13 KILLED IN NEW JERSEY RAIL WRECK

PULLMANS ARE TELESCOPED IN REAR-END CRASH

Scores Injured In Fatal Accident In Early Morn

FOG RESPONSIBLE

Many Buried In Wreckage And Toll May Reach Twenty Dead

PLAINSBORO, N. J., Nov. 12.—Thirteen persons were killed early today, when a St. Louis express train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, bound for New York, telescoped another Pennsylvania train, from Washington, also bound for New York. Seven bodies have been recovered from wreckage of the two rear cars of the Washington train. Two more bodies are still in the wreckage. The bodies of the dead were sent by train to New Brunswick and Trenton.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12.—Ten or 12 persons were reported killed and several injured today, when the Pennsylvania passenger train No. 6, from St. Louis to New York, telescoped the two rear cars of train No. 166, Washington to Trenton. A copy of the Washington train, both trains were proceeding in a heavy fog. The rear car, a Pullman, carried 19 passengers. Victims carried from the wreckage were rushed to hospitals in New Brunswick and Trenton. A copy of relief workers, doctors and nurses from St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, went to the scene in a special train. Thomas W. of Lynn, Mass., said to be a brakeman on train No. 166, received a broken neck. He was taken to Frank Herzig, 25, of Baltimore, sent to Trenton with injuries about neck and back.

CARS TELESCOPED

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Pennsylvania express No. 6, running from St. Louis to this city, crashed into the rear of the Pennsylvania express No. 166, en route from Washington to New York, shortly before 6 o'clock this morning, near Plainsboro, N. J. The two rear cars of the Washington train were telescoped, several passengers being killed and a score injured.

Three persons are known to be dead, and other dead are reported to be pinned under the wreckage. Dr. A. W. Belting, Trenton, N. J., reported that he believed that the dead list would reach at least eight or 10 and that 25 passengers were injured. Physicians and nurses were sent from Trenton and New Brunswick to the scene of the wreck, and working crews were dispatched to the accident, which occurred in a heavy fog. The engine of the train from St. Louis, colliding with the rear Pullman car of the Washington train, pushed the steel sleeper to telescope the Pullman ahead.

Two Pullmans were derailed, and the force of the collision caused some of the upper berths to fall in, pinning sleeping passengers in the wreckage. The accident occurred two miles from the nearest telephone, but those living near the wreck hurried to render every aid possible, while messages were relayed to the nearest towns. Wrecking crews found great difficulty in reaching the dead and injured. Acetylene torches were employed to burn away the steel wreckage. Fortunately the debris did not ignite. As fast as the injured were removed from the wreckage, they were taken to hospitals at New Brunswick, and Trenton.

MAY REACH TWENTY

Trenton from the scene, expressed the opinion that the death list might reach 20. One of the first bodies taken from the wreck, was that of J. A. Porter, of Philadelphia.

Price Reduced In Wall St. Feature

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—With the stock market greatly strengthened by its recent reaction, prices early today bounded upward almost as rapidly as they fell earlier in the week. Expectations of a large extra dividend for General Motors and the announcement of a rush of buying orders, carrying it up more than six points; Dupont soared almost 25 points to a record high at 271; Chrysler rallied 10 points, and U. S. Steel headed a strong upward movement in other pivotal industrial.

PLOT FRUSTRATED

LONDON, Nov. 12.—What is alleged to have been a plot to enthronize the former German Prince as King of East Prussia has been frustrated, according to a despatch, by the arrest at Wattenstein of 20 Monarchist youths and the seizure of a quantity of arms.

Numerous reports of liquor coming into this city from Havana have been received by the authorities.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 12.—Despite the fact that Luther I. BOSTON PEACE PARADE LEADS TO OUTBREAK

Veterans Surround Commons Meeting and Hurl Jeers and Cat Calls at Speakers—Call Parade Unforgettable Insult to Living and Dead Soldiers.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 12.—This city's Armistice Day parade yesterday led to a disturbance on the historic commons, where over 500 members of the American Legion and other veteran bodies attempted to disrupt a meeting of the leaders of the "Parade for Peace" held earlier in the day. Circumvented by the police, the veterans charged up a nearby slope to a German howitzer, captured by the Yankee division in the Argonne, where they held their own meeting and adopted resolutions branding the parade as an "unforgettable insult," and those in charge of it as "peace at any price fanatics."

Several Houses In Town Catch But Fire Department Prevents Spread

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES-STAR. HARTLAND, Nov. 12.—Fire broke out this morning at 2 o'clock in the potato warehouse and dwelling on the east side of the tracks opposite the C. P. R. station. The fire department answered promptly, and the fire, which caused about $40,000 damage, was under control by 4 o'clock. The fire was first noticed shortly after 2 p'clock in the southern part of the warehouses. This section of the warehouses is occupied by Hatfield & Co. and C. E. Rideout. The fire quickly spread through the sheds and the whole building was soon a mass of flame. The western end of the building was occupied upstairs by two families as a dwelling. One family lost almost all their furniture. The fire department of the town did wonderful work stopping the fire about 20 feet from the extreme end of the North house.

GERMANY AGREES TO DISARM FURTHER

Note Reported Evincing Real Effort at Observing Arms Reduction

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Nov. 11.—Germany's reply to the Council of Ambassadors on the subject of disarmament was handled Foreign Minister Briand by von Hoensch this evening. It is understood that the document shows a real effort on the part of Germany to observe disarmament and an earnest effort to fall into the spirit of the Locarno agreements. It is felt in Paris that the note gives the Ambassadors' Council satisfactory assurances that the provisions of the disarmament clauses of the Treaty of Versailles has been fulfilled and it is expected that the evacuation of the Rhine area will be ordered, beginning Dec. 1.

Woman Excels Man In Handling Details

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Women are better at detail than men. But men are better at organizing. These are conclusions arrived at by F. S. Martin, vice-president of the British Historical Association after a life-time study of the difference in mental characteristics between men and women. "I am not a feminist," said Martin in a talk before the National Union of Women Teachers. "I believe there is a substantial difference between the working of the male and the female mind. The male mind is a more organizing mind; the female mind is far more acute in appreciating an individual fact. Women are far better at details; their likes and dislikes are much stronger; but I do think as we now know them, the male mind is more organizing and builds things as a whole."

Galsworthy Picks Greatest Headline

LONDON, Nov. 12.—John Galsworthy has picked his choice of the greatest American newspaper headline. Lecturing on "Expression" before a London audience, the famous novelist said that, for better or worse, the future of English as a living thing was in the hands of the newspaper writers, and he cited, as the most extraordinary example he had ever seen of what they could do, the headline in an American newspaper when Robert Bridges, the English Poet Laureate, refused to be interviewed in New York. The headline said: King's Canary Won't Chirp.

Bootleggers Use Ape Lookout For Raiders

MONSIEUR, Pa., Nov. 12.—Use of a monkey as an "official lookout" of an impending raid of prohibition officers is the latest novelty adopted in this section. Arising at the stable which housed the still, police found it occupied, but secured more than 1,000 gallons of liquor, three automobiles, license, equipment, mash, sugar and alcohol.

Cowper, editor of the Saturday Tribune, charged with complicity in the abduction of Wong Fong Sing, was found not guilty by a jury in the Assize Court, presided over by Mr. Justice D. J. When the verdict was announced Mr. Justice Macdonald turned to the jury and said: "I must charge this jury that you have failed in your oath. There was only one verdict to return. You have deliberately refused to accept my charge to you and you are discharged." Before the court discharged the jury, C. W. Craig, K. C., Crown prosecutor, asked the court to refuse to accept the verdict. "There was only one verdict to return," declared Crown counsel. The court, however, after criticizing the jury, discharged that body.

LIVELY SALE OF DUMBELLS TICKETS

Line-up at Imperial Theatre When Box Office Opened This Morning.

