On the 6th inst., Mrs. Robert W. Longley, one of our oldest and most respected lady residents, observed the 83rd anniversary of her birth by entertaining a small company of her most immediate friends at tea, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Bent, Mr. James Clark and daughter, Hattie, of Karlsruhe, and Mr. D. W. Covert of Malden, Mass. It was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion to all her guests. Mrs. Longley is the relief of the late Robert W. Longley, who died in 1877. She is a lady of most remarkable vitality and physical health. During last summer she spun over ninety skeins of yarn, spinning six skeins per day. She had the material woven and made three pairs of fine blankets, which she gave to her son at Anns. She also made three very nice bed-spreads. This is indeed a record worthy of all commendation. She is indeed an inmate memorial of the grand old mothers of past generations.

Report of Chief Forest Ranger for Annapolis Co.

To the Hon. W. T. Piper, Attorney General and Commissioner of Crown Lands:

Sir:—I have the honor to submit to you my report as Chief Forest Ranger for Annapolis County for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1907.

The first part of the past season was ordinarily dry. The last part was more than usually wet.

Five fires occurred, only one of which did any damage, and that very little. One of these apparently was caused by a man smoking; one seemed to have been set to burn some brush in order to protect timber, one was started in sawmill from the mill, and two were caused by burning brush to clear up land. The two first mentioned burned over about five acres. Five in the sawmill did not get away, but had to be watched. Of the two that got away from burning brush, one burned over about an acre, and the other about twenty acres at Young's Mountain Road. The man for that district was on hand promptly, and getting his help on the ground in the night started the fire in the morning. The cost was $16.50, which the responsible parties paid.

There seems to be a growing desire on the part of nearly everybody to try and prevent forest fires, but I find that one man in each district who is getting paid for keeping watch is worth a score of men who are not getting paid.

Your obedient servant,
J. B. WHITMAN,
Chief Forest Ranger Annapolis Co.

Aunt Phoebe Wade 101 on Tuesday

THE LADY CALLS HERSELF LYNN'S ORIGINAL OLD MAID AND TAKES DAILY WALKS ABOUT HOME.

(From Lynn, Mass., News, March 9.)

"I am Lynn's original old maid," said "Aunt" Phoebe Wade with a chuckle to a News man who had called upon her to inquire how she intended to pass her birthday so-morrow, she being then 101 years old.

Aunt Phoebe, as usually called her in a most entertaining old lady to meet, she being witty and full of stories of olden times. When the News man asked her if in the olden days she did not have lots of beaux, she wittily replied that she had lots of suitors, but she never could hit anything as she had so ardent.

PROMISED TO CARE FOR FATHER.

She was born in Wadesville, Nova Scotia, on March 10th, 1807, being the daughter of George and Betsey Wade. The death of her mother, who had promised to care for her father as long as he lived, and though many an ardent suitor sought her hand in marriage, the promise to the departed and the love for the living, was stronger than their pleading and she remained single until his death and then, as she humorously says, she had got along without a man so long that she decided to keep going in single harness.

INTERESTING LIFE.

Miss Wade's life covers a most interesting period in the history of this country. She has lived under every president except Washington, and John Adams, she has seen the invention of the telegraph, the steam boat, the cotton gin, the telephone, the phonograph, electricity and its many accompanying inventions, and the many hundreds of smaller ones.

She has seen the tallow dip give way to the oil lamp and finally to the electric light, she has seen the courier superseded by the telephone, she remembers vividly the old stage coaches and delights to tell of the many rides she has taken in them and how much different they were to our rapidly moving electric cars.

Up to three years ago, she was in perfect health but since that time, while her other faculties are unimpaired, her weight has gradually fallen, her spirit at the present time, she is blind. In spite of that fact, however, she takes daily walks about her home and is the happiest person to meet anywhere.

She is a constant attendant at the Broadway Methodist church and can repeat passages of Scripture as well as any of its parishioners. For many years in her younger days she was a nurse and many a sufferer could attest to the loving care with which she watched over them.

GREAT STORY TELLER.

For many years she has made her home with her niece, Mrs. Kenneth Wentzell, and here at 77 James street the children and the older ones as well, like to gather and listen to her tales of long ago that seem to her listeners to be fairy tales indeed. And as she tells them of happenings so many years that have gone never to return, her eyes grow moist at the recollections of some dear friend in the misty past, but the tears are quickly dried and her voice chuckles as she tells of some of her lovers who came to court and were sent away broken hearted.

