Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late R. W. Crooks, one of the victims of the Lusitania disaster, took place yesterday from the family residence, 125 Darling street, to Greenwood cemetery. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and Rev. Matthew Kelly officiated. He made a beautiful reference to the life and character of the deceased.

Out of town relatives and friends present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crooks, Toronto; Miss Veta Crooks, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Toronto; Mr. Charles Penn, Toronto; Mr. Oxley, Toronto.

The pallbearers were: Mr. Charles Penn, Toronto; Mr. Oxley, Toronto; Mr. F. Martin, Hamilton; Mr. Mills, Dr. Sager and Mr. J. J. Kelly.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and included: Wreaths, Murray-Kay, Limited of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Greenhill, E. B. Crompton and Co., employees of Dominion Express Co. of Toronto, Cross, composing room of Brantford Courier; sprays, Brother George and Sister Rene, Miss Quinan, Mr. and Mrs. C. Penn of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Tullock, Misses Hargadon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crooks of Toronto, Dr. Keene, Miss Halloran, Mr. and Mrs. D. Burke, of Sarnia, Mrs. Gibson and Nita, Mr. and Mrs. Powers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton of Picton, N.S., the Misses Gillespie, Dr. D. S. Sager, Mrs. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Strouger, Mr. and Mrs. Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. F. Calbeck, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hughes.

BRANT THEATRE

A crowded house enjoyed the bill put on at the Brant yesterday. The "Sea Nymphs", a special Keystone comedy was excellent and provided much enjoyment. Price and Burt are clever entertainers and in their repertoire they have many high class and popular songs. Fitch Cooper is just what he claims himself to be, "some musical rube." He could get music out of any kind of an instrument. The McCall trio present a dainty dancing and singing act. An extemporaneous song is included in the performance and many amusing puns were drawn from the audience. The next installment of "Runaway June" completed the bill.

BRIDES-IN-BATH CASE IS ENDED

Smith Has Been Sentenced to Death and Will Die.

London, July 2.—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury yesterday in the case of George Joseph Smith who was charged with the murder of three of his wives. It had been alleged by the Crown that Smith had killed his wives while they were in their baths and had collected insurance money on their lives.

OPPORTUNITY AND MOTIVE

The jury, continued the court, must consider if Smith had opportunity and motive. There was no doubt that he had opportunity and if he gained by the woman's death the jury could see the motive.

NO NEED FOR WARNING

Addressing the prisoner before pronouncing sentence, the judge remarked that he entirely concurred in the verdict. He did not propose, he said, to follow the practice of some judges of warning the public against the exhorting the prisoner to repentance.

Bill Gets First Reading in French Chamber Yesterday.

Paris, July 2.—The race problem was raised in the chamber yesterday by Deputy Diagne, representing Senegal. The deputy submitted a bill extending the general laws regulating military service in France to the municipal communes of Saint Louis, Dakar, Rufisque and Goree, who are French citizens.

GIVE SENEGALESE EQUAL RIGHTS

Despite the efforts of the Minister of Colonies to postpone consideration of the bill until the presentation of a similar plan proposed by the cabinet, a sharp discussion ensued during the course of which Diagne said that until we put an end to scandalous favoritism, whereby the blacks, having political rights are not called upon for military service.

THE SITUATION.

The Italians are making progress along the Isonzo river, but very slowly. They report that excessively heavy rains are making operations very difficult.

The French continue to do well. The Germans, it is asserted are now taking some of their troops previously operating against Russia for use in another attempted big drive in the western theatre.

Bitter fighting still continues in the Eastern theatre with the Germans very heavily on the offensive. They report the capture of over 25,000 prisoners.

The torpedoing of the Armenian, a Dominion line boat with a cargo of mules on board, resulted in the death of several, including Americans, mostly colored muleteers. It is said she was simply acting as a freighter, and, if so, the Kaiserites have once more flouted the United States demand that there should be search and time for escape before sinking.

There has been notable news from the Dardanelles. The British forces not only made an advance of one thousand yards, but in addition obtained an important position, which can be made the base for a still further advance. The Gurkhas in addition, after the British had taken five lines of trenches, pressed still further and captured a hill. From the first it was known that the Dardanelles operations would prove costly, but it has taken a statement of Premier Asquith in the House of Commons to bring home the cold facts. The total of 7,422 killed, 24,676 wounded, and 6,537 missing (and the Turks don't take prisoners), makes serious reading. Added to that the weather there now is unhealthy and conditions are lacking with regard to a pure water supply. The work is going to prove very costly, indeed, but it will be done.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER

On Dominion Day this veteran Canadian statesman celebrated his 94th birthday at Bexley Heath, near London, where he is spending his last days in well-earned retirement. He does not, although frequently asked, now participate in public events, but his mental vigor still continues to be remarkable, and he continues to take a keen interest in Empire affairs. He has descendants fighting at the front, and during the course of an interview remarked:—

"We knew, of course, it would be so—that Canada would stand by the Mother Country in any need; but it is magnificent to see the way in which all the outlying Dominions are taking a share in the struggle."