There was another line-up in front of the Imperial this morning, but this time it was for Dumbells tickets, the box office sale having commenced at 10 o'clock. With the small order business done prior to this morning and the forenoon's quite heavy booking, both nights of Dumbells are quite well sold up, but not so fully that choice seats cannot be had yet. The Imperial is a pretty big theatre and it takes a lot of box-office raiding to stagger its capacity. Word from Montreal through commercial travelers and others is to the effect that the Plunkett show playing this week at His Majesty's is a wondrous success. Box office open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Work of Year Is Reviewed and Officers Are Elected

Much Accomplished, Summary of Reports—Junior Organizations Also Meet

OTHER MEETINGS

Church of the Good Shepherd Senior Branch of the W. A., yesterday, gratifying reports were received and the launching of the forward movement for increased membership was reported.

The Junior W. A. of St. Jude's and the Little Helpers Branch of St. George's also held successful annual meetings.

Mrs. W. L. Fenton presided at the St. Jude's meeting. Mrs. J. H. A. Holmes gave the opening address. The treasurer's report showed $510.62 receipts, including $97.16 from mite boxes.

ENROLLMENT 73. The enrollment of the year just ended was 73 and Dorcas work included the completion of an outfit for an Indian boy. In the coming year the branch will make two outfits and is also planning to provide new cushions for the communion rail in the church.

All of the reports were most encouraging and showed progress in every department. A pleasing interlude of the meeting was the Junior programme in which the "Junior Alphabet" was presented by Joy Fenton, Ruth McIntosh, Audrey Ross, E. Belyea, Helen James, Christine Holmes and Ruby Smith and the following took part in an exercise entitled "The Mite Box Convention": Evelyn Shuve, Louise Ring, Elaine Carcaud, Ferné Dashwood, Almata Stanley, Anna Shuve and Helen Ring.

The Junior superintendent reported a membership of 62 in the Junior Branch.

LITTLE HELPERS. The Little Helpers report showed 122 enrolled including 21 new members and $28.08 raised in the year. The Junior Girls' Branch, with 17 members, had made its special effort, sending a large barrel of gifts at Christmas to the Diocesan Sunday school.

The Branch sent a large contribution of clothing for the Grenfell Mission.

A report was given of Dorcas work for the foreign mission field. The work by St. Jude's Branch had been specially praised at the Diocesan board meeting, Mrs. Fenton said.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served. The prettily appointed tea table, with its pink candles in silver candlesticks and pink flowers in a silver basket, was presided over by Mrs. J. H. A. Holmes and Mrs. C. E. Tilton.

OFFICERS ELECTED. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. J. H. A. Holmes; president, Mrs. W. L. Fenton; vice-presidents, first, Mrs. E. R. J. LeRoy, the rector, led the devotions and gave a short address. All of the officers reported satisfactory reports, showing an increase in members and in work accomplished.

The treasurer reported mite box collections, $85, and united thank offering, $10, with $100 additional raised during the year. At the close of the meeting a committee of ladies served refreshments.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. Amy Bender; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. O. Patquin and Mrs. Herbert Blagden; secretary, Mrs. J. Graham; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hill; E. C. D. treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell; Living Message secretary, Canavan and Mrs. Robert Dole.

ST. GEORGE LITTLE HELPERS. The annual party of the Little Helpers of St. George church, West Saint John, was held yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom from 3:30 to 4, with Mrs. Walter Bagnall, Little Helpers' secretary, presiding, assisted by some of the members of the Senior W. A.

There were 75 Little Helpers and their mothers present. They enjoyed a short program in which recitations were given by Betty Green, Helen Olive, Audrey McLeod and Ethel Thompson, and songs were sung by eight little girls.

Mrs. J. Lee Day, diocesan superintendent of Little Helpers, was present and spoke to the children and congratulated Mrs. Bagnall on the work she had accomplished. Rev. John Unsworth, the rector, was also present and said a few words. The Little Helpers while their mothers enjoyed afternoon tea.

The opening of the mite boxes took place and the amount contained was most satisfactory. Much regret was expressed that Mrs. Bagnall felt that she must give up the work of superintending.

ST. JUDE'S JUNIORS. The annual meeting of the Junior W. A. of St. Jude's church in West Saint John was held on Tuesday afternoon when the Junior Superintendent Mrs. George W. J. Scott, was assisted in talking charge by Mrs. Christie Belyea. Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, the rector, led the opening and closing devotional exercises. Reports from the officers of the branch showed that there had been an increase in all work and membership and all pledges had been fully met, while some had been increased. There was a balance on hand.

A short program was well carried out and included the Junior Alphabet, the exercise, "Junior pledges," by ten girls; the hymn, "Do What You Can," by four girls, and the mite box convention exercise. A number of the mothers were present, and at the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

Westclox Buying clocks by name THERE is a great difference between buying an alarm clock and buying a Westclox. When you ask for an alarm clock you may be lucky and get a good one. When you ask for a Westclox you get a clock that has built up a reputation for reliability and is very jealous of that reputation. You can buy alarm clocks for less than you can buy Westclox, but when you consider the certainty in buying Westclox compared with the slight difference in price, Westclox are really cheaper. You will find Westclox at most shops selling good alarm clocks. The name on the dial is your guide. WESTERN CLOCK CO., Limited, PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

This meeting was to have taken place last month, but organizers postponed it on account of the election campaign. Preparations for the forming of a "Kleagle" in Montreal have been under way for a long time, and are now all most certain to mature in a few weeks, stated one authority on the subject today. SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 12, 1925.

OF WHAT USE?

Senator David of Montreal suggests that Hon. Mr. King and Hon. Mr. Meighen should follow the example of Carter and Dorian in pre-Confederation days, and withdraw temporarily from the leadership of their parties in order that the contending elements in Canada might become united on the basis of a truly national policy.

Governor Pinchof of Pennsylvania is reported to be making an effort to settle the anthracite strike, and cynical observers say that is an indication that the price of anthracite is likely to go up. This jibe is based on the fact that the price did go up when he succeeded in settling the last strike.

The city of Vancouver has at present no fewer than twenty-six public parks, large and small, and the Vancouver Province says that the playgrounds of that city now "take the lead on this Continent as compared with any city of corresponding population."

And now there is said to be a determination among a lot of Congressmen to lighten the burden of taxes on the necessities of life. We used to hear talk of that kind in Canada. If our American friends are seriously worrying about the consumers' daily necessities, they may be able to persuade a Republican Congress to reduce or abolish the tariff on Canadian food products.

Whether Hon. Mr. King was right or wrong in deciding that his ministry should meet Parliament that course has now been determined upon, and it will be for Parliament to say whether the government can live, and for how long. There are great problems which press for action. Among these are the railroads, taxation, immigration, and the increased use of Canadian ports, which, not to mention others, cannot be dealt with successfully by a ministry of compromise.

A NEW ENGLAND EXAMPLE. The Maritimes in due course may find it well to follow the example of the New England States, where a determined effort is being made to promote co-operation by the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests. As was demonstrated by the Charlottetown conference, there is a great chance for the development of a more successful agriculture in the Maritimes through the fact that these provinces are to-day importing a tremendous quantity of foodstuffs which they might well raise on their own acres, thus promoting the welfare of our own farmers, keeping millions more of our money at home, and providing additional markets for the output of our own industries and the goods from our own shops.

The New England campaign includes at the present time a meeting now going on at Worcester, Mass., where some hundreds of men are in conference representing agriculture, industry and commercial organizations from six states, for the purpose of advancing their common interests. One of the objects sought is to promote co-operation between these states, just as co-operation is desired on the part of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. As in our own case, New England is still importing a great deal of food which it might profitably raise on its own farms.

Common Mistake. (Exchange.) "I married Louis because I thought he was a dreamer." "And now?" "Now I find he is simply a sleeper."

Explained. (Pink Un.) Professor A. V. Hill told the British Association that men can run faster than women. This account for there being so many bachelors.

Not Guilty. (American Legion Weekly.) "Explain the story of Jonah and the whale," said the Sunday school teacher. "Why should I try to?" replied the lad. "I wasn't the fellow who told it."

