AUSTRIA TRYING TO RAISE ARMY

Will Consist of Thirty Thousand Men

Conflict Between Provinces and Central Government Makes Soldiers' Oath Uncertain—Few Recruits Offering.

Vienna, April 19.—(A. P. Correspondence)—Austria is trying to organize an army to succeed the Volkswehr under the provisions of the bill hurriedly passed during the panic that followed the German revolution. It is to be composed of 30,000 men. The treaty prohibits any aviation force.

The Socialistic elements fought for a workmen's army with great powers vested in the soldiers' councilors, exercising in practice the authority of the officers themselves. They were unable to obtain all their demands but the soldiers' councilors were given a voice in the adjudication of complaints and in all disciplinary measures provided for in the military code.

The Conservatives, however, won their point in securing the allocation of recruits in the provinces on a population basis and in provisions prohibiting political activity by the military forces.

These provincial units are to be garrisoned within the province itself and no man can be foisted upon a unit in a province in which he was not recruited.

In this provincial arrangement that the Socialists opposed most bitterly. They desired a purely national army and its recruitment as largely as possible from the working classes.

The contest between the provinces and the central government, or in other words between the Conservatives and the Socialists, is further illustrated in the various provisions that not only is each provincial government empowered to frame the service rules for its own conscripts, but the soldier takes oath to uphold the laws of both the central government and those of his province.

As there is much conflict in these respects it is not clear that a time will come when the army will not know just what it is to do.

In spite of the new efforts of the Socialists, particularly the workmen's councils, to spur recruiting, a few men have applied for enlistment in Vienna or the other industrial centres while reports from the provinces are even more discouraging.

The enlistment has been open for a month but only a very small fraction of the required 30,000 men have presented themselves.

"Nickey" Arnstein At Last In Hands of New York Police

Surrenders in District-Attorney's Office and Says He Was in Pittsburgh All During Search in Great Bond Theft Case.

New York, May 15.—Jude W. (Nicky) Arnstein, said to be the "master mind" of New York's $5,000,000 bond theft plot, was arrested here today in the district-attorney's office, when he appeared there with his wife, Fanny Brice, an actress.

Arnstein told reporters he had been in Pittsburgh all the time the police have been looking for him. The elusive "Nicky" for whom Canadian and American police from coast to coast have been searching since last February, in finally fulfilling his oft-repeated promise to surrender himself, appeared at the district-attorney's office bright and early.

Besides his wife, he was accompanied by Wm. J. Fallon, his lawyer. They seated themselves and patiently watched for attaches of the office to show up for the day's work. Five minutes after their arrival Detective Edward Rayens, attached to the office, walked up to Arnstein and, by order of Assistant District-Attorney Rorke, placed him under arrest. "Nicky" retained his reputation as a successful dodger of police until the last. Taken to Rayens' office, he described to newspaper men an entrance into the city undetected by the police, who have been pursuing him for months.

According to his story, he arrived at the Pennsylvania terminal from Pittsburgh at nine o'clock this morning and went directly to Columbus Ave. and 9th street, where, by pre-arrangement, he was met by his wife in her automobile. He used her machine, he said, because the police had faithfully listed the number of his own car.

Arnstein's wife said she saw him in her car as he drove down Fifth avenue with them in broad daylight. Just to heighten the effect, "Nicky" man into his police pursuers, he said, "strong, forming for the usual New York police parade."

The contest between the provinces and the central government, or in other words between the Conservatives and the Socialists, is further illustrated in the various provisions that not only is each provincial government empowered to frame the service rules for its own conscripts, but the soldier takes oath to uphold the laws of both the central government and those of his province.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see you had one of them Quebec Frenchmen down here yesterday," said Hiram to the Times reporter. "Kin he talk any English—or did you get an interpreter?"

"Fortunately for the reporter," said Hiram, "he talks excellent English—as well as French. He can speak two languages to our own."

"Well," said Hiram, "I'm bound to say that a lot of Frenchmen come to spend money in Quebec. I see, said Hiram, 'he done some braggin' about Quebec."

"On the contrary," said the reporter, "he was polished gentleman."

Small is Alive

RUMOR SAYS THAT SMALL IS ALIVE

Toronto, May 15.—The World this morning gives currency to a rumor that Amrose J. Small, proprietor of certain theatre interests, who disappeared early in December last, is alive, but being held for ransom.

Mr. Small's disappearance has been a matter of considerable interest here, and it is believed that the police will execute this document when certain information comes into their possession. It is also said, according to the World, that a late employee of the Grand Opera House has made an affidavit that a little while before Mr. Small's disappearance, he was asked to be one of a small party to kidnap Small and hold him for ransom.

QUEBEC FIREMAN HURLED TO DEATH AT FEET OF PRIEST

Quebec, May 15.—Jos. Careau, motor tender at No. 3 fire station here, was killed this morning while responding to an alarm. He attempted to prevent a collision with a farmer's wagon and the two rear wheels of the truck snapped in the car track and the man was dashed against an iron post. He fell at the very feet of a passing priest, who went to administer the last rites of the church but the man was already dead. The alarm was rung in for a small blaze.

BOY STRUCK BY MOTOR TRUCK IS NOW IN HOSPITAL WHERE INJURIES ARE SAID TO BE UNCERTAIN.

SURRENDER OF CARRANZA IS LATEST WORD

Had Broken Through the Revolutionaries' Line

Said to Have Given Himself Up With Some 800 of His Forces—Flores Holds Mazatlan—Fighting Was Severe.

VERA CRUZ, May 15.—President Carranza, who with a force of loyal troops has been resisting rebel attacks near San Marcos, state of Puebla, for the last five days, has broken through the rebel lines to the southeast and, accompanied by 1,000 men, has fled into the mountains between Puebla and Oaxaca.

General Murguía and General Urquiza, with some of the Carranza troops, are still fighting near San Marcos for the purpose of retarding the pursuit of the fleeing president. The American Consul at Vera Cruz reported yesterday that he had arranged for departure of Carranza's forces under a flag of truce. The British consul at Vera Cruz and two Americans are on the train.

THE QUEBEC VIEWPOINT.

The viewpoint of Quebec was presented with marked ability to a St. John audience last evening by a representative Canadian of French descent. The address of Mr. Horace J. Gagne before the Canadian Club was the utterance of a man who cherishes the traditions of the great race from which he springs, but who also loves Canada, honors the king and sees the vision of a great commonwealth to whose welfare French and English shall contribute their share, working side by side in the spirit of a real national unity.

Mr. Gagne's definition of democracy is eminently sane. There must be no ruling class, either that of wealth or the proletariat, but there must be authority based on the will of all the people. Capital and labor must understand and appreciate each other and co-operate, so that every citizen may receive that for which he works and has earned, and to which he is entitled. In his own province, outside of Montreal, he finds an illustration of employers and employed working in hearty co-operation. Labor troubles are of rare occurrence, and this stability of labor is one of the facts which is bringing millions of capital into Quebec for investment in new industries. Glancing over the world situation, Mr. Gagne sees a shortage of essentials, and insists that the first and paramount duty is to produce more food and clothing at the expense of luxuries which might very well be disregarded until the paper dollar has a little more gold behind it, and the high cost of living has been reduced. He is unsparing in criticism of profiteers, and submits that the great task imposed upon every individual is that of steady work to swell the volume of production.

As to Quebec and the other provinces, his query, Why should we quarrel? admits of only one answer. The old province of Quebec, while it may be a bulwark of conservatism, though not in the political sense, is really making wonderful progress and making a constant and most valuable contribution to the wealth and progress of Canada. One is greatly impressed to learn that the area of land under cultivation has been doubled in a few years, and that outside capital is pouring in for investment in new industries. The stability of labor of which Mr. Gagne speaks is a great factor in progress and he testifies that the relations between employers and employed, outside of the large cities, is so cordial as to attract attention in the United States as well as in Canada.

St. John people are interested especially in what this citizen of Montreal says about the port of St. John. He says the people of his city regard St. John as a Canadian port whose growth of trade means growth for Canada, and that it should be equipped to handle the traffic which should pass through our own Canadian ports in winter and in summer. All who heard last evening's address and the talk later at the Commercial Club will be ready to give this gifted speaker a hearty welcome on any future visit to St. John.

DEFECTIVES.

Dr. E. J. Pratt of Toronto pleads for special classes for defective children and special industrial provision in farm colonies for older defectives. He declares that "a sane method energetically applied would pay for itself many times over, not only in heavy reductions in the cost of crime and pauperism, but in the elimination of those intangible wastes that spring from the presence in society of the mentally inefficient."

In a Study of Canadian Immigration, soon to be published, Mr. W. G. Smith gives some striking facts concerning the origin of many of Canada's defectives. A review of his book says:—

"He notes that among the immigrants of European birth suffering from insanity, idiocy, deafness, dumbness and blindness, the immigrants from Germany stand at the head of the list. The order, according to the countries from which the immigrants come, is shown in specified defects as follows: Insanity—Germans, Swedes, Norwegians, Russians, French, Austro-Hungarians, Italians, Idiotcy—Germans, French, Swedes, Russians, Austro-Hungarians, Norwegians, Italians, Deafness and dumbness—Germans, Russians, French, Austro-Hungarians, Swedes, Norwegians, Italians, Blindness—Germans, Swedes, French, Russians, Austro-Hungarians, Norwegians, Italians."

It will be noted that in all these cases Germany led. Was she trying to unload her defectives? There is ample evidence that Canada has been too lax in the past in scrutinizing immigrants from Europe, and this laxity has been very expensive. There is now a more careful system of inspection, and yet there are those who assert that too many under-troubles are still able to get into Canada. We are not so greatly in need of increased population that we can afford to let down the bars for a single year.

The reports submitted at last evening's meeting of the Commercial Club showed that the various teams are doing good work and that they are dealing with many matters of importance to the city. Isager Schofield's appeal in behalf of investment in city bonds should bring a response, since the money is needed to

THE GAME

I am going to the park, where the baseball artists play, and I'm blithe as any lark that uplifts its song today. For a while I can forget, as I watch them sweat the sphere, all the weary things that fret, and the sigh and sob and tear. There'll be time to walk the floor with a weeper in my hand, when this bully game is o'er and the visitors are canned. Oh, our pitcher is in form, and a mighty arm is his, when that wing gets good and warm he'll show wizardry how to win. When I see him winding up I forget that I must drink sorrow from a bitter cup, that will put me on the blink. I forget that rents are high, that the larder's bare of hash, that the children wait for pie, clothing, shoes and succotash. I forget that the profilers who have soaked us left and right, that the bankrupt court approves as the only thing in sight. For a while I cast aside all my brooding and despair, when I see our heroes slide round the bases on their hair. When I get the joyous mob at all, with yore, "Welly," I murmur, through a sob, "we are growing same once more."

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

BATOUCHE.

On May 18, 1919, General Middleton at Batoche broke the rebellion in the North-West Territories and captured some of the leaders of the outbreak. The success of the general was all the more welcome because he had met with a severe delay when he came upon Gabriel Dumont as he marched along the Saskatchewan river with his little force divided on the two sides of the stream. So he had decided to await the coming of reinforcements before he moved up to Batoche, where he knew the main force of the rebels was encamped and entrenched.

As soon as the ice in the river went out a small steamer, the "Northcoote," arrived with reinforcements. The "Northcoote" was then turned into a gunboat and the army moved on to Batoche where the force arrived on May 9, after a hard trip up the river, for the rebels poured shot into the small craft most of the time. Batoche was a hard place to capture. The enemy was skillfully led by Gabriel Dumont, who was a natural soldier and strategist. Time had been given them to entrench well so that the task of driving them out was a difficult one. General Middleton had the army half encircled and prepared for the fight that was to come. At the end of three days he had so crushed the rebels in skirmishes that the spirit was fast leaving the besieged half-breeds. Then a charge was ordered and in a short time the victory was assured.

The half-breeds were driven out of Batoche and the prisoners Louis Riel had captured were freed. Dumont, whose skillful fighting had won the admiration of the king's troops, escaped over the border to the United States, but Riel was taken prisoner. That was the beginning of the end for the trouble. Founding an Indian chief, surrendered and was tried and sentenced to prison. Eight Indians were found guilty of murder and hanged late in the fall. Riel paid the extreme penalty in the Regina prison.

SPRING'S SARABAND.

Over the hills of April
With soft winds hand in hand,
Impassioned and dreamy-eyed,
Spring leads her Saraband.
Her garments float and gather
And swirl along the plain,
Her headgear is the golden sun,
Her cloak the silver rain.

With color and with music,
With perfume and with pomp,
By meadow and upland late in the
Through pasture, wood and swamp,
With promise and enchantment
Leading her mystic line,
She comes to lure the word away
With joy as old as time.

Quick lifts the marshy chorus
To transport trill on trill;
There's not a rod of stony ground
Unanswering on the hill.
The brooks are lithe and leaping
Dance down their wild ravines,
And children in the city squares
Keep time to tambourines.

The bluebird in the orchard
Is lyrical for her,
The starling with his meadow pipe
Sets all the birds to chirp.
The hooded white spring beauties
Are curtsying in the breeze,
The blue heronies are wading
Under the chestnut trees.

The maple buds make glamor,
Viburnum waves its bloom,
The daffodils and tulips
Are risen from the tomb.
The lances of Narcissus
Have pierced the wintry mold;
The commonplace seems paradise
Through veils of greening gold.

