COCKSHUTT'S DEMAND

Anomaly That Steel Industry Should Be Better Treated by "Free Trade" Than "Protectionist" Government, He Declares—Agrees With South York Member.

OTTAWA, March 14.—(Special).—"When a man is drowning it is not a time to investigate, it is a time to save him, and after you have done so, find out how he got there," declared W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford), who strongly protested in the house of commons this evening against the absence from the budget speech of any announcement of a renewal of the steel bounties. It would seem, he said, that the steel industry had fared better at the hands of a so-called free trade government than it would at the hands of a so-called protectionist government.

Mr. Cockshutt also declared his sympathy with the stand taken last night by W. F. Maclean (S. York) on the naval question.

Protection and the Trusts. Alphonse Verville (Maisonville), who resumed the debate, devoted his energies for an hour and a half to a denunciation of the wicked policy of protection under which there had grown up in Canada, as combination and trusts. Instead of spending $10,000,000 of the $29,000,000 surplus on the navy, as suggested by the member for South York (W. F. Maclean), it should be devoted to lowering taxation.

Andrew Broder (Dundas) declared that the 30 combinations and trusts that the hon. gentleman had spoken about must surely have sprung up since Sept. 21; otherwise such a shrewd, observant gentleman would surely have protested against them long ago. If an evil existed it was a legacy from hon. gentlemen opposite.

"We have to probate the will," said Mr. Broder, "and we'll probate it in the interests of the country. What do you think of gentlemen who would put us at the mercy of the greatest trust country in the world, the United States, and hadn't the courage to deal with the trusts at home?"

Don't Want Fairplay. "We don't want the labor conditions of Europe transferred to this country. They say they have a poor man's tariff in England, but they have, because I notice they have a million painters in England.

"Why are we importing New Zealand butter and meat from some other country, after 15 years of Liberal rule?" Mr. Broder asked. "They say it is on account of increased consumption. But shouldn't an agricultural country keep pace with the increased consumption?"

Another legacy the government had left them was the National Transcontinental, the splendid company which was the result of error, mismanagement or miscalculation.

Oliver Explains. Hon. Frank Oliver admitted that the trusts had grown up under the late government, but he argued that this was a condition that had grown naturally out of the progress of the country and for which that government was not responsible, but with which it was dealing in the reciprocity pact.

He declared emphatically that the tariff legislation of the present government, when it was brought down, would be found to be framed in the interests of the combine.

"You'd better wait till it happens," called out F. R. Lalor (Haldimand). David Martin (East Elgin) rather punctured an argument that Mr. Oliver was attempting to build up an attack on the combine. When Mr. Oliver asked him what price was obtained for canned tomatoes before and after the combine was formed, he stated that whereas his firm had sold them at $1.40 a dozen, they were now able to sell them at 85 cents.

Mr. Oliver's statement was largely a replica of the one he delivered on the debate on the address from the throne last night for the defeat of reciprocity. W. Cockshutt (Brantford) expressed regret that no mention had been

TEN DISTRICTS WITH HEALTH OFFICERS

New Bill Introduced by Hon. W. J. Hanna Centralizes All Power in Provincial Board of Health, and Makes Provision for Appointment of Officers for the Entire Province.

With provision made for the division of the province into not more than ten health districts and the appointment of a legally qualified medical practitioner to be known as the district officer of health for each district, the bill revising the Public Health Act was introduced in the legislature yesterday by Hon. W. J. Hanna.

Centralization of power, and that centre the provincial board of health with offices at the parliament buildings, is the chief feature of the health act in its revised form.

The new clause referring to the powers of the chief officer and members of the provincial board states that these officials shall possess all the powers conferred upon a medical officer of health and the officers of the local board by the act or by the regulations.

Every district officer of health under the regulations of the new bill shall be paid an annual salary not exceeding $2500, and an allowance of $1000 for expenses. Such salary and allowance shall be payable in the first instance out of the consolidated revenue fund.

To defray a part at least of the cost of the new officers, the council of every part of a health district shall annually, on or before the first day of February, contribute to the provincial treasurer such proportion of the salary and allowance of the district officer of health based upon the population of the county according to the last census of Canada and exclusive of the population of any city or separated town within the county, as may be certified by the chief officer.

Some of the more important clauses of the new bill are included in the following: That no medical health officer can be removed from office except with the approval of the provincial board of health.

Where communicable diseases exist in any boarding school or other institution where students are required to reside, the head of the institution shall immediately isolate the patient and within twelve hours after the disease is known to exist shall notify the medical officer of health. Medical health officers will have a measure of control over the meat sold in the markets of the municipality where he has jurisdiction.

English Alone, Says Pyne. Hon. Dr. Pyne, who delivered a strong address, declared it was the desire of the government to make English the language of the province. That was the purpose of the department of education in having prepared the bill, he said.

HYDRO PROVES BOON TO GALT. GALT, March 14.—(Special).—One year ago to-day hydro-electric power was turned on for the first time in Galt, and the past year has been one of marvellous growth and progress for the system. Street lights with hydro power were not turned on until April 1, and houses were not lighted until June 1.

The hydro-electric was started with 465 services, the number the old electric authority had, and to-day at least 400 horsepower is being used by manufacturers, and a number of other contracts are in view.

Galt is well pleased with its first year's experience with hydro power as a municipal enterprise.

PRESIDENT AND DEAN OF COLLEGE HELD ON CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY

W. T. Harvey and Dr. T. G. Evans of Queen Street Institution Alleged To Have Obtained Money from Estate of John Revell After He Had Died—Woman Who Came to Toronto With Dead Man May Also Be Taken Into Custody.

Falling to explain to the police the manipulation of cheques drawn in the name of a man now admitted to be dead, and signed by the apparent date of their issue, W. J. Harvey, president and manager, and Dr. James G. Evans, dean of the Empire College of Ophthalmology at 355 West Queen-street, were arrested yesterday by Detective Guthrie. They are charged with conspiring to obtain money from the estate of John Revell of Plympton, England.

