should be seen.

The visitors at the Abbey wondered on that day what had become of the captain. Instead of going out in the morning, as usual, to skate, he remained in his study. When he appeared at luncheon, his face was dark and grave; and in the afternoon, instead of joining the company, he disappeared again.

The next morning the captain seemed more like himself. It was not often that he addressed Angela vivaciously, but he did so during breakfast.

"You like skating, Angela?" he said, interrogatively.

"Yes; it is my favorite amusement in winter. I enjoy it even more than dancing. I like the sensation of seeming to fly through the frosty air."

"There will not be many of us this afternoon," he said; "the Delageoyes cannot come. We shall hardly number enough to have a quadrille on the ice."

"I do not care for quadrilles," she said. "I like a long, straight sheet of ice and a swift run."

"Then you shall go to Hetfield Pool," he decided. "There is a straight run of quite half a mile, and it is completely frozen."

"Is it safe?" asked Lady Laura, lovingly regarding the sweet face of her daughter.

"Safer than our lakes and ponds are, and of greater extent," he replied. "The ice is quite thick. We will go there to-day."

But, when the time for starting came, there were but four in the party: the captain and Miss Rooden, with young Squire Arden and Lady Bell Norton, who were staying at the house.

"We are going to Hetfield Pool to-day," said the captain. "We will drive there, then we shall have more time on the ice."

There was a strange restlessness about the captain, although he endeavored to assume his usual light-hearted jovial manner. Arrived at the pool, he helped Lady Bell to put on her skates, and would have done the same for Angela, but she declined his assistance.

Then Lady Bell started, the young squire following her closely.

There was a curious gleam in the captain's eyes, a livid line round his lips, when he said:

"Angela, if you want a long stretch of good ice, go toward the bend of the pool near the willows there. It is quite safe."

CHAPTER XXXV.

The afternoon sun shone bright and clear on the frozen surface of Hetfield Pool. It added beauty to the tall trees with bare, frosted branches, to the frozen fields and hills, to the glittering sheet of ice, which was thick and well able to bear being skated upon, except near the bend of the pool, where the willows grew. There the ice was so thin that it would hardly have borne the weight of a child. The sun shone also on the fair, flying figure of Lady Bell, whose costumes of black and crimson velvet trimmed with rich fur contrasted vividly with the whiteness around her, on the young squire who was in quick pursuit of her, and on the lovely face and figure of Angela, whose face just then was bright with expectation; it shone, too, upon the livid face of the man who stood near her. When ready to start, Angela turned with a smile to the captain.

"Which way am I to go?" she asked.

At first he hardly heard the words, for a thousand voices filled his ears, all with the same cry which had haunted him so long—"It Angela died!"

"Which way did you say, captain?" repeated the clear, sweet voice of the girl.

His own was hoarse and unnatural when he answered:

"HAD A NARROW ESCAPE"

"I never realized until a few months ago how risky it is to neglect a cold in the chest. I have always had such good health, that a cold either in the head or chest while unpleasant, never gave me any worry. Outside an occasional cold, I had never known what it was to be laid up even for a day in all my life, until last December. One afternoon I got a chill and no matter how close I got to the stove, I couldn't seem to get warm. This chill was followed by a cold in my chest. As usual I neglected it and it kept getting worse and worse. Finally I had to go to bed and send for the doctor. His examination showed that I had pneumonia and a bad case of that. By careful nursing on the part of my husband, my children and some friends, I managed to pull through, but the doctor told me I had a narrow shave. And here's where my troubles began. While I was now out of danger, I was anything but well. I was still very weak from the effects of the pneumonia. Although I had lots of life and energy before my sickness, I was now worn out and tired all the time. I slept fairly well, more because I was exhausted. But my sleep didn't refresh me because, while I appeared to be asleep, I was conscious most of the time of what went on around me. Although all kinds of tempting dishes were prepared for me, I had no relish for food. This sickness had already undermined my health to such an extent that I was a living skeleton. I was getting discouraged as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I wonder if Carnel wouldn't build you up; a friend said one day, 'I did me a world of good. I was completely run down and you can see for yourself how well I look today. Why don't you try it?' Thanks to this friend's advice I am in perfect health again, as healthy and as full of life and vitality as I have ever been."

Carnel is sold by your druggist, and if you cannot conveniently say after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 9-522

THE FAILURE.

James Dingbat failed in many things, he seemed to have no luck; as a try to a tree-trunk clinea, disaster to him. He opened up three kinds stores, and always, soon or late, the sheriff came and closed the doors, and put his seals on straight. And people said, "This Dingbat might be lazy, tired and slow; he isn't constituted right, or he could make things go. We've known him since he was a boy, and we have always said he never would succeed, he'd never get ahead. He has no purpose high or true, he's not with zeal replete; his head is full of liquid glue, he reasons with his feet." James Dingbat failed a dozen times, and then he bought a lyre, and soon his fame through many climes, spread like a house afire. The odes he sold, by pecks and pecks, made all the world grow pale, and money orders, drafts and checks, came in by every mail. With fortune's smiles on him bestowed, he was a happy man, and to the country club he rode in his large blue sedan. And people said, "This Dingbat scout has now lived down the past; ah, well, we never had a doubt that he would win at last. In him we always recognized a man of noble worth, and so we're not at all surprised that he astounds the earth."

"The Curse of the Reids Hangs Like a Blight Over the Land."

What Squires's Paper Said on October 27th, 1919—Now Squires is Planning to Give the Same Reids Millions For the Railway.

The fact that for years the Reid Newfoundland Company refused to recognize union labor on their premises is known to every workman in this city. Likewise, is the fact known that when the workers at the Reid premises struck in the spring of 1918, the Reids tried to kill the N.L.W.A. and break the spirit of the men who were on strike for better conditions and a better living wage. The Reids are known to have ever been the foe of organized labor. The delegates of the L.S.P.U. some few years ago were threatened with arrest if they were caught within the dock gate. Treatment of train hands, section men and others who are compelled to suffer all kinds of abuse and harsh usages at the hands of the Reid Corporation is a matter of common property. Men are known to have fallen asleep at their post through exhaustion in the Reid Railway line. Employees of the Reid Corporation are worked as no other employees are worked in the Colony. Men engaged on the Reid railway line are charged the very highest prices for food supplies and the newspapers of the past few years have teemed with bitter denunciations of the Reid bosses and their treatment of those under them. In the present political contest the Reid Newfoundland Company are very active. In other elections they were active as well. They sent their paid servants into the districts to work for their candidates. They are doing the same thing to-day. In former years employees of the Reid office staff were busy on polling days rounding up the votes on the dock and giving them to understand that if they did not vote as Reid wished they were fired without further notice.

REIDS ARE INTERESTED.
To-day Reids paid servants are in the districts in the interest of friendly candidates. The recent disclosures in connection with the Reid confederation plot have focused public attention on the Reids and their political activities as heretofore unknown. People are beginning to take notice and ask themselves "why are Reids anxious for the return of the Government?" The people have got their answer in Mr. Reid's own handwriting. The friends of the Reids are in the Government, and therefore in the interest of the Reid Newfoundland Company. Is it possible that Reid can select a leader, or elect a Government, that the wage earners of this country can have confidence in? If Reid is their industrial enemy shall they accept him as their political friend? Having done all in his power to beat down wages do the people foolishly think that he is now engaged in the herculean task of raising them? Shall the lamb put confidence in the wolf and the fly accept the unctuous invitation of the spider to walk into his parlor?

SEE THE CLOVEN HOOF.
The common sense of the Newfoundland voter will rather judge the future by the past. They see the cloven hoof beneath the angelic robe of this industrial tyrant. For this, if for no other purpose, the manhood of Newfoundland will refuse to be enticed to their ruin by Reid's siren songs. The curse of the Reids hangs like a blight over the land. Their influence is all-powerful and is felt in the Executive Councils of the Government. Sir Wm. Reid himself is on record as saying that he financed three general elections. For what do you think? To secure an honest Government? Nay, nay, simply to perpetuate the Reid's private aims. With the warning of the past, and the evidence of the present before the country, is it possible for Reid to elect his agents to power? Money will be spent like water. The services of vandals may be sought after, and secured, but it is consoling to know that the utterances of these papers have as much effect on the general public as has the baying of a mongrel on the phases of the moon. The manhood of Newfoundland will bury the Reids beneath an avalanche of adverse ballots. They will rebuke at the polls the presumption of this policy prayer. The Reids will be defeated because the policy for which they stand, is a policy of and for the interests of the Reid Newfoundland Company, and not for the people of Newfoundland. The Reids will be defeated because this should be a Government of the people, for the people and by the people, instead of a Government for any by way of Reid influence.

There will be a Special Meeting of the T.A. Ladies' Auxiliary on Tuesday evening, 27th inst., after Prayers. A large attendance is requested. N. HICKEY, Secretary.—mar26,21

Resumption of Conference at Constantinople—Sarah Bernhardt Passes Away—France Puts Profiteers on Trial.

UNANIMITY REACHED.
LONDON, March 26.
Complete unanimity has been reached among the Allied delegates to the preliminary conference here on Near Eastern affairs regarding the nature of the reply the Allies will make to the Turkish counter proposals to the Lausanne Treaty draft.

CONFERENCE TO BE RENEWED.
PARIS, March 26.
The Conference which aimed at bringing about peace with Turkey will be resumed at Constantinople on about April 12th, according to best information available in diplomatic quarters here. Lord Curzon will not take part in the renewal. Great Britain will be represented by Lieut. General Sir Charles Harrington, Commander of the Allied forces at Constantinople, and by Sir Horace Humble, British High Commissioner; and France by General Pello, French High Commissioner. Rear Admiral Mark Bristol will act as observer for the United States. A message received in Paris from Ismet Pasha, Turkish Foreign Minister, says the Turks hope definite peace will be made at Constantinople, but they will not consent to a peace of commercial concessions, made at Turkey's expense for the benefit of foreign business interests.