O heart, hear thou the summons,
Put every grief away,
When all the motley masques of earth
At beck and call have fled;
Alack, that any mortal
Should less than gladness bring
Into the choral joy that sounds
The Saraband of Spring.—Bliss Carman.

LIGHTER VEIN.

"You seem to hate that fellow Smith," said Brown. "What is the trouble between you and him?"
"I introduced him to my wife the other day," replied Jones, "and the gabby boob had to say: 'Why, I thought that the lady you were with in New York was your wife.'"

Pupils—What, in your opinion, professor, is the most difficult mathematical problem?
Professor (grimly)—Trying to make both ends meet, my dear sir.—Boston Transcript.

Self-Help Insufficient.
Mr. Harbifax—So your son left us to go into a bank in the city? How did he acquire himself?
Mr. Timbertop—He didn't acquire himself. It took the best lawyers in the county to get him acquitted.—Boston Globe.

"Heaven pity the wife," said Bishop Flipper, "who has to prompt her husband to do the right thing by her. Hers is a pathetic case indeed. One man said to another in the first weeks of December: 'What are you going to give your wife for a Christmas present?' The other man turned and answered: 'I don't know yet. She put it away in a drawer before I had a chance to see it.'"

PRACTICE WILL START NEXT WEEK

City League Teams Get Ready for Opening Season on May 24 — St. Peter's Park Nearly Ready.

Next week the various teams entered in the city baseball league will begin practicing for the opening on May 24. Up to the present time the weather, especially in the evenings, has been cold and it was more detrimental than beneficial to the opening of the season. If conditions are more favorable next week, the players should be able to round into shape and give a good account of themselves on their first appearance.

The adoption of "daylight saving" is essential for twilight ball and will mean that during the summer months fans should see many more night games. Without the extra hour of daylight only four or five innings can be played.

Work on St. Peter's new ball park is progressing favorably and will be ready for the team to start practicing on Monday evening. There has been a lot of work done so far, and from now on it will be a case of putting the finishing touches on the playing field.

FOUR WARRANTS IN MONTREAL

IN BOND CASE
Montreal, May 14—Four warrants for the arrest of parties concerned in the New York $5,000,000 bond pool were sworn out today, but the greatest secrecy as to names is still being observed and nothing could be ascertained officially beyond the fact that the men involved were residents of Montreal and vicinity. The impression is growing here that Arnstein is in the Laurentians near here on a fishing trip.

GOING UP

All indications point to higher prices for another year at least. Mr. Arnold has had two trips to Montreal and New York this year in search of bargains. In April he found everything in the way of bargains sold out and quotations for next year 25 to 100 per cent higher. As nearly all our goods are bought six to twelve months in advance, our retail prices in many articles are less than wholesale prices today. We have therefore decided not to buy for next year at the existing high prices and will offer a discount of ten per cent on our entire stock, commencing Monday, May 17. For a limited time everything in our store will be less 10 per cent.

HAVE YOU SEEN WHY THE "HOOVER ELECTRIC SUCTION SWEEPER" IS THE BEST?

Three processes are essential for thoroughly cleaning carpets—Beating to dislodge embedded grit. Sweeping of lightning rapidity, to detach instantly all clinging substances. Suction to remove by air from the carpet surface this beaten out, swept loose, dirt—and also the surface dirt and scraps.

The "Hoover" is the only suction machine that beats as it sweeps—as it suction cleans. This is why it is the largest selling electric cleaner in the world. If you invest in one now you will soon save its cost in carpet cleaning!

RECENT DEATHS

South Branch, May 13—The death of Miss Mary M. Murphy occurred at her home here on May 10, at the early age of twenty-three years. She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Murphy, six brothers and three sisters. The brothers are: Joseph, of Grannan (Alta.); John Henry, of Lake Austin (Me.); Thomas, Charles, Esdras and Arthur, at home. The sisters are: Martha, teacher at Tweedie Brook (N. B.); Margaret and Frances at home. The funeral was held on Wednesday morning at South Branch. Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Herbert Kelly, of West Bathurst. The pall bearers were John H. Gaudet. The pall bearers were John H. Murphy, Thomas D. Murphy, John T. Murphy, Nelson Murphy, John R. Murphy and James Murphy.

Bathurst, May 12—The death of Mrs. Herbert Kelly, of West Bathurst, occurred on Monday morning with tragic suddenness. Going about her accustomed household duties, she was seized with an attack of heart trouble, from which she never rallied, and her death occurred within a half hour. Besides her husband, Herbert Kelly, of West Bathurst, she leaves an infant a few months old. She was a daughter of the late Patrick Doran of North Teteagouche. Her mother survives her, also the following brothers: Edward, of North Teteagouche, and Joseph, Robert and James, of West Bathurst. Besides Rev. E. P. Wallace, celebrated high mass of requiem and interment was in the Catholic cemetery at West Bathurst.

Bathurst, N. B., May 12—At the James Hammett Dunn Hospital at West Bathurst the death occurred on Tuesday of Mrs. John Eddy, of South Teteagouche, after an illness of three weeks. An energetic worker in the Women's Institute and equally zealous in all movements of a religious or charitable nature, Mrs. Eddy's influence and strong personality will be greatly missed by her fellow-workers and neighbors. She was formerly Miss McMillan, of South Teteagouche. Much sympathy is felt for her family, which consists of her husband and the following: One daughter, Miss Annie, and six sons—Ralph, Lindon, Howard, Lloyd, Eldon and Malcolm, the eldest being about twenty.

Newcastle, N. B., May 14—The death of Miss Grace Lyons of Doaktown occurred on Friday at the Victoria Public Hospital, Fredericton. Miss Lyons, who had been a nurse at that institution for upwards of two years, died, after a week's illness with scarlet fever and pneumonia. She was twenty-one years of age and is survived by her mother, Mrs. James Beck of Doaktown, two sisters and one brother. The body was taken to Doaktown for interment.

Fredericton, N. B., May 14—Mrs. Richard Moxon died at noon today at her home Upper Maugerville after a lingering illness. She is survived by four sons, one daughter and her husband. The sons are Miles, Frank, Corey and Harry and the daughter is Olive. All are at home at present.

The death occurred last evening, at the residence of her husband, Ira D. Perry, 186 Queen street, of Mrs. Nettie Ruth Perry, who had been sick for the last fourteen months. Although she had been seriously ill for some time, the end came unexpectedly. Mrs. Perry, who had been a resident of this city for fourteen years, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Humphrey, of Norton, Kings county, and leaves, besides her husband, one son, Gordon, aged nine, three brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Thomas, of Apohaqui, James, of New York city, and Herbert

IS HOPEFUL FOR FUTURE OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Lord Reading Says Life of Organization Depends on the People.

Manchester, Eng., April 23—(A. P. Correspondence)—Lord Reading, lord chief justice of England, and former ambassador to Washington, talks hopefully of the prospects of a League of Nations.

"Whether the league becomes a weapon for the preservation of peace, or whether it withers and dies does not depend upon the government, on statesmen or politicians, but upon the people of the member countries," he told the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

"In time to come, if the public of the various countries will put their heart and soul into it, we may eventually arrive at a stage when war might be regarded as a thing of the past."

Lord Reading said the words of Washington's farewell address were treasured by the American people "as perhaps never had words of man been treasured." This he cited as illustrating the very strong conservative traditions of the United States which he asked his audience to take into account in considering the present American attitude toward the league.

FORMER RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S DEAD

The death of Rev. Canon Eleazar William Sibbald took place recently at his home in Bona Vista, Cal. He was formerly rector of St. Luke's church in the North End and has a host of friends who will regret to learn of his death. Venerable Archdeacon Rodcliffe, D. D., in a current issue of the Living Church, gives a history of the life of the late Canon Sibbald in a descriptive and pleasing manner. Canon Sibbald was a native of Scotland. He received his education in Canada and in the early nineties was rector of St. Luke's church, but on account of his health was forced to resign.

CROWN JEWELS ARE BEING RETURNED

London, April 28—(Associated Press Correspondence)—The crown jewels, which were removed to a place of greater safety during a recent succession of daring burglaries about London, have now been returned to their accustomed place in the Tower.

"That fact is regarded as hardly likely to prompt anyone to try to steal them, but it is somewhat remarkable that Colonel Blood's attempt on the regalia in 1671, recalled by this incident, should be the only one on record, considering the manner in which his audacity was rewarded. He did not, of course, succeed in his enterprise, but Charles II. was so impressed by his daring that he pardoned Blood and gave him an appointment in his household and an estate in County Clare which was held by his family for over 200 years."

BOLSHEVIKI PROPHECY CONCERNING FRANCE

Paris, May 14—French newspapers are printing the following statement, just made by M. Tchitcherin, the Soviet commissary for foreign affairs, in a radio message from Moscow:

DOCTORS BALK Refuse Clerical Work of Filling Out Miners' Compensation Claim Papers.

Sydney, N. S., May 15—Doctors in Glace Bay have notified officials of the United Mine Workers that after June 1 they will refuse to make out the compensation claims of the miners. They say that this entails considerable clerical work for which they receive no remuneration; also that the completion of these forms gives to the compensation board certain statistics for which the board pays nothing.

MORE JAPANESE ARE NOW LIVING ABROAD

Tokio, April 19—(Associated Press Correspondence)—According to investigators of the Foreign Office, 180,000 Japanese are living in the United States, 110,000 in Hawaii, 59,000 in China proper, 21,000 in Brazil and 70,000 in other countries, the total being 580,000. This is an increase of 90,000, as compared with that of 1918.

FOUR TINY NATIONS ASK ENTRANCE TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Iceland, Georgia, San Marino and Luxemburg

Interesting History and Principal Features of the Applicants — San Marino Wholly on a Mountain.

New York, May 15—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Applications by four of the smallest countries in the world—Iceland, the Republic of Georgia, San Marino and Luxemburg—for admission to the League of Nations, which are being before the Council of the League in Rome, Italy, have awakened interest in these lands and peoples. Iceland, which, until 1918, belonged to Denmark, has a population of approximately 70,000 and an area of 35,000 square miles. It was discovered by Norsemen in the 9th century and claimed as a republic until 1874, when it was united with Norway. In 1889 it was taken by Denmark in whose hands it remained until 1918, when, in accordance with a principle of self-determination, Iceland proclaimed its independence. King Christian X of Denmark honored the former colony by sending a warship to salute the Icelandic national flag.

The Danish government in 1918 forbade the manufacture or sale of intoxicants and the parliament of Iceland subsequently enacted a prohibition law making the nineteen systems or parishes forever "dry." Icelandic women have long had the right to vote.

Keykjavik and Akureyri, the principal villages of Iceland are on the coast, which is a belt of rich pasture land. The interior is a vast plateau 2,000 or more feet above sea level and is generally a sand and lava desert and practically destitute of grass or trees, excepting a few hardy heath. There are no roads. For centuries Iceland was the center of volcanic eruptions, the lava fields covering an area of 4,500 square miles.

Georgia, formerly ancient Iveria, a part of Russian Trans-Caucasia, is populated by a people who call themselves Martli and who are known by neighboring Persians as Gurl. The seats of government are Tiflis and Gurla. In the third century they constituted a might state which lasted until 1424 when it was divided into three parts, one Georgia, one Abkhazia and one the Russian Empire.

The population of Georgia at the time she declared her independence in Russia on May 26, 1918, was about 8,000,000. Eighty per cent of the Georgians are farmers. On March 17 last the independence of Georgia was recognized by Italy. Under the Turkish peace treaty Batum is to become a free port.

San Marino or Sanmarino, is not only one of the smallest states but one of the oldest republics in Europe. It is enclosed by three Italian provinces and consists of a craggy mountain 2,432 feet high, on which are the town and some surrounding terraces with four or five villages.

about 8,000. San Marino was originally an army to the Allies. The chief industry is agriculture including the raising of cattle. The legislature of the republic is composed of a senate of sixty members, elected for life equally from the ranks of peasants, citizens and nobles. Two presidents are chosen by the senate every six months.

Luxemburg, which lies between Rhenish Prussia, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine, and which was occupied by the Germans during the war, made a Grand Duchy in 1814 by the King of the Netherlands. In 1867 it was declared neutral territory by the Treaty of London. It has belonged, however, since 1842 and until the signing of the Versailles Treaty, to the Zollverein or German Customs Union.

The population of Luxemburg before the war was approximately 200,000 living in an area of about 1,400 square miles. Wallonia, French in speech, has a few villages, but the language of the people is chiefly a German dialect.

After the armistice in the world war, the German government made a revolution occurred, but was halted by the Allies. The American troops passed through the country and were well received. The Grand Duchess Marie, whose abdication had been demanded by a mob, fled from the country and a republic was proclaimed. This new government, however, existed only a few hours. The parliament called for a plebiscite to decide the future form of government, and the people voted for a restoration of the Grand Duchy, electing as Grand Duchess the Princess Charlotte, sister of Marie.

PROGATION OF N. S. LEGISLATURE DELAYED.

Halifax, May 15—The N. S. legislature was slated to be prorogued yesterday, but will probably not close its doors till the latter part of next week.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Montreal, May 15—The Salvation Army Jubilee self-denial fund objective $150,000 was inaugurated last night with every presage of success at a dinner held in the Windsor Hotel. A very representative group of citizens and clergymen attended. Brig-General W. O. H. Dudds presided.

International Horse Show.