The story reads like an out-and-out Sherlock Holmes mystery. As told by the police, it is this: John Revell came to Canada from Plympton, near Plymouth, in May last. He came on his own under his own name. He returned to England in August, and came out again almost immediately, bringing with him Mrs. Mary Spurr and two children, leaving the latter dying in the Devon and Cornwall Hospital at Plympton, where he died shortly afterwards. Revell also left a wife and children in the old country.

The pair came to Toronto as Mr. and Mrs. John Spurr. They went to live at the Empire College in West Queen-street. Revell was drinking heavily and died there Nov. 2 from the effects of his continued drinking. The great cause of his death was the death of the woman who went back to England.

On Dec. 1 the police received a communication asking that they enquire into the circumstances surrounding the issue of three cheques purporting to be drawn by John Revell in favor of the Empire College. One of these cheques was drawn upon Lloyd's Bank, Plymouth, for $205 1/2 and 3/4. It bore date at Toronto, No. 14, and an endorsement of counter signature of the London City and Midland Bank, Limited, Thrawlthorpe-street, London. Another cheque was on the Naval Bank, Wingate-street, Plympton, and purported to be drawn in favor of the Empire College by John Revell for $100. It was endorsed by the Empire College of Ophthalmology, Limited, W. J. Harvey, manager. It bore date at Toronto, Nov. 8, 1911. There was also another cheque for $1000, drawn in favor of the college, and signed in the name of Revell. Two of these had been deposited at the Bank of Hamilton, Shadina and Queen and one in the Bank of Toronto. The police were asked by Revell's brother to ascertain if these signatures were not forgeries, as he firmly believed them to be.

Detective Guthrie enquired at the college and was told by President Harvey that it was not Revell who had died at the college in November, but John Spurr. He said that Revell had given the cheques to him as a donation to the college, and that Revell was last heard from in November from a point near Halesbury, where he was said to be prospecting. Yesterday Harvey refused to say how these cheques had come into his possession. The great effect was caused by a second letter from the brother at Plympton, who said that he had seen the Spurr woman there, and that she had shown him a typewritten document purporting to be the will of his brother. It was witnessed in the name of James G. Evans, M.D., 234 Wellington-street, Toronto. The brother said that he had told the woman that his brother's name signed to the will was a forgery, and that she had then declared: "Well, I did guide his hand." Yesterday Dr. Evans declared that he had signed no such document.

In the day book of the college, seized by the police, appears an entry as of Nov. 15, of $1000 "to endowment by Bank of Hamilton." These entries also appear in the ledger, but there is no trace of the $1000 donation shown in the college books. There appears in the minutes of a directors' meeting in October an entry of a minute to the effect that a bequest from Revell had been accepted. This was before the man's death. It is also shown in the company's stock-book that 100 $10 shares in the college had been purchased in August by Mrs. Spurr. These were transferred back to Dr. Evans, as he says, before her return to England. In the minutes of one of the directors' meetings it appears that Mrs. Spurr's stock was transferred to Harvey. Evans says he paid her $200 for the stock.

It is likely that the name of the woman will be joined in the charge, and she may be brought here from England. It is not yet known if any of these cheques were ever cashed, but the men say that they were returned to the bank by the banks in which they were deposited and have since been mislaid.

MAY BE A BOLT IN ALLIANCE FORCES

Machine is Against Political Action, and a Scheme is on Foot to Squelch the Elective Campaign Committee—General Executive Must Accept Organizer or Face a Revolt.

From statements made by a leading official of the Ontario Alliance, it became extant yesterday that another but struggle for control is impending between the old machine element in the Alliance and the insurgents, who, under the leadership of Controller McCarthy and Ald. Austin, captured the recent convention with respect to political action.

Party politics and personal predilections are underlying, the possibly subconscious factors with some of the members of the political action committee.

When the fight for the appointment of this political action sub-committee was fought to a finish at the convention, the delegates, by 20 to 1, ordered its appointment.

It was understood in selecting Joseph Gibson president and Ben H. Spence, secretary, that they would loyally obey the expressed will of the convention in letter and spirit.

Right in Line. As announced in The World's report of the first meeting of the political action committee, President Gibson has wheeled right into line.

The initial meeting was naturally somewhat of stock-taking character, but the promoters of the political action movement made it clear that an organizer must be put in the field with the least possible delay, so that action could be taken at the first by-election. This went right against the grain of the Alliance machine, and every possible influence is being put into operation to prevent the appointment of an organizer.

That will be the point at issue at the next meeting of the committee. The official who prophesies that no organizer will be appointed is not considered by the insurgents to have very strong promises for his assumption.

As one of the advanced wing said, "If the officials were given another trial and if they block political action this time it will be their last chance."

Three Cards. The machine men in the Alliance have three cards to try to win out with. First, that no political organizer is available, as they are all now engaged in arranging for and holding field days and will be required for local option campaigns. Second, that there is no money available, as there was a shortage of $2000 on last year's operations.

Third, that the political action committee is subject to the general executive committee and that is so loaded up by the machine that it can override the appointment of an organizer by the political action committee, and will do so.

The two first cards are known by the insurgents to be bluff. As to the $2000 deficit, it is regarded as one of these confidential pieces of bookkeeping which are never taken very seriously by persons on the inside.

Moreover, Chairman Austin has been assured of ample financial support. The general executive will have to stand by the wishes of the Austin-McCarthy political action committee of face an influential bolt.

ASCENDING FRENCH MAYOR IN DETROIT. PARIS, March 14.—(Can. Press).—President Fallieres to-day signed a decree removing from office Mayor Sollier, of the Town of Houplines, in the department of Nord, who is now supposed to be in Detroit, Mich. The embroilment of the city's funds is given as the ground for his dismissal.

SUBSIDY FOR ALASKAN RAILWAY. OTTAWA, March 14.—(Special).—A deputa-tion which included Dr. Thompson, M.P., Yukon, Edmund Bristol, M.P., and Sir Rodolphe Forget, waited on the prime minister to-night in regard to a subsidy on a railroad from Haines Mission to Fairbanks, Alaska, traversing the strip of Alaskan territory along the west coast of British Columbia. There will be a branch to the Yukon.

Both Toronto and Montreal capital is said to be interested in the project.

FAVOR UNION. The Presbyterian congregation at Fairbank has voted in favor of church union; 68 voted for union and 12 against; 44 for the basis of union and 13 against. The session voted unanimously for union.

