Belfast, Jan. 26.—The farmer who was found shot dead near his home at Randon, County Cork, yesterday was visited two days before by six men supposed to be British officers seeking information regarding Sinn Fein movements in the district which was given.

Planned to the dead man's coat was a note saying he had been shot for "betraying to give information to the enemy of Republican troop movements." Thus, it is pointed out, the loyalists in the martial law areas are in a precarious position between the Crown forces and the Republicans.

REV. DR. MANNING CHOSEN BISHOP ON THIRD VOTE

Hearst Papers Made Bitter Assault on His Candidature in Morning Editions.

ALLEGED "AMERICAN" NEEDED THE PLACE

Taunt Church With Seeking an Englishman to Put "Tight Bit" on Race.

New York, Jan. 26.—Rev. Dr. William Manning, rector of Trinity church, was elected Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York at a convention held here today to choose a successor to the late Bishop Charles Sumner Burch. The choice was made on the third ballot.

The vote was made unanimous. Other candidates who figured in the early ballots were Rev. Dr. Charles L. Slatery, rector of Grace church, New York; Bishop Nathaniel S. Thomas of the Missionary diocese of Wyoming; Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York; and Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Green, of St. Thomas' church, New York.

His Unpardonable Sin

The Hearst newspapers took a hand in the election of the Bishop by publishing this morning an editorial denouncing Dr. Manning on the ground that he was born in England. This editorial was read at the convention today by Rev. John P. Peters, rector of St. Michael's church, in second Dr. Manning's nomination. A copy of the article had been sent by telegram to all delegates.

Hearst's Bitter Article

"Is it the Church of England or the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States that is selecting a Bishop for its most important diocese?" asked Hearst. "Will the Protestant Episcopal clergymen of New York, at their gathering today say to Dr. Manning: 'We are only Americans, poor second-class creatures, not fit to rule ourselves. We need an Englishman to hold the reins and fasten the tight bit on us. Please climb up on our backs, drive us and curb us.' This newspaper feels it safe to predict," the article continued, "that American clergymen will find an American fit to be head of the greatest diocese in the United States. The Rev. Dr. Manning should be allowed to continue his present useful work, with the big gambler investments in front and the profitable tenement houses in the rear."

EVERYBODY HAS TARIFF SCHEME

So Declares Sir Henry Drayton as He Says Living Costs Are Coming Down.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Sir Henry Drayton, Dominion Minister of Finance, was the chief guest at a banquet held here tonight by the Canadian Shoe Dealers' Association. Sir Henry Drayton breathed a spirit of optimism that was inspiring, and it was a happy endorsement of remarks previously made by the president of the association, Joseph Duggan, of Montreal.

"Canada is in a first rate position relatively today. If we would only believe it," declared Sir Henry Drayton, "we would only take advantage of it."

Everyone Has a Plan

Speaking of taxation, Sir Henry said that his experience on the tariff commission had shown that there were as many ideas about taxation as there were industries in the country. As to the luxury tax, he said that it had been designed to check extravagance of buying, which could only end in injury to the country. Costs must come down, and he expressed the opinion that costs had come down in support of this, he cited the last cost of living index, which was 214, as against 263.1 in May last. He remarked incidentally that he did not think shoes costing $20 or $25 a pair were necessities.

CLAIM WILSON TO BLOCK THE EMBARGO BILL

Democratic Senate Leader Declares President Will Refuse His Sanction to Bill.

CHARGES AND COUNTER CHARGES AT SESSION

Republicans Score First Victory in Series Expected to Pass the Measure.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Republican and Democratic senate leaders met in head-on collision today when the former started a drive to put through the Fordney emergency tariff bill. Republican suggestions of a Democratic " filibuster" brought on the clash, senator Underwood, of Alabama, minority leader, and other prominent Democrats, denying vigorously that filibustering was in progress or contemplated. The Democratic leaders expressed willingness to vote after "proper and legitimate debate," and charged that the Republicans did not expect the bill to pass and sought to place the blame on Democratic opponents.

Will Wilson Veto It?

Democratic leader Underwood added that the measure, even if passed, would be vetoed by President Wilson, because, he said, it was "repugnant" to Democratic tariff principles. He disclaimed having received any direct information from the president, however. Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, in charge of the bill, presented a proposal for a vote next Tuesday, but it went down under objections from Mr. Underwood and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat of the finance committee.

Forced a Recess

After hours of spirited verbal scuffling, interspersed with some actual discussion of the bill's tariff schedules, the Republicans scored a real point by forcing a recess of the Senate tonight until tomorrow instead of adjournment, a move which operates to keep the bill before the Senate for consideration immediately tomorrow to the exclusion of other usual routine business.

FOREIGN MONEY JUMPING SINCE PREMIERS' MEET

Francs and Marks Show Great Activity in View of European Improvements.

STERLING CLIMBING UPWARD ONCE MORE

British Financiers See Bright Day Dawning for Old World Business.

London, Jan. 26.—Increasing interest is centring on foreign exchanges in view of the various meetings of fiscal and otherwise, in connection with reparations and the formulating of credits for the rehabilitation of trade in America. The upward movement in United States exchange is believed in exchange circles to be the natural outcome of the restriction of trade and the granting of credits to the United States to Europe, cable transfers today touching $3.83 to the pound, sterling, and the balance of opinion inclines to the belief that a slow and gradual movement will be maintained.

French Exchange Jumping

French exchange, which is likely to be most affected by prospective schemes, has jumped about fifty and sixty francs to the pound, the chief reason being attributed to United States buying in anticipation that the Allied conference will be productive of some satisfactory settlement. This induced British speculative buying, and in the opinion of the market there is no such stabilization in the sight for the franc as for the dollar exchange.

German Marks Active

The same reason is given for the movement in German marks, which recently jumped heavily in the United States, have ranged between 200 and 220, and until reparations are finally settled it is believed that there will be no fixed movement toward normal. The monetary situation in the United States is being eagerly watched here for signs of a movement which, if expected, will largely affect the monetary situation in Lombard street.

Over 5,300 Committed Suicide In A Year

Ten Thousand Others Made Unsuccessful Attempt to End Lives in Hungary.

Budapest, Jan. 26.—Thirty-two hundred women and 2,100 men committed suicide in Hungary during 1920; police reports for the year show. In addition, there were more than 10,000 unsuccessful attempts at suicide.

The tremendous increase is causing much worry, inasmuch as the previous figures were from 50 to 60 suicides yearly. The situation is attributed to the gradual deterioration in living conditions and the fact that the war had the effect of making human life much cheaper. Government, society and church circles, realizing the grave danger to the country, have begun a campaign against self-destruction. Sermons on the subject are being preached in all the churches and a special police force has been organized to keep strict watch and prevent suicides. In a number of cases where the police intervened in time the persons attempting suicide protested against what they termed the tyrannical oppression of the authorities.

Boy Lay In Snow With Hand Frozen

Two-Year-Old Victim Wandered from Home in Montreal West.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—While friends and relatives and the police of Montreal West were searching for two-year-old Victor Soucisse, whose parents reside at 196 Percival avenue, Montreal West, yesterday morning and afternoon, the boy lay in the snow not very far from home suffering from a frozen left hand. It was at 11:40 in the morning that Mrs. Soucisse reported to the police that her boy was missing, and that the men were instructed to keep a lookout for the lad. He had been playing in front of the house and had wandered away. When Mrs. Soucisse did not readily find the boy, she notified the police. It was 1:30 in the afternoon that Jea. Brown, a special constable employed by the corporation of Montreal West, discovered the boy lying in the snow at the top of Percival avenue, about fifteen minutes' walk from his home. Brown saw that the boy was crying, and as the lad could not tell where he lived, and as Brown did not know of the report, the boy was taken to the Montreal West police station, where Chief Mathewson noticed that the boy's left hand was badly frozen. Dr. H. Taylor and Dr. D. J. Patterson were called to the station and gave medical attention. Mrs. Soucisse went to the station and took the boy home.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 26.—"Rome tottered before its fall," declares the Brown Daily Herald, the student daily at Brown University, in an editorial which vigorously attacks the "toddle, the jazz—the camel walk." The article, written by one of the editors, appeared on the day of one of the smaller college dances and has aroused considerable discussion. The writer believes that the college man, supposedly the most cultured and the most reasonable member of society, is in a position to call the halt. By rule of the college, all dances held on the campus must stop at two o'clock.

KEMALISTS MUCH WEAKER THAN IS GENERAL REPORT

Anatolians Weary of the War—Bolsheviks Are Only Allies.

NATIVES INCLINED TO BE RESTIVE

Believed a Strong Leader Needed to Head Revolt Against Kemal.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT. (Copyright 1921, By Public Ledger.)

