MRS. J. W. COOKE WINS $50.00 EXTRA CASH PRIZE—RACE CLOSE AMONG MANY CANDIDATES

Mr. Ray Sullivan, Miss Belle Buchanan, Mrs. Chester Fairley, Mrs. N. S. Fells, Mrs. Arnold McCurdy and Miss Kathleen Killam all win special cash prizes and many more candidates do splendid work during this special offer.

It was announced in The Graphic two weeks ago that seven extra cash prizes, totalling $140 would be given to the candidates who turned in the most cash on subscriptions during last week and the week previous, that is between the dates of June 19th and July 2nd. As a result of these special cash offers a splendid amount of business was done by the candidates and hundreds of new subscribers were added to The Graphic's already large list and millions of votes were issued to popular candidates in the big automobile prize contest.

After a careful checking and re-checking of the contest records it was found that Mrs. J. W. Cooke of Dalhousie turned in the greatest amount of cash during the offer and she is declared winner of the special extra prize, amounting to $50.00 in cash. This popular lady is deserving of special mention on winning such an excellent extra prize and it speaks well for the esteem in which she is held by her friends who helped her win this prize. She has made up her mind that she is going to be the winner of one of The Graphic's best prizes and she is out in real earnest this week after the $100 extra cash prize which was announced last Tuesday morning and which will be given to the candidate who turns in the most cash on subscriptions during this week and next week.

In the same district Mrs. N. S. Fells of Bannymore, Que., wins the next largest cash prize, amounting to $25.00 in cash and Miss Kathleen Killam of Bellefleur River follows close winning the third extra cash prize in her district.

In District No. 1 Mr. Ray Sullivan wins the first extra cash prize, amounting to $25.00 in cash. Miss Belle Buchanan wins the second extra cash prize, amounting to $15.00 in cash prizes, and Mrs. Chester Fairley wins the third extra cash prize.

All the candidates who won special cash prizes are to be congratulated on their splendid work. Candidates who did not number among the special cash prize winners. They have congratulated on the excellent work which they have done during the special cash prize offers. They have added to their vote totals which all counts towards winning one of The Graphic's big prizes. Every candidate is out this week in real earnest to win the $100 special cash prize which will be given for the best work done during this week and next week.

This $100 extra cash prize is a most exceptional offer and the candidate who wins it will prove to his or her friends that they are out in real earnest to win one of The Graphic's big prizes. Show your friends that you are in real earnest and out to win this $100 extra cash prize. Make that mighty effort now.

The race among many of the candidates for the extra cash prizes last week was exceptionally close, there being a number of them competing in both districts. Those who were not among the extra prize winners will be sorely disappointed for they have made a mighty effort.

which side materialize in the winning of the big $100 automobile and the rest of the valuable prizes which will be given to the candidate who turns in the most cash on July 29th and 30th. Only three more weeks and the contest will be over. The special purpose of Capt. Bartlett's coming expedition to the Arctic Sea will be to measure its flow and currents and dredge its bottom.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED TO-DAY

Mr. John F. MacKenzie, C. E. and Miss Greta M. Metzler the Principals.

A wedding of more than local interest was solemnized in Wesley Methodist Church at five o'clock this afternoon, when Greta Mildred, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald MacKenzie of Campbellton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fraser MacKenzie, of Inverness-shire Scotland. The church was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion by friends of the bride. The Rev. F. E. Boothroyd was the officiating clergyman. The full choir of the church was present and before the ceremony sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" and during the signing of the register "O Perfect Love." Miss Ruth Wylie of Moncton, a college friend of the bride, presided at the organ. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty summer gown of white tulle and a pretty picture hat of white crepe de chene and silver lace. Silver slippers added to the charming costume. She carried a lovely bouquet of Ophelia roses and fern. The bride and groom were unattended. The ushers were Albert and Hester Metzler, brothers of the bride. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, with only relatives and intimate friends invited. Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie are leaving on this evening's train for Muskoka Lakes where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride's travelling suit is of dark brown point with will be becoming small hat of brown tulle. Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie have a host of friends who will join in wishing them every happiness in the future. The bride was the recipient of a great array of gifts, among which were two handsome chairs from the Official Board and other friends of Wesley Methodist Church of which she has been the efficient organist for a number of years and a chest of silver from the Engineering and Maintenance staffs of the C. N. R., of which the groom is a valued member.

SEVEN ARRESTED IN FOREST FIRE CASES

Will Appear Here To-morrow On Charges Preferred Under Criminal Code

As a result of investigations being conducted by L. A. Gagnon, Chief Game Warden of the Department of Lands and Mines, in connection with the forest fires which occurred in the northern part of the province in June, seven men from different points along the Intercolonial branch of the C. N. R. Railways between here and St. Leonard's have been arrested and brought here for trial on charges preferred under the criminal code in connection with setting fires.

Six of these offenders were arrested and brought here Tuesday by Constables Ross and Smith and appeared before Judge Matteson yesterday morning. These cases remained until Friday. Three of the six defendants were allowed bail while the other three are being detained in the county jail at Dalhousie.

NEAR TRAGEDY IN RAILWAY YARD

LeGouffe, Call Boy at Depot, Lost Foot In Accident Saturday Morning.

Evergette LeGouffe, aged fifteen years, employed as a call boy at the C. N. R. yard office here narrowly escaped fatal injuries while on duty at an early hour Saturday morning. He was on his way to the rest house to call some train men and it is presumed that he crawled under a freight train in getting across the tracks.

Any particulars as to the way the accident occurred, however, are lacking as young LeGouffe declares himself that he does not know what happened. When found, however, the unfortunate chap was growing weak from shock and loss of blood for his left foot and hand were badly mangled. He was rushed to the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the foot. The little chap's hand has so far been saved and it is expected that the injured member will recover. Much sympathy is expressed for the unfortunate young fellow and his family.

INDIAN SITUATION BECOMING NORMAL

Non-Co-operative Movement Passes—Strife and Ill-Feeling Disappear.

Montreal, July 4—Conditions in India are gradually returning to normal. There is very little strife and ill-feeling, and the non-co-operative movement inaugurated there by Gandhi is passing. This is the opinion of Professor M. R. Shirazi, of Kaschi, India, who arrived here this morning from Boston. He has been spending a vacation in the United States and is now on his way back to India. He will sail from here on the sixth. "The country has immense possibilities if it sticks to the British colors," he said. "All the progress that India has ever made can be marked up to the British Government. It all depends whether India wants to go along on the old psychology or the new. It can get nowhere without the British." He will give an address before the members of the Y.M.C.A. at the Central Hall, to-morrow evening. "India With Its Possibilities," will be his subject. The Professor believes in co-operation among nations, and hopes that prevailing misunderstandings will thus be removed.

CROP OUTLOOK GOOD IN WEST

Rains of Past Week Greatly Benefit Grain Crops There.

Winnipeg, Man., July 4—With ample moisture and no excessive heat the crops throughout the prairie provinces are in excellent condition and making rapid progress, states the weekly crop report issued by the agricultural department of Canadian Pacific Railway here yesterday. Wheat is in short blade except late sown grain, which will require another few days, oats and barley are uniformly good crops, grass is abundant and the hay yield will be heavy. Rains were fairly widespread over the provinces during the month.

YOUNG MAN SENT TO JAIL FOR TEN DAYS

Operated Motor Vehicle While Under Influence of Liquor.