U.S. NAVY PLANS HALTED.
WASHINGTON, March 26.
Owing to the attitude of the British Government that any alteration in the armaments of battleships at the present time would constitute a violation of the spirit of the Washington treaty, the United States Navy's modernization plans have been halted.

SARAH IS DEAD.
Paris, March 26.
Sarah Bernhardt died peacefully in the arms of her son Maurice, one minute before eight to-night. In life she had amazing power of emotion, of marvellous realism and pathos in her death scenes. At the end of her days she quietly drifted away into eternity, tired after her long fight against death which she did not wish but never feared. Death was due to a renewed attack of uraemic poisoning which began Friday, but the actress astonished her physicians by her repeated rallies and her will to live just as she did last December when hope several times was abandoned.

Twillingate Determined on Clean Government.

Twillingate is resolved that the Squires-Coaker policy that has driven hundreds of young men from our shores must now cease, and we call upon electors of this and every district to end the misrule and send to political oblivion the wreckers of our island home and elect men of brains and ability to save us from utter destruction. To this end the old Liberal Committee of Twillingate that did such good work in the days of Sir R. Bond is now aligned on the side of Mr. J. R. Bennett, and on that of our former Secretary, Mr. S. Loveridge now Chairman of this energetic Committee. The Advocate need not worry any longer regarding the attitude of our Chairman, who strongly supported the Squires-Coaker policy at the last election, but whose ability and energy is now making itself felt supporting the party of Mr. Bennett and United Fishermen's Movement.

Twillingate town will speak with no uncertain sound on polling day against the actions of the deceivers in calling for the Assembly to meet in January and their proroguing it till February and there to hide their misdoings of the past year from public scrutiny on the floors of the Assembly have now suddenly sprung a spring election that will cost the colony thousands of dollars more than it would in the fall. This committee denounces their actions in refusing to hear the petitions of the United Fishermen's Movement and certainly no sensible elector will be gulled by their catch cries, such as "If you don't elect the Squires-Coaker Party there will be no Humber." It is now well known that the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Bennett has strongly stated his position, that if his party is returned he welcomes the Humber, and similar industries,

NEW YORK, March 26.
At least three persons were burned to death in a fire which swept a Theatrical Boarding House on West 57th Street this morning, and many were injured.

LATEST NAUTICAL INVENTION.
LONDON, March 26.
The latest nautical invention now in use on the New Castle pilot boat is a machine throwing a beam of light to the sea bottom allowing the depth of water to be gauged without sounding. The light is worked through a hole in the lower part of the ship with an observation window nearby, and by the use of a tube with mirrors is operated from the bridge of the ship.

The Advocate and Contemptible Politics.

THE SCUM COMING TO THE SURFACE.
The Advocate of yesterday in screaming headlines announces "Cashin is the Leader." A glaring attempt to sway the good judgement of the electorate and blind the people to the issues at stake.

Because of a challenge by Sir Michael Cashin to Sir R. A. Squires to meet him in the district he contests, and which Sir R. A. has not the courage to accept, the Advocate cries "You are the Leader." Bosh! Rubbish!! WHY DID NOT THE ADVOCATE MAKE THIS STATEMENT WHEN MR. WALSH ISSUED A LIKE CHALLENGE A FEW DAYS AGO.
We give the lie to the Advocate and accuse them of a deliberate attempt through channels base and corrupt, to belie true facts and coerce better judgement.

BENNETT ALONE LEADS THE OPPOSITION and it is to HIM men of standing and intelligence throughout the country are pledging support.

Standing above criticism himself it becomes almost a compliment that such tactics now becoming rampant are the only means whereby the Government press might vitiate.
Such vile efforts are but a blind to the fallacy and inefficiency of the Squires Government in the past, and which have brought forth only wilder promises for the future which as before are made but to be broken.
SQUIRES CAN'T BE TRUSTED. BENNETT & BETTER TIMES.

Hoodwinking the Electorate.

SQUIRES AVOIDING THE MAIN ISSUES.

Since the beginning of the Electoral Campaign, both Squires and Coaker and their respective organs, the "Mail" and the "Advocate" have studiously avoided any attempt to justify the past, and refrained from explaining to the electorate the sad condition of affairs within the country since this dual administration took office.

Have they forgotten that this is their appearance before the Bar of Public Opinion and it is now they must justify the existence granted them.

The Squires Manifesto was a pledge of faith to the people of Newfoundland and it now stands as a "Betrayal" in the grossest sense of the word. Not one promise has been carried out. Read and listen to the Squires of to-day.

Nothing of the base betrayal of the past, nothing to substantiate the laudatory squandrels of the public monies. Nothing to justify the expenditures of new departments created for political expediency. Nothing to qualify the excessive taxation imposed whereas a solemn promise of reduction was declared, nothing as to why the Reids have received such generous financial assistance from an overburdened Treasury, instead of being forced to live up to their obligations as promised by Squires to the people. We could go on in this manner indefinitely, and the reply would ever be nothing, nothing.

The Government of to-day comes before the country as one on trial, and it is not a case of What will you do but What have you done. With brazen indifference we are asked to forget the sins of the past, and to accept in all blindness a Humber Deal, of which we but know the name as a remedy for our distress and a recuperation in the future. A Deal organized in secret, guaranteed in secret, expenditure a secret, benefits a secret, in fact everything in strict secrecy. Our paternal Squires asks the people, which hand will you have. A denouement failure in the past offers us a painted picture for the future.

We have before us the Squires Government, an undisputed failure and breaker of public faith, who come not as they came before with glowing promises but now a one plank platform, the Humber Deal, which but emphasizes the enormity of the failures of the past when we contemplate the possibility of his ability to bring to a successful issue this project meaning so much to our country. In this time of stress we point to Bennett as a man of sterling integrity and sincerity of purpose. He has pledged his support to the Humber Deal, promising therein to safeguard the best interests of the country, and not as Squires who is quite capable of destroying our heritage. The Bennett Party the personnel of which contain some of the most successful and influential men in the country to-day, can alone bring a deal of such enormity to a beneficial conclusion.

Greenspond Tired of Coaker.

BONAVISTA DISTRICT WANTS A CHANGE.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir—Allow me space in your valuable paper to reply to a writer in the Advocate who signs himself "Watch Dog." A short time ago, referring to the political standing in Greenspond, he said there were fully 75% of the voters for the Union. In viewing the situation, he must have put the political glass to the wrong eye. At the present time there are some 400 voters in Greenspond. I challenge "Watch Dog" or his dictator to find 100 of these in favor of the Union. Fully 300 voters here are for the Opposition Party led by John R. Bennett.

"Watch Dog" in another article to the Advocate, made reference to the United Fishermen's Delegate John R. White. It would be a credit to "Watch Dog" or any of his clique if they had any such good men for the country's business as Mr. John White. If rumor is right, Mr. Editor, "Watch Dog" is just a tool in the hands of our Mayor. I tell you, Sir, Greenspond is fed up on this one-man rule. The people here are indignant over the manner in which the public affairs are handled. Frankly, Greenspond voters are glad that the time has come to put the great Chief, Coaker, and his colleagues into political oblivion. I have no hesitation in stating that from Greenspond to Cape Freels the electors are practically solid for Bennett and his party. I only wish, Sir, that Mr. A. E. Hickman, Sir J. C. Crosbie or Mr. Walter Monroe will stand for this district. I saw by the public news yesterday, that the sealers' meeting at St. John's was broken up by the men cheering for Coaker and Squires. I also saw a message posted here from Captain Tesse Winsor, which read as follows: "Public message yesterday tissue of falsehood. Sealers' meeting best ever held here."

Now, Sir, is it not time for a change in our public news compilation? Why are such abominable lies given the people? To-day's public message says, "Mr. Coaker telegraphed a message to the sealers say-

Slates Capt. Bonia.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir—The public scene of honor has long since been blotted by the extravagance and illegal squandering of public monies by the Squires Executive, but the crowning act of all in the purchase of Capt. Thomas Bonia. This individual has long since been drawing a snug salary from the Government chest for doing nothing but look wise. He has now outraged all public decency and every voter should demand from the Bennett Candidates that Thomas Bonia shall not be taken back into the Civil Service after the election in May. We know enough about Placentia, that he will stand no show there. Let him therefore go out with Squires, Coaker, etc., after polling day into oblivion, where better men than he to-day have to break rocks in order to keep the wolf of hunger from the door. Thomas Bonia has long been a barnacle on the good old ship of state. In simple language this means he has been drawing from the public treasury a large salary and has given little practical service in return. He has terminated this state of affairs by his own actions and saved the incoming Bennett Government the necessity of dismissing a superfluous official.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, yours truly, ONE WHO VOTED FOR COAKER. Greenspond, March 8, 1923.

The Menace of Coakerism.

FISHERMEN NO LONGER STAND FOR IT.

ARTICLE XVII. The Union hack writer is feeling the lash of our exposure of his doings and was out in his rabid rag last evening heaping abuse of the vilest kind on all who dared to show him up in his true colors. We do not blame him for all the lies and scurrility in his sloppy sheet. It is the people who are doing a good deal of the dirty work, but bye-and-bye when Coaker is down and out they will try to crawl into holes and hope that the people will not remember their connection with Coaker's dirty work and the abuse and evil talk in his villainous sheet. We will see that this does not happen. We have their names and will show them up in the right time. Our course is an open and above board one, and we defy Coaker or any of his clique to drive us from the position we hold in the minds of the fishermen of the country. Abuse and scurrility will not do it. We will stand up to our guns, and show up the hollowness and insincerity of Coaker's doings. He is doing the fishermen more harm than good. They are every day realizing it and leaving the Union ranks in hundreds. They see that there is nothing behind Coaker but bluff and guf and that he is trying to fool them for his own ends.