Constantinople, Jan. 26.—Most comprehensive first hand information to come from the interior of Nationalist Turkey, controlled by Mustafa Kemal, in weeks was given the Public Ledger foreign service today by George E. Burdick of Boston, travelling auditor for the Near East Relief Commission, who has just returned from a remarkable two and a half months' arduous tour through the forbidden land, which includes central and eastern Anatolia.

The week after he entered Turkey from Aleppo, the Kamalists closed the frontiers and since then it has been virtually impossible to enter or leave Nationalist territory, as the Turks regard all but the Russians as enemies and do not want the outside world to know what they are doing. Mr. Burdick throws much-needed light on the extent of Russian influence in Turkey, the military strength of the Kamalists and their present aims, and reports a growing anti-Nationalist sentiment among the Anatolians, due to war weariness, which has caused fighting and has led Mustafa Kemal to start an extraordinary tribunal to keep it down.

Bolsheviks Everywhere.

Mr. Burdick does not believe that Izet Pasha and his mission, who went to Angora a month ago to try to end the Bolsheviks' hold on Constantinople, as expected here, for he was informed from reliable Turkish sources that they had been won over to the Kamalists cause.

From the day he entered Nationalist territory he found the leaders and the army everywhere—even in small towns—Bolshevized, though he did not encounter agents of the Soviet Government until early in December at Sivas. From there to Samsum they were numerous. A battalion of Russian civilians arrived at Samsum on December 31, the day he sailed to Constantinople, and the Turks had just given an order to let all the Russian goods in without examination. Samsum itself is likely to be sovietized any day. Mr. Burdick saw no evidence of Russian supplies or troops in the interior of Turkey.

Russian Support Welcomed.

Though Russian support is greatly heartening to the Kamalists—as Izet Pasha's change of front indicates—still it is not likely to be of much immediate use, for the country is reached only by mountainous passes covered with snow, the roads are bad and there is no motor or rail transport from the Black sea ports, but only wagons and camels, which are very slow.

At the same time, Soviet aid is partly offset by the restiveness of the native population, who want peace at any price. They are short of food and fuel. Men of military age, including Greeks and Armenians, have been conscripted and the remainder are oppressively taxed, the salary tax, for instance.

ITCHING RASH ALL OVER BODY

Burned Dreadfully, Lost Rest. Cuticura Heals.

"I had an itching rash on my back and shoulders which was very irritating and distressing. It kept spreading all over my body and broke out into sore eruptions. They caused itching, and when I would rub or press them they burned dreadfully and I could not enjoy a night's rest. I had given up hope when I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and it was about four to six weeks before I was healed, after using eight cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment." Having been increased 500 per cent. since August.

"If the movement only gets a leader," said Mr. Burdick, "the Kamalists will be too busy holding their own to attack the Allies. Recent scattering revolts were suppressed and the new military tribunal is giving summary treatment to its opponents. Two Turks were hung by its order while Mr. Burdick was in Marsivan. Through such Turk leaders as Nohad Pasha, the general commanding the southern front, told Mr. Burdick they had been converted to communism, he believes it is a conversion simply for immediate political ends and that nationalism will not take root in Anatolian population which is largely peasant.

Bombay, British India, Jan. 26.—The stock exchange and bazaar market and cotton markets re-opened today. They were closed the previous day and a general religious strike was threatened because of the serious situation which arose over the killing of pigeons by European boys—pigeons being considered sacred by the natives—and disorders which followed this incident.

Police withdrew their charges against the prisoners, who were released.

A KING'S COUNCIL FOSTER GOOD IN MET

Making of Increased Revenue Diseases Retain Hampton Meeting Slight Increase for

Special to The Standard. Hampton, Jan. 26.—A trail from the fire started in the council yesterday, over the bill to reduce the assessment William B. of estate of the vicar during the council's session today when parish business was discussed. The council members were divided over the question of the assessment. Councillor Gilchrist voted against the assessment. Councillor McVey was equal to that he should not be on the board, and Ward should take his place.

Councillor Gilchrist's colleague with being unfair or less stubborn in his way of stating that Price had acted in his office had not increased the estate assessment out of proportion to other increased property values. Consideration should be given for the good of the kept in office.

There was considerable talk of the partisans of yesterday again airing their grievances. Mr. Price was declared elected. Councillor Gilchrist credited other victory.

The councillors today took their oaths and gave their votes. The following were elected for the various offices:

KING'S COUNCILLORS THINK FOSTER GOVERNMENT UNFAIR IN METHOD OF ITS TAXATION

Making of Increased Rates for Support of Hospital for Nervous Diseases Retroactive Condemned by Many at Hampton Meeting—Assessment on County Shows Slight Increase for Year.

Special to The Standard. Hampton, Jan. 26.—A trail of smoke from the past is being cleared up today when the municipal council, yesterday, over the resolution to reduce the assessment on the William B. Foster estate of Norton, was visited during the council's deliberations today when parish business was being discussed. The councillors of Norton, Gilchrist and McVey, are at odds over questions arising from the Foster estate discussion. They can't agree.

They could not agree on the parish officers today and were obliged to go before the council to have the deal broken. Their disagreement arose over the appointment of the third member of the Board of Assessors, Councillor Gilchrist was insistent on having A. Price on the board. Councillor McVey was equally insistent that he should not be on the board.

Councillor McVey, who was the champion for the Baxter heirs in their petition before the council on Monday, was frank in expressing the opinion that Mr. Price was the man causing all the trouble, that he should not be on the board, and W. H. Haggard should take his place.

Claims Colleague Unfair. Councillor Gilchrist charged his colleague with being unfair and more or less stubborn in his ways. He insisted that Price had acted fairly in his office, had not increased the Baxter estate assessment out of proportion to other increased assessments, property values considered, and should, for the good of the parish, be kept in office.

There was considerable discussion, the partisans of yesterday's dispute, again airing their views. After a vote had been taken by the council Mr. Price was declared elected, and Councillor Gilchrist credited with another victory.

The councilors today took the advice given them by the Warden yesterday and took plenty of time in the considerations of business. Much time was wasted and many delays caused by the freedom of action on the part of the council members.

Parish Officers. Parish business was the first order today. The following officers were elected for the various parishes: Cardwell.

Assessors—Kenneth McLeod, Heber Gifford, Patrick Mellon. Collector—Abraham Branscombe. Overseers of Poor—Herbert Morcy, Brungwick Tealies, Henry Breen.

Warden Gilliland feelingly replied, in a few well chosen words, to the compliment paid him by his associates and expressed his pleasure and enjoyment over the very hearty way the councillors had taken up their duties, and he thought the county had the best council of its history.

Auditor's Report. The auditor's report showed the books and accounts to be correct, with total receipts of $70,689.24, and expenditures of $41,567.96, leaving a balance of $29,121.28. The auditor's report was most gratifying, going into the minutest detail, clearly setting forth the placing of every penny of the people's money.

Raised One Salary. The auditor's salary was increased from $200 to $400. Ordered that the sum of $1,250 be assessed on Kings County in 1921 to pay for plumbing and heating performed at Municipal Home in 1921.

Report of special committee on Municipal Home and Emergency Hospital was read by Councillor McVey. It revealed the institution in first class condition. An electric lighting plant for the Home and Hospital was recommended, also fire escapes for the buildings.

Considerable time was taken up in discussing the needs of the Home and the Emergency Hospital. The latter is filling a want that was greatly needed and is proving a most successful venture for the county. It was the consensus of opinion that everything possible should be done, that is consistent with conditions existing, to further the equipment needed at the Hospital.

Vital Statistics. During the ten months ending October 31st, 1920, the reports of the various sub-deputy registrars of vital statistics are as follows: Mar. Births, marriages, Deaths.

Steel Workers Will Demand Wage Board

Fred Bancroft of Toronto to be Their Representative if Arbitration is Granted.

Sydney, N. S., Jan. 26.—Decision to reject the Dominion Steel Corporation's assertion that the recently announced twenty per cent. cut in wages of steel workers here is necessary and unavoidable, and to make a second demand on the federal government for the appointment of a board to hear the plea that the reduction be either cancelled or considerably modified, was reached at a recent secret conference of steel workers here, it is said.

Favor Fred Bancroft. Fred Bancroft of Toronto, formerly vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and now engaged in newspaper work, would be the choice of Sydney steel workers as their representative on any board which may be appointed to adjust the grievance, according to an announcement made last night.

Banquet Tendered Visitors. Last evening at the Royal Hotel all the visiting curlers were guests. C. H. Peters, president of the Commercial Club, was chairman for the occasion.