Fairly Safe Betting. (Kansas City Star.) It has almost got so in this country that if a fellow lives through Sunday he can figure on a good chance to live until the next Sunday.

Just Fun

THEY WILL HAPPEN. "WE WISH to apologize to Mrs. Claire Mead," writes an editor. "In our paper last week we gave an account of Mrs. Mead's beautiful Halloween celebration at her house and, of course as French is quite the thing nowadays we spoke of it as a 'fete.' Unfortunately, the compositor, whose knowledge of French is both general and specific, set and printed the line as 'Mrs. Claire Mead's Big Fect.'"

"EASY MONEY," a shine boy remarked as he pocketed a girl's coin. "Nothing left to their shoes now but the toes."

BOOTLEGGERS never have to have a rummage sale of old stuff.

SIX THINGS A MAN HATES TO SEE ON A WOMAN.

- 1.—Wool socks. 2.—Spats. 3.—Bologna rimmed nose plinchers. 4.—Bobbed hair. 5.—Elongated bangs. 6.—Too much clothing.

A VILLAGE is a place where the shine boy will be at the barber shop again next Saturday.

SOME PEOPLE present an argument the way a woman gets off a street car.

"WHAT'S the dope?" asked one opium fiend to another.

THE CLOTHES that make the woman are the clothes that break the man.

NEW YORK recently celebrated its 261st birthday, but it still calls it a 16-year-old.

BISHOP William Walter Webb of Wisconsin was asked by a Milwaukee golfer the other day what he thought of Sunday golf. "I think," Bishop Webb answered, "that if the players don't need a rest, the golf links do."

SUNSHINE SPELLETS

Ventilate—Ventilate—Office man; Stay in the open all that you can. Throw away dust—throw away broom— Moisten the air of your stove-heated room— Closing the window is sealing your doom— So, Ventilate—Ventilate—all that you can. Cold, dry air is a stimulant; hot, dry air, a depressant. As a disinfectant, direct sunlight beats carbolic acid. I like to sit by the open grate— (It's the open fires that ventilate) For my face gets flushed and my head aches when I've spent the day in a steam-heated den.

Dinner Stories

IN AN ENGLISH courtroom, an Irish witness was being examined as to his knowledge of a shooting affray. "Did you see the shot fired?" the magistrate asked. "No, sir, I only heard it!" "That evidence is not satisfactory," replied the magistrate sternly. "Sit down!" The witness proceeded to leave the box, and directly his back was turned he laughed derisively. The magistrate, indignant at the contempt of court, called him back and asked him how he dared to laugh in court. "Did you see me laugh, your honor?" queried the offender. "No, sir, but I heard you," was the irate answer. "That evidence is not satisfactory," said Pat, quietly, but with a twinkle in his eye. "And this time everybody laughed—even the magistrate."

A LADY took her four-year-old daughter to be photographed. The little one could not be kept still. The camera man was suave, called the child all the sweet, endearing names he could think of, and used every device of gentle persuasion to make the little wiggler keep quiet. Finally he turned to the despairing mother and said: "Madam, if you will leave your darling with me a few minutes I think I can take here lovely face to perfection." The mother withdrew for a short time. Soon the photographer summoned her back and exhibited a highly satisfactory negative. When they reached home the mother asked: "Nellie, what did that nice gentleman say to you when I left you alone with him?" "Well, he said, 'if you don't sit still, you ugly, squint-eyed little monkey, I'll shake the life out of you.' So I that very still, mamma."

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THERE'S SOMETHING TO LEARN FROM THE ANIMALS.

WITH all his Superiority, man can yet learn much from animals. In that great poem in which America's great poet, Walt Whitman, celebrates himself, there appear the lines: "I think I could turn and live with animals, they are so placid and self-contained; I stand and look at them long and long; They do not sweat and whine about their condition; They do not lie awake in the dark and weep for their sins; They do not make me sick discussing their duty to God; Not one is dissatisfied—not one is dejected with the mania of owning things; Not one kneels to another, nor to his kind that lived thousands of years ago."

THE Perverse Philosopher was speaking. "Animals do not have radios, airplanes and motion pictures; but neither are they prey to the infinite number of ills that beset man. 'The lives of most men are comparatively short; but they do not spend their lives in paying for old wars and preparing for new ones. 'Possibly they do not talk; but they have better sight, better hearing, by far a more acute sense of smell. 'Some of them, like men, eat the flesh of dead animals, and others live on grass and herbs; but none except those who have to live with men and eat men's food, have 'stomach trouble.' AND who shall say the Perverse Philosopher wasn't speaking wisely?"

Poems That Live

DISDAIN RETURNED. He that loves a rosy cheek, Or a coral lip admires, Or from star-like eyes doth seek Fuel to maintain his fires,— As old Time makes these decay, So his flames must waste away; But a smooth and steadfast mind, Gentle thoughts and calm desires, Hearts with equal love combined, Kindle never-dying fires. Where these are not, I despise Lovely cheeks or lips, or eyes. No tears, Celia, now shall win My resolved heart to return; I have search'd thy soul within, And find naught but pride and scorn; I have learned thy arts, and now Can disdain as much as thou. Some power, in my revenge, convey That love to her I cast away. —Thomas Carew.

DANGEROUS DRIVERS.

(London Times.) In the course of time a large number of drivers will certainly acquire good manners on the road just as they will acquire "road sense." But it is also probable that a minority will remain whose lack of social instincts has prevented them from becoming safe members of the community. Drivers of this complexion are apt to display their innate selfishness and boorishness on every possible occasion. They clear a way for themselves with indiscriminate hootings of so loud a character as to preclude the possibility of their hearing any other warning sound; they "cut in," in the expressive phrase of the road; they are negligent in giving signals of their intentions, and reluctant in yielding his rights to any other user of the highway. These men and women are habitual "dangerous drivers." It should be the business of all motorists as well as of the police to report their misdemeanors and so to secure their permanent suppression.

DAYS OF SERVICE RECALLED
AS OFFICERS HOLD REUNION

Maritime Overseas Veterans Dine at Admiral Beatty; Fixed Day for Armistice Observation Urged; Annual Gathering Favored

An atmosphere reminiscent of war days pervaded the Admiral Beatty Hotel last evening, when about 250 overseas officers from all parts of the Maritime Provinces gathered in an Armistice Day reunion dinner, the first of its kind to be held in this part of the country. The affair was an unqualified success, and the sentiment of the gathering was that the event should be made an annual one.

TELEGRAMS OF REGRET.

Telegrams of regret at inability to be present were read from Colonel F. B. Black, of Sackville; Rev. R. C. MacGillivray, of Pictou, N. S., padre of the 20th Battalion; Colonel Harris, of the Annapolis regiment, and Major-General the Honorable Senator A. H. Macdonnell, C.M.G., D.S.O., former commander of this military district. There was also a wire from Lt. E. Scars, burgomaster of Mons, to Lieutenant King, of the 3rd Canadian Division, which was worded as follows: "Mons, not forgetting, salutes the First Canadian officer to enter as a liberator in 1918."

MAN ROOTED TO LAND.

The others of us understand. Just as each blade of grass has its spot on earth, whence it draws its life, its strength, so is man rooted to the land from which he draws his faith together with his life. Such is a real man. His patriotism will not permit him to say: "We may just as well join United States." For him the Maritimes still have a future. He believes that we have not yet reached our zenith in spite of the fact that our wooden ships no longer sail the Seven Seas.

ANNUAL DINNER FAVORED.

Major John R. Gale, as toastmaster, greeted the guests on behalf of the Saint John officers and declared that sentiment was in favor of making the Armistice dinner an annual affair. He proposed the toast "The King," which was taken by the officers standing after the playing of the National Anthem.

THEIR MINDS GO BACK.

During the course of the dinner their minds had gone to the normal life stirring days on active service. They had had glimpses of mess rooms, parade grounds, trenches, dugouts and other scenes and memories had again seen the gun winking along the crest of Vimy Ridge, the speaker said.

