

Weather Forecast:
Fair and Warm

The London Advertiser

52nd YEAR. No. 22389.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 6, 1915. TWELVE PAGES.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

HOME EDITION

QUEBEC MUNITIONS PLANT BLOWN UP; 7 DEATHS

BRITISH AIRMEN FLY OVER GERMAN COAST POSITIONS

GREAT ATTACK UPON GERMAN POSITION IN BAY OFF NORTH SEA BY BRITISH AVIATORS

Berlin Admits Raid, But Calls It Unsuccessful, While the British Observers Believe It Most Successful—Much Useful Information Probably Obtained.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, July 6.—By Wireless to Sayville.—A great British aeroplane attack was directed against the German positions in a German bay of the North Sea on the morning of July 4, according to a German official statement issued under date of July 5. The attack, the announcement adds, failed.

German airships sighted at dawn off Terschelling, an island off the Netherlands, the advancing British naval forces. They consisted of several hydro-aeroplane motorships, accompanied by a number of cruisers and torpedo-boat destroyers. The British vessels were forced to retreat. One British hydro-aeroplane, which succeeded in rising in the air, was pursued by German aeroplanes, but it escaped by flying over Dutch territory.

BRITAIN ELATED.
[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
London, England, July 6.—Much elation is felt at the success of the British naval flying corps and its assisting light squadron of cruisers and destroyers in penetrating so near the German North Sea coast, as indicated in the official German statement today.

While there is so far no report of heavy damage being done by the British raiders, it is realized that the amount of information gathered by British aviators in their reconnoitering over Heligoland and Kiel Canal will be most valuable to the British admiralty.

Highly Successful.
While the German statement reassures the German people that the "British attack was unsuccessful," it is felt that, from the British standpoint, it was really highly successful, and demonstrated the high degree of proficiency of the British naval flying squadrons. Some authorities assert it was the most significant aerial success of the war.

BRITISH TAKE TRENCHES ON CANAL BANKS

Assisted by French Artillery, Advance Southwest of Pilliken.

ARRAS AGAIN BOMBARDED

Number of Attacks by Enemy Repulsed by Republic's Troops.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, July 6.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities which reads as follows:

"Last night saw much activity at several points along the front. In Belgium the British troops, supported by our artillery, took possession of some German trenches at a point to the southwest of Pilliken, on the east bank of the canal. There was a very spirited engagement around the railroad station of Souchez. The station, however, remained in our hands in spite of the repeated efforts of the enemy to take it.

Arras Bombed.
"The town of Arras was bombarded all night long.

"In the Argonne there was incessant fighting last night with bombs and hand grenades. Our artillery on several different occasions was successful in checking the attacks of the enemy.

"On the heights of the Meuse the Germans attacked, on two different occasions, our positions on the south side of the ravine of Souvigny, which is to the east of the trench of Colonne. They were completely repulsed.

Attacks Checked.
"In the vicinity of Le Pretre Forest the enemy also assumed the offensive. Two attacks were made. One spread little by little from the western side of the forest as far as Fey-En-Haye. Continued on Page Four.

Frankfurter Zeitung Says They Brought Advance To Standstill.

DOES NOT MENTION GUNS

People Not Told How Dominion Boys Recaptured Cannon.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
London, July 6.—That Canadians have earned the respect of the enemy is evinced by some remarks in a recent issue of the Frankfurter Zeitung, one of the most prominent German newspapers, writing upon an attempt made to break through the British lines at the end of April, the paper says: "Much more difficult was experienced in the attack on the left wing, where Thuringian troops advanced over Langemarck. The Canadian situation became critical, they brought all the reserves at their disposal for a mighty counter-attack, and were really successful in bringing to a standstill the advance of the German troops. On a line at North Edge wood, four kilometers westward from St. Julien, once more the German artillery brought the British position under heavy fire, but still the Canadians did not give way." They carried out the same night a very energetic counter-attack.

"It is noteworthy though that this journal does not mention how the Canadians repulsed their guns.

Lieut.-Col. Patterson, commanding a Canadian cavalry detachment and Capt. Mayes, adjutant, have left England to be attached to the British general headquarters in France.

"BEATING-UP" FOLLOWS AN UNEXPECTED RETURN

Laundry Driver in Hospital and Commercial Traveller Is Held For Assault.

John W. Milner, a commercial traveller residing at 424 Park avenue, appeared before Magistrate Judd today on a charge of assault laid by P. C. Thomas Ryan. Milner went to the home of Frank Jenner of 42 Riverside avenue late last night and gave him such a beating that Jenner is in Victoria Hospital. Jenner was unable to appear today, and Milner was bailed in the sum of $50 to appear later.

Milner started out on the road as usual yesterday, but is said to have returned unexpectedly. His return was followed by a trip to the home of Jenner, who is a laundry driver. The attention of neighbors was at first attracted to the disturbance, when the men commenced fighting in the house of Jenner. The "drummer" was mad through and through, and in his attempt to obliterate the features of the man, he pummeled him unmercifully. In the fracas, chairs were smashed, furniture overturned and sent crashing into

REFUSED TO GO TO HOSPITAL, THOUGH WOUNDED BY BULLET

Advertiser Illustration. SERGT. MAJOR BLAKE-FOSTER

HOWDEN OBJECTED TO RESIGNATION OF GOVERNMENT

Thought Tories Should Stay in Power and Clean Up Mess.

SITUATION WAS TENSE

Some Conservatives Did Not Like Governor-General's Dictation.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, July 6.—Cross-examination of Hon. J. H. Howden, attorney-general in the Roblin Cabinet, by Isaac Pitblado, Liberal counsel, was resumed this morning when the royal commission sat. Mr. Howden said he had discussed matters under investigation with G. M. Newton since he came to Winnipeg last Friday. Newton had produced a memorandum showing he rented a safe vault March 29, from which evidence inferred that was the date when he turned over to Newton the fifty dollars he got from Dr. Simpson.

"I asked Newton what he knew about these matters, and we discussed the case."

Howden added he had not seen William Chambers for over a month. "I wanted to see Newton about this money. I was curious and wanted to know. I knew part of it had been paid back, and I wanted to find out where the rest of it was," said Howden. Newton told him about it.

"I had heard from Newton that there was a reasonable shortage."

No Need to Pay.
"This was May 18 when Newton told him some money had been paid. He had not counted it, but did not think it was all there. At this time the reason for paying over the money in connection with election expenses had disappeared since the Government resigned."

"My object was to preserve the old Government's majority," said the witness.

"The money was put up for a specific purpose—the dismissal of election protests."

"The money was planted, and it could stay there," asked counsel.

"I don't agree with that word 'planted.' The money was placed and could stay."

Howden said Sir Rodmond told him Saturday, May 8, before the Government resigned, of his intention to resign.

"I had not thought at that time that it was a proper thing for the Government to resign. I thought the old Government should clean up the difficulties it had got into."

Roblin knew. Howden did not tell Sir Rodmond on this occasion of his arrangements with chambers. Roblin knew, however, that negotiations had been under way. "I did not tell him 'what the arrangements were.'"

WOUNDED, BUT REFUSES TO GO TO READING

Sgt. Major Blake-Foster Returns To Regiment Instead of Hospital.

A GALLANT SOLDIER

Well-Known Military Man Is Doing 'His Bit' in Glorious Manner.

The first definite information his London friends have had that Sgt. Major Blake-Foster, warrant officer, was at the front came in a letter today to W. J. Clark, tobaccoist, from Sgt. Major J. S. Cheney, who is in charge of the military staff clerks of the first contingent.

Sgt. Major Blake-Foster was one of the most popular Englishmen who ever lived in London. He was connected with the R. C. R. for many years, going from London to the Yukon on police duty and later to South Africa. He resided in this city some time after the Boer war, and later went to Toronto with the permanent force. He had not been heard of as in active service, but those who know him felt sure that he was at the front performing gallant service.

And that his old-time gallantry is as fine a thing as ever is shown in the letter of Sgt. Major Cheney, which says: "Blake-Foster was wounded on the night of the 16th, but not badly, just a shrapnel bullet in his right hand. He was fixed up at the dressing station near me, and we had an hour's chat. THEY WANTED TO SEND HIM TO THE HOSPITAL FOR A WEEK OR SO, BUT HE WENT BACK TO HIS REGIMENT THE SAME NIGHT, WHICH SHOWS THE KIND OF STUFF HE IS MADE OF."

As is customary in the letters of Sgt. Major Cheney, he says "little about the war. He does express satisfaction over the fact of receiving a fine gift of tobacco from Mr. Clark, and also that they are getting welcome additions to the bill of fare in the side garden, and he and some others came upon some strawberries as large as eggs. Apparently there was about one apple. As he says, 'I had my first strawberry.'"

BLOW UP GERMAN MINE GALLERIES

Russian Success Provokes a Fierce Bombardment by the Enemy.

FOE MAKES SOME GAIN

But Attacks Between Viazma and Bug Are All Repulsed.

[Canadian Press.]
Petrograd, July 5, via London, July 6.—Admission that the Teutonic allies have advanced on the front between Krasnik and the River Viazma is made in a Russian official statement issued tonight at the headquarters.

General staff. It is asserted, however, that all German attacks have been repulsed. The communication follows:

"In the Jedwabne region on July 3 the Germans unsuccessfully exploded two mine chambers and then opened a violent artillery fire. On the scene of the explosion our sappers blew up a German mine gallery the next day. This success provokes another fierce bombardment on the part of the enemy."

"In the direction of Lublin the enemy, after stubborn fighting, advanced on the front between Krasnik and the Viazma River. All German attacks, as well as on the latter river between the village of Krylow and the town of Sokolka, were repulsed on the 3rd and on the morning of the 4th. We took

NORWEGIAN SHIP HAD COPPER FOR GERMANY

Swedish Revenue Cutter Finds Leaking Vessel in Contraband Trade.

[Canadian Press.]
London, July 6.—A Stockholm dispatch to the Post says:

"A Swedish revenue cutter which went to the assistance of the leaking Norwegian motor ship Hanza discovered that the cargo consisted of 20 tons of copper consigned to Liebeck, Germany. At the request of the Norwegian authorities the ship and cargo were arrested."

The police at Christiania discovered that a German freight car which was fitted with double walls, between which a considerable quantity of copper had been concealed. Three Germans were arrested.

EXPLOSIVE FACTORY AT BOLOEIL, QUE., BLOWN UP

House and Brewery at Festubert Wrecked During Recent Fighting

House near Festubert wrecked by shell fire. Captain Adam, Markham.

The Brewery at Festubert after the shell had finished their work.

The above pictures serve to give some idea of the extent and character of the heavy fighting at Festubert, where the Canadian Division was engaged. Lieut. Harold McCoo (inset), was man of the Standard Bank at Markham when he enlisted. Capt. Adam of the 58th Battalion (inset), was man of the Standard Bank at Markham when he enlisted.

Carranza Loses 600 In Assault

Attempt To Take Paredon, Villa Stronghold, Ends in Failure.

[Canadian Press.]
Laredo, Texas, July 6.—Six hundred Carranza troops were killed in an all-day battle yesterday in a fruitless attempt to capture Paredon, a Villa stronghold, about thirty miles northwest of Monterrey, according to reports reaching here today.

Eighteen thousand men are said to have been engaged in the battle, with total casualties on both sides of 2,000. Carranza reinforcements renewed the attack today.

OLEVERLY DUG TRENCHES

Machine Gun Section of 33rd Hide Their Pieces Underground.

The pioneer section of the 33rd was busy this morning digging trenches and the machine-gun section dug in their ordnance with consummate skill. So cleverly did they conceal it, yet place it in a position where the enemy, if he advanced, would receive a deadly hail of bullets that their work brought forth words of commendation from Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith, G. S. O. The trenches that were built were cleverly concealed, so cleverly, in fact, that the reporter until within a few yards could not detect their position. The men prove themselves apt students in this work.

FOUND WIFE'S BODY IN WELL NEAR HOUSE

William Nagle of Dereham Has Horrifying Experience—No Inquest.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, July 6.—At Salford this morning, the death of Mrs. Nagle, wife of William Nagle, a well known Dereham farmer, occurred under very sad circumstances. Her dead body was found in a well near the house.

She left the house some time before, and when her husband went to look for her he was horrified to find her drowned in the well. A doctor from Mount Eliza was called, as was also Dr. Williams, coroner of this town. He considered the circumstances such that they did not justify an inquest. Deceased was about fifty years old and highly esteemed.

WIDOW'S SUDDEN DEATH.

[Canadian Press.]
Quebec, July 6.—While attending mass Sunday at St. Paul, Mrs. Jos. Morin, a widow, collapsed and died before medical aid could reach her.

Seven Men Missing and Are Believed To Have Been Killed.

CAUSE IS STILL UNKNOWN

Explosion Occurred in Cordite Department, Destroying the Building.

LOOKING FOR A GERMAN

Police Inquiring About Alien Enemy Said To Have Been There.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, July 6.—Seven men are known to be missing and are probably dead as a result of a cordite explosion at the plant of the Canadian Explosives Company at Boloeil, Que., about 25 miles from here, this morning. Ten people were severely injured. Among the missing are Capt. Murray Wilson, manager of the cordite department of the company; Aylmer Brown of the Dupont powder works, Wilmington, and J. Sammons, a British Government inspector loaned to the company.

The details of the accident were difficult to obtain as the men working in the cordite department, where the explosion occurred are either missing or are so badly hurt that they can give no account of their experiences. First stories attributed the explosion to a fire, and later it was said that experiments were being conducted.

Making Munitions.

The firm, which is affiliated with the Dupont powder works, Wilmington, Del., was engaged, it is understood, in filling explosive orders for the Canadian and British governments.

Those who were first at the scene state the explosion practically wrecked the cordite department.

Rescue was difficult for a while because of the fire that attacked the remains of the building.

Special trains were ordered, and as fast as the injured were got out, they were dispatched to this city and placed in hospitals.

Woman's Explanation.

One of the badly injured is H. C. Shock, an explosive expert from Wilmington, Del.

A number of women were working in the cordite department and who were badly hurt, were among the first saved.

A description of the accident was given by one of the women employed in the factory when she recovered consciousness. She said a chipping machine caused a spark to ignite the cordite. The explosion followed immediately.

ANY CONNECTION?

Quebec, July 6.—A message received today from New Brunswick, says that last night about 7 o'clock a large aeroplane landed in a field outside the village, and that two men with plans and papers alighted. Their flight shortly after towards Montreal.

LOOKING FOR GERMAN.
Montreal, July 6.—From the head office of the company here, who went out to Boloeil, began an investigation this afternoon of rumors that a German, at one time employed in the plant, may have been connected with the accident.

This afternoon an official statement issued by the company simply announced that a fire had occurred in the Boloeil plant, and that "some lives" had been lost.

The amount of damage done is estimated at $20,000.

ADMITS ESTIMATE SHOWS "STUFFING"

Prof. Brydone-Jack On Stand in Winnipeg Building Inquiry.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, July 6.—Resuming his examination of Prof. Brydone-Jack of Manitoba University at this morning's session of the royal commission, C. P. Wilson questioned him regarding the $80,000 contract which was destroyed last fall.

The professor stated that prior to, or during the last session of the Legislature, he had made for an estimate, made for this contract. Accordingly he carried his files over to the provincial architect's office, where Horwood assisted the estimate and some of the correspondence with E. C. Shankland, the Chicago architect, in connection therewith.

In further testimony about the contract the professor said he had been asked to report on it, but never did so. It caused some uneasiness, and was hanging back. His first reason for not reporting on it was that no plans were supplied to him, and Horwood had not given sufficient data. Shown the Horwood estimate for the south wing contract of $125,000, witness conceded it bore evidence of "padding or stuffing." It was not among the estimates with which he had anything to do. The letters which Horwood got from Brydone-Jack's files showed that Shankland consulted with the professor about prices in the $802,000 estimate. Brydone-Jack said it was understood they should both report on it; but he did not do so for reasons previously stated.

ONLY 782 AMPUTATIONS

Number of Operations on Wounded in Britain and France.

[Canadian Press.]
London, July 6.—In only 782 cases has it been necessary to amputate one or more limbs of British soldiers admitted to hospitals in England and France since the commencement of the war to the present time, according to a reply made today by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary of war, to a question in the House of Commons.

BERLIN SAYS ITALIAN CONSULS LEAVE TURKEY

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, July 6.—The Overseas News Agency today gave out for publication a dispatch under a Constantinople date declaring that the Italian consuls in Turkey were slowly leaving the country, and that they probably would be followed by the Italian ambassador. American representatives will take care of Italian interests when the Italians leave. An exception to this is Palestine, where Spain will protect Italian interests.

TWO CHILDREN STARVING, MOTHER SICK AND MONEY IS HOARDED

Pathetic Case of Destitution Revealed Near Wingham—Husband "Saves for Rainy Day and Leaves Other Days to the Lord."

(Special to The Advertiser.)
WINGHAM, July 5.—Provincial Constable Phippen reports a weird, almost revolting case, for which a family of four is being brought here today and must answer before Magistrate A. J. Morton on Wednesday.
It is a pathetic case, too—the case of a mother lying in bed with a five-month-old baby, and three small children, the eldest being only four years of age, found in a state of destitution, while in the house was plenty of money, hoarded and hidden by the head of the house, who is under arrest.
On Saturday night, July 3, Constable Phippen, who is also an officer of the Children's Aid Society, regarding the destitution of the family of Fred and Mary, called on the door. The officer states that he was appalled by what he saw in answering the call.
The four members of the family, who were starving, the scant furniture in the house had practically been

TURKISH LOSSES 20,130 IN 5 DAYS

Gen. Hamilton Reports Successes in the Dardanelles Fighting.