London, April 23—(A. P. Correspondence)—Cash prizes totaling $45,000 are to be awarded at the International Horse Show to be held in June at Olympia, London, the first to be held after a lapse of six years. There will be six classes. As Russia won outright in 1914, the King Edward VII International Challenge Cup for teams of three officers, the prize of Wales is giving another cup for this event.

A Prohibition Order.

Rosano, Va., May 15—Seizure, by field agents of the bureau of internal revenue, of all material "designed to be used in the manufacture of alcoholic liquor" has been ordered by S. R. Brame, federal superintendent of prohibition agents for the southern division.

The Alberta Crop.

Calgary, May 15—In parts of eastern Alberta from fifty to eighty per cent of the seeding is completed. Eastern and southern parts of the province are all making excellent progress in seeding in spite of intermittent showers and another week will see nearly all the seed in the ground.

"War Gardens" Never So Needed.

(St. Paul Pioneer Press.)
The war garden of 1918 was never more in need than it is right now. Every pound of vegetables raised "on the side" by the householder whose main occupation is in other lines will relieve the prohibitive prices a step farther away. The year's food supply and keep hunger and prices beyond the reach of the poor. This is no trifling matter. When the nation's food supply runs short and crowds prices beyond the reach of the poor, somebody must go hungry. Must this be, for your negligence to raise a garden in the back yard or the vacant lot?

AGRICULTURE NOTE

European Corn Borer and Other Boring Caterpillars Which May Be Mistaken For It.

In certain sections of the eastern United States the notorious European corn borer has become established and in view of the grave danger of this serious foreign pest being brought into Canada, the entomological branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have issued a special circular dealing with this insect and others which bore in corn and which may be mistaken for it. This has been prepared by Arthur Gibson, chief of the division of field crop and garden insects. It comprises 14 pages and has seven illustrations. A limited edition only of this circular has been printed. Agricultural workers and others specially interested may obtain copies free of charge on application to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

ARREST BOY ON CHARGES OF HOLD-UP, SHOOTING AND ATTEMPT TO ROB

Providence, R. I., May 15—Irving Richard, a fifteen year old boy, was arrested last night in Woonsocket, charged with having held up a school bus and attempted to rob Charles Warren of Blackstone, Mass., a New Haven railroad bridge construction foreman yesterday.

Warren was shot from ambush on the railroad right-of-way near Masonville after he refused to obey a command to throw up his hands.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

"Saved by the Movies," Tells Leathers' Story.

Contrary to all expectations and contrary to the usual proceedings of merchants "left behind" by the growth of the town in a different direction, R. J. Leathers, instead of following the town, held on to his location and had the townspeople come back to trade with him.

Leathers had probably the best trade in Cartersville, Mo., until new mining discoveries in another direction caused the inhabitants to move, one by one, nearer the centre of activity, until at last there was nothing left except Leathers' general store and a "movie show." The moving picture building was an unwieldy affair of brick and mortar. It was unmovable, unless torn down. So the owner decided to hang on where he was. Virtually all that held up Leathers' trade was the patronage of the movie show. When the miners attended the show in the evening they never failed to call upon their old friend and usually made more or less large purchases.

Soon after this began to fall, for another "movie palace" was erected in the "new town" in the same patronage of the old place began to fall off. With it went most of Leathers' trade. So Leathers began to think seriously of moving himself. But this building he occupied was old and would have to be torn down. Even the "remains" would be almost useless.

Then a brilliant idea came to the rescue. The owner of the movie show was disgusted and was willing to sell out at most any price. Leathers bought the place for a song. Then he had it repaired and otherwise renovated, leased a good set of attractions for the season and advertised in papers and by hand-bills and other ways that all regular and steady customers of his store would be given a season ticket for each of his family, good for any or all performances so long as the family trading was done at Leathers' store. To others, or casual customers, each $3 purchase of any sort of goods called for two one-performance tickets. These purchases did not have to be all made at the same time, but the party who did the buying could have tickets at any time they were so entitled.

Now at any and all times housewives can be seen "hiking" away from the open store doors near the head for Leathers' store in quest of a better soap or something else. He is getting all the trade of the town, regardless of distance. The movie show is crowded every night and nearly all persons are admitted on season tickets.

Here's One Merchant Who Works All Night.

There's one man in Altoona, Pa., who doesn't care a rap for daylight saving. He is William F. Gable, head of the William F. Gable & Co. department store. His working hours begin about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and extend into the early hours of the morning.

Running the largest department store between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at night is the job that Gable has given himself for some years. Instead of spending his time during the hour and a half of business in daytime, he prefers to do all the executive work and planning for his store in the quiet seclusion of the midnight hour, with no one near to intrude upon his thoughts in the little office surrounded by the Stygian darkness of the store. Here he sits, night after night, planning the programme for the next day's business. Sometimes he takes a stroll through the store, inspecting the counter and window displays and

Stomach And Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood there is a tendency up and down the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes willful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They live up to the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about their valuable medicine and they have used them with good results."

They are also good for headache. Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a trial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by T. S. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WORK OF YEAR AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Reports at Recent Annual Meeting

Directors Review the Situation and Give Details of What Has Been Done—Declared Banner Year in History of Association.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. a few days ago the following report was submitted:

Directors' Report.

The report of the directors was as follows:

We felt at the beginning of the year, whether rightly or not, that we were facing a crisis in the history of the association. The final victory for the return of so many of our men, with enlarged visions, new experiences and a restless born of great enclosures, demanded that "old associations" should "measure up" to the newer ideas of service, clean and orderly, sports, social entertainments, and general entertaining, for which the association stands.

It was our desire to make this the banner year in the history of the association. We think you will all agree with us in the belief that this result has been achieved. Your directors have endeavored at all times to administer the association to the best of their ability, keeping ever before them the ideals for which we stand and the best interest of this association.

Membership.

Although it was found necessary to endeavor to meet the increasing cost of up-keep and administration by increased rates the membership has kept up splendidly. The applications for the six returned soldiers memberships have naturally dropped off, but a good percentage of the men who availed themselves of this privilege have renewed their membership at the soldier rate. The standing at the close of the year is as follows:

Senior Members	266
Returned Soldiers	160
Intermediates	69
Limited Members	28
Business College	16
Life Members	11
Total	550

Boys' memberships: 1920, 1919, 1918.

In the suburbs a woman millinery retailer, under the firm name of Millicent & Co., spreads a big streamer across the street overhead announcing: "May we emphasize that in blouse we specialise, Lingerie, too. Look in our window, an as sure you'll find Choicest selection and Endless display of Neckwear—hats and millinery To tempt you inside. This woman has built up quite a creditable connection through this persistent method of linking up the store name with the local ads.

Oven Knows Why Your Left Shoulder Is Higher.

"Why is your right shoulder lower than your left?"
Apparently there's little connection between this question and the business of a merchant tailor, but B. A. O'Brien, of Oakland, Calif., who follows the tape and scissors craft, made it serve as an extremely ingenious piece of advertising for him.

O'Brien, through some twenty-two years' observation of the anomalies which passed through his shop, discovered a physical peculiarity existing in 99 per cent of his customers. Their left shoulders were higher than their right. Whatever the physiological reason may be, O'Brien thought he had the right idea about it. So, in order to make sure and, incidentally, obtain a little usefulness advertising, he sent out 350 letters to the same number of men in his locality, asking:

"Why is your right shoulder lower than your left? Or isn't it? If it is not, you are the one in a thousand."

Included in the sixty-five replies which came in were a number of interesting reasons assigned for the popular physical defect, among them these: "Violin playing"; "Bookkeeping in a desk"; "Being in the advertising business, my right shoulder is naturally pulled out of place from carrying the lot to the bank"; "Carrying a sample case on the road for twenty years."

A month later O'Brien personally addressed a letter to the same people and enclosed a booklet, "For the Good of the Child," in which he gave his version of the answer to the question. This pamphlet explained the tailor's experience and observations of people, with the statement that he found that as a result of experiments his own baby was thus afflicted and that the reason was that, because of the habit of most parents in holding their child's left hand when walking, the child's young, unformed muscles were raised, bringing the left shoulder up higher than the right. It concluded with the advice that, instead of always holding the child's left hand, the child's right hand should be taken as often as his left, and uniform and symmetrical shoulders would follow in consequence.

The booklet achieved wide circulation and many orders came in to O'Brien, to say nothing of the goodwill created by his stunt.

The weekly contests and dual meets held between intermediates and seniors. Weekly events were also held for the boys in the various classes, and badges given for the highest scores. The juniors also made a very creditable showing in the Junior Hexathlon.

In connection with the C.S.E.T. work athletic meets were conducted for the Tuxis Squares and Trail Rangers and in the final national contest, nine churches competed: Hampton Methodist Square leading the Tuxis and Robbery's Anglican leading the Trail Rangers.

Basketball had a record season both from the number of teams organized in men's and boys' classes and in the fact that in all contests with visiting teams. More than 4,000 played in the various contests. In the eight leagues organized, eighty-one teams were entered. Representative teams were also organized in the intermediate and senior classes, both of which won the city championships; also the provincial Y.M.C.A. championships. 1,825 spectators witnessed the games on our own floor.

Two successful volleyball leagues were conducted for the business men's class, seven teams competing. The local and provincial championships were held with our members making splendid records in both leagues. Two teams visited Fredericton and helped to arouse interest and enthusiasm in the game in that city.

Wrestling and Boxing.

These branches of sport have been encouraged this year, and have been carried on in the weekly classes. City and provincial wrestling championships were held with forty competitors taking part.

Swimming.

Weekly aquatic events were conducted, as well as special classes for beginners. Local and provincial championships were held with our members making splendid showings in each. Y.M.C.A. members continuing the individual and team championships.

Leaders' Corps.

The junior and senior leaders' corps were organized in November, during a visit from Major J. J. Smith. These classes have been organized and training five members of the senior leaders corps have carried on voluntary work in the Y.M.C.A. and various churches in the city.

The gymnasium display held this spring was an unparalleled success and about 800 of the boys' relations attended on the two nights.

Six classes have been held in this department in addition to the weekly leaders' corps classes. Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results given are nearly always quick and effective.

To Flake Off An Old or Soiled Complexion

A woman need never cease to have a young-looking complexion if she will adopt the simple mercolized wax habit. The wax actually takes of the old complexion, with all its imperfections and the newer and livelier skin, which then appears, bears that rare beauty and irresistible loveliness that only a youthful skin can possess. The skin is indeed youthful in reality as well as in appearance. The natural process of tissue change, which slows up with the passing of the years, and in most conditions of ill-health, is hastened along by this mercolized wax treatment. Faded, muddy, freckled or blotchy skin is flaked off in powder-like particles, a little each day, causing no inconvenience.

Mercolized wax, now procurable at any drug store in this country, is the best skin product that accomplishes such results. It is applied at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning.

10,070. There were 31 morning sessions for girls, with 1,000 in attendance, and 68 outside extension classes, with 1,248 taking part. The total number using the gymnasium for class work (regular and special) is 14,818; this total could be almost doubled if there was a separate gymnasium for boys' work.

Boys' Division.

The home, the church, the school and the Y.M.C.A. are four of the most important agencies which center around the lives of the boys, and the development of the Church Co-operative and C.S.E.T. programme have continued along the lines of last year, with an increased attendance of boys.

The year's work, however, has shown some weaknesses in the C.S.E.T. programme, as it has been carried out, but the boys' work committee profiting by this experience has planned a different method for next year. The limited capacity of the building has added to the difficulties and it now seems necessary to turn the groups back to their respective churches for the carrying out of the greater part of the programme. Each section of the programme meeting in the Y.M.C.A. once a month, instead of trying to carry on one-anted weekly meeting.

Another feature that has made the work difficult has been the lack of members or boy group leaders. If the boys of St. John are to have the proper leadership and training they need and rightly demand, the men of St. John must be prepared to come forward even at some sacrifice to themselves and give complete leadership to the groups coming from the various churches, for special religious and physical training. As we train the boys of today, so we shall reap the benefits of leadership in them tomorrow.

There have been twenty-one Tuxis meetings, with a total attendance of 1,797, and an average of 94. This is much higher than the previous year, but can be easily doubled next year, if the senior volunteer leadership can be obtained and increased building facilities found. Although our building throughs with boy life at all times, we are barely touching the fringe of the work for boys that could be done in this city.

The Trail Rangers work had to be carried on outside of our building by many of the groups owing to the fact that we had not the room to accommodate them on Friday evenings, as last year. Several groups met in the boys' department, however, and were well looked after by Mr. Robertson.

The boys' club entertainment, consisting of a small moving picture machine proved to be a great asset for this work, and in fact was very useful on many occasions, especially for boys' entertainments and educational work.

The High Y Club held its monthly meetings throughout the year, and the boys received many practical and helpful talks from some of our leading business and professional men.

The Business Boys' Club has had a very successful year, and has had one and one night a month set aside for the boys' club entertainment.

One of the most important features of the boys' work was the summer camp at Chipman. Thirty-four boys attended and were under the supervision of the boys' club senior leaders. Keen interest is being shown in the camp to be held this year, and we are endeavoring to secure a more convenient location on the river for this coming summer.

Religious and Foreign Work.

The teacher training class conducted by the Rev. R. P. McKim has been very well attended—having to change their room for a larger one during the season to meet the increased attendance.

The visit made by William Jossop in the interests of the foreign work was very successful; a special meeting was held in the building and he also spoke in three of the churches; the response to the appeal for work in Egypt and the East was far in advance of former years.