GEN. MACBRIEN SPEAKS.

General MacBrien, in replying to the toast, The United Services, told of being present a year ago last night at a reunion dinner in Tokio. He declared he was no speaker but a plain soldier with a single object and aim, the safety of the British Empire and its privileges.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICE.

The work of the Holy Spirit was the theme of a scholarly and forceful address given by Evangelist John H. Wells last night in the Coburg street church. A large congregation attended. He said the Holy Spirit had too often been entirely neglected or, going to the other extreme, had been connected with physical demonstrations. The Evangelist declared the Holy Spirit to be one of the most vital subjects for Christians. Mr. Wells said that if people were more filled with the Holy Spirit today Christianity would be a more vital force in the community. W. W. Kenney, led a hearty service of song and sang a solo that was much appreciated. Tonight the Evangelist will speak "A Reasonable Religion."

Will a Super-Jealous Fiance Change After Marriage?— How to Treat a Husband Who Has Been Having a Summer Flirtation— In Love With Two Men; How Can She Marry Both?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to be married to a man whom I love very much. He is a fine fellow, but he is terribly jealous, though I give him no cause for it. But if I stop on the street to talk to a boy, he asks for a full explanation of it and wants me to go into detail about everything that is said. If I go into a store where he doesn't like the clerks, he raises a row over it for several days. Do you think he will change after we are married and allow me more privileges? For I find this surveillance almost unbearable. GRACE.

DOROTHY DIX

If you have any regard in the world for your happiness and well-being you will refuse to marry this man. It doesn't make any difference what good qualities he has. Jealousy neutralizes them all. Your life will be one of perfect wretchedness if you have to spend it in offering alibis for your most innocent acts, and if you go about in shuddering fear of doing or saying something that will rouse the devil within your husband's breast.

A man must have a soul that is unutterably vile and filthy if it is filled with deep, dark, degrading suspicions of the woman he professes to love and if he puts only the lowest interpretation on everything she does. Only a man who is a degenerate would see a rendezvous in a girl and boy's chance meeting on the street, or a liaison in her friendship for another man, or put the worst construction on her even going into a store to buy something.

Jealousy is always an insult because it is the proof of lack of faith. The jealous husband or lover has no trust in your honor or integrity. He or she believes that you are liable to turn traitor and betray him or her at any minute.

There can be no happiness in any marriage in which there is not faith. Husbands and wives are bound to trust each other because neither one can stand perpetual watch over the other. Every man is brought constantly in contact with women. Every woman sees dozens of men every day of her life. Both husbands and wives have insurmountable opportunities to indulge in flirtations, and it is up to each one of them whether they go straight or crooked. And in the end, they have to be trusted to do right.

Believe me, my dear, if you marry this man, who has shown already that he is worse than any jealous Turk, you will repent it in bitterness and tears. You will be nothing but a prisoner, with no personal liberty whatever. You will be insulted by unfounded suspicions and accusations. You will be afraid to be decently polite to your own brother, and you will be afraid to hate your husband because no love can survive in such an atmosphere.

The devil himself has warned you of the sort of life you will have with him. Head the danger signal he has hung out. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—What is your opinion of a man who has a good wife and three lovely children who will step out with one of his wife's friends while she has her children away on a summer vacation? What do you think a wife should do in this case? UNHAPPY.

ANSWER: I think the husband is a pretty poor, weak, philandering sort of a creature, but I also think he probably doesn't mean any harm. His offense isn't half as serious as his wife thinks it is, and after she has given him a good verbal spanking she should kiss him and forgive him, and never mention the episode again.

Every wife likes to think that she is the ONLY woman in the world to her husband, and that when she goes off on a vacation he keeps religiously to the same schedule that he follows when she is at home; that he spends his days at the office and comes straight home and passes his evenings alone reading. Which is where wives befool themselves. It is pretty dull coming home to a dark, shut-up house and such food as an unsuperintended servant has prepared, and with nobody to talk to. And there is just about one man in a thousand who has enough moral stamina or is sufficiently the victim of habit to do it.

The balance have their own little fling, and they justify it on the grounds that the wife is away enjoying herself also. And really, the more fond a man is of his wife the more he misses her when she is gone. Also the more likely he is to hunt up agreeable feminine companionship and the more sure he is to fall a victim to one of wife's friends, because she is the woman he knows the best.

I am not justifying the husband. His name ought to be Joseph, but more likely it is Bill or Alphonse, and when Mrs. Potiphar or Mrs. Jones comes along he doesn't give her the cold turndown that he should. He plays around with her a bit. But in his heart he is still true to his Poll. He is just playing hooky like a bad little boy, and he means to go back to home and mother. But sometimes, especially if mother stays away over-time and the house is shut too long, he gets into a lot of trouble that he never expected to.

Don't break your heart over this episode, Unhappy, it has happened to practically every woman you know, but don't let it occur again. Stay at home and mind your fences. Part-time wives are responsible for a lot of husbands' sidestepping. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Some time ago a young man and I who were in love with each other, ran away to get married. But every time we started to get a license something happened so we couldn't do it, and we never got married at all. I was away with him two weeks. Now that we are back, still unmarried, my parents forbid me to go with him, but I see him every day, or every evening, and he says he will commit suicide if I give him up. Now there is another man who loves me, and I love him, and who wants to marry me. I love both men and want both, and I don't know which one to take. Which one do you say? BABE.

ANSWER: Marry the first man, with whom you have already hopelessly compromised yourself. Probably if the second man knew about your premature honeymoon trip, he wouldn't care to marry you at all. At any rate, your partner in guilt will be less liable to hold you wrongdoer over your head than the other man. But any girl who has as little idea as you seem to have of the seriousness and sanctity of marriage is not likely to stay married to any man very long, so perhaps you will be able, as you suggest, to marry them both. DOROTHY DIX.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE PEANUT RACE.

"What do you do in a peanut race?" asked the Big Fat Elephant in an inquiring voice.

"I know," said Nick. "I was in one once. You just race peanuts."

"Who ever heard of peanuts racing?" I never saw one that could move even," exclaimed the Big Fat Elephant. "They must be peculiar peanuts."

"Oh, I don't mean that," laughed Nick. "I mean that you pick up the peanuts and then race."

"It certainly sounds stupid," said the Big Fat Elephant, wagging first his trunk and then his tail to show how very silly he thought it was.

"I'll bet I could win that sort of a race every time," said the Clown.

"Now see here," said the Clown. "There is entirely too much talking. Let me tell you all about this peanut race. First, the Peanut Man will put a pile of peanuts on a table. Second, every person gets a fork. Third, you all get in a row. Fourth, someone says 'Go.' Fifth, you all run to the table and pick up a peanut on your fork. Sixth, you turn around and go back to the place you started from, balancing the peanut on top of the fork. But you are not allowed to touch it with your hands. The first person back wins the race and gets all the peanuts for a prize."

"Dear me! It sounds silly yet sensible," giggled the Big Fat Elephant. "Get over there!" he said to the Tall Thin Giraffe, giving him a push. "Can't you give a fellow any room. You don't like peanuts anyway."

"Stop quarreling," said the Clown. "It's a time to commence."

"I'll pass the forks," said Nancy. "I'll draw the chalk-line," said Nick. "Everyone must have his toes right on the mark."

"Everything's ready now," said the Clown. "Let me see, is everybody here? I'll have to count noses. Who is hiding in that barrel over there?" "Nobody!" came the answer.

"Very well," said the Clown. "I certainly thought there was. Now then. One, two, three, ready, go!"

Away went all the High Jinks Landers as hard as they could go. But coming back wasn't such a quick affair. For carrying a fork without a peanut, and carrying a fork with a peanut, are two entirely different affairs. If you don't believe me, will you please just go and try it. All I have to say is that I hope, if you are ever in a hurry to catch a train, you won't have to be balancing a peanut on a fork while you are doing it.

