Opportunity.

Master of human destinies am I,
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate deserts and seas remote, and passing by Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late,
I knock unbidden, soon at every gate.
If sleeping, wake; if fasting, give before I turn away; it is the hour of Fate.
And they who follow me reach every state Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death, but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemn to failure, penury and woe,
Such would vain and vainly implore, Destruction and death, I bring no more.

The White Light.

Also strange rails we fast,
I strike my eyes around the curve
For what awaits us there.
When swift and free she carries me
Through yards unknown at night,
I look along the line and see
That all the lamps are white.
The blue lights mark the crippled car,
The green lights signal slow;
The red light is a danger sign.
The white light 'let her go'.
Again the open fields we roam,
And when the light is seen
I look up in the starry dome
And wonder what is there.
For 'who can speak of those who dwell
Beyond the curving sky,
No man has ever lived to tell
Just what it means to die.
Swift toward life's terminus I tread,
The sun seems short at night;
God only knows what's at the end—
I hope the lamps are white!

Cost of Living.

Some one has sent us a page from the Canadian Grocer giving a price comparison table for the quarter year. Taking the totals of the cost of 24 food articles, we find that they are $46 33 1/2 in 1914, compared with $50 92 3/4 in 1913, $48 55 in 1912, $35 25 1/2 in 1894, and $41 91 1/2 in 1889.
The table shows how the consumer has gradually had to pay more for all farm products since 25 years ago, while prices of sugar, raisins, currants, rice, cream of tartar and important fruits such as lemons and oranges remain much about the same level, or in some cases are less than they were at the beginning of this period.
Commenting on the foregoing facts, from the standpoint of the retail grocer the "Grocer" says, "As has been previously pointed out, staple articles such as butter, eggs, cheese etc., which the producer has gradually been getting more, retailers can secure only a certain advance over first cost, no matter how high in price they become. This means that percentages of profit decline as prices go up."

A pioneer grocer in a southern town, after looking over his accounts for a quarter of a century, claims that a man and woman can set up housekeeping today in better shape for the same money than was possible a quarter of a century ago. He says that it is the modern craze for prepared foods done up in attractive packages which has increased the cost of living.

"If people would buy things in bulk as they used to do, and cook their food for themselves, as they used to do, there would be no high cost of living problem."

The average can of baked beans, he declares, does not contain two cents worth of beans, and the average package of crackers contains little more than four ounces.
If his figures are right, his conclusions are sound. Of course, we cannot have others do our work for us, and we pay extra as a result. The mother who used to do the family sewing—where has she gone? Sewing has almost become a lost art in family life; dresses and skirts are made by specialists. The good old fashioned mothers of earlier days, who did the cooking, the baking, the sewing, the weaving, the mending, the whole house keeping, may have been overworked, may have had no thought of suffrage, and may have aged and died early, but they kept down the cost of living.

Charles seems to be very exacting, and a fond mamma to the dear girl who was dressing for the wedding.
"Never mind, mamma," said she sweetly. "They are his last wishes."

Old Lady (reading her evening paper)—"Japanese Turn Agnostic." Second Old Lady—"What wonderful things those Japanese aerobats can do!"

Teacher—Now, children, who can give me a sentence containing the word "Autumn?"
Helen—My papa is going to buy a autumn outfit.

The Ubiquitous Dandelion.

[From the Boston Transcript.]
The dandelion plant is both a bane and a benefit. The colonies that come from sunny Italy can almost live on its luxuriance from April to mid-summer. The man with the fine taste regards it as one of the most delicious vegetable pests with which he has to contend. The Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with various poisons for the purpose of exterminating from places where it does not belong, and the latest advance that it has made is to cut out all of each individual dandelion plant and put about a thimble full of salt on the surface of the exposed root. But the salt should be applied with caution, because if it will kill the deep tap root of a dandelion it would probably have no less fatal effect upon the surrounding grasses. But on the big lawns these plants grow by the million and an application of the remedy would be a season's job. It reminds us of the man who was selling roach powder.
After disposing of his goods at one place he was asked how to apply them. His reply was: "Tickle the roach's tail and make him laugh, then put the medicine down him."

Why You Must Have a Holiday.

