FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1891.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Sixty Anarchists are on trial in Rome. The German Minister to the United States is dead.

The Baptist churches of Hamilton and vicinity have been organized into a separate association.

During his approaching tour of Ontario Hon. Wilfrid Laurier will address a meeting at Port Elgin.

The civic census of Victoria, B. C., gives the population as 22,981, 6,000 more than the official census recently declared.

Frank Melbourne, the rainmaker, has signed a contract to water a section of Kansas during next summer, at ten cents per acre.

The Pope has written to the powers insisting that it is impossible for the Italian Government and the Papacy to both remain in Rome.

The appointment of Mr. Balfour to the leadership of the Imperial Commons is received with satisfaction by the Conservative press.

Rev. Robert Scott, Presbyterian minister of Burns' church, East Zorra, and Brookside, died suddenly on Oct. 3rd, in the manse, East Zorra.

The largest potato we ever saw is on exhibition at Peter McGregor's store in West Lorne, it weighs 3 pounds 10 oz. It was grown on the farm of John Haveland, Aldboro'.

Hon. Oliver Mowat has expressed the opinion that the abolition of grand juries is a matter of Provincial jurisdiction and not within the power of the Dominion authorities.

The Kincardine Review has a pea vine bearing 114 pods. Each pod will contain, on an average, six peas. Who can deny a country in which a pea increases almost 700-fold.

The total export of wheat from Canada and the United States this season (sixteen weeks) amounts to 66,673,000 bushels, as against 28,983,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year.

Woodstock has a soft maple tree which some weeks ago shed all its leaves and appeared to die. Recently it surprised its mourners by budding out again, and now it is rigged out in its second covering of leaves.

Fifty English sparrows were taken to Australia in 1860. They have multiplied until they now number countless millions. At first they lived entirely on insects; the later birds prefer fruit, vegetables and grain, and have ruined hundreds of farmers and gardeners.

Mr. Davin has received a telegram from Regina announcing that threshing in that neighborhood gave phenomenal results. Forty-eight and fifty bushels of wheat to the acre was common, and one case of fifty eight bushels was given. At Colborne one farmer got a hundred bushels of oats to the acre.

Sir Edwin Arnold sailed from Liverpool for the United States on the 14th on the City of New York. He comes to America to give, in the larger cities, descriptive talks and readings from his poems and prose writings. He will open his American tour at Philadelphia and will deliver his lecture in New York on the following evening.

A Canadian I was born, a Canadian I will die.—Hon. A. S. Hardy. That is the way to talk.—London Advertiser. How else could he talk? Does he expect to die a Sandwich Islander or a Chinaman? If he's born a Canadian it's tolerably certain if the gentleman proposes to die at all that he'll die a Canadian.—St. Catharines Standard.

Henceforth let no one apologize for the English sparrow. He is as black as he has been painted, and considerably more so. The news from North Plain, Conn., virtually strips him of every feather of respectability and leaves him naked to the scorn of the world. The Baptist church of North Plain has been robbed at various times, of sums aggregating $25, and after three years of bickering, charges and counter charges, the stolen money has been traced to a couple of English sparrows that had a nest in the vine near the church. The evidence against the sparrows is indisputable, as the missing money, in bills ranging from $1 to $5, has been woven into their nest.

Servant girls in California average $25 a month.

John Redmond will be the Parnellite candidate in the Cork election.

The amber deposits at Cedar Lake, N. W. T., are said to be worth $7,000,000.

Hanian beat McLean in the sculling race at Victoria on Monday by 150 yards.

An herb has been found in Yucatan which is to be a certain cure for insanity.

The petition against William Mulock, M. P. for North York, has been dismissed.

Willie Windle, the bicyclist, on Saturday rode a mile in 2.15, the best time on record.

Dalton McCarthy, it is rumored in Ottawa, will be made Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Members of English Bands of Hope visited 1,000,000 homes last Saturday afternoon in search of recruits.

President Harrison addressed the Ecumenical Methodist Conference upon "Arbitration" on Saturday.