But what do you think happened? The elephant wasn't nearly back to the line, when suddenly he stretched out his trunk and dropped his peanut neatly right on the chalk-mark.

"I've won! I've won by a nose," he called in a loud voice.

"That's not fair," said the giraffe. "They always say it's peanuts, so it must be," said the Clown. "The elephant wins."

"Nobody wanted the peanuts anyway," said the voice from the barrel. "Let him have all he wants."

Navarro Doesn't Like Latin Lover Roles

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL

Ramon Navarro emphatically refuses to be forever consigned to the limbo of Latin lovers. Despite his engaging visage and amorous proclivities, young Navarro bravely takes the stand for "wholesome" films.

Following this policy, he recently appeared in his first American role, which was also his initial excursion into the sea of comedy, "The Midshipman," showed the young Latin as a talented laugh producer.

"I want to make the kind of picture which sends you home from the theatre with a good feeling," declared Navarro.

"No, I do not care for the sophisticated sort of thing. For, you see, I cannot do that type of work."

Tentatively, after the eternal "Ben Hur" is finally and safely stored away, Navarro is to do "Tongo," a story of the South Seas, in which he is to play the role of a white boy, orphan of missionary parents, who is adopted by an island chief, only to be sent back, after reaching manhood, to learn the way of civilization.

And Navarro also plans to play that wifely and charming love tale, "Old Heidelberg," which gained such fame in the New York production as "The Student Prince."

The aims of this serious boy are, strangely, in perfect keeping with his personal life. He is never seen at the highly festive Hollywood affairs, though he was a conspicuous figure during the recent opera season. In fact, he is writing a book on that subject.

So perhaps the producers will take heed of his wishes and save him from the fate of a sleek-haired Romeo. Prayerfully suggests Navarro, "I hope they won't change the title of 'Tongo' to 'The Price of a Good Time!'"

And So The Steam Engines Have Slain The Dragons

By DAVID DIETZ

DRAGONS and sea-serpents have passed out of existence because of the development of high-powered rifles and steamships. This is the opinion of Dr. Austin H. Clark of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

These creatures were born out of fear, he says. Men imagined they existed because of their own weak powers. But as men conquered the forest and the ocean, their fears decreased and so they no longer worked their imaginations overtime. Then, with their imaginations working calmly, they saw things in their true proportion.

In southern Europe and northern Africa, huge snakes were mistaken for dragons, Dr. Clark thinks. The eastern Chinese dragon, he thinks, was the result of an over-worked imagination playing on the Chinese alligator.

In the East Indies there is a huge lizard called the monitor. The monitor was responsible for the growth of the dragon idea there, according to Dr. Clark.

In every case, he maintains, the legends of fire-eating and smoke exhaling gigantic dragons can be traced to the fear inspired by large snakes, alligators and lizards.

SEA-SERPENT legends are dying out because man's view of the ocean is changing, thinks Dr. Clark. Formerly man sailed on small sailing vessels. The decks were close to the water. From such a viewpoint creatures in the ocean looked large.

Now men cross the ocean on huge steamships. The decks are high above the water. Things in the water assume their true proportions, therefore, and sailors no longer imagine that they see sea-serpents.

Large sharks, swimming one behind the other, their fins extending above the water, have sometimes given rise to the belief that a sea serpent had been sighted, says Dr. Clark.

GIANT squid and cuttlefish, troops of dolphins, porpoises and whales, have all contributed their share to sea-serpent stories, Dr. Clark continues.

But the sailor now stands in safety upon the high deck of a steel steamer. As a result, he views the ocean calmly and passively. So he sees things with his eyes only and not with an imagination highly colored with fear as well.

PROTECTION ACT. "There was also a conference in the office of J. King Kelley, county secretary, at which were present, Father Martin, Mr. Blois, Mr. Kelley, Father Duke and myself when the working of the Children's Protection Act here was discussed. One of the matters that came up was that the Roman Catholics were obliged to take their children into their institutions without compensation. Mr. Blois said that in Nova Scotia the judge had no authority to commit any children brought before him to any institution. All that he can do is to commit to the Children's Aid Society or provincial superintendent and it was for them to place the children where they thought the best. As soon as the child is committed to the Children's Aid Society or the provincial superintendent it automatically becomes a charge on the local government and the municipality to which it belongs. The government contributes $2 per week towards its maintenance and the municipality $3 a week so that the institution to which the child is finally committed receives compensation for the keep of the child. It is still, however, a ward of the Children's Aid Society and the institution cannot be placed in a foster home. The reason that Sloan's Liniment gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out congestion. Right away you feel relief. Stiff muscles limber up, the aching stops, and soon you are fit as ever. AGHES AND PAINS ARE SOON FIXED UP. Simple, easy treatment brings quick relief. Quick, sure relief from pain is what men want when they get lamed up from over-exercise or exposure, or when they get a sprain or bruise. A soldier in the Sixth Pennsylvania Infantry writes from camp: "Sloan's is a great thing for us boys in the army. After a stiff hike or drill your muscles are bound to ache, but they are soon fixed up with Sloan's. It's great stuff for muscle-bound legs, lame backs, stiff necks, sprains or bruises."

MARITIME BOYS REFORMATORY IS NOW BEING ADVOCATED

CHILDREN'S ACT IS DISCUSSION TOPIC

Premier and Church Authorities Interviewed By Visitors From Nova Scotia

Rev. George Scott, agent of the Children's Aid Society of the City and County of Saint John told the Times-Star this morning that there had been several conferences held in this city last week on the subject of child welfare and he expected that there would be developments of importance not only to New Brunswick but to the whole Maritime Provinces as a result.

"E. H. Blois, provincial superintendent of neglected and delinquent children of Nova Scotia and Rev. Ferdinand Martin of St. Agnes' church, Halifax, came here," said Mr. Scott, "on a mission to interview the authorities as to their attitude towards an inter-provincial reformatory for boys and while here advantage was taken of the presence of Mr. Blois by Rev. W. M. Duke and Mr. Scott to interview Mr. Blois on the workings of the Children's Protection Act in Nova Scotia."

"Father Martin, who is chaplain of the Catholic Reformatory for boys, the St. Patrick's Industrial School in Halifax, told me that he is ready to let the association use my entire plant, free of charge, for this meet. I will attend to getting all the ice in the world for an 8-day track and all that I ask is that when the grandstands are built that they be left standing there to be used at future meets. I am willing to enter into a contract with the association for a term of years on this matter. I will not take up any space detailing what I could do. I make this offer in the best of good feeling. Naturally I would be benefited to a certain extent, but this is not my main object in making this offer. I do so solely with the idea of trying to be of some use in helping to put this meet over, and am taking this means of placing the matter before the public."

Mr. Blois said that in Nova Scotia the judge had no authority to commit any children brought before him to any institution. All that he can do is to commit to the Children's Aid Society or provincial superintendent and it was for them to place the children where they thought the best. As soon as the child is committed to the Children's Aid Society or the provincial superintendent it automatically becomes a charge on the local government and the municipality to which it belongs. The government contributes $2 per week towards its maintenance and the municipality $3 a week so that the institution to which the child is finally committed receives compensation for the keep of the child. It is still, however, a ward of the Children's Aid Society and the institution cannot be placed in a foster home. The reason that Sloan's Liniment gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out congestion. Right away you feel relief. Stiff muscles limber up, the aching stops, and soon you are fit as ever. No need to rub. Sloan's does the whole job. Just put it on! Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

AGHES AND PAINS ARE SOON FIXED UP. Simple, easy treatment brings quick relief. Quick, sure relief from pain is what men want when they get lamed up from over-exercise or exposure, or when they get a sprain or bruise. A soldier in the Sixth Pennsylvania Infantry writes from camp: "Sloan's is a great thing for us boys in the army. After a stiff hike or drill your muscles are bound to ache, but they are soon fixed up with Sloan's. It's great stuff for muscle-bound legs, lame backs, stiff necks, sprains or bruises."