A man of Coaker's record is not the kind that is likely to do any lasting good. He is not a fisherman. Never was one, and everything that he put his hand to became a failure. He made a complete failure of the seal fishery by his foolish rules and regulations. We are strongly in favor of union amongst the fishermen and also in the making of reforms in the seal fishery. Water always finds its own level. Coaker will find his level bye-and-bye we have not the least doubt. Now we say, with all the sincerity of our hearts, that we believe that Coaker was going to do any good for the fishermen of this country we would back him up with our best efforts tomorrow. But we do not see any good coming because politics is the big end of the movement on Coaker's part. The fishermen do not wish to be made use of by Coaker to help him in his political schemes. They do not want to be brought into the market and sold like serfs of old. People who had great hopes of the Union in the outset all over the country are getting cold on it every day. We do not wonder. They have seen in money from the outports freely, but now they are fearing they are only throwing it into a well with no bottom in it. In fact they are getting sick and tired of putting their hands in their pockets to help on schemes where they see no good likely to come to themselves.

Premier Squires in Saturday's Mail makes a lot of nice sounding promises about the Humber, but he has not yet said a word concerning the terms of the Agreement. Why? Is it because he fears to tell the public what the Humber Development Project will cost? Squires promises are like pie-crusts. He has never set fulfilled one, and it is not likely that the people will trust him again. Mr. Bennett also promises to put the Humber Deal through, but he makes no high-sounding promises. He and his party will see that the Humber Agreement will be one that will benefit the country and not be a perpetual millstone around the necks of the taxpayers, as Squires would have it. Bennett believes in the Humber, and will not allow outsiders derive the benefits which must accrue to Newfoundlanders.

Bought—But can He Trust Them?

Premier Squires, to judge from the ravings of his precious organ, must still be bugling himself with joy because he managed to add Bonia and Hearn to those of his followers who are shortly to be led to the slaughter, sacrifices to their leader's ambitions. Possibly, however, he realizes just now little trust can be placed in men who will sever the friendships of a lifetime for the sake of a few paltry dollars. Having changed their allegiance, it is not unlikely that Hearn, Bonia and Hearn may do so again. We wish Premier Squires, or with all the candidates he can obtain by purchase, He deserves them.

Use SUNLIGHT SOAP and Save Your Money!

Sunlight Soap is so pure that it will not injure even a baby's tender skin. You cannot get better Soap than Sunlight, even though you pay twice its price. Sunlight Soap being all pure Soap, is really cheaper than inferior, adulterated soaps.

Here are the Proofs:

When you buy a bar of Sunlight Soap for 15 cents you get 12 ounces of pure Soap, whereas when you buy an 8 ounce bar of adulterated soap for ten cents, you get only 6 ounces of soap and 2 ounces of adulterant, therefore the adulterated soap costs you 20 cents for 12 ounces of soap.

If you take a twelve ounce bar of Sunlight Soap and cut it into 2 pieces, one piece weighing 8 ounces and the other piece weighing 4 ounces. The 8 ounce piece of Sunlight cost you 10 cents, and the 4 ounce piece cost you 5 cents, and each piece is pure Sunlight Soap.

Where can you buy 8 ounces of pure soap for less than 10 cents? Where can you buy 4 ounces of pure soap for less than 5 cents?

Use Sunlight Soap for washing your clothes because it is the purest soap and because it will not injure your clothing. Use Sunlight Soap for scrubbing your floors, because being all pure soap it is really the cheapest soap you can buy.

Sunlight Soap is made and guaranteed by Lever Bros., Ltd., soap makers by appointment to His Majesty King George V. Lever's Guarantee reads as follows: 1,000 Pounds (or $5,000.00) will be paid to anyone proving Sunlight Soap to contain any injurious chemicals or adulterants.

Soap which costs less than SUNLIGHT is worth less!

Obituary.

MYLES O'BRIEN. It is with feelings of deep regret that we have to chronicle the sad and untimely death of Myles O'Brien, Bay Bulls, who was drowned from the Elizabeth Howard off Sable Island on the 8th inst. in the 29th year of his age. The sad news came as a painful shock to his relatives and friends. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Brien, are heart broken, as their loss is irreparable, but the Faith which assures them of a meeting hereafter will help to lighten their sorrow and enable them to bear up under their heavy cross. No doubt death did not surprise him. His good life was but a preparation as it was his intention to enter a Novitiate with the Christian Brothers in the very near future; but one who knows best had already marked him for his own. Amiable and kind, and of a modest and unassuming disposition he will be missed by many friends, especially by his fond parents and brother, to whom the writer extends sincere sympathy.—B. M. Bay Bulls, March 22nd, 1923.

Prohibition Made Football

Prohibition to-day is football for the lawless. It kick around at the pleasure, and all direct to that puerile knowledge (save the mark) R. Squires, K.C. Whether objectionable (and it is objectionable) when there was no alternative until such time as CRIMINAL men and not drunkards would give us a substitute for class legislation, no if you are friendly to the conglomeration of irresponsible country, prohibition is a great for you, because you want one or one hundred or once an hour, you get a cheap paper bag of the used in an emergency.

The Mistake That millions have corrected

As most folks know, brushing teeth in old ways proved most disappointing. Teeth still discolored, still decayed. Beautiful teeth were seen less often than today. Tooth troubles came to 49 in 50.

Millions of people, nearly all the world over, have found a better method. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show one of the results.

All due to film

Most cloudy teeth and most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Film is that viscous, coat you see between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, despite all brushing, very few escaped those film-caused troubles.

Two new methods
Then dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved those methods efficient. Then leading dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

New beauty comes

Other new ideas
Modern research also discovered two other essentials, and Pepsodent fulfills them.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus Pepsodent, twice daily, gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

Many Surprises in "My Lady's Latchkey."

SEEN AT THE NICKEL LAST NIGHT

"My Lady's Latchkey" the thrilling Katherine MacDonald photoplay seen at the Nickel Theatre, is a picture that is quite out of the ordinary. It contains thrills, pathos and humor with a beautiful love romance closely entwined. Katherine MacDonald portrays a beautiful woman who is caged from the world by a cranky old aunt, but through a happy stroke of luck leaps suddenly out into society and is faced with many surprises. The story here comes to a wonderful climax which does not lose its interest until the final moment.

Dan Mason, the funny man of the screen, delighted in his latest Toonerville story, entitled "His Boosom Friend." Dan was right there with his Trolley and hard boiled bunch of associates. The current chapter of "The Hope Diamond Mystery," featuring Grace Darmond was also shown. To-night is the last opportunity to see this big feature programme.

BILLY'S UNCLE

There's a Reason for it.
Since the announcements were made that Messrs. Ayre, Long, Moore, O'neill, Monroe and Hunt would be Opposition candidates in the coming election, the Mail and the Advocate have violently abused these gentlemen in their fifty columns. If as the Government organs would like the people to believe, these candidates were going to certain defeat, they would not be subjected to the attacks which are being constantly made against them. But the reason is obvious. Squires and Coaker are afraid of them. They realize that the only reason citizens of such sterling character can have for entering politics is the desire to be a service to their country. Knowing that the splendid characters and proven patriotism of these new candidates will cause them to head the polls in their respective districts with large majorities, it is no wonder that Squires fears them and his press abuses them.

Did He Have Sleeping Sickness?
After three and a half years as a member of the Executive Government, Mr. W. F. Coaker suddenly woke to the fact that he could serve his country better as a private member of the house. It took him all these long years to realize that as an Executive Minister, he was wasted, since he should have been outside the door of the Council Chamber, waiting with a pair of whitewash, to purify the Cabinet. But the Advocate asks too much when it asks the public to swallow Coaker's tale, that as an Executive Councillor, he was forbidden by party honor and oath to criticize the actions of his colleagues. For what other reason was he put in the Executive? But then, Coaker always did have strange ideas of his own.

Squires as a Prohibitionist.

INSULTING TREATMENT OF SUPPORTERS.

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir—Like Hunt, who admittedly was actually driven into politics in an effort to rid this downtrodden country once and forever of the hand of political dabblers who now control it, so do I, with no desire whatever for political activity and without the proverbial dull axe, now intend to bend every energy and use every legitimate means by tongue and pen to bound from office those adventurers who have made a mockery and a by-word of responsible Government in this once fair land. There are SO MANY reasons to offer why Squires and his followers should be hurled into political oblivion, and his henchmen and job hunters with him, that it would require a book instead of a letter to recite the principal ones, but in this issue I intend to stress just one point only, and that is the hypocritical manner in which our Prime Minister has seen fit to bamboozle the prohibitionists of this city, especially those good churchpeople who fought the fight for a wholesome, healthy community, and as well, his own co-religionists, many of whom are personally known to me, who have been openly flouted by his arrogant attitude on the prohibition question and his administration. I have always contended, and so contend still, that a man's religious views should not enter into his political views, but if ever an occasion arose where a man should respect and appreciate the wishes of a large number of his co-religionists, particularly WHEN HE DEFINITELY PROMISED THEM SUCH RESPECT AND CONSIDERATION, it is on the Prohibition question.

PROHIBITION MADE A POLITICAL FOOTBALL.

