UNITED BAPTIST CHURCH AT WOODSTOCK DEDICATED

Main St. Edifice Rebuilt at a Cost of $25,000—Sermon Preached by Dr. McLeod—Collection Amounted to $3,700

Following the consummation of Baptism Union it was found that the two churches at Woodstock were to be united, one of them would have to be greatly enlarged. Accordingly a building committee was appointed consisting of Dr. Baker, H. E. Burt, and Benjamin Clark.

The basement is large and roomy, the main school room with seat capacity is 400 with the overflow opening at the rear of the building, there is seating room for 250 extra. The overflow is separated from the main auditorium by sliding doors, and can also be divided into three large classrooms. The pulpit and choir are in the south eastern side of the building, the background is a landscape and a water fall and is very artistic. The pews are somewhat similar to those in the new Methodist church.

The building is steam heated and is most comfortable in every way. The work was done by C. I. Churchill, plumber; H. Hagaman, painter; William Steves, plasterer; Mr. Langstroth, carpenter and Frank Foster, painter. H. H. Mott, of St. John was the architect. The dedication ceremony took place on Sunday, May 24th, at 11 o'clock, led by Rev. Dr. McLeod. It was fitting that Dr. McLeod should do so because he had been one of the original members of the church before the union. This was the first United Baptist church built since the Union. Dr. McLeod preached the dedication sermon of the former Free Baptist church out of which the new one was constructed. In the afternoon Rev. C. T. Phillips who had been pastor of the Main street church for fifteen years and Rev. I. A. Corbett, a former pastor of the Baptist church in the city, gave addresses. In the evening Dr. J. H. McDonald of Fredericton preached to a congregation of about twelve hundred which taxed the seating capacity. It is understood that the repairs and alterations to the building cost about $25,000. A collection was taken at the various services in aid of the building and contributed, mostly paid, amounted to about $3,700.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT FLEMING'S FOUNDRY

Two Men Badly Hurt While Working on a Derrick—One Had His Fingers Caught.

Two laborers, Walter Brown, of King Lane, and a man named Henderson, who resides on Sheriff street, were badly injured in the boiler shop of the Phoenix Foundry, on Pond street, this morning, about 11.30 o'clock. With others Brown and Henderson were placing a large boiler on a wagon, and an overhead crane was used to help lift the weight. Brown and Henderson were standing on a platform turning the crank handle of the crane, when Henderson's finger got caught in the gear. With a scream he let go of the crank handle, with the result that the heavy weight caused it to revolve with great rapidity and it struck Brown on the head knocking him senseless to the platform. The ambulance was quickly summoned and the injured men were taken to the hospital for treatment. Henderson had three fingers very badly crushed.

WILL COUNT THE BALLOTS IN NEW YORK ELECTION

Hearst's Claim That He Was the Winner Three Years Ago May Be Finally Settled.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The boxes containing the ballots cast in the McCall-Brewer mayoralty contest nearly three years ago, which have been the object of constant litigation since that election day, are to be opened. This was decided by Justice Lambert in the Supreme Court today when he over-ruled a motion containing twenty separate objections made by counsel for Mayor McCallahan in connection with the recent hearing now in progress. The justice also denied another motion to set aside two subpoenas which had been served upon President Doolittle of the Board of Elections, which ordered him to produce the ballot boxes in denying the latter motion. Justice Lambert directed President Doolittle to produce the ballot boxes within thirty minutes. The recent hearing has been in progress several weeks and it is expected to continue throughout the summer. Nearly 2,000 ballot boxes were used in the election of 1900 and it is possible that all the ballots contained in all these boxes may be canvassed in the presence of the court.

GOTTON STRIKERS WAITING MCKENZIE KING'S REPORT

Montreal Mills May Resume Operations Pending Settlement of Dispute.

MONTREAL, May 26.—The strike situation is still waiting game. Except for the Montmorency mills, where they all went back to work today, the men are awaiting the results of the meeting this morning between the bosses and the men. It is likely that the men will all go back at short notice for the present, until McKenzie King makes his investigation and reports.

BISHOP OF BROOKLYN RECEIVED BY THE POPE

ROME, May 26.—Pope Pius today received in private audience the Right Rev. Charles E. McDonnell, Bishop of Brooklyn, who afterwards introduced to the Pontiff over 100 American pilgrims, most of whom left New York with the Bishop April 22. Bishop McDonnell said he came personally to Rome to express to His Holiness the feeling of affection and loyalty of his diocese on the occasion of the Papal jubilee.

DOWN IN VENEZUELA

WILLEMSTADT, Curacao, May 26.—The report that the port of Lagunayra, Venezuela, would be reopened in the immediate future is considered here to be premature, as it is unofficially stated that another case of yellow fever has occurred there since the issuance of President Castro's decree opening the port to foreign trade May 25, and to coastwise and inter-trade on May 29.

WILLEMSTADT, Curacao, May 26.—The steamer "Christina" hurriedly left here for Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, on May 25 with the Dutch Government despatch connected with the latest events regarding the closing of Venezuelan ports to Dutch vessels and President Castro's decree prohibiting the trans-shipment of cargo in the island of Curacao.

BURGLARS STILL AT WORK IN MONCTON

Made a Big Haul from Doyle's Grocery Store Over $250 in Cash is Missing—A Variety of Cases in Police Court This Morning.

MONCTON, N. B., May 26.—The most serious burglary of the recent epidemic, which the police seem powerless to stop, took place last night when James Doyle & Sons' grocery was entered and two hundred and fifty dollars was stolen, sixty in cash, the remainder in checks, besides a large quantity of valuable private papers of the firm. An attempt was made during the night to enter F. W. Sumner's hardware store, but the burglars were not successful. The burglars at Doyle's store entered by a rear door and forced the door open, but the door was not broken. A bottle of gin partially filled was left behind, and this is the only clue the police have to work on. There have been nearly a dozen burglaries in Moncton within the past few weeks, and although the police and detectives are working on the cases, no headway has been made.

In police court this morning Kate Jeffries was given six months for vagrancy. A curiously assorted pair, Oliver Lane, a Carolina negro, and Joseph Birch, a Jew, who claim they ran away from a schooner at Hillsboro, were arrested Sunday night and slept in an I. C. R. box car, and given three months in police court this morning. Frank Kilmick and Frank Hoyle were given a year for the same offence for a like offence. Frank Belliveau, arrested on a warrant this morning, was given a month in jail for Scott Act violation.

THE DUTY OF THE CHURCH TOWARDS THE CHILDREN

Rev. Samuel Howard's Lecture Before the Theological Union at Mount Allison—Honor for Rev. G. M. Campbell

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 26.—This morning the annual meeting of the Theological Union was held in Memorial chapel and was attended by a goodly number. The lecture before the union was delivered by Rev. S. Howard, B.D., of St. John, who gave a scholarly address on Jesus and the children. In his address he said that the child is not in his own right, but because Jesus Christ has put him there through His redeeming love and grace. The child should be constantly impressed with the fact that nothing but his own deliberate and final turning away from Christ to a life of sin can place him on the Kingdom. No one but himself can deprive him of his citizenship. Jesus has given the child as such, the right to be called a child of God, but he must be taught to repent, to seek forgiveness and depend on the kindness of God to remain in the Kingdom. He must make personal choices of Christ as Saviour and Lord. But from the very first the responsibility, not of coming into the Kingdom, but of so living as to remain in the Kingdom, is a free and open question. He should be laid upon him. Being in the Kingdom the child is a normal candidate for baptism in the church. Regarding the child as a member of the church, we must give him religious instruction and training suited to his expanding powers. We must not expect greater moral perfection in him than we ourselves are able to give. We must exercise Christlike sympathy and patience with him while passing through the various stages of physical, intellectual and moral development. The harm done to young people, through failure of their spiritual advisers to understand and rightly appreciate the difficulties facing them at certain periods of their life, is often incalculable.