Fredericton, July 3—A sentence of ten days in jail was imposed this morning by Police Magistrate Limerick, when a young man who had been arrested on Saturday evening pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The defendant spent the week-end holiday in the cells at the police station.

PRINCE NOT TO COME THIS YEAR

Responsibilities Resting On Him at Home Precludes Visit.

Toronto, July 4—The Prince of Wales will not visit Canada this year. J. S. MacKinnon, director of the Canadian exhibits at the British Empire Exposition, has received word from London that while a visit to the Dominion this year in the interests of the exposition had a one time been contemplated, the responsibilities resting on the Prince as chairman of the general committee of the exposition has precluded his leaving on such a mission.

VETERAN OF FIVE POLAR VOYAGES

Capt. R. A. Bartlett Planning Another Expedition to Far North.

Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who is planning another expedition to the Far North, is a veteran of five polar expeditions and one of the best known figures in the small circle of Arctic explorers. He was with Peary in his famous thrust for the North Pole, though not going to the goal with his superior officer. In 1913 he was employed by the Canadian Government in his Arctic expedition. His ship was crushed, he found his way to Siberia, and finally to Wrangell Island and back to Nome, Alaska. He is the holder of the Hubbard Gold Medal conferred by the National Geographic Society, and of several other medals given by European societies in recognition of his ability as an explorer. He is intrinsically a discoverer, and his work in his labors, where ever and whenever he entered upon them. The special purpose of Capt. Bartlett's coming expedition to the Arctic Sea will be to measure its flow and currents and dredge its bottom.

THE ROADS
Premier Veniot's visit to St. Andrews included an inspection of the road from St. John to the border, and Hon. Mr. Veniot well says that the fact that this road is now in fine condition should be well advertised, so important is it in connection with tourist travel which this province desires to encourage, and, indeed, is actively encouraging.

Although the patrol system was introduced only a few weeks ago, it is being rapidly extended, and the results should give great satisfaction not only to motor car owners and tourists but to the residents along the main roads which are brought under this system of speedy repair and upkeep. Already, Mr. Veniot says, more than half of the main roads are now being systematically patrolled, and the plan is producing admirable results in keeping the chief highways in excellent condition.

This work was decided upon before the province experienced heavy losses from freshets and from forest fires, and yet it is, and always should be, a work of real economy. Particularly in the spring and in the autumn a stitch in time saves nine on the roads, and the patrol force will prevent heavy expenditures which would otherwise be necessary, as well as adding to the comfort and convenience of those who make use of the roads.

It is a sound policy to take good care of the roads which have been built up to a much better degree than ever before in the province. This is a big problem considering the immense mileage with which the government has

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP MONUMENT

Second Attempt to Wreck Monument Erected to Soldiers.

Montreal, July 4.—Early yesterday the residents of the village of St. Hilaire were roused from their beds by the sound of a violent explosion when it was found that an attempt had been made to blow up the Colonel Gault monument in that village erected to the memory of St. Hilaire men who fell in the war. The sides of the horse trough and drinking fountain at the base of the monument were broken, together with three windows of the church and 27 windows in a general store. A man of suspicious appearance was seen loitering around the village prior to the explosion and he is believed to have been the tool of a gang which damaged the monument a year ago. No arrests have as yet been made.

to deal, and there is every reason to think that a full season's experience of the patrol plan will give general satisfaction. More attention, however, might be given the roads in the northern part of the province, and particularly in the northern part of Restigouche County.

EXHIBITION OF OLD TRIBAL DANCES

Magnificent Pageant Presented After Opening of Banff-Windermere Road.

Field, B. C., July 4.—Following the opening of Banff-Windermere Road, five tribes of Kootenay Indians assembled at Lake Windermere, B. C., from points as far south as Kalispel, Montana, have entertained the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and large numbers of tourists from Canada and the United States to a magnificent pageant of costumes and dances, followed by a stampee. The celebrations have centered round a semi-circular tepee camp and the David Thompson memorial fort erected last summer at Lake Windermere Camp. The Lieutenant Governor replied in the Kootenay language to the welcome of the great chiefs, and was escorted in imposing ceremony by a glittering cavalcade of braves richly costumed in the beaded blues and vermilion favored by these highly cultured Indians to the beautiful home of Randolph Bruce, old time pioneer, who acted as host to the official party. The ceremonials and exhibition of old tribal dances surpassed in splendor anything of the kind hitherto seen in the Pacific slope and stirred the admiration of spectators, who were particularly impressed by the fine bearing and discipline of these mountain tribesmen during the days of celebration. His Honor the Lieutenant Governor was so much impressed that he added substantially to the prize money for the stampee, leaving allocation of this to the discretion of the chiefs in recognition of their evident regard for the welfare of their tribes. The stampee was particularly interesting, owing to skilled horsemanship of Kootenay Indians, who are particularly interested in improving the breed of native ponies. A strong movement has been initiated to ensure that the genius for pageantry displayed by the Kootenays should not be confined only to sporadic occasions, but should be encouraged by all celebrations, and with this movement the Lieutenant Governor has expressed himself as in entire sympathy.

A newspaper may boom a town through its official and news columns, but a critical investor takes his cue from the advertising columns for substantial evidence as to the thriving and prosperity of the place. C.A.A.C. MET LAST NIGHT

Many Prominent Citizens Present—Field Question in Case Before Town Council

A meeting of the citizens of the recently organized amateur athletic club and those interested in the movement was held in the Cutting Room last night at 8:30 o'clock; the President, James F. Jarvis presiding. A fairly large and representative gathering attended and although not much actual business was transacted, the time was well spent for many important matters in connection with the work of organization were discussed at length.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The Constitution and By-laws as drawn up at last week's meeting were also read and approved of by the meeting.

Mr. O. J. Smith then advanced a suggestion regarding the members of the club. He believed that there were several men in town who, although past athletic age, still cherished many happy recollections of their sporting days and would be glad of any opportunity to assist in making the present athletic undertaking a success. Referring to his experience in sport matters in England, he suggested that such prospective supporters be given an opportunity of becoming life members on contributing a certain amount towards financing the sport project.

This idea met with all round approval. Rev. W. W. McNair spoke at some length on the subject and suggested that some provision for this be made in the By-laws. A motion was made, placing the donation of such life members at $50 and on being put to the meeting was unanimously carried.

The president, being one of a committee appointed to interview the town council in order to ascertain just what assistance they could expect from them regarding the field matter, reported that so far they had not been able to interrogate the council board as there had been no meeting of the council since they had received their commission. His Worship Mayor McKay was present, however, and the president called on him for his opinion in the matter.

His Worship stated that he thought the best course to adopt would be to fix up the town property on the old I. N. R. depot site. He declared that he had been over the ground and thought the site large enough to make both a park and an athletic field and added that the appropriation of $400 made by the council for this purpose, should be sufficient to level off the entire field. He further stated that he believed the matter of providing a proper athletic field was something the town should take up with enthusiasm. He declared himself heartily in sympathy with the athletic movement and promised all the support he could give.

Many other points in connection with the field problem were also discussed and it was finally brought out that the property above mentioned was, so far as anyone knew, the only available site at present. The matter was finally left in Mayor McKay's hands to be brought before the council at their first meeting.