Then he proceeded to speak with wonted enthusiasm with reference to the future of Canada, and no man has a better right to do that, for he stood a veritable rock of Gibraltar on behalf of bringing the scattered provinces of the Dominion together as an undivided whole. The last surviving Father of Confederation history will record that he did more to bring this about than any other one man. Even Sir John Macdonald had his misgivings, but Sir Charles never faltered, and it was he alone who was able to bring in Nova Scotia. In like manner he was one of the main stays in his unabated faith in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the opening up of the Northwest, even during its darkest hours, and they were black at one time to the extent of what seemed like a total collapse. In all things and in all directions he showed the vigor which has enabled him in such remarkable fettle to exceed by twenty-four years the allotted span named by the Psalmist of three score years and ten.

Never the possessor of that magnetic charm which we call "personality," and which no man can acquire or define (a quality with which Sir John was endowed in such superabundance) he never tasted of the sweets of individual popularity. He was a fighter and a hard hitter, and for many years the most bitterly attacked man in Canadian public life albeit he always gave back as good as he got usually with good interest added. His reminiscences, published not long ago, show what was least expected, that he more than once stood aside for the interests of others for the common good of the Conservative party.

He has not many days now remaining, but he has the proud consciousness of knowing that in these latter years, those who have acquainted themselves with the facts, realize he was always a true and far seeing man on behalf of Canadian interests and entitled to legitimately rank with the most notable of Empire builders.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

There's a heap of trouble in the Toronto fire brigade. The acting chief fired a district chief, Gunn, and the latter refused to go off.

During the first six months of the year, German exports to the United States have shrunk 92 per cent. And it is a safe wager that just about the same slump has taken place all round.

An attempt was made in the States to assassinate ex-Premier Huerta of Mexico. Must have made the old man feel quite as if he was back on the old homestead.

It is reported from Muskoka that a summer hotel there was saved from destruction by a "bucket brigade of 200 girls." Gee, whiz, not even a man to fan their heated brows while they were doing it!

The Liberals of Red Deer have re-nominated Dr. Clark for the Dominion House. Clark is the free trade faddist who kicks about the alleged lessening of the British preference and doesn't seem to realize that without protection a preference couldn't exist at all.

Holding All Their Terrain So Far Gained

By Special Wire to The Courier.

Rome, July 1.—The following official statement was issued to-day at the headquarters of the Italian general staff: "A detachment of the enemy preparing defences on the positions of Monticello and Zaccarant, was dispersed by our artillery fire. "In the valley of Padola, barbed wire protected entrenchments were located at Heikofel, and afterwards were demolished by artillery. "Vigorous night attacks against our positions in the defiles of Monte Croce and Valpiccolo with the aid of rockets, searchlights and asphyxiating bombs, were repulsed at both points. Our artillery dispersed groups of workers on the northern slopes of Freikofel and Van Grande, as well as on the Raute in the Bombasch valley. The fire on Fort Henzel was resumed with good results. "At the head of the valley of Sesia an important position dominating Pienza was solidly occupied by us. "On the Isonzo, the forward march of our troops, although not interrupted, is very slow by reason of the necessity for snatching the ground inch by inch from our adversary and reinforcing each stage against a return to the offensive on the part of the enemy. Persistent rains are increasing the difficulties of progress, and transforming the trenches into torrents of mud. Last night the enemy tried repeatedly but vainly to capture some points recently conquered by us. "Enemy aviators continue their misdeeds, and some of their victims are among the civil population. Our aviators effectively bombarded a column of troops and wagons near Appachiasella, and the San Daniel railroad station."

Tension is Relieved by Later News

By Special Wire to The Courier.

Washington, July 2.—Tension over the destruction of the British steamer Armenian, with the loss of a number of American lives, was considerably relaxed to-day, following the receipt of unofficial advices tending of the apparent refusal of the ship's commander to heed the warning of the German submarine to stop. This phase of the matter overshadowed in the official view all other questions involved in the destruction of the Armenian. If official reports should bear out news despatches concerning attempts of the Armenian to escape, it was said no new cause of complaint likely would be added to issues pending between the United States and Germany. Officials hold that if the Armenian sought to evade capture, the sinking of the ship was justified under international law, even though non-combatants were on board. Precedents are cited in support of this contention. Detailed information of the destruction of the Armenian still was awaited to-day. Until such is available the

GREEKS MARCH INTO ALBANIA

By Special Wire to The Courier.

Rome, July 1, via Paris July 2.—A despatch to The Tribune from Antivari, Montenegro, says two large Greek bands are advancing toward Berat, Albania, after occupying the villages along the way. There have been no previous reports of an intention on the part of the Greek Government to lay claim to a section of Albania. This principle which was established after the Balkan wars, borders on the southeast, on that part of Greece which was awarded her after the defeat of Turkey. Albania already has been invaded by Serbia and Montenegrin troops while Italian forces have been stationed there for some time. Sleeplessness. HELD PICNIC

The Sunday school and friends of the Bethel Hall, Dalhousie street held a picnic yesterday to Whitman's Creek where a pleasant outing was enjoyed.

PICTURES RECEIVED

A number of group and other portraits have been received in the city from Brantford boys who have been through the heavy fighting. Their faces, generally speaking, show the terrible strain through which they have passed.

KILLED AT THE FRONT

Mr. John Fair, C. E., received the sad news that his nephew, Roy Fair, had been killed in action on June 16th at Festubert. The deceased was the youngest son of Rev. H. J. Fair, Methodist Minister at Arkona. He was in his 2nd year and went out with the first contingent.