WILL HOLD.

On account of her age and the fear that so much company would confuse her, the day will be celebrated in a quiet manner and though she will be glad to meet her many friends it must be only for a moment.

And now, though eternal darkness envelopes her, and the slightest eyes will never gaze upon again upon the beauties of nature or the faces of her loved ones, yet she feels their soft caresses and hears their whispered words of love, as she resignedly whispers, "God's will be done."

Dr. Reid, Provincial Health Officer, and Mrs. Reid have arrived back from their trip to Mexico. The doctor enjoyed the trip, notwithstanding the fact that he lost over 40 pounds since leaving Halifax.

Free School Books

The agitation over the price of school books in New Brunswick recent years seems to be bearing fruit. The St. John School Board met last Tuesday and free school books, not only for St. John City but also for the whole of New Brunswick, was the gist of a resolution introduced by Trustee T. H. Bullock. Trustee Bullock's resolution was a lengthy one, advancing various arguments in favor of free text books and besides moving the resolution he supported it with citations from the act in force in Toronto and with statements of the cost per pupil in that city. The Board of Trustees passed the resolution unanimously. A copy of it is forwarded to the Board of Education.

Speaking on the resolution, Mr. Bullock said: "It was proper that St. John as the chief centre of the province should take the lead in the matter. Both political parties had acknowledged that much money was lost to the people on account of the cost of school books. He did not bring up the matter to embarrass the incoming government, but the subject had been on his mind.

New Brunswick would not be the first to introduce free school books. British Columbia was about to do this and Ontario had done it in 1891. In Toronto over 30,000 pupils and the annual cost of school books was about $3,160. The cost of supplies brought the total cost up to $8,000. The average cost per annum was 107 cents for text books, and for supplies 16 cents. At these rates it would cost about 88,500 for the whole province of New Brunswick.

Such a system would not increase taxation, but would be economical. The system had been in force in Milltown and St. Stephen. It had been working for years all over the United States. The arguments of Mr. Bullock are sound and reasonable.

School books supplied by the Government would be entirely in accord with the principle of free education, the cost of which would be upon all the people. A system of free school books would facilitate the replacing of worn out text books and the changing of the editions of the same, which is a great expense, it becoming such a burden in our own Province at the present time.

MAKING TROUBLE

(From the Boston Transcript.)

Fears are entertained that the pending arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce have been engaged in formulating, may be defeated, because of the active opposition of the so-called Irish patriotic societies in this country. The State Department is being overrun with remonstrances from these sources, though their protests are shot in the dark because the terms of the treaty are not as yet public property. In opposing the light thus prematurely the objectors disclose an animus that is opposed to any agreement for a better understanding between the two countries, and this can hardly be called the attitude of "patriotic" organizations from an American point of view.

A Wonderful Surgical Feat

Johnson, the tailor, is today one of the happiest men in town, thanks to the cleverness and wonderful surgical skill of Dr. J. G. McDougall of Amherst.

On the evening of December 5, 1906, his little son, Fred, a boy of four years of age, while playing at the stove, his clothing caught fire, and he was so badly burned that people who saw him wondered how he lived at all. His face was badly burned, leaving terrible scars, disfigurements and being drawn out of the natural shape.

Mr. Johnson felt badly over the fact that while his boy lived, he would be disgraced and scarred for life, and he spared no expense. He wrote to a specialist in the States, who advised him to go to Dr. McDougall, of Amherst, and get his opinion. Dr. McDougall came and saw the child and a few months ago told him what could be done. Mr. Johnson took his boy to Amherst, and on Jan. 22, entered him in the hospital there under Dr. McDougall's care. On January 24, the Doctor performed the first operation, preparing for the grafting. A day or two after he removed a lump of calloused flesh and the week following the wound was ready for the skin grafting. Here is where the wonderful skill came in. Dr. McDougall removed two pieces of skin from his legs, each over an inch square, and grafted them in the boy's face.

The skin was placed on the prepared wounded and scarred face, with delicate instruments, and packed with gauze, and after careful watching and the closest attention, the new skin grew in the burned face, and yesterday Mr. Johnson took his boy home, nearly as good as ever, one slight place near the lower lip remaining, which the doctor will fix up in a few weeks.

