LA SOUFRIERE AGAIN ACTIVE

Flames Were Accompanied by Thunderlike Explosions--
No Loss of Life.

Last Eruption of Mont Pelee
Said to Have Caused Death of 2,000 People.

Kingston, St. Vincent, B. W. I., Thursday, Sept. 18.—There was an eruption of La Soufriere at midnight last night, but no loss of life. A peculiarity of this eruption is found in the fact that no dust or scoriae were emitted by the volcano. Flames were seen flickering above the crater, and the sight was accompanied by internal and thunderlike explosions.

MONT PELEE'S LATEST.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Quebec Steamship Company's steamer Korond arrived to-day from the West Indies. Among her passengers was Captain Walter McKay, agent for the steamship company in the West Indies. Captain McKay said: "I was at Port de France, Martinique, Aug. 30th, the day of the most recent eruption of Mont Pelee. The explosion was terrific, and the rumblings and detonations were continuous for a long time. This eruption, it is estimated, caused the death of 2,000 people and covered an extent of territory ten times greater than did the great eruption of May last. This time the track of the disaster was beyond the mountain ridge, and spread out over the interior. I saw the mountain in eruption. The natives were abandoning large sections of the country in proximity to the mountain. Martinique, in the northern part, is greatly devastated, but the south is in full blossom and is thriving. It is a mistake to say that the people are starving and are crowding the hillsides of the island. The fact is that the fugitives are comparatively few in number. There is no need of food supplies. The natives will not go to work as long as they can obtain food for nothing. There is room for all and employment is easily obtained."

AMONG THIEVES

A Canadian Newspaper Man Robbed in Buffalo—He was Seeing the Sights.

Buffalo, Sept. 20.—John Jones, 28 years old, a newspaper man who claims Belleville, Ont., as his home, was held up and robbed of $80 and his gold watch by two men on Commercial street early this morning. Jones was found by a patrolman shortly after 1 o'clock lying on the sidewalk. He was in a semi-conscious condition, and his face was covered with blood. The patrolman took him to the station house, where he was revived soon after, but acted as though he was dazed. He told the police he had been held up by two men, but could not give a description of them or how it happened. Later this morning Jones was better, and was able to tell his story. He said he came here yesterday to consult a nerve specialist. He did not find the doctor, and decided to wait over until to-day. Last night he went out to see the sights. He visited the lower part of the city and a few of the concert halls. He took a few drinks, but was not intoxicated. He claims that while he was walking along Commercial street he was approached by two men. As he passed them, one of them struck him in the face and knocked him down. Before he could gain his feet, he says, they jumped on him, and beat him about the head and face until he was unconscious. His head was badly bruised and his face was lacerated in three places. His right eye was black and blue. Detectives are at work on the case.

GHASTLY FIND

The trainmen on a westbound Wabash freight train made a ghastly find a mile west of Tecumseh yesterday morning. The engineer noticed the body of a man lying beside the rails and he stopped his train and went back to examine the body. He found that the man had been dead for some hours, and had evidently been run over during the night by several trains after he fell from the train which crushed out his life.

In the pocket of his coat was found a memorandum book on which was written: "I Brown, 614 Fort street, west." It is supposed that the address indicated Detroit, but the people who reside at 614 Fort street know nothing of a man by that name. The body was so badly mangled and disfigured that it was impossible to tell what he looked like in life. Dr. F. K. Bell, coroner, Windsor, will conduct an investigation.—Detroit Free Press.

KILLS FIVE PUPILS.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—At Weendam, in the Province of Groningen, Holland, a suddenly demented teacher on Friday strangled five of his pupils to death, severely wounded seven others, and then committed suicide by jumping into the village pond.

PASTOR HOME FROM TOUR

Rev. W. E. Knowles Welcomed
by Large Congregations Yesterday.

Two Earnest Addresses—Excellent
Solos by Miss Edna
Martin—Fine Trip.

Rev. W. E. Knowles has returned from his trip to the continent and occupied his pulpit as usual yesterday.

Mr. Knowles has been away for eight weeks, which time he spent in England, Ireland, Scotland and Paris. In a brief interview with The Planet he said he had a most enjoyable time and was favored with good weather both coming and going.

"I especially enjoyed my visit to Ireland," said he, "and spent a very pleasant time there, visiting my father's birthplace and other points of interest to me." As Mr. Knowles is Irish himself it is quite natural that he should be partial to Ireland. The returned pastor welcomed back to his church by two large congregations yesterday, and those who were present were favored with two excellent discourses.

"Having received the pastorate of this church such a short time ago," said he before his morning sermon, "I am sorry to have been away from you so long, but I am glad that you have enjoyed those who have taken my place."

His morning text was chosen from Hebrews 11, 17, and his subject was "By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac; and he kept constantly before us," said he, "that it is only through faith and trust in God, following in his way—even blindly at times—that we can go to the end of our journey. Many are embarrassed to know why Abraham was asked to do this deed which would, if done, be nothing but murder. Sacrifice, as you know, was the custom in those days, and Abraham would receive this command as coming from God. I agree with you when you say that God would not command any man to take the life of his own son, and he did not do it in this case. He was simply testing Abraham. It was the sacrifice of the heart that he considered. God was proving his faith, and that is what he is doing to-day when he puts a heavy cross on any man. It is all intended to draw us closer to Him. It is by testing people that we learn to trust them and have confidence in them. Temptation makes us stronger. Isaac was the centre of all Abraham's hopes and desires, and it must have been a sore temptation to a man of his years to have his dearest treasure taken from him.

"The supreme lesson to be learned from this is that we should like Abraham, be assisted with nothing less than complete and supreme surrender to the will of God. Inasmuch as we are in complete harmony with God we will be at peace with Him in this world and be assured of happiness in the next.

"Abraham did not make this sacrifice in the impulse of the moment. He was able to do it through his long service with God. We make ourselves what we are. We have to first first receive his spirit before we are able to stand against temptation. It is easy to do right when we can see the outcome of our actions, but we cannot always understand God's will. Then is when our true faith is tested. At the end of this life, however, we shall understand. If we remain true to Him, we will receive abundant reward from Him who seeth in secret."

Miss Edna Martin, soprano, who has been studying vocal music in Boston, rendered three excellent solos, one in the morning and two in the evening. Miss Martin has a voice of exceeding sweetness and power, which has been improved wonderfully during the past few years. Her solos yesterday were much enjoyed.

110 DEAD

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 20.—A gloom has been cast over the entire community since the people begin to realize the enormity of last night's appalling disaster at Shiloh Baptist church. Late to-night 110 dead had been counted and 30 of these have been identified. The injured negroes are being cared for at various hospitals and private residences.

Booker T. Washington has received the following telegram from President Roosevelt: "I am shocked and horrified by the disaster at Birmingham, and desire to express my great grief at the sad loss of life."

Prof. Washington replied: "Our people are most grateful to you for your words of sympathy in this matter of the terrible calamity which has befallen so many of our race. Everything possible is being done by both white and colored citizens to help. Birmingham city officials have been most thoughtful and generous. The crowd at the meeting was very large, but was perfectly orderly. The disaster grew out of one of those incidents which it was almost impossible to foresee."

Kind looks, kind words, kind acts and warm hand shakes—these are secondary means of grace when men are in trouble and fighting their unseen battles.

HELD UP BY HIGHWAYMEN

Citizen of Toronto Murderously
Assaulted and Robbed of His Watch.

Thugs Made Off on Approach of Policeman—Offer From a Cold Storage Concern.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—Early this Sunday morning J. T. Flanagan, 46 Manning avenue, was set upon on Wellesley street by three highwaymen, who struck him twice with a sandbag, the first blow forcing the right eye out of the socket, the second, on top of the head, felling Flanagan to the ground. A policeman and a citizen, hearing Flanagan's outcries, rushed to his aid, and the highwaymen made off, carrying a gold watch of Mr. Flanagan's with them. The latter was removed to Grace Hospital, where it was found that his skull had been slightly fractured. He is now conscious and will recover.

Rev. Alex. McGillivray, minister of Bonar Church, completed to-day the first quarter of a century of his ministry, and the congregation celebrated the event by paying off the debt on the extension of the church made last year at a cost of $6,300. Nearly a year after the cold storage privileges in the new St. Lawrence market were advertised for rental the first bona fide offer is in sight. Tomorrow an offer will be made on behalf of the Anglo-Canadian Cold Storage Co. to lease the cold storage space in the market for 21 years at $1,500 a year. The Anglo-Canadian Cold Storage Company is a new concern formed in the old country with a million dollars capital, and three-quarters of it paid up, according to the prospectus, for the purpose of operating cold storage plants at Toronto, Winnipeg, Montreal and Halifax in Canada, and at London and other points in England.