The popular idea of a holiday is a month at the seaside or country, four weeks spent in the noise and clatter of a crowded beach, with a diet of tough steak and moist potatoes, calculated to ruin the digestion of a half population. And that is practically the only holiday the mother obtains from the first of January to New Year's Eve. But surely this is the time of year when the domestic woman should have a holiday.
The woman who gets an independent holiday is a cheerier, kinder and happier mother all through the summer months. She deserves it when she has done her duty from September till spring. Because the efficient care of a man and a batch of schoolchildren, and the sustaining of that cheerful spirit, whose price in a wife is not to be measured in money, is a task which must be made up somehow.

Learn to Swim.

If Helen O'Mara had not learned to swim almost as soon as she learned to talk and walk she would now be counted among the thousand mourned victims of the St. Lawrence River disaster.
When the Empress of Ireland sank strong men were quickly drowned, but the little girl easily kept herself afloat until the rescuers arrived on the scene.
The lesson is plain.
Young and old (everybody) should know how to swim.
You may never start on an ocean voyage and be wrecked, but sometime and somewhere, if you have knowledge of a few simple strokes, you will be able to save your own life or the life of a comrade.
Lack of nautical ability is largely responsible for the distressing list of drowning accidents in streams, lakes and ocean waters reported in the press each vacation season.
Learn to swim, parents and teach the children, the girls as well as the boys!

Pruning Roses.

If your rose bushes have not already been pruned, attend to them at once.
Look back to good live wood, no matter if there's a washing left but a stump.
The more severe the pruning, the bigger and better the flowers, but there won't be so many of them. This doesn't apply to climbers and Rugosas.
Always cut to an outside eye, so the bush will grow to an open centre.
Besides roses, some of the flowering shrubs may be pruned now—those which bloom after Midsummer and in the Fall, as a general rule. The others flower on last year's wood, and cannot be cut back now without sacrificing flower buds already formed.

Pruning Roses.

Baking cake requires the most careful judgment. The very best ingredients are essential. Great care must be exercised in measuring.
Pans properly prepared; oven door handled carefully during the process of baking. Use pastry flour; sift before measuring;—then sift again with baking powder; eggs must be perfectly fresh; butter sweet and sugar fine.
When baked do not place cakes in a cold place or in a draught of cold air.
The steam will condense and make the cake heavy.
Time is the one thing we all have the same amount of to start the day with.

Intrusive People.

From a spirit of idle curiosity there are many who, perhaps unconsciously, intrude without scruple where they are not wanted. To show such by a distant manner that they are intruding might be considered a breach of politeness, so too often they are endured with as much patience as possible.
As an example, in public eating rooms a party has secured a table or two as retired as possible, are entirely interested in themselves, and the sitting may be interrupted by an intruder as it can be made under such circumstances. Those who enter and pass the party to reach other tables should in order to be considered entirely correct in deportment, neither correct in any way, look too intently nor show any interest in what is evidently an entirely private affair.
Yet how often may it be noted that an opposite course obtains. Newcomers deliberately look, most likely criticise audibly, make no effort to avoid being intrusive, but the contrary. This may be called the epi-tome of bad manners, impertinence, lack of politeness and also showing in excess of curiosity, in itself the height of ill breeding.

Nova Scotia Expects Big Apple Crop.

Not in the history of the apple industry has the Annapolis Valley had such promise of a larger crop of apples than this season furnish.
The small crops of the past two years giving the orchards a rest will probably be made up for in the fall of 1914. Remembering the big crop of 1911 and 1912 with only three quarters of a million barrels, followed in 1913 with a little less than one half a million, there is also recalled to mind the fact that this year there is a multitude of young trees coming into bearing.
Under favorable weather conditions a record crop of apples should be harvested in the valley this year far exceeding the one million mark of the last bumper year. B-sides having the ideal spring weather for a bumper crop, keeping the trees in check, fruit growers are learning to take much better care of their trees this season. Fifty thousand dollars worth of spraying machines have come into the valley during the two months, thus enabling the fruit grower to more intelligently handle his orchard work.

Good Roads Mean:

An increase in the value of farm land ranging from $5.00 to $25.00 per acre;
A more intensive agriculture, owing to the fact that a much greater variety of crops can be profitably marketed; Hence, an improvement in soil fertility due to better farming methods; The advantage to the farmer of being able to sell at the most convenient time, instead of waiting for good weather conditions;
The marketing of perishable goods in fresher condition;
Bigger loads and fewer trips to town;
Less wear and tear on harness and waggon;
Greater feasibility for gasoline traction;
Low prices for the city consumer, because produce can be delivered at less cost for haulage;
More traffic for the railways, since roads act as feeders of the main lines of travel.