Prohibition to-day is a joke and a football for the lawless inclined to kick around at their own sweet pleasure, and all directly chargeable to that pusillit knight of the realm, (save the mark) Richard Anderson Squires, K.C. Whether acceptable or objectionable (and to me it was objectionable) when it became law there was no alternative but to obey it until such times as we could elect REAL men and not nincompoops, who would give us a substitute for that base class legislation that now exists. If you are friendly to the present conglomeration of irresponsibles who occupy the cabinet positions of a once proud country, prohibition does not exist for you, because whether you wait one or one hundred, three or three and a half years, you get a strip even through a paper bag from the ashbin used in an emergency. Why the discrimination? Why does Dr. Campbell and a few other medical men write scrips by the mile, when others who have no desire to be gowned bartenders are restricted to thirty or forty per month, even though a human life be in balance, as IT FREQUENTLY HAS BEEN during the past four years, but for the malignancy of certain doctors not afraid of the head of the Mines Department. Ye gods, it is to weep! If ever the clarion cry of the war should again go forth—if ever there was justification for its renewal—if ever, it had a more significant meaning—it is now, now, NOW. God, give us MEN. Here is this P.E. Islander unable to pass the acid test at the last elections—thrown out by the people of the West End—told by the ballot box that he wasn't wanted, and yet foisted on us by trickery and contempt and presented with a soft profitable job, two or three salaries, unlimited opportunities, and to-day, men of the West End, TO-DAY, many of you must break rocks to give him his office perquisites, while you may starve for all it worries him.

LABOR WILL BE BAREHANDED.

Is that good enough? Is that good enough for you men of the West End? Is that good enough for the well-meaning clean-fighting men and women who worked and fought and talked and spent yourselves in a cause dear to your hearts and principles? Now, after indifference and treachery funds and smooth, oily promises, they DARE seek re-election at your hands. One of them, who couldn't get elected even BEFORE this treatment, another who for four years has treated you with sublime indifference, once his object was attained, while the third, a political kite-flier who tried to run with the hare and still hunt with the hounds, who talked and fought for the very party, the very men, the very principles that he now rejects, who, while still negotiating for his seat ridicules Squires and his party and then calmly decides that his effusive greetings and bland "how do you do's" can put it all over the West End. I miss my guess if that is good enough for West end voters. I sadly lose out if they think that LABOR will turn down Linsgar, a man of the people—a worker all his life for workmen and their uplift. No wonder the cry goes forth. No wonder the West is awake. No wonder that young voters are rallying to the banner of freedom. A great power is yours, men of the West End. You have it in your own hands, to accept destruction of your home and city, or once again a renewal of prosperous times. Use the ballot box fearlessly. Judge the candidates and the parties on merit and MERT only, and not on personalities. Personality counts for NOTHING when your very existence is at stake. Yours truly,
March 26th, 1923. SEMPARATUS.

The Victory Trio for St. John's East.

Monster Meeting Acclaim Popular Candidates--General Expression of Opposition to Coakerism.

MR. J. R. BENNETT, Leader of the Liberal-Labor-Progressive Party.

St. John's East demonstrated its attitude clearly at a monster gathering in the C.C.C. Hall, Mechanics Building, last night. The meeting, called at 8.30 for the purpose of announcing the candidates of the Bennett-Coaker Reform Party. The only question was the one of majority for the Bennett trio. The answer last night is that the Squires ticket will be buried under an avalanche of ballots. They have not a ghost of a chance of election, and may as well not contest the district at all.

When the meeting opened Mr. J. Higgins presented Mr. Jas. S. Gould, the popular manager of Baird's Retail Stores, and asked that he be accepted as Chairman of the East End Committee in place of the Veteran, Mr. Arthur Hiscock, whose health prevented his active participation in the contest. Mr. Gould was cheered to the echo. The nomination of Mr. Lynch, on motion of Messrs. J. Lacey and Levi Keen, Mr. W. E. Brophy, the popular East End grocer, was appointed Secretary.

LEADER ANNOUNCES CANDIDATES.

Mr. Bennett, in opening, referred to a period just 3 1/2 years ago, when in the same hall at a meeting presided over by Mr. Arthur Hiscock, Sir Michael Cashin presented the three winning candidates for the district. He regretted that owing to ill health, his medical advisers could not permit Mr. Hiscock to assume the active duties he then performed. He had no doubt, but the new Chairman would, in every way, measure up to the standard of his predecessor. Mr. Bennett congratulated Mr. Gould and Mr. Brophy the Secretary on their appointments. The Leader of the Opposition assured the audience that they had any doubt about the issue to watch the West End. They had in that district shown their determination to bury the Squires-Coaker administration and it remained for St. John's East to put the same on Mr. Bennett promised that within a week he would issue his manifesto. This will cover the wrong doings of the present administration and show up their shortcomings. The manifesto would outline a policy that would be moderate and in accordance with the ideals of the people. He stated that new men were going into the fight, these had already made a success in the business life of the community, and they had nobly responded to the call of Newfoundland in her hour of distress. There was no kneeling in the party; none had to be persuaded to join the cause. He had not to go into the highways and byways seeking candidates. The men enrolled under the Liberal-Labor-Progressive Banner would, he felt assured, bring back to Newfoundland the prosperity she enjoyed in 1919.

CANDIDATES PRESENTED.

As leader of the Opposition Party he had the honour to submit for their acceptance the three candidates whose herculean efforts on behalf of the district were well known, and whose work in the House of Assembly had brought honour to themselves and to their District. He had the great privilege of submitting first, Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., as the leader of the ticket. Mr. Higgins, he said, had only recently been termed the "tiger" by his opponents, and he thought the name was applicable as when the votes were counted it would be found that Mr. Higgins' opponents would be in shreds. The next named Mr. Fox, one of the strongest debaters that ever sat in the House of Assembly. Last, but not least, he introduced Mr. N. J. Vincombe, the full back of the trio. "Nix," though modest and retiring, had ably done his part during his term of office, and he felt that when the new Government took control he would play even a larger part. Mr. J. P. Crotty, one of the old guard moved that the meeting accept the Candidates as put forward by Mr. Bennett. The motion was seconded by Mr. Arthur Snow of Quidi Vidi and carried by a standing vote. Thunderous cheering then followed.

MR. HIGGINS SCORES GOVERNMENT.

The Chairman next called upon Mr. Higgins, leader of the ticket, to address the meeting. On rising he was again cheered to the echo. His speech lasted about one hour and during this period he subjected the Squires-Coaker Administration to a terrible castigation for their misrule of the past three and a half years. Mr. Higgins congratulated the new chairman, Mr. Gould, on his appointment and felt sure he would be a worthy successor to Mr. Hiscock who through ill-health, was prevented from occupying his old seat. Mr. Higgins also congratulated Mr. W. E. Brophy, the new secretary. Mr. Brophy had been offered at the suggestion of Mr. J. C. Barter who was prevented from occupying the position this year. Mr. Higgins was glad to see so many old friends and new ones, present. It was good to know that Messrs. Crotty and Snow, who had proposed them three and a half years ago, were present to make the same motion. He trusted that he and his colleagues would justify the confidence placed in them in the years to come as in the past. The old crowd of supporters was going to be reinforced by many gentlemen who voted against the team last election, but who were mainly enough to come forward and oppose them this time. The Liberal-Labor-Progressive Party in St. John's East would receive a right royal baptism and the candidates would be returned with a record majority.

SITUATION OFFERS NO CHOICE.

The party was out to fight clean and it could fight according to Queensbury rules, but it could give a bar-room fight if it was required. There was no need to lose any sleep over the tactics of their opponents if they had any. He appealed for the straight ticket vote. If for any reason a man could not see his way clear to vote for all three then the one who got his vote would not be obliged for it. A straight ticket team they only wanted a straight ticket vote. Mr. Higgins hazarded the opinion that never in the memory of the oldest man in the audience was there such a time as this. It was not a question of wanting a change, not a case of ins and outs, the welfare of the country was at stake and the only thing to do was to put the present Government out. It was proper for any body of electors to do as was done in 1919, and say honestly we will give a new Government a chance. It was just the same as employing a man. If a carpenter was wanted to put in a window and he put in a solid one that could not be seen through, he would not be employed again, the employer could not take a chance. So it was with the country. The electors said "we will try Squires and his programme." The time was now come to ask if the Government had lived up to its professions, had proved that it was capable of governing, if conditions were as good as they should be. If there was any man who thought that the present crowd had done their best and who honestly believed that present conditions could not be avoided, he had no right to do anything but vote for them, it was his duty; but, if conscience tells him that they have not done a man's job, he cannot vote for them. Mr. A. J. Higgins, Fox and Vincombe, had to live here and so had the men they represented, and what was there ahead? Here a man in the audience cried "Rocks!" "Yes," said Mr. Higgins. "Only Rocks, and beyond the rocks is the sea of Despondency, of Despair in which our families and ourselves will drown if the present conditions are allowed to continue." He invited any man to ask himself if conditions were as they should be, and if they were not, had the Government contributed to these conditions? The trouble was they had not tried to stay on the job. A man cannot run a business unless he keeps his eye on it, and so it is with a Government.

GOVERNMENT RUNNING ITSELF.

During the past three and a half years the Minister of Finance, through ill-health, the Prime Minister, the Minister of Justice, all of them, had been away and the Government was literally running itself and it was impossible to find who was Acting Premier. The Government had borrowed in three and a half years about fifteen million dollars, they had spent the revenue and there was nothing for it. Mr. Higgins referred to the failure of the Government to carry out any effective policy in connection with the railway. The man in which the House of Assembly was jugged with in 1921 and 1922 was also dealt with and the failure to open in November because the Prime Minister was coming back with a Humber Deal. The Deal would be looked after properly by Bennett's Government who had the brains and intelligence to do it. No one knows just who is running the railway at present. One thing certain is that the people have to pay the debt. An attempt is now being made to say that the Humber Proposition is the main issue. That is a lie. The British Government has made a contract with Newfoundland, not with Dr. Campbell, and Mr. Higgins advised all present to broadcast this news. The real issue is Coaker. For over an hour Mr. Higgins held the undivided attention of his hearers and in conclusion he thanked them once more for the honor given him and requested again a continuance of the support received last election. He also referred to the great number of men who had proffered their support, and concluded his remarks by reiterating the desire for a straight ticket for HIGGINS, FOX and VINCOMBE.