A HALF HOLIDAY

The Postmaster-General not long ago granted the petition of the letter carriers of the Dominion for a Saturday half holiday during the months of July and August. Until the end of the time specified there consequently will be no afternoon delivery in Brantford.

WHITE SOCKS

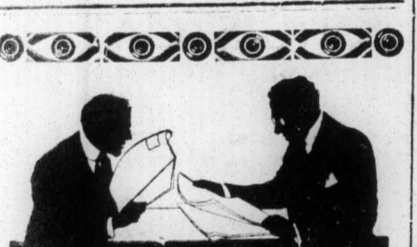

Among the last calls for hospital equipment for wounded soldiers comes one for white heel-less socks which can easily be pulled over bandages and avoid danger of blood poisoning. The local Red Cross workers intend to produce this kind during the summer months.

WOULD BE WELCOME

The Brantford boys of the 4th platoon, Company C, 8th Battalion, are short of sporting material. The donation of anything sent in care of Capt. Hicks, would be much appreciated. Mr. T. A. Squire has started the ball rolling with the first contribution, and Mr. Hawthorne was the second.

LEAVES FOR SCOTLAND

On Wednesday evening, June 24th the Willing Workers' Class of Balgownie Street Presbyterian church, met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Dewar, No. 18 Brant street, to spend a social evening in honor of Miss Margaret Scott, who will soon leave for the Scottish shores. Games and music were indulged in, after which the meeting was called to order, and the Willing Workers' Class presented Miss Margaret Scott with an address and picture of the class. Mrs. S. Danby, teacher of the class read the address, and Miss Margaret Morrison, president of the class, made the presentation. Miss Scott, although completely taken by surprise, replied in a few well chosen words, and thanked the class for the remembrance. A very dainty lunch was then served, and after all had done ample justice to the dainty viands, the party broke up at an early hour, all having enjoyed themselves.

BAD SHAPE

The pavement on Chatham street is in bad shape, and should be looked after by the authorities.

MOHAWK PARK

The city's new park no doubt would have attracted a large crowd yesterday had it not been for the rain. As it was, the Salvation Army picnic there got a bad setback.

TENNIS

The V. M. C. A. tennis teams visited Echo Park yesterday but failed to return victorious. Roper and Style played against Barrie and Edmondson, the sets resulting in 6-3, 6-4. Roper played a single with Edmondson, each winning a set, but Mr. Roper ultimately lost by a close game.

CITY LEAGUE BASEBALL

There will be two good games of baseball in the City League to-morrow when MacBrides play the Alerts on the latter's grounds and Paris try conclusions with the Cubs in the Holmedale. Both games are looked to be hummers, and will be well worth seeing.

FINE EXCURSION

The Epworth League excursion to Niagara Falls yesterday was a great success. About 500 people left on the special train at 7:30 in the morning and some took tea in Toronto for Niagara and others for Niagara on the Lake. Both parties thoroughly enjoyed themselves, as it was an ideal day. There was no rain at the Falls at all.

DETAILS MADE KNOWN

Further instructions were received in the city this morning, regarding the new regiment to be raised. The first call here is for one Captain, one company sergeant-major, two sergeants, three corporals, one bugler and forty-nine men. (This is considerably less than was anticipated, and may only refer to the fact that it refers to one call.)

Recalled by Sir Charles Tupper Celebrating His 94th Birthday. This happened nineteen years ago so the telling of it doesn't matter—or in fact, hasn't for some time.

High Constable Kerr has returned from Toronto to which city he went in response to a letter from the commanding officer of the Royal Canadian Dragoons as follows:—

Three British Steamers Are Sunk The Caucasian, the largest of the three vessels sent to the bottom by the German submarine to-day, was a tank steamer of 4,655 tons gross.

Obituary ISABELLE HEASLEY The sad death of Isabelle Heasley occurred on Wednesday in Chatham. Many friends will be grieved to learn of her demise for she was well known in the city.

HURLED BACK

A Big German Offensive Met With Failure. London, July 2—Eighty thousand Germans believed to have been under the command of the Crown Prince, were hurled back with great losses in a sudden Teuton offensive in the west in the region of Verdun, according to a despatch from Paris.

ON THE FENCE

By Special Wire to the Courier. Madrid, via Paris July 2—Spain is experiencing difficulty in maintaining neutrality and in a further effort to preserve it, an official order has been given not to discuss the question in public. Deputies of the Left, who oppose the government policy, informed Premier Dato they proposed an epoch-making campaign directed against the cabinet because of the suppression of public meetings. The premier replied that he would authorize meetings on condition that neutrality be not mentioned.

Vital Statistics For the First Six Months

There is a Falling-off Compared With First Six Months of Last Year.

BRITISH LOSSES AT DARDANELLES

The Naval and Military Casualties to Date Total Over 38,000.

London, July 2—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons in the afternoon that the British naval and military losses in killed, wounded and missing in the operations against the Dardanelles up to May 31st aggregated 38,635 officers and men. The figures showing the killed, wounded and missing by officers and men follow:—

Table with columns for Category (Officers, Men), Killed, Wounded, and Missing.

A compilation of all the British casualty lists issued to date shows that the proportion of killed to 'injured' is 23.5 per cent. This is slightly in excess of the percentage in the Crimean and South African campaigns. In the Russo-Turkish War, however, the proportion was nearly 46 per cent.