After an excellent menu had been served Chairman Peters proposed the toast to The King, which was responded to by singing the National Anthem.

Mr. Peters in a brief address extended a warm welcome to the visiting curlers, stating that the motto of the Commercial Club was to make St. John a better place to live in. He thought that by the assembling of curlers from different parts of the province the home curlers and the visitors became better acquainted and the Commercial Club's idea was in this way carried out.

Steve Matthews was then called on and delighted the assembly with a humorous address and a song.

F. W. Coombs proposed the toast to the Visitors, stating that all the St. John curlers were glad to meet their brothers from other New Brunswick clubs.

A. B. Copp, of Sackville, in responding heartily thanked the St. John curlers for the excellent entertainment provided, and thought that the bonspiel was an excellent way of

Clever Boxing And Wrestling Contests

Y.M.C.A. Boys Show Promising Talent in Preparation for Championship Meet.

A boxing and wrestling exhibition was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, and a large crowd was present for the occasion. The exhibition was held for the purpose of bringing out material for the coming city and provincial championship meet. All bouts were closely contested.

In the boxing contests, the first bout was between Joe McCarthy and Gordon Wilson. Both showed some very clever footwork. The next one was between Roderick Johnston and Ed McDonald in the fly-weight. These two showed the result of some careful training in the boxing class.

In the wrestling contests, Bill Howard, the 115 pound champion of New Brunswick, and Harold Taylor, met in the first bout. They demonstrated that they were clever masters of the wrestling science. The second contest was between Worden Grey and Earle Houston, and these boys proved themselves to be comers. The final one was a demonstration of holds and falls by Jack O'Heern and Maynard McLean.

Sports At The Y.M.C.I. "Gym"

At the Y. M. C. I. gymnasium last evening the Senior Girls' Basketball schedule was the feature attraction. Miss Reedy's team won from Miss Corkey's by the score of 8 to 3.

Miss McHale was victorious over Miss Molloy by a 10 to 5 score. In the handball match yesterday forenoon Duncan McCurdy put to cover Powell and Burns by the scores of 20 to 19 and 21 to 20.

"Bill Stuart" Had Narrow Escape

Toronto, Jan. 26.—"Bill" Stuart, the Amherst hockey player, now with St. Patrick's of this city, narrowly escaped being shot here Tuesday night when the police were firing at auto thieves on Queen street. He stepped onto the street crossing just as an auto, going sixty miles an hour, dashed by and almost simultaneously two shots rang out from the pursuing auto. To use Stuart's own expression he "stepped back two paces with considerable alacrity."

FIRST DRAW REPLAYED

having all the provincial curlers meeting one another. G. M. Wilson of the Hampton club, which he also thanked the St. John curlers for their courtesy and hoped that this bonspiel would be an annual affair.

Rev. G. M. Young, of Fredericton, responded to the toast on behalf of the Capital City club, in which he stated that the bonspiel was a most wonderful way in having all the provincial curlers meet together and he trusted that it would be continued.

Toast Souquet. A. B. Copp then took occasion to compliment the Commercial Club for their energy in assisting the bonspiel for he felt sure that the motto to make St. John a better place to live in could have no better results than to have the curlers from the different parts of the province assemble in the Capital City. He congratulated the St. John curlers and trusted that this bonspiel would be an annual one.

A. D. Gannon, of St. Stephen's Club, on behalf of the border city's curlers expressed thanks to St. John Club for their excellent entertainment.

Chatham Wins Over Fredericton

Most Spectacular, Clean, Hard Fought Hockey Game on Chatham Ice.

Special to The Standard. Chatham, Jan. 26.—Chatham evaded matters with Fredericton here this evening in what was considered one of the crucial games in the N. B. Hockey League and secured a firm hold on the coveted Chatham trophy, when the locals defeated the Capitals three to one in what was generally conceded to be the fastest, cleanest and most interesting and hardest fought games ever played in Eastern Canada.

There was a record attendance of spectators, a conservative estimate placing the number at 1,500. The game drew a great many patrons of the sport from the nearby towns of Logville, Newcastle and other places as well.

An exceptionally large number of townspeople who turned out in mass to cheer the locals to victory. From the time the opening gong sounded it was hockey, clean, fast and sportswomanly. The first period was so down on record as one scoreless and void of penalties. The game started with the teams working hard, but almost altogether in the visitors' territory. It was the effectiveness of Fredericton's goal tender, Biddleke, who was plainly shown. Once the rubber entered the goal on a rebound but was disallowed by the referee. The period ended 0-0.

The second period opened with everyone on the defensive while Chatham strained every effort to tally. McMahon, speedy little wing player succeeded in ringing up her 1, followed shortly after by a second by the return of Chat McLaughlin. Period ending 2-0 in favor of Chatham. There were three Fredericton penalties in this period.

The third period was the fastest of the game, both teams working hard. When Pat Spratt, the locals' fast centre, scored number three for Chatham the cheering was long and prolonged. Shortly after, while Veno was occupying the penalty bench, Fred McLean, the big drawing end on the Capitals team, made an end to end rush and succeeded in putting in the visitors' only tally. The period and game ending three to one. Two hand men were penalized in the third.

Burgess and Jewett starred for the visitors with Biddleke playing an exceptionally effective game. The Chatham team was greatly strengthened by the return of Chat McLaughlin who was noticeably the fastest team on the ice, with Currie, Veno and Carvell in goal, giving them splendid support.

Frank Brown of Moncton refereed in a most impartial and satisfactory manner, upholding the obvious reputation he has earned in this important position.

The lineup was: Fredericton Goal Biddleke Hillhead Point McLean Currie Jewett Covey Covey Colwell Right Wing Burgess Left Wing Lonsbury McLaughlin Galloway, Mills, Cripps. Fredericton spares Seers, Williams, Fleet and Jarvis.

In the game was played under a double protest. Fredericton protested on the grounds that Veno had two places of residence, having recently played with Moncton. Chatham claimed that Fred Veno had not yet been finally reinstated as an amateur.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Before this faddish scheme of vocational training obtains a stranglehold upon our civic finances, it may be well for those in charge of our revenues to look closely into what is going on and compare results to date with what we were promised by the promoters of the plan. Apart from helping to provide a provincial position for Mr. Fletcher Peacock, acquiescing in the desire of Mr. Fred Magee of Westmorland, and almost enabling the owners of the old Oddfellows Hall to unload that property on the City, it appears that we have done little besides provide entertainment, and some sort of instruction for the wives and daughters of professional men and wealthy merchants, and also, in many cases, for those professional men and wealthy merchants themselves.

We were told when this scheme was first proposed that there were hundreds, possibly thousands, of young men and women in this city who had been deprived of the opportunity of properly equipping themselves for their life's work, and who would be only too glad of the chance which a well equipped vocational school would afford. This is not the way it works out. Take the motor mechanics course, for instance; it is found that the persons whose occupation in life is the repair or sale of motor cars, or anything connected with the motor industry, put on their coats and make a "bee line" for home when the clock strikes six, that they spend their evenings going to the movies or with their friends, and that a steam roller could not drive them to the vocational schools. They get quite enough of that sort of thing in their daily work. Their places in those classes are filled by professional men and by their wives and daughters, who are thus at public expense receiving the education which a technical college would ordinarily provide at the expense of the students themselves. The cooking class is not attended by stenographers contemplating marriage, or by maids who desire to command higher wages, but by women in charge of their own homes—wealthy people, for the most part, who have ample time at their disposal. And what is true of the cooking class is true of the other domestic classes, including sewing, millinery, etc.

When a boy or girl is about to enter one of our public schools, a permit is demanded on application made by parent or guardian, and the conditions implied are that the child is in need of education. But although the City treasury is paying for the maintenance of the vocational schools, any one who so desires may appear at these classes and attend regularly without any conditions, without a permit, without the need of such education being shown. And indeed the vocational schools have lavishly advertised for a greater enrollment, glad to get anyone at all to fill up the classes.

When an applicant for the position of teacher in one of our public schools appears, all sorts of qualifications are required. There is a standard enforced by the Department of Education and rigidly adhered to, but practically anyone who so desires may claim to be a vocational teacher. The local director of Vocational Education in St. John was placed here so The Standard has been assured not only without the consent of the St. John Board which provides the money, but without that Board ever having been asked to consider this teacher's claims. And The Standard is also credibly informed that the Chairman of the Vocational Board has objected to this appointment, but has objected in vain. Yet we are asked to put up thousands of dollars to carry on. We want vocational training properly conducted as a part of our common school system, but we do not want the absurd pretense of a tenth rate technical school masquerading under the guise of a vocational system, failing to reach the people it should reach, and rapidly destroying whatever sentiment may have existed in favor of the proper system of this nature. Before the thing goes too far let it be carefully examined.