A man must have either great men or great objects before him, otherwise his powers degenerate, as the magnets do when it has lain for a long time without being turned towards the right corners of the world.—Jean Paul Richter.

AWFUL FALL

Serious Accident to a Workman in the Dresden Sugar Beet Factory.

Special to The Planet.

Dresden, Sept. 22.—The most serious of the many accidents which have occurred since the commencement of the beet sugar factory took place on Saturday afternoon last, when W. L. Howard, an employee, fell the height of two stories, striking on his head among the machinery. The unfortunate man was found to have sustained a fracture of the skull, a broken leg and other injuries of a more or less serious nature. His home is in Benton Harbor, Mich., and he was married only six weeks ago. Howard has been unconscious ever since the accident and no hopes are held out for his recovery.

CONTINUOUS DUEL

Rome, Sept. 20.—Two lieutenants of horse, Navasquez and Reghini, have added to the duel code a new wrinkle, the continuous duel, so called, as the parties must fight until one or both are wounded, and fight again and again after they come out of the hospital. Up to now five duels came off with this result: none men have only one arm left, one is minus an ear, the second minus the roman part of his nose. The latter man also mourns the loss of a toe. All Italy is interested in this continuous dismemberment and many bets are arranged as to which part of Navasquez and Reghini will go next.

A MOB FIRED ON DEPUTIES

Latter Return the Fire, but no
One is Hurt—Many Acts of Lawlessness.

In a Pennsylvania Mining town
—Three Trainloads of Anthracite Coal.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 21.—The mining town of Edwinstown, near here, was the scene of much lawlessness last night and early this morning. A crowd of men, seen to be strikers, went in search of a man named Jas. McGuire, who had gone to work in the mines last week. They broke down the door in the dwelling where McGuire was supposed to live and committed other depredations. The mob also fired on the deputies at the Woodward mine. The officers returned the fire, but no one was wounded. Early this morning three men were arrested, charged with being the ringleaders who threatened the life of McGuire. They gave their names as John Sherbenah, Geo. Streiker and Michael Mome. In default of $1,000 bail each they were committed to jail. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen employed on all railroads centering in Wilkesbarre, held a secret meeting at Kingston to-day. The object was to take some action on the question of brotherhood men hauling coal from the mines where non-union men are employed. The only information that would be given out was that a resolution had been adopted requesting the secretary of each local division to write a letter to Grand Master Morrissey requesting him to come here at once. A repair house at the Empire mine of the Lehigh-Wilkesbarre Coal Co. was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. It is said the building was set on fire.

MINING COAL

Reading, Pa., Sept. 21.—There passed through the city last night and to-day three trains containing a total of 150 cars of anthracite, or about 4,500 tons. One-third of this is said to have been recently mined, and the remainder is washery coal and anthracite, which has been held in storage. It is said the newly mined coal will come from the western end of Skunkkill county. The Reading company officials here believe that the increased shipments of washery coal promised from now on will solve the question of supplying the market with fuel during the strike.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22.

NO COALITION NECESSARY.

The Globe of Wednesday returned to the coalition question, and after denying that it advocated a fusion of parties, says at times such a thing is necessary. That may be correct, as doubtless it was necessary just prior to Confederation, when the late Hon. George Brown and Sir John Macdonald came to a deadlock. A coalition was then necessary as regarded Upper and Lower Canada, in order that the great scheme of confederation could be made a reality. But such a condition does not exist in Ontario now. The present Government has so entrenched itself by the creation of offices and juggling with the election law that a fair expression of the will of the people has been impossible during the past ten years. The infernal "machinery" has been used to thwart the will of the electors, and the Government is holding on to office with a large majority against it. It has held office for the last two legislatures through fraud. On the 27th of May last a majority of the people voted for a change, but by the corrupt acts of the Government's supporters the popular desire was frustrated. An honest election would have given Mr. Whitney a good working majority, and an honest election now would give the Conservatives possession of the reins by a majority quite sufficient to insure party government, which the Globe says it favors. "The parties ought to be divided by some definite issue," says the Globe. The parties are divided by a definite issue, to wit: The Ross Government is holding office against the expressed wish of a majority of the electors. That is a square issue and a definite issue. The people voted as they did because they were convinced of the corruption by which a minority has been enabled to hold office over the majority, and that the present Government is not composed of men who are politically honest. MR. WHITNEY HAS A RIGHT to the Premiership on the vote of the electors, and no coalition will be necessary if he gets what belongs to him.

We agree with the Globe that federal issues should have no place in provincial elections. "The introduction of federal issues into provincial contests only distracts attention from the real interests of the province and makes the welfare of political parties, rather than the welfare of Ontario, the dominating factor in elections," says the Globe. That is true, and perhaps the parties are equally blameable in that connection. But there are issues enough for discussion in Ontario without juggling in Dominion questions. While there is no very grave matter of policy on which the parties in Ontario seriously differ, there is just indignation at the proved corruption by which the Ross Government has been kept in office, and on the immutable principle that wrongdoing deserves punishment, the people demand a change. —St. Thomas Times.

KEEP OUR INHERITANCE TO OURSELVES.

Our American cousins have ever an eye to the main chance, and they have an abiding faith in themselves and their country, which must be admitted to be admirable, comments the Guelph Herald. Articles which appear from time in American papers afford a striking example of this, and of the further deeply fixed belief that both politically and industrially the United States is the paramount power on this continent and should remain so. The American papers, discussing reciprocity with Canada, see in it as the only possible arrangement a plan under which Canada would definitely accept the position of a producer of raw material to be manufactured into finished products by the more astute and go-ahead Americans. For exam-

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 215, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

ple, they point out Canada has great quantities of economically valuable hardwoods, which the United States manufacturers need to supply the demand for hardwood products, flooring and the like, which has arisen in Great Britain and Europe, and which promises to grow into an enormous and profitable trade. Therefore the proper kind of reciprocal trade arrangement would be one which would keep cheap unskilled Canadian labor cutting hardwood logs and hauling them to the United States factories, and at the same time furnish employment to skilled American workmen at high wages and highly profitable employment to American capital.

As the Bible hath it, "In vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird." Canada will have none of any such arrangement. We have the hardwood forests, we have the skilled enterprise and the business energy to keep our inheritance for ourselves.

That is a strange story that comes from Russia, to the effect that in a Cossack settlement the fathers of families are severely flogged if there are too many girls in the family. If it is thought that the application of the knout is conducive to the generation of male children, why not try it on the Czar?—Hamilton Herald.

A passenger in a day coach rose in his seat and in a loud voice inquired if there was any man in the car from Kentucky. Having no reply he inquired again if there was any native of Missouri in the car. A man on the back seat raised his hand. "Lend me your corkscrew," came the confident request. This is credited to Postmaster Clark after his return from Missouri.—Mount Morris, Index.

Most boys have an old silver coin of some kind which they are keeping as a relic, either for sentimental reasons or because they think it worth more than its face value. In some instances the date of the inscription has been worn away and it is impossible to read it, even with a strong glass. The following method, originally practised at the mint to discover the genuine coins when silver was called in, will enable anyone to read an obliterated inscription: Make the poker red-hot in the fire and then place the silver coin on it; the inscription will be plainly visible, in a greenish hue, which will fade as the coin cools.—Buffalo News.

"The Ottawa Journal" says: "A law exists in Canada against what is called 'ticket-scalping.' In other words, if you buy a return railway ticket from Ottawa to some other place in Canada, say Toronto, and on getting to Toronto you find that you will not be able to return here when you expected, and try to sell the return half of your ticket, you can be fined or put in jail. The law is a discreditable one. It should not be allowed to remain. A railway influence got the law passed. A railway company is willing to sell you a return ticket over its line to ensure your patronage on the return journey rather than take the chance of your coming back by another route; but it objects to letting you sell the return ticket; prefers to have full fare paid by any person coming the other way. That is all very well from the railway point of view; but from the public and common sense point of view, what a citizen buys is a citizen's property, and if a railway for its own reasons chooses to sell him a ticket cheap, that is their lookout—the ticket should belong to the person who has paid for it, to do with as he pleases."

The municipal housing question appeared to strike the Municipal Union much as the spraying of fruit trees with poison does the farmers of a neighborhood. Those who have bees to lose are against it, and those who have fruit trees to be eaten favor it; while those who have neither are indifferent.

HER WORK IS NEVER DONE.
Grand Rapids Press.

The staid London Chronicle is solemnly discussing the question, "Should Women Work?" just as if women had not been doing the world's work since creation.

