* This is but an estimate, but it is based upon the report sent me by Mr. Douse. I find there, that in 1871 the average term o Supernumerary relationship was in their Conferences 7 59-65 years. This is not the full term of Supernumerary life, but simply the length of time they have been claimants upon the Fund. I have put 7 1-4 for ours. as, being older, the average would be less. I do not know what explanation could be given of the shorter term of active service in the Western work : but I find that in 1871 it was only 24 7-72 years. I wish the reader to note carefully the period of active service, as it is of great importance in future calcula tions.

THE METHODIST CLASS. MEETING.

ME. EDITOR,-The following extracts from the proceedings of the Methodist Clerical Convention, held in Lay and Montreal a few weeks since, are taken from the report published in the Christian Guardian, and will be found worthy of the consideration of your readers, as presenting the value of the class meeting, and the best mode of conducting it. Yours, &c.,

J. M. M.

After devotional exercises, Rev. B. Longley, B. A., was called upon to open the discussion of the first subject : The Class-Meeting-its relative value. Mr. Longley began by describing what he considered to be the nature and proceeded to consider its value. 1. In relation to our entire Church polity. 2. In relation to the spiritual life of our members.

Under the first of these, heads may be grouped all those advantages which, as a legislative, and executive, and goveining body, our Church secures from the mere mechanical subdivision of its members into small family groups, each under its own watchful leader. Of these advantages the speaker specified three, viz., The facilities afforded for presenting, and urging upon the individual member, if necessary, any of the more important financial interests of the Church ; the facilities afforded also for presenting and explaining more fully than could otherwise be done any contemplated enterprise or any proposed change in the constitution of the Church ; and the bringing more immediately under the Church's maternal supervision the spiritual life of her individual members. In dwelling upon this last point, the speaker referred to class-leaders as under shepherds who are able to watch, more carefully than it is possible for the pastor to do, over the daily walk and conversation of all the members of a church, however large its membership may be. It is because the class meeting becomes in this way so true an index to the spiritual life, that it has been made a test of membership. Every Church must have some test of membership, though the fact is not generally recognized, and no Church upon our view. It leads us, as its crowning benefit, to cast our souls afresh upon God and to consecrate our lives more fully to his work.

The speaker then reviewed and answered some of the more common objections urged against the value of class-meetings and concluded by vindicating the claims of the class-meeting to our people's more unswerving loyalty and heartier support.

Mr. Robert Irwin testified to the value of the class-meeting, but thought it should be made less like a gathering of undertakers. It should be cheerful and homelike.

Mr. George Young believed that to design of the class-meeting, and then the Methodist Church the class-meeting was a necessity. The true Christian must have a desire to speak about the better things. The class-meeting afforded the desired opportunity. He had found that his own attachment to class had been strongest when he was living nearest to God. Rev. H. F. Bland was then asked to introduce the second topic : The Class Meeting-Best mode of conducting it.

He said : The class-meeting is a divine thing with a human name. He quoted numerous passages from the Word of God to prove the scripturalness of the class-meeting. The modern class-meeting grew out of the spiritual necessities of those who were convinced of sin by the preaching of the Wesleys and their coadjuors. As a prudential institution it is as much needed now as ever. As a soul stimulant it is needed. As an instrument of aggression it is needed. The late John Angell James said to a Methodist, "Class-meetings are your strength, the want of them is your weakness."

As to the method of conducting classmeetings, he would not speak dogmatically but would state what had been his own method. He did not go in rotation to the members of the class, but endeavored to make every one feel at home and at ease. After a brief hymn and prayer, he read a carefully selected the requirements of the case. Every test cited from each. By this method comb." monotony and repetition are avoided, conversation elicited, profitable thoughts stimulated, and details of experience unconsciously supplied. By this method, also, compulsoriness of speech is avoided; the Bible is placed before the eye as the great objective standard of Christian experience, character and life. Again, by this method the class-meeting instead of being a burden, becomes what it was originally designed to be, a privilege and object of desire. Further by this method, the young are attracted and influenced, and so are saved to Christ and our Church. The sphere of the class-leader ought not to be confined to the class room. He ought to visit weekly, for spiritual purposes, those who may be prevented from attending the meeting. For this purpose the staff of leaders ought to be multiplied and the classes made more compact. expressing the conviction that the class- which he hath given us."-Ch. Adv. meeting, rightly conducted, had in it elements of power such as had not yet been developed. A very animated and somewhat lengthy discussion then followed, in which the idea presented in both papers were quite freely criticised. Mr. Jas. Patton objected to Rev. Mr. Bland's mode of conducting class on the ground that the class is an experience meeting rather than a Bible class. Rev. L. Gaetz replied that the element of experience is not eliminated from the class-meeting as conducted by Mr. Bland. Rev. John Armstrong also testified to the value of the class-meeting, and spoke of the necessity of throwing variety and interest into it. The enthusiasm which pervaded this meeting from its commencement to its close was a striking evidence that, by the Methodists of Montreal, a deep interest is felt in this time-honoured in

I can't live so; it does seem that shall die; Oh do pray for me." A few lingered after the assembly was dismissed, and they told him, as best they could, of the love of Jesus ; His prom-

ing group around the altar. And yet the struggle continued. We told him of "The Mighty to save "---in the present tense, and entreated him to give up his struggling, open the door of his heart, and accept Jesus as his Saviour now. Then in the arms of taith we carried him to the Cross, and asked him like the bitten Israelites, to "look and live." While holding him there by faith, beneath the flowing blood, he looked; the darkness fled, and he triumphantly sang :

" Hallelujah, 'tis done ! I believe on the Son, I am saved by the blood of the crucified One.