Financial Bequests.

At the close of last year, the association was paid the following bequests: $800 from the estate of G. L. Harbour, and $800 from the estate of L. B. Meyers. $300 was received from the trustees of the School for the Deaf. These generous gifts were deeply appreciated, and strengthened the association finances.

The general receipts for the year were very gratifying, as was also the manner in which the canvassers were received in the recent campaign.

The expenditure for the year was:

For regular work	$18,516.10
For new work and special repairs	1,944.40
Total	$20,460.50
Deficit from last year	695.42
Total	$21,155.92

Receipts to April 30, 1920, $17,796.51
Receipts after May 1, but for April 30 budget, 696.00
Pledges, 990.00
Amount still to be raised to close year, 1,673.89
Total, $21,155.10

In General.

The directors acknowledge the continued support and invaluable assistance of the ladies' auxiliary and young ladies' league, also the many courtesies received from the press of the city.

The use of the building has been at the disposal of all inter-denominational and general social welfare work—meetings have been held regularly by the Evangelical Alliance, various ministerial meetings, and united church meetings, young people's society committees, the Playground Association and sports executives have used the building regularly throughout the year.

The association has been favored with visits from C. W. Bishop, national general secretary; F. J. Smith, national physical director; Wm. Jessup, foreign work secretary; Dr. Withrow, physical education; J. Russell Harris, industrial secretary; A. S. McAulister, late maritime secretary; L. A. Buckley, maritime secretary; A. St. Greg, maritime student secretary.

In closing, we wish to express our grateful appreciation of God's leadership and blessing, and the splendid support given during the year by our members and all who have had a part in making this year's work in the history of the St. John association.

BENEFIT OF PROHIBITION.

There can be no question of the tremendous economic value of prohibition, the Union Labor Bulletin of West Orange, New Jersey, declares, "Liquor," it goes on, "has been legislated out of business; the country has enjoyed six weeks of better health, of better family relations, of better payment of bills, of better results in the workshops and of better citizenship generally. The vicious results of the use of liquor have been shown up by present contrast. Is it the return of the old intinities that is desired? No sane citizen who has witnessed the transformation wants to see a restitution of former conditions.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It Is Done.

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that one out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to, which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constitutional condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womanhood is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvellous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Buttermilk, every sufferer will find a powerful specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a normal, healthy condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c. boxes.

Americans and Ireland.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

The loyal coalition of America is rapidly gaining a reputation for not minding matters. At any rate, the message which it dispatched, the other day, to Lloyd George, requesting the British government to disregard the cablegram, sent recently to the British premier by eighty-eight congressmen, criticizing the treatment of political prisoners in Ireland does not mind matters. "American public opinion," the message declares, in protesting against interference in the internal affairs of another country, "is rapidly awakening on this question. We confidently predict that, in the near future, American national consciousness will be articulated and will speak in no uncertain terms to these alien and hypocritical propagandists, among those who are so ardently and remorselessly plotting to wreck the world's peace."

Every Woman's Ambition For Rosy Cheeks Now Easily Satisfied

Hollow cheeks with dark lines under the eyes, how a woman hates them! Get rosy cheeks, clear skin, and bright eyes, give them to a woman and she is happy.

The woman who attracts, whose fresh, dainty complexion compels admiration, is always careful of her health, particularly of her blood circulation. Her blood circulation is good, her complexion is good. Girls, don't let your blood grow thin or watery. To do so brings on haggard looks and declining vitality. A woman who has allowed herself to run-down, to develop that tired, worried look has built up again in this simple way.

At the close of every meal, just take two small chocolate-coated Ferrero's Tablets—any person can do this in a minute. The action of Ferrero's is so gentle, so pleasant, it sets you up, makes you feel good, starts up your appetite, aids digestion, brings that old-time feeling of youth into the system again. Ferrero's puts you on the right road—the one leading to health.

Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrero's.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrero's is unrivaled. It cures because it feeds and builds and restores and in proper tone, keep a bottle of "ABSORBINE JR." in your locker. $1.25 a bottle—no more druggists or stores carry it. W. F. ATHLETES

"ABSORBINE JR." Makes an Ideal Rub-Down.

Football and lacrosse players, tennis and golf enthusiasts, runners and ornamental fencers, find quick relief from bruises and muscle soreness after a brisk rub-down with a trainer's massage.

"ABSORBINE JR." is a quart of water or witch hazel.

This wash—used by many prominent athletes, physical directors and trainers—is healing, soothing, strengthening and invigorating. Put it into tired, lame muscles—wonderfully effective—stretches and wrenches—prevents "next-day" soreness.

"ABSORBINE JR." keeps the muscles pliable and in proper tone. Keep a bottle of "ABSORBINE JR." in your locker. $1.25 a bottle—no more druggists or stores carry it. W. F. Young, Inc., Lyman Building, Montreal.

ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING NEW LOCAL HOTEL

Company Now Seeking Incorporation — Many Interesting Matters Before Commercial Club.

Last night's meeting of the Commercial Club, held in the G. W. V. A. assembly hall, was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the organization. Speeches of an optimistic and encouraging nature were given by Mayor Schofield and Horace A. Gagne, K.C., of Montreal, the various teams reported progress in their different objectives and the discussion which arose over each subject showed the members were taking a live interest in the activities of the club.

E. A. Schofield, who was styled by Chairman C. H. Peters as "St. John's progressive executive," was given a hearty reception. In his short talk, "Do it for St. John," he referred to work which has been done in the province during the war period, when some 400,000 people raised more than $3,000,000 for war purposes. He asked for co-operation among the various interests in the city, saying that the city and the port were on the eve of great developments. He suggested May 24, as a "get-together day" for the public spirited organizations, and, referring to the plans of his administration, promised that as soon as the debentures now issued by the city which are on sale at city halls, are fully taken up, the work of paving the main streets will start. In closing he referred to Horace A. Gagne who had just arrived, as one of the leading representatives of the real French-Canadian race and a credit to the Dominion of Canada.

report would be available at an early date. The hotel will cost in excess of one million dollars.

C. H. Peters, in accepting this report, warned the members that if the project were to be a success and sufficient outside capital interested, there would have to be a local stock subscription of $300,000 to $375,000.

Colonel B. R. Armstrong reported progress for the team having charge of manufacturing, industrial and transportation matters.

Reception for Visitors.

T. P. Regan, reporting for the committee on the reception of the Imperial press delegation, outlined the programme which has already been published. The suggested shore dinner, which was to have been part of the St. John river cruise has been eliminated. N. R. Deas, Bessy reporting the cost for a fish-boat dinner up river being excessive. The city council had taken over the matter of a banquet in the Knights of Columbus hall, but it was decided to have the executive go into the matter of cost with the intention of bearing a share of it.

A. P. Paterson, reporting on the committee for arranging the souvenirs for the press delegates, said some progress had been made. He wished to have something turned out which would show the past history of the city, as well as its present resources and possibilities. The souvenir booklet he suggested would cost $2 each. Mr. Regan thought there were booklets already issued by the Tourist Association, the Board of Trade and others which would do. Percy Thomson said the souvenir to have any effect should be given to the women and he suggested that the hundred women in the party be given each a silver vase, costing about $4. "The women won't forget a souvenir like that as long as they live," he said, "and they won't let their men folk forget it either."

Mayor Schofield said that both the Simms factory and the Corona factory are preparing souvenirs for the visitors.

After some discussion by L. P. D. Tilley, William Brown and R. Downing Paterson, it was decided to have the committee go into the matter of considering souvenir menus for the dinner, along the lines followed for the banquet given to the visiting members of parliament last winter.

Athletic Matters.

A. M. Belding, reporting for athletic and playground matters in the city, told the North End was now organized and would probably soon have its grounds, and that the West End, East End and South End associations were going in full swing. He asked the members to give full support to the associations which cater to their district for personal support is the thing most needed now.

Mayor Schofield said that a subscription list had been open in City Hall for the last week for the purpose of securing the medals needed in the Marathon trials to be held on June 26, and only four subscriptions had been handed in. There is still $100 needed.

Percy Thomson—"I'll put up whatever you're short." (Applause)

Chairman Peters showed an engraving of the cup which is to be given by the club to the city senior baseball league. It measures seven and one-half inches high and will cost about $75.

For Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. Thomson suggested that something be done to relieve the doubts of a Thanksgiving Day spent in St. John. He asked the club to promote a road race, field meet or other sport to amuse the people who have to stay in the city over the holiday. This matter was also taken up by Frank White, who said he could get a High School team of athletes from Boston to compete with the local boys under handicap.

H. R. McLellan said it would be possible to secure the use of the Exhibition grounds for an athletic meet.

T. H. Bullock wanted the aquatic sports, which proved such a success last year, maintained as an annual event.

The following new members were elected: George Knodell, H. G. Weeks, C. Percy Humphrey, G. R. Wetmore, Dr. F. W. Bonimus, Chas. Magnusson, B. W. Purdy and Joseph Dwyer.

GOING TO LONDON.

Winnipeg, Man., May 14.—W. H. Trueman, K.C., of the defense council at the recent strike leaders trial, will leave next Monday for London, where he will lay the appeal of the convicted strike leaders before the Privy Council. Mr. Trueman conferred with Russell at the penitentiary today.

SURPLUS STORES DISPOSED OF BY GOVERNMENT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, May 14.—A total of $6,047,010.12 in surplus stores was disposed of by the various government departments through the war purchasing commission between December 1, 1918 and March 31, 1920, according to a return tabled in the house today for Duncan Ross, West Middlesex.

The sale of goods commenced in December 1918 and practically all goods were offered for sale by tender. In many cases the offers were too low for acceptance and price lists had to be prepared and advertised. Sales had been made in this manner since the first of January.

ROADS AGAIN ARE OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

Good news is coming in to automobile owners from various counties of the province. The roads in several counties, which have been closed to motor cars during the time the frost has been coming out of the ground, have been reopened to traffic, including those in Gloucester, Restigouche, St. John, Kings and in the parishes of Moncton, Shediac,

Dorchester and Sackville parishes of Westmorland. This development means that motorists can now travel from St. John to Moncton, Shediac, Sackville and through to Nova Scotia. The provincial government has been protecting the roads more rigidly than ever this spring and many of them are in better condition than ever before. Repair work will be started in a few weeks on various country roads and construction work on permanent highways under way, tenders for which are now out. The mud has dried up rapidly this week.

PASCO Wire Wheels

10 Reasons why PASCO Wire Wheels are Popular

1. They are true and balanced on a special truing stand and balancing machine.
2. Due to the special method of truing the wheel, thereby securing equal spoke tension—breaking and loosening of spokes is practically eliminated.
3. They save tires because the metal absorbs and radiates heat which is fatal to tires.
4. PASCO wire wheels are five times the strength of any wood wheel, size for size.
5. The tangent method of spoke lacing gives greater curb clearance.
6. The spokes do not interfere with the valve stem—the largest sized air chuck can be used.
7. The hub cap is locked to the axle by double lock nuts with right and left threads permitting no sideways or wobble.
8. It takes less than three minutes to change a PASCO on the road.
9. Their symmetry enhances the beauty of your car.
10. An easy wheel to clean—ordinary wire wheel brush does the job.

ROBBERS HOLD UP CASHIER IN NEW YORK OFFICE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

New York, May 14—Two masked robbers held up the cashier of the Motor Truck Renting Corporation in West Forty Fourth street early tonight and escaped with $700 which they took from a drawer in a safe. A girl cashier was struck over the right eye by one of the thieves with the butt-end of a revolver.

CONFERENCE ON FURNISHINGS FOR NEW NURSES' HOME

A committee from the Women's Hospital Aid met with the commissioners of the general public hospital in the office of J. King Kelley yesterday afternoon for the purpose of going into the matter of the furnishing of the nurses' home. The delegation consisted of Mrs. W. W. White, convener of the committee on furnishing, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, president of the Aid, Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, secretary, and Mrs. Duncan Smith, treasurer. The commissioners present were Dr. Thomas Walker, chairman; J. King Kelley, Senator Daniel, Frank Flewelling, Miles Agar, Hon. Dr. Roberts and Dr. Crawford. The commissioners said that it was expected that the home would take about one year in the building. They agreed some uniform plan should be adopted in the furnishings. Dr. Roberts told of a magazine which deals exclusively with the subject of furnishings for such institutions and said he would procure some copies for the guidance of the committee which the aid should appoint. It was decided that Mrs. B. Duncan Smith, formerly superintendent of nurses in the general public hospital, who has recently visited several of the large nurses' homes in Canada and the United States should draw up a list of furnishings and should submit it to the commissioners for approval. The meeting was unanimously in favor of the furnishings being bought in St. John wherever it was possible that they should be.

MONTREAL BANKER TAKES OWN LIFE

Montreal, May 14—William Graham Browne, head of the firm of W. Graham Browne & Company, bond dealers, 224 St. James street, Montreal, manager of the Sovereign Bank at the time of its collapse some years ago, shot and killed himself in the wash room of the Bank of Ottawa building at 8.30 tonight. He was under arrest on a charge of theft of $50,000 from the Royal Bank of Canada, and was in the charge of Detective George Lapierre of the Thiel Service Company of Canada, Limited. He had been arrested late in the afternoon at Coteau station and was being taken to the Montreal detective bureau when he asked the detective to be allowed to stop at his office to see his lawyer. While waiting there, he asked to be allowed to go to the wash-room. The lawyer arrived and the detective and he talked for some time. The former then began to notice that Browne had been away for a long time. He went to the wash-room and found his prisoner dead. The bullet had entered through the head and had pierced his brain.