This is a genuine miracle in modern surgery, and the wonderful surgical feat performed by Dr. McDougall is another feather in the cap of one of the most talented and clever young doctors in the Dominion. Amherst ought to be and is proud of Dr. McDougall, and we in Pictou County share the same feeling, for he is a Pictou County boy, born at Blue Mountain, and a nephew of ex-Mayor McDougall of this town—The Enterprise, New Glasgow.

The Tragedy of the Cleveland School Fire

The teachers of the school tell a melancholy tale of children yielding to a blind impulse to escape, forgetting the training of the fire drill and the voices of their teachers.

"It was nothing unusual for the fire going to sound," said Miss Anna Moran, the principal of the school. "The children knew what it meant, and so they were not alarmed when the signal was given Wednesday morning. As for myself I suspected that something unusual had happened. The signal was given without any knowledge, and it had never been given before except by me."

"I had the children form in line in my room on the second floor. They were not excited. It was fun for them. They had often filed down stairs and out into the open air—it only took two minutes. I was more nervous than they were."

"When we reached the hall there was smoke, and the line wavered. But the little figures kept on. We reached the first floor and the entrance was in flames. They began to huddle together and frightened. So far they had gone confidently—they trusted 'teacher' but now their little military training was gone, and they forgot discipline and order."

"The flames were curling about the door, and licking the walls. There was no escape there. Safety lay in the other direction. I shouted to them to follow me, and led the way back upstairs, towards the fire escape. Only a few of them followed. They could feel danger above, and safety below, and they scrambled wildly toward the back door."

"The doors were not locked—I am sure of that. And they did not swing inward. The children ahead must have stumbled, and then the others, huddling down the stairs, pressed upon them and crushed them down, and others upon them. I have seen sheep do the same."

WINDSOR AND KENTVILLE PRACTISE FIRE DRILL.

A call was born at the Government Farm, Bible Hill, N. S., Tuesday last that tipped the scales at 136 pounds. Prof. Cummings said that it beat the record as far as he knew. He stated that the heaviest calf at birth he had previously heard of weighed 128 pounds. The calf is a heifer, the mother being the famous Holstein cow that last year produced 15,900 pounds of milk, an average of 50 pounds a day. The average cow produces less than 3,000 pounds a year. This cow is easily the heaviest quitter in the maritime provinces.

The Red-Line Solid for the All-Red-Line Maritime Port

A notable meeting was that of last night at the Academy of Music, says Friday's Halifax Herald, in the interest of a maritime province all-lastic steamship service between Great Britain and Canada.

It was not merely a local demonstration. It was a meeting in the interests of the sea provinces of the Dominion, and a resolution was presented which appealed with equal force to the people of any part in the maritime provinces.

Local differences between localities were lost sight of in the great project of the common good, and in interests from Cape Breton to Yarmouth, across in Prince Edward Island and over in New Brunswick were as one in the stand that was taken for a maritime port for an all-year-round Atlantic steamship service.

There were no political differences either, for on the same platform and appealing for an identical purpose were Premier Murray and C. E. Tanner. There were no liberals or conservatives, no city men or provincial men there—all were maritime men working for maritime interests.

It was a large meeting. No exuberance of enthusiasm was manifested, but there was quiet determination of the audience as on the stage. It was a business meeting and was conducted on business principles.

Eastern Slope of Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve Forever

MONTREAL, March 12.—The important announcement was made by Hon. Sydney Fisher at the Dominion Forestry convention here today that the Dominion government had decided to set aside the whole eastern slope of the whole Rocky Mountains forever as a forest reserve, extending clear from the boundary to the extreme northern limits of the country.

This vast region, he stated, would be kept free from settlers, and held for forest growth, which would be out of time under such strict regulations as would preserve it for all time as a forest resource for the west.

The announcement was received with hearty cheers by the delegates. The convention, which is held here for the first time in many years, had a most auspicious opening, the marked features being the introduction of the bilingual system, in an effort to interest the people of Quebec in forest conservation and the lively interest in the matter displayed by the Catholic clergy of the province.

When Lieut. Governor Sir Louis Jette formally opened the convention he was accompanied by Hon. Sydney Fisher, Archbishop Bruchési, Bishop Racicot, Mr. Lafane and Canon Dault of Laval, all of whom took a very active part in the convention.

HIGH LUMBER PRICES.