DESTROYER'S FINE WORK
Gourkhas Quickly Avenge the Wounding of Officer by Kukri Charge.

(Canadian Press.)
LONDON, July 5.—10:15 p.m.—The official press bureau tonight issued the following report from General Sir Ian Hamilton, covering the recent operations in the Dardanelles:
"About 2 a.m. (date not given) the searchlights of the destroyer Scorpion discovered half a Turkish battalion advancing near the sea, to the northwest of Krithia. The Scorpion opened fire and few of the enemy got away.
"Simultaneously the enemy attacked a trench which we had captured, due west of Krithia, advancing from a nullah in close formation in several lines. The attack came under artillery and machine gun fire, the enemy losing heavily. The foremost Turks got within forty yards of the parapet, but only a few returned.
"The Turks made several heavy bomb attacks during the night, our troops being twice driven back a short distance. Early in the morning, we regained these trenches by a bayonet attack. They have since been strengthened.
"At 5:30 a.m. 2,000 Turks moving from Krithia into a ravine were scattered by machine gun fire.
"The operations reflect great credit on the vigilance and accurate shooting of the Scorpion. The Turkish losses in the nullah and ravine are estimated at from 1,600 to 2,000 dead.
"Gourkhas became infuriated.
"About 10 p.m. on June 30 the Turks again attacked with bombs a portion of the most northerly trenches, captured by us on the 28th. An officer of the Gourkhas, being wounded—not dangerously, as it turned out—the men became infuriated, flung all their bombs at the enemy and then, charging down out of the trench, used their kukris for the first time, with excellent effect.
"About dawn the Turks once more attempted to attack over the open, but nearly the whole of these attacking forces, about half a battalion, were shot down, and a final bomb attack, though commenced, failed utterly.
"Further reports from the Australian and New Zealand corps as to the enemy's attack on the 29th and 30th on our right flank, state that the action was commenced with a very heavy fire, from machine guns, and a series of charges. The Turks then launched their attack, and came right up to the parapet, where they were met by our rifles and machine guns. Those who succeeded in getting into our trenches were instantly killed; the remainder were driven back by our rifles. By 2 a.m. the enemy broke, and many were killed while withdrawing.
"Turks Surprised.
"The enemy's attack was strongest on the right. The Turks were completely taken aback by the concealed snipers, who were lying in the front of this. Some got into the trenches, and several were killed or thrown back.
"Following the defeat of this attack the enemy attacked at 3 a.m. on our left, and 30 men came over the parapet in front of the right of Quinn's position. These were duly polished off.
"Prisoners brought in state that three fresh battalions were employed in the main attack which was made by personal order of Enver Pasha (the Turkish war minister), who, as they definitely assert, was present in the trenches on June 28. This is confirmed by the statement of an intelligent Armenian prisoner captured on the 28th. According to him, no further attacks were to be made because if the Turks remained on the defensive the British would be forced to attack and would suffer severely, as the Turks hitherto had suffered. But Enver Pasha, when he arrived in the northern section, overruled the instructions, and orders were received by the prisoners' regiment that the Australians were to be driven into the sea. Again, Driven Back.
"On July 2, after a heavy bombardment of our advanced positions by high explosives and shrapnel, lasting half an hour, the enemy advanced, and drove us back to the main nullah, about a mile from our front, by the accurate shooting of the Scorpion and by our rifle and machine gun fire.
"About 7 p.m. the Turkish artillery recommenced their bombardment, under cover of which two battalions emerged from the nullah to the northeast of our most advanced trench and commenced an attack across the open, advancing in two regular lines.
"At the oldest a very effective shrapnel fire from the 10th Battery, Royal Field Artillery, caused great execution among the attacking forces. Gourkhas then advanced, and there being insufficient room in the trenches, took up a position on some excavated ground in the rear, from which a deadly rifle fire was poured into the advancing lines.
"The Turkish forces could be seen endeavoring to get their men forward, but they would not face the fire, and retreated in disorder after suffering heavy casualties. The ground in front of our trenches in every direction can be seen covered with the Turkish dead. Patrols sent out at night report that the Turkish forces are in a state of confusion. There can be no possible doubt that the enemy's losses have been very heavy.
"Total Casualties 20,000.
"After checking and counter-checking the reports from all sources, I put down their total casualties between June 28 and July 2 at 15,150 killed and 15,000 wounded."

Store Closes At 1 o'clock Tomorrow

No Phone or Mail Orders for Wednesday morning sale goods.

Tomorrow the first July Wednesday half-holiday will be the most important, so far as morning sales are concerned, thus far this season. As the season advances the clearing lots become more numerous, and as July is the half-yearly inventory month the price finals on such will be of unusual significance. The sale list prepared for four and a half hours' selling tomorrow (8:30 to 1 o'clock) is a complete list of seasonable and wanted merchandise gathered from the basement to the fourth floor, including some of the greatest reductions of the season, which will be procurable only Wednesday morning at above-mentioned hours, as quantities will not be sufficient to last longer.

On Sale Wednesday Morning, 8:30 to 1 o'clock

All Colored Trimmed Hats, $1.39

The balance of the season's Trimmed Hats will be cleared Wednesday morning. All on one table, all one price; hats up to $7.50 originally; all this season's. Wednesday morning $1.39

Great Silk Reductions For Wednesday Morning

Three pieces Cheney's Showerproof Foulard Silks, 45 inches wide; plain colors only, in navy, Copenhagen and Dutch blues; regular price, $2.50. Wednesday a.m. 98c yard

Three pieces Satin Duchesse Roman Stripes, 38 inches wide, the prettiest and best imported lines for waists, under part of skirts and petticoats; regular $2.75 yard. Wednesday a.m. 98c yard

Three pieces Satin de Chine, 39 inches wide, in colors of pearl grey, mauve and tango, an excellent material for house dresses and petticoats; regular price, $1.50. Wednesday a.m. 98c yard

Two pieces Andalousa Satin Crepe, 40 inches wide, in pale blue and forget-me-not blue; regular $1.50 yard. Wednesday a.m. 98c yard

Special—July Whitewear Sale, 37c and 54c

Ladies' Drawers of good strong cotton, with cluster of tucks and wide open embroidery flounce. Wednesday morning 37c pair
Ladies' Gown of good cambric, kimono sleeves and neck trimmed with linen lace. Wednesday morning 54c

Dinner Will Commence At 11:30 Tomorrow

All in before 12:30 will have full service until 1 o'clock (the closing hour).

TWO ARE MISSING FROM WESTERN ONT. IN CASUALTY LIST

Ptes. Henry Rogers of Brantford and Herman Monto of Hanover.

MISSING.
BRANTFORD.
Pte. Henry Rogers.
HANOVER.
Pte. Herman Monto, 8th Battalion (previously reported wounded).

WOUNDED TWICE; THEN IS KILLED.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
WOODSTOCK, July 5.—Pte. W. Skinner, a local painter, was informed this morning that his brother, Harry, of England, had been killed in action. He had been wounded twice, and had spent two weeks in the hospital, prior to the engagement which proved so fatal to him.
Mr. Skinner has two brothers, residents of England, now serving the Empire on the battlefields of France.

PTE. HENRY ROGERS AMONG MISSING.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
BRANTFORD, July 5.—Word was received this morning that Pte. Henry Rogers, who left last year with the first Brantford contingent, was missing. This has been the first news of his whereabouts since he was reported missing, and he has experienced considerable anxiety.

PTE. G. KAVANAUGH BUT SLIGHTLY HURT.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
PITROBLEA, July 5.—Mrs. A. Kavanagh received a letter from her son, Pte. G. Kavanagh, who is in the University Hospital in Southern England. He is wounded slightly in the forearm and the side, but it is not at all serious. He received the wounds in a charge on June 15. He is cheerful and is confident over the result of the war.

30TH WELLINGTONS MOURN DEAD OFFICER.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
HARRISTON, July 5.—Under the auspices of the officers and members of the 30th Wellington Rifles a solemn and impressive service was held Sunday afternoon in the Exhibition Park, Mount Forest, in memory of their comrade, Lieut. Fred W. Campbell, who fell in Flanders fighting for the Empire. The service was largely attended, an evidence alike of the popularity of the late soldier and sympathy with the bereaved widow and family. The band of the regiment and the following officers were present: Lieut.-Col. J. J. Craig, Major Meyer, Major Livingston, Capt. Taylor, Capt. Parkinson, Capt. Smith, Capt. Fair, Capt. Perrie, and a large number of non-commissioned officers and privates from nearly every company in the regiment.
The meeting was addressed by Capt. T. J. R. Nafel, chaplain. Others who took part were: Rev. J. P. Duggan, Rev. E. J. Sturgeon, Rev. A. C. Eddy and Rev. T. E. Chilcott, chaplain 23rd Regiment.

STEAMSHIP FREIGHT SHEDS DESTROYED AT PT. HURON, MICH.

Fine Consignments of Port Huron, Duluth Company—Main Freight Lost.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
SARNIA, July 5.—The main freight sheds of the Port Huron and Duluth Steamship Company at North Port Huron were totally destroyed by fire which broke out shortly before 6 o'clock this evening.
Everything was burned in spite of the efforts of the Port Huron fire department. A large amount of freight was destroyed.
This company is operated by the Grand Trunk Railway System, and it is thought that freight may still be handled by that company's boats, but through the sheds at Point Edward.

Port Huron, Mich., July 6.—The Grand Trunk Railway freight sheds, located on the St. Clair River front, were destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss estimated at about $200,000. The office of the Port Huron and Duluth Steamship Company, adjoining also was burned. The property destroyed included several hundred tons of sugar, flour, feed and other freight and 32 freight cars. The origin of the fire is not known.

LEFLER REMANDED

Warrant Not Having Been Issued, Step Is Necessary.

WINDSOR, July 5.—When William Lefler, alleged dynamite, was arrested before Magistrate Miers in Ford City police court this afternoon, it was discovered that no formal warrant had been sworn out against him.
He was therefore remanded until next Monday. In the meantime a warrant will be issued, charging him with conspiracy in trying to destroy property with explosives.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES

FIRST BATTALION.
KILLED IN ACTION—Pte. Chas. W. Crozier, Chatham, Ont.
DIED OF WOUNDS—Pte. Goldwin Mc. Donald, Ont.
WOUNDED—Pte. M. Horne, Parry Sound, Ont. Pte. Wm. Shipp, Rougemont, Que.

KILLED IN ACTION—(May 23.)—Pte. Arthur K. Brown, England.

SECOND BATTALION.
KILLED IN ACTION (June 7)—Pte. George Smith, Niagara, N.H.
WOUNDED—Pte. Herbert Moulder, Parry Sound, Ont.

THIRD BATTALION.
PRISONER OF WAR AT MAGDEBURG—Pte. Wm. H. King, Edmonton, Alta.

FOURTH BATTALION.
DIED—Pte. Michael McDermott, Quebec.

SEVENTH BATTALION.
UNOFFICIALLY REPORTED PRISONER OF WAR—Pte. Frank W. R. Adams, Van-UNOFFICIALLY PRISONER AT MUNSTER—Pte. John W. McConeghy, Brantford, Ont.

EIGHTH BATTALION.
SLIGHTLY WOUNDED—Pte. Robert Allan, Moose Jaw.
MISSING—Pte. D. Y. Baptist, Vancouver, B.C. (previously reported wounded). Pte. Herman Monto, Hanover, P.O. Ont. (previously reported wounded). Pte. George H. O'Brien, Magnetawan, Ont. (previously reported wounded).

TENTH BATTALION.
WOUNDED—Pte. T. G. Cramm, Oak Point, Man.

THIRTEENTH BATTALION.
WOUNDED AND PRISONER—Pte. H. H. James, Verdun, Que. (at Padborn), Corp. Ernest McDuffie, Montreal (at Oberhausen).

KILLED IN ACTION—(June 28.)—Pte. John L. Gorman, England.
WOUNDED—Pte. Thomas Johnston, Scotland.

SIXTEENTH BATTALION.
KILLED IN ACTION—(June 23.)—Pte. Louis L. Norwood.
SERIOUSLY WOUNDED—Pte. Sydney H. Read, England.

TWENTY-EIGHTH BATTALION.
DEATH—Pte. Peter J. Gorman, New Zealand. (Run over by motor).

THIRD FIELD ARTILLERY BRIGADE.
SEVERELY WOUNDED—Bombardier C. R. O'Malley, Ireland.

BIRKETT OFFERS TO MAKE RESTITUTION

Binocular Contractor Is Willing To Pay Back Surplus Profits.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
OTTAWA, July 5.—One army contractor this afternoon offered restitution of overpayments made to him. Another had a certificate of high character given him by Sir Charles Davidson, the royal commissioner.
Thomas Birkett, Jun., who sold binoculars for military use, offered restitution of any profit, which the royal commissioner judged excessive. Mr. Birkett was before the public accounts commission last year and again under examination before the inquiry last week.
Some glasses, which cost about $17 each, in the first instance were turned in to the King's Commission for the Government at $23 each. This was not the case with all the glasses. Ella estimated the profit of Birkett, between the first and second examination, at an average of 44 per cent. Today Birkett accompanied his offer of restitution with a check of $1,000 as an evidence of good faith.
Profits Under 10 Per Cent.
J. A. MacKenzie, who made hospital garments and nurses' costumes, was put on the stand. He produced invoices of materials used and cost sheets of work done. All the garments were made under contract, obtained after competitive tenders. Mr. MacKenzie showed that in no case were his profits as high as 10 per cent, and in many cases much lower. He offered to open his entire factory accounts to the commission and the auditor-general. He showed from his auditor-general's report that the prices he charged for these garments made in wartime were far lower than the Government had paid for similar articles during the past three or four years before the war. The statements so impressed Sir Charles Davidson, that he smilingly remarked that Mr. MacKenzie should be made royal hospital contractor to the forces by His Majesty, Mr. MacKenzie is a Scotch-Canadian and a Liberal.

MORE WHEAT FLOUR IN BUDAPEST
PARIS, July 5.—3:30 p.m.—Beginning Sunday next, the flour will not be mixed in wheat flour in the Hungarian capital and the daily ration for each person will be increased from 7 to 10½ ounces, according to a dispatch received by the Havas News Agency today from Budapest by way of Geneva.

Port Stanley Subscribers

Arrangements have been completed for the delivery of both the morning and evening editions of The Advertiser at Port Stanley, from June 28 to September 8, 1915, and the same satisfactory service regarding news items and delivery of papers that has been in force for the past seven years is assured for this season. Londoners spending their holidays at Port Stanley, can secure their favorite newspaper by notifying or telephoning The Circulation Department, Phone 5570.

The Aluminum Demonstration Continues All Week—Basement

MEN'S $4.00 MOTOR GAUNTLETS, $1.95.
50 pairs of Fine Leather Motor Gauntlets (traveler's samples), in tan, natural or black; all sizes. To clear Wednesday morning... $1.95 pair

100 PAIRS MEN'S TROUSERS, $1.50.
Tweed and Worsted Trousers at the price of overalls, 100 pairs only, sizes 32 to 42; a genuine bargain. About half-price Wednesday morning... $1.50 pair

FIBRE SILK SOCKS, 3 PAIRS FOR $1.00.
Men's Fibre Silk Socks, in black, tan, palm beach and white; sizes 9½ to 11. Wednesday morning... 35c, or 3 pairs for $1.00

BOYS' BLOUSES, 50c.
Sport Blouses, in blue and white only, for ages 6 to 14 years, with low turn-back collar; hot-weather kind. Wednesday morning... 50c each

AFTERNOON TEA—10c.
From 3 to 5:30. Strawberries and Ice Cream Served in Restaurant for 10c.—Fourth Floor.

600 ITALIANS PASS THROUGH ST. THOMAS TO MEET AUSTRIANS

"We Will Lick Them" Is Battle Cry of the Allies.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
ST. THOMAS, July 5.—Quite an imposing sight was witnessed at the Whabash depot in St. Thomas today, when a special train made up of ten 600 Italian reservists to New York to embark for Italy, stopped for lunch. The train was gaily decorated. The locomotive pulling the special was covered with Italian, French, Belgian, Russian and English flags.

CHATHAM FLAG DAY NETS $1,000.
CHATHAM, July 5.—The Daughters of the Empire announced that the receipts from Flag Day on Saturday will probably exceed $1,000.

band, which played several selections. When the train pulled out a rousing cheer was given them by the big number of railwaymen who had gathered at the station. The men from Italy answered with lusty cheers for Canada and Britain, waving their hats and shouting: "We will lick the Austrians!"

HAVE FIVE SONS AT WAR.
BRANTFORD, July 5.—Another loyal family has been discovered in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Pizay of Chatham street have five sons serving their King and country. One of them was seriously wounded a short time ago.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.
New York, July 6.—Arrived: Steamship "United States," Copenhagen.

Furniture Specials for Wednesday Morning Buyers

SOLID QUARTER-OAK ARM ROCKERS, polished, the spring seats are upholstered with genuine leather—$10.00 Rockers for $7.50 each, $11.00 Rockers for $7.75 each, and $9.00 Rockers for $6.50 each. Come early.