The duty of the church in relation to children, is not to "rescue" them after they have become more or less alienated from God by the hardening process of evil living, but to "preserve" them within the Kingdom and Church of Christ for the service of God and their fellows.

At half past ten came the students' recital in Beethoven's hall before a large audience, which became enthusiastic in regard to a number of the selections, all of which were splendidly rendered. At a meeting of the graduating class of the University this morning Mr. Roy Smith, of St. John, was elected permanent president of the class and J. McCrewey, of Moncton, permanent secretary. It was also decided to have a class reunion in 1912. It is understood that the University will be slighted in the award of the D. D. Divinity on Rev. G. M. Campbell.

A teacher named Goeman caused quite a laugh in the police court this morning. He had been charged with breaking one of the city by-laws and was fined $5.00. He could not walk from his chair. The court sergeant sternly asked Goeman why he did not come forward when called, and laugh which was joined in by the magistrate, was related when the teacher said, "I can't go forward because my foot's asleep." A few kicks on the floor was enough to arouse the slumbering foot and Goeman was enabled to get out of the court.

FOURTEEN DEATHS CAUSED BY FLOODS IN TEXAS

Millions of Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed—Great Suffering Endured by the People of Different Towns

DALLAS, Texas, May 26.—Fourteen persons dead, others missing, and believed to have suffered a like fate, property valued at millions of dollars swept away—thousands homeless and being cared for by charitable organizations, train and wire service demoralized, such are the conditions prevailing in the northern and central sections of this state, the result of a record breaking rise in the Trinity River and other streams following a rainfall unprecedented in severity. The crest of flood passed Dallas at night, but in the north rain is again falling and another rise in Trinity River is not improbable. Dallas suffered most yesterday. Four persons are known to have lost their lives and many others are missing. The military and special police are guarding Fort Worth and Dallas. Biglow and Secretary Dorsey of the Board of Trade estimate that the damage to grain crops as a result of the flood at $2,000,000, and a damage to the crops of Oklahoma of $2,000,000. In the vicinity of Waco, the Brazos River has reached an unprecedented stage. Reports from the outlying districts are as yet meagre, but it is known that much loss has resulted. Near Denison, Red River is rapidly rising. Fort Worth, Texas, May 26.—With the waters of Trinity River still near the summit of the banks, another great volume of water began pouring from the west fork of that stream toward this city late last night. Early today the river is rising at the rate of six inches an hour, and with such conditions as already prevail the outlook when the crest of this second rush of waters reaches this city cannot be foretold. That considerable additional property loss and suffering will result is considered certain. From Sunday night until noon yesterday the river was receding, but slowly. During the afternoon the water was at a standstill. Last night the second rise of the crest which should reach Fort Worth by late today began. The number of dead here stands at 16. Two of the bodies of those drowned Saturday night were recovered yesterday. One was that of a man named Walsh, an employee of a railroad, and the other was a farmer named People. The railway situation shows but slight improvement. The Rock Island is making no effort to run trains in any direction. The joint track of the Texas and Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Fort Worth Belt, will not be opened for traffic before Thursday at latest. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas is making an effort to run trains north and the Frisco is stopping all south-bound trains at Carrollton and turning them back. The Fort Worth and Denver hopes to put a train through today but its success is uncertain. Communication was attempted yesterday with Dallas over the Houston and Texas Central Railway but way of further than the last named point. Only the International and Great Northern and the Houston and Texas Central had their trains stopped. A conservative estimate places the loss of the railroads at $3,000,000. A serious situation has developed here in regard to the city water supply. The mains are filled with black muddy water unfit for drinking even after being boiled and settled. The city authorities declare it may be a week before they can restore the normal water supply. In the meantime those who can afford it are buying water from private artesian wells and those who cannot are drinking the water that comes from the mains. Thrilling rescues were reported from Carrollton and Grapevine. Thirteen men, women and children were caught in the overflow of the Denton River. Their condition became so precarious that they were forced to hold the children up on their shoulders in order to keep them from drowning. These people stood in water almost to their necks for ten hours until rescued. Thirteen railroad employees engaged in repairing a bridge at Grapevine were hampered in by the rising waters on Monday. The sought refuge on tops of a big water tank and at last accounts were still on the tank surrounded by four miles of water. An effort will be made to rescue them.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FEELS SCARCITY OF MEN

Only 117 in Training for the Ministry Out of Four Million Communicants.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 26.—An uninvolved problem before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church is the scarcity of men for the ministry. In the discussion of the matter by the assembly yesterday some of the speakers blamed state university and other denominational institutions of learning for turning the thoughts of students from religious to commercial currents.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT LOSES IN ELECTIONS

But Will Still Be Strong Enough to Carry Through Its Congo Programme.

BRUSSELS, May 26.—The official returns of the elections in a number of the provinces show that the government majority in the chamber had been reduced from 12 to 8, but in the senate it was increased from 14 to 18. The Socialists gained five seats. No doubt is expressed that the government will be able to carry through its Congo programme, despite its reduced majority, but it is understood that the concession which will be made with regard to the special fund of $10,000,000 allotted by King Leopold to execute works in the Congo and the principle of ministerial counter signature of every disbursement from the fund would be admitted.

CORPORATION MEDAL FOR THE UNIVERSITY

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 26.—Mayor Chestnut has received a medal to be presented at University Convocation this year on behalf of the city. The medal this year is given for proficiency in municipal engineering and will be presented to the successful winner on Thursday next.

NEW COAL COMPANY AT WORK IN CAPE BRETON

SYDNEY, N. S., May 26.—The two coal areas at Little Bras D'Or, controlled by G. A. Forbes, of Montreal, and adjoining the territory of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, have passed into the hands of R. S. Cottrill, of Sydney, and W. A. MacKay, of North Sydney, who have proceeded to develop them for immediate production and will shortly install a thoroughly modern electrical equipment for haulage and mining. These areas contain several fine seams of coal, including the Collins' seam, upon which the Toronto Coal Company operated to a small extent at one time. The openings will be within a few hundred feet of the Little Bras D'Or and a short spur will connect with the I. C. R. The new company will be known as the Colonial Coal Company. A force of men are now at work and machinery will be on the ground in a day or two.

CHAS. BAIRD INJURED BY FALLING OFF ROOF

Charles Baird, of Jerusalem street, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon by falling from the roof of his house to the ground. Mr. Baird was attempting to throw an old bedstead from the roof, and he caught his clothing and pulled him over with it. He struck on a board on the ground and sustained a severe shaking up. He was unconscious for some time. Some time ago he had an operation performed on his side, and it was thought that the accident opened the old wound. This morning he was resting quite easily, and he seems to have escaped with no definite injuries, but the shock and shaking up which are naturally a serious matter to a man of his age.

Arthur Beckett went fishing at Dunn's brook, back of Hampton, yesterday, and in fourteen hours caught three hundred and seventy-five fish.

