FUNERAL OF HARRIMAN IS MARKED BY PRIVACY AND EXTREME SIMPLICITY

Few Persons Outside of Those Connected With the Estate Admitted to Any Participation or Sight of the Obsequies.

ARDEN, N.Y., Sept. 12.—Through the quiet aisles of the Hampden Woodlawn cemetery the body of Edward H. Harriman was carried to-day from the great house he never lived to see finished and laid in its resting place on the Arden hillside. The funeral was held at the great house, New York to pay the last tribute, but the most prominent part in the funeral ceremonies was taken by the men who knew him best as a country squire, master of the great estate which covers 43,000 acres of hill and valley in this, the most rugged part of Orange County.

His general superintendent, his master carpenter, his master mason and the managers and assistant managers of his farms, his farm, and his brooding stables, were the men who bore his coffin, and the services were led by his own chaplain.

The funeral was private and only friends of the family who had received invitations from Mrs. Harriman were admitted. Those present included: Hon. B. B. Odell, Jr., and wife; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Perkins, Maxwell Elliott, Jas. Stillman, Jacob H. Echiff, F. D. Underwood, W. S. Thorne and Robert S. Lovett.

The first service was held in the chapel at 10 a.m. by the Rev. J. Holmes McQuinn, minister of the Presbyterian church at Arden. The Harriman family pews were left vacant.

At 11 o'clock came a public memorial service at St. John's church, the funeral home of the estate and parishioners of the church. The Harriman family pews were left vacant.

Elaborate precautions were taken to preserve the privacy of the afternoon service. Several scores of employees, armed with rifles and machine guns, from Tuxedo, guarded all roads over which the funeral procession passed from the house to the church and kept watch at intervals of twenty yards around the patch of woods, which includes the Harriman burial plot.

Eight carriages followed the hearse from Arden House. The first, a large station wagon, carried Mrs. Harriman with her two unmarried daughters, Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Walter Averill, and her son, Walter Averill, and her daughter, Mrs. G. G. Gery, the married daughter, drove in the next carriage. Mrs. Gery came to the church earlier to superintend arrangements. The other carriages brought eight of the oldest and most trusted family servants, some of whom have been in the Harriman employ since the family came to Arden twenty years ago.

There were given seats in the church nearer their dead master's coffin than any of the millionaires and captains of industry from New York and the valley and with one bunch of crimson roses on top, were carried to the altar by eight bearers clad in black and wearing black skull caps. The regular funeral service of the Episcopal Church was conducted by Dr. McQuinn, assisted by the Rev. G. Nelson, archdeacon of the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist, New York, and the choir of Grace Church, New York, sang "Abide With Me."

"There is a Land of Pure Delight," Mr. Harriman's favorite hymn, "Buried in Secular Office." The service lasted but twenty minutes. Then the stalwart bearers carried the casket to the burial plot 100 yards up the road.

Mr. Harriman lies in a little clearing not ten feet from the roadway. His grave, hewn from the rock of the steep hillside, will always be fragrant with the balsam and hemlock that tend it on every side except that toward the road. The facts of the funeral were not to be divulged to the public until the burial ground for only fifteen or twenty minutes, the mourners, and the two officiating clergymen. Others stood in the road outside and looked over the high stone wall. The surprised child, hidden from view, sang the hymns that accompanied the burial.

CHAMBERLAIN IN A BAD WAY Paralytic Stroke All But Robs Him of Speech, But Intellect is Keen.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A man who has been on a visit to Highbury gives some interesting, tho sad, particulars about the present condition of Joseph Chamberlain.

Physically, it is hopeless. A form of paralysis has so settled upon his frame that he cannot walk without assistance and he speaks with difficulty. Intellectually there is no falling off, nor is there any abatement in the interest taken by him in political events. He follows with the closest attention the debates in the house and is common on the budget bill and is looking forward with great interest to the forthcoming encounter between the prime minister and Mr. Balfour at Birmingham.

CANADIAN FARMERS ARE SIXTY MILLIONS RICHER

The Western Wheat Crop Alone Will Exceed Last Year's by 45,000,000 Bushels.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—A supplementary crop bulletin issued by the census and statistics, and branch shows that as compared with last year, Canada's crop yield shows a remarkable increase.

Of wheat, it is estimated that Canadian farmers will have for sale 158,000,000 bushels, over forty-three million bushels more than last year.

The oat crop is estimated at 35,125,000, an increase of over eight million bushels. There is also an increase of over seven million bushels in the production of barley.

The only province which does not show a substantial increase in the yield of wheat, oats and barley is Ontario. It is estimated that the wheat crop of the west will exceed last year's crop by forty-five million bushels. There is a big increase in the production of hay and clover.

The crop should be worth from fifty to sixty million dollars more to the Canadian farmers than that harvested in 1908.

Sir Edward Clouston's Estimate of Wealth.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Sir Edward Clouston, Bart., who returned to-day from the west, says that there will be at least one hundred millions of new money as the result of the crop, which he places at 160,000,000 to 215,000,000 bushels of wheat, and also a good deal of this will have to go back to the west for seedling purposes.

Left Provision House in Charge of Whitney, But Big Bo'sun Was Summarily Placed in Possession.

What is the Matter With Peary?

Whatever prestige Peary gained by his first announcement that he had reached the north pole, he has diminished by his subsequent sagas from his Labrador refuge.

Commander Peary is still in the vicinity of Battle Harbor, Labrador, where the Roosevelt is being refitted before her trip to Sydney, N.S.

Despatches from Paris indicate that France would not be averse to acting as mediator in the dispute, being peculiarly fitted for this task as an unprejudiced nation.