Man at the end of his day's work can count up the money he has made and measure the result. Woman's day's work has no end and no tangible profits. Her only payment as she goes weary-handed and empty-handed to rest is in the satisfaction of having done well a little more of her unending labor of love.

There is nothing more pathetic, were it not so common, than the sight—so often seen—of the hard-working, conscientious mother who literally wears out her life in unheralded toil, thankless and expecting no thanks. She has no "eight-hour day." Even a twelve-hour day would be a boon to the wives who are always doing overtime, without thought of extra pay.

Traced to Wm. Hooper
Young.

New York Sept. 20.—The mystery of the murder of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, whose body was found in the Morris canal, near Jersey City, has been cleared up by the discovery that the woman was killed in a flat at 103 west Fifty-eighth street, where her clothing was found last night.

Capt. Titus, of the detective bureau, alleges that the murder was committed by a man named William Hooper Young, grandson of the famous Mormon leader, who has recently been employed in a cheap restaurant, and who formerly published the Hoboken Crusader. His picture was shown to the Hoboken liverman, who at once identified him as the unknown man who hired the buggy from him Wednesday night.

The house in which the murdered woman's clothes were found is a cheap tenement, in a block containing many stables, but is within a stone's throw of some of the most splendid apartment houses in the vicinity of Central Park South.

An autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Pulitzer, showed that her death was caused primarily by a knife wound in the abdomen and not by chloral. Several blows were struck on her head before death, but the skull was not fractured, and there were no signs of cerebral hemorrhage.

A police dragnet has been thrown out for Young. Among the books found in his room in the Fifty-eighth street flat, was the cover of a small memorandum, on the front of which was stamped in gold letters "Practice reference." On the inside were a number of notes headed, "Blood atonement," and followed by biblical references, including an excerpt from the book of Corinthians reading:

"To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus."

Detectives have traced Young to Brooklyn, where he went on Thursday morning to see a friend good-bye. To this friend he said he was going to the Rocky Mountains.

A trunk shipped to Chicago by Young, through the Wells-Fargo express, was consigned to "C. S. Eleny." The police do not believe it contained anything other than clothing belonging, possibly to Mrs. Pulitzer, as very little of the murdered woman's apparel has been found.

Richard E. Anzer, a close friend of Young, and at one time his partner in the publication of the Hoboken Crusader, says that Young called at his house in Hoboken last Thursday morning about 7:30 o'clock. Young, he says, was driving a horse and buggy which he stated had been rented by the liverman, who has since figured in the identification of the weight found attached to Mrs. Pulitzer's body.

Anzer says he met Young at Butte, Mont., in 1901. Young was then traveling for a drug house. They became friends and Young, later in the year, joined him in the publication of the paper in Hoboken. They dissolved partnership last June, however, and since then had seldom met.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 20.—Hooper Young, suspected by the police as the murderer of Mrs. Pulitzer, in New York, is the son of John W. Young, a son of Brigham Young, and is a well known railroad contractor, having become wealthy from contracts in the construction of the Utah & Northern and Utah Central railways. At the time of Brigham Young's death in 1877, John A. Young was one of the former's counselors. He was tried under the Edmunds law, charged with polygamy, but was acquitted on a technicality.

Hooper Young is well known in Salt Lake, having resided here up to a few years ago.

Outrages on the Increase.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 19.—Another Boxer uprising is imminent in China which may equal in violence that of 1900. Mail advices received at the State Department from United States Minister Conger at Peking, dated last month, show a serious condition of affairs, and the lives of all foreigners are deemed in danger. The trouble appears to arise principally from extortionate taxation, combined with resentment against the presence of missionaries, thus justifying the judgment of the Department of State, which pointed out to the powers that be the demand for excessive indemnities would result in serious internal trouble in China.

Mr. Conger's first advice bears date of Aug. 6, from Peking, and he reports serious anti-foreign riots near Chentu, in the Province of Szechuen, in which a number of native Christians had been massacred and chapels destroyed.

TRAIN MEN KILLED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—Five trainmen were killed and two seriously injured as the result of a head-on collision between Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and Pittsburg & Western passenger trains at Winger station, on the Pittsburg & Western railroad, about 10 o'clock to-day. A number of passengers were cut and bruised by flying splinters and broken glass, but none was seriously hurt.

The dead are: George Chugerty, brakeman; Wm. Benedict, engineer; Thomas E. Dugan, fireman; Fay De Moss, hostler; Wm. Graham, fireman. The accident, it is alleged, was due to the failure to flag the trains.

BATTLE CREEK MAN DEAD.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 20.—Four weeks ago the marriage of Miss Bertha Buck and Frank B. Spear was announced to take place. The groom was taken sick with typhoid fever, but died on the ceremony, which was Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases.

Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery have done me a world of good. I had female weakness for six years; sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR A QUEEN.

Brussels, Sept. 20.—King Leopold will reach Spa to-morrow, and the remains of Queen Marie Henriette will be removed to Brussels the same evening. Flags everywhere are half-masted and the city has the appearance of deep mourning.

It is understood that the funeral of the queen will be quite simple, as foreign governments are not under the necessity of sending missions.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement."

"Friends had often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case."

"I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets after each meal and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort."

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia."

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Each drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of good and wholesome remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums."

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every drug-gist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

JUDGE WAS "NEXT"

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 20.—An interesting little anecdote is going the rounds of the Windsor law offices just now in which the chief actors are Chief Justice Falconbridge, who presided at the session of the High Court of Justice, and Attorney E. S. Wigle, of Windsor.

Aware that time is a mutable agent which acts on the complexion of all things, lawsuits included, Wigle thought it reasonable to have the case of Henry vs. Ward, postponed. Such a course, it was thought, would be of advantage to the plaintiff, and to himself. It had long been known that a supreme effort would have to be made for the postponement, as the plaintiff and his attorney would be adverse to such a course, a fight was imminent. It so happened that the defendant Ward became ill a few days ago, and the case was communicated to Wigle. The latter replied stating that a doctor's certificate to that effect would be acceptable, and it is said that he requested the M. D. to use the high sounding technical nomenclature of medical lore to describe the malady.

When court opened on Monday last, Wigle made a motion to the court to have the case laid over, owing to the illness of his client. In support of his contention, he produced the physician's certificate wherein it was stated that the absentee was suffering from a sub-acute attack of rheumatism. The scheme was a good one, and although Wigle freely recognized Justice Falconbridge's talents in law and arts, he had not counted upon his being versed in medical science. To his amazement when he had finished reading the description of the malady, he heard the court thunder forth:

"Why not state the illness in plain words, Mr. Wigle?"

"Plain words?" was Wigle's rejoinder, somewhat discomfited.

Yes, why not say 'my fever?' I think this case had better go on this docket," and it did.

KALAMAZOO WEDDING

The anticipations of a large number of invited guests were delightfully realized on Tuesday evening when, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Morlan, 523 south Burdick street, her daughter, Miss Jennie Pearl, and Urse George Grandbois, of this city, were united in marriage. Rev. W. M. Puffer of the First M. E. church, performing the ceremony at half-past 8 o'clock.

The ceremony took place in the back parlor, which was artistically decorated for the occasion. Green and white were the chosen colors, and an airy canopy of asparagus and smilax with numbers of roses completed the backing of palms and ferns, forming the setting for the impressive ceremony.

The bridal party were led by the little ribbon bearers, Helen Ralston in white, and Gordon Davis, niece and nephew of the bride. Behind them came the clergyman, followed by the attendants, Philip Megs of Chicago Heights, as best man and Miss Marie Martin as maid of honor, and the little flower girl, Helen Ralston in dainty pink with a basket of pink roses. Last came the bride and groom, the former very beautiful in a trained gown of white French mill. The whole was made of clusters of tucks separated by applique felt lace set in. A string of pearls and a shower bouquet of bride roses completed the dainty toilet. The gown of the maid of honor was also of white mill with lace trimmings. A bouquet of pink roses was carried.

The wedding march from Liebergrin was finely rendered by Miss Mabel Crossman, an accomplished musician, of Marshall, who also played "O Promise Me" softly during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

After congratulations the bridal party moved to the dining room, where a special table had been prepared for them. The color scheme of red was carried out with red shades, ribbons, carried from chandelier to the corners of the table, and in the handsome bouquet of Meteor roses held by the bride. The center of the table was occupied by the remainder of the company. The fine four-course wedding repast was in charge of Mrs. Grandbois and served by four young men.