SEVENTEEN CHILDREN HURT ON A RAILROAD

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 26.—Seventeen children were injured, several of them fatally, last night when a train of boys and girls climbed aboard a truck on a railway branch and started it down a heavy grade. While getting at a freight speed the truck collided with a car and both were almost completely demolished.

THE BEST TIME OF ONE'S LIFE.

"Lune de miel," the French call it, with a provision that it may sometimes degenerate into a perilous stickiness. Too much honey is bad for anyone, and many a bear-human or otherwise has owed his downfall to this unrestrained passion for sweets—a passion which, when indulged to excess, sometimes converts them into bitters. "As the bow unto the cord is, so unto the man is woman." Let us imagine that Romeo has already found this out; that he has told Juliet of his startling discovery—a discovery so sweet that both he and she implicitly believe that no one in the world has ever made it before; and that the dreadful quarter of an hour with "dear papa" has taken place. On such occasions, it seems to me that the inquisitiveness of parents ought to be discouraged. You may remember that a young gentleman who, when interrogated by his future father-in-law, answered the question, "What do you propose to do, and what do you mean to live on?" in this fashion: "It had occurred to me before, but since you manifest so much indecent curiosity on the subject, I propose to marry your daughter and to live on you."

TO AVOID ATTENTION. The wedding is over, Juliet, with a patting injunction to her mother to see that her wedding dress is not crumpled when packed up and put away, takes Romeo's arm, and off they go, with the usual small brother inebriated on fastening shoes and suit boxes to any available part of their persons. On these occasions, the courts have held that the slaughter of small brothers is "justifiable homicide." I escaped detection when I was married, because I gave my small brother-in-law a dollar to let me off, and he honorably kept his word. But I hurriedly precipitated our departure when I saw that the temptation was becoming almost too much for him. In fact, he told me on my return that had he not spent half of the money he could not have held out. After all, if you wish to avoid attracting attention, there is a good deal to be said for a certain gifted American plan of taking his honeymoon. He was seen absenting himself from the water as the boat left the wharf, but he was alone. "Isn't your wife with you?" shouted an astonished friend. "Nope," he answered slyly. "Nope. The money didn't run to both of us going, so I'm it."

POINT OF STORY. On the afternoon of the day I was married, by some strange chance, I had a play produced, written by my friend Eden Phillips and myself. It was considered indecent by our friends for us to wish to see this play, so out of consideration for the proprietors, we refrained from sneaking into the theatre, although we both wanted to do so badly. At rehearsal I had discovered that each actor knew his part, but that he had not considered it necessary to read the whole play. It seemed to me that a play produced

Two Ignorant People Found it and Burned Bones. PARIS, May 25—Mme. Schenk placed 22,000 worth of Russian bonds and 214 in bank notes beneath the mattress of her bed. The money and securities were contained in a small bag. One day the woman, forgetting the existence of her wealth, hung bedding and bedclothes out of a window to air. The bag with her savings tumbled into the street. She did not miss it for some days.

In the meantime the treasure had been picked up by a stenographer and his wife, who are neighbors of Mme. Schenk. On being arrested, they admitted that they had spent the whole of the money. As for the bonds, they destroyed them, being ignorant of their value.

The court sentenced the stenographer to three years and his wife to two years' imprisonment. Each was in addition fined $25.

North Bay, Ont., May 25—A train load of Doukhobors arrived here tonight from Montreal. One family of seven came only through one ticket when checked up and orders were given to detain them pending some arrangements.

None of the Doukhobors could speak a word of English and an attempt to remove the family threatened to precipitate a riot. The situation was averted by sidetracking the car pending instructions from headquarters.

Two Ignorant People Found it and Burned Bones. PARIS, May 25—Mme. Schenk placed 22,000 worth of Russian bonds and 214 in bank notes beneath the mattress of her bed. The money and securities were contained in a small bag. One day the woman, forgetting the existence of her wealth, hung bedding and bedclothes out of a window to air. The bag with her savings tumbled into the street. She did not miss it for some days.

In the meantime the treasure had been picked up by a stenographer and his wife, who are neighbors of Mme. Schenk. On being arrested, they admitted that they had spent the whole of the money. As for the bonds, they destroyed them, being ignorant of their value.

The court sentenced the stenographer to three years and his wife to two years' imprisonment. Each was in addition fined $25.

CARRIED THE HABIT TOO FAR.

American travellers in Europe find a great deal of trouble with the omnipresent need of tipping those from whom they expect any service, however slight. They are very apt to carry it much too far, or else attempt to resist it altogether. There is a story told of a wealthy but ostentatious American in a Parisian restaurant. As the waiter placed the order before him he said in a loud voice: "Walter, what is the largest tip that you ever received?" "Oh, bien! But I will give you 2,000," answered the upholder of American honor, "and then in a moment added: "May I ask you gave you the 1,000 francs?" "It was yourself, monsieur," said the obsequious waiter. "Quoted an opposite mode of thought was another American visiting London for the first time. Guaded to desperation by the incessant necessity for tips he finally ordered the washroom of his hotel, only to be faced with a large sign, which read: "Please tip the wash attendant." "No!" said the Yankee, turning on his heel, "I will give fifty first!"

THE IMPORTANCE OF NURSES OF ROYALTY.

No nurseries are the object of greater solicitude than those of the reigning houses of Europe. For not only consideration of parental affection but likewise the vast political importance are involved in the welfare of their youthful inmates. Yet tragedies in Royal nurseries are by no means unknown. Something of the kind has recently taken place in the nursery of Prince and Princess Mirko, of Montenegro, who in 1903, on the occasion of the marriage of the Crown Prince, his younger brother, Prince Mirko, has been regarded as heir presumptive to the throne. Prince and Princess Mirko had two little boys, Stephen and Stanislaus, the elder of whom was looked upon as the future sovereign of Montenegro. A couple of months ago both little boys were stricken with acute tuberculosis of the lungs and only then, too late, was it discovered that one of the nurseries was infested with the malarial, which she had communicated to the little Prince, who in spite of the efforts on the part of the greatest specialists in Europe, succumbed within five weeks of one another.

That safety does not lie in multiplicity of nurses is recalled by the fact that Queen Marie Amalie of Portugal still bears scars of burns which she received in rescuing the late Crown Prince from his burning cradle. The latter had in some manner caught fire, and the nurse, instead of attempting to extinguish it or to remove the child, lost their heads and fled, shrieking. The queen attracted by their cries, rushed to the scene, and in her haste to get away from the flames before they had had time to do him any lasting injury. The late King Victor Emmanuel was burned to death in his cradle, and for many years there used to be a saluted in the streets, and that widespread belief in the effect, that the boys of his peasant wet nurse was substituted in his stead, and intrusted without the knowledge of the parents.

WORDS MEN OF SCIENCE USE. In the columns of the London Times a dispute continues to be waged stoutly in regard to the language commonly used by men of science. The chief point insisted upon is that there is not in science any truth so abstract that it cannot be expressed in plain and clear English. The man of science who takes refuge in technical terms, such as zygotes and gametes, sporozoites and gametocytes, is, the correspondents allege, really confessing to a lack of education.

OTHER ESCAPEES. Across the channel comes an ambassador from Germany's Emperor, and the ruler himself writes to every-where, but this young lady queen is, not on the village green, but among the highest in the land. The whole of the continent is her village, and her authors wear with distinction names written large in history.