Then, closing his eyes, as though some new strange light shone upon him, he opened them again with joy inexpressible, saying : "Sweet, O how sweet !" The little colored boy when converted, with the same spiritual poetry and soul satisfaction, when he could think of nothing else with which to compare it, exclamed, "This love is sweeter than molasses." And the Psalmist, moved passage of Scripture, interspersing the by the Holv Ghost when speaking of reading with expository remarks and this love and the Divine teachings, questions addressed discriminately to says: "More to be desired are they different members of the class. "Oh, the wonderful power of prayer !" he continued. Then said: "I thank you all, dear brethren and sisters, for helping me, and I thank God for saving me." To one who helped to carry him to the Cross, he said : "Your face shines like a bright star. Oh. this is so precious ; the rest of my days I'm going to work for Christ. Glory be to his name." His testimony was as clear and positive as King George the Third, of the Friendly Islands, of whom Mr. Taylor tells us. After getting down in the dust, at Jesus' feet, and accepting Him as a perfect Saviour, he said to his people : "Do you see that post in the cornor?" pointing to a post in the chapel; "just as certainly as you know you see that post, just so certain am I that Je-There ought to be, also, on every cir- sus saves me." And like the blind man cuit a Normal class for the education in the Gospel, whose sight was restorof future leaders. How true it is, as the beloved any time be supplied. The speaker con- disciple said: "And hereby we know cluded his terse and luminous paper by that he abideth in us, by the Spirit attention to preaching, to the neglect of the schools. We have pleasure in quoting here the following important advice to young ministers by the Rev. Dr. Pope, President of the English Wesleyan Conference.

"While you are yourself yet young, care very diligently for the young of your flock. In this department of ministerial service there are tokens that the Saviour's joy is being fulfilled in us. There never was a time when so much attention was paid to our Catechumens, our Bible-classes, our select Sundayschools, our teachers' preparations, and the care of children generally. The pastoral oversight of the young has been gently but irresistibly brought before the mind of the Conference; and the result is already felt. Let me affectionately urge you to take your full share in this movement. It has an obvious claim upon you; you are supposed 'naturally' to care for young people. They will repay your toil and assiduous love. And He who loves them that we may vary His well-known title, and call him ' the friend of children," will take care that you feed his lambs. You will never be nearer to him, nor will He ever be nearer to you, than when you are devising the most liberal things possible on their behalf. You know where to find them. There are many homes whose little ones would very soon learn to hang on your looks and words as they hang on no other. Do your lest to make your visits felt in the Sunday-school, where in my judgment you ought to be the permanent catechist." -S. S. Banner.

OBITUARY.

MES. JANE C. BARKER, OF HANTSPORT. NOVA SCOTIA.

Died on 13th of October last, aged 76 years, having been a member of the Me. thodist Church for nearly half a century.

Mrs. Barker, whose maiden name was Cowan, was a native of Prince Edward Island, where she came in early life to Windsor, with her sister, Mrs. Evans, About the year 1828, under the ministry of the Rev. Robt. Young, the Methodist Church at Windsor was favoured with a time of gracious visitation, and Miss Cowan was among those who then gave themselves to the Lord and to His church. Her Christian life was marked by godly consistency, and by earnestness of purpose, yet she did not at once enter into that clearness of religions experience. which, as a Methodist, she knew to be her privilege. She walked in the fear of the Lord, though without the comfort of the Holy Ghost. There were others then in the church at Windsor, who were about in the same state of mind-servants of God, but without the privilege of adop. tion as children of God-but their church connection was marked by the divine approval; for in the memorable revival in that town, which commenced in the early part of January, 1833, these were the first fruits of that blessed outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Miss Cowan's enjoyment of acceptance with God then became satisfactory, and her testimony was distinct as to the attainment of the righteousness. the peace, and the joy of the kingdom of God.

In 1834, Miss Cowan was united in marriage with Mr. Michael Barker, of Hantsport, a faithful, God-fearing man. and one who, with a few others in that village, held forth, as they had opportunity, the Methodist doctrine of present. and free salvation. Religious privileges in that immediate neighbourhood were not then as abundant as they now are but Mrs. Barker maintained her confidence in God, and steadily pursued her Christian course. The death of some of her children and of her husband tried her sorely, but the Lord was her stay. In later years, by the increase of bodily infirmities, she was seldom able to attend the house of the Lord, and she felt this to be a great privation; but she knew whom she had believed, and held fast her confidence to the end. Her last affliction was not severe, and her removal was unexpected; but her sudden separation from

is to some extent fallible, and against very test may be brought, however unreasonably, the charge that it is arbitrary and tyrannical; but the classmeeting is as nearly infallible and as little open to the charge of tyranny as any other that can be named.

With regard to the spiritual life of the individual member, the speaker said the class-meeting is valuable inasmuch as it induces self examination. Very clear is the divine commandment, "Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith." There is, of course, a danger of probing too much in one's own heart, but in this age of excitement and hurry the danger lies in the opposite direction. The world needs nothing to-day so much as to just stop and think. The class-meeting is one of the agencies which help to make men think-to think of their own spiritual condition in the sight of God.

Again, the class-meeting helps to premote brotherly love. Members are brought face to face; they learn each other's names; they become acquainted with each other's joys and sorrows; they pray with and for each other, and the natural result of it all is that they come to cherish for each other a tender Christian sympathy to which otherwise they might have remained strangers.

Again, the class-meeting becomes in many instances the open doorway to a more active and useful Christian life--a training ground whereon the youthful soldier acquires wisdom and strength for braver battle and more glorious victory. There are leading ministers and hundreds of the most active lavmen of our Church whose own conviction is, that had they not been helped forward through the agency of the class-meeting they might never have been able publicly to witness or work for Christ.

The class-meeting leads to renewed consecration. Showing us our own need, causing us to review God's mercies, leading us to look out upon life's solemn work and forward to heaven's everlastng reward, sweeping from before our the darkening mists of worldliness stitution of our Church. LET MINISTERS VISIT THE SUN-DAY SCHOOLS.