Nervous Children.

THE TROUBLE IS OFTEN REALLY ST.
VITUS DANCE—DO NOT NEGLECT IT.
Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still or for dropping things, when the trouble is really St.
Vitus dance. This disease may appear at any age, but is most common between the ages of six and fourteen years. It is caused by this blood which fails to carry sufficient nourishment to the nerves, and the child becomes restless and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow. In severe cases the child is unable to hold anything or feed itself. St. Vitus dance is cured by building up the blood. The most successful treatment is to remove the child from all mental excitement, stop school work and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills renew the blood supply, strengthen the nerves, and restore the child to perfect health.
Here is a proof of their power to Harrington, N. S. says: "My son was attacked by St. Vitus dance at the outset his muscles would twitch and his step was weak and jerky. We called in a doctor who treated him, but notwithstanding he continued to grow worse and at last grew so bad that he could not hold a cup in his hand, while his head constantly twitched, and his speech became rather indistinct. At this juncture I saw in a paper the cure of a boy from similar trouble through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. We at once sent for a supply, and in a few weeks after he began their use there was considerable improvement, and it was not long after this before he was completely cured; and has never had a symptom of the trouble since. I am convinced that there is no medicine like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the cure of St. Vitus dance."
"If your dealer does not keep Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr.
Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville,

Editorial Notes.

While the frosts of last week are said to have done considerable damage down the Valley little or no harm resulted in the vicinity of Wolfville. This is a much favored locality. Neither early nor late frosts molest us in the way they do farther from the salt water. The fruit-grower in the vicinity of Wolfville is ideally located for the successful carrying on of his vocation.

Some of those who are taking part in the 'campaign' for the repeal of the Scott Act in this county are making themselves appear exceedingly ridiculous by suggesting that there is a fight on between the forces of all that is good and the forces of all that is bad. As a matter of fact there is no fight on at all. What is actually proposed is that the people of Kings county throw away a weapon for Temperance warfare which they know by experience to be good, to adopt one that these 'campaign speakers' think may be better, and which many of those who have been actively engaged in the work for many years are afraid may not prove to be as good.

Most Unfair.

The unwarranted dismissal of Mr. Edward M. Beckwith, of Canning, from the position of Stipendiary Magistrate, which he has so long and honorably filled, has caused a wave of righteous indignation among the best thinking people of Kings county. That the dismissal from office was altogether unwarranted is shown by the fact that the government has refused to grant an investigation or to allow Mr. Beckwith to present any defense. Mr. Beckwith is too well known in Kings county to make necessary any comment upon his character and general worth. For over thirty years a justice of the peace he has always administered the duties of the office in a judicious and impartial manner. Occupying a high place in the estimation to which he belongs, he has ever been on the side of what has tended to the best interests of his fellow men. He occupies a high place in the estimation of his fellow citizens, which the action of the government will in no manner impair. In his retirement from office the Temperance cause in this county has especially met with a heavy loss. For many years practically all the cases brought for the enforcement of Temperance laws were brought in his court. When other men were intimidated and declined to act Mr. Beckwith has boldly done his duty and through him the present very efficient county has largely been brought about. His dismissal from office may be very properly regarded as a cowardly blow at the Temperance workers of the county and as such should be, and is, strongly resented by them, as well as by all who believe in British fair play.

Save the Children.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in the summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Premier Murray's Birthday.

In honor of his 53rd birthday, Premier Murray was on Saturday evening last presented with an address from the members of both houses of the legislature. The address conveyed the expression of esteem in which they held the honored leader of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia as accompanied by a case of pipes, a Gladstone travelling bag and a suit case from a number of friends. Premier Murray was completely taken by surprise and expressed appreciation of the kindly thought which prompted the presentation.

DON'T SWAY THAT FLY and leave the disease germs to be smothered through your house. WILSON'S FLY PADS and kill both the flies and germs. Sold by all Druggists and Grocers all over Canada.