A FINE TRIBUTE FROM TEACHERS OF CHARLOTTE COUNTY

A gratifying mark of the esteem in which he is held by those with whom he has been closely associated has been received by W. M. McLean, who recently retired from the office of inspector of schools for St. John and Charlotte counties. It is the form of an address from the teachers of St. Stephen and reads as follows: Inspector McLean—We have heard with regret of your resignation as inspector of the Charlotte county schools. During the years in which you have filled that position, we, as teachers, have always been sure of your sympathy and co-operation in our work. To this spirit of "sympathy and co-operation" was added the practical experience acquired during long years of service, first as teacher, and afterwards as inspector. Now, as you sever your connection with our schools, we wish to place on record our sense of appreciation of your work as inspector, and to assure you

It takes a lot of enthusiasm to make a man talk about his personal preferences

As a rule, men make their own habits and customs—they pick their own ways of doing things. They steer their own course and don't chatter about their whims.

But, occasionally, there appears among men something new—something different and distinctive—something that appeals to their sense of progress and improvement upon the old order of things. Such a something is Mennen Shaving Cream.

It has revolutionised man's shaving methods and in a very short time has won a leading rank in sales. Those who have tried it now talk about it and recommend it to their friends.

Mennen's actually makes you enjoy shaving—

You don't have to rub it in. It works perfectly in cold water.

The lather holds three times as much moisture as do ordinary "soaps".

It never dries on the face within the time of a shave and it actually softens the beard that your razor glides over your face like removing down. It leaves your face smooth and soft.

Every man who uses Mennen's goes around the country boasting it.

Smart Style is Linked with VALUE in the $1465 GRAY-DORT

F.O.B. CHATHAM WARTAX EXTRA

The new Gray-Dort is a veritable treat to the eye—dignified, pleasing, modern.

The new hood with its many long, narrow louvres gives a European touch. So, too, does the smaller, smarter cowl. The gasoline tank is now in the rear. And the Rayntite top, hand-tailored in our own shops, is easily the smartest top on any lightcar.

Crowning all is the lasting elegance of the coach-builder's art and finish which Gray-Dort craftsmen have spent 60 years in perfecting.

But this beauty of line and finish cloaks even more desirable features.

The smooth, quiet Gray-Dort motor with its 57 stroke and 3 1/2" bore; the heavy 40 lb. crankshaft; the channel steel frame; the heavier steering gear; the Thermoid brake lining; the improved ignition and carburetor; the Westinghouse starting and lighting systems; the heavier rear axle and cantilever springs, both Chatham-built—the more you know about cars the more superlatives you will find in the Gray-Dort, hidden under its robe of smart beauty.

At $1465 there is nothing in the light car class to match the refined and improved Gray-Dort.

It is the dominant VALUE. See it first.

CELEBRATED THE ANNIVERSARY OF CULLOM LODGE

The Cullom Lodge, L. O. B. A., celebrated its nineteenth anniversary in a very pleasant and enjoyable entertainment in the Temple Hall in Main street last night. The worthy mistress, Mrs. John Silliphant, was the chairman of the evening and was made the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of flowers as a token of the esteem in which she is held by the members of the lodge of which she has been worthy mistress for two years. The presentation was made by Past Worthy Mistress Mrs. H. Kirkpatrick, who had held the office of worthy mistress for eleven years before Mrs. Silliphant was elected. Mrs. Kirkpatrick on behalf of the members expressed the good wishes and appreciation of her faithful work, to Mrs. Silliphant. There was a large gathering and the fine programme provided was received with heartiest applause. At the close of the evening refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

The programme was as follows: Solo, Miss Van Home; reading, Miss Edith Welch; piano solo, Miss Beatrice Kierstead; tableau, "Who are the Reapers," Miss Mildred Garnett, Miss Mary King, Miss Marion London, Miss Kathleen London and accompanist Miss H. REGULATING CONTAINERS FOR FRUIT

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Ottawa, May 14.—Canadian fruit, owing to its luscious nature, must now be sold in less than quart boxes, if suggestions made before the agricultural committee of the commons today are followed. It was explained that raspberries and strawberries, especially from Ontario and British Columbia, were of such a luscious nature that it was impossible to get more than two-fifths of a quart in a box without damaging a portion of it. The committee decided to standardize fruit containers to meet this situation. Berries and currants, after June 1 of this year, will be sold in four-fifths of a quart, one pint, and two-fifths of a quart boxes. The minister of agriculture, Dr. S. F. Tolmie, will have power to make new regulations as the necessity arises.

BUSY SEASON FOR THE NORTH SHORE.

The lumber mills along the Resigouche have commenced operations and will do so in a few days and the season bids fair to be the busiest ever experienced on the North Shore. With the addition of the two Fraser mills, which are nearing completion, and will be sawing early in July, a very large lumber cut is anticipated. The two mills of the Richards Mfg. Co., at Richardsville, are running. The W. H. Miller Company's shingle mill has commenced operations and the long lumber mill will be ready in a few days. The Shives Lumber Company's big mill at Athol and the shingle mill at Campbellton will be running as soon as logs are available. The Chaleur Bay mills will also be running shortly.

THE PRICES OF EGGS.

Ottawa, May 14.—The export season has opened with shipments of 420 cases of Canadian eggs to Glasgow and 825 cases of United States eggs to Liverpool. The market is lower in Eastern Canada.

With Chicago selling at forty-one cents, United States eggs can be delivered to Toronto at fifty cents. Country shippers report paying stores forty-six to forty-seven cents and receiving offers of forty-six to forty-eight (c.o.b.) Jobbing prices at Toronto are easier with specials at fifty-seven to fifty-eight cents. Canadian, fifty-five cents and United States, fifty-two cents. WILL WILSON RUN AGAIN?

That "there will be 'hell-a-popping' at San Francisco" is the warmish comment of the chief Democratic paper in Nebraska on Mr. Bryan's victory in the State primaries, for he will now go to the Convention as a delegate "with full opportunity to devote his power and talents to either guerrilla or open warfare upon the leadership of President Wilson and the policies for which he stands." The President has indicated very plainly, in his letter to Delegate Jouett Shouse, read to the Kansas Democratic State convention, that he will insist that the party support his League programme. The New York World believes it would be a fatal policy for the party to repudiate the President, for "it is only under his leadership that the party can be held together," and the Brooklyn Eagle says that if the party is to make the campaign on the League issue, "the only logical candidate, is Woodrow Wilson." The Republican press naturally have a few remarks to make about all this. Thus the Milwaukee Sentinel: "Run for a third term nomination? Of course he'll run—health permitting. And, as a prominent Democrat remarks, such is Mr. Wilson's sublime self-confidence that when it comes to that question he will regard himself as the best judge of the permissive state of his health."

One of the most interesting articles in this week's LITERARY DIGEST—May 15th—deals with the possibility of Mr. Wilson again being a candidate for the Presidency, and presents the editorial view-point on this contingency from many angles.

GREAT INCREASE IN OIL PRODUCTION

Shortage in United States Talked of for Years, Says Expert, But Whenever More Oil Is Needed Prospectors Find It.

Washington, District of Columbia.—It was learned yesterday that the Standard Oil Company of New York had advanced the price of oil to garages here by 11-2 cents a gallon, bringing the wholesale price up to thirty cents. Other companies, it is said, will follow this lead, which means that the retail price will be not less than thirty-four cents.

ruption in the transportation of oil it might have a serious effect on the situation in the United States, although it has been questioned whether all of the oil remained in the United States or whether part of it was exported after having been reduced.

Growth of Oil Production. Oil production in the United States has grown from 68,000,000 barrels, mostly in the Appalachian district, in 1900, to 337,719,000 barrels in 1920, two-thirds of which is produced by Oklahoma and California, but the demand is growing at a far more rapid rate. How much oil remains available in the United States is something on which the experts disagree.

An oil man of large experience said that an oil shortage had been talked about for twenty years, and yet when ever more oil was needed a prospector went out and found it. The old individual prospector, depending largely on luck, has practically disappeared. In his place there are today the professional prospectors acting for the great corporations.

"My opinion," he added, "is that there are still great untouched oil fields in the United States which will be developed as needed."

"Aside from the enormous demand, is there any other reason for the present high prices of oil?" an expert was asked.

Demand a Large Factor. "That is one of the things the government is trying to find out," he replied. "Of course the demand explains much of it. Take gasoline, for instance, which is so much used. There are 3,500,000 automobiles in the United States and 2,000,000 more contracted for to say nothing of tractors and other machinery which consume oil. The wonder is, not that gasoline is so high but that it is no higher. It has not increased in price in proportion to other oil products, and will probably go higher. Pennsylvania crude oil, which was $4 a barrel on September 1, jumped to $6, and some of the fuel oils almost doubled in price in six months."

"Is much oil shipped out of the country?" "A table issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce shows that 69,298,114 barrels of crude oil and direct products were exported in 1919. In addition, a large quantity of by-products were exported and a great amount of bunker oil was supplied directly to vessels in port."

Because of the high prices of oil and the extent to which the public is dependent on oil and oil products, an investigation is being conducted by the Federal Trade Commission. Its report will be presented to Congress about June 1.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

A Toronto news item of twenty-five years ago said: "The hotel keepers had an exciting meeting today, the question at issue being whether, in view of the increased cost of whiskey, they should charge five or ten cents a glass. The result of the discussion was that, provided all would sign an agreement the price should be advanced on May 20 to ten cents a drink."

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD, 159 Avenue Plus IX, Montreal. "For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but it did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured. At this time a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives' and I did so. After taking two boxes of 'Fruit-a-lives,' I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well. My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to 'Fruit-a-lives.'"

GASPARD DUBORD, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

PASSING THE PEAK

(Bangor Commercial.) The American public has been somewhat cheered in the last few weeks by indications that the peak of high prices has been reached and that the movement is now downward rather than upward. These indications are found in recent announcements of price reductions by some metropolitan stores, suggestions of reducing prices in silks and textiles and reports that wholesalers and manufacturers in clothing and boots and shoe lines are now facing constant cancellation of orders and find their products piling up in storage.

There may in these reports be found some echo of such movements as that for the donning of overalls but the main fact probably is that retail merchants are uncertain as to future conditions, are buying only from day to day. It is not in clothing that the real break will be found when it comes.

ducts are more necessary than clothing, and the prices of foods remain excessive. These depend upon production and there is every reason to believe that food production will continue to lag in this country. While labor can receive high prices and short hours in manufacture, the farm suffers the nation suffers. While labor works short hours and while all wage earners and salaried people are demanding higher and higher pay, the real break in prices will not come. The working people hold the solution in their hands. Production at a reasonable figure is the only remedy.

New Way to Curl Hair Has Many Advantages

You will find the following to be a simple and excellent method of curling the hair. Apply a little liquid silmerine with a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair just before doing it up. In three hours you will be quite amazed at the result. You will have the prettiest curls and waves imaginable, altogether natural in appearance. Aside from this, the advantages of the silmerine method are that the hair is curled so quickly, that it remains in curl a long time, that it has such a lively sheen or lustre, and is so beautifully fluffy when combed out. A few ounces of liquid silmerine from your druggist will last for weeks. It is of course perfectly harmless.

Id Folks' Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis Quickly Cured

his Tells of a Method That Cures Without Using Drugs. Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly, that is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia. Cough Syrup seldom does much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRHOZONE" which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat. In using Catarrhzone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich piney balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly. The germ-killing balsamic vapor mizes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through numbing the stomach with drugs. A Catarrhzone Inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first attack. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months. Small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Canada.

LOCAL NEWS

IS IMPROVING.
Mrs. R. H. W. Pinkett received a telegram this morning stating that her husband, Rev. Mr. Pinkett, who is ill in St. Louis, is steadily improving.

ON WEDDING TOUR.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Tritts of Moncton, recently married, are receiving congratulations of many St. John friends while spending a few days here. Mrs. Tritts, who was Miss Hilta Lockwood, was active in church and social circles while living in St. John.

ACCIDENT.
Clarence Galbraith, of Lorneville, a C. P. R. trucker, had his left hand slightly injured this morning at No. 8 shed, when it caught on some wire around a crate. First aid was administered at the Emergency Hospital and he was able to return to his work.

SAYS IT WAS A TRADE.
Arthur London has asked The Times to state that the case in which he was concerned regarding a transaction over a horse was not one of theft. He says he traded horses with a boy whose father was not satisfied with the deal and took the matter to court. As announced yesterday, the case was satisfactorily settled.

THIRTEEN DEATHS.
Thirteen deaths were reported to the Board of Health for the week ending today, from the following causes: Pulmonary tuberculosis three, senility, pneumonia, myocarditis, Bright's disease, arterio sclerosis, chronic nephritis, chronic bronchitis, cancer of oesophagus, dilation of heart, malignant disease of stomach, one each. Ten marriages were reported, and eleven births—seven girls and four boys.

PRESENTATION.
Several friends gathered at St. Philip's church on Thursday evening and presented to Mrs. Katie J. Brannagan, jailer, of Halifax, a handsome purse in appreciation of services rendered here. Following the presentation a nice informal programme was carried on. R. H. McIntyre presided, and the presentation was made by John Jackson. Mrs. Brannagan responded in a pleasing manner.