The different committee reports were then asked for, but owing to the brief time since the previous meeting nothing of importance was submitted. The Chairman of the Membership Committee however reported as follows: progress made in soliciting members. He explained that suitable membership receipt books had been printed and canvassers were now at work. Some fifty members had been enrolled yesterday afternoon but this was considered merely a start. The Membership Committee felt, judging from the opinion of citizens generally that the ultimate enrollment would total nearly a thousand members.

Several other matters were brought up but no definite move was made regarding their disposal as it was considered best to leave the minor details of organization over until some definite decision was arrived at regarding the field matter.

The meeting adjourned to be called as soon as a report was received from the town council stating their plans for the proposed park and athletic grounds.

Although the activities of the athletic association are temporarily de-

PRIMITIVE "HAZERS."

Indians Did What Small Boys Love to Do.

The business of being "a soaring human boy," as Mr. Bitgins or some body expressed it, seems to be much more complicated than had hitherto been supposed. Canon Lyttleton, headmaster of Eaton, has informed the English public that a large proportion of boys between fourteen and seventeen years are "a little mad."

Well, judging by some of the boys we know the canon's conclusion may not be wide of the mark. He was defending the English public schools when we call preparatory schools—from the imputation of being hotbeds of hazing, or "ragging," as they call it over there.

A boy at the famous "Blue Coat" school had committed suicide after being obliged by his school-fellows for poor playing at a football game. Which recalls the fact that when Shelley was a schoolboy the other boys led him a dog's life and a "Shelley hunt" was esteemed great sport.

The difficulty experienced by the United States Government in abolishing hazing at West Point and Annapolis seem to show that the "ragging" instinct has it roots pretty deep in the nature of the "soaring human boy," even when he is approaching years of discretion.

Some savant launched the doctrine that the young human animal on its journey from babyhood to maturity passes through every successive stage of development as experienced by the human race from its infancy to the present time. And on that principle the schoolboy passion for hazing might be taken as proof that he had reached the Red Indian stage of evolution.

For the Indians, like all primitive races had a painful system of hazing, the purpose of which was to test the vigor, courage and endurance of the would-be warrior, chief or medicine man.

In other words, the hazing of the Indians was a system of initiation, based upon an idea that is probably as old as humanity itself. Civilization, which cannot tolerate brutality—this is, Christian civilization can't—has suppressed the primitive rigors of initiation leaving only the empty shell in the thumbs, threats and rough house horse-play of lodge rituals.

But a suppressed instinct snarls up the unconscious, according to the psychoanalysts and it would be interesting to have the Freudians and Jungles tell us whether the school boys of to-day, compelled to suppress their Red Indian inclinations, are not suffering from a consequent bunch of complexes leading to the following results, as described by Canon Lyttleton:

"Weird fancies, always egotistic suspiciousness, moroseness, solitariness, all these are common, but they present most divers appearances to the observer. Among the rougher boys arson is not infrequently and kleptomania is fairly rampant with all classes."

The "corporate life of a school" and the "healthy claims of athletics" are extolled by Dr. Lyttleton as antidotes for these aberrations of boyhood, and he thinks the housemasters of the big schools lack public appreciation for the burden they lift from the shoulders of the "insouciant parents."

Among the initiatory rites practiced by the Indians on a would-be chief was that of tying him in a hammock after he had been well thrashed several times without uttering a complaint and peppering him with venomous ants. A further hazing stunt was to light a fire beneath him. A Sioux who aspired to be a medicine man was bound to the earth with cords passing through holes pierced in his genital muscles and with bow and arrow poised in his hands lay all day gazing at the sun. And it may be such tribal memories as these, stirring the blood of Britches and American school and college boys, that make them feel like taking the "smoke" out of the leopards among them.

Mrs. Margaret Bredon Hamm, whose wedding to Sir Henry Sharp, Secretary to the Government of Canada, took place in London, England, recently, was born in the village of Oshawa, near Kingston, Ont. Her husband, the late George Hamm, was a general merchant in that village.

Two years ago Mr. Hamm was killed in a motor accident. His children were educated in Kingston, his son, Harry Hamm, now an English student, having attended the Royal Military College there.

Lady Sharp's daughter, who is the wife of the American Consul-General in Bermuda.

MARQUIS WHEAT AND ITS GROWER

What Dr. William Saunders and Sons Have Done For Canada.

Man has learned to do some remarkable things with organic life, both animal and vegetable. He must do the work experimentally, for, although he has found out much about the laws that govern heredity, he cannot account for some of the things that happen or fail to happen when living stocks are blended. But still he usually finds a way to get what he wants from Mother Nature. Let us consider for an example, Marquis Wheat.

Northwestern Canada is a land of wide-spreading grasses well adapted to farming and so far north for any other crop that is not so profitable as wheat. But you cannot grow winter wheat in Canada or even in the northern tier of states in our own country. The severe winters are sure to kill any plants that have sprouted and begun to grow in the fall. Canada must have a spring-sown wheat, and if its people are to take advantage of the fields that spread up to the Peace River Valley within a few degrees of the Arctic Circle, it must be a rapidly growing variety, one that matures within ten weeks of planting.

There are other qualities that a useful variety must have. It must be able to resist drought no less than cold, for western Canada is often both cold and dry; if it is to sell at a good price, it must mill well and bake well; and it must produce a high yield to the acre.

MARQUIS WHEAT AND ITS GROWER

What Dr. William Saunders and Sons Have Done For Canada.

Man has learned to do some remarkable things with organic life, both animal and vegetable. He must do the work experimentally, for, although he has found out much about the laws that govern heredity, he cannot account for some of the things that happen or fail to happen when living stocks are blended. But still he usually finds a way to get what he wants from Mother Nature. Let us consider for an example, Marquis Wheat.

Northwestern Canada is a land of wide-spreading prairies well adapted, so far as soil is concerned, to wheat farming and so far north for any other crop that is nearly as profitable as wheat. But you cannot grow winter wheat in Canada or even in the northern tier of states in our own country. The severe winters are sure to kill any plants that have sprouted and begun to grow in the fall. Canada must have a spring-sown wheat, and if its people are to take advantage of the fields that spread up to the Peace River Valley within a few degrees of the Arctic Circle, it must be a rapidly growing variety, one that matures within ten weeks of planting.

There are other qualities that a useful variety must have. It must be able to resist drought no less than cold, for western Canada is often both cold and dry; if it is to sell at a good price, it must mill well and bake well; and it must produce a high yield to the acre. There have always been varieties of wheat that have one or two of these five essential qualities, but until recently there was none that combined all of them. That there is now is owing to the long and patient labor of Dr. William Saunders of Ottawa and his two sons.

Beginning with a Russian wheat that will ripen in a latitude of more than sixty degrees north, they crossed it with the well-known Red Fife wheat which has superior milling qualities. When they had got a hybrid variety that would ripen within seventy days and make excellent flour they bred into it a Calcutta wheat that is notable for productiveness and for its power to resist drought. And year after year they worked away trying one combination after another, selecting this and rejecting that, finding that one hopeful kind of cross-breeding would not answer and that another, tried on the off-chance, would answer very well, until at last they had produced a stable seed that would produce wheat with every desirable quality for subarctic culture. That wheat they call Marquis.

Incidentally the Saunderses established another variety that they called Prelude. It will ripen in eight weeks and has been raised at Dawson within three degrees of the Arctic Circle. It may perhaps be grown even in the lower Yukon Valley. "It does not produce heavily, however, and for that reason is not worth planting where any other variety will grow."