Cotton Felt Layer Mattresses, Wednesday Morning, $5.25

These Mattresses are made of new cotton carded into layers each the full size of the mattress; the covering is a good quality art ticking; there is no shoddy, seagrass, excelsior or loose cotton, nothing but layer cotton; made with French-roll edge; sizes 3, 3.6, 4 and 4.6 feet. Wednesday morning only $5.25

FINE VOILE CURTAINS, REGULAR $5.00 PAIR, FOR $3.45 PAIR—Fifty pair fine Voile Curtains, made up with very effective insertions, and laces, extra well made and very popular curtains; so easily laundered and serviceable (ceru and ivory); sizes 37 to 40 inches by 2½ yards. Special $3.45 pair

MADRAS AND SCRIM CURTAINS, REGULAR $2.00 TO $2.50, FOR $1.25 PAIR—Twenty-one pairs only Ceru Madras Curtains, 45 inches by 2½ yards, bordered both sides and across bottom; can be used in singles or pairs. Special, $1.25 pair

Thirty pairs Fine Scrim Curtains, in ivory and ceru with lace edge, also insertions; size 36 inches by 2½ yards; regular $2.00 to $2.50 pair. Special $1.25 pair

ALUMINUM SPECIALS.
Regular 25c Pie Plates... 15c each
Regular 25c Cake Tins... 15c each
Regular 35c Pudding Dishes... 15c each
Regular 45c Saucepans... 25c each

CEDAR OIL MOP OUTFIT, 69c.
Fifty only left of these $1.00 Mop and Bottle of Cedar Oil Outfits to clear Wednesday morning—medium-size Mop and Bottle of Cedar Oil Polish for 69c

SALE OF WALLPAPER ON WEDNESDAY MORNING
VARNISH TILES, HALF PRICE—Five hundred rolls in green, tan, grey and blue colorings; regular 30c. Sale price 15c

Manufacturer's job lots, bought at a discount, which enables us to clear at this price; an opportunity you cannot afford to lose, since varnish tiles are continually advancing in price; a select number of block designs, in blue and greens, for bath and toilet use; tan and grey colors mostly in block and floral designs for kitchen, pantry, etc.; 500 rolls, 30c varnish tiles. Special 15c roll

A limited number of $7.00 Dining-Room Papers left. This includes hanging and paper.

FOURTH FLOOR.
LINENS
75c AND $1.00 EMBROIDERED SHAMS, 50c PER PAIR—These pretty Embroidered Linen shams, perfectly fresh goods, with drawwork and neat embroidery; our regular 75c and $1.00 per pair; only 50 pairs in the lot. Wednesday morning at 50c pair

$1.00 EMBROIDERED PILLOW CASES AT 78c PER PAIR—Six dozen only embroidered pillow cases, made of good heavy cotton and neatly embroidered; regularly sold at $1.00 pair. Wednesday morning at 78c pair

50c LACE AND LINEN DOLIES AT 29c EACH—About ten dozen assorted patterns in beautiful fine lace and linen dolies; just odd sizes. Wednesday, while they last, at 29c each

10c FACTORY COTTON, 7½c YARD.
A limited quantity of 36-inch 10-cent Factory Cotton will be sold Wednesday morning for 7½c yard

HOSIERY.
Ladies' Sheer Black Lisle Thread Hose, double garter top and sole; sizes 8½, 9 and 9½; regular 35c. Special 23c pair

AFTERNOON TEA—15c.
From 3 to 5:30 Cantaloup and Ice Cream Will Be Served in the Restaurant for 15c.—Fourth Floor.

NO PEACE WHILE BELGIUM IS WRONGED

British Delegate So Tells Women's Conference at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of Philip Snowden, member of the British Parliament from Blackburn, told women peace-workers of many nations here today that no peace advocate in Great Britain wants peace until the wrongs of Belgium have been righted. She spoke to the International Conference of Women Workers to promote permanent peace from a rostrum hung with peace banners and canopied by a giant white banner lettered in purple with "The Revolt Against War."

"Peace workers of Great Britain," said Mrs. Snowden, "realize that the martyred nation theory of obtaining peace is not practical politics and cannot succeed."

TWO GERMAN GENERALS DEPART THIS WORLD
One Killed in Action July 3; the Other Dies Result of War.

Berlin, via London, July 6—3:38 a.m.—Lieut.-Gen. George Hildebrandt, commander of a German infantry division, fell in battle on July 3.

Another, Lieut.-Gen. Von Paezel, has died of an illness contracted during the campaign.

15 Doz. House Dresses, 79c, 98c

Five dozen House Dresses of Figured Percale, with three-quarter set-in sleeve and V-shaped neck, with banding of plain material to harmonize; assorted sizes 34 to 42. Price 79c
Ten dozen House Dresses of assorted stripes and dots, in light and dark shades; neat, flat collar and cuffs, piped; skirt plain four-gored model, slightly raised at waistline; sizes 36 to 44. Price 98c

SALE OF VOILE AND LAWN BLOUSES, $1.39
Dainty Lawn and Voile Blouses, with neat embroidered designs and trimmings of lace and tucks; also styles showing plain ptm tucks; made with three-quarter sleeves and low neck; five very attractive models to select from; sizes 34 to 44. Price $1.39

SECOND FLOOR.
AT TOILET COUNTER
HALF-POUND BARS OLIVE OIL CASTILE SOAP FOR 6c

Huberta Espana, the pure Olive Oil Castile Soap. This soap is made from pure olive oil, which makes it an excellent soap for the skin, soothing and healing the skin. It is used in hospitals, etc. Regular 15c bar. Special, half-pound bar, 6c

5c PAPER PINS FOR 1c PER PAPER.
Our regular 600-pin sheet of 600 assorted pins, regular 5c paper, slightly damaged. Special 1c paper

WHITE WASH BELTING, 10c.
This is a fine woven, mercerized belting, 1½ inches wide, and makes an excellent belt for the wash gown, the narrow belt being the popular thing now. Special 10c per belt length

Wednesday Morning at Stationery Counter—Picnic Supplies

Outing Sets, done up in sanitary packages, consisting of two heavy crepe paper covers, 6x4½ feet and 25 table napkins; regular 25c. Special 19c

Smaller Sets, with one crepe cover 54x42 inches, and 12 napkins; regular 15c. Special 9c Picnic Plates, made of wood fibre... 5c per dozen
Or... 35c per 100

Five-inch Picnic Plates for salads or side dishes... 3 dozen for 10c
Picnic Cups... 15c dozen
Sanitary Table Napkins... 15c per 100

50c WOOL DELAINES AND FRENCH FLANNELS, 29c YARD.

Striped and bordered effects, in lengths from 3 to 20 yards, of Wool Challies and French Flannels, 20 yards, suitable for summer wear. Among these are a number of waist lengths in cream ground with small spot in green, blue, black or pink; regular 50c yard. To be cleared at 29c yard

10c FACTORY COTTON, 7½c YARD.
A limited quantity of 36-inch 10-cent Factory Cotton will be sold Wednesday morning for 7½c yard

HOSIERY.
Ladies' Sheer Black Lisle Thread Hose, double garter top and sole; sizes 8½, 9 and 9½; regular 35c. Special 23c pair

AFTERNOON TEA—15c.
From 3 to 5:30 Cantaloup and Ice Cream Will Be Served in the Restaurant for 15c.—Fourth Floor.

NO PEACE WHILE BELGIUM IS WRONGED

British Delegate So Tells Women's Conference at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of Philip Snowden, member of the British Parliament from Blackburn, told women peace-workers of many nations here today that no peace advocate in Great Britain wants peace until the wrongs of Belgium have been righted. She spoke to the International Conference of Women Workers to promote permanent peace from a rostrum hung with peace banners and canopied by a giant white banner lettered in purple with "The Revolt Against War."

"Peace workers of Great Britain," said Mrs. Snowden, "realize that the martyred nation theory of obtaining peace is not practical politics and cannot succeed."

TWO GERMAN GENERALS DEPART THIS WORLD
One Killed in Action July 3; the Other Dies Result of War.

Berlin, via London, July 6—3:38 a.m.—Lieut.-Gen. George Hildebrandt, commander of a German infantry division, fell in battle on July 3.

Another, Lieut.-Gen. Von Paezel, has died of an illness contracted during the campaign.

SPANISH REPORTS UNREST

Captain At Manila Tells of Serious Trouble Among Natives.

ENGLISHMEN MURDERED
Says All British Subjects From 20 to 35 Called To Arms.

[Canadian Press.]
Manila, July 6.—A serious unrest throughout India is reported by officers and passengers of the Spanish mail steamer Alicante, which has arrived here after touching at Aden, Arabia, Colombo, Ceylon and Singapore. The official explanation is that the trouble is due to the present international differences, but it is said they are in reality the result of animosity against the natives against the white population.

Some Murders.
There have been several outbreaks, it is reported, in the vicinity of Colombo, where the natives are revolting against the British. Several Englishmen have been killed and a number of British subjects have been arrested. As a result martial law has been declared, and all Europeans have been armed and all British subjects are said to have been ordered to transport all white women and children to Australia or their home countries.

All Called to Service.
The Alicante's captain is authority for the statement that passengers who have travelled recently through India consider the situation serious. There have been no further outbreaks at Singapore, but because of the uneasiness over conditions the authorities have called for service all British subjects between the ages of 20 and 35.

The native population of British North Borneo also is reported restless and many natives have been killed. Japanese are reported to be patrolling the waters of Borneo.

Not Against Europeans.
A riotous scene took place in which many Moslems were killed, and many Europeans were injured. It was due to a sudden outbreak of racial and commercial animosity and not directed against the European population or the colonial government. The latest telegrams state that the situation is in hand and improving.

The British official press bureau announced on July 2 that two fanatic Mohammedans had run amok at Jhansi, India, killing the major and a lieutenant, a bombardier and wounding a captain and a sergeant. The act of the 7th Indian Cavalry. The act was said to have been an isolated one with no one but the two murderers were involved.

[Continued From Page One]

BLOW UP GALLERIES

some hundred prisoners in this fighting. There has been no change on the Bug above Sokolka, on the Zlota Lipa or on the Dniester.

WARSAW BELIEVED SAFE.

London, July 6.—Special correspondents in Petrograd telegraph optimistic predictions concerning a coming Russian campaign for the defence of Warsaw, which forms the centre of a vast circle of 100 miles of strong fortifications. Even the fall of the fortress of Lvovograd, according to these correspondents, would not mean the loss of the Polish capital.

Fighting has been as desperate in the official Petrograd reports, is raging between the Vistula and the Bug Rivers, along the base of a triangle of which Warsaw forms the apex. The country there is marshy, and it is predicted in London that because of the character of the terrain this triangle will be a constant drain on the German resources, until even victory will be almost as costly as defeat.

The German thrust against the French positions to the west of the Moselle River apparently has not extended beyond the infantry attack which remained in the trenches, where it was lost by the Germans; but preparations probably are under way for a further advance, as Paris reports a violent bombardment in this region.

In reply to the German wireless claim of an aerial raid on Landguard fort at Harwich, the British Admiralty has issued a statement that the fort is being attacked by a German seaplane and an aeroplane, flying at a great height, were pursued by British airmen and forced to drop their bombs harmlessly into the sea.

Risals has apologized to Sweden for the violation of Swedish neutrality when the German machine gunners fired into the air from the island of Gothland after she had been fired into her within the three-mile limit.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES GO INTO EFFECT NOW

Near Side Stops For Street Cars To Be Enforced At Once.

The new traffic regulations for street cars and jitneys at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, where they will stop on the near side, will go into effect at once. The London Street Railway has been checked at the business at this point, and Supp. Harry Humeston stated at the council meeting last evening that over 14,700 people go, on an average, in a week. This means that well over 60,000 board the cars at the corner of Dundas and Richmond every week.

Supp. Humeston stated that he did not favor the plan adopted by the council of the North Belt and Ottawa lines having to turn at the corner.

TWO MEN MISSING.

[Canadian Press.]
Digby, N. S., July 6.—Dinner Monday, 23, and John Kennedy, 26, both residents of Waldeck East, Annapolis County, are missing. They left Church Point yesterday afternoon in a small sailboat for Burrill's Cove, two miles away, and have not since been heard from.

ADVERTISER "TRIPPERS" BACK AFTER GLORIOUS HOLIDAY

Return From Consolation Trip That Was One Continual Series of Exciting and Fascinating Enjoyments.

"We were all expecting a lovely trip, but it was beyond anything of which we ever dreamed. Worth the trouble of the contest? I should say it was."

The above exultant speech means that the winners of the consolation trip in The Advertiser's Panama-Pacific trip contest arrived home last night, very sleepy, but very, very happy.

"There wasn't a single incident to mar our pleasure, and we had everything for our happiness and comfort. The Advertiser, all money and thoughtfulness could provide," is reiterated again and again. Of the personal conductor who represented the Advertiser, all money and thoughtfulness could provide, "is reiterated again and again. Of the personal conductor who represented the Advertiser, all money and thoughtfulness could provide, "is reiterated again and again.

Excitement of the Trip.
Western Ontario was charming as the train sped to Toronto Monday morning, June 28, and the trippers viewed the scenery with interest.

The "Queens" in Toronto, where they lunched, was a place with which to fall in love. Next followed the excitement of setting sail on the R. and O. steamer and getting comfortably settled in state-rooms. The day among the Thousand Islands was a most interesting one, with the majestic progress up the St. Lawrence.

"Quebec was reached, on the return, at nightfall, and the travellers slept in the Chateau Frontenac. Bright and early next morning they were on their way to the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, and after an interesting hour, left for Montmorency Falls. Never before.

Everyone Congenial.
Apart from the trip itself and the comfortable conditions under which it was made, the members of the party are congratulating themselves upon the fact that everyone was so congenial.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

There had anything tasted quite so good to fore hungry young women as the tempting brook trout, the whitest of white bread and the other delicious cookery which made up their luncheon at the Hotel Kent House. Childs and company have extracted more enjoyment than did these five from a visit to the Zoo.

Old World in New.
As they drove around Quebec City in the afternoon, they were inclined to rub their eyes and say: "Is this old world looking place really Canada?" They had learned about the Plains of Abraham in their school days, and that name, at least, was quite convincing.

The Place Viger was elected the stopping place in Montreal, and this city will be remembered for the mountain drive, the visit to Notre Dame and other celebrated churches and the Chateau de Ramsay, filled with a regular museum of interesting objects.

There were real regrets upon leaving the boat at Toronto wharf, but these were soon forgotten in breakfast at the hotel, and an automobile trip around the Queen City. After that, there was a whole afternoon for visiting the stores.

Nobody knew exactly when the trippers were due to return, and as a consequence their arrival home was unmarked by any ostentatious reception. Prince's Highway reached her home, and the members of the family had left a few minutes before to meet the train. They were under the impression it actually put in an appearance.

Everyone Congenial.
Apart from the trip itself and the comfortable conditions under which it was made, the members of the party are congratulating themselves upon the fact that everyone was so congenial.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British Empire for a director of the department, and he declared that he had picked out a man who stood unrivalled in technical knowledge and the sanity of his advice. That man was Viscount Haldane, and he declared that if von Donop should go he would be almost irreplaceable.

Arrangements Made.
Viscount Haldane said that in October a committee, presided over by Lord Kitchener, assembled in the war office. David Lloyd George and other members were in attendance. It was decided that it would be necessary to increase the output of munitions tenfold. Everyone was contributing to the effort, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them. If those orders had been executed, the output would have been in a tremendous position, but labor difficulties confounded all the calculations of the manufacturers, and the necessary orders were given to manufacturers, who undertook to execute them.

Unparalleled Expert.
During the course of his speech Viscount Haldane deprecated undue pessimism. He thought there was an overdone tone of Job and Jeremiah combined in the press of late. He proceeded to defend the ordinance department and Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, director of the department, from recent attacks in Parliament. He said that when he occupied the war office he had searched the British

HOWDEN SAYS HE PAID $25,000 TO STOP PROTESTS

Claims He Promised Liberal Agent Twenty-five Thousand and More.

FOUND MONEY IN CLUB

Picked It Up on Hat Rack, Where It Had Been Left.

[Canadian Press.] W. H. Howden, ex-attorney-at-law of Montreal, gave evidence today before the commission appointed to investigate the Pullman charges dealing with an alleged agreement whereby $25,000 was paid and $25,000 more promised to Wm. Chambers, who had told him he represented the Liberals, for the dropping of election protests by the Liberals.

This arrangement, Mr. Howden said, had nothing to do with the change of Government. He said that Mr. Newton, a prominent Conservative, had come to him and told him that Chambers had a proposition in connection with a election protest, then being prepared for the courts. He had an interview with Newton and Chambers, the latter telling him that he represented the Liberals, who wanted $50,000 to drop the protests. Mr. Howden believed it would help the Roblin Government if these protests were dropped, and so negotiated with Chambers. While admitting that the cabinet knew he was negotiating in connection with the protest, he said he was not a member of the cabinet, or of the Conservative party, knew there was any money transaction connected with it.

Says Norris Was Interested. An interview followed with T. C. Norris, leader of the then Opposition. Mr. Howden told him that Chambers had been to see him with a proposition in reference to election protests, involving considerable money and he asked Mr. Norris if the party were behind it. Mr. Norris had answered that the party, as a party, did not discuss such things, but certain individuals, himself included, had the matter in hand and whatever arrangements Chambers made would be all right. Chambers, Mr. Norris said, was not a member of the party, and no arrangements which would not be carried out.

Norris told him, he said, he did not want to take office then. After this conversation, said Howden, he gave instructions to Newton to pay Chambers twenty-five thousand dollars. This was out of fifty thousand formerly handed over to Newton. The transfer took place at the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

Later on Howden was in the city and Chambers saw him. He wanted to know what to do with the money, there had been so much publicity over it. This was after the Government resigned. Howden told him he had not had the money and did not want it. He did not know exactly what he was told as to what became of this money. The other $25,000 was handed back by Newton.