An elegant and judiciously chosen array of bridal gifts filled the gift room, and bore mute testimony to the regard in which both bride and groom are held by a large circle of friends, many of them out of the city. A $250 check was the gift of the bride's brother.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a handsome gold locket, and to the pianist a brooch pin.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Grandbois left for a brief honeymoon trip. The bride's going away gown was a dark blue suit, tailor made. On their return they will be at home at 523 south Burdick street. The groom is a traveling salesman for the Zea Flora company of this city, and with his young wife is much liked and respected. The good wishes of a large circle of friends go with them.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Grandbois, parents of the groom, brother Perry and sister Miss Orab, of Chatham, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Morlan, of Fort Wayne, brother of the bride, and wife; Mrs. W. L. Smith, of Ypsilanti, and Miss Ethel Walsworth, of Potomac, and Kalamazoo Gazette.

The King of Ranges—"Buck's Happy Thought"

Buying a Range

There are three essential things to consider when buying a Range.—Quality, Consumption of Fuel, and the Price. The price is the least important. A good Range will last many years, and when it saves in fuel it pays for its self, while a cheap Range is constantly adding to its price in extra consumption of fuel. The is the lightest fuel consumer in the world, and the most perfect Range constructed. It is a perfect cooking apparatus.

"Happy Thought" Range

MYSTERY SOLVED

Death of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer
Traced to Wm. Hooper
Young.

New York Sept. 20.—The mystery of the murder of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, whose body was found in the Morris canal, near Jersey City, has been cleared up by the discovery that the woman was killed in a flat at 103 West Fifty-eighth street, where her clothing was found last night.

Capt. Titus, of the detective bureau, alleges that the murder was committed by a man named William Hooper Young, grandson of the famous Mormon leader, who has recently been employed in a cheap restaurant, and who formerly published the Hoboken Crusader. His picture was shown to the Hoboken livings, who at once identified him as the unknown man who hired the buggy from him Wednesday night.

The house in which the murdered woman's clothes were found is a cheap tenement, in a block containing many stables, but is within a stone's throw of some of the most splendid apartment houses in the vicinity of Central Park South.

An autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Pulitzer, showed that her death was caused primarily by a knife wound in the abdomen and not by choral. Several blows were struck on her head before death, but the skull was not fractured, and there were no signs of cerebral hemorrhage.

A police dragnet has been thrown out for Young. Among the books found in his room in the Fifty-eighth street flat, was the cover of a small memorandum, on the front of which was stamped in gold letters "Practical reference." On the inside were a number of notes headed, "Blood atonement," and followed by biblical references, including an extract from the book of Corinthians reading:

Detectives have traced Young to Brooklyn, where he went on Thursday morning to bid a friend good-bye. To this friend he said he was going to the Rocky Mountains.

A trunk shipped to Chicago by Young, through the Wells-Fargo express, was consigned to "C. S. Eiden." The police do not believe it contained anything other than clothing belonging, possibly to Mrs. Pulitzer, as very little of the murdered woman's apparel has been found.

Richard E. Young, he says, was driving a horse and buggy which he stated had been rented by the livings, who has since figured in the identification of the weight found attached to Mrs. Pulitzer's body.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR A QUEEN.

Brussels, Sept. 20.—King Leopold will reach Spa to-morrow, and the remains of Queen Marie Henriette will be removed to Brussels the same evening. Flags everywhere are half-masted and the city has the appearance of deep mourning.

It is understood that the funeral of the queen will be quite simple, so foreign governments are not under the necessity of sending missions.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by George Loven to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the cure of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and tea and sleep and eat only two or three times a day, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets after each meal and occasionally a tablet with my meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I eat, sleep and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the principal ingredients were (as per septic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Each drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can ensure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and stimulants.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

JUDGE WAS "NEXT"

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 20.—An interesting little anecdote is going the rounds of the Windsor law offices just now in which the chief actors are Chief Justice Falconbridge, who presided at the session of the High Court of Justice, and Attorney E. S. Wigle, of Windsor.

Aware that time is a mutable agent which acts on the complexion of all things, lawsuits included, Wigle thought it advisable to have the case of Henry vs. Ward, postponed. Such a course, it was thought, would be of advantage to the plaintiff, and to himself. It had long been known that a supreme effort would have to be made for the postponement, as the plaintiff and his attorney would be adverse to such a course, a fight was imminent. It so happened that the defendant Ward became ill a few days ago, and that information was communicated to Wigle. The latter replied stating that a doctor's certificate to that effect would be acceptable, and it is said that the requested technical nomenclature of medical lore to describe the malady.

Wigle court opened on Monday last, Wigle made a motion to the court to have the case laid over, owing to the illness of his client. In support of his contention, he produced the physician's certificate wherein it was stated that the absentee was suffering from a sub-acute attack of rhinitis. The scheme was a good one, and, although Wigle freely recognized Justice Falconbridge's talents in law and arts, he had not counted upon his being versed in medical science. To his amazement when he heard the reading of the description of the malady, he heard the court thunder forth:

"Why not state the illness in plain words, Mr. Wigle?"

"Plain words?" was Wigle's rejoinder, somewhat discomfited.

"Yes, why not say 'hay fever'?" I think this case had better go on this docket," and it did.

KALAMAZOO WEDDING

The anticipations of a large number of invited guests were delightfully realized on Tuesday evening when, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Morlan, 523 south Burdick street, her daughter, Miss Jennie Morlan, and Urse George Grandbois, both of this city, were united in marriage, Rev. W. M. Puffer of the First M. Church, performing the ceremony at half-past 8 o'clock.

The ceremony took place in the back parlor, which was artistically decorated for the occasion with red and white were the chosen colors, and an airy canopy of asparagus and smilax with numbers of white asters, and a backing of palms and ferns, formed the setting for the impressive ceremony.

The bridal party were led by the little ribbon bearers, Ruth Ralston in white, and Gordon Davis, niece and nephew of the bride. Behind them came the clergyman, followed by the attendants, Philip Megs of Chicago Heights, as best man and Miss Marie Martin as maid of honor, and the little flower girl, Helen Ralston in dainty pink with a basket of pink roses. Lastly came the bride and groom, the former very beautiful in a trained gown of white French material. The whole was made of clusters of tucks separated by applique fillet lace set in. A string of pearls and a shower bouquet of bride roses completed the dainty toilet. The groom wore the suit of honor was also of white with lace trimmings. A bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses was carried.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was finely rendered by Miss Marie and her accompanist, Mr. Mabel Grossman, an accomplished musician, of Marshall, who also played "O Promise Me" softly during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

After congratulations the bridal party moved to the dining room, where a special table had been prepared for them. The color scheme of red was carried out with red shades, ribbons, carried from chandelier to the corners of the table, and in the handsome bouquet of Meteor roses in the center of the table. Smaller tables were occupied by the remainder of the company. The fine four-course wedding repast was in charge of Mrs. Slaughter and served by four young men.

An elegant and judiciously chosen array of bridal gifts filled the gift room, and bore mute testimony to the regard in which both bride and groom are held by a large circle of friends, many of them out of the city. A $250 check was the gift of the bride's brother.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a handsome gold locket, and to the pianist a brooch pin.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Grandbois left for a brief honeymoon trip. The bride's going away gown was a dark blue suit, tailor made. On their return they will be at home at 523 south Burdick street. The groom is a traveling salesman for the Zoa Phora company of this city, and with his young wife is much liked and respected. The good wishes of a large circle of friends go with them.

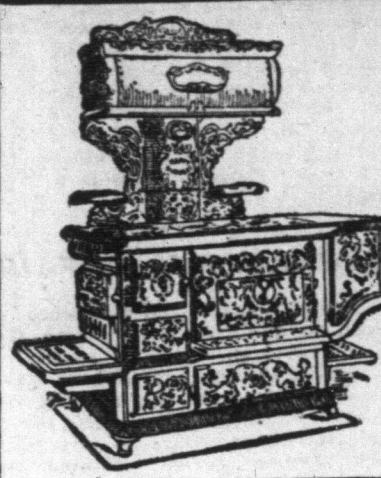

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. John Grandbois, parents of the groom, brother Perry and sister Miss Oran, of Chatham, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Morlan, of Fort Wayne, brother of the bride, and wife; Mrs. W. L. Smith, of Ypsilanti, and Miss Ethel Waleworth, of Petoskey. — Kalamazoo Gazette.

MONUMENT TO SLOCUM.

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 19.—The dedication to-day of the monument erected on the Gettysburg battlefield to the memory of Gen. Henry W. Slocum, attracted a very large attendance of veterans. Sickles and former Pension Commissioner Dudley, who lost a leg in the battle of Gettysburg while in command of the Nineteenth Indiana regiment.