The occasional presence of the minister in the Sunday-school is a great encouragement to both teachers and taught. When it is at all practicable they should manifest their interest by their presence as often as possible. On many of our circuits this is difficult. The example of an energetic minister who is also one of our most effective Sunday-school workers might, however, in this respect be successfully imitated. In order that he may visit the schools on his circuit he has his preaching appointments occasionally filled by a local preacher, and devotes the time to the illustration of the lesson in the Sundayschool by means of his portable blackboard, believing that he thus accomplishes greater good than by exclusive "Monthly Reporter."

THE BIBLE IN SWITZERLAND. One day a gentleman in Byrne passed our depôt, and stopped to look at the open Bibles exhibited in the window. His eyes lit on the passage in the Ser. mon on the Mount, "Agree with thine adversary quickly, whilst thou art in the way with him." He read what went before and what came after. It was a voice to him. He had just commenced a lawsuit with another gentleman. Without a moment's delay he went from the window of the depôt to his "adversary," told him what had happened; the "adversaries" agreed with each other, and the lawsuit was quashed. Then he returned to the depôt, and said that he wanted to buy that Bible he saw in the window. The depositary offered him a clean copy of the same edition, for, naturally, the book in the window was soiled by exposure to the sun. But he said, "No; I want that Bible and none other; and then told the depositary what she told me and what I have just related. The depositary turns the leaves of her Bible every day. One day a plain woman entered her depôt and said : "Madam, you have forgotten to turn the pages of your books to-day." It turned out that the old woman was in the habit of doing her daily Scripture reading in the large print Bible in our depôt window.-From the Bible Society's at the ripe age of ninety-three, peacefully fell asleep in Jesus, on Sunday, February 17th. Sister Buffett who was the oldest inhabitant and the first convert in the place was highly esteemed by the whole community. For more than sixty years her beautiful christian life has testified her fidelity to Christ and has been a living witness of the power of God's renewing grace. Her tribulations were often most severe but by divine grace she was always determined to overcome them and would suffer nothing to turn her either to the right hand or to the left; consequently she witnessed a good profession from the time she decided for Christ till the day of her death. She was a faithful visiter of the sick who were often cheered by her words of consolation. The house of God she loved, faithfully attended its services and was strongly attached to her ministers. She had a remarkably strong constitution; though so old she generally attended the house of God twice on the Sabbath until one Sabbath before her death. She often took part in the public prayer meeting and frequently has the writer been cheered and blessed while the dear old saint has been pleading so earnestly with God for His blessing on her pastor.

When her end came she felt that her work was done. Exulting she told us that she was ready, waiting her Masters call, and that she was going home to be forever at rest with Christ her Redeemer. May her children, and may we all meet her in our Father's home.

This work will be found a most interesting volume, especially to Methodists. The time for its appearance had fully come. Such works as Mr. Smith's, connect them selves with general literature, and they become of interest, not merely to the denomi nations whose careers they describe but to every one interested in tracing the rise and progress of a people.-Reporter, Halifax.

As Methodism in the East and West is now consolidated into one organization. this history of Mr. Smith's is well adapted to make the Methodists of the West better acquainted with the origin and history of Methodism in the East, and thus bring them into closer sympathy with the work of our brethren in the East. A fuller knowledge of that work will be a bond of fraternity and unity. The volume is highly creditable to both the author and the publisher. It is got up in good style. We bespeak for it a wide circulation among the readers of the "Guardian"-Guardian. Toronto.

It would be a means of grace, as well as a source of valuable information to our people; and ought to be in every Methodist family .- Rev. C. Stewart, D. D. Prof. of Theology, Mt. Allison.

EDITORIAL LETTER.

Boston, March 25, 1878.

The apprehensions respecting Mr. Moody's work in Boston, alluded to in a previous letter, seem to have no little ground of reasonableness and consistency. They take this form :---

1. The effect upon the Churches. There can be no doubt that the Tabernacle services did much, when first opened, in reviving christians and ministers, and in giving all evangelical enterprize a more direct and practical turn. Sankey's melodies one hears in every street and, indeed, in every house. They must at least do something towards diffusing a spirit of devotion. though, like all other gifts of God. they are abused and perverted sometimes from their proper aim. But this second stage of Tabernacle meetings feeds a flame which had happily begun to subside in Boston. (These are Boston impressions, be it remembered, not ours.) An unwholesome excitement gathers about these meetings in this way: Christians of an emotional turn -and these are fifty in every hundredlose all relish for the steady, quiet services of their own churches. Mr. Moody is the man. His portrait is sold in every stall for a few cents; his phrases are common currency in conversation ; his tact, influence, labours, are the chief topics while he remains in a city. This/he would not desire himself; but no one can prevent it. What is the consequence? When it is known that Moody and Sankey are coming, the plans of the churches are next to paralyzed, the common, essential work that began before Moody was born, and must continue after he is dead, are much neglected, and only resumed with a sigh because of their contrast with great crowds, great choirs, and excitement. There are, it is said, 2,-000 voices in the Tabernacle choir; there are hundreds who act as committee, ushers, &c. It would be interesting to know how much these elements are stand. Pew-holders go in by the sidedoors : they are Spurgeonites, or Baptists. These 4000 who enter sedately the Boston Tabernacle, are they Moodyites, and if so-what will they be when these particles now chrystalizing about a central stem will take complete shape? Is the evangelist movement to end in a sect, and if in a sect what shall be its name and how will it bear with others? Help to nurture them like a grateful bird, or like the young cuckoo rid the nest of its companions? Revolutions are oftentimes greatly beneficial; but when a master appears to direct a revolution to his own ends, by changing a republic into a monarchy, of which he shall be king, what are the results? Let history declare. Evangelistic revivals, too, are blessings; but will the man appear who shall change this movement into a denomination. If so the churches must supply the material. All this may be averted. If it never happens, that may be due to precautions begotten of consideration and management. Methodism has much to lose or gain by this movement, for it is more akin to its spirit and modes than to any other system. And so, should the movement take denominational shape, Methodism would endure from it more rivalry than any other organization.