"Chambers," said Howden, "was a very decent fellow, as good as they make them. It is unfortunate that Chambers and I are in the position we are in."

"To a politician those words go far enough," said Howden of his expression to Chambers that "if you're good you may get it," referring to the second half of the $50,000.

"While possibly there was a certain impropriety about what we were doing," said Howden, "there was never any suggestion between Chambers and myself of any corrupt motive."

"There was fifty thousand dollars put up. Twenty-five thousand went to Chambers and the other $25,000 was taken out of the vaults and returned to the party I got it from. I got the money from Dr. Simpson."

The second $25,000 was returned before the Government resigned.

Howden had never since seen the money Chambers got.

Mr. Pitblado then took the witness. Howden told him he had been a cabinet minister for eight years.

Prepared to Take Blame. "I am prepared to take my share of blame for this," said Howden.

"You think this arrangement is one that the attorney-general of the province should have entertained?"

"No, I don't think so."

"Why was it worth $50,000 to have the protests called off?"

"There were seven protests filed by the Liberals. I was not very much interested. Anything I did was from a party standpoint. You understand a man will do things for his party which he would not do for himself. It is unfortunate, but true."

There were eighteen protests in all. Howden had been told there were negotiations, but he was not concerned. He told Sir Rodmond Roblin, serving as second mate, was standing by his father's side when the latter was killed. The son was knocked down by the violence of the explosion of the ship, and as he lay on the ground, he was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

The witness said that he had been told that the ship was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

submarine from using torpedoes effectively.

"Our captain was a brave man," said one of the narrators. "He kept at his post on the bridge, coolly giving orders as the submarine circled around us, while he kept a position from which it could give us a death-blow with torpedoes. All the while the under-water boat continued to rain shot and shells upon us, and at times was so close that we were able to employ rifle fire effectively."

Captain Killed. "At last one shell blew the captain off the bridge. He fell high and with a terribly mutilating fall. Just before that he had given orders to launch the boats, but this was very difficult under the circumstances. Several were struck down while working at the davits. Ultimately four boats were got overboard and were rowed away until picked up."

The son of Capt. Farlow, serving as second mate, was standing by his father's side when the latter was killed. The son was knocked down by the violence of the explosion of the ship, and as he lay on the ground, he was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

The witness said that he had been told that the ship was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

March, said Mr. Howden, "G. M. Newton came to me and told me there was a proposition from the other side for the settlement of the election protests, and said William Chambers represented the Liberals. Newton and Chambers came to my office and saw me. There was considerable discussion and the sum of $50,000 was mentioned by Chambers as the consideration wanted. It was a condition precedent that the money should be in sight before further negotiations could be continued. I said I did not know where the money would come from. Chambers said the Liberal party was hard up and presumably wanted the money to pay election expenses. I told him I would see what I could do."

At a later date, March 23, he thought, a sum of money was left for him in a grip at the Carlton Club. He notified Newton, who called and got the money.

"After the House prorogued," he added, "negotiations were continued. I said to members we could not consider fifty thousand, but would have to cut it in half. Chambers said he would have to go back and make his arrangements all over again. He came back and said he had arranged it. I said if these chaps ask good you may get the other $25,000 later. Some of the protests, Chambers told him, were hard to handle."

Howden started to give the names of the men alleged by Chambers to have shared in the money, when Pitblado stopped him, precipitating considerable argument. Pitblado wanted the names struck out of the record, which counted the commissioners refused to take, although at the same time they requested the newspapers to leave out the names of the men. Howden said he was not here as a willing witness. I don't want to tell these things," said Howden.

Mr. Justice Perdue expressed the opinion that before any more witnesses were called Mr. Norris should be called and establish the agency of Chambers. An interview with Norris, who was considered the agency of Chambers, was then held. Howden told of an interview with T. C. Norris about the middle of April.

"I told him," he said, "Chambers had been in to see me to discuss a proposition with reference to election protests involving considerable money. I wanted to know if the party were behind it. Norris said the party, as a party, did not discuss matters of that kind, but individuals, himself included, had the matter in hand and whatever arrangements Chambers made would be all right. Chambers, Mr. Norris said, was not a member of the party, and no arrangements which would not be carried out."

Norris told him, he said, he did not want to take office then. After this conversation, said Howden, he gave instructions to Newton to pay Chambers twenty-five thousand dollars. This was out of fifty thousand formerly handed over to Newton. The transfer took place at the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

Later on Howden was in the city and Chambers saw him. He wanted to know what to do with the money, there had been so much publicity over it. This was after the Government resigned. Howden told him he had not had the money and did not want it. He did not know exactly what he was told as to what became of this money. The other $25,000 was handed back by Newton.

"Chambers," said Howden, "was a very decent fellow, as good as they make them. It is unfortunate that Chambers and I are in the position we are in."

"To a politician those words go far enough," said Howden of his expression to Chambers that "if you're good you may get it," referring to the second half of the $50,000.

"While possibly there was a certain impropriety about what we were doing," said Howden, "there was never any suggestion between Chambers and myself of any corrupt motive."

"There was fifty thousand dollars put up. Twenty-five thousand went to Chambers and the other $25,000 was taken out of the vaults and returned to the party I got it from. I got the money from Dr. Simpson."

The second $25,000 was returned before the Government resigned.

Howden had never since seen the money Chambers got.

Mr. Pitblado then took the witness. Howden told him he had been a cabinet minister for eight years.

Prepared to Take Blame. "I am prepared to take my share of blame for this," said Howden.

"You think this arrangement is one that the attorney-general of the province should have entertained?"

"No, I don't think so."

"Why was it worth $50,000 to have the protests called off?"

"There were seven protests filed by the Liberals. I was not very much interested. Anything I did was from a party standpoint. You understand a man will do things for his party which he would not do for himself. It is unfortunate, but true."

There were eighteen protests in all. Howden had been told there were negotiations, but he was not concerned. He told Sir Rodmond Roblin, serving as second mate, was standing by his father's side when the latter was killed. The son was knocked down by the violence of the explosion of the ship, and as he lay on the ground, he was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

The witness said that he had been told that the ship was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

submarine from using torpedoes effectively.

"Our captain was a brave man," said one of the narrators. "He kept at his post on the bridge, coolly giving orders as the submarine circled around us, while he kept a position from which it could give us a death-blow with torpedoes. All the while the under-water boat continued to rain shot and shells upon us, and at times was so close that we were able to employ rifle fire effectively."

Captain Killed. "At last one shell blew the captain off the bridge. He fell high and with a terribly mutilating fall. Just before that he had given orders to launch the boats, but this was very difficult under the circumstances. Several were struck down while working at the davits. Ultimately four boats were got overboard and were rowed away until picked up."

The son of Capt. Farlow, serving as second mate, was standing by his father's side when the latter was killed. The son was knocked down by the violence of the explosion of the ship, and as he lay on the ground, he was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

The witness said that he had been told that the ship was shot by a British destroyer. He was killed.

submarine from using torpedoes effectively.

French Battleship in Dardanelles

The St. Louis, of 12,000 Tons, Which Is One of the French Fleet Assisting in Forcing the Straits.

that time he told Pitblado he announced he had the Chambers proposition before him.

"Why was it worth fifty thousand dollars to have these protests dropped?" asked the counsel.

"It would have meant he by-elections and no election petitions. The Government majority certainly would affect him because it saved the by-elections on which the Government might lose."

Howden said Newton was an active Conservative politician.

Court adjourned at 1 o'clock.

When the royal commission opened this afternoon, Mr. Justice Perdue requested that when Hon. Mr. Norris was called, as he presumed the Premier would be, Mr. Howden be notified. He considered the conversation at the Royal Alexandra Hotel between Mr. Howden and the then leader of the Opposition was important, and as there might be some discrepancies, he wished Mr. Howden to be present. Mr. Howden said, if notified, he would attend.

The examination of Mr. Howden was continued. He said the only people he discussed the negotiations with were Mr. Chambers, Mr. Newton and Mr. Norris. Asked if he believed the Liberals had placed the negotiations in Chambers' hands, Mr. Howden said Chambers had informed him to that effect.

Referring to the protest being placed in his hands by Sir Rodmond Roblin, Mr. Howden said they had a difference as to how they should be handled. He thought it should be all or none, if any were to be dismissed, and Sir Rodmond only thought of handling a number of them. He said, further, he had no knowledge that Hon. A. B. Hudson had charge of the petitions.

Not a Matter To Be Proud Of. No member of the Roblin Government knew what course he was taking with regard to the petitions. They simply knew he was negotiating. They did not know there was any money involved. He did not discuss the negotiations with any of his party—it was not a matter to be proud of.

Mr. Howden said he secured the $50,000 from Dr. Simpson, who was president of the Conservative Association. He had not told Dr. Simpson what the money was for, except that it was in connection with the election protests. Dr. Simpson had said it was quite a large sum, and it was a week before he got it. The $50,000 was up before March 23. He did not know where it came from, but his experience was that the officers of the association controlled the funds. Asked if it came from Kelly & Sons, he answered "No."

Counsel suggested he had closed his eyes as to the origin of the money. He said he had not purposely closed his eyes.

They closed naturally," remarked Justice Perdue.

Money Left on Hatrack. Dr. Simpson went out and got the money, saying nothing as to where it came from and he (Mr. Howden) had asked no questions about it. He had a telephone message saying it would be left at the Carlton Club. He went to the club for breakfast and found the money in a grip left on the hatrack in the hall.

"Do you really mean to say that $50,000 was left on a hatrack, unprotected?"

"Yes."

"Well, that beats Hook for plausibility," remarked counsel.

Mr. Howden had got the grip and found the money there. This was about March 23. He then telephoned Newton, who came to the club and got the money. Mr. Howden suggested to Newton that he get a box in a safety deposit vault. This Newton had done, and it was by looking up the date this box was rented that he fixed the date on which he got the money as March 23.

Nothing To Do With Majority. Mr. Howden stated that the money had nothing to do with the Government getting a majority in the House. After the House prorogued, he had another interview with Chambers, and told him that he would not consider $50,000, but only half, as conditions had changed. The House had prorogued and the royal commission was appointed, and the findings of the commission would have a good deal to do with what the protests were worth to the party. Chambers objected to this, and said it would put him in wrong with his party, and he said the deal was off. No money had passed, the $50,000 being still in Newton's hands. Chambers came back later and said it could be arranged, and it was then Mr. Howden said he paid the $25,000.

CAN FIND NO MOTIVE FOR HAMILTON MURDER

HAMILTON, July 5.—Inquiry into the death of Dr. Williams closed tonight with the coroner's inquest, when the following verdict was given:

"We find from the evidence submitted that Dr. Harry Williams came to his death from bullet wounds inflicted by H. H. Holmes, and no motive known."

Dr. Williams was shot in his office last Friday, Dorothy Clark, daughter of the doctor's housekeeper, told how Holmes called, explaining that he was suffering from tuberculosis. He asked to wait until the doctor came in, saying that the doctor might not see him. Dr. Harper, the first doctor called, told of finding Dr. Williams' body eight feet from Holmes, who was lying on the floor. The doctor was shot from behind. Dr. Jones said there were five wounds in Dr. Williams' body, any one of which would have proved fatal, with the exception of one in his side. Three bullets entered the head within the radius of one inch.

FIVE VESSELS SEIZED. London, July 5.—Five Swedish vessels were seized on Sunday in the Baltic Sea and taken to Swinemunde," says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Morning Post. "They are the steamers Ligarda, Waermeland and Henrik Wicander, and the sailing vessels Orvar and Hoppet."

TO SUPERVISE COTTON. London, July 5.—The German war ministry has appointed a special committee to supervise the German cotton industry, according to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Morning Post.

FOUR MORE BOATS SENT TO BOTTOM

French Schooner Torpedoed Off Coast of Britain.

PAULLAC, France, July 5.—A p.m.—The Spanish steamer Juan arrived here today with the captain and seven men of the French schooner Hirondele. The schooner was sunk July 2 by a German submarine near Ouessant, the westernmost of the islands off the coast of Brittany. The captain of the Hirondele said:

"A submarine appeared 300 yards from us and fired a shot through our rigging. I lowered sail and raised our flag. Someone called to us from the submarine that we had three minutes to leave the vessel, and we got into a lifeboat and pulled away."

"The submarine then fired six shots into the Hirondele and in ten minutes I saw my ship sink. At this moment two torpedo boats and the Spanish ship Juan, which took us aboard, appeared, and the German submarine slowly submerged until she was out of sight."

SCHOONER SUNK. LONDON, July 5.—1.35 a.m.—The schooner Sunbeam of Kirkwall, Scotland, has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew of the Sunbeam was saved.

NORWAY LOSES TWO MORE

HARVICH, Eng., July 6.—2.08 a.m.—The Norwegian steamer Flick has been sunk, the result of being torpedoed on striking a mine off Sunk Lightship, near the mouth of the Thames. Her crew of fifteen has been brought here.

PRINCE ARTHUR REVIEWS FORCES AT THE FRONT

Men Decorated by France For Bravery Exhibited.

PARIS, July 5.—3.30 p.m.—On July 2, Prince Arthur of Connaught, who has been at the front with the British forces in the western theatre of war, reviewed the various French troops, which had been engaged for a month in heavy fighting in the Argonne region, says a dispatch to the Temps.

General — (name deleted by the censor) decorated in the name of France with the Legion of Honor or the Military Medal, those who had especially distinguished themselves. During the ceremony a terrific cannonade was taking place.

Dynamite Bomb Wrecks Quarters of N.Y. Police

Door of Detective Bureau Thrown Ten Feet—Windows Broken.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A dynamite bomb was exploded tonight in an area-way outside the detective bureau at police headquarters. While a heavy door was blown ten feet and a number of windows on one side of the building were shattered, no one was injured.

The damaged part of the building is close to Inspector Faupet's office. The police at first worked on the theory that a jail delivery had been attempted. Several pieces of metal were found, but there was practically nothing which led to a definite clue.

TWO MOUNT ELGIN "JAGS" ARE FINED IN INGERSOLL

Twain in Flight Overhauled by Automobile Men, First Offenders, Paid Deary in the Police Court Today for a Sunday "Jag" in a Local Option Town.

INGERSOLL, July 5.—Two Mount Elgin men, first offenders, paid deary in the police court today for a Sunday "Jag" in a local option town. Their presence in town Sunday was quickly noted by the police, and when the visitors were driving, were stopped and acquainted with the notice of the police the horse was whipped on.

An automobile was obtained by the police, and although some time elapsed before the pursuit was begun, the pair were overhauled several miles out in the country. Today they were charged with being drunk in a local option town, but as it was their first appearance, they were only fined $20 and costs each.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.] London, July 5.—A verdict of accidental death was given at the inquest held at Sandgate this evening into the death of Peter Joseph Gorman, a private of the 8th Battalion, who was run over by a motorbus on Sunday night.

Here's the Book That Tells You How

LOOK IT OVER CAREFULLY—IF NOT SATISFIED, RETURN IT AND GET YOUR MONEY—$1.50—IT WILL SAVE YOU MANY TIMES ITS PRICE IN A SINGLE SEASON—THERE IS NO BOOK OF ITS KIND IN ALL THIS WORLD AT ANY PRICE SO COMPLETE.

MAKING MONEY FROM THE SOIL

The OPEN DOOR to INDEPENDENCE

WHAT TO DO—HOW TO DO

ON CITY LOTS

SUBURBAN GROUNDS

COUNTRY FARMS

Leod & Allen

To The London Advertiser Readers

Here is a thought for the man who is tired of the city's grind and the rattle and bang of things—the man who is nearing fifty and knows that his productive years as a "salary man" are coming to an end. To lose his position might mean going away off among strangers to hide the fight with poverty and old age. But why go "away off"? Take a ride on any of the suburban lines and see the hundreds and thousands of acres of idle land lying close in—held for speculation—not farmed—not used for anything—and all within a half hour's ride of your lifetime associates. What is the matter with a few cows that you can own? Ten acres which you can lease? What is the matter with a neat bungalow and garden, and, if necessary, a man to help you do the work? Ten cows are a living for a good-sized family and their own up-keep. Chickens thrive where cows thrive, and what with milk, butter, eggs, chickens and garden truck—all you can use and plenty to sell—the prospect of living just outside of the din is anything but disheartening. Our book tells you just what to do about these things.

THOMAS E. HILL
DONALD G. FRENCH.

See certificate containing offer on another page. Illustration is exact size of book.

Circulation Department, The London Advertiser

A PAGE OF GENERAL INTEREST TO WOMEN READERS

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

ANSWER FOR THYRA—J.

Try this shampoo lotion for your oily scalp: Cologne, 1/2 oz.; tincture of green soap, 1 oz.; borax, 1/2 oz.; alcohol, 4 oz. Apply this mixture with a small brush to the roots of the hair, then shampoo with fingers thoroughly.

2. Bathe the skin in warm water until quite softened, dry, and rub in cold cream liberally; now take a soft towel and press the flesh gently, but firmly. A number of the offending blackheads will be removed. Apply more cream, and repeat process on the following day, and for several days if needed.

3. Shall try and hunt up a few bright ideas within the next week or so and print them for your benefit. As you read this page daily, you will be sure to see them.