Freshen Up! Nicest Laxative, "Cascarets" 10c

Don't stay head-achy, bilious, constipated, sick! Take one or two "Cascarets" any time to mildly stimulate your liver and start your bowels. Then you will feel fine, your head becomes clear, stomach sweet, tongue pink and skin rosy.

Nothing else cleans, sweetens, and refreshes the entire system like pleasant, harmless candy-like "Cascarets." They never grip, overact, or sicken. Directions for men, women, children on each box—druggists.

Drink at 7 Then by 8:30 watch how things have changed. Sometimes on rising in the morning you feel that the day is spoiled. Some clogging of the system affects your fitness, your good nature, your vim.

Then do this: Drink a glass of water, hot or cold. Add a little Jad Salts, and you will have a sparkling, pleasant drink. That drink will flush the intestines, wash out the poisons and waste. The results come quickly. They come from the acids of lemon and grape combined with lithia, etc.

Note how things change in an hour. Then remember you can bring them any hour of the day. And in a sparkling drink with lithia, etc.

Ask your druggist for Jad Salts today.

Automobile Cause Of Family Squabble. NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Because her husband rode in his automobile and compelled their daughter and herself to walk, Mrs. Gladys Cole of Unionville applied to Supreme Court Justice George Taylor, in Mount Vernon, for a separation from Walter Cole.

Neighbors testified that frequently they had seen Cole driving his car while Mrs. Cole and their daughter, Lillian, 12 years old, trudged along the road in the same direction. Justice Taylor took the case under advisement and requested counsel for both sides to submit briefs before next Monday.

How To Get The Best Results From Your Want Ad.

The small cost of a "Want Ad." is a secondary consideration. The object is results.

Therefore, never compare here and there to save an odd cent or two. By doing so the value of the entire ad. may be destroyed.

When writing your "Want Ad." put yourself in the place of the reader, and answer the questions you yourself would naturally ask.

If you have a flat to rent, the home seeker wants to know more than a plain statement of the fact. He wants to know how many rooms there are; if there is hot water; bath; electric lights; garage, etc., and the amount of the rent.

Your flat may be a $60 a month home, but if you don't say so in your ad, the $60 a month tenant may not reply, thinking perhaps it is a $15 a month flat.

To get the right tenant quickly, give full information. To rent a room quickly to the right kind of a roomer, give all particulars. Show that you are anxious to make the roomer comfortable for a reasonable rental.

If you wish to sell anything, do not omit the good selling points. It is far more economical to spend an extra few cents and make the sale, rather than to save a few cents in the cost of the ad. and make no sale.

To Make Doubly Sure of Results

To make doubly sure of the right party seeing your "Want Ad." it is a good plan to use both "The Telegraph-Journal" and the "Times-Star."

A special rate covers both morning and evening papers. The rate for your "Want Ad." in the "Times-Star" is two cents per word per day, but you can have your advertisement appear in both papers for the combined rate of three cents per word per day.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN CASE OF LAWYERS

Matters Mentioned in Application for Disbarment of Saint John Men

Before the council of the Barristers' Society at Fredericton on Tuesday night evidence in the matter of Roy A. Davidson was given by Dr. W. B. Wallace K. C. and in the matter of Sidney H. Hutton by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter K. C. in the proceedings which led to application before the Supreme Court for the disbarment of Davidson and Hutton, two young Saint John lawyers.

BOND MISSING. There was also a bond for $800 owned by George S. Cushing, to which had been attached a slip stating the circumstances of the bond being there and giving the name of the owner.

Dr. Wallace stated that as solicitor of the Dominion Bank he had been called into consultation with regard to a draft for $2,054 drawn by the Nova Scotia Building and Loan Society in favor of J. Roy Campbell and another party.

Donald W. Armstrong, of the firm of Thomas, Armstrong and Bell, said last night that the firm had no statement to make in reference to the evidence of Dr. Baxter that Hutton had sold bonds to Thomas, Armstrong and Bell.

MICKEY WALKER MAY BE ON CARD FOR MILK FUND

If Kearns is Reasonable, Match Will Go Through

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Tex Rickard and those associated with him in the promotion of a boxing show supposed to be held in Madison Square Garden on December 23 for the purpose of relieving the financial straits of innumerable infants hereabouts, appear to be having all sorts of trouble in arranging a card calculated to have the proper public appeal.

Jesse McMahon hopes to match Mickey Walker with Tommy Milligan, welterweight and middleweight champion of Europe and incidentally one of the most likely looking glove swingers to make a westward voyage across the Atlantic in many years.

Milligan has had only one fight here, but in that one he was tossed in against one of the most rugged and altogether vicious trial horses in the American ring—Morris Schliefer, of Omaha. They met at the Queensboro Stadium in Long Island City, and what Tommy did to Morrie was something awful. He did everything but bounce Morrie out of the ring and right into the East River.

In that scrap, however, which Milligan won from here to China and back, the Englishman received a deep gash over his left eye when that lamp came into sharp contact with Schliefer's bullet-like head. The cut was so deep that his doctors advised him to lay off his chosen profession for at least six weeks.

McMahon has virtually abandoned hope of finding a suitable opponent for Gene Tunney. The latter wants no part of George Godfrey, the Leiper-ville negro heavyweight, and Young Strubling, the Georgia schoolboy, who never goes to school, apparently has no overwhelming desire to mix with Tunney at this time. This would seem to remove Tunney from the tactical scheme of things, so to speak.

Pa and Ma Strubling, who look after the financial and fiscal affairs of their famous offspring, appear to enjoy boxing, and the hope is that they are in no hurry to rush young George L. into any tough spots. As the elder Strubling once remarked to this writer, "We like 'em short and often." And he was talking about bouts and not drinks.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Tommy Mitchell, of Toronto, was too clever for Willie Cunningham, Buffalo, in a six round bout here last night, and got the decision. In a feature bout Maxie Rosenbloom, of New York, won on a foul from Joe Gans of Allentown, Pa.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Harry Willis, negro heavyweight, and his manager, Faddy Mullins, leave for Memphis Saturday. Willis is to appear in an exhibition bout there, and has other engagements in the south.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 12.—Sergeant Jack Adams, of Scott Field, United States army heavyweight champion, won a newspaper decision over Queen tin Romero Rojas, South American title holder, in a ten round bout here last night.

MONTREAL TEAM READY FOR U. N. B.

Frederick Outfit Has Great Name in Metropolitan For Brilliant Play

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—The Star on its sporting page today says: "The Montreal English Rugby players, with the exception of McDougall, who was badly injured, came through Monday's game with Toronto in good shape, and are now ready to play the game of their lives against the U. N. B. next Saturday in the final of the MacTier Cup play.

The Montreal men realize they will be meeting the strongest opposition they have ever yet encountered, and the U. N. B. are coming here determined to capture the cup, and are fully confident of their ability to take the trophy east for the first time. According to reports from the Maritimes, the Frederick squad is a great one and in wonderful form at present. They have a heavy fast pack of forwards, an exceptionally clever back division with almost perfect combination.

"The Montreal men showed by their display against Toronto that they can play splendid rugby, and if they can show still further improvement and are not lacking in condition they will give the New Brunswick team a rare fight for possession of the cup. Condition may prove the deciding factor on Saturday's final, and the local men must realize this if they hope to even hold their own. Some of the team have not been very regular in their training lately, and should, in justice to their fellow players, spare no effort to get in the best possible physical condition.

"Montreal's back division on Monday's form should prove at least equal to the visitors in speed and handling, while their defence will not be found wanting. The result will probably depend upon which pack of forwards shows the supremacy and better conditioning. Saturday's match is the most important game under English rules to be played in Montreal in recent years, and it should prove a most interesting struggle."

800, Ont., Nov. 12.—The Greyhounds have decided definitely to remain in this city this winter, and will represent the Soo in the new international hockey league with Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Keweenaw and Winnipeg.

MICKEY WALKER MAY RISK TITLE AGAINST ENGLISH CHAMPION

Annual Meeting of Skating Association Set For Next Tuesday

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP.