ROYALIST ARMY IN CHINA MAY PASS THRU TERRITORY WHERE TWENTY PRESBYTERIANS ARE SITUATED. Canadian missionary circles are taking a personal and eager interest in the march towards Peking of the Royalist army of 10,000 imperialist soldiers. If it follows the usual route it will pass thru the portion of the Province of North Honan, where twenty Canadian Presbyterian missionaries have their stations. This would involve the danger of looting or violence.

So far the missionaries there have not been troubled by the revolution. The first place in the next province it only caused anxiety, as the mob passed the mission hall without molesting it.

In a letter just received by Rev. R. P. McKay, D.D., from Rev. W. H. Grant, North Honan, formerly of St. Mary's, Ont., he said that all was then peaceful there, an the usual meeting of the presbytery was being held.

Rev. A. E. Armstrong of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board said to The World last night that danger to the Canadian missionaries would be averted if the imperialist army took the short cut north of the Province of Honan.

Sir George Ross Better. The family of Sir George W. Ross yesterday received a telegram from Dr. Drennan, his physician at Hot Springs, Ark., in reply to a query. The telegram reads: "Saw Sir George Ross last evening, and he is in better health than he has been during his entire visit."

BAPTISTS GIVE AWAY TOO MUCH. Rev. Dr. Brown Says it is Poor Policy to Donate Thousands to Other Societies.

Rev. Dr. Brown, Baptist foreign mission secretary, has issued a protest against Baptists contributing to mission funds outside the denomination.

Dr. Brown says during 1911 Toronto Baptists contributed over $10,000 to foreign missions that never passed thru the treasury of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. This, Dr. Brown says, he considers "poor policy," because the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec are endeavoring to evangelize two million Hindus in India and two and a half million people in Bolivia.

In his protest to the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec Dr. Brown asks: "Why let our own work starve while building up the work of other societies?"

ASK MORE AD FOR DRYDOCK. OTTAWA, March 14.—(Special).—Application is being made to the government on behalf of huge interests behind a proposition for a drydock in Quebec or Levis to cost not less than eight million dollars, for an amendment to the subsidy provisions of 1910 increasing the amount on which the three per cent. annual subsidy was to be paid from four to five million dollars.

The maximum amount on which a subsidy at three per cent. interest can be paid, according to the present act, is four millions. For the balance of the three million expenditure, a request is being made to the government for a bond guarantee.

member for Monck wanted to know what the future action of the attorney-general would be in view of his present statement. "Forgery," says Premier. The Liberals have not yet recovered from the defeat of their candidate in Timiskaming. W. E. N. Sinclair, South Ontario, in reply to Mr. Brewster's speech, rebuked Sir James Whitney when he referred to the telegram purported to have been sent by the Premier to the north country with a promise of a railroad, and which the Premier declared snatched under their hands. When Mr. Sinclair said the telegram had been sent by Sir James, the Premier interrupted: "Does the hon. gentleman make the charge?"

The legislation will have for one of its chief objects the protection of the public from the repetition of such disasters as occurred in the famous case of the Farmers' Bank.

tion at an inconvenient time of the year because the farmers could not be reached from the inside to go out and vote. He pointed out that the bill should have taken place in the autumn.

He may be all right as secretary to the minister. He's a likeable man, but he is not a good C. C. G. member, he said, speaking of the C. C. G. deputy minister of agriculture. The bill, he said, was not passed with the attitude of the government in its appointment.

The government license inspectors also came in for a rap. He thought it was about time some of them were discharged for participating in the election.

Violated Rules. Just before the orders of the day were called the Speaker drew the members' attention to questions which were being asked by inquiry from the members, which he said, were clearly a violation of the rules. Questions have been asked on the order paper on previous occasions, and he had ordered their removal on account of objectionable remarks made. At the present time Mr. Marshall (Monck) was asking if the attorney-general made certain statements at a meeting in North Toronto on Nov. 11, with reference to bilingual questions must be taken together. A question, according to the speaker, related to matters with which the minister is officially connected, or for which he is responsible as administrator. Further, the desire to know "if it is the intention of the government to abolish the 48 bilingual schools," is a debatable matter, and involves a question of policy. Consequently there was no alternative for him but to instruct the clerk to remove these questions from the order paper.

Not Yet, But Soon. N. W. Rowell, asked that the bill or resolution, which he said, would be introduced, regarding the development of New Ontario, might be presented to the house as soon as possible.

Sir James Whitney stated that he wasn't certain that either a bill or resolution would be introduced, and if such was to be done he had no idea yet as to when the bill or resolution would be ready.

Where the Blame Lies. W. S. Brewster, South Brant, was very surprised that J. C. Elliott should introduce the Farmers' Bank skeleton into the debate. In resuming his speech of the previous day he criticized the West Middlesex member severely for taking up the time of the house with anything in connection with the Farmers' Bank. "If Mr. Elliott has any information regarding the collapse of the institution, or if he has any information regarding the whereabouts of Dr. Beaty Nesbitt, I am sure that if he submits it to the attorney-general it will be acted upon immediately."

"The Farmers' Bank would never have come into business had it not been for the negligence of the hon. gentleman's friends in Ottawa," he said. "The government is in the habit of treating all banks alike, it deposits money in all of them. If we had not deposited money in the Farmers' Bank the members on the opposite side would have sent up a cry about 'discrimination.' If we had not deposited money in the Farmers' Bank it was because the Liberals in Ottawa were not doing their duty."

The Liberals had done considerable yelping about large expenditures, but he failed to see any records in the statistics of the Whitney administration of a several million dollar ditch, without signs of water, and which would probably have to be filled by artesian wells. Now that the Ontario Government built anything on a par with the Quebec bridge.

New Man Not Liked. He didn't see eye to eye with the Liberals on the recent appointment of W. Bert Roadhouse, successor to C. C. James, as deputy minister of agriculture. Mr. Roadhouse would make just as efficient a deputy as Mr. James when he had experience.

He chided Mr. Rowell because he had not announced his policy on bilingual schools. Mr. Rowell continually asked for the government's policy, and the speaker thought that the government had as much right to know the Liberal policy as the Liberals had to know the government's. He predicted that the Liberals would live up to the government's policy, anyway.