The service of the Saunders family, not only to their native country but to mankind as well is worthy of more recognition than it has received. They are men who have done better than those whom Dean Swift praised so highly—the men who made new blades of grass or two ears of corn grow where only one grew before. They have caused whole acres of waving grain to spring up where before none and new sources of inexhaustible wealth grow. They have pulled forth wheat.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CLOSING FRIDAY

Dalhousie Superior School
Pupils Render Pleasant
Program.

The closing exercises in the different departments of the Dalhousie Superior School were held on Tuesday, June 28th, before a good attendance of spectators. Each Teacher was accompanied with gifts by the pupils.

The most attractive part of the closing of the Primary Department, in charge of Miss Emma Harquail, for the summer vacation with a public examination of the pupils and an interesting programme of drills and recitations. Following the programme, the distribution of prizes took place, among others was the first prize, a five-dollar Gold Piece, donated by Mrs. W. H. Woodworth of Sackville, formerly Miss Bessie Stewart, which was awarded to Bessie Beckingham of Grade II for "highest standing."

Percy Fritchard followed closely and was also awarded. Honors for Grade I between Miss Katherine Grimmer and Gibson Gallop—who were both rewarded for their tiny efforts.

Miss Harquail, the teacher was much surprised when presented with an address and a dainty engraved pencil from the little tots.

Mr. Thos. G. Scott, ever taking an interest in the education and welfare of the children, was present and spoke at length of the excellent progress made etc., etc.

It is understood that Miss Harquail will be the only teacher, who will be on the staff, when school opens in September, consequently these new teachers will be needed to complete the school staff for the coming term.

K. OF C. PICNIC A GREAT SUCCESS

About 1000 People Attended—
Fine Sports Programme
Carried Out.

The picnic and day of sports held at New Mills on Monday, July 2nd, by the Campbellton Council of the Knights of Columbus was a very successful affair. Arrangements were made with the railway and a special train leaving here about nine o'clock in the morning conveyed the majority of the pilgrims to the grounds. The train consisted of six coaches and all were crowded. In addition over forty autos, all loaded with holiday parties, arrived on the grounds during the day, bringing the total attendance up to a possible thousand persons. The weather was ideal and all went home after a delightful day's outing.

Besides bathing, baseball and other games which contributed to the enjoyment of the day, a fine sports programme of sixteen different events was carried out. This began at 2 o'clock and lasted throughout the whole afternoon. The girls' tag-war, first event on the programme, was more or less undecided but it provided a lot of fun for the large number that took part. The little daughter of Mrs. Thos. LeBlanc won the prize in the baby show.

The three round boxing bout between two sturdy little youngsters, St. Onge and Dolson, was one of the best events on the whole programme. They conducted their exhibition of the "manly art" in a very manly fashion, showing both tenacity and pep and delighted the large crowd of spectators who crowded round the ring and cheered vociferously.

A large number of boys competed in the Junior Boys Race and made splendid time for the distance set. The winner went to Christy Matheson who was first to breast the tape. The prizes offered in the running broad jump and pole vault were won by Adam Cyr. Cyr stopped at 16 feet 4 inches on the broad jump although he might have gone higher had he continued and reached 9 feet, 5 inches in the pole vaulting event. In the latter event Henry Pelletier gave him a hard chase for the honors, reaching 9 ft. 5 inches. Cyr also carried the prize for the running hop, step and jump. Peter Hello won the potato race while Edgar Shannon carried off the honors in the sack race and old boys race.

The fat man's race afforded a great deal of merriment as several of the contestants lost their footing in their eagerness to excel. Father Robichaud of Charlottetown was first in this event. In the free-for-all foot race, a large number entered and made good time. Geo. Vermette was first to touch the tape. Miss Frances Howard carried off the honors in the ladies fast race. Considering the fact that no previous preparation was made for these different sport events, the affair was a decided success. Much material was brought to notice Monday that should develop most satisfactorily as soon as the Campbellton Athletic Club gets under way.

NEW BATHURST PAPER MILL

Expected Paper Will be Produced in July—Thoroughly Up-to-Date Mill

The ground wood pulp mill of the Bathurst Company, Ltd., recently began operations. A feature in connection with this is that the first sod of the mill was turned just eight months ago, thus registering what is said to be a world's record in construction work of this kind. It is expected that newspaper will be rolled out of this mill by July.

The method of handling the logs is both efficient and simple. From the river the logs are raised by means of the modern chain belts to cut off saws, where they are sawn into uniform lengths. After passing through these saws they are taken by another chain belt for transportation to the barkers. After the bark is removed they are carried by another series of chain conveyors from floor to floor until they are delivered to the top where they are fed through special floor openings into the boxes which lead directly to the great grinders, huge stone cylinders which revolve at the rate of 240 revolutions per minute.

As the logs approach the stone, a device hydraulically operated, lifts them against the grinder with the pressure of 100 tons and water fed over the stones carries the ground wood through a sluice at the bottom.

From here the pulverized wood fibre is pumped through underground pipes to the paper room, where the process of making it into paper ready for the use of the newspapers of the world is carried on.

The mill when completed will have four grinders and later it is expected that two more will be installed. Everything about the mill is electrically operated and every device for the rapid and convenient carrying on of the work has been secured. It is said that the mill is the most up-to-date and thoroughly equipped of its kind on the continent.

PROSPECTS BETTER

Mr. F. M. Macdonald, of London, England, a member of the well known lumber importing firm of Macdonald, Bellingham and Olsen in the Empire's capital was in Moncton for a short time yesterday while on a business trip through eastern Canada.

Speaking on the condition of the lumber market in Great Britain at the present time, Mr. Macdonald said it was steadily improving. The demand was increasing and with the prevailing low ocean freights being conducive to the business he convinced a prosperous outlook in the export lumber trade from the Maritime Province could be looked for in the future.

Canadian National Railway's Solid Steel Press Special.

This magnificent train was that which carried delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, through the Maritime Provinces and back to Montreal. It was composed of the best equipment which the Canadian National Railway could furnish. There were seven standard sleepers of the latest design, two modern dining cars, a specially equipped baggage car, a tourist car for the use of the train crew and a locomotive engine of the transcontinental type. From start to finish the train was of solid steel construction and carried much in the way of equipment and baggage and at all points visited.

The special steel passenger train ever run over the Atlantic division of any Canadian railway. The sleeping cars were similar to those used on the transcontinental run of the Canadian National Railway and they found much favor among the 200 passengers on board, all of whom expressed themselves as being astonished at the accommodation, comfort and convenience which these sleeping cars provided. The dining cars found similar favor in the eyes of the passengers and, in fact, the whole train from the engine to the last car was the subject of many compliments from all on board.

Accompanying the delegates were the following members of the Canadian National Railway staff: C. E. Howard, General Tourist Agent, Montreal; F. W. Robertson, General Passenger Agent, Montreal; A. H. Lindsay, Advertising Agent, Montreal; H. C. MacFarlane, District Passenger Agent, Halifax; F. L. Deegan, Travelling Passenger Agent, Montreal and G. H. Leah, Publicity Representative, Montreal.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE WEEK

Brown Coach Who Did a "Frank Merriwell" Stunt

..Did you ever hear about the time Ed. Robinson, famous Brown football coach, did a "Frank Merriwell" stunt, when, playing ball, down in Maine about twenty years ago? ..He never pitched a game of ball before and he hasn't pitched one since. ..But in his first attempt in the box he fanned three men with the bases loaded and did several other things that are seldom accomplished out of the story books.