PICTURESQUE PERSONALITY. The Baron Antoine de Charrette, of Paris, is a picturesque personality, and the doings of his ancestors would run through the pages of a romance. They have been a great family—a romantic family. They have occupied the same chateau in Brittany 900 years. They are closely related to royalty. For generation after generation the name of Charrette has been a name of distinction.

CUPID AMONG TITLED. Under one of these headlines the Duke of Norfolk, the premier duke of England, was also mentioned. His ancestry was also traced to the Duke of Norfolk, and it was said, to Miss Gladys Deacon. But it was useless. Miss Gladys was very beautiful, but determined.

JUST ONE PLAY. A face of Grecian beauty, there was just one suspicion of a break in the exquisite regularity of feature, and that, to a man, this only showed up the beauty of the rest. It worried Miss Gladys, but determined.

Every Woman. It is intended that should you be troubled with itching, burning, or any other skin disease, apply the new Whiffing Spray. The new Whiffing Spray. It is intended that should you be troubled with itching, burning, or any other skin disease, apply the new Whiffing Spray.

THE BEST NURSES. Most of the Royal nurseries will be found in charge of English women; that of the Quirinal has its head, Mrs. Dickson. The future King of Spain has likewise a couple of English nurses, while Queen Wilhelmina of Holland had first in English nurse and then an English governess.

THE IMPORTANCE OF NURSES OF ROYALTY. The many peasant tastes and traits of the great King of Ured and Ured to be cited by way of confirmation of this somewhat fantastical story.

KILLED HIS EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD WIFE

She Asked for Money for Clothing for Their Unborn Baby—They Quarrelled and He Strangled Her.

NEWARK, Ohio, May 24.—Ernest Terwiler last night killed his 18-year-old wife and their unborn child, by choking the woman during a quarrel, and tonight he is under special guards in the city prison because many infuriated citizens set up a cry for summary vengeance about the prison when the chime became known.

The Terwilers were married about a year ago, the bride being popular in her set of society on account of her beauty and social qualities. Terwiler was jealous of his wife and domestic discord caused a separation.

Recently the pair became reconciled and went to live at the home of Charles Nutter. This morning the Nutters went to call the Terwilers for breakfast. Getting no response the door was forced and Mrs. Terwiler was found dead on the bed. Her tongue protruded from her blackened face, and there were finger marks on her throat. As Terwiler was gone, a search was begun for him. No sooner had he been arrested than he admitted that he had been out of work for some time and had taken several drinks with some friends yesterday.

Returning home in the evening, he said his wife asked him for some money to buy some things for the baby. He told her that he had no money for her, and old troubles were revived. Recriminations ensued, the husband's anger to such an uncontrollable pitch that he seized his wife by the throat, threw her over the edge of the bed and choked her till she ceased to struggle.

Terwiler, thinking he had only choked the woman into submission, left the house not to renew the quarrel. As soon as the details of the crime became known to the many friends of Mrs. Terwiler, a great crowd gathered around the jail and demanded the prisoner. Special guards have been placed on duty, and it is thought the attempt to storm the prison will be made.

WOULD WOMEN STAND FOR IT? (By Benjamin Fay Mills) In the economic world we need not dread women's competition, unless she can do the work more efficiently; and in that case, she ought to do it. As to her fitness for the world of industry and commerce and finance, it is to be hoped that she would not take congenially to our present economic system, and customs. Possibly she might not believe in our planter, hop-grower and livestock competition and selfish monopoly and stock-watering and railroad-wrecking and general tangle of greed and graft.

Maybe she would not allow five men to take her place in technical terms, and to her fitness for the world of industry and commerce and finance, it is to be hoped that she would not take congenially to our present economic system, and customs. Possibly she might not believe in our planter, hop-grower and livestock competition and selfish monopoly and stock-watering and railroad-wrecking and general tangle of greed and graft.

THE STAR, ST. JOHN N. B., TUESDAY, MAY 26 1908.

FOUR THE ST. JOHN STAR is published by THE SUN PRINTING COMPANY, (LTD.) at St. John, New Brunswick, every afternoon (except Sunday) at $1.00 a year.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 26, 1908. THEIR SKIRTS ARE CLEAR. Members of the late provincial government during the pre-election campaign were frequently called upon to answer criticisms made by their opposition speakers as to the disposition of public funds.

Members of the late provincial government during the pre-election campaign were frequently called upon to answer criticisms made by their opposition speakers as to the disposition of public funds. In doing so they admitted that in several departments the systems of accounting were not as perfect as they might be, but they denied absolutely the insinuations that money was being squandered, and put forward the claim that no member of the government could for one moment be suspected of any irregular conduct.

For the past two or three months that able financier, Mr. J. K. Flemming, assisted by members of his party and an Upper Canadian auditor, has been busily engaged in investigating accounts. The result of their researches have been announced by Mr. Flemming, and afterwards greatly modified by him—in his remarkable budget speech, and on other occasions. Several of his colleagues who know nothing of the finances excepting what they have heard him say, have followed Mr. Flemming's lead and attempted to show that there have been abuses of confidence on the part of those who formerly held office. Their assertions have been promptly refuted, and to the discredit of those who made them.

As regards the members of the late government, it has been clearly observed that every individual has personally been absolutely free from blame. Not a shadow of wrongdoing attaches to any one of them and they stand now in opposition as men who need not be ashamed of their records. If it were possible to unseal anything which might seem worthy of condemnation, Mr. Flemming and his friends would have done so long ago. But all that has been found is a rather obsolete system of accounting, the existence of which was admitted by the late government and which was being remedied.

THE CASE OF JEROME. The extremists of New York, those who hold that every capitalist is necessarily a thief and every politician a grater, are losing faith in the integrity of William Travers Jerome. A certain section of the press, including even some of those journals which at one time supported the district attorney, has of late been criticizing his methods of dealing with those who are looked upon by some as offenders. Jerome has been openly charged by the minority shareholders of the Metropolitan Street Railway with neglect of duty in investigating recent manipulations of stock, and his attitude towards several prominent insurance officials by which they escaped punishment for alleged offences has been referred to in the present affair.

Jerome, however, has replied to his accusers answering the charge that he has permitted many guilty persons to escape. He says in effect: "I have no doubt that many of these men have been dishonorable in their commercial transactions, mean, base, faithless to their trusts. But it is not the business of the district attorney to prosecute people for their moral delinquencies unless these moral delinquencies cause them to violate the statutes. Bring me proof of a crime, or show me where I can find it, and I will prosecute a man whom I believe to be innocent under the law to the shame of an indictment by a grand jury and jeopard his liberty before a criminal court. It is crime, and not offences against 'business morality' which are not also offences against the statute."

EMPIRE DAY IN BOSTON. BOSTON, Mass., May 25—Five hundred British-born residents of this city attended the celebration of Empire Day at the local club-house tonight. Mr. McDonald, M. P. of Pictou County, N. S., was the principal guest and made an address on the "Relations of Canada, the United States and Great Britain."

that I am sworn to prosecute, I have studied the evidence that you pretend to know; I know the law and you don't; I have had a long experience as criminal prosecutor; you do not question my honesty or my intelligence. You say in substance: "Go ahead anyhow, with public feeling as it is a jury is bound to convict." But I have taken an oath of office which is not lightly binding on my conscience and you have taken none. It is as much my duty as an officer of the court to protect innocent men against persecution as it is to prosecute the guilty. Do you think I am base enough to indict and try a man when my knowledge of the facts and the law convinces me that he is innocent? You say you will withdraw your support from me. Very well; I will stand by myself. You say I will not be re-elected. If all the people who want nobody sent to jail and all the people who want everybody but themselves sent to jail vote against me I will have little chance. You say I have sacrificed my career. There are many ways of sacrificing a career and perhaps this is the best."

