JURY DOES NOT FIX THE BLAME FOR DEATHS IN WOODBINE FIRE

The following verdict was returned at the morgue last night by the coroner's jury enquiring into the death of Charles Wilmut, who was burned in the Woodbine Hotel fire:

"We find that Charles Wilmut came to his death by fire which occurred on the evening of March 17, 1914, in the Woodbine Hotel, West Kings street in the City of Toronto.

"We find by the evidence that the material used in the construction of the Woodbine Hotel was composed of such a nature as to be highly inflammable and a danger to life in public buildings and the use should be prohibited for such purposes in all buildings of this nature.

"We believe that more care should be taken in the enforcement of the by-laws re construction of fire escapes, and that all should be accessible, as near as possible, thru corridors.

"We believe that the inspection of all public buildings under construction should be absolutely under the control of the architect's department, as thereby the conflict of authority would be largely eliminated, as shown by the evidence.

"No evidence has been brought to the jury as to the direct cause of the fire, and it must be classed as 'unknown'."

present situation is merely an act of reprisal, "short of war," there is no doubt that relations between the Huerta defacto government and the United States have been broken.

O'Shaughnessy to Remain

The United States will not withdraw Charge O'Shaughnessy unless he himself reports it advisable to do so, for the Washington government desires to maintain as long as possible a representative in Mexico City to care for American interests there.

Volunteers for service in Mexico will not be called for unless there is a formal declaration of war by congress. This was announced in the house today by Chairman Hay of the house military affairs committee.

Will Proceed Slowly

Movements of the navy were continued today. The navy department feels that a sufficient force of marines is on the way, not only to take care of the situation at Vera Cruz, but at Tampico, too, if the order is given for the seizure of the customs house there.

"Until we receive a complete report from Rear-Admiral Badger about the situation at Vera Cruz," said Secretary Daniels, "we will have nothing to say about Tampico or other steps."

Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, who conferred with Secretary Tumulty, spoke also of the Washington Government's intention to proceed slowly, hoping that its successive acts of reprisal might force Huerta to yield from his stubborn position and avert war.

TO INSPECT PARKS.

Toronto Board of Trade Will Make Trip in June.

The board of trade is contemplating an excursion to Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit, where the members will inspect the parks and boulevards systems.

The chambers and boards of commerce in each city will also be visited.

The party, which will be limited to 150, will leave Toronto by boat at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 10, for Queenston, electric cars to Buffalo, thence by steamer specially chartered to Detroit.

From Detroit the party will go to Cleveland and then to Buffalo, spending a day in each city. F. G. Morley, secretary, is handling all applications.

Secretary Bryan said today that the status of Charge O'Shaughnessy and Charge Algara was unchanged so far as he knew. Charge Algara has had, however, notification from his government that he may leave when he deems advisable.

This is regarded as possibly forecasting Huerta's giving passports to Mr. O'Shaughnessy.

The international lawyers and many in congress are not exactly sure what the diplomatic relations of the United States toward Mexico are, whether "a state of war" exists without a declaration to the effect, or whether, as many precedents have shown, the same official expressed the view that Huerta had delayed his answer to the United States for a salute to the flag pending the arrival of the Mexican vessel.

ENTIRE CONTROL OF VERA CRUZ NOW IN HANDS OF AMERICANS

Consul Canada Sent Despatch Early Yesterday Afternoon That All Resistance by Mexicans Had Ceased — Policy of United States is to "Sit Tight."

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—The American forces are in complete control of Vera Cruz. No non-combatants were injured in the fighting there. This word was received in a despatch from Consul Canada this afternoon. The White House gave out the following statement: "Despatches received from Consul Canada at Vera Cruz at 1:10 p.m. announced that the American forces are now in complete possession of the city; that apparently no fatalities had happened among American and foreign non-combatants, and that firing had ceased except for occasional picket shots."

More Marines Landed. American operations in Mexico at Vera Cruz took on renewed aspects of war today when Rear Admiral Badger landed more marines from the Atlantic fleet and the United States forces proceeded to take the entire city. While the orders of the president were being carried out to the letter it was made apparent in conferences at the White House that the United States will "sit tight" at Vera Cruz, and that no further steps of pacification will be taken at this time. For the present, it was declared on high authority, that the forces at Vera Cruz would hold the city to convince Huerta that the United States government means business, and that no action would be taken at Tampico unless there is retaliatory action on the part of the Huerta government. No orders, it was stated, have been sent to the American officers with reference to landing at Tampico, the only orders being sent there referring to directions for ships sent to Vera Cruz until further notice. To Stay at Vera Cruz. No advancement further than Vera Cruz, on the part of the United States forces, it was made plain, would be undertaken unless some overt act on the part of Huerta and his followers should precipitate further trouble, and make more aggressive action necessary. Despite the purpose of the administration to confine the operations at Vera Cruz, the situation took on an ominous aspect which indicated that the reports of aroused feeling among the Mexicans, the feeling is here that it may be necessary in the near future to resist active attacks from Mexican federal soldiers. Everything is in readiness for actual warfare if it must come, and congress today took the final step in justifying the president's course thus far.

Communications Cut. The despatches from Vera Cruz that reached the state department today developed that communication with the American embassy at Mexico City had been completely cut off. Consul Canada said that all efforts to communicate with the embassy were futile. The department has not heard from the embassy since Monday, and Charge O'Shaughnessy has been unable to communicate with any of the federal officials, and only the mayor, Roberto Diaz, could be located. When Franco tried to communicate with the mayor he was refused admission by Mexican guards stationed at the door. Franco then crawled over the roof of an adjoining building into the court of the Diaz residence but he did not succeed in seeing the mayor.

Senator Diaz refused to leave his bedroom, so Consul Canada's messenger shouted the contents of Rear Admiral Fletcher's note to the mayor, and personally appealed to him to yield to order to save the city from bombardment by the American ships, reminding him of the grave risk to which the families of Mexicans and all other women in the city would be put. The unwillingness of storekeepers to keep their places open and the almost total depletion of supplies at the restaurants where the proprietors had to continue doing business, made it difficult for anyone except the American fighting forces to obtain anything to eat. Tobacco is another commodity of which the supply has practically become exhausted.

FOUR OF WOUNDED SERIOUSLY HURT

One of Injured Marines at Vera Cruz Has Mother in Manitoba.

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—A corrected list of the Americans killed and wounded in the first fighting at Vera Cruz yesterday was called today by Admiral Fletcher. The list differs in some respects from the first press reports and includes, besides the names of the four killed, the names of Private Haggerty, Private Samuelson, George Painsett, seaman, and John F. Schumacher, coxswain. The dead are: Private Daniel Aloysius Haggerty, Private Samuelson, George Painsett, seaman, and John F. Schumacher, coxswain.

MORE MARINES UNDER ORDERS TO GO SOUTH

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Three hundred marines from the navy yard barracks prepared to leave for Philadelphia to embark on the steamer Morro Castle today for Vera Cruz. The auxiliary vessel, which has been engaged in target practice outside the Virginia Capes, received orders yesterday to stand by for service in Mexico. She planned to get under way for Vera Cruz today. The collier Proteus, now undergoing repairs at the navy yard, was also ordered in readiness to proceed to Mexico by Sunday.

PACIFICIST BRYAN IS NOW TARGET

London Paper Makes Ironical Comment on Tactics of Peace Apostle.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, April 22.—The Mexican crisis continues to attract attention here despite the excitement caused by the visit of the King and Queen to Paris. The Morning Post says it will be a striking instance of the irony of fate if the United States finds herself involved in a war with Mexico. The Democratic party is by tradition the champion of the principles of peace, retrenchment and reform, and when it was in opposition was strongly opposed to the annexation of the Philippines and denounced the jingoistic tendencies of Theodore Roosevelt's policy.

NO MORE GERMAN WARSHIPS.

BERLIN, April 22.—The German Government has no intention of sending an additional warship to Mexican waters, according to an official announcement made here today.

REFUSED TO SEE INVADER'S ENVOY

Mexican Chosen for Task Was Not Able to See Mayor.

REFUGEES INCREASE

Non-Combatants Took Advantage of Lull to Board Steamer.

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—The number of foreign refugees on board the Esperanza was increased today when several people, mostly Americans, took advantage of the lull in the fighting during the early hours to go on board that vessel. The captain of the German steamer Ypiranga, which brought the arms and ammunition here for Gen. Huerta's government, today reported to Rear Admiral Fletcher his willingness to take on board all refugees for whom he had room. The rear admiral thanked him, but informed him that there was still space left on board the Esperanza. Rear Admiral Fletcher's note, sent to the local officials, calling on them to co-operate with the American officers in the restoration of order by calling off snipers and by resuming immediately the local government, could not be delivered.

CONFIRMS REPORT OF VILLA'S WOUND

Canadian Lecturer, Now in Mexico, Writes to Rev. Dr. Creighton.

IS A GALLANT SOLDIER

G. H. Schoof Says Constitutionalist General is a True Patriot.

Confirmation of the report that Gen. Villa was wounded in the battle of Torreon is contained in a letter received by Rev. Dr. Creighton of the Christian Guardian from G. H. Schoof, a Canadian lecturer, well-known in Methodist circles. Writing recently from San Diego, Cal., he says: "I have just returned from an expedition into the State of Lower California, Mexico, with a small party of constitutional soldiers, sent to urge the governor to hand the state over to General Carranza. The entire program was carried out to perfection, and the state now belongs to the constitutionalists. This was accomplished without firing a shot. At a meeting of the junta a wounded officer from the battle of Torreon gave us the latest news. It was the biggest battle ever fought in Mexico. The constitutionalists lost 3000 killed and wounded; the federalists a great many more, besides 2000 prisoners. Gen. Villa was wounded while leading his cavalry, but fought on until over from the field. Gen. Villa destroyed all the liquor and enforced temperance. He himself does not drink or smoke. He is a total abstainer. He is fighting for the rights of the people. The poor love him; the rich fear him. He is a true patriot, and he is never weary of his work. "Generals Carranza and Villa are good friends, and will be masters of Mexico within sixty days if the powers will leave them alone. Since the battle of Torreon, the constitutional battle has gone up from 25c to 60c on the dollar."