Gilbert Patten tells this story in the current issue of the Outlook. Mr. Robinson was having a little fun playing baseball down near Camden, Me., at the time, and Mr. Patten was managing the nine he played with. He tells the story this way:

I signed Robinson for his hitting that season. He slugged them on the ground, and any infielder who didn't want to lose a leg played deep when he was at bat. He did his greatest turn in Knox County on Labor Day.

I chose Freddie Logan a youngster who afterwards played in the New England league. Logan showed speed, sharp curves and control, and he was keen to do the shooting.

It became necessary for me to go into the ticket-office during the first inning of the game, and I left Robinson in charge of the team. While I was in the little office I heard the crowd roaring, and the roars grew louder and more disturbing. I forced my way through a packed mass of standees, who were joyously trying to howl their heads off. Before I could break through the crowd I saw Logan standing near the pitching plate, holding the ball and looking like a frozen statue. His face was bloodless and he seemed to be scared stiff. Having completely lost his control, he had issued passes to the first three batters who faced him, and all the cushions were occupied.

While I was still struggling to get to the Robinson walked to the pitcher's position from his place at first base, took the ball from Logan's numb fingers, and sent the young pitcher to the bench. Calling on the substitute to cover first, Robinson took up the pitching. He was a pitcher. He didn't have a curve at the command. All he had was a ball on his shoulders, and in his crouch, and an underhand ball which he delivered like a lead ball. He pitched it like a lead ball, and the score was tied, 4 to 4, in the sixth inning. Then he went bad for a short time and filled the corners, with nobody out. He stopped and took a drink of water. After refreshing himself in that manner he struck out Vinalhaven's three leading batters in succession. We won, 6 to 4.

The right stuff, and something about his ears. He played with us a short time the following season, but I never could induce him to pitch a ball after his triumph over the Stone Cutters.

I kept him in. He whiffed their best hitters all through the game. Some of the weaker batters got hits, and the score was tied, 4 to 4, in the sixth inning. Then he went bad for a short time and filled the corners, with nobody out. He stopped and took a drink of water. After refreshing himself in that manner he struck out Vinalhaven's three leading batters in succession. We won, 6 to 4.

Covey Congratulates Campbellton

Dear Sir:— I noted by the last issue of the Campbellton Tribune that a new Athletic Club had been formed at Campbellton and that you had been elected as Secretary of same.

I want to congratulate Campbellton on this move. Athletics will not prosper if gone at in a haphazard manner and unless a bona fide Club takes hold that is what usually does happen.

Your new Club should have a great future because Campbellton as well as every other town in the Maritime Provinces can produce athletes if the boys are given a chance. You have had a good hockey team for some years so that you know that you can produce hockey players, this could also be done in all other lines of Sport and from what I can understand your Club intends to promote the different branches. We would like to have your Club lined up with the Athletic Association having your men registered and take part in the different sports. When registered they will be eligible to compete in and with the other sections of the Maritime Provinces.

We are now preparing for the Olympic Meet of next year and trying to find athletes who are capable of upholding the honor of the Maritime Provinces in Track and Field particularly in 1924. The chairman of our Olympic Committee Mr. G. P. Bolton, of Sussex will get in touch with you in the very near future with reference to this.

I would be glad to hear from you whenever convenient regarding your Club and can assure you that the Maritime Association will do everything possible to assist you to put your Club on its feet so that you may be able to develop the best men that are in your section.

Wishing you every success with your Club, I am
Yours very truly
A. W. COVEY, President
M. P. B. A. A. U. of C.

Point a la Garde
A number of folk from here attended the salmon supper held at Mrs. Angus Campbell's last Monday evening. They all voted it a great success. The proceeds were over $85.00 which goes to wipe out the debt on the church wool lot. Much credit is due to the W. C. T. U. for their splendid work.

Hearty congratulations are in order to the builders of the new bridge at Oak Bay. A splendid piece of work has been done, which will be very much appreciated by the travelling public.

All drivers of horse drawn vehicles in this vicinity would appreciate a more general use of the motor horn, especially at the curves in the road.

Dee Side

A GIRL ON SKIS.

Only Woman in the World Who Does Ski-Jumping.

Out of the cradle on to skis is the experience of sixteen year old, Isabel Courter, of Revelstoke, who, as far as any records are available, is the only girl in the world who does any ski-jumping. Her exhibition jumping at the recent Revelstoke ski tournament—which is one of the most famous of its kind in the world—attracted a continent-wide attention. She made three jumps, sixty-eight, seventy-six and eighty-four feet, while in her practice leaps she has attained the magnificent record of ninety feet.

Of course, she has lived in the environment that boasts the greatest ski hill in the world. All the world's records, amateur and professional have been made on the Revelstoke ski hill.

To see Isabel Courter jump is to witness a page of sport that is marvelous and thrilling. Fearless and graceful like some well poised eagle, she comes down the start, reaches the "Take Off," then swoops suddenly and swiftly into the air and curves to earth, sliding speedily down the rear of the hill to the "Deadline."

Isabel has been ski all her life. From the moment she could toddle around, like all the children of Revelstoke, she had these on her feet, and learned to walk on them, showing herself along with ski poles. Then, each winter came the long exhilarating practice on the boys' hill—first the ski jump, then the big jump. She is the only girl who has been known to take the "running test down" the hill and about on the course for the "glider" girls, competing in the running test to come down the slide, supported by the strongest men skiers. She is the only girl who has dared the pony ski race or "ski-joring," where the skis on skis drives a pony at its maximum speed. She is the winner of the jumping contests—both boys and girls.

Isabel is in her second year in High School. She is still a slip of a girl—slight, quick-moving, with rosy cheeks of the out-of-door girl, "ski-joring," where the skis on skis drives a pony at its maximum speed. She is the winner of the jumping contests—both boys and girls.

CANADA.
Americans may well extend to the people across the northern frontier their heartiest congratulations on the healthy expansion of their country. There is and can be no jealousy in our hearts, for in the prosperity of the Dominion there is nothing for us but benefit.

It is real prosperity of the sort that in the forties and fifties was making the United States great. The country is filling up with immigrants of the best class, such as were then coming in swarms to the United States. The popularity is moving west and taking up land. The new Canada already furnishes much of the wheat on which the Old World depends.

Manufacturing too is doing for Canada what it did for us a half century or more ago. The transportation lines of the Dominion are already magnificent and are steadily improving. No other railway project was ever more daring than the building of a line through the wilderness almost at the northern limit of possible human habitation, to the shores of Hudson Bay, to open for a few months of the year the shortest route from the grainfields of the West to European markets.

Canada is under free institutions—self-governed and well-governed. It has bred a body of public men of ability and high character. Americans may not appreciate the worldly wisdom that leads Canadians to cling to the British connection; but they can appreciate the sentiment behind their heartiest congratulations on the efforts of complete sovereignty in their pride as a part of the British Empire, for there is now no material benefit for them in the connection. Once the statesmen of the Dominion might have regarded separating from the empire as sacrificing protection that they needed. Now, if any duty remains, it rests on Canada to help England. The child looks naturally to shelter and protection at the hands of a parent; when it is grown up filial affection holds it true to its allegiance. History can be searched in vain for a parallel to the relations, physical and political, between Canada and the United States. There has never been another such stretch of unguarded boundary between two countries, never two people living side by side for so long a period in entire harmony and good feeling. It is all the more remarkable when we consider that the two peoples are almost absolutely alike in everything except that one of them cherishes a sentimental allegiance to the British crown. A stranger per alighting from the air in a town in New York or Ontario would need to inquire in which country he was; for the houses, the people and the modes of life are identical.—Youth's Companion, Boston.