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

Special Wire to the Courier. Zurich, via London, July 2.-At the conference at Vienna of the Industrial leaders of Germany and Austria to discuss means for bringing about a closer economic union between the two countries, Dr. Reiser, president of the Hansa League, said that the allies of the quadruple entente not only had entered into political treaties, but had concluded a number of economic arrangements. One of the most important of these, he asserted, provided that none of them may conclude a commercial treaty with Germany or Austria without the consent of the others. A wireless despatch from Berlin yesterday said a resolution was passed at the Vienna conference declaring for an economic alliance of the two countries to as great a degree as possible. One of the means proposed to bring this about was a preferential tariff system designed to equalize differences in the cost of production. c

LONDON HOTELS LOSE LICENSES

The Provincial Board Makes a Final Decision Against Four Hotelmen.

The four London hotels given extensions of three months by the Provincial License Board have failed in their effort to get the licenses extended for a further period. Yesterday the board announced that as a result of the investigation made in London by Vice-Chairman Dingman and Commissioners Dine and Smith, it has been decided that the licenses of the four hotels should cease upon August 1 as originally provided. The four hotels are the Bank, Brunswick, Queen's Park and Windsor. The board is pursuing its policy of eliminating undesirable hotels and those for which there is no need in the locality in which they are situated. Two licenses in Portsmouth, a suburb of Kingston, have been refused, the hotelkeepers being given until August 1st to get out of business. One license on Wolfe Island has been treated the same, and the remaining one on the island, that by J. S. Briceland, has been changed to a beer and wine license. The four licenses referred to were extended for three months by the old board, but it is generally understood that at the end of that period they were to get wine and beer licenses. The provincial board, however, has dealt with the matter in a less lenient manner. In a number of cases proprietors will receive welcome surprises in notifications from the board that their licenses, instead of being extended only to August 1st, will be in force for the rest of the year. Those to have their full licenses ar- Thomas Potton of Concord, Fred Newton of Fairbank, and John McOeara of New Toronto, all in the outskirts of the city; W. F. Dulmage of Harrison, and Henry Bellefeuille of Keswatin. In the case of the licenses in Toronto's suburbs the board gave the hotelkeepers a warning that public sentiment was against the presence of licensed houses in residential districts under such circumstances, and that they would be closely watched. c

RIGHTS HAVE BEEN INVADED

Says Counsel of Becker in Making Appeal.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 2.-The next step in the effort to save Charles Becker from execution for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will be the selection of new counsel to represent him in an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, said Becker's constitutional rights have been invaded," said Mr. Mantou. "In that lies the opportunity to apply to the Supreme Court of the United States." Mr. Mantou would not admit that Becker has offered to tell Governor Whitman the names of men higher up in graft dealings in which Becker was interested. Another 100 Canadians left for Britain to join the army of munition workers. c

Curzon Now Feels Quite Confident

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, July 2.-Introducing the Munitions Bill in the House of Lords to-day, Lord Curzon, Lord Privy Seal, announced that the first week of the campaign made to speed up the manufacture of arms and ammunition resulted in the enrollment of 46,000 volunteer munition workers. He was confident, Lord Curzon added, that before the end of the year the advantages in both men and material would be decisively on the side of Great Britain and her allies. c

WANT THE VOTE FIRST

Mrs. Pankhurst Rebukes Them for That.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 2.-The first women's street parade since the outbreak of the war, will be held on the afternoon of July 17, under the direction of the Women's Social and Political Union, of which Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, is the leader. This parade will be held in celebration of the promise of David Lloyd-George, the minister of munitions, to receive a delegation of women anxious to serve the country as shell-makers and other capacities. Mrs. Pankhurst explained that a mass meeting held yesterday that the parade was planned to impress the government and the nation with the desire of women to be of service, and she urged that women, suffragettes or not, particularly the leisure and non-producing classes, to participate. "We want the vote first," cried several women in the back of the hall, in the course of Mrs. Pankhurst's speech to which she replied. "I am glad that those ladies are in the very small minority." c

ARMENIAN'S CAPTAIN GIVES GAME FIGHT

Surrenders When Ship is Afire and Engines Crippled.

London, July 2.-Captain Trickey of the British liner Armenian, in an interview said that he only surrendered to the German submarine when the liner was on fire in three places and after the ship's engines had been put out of action and a dozen members of the crew had been killed by shrapnel fire. Most of the members of the crew who perished, Captain Trickey said, were Americans. "The submarine as a signal for us to stop," said Captain Trickey, "first put a couple of shots over our bows when we were four miles off. I put my stern to him and ran for it. The submarine then began to shell us in earnest, the shrapnel bursting all around us, killing several of the crew and knocking others overboard. I soon realized that the enemy was gaining on us, but I did not propose to surrender without a struggle, but my steering gear was hit and placed out of commission. Then a shell fell into the engine room and another another cut down the funnel and disabled the stokers, preventing them from keeping steam up. By this time the ship was on fire in three places and I decided to surrender. We had resisted the enemy for an hour, and twelve or thirteen men lay dead on the deck. "The submarine commander then forced me to clear ship, and at seven minutes past eight the Armenian was down, shattered by two torpedoes. "I must say that the submarine commander showed us every fairness after we had given up, picking up a damaged boat, had fallen into the water. "Most of the crew who perished were Americans. "Some of the lifeboats of the vessel were shot away, but the others were sufficient to accommodate the crew. c

GUELPH MAN

On Bicycle Hit by Car and Killed.