Dr. Cook told graciously the same story to one of his closest American friends just a week ago, before Commander Peary re-appeared on the scene.

Dr. Cook is now in the same manner that he has annexed the north pole and all contiguous territory in the name of the American Republic.

Newfoundland boatwain continue his watch.

"Now, I suppose the sailor will celebrate his triumphal entrance into New York harbor aboard Peary's ship, while Whitney is, where? Aboard his own yacht Jeanette, or perhaps he has not waited to wait for his own boat and has gone aboard Peary's ship."

Peary's Plans

1 SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 12.—Commander Peary in all probability will remain here two days and then go with his family to his home in Eagle Island, in Casco Bay, Maine, where he will rest for a day or two, before starting for Washington to make his official report to the government.

Commander Peary will have with him an incontestable proof, to support every statement he has made in connection with Dr. Cook's trip into the Arctic, said H. L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Club, to-day when Dr. Cook has made his statement over his own signature, the proof will be forthcoming. Quite agree with President Hubbard of the Peary Club that Dr. Cook might have learned weeks ago in Greenland of Commander Peary's discovery.

Commander Peary has planned to organize an expedition to search for the south pole, but Mr. Bridgman said to-night that Peary would not lead it.

29TH YEAR

MILLION MARK SET FOR FAIR OF 1910

This Year's Exhibition Broke All Records, There is Room for Many Changes in Character of the Big Show.

Attendance ... 1908, 1909, 1900. Income ... 1908, 1909, 1900. Gross receipts ... 1908, 1909, 1900. Expenses ... 1908, 1909, 1900. Surplus ... 1908, 1909, 1900.

Even though the Canadian National Exhibition of 1909 didn't reach the attendance of 800,000, it had the distinction of making a record of three quarters of a million people, and with its eastern car line entrance there is reason to believe that 1910 will see the attainment of the coveted million mark.

Let visitors to Toronto show that they are not merely nominal, but that they are actually contributing to the success of the exhibition, and taking no account of interest on debentures issued to pay for buildings and other improvements, nor does it consider depreciation of property nor maintenance of Exhibition Park. The buildings are valued at about $2,500,000, but the amount of debentures actually outstanding is $1,700,000. For the six preceding years the surplus received by the city amounted to $293,000.

Probably more than one-half of the 750,000 people who visited the exhibition came from outside points. If 400,000 visitors expended on an average $5 each in Toronto, that means that the exhibitors actually outstanding is $2,000,000. For the six preceding years the surplus received by the city amounted to $293,000.

Every department of this year's exhibition showed a marked improvement. The manufacturers and merchants in general, with exhibits on the grounds, reported booming business. The receipts of the Midway were $75,000, or $3000 more than last year, the exhibition's shares of $27,000 being $2300 larger. The cash gate receipts were $20,000 larger, and from concession privileges $2000.

No less than one and one-half millions of tickets, admission, grand stand and Midway, were issued by the exhibition, but so perfect is the system that Dr. Orr states every one has been accounted for.

A fitting climax was that of Saturday, when, with 57,000 people on the grounds, a gain of 10,000 for the day was established. The fair has been memorable for lack of serious accidents and general orderliness. Arrests have been few. Two, however, occurred Saturday night. William King, 224 Sumner-street, being charged with theft of cutlery from Nasmith's restaurant, and Clarence Wilson with purloining of the Midway.

The keen rivalry between the Royal Canadian Dragoons and R.C.M.A. in Kingston, broke down in a demonstration Saturday night, when the former were given the decision in the Balclutha melee event. There were shouts of dissent and cries of "dirty umpire."

MAROONED IN NIAGARA A LITTLE ABOVE FALLS

Quartet, for 13 Hours, Live in Agony of Doubt—Absence of Wind Saves Their Lives.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Sept. 12.—For thirteen hours, George Peiz and Harry Porter with two companions, were marooned in a small launch on a bar out in the river less than a mile from the point where the river breaks into the turbulent upper rapids.

The boat went aground about 7 o'clock last night, and it was not until 8 o'clock this morning that it was released and the party, half dead from cold and fright, taken off.

The absence of a wind was all that saved the boat, and its four passengers from being swept over the falls.

Just off the spot where the boat grounded the water is deep and the current very swift. There was a dense fog over the river all night, and even if the launch had lifted off the reef, they would have been in a worse plight than before, for it would have been a hard matter to make shore with the lights obscured and a margin of only a quarter of a mile between the boat and the rapids.

All thru the night the men kept calling for help, but their voices failed to reach any ear along the shore.

When John W. Erolerick, a riverman, went out early to-day and pulled the launch off the men were in a state of collapse.

Several years ago the Ella H. went aground on the same reef and pounded to pieces.

A Real Optimist (From the Philadelphia Inquirer.) At last we have an answer to the old, old question, "What is an optimist?" An optimist is one who believes everything said by both Cook and Peary.

SCHOMBERG HAS AN EARLY MORNING BLAZE
Elevator Burns But Prompt Action Keeps Fire From Spreading—County News.

SCHOMBERG, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—About 1:30 this morning fire broke out in the large frame elevator owned by Alf Mauer, on the south side of the Schomberg Railway, in the north end of the town and before the fire could be got under control, the building and contents were a total loss.

Two houses, one on either side of the elevator, were saved, tho it looked at one time as tho they would fall a prey to the flames. The elevator was 110 feet high and 40 x 40 feet, and was estimated to contain roughly about 1000 bushels of grain, consisting of barley, wheat and oats.

Compelled to Be a Village.
The Radial Railway has refused to carry freight to or from the city because Mayor McLaren ordered it to cease violating the agreement by operating freight cars on King-street.