WAS 87 YEARS OLD.
The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Cookson of Kears, Queens County, occurred early this morning at the home of her grandson, Medley L. C. Beaman, 102 City Road, after a short illness, at the age of eighty-seven. She was the widow of John W. Cookson, and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mary D. Beaman, of 102 City Road. The funeral will be held on Sunday evening at 8:00 from the residence of her grandson. The body will be taken to Lower Norton on Monday for burial.

IN THE MARKET.
A large quantity of green produce, such as lettuce and rhubarb grown in the local country districts, was on sale in the city market this morning. C. P. R. ADJUSTS THE SUBURBAN TRAIN SERVICE

Change on May 24 in Conformity With Daylight Time.

In event of daylight saving time being adopted by citizens in general, the C. P. R. will adjust their suburban schedule to meet the requirements of their patrons. Although they recently published their summer time tables, they will make the change on May 24 as follows: Trains will leave St. John at 9:15 a. m., 1:25 p. m. (on Wednesdays and Saturdays until July 1 when it will become daily), 5:10 p. m., 6:10 p. m., and 10:10 p. m. Trains will arrive in the city at 7:45 a. m., 8:55 a. m., 11:50 a. m., 4 p. m. and 9:15 a. m.
All these times published are daylight saving, or two hours ahead of the eastern standard time on which the trains run. It will be necessary for operating reasons to hold the noon trains on Wednesdays and Saturdays ten minutes on account of the arrival of the Boston and Montreal trains. It will be noted that a change has been made with the afternoon suburban. The Fredericton train, which is at present leaving at 5:10 p. m., will not leave until 6:10 daylight time and the train now leaving at 6:10 for Welsford will be sent out at 5:10 daylight time. This is the only change which patrons will have to note particularly.

FAIRVILLE BOYS IN GOOD CONTESTS

Indoor Athletic Meet in Baptist Gymnasium Last Evening Very Successful.

Last night the boys from the Fairville church who have been using the Baptist gymnasium all winter, held their first indoor athletic meet and to say the least was a success in putting it very mildly. This was the first affair of its kind ever held in Fairville and the interest was keen throughout. Each boy was classified as to age and weight and the rivalry was keen, particularly in the potato race.
There was great enthusiasm while close contests were being run off and in the excitement over the boys' fun and earnestness, the men present dropped years from their shoulders and joined in the shouts and applause. All the boys did well and, considering the handicaps of an indoor exhibition made good time.
Last night's meet proved that the younger element in Fairville is quite ready for any opportunity in physical exercise, and presents another argument in favor of large, properly equipped recreation grounds where the boys might enjoy wholesome sport under proper conditions.
The Baptist gymnasium has been kindly placed at the disposal of the Methodist and Presbyterian boys a night each week and full advantage has been taken of the opportunity. It is understood the boys are now organizing an inter-church baseball league to play this summer.
The parents who were present last evening could not help but be impressed by the showing of the lads in their first contest of this kind.
Rev. A. S. Bishop acted as official scorer for the evening; Carey Black and G. G. Estey as timers and Benjamin Godsoe, starter. The following is the list of boys and time in the events:

ARITHMETIC CONTEST.
In an exciting arithmetic match held in the school room of the Central Baptist church last evening between a Beaconsfield team and a city team, the latter was victorious, the score being 21-15. The contest was conducted by Michael Kelly, who trained both teams. This was the second of the series. The Beaconsfield team was victorious in the first. They were handicapped last evening by the absence of three good men. The contest occupied one hour and twenty minutes, and was at all times exciting. The teams were as follows:
Beaconsfield—Kenneth Kierstead (captain), Everett Linton, Marjorie Long, Gladys Souther, Andrew Forcey, Davida Smith, Phyllis Anderson, Archie Boccans, Fred McIntyre.
City—Hazel Hennessey (captain), Mary Hosford, Mildred Blake, Helen Sullivan, Esther Hosford, Grace Milligan, Marie Kelly, Mary McCarthy, Mona Blake.

A UNIQUE LEASE.
One of the most interesting leases in existence in the city today is that recorded recently by which Francis Sullivan has leased eleven inches of land in the Fort Howe road to George Likely at an annual rental of twenty-five cents. The land in question is registered as disputed property.

OUTING TODAY.
The business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. will end their season's activities today with a dinner and social at the Barker House, Ben Lomond. This is an annual affair and is looked forward to with interest by the members. They will go to Ben Lomond in automobiles.

London Impression That U.S. Will Withdraw From Treaty Enforcement

SUBJECTS OF A WEEK IN THE METROPOLIS OF THE EMPIRE

After Thoughts on the Budget—The Irish Situation—Lord Kitchener and the Politicians—The Economic Outlook.

(From Our Own Correspondent)
London, April 22.—The results of inquiries I have made in official quarters here tend to confirm the impression that there has been prevalent for some time that the United States may soon withdraw from any further participation in movements for the execution of the Versailles Treaty. It is now said that that country will not be represented at San Remo, while the proposal to cut off further appropriations for the American troops in the Coblenz area is regarded as the first step towards the early withdrawal of the American forces from occupation in Germany. It is pointed out that the allotment of French troops throughout the occupied zones has been materially altered recently. Instead of three distinct zones, occupied by the British, American, and French forces, the American and British contingents are now only a small area of their original zones, the remainder having been absorbed into a continuous French zone. The theory is that the French military leaders see the possibility of America's eventual withdrawal from the peace conference, have revised their plans to such an extent that even should America withdraw her troops, France would still be able to present an old front along the Rhine from Alsace-Champagne to Strasburg. The American forces along the Rhine do not exceed 16,000 men, and it is said that if the American government decides to recall them that the entire German area could be evacuated within ten days.

Budget After-Thoughts.

Already it is evident enough that the cabinet's finance policy for the current year will be more severely criticised outside than inside the House of Commons. The general tone of feeling in the lobby is far less bitter than expressions in commercial circles and in the city. The storm centred round the entire budget—the increased excess profits levy and the impost on company profits. About both these there is wild and bitter outcry. Yet at the same time there is a very general tendency in the same quarters to quarrel with the treasury for not making greater efforts to meet floating debts. This is somewhat inconsistent. Much better founded are the criticisms which deplore that no more heroic efforts are being made to reduce the departmental recklessness in finance and to cut down the national expenditure ruthlessly. A curious fact about the budget is that it is much more warmly welcomed on the opposition side of the House of Commons than on the coalition side—a fact that rather argues that the cabinet have faced the situation boldly and risen above consideration of popularity.

The common criticism by commercial men is that the net result will be another big jump upwards in the cost of living, because the new taxes will certainly be "passed on" to the consumer and that we shall very likely in consequence be faced by fresh demands from organized labor for increased wages. A simple fact not to be forgotten, however, is that no chancellor could in the present appalling circumstances introduce a "popular" budget, and that, in the large sense, the present proposals are probably as little "unpopular" as possible.

French and Macready.

The evidence now forthcoming about Lord French's lack of sympathy with the iconoclastic policy of Sir Nevill Macready in the release of political prisoners has scarcely come as a surprise to the friends of the latter. When it became known that the man who had settled the grievances of the London police force was to be sent to Ireland, the appointment was very generally acclaimed. Nevertheless, those who knew both men were quite prepared to hear of a clash of wills between Lord French and the new commander-in-chief.

But affairs in Ireland had got into such a tangled state that it was essential that a strong man should be sent to try some new remedy, and Sir Nevill Macready claimed, and was accorded, a virtual dictatorship. There are evidences, moreover, that a more enlightened view about Irish parties is beginning to prevail. To a greater extent than ever before the people are beginning to differentiate now between the Sinn Féin on the one hand and the Irish Republican Brotherhood on the other. Moreover, it was felt that while the existing chaos continued it was simply ludicrous for the imperial parliament to be deliberating over the provisions of the new Irish government bill.

The Hunger-Strikers.

I was talking this week to a very distinguished and well-known Irishman, who advanced views which were certainly novel about our method of treating the Irish hunger-striker. In his opinion the treatment meted out to these men was entirely characteristic of British stupidity. In saying this he was not referring to the astonishing change of policy witnessed last week. He was alluding to the method of combating a hunger strike, whether it was attempted by Irish political prisoners or by Suffragettes. There was no object, he said, in starving them to the point of death. His argument was that this particular movement would crumble to bits in a couple of months if a more Machiavellian policy were pursued. "Let them starve for a week," he said, "By that

The Economic Outlook.

One of the soundest authorities in the city favored me this week with his estimate of the immediate economic position and the probabilities as to the future. His view is that our currency will rehabilitate itself within twelve months by gradual processes. He is convinced that food prices will fall considerably in the near future, and that the prices of manufactured materials will rise very much. This view is based on the righting of our American exchanges—which, in itself, would effect a twenty per cent. reduction in food generally—and on the coming world demand, especially by Europe and the eastern territories, for manufactured goods. He held me that the government was using all its influence to encourage traders to cultivate their export business, which offers by far the richest market, in order to level the volume of our exports, and so re-establish our financial position and the currency. This he regards as the wise policy, even although it means in-

The Real Kitchener.

Sir George Arthur has no more engaging touches in his fascinating "Life" of Lord Kitchener than his description of the great soldier's attitude to social engagements. He was full of contrasts. He hated most social functions, but still more he disliked being entirely alone. He was only really happy with a strictly limited circle of intimates. A crowd of whatever calibre was distasteful to him; solitude even more so. The desire for some one near at hand had a very practical motive. "Wholly reliant in great things, he was in the small circumstances of his own domestic life curiously dependent on others. He would with meticulous care compute the figures for a vast organization, but he would be loath to file a paper himself. He would sustain through a long day at high pressure a discussion on some weighty matter, but would be unwilling to open a cabinet box or reply to a call on the telephone, and the key of an official box, if left in his custody, would be liable to be found upon the dressing table." That is much truer of "the famous appreciation by G. W. Stevens of the brain of fire in a head of ice." He was not the strong silent man myth. He was cheery and volatile, a great and witty talker, when the company suited him. And his retort to an indiscrete correspondent during the war showed how could flash off—"If you wish to sell your country raise the price of your newspaper—a penny is too cheap."

Kitchener and the Politicians.

There is a special interest in Sir George Arthur's narrative of Lord Kitchener's relations with his political colleagues of the cabinet. There were differences of opinion, and still more there were differences of outlook. Kitchener was no politician. "We are out to fight the Germans, not one another," was a phrase he constantly used. And he declared, when the politicians were attacking him and the press was being hounded on to assault him, that he would retain his post so long as he honestly believed he had the public confidence, and "not a moment longer." He and Mr. Churchill seldom saw eye to eye, but neither sought to belittle the merits of the other. And when the coalition government was formed and Mr. Churchill found himself out in the cold and without any other sources of information than the newspapers, after being right in the swim as first lord of the admiralty, Kitchener ordered his motor and drove down to let Mr. Churchill hear the latest news from French and Ian Hamilton, though it meant breaking into his hard day's work. Apparently Kitchener found friends in the political arena too. "P. P." has been a comfort in cabinet today was a frequent allusion to the then attorney-general. "Perhaps no two men contrasted more sharply in mentality, in method, than Kitchener and Lloyd George," says Sir George Arthur. The one thing in common was the realization that the Germans must, and would be, beaten.

Munitions and Lord French.

The facts stated by Sir George Arthur about the munitions scandal are hardly new now. They show that the public was grossly deceived over this matter, which had Kitchener's anxious and ardent attention long before the Northcliffe press woke up to it as a serious item. The ministry of munitions inherited the excellent work already effected by Kitchener to make good a deficiency that was common to every army in the field. "Embedded in the story of the supply of munitions," writes Sir George Arthur, "is the unhappy occasion when, after the battle of Festubert, the commander-in-chief (Sir John French) sent an extra side-decamp and a secretary to London, with the double design of effecting a minor coup d'état and infaming public opinion against the war secretary, the man to whom he wrote, 'Thank God you are there, and I mean it.' Among other calamities referred to in this 'Life' is the charge that Kitchener deliberately kept everything in his own hand and brain and dispensed with staff assistance. He was eagerness and frankness itself in his attitude towards all subordinates. The theme of the book, of course, is the method and manner of the building up of the Kitchener armies. Kitchener never had any illusions as to a short war and quickly decisive battles. So far back as the Agadir incident he expressed his faith that victory would come only with the 'last million' of men that we could throw into the field. But everybody should read Sir George Arthur's work. The three volumes not only afford a most absorbing interest; they record history of the first magnitude, and they reveal facts hitherto buried under lying rumors.

Victoria era. For seventeen years Dr. Davidson has been more than the figurehead of the English church and his increasing years have brought with them growing physical infirmities. For years he has been obliged to take long spells of rest in a recumbent position almost daily, but his excellent mentality has never been depressed by the trials of physique, and he remains today as alert and energetic in mind and as keen an organizer and business brain as ever. He is, one might almost in these days say "of course," a Scotsman, with Edinburgh connections, and he married the second daughter of Archbishop Tait when he was thirty years old. He is a Harrow and Trinity College, Oxford, man, and started as curate in Dartford, a huge and industrial metropolitan district. After being private secretary to two archbishops—Tait and Benson—he went by way of Rochester and Winchester to Lambeth. He was alone personal friend of King Edward, and has always been persona grata with the queen mother.

The Modern Girl.