"Probably we will if the government adopts our policy," said Mr. Rowell.

They Ramble. G. Pattinson, South Waterloo, said a discussion of the bill would be a discussion on the finances of the country, and not as the opposition speakers were doing in rambling all over from one subject to another, with only a cursory reference to the topic at issue.

Mr. Pattinson referred to loans raised by the Ross administration and commented on a particular loan and commented that had been made in England for the early construction work on the T. and N. O. Railway. Not a word of a single line, he said, in connection with that loan, and when the matter was referred to during a session of the Legislature at that time, the government asked for an edictment to sift out the matter and it had never been heard of since.

"What was the attitude of the op-

Position when the hydro-electric system was in its infancy.

Why the member from North Grey saw blue ruin ahead because power was going to be produced for $10.40 per horse-power."

Mr. Pattinson then referred to the campaign of some members of the opposition advocating a flat rate for hydro-electric power for the province, advocating the same rates for Seaforth, for instance, as in the Niagara peninsula. If that idea had been followed, not a single rod would have been turned in hydro-electric construction, not a single wire would have been strung. On this topic the members of the opposition are silent, while a short time ago they were full of sound and fury. Now they are extinct volcanoes. (Laughter.)

Mr. Pattinson paid a tribute to the excellent work being done by the provincial secretary in the matter of prison reform, and said his up-to-date methods were being favorably commented on, not only through this country, but across the sea.

Col. T. R. Mackay, South Oxford, confined his remarks chiefly to agriculture and criticized the appointment of the new Deputy Minister in succession to C. C. James. He took exception to the statement that the members of the opposition had opposed the hydro-electric policy. It was to certain methods employed by the commission that exception was taken.

Hydro Commissioners. Hon. Adam Beck introduced a bill to provide for the appointment of municipalities of commissioners to control the hydro-electric plants supplying power to the municipalities. This bill will not go into force until the next session in order that municipalities may decide whether they will appoint or elect the commissioners. After the bill comes into force, however, the commissioners must be elected.

W. E. N. Sinclair, South Ontario, will on Tuesday next enquire of the government as to whether J. P. Mr. Sinclair also wants to know if a Justice of the Peace is authorized or permitted by the government to identify himself with party political organizations.

Resent Statements. The resentment that the people of New Ontario felt towards the statements made by some politicians, that the north country is a semi-civilized region and that blind pigs and illicit liquor selling is rampant, was forcibly expressed by Capt. H. A. C. Machin, the member for Kenora, at the night session.

"We resent the imputation," said the member for Kenora indignantly, "that the people of New Ontario are different from the people of other parts of the province, and that blind pigs and illicit liquor selling flourishes in all directions there."

"Without casting any reflection on the Queen City," he added, "I venture to say there is more illicit liquor selling right here in Toronto than in that whole northland."

Respects were also paid to N. W. Rowell by Capt. Machin, who apparently has no great admiration for an opposition leader's failure to take a definite stand on leading questions of public policy. "I would ask the leader of the opposition," he said, "to state his position on one question which I am interested in, the temperance question," said Capt. Machin.

He was able after several weeks' thought and consideration to state his position on the temperance question, and has he to wait for instructions from the sanctum of the reverend editor of "The Globe?"

"I cannot but help feeling amused at the leader of the opposition adopting his platform—the development of New Ontario, on November 23 last, to take over the railway from Sunnyside to Long Branch, the franchise for which expired on the 23rd December, 1911. The bill also provides that the city may assume ownership and possession of the railway on payment of the value of the property to be determined by arbitration, and upon a majority vote of the ratepayers issue debentures which shall not be chargeable against the general debenture debt of the city.

On the 23rd January, 1905, a by-law was passed authorizing the expenditure of $300,000 for certain exhibition buildings.

Joint Meeting of Clubs Seventy Miles Apart. A precedent was laid to be without a president, was the bringing together of two club meetings, 70 miles apart, so that members of each club could hear every word spoken at the other, recently accomplished by the Buffalo and Rochester (N. Y.) Advertising Men's Clubs.

Each club arranged a meeting to be held at its respective city the same afternoon, and as each guest sat down to luncheon he was equipped with a receiver, like those used by telephone operators, and by the aid of a large transmitter at the end of each room, everything that was spoken in either club could be heard by the guests in both cities.

A feature of the affair was that the members of the Rochester Advertising Men's Club sang to the music of the orchestra in Buffalo.

Dosing Hens to Increase Egg Durability. In his chemical dosing of hens to increase the durability of their eggs, Prof. Oscar Riddle, the Chicago expert, has tried urotropin, sodium bicarbonate and sodium salicylate. Each chemical was given to five hens, all good layers, in two doses daily, of two-fifths of a gramme for each hen, but the feeding was otherwise normal.

The results are described as highly gratifying. The eggs of the treated hens lay how remarkably improved keeping qualities as compared with eggs from the control lot of hens, the improvement being most marked where urotropin was used. Unfortunately, however, in the trials so far made the texture and constitution of the white of the egg have been affected.

The "dosed" eggs were noticeably "control" in its present stage, the experiment is one of promising possibilities rather than accomplished results.

You Can Thank Advertising

NEXT time you step into the corner store, take a look around. Of all the articles on the shelves, how many were on your shopping list five years ago? Make it ten years, and you will find that most of the things you buy to-day—and could not do without—were not even made then.

You men and women who buy things, let this sink in. You are better men and women because of advertising. You eat more wholesome food. You wear better clothes. Your home is better furnished. You have cleaner and more sanitary houses. You read better books and magazines. You seek more healthful amusements.

them almost immediately after they are perfected.

J. J. Hill says this "high living" costs more. True for J. J.—but it is worth more. And leaving the cost aside, do you want to go back to buying jam out of a pail, oatmeal out of a barrel, raisins out of sticky boxes, or tea exposed in an open chest?

Do you regret the money you paid for a Player Piano?

Would you forego the new style razor?

Isn't a Tungsten worth a thousand candles?

Would you now be enjoying these if enterprising manufacturers had not told you about them in their advertisements?