FOREIGNERS LEAVE MEXICO CITY.

GALVESTON, April 22.—Communication was established this afternoon with Mexico City. O'Shaughnessy is safe and the city is completely demoralized. The city is completely in the hands of the federal government. A train leaves this afternoon for Vera Cruz with foreigners on board, and will be escorted by federalists.

HUERTA PROHIBITS CODE MESSAGES

Mexican Dictator Establishes Strict Censorship Over All Despatches.

PEOPLE KEPT IN DARK

Rebel Victories Are Turned Into Rebel Defeats by Papers.

Canadian Press Despatch. MEXICO CITY, April 15, via Havana, April 22.—The following despatch was sent by mail to Havana in order to avoid the censorship established by Gen. Huerta, which is more strict than at any time during recent revolutions: Every telegraph wire, commercial, railroad or cable, is watched over by a force of men reliable and intelligent men in the government telegraph service, who acts as censor. These men frankly informed would-be senders of despatches that they were not a question of the veracity of their messages, nor whether they disclose military movements, but merely a question of suppressing news not favorable to the government. Code messages have been absolutely prohibited with the exception only of bank telegrams. The bankers of Mexico succeeded in getting their messages on these messages raised, but only after they had proved that the retention of the despatches was seriously embarrassing the financial department of the government. Newspaper correspondents were given the hint that if they were detected in using subterfuges to evade their affairs in total ignorance of the government. While Nelson O'Shaughnessy was acting as the messenger of the United States government in the endeavor to avert war between the two countries, more than 99 per cent. of the Mexican residents in the federal capital went about their affairs in total ignorance of the crisis. Gen. Huerta and his official family cleverly concealed even from their intimate friends all knowledge of strained relations between Mexico and the United States, and the general public was even more in the dark since the press, controlled by the government, published columns of glowing accounts of victories gained by the federal armies in the north. Reports of federal successes said to have occurred at places far beyond the limits of the telegraph lines were printed broadcast. One despatch announced with great display that Gen. Villa had been captured. Railways Stopped Carrying Freight. Considerable apprehension has been aroused in the capital by the movements of Emiliano Zapata, the rebel leader in the south, who, after gaining undisputed possession of the state of Guerrero with the exception of the port of Acapulco, has shown indications of moving northward. These reports, which have recently gained considerably in numbers, and it is feared they may become formidable enough to venture an attack on the federal capital.

NO SPECIAL TAXES

Washington Officials Have Not Considered Plans for Raising More Funds.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—That the United States could finance a war with Mexico and scarcely feel it, is the view authoritatively expressed here today. The finances of the government are considered to be in excellent condition—so good, in fact, that even the treasury officials, who are in closest touch with the situation, have given only tentative consideration to the subject of providing a war fund. It was said today that no plans for raising money yet, had been considered, as current appropriations for the navy and the army, in the view of the officials, would be sufficient for present needs, and as it would cost no more to maintain the fleet in Mexican waters than in United States waters. Beer and Stamps Tax Available. In the event of extraordinary expenses, which would arise naturally during a state of war, money could be raised, it is pointed out, precisely as it was raised during the Spanish-American war. It has been estimated that a beer and stamp tax would increase the revenues of the government by at least $100,000,000 a year. Imposition of such taxes would have to be made by congress, but it is expected there would be no hesitancy either in the house or in the senate to re-enact certain parts of the revenue measure of the Spanish-American war. It can be said that a new issue of bonds is not in contemplation. At present, lying in the treasury are Panama bonds to the amount of $240,000,000 which may be sold at any time to reimburse the treasury for expenses incurred in the construction of the Panama Canal. Of the $375,200,000 of Panama bonds authorized, only $134,621,980 have been issued. The balance could be issued at the pleasure of the president and Secretary McAdoo.

MARINES AIDED BY WARSHIPS EASILY DROVE MEXICANS BACK

Guns of Prairie, Chester and San Francisco Shattered Enemy's Defences, and Desultory Firing From House Tops Did Little Damage.

Canadian Press Despatch. VERA CRUZ, April 22.—Rear-Admiral Fletcher at 8:30 o'clock in the morning ordered a general movement for the occupation of all the town. A column of bluejackets advanced and passed the uncompleted market-place and Naval College. When they had reached the walls of the college a terrific rifle fire was poured in all directions from the roof and the windows. The bluejackets were helpless to return the fire against the stone walls and scattered. The Prairie, Chester and San Francisco opened with their five and six-inch guns and shattered the walls. The bluejackets reformed and advanced against the wall, which had diminished greatly. By 10 o'clock there was only desultory firing from the insular side of the lower. The bluejackets had made their way along the waterfront to the southern end of the town and cleared several streets, but the sniping from houses continued at intervals. The scout cruiser Chester pounded buildings on the outskirts with six-inch shells, firing over the heads of the men ashore, and showing almost perfect marksmanship. Converged on Main Plaza. The positions taken yesterday began in the direction of the main plaza. The marines under Lieut.-Col. Wendell C. Neville, moved to the southward along parallel streets toward the centre, while the marines commanded by Lieut.-Commander Buchanan, of Florida, and Lieut.-Commander Arthur B. Keating, of the Arkansas, were ordered from their positions east of the centre towards the plaza. The two forces swung forward with a rush for a distance of three blocks. The machine gun and rifle fire was supplemented by shell fire from the smaller guns of the Prairie and Chester. The ships' guns supported the movement of clearing the roofs to the south and east, occasionally dropping a shell a few hundred yards in advance.

QUIET RETURNS TO VERA CRUZ

Note Sent by Consul Canada Had a Reassuring Effect.

Canadian Press Despatch. VERA CRUZ, April 22.—Vera Cruz after a day and a night of resistance to the force landed from the American war vessels, gradually ceased its opposition and urged by Rear-Admiral Fletcher, began returning to the hands of the government under its own local officials. This gradual ceasing of hostilities was brought about through the efforts of the American forces. Canada to the mayor, the jefe politico, or chief federal civilian official, the chief of police of the city and their officials calling upon them for co-operation. Complete Investment. At a conference on board the battleship Arkansas, Rear-Admiral Badger and Fletcher decided this morning to complete the investment of Vera Cruz. Rear-Admiral Badger organized a landing force composed of 2700 marines and bluejackets, and before day broke these had all sent ashore. Rear-Admiral Fletcher reported that the Mexicans were firing from the housetops, and that the riflemen were composed only of irregulars and armed citizens who continued sniping from behind their shelters. The regular Mexican federal troops forming the garrison of Vera Cruz, a special force of 17 knots for a distance of 15 or 20 miles inland. Badger's Fleet Arrives. Rear-Admiral Badger's fleet of five battleships, the Arkansas, Vermont, New Jersey, New Hampshire and South Carolina are now outside the breakwater. They had increased their speed to 17 knots for the last eight hours of their trip on the receipt of the report from Rear-Admiral Fletcher as to conditions at Vera Cruz. In the final dash to Vera Cruz the collier Orion and four tugs accompanying the fleet were outstripped, but will arrive here today. The battleship Michigan is also due today, and the battleship Louisiana tomorrow. All the American war vessels are held in readiness to start for Tampico at an hour's notice if Rear-Admiral Mayo, in command there, desires aid.

MOBILIZING TO RESIST INVASION

Federal Troops Are Being Mustered at Saltillo by General Maas.

Canadian Press Despatch. EAGLE PASS, TEX., April 22.—Piedras Negras opposite Eagle Pass, was evacuated by the federal garrison early today, after a night of wild excitement. This morning more than two thousand refugees came to the American side of the Rio Grande for protection. Gen. Guajardo's forces are now camped at Puentes, three miles south of Piedras Negras, waiting for trains to transport them to Saltillo. All federal forces have been ordered to concentrate at Saltillo. "Let us repel the American invasion," till he repel the American invasion," was the slogan when the people of Piedras Negras learned that American marines had occupied Vera Cruz, a dozen regiments of volunteers were organized as organized. More than 1200 volunteers, it is said, enlisted during the evening.

CONGRESS ACTED WITHOUT DEMUR

Resolution as Sent From Senate Was Adopted in Formal Manner.

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Without debate and without the formality of a roll call the house today concurred in the administration's Mexican resolution, as adopted by the senate. On the viva voce vote the "ayes" were the majority. A few negative votes were heard here and there on the Republican side when Speaker Clark put the question. It will reach the White House during the afternoon. The policy of the United States in Mexico became clearer today. A policy of closest co-operation with the Constitutionalists has been decided upon. Wilson's message to congress was a distinct concession to the Constitutionalists. He refrained from mention of outrages against Americans and other foreigners in Mexico simply because to do so would force the action of the United States to be directed against the Constitutionalists in the north as well as against the Huerta government. At considerable political sacrifice, Wilson made the Tampico incident practically the sole pretext for the present move against Huerta. This message was telegraphed to Gen. Carranza. It was calculated to make a decidedly favorable impression with him, since it made it entirely clear that the action of the United States is against Huerta and not against the cause which Carranza is promoting. President Wilson cannot feel secure of friendship or even of neutrality of Carranza.

NO SPECIAL MONEY FOR WAR.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Majority Leader Underwood announced today that he did not expect the house to act on any bill appropriating money for war purposes in Mexico at the present time. "We have plenty of money now," he said, "and the president expects to march to Mexico City," said Mr. Underwood. "As far as I know the president has no such intention."