OUTDOORS IN THE MARITIMES
"Out of Doors in the Maritime Provinces," is the title of a new booklet just issued by the Canadian National Railways. The cover design is attractive and the interior is filled with information concerning the various cities, towns and roads, with the particular attention paid to the sporting possibilities of the three provinces. The names of guides and camps for fishing as well as big and small game hunting, are given for the benefit of the visiting sportsman and the booklet is illustrated with many scenes of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island.

This method of advertising Maritime province attractions for the tourist is obviously a good one, and will doubtless benefit the provinces as well as the railroad. New Brunswick is a veritable paradise for pleasure-seekers in summer but her attractions are all too little known. What is needed is more advertising of the proper kind. Other provinces of the Dominion have found it exceedingly profitable.

Kootenay Indians Baseball Champions

The Kootenay Indians who played such a prominent part in the pageant arranged in connection with the David Thompson Memorial celebration at Lake Windermere, B.C., are not only expert riders and canoeists but have recently taken to baseball with wonderful enthusiasm. At the Lake Windermere District Fall Fair they played against a white team for the silver cup offered by Randolph Bruce, a local mine owner, winning it with a score of seven to five. The accompanying photographs show the team in their day clothes, and in their baseball rig-out. The team is captained by Dominick Nicholas, who is seen standing immediately behind the cup, and is supported by Martin Sam, Conrad Short, Christopher Joseph, Frank Whitehead, Noah Alpine, Gabriel Paul, Joseph Eugene, and Jerome Joseph. The Kootenays are one of the healthiest and most athletic tribes of Indians in America, the records of David Thompson over a hundred years ago intimating that they have always been a fine upstanding set of men. In the old days they were famous hunters, but now they spend more of their time farming and are adept in the use of irrigation. During the pageant they appeared in wonderfully fine costumes, rich in blues and purples, and harmonious reds, making a display which greatly impressed their white brethren. Every Kootenay Indian is a born horseman or horse-woman, and the horses they breed are of fine quality.

CANADA.
Americans may well extend to the people across the northern frontier their heartiest congratulations on the healthy expansion of their country. There is and can be no jealousy in our hearts, for in the prosperity of the Dominion there is nothing for us but benefit.

It is real prosperity of the sort that in the forties and fifties was making the United States great. The country is filling up with immigrants of the best class, such as were then coming in swarms to the United States. The popularity is moving west and taking up land. The new Canada already furnishes much of the wheat on which the Old World depends.

Manufacturing too is doing for Canada what it did for us a half century or more ago. The transportation lines of the Dominion are already magnificent and are steadily improving. No other railway project was ever more daring than the building of a line through the wilderness almost at the northern limit of possible human habitation, to the shores of Hudson Bay, to open for a few months of the year the shortest route from the grainfields of the West to European markets.

Canada is under free institutions—self-governed and well-governed. It has bred a body of public men of ability and high character. Americans may not appreciate the worldly wisdom that leads Canadians to cling to the British connection; but they can appreciate the sentiment behind their heartiest congratulations on the efforts of complete sovereignty in their pride as a part of the British Empire, for there is now no material benefit for them in the connection. Once the statesmen of the Dominion might have regarded separating from the empire as sacrificing protection that they needed. Now, if any duty remains, it rests on Canada to help England. The child looks naturally to shelter and protection at the hands of a parent; when it is grown up filial affection holds it true to its allegiance. History can be searched in vain for a parallel to the relations, physical and political, between Canada and the United States. There has never been another such stretch of unguarded boundary between two countries, never two people living side by side for so long a period in entire harmony and good feeling. It is all the more remarkable when we consider that the two peoples are almost absolutely alike in everything except that one of them cherishes a sentimental allegiance to the British crown. A stranger per alighting from the air in a town in New York or Ontario would need to inquire in which country he was; for the houses, the people and the modes of life are identical.—Youth's Companion, Boston.

STORY ENDS.

The serial story which has been running for a number of weeks ends in this issue, and we hope our readers enjoyed it. We are making arrangements for another story, but this will not appear until after the present subscription campaign ends.

SOME DELAY.

Because of the large number of new subscriptions being received our mailing department is having a difficult task to keep the lists corrected and the Graphic mailed to such subscribers. If the paper is a little late in reaching its destination please have patience, as we hope to have his remedy in a week or so.

VISITING OLD HOME.

Mr. J. H. Moore of Mt. Vernon, Washington, has been visiting his old home Moore Settlement. This is Mr. Moore's second visit in fifty years, the last being about thirty years ago. Naturally Mr. Moore sees many changes and improvements, especially in Campbellton, which has grown from a mere village of its present prosperity since his last visit.

THE GASPE COAST.

The Graphic has made arrangements with Mrs. Margaret Grant MacWhirter for a series of articles on the Gaspé Coast. These will be an exhaustive study of its early history and will be exceedingly interesting, both to residents of that district and others who reside at a distance. The first of these articles will appear at an early date.

NEW ROUND HOUSE FOREMAN.

Mr. E. B. Price, C. N. R. round house foreman at Campbellton, will retire tomorrow under the provisions of the Provident Fund Act after forty-one years' service on the Government Railways.

It is understood he will be succeeded by Mr. Harvey Dryden, a well known C. N. R. locomotive engineer of this city.

WELCOMED RAIN.

Fairly heavy showers of rain fell in this district Tuesday evening and Wednesday, and helped materially growing crops.

TRANSFERRED TO

CAMPBELLTON
Mrs. A. M. Eason and daughter Millicent left this morning for Campbellton to join Mr. Eason, who has been transferred from the C. N. R. office in this city to Campbellton—Friday's Gleamer.

THE EVENING LUNCH.

For the evening lunch on the veranda there is nothing better than Gray's Velvet Ice Cream. It is already a favorite in hundreds of homes. Try it and it will be your favorite too. In bricks or in bulk. Delivered to any part of town. GRAY'S WHOLESALE.

PIANO TUNING.

An expert tuner and repairs of pianos and organs will be in town for a few days. Phone orders to the Florence Home.

SESSION FINISHED AFTER FIVE MONTHS

Amendment of the Canada Temperance Act Was Thrown Out By Senate

Ottawa, July 1.—Parliament was prorogued by the Governor General yesterday afternoon, after a session of five months. The last hours were spent largely in conferences between Senate leaders and the government. Two bills were in review; the bill to authorize the government to guarantee equipment bonds for the Canadian National. This after conference was amended by the Senate to provide that the government guarantee should be extended only to securities, the issue of which has been authorized by parliament.

In this amendment the House on motion of Hon. W. S. Fielding, concurred. The other bill was to amend the Canada Temperance Act so as to prohibit the private importation of liquor into British Columbia. Some days ago the Senate amended the bill, making restriction of importation effective only after a plebiscite is taken. The House declined to accept the Senate amendment. In the Senate in the morning, Senator Dandurand, government leader, moved that the Senate do not insist on its amendment, but his motion was lost and when the bill again came before the House in the afternoon once more the Senate amendment was not accepted. The bill therefore is dropped.