PILFERING AT THE DOCKS

"That the D. P. E. office should be equipped with detectives, and that the uniforms of their inspectors be remarked this morning by a police expert, in commenting on the pilfering of liquor and other goods at the West St. John docks. "Someone will be shot if the tactics continue," he concluded. Pilfering on board ship and in the sheds at Sand Point is practically out of hand. Bottle snatching and even the carrying off of cases of liquor is done quite openly. The Globe. The so-called "police expert" who made the foregoing statement thereby showed his utter inattentiveness to the position. Men who cannot cope with thieves without taking their lives, or otherwise injuring them, have no business on a police force. We do not want Spracklinism introduced in this part of the country; we are civilized down here. In the East End of London, where desperadoes from all parts of the world are to be found in greater numbers than in any other place in the Universe, the London police are not allowed revolvers, or any other protection than their batons, and yet they manage to keep order, and yet seldom get hurt themselves. We have no bandits in this country to equal the ruffians that is to be found around the London docks, but the police there do not allow the situation to get "out of hand." What a confession of weakness to come from a police expert that their job is too big for them!

"Some one will get shot if the tactics continue." Then the man who does the shooting should "swing" for it. Better, far better, that every bottle of flour in the sheds should be stolen, if there is no other way to prevent it, than that any man should lose his life for so trivial an offence. There is altogether too much disregard for the value of human life in some quarters in this country. Civilized peoples do not whip out a revolver at every little provocation they receive; this sort of thing is left for the barbarians in some of the Western States, and the Grassers of Mexico. The idea that the various laws may be enforced at the point of a gun, should be driven out of the minds of those who have the task of enforcing them; a gun may only be used in self defence, and then only in the last resource.

If thieving is going on at the docks, it should undoubtedly be stopped, and the thieves severely punished. If the situation is getting "out of hand," the remedy is to increase the police force; but the adoption of the Sinn Féin tactics advocated by the "police expert," will not do at any price.

THE "NON-POLITICAL" BOARD OF HEALTH

The Times declares, "It would be most unfortunate if partisan politics entered into the consideration of any thing relating to Public Health in any of the counties of the Province."

The Times is a constant source of delight, and the mixture of charming naivete and fearsome anxiety with which it makes this solemn declaration is not the least of its humors. It was most unfortunate when politics was injected into matters relating to the public health of this Province; when the Foster Government, desperate for funds and without policy, conceived the idea of making the municipalities pay the bills of a Provincial department. The whole Public Health Act as it stands today is the result of Dr. W. F. Roberts' insistence on a job for himself, and represents the last feeble effort of a party devoid of a policy to start something new. Even Mr. Venolt, with all his originality, has never attempted to make the municipalities pay for his so-called "durable roads." Nor does the Provincial Treasurer exact from each parish a portion of the amount necessary to provide salaries of his office staff. It is not on record that the Secretary for Agriculture has ever gone on a barn-storming tour through the various county councils to persuade them of the maintenance of the Department. The Department of Public Health stands alone in this respect. It has the unique position of being a political institution from start to finish, and consists very largely of an ingenious method of direct taxation for the purpose of bolstering up the faltering finances of the Foster Government.

THE DOG TAX

The imposition of the Dog Tax has caused a considerable amount of discussion in various County Councils at their recent annual meetings, and it does not appear to be at all popular with most of them. The contention is put forward in most instances that in each county there is a considerable balance in hand to the credit of the fund, so it is folly to go on adding to it. This argument is not without reason, in view of the fact that the money cannot be used for any other purpose. At the same time, it would be the height of folly to discard the tax at this time, for the immediate and only result would be an enormous increase in the number of mongrel curs which would be found roaming about the province. As long as a man is called upon to pay a tax for every dog he keeps or harbors, he is not going to keep a lot of worthless brutes around his place; but take the tax off, and he won't care. "The simplest way out of the difficulty would seem to be to keep the tax in force and put it into the general funds of the municipality, and let the municipality pay the sheep-bills. There is often a good deal of mandala sentiment expressed when any mention is made of taxing the poor man's dog; but the tax does more good than harm, and it is difficult to understand why any man should object to pay so small a sum as one dollar to be able to keep a dog that he values.

Apparently when asked to get down to brass tacks and state specifically just what reductions should be made in the proposed budget for the coming year, some little difficulty was experienced by those representatives who accepted the Council's invitation to discuss the matter. This is not altogether to be wondered at, for there are many reasons why individual citizens might prefer not to object to particular appropriations. The feeling, however, is none the less strong that expenditures as a whole are increasing at too great a rate, and that the Council should itself have courage enough to take an axe and chop off some of the excrescences growing upon the civic financial tree. The public services must of course be maintained in a reasonable state of efficiency; but any expenditure that is not absolutely necessary to maintain this, might well be left till some future time, when money is easier.

If it is altogether characteristic of St. John that at the first meeting arranged by Mayor Schofield for the presentation of views on the reduction of civic expenditures the principal speakers were a group of delegates asking a very largely increased grant for the Free Kindergarten Association. Now the Free Kindergarten is an excellent institution and has been most efficiently and most economically managed for a number of years by the group of ladies who have so earnestly devoted themselves to this work. But as a matter of fact St. John City has no more business to worry about the support of the Free Kindergarten than it has to provide long boots and playing cards for the P.M. Islanders. The Free Kindergarten and every other kindergarten with the exception of those established for the few should be under the control of the Board of School Trustees and form a part of our public school system.

The Telegraph says that "there is no cause to worry about the ability of the local government party to carry on." Nobody is worrying, dear friend; for all realize that the Foster Government is absolutely unable to carry on in any manner. It is not a minority in the House, and cannot carry on at all except by the grace of other parties. It will have to keep in the straight and narrow way, and even at that, it cannot get along without the support of either the opposition or the farmer group.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Electoral Ignorance.

After an election campaign in North Oxford, not many years ago, the story was told that several electors were induced to go to the polls to vote against the Fenians, and that one man travelling a mile to give a plumper against Oliver Cromwell. The story was probably exaggerated, though it may have had some foundation in fact. But in the British Isles there were country villages which went to the polls at the last election to vote for Gladstone, and where public meetings had never heard of Lloyd George. Vox populi vox Dei, etc.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Sir Sam on the League.

Sir Sam Hughes, one of the best known and probably one of the last of our Canadian belted knights, has been in London and stirring things up a bit there in accordance with his custom. He has been interviewed and has said something that is at least interesting. The most striking remark Sir Sam yet has made is that the League of Nations is practically a dead thing; that it will come to light within a period of three years; that it is a useless thing anyway and might as well be taken by an organization that is capable of performing real functions; that if it is based upon hypocrisy, inasmuch as when a man talks peace, "look out for him, he will wallop you on the first opportunity."—Western Paper.

Scepticism.

Senator Knox was recently compelled by financial affairs to visit a boom town in the West. In the evening, as he sat in the office of the corrugated iron hotel trying to digest a dinner of salt pork and beans, the landlord thrust a three-cent cigar into his hand and said, "I certainly am proud of Brockville. Would you believe it, sir, that two years ago there wasn't so town here at all!" "Humph," said Senator Knox, "and what makes you think there is one here now?"—Detroit Free Press.

Reducing His Library.

Maurice Hewlett has reduced his library to twelve tons, doubtless in an effort to have fewer and better books about him. This reminds us of the story told of an Australian miner who had made a fortune in the gold fields of that country. When our present King, then Duke of York, visited Australia, he was to be entertained at the millionaire's home, which had just been completed. Someone told the millionaire that no home was complete without a library, whereupon he sent down to Sydney and ordered tons of books. It was a new way of selecting books. Mr. Hewlett has adopted the same method of getting rid of his.—Farmers' Sun.

MORE ABOUT NAVIGATION AIDS IN BAY OF FUNDY

Department of Marine Answers First Criticism of Capt. Finlay—Master of the Fanad Head Comes Back and Points Out How Some Real Aid to Navigators Might be Provided.

The following correspondence between Mr. McLean Kennedy, Department of Marine, and Captain Finlay in regard to aids to navigation in Bay of Fundy, sheds further light on the interesting subject:—

What Department Says.

Ottawa, 30th December, 1920.
McLean Kennedy, Ltd.
Sirs,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st instant enclosing newspaper cutting, being letter signed by Capt. Finlay of the S. S. "Fanad Head," having reference to aids to navigation in the Bay of Fundy.