Dr. Cumming of Malden, long and widely known as an educator and a rare preacher, conducted a service in Bloomfield St. Church on Sabbath morning. His text was Christs' temptation-one only within the right of a great thinker. He preached what ought to be considered a very great discourse. The choir was large and powerful, the place quite central, the congregation about 300 persons. This one discourse would have made fifteen or twenty for Mr. Moody; yet Mr. Moody draws 7000 people-draws them from Dr. Cumming, and whoever else happens to be preaching at the same time. Is this natural or does it promise stability of religious interests for the coming day?

ENGLAND is drawing constantly nearer to the dreaded crisis in relation to European affairs. Earl Derby has at length decisively left the Cabinet. Being a peace-at-any-price man, his resignation may be regarded as indicat-

A METHODIST MINISTER BAPTIZED IN PARADISE .- Rev. John Brown, pastor of the Baptist Church, Paradise, N. S., on the 10th inst., baptized Rev. Mr. Herbert, a Methodist minister of several years' standing in that Province. On the 17th inst., the Rev. Mr. Herbert preached in Clarence in the morning, and in the Baptist Church at Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co., in the evening .- Christian Visitor, of St. John. These Baptist brethren in charge of newspapers have a wonderful facility for making and unmaking Methodist ministers. Our remarks upon this announcementwill, we fear, make sad work with the Visitor's Jubilee. 1. Rev. John Brown did not baptize a Methodist minister of several years standing. 2. Rev. John Brown did not baptize a Rev. Mr. Herbert. 3. There is in existence, possibly, a Rev. John Brown. 4. There never was a Rev. Mr. Herbert, so far as our knowledge of Methodist History in Nova Scotia extends.

A LIVELY correspondence goes forward in the Newfoundland Star, in which, against a letter from "Vigil," a writer maintains that many clergy. men from other churches are joining the Episcopal body in England and elsewhere. Among those he cites names of Methodists. Well, what of it? From the first, one of the blessings of our cause has been that of stimulating the Church of England. If this be done, by an introduction of ministers into its fold, the results may be all the more direct. But, surely, no man would argue from this that the Episcocopal Church is absorbing al! the others. Pretensions of this sort are too common, but they are childish.

THE Report of the Halifax Protestant Industrial School for 1877, shows that the Superintendent, Mr. Abner Hart, is doing admirable and economical work among a class of boys whose future will be, doubtless, ample reward for all the care bestowed on them.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,-An important meeting has been held at Centenary Hall, composed of the officials of the Missionary Society, the ministers of the London District; and the lay officers of the London auxiliaries. The papers which were read, and the suggestions which the speakers brought forward were of a most practical char acter, and possess materials of great and there are serious complications value, not merely for London; but if ahead. MR. GLADSTONE is one of the prominent actors in the busy and exiting period through which the nation is at present passing. Although he is not the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, he is the foremost orator and debater there. Immense importance is attached to his utterances, and his opinions are as carefully studied as if he were the Prime Minister of the Realm. He has been thoroughly abused of late, and the mob has on more than one occasion attacked his London residence, because of his firm attitude on the question of peace, and his refusal to join in the fierce tirades against Russia, and every part of its policy, which is the fashion of so many during the present crisis. His working power is very great, he writes constantly on the great questions of the hour, and appears burdened with innumerable calls upon his time and strength. He has announced his intention to retire from the representation of Greenwich at the next election as he cannot properly attend to the local business of the District. As soon as this was known, applications began to pour in from large and influential places, eager to secure a promise from him, but he declines an engagement at present. He is greatly feared by his political opponents, and much beloved and honored by Liberals and especially in the midst of the influential Nonconformists of the land.

The unsettled feeling yet remains, the gigantic preparations of England in ships and the war materials are unabated, and Austria is pressing for a credit vote of about the same amount as that obtained by the English Government. The treaty of peace has been ratified at Constantinople, and is now about to be communicated to the Great Powers by the Russian Government. Of course there is intense anxiety to know exactly what are terms agreed upon by the prostrate Turks, and whether they are likely to be ratified by the Congress which is about to assemble. Doubts and rumors of difficulty are uppermost.

addresses the claims of missions were well! represented. At the third meeting we were sensible that our deputation was weakened by the absence of Bro. Hart, whose charge in the city demanded his return. Taking everything into consideration it may be said that the meetings were interesting and successful. Early in the present month I was summoned to attend the missionary meeting on the Upham circuit. On this deputation I had the privilege of being associated with Bro. Teed of Portland, whose company in the social circle is always pleasant, and whose addresses on behalf of missions were eloquent and forcible. On Sabbath, the 17th inst., Bro. Chap.

pell of Germain Street, preached the missionary sermons on this circuit, and during the week addressed two meetings in the interests of missions. The sermons are favorably spoken of, and the addresses were listened to with rapt attention. The subject of missions was ably dealt with, and its claims impressively presented by Bro. C. On the evening of the 26th inst., the writer unaided, held a meeting at the Cross Roads, which was full of interest, and good in its financial results. The recipts for missions from the circuit are already more than double those of last year, and the collectors have not yet completed their work.

NEW CHURCH AT GREER SETTLEMENT. The lot for the church has been staked off, 70x50-and as soon as the form of the deed, which I have sent for, comes to hand, it will be legally secured. The frame has been got out; and it is now being hewn and prepared for raising. The people of the community have taken hold of this work in good earnest; and are planning for its speedy completion. They reckon, and correctly enough, that the hard times of which complaints are heard from every quarter, and which they feel in common with others, do not affect the truth of the adage : "Where there's a will there's a way." Numerous features of encouragement are afforded in connection with this enterprise ; and these enable us easily to believe that many months will not elapse before the worship of God will be celebrated at Greer Settlement in a building dedicated to that purpose.