"NATURALNESS" A NEEDED ASSET

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why a Scientist Should Be Humane

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

I FOUND him, the doctor who is a human being as well as a physician. He came bustling into my sick room the other day, and all at once the air was full of sunshine and hope and health and courage.

He pulled up the shades to look at the view; he drew a violet out of the bouquet on the bedroom table and sniffed at it as if he really loved the smell of violets; he picked up the valentine a little boy I know had sent me, and smiled at the beautiful lady entirely surrounded in garlands of hearts—and then he began to talk to me about my case.

He didn't call it my case—he called it mine; and before I knew what I was doing I had told him not only how very ill I was and in how much pain, but I had told him how my heart ached and how my courage failed, and how it seemed almost too steep for human feet to climb.

And the doctor listened to what I said. He listened with his brain and with his heart as well as with his ears; and when that half-hour of talk with him was through I was half cured already.

If there were more doctors like him left, there would be less need of new cures that do away with doctors entirely.

Some Old Fashioned Ideas.

It's such a matter of "science" now—is medicine. All science and theory and germs.

The modern doctor will tell you that there are no such things as you and your mother and your grandmother have seen a thousand times with your own perfectly good eyes.

He will tell you that anise-seed tea will not cure the baby's colic—it's an old woman's remedy, he says.

And you know it will cure it, because you've tried it a dozen times.

He tells you that it won't help your sore throat to put a nice, comfortable strip of flannel around it when you go to bed.

Now you know it will help it, you don't know why—and you don't care why. All you know is that it does, and so you listen to what he says and look confused and guilty and very stupid.

And he goes away and makes a speech at his medical dinner about old wives' superstitions, and is very witty and clever indeed—at your expense; and the minute he's gone you get a perfectly good piece of flannel and pin it comfortably around your throat and stop the tickling cough.

A man can't play the Mumbo Jumbo game very long with any one who smiles at the thought of his name. My little girl was ill not long ago; they sent me a specialist to take a specimen of her blood. The child is a clever, emotional, imaginative little thing, who lives in fairyland most of the time, with princesses and knights and snow-white palfreys, and all the rest of it.

A Typical Experience.

When the specialist arrived in the sick room he turned out to be a tall, cadaverous creature, with a face like the skull and cross-bones man—sallow, dark, saturnine.

He gave three stealthy, cat-like paces and was at the bedside.

"I have come for the blood," he said; and my little daughter's face went as white as snow.

Now that man shall never do one other particle of work in his special line for me or for any of mine. I don't believe that any one who is as big a fool as that can possibly know enough to make a correct analysis—do you?

I'm glad I've been ill and alone in a strange city, for I've found him again—the man I thought was lost forever, the doctor who's a human being as well as a man.

Here's looking at you, doctor! Every time I see the violet smile in the spring sunshine I shall think of you with love and gratitude.

Sayings of Wise Men

Words are an amazing barrier to the reception of truth.—Sydney Smith.

Every real and searching effort at self-improvement is of itself a lesson of profound humility.—Gladstone.

We are ashamed at the sight of a monkey—somehow as we are shy of poor relations.—Charles Lamb.

The encouragement of habits of thrift and foresight, and of a spirit of independence and self-help—you get a better confidant in the highest degree to the welfare of the nation—is an object which must always have the deepest sympathy of the Queen and myself.—King Edward VII.

Take not too short a time to make a world-wide bargain in.—Shakespeare.

The silence often of pure innocence prevails when speaking falls.—Shakespeare.

Who lives to nature rarely can be rich.—Edward Young.

Prudence, frugality, and good management are excellent artists for mankind; but when they are often and but little room in any dwelling, but would furnish a more effectual remedy for the sins of life than any reform bill that ever passed the houses of Parliament.—Samuel L. Drew.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

By Ann Marie Lloyd

CHILDREN'S socks and stockings need continual darning and renewal. Their treatment is mainly "wear and tear," not always of the "fair" kind.

Worst stockings should not be darned with new worsted. The latter should be shrunken first, or it will pull out, should be cut off above the heel, the stitches picked up, and a new foot knitted.

Casimere stockings, too, can be refected, if you have two pairs that have "gone." Cut the stocking to be refected half through, above the heel, from the back, leaving only an instep tongue to the toes. This cuts the old bottom off. From the leg of the second pair, cut a piece exactly the size and shape of the old foot piece (died flat), and machine, or backstitch, neatly on. Allow an extra inch for the heel, and oversew.

Black stockings will keep their color perfectly, and not go "rusty," if a little vinegar is used in the rinsing water.

NORMA PHILLIPS
"Movie Girl" Tells Secret of Her Success.

By ELEANOR AMES

NORMA PHILLIPS says meeting multi-millionaires and world famous men is neither difficult nor awe inspiring. And she ought to know, for in her career as a "Movie Girl" she has met many real celebrities and public personages.

"They are just folks," says Miss Phillips, "and want to be treated like folks. If there is any secret in my success in getting interviews with such men as Mr. Carnegie and the late Mayor Gaynor in New York and scores of others equally important, it is my respect for the law of averages."

"I put my theory into practice. It won the day. I have never had it fall. I act as if the great and mighty were plain and honorable citizens like myself. I approach them in a purely business-like way. I talk on impersonal subjects if there is time for conversation and it becomes necessary for me to keep the subject of this fact."

"Also I always have splendid belief in myself. I neither presume nor cringe. When I was assigned to meet and get the opinion of the biggest men in America, I set my wits to work to puzzle out the best way to approach them. I decided that first of all I must believe it was the best thing in the world for him to do, that there were no good reasons why he should not grant my request, and there were dozens of perfectly sane reasons why he should. Next I worked out the arguments and made them fast to my mind.

"Then I decided that this man, with his exalted position in the business and social world and with his millions of money and his multiple interests, was constantly annoyed by two kinds of interviewers, the ones who were blustering and offensive, and the ones who were fawning sycophants. Therefore the man or woman who went to him and asked him to do a favor just as if he were just John Jones or Bill Smith should by the law of averages be refreshing enough to command attention."

"Manners" Betray Even The "Rough Diamond"

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

LORD CHESTERFIELD advises you that the manner of a vulgar man has freedom without ease, and the manner of a gentleman has ease without freedom.

You may not be of those fortunate ones to the manner born, but good breeding is both hereditary and inherited, both from within and from without.

Just as well-mannered youths confide too freely and boast too vainly, so ill-mannered maturity and middle age may appear with a polish which it has not.

Superficial things often deceive, and as rashness is only one of the many errors of those under 35, and timidity one of the many of those over 35, so good breeding is the cantle span between the two.

Unctuous and melodiously modulated words, silk top hats, white carnations in buttonholes, professorships, wealth, a New England ancestry and a Chesterfieldian manner are often far removed from good manners.

You and I know many who fit this description, but as we know uncouth, ununderstood and who are, nevertheless, perfect gentlemen.

Real Breeding Shows.

Personal, daily contact will disclose the real breeding in a man. Fine airs and social position are no criteria. Formalities, compliments and the soft, suave, bland smile are often false cloaks.

Unbecoming forwardness proceeds more often from ignorance and inappropriateness than from intrinsic ill-breeding. Uplifters and Puritans usually do not distinguish between the man taught at home, who "puts in" in a coarse way, from the gentleman who is master of ceremonies and toastmaster at social functions.

Dryden knew whereof he spoke when he said inherent good breeding will show quickly in the most outwardly unpolished, in their candor and honesty of tone among the best company of both sexes.

Manners are the shadows of virtues, they are the indications of coming events. The inward thought, the purity of the soul, stamps its impress upon the outward habits.

An ill-bred man or woman is super-sensitive, unaccountably envious and captious. Trivial, worthless experiences impel him, despite his white carnation and smooth, untroubled forehead, to quarrel after some one's scalp.

Hypocrites Are Many.

He is forever suspicious that he has been insulted or slighted. He thinks all attacks, all conversation is meant for him.

If two people enjoy themselves, or happen to laugh, he has a pathological delusion that he is sneered at.

Testiness, a curling lip, a frowning nose, a "scrappy" disposition, which he justifies as a "true fighting spirit," to resist wrongs and general self-assertion fit this unhappy, disappointed fellow's nature.

The polished, well dressed man, who smiles and smiles and affects great softness of manner, an unruffled evenness of temper, a studied modulation and enunciation of his words, who is slow and deliberate in his sentences, is to be suspected.

He is a refined snake in the grass. No honest, natural man can maintain this pose. Such a man is a measure of mental discipline, bespeaks a measure of mental discipline.

Answers to Health Questions

C. Y. B., Philadelphia, Pa.—I am the remaining one of twins. I drink lots of coffee. I get very hysterical at times and super-sensitive also. Is there any anti-nervous serum?

Stop coffee and drink two glasses of hot milk at the times you were accustomed to drink coffee. Do not go without food over two hours at a time. Avoid all fried pabulum, but eat raw eggs, whipped cream, ham, sweet fruits, candied and fresh vegetables in abundance. Eat twice as much and sleep twice as much as formerly.

R. H., Philadelphia—What is good for loss of sleep? Depression? Oppression?

Evidently you need a complete physical change. You should have first of all a revolutionary change of your night habits of retiring, eating, drinking and the like should be absolutely the reverse of what you are doing at present.

Take a cold wet pack at night, eat some fruit, such as an orange, some dried fruits, such as raisins, prunes, figs and apples, before you retire. Drink lots of buttermilk, learn to dance, to exercise, to take cold washes, to eat oatmeal, fruits, etc., lots of water, and have your muscles massaged.

Points on Gardening

Birds are beginning to prove very troublesome in the garden. They are very partial to nibbling at the flower buds of crocuses just as they are peering through the soil, also to picking off the growth buds of the gooseberry and the leaves of carnations. To safeguard the crocuses and carnations from injury, insert a few pieces of sticks about six inches long among and around the plants, and wind some black cotton freely around these about four inches from the ground. The birds cannot see the cotton, and when they alight and it touches their wings they usually become alarmed and beat a speedy retreat.