You will observe that the first part of Captain Finlay's letter deals with conditions at Partridge Island and elsewhere when he passed these stations one year ago. You will realize, I am sure, that no machine has yet been devised which is not subject to breakdown and repairs and it is quite out of the question to maintain duplicate apparatus at all light stations to provide against an occasional temporary interruption for repairs. The lighting apparatus at Partridge Island has a value of perhaps $20,000. The only means absolutely to provide against interruption would be to maintain a duplicate outfit and this is obviously unwarranted.

Admits Charge Justified.

With respect to the Larcher Lightship, unfortunate delay occurred as the result of being unable to complete repairs at Yarmouth. It seems that the Marine Railway there was inoperative owing to a deposit of mud and it was not until the 21st instant that the lightship was able to proceed to the point where it was to be examined.

Boys Won't Stay Put.

With respect to boys, your knowledge of conditions will satisfy you that it is quite impossible to maintain all boys in position at all times. For example, the Superintendent of the Lightship, reporting on these matters says: "We have always experienced great difficulty in maintaining these aids, more particularly the Blonde Rock and the Northwest ledge buoys. The Blonde Rock buoy is in 18 fathoms of water, with 75 to 90 fathoms of Admiralty test chain, but it generally breaks from its moorings three or four times a year. We have tried and will keep trying every available means to maintain these two buoys in their proper positions."

Other Aids.

I am enclosing a statement showing other aids to navigation in the neighborhood of places referred to by Captain Finlay. A reading of this statement must make it apparent that the Government is taking every reasonable means to make navigation safe. While one aid to navigation, for example, the Blonde Rock buoy, may be temporarily carried away by storm, there are other aids to navigation in the neighborhood by which masters of vessels may direct their courses. Pure navigation is not functioning, without advice to that effect is sent broadcast twice daily from the Barrington Radio station, so that masters of vessels may prepare themselves to rely upon other aids to navigation in the neighborhood.

Prisoner Alleged to Have Held up King Cafe Will Also Appear Before Circuit Court.

Three prisoners were sent up for trial before the next sitting of the Circuit Court in March by Magistrate Ritchie yesterday.

George Drew was sent for trial, charged with a very serious offense against Paul and Evelyn Northrup on December 23. No further evidence was taken as Drew disappeared with the reading of that already advised. When asked if he wished to make a statement he replied: "I have nothing to say at all."

Stomach Trouble
Due To Thin Blood

It Usually Disappears When the Blood is Made Rich and Red.

This blood is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble. It affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach is irritable and bilious. If your appetite is feeble, in this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles, and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. This is shown by an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood-enriching pills is evident throughout the whole system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are vigorous instead of irritable and bilious. If your appetite is feeble, if you have any of the distressing pains and symptoms of indigestion, you should at once take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In a condition in which they will put your blood.

Wifeless a Help.

I am pleased to note that wireless advice sent out from Barrington Radio Station, this is a recent innovation and one to be highly commended. I am not aware that a notice to Mariners has yet been issued advising of such messages. If this has not been done, it should be at once attended to, so that ship masters can instruct operators to listen in.

What Work Costs.

Five teachers and a supervisor were employed, the sum of $3,400 being expended in salaries. It was the aim of the association to have the kindergartens incorporated in the public schools and they could be taken over at any time.

Against Vocational Schools.

Mayor Schofield asked the attitude of the delegation with respect to vocational education and was informed they were in favor of such training, but not as it was conducted in St. John at present. They contended it should start with the kindergarten and go along as a part of the curriculum, paying particular attention to the boys and girls who left school at the present time between the fifth and eighth grades.

Real Estate Hurt.

The rising tax rate was hitting real estate hard and at the present moment is paying twenty-five per cent of the gross rental received from his property in taxes as against three per cent on personal property and income. This was one of the principal reasons why there was no building boom in the city and a halt should be called.

STOLE COUNTY FUNDS.

Marion, Ohio, Jan. 26.—Two bandits early today entered the office of the county treasurer in the court house here, knocked Treasurer S. E. Ferry unconscious with the butt end of a revolver and escaped in an auto with $14,000 in cash.

TO BE TROUBLED WITH Constipation

The Cause of Many Ills.

If you do not feel well and go to your family physician, one of the first things he will do is ask you to hold out your tongue. The reason for this is that the condition of the tongue shows the condition of the stomach and bowels.

REMBRANDT IS FOUND PAINTED ON OAK BOARD

Latest Portrait of Famous Artist Discovered in Remote Town of Harz Mountains.

COLORINGS BETRAY HAND OF MASTER

Dutch Master Depicts Aged Nobleman Using Wood in Place of Canvas.

Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger. Berlin, Jan. 25.—A hitherto unknown picture by Rembrandt, of beautiful coloring and design, recently was discovered in a remote little town of the Harz mountains by the Hamburg art expert, Ignaz Messler. The painting shows the portrait of an old nobleman clad in a dark brown dress over which a black fur lined coat is hung, a theme characteristic of Rembrandt. The luminous colors, the brush work and the light and shadow effect betray the masterful hand of the famous Dutch painter in one of the best of his earliest productions, even with out the signature which Rembrandt used to apply to his pictures during his stay in Leyden. All the characteristic features of his later paintings already can be traced in this work produced in 1620 or 1631. Germany's greatest authority on paintings, Geheime Rat, in a report, has given to this picture the seal of genuineness.

Used Oak Board. In the place of canvas Rembrandt uses an octagonal oak board about 20 inches high, inclosed by a white frame which, as the famous Dutch art expert, Ignaz Messler, has stated, was made according to the special design of Rembrandt himself.

This discovery is by no means the only recent one as quite a number of Rembrandts have been found, especially in the last year. About a year ago the famous "painting with the two bridges" as it is generally called, was discovered by chance in Amsterdam, followed shortly afterwards by the discovery of a beautiful portrait painting bearing the title of "Hercule and Democrite," was sold at Christie's in London for the low price of 4,800 guineas, later being identified as one of Rembrandt's masterpieces. This sudden overflow of discoveries, it is said, is due to the fact that the nouveaux riches are buying up old masters at random for their country homes. The desire to convert money into nontaxable property has also helped draw many paintings from their obscurity.

DELICIOUS RICE DISH

Rice is one of the staple ingredients of many dishes, and especially itself to the addition of new and strange methods of serving. Try this method of preparing it and see if the family enjoys it not. Wash half a pint of rice through several cold waters. Have ready a large kettle partly filled with rapidly boiling water. Sprinkle the rice slowly, in order not to stop the boiling. Boil rapidly in an uncovered vessel for 30 minutes. Drain the rice in a colander and pour through it quickly a quart of cold water; stand the colander in a plate and then at the oven door, where the heat will pass through the rice. Then make a sauce of two cups full of canned tomatoes, a few slices of onion, one green pepper, chopped fine, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and season with salt and pepper. Put these ingredients together in a pan on top of the stove, and when they come to a boil, thicken with a paste made of two tablespoons of flour and a little water. Stir in a few slices of nicely fried bacon and place these on top of the mound.

Every Year Is Leap Year In Assam

When a Girl Wants a Husband She Just Grabs One.

New York, Jan. 26.—Every year is a leap year among the Garo women in Assam, writes a missionary to the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society. "Among those who have not been Christianized the bride takes the initiative in marriage, she goes to fetch the bridegroom, and it is etiquette for him to hide and resist until victoriously carried off. Occasionally a man may get his wife by capture, but usually it is the woman who kidnaps him; that is to say, her male friends do it for her. One may still see such press gangs bringing home their spoil. "In the early days, the missionaries were inclined to rush to the rescue, thinking that violence was being committed, such is the noise made by the struggling youth. The reluctance and resistance, though, are seldom as real as they sound. If the youth dislikes the match, there is rarely any redress. "Women of means are allowed to choose a temporary husband and when tired of him, pay him off and take another."

WIG WAS SENT BY SPECIAL AEROPLANE

Sarah Bernhardt Needed it, So She Got It Regardless of Cost.

Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic. Paris, Jan. 25.—Sarah Bernhardt, who is planning eagerly for a tour in the United States, prides herself on "keeping up with the times." When her new play "Daniel" was ready for its premiere in Paris an unforeseen difficulty developed. The wig which Bernhardt had ordered from her English wig-maker and which she had to wear in the play, failed to arrive. Over the telephone in London it was learned that the wig was ready for shipment, but it was too late to catch the morning train to Paris; the daily London-Paris aeroplane also had gone. Bernhardt immediately ordered a special aeroplane to transport the wig. The wig cost $35; the special aeroplane cost $300.

FROM HERE AND THERE. A hundred child health stations, organized on the same basis as those now operated by the New York city chapter of the Red Cross, are to be established in Central and Eastern Europe this year by the American Red Cross.