Mrs. Scott Siddons is expected soon to make a tour through Canada. She has been off the stage for several years and is much benefitted in health.

The Aylmer canning factory is canning 600 bushels of tomatoes daily and evaporating 220 bushels of apples.

The C. P. R. have been awarded $570,000 by the arbitrators in the Onderjock claim, each side paying its own costs.

The remains of soldiers slain at Lundy's Lane, which were discovered recently, were reinterred with military honors on Saturday.

The appointment of Isaac Master, of the township of Wilmot, Waterloo county, to be registrar for the county has been gazetted.

Knox College alumni presented the Board of Management of the college with a handsome portrait of Principal Caven, who has just completed the 25th year of his principalship.

Prof. Shaw, O. A. College, addressed the West Huron Farmers' Institute on Thursday Oct. 8, at Dunganon. The meeting was attended by over 400 farmers, their wives and families.

The thoroughbred stallion St. Blaise was sold at New York on Saturday, to Chas. Reed, of Tennessee, for $100,000, the highest price ever paid for a thoroughbred horse.

Seven cars loaded with green seal-skins, sent from Alaska to London, Eng., passed through Woodstock over the Grand Trunk a few days ago. The consignment was valued at $357,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland have decided to name their daughter Ruth, signifying "beauty." "This was the name of Mrs. Cleveland's grandmother," said Mr. Cleveland, "and has always been liked by her."

A short time ago Miss Clara Oliver, of Amherstburgh, was injured in a Michigan Central Railroad coach. She threatened a suit for damages, but is has been settled by giving her a life pass over the road from the burg to Windsor.

The recent census of Paris shows that the city contains 4,507 residents of the United States, 44,817 Belgians, 25,863 Germans, 24,800 Swiss, 21,123 Italians, 15,727 English and Irish and 6,000 Russians. It is calculated that there are 100,000 French citizens in the United States, 26,000 in England and only 2,000 in Germany.

James Sutherland, M. P., while at Sarnia on Tuesday of last week had the rare opportunity of a walk through the new tunnel, in company with Dr. Landerkin, M. P., and Wm. Gibson, M. P., who is the contractor for the stone work at the entrances. During their walk a train passed through, but there is plenty of room at the sides for pedestrians.

The Globe on Saturday, Oct. 10, contained an excellent portrait of Conductor Snider and the following:—Owing to the fact that Conductor Snider does duty on the railway and also aims to be a spiritual guide in the journey of life, makes his name familiar throughout Ontario. He was born in Trafalgar, Haldon county, Ont., in 1852, went to work as brakeman in 1870, was promoted to a conductor's position in 1874, and up to 1886 Billy was "one of the boys." In that year he was converted, and his good fellowship is now of another character, though none the less hearty. Of his usefulness there can be no doubt, for he has preached in nearly 100 different pulpits, from Montreal to Windsor, and always to deeply interested congregations. He is now on the London, Huron & Bruce.

Town Talk.

SEND along the news.

MR. AND MRS. BUTCHER, of St. Marys, were visiting in town this week.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!—Grain chopping done at the Gotham mills every Tuesday.

MRS. WM. NICHOL arrived home last Saturday after a six weeks' visit to friends in Wiarton.

ON Nov. 1st I will discontinue my prize tickets, please to hand them in by that date. J. L. MADER.

MONDAY, Oct. 12th, was the anniversary of the consecration of His Lordship the Bishop of London.—Free Press.

THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, has been proclaimed Thanksgiving Day by the Governor General, not Nov. 5th as reported last week.

THE Stratford Herald is to put in a new press and enlarge the weekly. We congratulate the Herald on its increased circulation and business enterprise.

OUR gun club went to Brussels the other day for a friendly shoot, the first meet since last fall, when they were successful in defeating the Brussels ninruds.

MRS. J. L. MADER and Frances arrived home on Friday last from an extended and enjoyable visit to relatives and friends in Jackson, Mich., and Chicago, Illinois.

AUCTIONEERS Merryfield and Morrison are booming the auction sale business this fall. They are A 1 auctioneers and as a consequence they wield the hammer at a large number of sales.