HUMBER DEAL IN LIMELIGHT.

Mr. C. J. Fox, the next speaker, was accorded a rousing reception. He first very heartily thanked the electors of the district for the honor and privilege bestowed upon him in being asked to be their candidate. The distinction, he said, was one to be proud of because it constituted trust, confidence, and faith and it was St. John's East, with its traditions of loyalty and consistency, the honor was indeed very great. He paid a fitting tribute to Chairman Hiscock and welcomed Mr. Gould, who was respected and esteemed in this community and under whose guidance he had succeeded. He was assured, Mr. Fox, continuing, reiterated his absolute and unswerving loyalty and that of his colleagues, to Mr. Bennett, the Leader of the Opposition. They were working shoulder to shoulder, and they extended the same loyalty to honest J. R. Bennett that was tendered to Sir Michael Cashin in the same hall three and a half years ago. He impressed upon his auditors the necessity of voting the straight ticket, the same principle that the ticket held in 1919. They were all in the same boat. The candidates were all backing Bennett and their doctrine was the straight ticket vote. Turning to the question of the hour, Mr. Fox said that never in her history was Newfoundland facing such a crisis. It was not a question of whether the Opposition got in power or the Government went out. It was the question of the preservation of Newfoundland.

MR. W. J. HIGGINS, K.C., Leader of the Victorious Trio, St. John's East.

GOVERNMENT ON TRIAL.

The Government papers say that Newfoundland has been brought to this condition by foes within. This is true, it is the foes within who have caused this country such sorrow, and these foes are the Government themselves. They are not to be found in the Opposition, who during the four years, have made an honest attempt for the good of their country. The right thinking citizen has to ask himself who are the foes of Newfoundland? The Government is now on its trial. The Opposition is the present attorney. The Government has to win by its own case and must stand or fall by their record. The electors have to decide the issue. They will stand by their record. The Humber Deal is not their record. It is their red herring, which is being trailed to deceive the electors. In November last the Prime Minister and the Minister of Justice sent messages from London, stating that the Humber Deal had been finalized. They told the representatives of the British Government that the Deal would be sanctioned by the Newfoundland Legislature before the end of December.

NOT A POLITICAL ISSUE.

The Humber Deal was not a political issue, it was a private enterprise, in which capitalists in England and in Newfoundland were interested. The people in England who are interested in this deal do not want it to be a political issue, and made a political football. The British interests are so disgusted with the actions of the Prime Minister and Mr. Coaker that their representatives here, in February last, were serious considering packing their trunks and clearing out. The member for Fortune, the Hon. W. R. Warren, was so disgusted with Squires that he wanted to split and lead the Opposition, and for weeks he did not speak to the Prime Minister. The Prime Minister and Mr. Coaker kept the Humber Deal for their trump card to win their way back to power. Why did they not put it through the House of Assembly without loss of time? Why was it not done in November, December, January or February, he asked? It was not done, he said, because the Government wanted to deflect the thoughts of the people from the scandalous record of the past three and a half years. The real issue of to-day they have lost sight of. They are to be judged by the promises of 1919, not one of which has been fulfilled. Mr. Fox asked his audience to review briefly the record of the Government. He began with the stagnation of Trade and Commerce. 1. Coaker ruined the fishery of the country by his Regulations. Coaker worked these regulations in his own interest, and the interest of the company which he controls. It was the dishonest manner in which the regulations were carried out that caused the disaster.

2. The Government had caused stagnation of business by an overburden of taxation. Trade and Commerce was crippled through this cause.

3. There was the scandalous manner in which public funds were dissipated. The government took off taxes and put on taxes, and Mr. Coaker was allowed to rife the Treasury by vote in the North. There was only one way for him to save his face in regard to the price of fish and this he availed of by taking $500,000 from the Treasury and making his now famous purchase.

4. There was a scandalous disregard of the rights of the people. Government was not by the voice of the people, it was by order in Council. Government of the people, by the people was now a joke in Newfoundland.

5. The Government's actions had demoralized the manhood of Newfoundland. Ten thousand of the home and abroad had left the country because the country could not support them. Canada and the United States were eagerly looking for such a splendid type of manhood. When a country can't support its population it is time, said the speaker, to put up the shutters.

A few years ago we were told that the saddest place in Newfoundland was the poor Asylum, but in Mr. Fox's opinion the saddest place to-day was the rockhobbs. Here able-bodied mechanics, journeymen and labourers, the finest men of the country, were driven by their fatherly and Christian Government to break stones or else be faced with starvation. Is that the kind of a record that any Government would be proud of? It was an insult to our manhood, and will be resented by an outraged electorate. In conclusion Mr. Fox referred to the whole sale purchasing with our money of Government candidates, and of his meeting a defeated Squires candidate who contested St. John's East in 1919, who, he said, told Squires that if he wanted to win St. John's East, all he had to do was appoint a Minister of Public Works and buy himself into the straight ticket. Mr. Fox was thankful that this insult would be handed back at them on Polling Day in an uncertain manner.

MR. N. J. VINCOMBE.

Mr. N. J. Vincombe, the "old reliable," as he was termed last night, was cheered to the echo when he addressed the meeting. He thanked them for the confidence they had placed in him, and he was sure that St. John's would do its duty towards itself on Polling Day. In 1919 they were told by the Squiresites that they were with Higgins, Reid's lawyer. To-day, Coaker, Squires and Campbell were Reid's pawns and he was moving them around the chessboard just as he pleased. The tide was running with the Opposition, the people were awake and Mr. Vincombe felt no misgivings as to the result. In conclusion Mr. Vincombe urged all to vote the straight ticket for Higgins, Fox and Vincombe.

MR. HICKMAN DEALS WITH COAKERISM.

The Chairman then called on Mr. A. E. Hickman to speak and he was given a great reception. Mr. Hickman's remarks were brief and to the point. "Now that you see me here," he said, "you know what side I'm on." He had been undecided as to whether he would enter political life this time or not, and all kinds of rumours had been circulated about him. He had finally decided to help among the work of putting the country back to a sound working condition again. The Humber Deal was the camouflage which the Government was using. It was being circulated through the country, private letters had gone to Union Councils that the Humber Deal was going to give work and that all the men in the Union would have the first chance and would get the soft jobs and that those who went afterwards would have to do all the hard work. His policy was to fight Coakerism, which was the ruination of the country, and he would fight it until it was killed. The Fishery Regulations had ruined the West Coast and almost St. John's, and the policy of the Government is Nationalization, which was a short step from Regulations. No merchant is going to give out supplies for which he will be paid in fish unless he knows that he is going to be able to market the fish as he likes. No man is going to give out supplies if he knows that before the fish is marketed there will be Regulations which will ruin him. Prior to, and in 1919, Newfoundland was blooming like a rose. Every man who wanted to work had plenty to do, his family was comfortable and everything was bright. A cankerous growth--Coakerism--crawled into the heart of the rose and to-day Newfoundland is fading. Mr. Hickman proved how the Regulations nearly ruined the country. Prior to the Fishery Regulations British buyers bought any but Newfoundland fish, but the Regulations put the price so high that they could not buy. Halifax, which could never sell there, is now getting nearly all the trade and where we ship one thousand we should be sending five or six thousand quintals, which means a loss to coopers, etc. The same applies to trade with other countries. On this account alone people are compelled to have a change to protect themselves again Coakerism. Concluding his remarks Mr. Hickman hoped that all would support the three Bennett candidates in St. John's East, Higgins, Fox and Vincombe.

SOME FACTS FROM THE WEST COAST.

Mr. James MacDonnell, the member for St. George's, in a short address said that he was a Squires' candidate for that District last election and was elected, and he was going to be elected again, but this time for Bennett. Talking of the Humber and St. George's District, Mr. MacDonnell said that at present he was working over there and 750 belonged east of St. John's, and this is what the Humber was doing for St. George's. Ten days ago, when he was home, there was only 27 tons of coal at Port aux Basques, and flat cars were bringing coal from Lewisporte to coal the Kyle when she reached there. That was some of the railroad management we were hearing so much about. He was eight days getting to the city and now he was unable to get home. Along the South West Coast to-day only the firm of Emanuel Pike, at Channel, was above water. Mr. Pike was Small's chairman at the last election, and he is waiting for him to show up this time when he will tell him a story. The present Government could not run a bill's-eye shop, and they could not be trusted. Mr. MacDonnell said he was glad to see St. John's alive to the situation and was returning six Bennett candidates.

A POPULAR SPEAKER.

Mr. P. E. Outerbridge was next called upon and he was accorded a vociferous reception. He said, "this time it is one for Higgins, Fox and Vincombe--We thank you." Mr. Outerbridge dealt with several items of expenditure by the Government. He said that 500 blind men of Newfoundland applied to Sir B. A. Squires for a little help to furnish a house and the answer they got was that all the blind men could go to H--- as far as he was concerned, and yet the Government could find $500,000 for a normal school to give some old teachers a soft job. Returned soldiers who applied for a slight increase in pensions were told that soldiers were paid to fight and they could find $50,000 for the Road de Luxe, which would only be of use if Kitty Gaul still had her license. An increase was refused the Old Age Pensioners and still money could be found to establish and keep the Mounted Police, which were raised because Squires was afraid of any disturbance which the unemployed might create. Coaker is often called "Croaker" and rightly so because he will "croak." In connection with the High Commissioner's office it was proposed to form a golf club, and it was evidently proposed to send Mr. Warren over as High Commissioner with a salary of $25,000 to play golf. Mr. Outerbridge in conclusion urged the straight ticket vote.