From the present outlook we are going to have very high prices for lumber next summer, and builders and contractors should govern themselves accordingly. The rush in the building trade, which has been going on for some years, induced more activity in lumber cutting than the situation warranted, and two years ago a place was reached where the enormous output could not be absorbed in our local or foreign trade. The inevitable swing-back came, and last year the demand was greater than the supply, and prices went away up. The coming summer will probably see higher prices, for, while the output was large this winter, the weather has put such an embargo on the trade that lumber must, of necessity, be scarce and high next summer.—Trade Review.

SOME KNOWLEDGE PROFUND.

Nobody knows how noble it is to know, and nobody knows that you do not know, and you know that nobody knows that you do not know, it is very pleasant to know that they don't know that you don't know that they don't know that you don't know. No man knows how much he really knows until he knows how much other people know that he doesn't know. To "know thyself" is really all there is worth knowing, and since no man really knows himself, and there is no other knowledge worth knowing, and we do not know the only thing worth knowing, we really know nothing.

But to know that we know nothing is knowledge greater than the knowledge that some people think they have when they really know nothing, and think they know something. Therefore, it is greater to know nothing, and I know it, than to think we know something when we know nothing.

So, if you know nothing and think you do, and I know nothing and don't think I do, I know more than you. It is, therefore, well that we know that we don't know.

Practise Fire Drill

Dr. J. J. Hunt, chairman of the Halifax School Board has issued the following circular letter to the principals of the public schools. It is self-explanatory.

Dear Sir,—Owing to the recent terrible catastrophe resulting in the death by fire of nearly 200 school children, I feel, as chairman of the School Board, that it would be well to call the attention of our teachers to the importance of taking every precaution in order to prevent loss of life in the event of any of our school buildings taking fire.

WHAT TEACHERS ARE EXPECTED TO DO.

The school commissioners are doing everything that can in the matter of providing safety disaster, but they need your assistance and vigilance in seeing that the egress from every room is always free and open—that the doors of the buildings are kept unlocked during school hours, and that they open without difficulty; also that there is no carelessness on the part of the school janitors. Any suggestions you have to make in the matter will be thankfully received and promptly carried out when practicable.

In addition to what the commissioners can do (and they can do a good deal), they must still necessarily depend on the teachers for strict and careful watchfulness from day to day. I would ask the principals to confer with their assistants from time to time and report to the chairman of the board or to our supervisor at once if they see any possibilities of danger.

SYSTEMATIC FIRE DRILL IMPORTANT.

The matter of systematic fire drill is most important, and it is hoped that it will not be neglected.

Members of the board will from time to time visit the different schools to inspect the drill, and, when safe to do so, to test the conduct of the pupils in case of a sudden alarm of fire. Every member of the board, and I believe every teacher realizes, more than ever, his or her responsibility in this matter.

To have the life of but one of these helpless little ones entrusted to our care, lost through any want of care and neglect on our part would bring not only a crime, but would bring remorse that would continue with us to the end of life. I feel quite sure that in view of the importance of the matter, this letter will receive your earnest attention. Caution is the mother of safety. Thought beforehand is better than regret afterwards.

FOR DISEASES OF THE SKIN.

Nearly all diseases of the skin, such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barber's itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. THE ART OF SELF DEFENCE.

"Have you ever studied the art of self-defence?" said a young fellow to a man of magnificent physique and noble bearing.

The older man looked at his questioner with a quiet smile, and then answered thoughtfully: "Yes, I have studied and practised it."

"Ah!" said the other eagerly. "Whose system did you adopt?" "Solomon's," was the reply.

Somewhat abashed, the youth stammered out: "What is the special point of his system of training?" "Briefly this," replied the other: "A soft answer turneth away wrath."

For the moment the young man felt an inclination to laugh, and looked at his friend anxiously to see whether he was serious. But a glance at the accomplished athlete was enough; and soon a very different feeling came over the youth as his muscular companion added, with quiet emphasis: "Try it."—S. S. Times.

SQUELCHED.

An uptown man, who is very particular in domestic matters, and who insists that everything round the house and in the department of his family must be just so, discovered, not long since, that his wife had bought a few pulls of false hair. The displeased him.

So one day he hid in the hall outside her room, and just as the lady was adjusting the false pulls, he darted in upon her.

"Mary," he said reproachfully, "why do you put the hair of another woman upon your head?" "John," retorted Mary, with a glance at her husband's shoes, "why do you put the skin of another calf upon your feet."