THE Stratford Times says:—"It is rumored that Mr. O'Beirne is about to retire from the proprietorship of the Beacon and that the paper will be carried on by Stevens & Son in the future.

A SCHOOL teacher in Perth county recently asked:—"Why was Lady Macdonald raised to the peerage after the death of her husband, the late Prime Minister of the Dominion?" The question was no sooner asked than one of the pupils answered:—"Please, ma'am, she was raised up so as to keep her out of the scandals at Ottawa."

NORTH PERTH PETITION.—The examination of James Grieve, M.P., in the controverted election case has been concluded. The examination was held before Judge Woods, F. W. Gearing appearing for the petitioner, and G. G. Macpherson on behalf of the respondent. Evidence of corrupt practices having been employed during the recent contest appeared, but the Liberals were not the guilty parties. Among other questions, Mr. Grieve was asked whether he had canvassed a man named John Miller, who lives in the township of Mornington. He said that he had, and that Mr. Miller had promised to vote for him. In response to further questions Mr. Grieve said that Miller did not vote at all and that he had a conversation with after the election about the matter, but preferred not to give the substance of the conversation, inasmuch as it was not relevant to his case and might cause some unpleasantness. Mr. Gearing insisted, however, upon his doing so, whereupon he said that Miller told him after the election that he did not vote because Mr. Fleming, a prominent Conservative of the township, from whom he rented his property, had told him not to vote, and promised to give him all the feed he needed for his stock free of charge if he abstained from voting. Mr. Gearing was very much taken aback at this straightforward statement of Mr. Grieve.—Globe.

Mrs. BIRCHALL AGAIN.—A friend in Woodstock has received a letter from Mrs. Birchall from London, Eng. She did not express any intention of coming back to Canada to look after her husband's body or for any other purpose. Her own health, and that of her sister, Mrs. West-Jones, is very good. She feels much hurt at the report circulated that she was married again, and says she wishes the papers would leave her name alone.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW.—An editor once said that if newspapers should one day print the contents of the waste basket there would probably be a riot. There would certainly be trouble in many homes, arrests in many directions, shot guns in another, trouble all around. But the patron never sees the waste basket. He only glances at the beautiful pages, complains if one letter in fifty is upside down, growls if one name in five hundred is wrong, kicks because his communication signed "tax payer" has been condensed into respectable English, frowns because the editor did not take his advice about publicly telling his neighbor about his short comings and is generally disgusted. He knows his share of the waste basket, but it he could have one look at the contributions made to that receptacle by his neighbors and friends, he would be thankful for the existence of a man with sufficient intelligence and courage not to print all he knows and to temper that which he does print.

DIED.—V. Loerger and daughter were in New Hamburg last week attending the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Loerger. The independent, in speaking of the deceased, says:—"It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Loerger, wife of Geo. Loerger and eldest daughter of Jacob Ritz. The deceased was in her forty-seventh year. She leaves a husband and five children, two sons and three daughters, the eldest 17 years of age, to mourn her early death. Her remains were interred yesterday in the village cemetery. A large concourse of people followed her remains to their last resting place, and the Rev. Mr. Maass, pastor of the Lutheran church, preached an elaborate and impressive sermon, in which he exhorted the numerous mourners and friends of the deceased so to walk that they may become worthy of the glorious inheritance reserved for them in the life beyond. The husband and children, her parents and her brothers and sisters, have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. Peace to her ashes!

RELICS OF JOHN WESLEY.—A chair made from two beams of the City Road chapel, London, the corner-stone of which was laid by John Wesley, and the original Epworth Bible, are being used at the Ecumenical Council now sitting in Washington. Mrs. Heslop, of Innerkip, Oxford county, has a small pewter tea pot that once belonged to John Wesley, and from which he drank his tea when a student at Oxford. It seems that each student had to furnish their own bedroom and table ware. Mrs. Heslop's great aunt was a chamber maid in the college, and had a certain number of rooms to keep in order, among others John Wesley's. It was customary among the students (who were chiefly gentlemen's sons) to leave their furniture and make a present of it to the women who cleaned their rooms, so in this way Mrs. Heslop's great aunt became the possessor of the tea pot which has descended as an heirloom from one generation to another. This bit of interesting history in reference to the tea pot was forwarded to THE BEE for publication, and has never appeared in print before. Such a relic is certainly valuable.