The same remedy may, indeed, be applied to gooseberry bushes with good results. If, however, the bushes be moss-grown, it is a good plan to mix up a composition of lime, four of sulphur and water to the consistency of milk, and then spray it freely over the bushes. The birds will then not touch the buds, and the liquor will thoroughly cleanse the bark from moss or eggs of insects.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

Author of the New Novel, "Diane of the Green Van." Awarded a Prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McCree, Judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the millions of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

The First Gray Hair.

MOTHER," said I, "did you mind our first gray hair?"

"Yes," said mother instantly. "Of course I did, Peter. You see, son, it's like climbing a hill, this game of life. Climbing, you look ahead and think what a marvellously beautiful view you will have when you reach the top; how the sunset over the valley will glow and fade in utter peace, and how the purple night will veil the valley in misty loveliness. You reach the top, but you can't linger. Something warns you that you must turn and go down again, for the purple mist will be down the valley, you may lose your way."

"The gray hair, son, seems like the first warning of night—the first hint that the rest of the journey must be down a hill. And going down the hill there is not quite so much ahead as when you were climbing. The sunset you were hoping for as you ascended, becomes as you turn wearily back, the valley of the shadow."

"It's not to be sad, mother," said I, energetically, for I could not bear to think of mother travelling toward the valley of the shadow. "Tell me why women's hair that first gray hair so much more than men?"

"Do they?" asked mother quietly.

"Don't they?" I countered.

"I don't think so," said mother. "They merely let a certain mental hysteria get the better of them and rush for the dye pot. Touch a woman's vanity and her scruples vanish. The dye pot gives them away."

"It isn't the simple act of coloring one's hair that I protest against," said I thoughtfully, "but well it is a form of hypocrisy, isn't it?"

"It's sailing under false pretences, of course," admitted mother. "And no one is deluded but the pitiful deluder herself. And really, Peter, there is something deeper at stake than the mere act. Doesn't it argue a certain moral delinquency that a woman will stoop to such a deception for such a slight return? Look at the wonderful semblance of youth some women attain—"

"Even that is slight return for the hypocrisy it engenders," insisted mother.

"And they irrevocably sacrifice the beauty and dignity and compensations of age by fostering the wrong mental attitude. They're neither young nor old. They have the semblance of the one without its vitality, the life marks of the other without the peace and resignation which ought to make old age happy and beautiful.

"These young-old women with dyed hair are really not happy, Peter. They laugh and smirk and revel in flattery, but in the seclusion of their own rooms they grow old and very tired, and wonder what is the use of it all. Innocent as the application of a little hair coloring may seem, persistent hypocrisy is a woman's character. It must, for she's learning, slowly but surely, to be a hypocrite. Did you ever know a man who dyed his hair?"

"Once," said I reluctantly. "It was when I was away one summer. He had his barber patch and mend him up every morning, and at $9 he looked $50."

"What was he like?" asked mother curiously.

"He was an old crook," I said with some warmth. "And that most odious of beings—a male flirt with a smirk and a leer for every pretty woman he saw."

"He had a feminine factor in his mind," said mother, "colossal vanity. Women never count the cost of enlivened beauty. They'll pay the heaviest price in the world with a smile and deem themselves the gainer. But they pay in black hours, Peter, blacker hours than the one in which you spy your first gray hair and let it stay."

"It's all a sense of values," I ventured, "and Mother Nature will teach those right if you'll only let her."

"A sense of values," nodded mother, "and a sense of responsibility."

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

DICKIE DUCK was swimming around the pond one morning looking for something to do, when he almost bumped into Mister Turtle.

"Ouch!" went Mister Turtle.

"I didn't touch you," said Dickie.

"I know you didn't," replied Mister Turtle. "But I thought you were going to. I said 'Ouch!' to keep you from bumping into me. I did that because it is easier to yell before you're hurt than to cry after you're hurt."

"That's a good idea," replied Dickie Duck, as he started off.

"Don't hurry," began Mister Turtle. "I want some one to talk to."

"What do you want to talk about?" asked Dickie.

"About an hour," replied Mister Turtle.

"I didn't ask you how long you wanted to talk, I wanted to ask you what you wish me to talk about," said the Duck.

"Why have you such a broad mouth?" asked Mister Turtle.

"That is to help me pull up the tender blades of grass at the bottom of the pond," said Dickie.

"I have always wanted to know why you have such a broad mouth, while a chicken has such a sharp one. My mouth is sharp like a chicken's," Mister Turtle said.

Dickie moved up closer so that he might have a letter look at Mister Turtle's mouth. Then he remarked:

"I think it is very interesting to study mouths. I never thought of it until now. I shall have to look at the mouths of birds, cows, fishes, frogs and—"

"Don't forget that fishes breathe under water and can't live in air, and that frogs can breathe on land and in water, too."

"Hog observing you are," said Dickie.

"We found something to talk about," replied Mister Turtle as he rolled off the log.

Ready for Emergency.

There were 25 new arrivals at Woodbine Park yesterday afternoon. Trainer Harry Giddings arrived from winter quarters with as choice a string of thoroughbreds as ever paraded on any track. They have not had any fast work but were galloped all winter and look ready to go to the races. In the string are the following: Harris of Oak, bh 4, by Bassett—Lady Lightfoot.
Bee Hive bh 3, Bassett—My Honey.
Harry Bassett 3, Bassett—My Honey full brother.
St. Bass bh 3, Bassett—Lady Bette.
Venus Urania, a full sister to St. Bass.
Ondramida, ch f 4, by Bassett—My Honey.
Ondramon, ch g 5, by Pan Longin—My Honey.
All Seas, bc 2, by Bassett—Jai Al. Otero, bf 2, by Bassett—Cuba Fra.
Martalino, ch f 2, by Martine—My Lady Land.
Sarolta, bm 4, by Bassett—Jai Al. Jockeys Gray and W. Stephenson are with the string.

George Ritchings of Detroit also got in yesterday with his string. They have done no work further than winter galloping, but are in the best of shape to let down. Jockey Bennie Ballentine is with the stable, and will do the riding. The lot comprise the following:
Yorkville Lad, bh 4, by Yorkshire Lad.
Sue's Bush.
The Idol of 3, by Giorifer—Jauna.
Chad Beaufort, bg 4, by Orlando—Hannah Dixon.

The Hendrie horses arrived also in charge of Trainer Eddie Whyte. This string looks very much like the Giddings lot, all in grand shape. They have been galloped all winter and are big and showy looking. The following is the list: Tankard, ch g 4, by Burgomaster—Tannie.
Privet Petel, bc 3, by Armeath II—Pagoda.
Rock Spring, ch 4, by Martine—Springwell.
Slipper Day, bf 3, Martine—Blue Ground.
Last Spark, ch c 2, by Martine—Flicker.
Martina, bf 3, Martine—Placena.
Sputter, ch c 2, by Martine—Spinach.
Red Fire, bc 2, Red Fox—Shimpoese.
John Peel, ch g 2, Martine—The Lin.
Fergus, ch g 2, Doctor Boots—Flexible.
Odds On bf 2, Martine—Oetidia.
David Gillies, bc 5, by David Garrick—Placena.

The track had improved wonderfully yesterday, and there will in all probability be some faster works right along.

Trainer McDaniel breezed Dr. Neet and Fountain Fay 1/2 at a two-minute clip.

Roguish and Gold Bud were sent 1/2 in 1.24. The rest of the string were given good set gallops.

John Boudy had the Lamb string out, but they were only cantered.

John Nixon's lot of two-year-olds were all out getting their education. They look well. Some of them are exceptionally large for two-year-olds. Mr. Nixon expects to get some extra good material out of the lot.

Wm. Walker's horses were exercised. They are feeling in best of shape and should be good at the coming meeting.

Almost everything at the track was worked yesterday morning, but none of the mhas been set down. The trainers are waiting for warmer weather.

The O. J. C. C. handsome window card lithograph made its appearance yesterday. Last year's Plate winner, Hearts of Oak, J. Wilson was No. 4 on the saddle cloth and Harry Gray, a successful red and white, in the centre looks the champion he is.

High Rollers at Central Y. M. C. A.

No small amount of enthusiasm has been shown by the different bowlers of Central Y. M. C. A. within the last week, when everybody was trying to qualify for the finals, to be rolled off next Monday for the championship of the alleys. No less than three records were broken. Fred Smith, the genial physical director, finished the new maples for 269, just after Fairhead had broken his own record of 268 by bowling 267, just one better, and Vernin B. Dowler hitting three straight games for 236, 235 and 232—21 pins better than Bullock of Broadview. The highest men will roll for the Association Trophy, emblematic of the bowling championship of Central Y. M. C. A. Fairhead now tops the ten that qualified with a five game total of 1197. Wednesday sees the opening of the fifteen tournament, and on Wednesday night the two Broadview teams bowl off for the championship of the Y. M. C. A. League. The ten that qualified are: Total, N. A. Fairhead, 267 246 234 225 225—1197. E. F. Trimble, 247 219 209 218 210—1134. R. V. Earle, 232 223 215 225 226—1123. Bill Black, 255 232 211 204 201—1103. F. J. Smith, 207 204 222 226 228—1127. Bob Warburton, 214 222 223 226—1122. L. H. Melville, 224 225 223 220—1122. H. S. Smith, 224 226 210 231 219—1109. Ernie Coker, 208 208 217 231 214—1068.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

The best basketball game of the season is announced for tonight when Central's championship team line up against the best five that Broadview can produce on the latter's floor. This is the second game of a series of home-and-home games, first of which ended a tie 24-24 at Central last week. For certain reasons these clubs will not allow teams to enter the class of basketball in this league is not nearly as fast as that played by these two teams. Central will probably come down with lots of supporters and arrangements are being made to handle a large crowd. P. Force Malcolm will blow the whistle at 8:15.