THE MERRY WIDOW HAT. Down below in the neatest regions 'Was an Imp in sad disgrace. He was sent from his master's presence And told not to see his face. Until he'd redeemed his prestige And invented some dark deep plot, Whereby mankind would be tempted, What it was, he cared not a jot.

So he fashioned a mighty head-piece, Large and round as a light cart wheel. He trimmed it with bows of ribbon, And he stamped it with fashion's seal. And he called it the "Merry Widow." For he knew that the name would take. (The Imp was a fiend of genius, And ever wide awake.)

And whether it is at the Horse Show, Or the church's crowded aisles, Mankind is doomed to extinction By that little wreath of wiles. And muttered sounds (not blessings) Till the very air seems blue. Rise up from the lockless door As the hats in every pew. Birds and flowers and monstrous bows Exclude all else from view.

But not alone in church or hall Does that hat work its deadly will, It scores one's face in the street cars As the seats begin to fill. No fender yet has been designed To guard the unhappy sight, Who has two girls on either arm, Their hats level with his sight.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 24—Digging for more bodies will be resumed tomorrow on the farm of Mrs. Belle Guinness. Until the trial of Lampheara, which it is believed will be held in June, there will be a lull in developments unless the officers are able to get information about the supposed accomplices of the murderer.

LAPOINTE, Ind., May 25—That Mrs. Belle Guinness had accomplices in her murder was indicated tonight by the story of Martin Gurholt, of Iola, Wis., who arrived today to investigate the disappearance of her brother Henry Gurholt, who in 1905, a stranger came to Iola and formed the acquaintance of Henry Gurholt, who then was working in a store. The stranger talked of the beauties of Laporte and said he had a sister, a Mrs. Belle Guinness, who was in need of a man on the farm.

To Save Money

on a suit, think of something beside the first cost.

20th CENTURY SUITS are worn by economical men, in many cases, merely because they are found to be the cheapest clothing as well as the most elegant of ready-to-wear apparel.

A "cheap" suit is usually a costly suit in the end, but a 20th Century suit is always a gilt-edge investment.

Long wear, retention of original elegance, enduring fit.

Smart Summer fabrics, made up in latest fashion $10 to $25; 20th Century, $1 to $25. 20th Century 2-piece suits, $8 to $24.

Decorations at the Quebec Tercentenary will be six miles long

QUEBEC, May 25--To tell in outline the history of Canada in general and the city of Quebec in particular, by means of a succession of historic scenes, portraits and inscriptions displayed on buildings, on flags and on the great historical procession, as well as a number of other streets will be handsomely decorated, displaying representations of historical events. In the evenings, especially when lit up by myriads of electric lights, the result should be magnificent.

From one period to another, the leading events will be set forth by portraits of prominent historical personages, worked on shields or banners, by representations of scenes, by dates and inscriptions, and where possible, by trophies, the whole closing with a scene depicting the confederation of 1867. The events of the Jacques Cartier period will be depicted in that quarter of the town known as Jacques Cartier Ward, in St. Roch's. The story of the early struggles and successes, of the Religious bodies, the Benedictines and the Jesuit Fathers; the Ursulines, and the Hospitaliers, will be told in Montcalm Ward. The English period will be represented mainly along the Grand Allée, a part of the city which has given up since the opening of the British regime in Canada.

As the whole distance for which these decorations are proposed, is something over six miles, it is expected that the firms of decorators in Quebec will form a syndicate to undertake the task.

WIFE KEPT HIS TEETH.
New York Merchant Lived on Soft Food Till the Law Helped Him Out.

NEW YORK, May 25--Simon Simons, store keeper of 1748 Bath avenue, enjoyed last night his first square meal in four days. According to his story, he and his wife, Fanny, had a falling out over a week ago, in which she accused him of stealing a pocketbook containing $15. In her wrath she took away his false teeth.

Mrs. Simons told her husband he could have the teeth when he paid her the money which she alleged he took from her. Plead as he would the store-keeper could not serve his better half from her purpose. Meanwhile Simon lived on soups and chocolate eclairs and other easily masticated food.

Unable to longer deny his system proper nourishment he went to court and secured a summons for his wife.

"Are you willing to give him his teeth?" asked the magistrate of Mrs. Simons.

"Not until he pays me $15," replied she.

"Then I'll have to send you to jail," exclaimed the Court.

This frightened Mrs. Simons, and delving into a skirt pocket, she produced the shining cause of the whole trouble.

PERSIA MENAGED WITH INVASION
Russia Said to Have Demanded Indemnity for Stain Officers and Soldiers.

TEHRAN, May 25--The news that Russian soldiers have crossed the frontier and are concentrating at a distance of six farsangs (about twenty-four miles) within Persian territory has caused great excitement here.

Rumors are current that the Russian government has demanded within a fixed time the arrest and execution of the chief of the tribesmen who attacked the Russians at Eilers Sawa, an indemnity for the Russian officer and soldiers killed in the attack, payment of the expenses of the punitive expedition and the immediate forwarding of Persian troops to the border to keep order. Otherwise, it is said, more Russian soldiers will be sent to protect Russian interests.

Enthusiasm over the union of the Shah and the nation seems to be cooling down. Aggressive speeches were again made yesterday at a meeting, meaning the Shah's life. Shah Doleh was asked to form a cabinet, but seems not to have succeeded yet.

A big consular has been reported unearthed at Sulikan, northwest of Teheran. Some deputies with Cossacks went to the spot. It is said more Russian soldiers will be sent to protect Persia at the present.

Dawson Camp.

DAWSON CAMP ANGELS.
Miners Nurse Each Other Through Pneumonia in the Wilderness.

DAWSON CITY, May 25--More than a hundred miles in the wilderness from the nearest doctor or drug store, and racked and worn by pneumonia, is the trying experience of Dad Davis and the other miners, who are working together and occupying the same cabin on Haggart Creek.

First Davis was taken down, and went through a siege. His faithful partner worked day and night as a nurse, and brought the old miner through the test. Then Rivey, ravaged by the sapping vigils, was taken ill, and had to go to the bank and endure the same scouring siege.

Isaac Mallet, of the same locality, generously volunteered his services, and with aid of what crude supply of drugs there was to be had in the camp, and the rough home-made instruments which he had made, he was able to run out, became the camp physician and angel. He helped nurse Davis back again, and Rivey's health, and at last reports had Rivey doing splendidly.

The boys of the camp felt they could not in such a remote spot, and could not but dream of how different it was when in the old home with some willing hands of the father persuasion.

FEARFUL RESULTS OF TROLLEY COLLISION

PHILADELPHIA, May 24--Three persons were instantly killed and at least five others were so badly injured that there is no hope for their recovery, and forty-five were seriously hurt in a collision between a trolley car on Chestnut avenue near Chestnut Hill, suburb of the northern section of the city, late tonight.

GRANITE WORKERS STRIKE.

QUINCY, Mass., May 25--The granite workers here held a meeting tonight but declined to sign the agreement by which it had been expected that the strike would have been on strike since May 14, would return to work tomorrow morning. The extremists, it appears, have not been invited, and there is not to be a revival of the old striking Surat scenes. In that case next Christmas may see two Congresses and two presidents, both speaking for united India.