Guelph, July 2.-Roy Young, 25 Clark street, this city, died Wednesday of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile driven by Fred Spofford, 2 Tiffany street. Young was riding a bicycle on Woolwich street, going north, and Spofford was coming along behind him in his car. A street car stopped at the corner Woolwich and Mont streets and Young stopped rather short and the automobile coming behind struck him, running over his chest. The ambulance was called, and the injured man was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in an unconscious condition. It was soon seen there was no chance for his recovery, and he passed away at 4 o'clock. An inquest was called by Dr. Savage, coroner, and the jury viewed the remains, after which an adjournment was made. c

BRANTFORD TAKES BOTH GAMES FROM LONDON

DOMINION DAY GAMES IN LONDON ARE LOST TO A VASTLY IMPROVED AND TOO GOOD A BALL CLUB TO BE IN LAST PLACE—LONG HITS AND A TRIPLE PLAY WERE FEATURES

(London Free Press) Appearing and playing ball vastly different than when the Canadian League season opened here, Brantford came to this city for the purpose of playing two games on the holiday here, and won both by the score of 6 to 1, and 6 to 4 before the smallest crowds ever assembled since this city was represented in the league at Tecumseh Park.

BRANTS LOOK GOOD The Brants excelled in hitting when bingles meant runs, fielding in good style and determination in their actions on the field, both in defensive and offensive tactics, and in every way looked beyond the shadow of a doubt like the best club that has visited London this season, taking and sizing the team from all angles.

The visiting team outfit and out-fielded the Tecumsehs, and no great mystery is attached to the registration of two victories in the right column, but will some one solve the mystery surrounding the fact that the Brants are not higher up in the Canadian League race?

CLOSE KEEPS HITS APART Close opposed Hammond in the box in the morning game, and while the leads got to his delivery in getting men on the bases, the former Eric huler was an immense obstacle when he came to driving runs in for Reising's side. The Brants jumped right on Hammond in the first inning, and from then on were never caught up.

Ford Runabout Price $540. Your neighbor drives a Ford—why don't you? We are selling more Fords in Canada this year than ever before—because Canadians demand the best in motor car service at the lowest possible cost. The "Made in Canada" Ford is a necessity—not a luxury.

Chicago, July 2.—Pitcher Mammaux of Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 4 to 0 yesterday by holding the locals to four scattered hits. Pittsburgh's long hits, daring base-running, and some erratic fielding by the locals gave the visitors their runs. Score: R.H.E. Pittsburgh 4, Chicago 0.

At Cincinnati—With the score tied in the ninth inning, Griner of St. Louis, hit Killifer, who later went to second on Groh's sacrifice, took third on Clarke's out, and scored on Griffith's single, Cincinnati winning the game five to four. Score: R.H.E. St. Louis 5, Cincinnati 4.

At Philadelphia—Erskine Mayer, who was married Wednesday night, spent the first day of his honeymoon taking the scalp of the Boston Braves for Philadelphia, 2 to 1, as a trophy for his bride, who was seated in the grandstand. Mayer had a battle with Ragon, and three times got out of trouble with the bases filled. Cravath brought the battle to a close by hitting a home run into the bleachers in the ninth with none out. Junior City League

ALERTS BEAT TIGERS In a one-sided game of baseball at Mohawk Park the Junior Alerts defeated the Parkdale Tigers in the opening game of the League by the score of 22 to 3. Young, who pitched for the Alerts was the master of the situation, striking out 8 men, while his team-mates hammered three pitchers for 15 safeties. The score: Alerts 22, Tigers 3.

When told yesterday afternoon at Ebbets Field that Benny Kauff intended to report to the Giants tomorrow, Manager McGraw of the New York team did not appear to be much excited. "I do not see what I can do with Kauff," McGraw said, "when we tried to play him before the case was decided against us, and there has been no change in the situation since then. Kauff is a great ball player and undoubtedly would help to strengthen the Giants if he could be used. But I cannot see where he would help us under the conditions which prevent us from playing him."

Brantford beat the best of Toronto's cricket teams here yesterday in an interesting match, rain stopped the play early in the second inning and so the game had to be decided on the first day.

Brantford won the toss and elected to take the field, where they gave a very excellent and creditable display. The bowling of Carey was remarkable in as much as that he was unplayable and took six wickets for 7 runs. Toronto were all out for 29 runs. On going in to bat Brantford again gave a good display and the batting of H. L. Phillips, new to the Brantford club, was a feature. He played an excellent inning of 25, top score of the day. Rain stopped the play after lunch and left Brantford winners by 37 runs.

LIFE LOST AND GAINED

In Memory of Fallen Canadians

Sermon Preached in St. Paul's Cathedral, May 10, by A. F. Winton-Ingram, D.D., Bishop of London.

In honoring Canada to-night let no one think that we are leaving out of sight the magnificent conduct of our Australian and New Zealand comrades... of the newly-formed Canadian salient. If it is possible to distinguish, when the attack was everywhere so fierce, it developed with particular intensity at this moment upon the apex of the newly-formed line running in the direction of St. Julien.

The battalions were respectively commanded by Lieut-Col. Boyle, and after a most fierce struggle in the light of a misty moon they took the position at the point of the bayonet.