The Gospel of Good Roads.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: With your permission I wish to supplement what has already been said, and effectively said, under the above caption. That there is diversity of opinion as to the means to be employed in the construction and maintenance of our highways, no one will for one moment deny. As to the desirability of improved roads there is absolute unanimity. Good Roads promise to be the mainspring of both pleasure and business in country, and city too. City folks are now realizing that this 'mainspring' will reduce the cost of living, and will also open up to them hitherto partially, if not practically, closed pleasure resorts, and will lead to a closer relation between the city and the countryside and seaside. The enthusiasm for better highways is now widespread among all classes of society. The farmer knows that they will decrease his cost of transportation, increase the value of his property, reduce to a minimum the hardships of farm work, and add materially to the comforts and convenience of farm life. In brief, life in the open country will be revitalized. So let us all shout for good roads, but follow up our shouting by our efforts. To unanimity of thought let there be added, united action. In other words, practice as well as preach.

Be ye doers, not shouters only. When it comes to the question of method I am not competent to write. Common-sense, however, has not wholly deserted me, and I am constrained to say that the position we have reached is not a happy one. The maximum of quality at the minimum of cost. That is to say, economical expenditure of road-money, consistent with efficiency. Our earth highways could be greatly improved. The elimination of primitive methods of road construction, and the adoption of modern methods may entail a somewhat larger expenditure of money but this will be more than offset by the lessened expense of maintenance. The crude practice of turning up the sods and vegetable matter of the ditch and depositing them in the road must be discontinued; good drainage must be recognized as one of the first principles; wide rather than deep ditches; the use of the split log drag at the 'psychological moment'; roadway of sufficient width, say 16 feet at least; cement or stone culverts; material for earth surface the best obtainable in the neighborhood; abolition of statute labor. The foregoing I submit, are fundamentals. I should have added to the last-mentioned, the substitution of the patrol system for statute labor. Under this system, as in France, the patrolman is held responsible for the condition of his road at all times. A road once built according to modern principles of road construction should not require large sums of money spent annually, but only a small amount for maintenance should be constant and continuous. In regard to Kings county, we dare not hope to have all our roads surfaced with hard material, at least not in our day and generation, for this would require more money than we can afford to spend. Failing cement or Tarris surface, we must, of necessity, resort to the best earth surface, maintaining the roads, not haphazardly, but in conformity with approved methods. I suggest that our Good Roads Associations, co-operating with the Local Government and the Municipalities, invite the practical sympathy of the press, the platform and the pulpit. But keep out of every self-respecting and public-spirited citizen. Highways constructed and maintained according to the principles of the best authorities are of incalculable benefit to a community. Permit me to 'break forth into song' on the subject—

I am a Road, a good road, fair and smooth and broad; And I link with my beautiful tethers Town and country together, Like a ribbon rolled on the earth from the reel of God. Oh, great the life of a Road! I am a Road, a long road, leading on and on; And I cry to the world to follow, Past meadow and hill and hollow, Through desolate night to the open gates of dawn. Oh, hold the life of a Road! I am a Road, a kind road, shaped by strong hands; I make strange cities neighbors, The poor grow rich with my labors, And beauty and comfort follow me through the lands. Oh, glad the life of a Road! I am a Road, a wise road, knowing all men's ways; And I know how each heart reaches For the things dear Nature teaches, And I lay the path that leads into green young May. Oh, sweet the life of a Road! I am a Road, and I speed away from the slums, Away from desolate places, Away from unloved spaces; Wherever I go, there order from chaos comes, Oh, leave the life of a Road! I am a Road, and I would make the whole world one. I would give hope to the daily, And cover the earth with beauty, Do you not see, oh men! how all this might be done? So, save the power of the Road!

The Local Legislature. Press Gallery, House of Assembly, Halifax, June 6. The statement of Hon. Geo. H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, that long tenure of office has a tendency to make governments corrupt, seems to have a special significance these days. One cannot help recalling that statement of the premier when the house is in session and the premier bines if cannot help recall it when he listens to the charges hurled, almost hourly now, across the floor of parliament. And it is a study from the gallery view point. When Mr. Tanner or Mr. Douglas, or Mr. Corning or some other member of the opposition puts questions to the commissioner of works and mines. The premier keenly eyes the question. Then he turns sideways to see the commissioner and hear more distinctly his answer. For the premier practised proboscis scents trouble while the commissioner does not. An answer is given. The commissioner apparently thinks it is a satisfactory and conclusive one. Then the opposition member asks another. The premier is all attention. He knows what is coming. The commissioner balks and the deed is done. He is trapped. If a scandal charge does not follow, something mighty like it does and the house is off.