The King of Ranges—"Buck's Happy Thought"

Buying a Range

There are three essential things to consider when buying a Range—Quality, Consumption of Fuel, and the Price. The price is the least important. A good Range will last many years, and when it saves in fuel it pays for its self, while a cheap Range is constantly adding to its price in extra consumption of fuel. The

"Happy Thought" Range is the lightest fuel consumer in the world, and the most perfect Range constructed. It is a perfect cooking apparatus.

Houston, Stone & Schme, acting on behalf of Solomon Zebbs, have issued a writ against Chas. Barnett. The writ is for damages for the seduction of Mr. Zebbs' daughter, Lena.

On the 5th of October Rev. A. M. Russell, M. A. B. D., of Highgate, will conduct the anniversary services in the Victoria Avenue Methodist church. Mr. Russell is the president of the London conference and a brilliant speaker.

Mayor G. W. Sullivan has returned from Montreal, where he has been attending the Ontario Municipal Convention. He reports having had an excellent time and has received many good pointers on municipal affairs. He will give a report of the trip at the council meeting to-night.

A citizen calls the attention of the council to the crossings on Victoria avenue, North Chatham. At the intersection of Barthe and Grant streets, crossings have been built several inches above surrounding land. The crossing from Barthe to Grant streets on the south side in particular is so high that it cuts off the natural flow of the water to the river. The square inclosed by the four crossings is being filled with rubbish that emits a disagreeable odor. There was another crossing put in across Victoria avenue on the south side of Head street. There was no need for this crossing at all, in the opinion of citizens, and these crossings cost from $50 to $60.

WAS A WEDDING

A colored man entered the dry goods establishment of Thomas Stone & Son, and cautiously approaching Fred. Ridley, inquired if he could purchase a pair of cotton gloves. Mr. Ridley said that white cotton gloves for men were not kept in stock, but that they could probably be secured from Mr. Jahnke or Mr. Oltart, as they both kept funeral outfits. "Excuse me, Mr. Ridley," said the colored man, "you are mistaken about this. This is no funeral. This is a wedding."

DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR

As an outcome of the difference on Queen St. on Friday, in which Mrs. Minnie Dittman and Mrs. Alice King played the leading parts, there was a police court case this morning, in which Mrs. Dittman was fined for using insulting language to Mrs. King. Both women denied striking any blows. Mrs. King, Mrs. Anna Duff and Fred Corneat gave evidence for the plaintiff. According to the story of these witnesses, the row was the outcome of a fight between the children of complainant and defendant. All said that John Dittman had threatened to kill Mrs. King's boy.

John Dittman, when he went on the stand, denied that he had threatened to kill the King boy. Judge Houston said that he would have to report this matter to the Crown Attorney for him to investigate as to whether Dittman was committing perjury or not.

The court found Mrs. Dittman guilty and fined her $2 and costs, $5.50 in all, of 15 days in jail. Mrs. Dittman paid.

Judge Houston said that it was a disgraceful affair, and if Mrs. King did not look after her children that application would be made to hand them over to the Children's Aid Society.

HAD NO BOOK

A colored lad aged nine appeared before Judge Houston this morning charged with assaulting another lad aged seven. Judge Houston said that he was adverse to sending a boy to jail when he could help it, and dismissed the lad with a warning.

During the evidence it developed that the youthful prisoner didn't go to school, although he was only nine years old. He told the judge that he had no book and that was why he didn't go to school. The lad was in Part II Book, which costs 15 cents, and he hadn't the money. He wasn't allowed to go to one of the schools barefooted and he had no shoes. In reply to a question of the judge the lad said he didn't even go to the circus. The mother, who was present, said that it was only recently that her son had clothes to wear. The court told the woman to send the boy to school, or if she couldn't secure a school, she must have the boy to school because of barefeet, he should report to the police and the matter would be referred to the School Board.

WIRELESS TELEPHONY.

Berlin, Sept. 21.—Encouraging results of wireless telephony have been obtained on the Wannsee Lake by Ernest Ruhmer, the physicist, who has loved the line of Prof. Graham Bell's experiment with light. Clear and comparatively loud sounds were heard at distances of four and even seven kilometres, respectively about two and a half and four and a quarter miles.

Herr Ruhmer's invention is said to act on the principle of the transformation of light waves by using a searchlight and a microphone.

JOY TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Melbourne, Sept. 21.—Mme. Melba, the operatic star, has arrived here. Her father, who had not seen her in sixteen years, came from Albany to welcome her. The excitement of the meeting caused a blood vessel in his brain to burst, and he is in a serious condition. Mme. Melba has consequently postponed her first concert. The series of concert to have been given by her has been postponed. The most brilliant ever given in the Southern hemisphere. The government has placed the railways at her disposal, and the governors of the different colonies offered to act as her hosts during her visit.

AN INTERNATIONAL ENVELOPE.

London, Sept. 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette yesterday published a despatch from Rome, saying that the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Signor Galimberti, is projecting an international envelope for use throughout the Postal Union, permitting a postal reply. It is now difficult to prepay a reply, as foreign stamps are not available. The Minister's plan, it is held, overcomes the objections to international stamps proposed and rejected at the Postal Congress held at Washington.

CAN WEAR GOOD SUIT

Chief Holmes says that the reason he isn't wearing his uniform just now is because he is on his holidays. He is entitled to two weeks' vacation, but instead he is taking a month's holiday and continuing his work. The holiday consists in wearing out his old clothes and, if the Banther-man would like to borrow the Chief's uniform, he can have it until the Chatham Chief of Police gets through his holidays.

NO TENDERS

The Police Commissioners met this afternoon at two o'clock with Chairman Houston, Judge Bell and Mayor George Sullivan present. A number of tenders for painting and papering the police station were received, but no tenders were handed in for plumbing or cement work.

On motion of Mayor Sullivan the time on the tenders was extended and those that were opened were resealed and entered in the minutes.

The Chief of Police was also told to see the contractors to have them send in tenders for the plumbing and other work.

The coal question was discussed, and on suggestion of Mayor Sullivan, five tons were ordered at $8.00 per ton, that being enough to last till Christmas.

A communication from the Chief, asking for rubber capes for the police was read, and referred to the chief and Chairman Houston.

Judge Bell thought the matter should be suited in the matter even if the cost was a few dollars more.

SQUANDERED FORTUNE

When the flowers began to bloom in the spring Charlie Rogers promised Judge Houston that if it were permitted unto him to depart without a sentence that he wouldn't return till fall. Charlie kept his word, and went to work for a farmer near Benheim.

He worked hard all summer and arrived in Chatham four weeks ago with $40 in money in his pocket. The unfortunate old man began to get rid of his wealth as fast as he could, and his wealth he had none of his money left.

Chief Holmes saw Rogers on the street, Saturday, carrying a pair of ladies' rubbers. The Chief didn't know why those rubbers were in Rogers' possession, so he cautioned them on general principles. Shortly afterwards it was reported to the police that Rogers had been hired to split wood for Mrs. Hickling, Murray street, and had walked off with the axe. Unable to dispose of the chopper, he had returned the axe and then collected the clothing hanging in the hall and disappeared so well that he hasn't been seen since, and although the police searched his haunts, they were unable to find the man they know so well.

FINE FACTORY

Rudolph Stock, superintendent of the Dresden sugar beet factory, with Geo. Elsie, the manager, were in the Maple City on business to-day.

"We expect to commence making sugar by October 15," said Mr. Stock in a short interview with The Planet, "and expect a very successful season's work as the beets are high grade. We have 1,400 contracts with grade. The factory's nominal output capacity is 600 tons, but we expect to run 700 tons during the coming season."

"Chatham should have a factory of her own," smilingly commented Mr. Stock.

UP THE RIVER

Supt. Jones of the Waterworks, has examined the river as far up as Kent Bridge, and found it free from dead fish and floating ice masses. Mr. Jones made the trip in the electric vapor launch Winkie. He was accompanied by Bert Jones, Casper Schweimler, Will Rutley Roy Brisco and a Plumber.

Mr. Jones had good reason to be satisfied with the work of the water shovels. The launch did good shape. Between Louisville and Kent Bridge rapids are encountered in three different places. The current is very swift at these places and the water shallow. The only spot difficult of navigation is at Steer's rapids, about half a mile this side of Kent Bridge. Here the river is studied with large boulders, and it is difficult to pick a channel through before and knew the channel. The launch in the middle of the river at Kent Bridge, was discovered quite unintentionally by the captain and crew of the Winkie. Supt. Jones was the pilot and did his work well. The trip was successful until it had almost closed. When the bend above the Lake Erie bridge was reached the digasoline supply showed signs of diminishing and by the time the Fifth street bridge was reached it failed utterly. It was decided that the next time such a long trip was made that care would be taken to see that the gasoline tank was full.