4. One feels that the English "Tormy" has solved the difficulty of pronouncing "Tormy" in the easiest way. He is said to call it "Tormy." It is pretty hard to give the pronunciation of "Tormy" in the "Tormy" but "Tormy" is about the best I can do. The "T" is sounded "E," and the "E" is silent. In "chasing-dish," the "ch" and "d" are pronounced as in "chain"; "chauffeur" is pronounced "shofer"; the "o" sounding as in "show."

5. A white rose may either signify love, or "I am worthy of you." I do not think I would pay much attention to the incident.

6. Some take it to be a sure sign that the event dreamed about will happen, but, personally, I have not very much faith in this idea.

Well-Wisher's Kindness.

Upon request of "Mr. Mac" for an old Scotch ballad, "Burns and His Highland Mary," a Well-Wisher in Forest, has sent me a copy of the poem contained in a book of old Scotch songs. Some delightful and humorous ballads are found in this book, and I shall gladly accept the opportunity afforded by "Well-Wisher's" kindness, to publish these from time to time. Your generosity is indeed appreciated. "Well-Wisher" and I am sure "Mr. Mac" will be delighted.

Saves Money in Every Home.

LUX WONT SHRINK WOOLENS.

Dressmaking Under Instruction

Bring your material and be shown how to make it. Terms very reasonable.

MISS SMITH, COO BUILDING.

110 Dundas Street—Phone 533.

Thanks for Him.

"H. J. P." is thanked for sending a copy of "The Bivouac of the Dead," asked for by a reader. Shall publish soon. Thanks, "H. J. P." very much.

White, Blue or Brown?

Dear Miss Grey—Please help us to settle a dispute as to the color of the buckwheat blossom. I say that it is white; another member of the household is equally sure it is blue. Which is right?

Also please ask your readers what will kill "wire grass" on the lawn. Have tried salt and coal-oil without effect.

READER.

Ans.—About my chief knowledge of buckwheat is that the flour makes dandy pancakes; so am afraid I'm not qualified to settle the dispute. A friend who is very familiar with farm products declares that the blossom is a "whiter" brown—white streaked with brown. Anyone else got an opinion?

And does anybody know of a sure destroyer of wire grass? I have tried salt and coal-oil to no effect.

A Banana Pie.

Dear Miss Grey—Will you kindly answer a few questions for me.

1. What day did November 27, 1888, fall on?

2. Are Pauline Johnson's poems published in book form, and if so, where could they be obtained, and at what price?

3. A recipe for banana pie.

4. Why is it wrong for a girl of 16 to go driving occasionally with a boy a little her senior?

5. Will you please print a simple picnic lunch, something different.

6. What do you think of my writing? Trusting to see this soon in print, I sign myself, Ans.—1. Tuesday.

2. Yes; perhaps the most complete volume is "Flint and Feathers." Write to the Musson Publishing Company, Toronto, for prices, etc.

3. One recipe which I have calls for the bananas thinly sliced and covered for fifteen minutes with lemon juice before using. They are then to be sweetened and baked in two crusts. Somehow, that recipe does not appeal to me, and if I wanted a banana pie I should make it after the fashion of cream pie, as follows: A generous cup of milk, two eggs (save out white of one to put on top), heaping teaspoon cornstarch, sugar to taste, and a little vanilla; place in a saucepan and cook over fire, adding vanilla. When done have two bananas broken up finely with a fork, and stir into the custard; then turn all into a baked pie shell, spread with the beaten white, and brown in the oven. Dots of red jelly over the top would add both to the appearance and taste of the pie.

4. I have a good idea to buy a bottle of blue-black ink, as the kind you have is evidently "lumpy."

5. He who betrays another's secret because he has quarrelled with him, was never worthy of the sacred name of friend. A breach of kindness on one side will not justify a breach of trust on the other.—Emerson.

6. To my mind there is nothing more absolutely unkind and unforgivable than to visit with people, accept their hospitality, and all the good times they may provide (sometimes not without sacrifice) and then afterwards talk about them, or ridicule them to others. There may, it is true, be something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Don't keep the breakfast waiting ten minutes each morning while you adjust your cap, or comb your hair.

Don't expect to be waited upon hand and foot—you are not at a hotel where such attentions are paid for.

Don't insist upon feeding the young children of the house with sweets if their mother voices her objections.

Don't forget that the maid has extra work in the kitchen because of your presence—tidy your own room each morning, and save her that much. If there is no maid, the same remark applies to the hostess.

Don't sit up till midnight when the remainder of the family show plainly that they desire to retire.

Don't in the effort to impress your hostess that you feel at home, carry her best hand-painted sofa cushion to the hammock and wipe your feet upon it.

Don't play the piano at unreasonable hours. In the morning it may wake the baby. At midnight, grandeur will probably want to sleep, and there are many hours in between to display your musical talent.

Don't expect your hostess to "foot the bill" all the time when you are at an entertainment, on the street cars, etc. Or if she insists, buy some little something that goes on in the household of which we do not approve. Keep it to yourself. You may find that the charming woman whom you met at a mutual friend's last year, does not make an ideal hostess when you visit her in her own home. She may lack system in household management, her children may be spoiled and cross, her one idea of amusement may be the picture show, while you would personally prefer a bridge party or a lecture, but let none of these things so affect you as to lead you to commit that greatest of all breaches of courtesy—criticism of a household whose hospitality you have accepted.

Another thing which I must not forget to say in my little "preachment" is this: Endeavor while you are the guest of a house, to conform with the rules of the household as well as you can. Some hostesses have most distressing times "dancing attendance" on a visitor, who continually interferes with the regime of a well-ordered house.

Some "Don'ts."

Some very excellent "Don'ts" seem to resolve themselves out of the vacation guest subject—rules that many of us might well fix firmly in our minds before leaving home:

Bright, Breezy and Readable*THE SPORT DEPARTMENT*All the News
That Is News*Bringing Up Father*EVEN THE WIND ASSISTS
GUELPH TO BEAT LONDON

Reisling's Cripples Had Lead on Leafs Until Eighth, When Hammond Went Bad and Dillinger Relieved Him Without Being Warmed Up.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GUELPH, July 5.—This was a great day for the small boy who had a liking for sailing a kite, but it was poor dope for the ballplayers. Guelph pulled out on the low end of a 5 to 10 score in what was the most peculiar ball game ever played here. The wind had the pitchers pushed, and the fielders had a great time figuring on the air currents. Several times, what were sure to have been easy outs, were turned into safe hits by a timely gust of wind, and it looked as though the locals had a shade the best of the draft, too.

Reisling Behind Bat.
"Doc" Reisling, London's manager, plays any place on the lot, and today he took up his post at the receiving end, and made a good fist of it, too. Hammond started in the first inning, and had something on the ball all through. He was dickered in the eighth in an attempt to close off batting rally that the Leafs had sprung. Dillinger was brought into the game without a chance, and the Leafs, by way of celebrating the change to the pitcher, whacked his offerings and got into the double figures on the score card.

London Starts Well.
London looked for all the world like winners at the start. Lusk started the men with an error, but Whiteaker forced him at third, after Lusk had hunted him to second. Lusk scored on a wild pitch. Schaffer hit a long one, and Whiteaker scored on a double. The side went out for two runs.

Again in the second, Reisling opened with a shot to third. Lusk started up, Hammond got on without forcing "Doc" at second, and Lusk and Lusk came across with singles. Schaffer burned one right past Murphy, and Lusk and Whiteaker scored. London had two runs at the end of the second, and the Cocksquy quit the scoring habit right when Fisher drove to centre.

Wind Helped Guelph.
Guelph started to get them back in the third. The wind was all to the good for Harkins, who started with an easy out was converted into a safety. Kirby and Murphy fanned, but Harkins got over the fence. Lusk came not in the fourth and fifth, but in the sixth the locals got two. Eckstein dropped an easy ball. Even was out when Fisher drove to centre.

Three Home Runs Helped Brants to Beat Ottawa

Brantford, Comstock and Cooper All Hit the Ball Over the Fence, Brant's Being Most Timely.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BRANTFORD, July 5.—Three home runs helped the Brants considerably in beating Ottawa today. In the first inning, Comstock hit the ball over the right-field fence and in the third inning with two on, one run in and two men on, Brant hit over the centre-field fence. Cooper got the third homer in the sixth.

Stagheaney was chased in the eighth for crabbing. Rain fell in the first inning, but the clay cleared and the game was on.

Score—Brantford .. 10 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—3 5 1
Ottawa .. 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0—3 5 1
Close and Cooper; Roberts and Lago. Umpire—Bedford.

Edouard Fabre Wins Another Boston Race

BOSTON, July 5.—Edouard Fabre of Montreal today returned to the scene of his American marathon victory three months ago and won easily from a fast field in a twelve-mile race. His time was 67 minutes, 7 seconds.

Clifton G. Horne, former New England champion, was second, and Fred Fuller of the Dorchester Club, third. The race was run over the Boston grounds, in connection with the annual sale of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Brussels Tennis Club Won Its Second Match

BRUSSELS, July 5.—Brussels Tennis Club today, defeating Harrison in all of the five events. The match was played in a drizzling rain, but the play was of very good calibre notwithstanding.

Score—Stuart Fox, Brussels, beat Scudamore, Harrison, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Vernon Ross, Brussels, beat Duke, Harrison, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2; R. Leckie, Brussels, beat Montgomery, Harrison, 6-4, 6-1; Double-Stuart Fox and J. Leckie, Brussels, beat Scudamore and Montgomery, Harrison, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2; Vernon Ross and R. Leckie, Brussels, beat Duke and Washburn, Harrison, 6-3, 6-2.

HOW THE TEAMS STAND

CANADIAN LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Guelph	24	16	.600
Hamilton	27	17	.613
Ottawa	27	21	.563
LONDON	18	24	.429
St. Thomas	17	24	.415
Brantford	17	24	.415

Yesterday's Scores.
Guelph, 10; London, 6.
Brantford, 6; Ottawa, 2.
St. Thomas, 6; Hamilton, 5.

Today's Games.
London at Brantford.
Ottawa at Hamilton.
Hamilton at St. Thomas.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Chicago	28	26	.519
Pittsburgh	29	24	.548
Detroit	43	28	.606
New York	43	24	.643
St. Louis	32	26	.554
Cleveland	25	42	.373
Philadelphia	25	42	.373

Yesterday's Scores.
St. Louis, 4; Cleveland, 1-5.
St. Louis, 1; Chicago, 1-0.
Boston, 4-6; Washington, 0-0.
Philadelphia, 4-2; New York, 2-1.

Today's Games.
Chicago at St. Louis.
Detroit at Cleveland.
Philadelphia at New York.
Washington at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Chicago	27	28	.491
Philadelphia	27	28	.491
St. Louis	27	28	.491
Cincinnati	27	28	.491
Boston	27	28	.491
Brooklyn	27	28	.491

Yesterday's Scores.
Philadelphia, 2; New York, 0.
St. Louis, 3; Boston, 3.
Cincinnati, 1-0; Pittsburgh, 5-1.
Cincinnati, 8-12; Chicago, 5-7.

Today's Games.
New York at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Pittsburgh.
Cincinnati at Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Providence	24	22	.522
Buffalo	29	22	.568
St. Paul	29	22	.568
Harrisburg	29	22	.568
Toronto	29	22	.568
Rochester	29	22	.568

Yesterday's Scores.
Buffalo, 6-2; Montreal, 2-1.
St. Paul, 3-0; Rochester, 2-0.
Providence, 5-0; Richmond, 1-3.
Jersey City, 6-1; Harrisburg, 0-4.

Today's Games.
Toronto at Rochester.
Montreal at Buffalo.
Only two games scheduled.

FEDERAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Kansas City	42	20	.683
Pittsburgh	38	21	.646
Newark	38	21	.646
Brooklyn	38	21	.646
Baltimore	38	21	.646
Buffalo	38	21	.646

Today's Games.
Newark at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at Kansas City.
St. Louis at Buffalo.
Only three games scheduled.

CHARLEY DOOLIN IS SOLD TO NEW YORK GIANTS

New York, July 5.—Word was received here last night from Cincinnati that President Harnett had sold the New York Nationals had succeeded in purchasing the release of Catcher Charley Doolin, former manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, from Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati Club. Doolin will report immediately to Manager McCarver.

DILLON AND CHIP FOUGHT TEN ROUNDS TO A DRAW

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis and George Chip of New Orleans, Pa., fought ten rounds to a draw last night. Chip fought the fighting throughout, but Dillon was stronger in the exchanges. The weight, 158 pounds, was put in for a pinch after came through with a single, winning the game.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

CINCINNATI REDS WIN A COUPLE FROM CUBS

Bresnahan's Men Have Only One-Game Lead as Result.

PIRATES AND CARDS SPLIT

Phillies Blank Giants, and Brooklyn Wins From Stalings' Braves.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Cincinnati out down Chicago's pennant lead to one game today when they took both games of the holiday bill by 8 to 5 and 12 to 7. While Philadelphia defeated New York again. Both the games were slugfests. Bresnahan crossed the plate while the Pirates crossed the plate while the Cardinals crossed the plate.

Yesterday's Scores.
St. Louis, 4; Cleveland, 1-5.
St. Louis, 1; Chicago, 1-0.
Boston, 4-6; Washington, 0-0.
Philadelphia, 4-2; New York, 2-1.

Today's Games.
Chicago at St. Louis.
Detroit at Cleveland.
Philadelphia at New York.
Washington at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Chicago	27	28	.491
Philadelphia	27	28	.491
St. Louis	27	28	.491
Cincinnati	27	28	.491
Boston	27	28	.491
Brooklyn	27	28	.491

Yesterday's Scores.
Philadelphia, 2; New York, 0.
St. Louis, 3; Boston, 3.
Cincinnati, 1-0; Pittsburgh, 5-1.
Cincinnati, 8-12; Chicago, 5-7.

Today's Games.
New York at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Pittsburgh.
Cincinnati at Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Providence	24	22	.522
Buffalo	29	22	.568
St. Paul	29	22	.568
Harrisburg	29	22	.568
Toronto	29	22	.568
Rochester	29	22	.568

Yesterday's Scores.
Buffalo, 6-2; Montreal, 2-1.
St. Paul, 3-0; Rochester, 2-0.
Providence, 5-0; Richmond, 1-3.
Jersey City, 6-1; Harrisburg, 0-4.

Today's Games.
Toronto at Rochester.
Montreal at Buffalo.
Only two games scheduled.

FEDERAL LEAGUE.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Kansas City	42	20	.683
Pittsburgh	38	21	.646
Newark	38	21	.646
Brooklyn	38	21	.646
Baltimore	38	21	.646
Buffalo	38	21	.646

Today's Games.
Newark at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at Kansas City.
St. Louis at Buffalo.
Only three games scheduled.

CHARLEY DOOLIN IS SOLD TO NEW YORK GIANTS

New York, July 5.—Word was received here last night from Cincinnati that President Harnett had sold the New York Nationals had succeeded in purchasing the release of Catcher Charley Doolin, former manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, from Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati Club. Doolin will report immediately to Manager McCarver.

DILLON AND CHIP FOUGHT TEN ROUNDS TO A DRAW

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis and George Chip of New Orleans, Pa., fought ten rounds to a draw last night. Chip fought the fighting throughout, but Dillon was stronger in the exchanges. The weight, 158 pounds, was put in for a pinch after came through with a single, winning the game.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

St. Thomas, July 5.—The Saints celebrated their homecoming by defeating Bill Crista's Hams yesterday. The visitors got away to a three-run lead in the opening innings. Crista's team, Zimer's single, Tiffany's triple and Wood's double doing the trick. They added two more in the seventh when Zimer hit a home run and Harris tied the score. Crista and Zimer followed with doubles.

"SHORT-SHIP" RACES OPEN AT DETROIT

Four Good Events on Card Yesterday Afternoon.

CANADIAN HORSES LOST

Harry Gray's Jack K. Beat Vanko In 2:24 Trot—Flaxy B. Won.

DETROIT, Mich., July 5.—A five-day meeting of the Michigan "Short-Ship" races opened at the fair grounds track here today, and was featured by big cards in every event.

The racing itself was good, considering unfavorable conditions, and the crowd was very satisfactory. The track was muddy before the first heat, but later was very fair. However, a cool wind howled up the back-street, and this took some of the speed off the steeds.

It turned out to be a bad day for those from across the river. Harry Gray of Monroe won two events with horses owned here. One of these was the $1000 stake for 2:24 trotters. In which the Canadian horse Vanko was picked by Jack K. that won the race.

The dozen got away well and the pacing stake, did not have to go fast, but she has the ability all right. Flaxy B. failed to hold her own when the pair hooked up, and the judges thought there was something wrong about it, when the time was so slow. Col. Riser, winner of a trotting class, has lots of steam when they call upon him to cut loose.

The 2:24 trot was the feature of the racing card, and the Canadian horse, on the strength of several victories, was the choice, with Jack K. and Vanko showed the way, winning handsily. Before the next heat Vanko scored badly by falling.

Flaxy B. was the good thing in the 2:24 pace. She started in to justify the confidence in her, but at the five-eighths Lillian T. came flying, catching Flaxy B. and carrying her to a break, then jogging home. Flaxy B. broke early in the second mile, but the only reason for her loss was that she was not in the lead at the end.

2:24, Trot, $1000.
Jack K. (Gray) 2 1 1
Vanko, b.g. by Uno 1 2 3
Mr. Forbes, b.h. (Cornell) 3 3 3
Blackburn, b.h. (Snow) 3 3 3
Melrose, b.g. (Shackel) 1 6 5
Batteries—Hearns and Snyder; Mameaux and Gibson.