This has been a session of scandals. First we had the tram legislation, which, by the way, the city of Halifax is preparing to ask the Dominion government to disallow. Then came the Daniels scandal, which at this writing is still before the house. Mr. Tanner's resolution asking the premier to call on Mr. Daniels for his resignation, and the naming of the commission by the premier are yet to come up.

One would think that two scandals of the magnitude of those mentioned would be enough for one session, but it appears there are, others, and the opposition is unseating them as the days go by.

Mr. Douglas charged that tenders for certain bridges had been changed after they had been received and claimed that the whole matter looked very 'fishy' to him. The commissioner of works and mines answered this by losing his temper. The end of this matter is yet to come.

Another serious charge against the government was that it was buying cement outside the province when it could get an article just as good, if not better, in this province for far less money. It is sad enough to pass by Americans, but when the government pays one dollar a ton for a foreign and inferior article there appears to be something wrong somewhere.

Things of this nature are cropping up every day and yet people wonder why the house does not adjourn. The government is very anxious for an adjournment. It would put the shutters up in an instant if the opposition would only say the word. But the opposition realizes its sacred duty to the people. Long tenure in office has tended to make the government corrupt and the opposition is doing its level best to ferret out the corruption and show up the Murray Government in its true light.

How to Secure Best Results from Fertilizers

Basic Slag, in itself is not a complete fertilizer, as it only supplies Phosphoric Acid and Lime. In order to derive the full benefit from the Slag, Potash (and in some cases Nitrogen) must be used with it, since the same underlying principle demands for plants as well as for animals a "balanced ration."

In Great Britain the beneficial effects from a combination of Basic Slag and Potash are so well known that the term "Slag and Potash" is one with which every farmer is familiar. Old Country experience with these materials has been amply confirmed by numerous experiments conducted in the Maritime Provinces.

We can supply you with all high grade fertilizer materials, Potash, Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate, Basic Slag, etc., at lowest prices. You can mix these yourself at home and save 25 to 40 per cent. in fertilizer cost. Call and see us.

Mounted on an Indian you have the assurance of ample power, perfect brake control, absolute ease over the roughest roads and trustworthiness of every mechanical part. The Indian twin motor has a reserve power that is equal to any demand that can be made upon it. A twist of the wrist gives it any speed from 4 to 60 miles per hour. The smooth-acting cradle spring frame, the greatest comfort feature ever devised, absorbs all road shocks and vibrations. The new Indian models for 1914 retain the many mechanical and comfort features which have given the Indian the supremacy it enjoys today. In addition they embody many new points of excellence. KATHLYN

Mr. A. T. McConnell is making arrangements for the building of his fox yards and pens on his place on the ridge at Wolfville. He has been successful in raising a number of foxes in a season when many of the large ranches have met with failure and loss. The pups of the Boat Island Fox Co. Ltd., are fine ones, we are told by a gentleman who has just come from Port Hillford, and the company is on a splendid footing. The men interested are, of course, much pleased with their prospects, and the stock of the company is selling in many parts of Canada and also in the States. The dividends of last year seem to be promised, and by next year, with ordinary luck, the Boat Island Company will be one of the going and successful concerns whose shareholders will be getting good profits from their investments.

Three of the boys were very close in the test, Donald Grant coming first, Harold Weatherbe second, and Harold Shaw third.

On Friday evening the regular meeting will be held. A game of 'observation' will be played.

The finals of the Baseball Tournament must be played and any boy who does not turn up at this meeting will lose his chance to play.

Dominion Entomologist at Work in Valley.

Dominion Entomologist G. Gordon Hewitt, D. Sc., is spending the week in the valley. The work of his department in this district is being carried on by Field Officer George Sanders. The provincial entomologist, Prof. W. B. Brittain, is co-operating with Mr. Sanders. Many 'scouts' are now at work. Prof. Brittain's squad of nine San Jose scale inspectors are now working between Truro and Windsor and will then work westward to Digby before going into Yarmouth and Lunenburg counties. 'Up to date,' said Prof. Brittain, 'we have not found a live San Jose scale. It is also pleasing to note that the aphid has not been so scarce for years. We had anticipated a scourge of this pest this season, but its parasites have been busy and the result is good.

Mr. Sanders is devoting special attention to Bud Moth, one of the greatest pests of the fruit grower. At the famous Hillcrest orchards near Kentville, on June 26, he is to give a demonstration of Bud Moth control and hundreds of orchardists are expected. Special trains will be run to accommodate the fruit growers.