Your whole standard of living has been raised—and why? Because the men who make these better things are telling you that you will be more comfortable, happier and healthier if you use these higher grade goods.

It is advertising that makes it possible for you to buy "the best" right at your corner store. It is advertising that encourages the inventor to make new comforts and new utilities and enables you to buy

Escaped Assassin's Bullets

KING EMMANUEL OF ITALY.

QUEEN HELENA.

KING AND QUEEN OF ITALY FIRED AT BY ANARCHISTS

Were on Their Way to Memorial Service for Late King Humbert, Victim of Assassin's Bullet, When Attempt Was Made—Populace Almost Lynched Would-be-Murderer.

ROME, March 14.—(Can. Press).—A hastily attempted assassination of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy was made by an anarchist in Rome this morning.

The king was fortunate enough to escape the several shots fired at him today from a revolver, the aimed from a very short distance.

One of His Majesty's bodyguard, who was in the immediate vicinity of the king, was dangerously wounded.

The unsuccessful attempt to assassinate the king made as His Majesty, with Queen Helena, was proceeding from the palace to the Pantheon to take part in the annual memorial service in honor of the late King Humbert.

The procession was passing along the Via Lata when three shots rang out from amid the crowd.

Consternation was on every face. The soldiers following the carriage immediately dashed forward and as they did so their commander fell from his horse.

The wounded officer was moved to one side by one of his men while the others dashed up to the royal carriage, where they found the king and queen sitting calm and unmoved.

Was Almost Lynched. Meanwhile the crowd seized the man who had fired the shot and attempted to lynch him. He was so badly handled that he was scarcely able to answer questions when he was handed over to the police.

The royal procession was not stopped for an instant. On their arrival at the palace the king learned for the first time that the commander of his escort, Major Lang, had been seriously wounded, and His Majesty at once started for the hospital where he was lying to pay him a visit.

At the police station, in spite of the man's bad condition owing to the handling he had received from the crowd, he was submitted to a keen interrogatory. He declared that his name was Antonio Daiba, that he was 21 years of age and that he was stonemason. He described himself as an "individualist anarchist" and said that he made the attempt on the king's life as a protest against the organization of society.

All the circumstances lead to the belief that the assassin of His Majesty was not concerned in any plot of an organization.

The spot near the Corso where Daiba attempted his regicidal act has been surrounded by excited crowds, waving Italian flags and shouting "Long live the king!" A large number of people also proceeded to the Quirinal, where Witnesses of the outrage on the king say it occurred at a few minutes after eight o'clock. Daiba reached the spot shortly before that hour. He rode a bicycle which he deposited in the doorway of the Salviati palace. When the royal procession was passing, and cheers were raised by the throngs on the sidewalks, Daiba nervously drew a revolver. Then with a trembling hand he pulled the trigger four times, but only three of the cartridges exploded.

The queen was seated on the side of the carriage nearest the would-be assassin, and if the bullets had been well aimed she probably would have been the victim.

The king appeared to be trying to reassure the queen, who threw her arms around him as she wished to protect him. He tried to comfort her by saying "Be tranquil; it is nothing," and seemingly reassured, she sat back as the procession went on to the Pantheon.

The king said on his return to the palace: "Another man belonging to no country—a man without a fatherland." The pope, when assured that the king was unharmed, ejaculated: "I thank God most fervently for having saved the king's life."

Good Quality Horses And Many Are Sold At Maher's Exchange

There was a very good attendance at yesterday's auction sale at the Maher Horse Exchange. The offerings were of good quality and large in number. A large percentage of those offered were sold, but the dealers declare more were sold at a loss than for a profit. The Toronto market this week have been considerably overstocked, and the only result that could follow was for the dealers to sell their horses for what they could realize for them, and very few of them could congratulate themselves they had a little left over as a profit. Owing to the very stormy weather this winter, the dealers have been unable to cover as much territory as in previous years, and in consequence have been unable to see the number of horses in order to try to purchase them. This has made the prices high, but it is thought the high water mark has been reached, and that there should be a decline. The improved weather should allow the dealers to see more stock and they will no doubt be able to purchase at a lower figure than in the past couple of months. The management informed our representative they were well satisfied with the week's business as regards sales, and that they expected a number of large consignments for next week's sales. The following were among the buyers present: J. E. O'Brien, Outlook, St. Catharines; J. A. McCabe, Collingswood, Toronto; T. Gould, Gosport, E. Poole, New-Castle; Dominion Bakery Co., city; Bogart, Napanee; E. R. Herbert, Coburg; Jacobson, Toronto; Red Robt. Co., Wexley, city; Jas. Robb, Aurora; Thos. Johnston, East Toronto; A. FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1912 CANADA'S IMPERIAL RESPONSIBILITY.

Created by sea power the continued existence of the British Empire depends on naval supremacy. As Mr. Winston Churchill said the other day, a powerful navy is for Britain a necessity. On its navy alone has hitherto rested the burden of imperial maritime defence and only of recent years has a serious movement been made towards securing the co-operation of the self-governing dominions. It is unfortunate that Canada, holding the premier place among them, instead of leading the way in accepting the duties and responsibilities which that co-operation entails, has presented the spectacle not merely of divided counsels, but of her late prime minister asserting her right to refrain from participating in any war in which the mother land might be engaged. As was immediately pointed out, a declaration of neutrality by Canada, whether before or after the outbreak of war would be tantamount to severance from the empire and to political independence. But there is not the slightest doubt that the great majority of the Canadian people are desirous of maintaining the place of the Dominion as an integral state of the British Empire and as a member of the imperial co-partnership. The maintenance of the British connection is a cardinal principle of the Canadian Nationalists, and their objection to the participation of Canada in imperial defence has not been based on separatist grounds, but on the proposition that it should be accompanied by participation in imperial foreign policy.