SIR MICHAEL CASHIN UNMASKS SQUIRES.

Chairman Gould next called upon Sir M. P. Cashin to address the gathering. The Leader of the Liberal-Labor ticket in St. John's West was given an ovation and the East joined west in doing honour to the Bennett standard bearer in that district. Sir Michael complimented St. John's East on the interest that was so manifest by the large gathering present. He said his opponents are disturbed over why he is a candidate in St. John's West, but he estimated it a very high honor indeed to be candidate for that historic district. Sir Michael then referred to an action taken against him three and a half years ago for the purpose of making him stay silent. The title they now give him is the "saucy member of the House." Three and a half years ago, Sir Michael said, Squires handed out his manifesto to the people as an inducement for his election. In 1919 Squires said we were growing under the burden of taxation, when it was $36.00 per capita. Then fish was $16.00 and $17.00 per quintal. To-day taxation is $65.00 per capita, and fish is $4.00 and $4.50. In 1919 everyone was happy and contented, now there is nothing but privation and destitution rife in the country. Referring to the Humber Deal Sir Michael said it was a closed book that no one was to see until Squires came back, if that were possible after his record. Sir Michael followed by reading a challenge he had issued to the Prime Minister to meet him in the largest hall in the city to discuss the Humber Agreement, the Prime Minister to place his cards on the table. This challenge appeared on Monday, but the Government papers had not a word to say about it last evening. No intelligent person was going to vote for a deal that he knows nothing about. The people can't be fooled with such towheads.

DECEIVED ADMINISTRATOR.

The details of the Humber Deal was locked in the bosoms of Messrs.

Foots, Halfyard, Shea, Winter, Campbell, and Dr. Barnes, and the people are asked to sign a contract that nobody but these know anything about. The Prime Minister and Attorney General spent six months on the other side, and they deceived the Chief Justice who was then Administrator, as when the Opposition called upon him regarding the proroguing of the House, they were informed that it was absolutely necessary for the Prime Minister and Mr. Warren to remain in England as they were placing the finishing touches to the Humber and the House would open within a month to have the deal put through. The Chief Justice said he had messages to this effect. The House never opened, and he was deceived as well as the country, by the greatest political deceiver and liar that ever sat in the House. He had not hesitation in making the statements. The whole thing, he said, is chaos. They had now the check and impertinence to ask people to elect them to pass the Humber Deal.

TAXATION THE TELL TALE.

The Coaker-Squires bunch had put Newfoundland up against the ropes and they were the greatest bunch of political hypocrites that ever adorned her assembly. $15,000,000 to $18,000,000 had been added to the public debt, the revenue had been collected and not a thing do we see for it. To-day it is dangerous to walk the streets for fear of being arrested and asked to stand as a candidate. The man in Ferryland who was given $25,000 to go to that district and afterwards went to Sir Michael and asked him how to spend it, is even now in the district making out the allocations and acting according to his, Sir Michael's instructions, in that he gave him the name of one reputable man who could spend $10,000 of the money on Marine and Road works. This money is being paid by the taxpayer and is raised on loans at the bank of Montreal. In conclusion Sir Michael stated the answer to the Government to-day is that in 1919 taxation was $36.00 to-day it is $65.00.

LABOR CANDIDATE SPEAKS.

Mr. Wm. F. Llinegar, Liberal Labour candidate for St. John's West in a short address complimented St. John's East on the splendid opening of the campaign and he bespoke for Messrs. Higgins, Fox and Vincombe, large majorities. St. John's was doing its little bit and both St. John's East and West were going to show both Coaker and Squires, that the people resent their mishandling of the country's affairs and the destitution that has been brought upon us.

SIR JOHN CROSBIE.

In response to the persistent request of the meeting, Sir John Crosbie next addressed the audience. He began by congratulating the Chairman and Secretary and wished them success in their conduct of the campaign. Much had been said about the railway, the Humber Deal, Mr. Hickman told the story of the Fish position, he had fought the Regulations for three years. They ruined Water Street, and it was entirely due to mismanagement. Coaker has said to the North, if you don't join the P.P.U., you won't get work on the Humber. Sir John said that the country is in a serious condition and that the Rosalind and Silvia are unable to take away all the young men who are anxious to leave.

MR. COAKER'S BLASPHEMY.

Sir John then read a letter written by Mr. Coaker to a friend, the text of which will be published in an early issue of the Telegram. Mr. Coaker's blasphemy was only equal to the Kaiser's me and Gotz, Sir Richard says that Newfoundland will not have anything to do with Canada yet Coaker says if the Government is returned they will dispose of the Labrador. Coaker evidently has Confederation in his eye and it will make small difference to Sir Richard whether he likes it or not. "Are you going to stand this misrule," said Sir John. "I know St. John's East is not, and St. John's West is going to turn them out." Referring to the Government papers Sir John said they could not repeat their 1919 work. The party was standing behind J. R. Bennett and Squires would know it. The Government was seducing the public service to get candidates and was hauling all the men out and making them stand. Sir John referred to the General Hospital. He said that the Government makes a man pay $1.00 a day for treatment there or he has to go on the paupers' list, and it can pay a man $1800.00 a year to collect the dollar. Now is the time to save the country from going bankrupt. He urged any people of St. John's West who were present to vote the straight ticket for Cashin, Llinegar and Hunt, and keep out Squires and Campbell, and he said the same thing to the East Enders--the straight ticket for Higgins, Fox and Vincombe and when that was done they could say they had done their duty. Hon. Sam Foote went on the Daisy and received his first affirmation of his chances when the ship went ashore. It was a sign of the times as when the election is over the Government ship will be "on the rocks." Sir John concluded his address by promising an interesting story of how he saved the Union for Coaker, to be told at an early meeting in St. John's West.

At the conclusion of Sir J. C. Crosbie's address, the Chairman announced that all were asked to join the active committee, when hundreds signed the roll, and a further meeting will be held to-night for the arrangements as owing to the late hour many were unable to have their names entered. The meeting which ranks as the most successful in the history of St. John's East, closed at midnight with the National Anthem and cheers for Mr. J. R. Bennett, the winning team in St. John's East and West.

Obituary.

NELLIE D. AND PHYLLIS KEAN.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Capt. W. B. and Mrs. Evelyn Kean, in the death of their two dear little children which occurred within the past two months. On January 28th, the soul of little Phyllis, a bright, dear child of four years winged its flight, while on Friday last the eldest daughter, Nellie, passed away. Universal regret is expressed for Capt. Kean, the father, who is away from home battling with the elements at the icefields, and the mother at home who is very seriously ill. In life these children were inseparable, and in death their bodies are not divided. They lie in God's Acre in one grave, their caskets resting in touch of each other, there to await the Resurrection Morn.

Last Night's Junior Hockey.

YELLOWHAMMERS DEFEATED.

Last night at the Prince's Rink from 8.30 to 9.30, one of the finest and fastest games of junior hockey for the season was played between the Yellowhammers and Maple Leafs; when the Yellowhammers for the first time this season went down to defeat, with a score of 4 to 3 in favor of the Maple Leafs. Some clever combination work was handed out by both sides and some spectacular dashes were made. The players were in good form and both teams were well matched. The line-ups were as follows:—

MAPLE LEAFS—J. Jacobs, goal; L. M. Sparkes, R. Nicholl, defence; W. S. Sparkes, J. McKinlay, B. Adee, forwards.

YELLOWHAMMERS—G. Burnell, goal; R. Sellars, T. O'Neill, defence; G. Bailey, D. Kelloway, C. Pearcey, forwards; A. Bailey, spare. Scores were made by, R. Sellars, Y.H., C. Pearcey, Y.H.; W. S. Sparkes, M.L., J. McKinlay, M.L., B. Adee, M.L. Last night's game was a return challenge, both teams having each won a game; the "who shall" game is being anxiously awaited.

Emigration Continues.

HUMBER DEAL CANNOT BE ATTRACTIVE.

Another contingent of eighty men left by S.S. Silvia last night for abroad. The type of young men who have gone out from us come mostly from Conception Bay, and an extra 45 of our best muscle and sinew were unable to get away as there was not sufficient accommodation on the ship. Last week the Rosalind took a full list, and another batch are awaiting to book passage for the next trip.

The Danger of Coakerism.