THE AQUEOUS CONDITION of the Allison grounds has led some of the boys in an outburst of levity to suggest to the Common Council that it would be an ideal spot for an aquarium with genuine fish from the Bay performing instead of unrecognizable youths clothed in rigby togs. To this, we would take strong objection on the grounds of cruelty to the finny tribe. It's bad enough as it is now without dragging some more poor fish into it. What might be done is to make it a watering trough for the wild animals quartered at Rockwood Park as this would give the track several more laps. We merely pass these suggestions along and disclaim any idea of originality. Joking apart, boys, there sure has been one sweet sum sunk in that ground to make it the finest in Canada. The matter came before the Common Council a few years ago and if we mistake not it was reported that nearly $20,000 had been spent then in drainage. That's a large sum to toss around. But we should not feel too disheartened over the matter. There are a few of the biggest universities in the United States that are not bothered in this manner. Last Saturday, at one of the big games, the referee called for measurement on the fourth down. While players and officials waited, the ball, resting in a pool of water, calmly floated several feet. It was retrieved and the measurement guessed at. If misery likes company, we can have plenty of it.

OUR HUGE GOLFING FRIEND, Cyril Tolley, broke the Oxford University course four times in one day recently. This young man will make a name for himself if he keeps on like this.

HOCKEY FANS in this city have seldom thought about the distance in miles between this place and Moncton with Sussex as an intermediate stop but this little point may have a tremendous effect on hockey here this winter if the Sussex boys decide not to play in their home town this winter. Matters are none too bright now for the Dairy Town boys sporting the colors under which they have won fame and glory and if that proves to be the case, big efforts will be made to get Messrs. Harold and Percy Radcliffe, Jack and George Leclair and the rest to come into town and play on Saint John's team. Under the amateur rulings, this is allowable provided Sussex has not got an entry into the senior league. The boys then can play with the nearest town represented in the league. According to the C. N. B., it is 90 miles from here to Moncton. It is 44 miles from here to Sussex, or two miles more from Sussex to Moncton. Thus, by the narrow margin of two miles hangs a hockey destiny for this town. The inclusion of the Sussex boys on our squad would give Saint John a wonderful chance for the big crown and prove the greatest push that hockey has ever received hereabouts. There is no use counting any of the feathery birds before they are out of the covering but we know this much—that if the break-up does occur, we have the first call by two miles. As Shakespeare says—or was it Harold Lloyd—a miss is as good as two miles.

MR. CAPABLANCA played 30 Russians at chess the other day, winning 13, drawing 11 and losing one. If that is the best he can do, the Cuban had better take up some other exciting game.

TOO MUCH DEADWOOD in the preliminaries is the reason given for the suggestion put forward by the Amateur Boxing Association of England to limit the number of entries to one man in each class with one reserve and New York sport writers agree it is a sensible move. The boxing contests, like the track and field events, are cluttered up with second-rate performers and in fact, the entire Olympic program is too unwieldy and should be cut down. The British Olympic Association has ruled also that governing bodies of the various sports must bear the expenses for teams sent instead of depending on the central organization, which in the past has been compelled to depend on public subscription. In Canada, we pool our resources and expenses because we do not have governing bodies for every line of sport. We are not organized like they are in England in this respect and until we are it seems wiser to continue as we have been doing. Such a system, however, would do good in the United States where athletic politics have a habit of interfering with the team. One writer says that the U. S. could secure the highest total of points with 60 athletes, whereas now double that number is taken on a joy ride at the expense of the generous American public.

U.N.B. CAPTURES RUGBY TRIUMPH FOR MARITIMES

N. S. Tech Offers Stern Opposition, Losing By 14 to 3

UNIVERSITY of New Brunswick's sensational young rugby team won the inter-collegiate crown of the Maritime Provinces at Sackville yesterday but not till after bitter opposition by Nova Scotia Technical College, Halifax, winners of the eastern section. The final score was 14 to 3 but it hardly represents play throughout as it was not until the closing moments of the game that U. N. B. got going. The game was hard, fast and clean. The feeling between the two teams ran high and at times resulted in minor individual clashes but on the whole both played the game in every sense of the term.

PLEASED SPECTATORS. Such betting as there was favored the Red and Black to win by a much larger score than they did, but the much overrated dope got did its stuff once more and the showing of the Engineers was a great surprise to all those who saw them go down to defeat several weeks ago at the hands of Mt. Allison, runners up in the western section, to the tune of 34-3.

The Tech team certainly is to be commended for their splendid showing. Much credit must go to their coach, Norman Ralston, of Halifax. Many spectators said they got more "kick" out of this afternoon's game than any other here this season.

BETTER IN PINCHES. U. N. B., during the first period, failed to display anything like the form that was expected of them but they tightened up later and showed the better of the two scrums.

There can be no doubt but that the

To Challenge U.N.B. For Maritime Crown

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 12.—The winners of the Halifax City Rugby League, to be decided on Saturday, when Wanderers and Dalhousie clash, will challenge the University of New Brunswick team for the championship of the Maritime Provinces, according to a decision reached here yesterday by representatives of the Dalhousie and Wanderers clubs. The hope was expressed that the winners of the Maritime championship would play off with the Montreal English rugby team for the Eastern Canada championship.

A GREAT SIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Figures show that Man O'War is truly a wonder sire. His first crop which included American Flag, By Hisself, Gunboat, Flagship First Mate, Maid At Arms, Lightship and Florence Nightingale, captured numerous rich stakes. In the present season Man O'War's second crop, including Mars, Crusader, Dress Parade, War Lord, Volunteer, Warship, Edith Cavell, Taps, Corvette, Siren, Medal, Swance, Assembly and Fortress has won a total of 25 races.

New Brunswick's had the better back field. All are splendid kickers, speedy ball carriers and clean tacklers. Creighton Stevenson seemed to be Tech's backfield mainstay. His kicking was good and his general game heady. He was well backed by McKenzie, Tuttle, Morrison and Cameron. The outstanding stars for U. N. B. were perhaps Fraser, McCaffery, Sten and Goodspeed. Mr. Fitch, of Halifax, gave eminent satisfaction as a referee. He had the game always in hand.

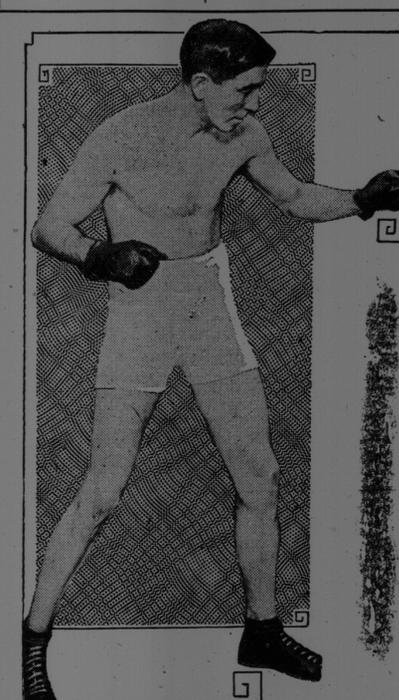

LINEUPS

The teams lined up as follows:

N. S. TECH. Full, Bayer. Three quarters, Moore, Blenkhorn, Stevenson, Boutlier. Halves, Morrison, Cameron, Welford. Forwards, Clancy, Anderson, Dike, Freeman, Thompson, McKennie, Tuttle; spare, Hewitt.

U. N. B. Full, Hickson. Three quarters, McCaffery, Fraser, Steen, Goodspeed. Halves, Curry, Keen, Babbitt. Forwards, Woods, McLennahan, Dalzell, Smith, Donahue, Odell, McAulay.

Another From Old Sod

Here's another European boxer who hopes to gain success in the roped arena in this country. He's a Frenchman, Lucien Vinez, and is a light-weight champion of Europe. He's said to be one of the best developed across the pond in a long while which, of course, may not be saying a great deal. At any rate Vinez is a shifty, speedy fellow, according to his press agent, and commands a rather stout wallop in either mitt. In this country he will endeavor to prove that he's a bit better than most of the invaders that have preceded him. He lost a close decision a few nights ago to Charley Rosen in New York.