MISCELLANEOUS. Rev. Mr. Bill, the venerable pastor of

The Tem. perance Reform movement is now sustained in this village with unabated en. thusiasm; and in the region around its influence is being felt. Mr. H. T. Colpitts, A. grace, especially the prayer-meetings It may be concluded that more is inand class-meetings of Boston. So much in that direction.

2. Doctrinal difficulties. Mr. Moody. when we heard him, said nothing that could be construed into Plymouthism. Still, he is said to favor, and even defend Plymouth doctrines. They do tinge his discourses occasionally. With a man so devoted as he, this danger may not be very serious ; but there are scores of incipient Moodies, half fledged, who are going out over the land to do, in ignorant communities, much mischief. They have all Moody's defects with but few of his excellencies. Even in enlightened localities, and under Mr. Moody's own ministry, error is not estimated at its proper value. A doctrinal statement is received with confidence. imbibed, and resolutely defended, because Mr. Moody has said so, which would be closely investigated and maturely weighed if it came from any other man.

3. Danger of future rivalry. Where will this evangelist movement end? Its proper work seems to be, to visit places where religion languishes, and to leave when religion has been revived. It ought to dwell in tents, easily constructed, easily carried away. But it is building for itself really permanent habitations, on an immense scale too. Its Tabernacles are not for flitting by make offers of large value for small any means. This in Boston at all events is a costly affair; it will need Moody meetings at certain intervals to keep heart in it; and all control of it will be in the hands of Mr. Moody and far to imagine. Already there is sufficient Moodyism to give shape and permanency to Tabernacle management. How did those 4000 persons gain an entrance to the building, at the service referred to in our last, while 3000, quite as respectable, we judge, were left jostmust have been many who held some intimate relation to him who is chief. THE trial of Vaughan for murder, proceeds in the St. John courts. Some thirty or forty witnesses have been examined. Seldom, we are happy to say, do the records of crime show such base and beastly wickedness as accompanied this killing of an aged and helpless woman. It seems next to impossible that Vaughan can escape condemnation, so strong is the circumstantial evidence against him. N. B.--Vaughan has been found guilty.

Rev. G. S. MILLIGAN. A. M., has declined the call to the Principalship of Mount Allison Ladies' Academy. and the results which would follow were forcibly presented to the meeting. The annual meetings, the missionary prayer meeting, and various other topics were carefully considered. The gathering was felt to be one of decided value and importance, and it was decided to hold another on a yet larger scale at an early date.

THE INCOME FOR 1877-8 has fallen some four thousand pounds below that of the previous year. This is a matter of deep regret, but it was anticipated in view of the extreme and protracted depression of trade in centres from which the society has long been in the receipt of its richest offerings. Other religious and benevolent societies are suffering in very serious diminutions of their incomes. It is feared that the embarrassed state of trade and commerce is not yet at its worst. There are not many hopeful signs of recovery or change for the better. The unsettled condition of the great Eastern question, the dread probability of war, and the keenness of foreign competition in manufacturing, all conspire to keep affairs in England at a very low ebb. OUR THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTIONS are already four in number, but they are quite insufficient for the number of candidates, and the question presses for their enlargement or for the erection of another Institution. Birming. ham is strongly urging its claims for the establishment of the new Branch in its midst, and there is but little doubt that if it be determined to build. the busy midland town will have the preference. A large committee lately made a visit to the town, and were met by the officials, and the whole question was discussed, proposed sites were inspected and munificent offers of local aid were proffered. This is one of the great questions to be submitted to the next Conference, which will consist of ministers and laymen. There are other matters of urgency upon which important consultation have taken place, and the committees find themselves compelled to submit various plans to the Bro. Hart of Exmouth St., and Bro. Tweeensuing Conference, and can scarcely dy of Apohaqui, through whose excellent River Philip, March, 1878.

FROM REV. GEO. W. TUTFLLE EXPLANATORY.

MR. EDITOR,-As a paragraph in my letter last week may possibly be construed as a reflection upon my predecessor, allow me to say, that such a thought never entered my mind. In connection with what I have said about the division of the circuit, your compositor makes me say the very opposite of what I intended. Instead of reading, there was an other altenative, he should have said no other. I meant to say that "when"-in the wisdom of the Quarterly meeting and the different committees concurred in the division-" there was no other alternative :" the people of River Philip, quietly submitted. If I had any intention of blaming my predecessor, or any other parties, his brotherly statement made to me some weeks ago, viz .- that "even at the District meeting neither he, nor his Circuit Steward, Bro. W. Oxley voted for the division"-had set the matter entirely right between us. This he told me he did in deference to the views of the River Philip people, who felt that too great a financial burden, would be thrown upon them; and they wished to act justly and impartially. You will see therefore that there was no intention on my part, of blaming any body.

As the winter has been passing two other You have admitted Mr. Editor, in a circular sent to us some time ago, that our ministry has multiplied far beyond the proportion of our membership, and their financial abilities. Our people are more loud in their protestations against this anomalous state of things, than some of us have been. All these difficulties will be obviated by a wise regard to our guaran tees for financial support. When these are withheld, or are insufficient our call ceases at once. Does any one expect us to go a warfare at our own charges? year was in February, on the Sussex circuit. The Superintendent being absent the meetings were under the supervision of Bro. Baxendale, who has charge of the circuit. PORTLAND METHODIST CHURCH.-The plans for the building of the Portland Methodist Church, on the corner of Chapel and Portland streets, have been submitted to the Trustees of the Church. As yet, no definite action has been taken in the matter. According to the plans, the building is to be of brick, with stone dressings, and is 87 feet in length by 60 feet in breadth. Exclusive of the tower, absent.) the basement contains a large schoolroom and class-rooms. The height of the ceiling is 13 feet. The Portland street front has the main entrance in its centre, with large vestibule, from which access is had to the gallery by a spacious and easy flight of stairs on both sides; and central and side entrances to the principal floor of the church. There are also stairs to the basement in the tower, at the corner of Portland and Chapel streets. The seats in the church are concentric in their arrangement, and, with those in the gallery, give a seating capacity for more than 700 persons. The chancel contains the reading desk, on a raised platform, with the communion rail in front. The choir is placed in the rear of the reading dock,

A number of men have proceeded to Mus-

The Gleaner says that the residence of Mr. Peter Gray, farmer, opposite Middle Island, Chatham, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday last. Nearly all the furniture was saved, but the contents of the cellar were destroyed. Mr. Gray, who was 75 years of age and not very healthy, was so prostrated by the shock and over exertion, that he was unable to rally, and died on Thursday.