You Are Entitled to This Marvelous Motor in Your New Car

If you pay over $2,500 for your new car, you are entitled to the World's Champion Motor.

You are entitled to a motor that has proven its absolute reliability by running continuously under full load for thirteen days and nights without a stop.

You are entitled to a four-cylinder motor that has proven its power-ability by developing more than double its rated horse-power—as much power as any "six" of equal cylinder dimensions.

You get such a motor only in the RUSSELL-KNIGHT $2,975

Because—the RUSSELL-KNIGHT sliding sleeve motor is the only motor that has proven its ability by successfully accomplishing these drastic tests. No poppet valve motor could possibly survive them. No manufacturer or owner of a poppet motor dare even submit his engine to similar tests.

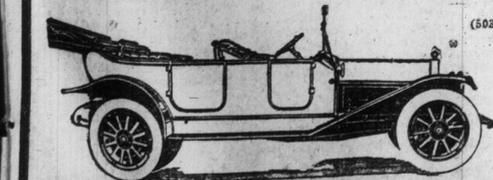

The RUSSELL-KNIGHT "28" motor has all the power—all the smoothness—all the flexibility of a "six" or 50 per cent. greater size and bulk. Yet it has only half as many parts—only half as many chances to wear, require replacement, or need adjustment.

And no "six" of any size can match it for economy of oil and gasoline.

Isn't this the type of engine YOU want in YOUR new car? Don't you think you're entitled to IT—when you pay $2500 or more for a car?

The wonderful World's Champion Motor is only one of the many reasons why your next car should be the Russell-Knight.

CLASH OF PARTIES OVER NEW RIDINGS

Altered Boundaries in Latest Draft of Redistribution Bill Displeases Rowell.

FIGHT FOR OLD BRUCES

Four New Members Will Be Added to Ontario House by Bill.

In the latest draft of the redistribution bill, which will be subject to little change, provision is made for an addition of four new members to the Ontario house. These will come from a new city riding, comprising Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich; from Cochrane, a new electoral district in the north, and from the two new seats given to Toronto. There will be two Lincoln ridings. Monck is abolished.

Among the ridings which have had their boundaries considerably altered are the Greys, Middlesex, Victoria, the Bruce and North Oxford. Mr. Rowell is very much interested in North Oxford, and by an appeal has another meeting of the committee arranged for today at 10.30 before the bill appears in the house.

Wanted Bruce Unchanged. At the meeting of the committee yesterday, William McDonald of Centre Bruce fought strongly for the Bruce to remain as at present. He claimed that the average difference in the Kent and other counties was greater than here. He urged that to change the makeup of the centre riding and the calling of it West Bruce with the municipalities grouped as proposed would destroy the "old fighting ground."

Change Hurts Liberals. Mr. Rowell said that the inclusion of Sullivan Township in North Grey seriously hurt the Liberal cause. Hon. Mr. Lucas certain sections to where they had been before the Liberal redistribution.

Lennox and Addington and Frontenac, altho at first thought liable to change, are left as they stand. In Lincoln, Dr. Jessop wanted Pelham left out of the west riding.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said that it was the intention to report the bill in the afternoon. Wanted More Time. Mr. Rowell claimed that they had not had nearly enough time to study the situation, and quoted the division of the Victoria and North Oxford as instances.

"Not much of a change there," suggested a member. "There is only a question of one hundred Liberal majority; that is all," said Mr. Rowell, hotly. "We should have an opportunity to hear from the different parts of the province."

"That is out of the question," said Mr. Hanna. "The chairman said that the local representatives had pretty well agreed on the changes. Another meeting will be held before the bill is reported."

LICENSE INSPECTOR FORCED TO RESIGN

Was Officer of Company That Borrowed Money From Hotelmen.

DID NOT SOLICIT LOANS

Opposition Told Reason for Decrease in T. and N. O. Earnings.

Paul Moran, license inspector of North Essex, yesterday was requested to resign by the department, and did so because he had broken the regulations. While in office he had been president and largest stockholder of a gaming company that borrowed money from hotel license-holders. He did not know this to be improper until told so by his department, and had not himself solicited the loans.

His case was heard before the public accounts committee yesterday morning. The Liberals asked why the earnings of the T. & N. O. Railway had decreased during the past year. The decrease was almost 50 per cent., from $484,000 to $250,000.

Secretary Magee of the T. & N. O. said that it was due to a falling off in business. This was general with all roads. At the same time salaries had been increased. In reply to Liberal questioning, Mr. Magee said 850 passes were given last year, of which 106 were to members of the legislature.

NOT CONSTRUCTED ON IMHOFF SYSTEM

A reader of The World enquires if the sewage disposal works at Ashbridge's Bay are constructed upon the Imhoff tank system.

The answer is in the negative. The works are only a settling basin. It is now the inclination of the civic government to establish there the Imhoff tank and sprinkling filters. How soon the change will be made is not yet decided. At present Mayor Hocken and Commissioner Harris are in Atlanta, Ga., to investigate a sewage disposal works there that are claimed to be odorless. When they return and report there will be an understanding as to a definite policy in connection with the treatment of sewage at Ashbridge's Bay.

PRESIDENT WILSON GRIEVED

WASHINGTON, April 22.—"I'm sorry, terribly sorry," were President Wilson's first words when news of loss of life in taking Vera Cruz first reached him. Today the president was sad and disheartened. As he walked slowly to his office thru the White House his head was bowed and his face a study in deep feeling and gravity.

The chairman said that the local representatives had pretty well agreed on the changes. Another meeting will be held before the bill is reported.

UNITED STATES IS ACTUALLY AT WAR

Admission Made by Secretary of Navy on Behalf of Administration.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The United States is at war with the Republic of Mexico. This admission was made by the secretary of the navy on behalf of the administration and by several Democratic senators on the floor of the upper house.

Secretary Daniels, while contending that the seizure of the custom house at Vera Cruz was not an act of war, asserted that the firing on the Americans by the federal troops was so that it no longer could be denied that a state of war existed.

Mr. Daniels also said that the German ship carrying munitions of war had arrived at Vera Cruz yesterday, but had not entered the harbor. He was understood that she had on board 15,000,000 rounds of ammunition and 200 machine guns.

DEMOLISHED BUILDING OCCUPIED BY MEXICANS

Several Americans Are Reported Wounded in Desultory Firing at Vera Cruz.

Cable information reaching here tonight said the cruiser Prairie today fired thirteen 8-inch shells into a building in Vera Cruz occupied by Mexicans. The building was demolished. The Mexicans had persisted in firing, notwithstanding repeated warnings and several Americans were wounded.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Major-General William W. Wotherspoon today assumed his duties as chief of staff of the army, succeeding Major-General Wood. General Wood has been selected to be commander-in-chief of the army in the event of its being sent into Mexico. He had been formally assigned to command of the Atlantic division, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York, but the orders to that effect were cancelled as the result of developments in Mexico. General Wood relinquished his duties as chief of staff at midnight last night.

People are beginning to Appreciate the Combination Idea.

If you are fitting up a new home, we strongly advise you to consider the question of how you would like to have it lighted. Modern practice leans toward installing both systems—gas and electric. Both systems are now recognized as first-class illuminants when properly installed and arranged, which is the case when you buy Combination Gas and Electric Lighting Fixtures as sold by this Company. We have studied this question of home lighting thoroughly, and believe that a home equipped for both styles of lighting has greater advantages than the one which has only the one or the other system. Many a home has lost a good buyer or a tenant just because the lighting system was other than what was wanted. With the "Combination Fixtures" installed you save this loss. This is only one point—there are many more reasons why you should consider the proposition.

Architects, Builders and Home Owners are invited to inspect these Fixtures at our Sales-room.

SNIDER INCIDENT CLOSED BY HANNA

Provincial Secretary Effectually Repels Attack of Opposition in Great Speech.

CLEAR UP A MISTAKE

Foy and Lucas Score Liberals for Baseless Nature of Attacks.

For five hours the legislature yesterday debated a motion of the opposition to appoint a select committee to enquire into the visit of E. K. Snider, provincial license inspector, to Welland, Huron and Peel, prior to the vote on the Scott Act in January. The opposition charged the printing of the official to sway the vote, according to government desires. The innuendoes thrown across the floor and benches through a hotly waged discussion, were all hurled back with vigor, and in the end Hon. W. J. Hanna, at whom the Liberal shafts were directed, in a frank and open explanation of the whole affair, closed the "Snider incident."

Minister Repels Attacks.
Mr. Rowell and the half dozen who followed him in discussion, held that either the officer had violated the departmental rules and deserved punishment, or that he had been sent with a purpose to discourage voters from passing the temperance measure. It was more than once suggested that the influence of the liquor men was shown, but this was hared hit at by the minister, as was also the charge that he was trying to appease Snider by his silence. "Any one who says this states what is absolutely false and untrue," he declared vigorously.

Motion Voted Down.
After the position had been taken by Hon. Messrs. Lucas and Foy that such attacks were detrimental to high constitutional standards because of baseless foundations and were discouraging to good men who might enter public life and feel at the mercy of slandering persons, Mr. Hanna, the provincial secretary, reviewed the whole story and related how misunderstanding had arisen. The opposition motion was then voted down by 72 to 20.

Merits of Two Measures.
Mr. Hanna said that he and Eudo Saunders, chief license officer, had discussed the whole effect of the Scott Act on the province, and the conclusion was that a statement setting forth what the law really meant should be issued to the press as authoritative, and yet not from the government, to avoid influencing the election. It was recommended that in unorganized districts the measure was a good one, but in old countries people should understand certain conditions to be met. Hon. Mr. Lucas had most to expect and least to lose but in Peel it was imperative that they know that when the Scott Act was passed it suspended all high constitutional laws and the bulk of the country was under them. Snider had known of the statement to be published but of how it was to be published. His actions had taken to be within his duties, and afterwards affirmed that his conversation had begun and ended with the facts as in the paper.