Sarah Bernhardt is now appearing in a Paris music hall in "Le Vierge" and in a mediaeval setting, that she played once upon a time in America.

Miss Mary McGowan, well-known business woman of Akron, O., and further distinguished as the only woman member of the American Society of Bachelors, has announced her intention to become a candidate for mayor of her city. According to latest Paris news a woman may proudly brush her hair back, discard her earrings and again reveal the formerly banished ears, and with this type of coiffure the low Spanish comb is worn down under the hair at the nape of the neck.

Like most royalties nowadays, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands is an excellent linguist. As a girl she had to learn far more than the average young woman who is considered to be well educated. Besides the ordinary college course, she had to study statecraft, constitutional government, international law, the legal and moral relations of a sovereign to her people, and a variety of other subjects necessary for the ruler of a nation to know. In addition, she is an expert horse-woman, a keen swimmer, and a fairly accomplished musician, and has an intimate acquaintance with all the details of practical housework.

SHE WAS ALMOST A NERVOUS WRECK

Halifax Woman Says It's Wonderful How Tanlac Restored Her Health.

"Tanlac built me up wonderfully last March, and I have been in the best of health ever since," said Mrs. Hannah Mulloy, 161 Kaye street, Halifax. "I am convinced from my experience with it that it's the best medicine ever made for stomach trouble or for those who are run down and nervous. My health had been wrecked for two years and nothing helped me. I was almost a nervous wreck and got little rest either day or night. I had no appetite and the little I did eat did me more harm than good. I was going down hill every day, and just dreaded what the future held for me. I was miserable and worried all the time. "I can't begin to tell the blessing Tanlac was to me. Soon after I started taking it I was feeling like a different person, my nerves were normal again. It was simply wonderful. My advice to everybody who suffers like I did, is to lose no time in taking Tanlac. In my opinion no other medicine has a right to be compared with it. "Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross & Co., 150 Water Street, and by R. D. Wetmore, Perry's Point, N. B. under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

Still No Trace of Ship Asking Help

Vessel is Supposed to be the "Cannonier" But Wireless Has Been Disabled.

New York, Jan. 26.—Naval radio operators were trying tonight to contact the missing Lloyd Royal Belgic Line steamer Cannonier, after fragments of a message from the vessel, asking for help, were picked up here today. A message was flashed out informing the commanding officer that distress signals had been intercepted during the day, and requesting him to give his vessel's position or other information of value to rescuing ships. "Please arrange to send help," the Cannonier's message. Impossible to give position; have tried wireless without result. The message was signed "O. T. K."

Live In Tents To Beat The Landlords

Suggestion Made That Gov't Give Help to the Homeless Tenants of Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—As a means of meeting the rapidly of Montreal landlords, who are again this year past year's heavily increased figures, A. B. Ware, speaking before the Montreal Public Association, today proposed that the Dominion Government be asked to supply, through the municipal organizations, one wall tent or two tent tents, as might be necessary to meet the needs of the homeless, which could be erected on lots available.

Smallpox Will Not Block The Commons

Government Has Not Considered Yet Possibility of Postponing the Session.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Hon. E. L. Patenaude, former secretary of state, has made a frequent visitor to the capital recently and this has given rise to the report that he would re-enter the cabinet if it is understood that Mr. Patenaude has no intention of returning to political life at present. The government has never considered postponement nor unless a more serious situation arises than at present, it will not do so.

SEAGULLS

Chill fingers of autumnal rain. Play on the sands a dull refrain. And over restless, strivings seas. The gray gulls stoop and rise again.

Queen Summer's satellites have flown To sing before her Southern throne; O Little Brothers of the Storm, We keep our rendezvous alone!

I hear your bold, imperious cry, That challenges, and would defy; No liquid note of song-bird's throat Would match so well that cold, gray sky.

Greetings, O wild, adventurous crew! I scorn the Flower of Safety, too; O storm-brothers of the Storm, A storm-tossed soul salutes you!

Ontario Guards Women Workers

First Task of Minimum Wage Body Will be to Investigate Laundry Pay.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Regulations drafted by the minimum wage board of Ontario since its organization the last week of November have recently been adopted by the government and released for publication. The board's jurisdiction is confined to women workers only and the fixed principle guiding its decisions is the desire to see every worker paid at least a living wage. This principle is regarded for the individual worker only, irrespective of any variation in family responsibility. There are two exceptions among women workers and they are farm laborers and domestic servants. Guard Female Labor. The regulations require all employers of female labor to keep a complete record of the names of workers and wages paid, such records to be open at all times to inspection by agents of the board. Special permission may be granted for the payment of lower wages than the standard minimum in the case of handicapped workers, part-time workers, apprentices, etc. The first task of the board will be to investigate the wage rates for women in laundries.

Grandma Never Let Her Hair Get Gray

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

FOR THE TIRED BUSINESS PERSON

It is seldom that one leaves an office occupation "ravenously hungry." While denied the cool, sharp air and quickening exercise that leads to appetite, the office worker has done mental work and had nervous strain that require quantities of fuel or food. It is necessary, therefore, for the home manager for the office worker to serve foods in a very attractive way and to provide appetizing foods. The aroma and color of an individual broiled medium fat piece of ham is all the appetizer needed. Ham is an economy, as it saves the expense and service of a preceding appetizer. Tomato, either fresh or stewed, are the first choice of many with ham. Either spinach, cabbage or turnips make a happy combination with a ham dinner. Pineapple or date stuffed baked apple served with whipped evaporated milk, make a satisfying dessert to serve at the dinner where baked or broiled ham is served as the main course. With the less appetizing meats, a first course consisting of an individual serving of ripe olives, a crisp bit of celery, a couple of radishes and a slice of dry sausage will create the appetite necessary for full enjoyment and benefit of the meal.

SCHOONER'S TERRIBLE VOYAGE

Cordova, Alaska, Jan. 26.—The power schooner Olga 61 days out of Unalakleet on a voyage to Seattle, and which has been given up as lost, arrived here yesterday after a long battle with almost continuous gales in the North Pacific. Provisions gave out according to the members of the crew and for many days they were forced to subsist on dried fish. Pride went before a fall—so long before, in many instances, that envious people get weary waiting for the catastrophe.

I'm Happy and Well now for I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Thousands of women in this country have reason to speak as above. From every part of Canada women write Doctor Pierce at the Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., as do these: PHILPE, SASK.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured me when all other medicines failed. The home doctors could do nothing for me. I happened to see Dr. Pierce's advertisement in the paper, sent for the medicine, and felt great benefit from even the first few teaspoonfuls that I took. I took but a few bottles until I was well. I cannot speak too highly of its merits."—Mrs. JANET BROWN, R. R. 1. SHERBROOKE, ONT.—"I am only too glad to tell you what Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me. I doctored three months, and this doctor said I would have to have an operation, but thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine, I never felt better in my life than I have since taking the 'Prescription.' It surely is a woman's friend. I took the 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I was so weak and nervous I could scarcely do any work. That was eighteen years ago this summer, and I have never been troubled with the feminine troubles since."—Mrs. JOHN W. HEWITT, Stratford. MESOPOTAMIAN CHARGES GIVEN OFFICIAL DENIAL

British War Office Reply Clears up Situation Thoroughly.

NO MYSTERY ABOUT ROLLS ROYCE CARS

Rumor That Air and Chemical Experiments Being Carried on Without Foundation.

By CARL W. ACKERMAN. (Copyright 1921, By Public Ledger.) London, Jan. 26.—The British war office today officially denied the charges to the Public Ledger of December 27, in which it reported: "It is stated as a fact, although it cannot be substantiated or denied officially, that the British war office is using Mesopotamia as a secret base for extensive experiments with airplanes, aerial torpedoes and poison gas bombs in preparation for the coming war."

"The war office then adds the following replies to nine points of our article: "Second. The ritual activities in Mesopotamia have consisted hitherto in quelling the Arab rising and, secondly, in extracting rifles and fuses from the rebel Arabs. There has been no 'ritualism' in Mesopotamia as has been published in the press. These were issued daily at first when there was much to report, but have lately been issued weekly."

"Third and fourth. There are both French and American consuls in Mesopotamia, while an Italian consul is expected shortly. There are also American missionaries in the country. It is not understood what is meant by the term 'official observers.' The American military attaché at Cairo reported for permission to proceed to Mesopotamia to watch the conduct of the British campaign against the rebels. As, however, his request was made after the rising had broken out, it was not sanctioned. It is more probable, however, that the refusal spoken of by the Philadelphia Public Ledger is due to the impudence of this paper. About the middle of December the British office of the Philadelphia Public Ledger rang up the war office to ask for permission to send a correspondent to Mesopotamia. The war office refused. They were referred to the India office. Later in the day their representative came to the war office on the subject. He was informed that the war office had nothing to do with permits for civilians and was again referred to the India office. Later in December the India office was asked if a Mr. Oscar Street of the paper could have permission to go to Mesopotamia. The India office replied that they would wire Sir Percy Cox asking him if he had any objection. The wire was sent and, as no reply has yet been received, the request has not so far been granted."