"At midnight the 2nd battalion, under Col. Watson and the Toronto Light Infantry, 3rd battalion under Lieut-Col. Renwick, both of the 1st brigade, brought up much-needed reinforcements, and, though not actually engaged in the assault, were in the reserve.

"ON FAME'S ETERNAL CAMPING GROUND." The fighting continued without intermission all through the night, and to those who observed the indications that the attack was being pushed with ever-growing strength...

"It became necessary for Brigadier General Turner, commanding the 3rd brigade, to throw back his left flank upon the rearmost position, the enemy, who had advanced rapidly after his initial successes, took four British 4.7 guns in a small wood to the west of the village of St. Julien...

The enemy, of course, was aware—whether fully or not may perhaps be doubted—of the advantage his breach in the line had given him, and immediately began to push a formidable series of attacks upon the whole

It was said the other day that the young grasp by a kind of instinct the idea that life is not merely a question of living so many years; they understand that it is possible in a short time to fulfil a long life.

Anne's Grand Discovery

A Call That Made Her About Her Own Health. By EMILY HODGES.

performance—Anne's nightingale of her complexion with content she wondered if she would same when she was thirty-six married. But she would not married at thirty-six.

But long after Maisie was Anne lay awake thinking. Sixteen years—a long time in a life.

"No," Anne lied proudly. "If you aren't good enough for me I'll be sorry for this soon."

"That cold cream makes you make you use it, Anne? A afraid of wrinkles?" Anne who Maisie went on wickedly.

"Oh, Anne," she gasped, "I told him you'd be right down a man in the parlor to see Anne almost an unheard of thing."

Anne's Great Discovery

A Call That Made Her Sure About Her Own Heart.

By EMILY HODGES.

"You're very foolish and very headstrong, Maisie, and you're going to be sorry some day," Anne said severely. She was sitting before the glass, putting cold cream on her face, and Maisie was watching her from the bed. It was to pretty Maisie a very comforting performance—Anne's nightly routine of her complexion with cold cream. She wondered if she would do the same when she was thirty-six and unmarried. But she would not be unmarried at thirty-six. Of course not. There was Dick, and she was determined to marry Dick, no matter what Anne or Aunt Hannah said. It was about Dick that Anne was talking now. "You know as well as I do," Anne went on, "that you are too young even to think of marrying, and, anyway, Dick isn't a person you should consider for one moment." Anne closed the cold cream box with a sigh. "When you do marry I want you to have some one who is worthy of you."

"That's the reason you've never married," Maisie asked innocently. "Anne flushed under the cold cream. "That was the reason," she returned proudly. "I wasn't ever before sorry?" Maisie persisted. She wished Anne had not turned her face by turning out the gas. "The voice, Anne's voice, told so little. "I don't know that I have been good night, dear." And Maisie had begun to do but answer obediently, "Good night, Anne."

"So long after Maisie was asleep Anne lay awake thinking. Sixteen years—that a long time that past. She was twenty that summer, just out of school, and she had a pink dress about with ruffles. One day when she had been wearing that dress she had met Dwight Marshall. He was a good deal like Dick Launt—big, clear eyed, ready to laugh. Like Dick, too, he was a plain workman and had come from a long way off to find work in Hasset. It did not take Dwight long to fall in love with the pink dress and her, and it did not take her long to see it. He was her first beau, and straightway the world was made over for her. But her mother was watch and ward. She had had to make many sacrifices in order to educate Anne, and she was worthy of the best. Mrs. Hall did not by any means consider Dwight Marshall the best, and she was determined that he should not have Anne. She appealed to Anne's pride and reason and after a time had the satisfaction of seeing her arguments prevail. Anne gave up her lover. He was hurt, disappointed, bitterly angry.

"This is your mother's doings," he said. "No," Anne lied proudly, "it's mine. You're not good enough for me." "You'll be sorry for this some day," he returned. And that was his last word to her. She had never seen or heard from him since. She probably never would again. And now here she was, Maisie in the same boat in which she herself had been. But Maisie's heart would not be broken. Hers had not been. There had been times, indeed, when she was glad that she had not married Dwight. Maisie would never feel the same way about Dick. Anne scarcely slept all night. "What cold cream makes you pale," Maisie said next morning. "What makes you use it, Anne? Are you afraid of wrinkles?" Anne winced, and Anne went on wickedly. "Mrs. Warner doesn't make any difference. A woman looks like she isn't married. She doesn't intend to be."

Mrs. Warner was the young matron who lived across the street. Because she and Maisie were very friendly and because she was known openly to sympathize with Maisie's love affair Anne and her mother had not called upon her, though she had lived in the town almost a year. Now of a sudden Anne felt a great interest for the gay little woman who seemed so happy in her married life and obviously had no need of cold cream or any other preparation for her charming face. "Who was out of sorts all day. Her painting class did badly, her head ached, and she tore her walking skirt stepping upon it in her hurry to take a cab. Fred and utterly forlorn, Anne was sitting in her room trying to mend the skirt when Maisie came in. Anne's mistress and entered panting and flushed. "What's the matter?" she gasped, "there's a man in the parlor waiting to see you. He says he's the man you'd be right down."

"Who is it?" "The man who says he's the man you'd be right down." "Who is it?" "The man who says he's the man you'd be right down." "Who is it?" "The man who says he's the man you'd be right down."