Could Not Recognize Snider.
Mr. Hanna told of the telephone ringing in his Sarnia home one night, and Rev. Ben Spence, describing the appearance of the inspector. He could not recognize him from the "exaggerated" account given in the warmth of the campaign. "I say now as I said then, that I had no idea Snider was in Welland at the time," he declared. Two things he cleared up. One was that the apparently varying statements to which the opposition referred was due to one interview he had given to a newspaper man in a hurry when he should have taken more time to explain it. Other reports had been founded on it but a misconception had resulted.

As to the suggestion that J. P. Haveron had visited him he threw it back as entirely untrue, and felt that such methods of suspicion would inevitably rebound on the one who had started them.

When Mr. Bowman took the floor he stated that because the Scott Act would make dry certain places which were now wet under the Local Option Act, the contests would be unusually interesting. Welland had been a testing ground, and the liquor people had spent $60,000 there to defeat the temperance law. Snider, he said, went into the riding to tell the people that the government did not want the act passed. He was repudiated at first, afterwards acknowledged, but whether "off his own hat or not" he had acted improperly.

"He should have been brought on the carpet, and not only reprimanded, but suspended," he declared. "No official of the government has the right to take part in elections in this way."

Hon. Mr. Hanna stated that the description of the man given to him would not warrant his identification at the time.

"Didn't you know he was there?" asked an opposition member.

"No, I did not," came the reply, amid rounds of government applause.

Was the government so compromised that it could not afford to reprimand Snider? pursued the Liberal whip. Would Messrs. Lennox and Fallis tell what had passed between them in conference?

"They will," replied the minister, "as well as the member from Welland."

Hon. James Duff said he knew absolutely nothing of Snider or of his dealings.

"Was there such a close alliance between the government and the liquor interests that the latter had pressed for Snider going for a set purpose?" asked Mr. Bowman.

"This brought the minister to his feet with a warm reply. 'Any insinuation or suggestion involving in the slightest degree the integrity of the government is absolutely untrue,' he declared. 'I will ask the hon. member a question: Why does he ask it?' The reply was that statements had been made that Haveron, counsel for the liquor interests, had visited the minister with that end in view. 'He had met me,' was the emphatic reply. Mr. Bowman asked that the matter be cleared up.

Asks Motion's Withdrawal.
Hon. Mr. Foy said Mr. Bowman had not produced anything that would warrant his asking for a select committee of investigation. His speech was "a bundle of hearsay and newspaper scraps." He did not make statements on his own responsibility or on that of any other man. Any questions he had asked had received a direct negative. He then had shifted to an agriculture clerk, but the minister would say that whatever that instance it had nothing to do with Snider. He would ask him to withdraw his motion.

When insinuations were to be made against men in public or private life, they ought to have a good foundation, said Mr. Foy. He would ask the leader of the opposition to rise up and show himself a leader by withdrawing the motion.

Nothing to Answer.
In a law court the judge would say that there was a total absence of material and that accusations should not be made against men unless they could be backed up. He would urge that there was nothing to answer and that the motion be refused.

Such a suggestion was flouted by Mr. Rowell, who stated that Snider had been in the counties at the time in question, and had made representations as to the voting.

"There has been no denial by the government of this. Will they deny that Snider made these statements in Welland? If not, then we have the fact that Snider did go and appeal to Conservatives there to defeat the Scott Act. If he went without the knowledge of the government, should he not be dismissed?"

Says Government is Afraid.
"The government opposes this motion thru fear of what will be revealed," he declared.

Hon. Mr. Lucas said that too much could not be done nowadays to make public life inviting to good men and to stop the hurrying of dirt and innuendoes across the floor. The question was, had Snider gone on his own responsibility or not?

"That he said he was sent," shouted J. G. Anderson of Bruce. "Buchanan said so."

"Oh, he is like the hand that shook the hand that shook the hand of Sullivan," returned the speaker, amid the laughter of the house. "Is a man to be tried because he opposes the Scott Act? Then there are scores who will be tried with him."

Mere Tittle Tattle.
He quoted Ben Spence and leading Liberal organs that had taken the same position. Were they going to try Mr. Spence for being in alliance with the liquor interests, or would they not try the man who, by a gift of eloquence made insinuations against his colleagues in the house? Was there anything to provide a basis for an investigation?

J. G. Anderson, South Bruce, Liberal, produced a document containing remarks of Mr. Buchanan, Wingham. According to Buchanan, Snider had represented that he was sent there by his department and had implied that the government did not want a Scott Act election.

Buchanan called up the local member, A. H. Musgrove, North Huron. The member had told Buchanan that he had been talking to Snider over the phone.

Strong Language Used.
"Did he say I was speaking to Snider?" shouted Mr. Musgrove, rising.

"Yes."

"Then you can tell him he lied," Charles McCrea, Sudbury, said to the member who was another Liberal tea-pot hurricane.

Evan Fraser, Welland, stated there was no underhand work about Snider's visit to Welland, and there was no suggestion that Mr. Hanna had sent him there.

London and Ottawa Cavalrymen Will Be Represented at Coming Horse Show.

The military events at the Horse Show next week at the armories promises to be one of the features of the show. There is always a lot of rivalry between the different companies and regiments in these classes, and for that reason each corps have been schooling their horses for the past two weeks. London and Ottawa will also be represented in these events, and also as teams in the international class.

Class 78, which is open to officers of all nations, is perhaps the feature event in the military class, owing to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught having presented a cup to be given to the winner of this class. Last year Lt. Bate of Ottawa was the winner.

Miss Louisa Long's horses from Kansas City will arrive this morning, while Mr. Val Crane's from St. Charles, Ill., are expected on Friday.

The Story of "Heart Songs"

A Tribute to the Memory of a Mother

THE newspaper distribution now going on throughout the United States and Canada of the song-collection called "Heart Songs," has already made the book the most famous of its kind in the world. The several editions thus far reach the hundreds of thousands, and will run well into the millions before the campaign is closed. The story of its first inception in the brain of one man, its concrete realization, and its development through the years, reads like a romance. But because it is true, it is stranger and more wonderful than any romance.

ONCE upon a time—for it is only with these words that you can begin a "really-truly" story—there was a little family of four boys and a mother. These boys were just like any other four boys—full of fun, fond of adventure, brimming over with animal spirits in love with mischief—and perhaps more susceptible to temptation, because the little red corpuscles that danced and raced through their veins were just a little ruddier than common. Just like other boys—you see—only more so!

BUT, their mother! Ah, there lay the difference. She was not just like any other mother. Her boys worshipped her. And she brought them up to be sober, truth-loving, home-keeping, industrious, God-fearing men. And of one of the ways in which she did this we are going to tell you. She was a very busy woman, with all her household cares, and her daily routine to provide food, clothing, shelter, and education for her little brood. But above all, she saw to it that her boys—her Cornelian jewels—found home the best place in all the world. She was never too busy—too worried or weary, to deny them her evening hours. Indeed, she was a marvel of a mother!

AROUND an old-fashioned square piano, a memento of better—but not brighter days—they gathered every night—and sang and played together. No temptation on earth could pull those boys away from that mother and that home.

THE old piano was piled high with song music that reached far back into the years, beyond the dark days of a war between brothers—some even bearing faded inscriptions of a time when grandma was a bride—carefully pieced and glued and stitched together—and still thumbed over, and sung from, and tenderly cherished as treasures without price.

TIME passed on, however, and the four boys grew to be men. They became newspaper and magazine publishers—and the memories of those boyhood days—the old square piano, the wonderful portfolio, full of red songs and sewed together with red yarn, the little parlor, the mellow radiance of the lamp-light, the ruddy glow of the old-fashioned fireplace—the sainted face of the dear old mother—these memories never faded or grew dim. And after the boys had prospered and built up a magazine of national scope and reputation, they determined to carry out a long-cherished project and create a song book as a memorial to their mother. It was not to be an ordinary song book, but a book that was to embody the songs nearest and dearest to the hearts of the whole English-speaking world.

SO through the pages of the National Magazine, Editor Joe Mitchell Chapple, the eldest of these four brothers, gave out a letter to thousands upon thousands of people, everywhere, inviting them to send in their favorite songs. And they came—in scores—in hundreds—in thousands—from every nook and corner of the world where the English tongue prevails. Letters came with them, filled with reminiscences—with memories sad and joyous—and adding that peculiar personal note—to be found in no other work of its kind—telling why this song or that song was dear to the heart that still echoed to its words and melody. The task broadened beyond its original bounds—since music is a universal language—and songs from the French, German, Danish, Swedish and Italian song lore came pouring in. Folk Songs, War Songs, Sea Songs, country were chosen to select the songs. Love Songs, Songs of the Pioneer Days, Songs of Patriotism, Lullabies, Hymns—all these and more, flooded the mails, and made the hearts of Joe Mitchell Chapple and his brothers exceeding glad.

TWO of the foremost musicians of the country were chosen to select the songs and award the prizes—George W. Chadwick, director of the New England Conservatory of Music, and Victor Herbert, conductor and opera composer. The four hundred songs contained in the book were picked out, many of them harmonized, re-edited, arranged with piano scores—transposed into lower key so the whole family could sing them—new plates were made—and the book that had its growth throughout four long years was ready to cheer and brighten the homes of millions of English-speaking men and women all over the world.

PAROLE SYSTEM RECOMMENDED IN REPORT ON PENITENTIARIES

Commission Advises That Control of Institutions Be Vested in Permanent Board—Should Co-Operate With Provinces in Dealing With First and Youthful Offenders.