Fancy the start some self-righteous Unionists—say rather Coakerites—will give if he does perchance see the heading of this article. We say perchance, advisedly knowing that with every Coakerite the Advocate is the "Alpha and Omega" of classical literature (?) Here then we have the first signs of that menacing power that is slowly crippling Newfoundland. The Supreme head of the Union broadcasts his views through the Northern outposts, and he it noted that 1923 election gives signs of a great literary flood (?) than ever in 1919. Already the Advocate is living up to the motto, "Stann Cuique"—his own, heading a copy of the Advocate. Good is it to note, however, that the Union fires of Bonavista Bay are much dimmer than formerly. Of course we must always bear in mind the strange hold which the Union Trading Company has on its members, forcing many who have seen their earlier ideals shattered, to hold on to the Union hoping that at some time they may realize part of their investments. Never was there a greater instance seen of the verification of Pope's couplet, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast," than in the dim hopes of those deluded ones. As an interesting sidelight on the prosperity of the Union Trading Co. at the present time, it is a most illuminating index of Union narrowness that none but Union men in good standing can purchase goods in some Union stores. It is not often that a merchant refuses to make legitimate trade with all comers, and yet we know instances where non-Union men have been denied the privilege (?) of purchasing at the Company's stores. The U.F. Movement is a matter of history. It gave many an illustration of the retarding spirit of Coakerism. Wherever these delegates were refused a hearing the Councils were mainly responsible. Wherever interruptions occurred the trouble was nearly always due to Union heblers. Even when the resolutions were before the public numbers refused to sign because of the Union. If any union or society weakens the stamina and independence of its members and exerts a subservient tendency to the opinions or whims of any leader, then that society or union is not far removed from being an unmitigated evil. Let us instance again the monopolistic and dangerous influence of Coakerism. In other elections we always understood that, though Government candidates might recommend persons as Poll Clerks, etc., never did any part of the community arrogate all the powers to itself. And yet behold to-day even where Union Councils form a bare 20 per cent. of the voters, that small minority appoints persons to take Voters' lists and all other offices in connection with the general elections. Such is the power of Coakerism with Coaker dominating the Government. It is but a little Newfoundland example of Sovietism. Talk of fair play in Unionism. Verily it is to laugh! Where Unionism holds sway Boone could hire halls free or at the fixed rate of charging, but behold the U.F. delegates were asked to pay as high as 150 per cent. more than ordinary. To contrast the benefits of the two parties is impossible because although we heard both parties, we have never yet understood wherein lay the practical utility of Boone's address. But to the devoted adherents of Coaker he was the chosen mouthpiece of the "Mogul," and consequently his stereotyped address was one of the best ever listened to. Our pride of independence is in danger of being crushed. One cannot but feel that the greater portion of our illiterate is dominated by Coaker. Oh, the easy credulity of so many of our sturdy fishermen! But the awakening is coming. Already the toxin of election finds numbers hitherto unsuspecting rallying to the Opposition. It is perhaps too much to expect Coaker's defeat in Bonavista Bay, but if we get three good members on the Opposition ticket Coaker will need all his big time vituperation and eloquence to make satisfactory for himself, omitting any mention of his colleagues. But wait! What about that secret circular which is now on its way to every Union Council, and which Coaker has hid every Union man to keep invariably secret. What does it portend? If a society's private letter then let it remain secret. But who knowing the perils and the doings of Coaker thinks for one moment that it is entirely of such a harmless nature. Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. We are not in the Union, although we agree with many Union principles. We are decidedly not Coakerite, and yet we hope ere long to catch a glimpse of this wonderful circular if its contents in any way appeal to the coming elections. To-day Coakerism is shivering in the strongholds. Happy Newfoundland if it succeeds in breaking the shackles that bind her to such a pair as Squires and Coaker. —H.N. Bonavista Bay, March 15, 1923.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women." —Mrs. LOUISE E. BLANDISS, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief. Port Huron, Michigan.—"I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine." —Mrs. CHARLES BRAD, 601-14th St., Port Huron, Mich. Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unreasonable.

Someone writing in the Telegram reminds the Government of the tax on old clothes coming in the country to poor people. Second hand clothing is often—or would be—sent in by relatives or sons and daughters working abroad and it seems unfair to exact a tax thereon. No doubt we remember the promise of 1919. Reduction of taxation. The reduction made the other day of 25% surtax, amounts to 18% from the tariff rate, because this 25% is one of the extra's added on by this Government, and was taken after the duty on the value of the goods, was made up. In other words 25% on the result or sum total. Say an article imported cost $5.00 and the tariff rate is 40%, the duty to be collected on the article is $2.00. Now the surtax comes off the $2.00 not $5.00. Thus you can work it out that it means about 18% rebate to the taxpayers, and how this can save $1,650,000 we fail to see. There is yet the 10% surtax still on and the 5% sales tax, notwithstanding the fact that high rates are still in being. What the U.F.M. asked was a 25% cut in the tariff rate. The Opposition has accepted this as one plank in their platform. Sir Richard claims that two million in expenditure has been cut off. On what? High salaries? The telegraph news is again being used for political ends by the Government and it gives out on Wednesday that Hon. W. F. Coaker promises if the Government is returned that he plans to get two more sailing ships. What is he going to buy them with. Surely all the money is gone out of the chest by now. We wonder at times what they are going to run the election on. Surely the importations are pretty low, making the revenue small. It's easy to give out long lists of figures but it is hard to give proof of their correctness.—Twillingate Sun.

The Humber Deal and Some Figures.

Dear Sir,—In glaring headlines Saturday's "Meal" proclaimed "Vote for Squires Govt. and Humber Proposition." Certainly, the country will vote for the Humber Deal, but not for Squires' administration of it, for in his hands it might become anything. Examine these statements which he puts forth in support of the proposition. Insincerity and bluff's rampant throughout every line of the article. "The annual export value is $19,000,000." "Wage bill per year amounts to $5,000,000." "Company to pay $3,000,000 a year into revenue." "Freight haulage called for will afford the railroad of at least $1,000,000." That makes a total expenditure of $9,000,000 for Wages, Revenue and Railway freight, leaving a balance of $1,000,000 to pay for the huge operating expenses, incidental to such an enterprise. Twenty million dollars will be the paid-up capital of the proposed concern. Where then, in the name of common sense are the shareholders going to obtain a fair return on the money invested, which at 6% will require $1,200,000? Here we have the idea of a gigantic business, insolvent even in its contemplation; whose expenditures from the outset are far in excess of the value of the manufactured goods. It can't be done—Sir Richard knows it—the Armstrong Whitworth people know it—every man with a grain of grey matter realizes how absurd the whole thing sounds. There is something the Premier concealing and which he is afraid to have known. Give us the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. We demand it not as a privilege but as a right. To crown it all, Sir Richard speaks "of a policy that means the gathering home of the sons of Newfoundland." Why is he so anxious for the return of those whom, very recently he designated as, "trash?" Yours truly, SARRAM.

Sale of Work at Millertown.

Early last fall Miss Hilda N. Noonan organized the girls of the school here into a Sewing Class and a sale of work, with ice cream, candy and teas, took place on Saturday, March 17th. Children, under the direction of Miss Norman, presided over tea tables, the candy and work stalls, in a manner that was pleasing to all. The proceeds will go back to the children in the way of prizes at the end of the school year. Miss Norman and the children are to be congratulated on the success of this sale the first of its kind in this town. Your correspondent hopes that this will be only a forerunner of many such events.—COM.

GERALD S. DOYLE, DISTRIBUTOR.

"When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. He is now three years old, and has had no return of the trouble since."

A Political Discourse.

OPEN LETTERS TO FRED.

Dear Fred,—While waiting for some questions from you to start me writing again I am going to give you nearly verbatim an interesting conversation which took place in my own room between myself and a government man—a servant I may call him—of Trinity Bay. I had just got comfortably seated at home on the evening of Feb. 25 when he rapped at the door and of course, quickly gained admittance.

After tea we moved to an inner room for a smoke and a chat, which opened just upon local matters: agriculture, fishing, prices of fish and the times. We soon veered around to other matters which incidentally included the government and the U. F. movement.

"I am convinced," he said, "that no person of intelligence like yourself for instance takes the U.F.M. seriously. It's a political move colored by the opposition for the full credit of removing the export tax on fish when everybody knows that the government removed it of its own free will. What is your opinion?"

"Just this! Supposing it is a political move, at its worst it can only mean move and countermove,—but the lifted export tax? I queried. Do you ignore the actions of the Board of Trade last spring, and the forceful agitation from influential individuals and the general public ever since? If you have followed matters half intelligently you know that the last straw, which broke the camels back was thrown on by the U. F. in their forceful, irresistible representations to the government not once, but at least twice on this very matter. There's a madness of a new quality nestling snugly in your brain if you draw your conclusions by the strings of a grateful heart intertwined around the government.

"Pshaw!" he said. "Who does things without being asked? You must remember revenues are small, times are dull; always at hand is the pressing need for further outlay and no government will give up a legal means of securing funds without a little bantering. What say you now?"

"Only this. If you elect to be and insist upon keeping blind that is your privilege. If as you say, the times are dull, the obvious cure is dollars and to belittle and abuse the men who place a few more in the fishermen's pockets, of those which were wrung from them illegally in the first place, is nothing short of black guardism and larceny."

"Come now!" he said; "you are coloring. I do not intend to give or take insults. If I irritate you I shall apologise and start immediately."

My heart thumped with delight! Here was a man ready to uphold his own views and like a true gentleman respect mine also; provided I simply agreed to reciprocate his good will.

"I beg your pardon," I said quickly. "I shall humble myself directly if I hurl anything offensive at your person. I am very pleased to meet such a disposition as yours. Verily I respect you for following your own convictions; you have the courage of them at least. Proceed!"

"Thanks, I shall!"

"To be fair," he continued, "will you not consider the chaotic condition of the world. All governments are having a trying time to find revenue wherewith to meet ordinary expenditure and on account of unemployment, find help for the many cases of destitution. If, then, you got a reduction of taxation it must, of necessity, be so small that even when added to the export tax it can mean but very little. Only those who have fish receipts will benefit at all by the latter and those very receipts will be absolute proof that those holding them have been employed."

I scowled! Here was insult to common intelligence and ignorance closely interwoven. After all, I exclaimed, your remarks are but results of drill exercise from your masters. The chaotic condition of the world does not affect us a great deal in the Western hemisphere and since I infer you mean to draw comparisons, you would do well to lay special stress on the staggering contrast between our earning power and that of Canada and the States. My dear fellow earning power, not the elusive kind promised by this government, is all of it. We are alarmed over our public debt, but if our earning power were equal to a decent living what would it matter. That is why we cannot bear the strangling burden of taxation imposed upon us. I should certainly consider myself against common intellect if I doubted any one's ability to perceive that we can draw no comparisons whatever with any country on this side of the Atlantic except in rotten politics. If this is not so why the provision for destitution and general hard times amongst fishermen; what other background do you want for showing up the utterly fallacious belief that even a little lower tariff with the help of the export tax can benefit but little? You ought to know that even in times of prosperity, it is those "littles" which make a safe margin between "a living" and merciless beggary. It is those "littles" which open an opportunity for your bigness. If they were "littles" what matter. It is those insignificant crabbings which keep you on your job as an individual. That may be alright, but when a few fishermen and other producers have to support themselves on husks and maintain a whole army of loafers in luxuries, can you wonder if the chink and prospect of thirty pieces more of silver would enervate the U. F. to more exciting language than that used in humbly begging for a chance to live. The Government may grant it but thank Capt. Jesse Winsor and others. Let the public judge.