Old familiar songs, were sung as members waited for the summons to the Senate Chamber, where His Excellency formerly declared the session at an end. There was considerable good-humored horse-play and exchange of banter.

War-time Death Now in Politics

It is said that a Congressional investigation will be held into the circumstances of the death of Major Alexander P. Cronkite, who either killed himself or was murdered near Camp Lewis, Washington, on October 25, 1918. For two and a half years afterward it was generally taken for granted that he had accidentally killed himself. Then Roland Pothier, of Providence, R.I., one of the two men with him at the time of his death, made a confession. He said that he had shot the major at the instigation of Robert Rosenbluth, of New York, the only other witness of the act. Rosenbluth denied the charge and later on Pothier withdrew his confession. That document seemed the production of a feeble-minded man, for it gave no reason why he should have followed Rosenbluth's orders, and he did not admit any animosity toward Major Cronkite. Yet there are many people who accept Pothier's confession, almost incredible as it seems on the face of it.

Cronkite was a fine type of American soldier, and came of families of soldiers on both sides. When the United States entered the world there were three generations of Cronkites on active duty, the youngest of them being the major, who was twenty-five years old at the time of his death. The young man was universally liked and respected, for he was a keen officer and an unusually competent one. On this October day he was leading some of his troop through a part of Camp Lewis that was so densely wooded that it was impossible to see more than a few yards ahead. The column had half a mile of white Cronkites, Captain Rosenbluth, and Pothier, a bugler on duty as orderly to the major, went forward to an open place where the troops were to stop for lunch. Suddenly several shots were fired. The first shot was in the direction whence they had come and in fifty yards came across Major Cronkite lying on the ground while Rosenbluth and Pothier supported him.

The story the two eye witnesses to the tragedy told at the time, and which was repeated at the military investigation that was held later, seemed to explain everything. It is true that Pothier and Rosenbluth did not wholly coincide as to the number of shots that had been fired, but this slight discrepancy was not considered important. They said that as they were walking through the little clearing, Major Cronkite picked up an old tomato tin, set it on a fence post and said he would have some target practice. The first and second shots were wide, but the third struck the tin. Then, with the revolver still in his hand, Major Cronkite swung around on his heel to call Rosenbluth's attention to the shot, when the revolver exploded once more, and he fell to the ground, dying almost immediately and without uttering a word. The tin with the bullet hole and traces of other bullets seemed to corroborate the witnesses. It is now admitted that there was no thorough investigation, the inquiry being almost formal because apparently nobody was in the least suspicious. There was one strange fact that seems not to have attracted the attention it merited. That was the location of the wound. It was midway between the centre of the right breast and the right shoulder; a little further back and it would have been in the arm pit. It certainly was a most curious place for a self-inflicted wound. The widow of the dead man refused to accept the verdict of accidental death. Her husband, she said, was not the sort of man to commit suicide, and was too prudent in the use of firearms to ever be the victim of such a clumsy accident. But if it was not suicide or accident it must have been murder and obviously the murderer must have been either Pothier or Rosenbluth, for they were the only two with the dead man at the time. Following Pothier's confession there was a tremendous agitation. Rosenbluth, whom he accused of belonging to a prominent New York family and had many close friends among the leading Jews of the country. Such papers as the Darborn Independent featured the story and intimated that Rosenbluth was being shielded by powerful friends.

Pothier and Rosenbluth were indicted by a Grand Jury and the former has been in custody ever since pending court appeals. Rosenbluth is at liberty through legal technicalities. The question of the guilt of these men has invaded politics. The War Department insists that only the trial of the two will solve the mystery. But after four and a half years where is the evidence to come from? In the meantime, papers bearing on the case have been lost or stolen. Rosenbluth adheres to his original story that Cronkite shot himself. If he did, Pothier must have been insane to accuse both Rosenbluth and himself, placing his own neck in jeopardy. Pothier, apparently, is not insane. He is an uneducated French-Canadian, but is said to be rather shrewd. Is Rosenbluth being shielded because he is a Jew? These are questions which have invaded politics. A trial seems unlikely, unless something unexpected develops at the Congressional inquiry.

Valuable Anesthetic. Butyrin, a new drug, is a substitute for ether and is said to be a synthetic product and it is said the anesthetic produced is more powerful and prolonged than that produced by ether and has no after-effects for the drug taker.

NOTE AND COMMENT
When such epithets as "dirty dogs," "white livered cowards and murderers" are hurled across the floor in the British House of Commons it is painfully evident that to be a member of that House does not mean one must always be a gentleman. The Mother of Parliaments must look to its reputation.

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter
Suffered and Was Made Well by
Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable
Compound

Vancouver, B.C.—"My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dirty feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done all it was represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. I find it is building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."—Mrs. J. McDONALD, 2847 26th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C.

From the age of twelve a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time. If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions.

The Most Romantic City in North America

1.—The Quebec Bridge which spans the St. Lawrence, seven miles above the city. 2.—An ancient cannon on the old ramparts of Quebec. 3.—A Quebec habitation, a typical bit of rural scenery a few miles from Quebec City.

Quebec City, the Gibraltar of the New World, was one of the chief points of call in the itinerary of the Canadian Weekly Press Association on the Canadian National Railway recently. It was a place of intense interest to these publishers and editors, for Quebec is the cradle of the history of Canada. There France's domination of Canada began and there it died, leaving the way open for British dominion over, and the confederation of the provinces from coast to coast, under one Parliamentary flag and one king. There on the ramparts of the citadel commanding the St. Lawrence, the phantom figures of Champlain's soldiers keep company with the khaki clad sentries of the present day garrison force.

Quebec is a city with an individuality. It is unlike any other city in North America. It is a city of contrasts. Beside a fine modern building one finds a structure with windows heavily shuttered, with massive doors, and walls of thick grey masonry. Uprising the days when Quebec was a fortress and the stronghold of the continent. From the spacious width of the Grand Allée one has to walk but a few steps to find a street so narrow that two persons may shake heads across its width. From the modern post office one is only a short distance to the walls which girded the city in the days of siege. A stiff stair climb will carry one from the new railway station to the ancient St. Louis gate, through which the Cing Montcalm rode after his defeat by Wolfe on the nearby Plains of Abraham. It is a city of contrasts. Beside a fine modern building one finds a structure with windows heavily shuttered, with massive doors, and walls of thick grey masonry. From the spacious width of the Grand Allée one has to walk but a few steps to find a street so narrow that two persons may shake heads across its width. From the modern post office one is only a short distance to the walls which girded the city in the days of siege. A stiff stair climb will carry one from the new railway station to the ancient St. Louis gate, through which the Cing Montcalm rode after his defeat by Wolfe on the nearby Plains of Abraham. It is a city of contrasts. Beside a fine modern building one finds a structure with windows heavily shuttered, with massive doors, and walls of thick grey masonry. FERRY SERVICE FOR DALHOUSIE

Grants Made to Encourage Service Between Dalhousie and Quebec Points

The Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, having included in the supplementary estimates, passed last week in the House of Commons, for the steam service between Dalhousie, Moncton, and St. John, and Carleton Place, the sum of $500, and Hon. P. J. Vanier, Minister of Public Works, having included in his estimates for steam navigation the sum of $500 also for the above ferry service, arrangements are now being concluded with Messrs. Alderman John Barbour and Mr. Arthur Thompson, owners of the S. S. Angela B. Nickerson, to operate a ferry service between the Dalhousie Ferry Wharf and the Bonaventure Co. points mentioned, according to a prospectus recently submitted to the Hon. Minister of Trade and Commerce. A timetable will be issued forthwith and posted in as many public places as possible.