In his budget speech the minister of finance said truly that the prosperity of Canada had been largely dependent on the inflow of British money and British immigrants. British investments in Canada are very large and have gone mainly into the railroads and other public services that have done so much to open up the country and to develop its resources. The favorable place Canada holds with the British investor has been due in no small degree to its place within the empire, and the conviction that the growth of the Dominion correspondingly strengthened the union of British states. Canada is, therefore, as vitally concerned in the maintenance of the integrity of the empire as are the fostering of a real Canadian national spirit. Both alike require that the Dominion shall no longer content itself with British Isles or rest content with that pusillanimous refuge of the United States dependent—the Monroe doctrine. Canada should bebig enough and strong enough to shoulder her full share of the responsibility for imperial defence and with that will come the right to a voice in the direction of imperial foreign policy. Out of the surplus, estimated at close upon $10,000,000, the Dominion could easily devote $10,000,000 a year towards the cost of the imperial navy and towards the establishment of a naval contingent that will mean a real accession of strength to the imperial maritime forces. The moral influence of a clear and determined imperial policy would, of itself, be of world-wide import.

Such a demonstration of the solidarity of the imperial self-governing states would go far to remove the risk of war. Germany followed with keen interest the evident unwillingness of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to enter into a wholehearted scheme of imperial defence, and rejoiced at the opposition he offered to the attempts made to devise a method by which the overseas dominions should be given a voice in the formulation of imperial foreign policy. In this, as in other ways, he practised the rankest opportunism, first objecting to Canada making in the armaments of the empire because the Canadian people had no voice in their disposal, and then objecting to the Canadian Government being consulted because its giving of advice would involve responsibility for the result. Sir Wilfrid Laurier in imperial affairs, gave nothing of intelligent leadership—it is for Mr. Borden to succeed where his predecessor failed. His victory came as the end of an electoral campaign where national patriotism and loyalty to the union of imperial states were large contributors, and Mr. Borden should assume the responsibility he invited and not seek to escape it by the refuge offered by a referendum. Canadians, if they sincerely desire to remain co-partners in the bond of British states, will welcome real leadership in the matter of an imperial conscience which, as the member for South York declared, has in it not only the idea of patriotism, but the idea of humanity and brotherhood. MORE WORK FOR MR. WHITE.

No one will quarrel with the Finance Minister White's surplus of $28,000,000. Assuming that a large surplus is desirable—it is certainly more easily handled than a large deficit—the credit for this one will be claimed by both political parties. The opposition can scarcely criticize the methods of computation in this case, because their own bookkeeping has been adopted. It will not be long, however, before the old dispute is heard as to the genuineness of the surplus, and now when times are so good and we have a practical business man at the head of the finance department, some reforms in our national bookkeeping will not be amiss. For example, the proceeds of the sales of Dominion lands should not, in the opinion of many, be treated as current revenue. The citizen who sells his home for $10,000 does not consider his income for the year as increased by that amount. Again, if the iron and steel bounties are to be removed, the payments thereunder should certainly be charged to revenue and not as heretofore, to capital account. There is much to be said in favor of treating all the receipts and all the expenditures during the year as cash received and cash paid out and striking a balance accordingly. Either this should be done or the capital expenditure upon great public works like the National Transcontinental Railway should be kept in a separate account.

Under the Laurier regime the country was kept to some extent in the dark as to our national bookkeeping. Many expenditures were charged to capital account for the express purpose of creating a surplus. Hon. Mr. White will have no reason to make his accounts obscure, and his experience as a business man will be useful in bringing about some reforms in bookkeeping at Ottawa.

GRABBING WATER POWERS.

Full of instruction and warning to Canada is the report upon the water powers of the United States just submitted to the president by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations. Mr. Smith finds that these powers scattered through eighteen states are being exploited by a gigantic electric trust which also controls the lighting, transportation and other utilities of hundreds of towns and cities. His urgent government ownership and operation of water powers as far as practicable, believing that in this way coal and other perishable fuel will be conserved. He does not believe, however, that enough energy can be generated from water power to bring its cost to the consumer below the cost of power generated by steam; on the contrary, he believes that the electric transmission lines will carry considerable amount of power produced by steam.

One important point to remember is that the United States will be more inclined to avail themselves of Canadian power. What restrictions or prohibitions should be imposed upon the export of power may well engage the attention of the government. In this connection much interest will attach to a bill introduced in the house of representatives to authorize the diversion of water from the Niagara River above Niagara Falls to the maximum assigned by the International Waterways Treaty, and to remove the restriction upon the importation of the power generated on the Canadian side of the Niagara Falls. The corresponding clause to whom we are indebted for a printed copy of this remarkable bill is strongly of opinion that Ontario should take some action. There is certainly merit in the suggestion that some one should be deputed to watch legislation at Washington in the interest of Canada and the various provinces. We venture to say that no legislation at Ottawa of possible interest to the United States or any of them escapes notice and report.

Rebels Take Jimenez.

EL PASO, Tex., March 14.—A special to The Herald from Chihuahua says Jimenez was taken at noon to-day by an advance guard of Salazar's army, consisting of 300 rebels. The federal garrison capitulated without offering resistance. Salazar's forces are now occupying the town. The city is an important point and has a population of 25,000.

HUGE UNITED STATES TRUST DOMINATES ALL WATER POWERS

Ten Large Groups Headed by General Electric Company Control Generation of Hydro Energy, Says Herbert Knox Smith in Special Report.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—(Special.)—Starting statements respecting the water powers of the United States and their domination by a huge trust are contained in a special report to the president by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, made public here to-day. The report denounces as the merest guesswork many semi-official computations heretofore made as to the amount of electrical energy susceptible of generation from the water powers of the country. The highest possible amount which can be generated in the U.S. according to Mr. Smith is 25,000,000 horse power. At the present time there is being generated in the U.S. for commercial use about 3,000,000 horse power, being about 10 per cent. of the total stationary power produced by steam, water and gas combined. Of this 3,000,000 horse power of electrical energy now being generated, 1,600,000 horse power, or 50 per cent., is controlled by the electric trust. This trust is composed of ten large groups headed by the General Electric Co. They control, between them, in addition to the power now being developed, undeveloped water powers to the amount of 16,000,000 horse power and municipal lighting plants, city street car systems, city gas plants and radial railways in great number.

All Strategic Points.