Acting for Andrew Ross, a grain buyer, J. Harrison issues writs against the city and Constable Emerson for $10,000 damages for false arrest, assault, cutting, wounding, handcuffing and false imprisonment.

Pastor Russell's Sermon.
Thrust In Thy Sickle. Text: "Thrust In Thy Sickle, and Reap; For the Time is Come For Thee to Reap." (Revelation xiv, 15).

Intelligent people appear to reason upon every other subject except religion. Approach a man upon any matter of industry or social progress or political economy or finance and we find him reasonably clear to the general law of cause and effect, but when it comes to religion the same man refuses to recognize or follow such laws. To illustrate: It is a thousand religious men who are asked to give some general outline of the divine plan under which humanity is being dealt with by the Almighty. Hundreds and ninety-nine of them would look at you in blank astonishment as tho' it were absurd to suppose that God could connect His affairs along the lines of order, reason and common sense—cause and effect. On the contrary the Scriptures everywhere hold that our Creator is systematically conducting the affairs of earth and "working all things according to the counsel of His own will" (Ephesians 1, 11).

Peter divides the world's history into three great epochs, which our common version Bible designates as the "old world," the "middle world," and the "new world." The first epoch is the period of the world's history from the time of Adam to the time of Noah. The second epoch is the period from the time of Noah to the time of Christ. The third epoch is the period from the time of Christ to the present. The first epoch was a period of sin which, he tells us, were prevailed. And only eight persons, Noah and his family, were saved from the destruction of another great epoch or "world," which St. Peter calls, "The world that now is," and which St. Paul calls, "This present evil world" (1 Peter 1, 20). Jesus states, "My kingdom is not of this world (epoch)," while again He informs us that Satan is "the Prince of this world."

Amusements

"The Wolf."
Strong in conception, dramatic in execution and vitally interesting throughout is "The Wolf," as produced by Sam S. and Lee Shubert, and which will be the attraction at the Royal Alexandra Theatre this week. Eugene Walter has written the play in robust style. It is a story of the wonderful Hudson Bay country and of the primal, eternal struggle between men for the possession of a woman. Dark passion and pure sentiment are set in opposition, but there is nothing hackneyed. The men are not of the familiar stage type, nor are the scenes of a mechanical order. Mr. Walter tells an excellent story.

The father of Hilda McTavish is a Scotchman, whose narrowness of mind drives his wife into the world; the child, Hilda, being left behind. When McDonald, a handsome young engineer, appears he flatters the simple girl and engages old McTavish in a plot to lure Hilda the way her mother had gone. There crops up John Battiste, a French-Canadian with a streak of Ojibway from his mother. McDonald had left Jules' sister to die with her, but she recognizes him and bids his time. Battiste, his loyal retainer, crosses himself gently as he awaits that unless Jules kills McDonald he will be sworn that so does not act one.

Jules overhears the plotting of McTavish and McDonald in reference to the innocent Hilda. McDonald has been married and was a gay blade on the White Way. Jules, of course, loves Hilda. The crisis comes. The girl spurns the brutal grasp of the engineer. McTavish, enraged, declares he will crush her life out with his own hands. The French-Canadian intervenes, maddeningly, and the engineer attempts to draw his revolver, but Battiste has him covered with a shot gun in the cabin window. At this point the second act closes and one may imagine easily that the interest has increased all along.

Immoral as he is, McDonald is fearless and persistent. He takes to the path and comes upon Jules. He fires at him, but his shot does not go home. Then the two engage in the most realistic and fiercest hand-to-hand duel ever seen on any stage. Finally one is seen to drop lifeless from a stab wound. The other, who has just received the glowing face of Jules is seen by the house.

Keating-Macklem Wedding

A marriage which united two of Toronto's most prominent families took place at St. George's Church, John-street, on Saturday afternoon, when the provost of Trinity College celebrated the nuptials of his nephew, Francis Paget Keating, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Keating. The bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland Macklem, who have been well known in Toronto and Niagara for many years, and the bride's father was city engineer of Toronto before becoming manager of the Toronto Street Railway, which position he resigned to become a consulting engineer in partnership with Mr. Keating.

The church was lavishly decorated with palms and white flowers, and E. W. Phillips, organist of the church, played Wagnerian music throughout the ceremony at the request of the young couple, who are both deeply interested in music.

Mr. Keating gave away his daughter, who made a dainty little bride in her imported gown of soft white satin with beautiful old lace, the gift of her sister, Miss Jessie Keating. The bride wore a pendant of diamonds, sapphires and dark blue enamel, the gift of the bridegroom; the tulle veil was caught with a white ribbon. The bride's adult attendants included the Keesler of Ottawa, and Miss Maud Denison, were gowned alike in maize satin charmeuse with gold embroideries and large white ribbons. They carried gold baskets of white roses and wore gold chains with pearl and olive pendants. The gifts of the bridegroom included the tulle flower of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Macklem, was in a long empire frock of the same shade as the bridesmaid's, her bouquet and present from the bridegroom being the same. Mr. Douglas Macklem was his brother's best man and the ushers were: Mr. Campbell Becher, London, Ont., and Mr. Douglas Macklem, who each received a scroll pin from the bride.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home in Rosedale, where a marquee was erected on the lawn and an orchestra was in attendance, the long refreshment tables being decorated with white asters and ferns, and Provost Macklem proposing the health of the bride. Mrs. Keating was wearing a handsome gown of black satin and embroideries, with black tulle bonnet; Miss Keating looked extremely well in cream crepe de chine and small blue hat with white plume, an effective cloak of sapphire blue cloth and lace being worn by the bride. Later in the afternoon the bride and groom left for Niagara Falls and will sail this week to spend the winter on the Riviera. The presents, which were both numerous and costly, included a number of large cheques from the relatives and also two solid gold watches from the bride's mother and one from the bride's uncle, Mr. C. A. Keating of Texas; a silver coffee set from Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Macklem; two sapphire rings from friends of the bride; a quantity of antique lace; a magnificent copper gown; a silver tray from the bride's twin sister, Mrs. Garnet Denison, who is at present in India; some handsome silverware from the bride's mother, and a quantity of beautiful china and cutlery.