Supt. Jones noted the several gravel beds up the river. He is of the opinion that Chatham would do well to take note of them, as these beds could be put to profitable use in the construction of roads in Chatham.

The launch made good time, not taking into account the stops made in running down the rapids, the distance from a mile above Kent Bridge to Louisville was made in one hour and ten minutes. It was 6.10 p. m. when Louisville was reached and it was 8.15 when the launch reached her moorings at Chatham. Had the gasoline not played out, Chatham would have been reached inside of eight o'clock.

New York, Sept. 20.—The American line steamship St. Paul, which arrived to-day, reported that on the voyage a successful fight had been made against a fire which raged for 12 hours in the clothes room. Check the Results of Government Working the Railways. Prosperity shown in the Recent Financial Statement.

Sir Joseph Ward, the acting Colonial Treasurer, made his financial statement recently.

Last year's revenue amounted to $6,152,839, while the expenditure amounted to $5,914,915, leaving an excess of revenue over expenditure of $237,924. Adding to this the balance which was brought over from the preceding year, namely, $22,364, after deduction of the sum of $500,- 000, which was transferred to the public works fund, a surplus is left of $270,488. At the close of the past year, the public works expenditure amounted to $2,143,252, and $200,000 of advances previously received were paid off. The cash balance was $454,059, with about $100,000 of the last loan to be received.

The public debt was now $52,- 966,417, showing an increase of $3,- 375,212 during the year, of which amount however, quite $1,619,285, being at once interest-earning will not become a burden on the tax-pay-er.

The bringing into operation of the principles of local self-government by the Maoris, under the Maori Councils act of 1901, has already proved to be a great boon to them, and it ensures the increase of the race. Old-age pensions cost the colony last year $207,000. The land tax and income tax revenue exceeded the estimates. Works are in progress at the State coal mines at Westport and Greymouth. The reductions given by the present Government
since it took office are: Railways, $510,000; mortgage tax, $25,000;
posts and telegraphs, $181,000; customs, $138,000.

Every effort is being made to secure trade with South Africa, the United Kingdom, India, China and Japan, and it is hoped to complete shortly a contract for a steamship service to South Africa. The construction of railways and of roads is being vigorously pushed forward.

The Government proposes further large concessions to the public—in railways, $10,000, and reduction of $25,000 from the mortgage tax —and also proposes to assist the hush settlers by a remission of rent during the first few years of their leases.

The estimates for the current year reach $5,987,063, for expenditure, and $6,083,500, for revenue, which,
with the balance brought forward from last year, leaves a surplus of $367,000 to provide for further appropriations in the supplementary estimates, and for the usual transfer to the public works fund in aid of the construction of roads and bridges.

It is proposed to raise a new loan of £1,750,000, to be devoted to the construction of trunks and other lines of railway, and the "construction of roads, tracks and bridges."
The new loan will also be used for providing additional rolling stock,
and for relaying the permanent way, for developing the gold fields and for telegraphic extension purposes. It is proposed to place a portion of the loan on the local money market.

The working of the railways shows excellent results, products being carried at less than a third of the cost of the carriage by land, while passengers are carried at a quarter of a sixth less. The result of this is enormously increased traffic.

The general condition of the colony is wonderfully prosperous.

A Reading

I am reminded of a Scotch country gentleman, now dead, who could never comfortably read his morning paper without a lead pencil in his hand. He had a library, which would have been worth a fortune to a journalist or an astrologer solver.
Every work of reference from the National Dictionary of Biography, downward, was to be found in it.
He could never bear to be a year behind with his Burke or his Bohn, and even his Crockett was kept up to date, although he was a strict Presbyterian, and had few dealings with the Established Church across the border. Every one of his books was read.

His literary opinions were heterodox, but unabashed. His pencilled scorn for the works of Mr. George Merodith exceeded the bounds of courtesy; his admiration for those of Mr.
R. Crockett left scarcely a page without an underlined passage. He had written just what he thought of Sir Walter Scott, and a copy of Paradise Lost was annotated as if it had been issued the week before from Messrs. Constable's press at Edinburgh. I had the curiosity to take down from his shelves an early experiment in fiction of his own. Its undergraduate, having had been carefully weighed, and for the most part, approved, but there was occasional rows of notes of exclamation in the margin and, in one place, a marginal comment. Oh, this is too much! At the end of the book was a sort of index of marked pages, with a few words of explanation as to why they had been marked. The whole represented an amount of attention which a very careful reviewer might give it to the important book of the year, and every other book in his library had been similarly treated—From The Speaker.

Shirking the Responsibility.

An Irishman who traded in small wares, kept a donkey cart with which he visited the different villages. On one occasion he came to a bridge where a toll was levied.

He found to his disappointment he had not enough to pay it.

A bright thought struck him. He unharnessed the donkey and put it into the cart. Then, getting between the shafts himself, he paid the cart with the donkey standing on it to the bridge.

In due course he was hailed by the toll collector.

"What's your toll?" cried the latter.

"Begorra," said the Irishman,
"just ask the d-o-o-iver."

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The British Government has addressed to the signatories of the Berlin treaty a note couched in terms similar to the note of the United States concerning anti-Semitic legislation in Roumania. It is reported that an exchange of views is proceeding between the powers on the question. It is believed that Germany's attitude is in sympathy with that of Mr. Hay, the American Secretary of State.

MURDER OF MISSIONARIES.

Pekin, Sept. 19.—The situation at British and French gunboats are now within ninety miles of the city. A squadron of French Marines has reached Cheng Tu Fu, and the mar-

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's

JESUITS TO MEET IN ROME.

Rome, Sept. 19.—Representatives of the Jesuits from all parts of the world are to assemble in Rome for the biennial conference of the order on Sept. 28. Each provincial congregation will send a delegate to meet the father-general and the governing council, report the religious and financial prospects of the Society of Jesus, and suggest means for extending the scope of its work.

It is a peculiar feature of this great conference of Jesuits that the oath of the delegates binds them to secrecy in all matters relating to the decision of the governing council in regard to any question discussed at the conference. A correspondent was informed that only routine business is on the program of this year's meeting, but the secret conclaves of this powerful order always attract wide attention.

LAYING THE PACIFIC CABLE.

A Description of the Colonia that is Going to Victoria.

The new cable ship Colonia, which is to be used to lay the British Pacific cable, is practically ready for her journey. She is 500 feet in length, with beam of 56 feet, and is designed to carry close upon 10,000 tons dead weight. When loaded she is to steam 11 knots. The length of cable that she can carry is about 4,000 miles, which is a greater length than could be put on board the Great Eastern when she was engaged in her cable-laying expeditions. The builders have designed an "elegant-looking"
craft in spite of the special conditions which had to be fulfilled, and in this respect the Colonia is a pleasing contrast to cable ships aboard. The spar deck of the ship is of teak, and is flush right up to the aft, making a spacious promenade.
Amidships is an accommodation for the officers and numerous electrical experts. There are also bathrooms, large gallery, butchery, bakery and on the deck below a refrigerating chamber. Adjoining the main deck is a spacious dining saloon, paneled in oak and beautifully fitted, even to the minutest detail. On the bridge deck above are apartments of the captain, being a suite of three rooms.
Next to these is a chart-room of ample proportions, and above it is the navigating bridge and boat deck.

In the after part of the vessel on the spar deck are two houses of special interest to electricians, one of them being the test room, and the other the drum room. These have a very complete installation of galvanometers and other testing instruments, together with a quantity of the special appliances by means of which all the calculations are made as to the amounts of cable paid out, the strain on it, and its electrical resistance. The aftermost deck-house is occupied by the powerful steering apparatus, which is a combined hydraulic and steam-steering engine, actuated by a telemotor on the flying bridge. The vessel is lighted throughout with electricity, and as much attention has been given to ventilation as to the crew, the cabin hands, and the stewards, and there is also a well-ventilated hospital.

As soon as the cables have been loaded the Colonia will proceed on her long journey via the Suez Canal to Victoria. She will then lay the cable from that point to Fanning Island, the little patch of dry land in mid-Pacific. The cable from Fanning Island, Fiji, New Zealand, and Australia has already been laid, so that the British Colon will be accomplished her work in hand, the British nation will give a complete circle around the world of telegraphic cables, all of which lie between points of British territory.