Sometimes I think that men do not even yet appreciate to what extent the tempestuous petticoat has invaded their ancient solitary reign. In the train this week—and in a smoker at that—two ladies encountered each other who evidently had not met for some time. They were no more than in the early twenties, and seemed just the type of girl who is now "something in the city"—like her brothers and papa. "Oh yes, my dear," gasped No. 1, "I've such things to tell you! I'm married." After due sensation at the news, No. 2 naturally asked, "Who is it?" "Why Douglas," said her friend ecstatically. There followed an interval of obvious profound psychological adjustment on the part of No. 2. Then she said, "But, dearest, isn't he a terrible Bolshevik and happy-go-lucky sort of chap?" No. 1 was ready for the criticism at once. "But don't you see my dear," she calmly observed, as though it were too obvious for words, "I shall organize him!" And the appalling thing is—from the standpoint of male man in general and Douglas in particular—that the naive assurance was accepted by the other sweet-and-twenty business woman as quite normal and satisfactory. So now we know where we stand: They are going to organize us.

There is an old hostelry in London of which few Londoners know the existence, which is amongst the most interesting places of the kind in the country. It is the "Tiger Inn," just outside the once drear portals of the Tower, and Queen Elizabeth quaffed wine within its half-timbered walls once. Probably it was the house at which the unhappy wife of Raleigh, the queen's beautiful maid of honor, put up when her illustrious husband was prisoner within the Tower. She was denied access to him, but used to exchange waded greetings when the handsome captain of the guard appeared upon the wall at daily exercise. I paid a visit to the place the other evening, quite by chance, and found it full of old arms, medals, souvenirs of many wars, relics of bygone champions of the ring, and some of the late King Edward's favorite cigars in a glass case. They strayed across from the Tower. But what took my fancy most was the display of helmets over one old window. On one side was a genuine and very fine visored knight's helmet, of about the twelfth century. Doubtless it may have been out in the Crusades. On the other side was a steel helmet of a later medieval pikeman, in excellent condition. And in the middle—a modern "Tommy" steel hat. The extraordinary thing is the absolute lack of any anachronism in the conjunction. The old "tin hat" looks quite in the picture with the other souvenirs that are many centuries old. It was worn, I believe, by a London Scottish man.

See How Chandler Checks With High-Priced Cars

THE Chandler Six throughout its seven years of production has been distinguished for its many distinctively superior features of design and equipment which are used also on the highest priced American cars, and not used in any considerable degree by cars now priced hundreds of dollars higher than the Chandler. See, then, how the Chandler checks with ten of the best-known high-priced cars in these features selected as being characteristic of high-grade design and most efficient service.

Other Times, Other Manners!

An ex-service friend of mine who is in the forties tells me that he knows he is getting old, and his unhappy conviction is founded on the well known symptom—laudator temporis acti. He thinks the next generation or the present one will be far short of its sturdy forebears' standard, and his special reason is that he can remember when he was a schoolboy of just sixteen laying a long but successful siege to the maternal purse strings in order to raise the funds to buy a pair or set of boxing gloves. They cost about £3 now. Then the price was only 25s., but my friend at the age of sweet sixteen regarded that sum with awe. And now thirty years have rolled away—like they do in the romantic novels—and my friend has a big son of sixteen who is in exactly—or almost exactly—similar plight. He has been weeding his mother into unloosing the purse strings for a rather exceptional purchase that is hopefully beyond the reach of his saved-up pocket money. Thus history repeats itself—an Amaranth, an Amaranth succeeds. Only the heart's desire of sweet sixteen today is not boxing gloves—but trouser stretchers. International relations have been much embittered, so I am assured by commercial friends who know the facts well, by the shortage of railway stock. It seems remarkable, almost inconceivable, but so it is. The Canadian gov-

Clerk Who Turned State's Evidence Sentenced

Excrement Under Examination in New York and Valuable Information Reported Given—Montreal End of Some Operations.

New York, May 15—Turning state's evidence against men wanted in connection with New York's $200,000 bond theft plot, failed to win clemency for Donald C. Bergess, a clerk who yesterday was sentenced from one to two years in state prison, after confessing to the theft of $200,000 of bonds from a Wall Street brokerage firm. Raymond F. Cooney, who was indicted with Bergess, and arrested in Indianapolis, had also pleaded guilty and will be sentenced next week. While the whereabouts of the elusive Jules W. "Nicky" Arstein, alleged "master-mind," continued to remain a mystery, Assistant District Attorney Dooley had before him for questioning E. C. Ecrement, a former Canadian M. P., who was brought here from Chicago in connection with the bond thefts. Dooley said that as a result of the examination he had received valuable information, which will probably connect the link between Morty Bernstein, who died two weeks ago, and Phillip F. Kassel, an important missing witness. Detectives who have been working on the bond theft case did not take seriously a report that Arstein was in the vicinity and would surrender by Monday and give bail.

Montreal, May 15—The operations of Arstein and his gang in Montreal in connection with bond thefts were between February 1 and April 1, according to information received here by local detective agencies. Several checks were cashed in Montreal, only one of which was found to be valid. Principal sufferers were the Ritz Carlton Hotel and the Windsor, while Mappin & Webb, jewelers, had narrow escapes. In January last a man registered at the Ritz as A. D. Johnson of New York. He cashed a check there signed J. W. Fitzmaurice, who was implicated in the bond thefts at New York yesterday. This check appeared to be all right, but later he tried to cash a check for $800, which did not go through. At the same time he tried to pass a check for $8,600 on Mappin & Webb. In this he failed. The check was then put into the hands of Am Burn's International Detective Agency and it is said to have been learned that Johnson had swindled the Windsor Hotel for $288. A warrant is now out for his arrest. It was also said that Johnson had tried the same tricks with the King Edward Hotel in Toronto.

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF WOMEN'S DEPARTMENTS AT EXHIBITION

Arrangements to be Made for Formal Presentation of Drinking Fountain—Local Executive has Plans for Entertaining National Council of Women Well in Hand—Much Business Transacted Yesterday.

The executive of the Women's Council met yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms with the president, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, in the chair. Much progress was made in arrangements for the annual meeting of the National Council to be held in St. John in June and other important business was discussed. The newly affiliated Y. W. P. A. was welcomed by Mrs. Smith in a gracious speech to its president, Miss Alice Fairweather.

Mrs. David McLellan, for the hall committee, reported satisfactorily.

Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, for the luncheon committee, said the following societies had consented to take charge of the luncheons on the different days: Tuesday, Germain Street Baptist Church

Willing Workers and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A.; Wednesday, Women's Canadian Club; Thursday, King's Daughters; Friday, St. Monica's Society (in the Y. M. C. A.); Saturday, Y. W. C. A. and the Juniors of the Natural History Society; Monday, United Women's Missionary Societies of the Methodist Church; Tuesday, Women's Hospital Aid and Graduate Nurses; Wednesday, Church of England Institute Ladies' Auxiliary, and Thursday, the executive of the Women's Council, with the assistance of societies not tendering other luncheons. Mrs. Travers spoke of the plan to submit all menus in order to have them conform with each other and yet have sufficient variety. She also told of the intention of selling a certain number of tickets to the luncheons each day. All delegates of the St. John Council and other councils are to be served free of charge.

Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, for the hospitality committee, reported subscriptions from organizations and individuals and gave the names of available lodging places. She said thirty-three delegates were already promised hospitality by individuals or organizations. She thanked Mrs. D. P. Chisholm for advice and said that Mrs. E. A. Schofield had been added as a member of her committee. She acknowledged the receipt of $10 from Mrs. Frank Likely. Her report was an excellent and comprehensive one. Mrs. Raymond also read a letter from Mrs. Madison of Moncton, which referred to Mrs. Raymond's report of the vocational work in St. John as having been read with much interest and benefit in Moncton in consideration of the intention of establishing vocational training in Moncton in the fall.

Through Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. William Estano of Moncton, had sent the suggestion of the Moncton council that the National Council be invited to visit that city. The Moncton council has offered to provide a luncheon for the National Council and should the trip be carried out as proposed the National Council would include Sackville in the day's journey, having afternoon tea as the guest of the Sackville council before returning to St. John.

This proposition was not considered favorably, partly because of the expense and partly because of the weariness of the journey.

A suggestion was made by Mrs. Dignam of Toronto, that an evening on "Fine Art" be arranged and members of the St. John Art Club present were to obtain its co-operation.

The announcement that Miss Grace Leavitt, as a member of the ways and means committee, had been instrumental in obtaining a city grant of $500 for the entertainment of the delegates to the National Council was received with applause. Other announcements made by the ways and means committee were the receipt of funds from life-membership fees, twelve having paid these dues and the preparation of a souvenir booklet containing the programme, some extra copies of which are to be sold. Mrs. J. H. Frink reported four new life members, Mrs. Frank Peters, Mrs. H. B. Peck, Mrs. J. A. Malahy and Mrs. F. G. Spencer. Mrs. E. Atherton Smith reported having herself presented a life membership to Miss Millican, the corresponding secretary. Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. R. T. Hayes, previously reported as life members, and Miss Millican each received their membership pins from Mrs. Smith at the meeting.

Mrs. James McAvity reported receiving a donation from Miss Mary Thorne special Miss Alice Estey told of enrolling Mrs. E. L. Rising as a life member. Mrs. A. W. Estey reported progress for the work of the bureau of information.

At the local council will have only six voting delegates to the National Council meeting a nominating committee to select these six delegates was appointed composed of the following members: Mrs. David McLellan, Mrs. A. Young and Mrs. J. Boyle Travers. Mrs. McLellan, as provincial representative on the National Council, is a voting member. Mrs. E. Atherton Smith spoke of having been asked by several of the western councils to allow her name to be put up for president of the National Council, but explained that she could not under any circumstances accept nomination. The meeting voted its appreciation of the honor done the local president in hearty applause.

Women's Sunday.

As it has been customary to observe the Sunday in the convention week as a special Women's Sunday, it was decided that the clergy would be asked to deliver sermons on subjects of special concern to women and the following were appointed to approach the clergy of their denominations in this matter: Presbyterian, Miss Millican; Anglican, Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. James McAvity; Methodist, Mrs. R. A. Corbett and Mrs. A. W. Estey; Baptist, Mrs. J. H. Jenner and Mrs. David McLellan; Catholic, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm; Army, Mrs. Moore; Hebrews, Mrs. Green.

The possibilities of having the programme include a trip up the river on Saturday for the purpose of the presence of Mrs. T. Bullock in Westfield and a reception in St. John on the first night, as well as a concert in the Imperial Theatre were discussed.

Representative of the W. C. T. U., the United Women's Missionary Societies and The King's Daughters were appointed to arrange the devotional meetings that will be held each morning of the convention. Those named were Mrs. C. E. Sanford, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Gough and Mrs. James F. Robertson.

Mrs. Smith having pointed out that all members of all affiliated societies are free to attend the meetings of the National Council, but that only the six delegates from each local council and the members of the National Council would have votes, spoke impressively of the standing of the National Council. It was said an organization that had kept the faithful service of many of its charter members through all its twenty-six years of existence. Many of them had grown old gracefully in its service and had found in its work a saving power in time of personal affliction.

Exhibition Plans.

Before adjournment some matters of interest to the local council only were discussed. Miss A. Haen spoke of the placing of the drinking fountain in Brussels street and it was decided that a formal presentation of the fountain to the city should be made. On motion of Mrs. David McLellan, seconded by Mrs. Chisholm, it was decided that the Women's Council should take charge of the tea room, the fancy work and art room, the baby welfare work and all of the women's department in the exhibition in the fall.

All transactions of the executive were declared to be subject to the approval of the regular meeting.

PASSENGERS FOR EUROPE.

New York, May 14.—More than 5,000 passengers are booked to leave here tomorrow on five steamers sailing for European ports and for South America. They included, Sir Oliver and Lady Lodge, who sail on the Celtic.

Conspicuous nose pores

How to reduce them

Complexions otherwise flawless are often ruined by conspicuous nose pores.

The pores of the face are not as fine as on other parts of the body. On the nose especially, there are more fat glands than elsewhere and there is more activity of the pores. These pores, if not properly stimulated and kept free from dirt, clog up and become enlarged.

To reduce enlarged nose pores: Wring a soft cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stopping at once if your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

Notice the improvement the very first treatment makes—a promise of what the steady use of Woodbury's Facial Soap will do. But do not expect to change completely in a week a condition resulting from long continued exposure and neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores and make them inconspicuous.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

The Most Artistic Roof

is the one that completely harmonizes with the design and finishing of the house. For this reason there is a steadily increasing demand for Brantford Asphalt Slates for the modern style of homes.

Brantford Asphalt Slates have a surface of crushed slate embedded into our asphalt coating, the base of the roofing being felt saturated with asphalt. They are cut the size of shingles, and their beautiful soft colors of reddish brown and dark green give a roof a most artistic appearance. The colors are the natural shades of the slate as it comes out of the quarries. Brantford Asphalt Slates are, therefore, unfadeable—never require painting.

Brantford Asphalt Slates

are accurate in size and pliable, which makes them very easily handled and quickly laid, saving time and labor, and therefore costing less to lay.

Brantford Asphalt Slates make an artistic, durable and economical roof. Booklet describing them mailed on request.

SKETCH OF HEAD OF C. N. RAILWAYS

D. B. Hanna's Rise in the Railway World — Made His Start in Scotland.

D. B. Hanna, chairman of the C. N. R. board, was born on Dec. 29, 1853, at Thornliebank, near Glasgow, Scotland.

and entered railway service with the Glasgow, Garnhead and Kilmarnock railway in 1874. In 1878 he transferred to the Caledonian railway and was cashier for that road in Stoberos terminal, Glasgow, from its opening to the date he left to board ship for Canada in 1882. At this time the Grand Trunk railway made it a practice to bring out to this country young men of railway experience and Mr. Hanna was one of those who took advantage of this opportunity.