Board of Trade Notes.

At the meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade on Monday evening there was a full attendance. The good roads movement received a large amount of attention. The outcome of the discussion was the decision that two representative men from each road district in the vicinity of Wolfville be invited to meet in Wolfville with representatives of the Town Council and Board of Trade. The meeting will take the form of an informal conference and the date of which has not yet been decided upon. Com. Hales was named as chairman of the committee appointed to make arrangements.

The question as to the hours during which the lobby of the post office should be open to the public was discussed at some length and a committee was appointed to make inquiries regarding same. A move was also made to secure such necessary changes as will provide for a suitable drop to accommodate parcels, etc. At present the provision for this is altogether inadequate.

Opera House.

On October 13th the music lovers of Wolfville will have the opportunity of hearing the world famous pianist, Friedhelm, assisted by J. L. McKenna, violinist. Both artists are too well known to require any further comment. A special grand piano carried by the company will be used.

"Adventures of Kathlyn."

The third story of this interesting serial will be the offering to night. As the story progresses the interest becomes more intense and the dramatic incidents and situations that the heroine, 'Kathlyn Williams,' is called upon to face are remarkable. Her control over and sympathy with wild animals is well shown in this story. To see the runaway elephant and the subsequent rescue of 'Kathlyn' by the same animal from the Burning Gate is a revelation of the skill and resource of the production of this most sensational serial.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder. He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."

Good Fruit.

The most successful fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley have for years followed the practice of applying Murine of Potash mixed with Basic Slag and Bone Meal or other Phosphatic fertilizer, to their orchards, depending on a crop of clover to supply the necessary Nitrogen and Humus.

There is no doubt that the adoption of this ideal system is directly responsible to the remarkable color and quality of Nova Scotia apples, which features have gained for them so many awards and established their enviable reputation in the markets of Britain.

We can supply you with all high grade fertilizer materials, Potash, Nitrate of Soda, Acid Phosphate, Basic Slag, etc., at lowest prices. You can mix these yourself at home and save 25 to 40 per cent. in fertilizer cost.

PORT BURWELL, Ont., May 9th, 1915. "A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by Constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. For the last couple of years, I have taken "Fruit-a-lives" and have been so pleased with the results that I have recommended them on many occasions to friends and acquaintances. I am sure that "Fruit-a-lives" have helped me greatly. By following the diet rules and taking "Fruit-a-lives" according to directions, any person with dyspepsia will get benefit."

Why Children Run Away.

There are few healthy, active children who do not at some time or other display a tendency to "run away."

Many of us no doubt remember ourselves how we used to make efforts at getting right away, miles from home, "into the view" anywhere—but away from everyone, with no one to tell us to stop.

Perhaps we could give no explanation, but when found or brought home could not quite realize that the punishment which followed was altogether just, for something seemed to have called us, and we were not conscious that we were doing actual wrong. There did not seem to be any strong reason why we should not obey the call.

Instead of punishing without thinking, why not go into the cause of things?

One mother who had been considerably worried by this repeated occurrence with her little son, consulted a doctor thinking that it must be some fault of health.

The man was wise not only in his profession, but in the lives and every day affairs of people, and he instantly put his finger on the trouble.

"There is nothing wrong with the boy," he assured the mother. "I am certain that he was no mental 'hick,' but he lacks stimulation of the right kind. He doesn't get enough outdoor exercise and he subconsciously tries to supply the lack in the only way that he knows, that of running away."

"Days of an active disposition," continued the doctor, "must have some exercise outdoors, which not only exercises their muscles, but which keeps them interested and thus exercises or stimulates the centres of thought. For that reason I am heartily in favor of games where the element of competition enters in, such as baseball, rather than mere exercise such as dumbbells. For the younger children, however, a swing is the best thing you can get."

The mother, tried the doctor's advice and found it absolutely right. When the younger children began to disappear, she put up three stout rope-swings and had so more trouble with the little runaways. When the weather became cooler she gave up a room in their home where they could make absolutely as much noise as they chose, for she began to understand that many of the so-called "sins" of childhood are only occasioned by a sometimes too much limited field for their energies.

MARY MOWE.
"My pe caught a wonderful fish, said little Willie. 'After it was dead it kept on growing.'
"It didn't do such a thing."
"Oh, yes, it did, for every time pe told about it, it was bigger than it was before."

Some Compensations for the Blind.

Did you ever see an ill tempered blind man?