"The World" or epoch which ended at the flood—marked a great work. It was during that period of sixteen hundred and fifty-six years that God first tested Satan by permitting him to have an opportunity to lead the traitorous attitude of his heart in connection with our first parents. Desiring to establish himself as emperor of earth, separate and distinct from the Empire of Jehovah, Lucifer became Satan, God's Adversary, and has since continued in this position to this day. Our first parents, thru Satan's lie, were led into disobedience to God, which resulted in the death sentence on Adam and his race. Subsequently for centuries the holy angels were allowed to have intercourse with fallen men, with a view to their redemption. But the angels with God, not that God expected any such results, for He already foreknew that there could be no redemption for that race which had rebelled against Him. He had intended to send His Redeemer, whose sacrifice would purchase the world and whose reign as the King of Kings would save the world. He had intended to send His Redeemer, whose sacrifice would purchase the world and whose reign as the King of Kings would save the world. He had intended to send His Redeemer, whose sacrifice would purchase the world and whose reign as the King of Kings would save the world.

"King Dodo."
There is at least one of the many musical gems in that most delightful comedy opera, "King Dodo," which comes to the Princess Theatre this week, that every person in the audience will be either whistling or humming when the final curtain drops. It is "The Tale of a Bumble Bee," the lyrics of which are by Frank Pixley, and the music by Gustav Luders. The song is sung by the aptly named Annette and the deprecit old king.

"A bold bumble bee
Idly roaming o'er the sea,
Met a white clover blossom sweet with Mew.
He gave her a kiss,
And she thought it was amiss,
For he swore that he always would be true.
But he looked on that flower,
And the toy of an hour,
Which a kindly fate had thrown in his way.
And he thought she'd forget
That they had ever met,
But he promised he'd return some day."

"Madame X."
Every stitch of scenery in the immense production of "Madame X," which Henry W. Savage will offer at the Princess Theatre, Sept. 16, is an exact reproduction of that used in the original production in Paris. Mr. Savage's artistry is shown in the exact spirit of the scenes. The properties and costumes worn in the play were all brought from Paris. Geo. Marion, Mr. Savage's stage director, saw the production in Paris, as did Dorothy Donnelly, who is to appear here in the title role. Mr. Donnelly also visited some of the sanitariums and infirmaries and clinics in Paris in studying the disintegrating effects of the disease on the human face. The lyrics of "Madame X" is a story of a woman who has given up her life for the medical world, and a number of learned savants have forwarded their Robert Drouot and William Drouot are among the strong supporting company which Mr. Savage has secured.

Argonaut R.C. At Home
The fall regatta and at home of the Argonaut Rowing Club took place on Saturday afternoon at the club house, and was a great success. The races were most closely contested and proved most interesting to spectators and contestants alike. The floor, as usual, was perfect, as was the music and left the spectators desiring more. The music was not ideal, but did not spoil the enjoyment of a very pleasant afternoon and evening.

Among those present were: Misses Murray, Clouston, Bohme, Fulton, Malcolm, Mrs. Fellers, Johns, McNichol, Misses Dunning, King, Edna King, Fleming, Hand, McKay, Orr, Odie Orr, Lee, Miss Lewis, Orangeville, Messrs. "The Gingerbread Man."
A comic opera of delightful quality and score, is "The Gingerbread Man," which will be the offering at the Grand Theatre this week, with the original No. 1 company fresh from the theatres of the cities, where it has enjoyed unusual success in this, the third year of its production. The story is a simple one, but the piece is one of certain merit—first of all for its particularly beautiful music, which, by the way, has been composed by a man who has given us such useful compositions as "The Mocking Bird," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Sergeant Kitty," "Broadway to Tokyo" and "Comedy Thru the Rye." Mr. Sloane's music is not only tuneful, but it is written in a musician's style, and although it is a musician's catch of the ear, it has class which enables its composer to rank with the best that America produces. He has gotten to that point where he dominates with almost every author that he collaborates with, and frequently writes the lyrics for his measure, where the usual mode is that the lyrics are written first, and the music afterward. This is a rule in music, and it is a rule in the "Gingerbread Man" we find almost a perfect one. This may be accounted for from the fact that the music is written by a man who has given us such useful compositions as "The Mocking Bird," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Sergeant Kitty," "Broadway to Tokyo" and "Comedy Thru the Rye." Mr. Sloane's music is not only tuneful, but it is written in a musician's style, and although it is a musician's catch of the ear, it has class which enables its composer to rank with the best that America produces.

Mile Dacie.
Mile Dacie, the celebrated American dancer, is the headliner at Shea's Theatre this week. As the masked dancer, La Domino Rouge, she was a great hit in the past two seasons with the stellar feature of Ziegfeld's Police Show. She will be seen in her latest success, "The Love of an Artist."

While brilliant in her dances, and the very poetry of motion, it is the actress in pantomime—the most difficult branch of stage art—that Mile Dacie particularly shines in this new offering. She makes the motions of Nana, the flower girl, as varying as they might be in real life, and she has the man she loves; with all the graceful shades of meaning necessary to support the part. The production may easily be called a round of merriment, offering in conjunction with a great many novelty features and spectacular vaudeville stellar attractions, the two highly amusing burlettas: "The Major and the Judge" and "The Man from Tiffany."