Little cousin, Maud Warner, has lived here she and Dave have been teasing me to come and make them a visit. So I made up my mind I'd come. And here I am. You don't know Maud, do you?" "No," Anne said feebly, wishing she did.

"Maud told me you hadn't acted very neighborly. You should know Maud. She's one of the best little women that ever lived."

He had been talking rapidly. Now he stopped and drew a long breath. "Do you remember the last time we saw each other? I was right mad that day. It had never occurred to me that I wasn't the equal of the best girl living—and you were that, too—until you said what you did. So I swore I'd make myself good enough—and make you sorry. But now that I've seen you I only want to make you glad, Anne. You see, I like you just as well as I ever did, though I didn't expect to. And if you like me—"

"Oh, Dwight," Anne sobbed, "it's I who am not good enough! I'm homely and old and sour and—and disagreeable and narrow minded—and you're worthy of some one better." Maisie had been in bed three hours when Anne came up and woke her with a kiss.

"Why, Anne, you look real pretty," Maisie said, yawning. "But your hair is mussed up awfully." "Maisie," Anne said solemnly, sitting down upon the edge of the bed and taking hold of Maisie's hand in a most unusual way—"Maisie, I want to tell you something. I've been a fool for years and never found it out until tonight. And I don't mean you shall be the same kind of fool. That man who came tonight was the one I might have married sixteen years ago—and didn't. But I'm going to marry him now."

"And—and, Maisie, I've been talking to mother, and you can have Dick any time you are ready. Dick's all right. He—Dwight knows him; they come from the same place." "I thought I could forget," Anne went on gently after Maisie's ecstasy of surprise and joy had somewhat subsided, "and I've tried hard for sixteen years, but when you really love there's no forgetting in this world. I've been loving Dwight right straight along, and the minute I saw him tonight I knew it. I've missed a good many years of happiness, and I want to make you miss a good many years of happiness in the same way. It wasn't because I was wicked, dear, but because I didn't know. I do know now." Maisie smiled wisely. "I knew all the while," she said.

Flowers Once In Fifty-five Years. Certain species of bamboo flower only once in about fifty-five years, and, strangely enough, all the trees in a locality flower about the same time. Those in Burma began flowering last year, and now they are all in blossom. The last time this species flowered was in 1859-60. They will now die, and those that spring from the seeds born of this flowering will take their places and will not flower until about 1970. They may flower sporadically at other times, but the seed does not mature, for the bamboo cannot fertilize itself.—New York World.

Postage Stamps. The American public consumes 40,000,000 postage stamps per day. By the ordinary methods of printing postage stamps this process costs the government a tremendous sum annually. By the invention of one machine by the officials of the bureau of engraving and printing the cost of manufacturing stamps has been reduced 57 per cent. The new stamp machine eliminates nineteen of the operations in making stamps, goes through twenty-one different operations of its own and turns out 4,000 completed stamps per minute, 2,400,000 in a ten hour day.

Britain's Iron Duke. The Iron Duke, Great Britain's new super-Dreadnought, said to be the most powerful battleship in the world, is a costly sort of ornament for the navy. In action her guns can use up ammunition at the rate of $50,000 a minute. This is the first battleship to be equipped with specially designed guns for air craft. These guns are expected to send a projectile made for the purpose a height of 10,000 feet.

Practical Health Hint. Shortness of breath. There are many ways in which shortness of breath may arise. It is often one of the symptoms of illness. When a person begins to complain of habitual shortness of breath it is important to have a physical examination made without delay. One reason is that tuberculosis often begins with no other symptoms than shortness of breath and a slight cough. If these cases are seen and diagnosed very early it is not difficult to arrest them. The symptom is, of course, present in such troubles as pneumonia, broncho-pneumonia and pleurisy, which attack the organs of breath directly. Violent exercise naturally causes temporary shortness of breath. In the case of healthy people it disappears quickly when the exercise ceases. If it does not do so it is a good plan to have a careful examination in order to find out what is wrong. Young people sometimes persist in a favorite form of exercise after they have begun to notice their shortening breath. In that way they may do themselves lifelong injury.

NURSERY HARMONY

Neutral Backgrounds and Well Constructed Furniture.

AFFECT CHILDREN'S MINDS.

Much Attention Is Being Paid to Psychology of Furnishing in Each Room—Process of Elimination Used With Good Results.

In every well appointed nursery there will be harmony of wall decorations, furniture and floor coverings. The furniture will be simple in line and will be low enough for the convenience of the small inhabitant. A cupboard will be provided in which toys may be stored when not in use, thus inculcating in the wee one orderly habits, which a harmonious room will also help to instill.

If in addition the nursery is properly ventilated and heated the mother will have the ideal nest in which to begin to train her young fledgeling in the duties, joys and beauties of modern life.

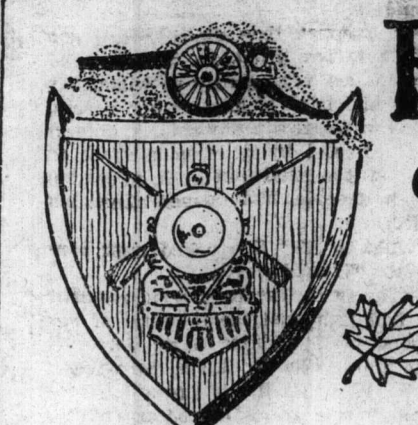

And as the child grows selze upon every tiny evidence of his love for the aesthetic and wisely train it, for in every individual there exists the desire for beauty, a craving which is no less insistent in its way than the purely physical appetites and one that demands a constant satisfaction.