"Fifth. This report affects the English representatives just as much as the American and is applicable to all applicants until such time as the question of the mandate has been finally settled."

"Sixth. There is no mystery about the Rolls Royce cars. In the late summer the War Office asked that they request their customers to let them postpone delivery of the first 100 chassis in order to allow them to be taken up by the War Office to replace those which had become unfit for use as a result of wear and tear. The Rolls Royce Co. were successful in making this arrangement, with the result that fifty chassis, which were required by Mesopotamia, have been sent there. The airplanes which were sent to Mesopotamia had nothing to do with the cars, and were sent out in the normal way to complete the establishment of units."

"Seventh. The charge that the War Office has been concentrating large numbers of staff officers, air experts and experts in chemical warfare in Mesopotamia is completely imaginary. A number of regular officers have been sent to Mesopotamia from time to time to replace temporary officers due to demobilization, and this fact may have given rise to the statement."

"Eighth. Anybody who knows anything about Mesopotamia would realize that its climatic and other conditions make it a most unsuitable country in every way for experiments with a view to a future great war."

"Ninth. The War Office has been sending very few officers to Mesopotamia lately. Those who have been sent have been regular officers to replace temporary and other officers coming home. No selection of experts has been made. It is not known to what orders Mr. Carl Ackerman refers, which he says have been issued to individual officers to proceed to Mesopotamia. Orders of this kind have been issued to certain staff officers but there are not not known to be any other cases. Perhaps the India office may have issued some such order."

Fears U. S. Near Nineveh's Fate

Noah Cooper, Sunday Crusader, Sees Nation in Ruins in 50 Yrs. Without Blas Laws

"If our nation does not enact strict Sunday observance laws our country will be in ruins in less than 50 years," is the opinion of Noah W. Cooper of Nashville, champion of the national Sunday blue laws and author of the Tennessee legislature, says a special despatch to the New York Herald.

"Brother Cooper, known as 'the reincarnated Hebrew prophet' by Tennessee newspapers, calls down the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah upon America unless the blue laws are passed."

"God says He will pour out His wrath upon the assembled legislature. 'We are getting into that class fast.' If we don't better quickly, we will get God's fury as Europe got it. The war that ruined Europe and burnt us was God's penalty for wickedness, of which general Sabbath breaking was plain proof."

"With God's help I hope to live to see our national Sabbath law passed to stop all Sunday trains, mail, traffic, newspapers and all interstate commerce. The times as such, law and paper is being used for Sunday news of murders, adulteries, crimes, sports and bargains as is being used for teaching our children in our Sunday schools God's eternal truth. There are three readers of Sunday newspapers to every Sunday school scholar in America."

"Would you stop Sunday trains?" he was asked.

"Yes, all of them, freight, passenger, excursion and cruises—they should all stop. It is God's command, so, to work on the Sabbath, God wants engineers and trainmen to have a Sabbath just as well as railroad presidents, directors, attorneys and bondholders. Allwino run on ride on Sunday trains are helping Satan to ruin millions of railroad men and their families and to bring God's curses upon our nation. They say our passenger trains have to run so we can go and see our mothers if they are dying. My mother wouldn't wait me to go on a Sunday train to see her."

"It is sweet to be with your loved ones in the hour of death, but salvation is just as certain whether we are there or not."

"I was raised on a farm. I worked hard six days in the week, often ploughing an hour before breakfast and stacking fodder in the moonlight. Sunday was the heaven to me. Every body rested, cleaned up, put on good clothes, went to Sunday school and meeting. Then we ate a good dinner and boys and girls often walked down the rose-covered paths and dreamed dreams. I had all the fun a boy could stand."

Like Jonah in Nineveh.

"If any sinner wants to hang me for my misdeeds blue laws, he will have to hang my old mother with me and also my wife, if she were here, but she is in heaven, safe. She left me under injunction to keep up this very work, and that I shall do as a godly patriotic duty."

"I am somewhat like Jonah in Nineveh crying out and warning the people that our country will soon be destroyed if we don't turn back to God and keep His commandments. Jonah had the satisfaction of seeing Nineveh repent in sackcloth and ashes. But frankly, I fear our country will not turn back within 40 years from now, as Nineveh did."

"Who is paying me to do this? God alone. I am looking to Him for recompense, and I know I will get good pay."

From a brother, $25 from a cousin and $5 from Fred Ray, a printer, all voluntarily given. I have out of my own funds paid all the expenses of the crusade so far.

"I get all manner of abusive letters from Sabbath breakers. The other day a New York man by letter abused me for preaching 'Sunday law' for money. He thought I was a Methodist preacher, preaching sensationalism just to get money. The fact is I have been a lawyer for nearly 30 years, and depend on my law practice now to make a living. I am giving a good part of my income to this work instead of getting anything out of it. But I am getting something—reputation money out of it, the sweet satisfaction of being a partner with God."

The people are for this Sunday law crusade. If voted for it would carry by a very large majority. At least it would, here in the South.

FRENCH SAID TO BE SEEKING RUSSIAN TRADE

Soviet Envoy's Stay in Berlin Believed for Conference with Business Representatives.

BOLSHEVISTS ARE BARRED FROM PARIS

Germany and France Without Official Recognition, but Wink at Trade Relations.

By S. B. CONGER. (Copyright 1921, By Public Ledger.) Berlin, Jan. 26.—Leonid Krassin, the Soviet representative who visited Berlin several days last week en route from London to Moscow, kept the purpose of his stay a profound secret and refused all interviews. He insisted he came here merely to say "Hello" to the Soviet representative, Victor Kopp but your correspondent hears that he made the detour to Berlin and delayed his return to Moscow for the purpose of meeting French industrial and business representatives here and to conduct negotiations for a trade agreement which cannot be staged in Paris owing to the government's official attitude toward bolshevism.

What, if any, results were attained by Krassin could not be learned. The German Government pursues much the same policy of discouraging official relations, while encouraging the Russians to open no trade possibilities to the Germans, but all reports thus far agree that the chief Russian investment has been in propaganda and in a certain amount of military stores for Krassin could not be learned. It is understood in sources close to Krassin that he is walking down his chances of finally pulling off an Anglo-Soviet trade agreement. His chief worry seems to be the looming importance of Professor Lomonosov, erstwhile Russian commercial representative in the United States and now in charge of commercial negotiations with Scandinavia and Germany. Lomonosov's star is rising rapidly in the Soviet sky and it is not out of the question, it is said, that he will be in the future with the negotiations with the British Government. Victor Kopp, who has charge of the Soviet interests in Berlin in the guise of commissioner for prisoner-of-war affairs, is also, it is reported, expected to return to the Soviet Union, and it is determined to place him with some one more capable of feeding the res of revolution here.

When the vacancy occurred it was assumed that the seat would go to Evans as a matter of course. He is one of the premier's private secretaries and a former member of parliament.

Thief Got Job So He Returned Plunder

Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 26.—F. D. Haas, railroad yardmaster, who was held up and robbed of $12 the other night, declares that he discovered an honest thief. He found the following note at his office: "I'm the fellow who robbed you. I was broke and out of a job and my wife and kids were going hungry. But I got a job here and as soon as I got a little money ahead I will return what I stole from you."

Chicago, Jan. 26.—A pleasant greeting? Threatened with death and a return trip to New York in a hearse if I don't let the ticket scalpers rob the people who want to go 'Mecca.' "I am told over the telephone," continued Mr. Gest, "My dear little Mr. Gest, remember you are in Chicago now, and not in New York. Unless you let us on us scalpers, you will go back to New York in a hearse!" and he rang off when I told him I wanted to see him.

SPECIALTIES ARE ONLY FEATURES IN WALL STREET

Dull and Listless Trading in All Lines—Steel Fails to Respond.

New York, Jan. 26.—Specialties continued to be favored by professional traders in today's dull stock market, scoring temporary advances, while former favorites were relegated to obscurity when not subjected to selling pressure.

United States Steel made virtually no response to the publication of its corporation's last quarterly report, and Chairman Gary's hopeful views, moving within fractional limits and closing at a slight loss.

Speculative interest once more centered in central asphalt, common and preferred, these issues adding substantially to their steady advance on reports that a deal is impending for the acquisition of the company's oil properties in South America.