At the exhibition of medical and surgical apparatus which has been given the Queen's Hall the appearance of a buzzard at chemist's shop-on a large scale, there are at least three installations for giving "light baths," something akin to the "sun bath" treatment which has attracted so many hopeful hypochondriacs in Germany. Many experiments in light therapy have been made during the last few years, and in skin diseases especially, cures have been reported which sound almost like those of Lourdes. Among such may be mentioned some cases reported by Dr.
Allen Pusey, of Illinois University, in one of the medical journals of this week. The Röntgen rays were applied in thirty-six cases, some of them cases which were regarded as hopeless, and several of them in which surgical operation was impossible. In all the cases such improvement was effected; in some of the cases the effect was miraculous. Dr.
Pusey thinks that the light treatment should be at least given a trial in all inoperable cases; it is, at any rate, painless. Another contribution to the same subject which appears in the same paper is that which "vitilates" the malignancy of "cancer sores" to some unknown constituent of the sun's rays. It is pointed out by the observer that among troops
the left hand, which holds the reins of the sun, is the part which is most often affected, but it appears to be more or less established that a violent sun grows worse if exposed to light and better if protected.—London Morning Post.

AFRICA'S NIAGARA.

The Wonderful Falls of Zambesi—White Man to Put Black Man's God Into Harness for Work.

Cecil Rhodes had a notion that some day, long after he had gone to his rest beneath the boulders on the Matappo Hills, South Africa would rise up to compete with the United States, just as the United States had risen up to make Europe "hustle."

Whether or not that dream was too big for its foundation of facts, it is certain that one branch of its support is about to be erected, and that the results are going to be of far-reaching interest and importance.

It will not be permissible to call Africa the Dark Continent when it has a tremendous electric light in the middle of it. Yet that is what it is going to have. The plan is not merely a dream, for within a few weeks an expedition is set out from London to make an actual beginning on the work of establishing at Victoria Falls on the Zambesi River an electric power plant that will in time put to blush the famous turbines at Niagara Falls, just as Victoria Falls themselves greatly exceed in height, width and grandeur those at Niagara.

It is to be a dramatic sort of invasion, for the falls thunder out to-day on the silence of an almost unbroken jungle; hippopotami and crocodiles bask undisturbed in the Zambesi and lions stalk in the long grass.

To the Barotsi, the native tribe which inhabits the surrounding country, the great cataract is a god, and they pray to it, and offer up burnt sacrifices for its propitiation. And now the white man is coming to put the black man's god into harness and make him do the work of more than 100,000 horses.

It was Prof. George Forbes, an American engineer who had taken a prominent part in the "harnessing" of the Niagara Falls, who first suggested that the millions of horse power which had been going to waste in the heart of Africa should be put to practical use.

One night, five years ago, he and Alfred Haggard, a brother of the author of "King Solomon's Mines," who had just come back from Africa, sat in the Athenaeum Club in London, when the explorer told the electrician about the great falls in the Zambesi, that livingstone had been the first white man to see, and that made the wonder of America seem a dwarf. "He told him how the river, more than a mile wide, flung itself over the edge of a gorge 400 feet deep, and then zigzagged its way through a rocky canyon 20 miles long."

"Why not make that cataract generate electricity and carry the power down to Rhodesia?" suggested the American engineer, and Mr. Haggard jumped at the idea.

It didn't take long to form a syndicate called the Africa Trust, to push along the scheme, and Prof. Forbes and Mr. Haggard were sent down to Rhodesia to see Cecil Rhodes about getting a concession from the Chartered Company.

Eventually Mr. Rhodes thought so well of the project that he went into partnership with the Africa Trust, but in the beginning he gave them the 25-year concession they asked for. The Colossus placed no restrictions on the company as to the amount of water they might divert, but made it conditional that the beauty of the falls should not be injured, which was characteristic of him.

Since that time Sir Charles Metcalfe, the famous engineer has visited the falls and reported favorably on the plan of "harnessing" them, and the Africa Trust and the Chartered Company have joined forces and now are at work to spend $5,000,000 on the installation.

A commission of electrical engineers which may include two or three Americans, is now preparing to leave England to make all arrangements for putting in the plant as soon as the machinery can reach the falls. That will be when Rhodes' Cape to Cairo Railway, over which the material will have to be sent, is built up to the cataract. The line is now laid for 40 miles north of Bulawayo, but the falls lie 275 miles farther on, and probably that distance will not be covered much before the end of the year.

The country over which the railroad will have to be built before it reaches the falls, is about the most difficult engineers have had to tackle yet. A mass of hills and hollows of hard basalt rock that which forms the canyon of the Zambesi. In the swampy land near by, malaria is rampant, and the dense forests which stretch away in the direction of civilization are the deadly "tsetse" fly's happiest hunting ground.

The men who are to build the power plant at the Victoria Falls probably will have as many close calls from wild beasts as those who have been working on the Cape to Cairo Railroad and telegraph line, have had, but they are not likely to have any trouble with the natives.

A Simple Cure for Earache.
"I am afraid I have greatly interfered with my own practice," said a celebrated aurist, "by giving the following advice to many of my friends: 'At the first symptoms of earache let the patient lie on the bed with the painful ear uppermost. Fold a thick towel, and tuck it around the neck; then with a teaspoon fill the ear with warm water.'"

"Continue doing this for fifteen or twenty minutes. The water will fill the ear orifice and flow over the towel. Afterward turn over on the head, let the water run out and plug the ear with warm glycerine and cotton."

"This may be done every hour until relief is obtained. It is an almost invariable cure and has saved many cases of acute inflammation. The water should be quite warm but not too hot."—London Tit-Bits.

THE ACTON LIBRARY.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie's Remarkable Gift to Mr. Morley.

The late Lord Acton's library, which Andrew Carnegie, the purchaser, has presented to Mr. John Morley, contains some 7,000 volumes. The London Daily News says:—"This is, in some respects, Mr. Carnegie's most remarkable gift, and one of the most princely and splendid acts of friendship on record. It is a tribute of wealth to genius, and Mr. Carnegie could not have chosen a more fitting recipient. It is a scholar's library, and it needed, to achieve its highest usefulness, to be placed in a scholar's hands."

The library is exceedingly rich in historical and ecclesiastical works. For this reason, and because it would cost £220,000, to erect a building for it. The Daily Chronicle thinks that Mr. Carnegie does not intend the gift for Mr. Morley's private use, but rather that he should hold it in trust for some public use, probably for one of the universities, preferably Cambridge, with which university the late Lord Acton was connected.

The library which Lord Acton collected at Alderbury Park, and for which he had, some thirty years ago, a special addition to his house built, is so complete as a storehouse of modern secular and ecclesiastical history that it surpasses by few public institutions, and is equalled by no private library in Europe or America. In one respect, indeed, the library is unique. A large number of the volumes were annotated by Lord Acton. That great scholar, whose learning has been proverbial in England for the last quarter of a century, wrote very little, but his enormous stores of information were used in qualifying the volumes in his possession. Doubtless it is this fact that has induced Mr. Carnegie to present the books to the Right Hon. John Morley, for Mr. Morley is perhaps the one man in the world best equipped to utilize the knowledge which is contained in the Acton books and the annotations which Lord Acton made.

The subjects which chiefly interested Lord Acton, such as the history of the Papacy, and that of modern Europe, especially Germany, France and Italy; the Jesuits, and the evolution of political opinion and of political economy, are most of them subjects which Mr. Morley is authority. The library is rich in volumes on these subjects, and is particularly rich in Indices Librorum Prohibitorum, Jesuitica, collections of letters in Italian, Latin and French, books relating to the Council of Trent, and the histories of Protestantism in the several French provinces.

One remarkable feature of the library is that it contains no rarities, as such, without other qualities of value. Every book that Lord Acton bought was bought because he desired to read it. The fact that a very large proportion of his books were extremely rare, and in some cases unique, was only incidental. Mr. Morley has so often expressed the view that such a collection as this should be made available for public purposes, that it may be expected that the library will eventually be added to some public institution.

PAGANS IN SWEDLAND.

Nearly all travelers in Central Africa have referred to the curious customs prevalent among almost all pagan native tribes, of driving quantities of nails into sacred trees and other objects that have been adjudged worthy of veneration; and this not in malice, but as a religious rite the nails in question being intended as votive offerings.

Exactly the same thing may be witnessed to-day at the sacred woods of Loch Maree, Ross Shire, where is an ancient oak tree, studded with countless nails of all sizes, the offerings of invalid pilgrims, who came to worship and be healed.

Pennies and half-pennies, also; are to be seen in enormous quantities, driven edgewise into the tough bark; and a friend of the writers, who visited the spot some little time back, discovered in a cleft high up in the trunk what he took to be a shilling.

On being extracted, however, it proved to be counterfeit. Probably the donor, finding that he could get no value for his coin in the "natural" world, concluded he might as well try, as a last resource, what effect it might have in the spiritual.

Prince of Wales's Crown.