Military Drill for Schools a Fad

TORONTO, March 12.—At a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Peace and Arbitration society here, a protest was lodged against the system of military drill authorized for the schools of Nova Scotia by the council of public instruction of that province in co-operation with the Dominion militia department.

Three Nova Scotia members of the society, S. A. Chesley, of Lunenburg; Mr. Justice Russell and Rev. Selby Jefferson, of Halifax, are authorized to appear before the council of public instruction to express surprise that the military department of the Dominion should be considered necessary to the educational work of the province and to protest against the system of military drill being accepted as providing satisfactory physical training for the pupils.

The protest is lodged on the ground that military drill fails as a means of physical training and also introduces a war spirit, which nations are leaving behind as they progress towards organization and national arbitration.

Remember that when the Stomach nerves fall or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion and weak nerves will strengthen these same inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and I believe every teacher realizes, more than ever, his or her responsibility in this matter.

Two Flours in One

Beaver Flour is the best "pastry flour," just as it is the best bread flour. Because it is a blend of the two flours that are best for bread and best for pastry.

Beaver Flour contains Manitoba wheat, which is rich in gluten, and makes bread that is both tasty and nutritious. Beaver Flour also contains Ontario wheat, which is famous for the light, delicious Cake, Pies and Pastry it makes.

Beaver Flour is always blended in just the exact proportions, so that it is always the same and always gives the same results when you use it.

ON THE LABRADOR

INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF A SUMMER IN A LITTLE KNOWN LAND—SOME OF THE DOCTOR'S CASES—THE FISHERMEN AND SUNDAY

Dr. Alfreda Wainwright, of Pittsfield, Mass., who spent last summer on the Labrador as a volunteer worker, soon found that the season held full promise of employment. One morning early a day or two after my arrival, she writes, a knock came at my door just as light was breaking at 2.30. A telegram was handed me it was a startling event, for I hadn't realized that there was a telegraph line from Quebec, as far as the straits (completed later in the summer by wireless down as far as Indian Harbor). It read: "Crib-boy ill with meningitis, come tonight if possible." Signed, Nurse MacMahon. How was I to get down the Straits? I went right off in the Dart, the steam launch, for not yet being in commission for fish she could be used. The next day a man brought word that I was needed at Goosey Island; the origin was the usual signal for the doctor, but the fog had almost closed in a day or so that day. The Dart was again commissioned. Skipper Sam guided our little launch past icebergs, schooner, and shoals into port where a group of men on the landing stood wondering looking in the little house of Skipper Joe I held a clinic and found on my list, a broken rib, scurvy, indigestion, grippe, etc. The mumps became epidemic, scarlet fever, and whooping cough had swept down the coast in the winter and left their traces behind them and when a man came with "a hiving" at the heart beriberi was to be suspected.

I usually went here and there in a trap-skill manned with six or seven men; dropped on some island several miles off and going down to some other appointed place where the men after hauling their traps would pick me up, awaiting many a night on the rocks until the long twilight had disappeared, returning under a sky as flame with stars and once with the northern lights flashing, but more often in a fog so dense and black that one wondered how the men, with their constant "Halloo!" to keep off colliders could themselves avoid locking up against an iceberg or shoal, but they never did.

At Blanc Sablon there were a few spare blankets and there I put my patients whom I found needed more care than could be given them on the islands or schooners. One patient, the old man, as we called him, I took from a schooner which he and his boy Tommie had come up from Newfoundland. Each man was fishing for himself, with the father disabled the sustenance of the family derived upon light-headed little Tommie. The day came when the old man's gangrenous finger needed amputation. The old man was terrified at the thought of ether, but was willing to do anything that seemed best. In the midst of our work we heard sobbing and there was Tommie sitting on a rock crying his heart out. The next day when he came ashore and saw his father apparently as well as ever, he was all sunshine but the shadow lay heavy again when the time came for the schooner to go north, for Tommie, the latest winner, must go with it, leaving his father with us.

The people were a really religious people. The law of Newfoundland forbids fishing on Sunday. By our recent treaty the Gloucester fishermen can fish within the three mile limit, but not even patriotism could lessen my indignation when one Sunday a Gloucester schooner came in a few miles below us and cast their nets. The coast people were aroused, and it was not until one man, who was dissuaded from firing upon them, said, "Christ died for me, why should I do anything to hurt a fellow creature?" I felt for him in protecting "His day."

"Parsons," as all clergymen are called, dropped in upon us occasionally. When no person was at hand on Sunday some one would read the service.