"The Great Golden Troupe," the world's most marvelous eccentric dancers, are appearing at the Grand Theatre. The chorus comprises an over-abundance of handsome young women, who are seen at their best and greatest advantage in the gorgeous costumes with which their shapely forms are bedecked.

The cast supporting Billy W. Watson includes Frank Williamson, Joe Buckley, Lou Wilford George Garder, Walter Sommers, Tommy Brooks, Murray Simon, Florence Belmont, Margie Austin, Nellie Watson, Ada Gilbert and Marion Marshall.

At the Star.
The name of Wm. B. Watson at the head of a burlesque company is a trade mark, and guarantee of quality. "Billy" Watson is undoubtedly the foremost and funniest comedian on the burlesque stage to-day, and he has surrounded himself with a really top-notch company of talented artists, and thirty beautiful show girls. Mr. Watson and his big company open a week's engagement at the Star Theatre to-night. A thoroughly enjoyable show is assured. Besides an olio of grand vaudeville, there will be two magnificent burlesques, from the pen of Mr. Watson himself, entitled "In Beautiful Clover" and "The Bashful Venus." Both overflowing with wholesome merit, sensational surprises and tuneful music, while the costumes are a revelation for the burlesque stage. This company has made a tremendous hit in every city it has appeared in, and if you want three hours of solid fun, see "Billy" Watson and his famous "Bashful Venus" at the Star Theatre all this week.

McCormack Winner Foster Marathon Promising Runner

The Canadian National Exhibition field day was a huge success in every way. Well attended, an excellent track, and well managed.

The big event was the Foster Marathon, a race that ought to prove a good drawing card in future years. The chief prize is the cup presented by Ald. Foster.

A fifteen-mile race on a track seemed to prove too much for some of the better-known runners. Pearce quit at ten miles with a stitch in his side.

Gala Day Over Nets At Toronto Courts

Arthurs Wins Final

Great weather and a galaxy of tennis cracks of the first water made Saturday afternoon at the Toronto Club courts a gala day for lovers of tennis.

The open event for men to settle the championship of Ontario was completed to the challenge round, and Mr. Arthurs, veteran of many tournaments, will meet Mr. Robert Baird, last year's champion, for the title. Mr. Arthurs defeated Mr. Dingman in the final for this privilege in a good four-set match, the younger player giving his second opponent a good battle.

The final of the ladies' open was the feature match of the day. Mrs. Hannam and Miss Fairbairn played for the right to enter the challenge round with Miss Moyes, and although the match went to Mrs. Hannam in straight sets, her young opponent put up a great battle, and lost only because she met one of the greatest living exponents of the game among women. The match between Mrs. Hannam and Mr. Meldrum v. Miss Summerhayes and Mr. Spenser was good also. Mrs. Hannam and Meldrum won in straight sets, and it's a good prediction that few pairs will be able to cope with this combination. Today's game at 2 p.m. between Mrs. Hannam and Miss Andrus will certainly draw a large gallery. Saturday's results:

Ladies' singles—Mrs. Hannam defeated Miss Fairbairn, 6-3, 6-3. Men's open—Arthurs defeated Dingman (final), 6-3, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1. Novice—MacKlem defeated Weber, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

UPPER ONTARIO AND ITS RESOURCES.

If any one lesson more than another has been emphasized in the course of the legislative tour in Upper Ontario it is the value of that country agriculturally and as a forest region.

There is no further excuse for Ontario farmers and Ontario farmers' sons leaving their own province to build up others because they cannot find prosperous conditions at home. The ease with which the prairie may be brought under cultivation is frequently urged, but the timber of the clay belt, which has to be cleared, furnishes a valuable asset. One man made $5000 out of his first winter's work on his homestead. But the vast heritage of the forests of the north is being wasted by neglect and the devastations of fire. The neglect is not wholly intentional, for it is the system which is the culpable cause of the failure of the fire-ranging attempts of the government. Certainly not less than $1,000,000 worth of lumber has been destroyed by fire this year.

Who would any private interest suffer such losses annually and make no effective effort at prevention. Hon. Frank Cochrane is not to blame for the patronage system that exists in the appointment of fire-rangers. No efficient service can be obtained by such a method. But the minister of lands, forests and mines has had his hands more than full for the last few years, and where he has given his undivided attention there has been no complaint. Now, however, the time has arrived when this frightful yearly fire loss must be dealt with. If satisfactory results cannot be attained by the present method then the matter should be placed in the hands of a non-political commission which could work with a free hand for results, as in the case of the T. & N. O. Railway, or the hydro-electric power affairs. If this cannot be done it would be better to sell the timber than allow it to burn down.

The permanent value of the new region is in its farm areas. In the clay belt 20,000,000 acres are ready for the ax and the plow. Fifty per cent. of the Montreal River district is said to be splendid farming land. The exhibits of farm produce at Enghelart and Cochrane were astonishing. After a few months' work at Cochrane, particularly, the results were amazing. All kinds of vegetables and roots grow to perfection. Potatoes mature in six weeks from planting, and are of the choicest description. Wheat and other cereals are of the best quality and heavy yield. Sweet corn, timothy, clover five feet high, and clover is rich and rank. The cattle shown in Enghelart were of the highest class and nearly all registered stock. A remark that it would be necessary to stall for six months in the year was met by a west county farmer who said they had to feed for six months in Old Ontario as well for dairy purposes.