Special to The Toronto World. OTTAWA, April 22.—Many changes in the administration of penitentiaries are recommended by the report of the commission which has been enquiring into the management of Kingston and other penitentiaries, tabled in the house this afternoon. It recommends: That control of penitentiaries be given to a permanent commission of three, with power to appoint staff officers and heads of departments, make regulations, etc., the wardens to be given authority to employ and dismiss keepers, guards, etc. That a parole board of not less than three members be appointed for each penitentiary, to sit once a month, and that the field staff of parole organization be increased to three officers directly under the justice department. That an arrangement be made with the provinces to take over the custody of first offenders and prisoners under 25 years of age. Should this be found impracticable, two reformatories for young prisoners and first offenders should be established in the east and west. Favors Prison Industries. That a system of classification be inaugurated based on the conduct of the prisoners, to encourage them to habits of order, industry, etc. That prison industries be established in the fullest extent at each prison in farming operations, etc. That a thorough physical and mental examination of each prisoner be made in his admission and a proper system be installed for records. That close cropping of hair be abolished, save for cleanliness. That in place of the present uniform a suit and cap of one tone material, blue or gray, be adopted. That a few copies of a carefully censored weekly newspaper be provided for the good conduct prisoners. That moderate use of tobacco be allowed to good conduct men; that dining-rooms be provided for good conduct men, and that smoking and drinking in dungeons be abolished. Other recommendations are for modern hospitals, reorganization of staff of hospitals to comprise a resident physician, visiting surgeon, two trained male nurses and for separate buildings for the criminal insane, for a school of officers for each prison and for exercises Saturday and holidays, that in the employment of guards more attention be paid to character and education and that the criminal code be amended to empower judges to impose a maximum and minimum term of sentences on all persons committed to the penitentiaries, the period of detention to be fixed by the parole board. At Kingston conditions were found discouraging. The workhouse and the asylum ward was managed to give little trouble for those in charge. Tubing and heating are condemned, and responsibility put on Dr. Phelan and Inspector Stewart. Respecting the charge of Dr. Edwards, M.P., that Deputy Warden O'Leary had been in the habit of receiving posts, the commission finds the charges not sustained and due to an "unhappy spirit of distrust and suspicion." It is also found that O'Leary had not been guilty of political partisanship. Overseer Wilson is exonerated.

REFUSED TO GIVE FEDERAL CHARTER

Application of Prudential Life Insurance Company Rejected by Committee.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, April 22.—As a result of objections offered by the Prudential Life Insurance Company of the United States, the banking and commerce committee this morning killed a bill for a Dominion life insurance company, which was operated in Manitoba under a provincial charter since 1907 and which sought to be incorporated as the Prudential Life of Canada. The bill submitted to the committee had appropriated its name, in spite of the fact that the Canadian company had been operating in this country longer than the American concern. Hon. W. T. White upon this ground strongly favored the bill, but in spite of this fact the bill was defeated by a vote of 23 to 17. The promoters ask to have the bill reconsidered, and that then, if they get another hearing, they will bring in the name of the Canadian Prudential Life. W. F. Nickle of Kingston gives notice that he will introduce a bill which will give the order of the house authorizing the refund of fees paid on the bill of incorporation of the Prudential Life of Canada be rescinded, and that the committee, reporting the preamble of the bill as not proven, be referred back to the committee for further consideration.

C. P. R. IS HAMMERED ON WALL ST. MARKET

New Low Record Made for Shares at New York Exchange.

CANNERS STILL SLIDING

Another Day of General Weakness and Liquidation on Toronto Market.

C. P. R. was the stock most under pressure in yesterday's market, and the weakness must therefore be attributed to individual rather than general conditions. Markets in the United States and Canada were generally depressed because of the Mexican embargo. On the Toronto Exchange Brazilians turned on the down grade and readily sold at a new low level. This issue has been pegged around 80 for several weeks, and has found some new buying; if this and other stocks in the market held steady, the dislodging process by making a new low level. Barcelona was offered down with Brazil and half a point lower. Steel Corporation was heavy at a new decline to 27 1/4 and was taken by outstanding shorts. C.P.R. was hammered sharply on Wall Street in the afternoon and fell to 194 3/8. There was as usual little doing in the shares on this market, but quotations followed closely those of the American Exchange. Canners suffered a further decline to 45 and cutting or passing the dividend is now common gossip. Little trading occurred in the older stocks, but Twins, Mackay and Toronto Falls were all easier. Some belated liquidation of Rogers brought this stock to a new low, but the selling was quite limited. The rally on Wall Street late in the day was acceptable to holders in this market, but confidence has been badly shaken and any recovery will be slow.

LOWER QUOTATIONS GENERAL AT LONDON

Disappointment Over Outbreak at Mexico—Paris Selling Was Also Weakening

LONDON, April 22.—Discount rates were dearer. The outbreak of hostilities in Mexico caused disappointment on the stock exchange and led to a general marking down of quotations, and, accompanied by Paris selling of DeBeers and Kaffirs, made the market look weak. Mexican falls lost from one to two points and the first preferred fell four, on fears of a cut in the dividend. Grand Trunk shares were weak on the half-yearly report and some stocks eased off in sympathy. American securities started irregular, and in the forenoon declined from lack of support. Later light buying strengthened the list, but the market reacted again in the late trading and finished uncertain. Canadian Pacific closed weak.

EUROPEAN BOURSES.

BRUSSELS, April 22.—The firmness in Wall Street yesterday and the improved condition of Emperor Francis Joseph strengthened the bourse today, and prices closed slightly higher. Exchange on London 20 marks 46 pence for checks. Money 2 1/2 per cent. Private rate of discount 3 1/2 per cent.

CONSOLS ARE EASIER.

Consols were 1/4 lower, closing yesterday at 75 1/8 for money and at 75 1/2 for account.

Random Notes on the Mining Stocks.

Practically the only issue to withstand an onslaught of the bears, arising from a great selling pressure in Montreal was Peterson Lake. Although there was considerable trading during the day the stock stood up well under the general influence of the market and closed at 35 1/4 bid.

Crown Reserve had its most active day of months, and after opening at 121, gradually declined under a severe selling pressure to 113, but recovered during the afternoon at 115. Apparently there are quite a number of dissatisfied shareholders.

Porcupine Crown was also in sympathy, not only with the decline in Crown Reserve, but the general feeling in the market. A low point of 60 was reached during the afternoon, which is less than half the price the stock was selling for two or three weeks ago.

McKinley-Darrah also felt the effects and touched 35, which was the closing bid.

Whether from the outside influence of the statement, Beaver Consolidated was also off several points. It touched 26 1/2, but strengthened late in the afternoon.

WALL STREET IS LITTLE ALARMED

Stocks Yesterday Not Much Affected by Hostilities in Mexico.

C. P. R. AN EXCEPTION

European Selling Forced Abrupt Decline—Few Other Weak Spots.

NEW YORK, April 22.—In view of the opening of hostilities with Mexico, the stock market today made a good showing. At no time was there any evidence of nervousness. Trading, in fact, was quieter than yesterday. At the opening prices were barely changed, in spite of a lower scale of quotations for American stocks in London. After an hour of desultory trading the market weakened. With no increase in activity prices fell away until a number of important issues were one to three points lower. There the movement stopped. In the afternoon business was dull and toward the close recovery set in. At the end of the day losses were canceled in most cases.

May Be Affected Later. Mexican news overshadowed everything else, but the street was not ready to pass judgment on the influence of this new factor. It was felt the effect would depend on future developments. Should a long and costly conflict with Mexico ensue, involving large government loans and great destruction of property, the stock market undoubtedly would register its disturbing influence. Speculators inclined to optimistic views, however, and felt that the close recovery set in. At the end of the day losses were canceled in most cases.

A few stocks were weak. C. P. R. at one time more than 5 points lower. Selling of this stock, which made a low record since 1910, Kansas largely from Europe. Missouri, Kansas and Texas common and preferred reached the bottom figures for several years, also news of the passing of the preferred dividend was not received until after the market closed. Bond prices sagged with particular heaviness in a few isolated cases.

STRONG TONE IN GRAIN MARKETS

War in Mexico Caused Flurry at Chicago in All Grains.

CHICAGO, April 22.—War excitement helped carry prices higher today for every speculative article on exchange. The close was strong all around with net gains, as follows: Wheat 1-2 to 1-4c, corn 1-8 to 1-8c, oats 7-8 to 1c, provisions 17-2 to 5c.

Just why the actual developments in Mexico were sufficient to put the wheat market up with decided force was not well explained beyond the idea that unforeseen probabilities would have to be allowed there. There was much hurried trading, and other traders had taken advantage of feeling of nervousness, and were disposed for the time being to reap all the reward possible on the bull side of the market. Complaints of increasing menace from dry weather in Kansas and Nebraska formed an important additional reason for activity in the buying of wheat. Some export business also against the bears, especially as the day neared an end. It was further said that millers northwest were figuring on taking round lots out of store.

Heavy Rains in Argentina. Aside from the effect of war which the price of corn had an upward slant on account of torrential rains in Argentina. Moreover, the smallness of domestic receipts, coupled with good-sized shipments from primary sources, led to an increasing belief that the big stock in Chicago would get into the hands of consumers at a fairly satisfactory rate.

Ons judged with other grain, but selling at times was of a somewhat determined sort. Prospects of moisture were what induced resistance by the bears. War and southern demand for meat had much to do with bringing about the big advance in provisions. A break in the value of hogs was virtually ignored.

O. A. C. INCUBATORS WILL HATCH 7000 CHICKS FROM CHOICE STOCK

Department's "Homozygous" Rooster Imparts Wonderful Egg-Producing Power to His Progeny—Problem of Experts is to Prevent Best Birds from Killing Themselves by Over-Production.