NEAREST OVEN OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HIS LIFE

Mr. Dingwall was Superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday School in Williams town for five years and License Commissioner for Gloucester and Tax Collector for Charlottetown—for fourteen years continuously. Read how strongly Mr. Dingwall comes out in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

Williamstown, Ont., April 5th, 1907.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I was a life long sufferer from Chronic Constipation and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was "Fruit-a-tives." This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring, I had a severe attack of bladder trouble with kidney trouble, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints for me, when the physician attending me had practically given me up. I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" for Chronic Constipation and Bladder and Kidney trouble. This medicine is mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action.

"Fruit-a-tives" — or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at 50c a box — for $2.00 — or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

and portions from Phillips Brooks' sermons. The fishermen and fishermen from the schooners would assemble in the loft of the store house where seats were improvised from planks and logs, and a little harmonium drawn up. Our organist was the proprietor of the sole remaining "Isle of Jersey" Room and music hall. What music he drew out of that little harmonium, and how well he played, his fine tones were appreciated more than by the people of the coast. With him as leader those assembled would sing hymns and after service he would sit until the long twilight set in and then sing while the others listened in absolute silence.

July arrived and the fish hadn't begun to come. Great anxiety was felt. "La Miere" was predicted for the coast. The fishermen had the most discouraged and fearing to lose their berth down the Labrador, a large number sailed away. Everywhere the tension could be appreciated more than by the people of the coast. With him as leader those assembled would sing hymns and after service he would sit until the long twilight set in and then sing while the others listened in absolute silence.

UNEQUALLED AS A CURE FOR COUGHS.

Besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequalled as a cure for coughs. Harry Will son of Waynesboro, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by W. W. WARREN, BRIDGETOWN, N. S. W. WADE AND BEAR RIVER DRUG STORE, BEAR RIVER.

He is a very small boy, but he has a very much smaller sister, a new baby, who arrived only a few weeks ago. The small boy was delighted. No one had been anything so interesting.

Could the baby see, could she hear, could she eat, did she have teeth, and why didn't she talk and walk? Those were a few of the questions asked. Answers not being altogether satisfactory, he began a personal investigation. He opened the baby's eyes when she was asleep to see where her eyes had gone to; he opened her mouth in search of teeth, and it was here that the family came to the rescue and the small boy was told that he could never visit his baby sister without clasping his hands closely behind him.

"He loves the baby so that he stands by the half hour just looking at her," said the proud mother of both youngsters to visitor. "And he is so honorable that he never thinks of taking his hands from behind his back just come and see him now!" But as the two entered the nursery mamma gave a wild scream as she rushed for her baby.

There was the small boy, his hands clasped tightly behind his back to be sure, but the baby not having responded to his challenge to play he had taken her silence for consent and was bumping her head with her.

Jim Warbler had no money. However he managed to reach Vancouver, and walking into the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific, said to the manager in charge.

"I am Jim Warbler, and I am an old friend of the general superintendent. Will you wire him and tell him I am here broke, and want transportation to Montreal?"

But came the reply: "Don't let Jim walk." He got the transportation, and arriving at Montreal, called at once to thank his friend.

"Well, well, Jim, is this really you?" There, with a twinkle of the eye: "How under the heavens did you get here so soon if you were broke?"

"Why, thanks to your telegram, 'Don't let Jim walk,' of course I was at once furnished transportation, and here I am!"

"Confound those operators! It is strange they cannot get my messages through correctly."

"Didn't you telegraph 'Don't let Jim walk,' interrupted Warbler.

"Certainly not. My answer was: 'Don't let Jim walk.'"

PROF. H. A. HOWELL, OF HAVANA, CUBA, RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"As long as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Cuba. "On the night of Feb. 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold. The next day was worse and the following night was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in my arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he could live until morning. At last I thought of mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I could not hesitate a moment in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and thus only saved the life of our dear little boy. For sale by W. W. WARREN, BRIDGETOWN, N. S. W. PREDICTIONS FOR MARCH.

"The aspect of the heavenly bodies in this month is not cheering, some of the great nations are plotting and planning for the overthrow of each other, and ere long the most terrible conflict on record will take place both on land and sea. Russia at this time will be in a very unsettled state, and the 'Czar' will have to be upon his guard for bloodthirsty and warlike attacks. A great many disasters at sea in this month, and a death will take place that will give much matter for the Press."