Be the mines of Upper Ontario what they may, and general agreement appears to concede them a unique position in the silver areas of the world, the farms and forests are an inexhaustible and imperishable treasure to those who will use them.

THE NORTH POLE CONTROVERSY

To all appearance there is going to be a bitter and reprehensible quarrel between the rival explorers, who are contesting the honor of priority in reaching the North Pole. Already serious charges and counter charges have been made, involving grave consequences to the character of one or other of them or possibly both. As usual each has his coterie of champions whose interference will naturally widen the area of strife, and render fair judgment still more difficult on the merits of the opposing claims. The emerging conditions will not be creditable to those who are engaged in adding fuel to the growing flame. Controversies of this nature have always a tendency to become more and more personal, and to become less and less amenable to reasonable argument. Public opinion in the United States should be influenced to hold itself in abeyance until full information is available, and the voice of those who are qualified to weigh the evidence can be heard.

Certainly it would be an enormous pity if the fame of the dramatic achievement is to be tarnished by the letting loose of a flood of abuse, and ill-informed and ill-tempered recrimination. For this, Commander Peary's hasty accusation is immediately responsible, and Dr. Cook's reticence in the face of unusual provocation has undoubtedly created sympathy for him even in quarters originally inclined to scepticism. Even if the commander possesses the conclusive proof he indicates, that should rather have withheld him from a denunciation which meantime rests entirely on his own unsupported affirmation. Silence would not have damaged his case, and the course he adopted has turned what should have been a national welcome to both claimants into a furious demonstration by each of the sets of partisans. Thus the glory of the achievement cannot be so tarnished, whatever be the final arbitration. If, indeed, the honor does not remain for ever in doubt, and both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary left under an enduring cloud.

LORD ROSEBERY'S POSITION. Lord Rosebery's attack on Mr. Lloyd George's budget is generally and correctly taken as involving his secession from the British Liberal party. That he has been gradually detaching himself from the advanced progress to which the present government has officially committed itself has long been apparent, but naturally the final step is the one that arrests public attention. As to his own immediate future, he may either continue to occupy the independent position he has been found of asserting, or formally enter the Unionist ranks. The former course will perhaps appeal to him with greatest force, according as it does both with his own disposition, and the liberty of free comment a cross bench man admittedly enjoys.

While the ex-premier's emphatic repudiation of the budget may stiffen the aggressive section of the peers, it will not of itself incline the responsible leaders of the Unionist opposition to favor the absolute rejection of the bill. It may, however, indirectly turn the balance by increasing the pressure upon them to adopt that course. His acceptance of tariff reform, if it be the only alternative, has not been unexpected. Years ago he declared himself to have an open mind on the fiscal question and repudiated the notion that free trade doctrines were as immutable as the moral law. By the end of the month the houses of lords will have the budget proposals before them. If they resolve to reject them, the next question will be—what will the government do? Recent reports indicate that the result of the campaign in the country has added to the number of those who favor an immediate appeal to the electors. But there are political reasons which may lead the government to follow one or other of the constitutional options which lie within their power.

A CRUEL PRACTICE.

Editor World: My attention has been drawn to a form of cruelty which in a number of instances, is simply due to neglect. In other cases it is a willful cruelty, I refer to the leaving of cats either in the city homes, where they are going to the resorts, or at the summer cottages, when returning home in the fall. Last year a lady, out of sheer pity, collected at Hamilton's Point about a dozen cats and kittens thus abandoned.

It is, of course, a very difficult matter to bring people into court on this account, but it ought not to be very difficult for these people to see that the practice is cruel, and the animals ought to be prevented. If they will bring their cats into the city to 74-1-2 St. Patrick-street they can have them destroyed very painlessly. The animals ought not to be abandoned to starve to death, as they must, if their food providers have left them to face the cold and hunger of the fall and early winter months.

SOUTH AFRICAN HEROES TO BE HONORED BY SHAFI

Lieutenant-Governor Gibson Lays Corner Stone of Public Memorial.

Lord Charles Bessford, who was to have laid the foundation stone of the South African memorial and University-avenue on Saturday afternoon, was detained on his northern trip, and the ceremony was performed in his stead by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Gibson. Col. Mason received a telegram from W. K. George, who was with Lord Bessford, in the north, announcing that they had just reached Timagami Station; that owing to the rain they had been unable to make their way through the woods in time to reach the city for the ceremony, which Lord Charles Bessford very much regretted.

Thousands of citizens assembled to pay homage to the valor of the Toronto contingent, who lost their lives in upholding the honor of empire in South Africa. The memorial, presided of the South African Memorial Association, presided. Among the prominent military officers present were: Lieut.-Gen. Cotton, Col. Galloway, D.A.G.; Major Emley, Col. Hall, Col. Layton, Major Laybourn, Col. W. C. Macdonald, Major Goodwin, Col. Command; Capt. George, acting adjutant; Lieut.-Col. Mason, Capt. Hunter, Grenadiers; Lieut. Kennedy, Q.O.R.; Capt. Wainwright, P.I.S.; Lieut. Darling, 4th; Major Barker, S. A. V.; Major Collins, Army and Navy Veterans' Association, Capt. Tom Wallace, in the rank of the veterans. The citizens on the platform included Hon. J. M. Gibson and party, Mayor Oliver, Hon. G. W. Ross, Edmund Bristol, E. M. Chubb, J. J. Hedley, R. Y. Ellis, F. G. Ellis, W. S. Alward, sculptor; Castell Hopkins, D. G. Sturrock, Fred Wyld, S. Dick Lauder, Controller of the Public Works; Lieut.-Col. Mason, chairman, expressed regret that Lord Bessford was unable to attend. His engagement to be present, the monument will be 70 feet in height. Three figures at the base will represent Canada's sons going forth to war.