D. B. HANNA.

On arriving in Canada, therefore, Mr. Hanna entered the service of the G. T. R., being employed in the auditing department in Montreal. Two years later he made his third change going to the similar department of the New York and West Shore & Buffalo railway, with headquarters in New York city, remaining there two years, 1884-1886. The fourth move was from New York to Portage la Prairie, where in 1888 he became chief accountant of the Manitoba & North-western railway operating out of that Manitoba centre. In 1892 he became treasurer and, in the year following, land commissioner as well.

Three years later, Macdonald and Mann commanded the construction, Gladstone to Dauphin, of the first 100 mile stretch of the Canadian Northern railway system. It was not so known at that time, but bore the appellation of the Lake Manitoba Railway & Canal Company, a manager to operate the road, and the choice devolved upon D. B. Hanna. He entered the service of the Canadian Northern a few days before Christmas of 1896 as superintendent. By practically living on the line, he stirred the territory into productivity and by making every nickel do all that even a Scotsman could expect a nickel to do, the road was made to pay its charges the first year and furnished a tidy surplus. And when the members of the Manitoba legislature which had guaranteed the bonds of the enterprise journeyed up to Dauphin in 1897 they expressed themselves as positively amazed at the evidence of prosperity in the territory along the line. This success encountered further expansion, which was most marked during the five years that followed, the lines of the C. N. spreading far afield from the original 100-mile stretch from Gladstone to Dauphin.

When the general offices of the Canadian Northern were established in Toronto in 1902 Mr. Hanna came east to take up enlarged responsibilities as third vice-president, with supervision of all departments of the road. He held the reins of the great operating, financial, and traffic departments and continued to five, by dint of long hours, the same kind of close scrutiny to the operation of the road as in its early days, only he perspective was for 10,000 miles, with terminals at Atlantic and Pacific tide water, instead of the narrow "section" between Gladstone and Dauphin in central Manitoba.

Mr. Hanna became, in 1908, president of the Canadian Northern Quebec railway, and in 1907 president of the Quebec & Lake St. John railway. He became president of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway Company, and also of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Company—a system subsidiary which gives access to the main line at Port Frances, Ont., to Duluth. When in 1913 the stock holdings of the owners of the Canadian Northern were bought by the government, the Ottawa, and the 10,000 miles of line involved were embraced in a national system, it was Mr. Hanna who was called as president to build up the organization needed to handle a people's railway system 14,000 miles in extent.

Mr. Hanna has won through to success because he possesses the inherent ability to rise to the needs of trying situations, and because he has the driving force to carry him through most arduous work. His manner of speech is decidedly direct, but the tact to deal with questions diplomatically is forthright. He has always been easy to deal with, and of him it may be said—Blessed with a sense of humor that is thoroughly reliable, and that in problems that have confronted him day in and day out since he first entered the service of the C. N. R. have not been allowed to take the joy out of life. A man of simple tastes and distinctly democratic in his views, he holds the respect, admiration and affection of his employees. He has always been easy to approach. Possessed of a wonderful memory he greets old employees by name in a way that makes for the very best feeling. He preserves the human touch. The difficult task of combining the official staff of the Canadian Government and Canadian Northern railways has been accomplished without friction of any kind and the two systems are now working smoothly together as one, which is a tribute to the tact and judgment of the presiding officers.

Mr. Hanna is a governor at St. Andrew's College, and is a staunch Presbyterian.

MR. GAGNE URGES NATIONAL UNITY

"Why Should We Quarrel Instead of Uniting," He Asks — Highly Interesting Address to Canadian Club.

"We have in Canada the finest human assets in existence to form a mighty nation; then why in the name of our great country should we quarrel instead of uniting?" This was one of the numerous emphatic declarations made last evening before the Canadian Club at Bond's of Montreal, a leading member of the Quebec bar and a well-known as the brilliant French-Canadian apostle of national unity. Mr. Gagne is one of the most gifted speakers who have ever appeared at a Canadian Club luncheon here.

Mr. Gagne, in rising to speak on the subject "Fundamentals of Canadian Building Up," with Side Views of Quebec and the Eastern Provinces' Aspect of the Question," took occasion to warmly thank Mayor Schofield, whom he had met in Montreal previously, for his entertainment and reception in St. John.

Mr. Gagne then told a story of a Scotchman brought up among the French speaking people of Quebec who preferred to speak the French language, as he was accustomed to no other. Then he related a parable of the development and civilization of the human race which led to conditions such as we have today. He then launched into an array of facts and a few figures, delivered to his intensely interested audience in French and clear English that indicated he is a very excellent master of a difficult language not his own.

World Debt Enormous. The world has lost its equilibrium, said Mr. Gagne. Food is scarce and it is the first asset; then comes clothing and then shelter. After five years of destruction the reserve of the world is exhausted. For reconstruction go quickly back to the essentials; produce food and clothing; work work; do away with luxuries.

BUSY WEEK FOR THE BOY SCOUTS

Competition for Thorne Trophy Being Carried Out

Expect All Troops to Make Good Showing—Two New Wolf Cub Packs Approved—Presentation to H. C. Hoyt, Scoutmaster of Mission Troop.

During the last week the long-awaited Thorne trophy competition, inspection was carried on, an affair which was completed on Monday evening. This competition is conducted along the lines of general efficiency and includes an examination of Scout uniforms as well as an audit of all account books and inspection of records of each troop. Commissioner Ingleton is pleased to find that practically every troop shows an advance over their standard of last year. He is seeking primarily, first, to be a very good Scout, but in several troops he has been forced to see scarcely anything but good points. There has been keen competition in the district to be a very good Scout as to who will head the list, which will be announced in a few days.

One of the weaknesses revealed by the inspection so far has been the lack of men to lead. In several instances scoutmasters are carrying on with practically no help. An article in the book, "Aids to Scoutmastership," deals with this lack as follows: "To an outsider, scouting must appear at first to be a very complex matter, and many a man is probably cut off from becoming a scoutmaster because of the enormous number and variety of things that he thinks he would have to know in order to teach his boys. But it need not be so, if the man will only realize the following points: The aim of scouting is quite simple. His work is merely to give to the boy the ambition and desire to learn for himself. That this is done by suggesting to him activities which attract him, and which then teach him by falling to work, till he, by experience, does them aright. The numerous branches and details given in scouting for boys merely suggest activities from which he may select those likely to catch the different kinds of boys. The principle of Dr. Montessori's system. She was recently asked how her system would be applied to the infant stage after six or seven years of age. And she replied, 'You in England have the Boy Scouts, and in America the Scouts of America, and that is the end of that which I give to the children.'"

The other day Headquarters was pleased to receive two subscriptions for Canadian Boy which had been secured by two boys of St. John's most recent troop, Douglas Avenue Church. The first of these was for the sum of $2.50 and a like sum for the troop funds by their energy.

New Wolf Cub Packs. Headquarters announces the approval of the registration of St. Luke's and Coburg street Wolf Cub packs. The former will be the number 2nd St. John Pack, while the latter will be the 3rd Pack. Other packs are carrying on until their probationary numbers. At least two other packs will be organized in the fall, as the call for them has become very insistent. Scoutmasters are requested to secure the summer address of each Scout so that Headquarters may be able to send out the camp notices. The convention in St. John sure stirred up our troop. With his letter he sent a large order for proficiency badges. Letters have also been received from several of the Woodstock boys, seeking information. A Rover Troop is a possibility in Woodstock before long.

THE BOY SCOUT.

their troop had had such a man connected with it.

13th Coburg Street Troop. Coburg Street Troop met Wednesday evening at troop headquarters with a large attendance. Commissioner Ingleton was present and led the boys in some new games and novelty exercises. Rev. Mr. Appleman and N. Naraway were also present. The Wolf Cub Pack also met during the week with their usual enthusiasm. The following boys received their first star: E. Boyne, M. Christie, W. O'Brien, G. Lawson, W. Campbell, C. Keys, C. Leonard, I. Peck. On Sunday both Scouts and Cubs will attend church as a unit in the evening.

8th Mission Church Troop. Mission Troop met Tuesday evening to be inspected for the Thorne trophy. It was the final meeting of the troop for the year and had a perfect attendance for the occasion. After the inspection, during which the boys met a most splendid impression on the numerous visitors, the troop was drawn up in horseshoe formation while Rev. W. Young presented a handsome traveling bag to H. C. Hoyt, the scoutmaster, who is leaving the troop to take up residence in Fair Vale. Mr. Young called upon a few of the gentlemen present to speak and all praised Mr. Hoyt's work with the troop and deplored his leaving. Mr. Hoyt was heartily assured that the troop would carry on and always welcome him at any time he could come back for a visit. Troop Leader Clarence Hoyt was presented a special certificate of appreciation for securing the highest number of points in a trophy competition during the year.

5th St. Jude's Troop. On Thursday evening the 5th Troop enjoyed a hike to Seaside Park, after which the Scoutmaster and his assistants were inspected by Commissioner Ingleton. The commissioner was delighted to find that the Scoutmaster answered any question he put to them concerning the Scout law and scouting principles. Later he presented a number of badges before the assembly. During the evening the patrol held their usual patrol meeting at which they discussed plans for the future and settled the patrol business.

17th Trinity Troop. The 17th Troop was the first to be inspected for a trophy and made a most creditable showing. Every Scout was in full uniform with boots and faces shining and they were through the inspection in excellent style. After the inspection the troop was drawn up in horseshoe formation when Reginald Whelpley received the trophy from Commissioner Ingleton. This prize is given for the number of badges attained, general smartness and the carrying out of the Scout law. The Scoutmaster and his assistants were highly respected here.

ORDERS CANCELED IN TEXTILE TRADE. Manufacturers Admit Situation Becoming Quite Serious — Public Buying Less and Making Old Things Last.

A Boston report says: Reports that the textile industry is menaced by a slump in the market and a falling off in demand for woolen and cotton fabrics beyond previous records have been current recently among manufacturers.

One prominent woolen manufacturer said: "We are not so much concerned over the strike situation as we are over the cancellation of orders from clothing manufacturers and jobbers. The situation is more serious, the cancellations for the week ended May 1, representing the lateness of spring this year was the cause but orders for fall deliveries as well as being cancelled."

Another manufacturer said that the situation is especially serious for some of the worsted mills, and that it will have a tendency to reduce prices. "Prices of clothing will not get any higher as a result of the cancellation of orders," he said. "The situation is especially serious just now for the manufacturers of fancy and finished worsteds, but is not so bad for the staple goods."

Our wild fowl under modern conditions either tend to disappear or forsake their former haunts in favor of more unsettled regions. One reason for this is the scarcity of suitable feeding grounds in settled districts. Wild rice attracts the wild fowl and furnishes food for them. "Wild Rice," Bulletin 42, second series of the Dominion experimental farms, prepared and illustrated by Miss Faith Eyles, assistant botanist, obtained free upon application to the publications branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa, has been prepared with the object of stimulating the cultivation of wild rice in suitable localities. Wild rice is native in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba and is found growing in mud bottomed bays and shallows of the lakes and streams emptying into Lake Winnipeg, the Great Lakes, and the river St. Lawrence. Wild rice will grow in slightly brackish water but where the water is distinctly salty to the taste it is not to be found. It has also been reported in New Brunswick.

A MARVELOUSLY POWERFUL EIGHT-REEL FEATURE—One of the Outstanding Pictorial Triumphs of The Year

Races at Borden. The St. Croix Courier says: For the races to be held on the St. Stephen track on Victoria Day, under the auspices of the G. W. V. A., four good classes have been arranged...

Swimming. The St. John, Y.M.C.A., boys' contest in the international swimming pentathlon resulted as follows: 40 Yards Speed. Harold Holder, 28 2/5 seconds, 322 points; Ronald Pattison, 28 seconds, 323 points; William Curran, 28 3/5 seconds, 304 points; Robert Hayes, 28 3/5 seconds, 304 points; Frank Kee, 30 seconds, 297 points. Total, 1250 points.

Volleyball. Concludes League. One of the most successful volleyball leagues played in the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. was concluded last evening when King Hazen's team defeated Thomas Guy's fire in the championship game of the series, the game ending two to nothing.

Looking for a Fast Pacer. A dispatch from Fredericton states that H. C. Jewett, a prominent member of that city, is on a trip through the middle west in search of a free-for-all pacer. Prospects for racing are bright this season in the capital and it is expected there will be some good material there.

Kennel. N. B. Dogs There. Montreal, May 15—The fifth annual dog show which opened at the Forum here last night had a very large number of entries from this city and there were no out of town winners. The other classes will be judged today.

Athletic. Australians for Olympics. Cape Town, May 15—South Africa is sending to Europe a team of eleven athletes, five cyclists, six boxers, two wrestlers and one lady swimmer, to participate in the forthcoming Olympic games. In addition, the dominion is sending a team of nine riflemen.

Ruth Has Five to His Credit. Chicago, May 15—"Babe" Ruth's 1920 offensive towards a new home run record is in full bloom. The New York slugger connected with a trio of home runs in two days and has five circuit drives to his credit, according to averages completed today. The averages include games of Wednesday.