Mr. William Oulton, and three other men, of Baie Vert Road, were in the woods one day last week, moose hunting, and they came across a bears den with an old bear and two cubs in it. They succeeded in killing the old one and capturing the two cubs, one of which Mr. Oulton has in his possession now. It is reported that two young children have been poisoned in Woodstock by eating snow mpregnated with poison laid to kill rats. Mr. Asa Blakslee, who died at St. John on Friday, was an old and respected citizen-the oldest survivor of those born there. He was born in a house on Duke St., near the corner of Charlotte street, one of those destroyed by the late fire. His faculties were quite unimpaired, and in his later years he took great delight in recounting the early scenes in the history of the city.

Rio Janeiro advices of the 4th state that the yellow fever deaths are 15 daily. The sufferings of settlers in the north east are reported to be horrible from drought and starvation. A family there killed and ate a two. year old child, from the effects of which the father died. A case of yellow fever in Montevideo has caused more strict quarantine at Buenos Ayres. Lung disease is killing many cattle in Uruguay.

At Lloyds on Saturday war insurances were five shillings per hundred pounds on British hulls and cargoes; ten to twenty shillings on Black sea risks, which are regarded with great disfavor, and half to one per cent. on Russian hulls. It is stated that the Russian exchange has fallen 11 per cent.

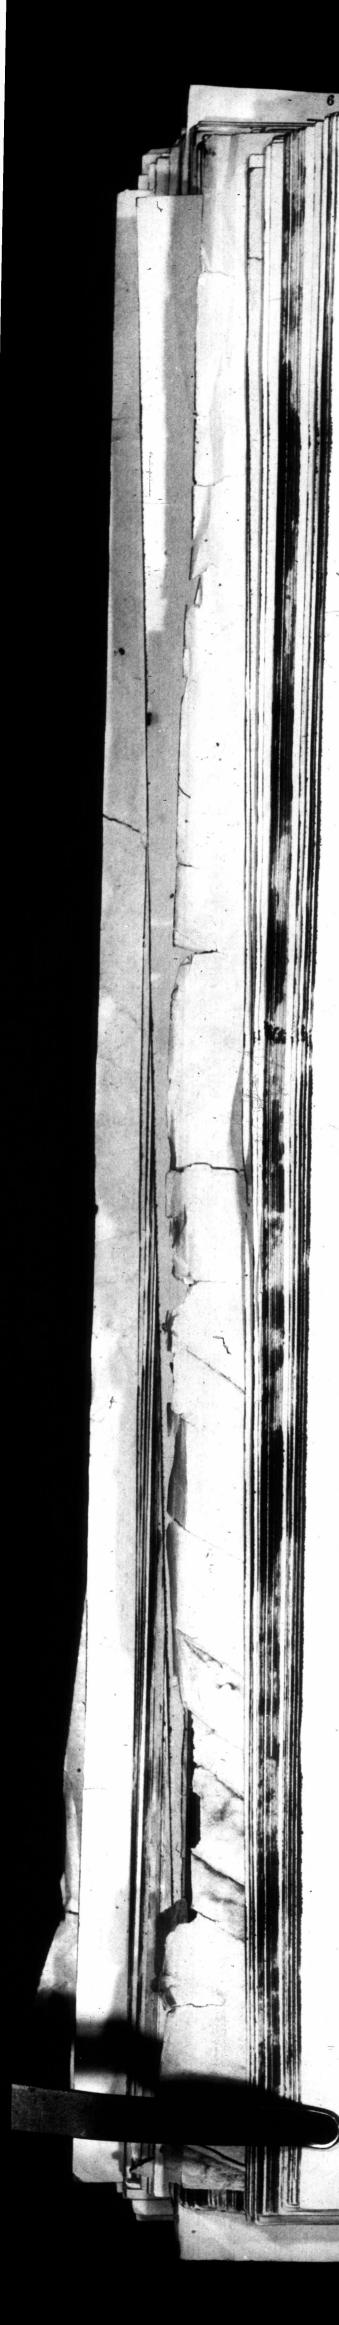

The London "Daily News" states that Lady Burdett Coutts is negotiating for land in Osnaburg street, on which she intends to erect lodgings for the poor, capable of accommodating 10,000 persons at the maximum rent of 4s. 6d. weekly for domicile.

The English revenue for the fiscal year ending March 31, expected to show considerable debt, shows a surplus of $30,851,000. The "Times" says this is because the expectation that some of the duties would be increased to meet the demands of the forthcoming budget induced extraordinary activity at the Custom house during the closing weeks of the year.

The Department of State, Washington, D. C., has received a despatch from the United States Consul at Nuremberg, describing the distress of the spinning and weaving districts, known as Voitland. Owing to the continued depression of trade, most of the factories are closed and the weavers and families are subsisting on past earnings and glad to get 15 to 26 cents per day for hard work without board. In Nuremburg wages are higher, although but few can find employment and the prostration of business seems to be increasing. The beer houses, of which there is one to every nine households in Nuremburg, are filled with idle laborers. A falling off in the American and Oriental trade is regarded as the cause of the depression. One thousand of suffering German Americans are wandering about Germany in search of tility to Maritime union.