A certain section of the Moderates no doubt find it convenient to set up a platform in the background, whence they can carry on an insidious campaign against the Government. There are, however, a number of men in the ranks who are sincere enough in their desire for constitutional methods. The pity of it is that they have not sufficient strength of mind to cut themselves entirely adrift from the Congress movement, and that they identify themselves and are identified with the rabble of the fanatics.

CLEANING A CISTERN
FINDS $50,000 BONDS

His Father Always Said He Had Wealth, But Couldn't Use It.

VINELAND, N. J., May 25--All Newfield was excited this morning when it was learned that A. S. Kandle, had found $50,000 worth of bonds at the bottom of an old cistern he was cleaning.

Kandle is the village barber and soon his shop was besieged by anxious neighbors and friends, whose congratulations were most hearty. The bonds were issued by the West Jersey Railroad forty-two years ago to John Kandle, father of the barber.

The elder Kandle died about fifteen years ago, and old neighbors recall to mind his oft-repeated assertion that he had wealth, but could not use it.

The reason now found to be that somehow the bonds got into the cistern were they have lain for over forty years.

Kandle immediately took his find to a lawyer friend in Camden, and as the lawyer advised silence until he could make an investigation, Kandle refuses full details.

ANTI-MARRIAGE CLUBS THRIVE IN ILLINOIS
The Town is Disturbed Over Questions Matrimonial

Life of Cellibacy--Girls of Cupid Club, Opposition Organization, Cook the Suffer.

ALTON, Ill., May 25--Society in Alton is much agitated at present over the marriage question, and the number of organizations for and against marriage is increasing every day. There seems to be no middle ground on which an Altonite can stand. He must either be absolutely against matrimony, or he must be not only in favor of it for himself as well as everybody he knows and does not know, but he must exert all his energies to promote marriages in every quarter.

There are in Alton at the present time, it is asserted, not less than five anti-marriage clubs, the members of which pledge themselves to forever resist the attacks of Dan Cupid. Both sexes are represented in these clubs, and men and women are alike vigorous in their advocacy of a life of celibacy. The latest of these is the "Cupid Clubs," the object of which is to persuade the little god to point his darts in the direction of the members. The latest of these is the "Prigget-Me-Not Club," an organization composed of young men and girls who for the purpose of having an opportunity of showing each other how really attractive and desirable they are. This club meets every week and the girls cook the supper while the men attend to the fires. After supper they talk, play games or dance, and have a happy time together. Each member pays a small sum into the treasury every week toward what is called "the sinking fund," which is to be used as a dowry for the first couple whose wedding is a direct result of the weekly meetings of the club members. The latest of these is to begin to predict who will be the recipients of the dowry. This is a very enthusiastic and believe they have solved the marriage question in a very interesting way.

"You see the great trouble is," said a feminine philosopher of 19 or thereabouts, "that young people don't really know each other. That is the reason there are so many old maids and old bachelors nowadays, and why there are so many unhappy marriages. Most people only meet in society and so they don't know each other. They are given an opportunity to see each other in the natural way, that is, under every-day, prosa, circumstances. The only way to get to know each other is to have discovered otherwise will appear and many will be saved from making mistakes. ALLAHABAD, India, May 15--The so-called Central Committee of the Indian National Congress, last assembled in convention at Allahabad to reconstitute the Congress, which broke up in a general row at Surat. Representatives from all the provinces are arriving with draft constitutions in their pockets. The extremists, it appears, have not been invited, and there is not to be a revival of the old striking Surat scenes. The extremists are not particularly pleased over their exclusion, and though they are not saying so, they are sure that the Congress is dead, it is quite possible that in the immediate future they may start a secessionary movement of their own. In that case next Christmas may see two Congresses and two presidents, both speaking for united India.

A certain section of the Moderates no doubt find it convenient to set up a platform in the background, whence they can carry on an insidious campaign against the Government. There are, however, a number of men in the ranks who are sincere enough in their desire for constitutional methods. The pity of it is that they have not sufficient strength of mind to cut themselves entirely adrift from the Congress movement, and that they identify themselves and are identified with the rabble of the fanatics.

ANTI-MARRIAGE CLUBS THRIVE IN ILLINOIS
The Town is Disturbed Over Questions Matrimonial

Life of Cellibacy--Girls of Cupid Club, Opposition Organization, Cook the Suffer.

ALTON, Ill., May 25--Society in Alton is much agitated at present over the marriage question, and the number of organizations for and against marriage is increasing every day. There seems to be no middle ground on which an Altonite can stand. He must either be absolutely against matrimony, or he must be not only in favor of it for himself as well as everybody he knows and does not know, but he must exert all his energies to promote marriages in every quarter.

There are in Alton at the present time, it is asserted, not less than five anti-marriage clubs, the members of which pledge themselves to forever resist the attacks of Dan Cupid. Both sexes are represented in these clubs, and men and women are alike vigorous in their advocacy of a life of celibacy. The latest of these is the "Cupid Clubs," the object of which is to persuade the little god to point his darts in the direction of the members. The latest of these is the "Prigget-Me-Not Club," an organization composed of young men and girls who for the purpose of having an opportunity of showing each other how really attractive and desirable they are. This club meets every week and the girls cook the supper while the men attend to the fires. After supper they talk, play games or dance, and have a happy time together. Each member pays a small sum into the treasury every week toward what is called "the sinking fund," which is to be used as a dowry for the first couple whose wedding is a direct result of the weekly meetings of the club members. The latest of these is to begin to predict who will be the recipients of the dowry. This is a very enthusiastic and believe they have solved the marriage question in a very interesting way.

"You see the great trouble is," said a feminine philosopher of 19 or thereabouts, "that young people don't really know each other. That is the reason there are so many old maids and old bachelors nowadays, and why there are so many unhappy marriages. Most people only meet in society and so they don't know each other. They are given an opportunity to see each other in the natural way, that is, under every-day, prosa, circumstances. The only way to get to know each other is to have discovered otherwise will appear and many will be saved from making mistakes. FEARFUL RESULTS OF TROLLEY COLLISION

AMUSEMENTS.

A Good Show at the Opera House.
Along the Kennebec, which was given at the Opera House yesterday, attracted large audiences at both the afternoon and evening performances. The play is a New England comedy of the old-fashioned and "way down east" type. It unfolds a pretty love story, and is well put on by a good company.

Frank O'Connell made an admirable uncle Abner, Josie Slater was a universal favorite in the role of Dolly, Joseph Hall as Hinkley Tubbs, Grant Almon as Hiram, Frank Mackie as Zeke kept the audience in roars of laughter. KATHLEEN MAVOURNEEN.
At the Opera House on Wednesday night, The Emerald Dramatic Club of Albert will present Kathleen Mavourneen, Miss Terrio, who plays the name part, is said to be one of the best amateur actresses in the Province and is supported by a company above the average.

Dewitt Cairns Received an Ovation
The Nickel's systematic endeavor to cater to all tastes in its variety of pictures were exemplified again on the holiday when two special bills were put on--morning and afternoon and evening. The afternoon and evening bills, in which the great melo-dramatic story of Jesse James and his band was included, proved particularly absorbing and many little faults that were his of the spectacular acts of these men who claimed to have a grievance. A remarkable feat was the wonderful horsemanship of the James band and the startlingly realistic reproduction of a train hold-up. The comedy element was generously interlarded, making each show perfectly satisfactory.