ALTAR.—ENGLER-GILL.—On Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the Methodist parsonage, Monkton, by Rev. W. J. Brandon, Mr. Joseph Engler to Miss Mary A. Gill, both of Grey township.

TOMB.—COULTER.—In Newry, on Sunday, Oct. 18th, 1891, Mrs. Charles Coulter, aged 87 years.

J. L. MADER.

A PERILOUS WOOING.

From the Norwegian of Bjornstjerne Bjornson.

(Strand Magazine.)

From the time that Aslang was quite grown up there was no longer any peace or quiet at Husaby. In fact, all the handsome young fellows in the village did nothing but fight and quarrel night after night; and it was always worst on Saturday night. Aslang's father, old Canute Husaby, never went to bed on those nights without keeping on at least his leather breeches, and laying a good stout birch stick on the bed beside him.

side where lay the fjord; it seemed to bring peace to her soul when she could gaze far away across the water. As she sat there the fancy struck her that she was inclined to sing, so she chose a song with "long-drawn notes," and far and wide it sounded through the mountains.

IN DAYS GONE BY.

This may be a wicked world, but in many respects it is better than it used to be. People who are always sighing for "the good old days," and tells them that they would feel pretty sore if they had to live as their great-grandfathers did.

Headache, dizziness, ringing noises in the ears, hawking and spitting are sure symptoms of catarrh. Their case Nasal Balm will cure if given a fair trial. Beware of imitations.

ARE YOU A JOINER?

If So, Here is Something Worth Joining.

The number of benefit orders seems to be on the increase. By "benefit orders" we mean those associations of individuals which require each member to pay in $100 or so, cold cash in a year or two.

Now these orders are all right enough in their way, but they are too tedious in their operation for this day of push and enterprise. People nowadays can't wait a year or two for large boxes of wealth to be unloaded at their front doors.

Now, why not carry the benefit scheme to its logical limit and give the "boys" what they want?

Establish the "Peoples' Ten Days' Benefit Order," organizing it under the Massachusetts law. Require every member to pay a cent for ten days, this payment entitling him at the end of that time to $1,000 in gold, payable at the office of the Treasurer at Boston.

Now, the success of this scheme lies in its magnitude. Make it broad and comprehensive. Take in the whole world with its population of a billion and a half.

Throwing off the odd half billion for children and old fogies who do not believe in such enterprises, and there will be left a round billion of people to do business with.

Estimating the lapses in payment at 99,999,1,000 per cent., there will be left at the end of the ten days only 10,000 members in good and regular standing.

Now, average the payments for the billion members, lapses, and all, at five cents each, would give $50,000,000, which is enough to pay every one of the 10,000 remaining members his $1,000, and leaves $40,000 for the treasurer and directors to buy a typewriter and have illuminated letter-heads struck off.

It may be asked what would be the result if there should be no lapses in payment—if every one of the billion members should have the same crafty intent and go into the change his trousers some cold morning and forget to continue the requisite payment.

Supposing each member should pay his ten cents, and at the end of the ten days these billion individuals, with handcards are waiting in line at the treasurer's office for their money, it is plain what the result would be. The treasurer's office would be very much overcrowded, and somebody would be liable to get hurt in the crush.

But here a condition, not a theory confronts us. In case of such a rush the directors could relieve the back-pressure of the crowd by declaring an ex post facto assessment on each member of $101 per day for the ten days, making $1,010; of this each member to get his $1,000 promised, the extra $10 being for the treasurer to have a fine game of pool with, while the crowd is playing football with the cuspids and other bric-a-brac in his office.

This scheme is not copyrighted nor patented, but is open to all. Why keep shortening the time of these benefits so slowly? Why not start thisteen-day benefit scheme right off now, and give "the boys" just what they have been looking for?—Free Press.