It is in art that the intellectual and emotional characteristics of an individual or a race find concrete expression. Indeed, it is only when their psychology is understood that we can deduce, automatically, some idea of the culture which expresses these conditions. The reverse of this holds true; follow the course of the strong, clear and fine red of the Italian renaissance velvets through the period of Louis XIV, where the tone becomes less intense, until it changes to the Du Barry rose of Louis XV, and fades into the pretty Marie Antoinette pink of the Louis XVI period. That transition tells an eloquent tale of the moral decadence of the French Court, the most brilliant, wasteful yet creative period of decorative art in history. Out of the middlebrowness of the Victorian era there has arisen a clear, scientific and reasoning spirit, a split that analyzes and explains, that has expressed itself very definitely in art, and particularly in that art which we are all so closely concerned—the creation of a harmonious home.

The time has long since passed in which interior decoration was regarded as an esoteric art, understood only by the initiated. Successful decoration is self expression and common sense—with some knowledge, either intuitive or acquired, of the emotional and intellectual reaction of the individual to certain colors, compositions and arrangements. Beauty is harmony, and harmony means rest.

It is this knowledge which has eliminated the badly designed wallpapers, the shiny and overdecorated furniture, and the carpets swarming with impenetrable roses, which seemed to rise from the floor in crimson spots. The modern American home is becoming a combination of neutral backgrounds, simple and well constructed furniture and harmoniously keyed color tones.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS

on active service

DURING the past few months hundreds of railway employes have gone to the war, among them probably none more prominent than the Canadian Pacific Railway men whose photographs are reproduced here. Each a head of an important department of the world's greatest transportation company, and each anxious to devote his services and life, it need be, to the aid of the British Empire.

Number I is Lieut.-Col. Fred A. Gascoigne, of the 60th Battalion, who was granted leave of absence from his position as Superintendent of Car Service of Eastern Lines to go to the front. He is now busily engaged in encouraging recruits to join his regiment, to which is attached a son of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the president of the road, as Lieutenant. Lieut.-Col. Gascoigne joined the Canadian Pacific as a clerk at Brockville Station on May 15, 1883, and the following year came to Montreal as a clerk in the Car Accounting Dept., from which position he rose to Superintendent on Feb. 1st, 1903.

Number II is Lieut.-Col. George Stephen Cantle, who recently landed in England in command of the 42nd Highlanders. Lieut.-Col. Cantle joined the railway on Jan. 1, 1885, as a clerk in the Audit Dept. and attracted such attention that the following year he was appointed Assistant General Manager and Assistant to the President. He rapidly rose to be Superintendent of the Car Service, and on Nov. 23, 1908, was made General Superintendent of the Car Service of the railway when he volunteered for overseas service.

Number III is Captain G. Ernest Hall, who has been doing excellent work at the front with the Heavy Brigade, being second in command. He was Assistant General Storekeeper and volunteered for the front after the declaration of war last August. Capt. Hall joined the C. P. R. on May 14, 1900, as a clerk in the Engineering Dept. at Montreal and became Asst. General Storekeeper in 1906.

Number IV represents one of the prominent officials last to leave the Canadian Pacific for Overseas Service. This is Lieut.-Col. C. W. P. Ramsay, who is in command of the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps. He was born in 1882 and entered the service of the railway as an apprentice in 1898. From that date until Sept. 19, 1903, he served in various minor capacities, when he was appointed a draftsman in the Construction Dept. From this he became an Assistant Engineer and Division Engineer, and on March 15, 1912, he was appointed Engineer of Construction for Eastern Lines. He was actively identified with the construction of all new lines since that date, notably the building of the new Lake Shore line from Montreal to Toronto.

FEVERISH ACTIVITY IN GERMAN SHOPS

Under Lash of the State Men Are Doing Their Utmost to Maintain Supply.

London, July 1.—A neutral correspondent just returned from Germany in an article in The Chronicle, says: "It is in towns, particularly in industrial towns, where one sees how entirely the German nation is organized for war. Into these towns an enormous number of men have been drafted from the country to work in the factories, which are humming day and night with activity to keep up the supply of all things necessary for the fighting lines. In the general relations between capital and labor there has been notable amelioration, indeed the impression one gains in travelling about Germany is one of absolute settled industrial peace, but I know this only has been secured because all parties know that the first signs of dissatisfaction would be treated with the utmost vigor of the law.

WORK THIRTY HOURS. "At some of the largest factories the men are often at work fifteen, twenty, even thirty hours, with only short intervals of rest. Though it is said that there are ample stocks of all kinds of ammunition, there is daily and nightly a feverish haste in the factories where this is made. The Government has not officially taken over the factories, but any questions of increases that the men raise are out of the hands of the employer, and he points to the fact that both he and the workmen are in the hands of the State. Strikes are, therefore, unknown, a further deterrent being the knowledge that any man who does not do his utmost without murmuring will quickly be embodied in some regiment destined for one of the hottest places in the front. In the factories where the Government work is being done wages are high, and even in the few cases where the wages of certain unskilled workers have fallen the men are allowed to work practically till they drop."