Undoubtedly the stellar figure in the Nickel's entertainment yesterday was Dewitt Cairns, local baritone, who bowed again to his old friends and admirers after a six months' absence in Boston, where he was skillfully trained by Prof. Deane. Mr. Cairns was received with long continued applause, and upon rendering the emotional ballad My Heart Beats for You Alone was instantly encored. He made a big hit in the shortest way of putting it, Miss Wren's rich mezzo-soprano made the song in Dear Old Sweetheart Days all the more enjoyable. Same bill today and tonight.

At the Princess
The show that is now on at the Princess is without doubt one of the finest places of entertainment, so attractive that residents of the west side are concluding that there is no longer any necessity for crossing the harbor, and Monday evening the hall was well filled by an audience which left singing the praises of the new management for the splendid bill offered, which not only included several splendid pictures, but a farce comedy presented by Messrs. Fairbanks and Harrison, and Miss Moffat, that is calculated to produce a series of laughs on the face of even the most serious. Tonight is the last opportunity to see this programme. Tomorrow night is the big amateur artists' night and the Palace takes the lead in this. Beside the three professional artists fifteen amateurs will appear. Two hours of solid fun, none should miss it.

At the Unique
The principal topic of conversation around town today is Pooehontas, which is now being shown at the Unique Theatre. This show attracted thousands yesterday, and those who have not had an opportunity of seeing it should not miss doing so either tonight or tomorrow.

The story of Pooehontas is told by the moving pictures as it has never been told before. Parents should not fail to bring their children to see this historical event, as it is very instructive, showing the customs and manner of living when the English first settled in this continent.

Three other brand new pictures and two beautiful illustrated songs go to make up one of the best programmes that has ever been shown by a moving picture house in this city.

Mr. Wm. Lanyon, St. John's most popular singer, made a decided hit yesterday in the Veterans song. Mr. Lanyon will be heard in this song tonight and tomorrow. Mr. Robt. Butler is heard to good advantage in "May be Sometime." We wish to remind the ladies that a special matinee is held every day at 2:15.

Happy Half Hour
The Happy Half Hour reopened yesterday, and all day large crowds witnessed their way to this popular place of amusement. A very enjoyable surprise was given patrons when they saw for the first time the elevated seats, and nothing but expressions of approval were heard in regard to the improvement. There is ample room both in the seats themselves and the rows for the largest person. It is doubtful if

Mary Emerson.
Of much interest theatrically will be Miss Mary Emerson's forthcoming appearances in her two most successful plays, Will o' the Wisp and His Majesty and The Maid. Both plays were written for Miss Emerson, who makes her first St. John appearance on Monday, June 15, in His Majesty and The Maid.

As Miss Emerson comes here for the first time, it might not be amiss to say a few words about her career, which has been a notable one. Her first season on the stage found her the leading woman for Mr. Louis James, and in a repertoire of Shakespearean plays, in which she has the leading parts, the young artist found instant recognition. Her success with Mr. James led to an engagement with Mr. Richard Mansfield, and with that artist she remained for two seasons as Mr. Mansfield's leading support. After the close of her engagement with Mr. Mansfield, Miss Emerson signed an agreement with Samuel Lewis to star under his direction for a term of years. The first play in which she appeared under Mr. Lewis' direction was His Majesty and The Maid, which artistically was a very successful one. It was followed by Will o' the Wisp, which was also a success. INDIAN AND SQUAW DRANK BAY RUM IN MONCTON; BOTH DEAD

MONCTON, N. B., May 25.—The holiday did not pass without a tragedy, which came in the form of death to two persons through drinking bay rum, wood alcohol or some other alcoholic poison. This afternoon doctors were summoned to the violent illness of an Indian and squaw. Dr. Harris, upon arrival at the camp about two o'clock, found the Indian dead and the squaw in agony and in the last throes of death.

labeled bay rum, but it was empty by the time they reached camp. Sunday morning Grimes and Mrs. Noel fell ill, but nothing serious was anticipated until this morning, when their condition grew critical and medical aid was summoned. Before the doctor arrived Grimes died and the squaw only survived an hour or two longer. That both deaths were due to drinking bay rum or wood alcohol is evident, and Coroner Purdy tonight empaneled a jury to inquire into the facts. The husband of Mrs. Noel was away in Buctouche at the time of the tragedy. Those in the camp were Grimes, Mrs. Noel, her son, Thos. Muse and Levi Paul.

CARRIES RELIEF AND JUSTICE INTO ARCTIC Revenue Cutter Thetis Starts for Cruise to Ocean Ports of Alaska

BOSTON, May 25.—The revenue cutter Thetis, Capt. Andrew J. Henderson commanding, has started from Port Townsend, on Puget sound, on its unique annual cruise to the Arctic ocean ports of Alaska. Fitted not only for the enforcement of laws, but as a court of justice, her captain being armed with the powers of United States commissioner, she carries every variety of relief to the dwellers on the polar sea.

For forty years the government has been sending its annual messenger to Alaska. For thirty years the cutter has been the only communicating agency with the long coast beyond Cape Prince of Wales. The Thetis will take aid to the isolated missionaries and educators, to castaway mariners and destitute prospectors wherever heard from.

No small part of the cutter's work has been in securing justice for the natives and in protecting them from the destructive hand of ruthless plunderers of civilization. By the use of whiskey, marauding whalers and traders have induced natives to part with their dearest possessions, while their persons have been taken into practical slavery aboard vessels.

In the case of all offenses the cutter carries the law into the haunts of the offenders, and unhandcuffed by red tape, executes justice so quickly that the more flagrant practices have been practically broken up.

One of the most arduous duties is the protection of the seals. Then the cutter carries large medical supplies and the ship's surgeon is the only doctor that many of his patients ever see.

The welcome which the cutter receives at its ports of call has been described as equally that received by ships of discovery. Holidays are proclaimed and every boat in every port swarms out to the side of the ship. The natives, who are utterly primitive, inspect again every cranny and device as though never seen before. This season the Thetis has on board large supplies for the Anglo-American polar expedition for delivery at Flaxman Island if conditions permit. Otherwise a trans-shipment at Point Barrow will be necessary.

BATHURST HAS A $25,000 BLAZE I. C. R. Freight and Coal Sheds and Legere's Hotel Destroyed

BATHURST, N. B., May 25.—Bathurst was visited by a disastrous fire this morning. About two o'clock a blaze was discovered in the I. C. R. freight shed and such headway had been gained that nothing could be removed from the building. The freight and coal shed were both razed to the ground with all the contents. The fire next spread across the street to a hotel owned and occupied by John P. Legere. This property was also destroyed, with a considerable portion of the contents. The stables in connection were consumed. The railway loss, including the freight in the shed, is estimated at $150,000, but may be less. Legere's hotel property was valued at $10,000, and he carried $50,000 insurance. This means a property loss in the neighborhood of $25,000. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from a passing engine. A special passed east a short time before the fire broke out.

SUBPOENAS ISSUED AGAINST OFFICIALS OF BOSTON AND MAINE

BOSTON, Mass., May 25.—Subpoenas were issued by the United States circuit court today against the officials of the Boston and Maine and Hartford Railroad companies in connection with the bill in equity filed by the United States government in this city last Friday seeking to dissolve the New Haven road from its street railway and Boston and Maine holdings. The service will be made tomorrow. United States Marshal Guy Murchie will serve the papers upon the Boston and Maine officials in this city and the United States marshal for Connecticut will perform like service upon the New Haven officials in Connecticut.