These groups have seized nearly every strategic point in the eighteen states in which water powers abound. In California six great power corporations, of which the most important is the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. (with 118,244 horse power), together control 25,000 horse power, or 66 per cent. of all the developed water power in the state. In Washington two companies control 27,000 horse power, or about 70 per cent. of all developed water power. In South Carolina the Southern Power Co. owns about 101,000 horse power, or 72 per cent. of the water power developed, with 72,000 horse power under development. In the Southern Peninsula of Michigan the Commonwealth Power and Light Co. controls 52,000 horse power, or 73 per cent. of the commercially developed water power with probably 71,000 horse power undeveloped. Practically similar conditions exist in Montana, Colorado, Georgia, and Niagara Falls. Controls Companies. The General Electric Co. controls 929,000 horse power with undeveloped energy to the extent of 1,000,000 horse power. It also controls the street car service in 16 towns, electric lighting of 78,000 lamps, and gas plants in 19. The combined groups of the electric trust controls street car service in 111 towns, electric lighting plants in 999 towns, and gas plants in 113 towns.

At Niagara Falls. The Niagara Falls situation is thus summed up: At Niagara Falls there is developed on both sides of the river, in round numbers, 500,000 horse power. Of this 283,000 horse power is on the American side. All this is owned by two companies, namely, the Hydraulic Power Co. of Niagara Falls, and the Niagara Falls Power Co. The latter company, moreover, owns all the stock of the Canadian Power Co., with 62,500 horse power developed, and 240,000 horse power on the Canadian side three other companies have 173,000 horse power developed, of which the Ontario Power Co. of Niagara Falls owns 129,000 horse power. All of the power generated on the American side, and approximately 220,000 horse power, is contained in the Canadian side, is generated in the United States.

Government Action. The report suggests that the government acquire all the water power sites available. Control of rates is declared to be impracticable because from a commercial standpoint there is no reason why the energy produced by water power should be sold cheaper than the energy produced by steam, inasmuch as it will not be possible to supply the U.S. market with water-generated electricity. When the sites are acquired by the government, the leasing of them is recommended. The report closes with a strong protest against any further extension of water powers and water power sites.

WATERWORKS WITHOUT EXAMS

Well-Known Engineer Would Become Head of Toronto Waterworks System for $5700 a Year.

Willis Chipman, a member of the board of works water experts, made application yesterday to the board of control for the position of waterworks commissioner. In his letter he stated that he had been engaged for "making" twelve months on the city's water problem and was in a position to judge the magnitude of the work that must be undertaken by the board in the next few years. He suggested the salary of $5700 per annum. Mr. Chipman stated that he was an honor graduate in civil and mechanical engineering at McGill University. For five years he held the position of chief engineer at Toronto. During the past twenty years he has been engaged in connection with waterworks and sewerage systems in different parts of Canada. The application will be considered by the board at another meeting. To grade the city's lot at the southeast corner of Wright Avenue and Doncevalles for the purpose of establishing a civic tennis court would cost $250, according to the report of Acting Parks Commissioner Chambers. Mr. Chambers stated that the lot would accommodate seven double tennis courts. This land was acquired by the city for the purpose of creating a tennis park. The lot may not be built for some years and then only take up a small portion of the lot. The board will get a further report as to what interest of the proposed tennis court would cause before approving of the grading expenditure. At their meeting today the board of control will deal with the question of appointing a parks commissioner. The proposed appointment of a traffic expert firm will also be dealt with.

NO LAWYERS REFUSED TO ALLOW TWO APPLICANTS TO BECOME BARRISTERS.

Experience for 25 years as a law clerk is not qualification enough for the wearing of the barrister's gown, according to the members of the private bills committee of the legislature. At a meeting of the committee yesterday morning the question of "making" lawyers by act of parliament" was not endorsed, and two applications for special legislation to authorize the Law Society of Upper Canada to admit men to the bar without taking the preliminary examinations and regular three-year course were refused.

The two applicants were Jas. George Guise Bagley, 53 years old, of Port Arthur, and James Sanders of Toronto. Hon. I. B. Lusk, chairman of the committee, said he was afraid they couldn't take down the bars to admit these two applicants because of their similar applications were turned down by the same committee a few years ago. Alexander Cassels, K.C., who appeared on behalf of Guise-Bagley, said that he didn't want the committee to take down the bars, but merely let his client sit on the bench. Mr. Cassels said he had known Guise-Bagley for a long time and could testify to his ability and capability. Alexander Cassels, K.C., said the applications on behalf of the Law Society. Other members conformed with the view of the Law Society and he didn't think it fair to allow the others to make an exception in these two cases. With reference to Mr. Sanders' case, Mr. Cassels said that while neither favoring nor opposing the application, he merely wished to say that the standing of members of the private bills committee is such that Africa was just as high as in Canada, and yet with those qualifications they were not admitted to practise law.

Riot at Cook Fight.

KINGSTON, March 14.—(Special.)—There was a riot at Gananoque and it is the talk of the town. Two men were held, one on an island near the town. Several owners became so much excited over the affair and so proud of the fighting abilities of their pets that they made a trip across the ice at night to settle matters. A free-for-all fight occurred among the men afterwards. One man was so badly battered up that a doctor was called.

Lloyd George May Be Thrown Aside

Movement Said to Be Afoot Among Financial Interests to Secure His Official Head.

LONDON, March 14.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily Sketch announces the information that Mr. Lloyd-George must go. There is a league in financial circles, says to obtain the resignation or dismissal of the minister whose financial policy has already inflicted heavy losses on a large section of the community and for his attacks on capital. His election speech, it is said, has done not a little to bring about the present state of affairs. The paper says the movement was organized by a group of business men who have had enough of it and want no more.

It is intended to lay out this land in a residential section, to be known as the "Rebins" section. The well-known land, Mr. H. B. Grubb, has been intended to plan the site.

It would be a great help to the poor Chinese who have to eat rice. The C. P. R. has offered to handle it at less than cost and provide a ship to convey it to China.'

Prisoner Collapsed and Wept When Counsel Referred to His Wife and Children.
The eight of Spiegel's collapse seemed to be in a sorry plight, should the counsel for the defense went into the most minute details of the case and waxed very dramatic in his description of the prisoner's wife and family, who would be in a sorry plight should the court deem it wise to convict him. At this point Spiegel, who had hitherto sat tense and motionless for hours at a time as the trial proceeded, broke down completely, the tears running into his lap as he slumped into his chair.

