THE NOR-WESTER.

CALGARY, TUESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1884.

LOCAL.

TIDINGS OF JOY!

BUSINESS IS LIVELY.

INTERLUDE—SHINE!

The girls all admired the style of my back hair. — H.

Mr. J. G. FITZGERALD has been appointed Deputy-Sheriff.

Two enterprising young men are moving in the matter for the purpose of forming a skating rink for the coming season.

The editor of this paper has been appointed a corresponding member of the Manitoba Historical and Scientific Society.

Mr. CLAYTON, the efficient caterer at the recent banquet desires the NOR-WESTER on his behalf to return his sincere thanks to Mr. Robert Fletcher and his assistants for the aid which they rendered at the banquet.

The editor of the NOR-WESTER will deliver a lecture at the Presbyterian church before the Young Men's Association next Monday evening. Subject: "Across the Rockies 25 years ago from Edmonton to Colville." The subject is a most interesting one to the people of this locality. Admission free.

OWING to the fact that a great deal of our time has been occupied with matters connected with the recent visit of Sir Hector Langevin, and the fact that we are short-handed, we issue only a half-sheet this week. We ask the indulgence of our subscribers and the public for this short-coming. An excellent report of Sir Hector Langevin's speech and the speeches at the banquet will be found in our next issue.

We attended the entertainment of the dramatic and musical club at Boynton Hall last evening and we enjoyed the programme immensely; though there was not such a large attendance as we should like to have seen. The entertainment was not only varied but most enjoyable. A full report of it will appear in our next issue, a report which we will take pleasure in preparing.

COURTNEY RANCHO CO. VS. THOMAS McALEER. — This is an action of ejectment brought by the plaintiff, the lease of the rancho adjoining Calgary for the recovery and possession of the same as an agent for the plaintiff, range 2, west of 5th principal meridian. The defendant consents to judgment against him, he to remove all buildings from the property of the plaintiff within 30 days from judgment. This settles out of the squatters disputes with the ranches, and we hope it may be settled as amably.

THE BRIDGES.

The petition which was presented to Sir Hector Langevin by a special committee fully sets forth what the people of this district require for the main highway which stretches from the Athabaska landing on the north to the forty-ninth parallel on the south. The strength of the petition is contained in the following facts: first, the bridges for which assistance is asked will be free traffic bridges; secondly, they are to connect the main highway which has been used since the memorable time across two streams which have their confluence at this point; thirdly, they are not local in their character; fourthly, the people of Edmonton through leading representatives have signed the petition and are fully in accord with its prayer; fifthly, the people of the McLeod district, through leading representatives, have also joined in the prayer of the petition. The petition, therefore is not one from the people of Calgary or one from those of Calgary district. It is supported by the people of the District of Alberta and therefore it is broad and general in its purposes. Never was a petition in a new district more unanimously supported, and never was a petition more reasonable and considerate in its prayer. Particular stress is laid upon the fact that the bridges are absolutely necessary in order that public travel and traffic may not continue to be impeded and imposed upon in the future as it has been in the past. The salient features of the petition having been thus presented the people hope that the distinguished Minister of Public Works will see no obstacle in the way of recommending a sufficient grant to the bridges at least. They have wisely considered that their duty in the petition consisted in pointing out a public want leaving the details to be dealt with as Sir Hector himself may require. Mention is made of the fact that a creditable free traffic bridge across the Elbow River at this point and one which was erected only last spring by private subscriptions at a cost of upwards of one thousand dollars, was carried away only a short time ago by freshets of unusual character, and that the loss was not one to Calgary alone but to the travelling public. The petition might have recited this but it was probably overlooked; it is nevertheless a fact. For our part, we think the prayer of the petition is so put that we do not hesitate to say that a refusal to grant sufficient aid for the bridges would be contrary to the liberal and progressive policy which the present Administration has always shown in cases where the works asked for were broad and general in character, reasonable in their nature and not of absolute necessity. We feel sure that if a refusal be made it will be based upon reasons which are sound in their character. At present we cannot see any grounds for supposing that a refusal will be made, but if it should be made we will not hesitate to say that the refusal will not be unreasonable or unjust. We hope for the best, and we trust that the able and distinguished head of the Department of Public Works will clearly see his way to recommend the grant for the bridges.

A correspondent of the Manitoba Free Press, supposed to be Professor Panton, is contributing a series of letters to this journal. The letters are somewhat interesting. The last letter contains the following: "As we near Calgary my friend cannot refrain from expressing their surprise at the magnitude of the country. Two days and a half steaming away, and yet only nearing the foot hills of the mountains. What a region, and what room for a vast population!" is remarked. Calgary is reached about 2 p.m. It is raining heavily. No hope for tarrying now. We land and seek a hotel for the night, with the expectation of seeing better surroundings on the morrow. We are told that it had been raining nearly every day for weeks back, and we know it is only a few days since the bridge of the river was swept away and much damage done to the track beyond. The rain continued all afternoon, and it did seem as if the whole valley might be submerged before many hours. With difficulty I called upon a number of friends near my hotel. They tried to fan my fading hopes by saying "it was exceptional to see such rain in Calgary—that this was a peculiar experience, and that the rain would continue but a short time." At the hotel the quarters were somewhat contracted. The wind blew with terrific force and whistled through the tight fabric erected as a shelter to weary tourists for the west. Yet, after all, there was something romantic in the storm; and we all enjoyed listening to the battering rain and the whining wind, which indicated a terrific night without. Morning came, and still rain, but more drizzling. The sky appeared to be clearing in the direction of the mountains (invisible), and we were inclined to prognosticate a fair weather. Notwithstanding the drizzling rain we started off to search for a suitable spot for the tent. To tent we could, and tent we would if the weather was at all reasonable. Three miles beyond Calgary, and just as we were about to enter the hills, a point pointed with the name of Sledgehamper, we selected our ground. Professor Panton we know is not wholly made of superstitious matter. There is nothing surprising about a rain storm. Perhaps there is rain or fog in the land where he was "born in."