What a change has transpired ! In the year just closed the North India conference reports the baptism of three hundred adults and as many children for that single year! the church has toiled and prayed and paid ; shall she not also praise ? These adults baptized from heathendom endure for Christ's sake and the gospel's what-well, let us put it into a queryhow many of us would endure, and not faint nor falter in our faith ? Here is a picture : "The people 'try the life out' of these inquirers. I believe men would go to the stake easier than stand this constant pestering. Their fields are cut at night; cattle turned loose to eat the remainder; their own cattle turned into another man's field, and they fined ; property put into their houses, and they seized for theft; then being invited to a friend's at night to 'make up,' they are arrested as thieves near the house. and false witnesses swear they saw them loosing a horse." Read the announcement of the number of adult baptisms, in the light of such incessant and endlessly varied annoyances, added to the chances of loss of life in some cases, and you may more fully appreciate the baptism of three hundred adults.

The area of Great Britain is nearly 84,-000 square miles : but in Russia there are steppes, or natural flats, so vast that just as you might place on a salver a tea cake and a garnish of biscuits around it, so you might place on one of the grassy or sandy salvers near the Caspian, England crush a single tree, nor entomb so many inhabitants as the population of an English burgh.

NEWS FROM BLOODLESS BAT. TLE FIELDS.

"My poor little Montserrat! My poor little Montserrat!" Those were the last words of a brave, genial young Methodist Missionary, who, from the island of St. Kitt's in the West Indies has been lately called to his reward. Montserrat is the name of his circuit over which he had pastoral care. Monserrat represented the little band of swart-skinned Christians to whom he spake the words of life. Absent on a missionary tour, in weak and fevered health, he was stricken down. Death wrote his mandate on his brow and quenched the light of his eye, but the little circuit away out yonder across the hills had gotten such a hold on his Christian interest, that Montserrat was written on his heart as deeply as ever Calais was on Queen Mary's, and death could not erase the handwriting por quench the love that wrote it, and so he lay down in the little boat, which was bearing him to the shore, and said again and again, " My poor little Montserrat!" and then went home, from whence he

In so doing, you might not knowledge while I can ride, or think, or talk." That's the way that tough old veteran, Ralph Stott, writes from the midst of the fourteen thousand coolies to whom he can preach in Tamul, or Hindostani, as the case may be. He writes from D'Urban, in Natal, and in his old age is there doing a men to the blush. "I have just r turned from a journey of one hundred and fifty miles on horseback, and am no worse for it. My greatest trouble is nearly seventy-nine, and is getting very feeble." Hear that ! ye young warriors who are just donning the armour, and read a serviceable lesson from the grand old Evangelist who has done work for God in India, in England, and in Africa. Still, as far as Ralph Stott is That stout and stalwart offspring of English Methodism, the Methodist Church in Canada, is briskly and boldand sawdust, he himself might rise ly following in the steps of the Mother through the snowy atmosphere, and in Church. that the majority of Methodists were Cornish miners residing at Martin's Brook, and Folliegh Mountain, two of the mining districts of the S. C. of Canada. Early in the Fall, after our arrival, the company decided to partially close operations at Folliegh Mountain, where some fifty to seventy men were employed. This of course seriously changed the programme of our work, as well as removing a large number of our members and supporters, also materially affecting the receipts of the circuit. According to the estimates of the quarterly meeting, not less than two hundred dollars were lost to the Society from this cause during the year. At the last Conference in accordance with the request of the inhabitants, Great Village was annexed to this circuit as it was supposed we could better supply them with services, living only five miles distant, than the minister of the Onslow Cir cuit who resided about fifteen miles away. We have on this mission four regular preaching places, in two of which we preach ever Sunday.

PLACES OF WORSHIP.

In Acadian Mines we have a very neat and respectable "Union Church," owned by Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist. In this we preach every Sunday, taking our turn morning, afternoon and evening. We have also the privilege of using this Church for week evening services by paying the sum of fifty cent a night. But as our people are taxed to the utmost of their ability of giving we have to be content with a Cottage Prayer Meeting.

In Martin's Brook, we found the people worshipping in an old carpenter's shop, now we have a fine little hall, capable of Read every item : seating about one hundred and fifty persons, all completed, and with only twenty dollars debt. Our Cornish friends have done nobly in the erection of this building, which is a credit to them and speaks well for Methodism.

taken possession of the old Town Hall. It will cost us three hundred dollars. This building can easily be converted into a church, when the Methodist shall be sufficiently numerous to require it. There is some little difficulty in our obtaining legal possession of this building, we own a little over eight, out of the twenty shares. These shares have been given to the Methodist Church, but how we shall succeed in securing the others we are not just now prepared to say.

HINDERANCES TO OUR SUCCESS.

the work of our beloved Methodism we passage this time, but are making good sale of liquor. Now we have a Reform Club, with five or six hundred members. in this cause we are often encouraged by the presence and earnest words of the manager of the Companies works, G. Jammie, Esq., who personally urges upon his men the advantage of temperance. And we are bold to say, that, considering the men are from almost all parts of the civilized world, a heterogeneus crowd, there is not a quieter community in Nova Scotia. Nor a steadier lot of men to be found in any public works.

The great tidal wave of Temperance

Reform has reached this village. Last

On Friday March 15th, the parsonage was taken possession of by about eighty of the friends of the Minister, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves, while some of the young ladies discoursed sweet music and gave us some excellent singing. At about 9 o'clock the company was called to order, and Captain John Bryant unanimously appointed to the chair, whose privilege it was to present to the Minister on behalf of the members, supporters and numerous friends of other denominations. a purse containing the very handsome sum of $130. After the presentation we were privileged with some very appropriate speeches from gentlemen present, interspersed with some very excellent music. The meeting closed with the Doxology, in which all seemed to engage, and none more heartily than your correspondent.

> X. Y. Z. AMERICAN MISSIONS.

The following is one of the best as sortments of mission news ever sent to the press from the New York office.