2:24, Pace, $1000.
Lillian T. b.h.m. by Roy 1 1 1
Flaxy B. b.h.m. by Quaker 3 3 4
K. (Allen) (McDaniel) 6 4 2
Edith, ch.m. by Simon 5 6 3
Don C. ch.g. by Mexican 4 3 5
Princess, b.h. (Thomas) 2 5 5
Anna Carr, b.h.m. (Garr) 2 5 5
Col. Riser, b.g. by Early 1 1 1
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Trot, $500.
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Pace, $500.
Lillian T. b.h.m. by Roy 1 1 1
Flaxy B. b.h.m. by Quaker 3 3 4
K. (Allen) (McDaniel) 6 4 2
Edith, ch.m. by Simon 5 6 3
Don C. ch.g. by Mexican 4 3 5
Princess, b.h. (Thomas) 2 5 5
Anna Carr, b.h.m. (Garr) 2 5 5
Col. Riser, b.g. by Early 1 1 1
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Trot, $500.
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Pace, $500.
Lillian T. b.h.m. by Roy 1 1 1
Flaxy B. b.h.m. by Quaker 3 3 4
K. (Allen) (McDaniel) 6 4 2
Edith, ch.m. by Simon 5 6 3
Don C. ch.g. by Mexican 4 3 5
Princess, b.h. (Thomas) 2 5 5
Anna Carr, b.h.m. (Garr) 2 5 5
Col. Riser, b.g. by Early 1 1 1
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Trot, $500.
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Pace, $500.
Lillian T. b.h.m. by Roy 1 1 1
Flaxy B. b.h.m. by Quaker 3 3 4
K. (Allen) (McDaniel) 6 4 2
Edith, ch.m. by Simon 5 6 3
Don C. ch.g. by Mexican 4 3 5
Princess, b.h. (Thomas) 2 5 5
Anna Carr, b.h.m. (Garr) 2 5 5
Col. Riser, b.g. by Early 1 1 1
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Trot, $500.
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (Goddard) 5 5 5
S. B. Walker, b.g. (Mont) 5 5 5
Adios, ch.m. by Guy 3 1 1
Mary Peter, b.g. by Crummer 1 2 2
Cartha, b.h. (Goddard) 3 3 3
Bertha, b.h.m. (Pien) 4 3 4
Time, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:17½, 2:20½.

2:24, Pace, $500.
Lillian T. b.h.m. by Roy 1 1 1
Flaxy B. b.h.m. by Quaker 3 3 4
K. (Allen) (McDaniel) 6 4 2
Edith, ch.m. by Simon 5 6 3
Don C. ch.g. by Mexican 4 3 5
Princess, b.h. (Thomas) 2 5 5
Anna Carr, b.h.m. (Garr) 2 5 5
Col. Riser, b.g. by Early 1 1 1
Riser (Brennan) 1 1 1
Jolly B. c.m. (Diamond) 2 2 5
Caroline, b.h.m. (Jones) 6 4 3
Loretta, Woodcliffe, b.h.m. 4 5 4
Banta, b.h. (

SAUCE

from England has a new and delicious flavour, obtained by blending the choicest oriental fruits and spices with Pure Malt Vinegar.

Wouldn't it be worth your while to try a bottle right away?

LAMBETH.

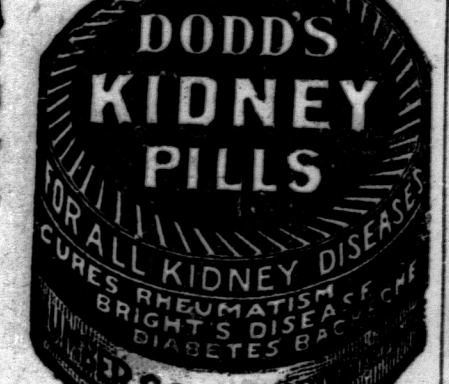

LAMBETH, July 5.—Mrs. McLeod and daughter of Detroit are visitors with Mr. William Evans. Miss Gretta and Master Robbie Tiffin are guests of Mrs. (Rev.) Fisher for a few days.

Dr. G. A. and Mrs. Routledge leave on Thursday for an extended trip to Seattle, where the doctor represents the Mocha Temple of London, and will visit the Panama Exposition, and many other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keenleyside, of South London were visitors for the week-end with Mrs. D. Mann.

Master Teddy Stock of Hamilton is holidaying at the home of Mrs. E. J. Williams.

Cyril Thomas of London sang very acceptably at the evening service on Sunday.

TOBACCO HABIT

EASILY STOPPED

Mr. S. D. Lent, a railroad man, was an inveterate smoker for 30 years. He used the strongest tobacco obtainable. After trying he says he would light a pipe and keep it hot for the rest of the day, with the exception of meal times. Often he would get up in the middle of the night. The habit was doing him great injury. He got a certain book, the information in which he followed, and thereby freed himself from the habit quickly and easily. Anyone who uses cigars, cigarettes, pipe, snuff, or chewing tobacco, excessively and who knows the injury being done through nervousness, heart weakness, kidney disorder, eye weakness, impaired memory, loss of vitality, etc., should write to Edward J. Woods, 649 L. Station B, New York City, who will send the very interesting free book that will be sent promptly upon application.

GET MORE VIM, RENEW YOUR STRENGTH!

If you are tired, nervous, sleepless, have headaches and languor, you need Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they tone the stomach, assist digestion, brace you up at once. Tired at night, you're well by morning. Sleepless and tired feeling disappear instantly. Vim, spirits, hearty health, all the joys of life come to everyone who uses Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No medicine so satisfactory. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today, 25c per box, at all dealers.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET—AH!

"TIZ" is Grand for Aching, Swollen, Sweaty, Calloused Feet or Corns.

"Pull, Johnny, Pull!"

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet, no more swollen, bad-smelling, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous excretions which puff up the feet. "TIZ" cures your foot trouble so fast you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never hurt again. Get more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions. Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "TIZ." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

BERLIN CLAIMS BIG VICTORY IN WEST

Says Trench After Trench Has Been Taken on a 1,500-Yard Front.

PARIS ADMITS BATTLE

Says Enemy Has Gained Foot-hold in Lines Previous-ly Lost.

LONDON, July 5.—Berlin claims important successes on the western front where, in the forest of LePretre, the German forces are reported to have compelled the obstinately-resisting French to evacuate trench after trench over a 1,500-yard front, taking a thousand prisoners, including a battalion staff and a number of guns.

The Paris version of this claim is that after an extremely heavy bombardment the Germans succeeded along a front of one kilometre in regaining a foothold in the old lines which had been taken by the French. Both sides report sanguinary but fruitless attacks at other points along the western line.

The following official communication was issued by the French war office tonight:

"There has been relative calm along the whole front, without infantry action. There is nothing to report except artillery activities on the part of the enemy at certain points between the Meuse and the Moselle. The region of the forest of LePretre has suffered particularly very violent bombardment with big shells."

WHAT BERLIN SAYS. The official statement issued by German army headquarters and received in London, is as follows:

"A British attack north of Ypres on the road to Pilkem and a French attack against Souchez were repulsed in a sanguinary engagement."

"On both sides of the Cour Des Carmes, on the west border of the forest of LePretre, our troops yesterday morning stormed a hostile position on a front of some 1,500 metres. With heavy losses the French troops, resisting obstinately, were obliged to evacuate trench after trench. We captured about 1,000 unarmoured French, among them the staff of a battalion, two field guns, four machine guns and three light and four heavy machine-guns and howitzers."

"A simultaneous attack on a French blockhouse position south of Norroy, on the Moselle, was successful. The blockhouse was blown up, with the occupants and defences, which had been constructed therein. The place was then, according to our plan, evacuated by us."

In the aerial fighting our airmen have again proved their superiority. North-west of Manonville, two French aeroplanes were forced to descend. The day before yesterday the German airmen successfully repulsed three adversaries."

"During the aerial attack on Bruges (Belgium), reported yesterday, bombs were dropped near the most valuable monuments of the town."

HOLT PROMISES TO TELL LIFE STORY

Will Open Past to Court—Denies He Is Erich Muentner.

[Canadian Press.] GLEN COVE, L. I., N. Y., July 5.—Frank Holt, the University of Cornell professor, who shot J. P. Morgan, today declared that he is not the man who shot the millionaire on Wednesday, he will tell the whole story of his life, particularly his recent movements leading up to the placing of the bomb in the United States Capitol at Washington and his attempted assassination of Mr. Morgan. Holt made this declaration to Dr. Guy Cleghorn, the jail physician. Dr. Cleghorn said, however, that Holt is in such a weakened condition that unless he shows decided improvement by Wednesday, he may report it advisable to postpone the hearing.

Mr. Morgan, who was shot twice by Holt Saturday, continued to improve today, so much so, that specialists in attendance announced that he was out of all danger.

The favorable turn in the condition of Mr. Morgan, in marked contrast to that of Holt, the assassin, is a fact that has been noted by the public. Holt's condition became so grave that late in the day orders were given at the jail that no one was to be permitted to see him but his counsel and the jail physician.

Denies he is Muentner. Erich Muentner, the Harvard professor who disappeared in 1906, after his wife had declared him dead, is charged with having shot Morgan. Holt, who had never been in Cambridge, Mass., Holt told this to T. J. Reid, a New York lawyer, who visited him and then announced that he had been retained as counsel for the prisoner. Holt, according to Reid, also said that he was in Germany in 1906.

Charles J. Wood, assistant district attorney of Nassau County, who said he was in the German department of Harvard in 1905-06 in the same class with Muentner, failed to identify Holt today, but will again try when Holt's appearance is better. Dr. Cleghorn said that Holt was suffering chiefly from lack of nourishment. His condition has also been weakened, he said, by the loss of blood from the wound on his head received in the scuffle just preceding his arrest.

Holt today wrote a letter to his wife, who is stopping with her father in Dallas, Texas, in which he told her that he did not care to live any longer and hoped that she would "bring the little ones up to be God-fearing men and women."

GERMAN AIR RAID IS "NOT WORTH RECORDING"

LONDON, July 5.—The British Admiralty announces that with regard to the Berlin report of an air raid on Harwich the following are the facts of the incident, which, otherwise "is hardly worth recording."

"On Saturday forenoon a German seaplane and two aeroplanes appeared off Harwich, flying very high. Our aircraft immediately started in pursuit and drove them off. The hostile aircraft then dropped their bombs into the sea and made their escape still flying at a great height."

TURKS ORDERED SHOT IF TRENCHES ARE ABANDONED

LONDON, July 5.—The official press bureau statement conveying the report of Sir Ian Hamilton on the operations in the Dardanelles contains the following extract from captured Turkish documents:

"There is nothing that causes us more sorrow, increases the courage of the enemy and encourages him to attack more freely, causing us great losses, than the leaving of these trenches. Henceforth commanders who surrender these trenches, from whatever side the attack may come, before the last man is killed, will be punished in the same way as if they had fled. Especially will the commanders of units told off to guard a certain front be punished, if instead of thinking about their work, supporting their units and giving information to the higher command, they only take action after a regrettable incident has taken place."

"It is hoped this will not occur again. I give notice that if it does I shall carry out the punishment. I do not desire to see a blot made on the courage of our men by those who shoot at the enemy to avoid the rifle and machine gun fire of the enemy. Henceforth I shall hold responsible all officers who do not shoot with their revolvers all privates who try to escape from the trenches on any pretext."

(Signed) "Commander of the Division."

RUSSIANS NOW MAKE STAND AGAINST FOE FROM GALICIA

Offer Desperate Resistance in Southern Poland, While Guarding Warsaw Strongly—Ready To Accept Battle Under Favorable Conditions.

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, July 5.—3:25 a.m.—Reading between the lines of the official reports, it is not difficult to deduce that the Russians are making a desperate stand between the Rivers Pruth and Dniester, on the right flank, and a strong army occupying the flank and rear positions in relation to the right front of Zlota Lipa River in eastern Galicia.

The Petrograd correspondents of the London morning papers are optimistic regarding the situation on the fighting front. The correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"We are only on Friday that the Russians began offering real resistance to the Germans' forward movement northward from Galicia. The whole area which Russia will hold as a Brodningian redoubt against the encircling Germanic forces centres on the Warsaw system of fortifications. The outer works are of such vast extent, having a diameter of nearly one hundred miles, that the Germans have before them the hardest task yet met in the war."

"After Thursday next nobody will be allowed to enter or leave Warsaw without a special pass. Similar measures of military preparation are being taken along other important points in this vast area."

No Fear for Warsaw. The Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

"The Russian waiting game, in fact, has been justified. The critic of Novoe Vremya explains the withdrawal of the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"No apprehension is entertained as to the fate of Warsaw in the struggle for the city bids fair to be protected. Even if the Germans should reach Ivangorod, this would not necessarily involve the surrender of Warsaw."

GERMAN ADMIRAL WARNS COUNTRY TO BEWARE OF U.S.

Shows Possibility of Danger From Submarine Warfare—Sympathy With Britain.

[Canadian Press.]

BERLIN, July 5.—(Via London)—Admiral Oskar von Truppiel, at one time governor of Kiaochow, the German concession in the Chinese province of Shantung, captured in November by the Japanese, contributes in an article today to Der Tag warning his compatriots not to underestimate the danger of a breach with the United States and asking them to weigh seriously the question whether the value of Germany's submarine warfare against British commerce is great enough to justify the expense of a rupture with the transatlantic nation.

The article is remarkable not only for the open statement regarding the participation of America in the hostilities might exercise on the future course of the war, but also for the great unpopularity of Germany—also as a contribution from a naval officer.

A Change in Tone. All the naval publicists of Germany hitherto heard from have been devoting their energies to accelerating public opinion against any modification of the submarine campaign, and endeavoring to prevent or to limit concessions to American demands to Washington.

The campaign between the advocates and the opponents of a compromise is intense, and delivery of the note which a few days ago was scheduled for Monday or Tuesday will probably be delayed several days.

Admiral von Truppiel in his article in Der Tag, writes:

"A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

CONSCRIPTION NOT CONTEMPLATED IN REGISTRATION BILL

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, July 5.—10:30 p.m.—The national registry bill encountered opposition in the House of Commons tonight when Sir Thomas Wilson, Liberal member for one of the Yorkshire divisions, opposed its provisions, asserting that the passage of the bill in its present form would split the country.

The member also declared his distrust in the present Coalition Government, saying that he knew that the man who had destroyed the policy of the present Government, Sir Thomas Wilson, was now in the House, and Sir Thomas Wilson's question: "Can we hope, so far as we are able to foresee, to force England to its knees through submarine warfare against her commerce?"

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us in using to the fullest extent our superiority in submarines, and we can calmly accept all the consequences of it."

The Krusenstern in its weekly review, says that limitation upon submarine operations would cause wide-spread and deep agitation among the German people. "It is probable, however, the newspaper adds, in the forthcoming note to America a form will be found, which will offer a prospect of settling the questions, so far as passengers are concerned."

Effect of Rupture. "A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe. Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the Entente Allies, except by an acceleration of the munitions supply, it could in time co-operate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class submarines and aeroplanes in the complete isolation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppiel discounts the stories of earlier existing agreements with Great Britain against Germany, explaining that this is most improbable owing to American diplomatic traditions.

"Majority With Entente." "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of the Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle these feelings into a hostile outbreak."

"If the answer is in the negative, our submarines can find better employment in the hunting-grounds of the Mediterranean, the Dardanelles and against merchantmen in that case could be modified or abandoned to obtain a more favorable neutrality from and the friendship of America, which would be of great value to Germany after the war."

"If the answer is in the affirmative, then the law of self-preservation would justify us in the situation which England had forced upon us

A page of opportunities for those who appreciate real bargains. Help wanted and work wanted--- opportunities for the unemployed and the employers.

CONDENSED ADS.

Amusements—Fifty cents per line each insertion, or one cent per word each insertion. When no admission is charged, one cent per word each insertion. Articles for Sale, To Let, Help Wanted, Situations, Lost and Found, Reminders, First Insertion, one cent per word; each subsequent insertion, half cent per word. No advertisement less than fifteen words.

AMUSEMENTS, LECTURES

ARCADIA

DANCING TONIGHT
SPRINGBANK PAVILION.
WATERWORKS PARK.
TONY CORTESE ORCHESTRA

GARDEN PARTY. COL. A. M. Smith's residence, under auspices of Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. E. E. Friday evening, July 9. Proceeds for Red Cross. Home-made cook- ings and sweets. Music and dancing. Free admission.

Lake Tickets
Summer trips to Montreal, Quebec, Saguenay, Gulf ports, New Brunswick, Duluth, Mackinac, Detroit, Toledo, also to Labrador and all water ports.

F. B. CLARKE
416 RICHMOND STREET,
Next Bank of Commerce, London, Ont.
No. 2-12.

PILLOWSLAP SHOWER IN ST. MATTHEW'S schoolroom, Tuesday evening, July 6. Leading talent of the city has been procured. Pair pillows are 15c.

GEORGE A. STEER, ELOCUTIONIST and soloist. Concert engagements accepted. Care of the London Hardware Company.

SWIMMING PLUNGE RESERVE ALL day Mondays and Fridays. Ladies only. Instructor available. Phone London Mineral Baths.

CHOSEN FRIENDS' CHEAP EXCURSION to Detroit, via Grand Trunk, Saturday July 11, good for three days, at small cost.

PALACE DANCING ACADEMY
Lessons and time during summer months. All the new dances—waltzes, one-step, hesitation, fox-trot. Experienced instructor. Call on phone. Layton and McCormick.