There's a reason for the blind being good natured in spite of their having sustained perhaps the most terrible affliction to which mortals are liable.

They see human nature at its best. Everybody shows up to the rightness with just a little more tenderness than he exhibits ordinarily to persons with all their senses working.

And that, reacting in turn, makes the blind good natured.

Think of that old blind man down in Kentucky who hasn't missed a ball game in years.

If you saw him on the street you'd be inclined to pity him. Instead, he could very appropriately pity you. For he misses seeing some rankly rotten plays; he isn't excited to jump up and rubber every time there is a fight in the benches; and in the rush to the cars when the agony is over, folks don't butt into him as if he were a practice dummy.

A marvelous thing is nature. And great on its compensations.

Instead of Handbag.

The smartest and newest handbag is not a handbag at all. It might better be called a handbox or an hand trunk. For it is a tiny square box of leather. Indeed, it is like a miniature jewel box.

On the top of the box, which opens with two flap like covers that meet under the handle, is the owner's monogram in gold or silver.

The box is very tiny, but its square shape makes it possible to stow in its depths a surprising number of articles. To begin with, the box is fitted up with a coin case for 25 cent pieces and a pocket for bills, a receptacle for a file and manicure scissors and several other daily fittings that make its exploration interesting. Besides these stationary fittings there is room for various other belongings.

'Movies' Curing Drunkenness.

In Manchester, Eng., a city magistrate, is reported as saying that the "movies" are nightly keeping thousands of men out of drinking places, with the result that the drinking habits of the city are showing a marked improvement. The "movies" are shown open until the time set for the closing of bars, so that there is little if any opportunity for men to get drunk after leaving the former, and small as the admission fee to the show is, few seem willing to forfeit even a fraction of it by leaving before the last film is reeled off. Therefore the great majority of those who go to the "movies" are thus practically kept from going to drinking places.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The increasing use of intoxicants in the American army has led the Minister of War to order a comprehensive searching investigation of the effects of alcohol on the fighting strength of the dual monarchy. The commanding officers are ordered to report what influence the regular and abundant drinking of stimulants by the people generally exerts on the physical condition and military capacity of young recruits, and also the number of cases of alcohol poisoning and of prosecutions for drunkenness in the last year.

"I'm afraid, George," said the fiancee, "that you are going from bad to worse."

"Quite a coincidence," muttered George, "that what Clara said when I threw her over for you."

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."
—Mrs. LAWRENCE MANTON, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and legs until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."
—Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The excess of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.
If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultants) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Oriental Favors.

A few of the really useful favors which may be provided for a small party are well worth considering.

For the table there are the daintiest possible coffee cases of past-board covered with pale tanned Japan or crepe and decorated with a hand-painted flower design that costs very little, whether made at home or made to order.

Then there are the work bags in Bulgarian colors that can be made of the blue and red wide ribbons which have recently gone out of fashion for sashes and girdles, but which are the prettiest materials imaginable for 'fancy' things.

Any girl will gladly welcome a favor in the shape of a narrow stemmed, tall Chinese vase in blue and white or blue, red, green and black, for it makes an ideal receptacle for hatpins when not needed for the single fresh flower which should be on every daintily equipped dressing table.

It is also a good idea to give single teacups and saucers in oriental ware, because nearly every girl is now collecting a harem set.

At the Yarmouth Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp held at Tucker Falls in August, I found MINNIE ALBERT'S LINCTANT most beneficial. It gave an immediate relief for colic and toothache.

A Useful Dunce.

During the war between the States, General Sedgwick had on his staff a very dull lieutenant who seemed never to be able to do anything without making mistakes. One day a friend asked the General:
"Why do you keep Jones on your staff? He seems a perfect dunce."
"Do you know," replied General Sedgwick, "Jones is one of the most useful members of my staff. Before I issue an order I always have Jones read it. If he can tell what it means I am sure there can be no chance that anyone will misunderstand it."

"Sandy," said Mrs. Simpson to her old olive-branched the other day when he returned from school, "I forbid you to play or run about with that Bobby Wilson any more. Mind that, and if I ever hear of you playing with him again I'll give you a good talking."
"Why have I no to play with Bobby," queried the youngster with some surprise.
"Because he's a bad little," replied his mother.
"Well, ma," returned Sandy, after a moment's thought, "I don't think I'm that a-w-u'ld myself, that ye need to be so ear't."