Prof. W. R. Graham, B. S. A., and his staff at the Ontario Agricultural College are being kept busy by a rush for hatching and for marketing; incubators show by the glow of their lamps that they are these days not for ornament and the brooders are already chirping with fluffy youngsters.

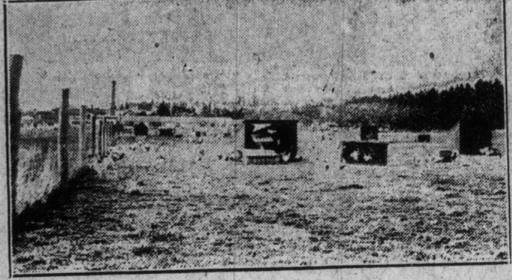

Great changes have taken place in the building. The old lecture and office building is to be moved and to form a residence for tenators or other employees, while a new three-story brick building has already been erected to take its place. This is equipped with an elevator, has airy, spacious lecture rooms, egg rooms, and offices. The heating and plumbing arrangements are the very best obtainable and the whole building is, in fact, a great improvement on pre-existing conditions. It will greatly facilitate not only the practical work done by the staff and graduating classes, but will also enable the largely increased classes of students to be handled to better advantage. Prof. Graham was modestly silent on the work being done in the department but the facts were patent. The World had no difficulty in obtaining an insight into such phases of the work as to interest the public.

Leaving the $30,000 building, on the second floor of which countless thousands of eggs, each bearing the number of the pen from which it came, and the World had no difficulty in obtaining an insight into such phases of the work as to interest the public. The World had no difficulty in obtaining an insight into such phases of the work as to interest the public.

It is not the policy of the department to give any advertisement by recommendation of any one make of incubator, but the incubators chiefly in use are the Chatham, the Cyphers, the State and Candee. The use of the latter for pedigree hatching shows the modern tendency towards larger incubators, the machines holding some thousands of eggs. The use of large incubators necessitates the use of larger brooders, and the writer noted that experiments were being conducted with three or four types of large brooder, some of them heated by coal stoves. It is expected that some 7000 chickens will be hatched this year from pedigree stock of various breeds and strains.

The department is fortunate in the possession of that "rock" which is meant to give a rooster which will not fail hand on the quality of great egg production to his daughters, even if he is mated with a hen with inferior laying qualities. The breeding of such a rooster is a work of years and entirely beyond the power of the ordinary poultryman. It has, however, been advanced by Dr. Raymond Pearl of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station, that such homozygous birds should be raised by

A MODEL CHICKEN YARD

By giving fowl plenty of room and clean, warm houses, the production of eggs is greatly increased the colleges and distributed to various districts for use by the farmers. That this would inevitably greatly improve the standard of egg-production throughout the country is evident, and with the advancement of poultry science and government extension work the day when such a course is taken will, no doubt, soon be with us. Strangely enough one of Prof. Graham's greatest problems this past winter has not been to get eggs, but to prevent some of his best birds from killing themselves by over-production. In fact, more mature birds are stated to have died from this cause than from any other. The yolks are formed inside the hen faster than the oviducts can place the whites, membranes and shells around them. Consequently the oviduct leads to derangement of the oviduct leads to death. There is, however, no cause for alarm among owners of high production strains, for such deaths are not likely to occur with any but excessive laying. In fact, more mature birds are stated to have died from this cause than from any other. The yolks are formed inside the hen faster than the oviducts can place the whites, membranes and shells around them. Consequently the oviduct leads to derangement of the oviduct leads to death.

When it is considered that badly-bled chickens keep badly, that the appearance is far from taking, it is not surprising that a well-bled one is easy to see why a well-bled one is worth more than a badly-bled one. The consumer should be able to tell a badly-bled bird at a glance, and a minor one; and it is the opinion of the district representatives with whom I have spoken that tent caterpillars alone would have completely destroyed the crop even if no frosts had occurred. He points out that the pest attacks not only the apple trees but also such trees as the maples and poplars, and that therefore, extensive damage may be done, not only in country but in the city suburbs. "One precaution that should always be taken by the orchardist is to cut down every wild cherry tree in the vicinity of his fruit trees, the wild cherry being one of the favorite host plants of this pest. The picking of the egg-masses by hand is only practicable on small trees, and the nests are in such abundance that the ordinary precaution of burning and destroying them is almost impossible this year." Mr. Caesar recommends that the ordinary sequence of three sprays as

AGRICULTURAL TIT-BITS

If you are looking for good grass, choose that which is bright, plump and of good color. Nothing else is good enough for anybody. The Farmer's Advocate gives the following "don'ts" on seedling: Don't sow poor seed. Don't neglect the soil preparation. Don't sow too deep. Don't cultivate grass seeds in too deeply. Don't sow too little seed. Don't sow too many varieties. Now is the time to keep your eye open for wet spots. Close observation will help you out quite a bit when it comes to putting in that drainage scheme. The time when the college man was locked up by farmers as an educated fool is over. They are realizing that the agricultural colleges are turning out big men with a grasp of not only local, but national questions. The district representatives are filling a long list. R. B. Britton, B.S.A., has been appointed to fill the vacancy left by A. H. MacLennan, B.S.A., demonstrator in pomology, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Mr. MacLennan having taken the place of Mr. Clement, B.S.A., lecturer in horticulture at MacLennan College, P. C. Mr. Clement took the position of director of the Vineland experiment station. "By all means let us be merry, and let us co-operate in our pleasures. Then we may learn how to co-operate in our business."—Peter McArthur. The following reasons are given for milk shortage in western Canada: Insufficient dairy stock, lack of proper transportation, general use of highly perfected machinery increasing the practice of the butter-making. Let us add to this list a cold winter, a hot summer, scrub hills and poor range laws, poor alfalfa or none of it, and bad flies, deer flies, horse flies, black flies, and flies, every other kind of fly you can think of, and then some. Do your collars fit, then why not your horses? All collars should be overhauled before heavy spring work. Wash the horses' shoulders with warm water and salt when the day's work is done, to avoid scalding.

CATERPILLAR PEST THREATENS NOW

Use Ordinary Spring Strength Lime-Sulphur Spray to Check Orchard Plague

Eastern Ontario and Quebec are threatened by a dangerous enemy, and the invader works for spreading westward to Toronto and beyond. The importance of once coping with the advancing hordes of tent caterpillars and destroying them already in possession cannot be exaggerated. They attack not only our fruit trees but a variety of shade and forest trees, the pine particularly. Square miles of poplar and birch have been known to be stripped by these insects, and their presence in large numbers in an orchard may mean a complete loss of crop. In such myriads do they advance that it was not uncommon in the summer of 1912 for trains on the Gatheneau River line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to be stopped by them, their bodies effectively gripping the rails and necessitating manual work on the part of the men before the trains could proceed. Similar stoppage of trains also occurred in New Brunswick and British Columbia. Millions of the insects collected around the arc lights of Ottawa and deposited their eggs in masses on the city shade trees. The eggs of these outbreaks have taken refuge from the earliest times, and any other is now with us. Fortunately a remedy is at hand, and L. B. Caesar, B.S.A., our local entomology, has informed the world how the evil may be dealt with. According to his authoritative statement, the pest has been discovered by Mr. E. P. Bradt, district representative for Morrisburg, that the ordinary spring strength lime-sulphur spray, such as scale and blight mite, will kill the young tent caterpillars if applied at the right time, namely soon after the eggs have hatched and previous to the formation of the web. "There is no question at all about its efficacy," says Mr. Caesar, "as I have myself confirmed the treatment on a small scale with complete success. It is a reliable remedy." He remarked that of the two species of tent caterpillar now with us, the American, the one whose moth has light bands across the wings, was the worst as regards attacks on orchards. "Last year whole orchards were defoliated, and in the case of the forest tent caterpillar, the hatching during the first warm spring days just before the leaf buds open, and the caterpillars feed on the covering of the egg-mass until the leaves begin to come out, when they attack these ravenously, and build their nest of web around the twigs, feeding within it. One wild cherry tree at Chelsea, Que., has been seen which had no less than thirty-seven of these tents on it, each such tent containing from one hundred to two hundred and fifty caterpillars. The caterpillars mature about June, and pupate in the angles of fences and buildings, in folded leaves and under loose bark. These "pupae" are contained in cocoons of tough white silk. With these pointers to guide him no man should be able to head, ignore, or to his orchard being infested by tent caterpillars or not. To summarize, the control methods use the sprays as recommended by Mr. Caesar; pick the egg-masses when practicable and burn them; jar or shake the caterpillars from the trees, afterwards fastening a band of tangle-foot around the tree; destroy the tents while small by using a torch made of rags soaked in coal oil; gather cocoons and burn them when gathered, but above all spray and keep on spraying as recommended.

If you are determined to have smut, well, don't use formaldehyde, but personally I do not like smut.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards yesterday were 45 car loads, 237 cattle, 1369 hogs, 73 sheep, and 102 calves. Trade in cattle was a repetition of Tuesday, as regards prices, when quality was considered. Receipts were light but quite equal to the demand. Several buyers from different parts of Ontario were on the market buying stockers and feeders, and prices for these were equal to the butchers class in many instances. As usual sheep, lambs and hogs were steady at firm prices, when quality was considered. Butchers' Good steers sold at $7.50 to $7.75; medium, $7.25 to $7.40; common, $7; choice cows, $6.75 to $7; good cows, $6.25 to $6.50; common to medium cows, $5.75 to $6; canners and cutters, $5.75 to $6.75; bulls, $6 to $7.25.

Milkers and Springers. The supply of milkers was not equal to the demand, but prices remained steady at $6 to $100 for good to choice cows. Sameley sold two loads of cattle: Cows—1100 lbs. at $6.50 and 8 steers, 1300 lbs. at $8, and these were the only cattle that we heard of selling at that price.