Mexican Petroleum

Among the other firm to strong issues were Mexican Petroleum, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, Studabaker, International Paper and several of the tobacco, sugar and leather specialties. Maintenance of the seven per cent. rate for call money occasioned no surprise in view of the additional drain upon local bank resources, due to federal withdrawals. Quotations for funds and commercial paper also stiffened on the reduced demand.

Foreign Exchange

There were further noteworthy upward movements in foreign exchange, British rates rising to highest quotations since last July. Concurrent advances were made by French and Belgian remittances and Scandinavian currencies more than any striking exceptions to the general advance, which included a reduction of the Canadian dollar in this market. Canadian discounts closed at 8 1/2 per cent.

The bond market was less active and more contracted than at any recent period, the irregular movement affecting liberty issues and local tradings more than any other part of the list. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,350,000. Old United States two's and four's were up 1/2 per cent. on call.

WORLD'S PORTS

Freight And Charter Market

New York, Jan. 26—No Canadian tonnage was included in today's closing of the charter market. More tonnage is engaged in the transport of grain from the United States to the United Kingdom and continent than is employed by all the other full cargo commodities. From the North Atlantic range great quantities have been going overseas, the rating ocean rate being seven shillings a quarter. Practically the same condition prevails in the Northwest through Pacific coast ports, the rate having recently been cut from $15 to $16 a ton to the United Kingdom.

Foreign tonnage is mainly employed in the North Atlantic grain movement, as the canal is for foreign government account. The larger part of the shipments are for Mediterranean ports, while shipments from the North Pacific are consigned to the United Kingdom, and although foreign tonnage is getting more of the business, the Shipping Board has lately entered into competition, with the result that considerable American tonnage is now employed.

Another drop in Shipping Board rates, which is expected to provide a large volume of return cargo for vessels operating in the liner service between North Pacific ports and the Orient is made in the announcement of $10 a ton of 40 cubic feet on gunnies and burlap from Calcutta, India, to the west coast ports. The drop of $2.50 from the latest Shipping Board rate is held by shippers to be sufficient to meet and enable liners entering Columbia river section to procure some of the business. The rate on gunnies and burlap last year fluctuated between the limits of $23 as the highest and $19.50 as the lowest quotation made.

With the dropping of the Pacific Europe charter prices for Shipping Board vessels from $30 to $15, $16 and finally to $15, the competition with foreign bottoms is being met and things are looking up in this trade. The Shipping Board, however, will not state whether or not the new low price of $15 will be maintained. An announcement issued from the board at the time of the charter of the Nile at a $15 price was to the effect that the ship could not be operated at such a figure if profits are to be made. It was said, however, that the charterers a few days previously at $14 would be adjusted to the new price.

In the steamer market yesterday there was an order for a boat for 5,000 tons of coal for Buenos Ayres at $3.50, early February loading. A report that a better price had been offered for a spot boat to move 4,000 tons. Antwerp-Rotterdam and French Atlantic coal orders continued scarce, quotations on inquiries in these trades being respectively $4.25 and $4.75.

Newfoundland Ship Huge Mass of Ice

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 26—Coated from stem to stern with ice, the two-masted Newfoundland schooner Earl Grey, 285 tons, registered, came up the harbor today under foremast and jib from Gloucester. The schooner made the 300 mile run in a gale from Cape Ann, Mass., to St. John, N. B., in 48 hours, which is considered very good under such conditions for a vessel of her type and size. The vessel averaged ten knots on the trip.

Her mainmast was fouled soon after leaving Gloucester and when the gale abated somewhat could not be hoisted, as it was frozen fast. Off the Nova Scotia coast the schooner's jumbo halyard parted. With her drawing canvas thus reduced to a minimum, she still managed to cut a merry clip to port. Her crew spent the day here chopping ice from the decks, topides and shrouds.

Building operations in New Brunswick, according to a Fredericton dispatch, are expected to go on with vigor as soon as spring asserts itself. The cost of construction materials, which has been all but prohibitive for some time, is declining. The case is like that of the merchants and their stocks. When prices could not be cut at high cost figures, a reduction brought them in, in fair numbers. The change will have to come in other provinces than New Brunswick also before trade gets into its old stride. Montreal Gazette.

"Earl Grey" Had Bitter Experiences on Voyage from Gloucester to Halifax

Three-masted schooner Stewart T. Selzer, Williger, from New York to Annapolis with coal, went ashore at Fletcher's Island, Long Island Sound, on Friday night. She was towed off and tugged to New London, Conn. It was found that the vessel was undamaged and she has proceeded to her destination.

"Oh, yes," said the proud mother. "Our Harold was the Croix de Guerre during the war."
"Oh, absurd!" murmured Harold, under his breath, but the trouble had been done.
"O-oo!" purred one old girl.
"How wonderful! How brave!" echoed another, and they all—about nine fussy old friends of his mother—crowded round him.
"Oh, do tell us how you won it!" they all chimed in beautiful chorus, as musical as the sound of rain-drops on the bedroom window on a summer Sunday morning.
"Oh, it's nothing!" answered Harold, but they persisted in their inquiries. "Well," he said, "if you must know, I got it for letting a French officer kiss me!"

PIERROT WAS MY FIRST LOVE.
Mary Carolyn Davies
Pierrot was my first love.
That due to him belongs
He stood beneath my window
And sang old songs.
All the songs of battles
Of knights that ride;
Songs about that love for which
Once men died.
Pierrot called me softly,
Beneath the hedge,
"Come with me," he whispered,
"To the world's edge!"
"To the edge of the blue world
And the end of the sea!"
So, while all the house slept,
He spoke to me.
The moon was his comrade,
The night his friend,
"Come, my dear," he whispered,
"To the earth's end."
The stars were his servants
And his house the roof.
His words were a spur to me,
A lure, a goad.
Pierrot was my first love!
Moonlight on his hair!
Oh, his eyes of laughter!
Oh, his gallant air!
But you should not be jealous,
Nor yet frown so;
I'll tell you, love, a secret
If you bend low!
Whether he came at eighteen
Or at twenty one,
Pierrot was the first love
And hand and foot wear
Of every girl alive!
Had Experience Probably.
Yeast—"Did you say that bean for your wife?" Crimmonbeak—"I did." Yeast—"Well, believe me, it makes her look fierce." Crimmonbeak—"Well, take it from me, she would have looked a good deal fiercer if I hadn't."—Yonkers Statesman.

Vocational Grant Economy for the Time Was Keynote of Opinions Expressed by Electors.

The casting out of the grant for vocational training altogether, the charging of the maintenance of sewers and fire hydrants to water revenue and the clipping of the appropriation of the commissioner of public safety by $12,000 were some of the things advocated at the conference yesterday afternoon held at City Hall between the council and a delegation of citizens.

Those present were Mrs. F. E. Holman, Miss Alice Estey, G. E. Barbour, William Vassie, E. J. Fleetwood, A. O. Skinner, A. Neil McLean, R. A. Macaulay, H. R. McLellan, A. P. Paterson, G. M. Ross, LeB. Wilson, Parker Hamm, A. E. Everett and U. Waring.

The first speaker was A. Neil McLean, president of the Retail Merchants' Association. He said they had come to discuss with the council the matter of keeping down the tax rate during this period of reconstruction and it was felt the city in common with all other business concerns should, if possible, keep within last year's expenditure and valuation.

R. A. Macaulay said there were many calls on the city funds for objects all very well in themselves, but it had to be remembered the purse had not an unlimited bottom.

G. E. Barbour speaking on behalf of the wholesale merchants, expressed his confidence in the "captain and crew" of the civic ship.

H. R. McLellan, who spoke for the Commercial Club, complimented the mayor and commissioners on their stand in asking the citizens to come and express their views on the budget and expressed the belief that it would tend to produce a feeling of confidence in the taxpayers on their judgment.

Delegates to Social Service Council Lead Fight Against Bishop Sweeney's Report.

London, Ont., Jan. 26.—Delegates from various units, notably the Anglican Church and the Women's Christian Temperance Union attending the Social Service Council of Canada convention here today were unable to see eye to eye on experiments in supervised dancing, recommended for adoption in the report on social hygiene presented by Bishop Sweeney, of Toronto.

"We cannot hold ourselves aloof from this most important and vital problem," said the report. "Dancing should be made a part of the programme, including other forms of recreation and entertainment."

Delegates from Toronto Women's Christian Temperance Union, under the leadership of Mrs. Stevens, assailed the bishop's suggestion, declaring that from the earliest days of history, dancing had been tried and that it has always contributed to social problems that have been a worry to moral reformers.