MUSIC FURNISHED FOR PARTIES.
Dances, banquets. Phone 1265. Tony Vitis Italian Harpers. 122 Queen's avenue.

MALE HELP WANTED.
Saw you saw it in The Advertiser.

WANTED—WANTED—STEADY EM- PLOYMENT. Apply UNDERBROOK, phone 2497.

ENGINEER AND TELEGRAPH ENGINEERS for young men possessing technical training on the engineering staff of telephone, telegraph, and radio companies. The International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa., will qualify you in your spare time at small cost for one of these well-paid positions. Write for free book "Telephone Engineering," or call at the local office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—A MAN FOR FARM. AP- PLY Box 35, Advertiser.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN FOR FARM. Apply W. Thorburn, Mount Brydges, Ont.

ABLE-BODIED MEN FOR FIREMEN. brakemen: $120 monthly; experience unnecessary. Railway. Phone 283x.

PLATE PRESS FEEDERS WANTED. Apply Advertiser Job Printing Com- pany.

MEN FOR SKILLED BARBER SER- VICE, reasonable prices, clean lines, sanitary surroundings, try Thompson's (upstairs shop), 280 Richmond street. Shaving, 10 cents; hair-cutting, 15 cents.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

WANTED—FARM-HAND—ABLE to milk James A. Glenn, R. No. 2, Glanworth.

BORN, MARRIED, DIED.

DIED.
HOOPER—At her late residence, 424 Queen's avenue, on Monday, July 5, 1915, Lucy, dearly beloved wife of George Hooper, in her 61st year.

Funeral from above address on Wednesday at 2 p.m. Interment in Woodland Cemetery.

MOLLAND—On Sunday, July 4, 1915, Edmund and May Molland, aged 1 year and 10 months.

Funeral will leave the residence of his parents, lot 25, con. 3, at 2 p.m.; service at 1:30. Friends and acquaintances please accept this in- dication.

MEETINGS.
I. O. O. F.—EUREKA LODGE, No. 30, meets tonight in Oddfellows' Hall, General business. Members requested to attend. Visitors welcome. J. W. Thomas, N. G.

CORINTHIAN LODGE, No. 380, A. F. and A. M., Regu- lar evening, Masonic Hall, 7:30. H. C. Loney, secretary.

WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

WANTED TO BUY—EUREKA RE- FRIGERATOR, 10x10 or 10x15. Apply Glanworth, Box 260, Phone 880.

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM with all conveniences. Private family. Hamilton road district. Box 35, Ad- vertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE with bath, outside city limits, preferred. Box 34, Advertiser.

WANTED TO PURCHASE—FIRST- CLASS blocky delivery mare, ten to eleven hundred pounds, dark bay. Apply Anderson's, Market House, 880.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE or cottage, furnished or unfurnished, with all conveniences, east of Rich- mond and north of Dundas. Phone 2491, or Box 21, Advertiser.

HOUSES, ROOMS TO LET.

WANTED TO RENT—SMALL MOD- ern house, near Ford automobile building. Apply Box 35, Advertiser.

LARGE NICELY-FURNISHED ROOM, ground floor, all conveniences; very central. Apply 241 Queen's avenue, 880.

DESIRABLE FURNISHED ROOMS, suitable for one or two; modern con- veniences; central. Apply 555 Talbot, 880.

TO LET—415 CENTRAL AVENUE, eight rooms, all modern. Apply 125 Mill street.

WELL-FURNISHED ROOM FOR RENT, suitable for two. Apply 348 Queen's avenue.

TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE—259 King street; modern conveniences. Apply 609 Dufferin, 880.

FIRST-CLASS FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. 155 Central avenue. References required.

NEW COTTAGE, BAYFIELD, TO LET—Furnished, reasonable. R. E. 811.

NICE FOUR-ROOMED COTTAGE—Hydro, gas, water, sink, cellar. 161 Madison, Ealing; 151, 161.

EIGHT-ROOMED FRAME HOUSE—Modern; fireplace and veranda; good locality; $18 per month. 218 Oxford street.

TWO NICELY UNFURNISHED FRONT rooms on ground floor, in 25-27 home. Apply 187 Colborne street. Phone 2312.

TO RENT—358 YORK STREET, FOUR bedrooms, modern conveniences, new painted and papered; central location. Phone 2312.

FURNISHED ROOM TO LET IN EAST part of city, with or without board. Box 32, Advertiser.

SEVEN-ROOMED MODERN HOUSE, furnished, for summer. Moderate rent. 21 Becher street. Phone 878.

SEVEN-ROOM CORNER HOUSE, gas, water, electric, 125 Wharfside road. Apply 100 Wharfside road. 880.

FOUR ROOMS, GAS, ELECTRIC light, $10 per month. Apply 21 Ashkin street.

NICELY FURNISHED ROOM; VERY central. Apply 380 Waterloo street. 880.

464 TALBOT—ELEVEN ROOMS—Modern conveniences; electric light and gas; immediate possession. Apply A. Harvey, 502 Talbot. 880.

TO LET—LARGE FURNISHED room, all modern conveniences, with or without board. Apply 381 Mat- land.

TWO OR THREE UNFURNISHED rooms, suitable for business. Private family preferred; modern. Central. Box 19, Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

LEARN TO SPEAK FRENCH, SPAN- ISH or Italian at home in your spare time by the phonograph method—the cheapest, quickest and most thorough way. Results guaranteed. Apply for free book explaining system. The local international Correspondence Schools office, 286 Dundas street, phone 4779.

WANTED—DEAD HORSES AND CATTLE. Phone 883. Will go twelve miles. No animal removed without his hide. London Fertilizer Company.

HELP WANTED.
Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

LEARN MOVING PICTURE ACTING—Splendid opportunity. For particulars apply Edward Kahra, Box 5, 791, Colborne, Ont.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

50 ACRES, CLOSE TO CHURCHES, schools and station; orchard; eight- roomed house, barn, etc. 5 acres maple bush; $2,100. McIntven, im- perial Park Building.

ARGYLE PARK
Low prices and easy terms. See us, morning, afternoon or evening.

ARGYLE LAND CO.
176 DUNDAS STREET. Phone 4.

LOT FOR SALE—WINDSOR AVENUE, 52 feet frontage, for immediate sale by owner. Box 35, Advertiser.

2 1/2-story solid brick house, con- taining hall, front stairs, living-room, with grate and marble; parlor, large dining-room, kitchen, four bedrooms, attic floored, large lot. Price reduced from $4,000 to $3,300. Will sell on easy terms or accept a suitable lot as part payment. ANDERSON & CO., 12 Mar- lane.

MUST SELL IMMEDIATELY (OWNER has moved from city)—Modern brick bungalow, 3 bedrooms, veranda, fire- place, large lawn and lawn; in city until 17th. Box 33, Advertiser.

FOR SALE—1 1/4-STORY SOLID BRICK house, modern and newly decorated. $4,000 to $3,300. Will sell on easy terms. For particulars apply The Can- ada Trust Company, 416 Richmond street.

FOR SALE NO. 124 CARLING street, lot 35x100 feet, with two- story brick building, suitable for of- fice. For particulars apply The Can- ada Trust Company, 416 Richmond street.

I have building three three-bedroom frame houses, full basement, toilet, water, electric light, modern kitchen. Will sell on very easy terms. Buy now. Save half your rent and get a clean, new home.

LEN G. WESTLAND, 71 Dundas Street.

London Investments, Limited.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS,
Room 5, Dowling Building.
List your property with us. Proper- ties now on hand for sale.

A FEW CHOICE FIVE-ACRE FARMS for sale within fifteen minutes' walk of Dundas car line east. A snap if sold quickly.

THOMAS H. JAMES, Ontario Loan Bldg. Phone 1944 5663.

SOUTH LONDON
Beautiful two-story red pressed brick residence, electric light, modern kitchen, beautiful electric fixtures, ideal location; owner anxious to sell. Call for full par- ticulars. The London Savings Building.

FIFTY ACRES—London Township; 4 miles to London; soil rich clay loam; good buildings, windmill, good fences, one mile to water. Will exchange on a good 100-acre farm.

THOMAS C. KNOTT, 117 Dominion Savings Building, London, Ont.

CHOICE DAIRY FARM, 95 ACRES, 100 to 120 cows, 100 head of calves, three miles from city; brick house, first-class barns, abundance of fruit. Apply Box 24, Advertiser.

AT A BARGAIN
Fine red brick house on out- skirts of city; reception hall, parlor, dining-room, kitchen, pantry, etc.; 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, central heat, hardwood floors, lot 50 feet wide. Will take farm in exchange. Call on agent.

BOX 24, ADVERTISER.

You Need A Reserve Fund

THE athlete who uses all his strength throughout the race, loses in the final sprint to the man with a reserve. So he who spends all his income as he goes, loses when the inevitable need arises for extra funds.

Start a Savings Account now in The Bank of British North America and build up a Reserve against that need.

THE BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA

78 Years in Business. Capital and Surplus $7,864,000.

London Branch—H. F. Skey, Manager.

London Market Square Branch—G. F. Pearson, Manager.

VETERINARY SURGEONS.

Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

WILLIAM J. WILSON, VETERINARY

Horse and dog hospital. 84 King

WILLIAM McDONALD, VETERINARY

121 Bathurst. Phone 688.

SURVEYORS.

Say you saw it in The Advertiser.

F. W. FARNCOMB, CIVIL ENGINEER.

Surveyor—Edge Block. Phone 352.

OUR COAL

The Proof of the Superiority of

SCRANTON COAL

is in the Heat-Producing Qualities.

BUY NOW.

Webster-Harvey

LIMITED.

June 29, July 3, 6

Big Slaughter

Sale of Dresses

and Underskirts

FOR WEDNESDAY A.M.

8:30 Till 1 o'Clock.

London ladies have never before had such an opportunity to buy Summer Dresses

in such quality and ridiculously low prices as we are quoting for Wednesday.

Prices 98c and $1.98

English Silk Underskirts,

in paddy green, rose, tan, purple, mauve, etc. Regular

$1.50 to $2.00. On sale Wednesday morning 79c

Children's Dresses 39c, 79c and 98c

The Metropolitan Suit

and Skirt Manufacturing

Company

332 DUNDAS ST.

BE SURE TO COME

EARLY WEDNESDAY

MORNING.

PARIS BOURSE.

Paris, July 6.—Prices were weak on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes,

69 francs 55 centimes for cash; exchange on London, 27 francs 2 centimes.

London, July 6.—The London

market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The market was quiet today. The

market was quiet today. The

LIBERALS UNRUFFLED BY HOWDEN'S EVIDENCE

Recall That He Was Never a Strong Man in the Legislature.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Man., July 6.—Followers of the Liberal Government are not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar amount more promised, in consideration

of all election protests being dropped.

Liberals recall that Howden was never a strong man in the Legislature; his work for the party in power was always behind the scenes.

Government supporters today ask that the public wait till Norris and Chambers give their evidence before forming an opinion as to the merits of Howden's

evidence.

Howden's evidence was not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar

amount more promised, in consideration

of all election protests being dropped.

Liberals recall that Howden was never

a strong man in the Legislature; his work for the party in power was always

behind the scenes.

Government supporters today ask that the public wait till Norris and Chambers

give their evidence before forming an opinion as to the merits of Howden's

evidence.

Howden's evidence was not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar

amount more promised, in consideration

of all election protests being dropped.

Liberals recall that Howden was never

a strong man in the Legislature; his work for the party in power was always

behind the scenes.

Government supporters today ask that the public wait till Norris and Chambers

give their evidence before forming an opinion as to the merits of Howden's

evidence.

Howden's evidence was not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar

amount more promised, in consideration

of all election protests being dropped.

Liberals recall that Howden was never

a strong man in the Legislature; his work for the party in power was always

behind the scenes.

Government supporters today ask that the public wait till Norris and Chambers

give their evidence before forming an opinion as to the merits of Howden's

evidence.

Howden's evidence was not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar

amount more promised, in consideration

of all election protests being dropped.

Liberals recall that Howden was never

a strong man in the Legislature; his work for the party in power was always

behind the scenes.

Government supporters today ask that the public wait till Norris and Chambers

give their evidence before forming an opinion as to the merits of Howden's

evidence.

Howden's evidence was not ruffled

this morning by the sworn statements

of ex-Attorney-General J. H. Howden

to the effect that $25,000 were paid to

the Liberal agent, Chambers, and a similar

amount more promised, in consideration

ROUMANIA EXPECTS EVEN REFUSES: STATE INSISTENCE: BERLIN'S FLAG

Thaw's Wife Does Not Want To Testify, But Suit Is Civil.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 6.—Evelyn Nesbit

Thaw, summoned by the state to testify against Harry K. Thaw, her husband, in the jury proceedings to determine his mental condition, reached New York

today from her camp at Chateaugay

Lake, near Malone, N. Y., hurried to the courtroom, and arriving there announced that she would stand upon her constitutional rights and would not take the stand against her husband.

Mrs. Thaw made her statement to newspapermen, and when Deputy Attorney-General Cook was informed of what she had said, he asserted that, inasmuch as the hearing was a civil proceeding and not a criminal case, the court could direct her to testify, and that she would ask the court so to direct.

Mrs. Thaw's appearance did not bear out reports to the effect that she was suffering from nervous prostration. She looked extremely well, was dressed in a dark blue silk gown with white trimmings, and wore a hat with white trimmings; with roses and white kid gloves, and white kid shoes, edged in black.

WESTERN RAILROADS

STATING THEIR CASE

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, July 6.—The western passenger rate hearing, in which 46 western railroads hope to prove that their rates, said to be unremunerative, should be advanced, began here today before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

C. C. Wright made the opening statement for the railroads. He said in part:

"The carriers expect to show that the net operation income of the roads invoiced during the last seven years has been materially less than it was in the seven years immediately prior to that period.

"Comparisons will be given showing increases in operating expenses, and 1915. Explanation of the increase in expense also will be given. It will be shown that it is largely due to increases in the cost of labor and fuel taxes."

Mr. Wright stated that present rate of return on property devoted to passenger service does not amount to three per cent.

high-grade railway issues for foreign investors.

1:30 p.m.—Specialties, notably Baldwin Locomotive and Studebaker, were the only active features of the mid-session, both adding little to early gains. Otherwise the market showed increasing dullness.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

J. M. Young, 18 Dominion Savings building, reports fluctuations in New York stocks as follows:

Trunk Lines and

Grangers—Open, High, Low, 2 p.m.

Baltimore & Ohio, 78 1/2, 78 3/4, 78 1/2

Canadian Pacific, 144 1/2, 144 1/2, 144 1/2

Great Northern, 115 1/2, 115 1/2, 115 1/2

Monarch, 32 1/2, 32 1/2, 32 1/2

Northwestern, 32 1/2, 32 1/2, 32 1/2

Porto Rico, 46 1/2, 46 1/2, 46 1/2

Shredded Wheat, 92 1/2, 92 1/2, 92 1/2

Spanish River, 15 1/2, 15 1/2, 15 1/2

Steel of Canada, 69 1/2, 69 1/2, 69 1/2

Toronto Railway, 111 1/2, 111 1/2, 111 1/2

Tuckett, 50 1/2, 50 1/2, 50 1/2

Winnipeg Railway, 50 1/2, 50 1/2, 50 1/2

Winnipeg Telephone, 100 1/2, 100 1/2, 100 1/2

Winnipeg Electric, 100 1/2, 100 1/2, 100 1/2

Winnipeg Gas, 100 1/2, 100 1/2, 100 1/2

Winnipeg Water, 100 1/2, 100 1/2, 100 1/2

Winnipeg Sewer, 100 1/2, 100 1/2, 100 1/2

BERLIN'S FLAG

Thaw's Wife Does Not Want To Testify, But Suit Is Civil.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 6.—Evelyn Nesbit

Thaw, summoned by the state to testify against Harry K. Thaw, her husband,

in the jury proceedings to determine his mental condition, reached New York

In Our Optical Department—

You can always get the newest and best in OPTICAL GOODS at very moderate prices.

John S. Barnard
Optician, 194 Dundas Street, W.

English Rheumatism Capsules

Are guaranteed to cure Rheumatism in any form. They work into the joints and do not upset the stomach. Price 50c a box, only at TAYLOR'S FIVE CUT-RATE DRUG STORES.

BETTER MEN'S SHOES

than ours have yet to be born. Better leathers and better shoemaking we are sure, never went into shoes. Pay for anything from $4 to $8, according to the style you want, and you'll get the best shoes made for the money.

J.P. COOK & CO.

"The Store that Serves You Best"
181 DUNDAS ST. EAST, LONDON, ONT.

B. A. MITCHELL'S DRUG STORE

114 DUNDAS STREET, W.
—Try Our—
BAKING POWDER
50c PER POUND.

We mine our own Coal and sell direct to you at lowest summer price.

Egg and Stove for furnace, Chestnut for baseburner, Large Pea Coal for range and heater.

For Genuine Bargains

You Must Attend the Anniversary Sale at The London Ready-To-Wear

We are putting on special bargains each day, and you will do well to come and look over our large assortment of ready-to-wear. Every article in stock is at bargain prices, and we are adding new goods daily at the same great values.

SPECIALS FOR TODAY.

WASH DRESSES—Many different styles to choose from, in checks, stripes, dots and plain colors. Values to $5.00. On sale at 80c.

Another lot of TRIMMED HATS, just passed into our showroom. All colors and styles, ribbon and flower trimmings. Values to $4.00. On sale at $1.49.

SUITS—A choice collection of this season's best styles at $5.95, $6.95, and upwards.