WORTHY TRIBUTE.

Mayor Oliver said that when finished the monument would be a worthy tribute to the devotion of those who at the moment the empire faced disaster answered the call by laying down their lives in South Africa to uphold the cause of justice and liberty.

Edmund Bristol, K.C., in whose constituency the monument is situated, was the next speaker. He reviewed the events leading up to the part of the Canadian contingent in the defeat of Cronje on Maluba Day, 1900, and declared that they had done more to unite the British Empire and establish the spirit of unity and imperialism which made the empire what the world has ever seen, than any group this country has produced.

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, expressed his willingness to adequately take the place of Lord Charles Bessford. He, however, very willingly consented to lay the foundation stone of the monument. He was accompanied by the Hon. G. W. Ross, secretary of the Ontario Humane Society, Toronto, Sept. 10, 1909.

CHANCES OF RECOVERY EQUAL.

"We cannot say whether he will recover or not," said Dr. W. S. Verrill, resident surgeon of the Toronto Orthopedic Hospital, last night, when speaking of Harry Smith, the taxicab driver who was run down by Edgar Lennox Thursday last. "The chances are about equal," said the doctor.

HE IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

"He is still unconscious. His general condition is not as good to-night as it was this morning."

THE IMPERIAL OUTCOME.

Remarkable had been the imperial outcome of the South African campaign. First of all it had proclaimed the unity of the empire. The next great result was that an imperial organization of the land forces of the empire had been practically accomplished. The same principle of imperial organization was being applied to the defence of the empire by sea. Should the empire again be threatened its defence by sea would be equally ready for prosecution. The British general of the South African campaign, and the skill and courage the greatest of recorded history.

Mining Market Has Easier Tone And Price Changes Are Small

Professional Pressure Against the Active Shares Has Not Met With Much Success.

World Office, Saturday Evening, Sept. 11.

There was nothing in the transactions on the local exchanges for Cobalt securities during the last few days which could in any way be construed as indicating any specific change in the tendency of the market. The earlier trend has accompanied the prevalent apathy, and while the declines which have been small in the majority of cases, those have also demonstrated that the market was seeking lower levels, rather than that a return of buoyancy is in immediate sight.

Trading was about on a par with that of the last few weeks. With the exception of one or two of the listed issues which have been picked out by traders as specialties at certain periods, the Cobalts have been neglected. The public have been conspicuously absent from the market recently and this has necessitated inside support on occasions. That the declines have not extended to even greater bounds and investment fact as well as the lack of large liquidating orders, which are usually in evidence on any decline of consequence.

It was generally expected, the announcement a week ago to the effect that the Silver Leaf control had passed to Crown Reserves interests resulted in a flurry in the stock of the former company. Believing that under the new management the property would receive more thorough development work many local mining brokers bought these shares in large blocks at a wide range of prices and later took advantage of the fact as well as quotations to take their profits. The rise was a short lived one, however, the shares losing most of their gain before the market was disposed of. Transactions in Silver Leaf stock represented by far the bulk of the week's trading, and considering the large amount of stock thrown on the market, the shares held remarkably well. There is considerable speculation among brokerage and investment circles at the present time as to the developments which are likely to ensue now that the Crown Reserves have control, while the frequency in the current quotations from day to day shows that the market is at a loss to justify the high prices which appear to have been paid by the latter concern.

Trading in the other listed Cobalt shares has been at lower prices, however, the Beaver, Chambers, Ferland, Cobalt Central, Little Nipissing, Nova Scotia, Oriskany, Peterson Lake, Silver Star, Silver Leaf and some others responded with declines of over a point during the week, but the weakness displayed has been gradual rather than a sudden movement toward lower levels. Considerable of the trading in these issues has represented the short selling of traders and that a further decline was not experienced in view of the fact that the buying orders were generally sufficient to absorb any large offerings without any material change in quotations.

The easier tone has been also apparent in the higher priced stocks, where the large subjects of considerable profit-taking and a decline was only natural. Little comment has been heard regarding the retreat in the eight dollar mark, there is general belief fully convinced that as soon as the market regains its former buoyancy, a quick upturn will be in order for these shares.

Nipissing and Kerr Lake have lost much of their recent gains, but the lower prices are not taken as indicating any deterioration in the real values, being merely the result of a dragging tendency through the market.

SHAREHOLDERS SHOULD ACT FOR THEMSELVES

Litigations Within Mining Companies Retard Development and Lead to Winding Up.

"Litigation, due to the disagreements of shareholders," said a prominent Cobalt editor in The World Saturday, "has caused the death of many promising mining propositions. In a joint stock affair it is easy for a few shareholders to make accusations and foment trouble. It is hard for these same people to take a reasonable view in the interest of all the shareholders. It is sad but true that many pickers get into Cobalt mining companies."

These remarks arose in a discussion of a recent letter relative to the Peterson Lake Mining Company. The "Cobalt" is a Peterson Lake shareholder, but no giver-up of proxies. He said that it was asserted an engineer had found this and that on the property. "Well, the engineer may be right or wrong. It is certain he is not a human. When he asserts there is no title he assumes the role of a lawyer. Perhaps he is both engineer and lawyer. But even that does not make him infallible. Even lawyers are sometimes fallible."

He was quite willing to admit that most of the checking of ore was left to Nova Scotia officials. This was due to a desire to economize; and if there was any misapprehension as to exact values, it could be easily removed by courteous solicitation. The whole matter, in his opinion, arose over the proper construction to be placed on certain clauses of the Peterson Lake lease to the Nova Scotia, and the Nova Scotia people had no objection to the proper construing of that document. Did it need a two years' lawsuit, with development on the property shut down, to decide that point?