"Judge," he said. "Empty babbling for both of us! More words, than judge, you say, pshaw!"

"It's simply owing to the way you look at it. Now I bet that if you took the conviction of other view you would be just as emphatic as you are now, don't you think so?"

But I protested the two ways were always open. Why did I not take the other view in the first place? Simply because those looked the more logical of the two. I give them to you gratis

The people say
John R. Bennett
Will be the next Prime Minister.
The sun will shine again on polling day.
Higgins, Fox and Vincombe's meeting last night confirmed the verdict.
Six mph in St. John's, and big majorities at that.
Congratulations to Mr. Jas. Gould, the Chairman.
Billy Brophy the Secretary, is the right man in the right place.
The grass is not going to grow on Water Street.
Nor will the soldiers be told they were "paid to fight."
Nor will the blind be told by Mr. Bennett "they can go to H—."

Still fourteen men short of the required number.
If the Government don't hurry up, some of those already booked will jump the traces.
Here's a bit of news for Doctor Campbell.
The young voters of St. John's West had a meeting last night and the total membership of their Committee is now 253.
The main Committee now numbers 964.
Both together make a grand total of 1317.

So it is easy to understand why Cashin, Lihagar and Hunt will have record majorities on polling day.
The Mail is trying to justify its scurrilous and personal abuse by faking statements made by the Telegram and the Opposition.
But it won't work. The Opposition and the press supporting it will fight a clean fight and a fair fight.
The record of the Government is the issue of this election.
And by that record they are going to be condemned by the people.
The Humber Deal will be looked after by the Bennett Government.
Oh! Mister Gallagher! Oh! Mister Gallagher! I saw a lovely scene. It showed a lot of fish. Which made a savory dish. And it was cooked in boiling margarine.
Now Mr. Sheehan! Now Mr. Sheehan! I really seem to know just what you mean.
For in this "Oily Lark" in which lay the codfish steak was "her" marmalade! Mister Gallagher?

Yes! and "WHITE-WASH" Mister Sheehan.

Quebec Lady is now Strong and Healthy, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills.
St. Henri, Que., March 26 (Special)—The value of Dodd's Kidney Pills is shown by the statement of Madame Roch Martel, a well known resident here.
"After five years of suffering in my back and lower part of my body, I was obliged to take to my bed. I resolved to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes restored me to good health. I am now quite strong and healthy and recommend them to all who suffer."

It is statements like this that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy all over Canada.
Ninety per cent. of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. If they fail in this work the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body. The results show themselves in weakness, weariness, nervousness, headaches, backaches, drowsy and rheumatism.
Dodd's Kidney Pills strike right at the seat of the trouble, the kidneys. Ask your neighbors if all these diseases cannot be avoided by using Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen the kidneys.

Sealing News.

THETIS DOING WELL PROSPECTS MORE ENCOURAGING.

Messages received from the steamers on the northern front during the past week, give every evidence for a belief that the herd is somewhat scattered, as the ships have been working in very small patches. Last night's messages from the Sagona and Thetis are very encouraging. Both ships struck another patch, and are greatly adding to their catch daily.

The former has 7,500 and the latter 12,500. The Terra Nova is expected to do well to-day, as last night's messages said that they were within a few miles of the seals, but could not penetrate the fogs to get within reach of them. The Eagle by the loss of three of her propeller blades has been compelled to abandon the voyage, which is regrettable. As soon as ice conditions permit she will work slowly to port under her own steam. The following were the messages received last night:—

BOWRING BROS.
Eagle—All seals on board and stowed; total 9,000. Will work along when ice loosens. All ships in company.
Sagona—155 miles S.E. by E. half East St. John's. Killed and banded today 2,000. Prospects fair.
Viking—30 miles S. by W. Cape Rev. light ice, ship jammed. Blowing gale from N.W. snowing hard at intervals. Nothing new to report.
Terra Nova—Within a few miles of seals all day, unable to penetrate jam. Hope better news to-morrow.

JOB BROS. & CO.
Thetis—Struck small patch mid-night Sunday, killed and banded today 6,000. On board and stowed 8,000. Seals averaging 45 pounds.
Neptune—No report.

BAIN JOHNSTON & CO.
Seal, (Tuesday)—5,000 stowed, 5,000 on ice. Prospects good. Ice conditions unfavourable.

THE CATCH TO DATE.

Thetis 13,500
Eagle 9,000
Sagona 7,500

Ranger 6,500
Seal 6,000
Terra Nova 4,500
Neptune 4,200
Viking 100
Total 51,300

A DEATH ON TERRA NOVA.
Capt. A. Kean, of the Terra Nova wireless Messrs. Bowring Bros. yesterday, to the effect that one of the men named Thomas Noseworthy, had died on board ship the previous evening, death having been due to an abscess in the throat. All possible was done for the deceased by Dr. Wallace, who was constantly in attendance, but without avail. This is the second death recorded since the ships left for the icefields. As soon as the intelligence was received, Messrs. Bowring Bros. got in touch with Mr. Moore of Pouch Cove, who acquainted Mr. Levi Noseworthy and family of the happening. The deceased was one of Pouch Cove's most respected young men, and the news of his untimely death came as a shock to his family, and the neighbours of the settlement. The Telegram desires to express sympathy to the bereaved.

JUDICIAL ENQUIRY.—A material enquiry into the accidental drowning of Albert Valcher, who commenced yesterday afternoon in the Magistrate's Court, before Mr. McCarthy, J.P. Three witnesses gave evidence.

Coaker-Squires Control Cost Us Millions of Dollars

Series of Scandals which Caused Bankruptcy and Stagnation Throughout the Colony -- An Overtaxed People Must Pay for Blunders.

That the period of Coaker-Squires rule which came to a sudden end with the dissolution of Parliament a short while ago has been one of unprecedented ill luck for Newfoundland is self evident.

For three years the Coaker-Squires has overshadowed the land yet the same aggression is asking for a further period of control. Do you think Newfoundland can stand seven years of ill luck? Why take the risk?

Judge the Coaker-Squires combination by the result of their rule. If you review their career you find Mr. Coaker first introduced his Fishery Regulations. The result was disaster. The bad luck which followed the Food Control Board was no joke. The Board bought sugar and sold sugar, but lost money each way. You need not be reminded of the H.M.S. Lobelia, the ships, and fleet of trawlers. These cost over a half million dollars. The Lobelia is in the scrap heap. It cost money to give away the airships and material, and the trawlers are costing more money to run than suitable ships. The great stunt of the Government, however, was directed to running the railroad. Ill luck dogged every step. Mr. Coaker's commission was responsible for the loss of 2 1/2 million dollars in the first year. The end is by no means in sight and millions more will be lost to the country before the tangle is unravelled. The coal mining fiasco at South Branch cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. Expensive motor trucks were imported, roads were built, but no mine was worked, and only a hole in the ground now indicates where the money was sunk. The junkers tried their hardest at importing salt for the fishery. What was the result? Mr. Coaker made the mistake of getting it from Germany. What was used of it spoiled a lot of fish and the balance had to be blasted out of the Coaker Stores with dynamite. In the purchase of 50,000 qts. Labrador fish the hood was with the Government. The greater part of the purchase had to be dumped into the sea. Just think of how the fishery supplies guarantee of last year was handled. Did they have any luck with the venture. For a change turn to Agriculture and what do you find? A model farm was started. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent in importing cattle and hens. During the past two winters the prize horse came last in the races. The Prime Minister was forced to admit that it is not a model farm. He names it a glock farm. Farmers call it the zoo. Despite all the talk thousands of barrels of potatoes have to be imported from England and Ireland and F.E. Island. Did this same Government have any luck with the labor given in pit prop cutting, snow shovelling, rock breaking and road making. Half finished roads are everywhere. There is one near St. John's that has cost nearly 100,000 dollars. It is not half completed yet. It is not the Road de Luxe or the road from Nowhere to Nowhere. Not at all. The road leads from 20 Mile Pond to the Anderson Row. Anderson Row is a block of workmen's houses which the workmen did not get. The proposition appeared favorable and was supported by leading business men, the Clergy, and even his Excellency the Governor; but the Government stopped it and guaranteed the project. The hood followed. What happened to the Hotel Projects, Outport Hospitals, Direction finders for Shipping, Normal School and other projects. For three years past the Government has been trying to turn the Humber Deal. A hitch came at the last moment and the Humber had to be dissolved to hinder this last piece of ill luck. They did not even complete their four year's term. The Government however, completed one thing, they squandered 12 million dollars raised on loans. This huge amount is gone in addition to the sum raised by ordinary taxation. Is it any wonder you cannot keep yourself or your family in the frugal comfort you all should provide. Starvation stalks through the land. Is it not time for a change. The ship of state is in charge of junkers and it is your duty to pay them off at the first port of call, the ballot box. Cast your ballot then, for the Bennett Party of live business men. They will see the Humber Proposition through and also put

FIT BETTER AND LAST

LONGER.

Fit, wearing qualities and size are the things most women look for when selecting their hair nets. That is why we feature and recommend the GOODFORM.

In size the GOODFORM is the largest hair net on the American market to-day.

Single and double mesh, the usual shades—we have them all. And we are never too busy to see that you get the one that suits you best.