MIDDYS—All sizes and colors, fast washers, 40c, 50c, $1.00, $1.49.

WHITE WAISTS.
Many patterns in the newest styles. Values to $1.75. On sale at 80c.

London Ready-To-Wear
256 DUNDAS STREET, W.

STOP WATCHES

Buy a Stop Watch for the races. We have them from $3.50 up.

Military Wrist Watches, $2.75; Ladies' Gold Filled Expansion Wristlet Watches for $12.00 and up, and Gunmetal Wristlet Watches for $3.75.

W. J. WRAY & CO.
JEWELERS, 254 DUNDAS STREET, W.

WEGNER CLOTHING CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Overalls, Sweater Coats, Mittens and Raincoats.

London's Largest High-Class Workingmen's Outfitters.

Exclusive Manufacturers Agents for the Best Canadian and American Makes of Overalls, 87 1/2 TALBOT ST., OPP. MARKET, Open Evenings. Phone 1940.

MATTRESSES AND FEATHERS

Renovated and remade by the latest improved methods. Goods called for and returned same day.

The Keystone Bedding Co.
Phone 2523. 777

Eyes Examined

No Drugs Used
Training, experience and scientific equipment enable us to guarantee accurate accuracy.

The Optician

388 RICHMOND STREET, W.

Artificial Ice Supply Company

Pure Ice and Good Service
Phone 141

The London Loan and Savings Company of Canada

DIVIDEND NO. 85

Notice is hereby given that a dividend at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, and bonus at rate of 1 1/2 per cent per annum, has been declared on the capital stock of the company for the current three months ending 30th June, 1915, and same is payable on the 2nd July, 1915, to shareholders of record on the 15th June, 1915.

You Cannot Know of the "goodness" in every one of the 21 varieties of bread manufactured by us unless you try a loaf.

Some day you are going to give that trial order—at your grocer's, to one of our drivers or to us direct. Why not do it after reading this advertisement and enjoy PERFECT BREAD in future?

PARNELL

The Breadman
PHONES 929-1390.

Wedding Gifts That Please

$47.75—Large Oak Cabinet of Silver.

$29.00—Westminster Chime Mantel Clock, mahogany finish.

$52.00—Perfectly Plain Silver Tea Set, 5 pieces, with tray to match.

$19.50—Extra Fine Cut Glass Bowl, with 6 Napkins.

$21.50—Silver Centrepiece for table; very new.

Large assortment of Bake Dishes, Chafin Dishes, Etc., Dishes and Coffee Percolators.

Young's

LONDON, EAST LONDON.

Johnston Bros.

XXX Bread

The Best of Bread

It pays to buy the best where the health is concerned. Johnston's is made from the best ingredients, and baked to perfection. Always get at your grocer's or from a wagon at your door. Phone 344.

JOHNSTON'S

Voice of the People

Old Friends the Best.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

My attention has just been drawn to an editorial in The Advertiser of June 9 in which reference is made to the Whittier School.

We very much appreciate the recognition that you give to the efforts we are making. It is a pleasure to us to know that the old friends retain their active interest in us. London retains in our affectionate regard the same large place that it has always held.

Time but makes it dearer that there are no friends like the old friends.

Yours cordially,
FRED. C. NELLES,
Superintendent.

Whittier, Cal., June 21, 1915.

STRONG'S DRUG STORE

159 GUYTON ST., LONDON, ONT.

KODAK

Take a Kodak With You

Films left with us before 11 a.m. developed and printed by 6 p.m. This work is guaranteed.

Bring your best negatives to be enlarged.

See The Autograph Kodak

If your Kodak isn't autographic, it isn't up-to-date. Your old Kodak can be made autographic at small cost.

Mail us your films if living out of town.

CUT RATES IN DRUGS AND PATENT MEDICINES.

STRONG'S Drug Store

184 Dundas St., London, Ont.

CHARMION CAMPHOR CREAM

Is a dainty, antiseptic Face Cream that should be in every home.

The Best Cream for Sunburn. Only 18c for large 25c jars at

CAIRNCROSS'
Dependable Druggists
216 Dundas St., Phone 880

Hamilton's Ale and Porter

Cannot be excelled. It's a favorite drink with many, and will suit you if you try it.

CONFIRMS DR. HILL AS CITY'S M.O.H.

Council Accepts Recommendations of Boards of Health and Control.

NEAR SIDE STOP FOR CARS

Only One Corner of Richmond and Dundas Will Be Used By Street Railway.

The city council at its meeting last evening accepted the recommendation of the board of control and health that Dr. H. W. Hill, director of the Institute of Public Health, be appointed chief medical officer of health of London. The city will pay $1,000 a year toward his salary in the dual office. He will commence his duties at once. The council plans to keep the present assistant, Dr. Downham, in office also. City Engineer Brazier was instructed to immediately proceed with the work on the West London breakwater.

City Engineer Brazier was instructed to immediately proceed with the work on the West London breakwater.

Ask For Union Label.

Hugh McPherson, Chas. Hollings and Geo. Terry, representing the London Typographical Union, the Trades and Labor Council and the pressmen asked that the union label be used on the city assessment rolls when printed. It was decided to award the contract to The Advertising Job Printing Company at $4.95 a page.

The original account of Ald. Lerner for $5.75 for expenses to Ottawa was carried, notwithstanding strenuous opposition from Ald. Mannes, who pointed out that Ald. Lerner had spent some of the city's money "on motus living."

A largely signed petition signed by Talbot street residents, presented by Geo. Brown and Henry Macklin asked that no new pavement be laid on Talbot street as planned. They pointed out that they have just finished paying for one pavement and think it unfair to ask them to pay for another immediately. Ald. Donnelly opposed the deputation's request, on the ground that the street is in a dangerous condition. The petition was finally referred to No. 2 committee.

Alderman Max Lerner gave notice of motion that at the next meeting of the council he will move that the city engineer be instructed to have a municipal paving plant. Giving (1) an estimate of the cost; (2) an estimate of the cost of the paving done each year; (3) all other matters in connection therewith, and the establishment of a municipal paving plant.

A motion by Ald. Lerner that an asphalt pavement be laid on Bathurst street between Richmond and Wellington streets be laid at once, was referred to the board of control.

A motion by Ald. Merryland, seconded by Controller Moore, that the council convey to Sir Adam Beck its appreciation of his services in connection with the London and Port Stanley Railway was carried.

Ald. Mannes inquired if there was anything to report in regard to street railway extensions and was told there were no developments.

The council granted the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission permission to erect a temporary shelter for passengers on Bathurst street, near Richmond.

Bylaws for issue of the following debentures were passed:

London Waterworks $30,000
City department 62,000
Victoria Hospital heating system 10,000
Sewage disposal lands (East End) 10,250
Sanitary Mr. and Mrs. G. H. 50,000
Motor combination fire truck 7,500
Wharfedale road bridge 9,000
Insurance of goods 20,000

Authority was given to the controllers to issue debenture notes to the extent of $200,000 to cover local improvement costs. These notes are to be issued in $1,000 denominations, in addition $33,000 more of debenture notes, in denominations of $100, $500 and $500, will be placed on the market. These smaller bonds will be sold to the general public over the counter of the city treasurer's office.

TO MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR OFFICIAL OPENING

Joint Committee Meet Tonight To Arrange for L. and P. S. R. Opening Ceremony.

A meeting of the joint committee of representatives from the city council, public utilities commission, board of trade, and London and Port Stanley Railway, will meet in the city hall this evening to make arrangements for the official opening of the London and Port Stanley road on July 22. J. J. Hangan of Guelph, secretary of the Hydro-Electric Railway Association of Ontario, was in London last week in connection with the opening, and he anticipates many will come to London that day.

Invitations are being sent out to Ontario municipalities, municipal councils, members of local hydro-electric commissions, radial unions, boards of trade, and members of the Provincial and Federal Legislatures. The hall and catering committee will meet before the gathering of the whole committee tomorrow night.

GERMANY WOULD SAFELY STAY

Trying To Find Out Just What Concessions Are Needed.

OUTLOOK CALLED BRIGHT

Washington Expects Informal Negotiations To Achieve Good Results.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, July 6.—The outlook for a favorable settlement of the issue between the United States and Germany over submarine warfare was today regarded as having advanced considerably by the beginning of informal negotiations which, it was believed, would pave the way for an understanding prior to the final drafting of the German reply to the last American note.

It had not been known until the last day or two that a preliminary exchange of views was in progress between the two countries regarding the nature of the forthcoming reply to the last American note.

Report Expected.

In official quarters it was believed that a report likely would be received here late today from Ambassador Gerard regarding conferences reported in Berlin dispatches to have taken place last Saturday between the ambassador and officials of the German foreign office. The dispatches said that the ambassador had been given an outline of German's reply.

While nothing has been made public concerning Ambassador Gerard's dispatch, it was understood that he had constantly informed the American Government of the gossip in Berlin official quarters regarding the German reply. It was said that although he had been unable to learn definitely what the note would outline, he expects Germany to make a counter-proposal, after which he will be charged with bayonets before the Austrians had time to recover from their surprise. Only one Austrian, the officer in command, escaped. He managed to rush down the mountainside.

When the sun rose the Italians used the helicopter, which had caused so much damage, to summon the Alpine soldiers below. The latter joined their comrades in numbers and made the position secure.

FOUND THE BATTERY.

[Canadian Press.]
Udine, Italy, via Paris, July 6.—The Italian troops operating against the Austrians near Monte Croce Pass, being exposed recently to fire from a hidden battery which they were entirely unable to locate, an Alpine soldier from the neighboring district of Prull asked to be allowed to discover the battery.

Dressed in the uniform of a dead Austrian officer, he crept up the mountain at night, arriving within a few yards of the battery, which was hidden in a natural grotto, the path to which was masked by the slope of the mountain. Having taken all his observations, the Italian retired in the early morning. His Austrian fire was seen by a sentinel who fired at him, supposing him to be a deserter. The Italian, however, escaped by swimming himself down the precipice.

NOTICE

Eggett & Co.
Plumbers, Hotwater and Steam Heating.
NEW ADDRESS:
336 Ridout St.

Brilliant Exploit of Italian Force Gains Mountain

Small Band Scales Almost Perpendicular Height, Beating Austrians.

[Canadian Press.]
Udine, Italy, via Paris, July 6.—Italians have now been received of the taking by Italians of Zeitenkofel Peak, west of Monte Croce Pass, on June 26.

This mountain is over 7,000 feet high, and is usually ascended from the Austrian side, as the Italian slope has been considered impassable. The Austrians had a fixed observation point with forty men well entrenched just below the top of the mountain, whence they signalled with the heliograph their artillery below. The Italians, finding it impossible to take the front line, which is extremely steep and exposed the whole way to the enemy's fire, decided to try the route which had been considered impossible.

Thirty volunteers from the Alpine troops, headed by two lieutenants, climbed the almost perpendicular face of the mountain, tied together by ropes. Notwithstanding the difficulties of the ascent they carried a machine gun in pieces, which were strapped on their shoulders.

Slowly and with immense precautions they reached the top overlooking the Austrian encampment. They waited until night, and then opened fire with their machine gun, after which they were charged with bayonets before the Austrians had time to recover from their surprise. Only one Austrian, the officer in command, escaped. He managed to rush down the mountainside.

When the sun rose the Italians used the helicopter, which had caused so much damage, to summon the Alpine soldiers below. The latter joined their comrades in numbers and made the position secure.

Udine, Italy, via Paris, July 6.—The Italian troops operating against the Austrians near Monte Croce Pass, being exposed recently to fire from a hidden battery which they were entirely unable to locate, an Alpine soldier from the neighboring district of Prull asked to be allowed to discover the battery.

Dressed in the uniform of a dead Austrian officer, he crept up the mountain at night, arriving within a few yards of the battery, which was hidden in a natural grotto, the path to which was masked by the slope of the mountain. Having taken all his observations, the Italian retired in the early morning. His Austrian fire was seen by a sentinel who fired at him, supposing him to be a deserter. The Italian, however, escaped by swimming himself down the precipice.

NOTICE

Eggett & Co.
Plumbers, Hotwater and Steam Heating.
NEW ADDRESS:
336 Ridout St.

Whitewear Sale

Ladies' Cotton Princess Slips, trimmed with lace or embroidery, splendid quality $1.00

10 dozen Ladies' Cotton Drawers, in open and closed styles, hemstitched. Only 25c

5 dozen Odd Skirts, not every size in stock; value up to $2.50. Sale price $1.35

10 dozen Ladies' Cotton Nightgowns, well made and finished, lovely quality cotton. Special 60c

8 dozen Corset Covers, lace trimmed, with ribbon inserted, perfect fitting 25c

Ladies' Bungalow Aprons, made of good quality American percales, nicely trimmed, all sizes 50c and 75c

Dressgoods Bargains

Special sale of All-Wool Serge, 42 inches wide, in navy, brown, copen, grey, black and cream. Just a limited quantity on sale for 50c

Four pieces only Silk Lace Cloth, in mauve, green, sky, copen; regular 50c. Sale price 35c

Fancy Silk Crepe, with colored floral design on white ground, 42 inches wide, very seasonable; regular 85c. Sale price 50c

Fancy Satin Stripe Voile, in colors of navy, copen, white and black, an ideal summer fabric. Sale 40c

Fancy Satin Figured Crepe, in colors of cream, rose and tan; 40 inches wide; will wash perfectly. Only 45c

Black and White Check, 42 inches wide, in small, medium and large checks. Only 25c

Extra Special in Boys' Suits

These suits come in a nice shade of brown and blue, with neat hairline stripe; they are splendidly made, with patch pockets, belted back and full bloomers. For ages 8 to 14 years. These suits are well worth $5.00. Wednesday morning only $3.49

Men's Overalls, in plain blue and white with white stripe; good quality denim; extra large cut; made with bib and braces; worth $1.00 60c

Men's 20c Merino Socks, 2 Pairs for 25c

18 dozen only Men's Fine Merino Socks, in nice shade of grey, spliced toes and heels; sizes 10, 10 1/2 and 11; regular 20c value. Wednesday morning only 2 pairs for 25c

6 for 25c

Men's White Cotton Handkerchiefs, tape bordered; good big size, 20 inches. When you see them you'll want a dollar's worth.

12 Only Men's Imported English Paramatta Raincoats

coffee shade, military collar with tab, double-stitched seams and cemented, lightning conductor round skirt; ventilated armholes, double texture; worth $7.50. Wednesday morning only $3.95

39c—Ten dozen only Men's Work Shirts, in tans, black and white stripe, blue and white, good big sizes, good quality materials; sizes 14 1/2 to 16 1/2; regular 50c. Wednesday morning only 39c

Rowat's COFFEE

50c Per Pound.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.
250 DUNDAS ST.—Phone 3061-3052.
J.W.T.

FOR SUMMER HOMES

Drinking Water Rendered Immune From Typhoid by Montserrat.

Most epidemics of typhoid are traceable to impure water.

City people going to the country for the summer months or even for week-ends, very often bring back typhoid germs, owing to vegetable decomposition in lakes, river and well water.

The bacteriologists at McGill University have proven that a small quantity of Montserrat Lime Juice will destroy typhoid germs in water in twenty minutes.

Typhoid can be prevented at home or at the country cottage by using Montserrat Lime Juice. It makes the water absolutely immune, besides providing a wholesome, cooling and thirst assuaging beverage.

Keep a pitcher of this healthy beverage in the ice box.

MONTSEERAT LIME JUICE is for sale at all druggists and grocers.

BETHMANN-HOLLWEG'S DAUGHTER GETS MARRIED

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, July 6, via London.—The marriage of the daughter of the German Imperial Chancellor, to Count Zech-Burkersroda, the chancellor's adjutant, was celebrated yesterday at Hohenfinow. Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg's estate near here.

ROME BELIEVED SAFE

Austrian Airships Unable to Reach Capital and Return.

[Canadian Press.]
Rome, via Paris, July 6.—Discussing the possible menace to Rome from an Austrian air raid, the Giornal d'Italia expresses the belief that the Italian capital may consider itself virtually safe, because it is 235 miles from Pola and 213 miles from the island of Lissa, the Austrian bases. The airships of Austria have found it difficult to cover more than

NOTICE

Eggett & Co.
Plumbers, Hotwater and Steam Heating.
NEW ADDRESS:
336 Ridout St.

Whitewear Sale

Ladies' Cotton Princess Slips, trimmed with lace or embroidery, splendid quality $1.00

10 dozen Ladies' Cotton Drawers, in open and closed styles, hemstitched. Only 25c

5 dozen Odd Skirts, not every size in stock; value up to $2.50. Sale price $1.35

10 dozen Ladies' Cotton Nightgowns, well made and finished, lovely quality cotton. Special 60c

8 dozen Corset Covers, lace trimmed, with ribbon inserted, perfect fitting 25c

Ladies' Bungalow Aprons, made of good quality American percales, nicely trimmed, all sizes 50c and 75c

Dressgoods Bargains

Special sale of All-Wool Serge, 42 inches wide, in navy, brown, copen, grey, black and cream. Just a limited quantity on sale for 50c

Four pieces only Silk Lace Cloth, in mauve, green, sky, copen; regular 50c. Sale price 35c

Fancy Silk Crepe, with colored floral design on white ground, 42 inches wide, very seasonable; regular 85c. Sale price 50c

Fancy Satin Stripe Voile, in colors of navy, copen, white and black, an ideal summer fabric. Sale 40c

Fancy Satin Figured Crepe, in colors of cream, rose and tan; 40 inches wide; will wash perfectly. Only 45c