Additional subpoenas will be served upon the officials of the Consolidated Railway Company through the United States marshal at Hartford, Conn. and upon the officials of the Providence Securities Company through the United States marshal in Providence, R. I.

Under the order of procedure, the defendants are called upon to make answer to the suit within 30 days and put in an appearance not later than the first Monday in July, or July 2nd next.

DOUBLE HEADER IN THE MORNING Marathons and Clippers the Winners

Scores Were Close in Both Games on Victoria Grounds

There were no mishaps and the cruise was a success in every way.

HORSE RACING AT THE CAPITAL UNINTERESTING

FREDERICTON, May 25.—The races at the Fredericton driving park this afternoon drew a crowd of between three and four hundred. The contests for the most part were not very interesting. The only surprise of the day was the defeat of Miss Letha, the mare that gained such a reputation last summer.

YESTERDAY'S SPORTS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL Events Are Keenly Contested

Dartmouth Man Captures One and Two Mile Events

Before a good sized crowd the Every Day Club ran off a very successful athletic meet on the Victoria grounds yesterday afternoon. The events proved to be very interesting, although nothing phenomenal was done as far as time in the runs and sprints, and distance in the other events, are concerned. The mile race was one of the best of the day. Lenington of Dartmouth A. C. won the race in 5:02.4, Boward was put back one yard, the Dartmouth man also won the two mile run in 11:26.4, although handicapped by a badly sprained ankle that was injured in the 880 yards dash.

The hop, step and jump was a keenly contested event, Gearson of the Algonquins on his last try, beating out Orr of the Every Day Club by an inch. The two Hampton men, Boward and Gigger, who competed with Portland Y. M. C. A. did not arrive in the city until the sports had been half run off. In the events in which he did compete Gigger did well. The feature of the day was a special race of one hundred yards between Boward and Gearson, who was formerly an athlete of prominence in Western Canada. Gearson won by inches only. At the start, trying to beat the pistol, Boward was put back one yard, the time was 11:15 seconds.

In the senior events the Algonquins won the greatest number of points, having three firsts, two seconds and five thirds to their credit. The Every Day Club, which had the greatest number of entries, obtained three firsts, two seconds and one third. The other points were: Dartmouth, two firsts; St. Peter's Y. M. C. A., one second; Portland Y. M. C. A., one first, three seconds, one third; Marathons, two thirds. Handsome prizes for these sports were donated by Ald. Baxter, Ald. Sprout, D. R. St. Roses Capture Morning Game in Inter-Society League Series

There was a good crowd present yesterday morning to witness the game on the Shamrock grounds between the St. Josephs and St. Roses. It resulted in a victory for St. Roses by a score of 10 to 6. A ministerial committee went to their committee room to find the door locked and the janitor away fishing.

NO BILLS FOUND IN TWO THEFT CASES

But True Bills Against Four Escaped Prisoners

Regular Session of the County Court Finds Little Business of a Criminal Nature.

The regular sitting of the county court was held this morning, Judge Wells presiding in the absence of Judge Forbes. After J. E. Kaye had been elected foreman of the grand jury, his Honor said that he regretted that more of the grand jury had not put in an appearance and judicially remarked that he had hoped that Judge Forbes would have had them in better training. The judge, however, stated that as he had come casually he did not feel disposed to impose fines on the absent ones. Continuing his Honor said that the criminal offenses before the court were minor offenses and he was pleased to be able to announce that to the grand jury. The first case was the King vs. W. J. Parker, charged with stealing $50 in connection with the buying of a lot in the cemetery. His Honor said that it was just questionable whether or not a case had been made out, but the judge added that it was for the grand jury to say that. The same applied to the case of the King vs. Fox, charged with stealing a rifle. His Honor said that it was also a minor offense and it was questionable whether or not a true bill should be found. There were four cases against escaped prisoners of the chain gang. The King vs. John Cook; The King vs. William Smith; The King vs. Wm. Morris; The King vs. John O'Brien. His Honor said that it was most important to guard against persons escaping from custody and he felt sure that when the jury looked into the evidence they would find it necessary to return true bills. The grand jurors are: S. T. Hatfield, Joshua Ward, Charles Robb, James E. Quinn, C. H. Ramsay, James C. Doherty, W. J. Dalton, W. C. Day, J. J. McLaughlin, C. H. Ramsay, James Crowley, J. E. Danaher, J. W. Brogan, W. S. Clawson, E. S. Dibbles, C. H. Gibson, Frank White, Henry C. Fisher, J. S. Kaye, G. P. Fisher, James A. Batey, Frank Fales, M. E. Agar, John Edgewood.

The petit jurors are: W. H. Bell, Sidney Gibbs, Francis Ritchie, S. J. Withers, M. J. H. Mulholland, A. McNeil, G. D. Hussey, J. P. Williams, John B. Masep, J. J. Mitchell, W. H. Howe, James Wilson, J. M. P. Whitting, H. Y. McLaughlin, Wellington Green, P. S. Robinson, John Seaton, John Hannah, Robt. O'Brien, Patrick McDevitt, Wm. L. McEwan.

Besides the central business the docket is as follows:

- Jury Cases. 1. Wm. Hoppey vs. Carter, J. J. Forter, Non Jury. 1. Vaughan vs. Stevens, J. E. Kelly. 2. R. E. T. Pringle Co. vs. F. K. Hartington and Hartington. 1. Dunbar vs. Pullen, A. A. Wilson. 4. Hazelwood vs. Cowan, J. R. Armstrong. 5. Thomson vs. Malcolm, J. R. M. Baxter.

Denaturer. 1. Hazelwood vs. Cowan, J. R. Armstrong. To be argued tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

While the jury were out several naturalization cases were read.

At 12:15 the jury returned and the foreman announced in the case of the King vs. Parker and the King vs. Fox, no bills had been found, and in the case of the King vs. John Cook, no bills were found. The foreman announced that Mildred Parker was to be allowed to decorate the grave of her husband.

Court adjourned until this afternoon.

FIRE AT GRAND BAY UNDER CONTROL TODAY

Loss Will Not be Serious as Land Had Been Cut Over Previously.

A fire in the woods back of Grand Bay caused some alarm yesterday. Douglas Clinch drove in to the city last night with the information that a fire was burning in the district back of Stetson, Cutler and Co.'s big lake at Musquash. It was thought that the fire was started at Caltr's camp by careless fishermen, as secretary of the N. B. Fish, Forest and Game Preservation Association, Mr. Clinch said efforts will be made to place the blame for the fire on the right parties.

Mr. Sheppard, of Stetson Cutler's employ, with a number of men attempted to put the fire out yesterday but were driven back by the heat. Information was received this morning from Stetson, Cutler and Co. to the effect that the scene of the fire was in some old wood which had already been cut over and which contained no valuable lumber. There were no dwellings within reach of the fire. A large gang of men was sent down to fight the fire this morning and soon had it under control.

NEW DREDGE FOR ST. JOHN

The tug is also bringing a couple of saws for use with the dredge. The first use to which the dredge will be put is to do some dredging at Bonny River in connection with Mr. Moore's lumber operations on that stream. The dredge is a good sized one capable of dredging to a depth of thirty feet.

The outfit will be kept at Bonny River for a good part of the summer and after that Mr. Moore is unable to say at present what will be her next scene of operations.