Big Crowd At Dalhousie Rink

The annual Summer Opening of "The Rink" here which was celebrated on Monday night was a decided success. Local patrons in large numbers were on hand for the opening of this popular ice cream parlor and numerous parties from Campbellton and the surrounding country also attended. The rink was beautifully decorated for the occasion and many visitors spoke in flattering terms of the cheery, holiday spirit which prevailed the place. Mr. Trudelle had difficulty in securing an orchestra but finally succeeded in engaging a trio of capable musicians from Chatham. The music supplied by Miss Martin and Messrs. Martin and McEachern was splendidly rendered and voted by all a feature of the evening. The front room of the rink was reserved for dancing and a beautiful "green room" was arranged in the fore part of the main building, where the ice cream and drinks were served. This was bordered with evergreens and suitably lighted and decorated, giving the enclosure a delightful garden effect. Mr. Trudelle, the popular manager, received his guests with the amiable courtesy which is so characteristic of him and all who attended voted the affair an even better success than the Dominion Day Opening held last year. The rink is an ideal spot in summer and Dalhousie should pride itself on having such an up-to-date place of this kind. Good orchestra music, every Tuesday and Thursday nights, is also an added attraction.

STATE OF MAINE TIGHTENS THE LID ON RUM RUNNING

Changes in the State of Maine liquor laws affecting the transportation of wet goods within the borders of that state, which were enacted at the last session of the legislature and which went into effect on July 1st, are expected to add to the hazards of an already perilous career led by international rum runners.

HARD ON BIG GAME

It is said that many game animals including moose, deer and bear, were caught by forest fires in the northern part of the Province and perished. Uncle Henry Brathwaite, the noted sportsman, speaking of the matter, expressed the opinion that mortality among game animals would be heavy. He said that the fire burned over one of the best big game districts of the province and that only animals living in the water would have a chance to escape. He says that game animals, as the flames approach them would be very apt to become confused and where some might reach places of safety, two out of every three would succumb or be burned to death. He thinks that many partridge must also have perished in the fire swept districts—Fredericton Mail.

Happenings of The Week

The McKay buildings on William street have been painted, which adds much to the appearance not only of the buildings but of the street also.

Sunday and Monday were hot days. The thermometer registered 82 degrees on Dominion Day and 88 degrees on Monday, at 11 a. m.

In spite of the wet night on Friday many people from town motored to New Mills to attend the whist party and dance in aid of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Campbellton.

Two Sweeping Victories for Ball Club

The Dalhousie boys opened up the baseball season here on Monday with two sweeping victories, winning from a Campbellton team by a score of 11 to 4 in the afternoon and defeating the Jacquet River nine 11 to 3 in the evening.

Large numbers of citizens and visitors attended the games which were both interesting engagements. The local nine were in fine form and showed a good brand of baseball.

There is little doubt but what fans here will take a great deal more interest in the activities of the baseball club from now on, after such a creditable showing.

The afternoon game was a lively exhibition. The visiting nine from Campbellton put over some nice plays and at times the match was closely contested. The spectators were agreeably surprised by the speed that the players developed at different stages of the contest.

Deacon did the twirling for the shiretown in the afternoon engagement and Synette supported him behind the plate. Wetmore was on the mound for Campbellton with Jardine as back-stop. Both batteries did good work but throughout the last half of the game Deacon seemed to have the edge on the visiting batters.

The local basemen were very active and showed some snappy ball. The outfielders gave good support and effected some neat catches at critical moments, thereby adding to the enjoyment of the fans.

The statement made by H. A. Trudelle, manager of the Dalhousie Baseball Club, to the effect that the shiretown had a set of boys well able to meet any team in this district, was apparently well founded, considering the result of Monday's activities. The local players should be congratulated on making such a splendid showing.

The box score follows:—

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Tot.
Dal. 0 0 0 1 2 0 2 0 11
Oton 0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 9

R. Sharpe refereed the game.

The evening game was of interesting match but not nearly so closely contested as the afternoon event. The Jacquet River boys played some good ball but Dalhousie's heavy hitting gave them a big lead in the first few innings. Once started, Cyr on the mound for the visitors did not seem to be able to check the steady slug:—

Both outfielders gave a good exhibition but the local squad showed better team play at the bases. Roy very attractive in a travelling costume of sand broad cloth and hat to match.

The witness were Mr. A. J. LeCoffre, father of the groom, and Mr. Ernest LeCoffre, brother of the bride.

The groom is a hero of the great war, having served successfully for over three years in France. The bride did splendid service for several years as a nurse with the Canadian Army.

DOMINION DAY AT DALHOUSIE

Interesting Time at Shiretown—Baseball and Other Events

Dalhousie, July 3rd.—Never in the history of the shiretown has there been such a successful celebration of Dominion Day as took place in Dalhousie this year. With ideal weather on Monday, all the mills, banks and stores closed, the whole population of the town entered into spirit of the celebration and enjoyed every hour of the day.

Flags were seen flying at many places and many minds were impressed with the thought of the great meeting that took place on that memorable day July 1st, 1867, when the four old provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, were by the compact agreed upon by the fathers of confederation united into one Dominion.

Some of our citizens enjoyed the day by attending the Campbellton races, others went to the Knights of Columbus Picnic, at New Mills, and to the Balmoral Bazaar. The greater portion of the people attended the interesting Base Ball games. The game between Campbellton and Dalhousie, took place in the afternoon, and was witnessed by a very large attendance of spectators. Early in the evening, another interesting Base Ball game took place between Jacquet River and Dalhousie, before a large attendance.

The Dalhousie boys won on each occasion. The best of humor prevailed throughout the whole afternoon, and with the hundreds of cones of ice cream sold on the grounds the young people had a real good time.

At 8 o'clock in the evening, the opening of Clifford's Tea Room took place an event that was looked forward to with great interest and no one was disappointed. Music was furnished by the Yoo Hoc orchestra and dainty refreshments were served till a late hour. Many visitors from Campbellton, Jacquet River, Chatham etc., patronized the affair. Among the first to arrive at the New Tea Room, were his Honor Judge McLatchey, Mrs. McLatchey and their daughter Mrs. Clarke of St. John N. B.

The summer opening of the Rink was also a great success. Both sides of William street for quite a distance were crowded with autos, which came from different parts of the County, to enjoy the dance. Mr. H. J. Trudelle, the manager of the Rink, had made ample preparations for the affair, and with good music a real enjoyable evening was spent.

The best of order prevailed all through the day, and the 2nd, day of July 1923, will go down in history as one on which the 2000 people of the quaint little town of Dalhousie, united to do honor in a most proper way, to the great men, who had settled the foundation of our great confederation.

On Saturday morning at six o'clock the Convent Chapel was the scene of a pretty wedding when one of Dalhousie's popular girls, Miss L. Blanche LeCoffre, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John LeCoffre, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman LeCoffre, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. LeCoffre. The chapel had been nicely decorated for the occasion. Rev. Father J. A. Hart, tied the nuptial knot and celebrated the Mass. The bride looked very attractive in a travelling costume of sand broad cloth and hat to match.

The witness were Mr. A. J. LeCoffre, father of the groom, and Mr. Ernest LeCoffre, brother of the bride.