Perhaps the most remarkable headgear which the coronation will bring forth is not the King's crown, but that of the Prince of Wales. The existence of this diadem has been generally ignored, which is excusable, as it has never figured among the regalia at the Tower, and was only once worn by King Edward, and then in India on the occasion of the great durbar at Delhi. It resembles an ordinary coronet, but its apex bears a tuft of feathers tipped with gold. These are the tail feathers of the ferriah, which is the rarest member of the family of the bird of paradise. As the ferriah is not only uncommon but also frequents the haunts of tigers its capture is a matter of the greatest danger and difficulty. Moreover it must be caught alive and the feathers plucked from the tail of the living bird, as instantly after death the plumage loses its lustre. Hence it is not remarkable that the Prince of Wales's feathers took twenty years to collect, cost the lives of a dozen hunters, and are worth £10,000.

He who gives up the smallest part of a secret has the rest no longer in his power.

A man talks about owning his business. But as a matter of fact his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The result which follows this slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse from the effects of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business break-downs which so often terminate fatally.

The lie of fear is the refuge of cowardice, and the lie of deceit is the device of the fraudulent.

PRINCE SEEKS DEATH

Paris, Sept. 20.—A telegram received here from Algiers, Algeria, today reported that the Grand Duke of the Papu Aluxandrovitch, a cousin of the Czar (another despatch said it was the Grand Duke's brother, Vladimir), who arrived at Algiers on board the Russian Imperial yacht Standart, attempted to commit suicide with a revolver at the hotel where he was staying with a Russian woman, and that he had been taken to a hospital with a wound in his temple. A later despatch, however, gives the true story, according to which Prince Vladimir Troubetzkoi, who is an officer of the Standart, after drinking copiously in company with a woman friend, tried to shoot himself, but was not hurt.

JEALOUSY--REVENGED

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 21.—David M. Goughner, a well-known young man, shot and seriously wounded Miss Leora Winnebrenner, aged 17 years, near her home, in Conemaugh, near this city, last night, and then sent a bullet into his own heart, dying instantly. Jealousy and a desire for revenge are given as a cause for the act. Miss Winnebrenner and Edward Kaylor were walking leisurely along a street. Goughner preceded them and when a few feet ahead, he suddenly stopped, and without warning he turned and fired. The first shot struck Miss Winnebrenner just below the breast-bone. As the girl turned back and started to run Goughner fired again, the ball striking her in the left side, making only a slight wound. A third shot grazed her left wrist. Kaylor ran when the fusillade began and escaped injury. He says Goughner fired two shots at him. After emptying the revolver Goughner reloaded it, and placing it in his pocket, he fired the shot that killed him instantly. Miss Winnebrenner's condition is extremely serious.

HITS THE TUNNEL HARD.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 21.—The coal strike is having a decided effect on the Grand Trunk railway at this point, and particularly the St. Clair Tunnel Co. The reserve supply of coal is now being used, and there is no more in sight. It is absolutely necessary to use hard coal for the two engines, as the tender coal would necessitate cutting the trains in two, as the desired pressure of steam cannot be generated by soft coal, and it would be impossible to fire up on the grades or in the tunnel owing to the fact. Further it would be necessary to run a less number of trains to give the tunnel time to clear out. It is probable if the strike situation continues electricity will have to be installed.

FOUND DEAD.

Thorold, Ont., Sept. 21.—The body of Wm. Davidge, of the Thorold Pulp Company, was found by members of his family dead on the floor of his room with a bullet wound in his right temple, amounting to $167.00, and is not known whether it was accidental or a case of suicide. The coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary. Mr. Davidge came here from Niagara Falls, N. Y., about two years ago. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow.

BATH HOUSE THIEVES.

St. Catharines, Mich., Sept. 20.—The bath house thief is again getting in his work here. Yesterday James Bertram, of Boston, deposited his jewelry, consisting of a gold watch and chain, diamond stud and ring, in a drawer at one of the bath houses. When he had finished his bath he thought the number on the key did not look familiar, but presented it at the office to find that the drawer that it opened contained $3. Some elixir crook had shifted the key and taken the jewelry. The drawer in which he had deposited his valuables had been emptied some time previous.

TILBURY

Sept. 22.—Miss Mary Stewart returned on Saturday from a visit with friends in Blenheim. Miss A. Coultis is entertaining a number of friends this evening. Powell rendered in her usual pleasing manner "The Plains of Peace."

Mrs. W. Henderson, of Nebraska, formerly of Tilbury, was the guest of her cousin here, Mrs. J. Anderson, a few days last week.

BOWLING

WELL CONTESTED.
The most exciting and interesting match in the singles occurred Saturday in the first game of the second round, while R. G. Fleming defeated N. H. Stevens by a score of 18 to 16. They were tied on last end and an extra end was played. Stevens was lying shot when Fleming played his last bowl, knocking out Stevens' bowl and lying two himself, thus winning by the two shots.

A. E. Jewett easily defeated W. H. Robinson in the second round of the singles by 25 to 11.

BASEBALL

GIVE THE RAG TO RUBE.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that Rube Waddell will win the pennant of the American League. He is so far ahead of the St. Louis Browns, his nearest competitor that, with their series against Cleveland and Chicago, there is little hope that they will be able to make any appreciable gain, and there are many who would not be surprised if the Browns went back. Rube has certainly had a great year. It is true that he has been somewhat assisted by a couple of catchers, one or two winning partners in the box and a fair aggregation in the field and at the bat, but there is no one who is acquainted with the game that doubts that, if Rube had been with St. Louis, Chicago, or Boston, his club would be now in the place occupied by Connie Mack's stars or with a percentage even higher. When Connie gets the pennant it would be a graceful act for him to turn it over to Rube, who would doubtless have it made into a pair of trousers and wear it on the trip, to the great astonishment of the natives of the various towns along the circuit, give the rag to Rube.—Detroit Tribune.

Fall Furnishings

About all the new furnishings are here. It's a liberal stock—bigger in some lines than ever before, and better all round.

Neckwear is a splendid feature; all kinds and colors, with plenty of the popular all-black.

Stiff front shirts are as interesting as a millinery opening, and just about as varied in color and pattern. Look in and see what a splendid shirt one dollar will buy this season.

Umbrellas range up to the finest—not forgetting those low priced, fast colored fellows that you can carry anywhere, or lend with resignation.

Furnishings are a large subject—only room here for random hints, but we're at the counters to show the article you want.

LEAMINGTON AT 2.

The Leamington club play the C. M. C's. at two o'clock this afternoon. No one should miss this, the best game of the season.

A game of baseball was played on Saturday afternoon between the Shamrocks and Junior Hookytens, resulting in favor of the former by a score of 15 to 0.

The Junior Briscoes go to Tilbury on the 30th of September to play the Juniors of that place.

"IT'S GOOD TEA."

This is what the proprietor of Red Rose Tea claims for it. Some say the claim is too modest, but you may notice that a grocer is very often asked, "Have you any good tea?" This word "good" in this sense is probably intended to mean "best." So perhaps Red Rose Tea is the Best Tea.

NOVELIST STABBED

Paris, Sept. 20.—Percival Pollard, an American playwright and novelist, was walking along a street in Vienna recently when he was stabbed in the shoulder by a young Austrian, whose sister had complained to him that an unknown American daily annoyed her on the street. Hearing Pollard speak English, and noticing that he was partly bald, as his sister described, the Austrian attacked him and was about to stab him the second time when Pollard shrieked and turned around. Then the offended girl saw that her brother had attacked the wrong person and withdrew. Pollard fled profusely, but the wound proved to be slight. He accepted the apologies offered and begged the officers who rushed up to deal leniently with his assailant.

TO END CIVIL WAR

Port au Prince, Hayti, Sept. 20.—The provisional government of Hayti is taking energetic steps to end the civil war in this republic, and it is the general impression that this official activity is due to the reports which have reached here that the United States might be compelled to intervene for the purpose of ending the civil war. Government forces are now on their way to Gonaives (the headquarters of the Haytian revolutionists) divided into three columns. General Nord, the War Minister, it is announced, will shortly attack the revolutionists at Les Anglais, on the southern part of Hayti and Port au Prince are quiet.

AT RUSSIA'S MERCY.

London, Sept. 20.—The strengthening of the Russian Black Sea fleet, which has been going on for years, is worthy of attention, says an Odessa correspondent. It is acknowledged that the Danube and various ports of strategic value on the Southern Black Sea, which recently have been repeatedly visited by Russian ships, are completely at Russia's mercy. Of these ships Russia possesses considerable numbers.

About Drainage

You know the deadly consequences if a house is badly drained. Only a madman or a criminal would himself incur the risk, or subject others to it, for one unnecessary minute.

But do you realize the danger of a badly drained body? Are you aware that it poisons the blood, the very foundation of life?