Canadian Wins

VANCOUVER, Nov. 11.—Vic Foley, a bantamweight champion of Canada, was given the unanimous judges' decision here last night over "Chuck" Hellman, of Portland, at the end of a 10 round bout.

SCOTTAB NOT COMING OVER FOR BIG MEET

Executive Unanimously Endorses Secretary Corr's Report

THE annual meeting of the Saint John Amateur Skating Association will be held on Tuesday night next at 8 o'clock in the Board of Trade rooms when officers and committees will be named and reports for the past year adopted. This was decided on at a meeting of the executive of the association yesterday afternoon held in the office of Thomas Nagle with the president, A. P. Paterson, in the chair, D. J. Corr, the secretary, read his report and his work in connection with the coming meet was unanimously endorsed. A feature of his report was that Scottab, Thumberg's compatriot, will not be able to make the trip.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

D. J. Corr, secretary, presented the following report on the world's championship project as it stands at the present time: Saint John, N. B., Nov. 11, 1925. To the president and members of the executive of the Saint John Amateur Skating Association. Gentlemen:—

Following a motion passed at our executive meeting on April 15, 1925, that I continue negotiations for the holding of a world's championship in this city in 1926 I beg to report on the project as it stands at the present time. I have been in communication from time to time with practically every club connected with the International Union with a view of forming a circuit as has been done in other years in order to lessen the expense in carrying the skaters, but so far no results have been obtained in this direction. Unfortunately President Bratton's health has been such that he has been unable to carry on the activities of his office and consequently nothing has been done to prepare a program of international events for this season. There has been no application received so far for outdoor meets. Sanctions for the international indoor and national indoor championships have been granted to the Middle Atlantic and Pennsylvania

Skating Associations respectively. There is no doubt that at the annual meeting of the I. S. U. of America, outdoor sanctions will be applied for and we will then have an opportunity of combining with other clubs in arranging a circuit.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

Meanwhile I have had considerable correspondence in connection with the European part of the proposition. Some time ago I wrote letters to Dr. Stenborg of Helsingfors, H. Palmquist of Stockholm, M. Urval and Oscar Mathisen, of Oslo, asking them to get in touch with the principal skaters in their respective districts and acquaint them with our intentions, and so that there might be no misunderstanding I mentioned in each of my letters complete details of the methods of skating races in America, the various distances, qualifying events and everything connected with our system in contrast with the system prevailing in Europe. In order to establish ourselves with the European skaters and officials I interviewed the Consul for Finland in Montreal and explained to him that our association were prepared to be responsible for any proposition made with reference to bringing over European competitors and that we would place guarantees in his hands. He promised that he would communicate with his official headquarters in Finland so that they would be able to assure any skaters who proposed making the trip that any contracts made with them would be fulfilled.

OTHER CENTRES ACTIVE

When it became known through the press in other centres that active negotiations were being conducted with Europe and that there was every prospect of having foreign skaters competing on this side next winter, inquiries were received from the Newburgh Skating Association and the Great Bear Skating Association, both of New York state, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Birmingham, Dearborn, Michigan, and New York. The association in the latter place, however, have been the only club to definitely state that they would enter into the scheme. There has been such a confusion in the dates proposed and differences in programs of racing and training that nothing definite could be established.

being the world's amateur champion. Scuttnab was doubtful about being able to come in the first communications and it has since developed that he could not make the trip. Other skaters, however, are available, but since the original plans for a circuit have not materialized we might as well devote our efforts towards Thunberg alone to represent Europe.

WORD FROM THUNBERG

I received a cable some time ago from Thunberg that he was willing to come to this country and that he would state his conditions in a letter to follow. As stated to you in a previous paragraph, I wrote complete details to Dr. Stenborg, who also resides in Helsingfors, with the request that these be shown to Thunberg. On receipt of his cable I gained the impression that he had some counter proposals to make with regard to the method of skating, but his letter contained only ordinary conditions which we would have to and were prepared to meet in any case. There was, however, in translating his letter, a reference to "matches" which is the system prevailing in Europe and to clear this point up I cabled Thunberg drawing his attention to this and as suggested by me in a previous cable he would arrive here about the middle of December and that all his arrangements could be made through the Finnish consul. In this connection the Finnish consul advises me that as he is not familiar with sport in general he is taking the suggestions of Don Cable, who is the Finnish vice-consul. On a recent trip to Montreal I had a talk with Mr. Cable on this matter, and he being a resident of St. John in winter, further developments will be made that much easier.

HERE IN JANUARY

As the matter stands at present the Saint John Skating Association are making arrangements with Thunberg to skate at a world's championship speed skating meet some time in January. I have advised the president of the I. S. U. that such a meet will be applied for and that we will expect the I. S. U. to grant no sanctions for any

Hart House Quartette Charms Audience At Pythian Castle

The members of the Hart House String Quartette made their bow to the Saint John audience last evening in Pythian Castle, and fully lived up to the reputation that had preceded them. The artists composing this quartette are Geza De Kress, first violin; Harry Adaskin, second violin; Milton Blackstone, viola and Boris Hambourg, violoncello. The last named has been heard here before and it was with real pleasure that he was welcomed by the audience last evening.

The program was an entrancing one, and beautifully rendered. It began with the Debussy quartette in G minor, essentially of the modern school and free of weird rhythm, but perhaps a little too many as a number as were some of the other selections. This bizarre type of music needs much hearing to be appreciated by the average concert goer.

This was followed by a group of three numbers, "Minuet" by Boccherini, a daily piece of composition, familiar to many as a piano number, but losing none of its charm when played as a quartette. In a very lovely arrangement by Pochon of "Drink to me only with thine eyes" and the "Presto" from the C Major Quartette of Haydn. The second of these was played with such charming romance, that the audience demanded its repetition, the muted strings of the violin rendering a marvelous sweetness to the ensemble. As an encore there was played Tchaikowsky's "Andante" from his quartette in C major, delightfully Russian and with passages of great tonal beauty.

The final number was the big Beethoven quartette in F major, a tremendous work, written in four movements, to which the performers brought a full measure of fluidity, combined with an intelligent reading and a fine sense of proportion. This number will be played by them at their recital next month in Aeolian Hall, New York. Insistent applause resulted in their giving the same great composer's "Alta Danza Telesia," being the third movement in his quartette in B flat major. This completed the program.

The house was well filled, but not crowded. To A. Victor Lee much credit is due for giving music lovers an opportunity to enjoy such music. But it is no encouragement to him, nor to any other local impresario to foster such an undertaking unless assured of better support.

skating meets at which Thunberg will appear unless satisfactory arrangements have been made with us in the matter of proportionate expenses. I do not anticipate any difficulty in securing this protection.

Previous negotiations with Europe in the matter of holding world's championships have not succeeded owing to the fact that the Europeans claim that their system should be used. The American system for skating is the same as for other sports and there is no reason why we should not make the claim to have competition under the rules prescribed for other sports.

If the arrangements thus far carried on are satisfactory to the association, matters can be concluded with the consul at Montreal.

Respectfully submitted,
D. J. CORR,
Secretary.

It is requested that every member of the Saint John Association be present at the annual meeting Tuesday night, as important business is to be transacted.

More British Coal Brought To Canada
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 5.—Scarcity of Pennsylvania coal is giving a boost to the British varieties, which has stiffened in price accordingly. Welsh "cobbles," which are much in favor, are retailing at $17 a ton, which is $1 higher than Pennsylvania. Imports of British coal continue to mount, and up to date this season nearly 350,000 tons of Scotch and Welsh anthracite have been brought into port, this total being well in excess of the total amount brought in last season.

The inquiry was held this morning in the office of Captain W. R. Bennett, inspector of hulls, in the customs house.