What the auditor had been supposed to find was denied emphatically by The World's informant. The fact that 1,000,000 shares had been got for $250,000 was nothing unusual in Cobalt ventures. Mind you, the properties had to be paid for. Some one had exhibited large generosity in that he had not taken the whole capital stock for the $250,000 advanced. Anyone acquainted with company organization would find nothing unusual in this matter. "As to being paid for his services," said this Cobalt, "Mr. Jacobs never claimed to be giving his services free. He drew his salary at a rate agreed on by the directors of the Peterson Lake Co. Mr. Steindler had also been voted a salary. He drew it for six months, then voluntarily refused to take it, tho doing much work for the company."

In general, The World's informant was of the opinion that the man who undertook to organize, finance and develop a Cobalt property were entitled to a fair return for their money. As laymen, in their prosecution of the business of the mining company, they might do things that would not be ac-

CORNER STONE IS LAID OF ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

Archbishop McEvay Performs Impressive Ceremony in Presence of Four Thousand Spectators.

Four thousand persons attended the laying of the corner stone of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, Gladstone-avenue, on Sunday afternoon. His Grace Archbishop McEvay officiated.

The paean of supplicated clergy and choir and ornate ritual was of a most inspiring character. The event will long be memorable in the historic records of the diocese.

The church will be of solid stone of French Romanesque architecture, and have a seating capacity for 800. A thousand members and friends of the congregation had seats on the temporary floor of the auditorium. The building was surrounded by three times that number.

Rev. Father Walsh acted as deacon, and Rev. Father Coyne as sub-deacon. The attending clergy included Monsignor McCann, Rev. Father Roche, president St. Michael's College; Dr. Burke, president Catholic Extension Society; Rev. Dr. Kidd, secretary to the archbishop; Rev. Father Hand, St. Paul's Church; Rev. Father McNeill, St. Francis' Church; Rev. Father Gallagher, Toronto Junction, and Rev. Father McGrath, St. Anthony's Church.

The archbishop expressed his great pleasure in accepting the invitation to lay the corner stone. It was an evidence of the splendid spirit of loyalty to the church and to the best interests of the community. He congratulated all who were directly or indirectly connected with the erection of the handsome church, and Rev. Father McGrath upon the magnificent field of usefulness the work in the parish afforded him.

Rev. Dr. Peery delivered an eloquent sermon on the benefits and privileges of the means of grace. His text was, "This is the gate of heaven." Psalm lxxxviii.

The offertory totaled $1600.

NOT HELD AS COLLATERAL.

The local branch of the Bank of Ottawa, thru their solicitor, Frank E. Hodgins, K. C., denies that a statement made in The World of Sept. 9 last, that "Cobalt Development stock was held as collateral for a loan" was correct.

Mr. Hodgins writes that his clients inform him that the statement is absolutely false, and The World takes this opportunity of retracting what was apparently a false rumor.

ACCOUNTANTS' STATEMENT

After examination of the Books and Accounts of the F. N. Burt Company, Limited, The Morton Company, Limited, the Merchants' Counter Check Book Co., Limited, and the Canadian business of the Carter-Crume Co., Limited, we hereby certify that the combined profits for the years 1906, 1907 and 1908 are as follows:—
Year ending December 31st, 1905: $5,114.77
1906: $2,646.82
1907: $122,690.19
1908: $48,390.79

Of the above amounts, which total $238,846.57, the net profits of the Burt Company for the four years were $282,447.94, and of the Check Book business $56,398.63.

All expenditures in connection with maintenance and repairs of the property have been charged against profits, and we are of the opinion that ample amounts have been annually written off for depreciation, in addition to the outlays required to keep the works in good condition.

SOLICITORS' OPINION

We have had charge of the formation, under the laws of the Province of Ontario, of the F. N. Burt Company, Limited, and certify that both the Preference and Common shares have been validly issued as fully paid shares, the Preference Shares being preferred as to both assets and cumulative dividend of 7% per annum, and carrying the right to the holder to exchange the same at any time, share for share, for Common Stock.

Construction Gang of Transmission Line Contractors Were Driven Off Farm.

SMITHVILLE, Ont., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—That the agitators against the Hydro-Electric Power Commission...

Ell Lane is a farmer who signed an agreement with the agents of the commission to allow the construction of two towers on his property.

Lane appeared, armed with a pitchfork and supported by his brothers, armed with shovels and forks, forbade the gang working and proceeded to drive them from the property.

The incident is most regrettable, inasmuch as the commission has been treating the farmers with the utmost consideration to avoid disagreements.

GERMAN PAPER PROTESTS

Says Lord Northcliffe is Trying to Stir Up Trouble.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.—Under the heading, "A Man Who Wants to Make Discord," Der Nordwesten, the oldest German weekly newspaper in Western Canada, makes reference to Lord Northcliffe, who in his Winnipeg utterances...

Der Nordwesten states that Lord Northcliffe insulted fact when he stated that Germany desired war with France as it was France that declared war on Germany.

The lord is endeavoring to bring about a hostile feeling on the part of Canadians against the Germans, by feeling such as has never before existed in Canada.

But we will not have this policy imported into Canada, even if the agitator is a lord and multi-millionaire. We Germans living in Canada consider ourselves just as other foreigners, and as good as good as the Canadians as those Englishmen sent over from the old country.

There's a method in this game, which is a game no longer childish but bordering on the serious. Evidently Northcliffe, Herford and others have been sent over to Canada to assist in the creation of a much stronger British fleet to which Canada shall contribute much more than can be in the interests of our country and in the interests of our means.