Squeeze in Liverpool Market Affects Sentiment at Chicago

But Upward Movement Petered Out Late in Day—Closing Was at Firm Prices—Corn and Oats Higher.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Wheat prices here felt the effects to-day of a squeeze in the Liverpool market. Notwithstanding heavy selling the close was firm at last night's level. The finish for hog products varied from 1-2c to 1c decline to 7-12c increase in cost.

For a while the wheat trade seemed disposed to regard the scare in Liverpool as a temporary condition which would be rectified in short order. Consequently attention was given to the subject of the outlook, but not for long, especially as a prominent southwestern speculator began to pound prices with remarkable suddenness and vigor.

Orders to sell had depressed that staple, and the demand for other packing house products. In the end pork was up 1-2c, but the rest of the list did not exceed a nickel either way.

Receipts of wheat in cars at primary centers were as follows: To-day, Week Year Chicago 42 46 8 Deloit 252 265 372 Minneapolis 317

European Markets. Liverpool wheat closed 1/4c higher than yesterday, and corn 3/4c higher. Antwerp wheat closed 1/2c lower, Berlin 1/2c lower, and Buda Pesth 1/4c lower.

Argentine Estimates. The wheat, Argentine grain shipments are estimated as follows: This wk. Lt. wk. Lt. yr. What 450,000 2,000,000 2,000,000 Corn 450,000 2,000,000 2,000,000

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET. Receipts of farm produce were 4 loads of wheat, a few dressed hogs, hay—Prices ranged from $21 to $24 per ton. Dressed hogs—Prices firmer at $5.50 to $6.00, the bulk going at $5.75.

STEEL SHARES HELPED BY THE ADVERSE NEWS
Removal of Uncertainty Over Bounties Felt in Steel Markets—Speculation at Low Ebb.

World Office. Thursday Evening, March 14. While a few weeks ago it was generally believed that the government would renew the steel bounties in the near future, they had evidently been pretty well prepared for the announcement of the minister of finance in his budget speech that, for the present at least, no action would be taken by the government on the question. At least that was the opinion to be adduced from the action of the steel shares in the stock market today. Steel Corporation, which has been speculating in a lively fashion during the last few weeks, settled back into dullness as if, now that the news was out and the matter of bounties or no bounties disposed of, it were time for a rest. Steel Co. of Canada, one of the newer concerns, underwent a sharp appreciation in value, presumably on the idea that had news was better than no news at all, and that with the uncertainty removed the stock was worth more. Nova Scotia Steel and Iron, which has a local exchange, and the bid and ask quotation did not undergo any appreciable change.

While the finance minister intimated that he would make no announcement regarding steel bounties, the matter has only been postponed till a later date. The matter will probably be gone into fully by the tariff commission, and that body has not yet been even selected. It is presumed that it will be some time before anything definite will be done. Meanwhile the steel companies still have a chance to demonstrate what they can do without assistance from the government, and as there are several branches of their output on which the market has no following in the present basis of no bounties, it is highly probable that little will be heard of the matter until the next occasion for rumormongering when another stock market campaign is inaugurated.

Steel Co. of Canada common sold up to 2 3/4, a gain of two points in the Toronto market to-day, and the preferred at the same time rose over a full point. In Montreal Dominion Steel Corporation was carried off to 55 1/2-2 during the morning, but closed on a smart rally. It was not dealt in here.

Outside of the steel stocks there was little of interest in the local market. Rio and Sao Paulo were quieter than their usual wont, about a middle way between yesterday's high and low prices. Rio closed at 116 5/8 bid, and Sao Paulo at 104. C.P.R. Winnipeg Falls and Locomotives common were all strong at small advances.

In the banks Traders provided the most feature, selling up 15 1/2, and ending 2 per cent. equivalent to 25 1/2 per cent dividend, thus duplicating the top price of last week's advance.

Bank Rate Unchanged. LONDON, March 14.—The rate of discount in London has remained unchanged at 3 1/2 per cent. today.

New York Market Turned Strong In the Last Hour's Trading

Copper Rose to New High Level and Whole List Followed the Advance—Speculation Broadened Considerably.

NEW YORK, March 14.—For the greater part of to-day's session on the stock exchange business was dull and prices irregular, except for manipulation in some of the minor specialties and low-priced issues. In the last hour, however, the market reversed its position and broadened out under lead of the speculative favorites, some of which went to a new high level for the present movement, while Amalgamated Copper sold at its highest price in considerably over a year.

There was no news to account for the sudden change of sentiment other than the price of a general advance in prices of iron and steel products and encouraging advices dealing with the crop conditions. The general labor situation at home and abroad was without material change except for some betterment in the New England mill towns. It is not unlikely that the agreement of the senate finance committee to report adversely on the house steel and metal schedule also was a helpful factor. Activity was maintained until the end, the business of the last hour almost exceeding that of the balance of the session, with closing prices at or near the top.

Rise in Specialties. In connection with the further rise of the specialties there were rumors of increased dividend disbursements, but for the most part these were accepted with reserve. It is well known that some of the minor industrial companies are in better shape than a year ago, while others are in far less satisfactory condition.

There were again specific reasons for further advance for such stocks as International Harvester, the coppers and American Smelting. Semi-official statements indicate that Harvester's dividend will soon be announced, and the copper industry continues to work in the direction of higher prices for the metal. Respecting Smelter and affiliated shares a statement attributed to the attorney-general at Washington that no anti-trust proceedings are contemplated was probably a favorable influence.

Paris Buys Americans. Increased strength in American Telephone and Telegraph was concurrent with reports of a demand for the stock in Paris, where it is listed on the bourse. Apropos of this, it was rumored that arrangements to place Smelter stocks on the Paris market are again under way. The strength of the Harriman was naturally associated with an attempt to report a decline in the stock market.

News from abroad was not of that nature that makes for higher prices. London reported a decline in the price of wheat, and the market was not so strong as it was in the morning. The Bank of France increased its discounts by over $5,000,000 with a loss of about $400,000 gold.

WALL-STREET POINTERS. Bank of England rate unchanged. Attorney-General Wilkerson finds no evidence of Smelter trust. President Taft assures Cuban minister that intervention is not planned.