Bishop Wiley writes to the mission rooms, New York, Feb. 5, on the steamer "Oceanic," China sea, in which he says: "We are on our way from Hong Kong to Yokohama, having left Hong In Great Village, we purchased and have Kong Feb. 1, and expecting to reach Yokohama on the 7th. We are all well, but I leave China with a sad heart, reioicing that everything there is doing so well, but sad that my long-intended visit is over. I find my heart intensely interested in the China work. The Foo Chow conference passed a vote of thanks to the church and Missionary society. and appointed Sia Sek Ong to put it into writing. We will stop probably a month in Japan, and, Providence permitting, hope to reach home some time In common with all who are engaged in in April. We are having quite a stormy porte as the principalities of Servia and Roumania have heretofore sustained. This is a great step in advance; and if religious toleration be proclaimed in the new principality, as I most earnestthen be open for our mission in Bulgaria."

Rev. Dr. Long has under his care at Robert College, Constantinople, forty Bulgarians-which is no slight responsibility at this time. The Dr. has the charge of the college in the absence of Dr. Washburn, and is much worn with work and anxiety. He is doing a grand work at this critical moment for Bulgaria itself, though his communication. with our mission at Sistof is cut off. Even the communication with Adrianople is by way of Vienna while telegrams come round by Egypt, and require several days.

The brethren feel great embarrassment in view of their reduced appropriations. Their school work suffers fearfully. Ours has always been largely a "preaching mission." We have not relied on schools as the way to secure conversions as some other missions have done, though we have always maintained some school work. Now, however. the case is different. We have a church membership of twenty-five hundred, and many who are nominal Christians besides; so that there are grow. ing up hundreds of Christian children. This is therefore a sad time to have to abolish or cripple schools. Yet it has been forced on the mission. "I fear several of us had wet eyes," writes a missionary, "when this old pioneer. the Moradabad high-school, had to take down its hard earned good name. We passed four boys in the entrance examination for the university of Calcutta. in December last, yet it must go, for want of money." They have, however tried to conserve their work as much as possible, and have hit upon the grand expedient of a central normal and high school in connection with the Bareilly Theological school, to which they will send only their most promising students.

It is not easy to realize the compairtive growth of much of our foreign

the journey could be performed by magic, in the morning he might gather a few tufts of white lichen to fead his favourite reindeer, and after breakfast on train-oil and the orange-groves of the Crimea. ice the salmon and the capercailzie which he had yesterday secured as presents for his friends; and after a supper of grapes and pomegranates, might go to sleep at the open lattice, or in the coolest apartment he could find.

Or, setting out from his place at Petersburgh ; and keeping on the same parallel of latitude, the emperor himself might post in an unbroken line for nearly six thousand miles in his own dominions, and after crossing Behring's Straits, might resume his route, and for many hundred miles still find himself on Russian territory.

His enormous size gives the Russian strange neighbors. With Austria in front, and the north pole in the rear, his bulky shadow falls as far as Italy, and may well make the Loke of Como shiver. On the one side the land of Gustavus and Charles XII. gives him the cold shoulder; whilst on the other side he consoles his unaccustomed palate with the honey of the Chersonesus and the sherbet of Persia. One foot rests on the birth land of Kant and the other on the home of Confucius; and so long is his arm that the letter handed to him by the British settler in Canada he might almost undertake to convey direct to his brother in Calcutta. In other words, betwixt British America and British India hardly anything intervenes which is not Russian.

The area of the Russian empire contains 7,293.850 English square miles. But England and Scotland united have an area of only 88,050 square miles; France 203,737 square miles; and the whole of work. It was with rejoicing that less Europe 3,650,000. Therefore, Russia has Moody's reply.

-----THE MEETING.

Marriages, they say, are made in hes ven, that is, the steps of two, both bring God's dear children, are directed by an overruling Providence that after each has passed over so many windings, the two paths converge, and the two lives meet and melt into each other. like two rivers, flowing thenceforth one broader, deeper, stronger stream. Two or three things, besides marriages, are made in heaven, Meetings that are of shorter duration, and and partnerships that are less intimate, come under the same rule. God, who gives law to the ocean, does not neglect a dew drop. The hairs of your head are numbered. Oar meetings and partings are under law to God. It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. On the meeting in the desert much depended. The same might and the same wisdom that require the meeting of two worlds in space, are at work to arrange a meeting whenever one earthen vessel empty receives Christ at a brother's hand .- Arnot. ->--

WHAT ALCOHOL WILL DO .- It may ing a fictitious reason, he frankly statseem strange but it is nevertheless true, that alcohol regularly applied to a thrifty farmer's stomach will remove the boards from the fence, let cattle go into his crops, kill his fruit-trees, mortgage his farm, and sow his fields with wild oats and thistles. It will take the paint off his building, break the glass out of his windows and fill them with rags; it will take the gloss from his clothes and the polish from his manners: subdue his reason, arouse his passions; bring sorrow and disgrace upon his family, and topple him into a drunkard's grave ; it will do this to the artisan and the capitalist, the matron and the maiden, as well as to the farmer; for in its deadly enmity to the human race, alcohol is no respecter of persons.-The Temperance Worker.

HANCE.—Dear Sir :—The Epileptic Fills that I received from you last September bave ac-complished all that you recommended them to do. My son is hearty, stout, and robust; he is as hearty as any child in Kansas—indeed he is in the manner a new boy, being red and rosy. Be-fore he commenced taking your Fills he was a very pale and delicate looking child, and had Epileptic Fits for about four years, and seeing your Fills advertised in the Christian Instructor, I sent to you and got two boxes of them; and he has use had a fit since he commenced taking them; he has been exposed to all changes of weather in going to school and on the farm, and he has not had a Fit nor a sympton of one since he com-menced taking your Fills. He learns well at school, and his mind is clear and quick. I feel that you are not sufficiently paid for the service and benefit you have been to us in restoring our child to health. I will cheerfully recommend your Pills to every one I hear of that is afflicted with Epilepsy. Please send me some of your cir-culars, so that I can send them to any that.I hear of that is afflicted in that way. Respectfully, etc. LEWIS THORNBRUGH.
